City Problems: Junk Cars, Garbage, Gas

Junk cars are unsightly even if their owners love them, natural gas rates are going up sooner or later, and garbage is a mess, Slaton city commissioners agreed Tuesday afternoon. The commission metins called session to discuss all three of the above matters, took no action other than to give one car owner 30 days to remove it, and decided to ponder the garbage and gas problems until another meeting this afternoon.

Joe Leverton and Preson Coomer, representing Triple C Sanitation Service, operators of the garbage collection here, told commissioners they were losing money on the Slaton residential pickup service. They detailed problems of labor and equipment costs, and suggested that the city go on city-wide container system. Possibility of an increase from the current $1.75 per month garbage fee charged to residents was discussed.

Coomer said he has 163 containers in Slaton, at a cost of about $24,000. Most of these are in the business district.

Police Chief Fred Clark and Capt. Wayne Smith appeared to discuss the campaign to remove junk cars the resistance of citizens to efforts to move the cars. to the company. This amounts to a little less than 2 percent of the company's total operating revenues in Texas.

T. O. Gravitt, vice president for Southwestern Bell operations in Texas, said the new rate schedule will increase the cost of most three - minute intrastate calls from a few cents to a dime. The change is effective Sept. 24. Rates for local service and charges for long distance calls to other states will not be affected.

One Plus calls within Texas, which constitute about three-fourths of the calls, will still generally be lower than the average for 41 other states offering a One Plus rate. The other states do not have a One Plus rate schedule. On calls requiring an operator, Texas rates generally compare favorably with other states, with some states higher and some lower.

"The increase on long distance rates in Texas is needed to partially offset sharp increases in the cost of doing business," Gravitt said. He cited that telephone wages for 1973 will be $110 million higher than in 1971, and taxes for the year will be $40 million more than two years ago when the last intrastate rate adjustment was made.

The largest portion of the increase will be on One Plus calls, but this type of call will still be considerably cheaper than operator handled calls.

For example, at the new rates, a One Plus Call from Dallas to Houston will be only 93¢ for three minutes during the day. A stationto-station call requiring an operator will be $1.15, and person-to-person call

Vows Repeated In Anton Church

Miss Sherry Annette Herrin, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Gentry of Slaton, became the bride of Steven Lee Roe in a double ring ceremony Friday evening in the First United Methodist Church of Anton.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Herrin of Anton, former Slaton residents, and Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Roe of Anton.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of Peau de Soie accented with a pinafore effect of Venetian lace. The bisque bodice featured a wedding band neckline and Venetian lace lantern sleeves. The A-line skirt was shirred at the back forming a chapel length train. The entire hemline was encircled with Venetian lace appliques.

A caplet of Peau de Sole and seed pearls held her fingertip veil of illusion. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations with ribbon streamers that was centered with a removal corsage of white roses. Rev. Lewis Strehlow, minister of Lonesome Dove Baptist Church in Grapevine, performed the ceremony. Mrs. Johnny Williams of Shallowater, sister of the groom, served as matron of honor. Sharon O'Brien of Waxahachie and Cecile Herrin, sister of the bride from Anton, served as brides maids.

Got all the kiddles off to school? I guess by now, the mothers of little ones are getting used to the fact that "Baby" goes to school. My babies are bigger this year, and for some reason seem to be enjoying school. Even homework isn't the grudge that it was last time. I can only hope that this trend will continue throughout the school year. Homework has always been dreaded at our house, and especially by me. I was the one who had to stand by and see that homework didn't turn into drawing tattoos up their arm. And, homework could never be finished by bedtime. No matter how soon it was started, my kids have always managed to drag it out until past the deadline, and if they were made to go to bed, it was MY fault they didn't finish lessons. It never seemed to sink in to them, that if they had studied their lessons instead of studying how to get out of lessons, they could have been finished in short order. But, as I say, things are different now. I hate to be a pessimist, but, this is too good to be true. . . .

