

Further Protests Presentation Of Bible Stories In Schools Here

By DALTON WOOD
A Slaton first grade student appeared before the school board Tuesday night to protest the presentation of Easter and Christmas stories in the public schools. "It is unlawful for anyone to give my child religious training without my permission," (Lawanda) Blakeley, 255 N. 17th, specifically stated. She said such programs had been presented to her first graders without giving the youngsters a chance to attend.

presented by a group of women from Lubbock probably were in violation of the Supreme Court ruling, which stipulates that no child can be required to attend such programs, or take part in prayer.

School To Seek Legal Opinion

He did say that he would get an opinion from Austin as to whether programs giving the Easter and Christmas stories could be presented, provided students were given an option on attending. Board members asked Mrs. Blakeley if this would satisfy her, and she replied that it would not, because her child then would feel discriminated against because she wants to take part in all the activities that other students are engaged in.

Mrs. Blakeley asked for the name of the organization or church presenting the programs in the Slaton Schools, and was told by McClesky and Administrative Assistant Joe Sparkman that there was no specific organization so far as they knew. McClesky said a group of women from Lubbock had been presenting such programs at Easter and Christmas in the schools here since before he came to Slaton as superintendent in 1969. He said his contact has been Mrs. Herb Brasher of Lubbock.

Bible Reading Question Protested

"I object to anyone's coming into the school to try to influence my daughter to believe as they believe," Mrs. Blakeley said. She claimed the women presenting the program in the first grade recently posed the question of "How many of you read your Bibles?" and that when her daughter and some others did not raise their hands, they were told that "you ought to." Mrs. Blakeley did not state her own faith, but said she does not believe in praying aloud.

Board member J. Martin Basinger also asked if giving the pupils a choice of taking part or not would satisfy her, and she said no, claiming that "the children are a captive audience. Would you approve if a Jewish rabbi were permitted to come into the classroom and instruct your children? I'm not against religion; that's not the issue. The issue is a matter of separation of church and state."

Basinger questioned whether presentation of the Christmas and Easter stories could be considered instruction. Both he and member Skip Tumlinson indicated a belief that those pupils who