Did you ever wonder what meat tenderizers do to your stomach? I did, and I found out. Jana Cobb, county Extension agent, tells us that tenderizer is a natural plant enzyme called papain. Papain tenderizes the food and is then readily destroyed by the heat needed to cook Even if all the papain weren't destroyed by heat, it won't tenderize your stomach. The stomach's gastric juices can easily finish the job.

Isn't it nice to find out, in these days of high meat prices, that most people eat more meat than they need for good nutrition anyway. The thing to do, say the experts, is to plan your meals with less meat. (Which most of us have been doing lately.) Meat and vegetables can be combined to make meat go a long way; beef stew, hamburger soup and ground meat extended with potatoes and onion are a few familiar examples. Cubes of boiled ham may be added to a macaroni and cheese dish, and thereby become your meat dish. Delicious, and economical.

It looks so skimpy to have very small servings of meat at a meal, but when you can work out an appetizing combination with some other food, who knows except the

I remember delicious meals as a youngster, made up of beans or peas, cornbread, tomatoes, peppers, corn.... sure was good. I don't remember missing meat, or I may have avoided it on purpose. So much good stuff is enough. Now I find out that beans provide you with the same protein as meat, but are definitely more economical. For an example, twenty grams of protein from beans costs about six cents, while it costs 19 cents to get the same amount of protein from hamburger. Go get the

Here's a tip from our gardener friend. If you plan to reseed your lawn next year, don't wait until next year. September is the time to do it. Read Psalm 133; Romans 12:14-21

Behold, how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity! (Psalm 133:1)

August when I was about eight years old my father decided to put a new roof on our farm house. Usually the weather was dry. But just after the old shingles were removed, it began to rain. The rain continued for an entire month. We had to sleep in the barn. My grown sister, who took care of our motherless home, had to go to a neighbor's to cook our food.

Because I was too young to accept much responsibility I thought it was fun. Now I realize what a trying time it must have been for the other family members. During that time there were no cross words, no tempers flared. We were sorry to see our furniture damaged by the water: but no one blamed anyone else, and we were able to enjoy just being together. The love of Christ expressed itself through the love we had for one another. and brought us through that upsetting experience with a deeper understanding of one another and of God.

PRAYER: Our Father, when unpleasant circumstances tempt us to complain and blame others, draw us back to Thee, the source of all goodness and love. May we ever express Thy spirit, regardless of provocations. In Jesus' name. Amen. THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

Now, we can look at this long list and perhaps say, "Well it's easy for angels to praise the Lord." cause when we think of angels we think of what wonderful pure creatures they are, and it must just automatic that they praise God all the time. Then, of course, all the armies of heaven must praise him all the time!

Then the sun and moon and stars, well, they just roam around heaven all day and night, so it's easy for them to bring praise to the Lord. And, the fruit trees praise the Lord by bearing lucious fruit.

We could go on down the list and see how easy and how natural it is for all these things to give praise to God by fulfilling the purpose for which they were created. Until -get to "all people". Are you praising the

MUSTANGS

The Wilson Mustangs and Ropes Eagles met last Friday night in Mustang Stadium in the first scrimmage of their football seasons.

The Mustangs' defense put on a great show limiting the Ropes Eagles to only one TD and forcing the Ropes quarterback to throw interceptions into the hands of sophomore, Greg Bednarz, and senior, Phil The Mustan broke up numerous pass plays, and recovered several fumbles.

Then, the Mustangs really lowered the boom on the Eagles' QB by sacking him several times. Getting in on the action often were Clyde Wilke, Johnny Arnold, Mark Brieger, Richard Cedillo, and Johnny Arellano.

The explosive Mustang offense, led by the quarterbacking of junior, Mike Bednarz, and the running and receiving of senior. Chris Coleman, scored five touchdowns. With excellent blocking from the offensive line, Coleman gained 262 yards, and scored 3 of the Mustangs TDs, one of them a 70 yard TD pass from Bednarz. Clyde Wilke and Phil Kitten, seniors, had 34 and 43 yards, respectively. Wilke scored a TD on a 5 yard run, and Kitten scored on an interception. The performance of the second string proved that the Mustangs have no problems with backups, as they intercepted an Eagles' pass, and held Ropes to only touchdown.

The Mustangs will hit the road Friday to meet with Sands, at 7:30.

Anyone for tennis? Well, apparently not be in Slaton, where the condition of tennis court plorable, and the once-rosy outlook for future as has now been dimmed somewhat,

Slaton has four tennis courts, in the perk of jointly by the city and county. Surfaces on three are cracked, broken and full of holes. Nets on are wire, the worst type for playing tennis, cut up the balls and send all net shots flying directions. The backstops are sagging and lay ous gaping holes. And the weeds and grass are even on the courts are growing wild.

Two of the courts are completely useless to because of weeds up to 30 inches high growing ing area through the cracks.

One of the problems in keeping the courts up ently is that nobody seems to know who is res for maintenance of the facilities. Either the city, ber of commerce or county is responsible, and ently any one of these groups would be willing care of the courts if they knew for sure they posed to.

Several months ago a group of interested Slav zens went to the city and county officials reque more courts be built and that the existing on At that time, city commissioners and Commissioner Max Arrants indicated they were to the suggestion, a project which was guessed $25,000, counting new courts, resurfacing old new fencing. City officials quickly backed av this stand, however, suggesting a number of the less satisfactory measures.

Commissioner Arrants then proposed that h get the county to fix up the courts, and build ones and the city could maintain them. Arrants a bid on the project from Fraser-Edwards O Paso, builders of some of the best tennis cour Southwest, but said he had not been able to secure tive bids from other firms. At last report he that the county now is thinking in terms of jur court, and that one concrete. And no date for being accomplished has been mentioned,

New concrete courts (there should be two) as of the old ones would give Slaton's tennis players lot more than they have now, provided they up properly and fenced all the way around to de bicycle riders and small children from going ar courts while play is in progress.

The cost of doing the job right -- $25,000 or certainly is a lot of money. But both the city at have received revenue-sharing funds, and the for suggested use of these funds includes red facilities.

The school district is not blameless, either, its poverty-level budget at this time. Most this size have a couple of courts of their ow should Slaton.

Hopefully the county will go ahead and fix to ties in a way we can be proud of, and the city w tain them. In the meantime, Slaton's tennis adult and student, will just have to watch w

COTTON TALKS

Officials of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock-based cotton producer organization, have strongly commended Secretary of Agriculture Earl Butz on his firm stand against government tampering with exports of U.S. farm commodities and submitted to him a position paper giving five reasons why controls on U.S. cotton exports are neither justified nor desirable.

In a letter to the Secretary Aug. 24 PCG Exec-

Vice President Donald Johnson said Butz's position as expressed in public statements "indicates a clear understanding of the fact that unrestricted exports are indispensable to the market oriented agriculture envisioned by your Administration and long sought by farmers themselves," and "It gives us great pleasure to commend you. . The PCG statement on cotton exports, developed primarily for use in a Dallas meeting of the National Cotton Council Executive Committee where exports were discussed, termed the PCG stand against export controls on cotton "irreversible."

> The American Textile Manufacturers Institute, which is advocating a of export licensing" for cotton, was responsible for getting the NCC Executive Committee together for discussion. The producer representative on the committee from the Plains is PCG Board Chairman Donnell Echols of Lamesa, who was unable to attend. At the meeting in his stead was Don Anderson of Crosbyton, aformer PCG president.

The five reasons given by PCG for its opposition to any form of export controls are (1) the availability of adequate supplies of cotton to meet world and U. S. requirements, (2) the doubtful effectiveness of export controls as an aid solving procurement problems of U. S. mills, (3) the necessity for maintaining export markets if U. cotton farmers are to maintain productive capacity and continue their contribution to the country's balance of payments problem, (4) the current trend toward increased cotton production and the danger to that trend that would be inherent in export controls, and (5) the fact that the newly-passed farm program will not work for agriculture or for the nation unless there is less government control along
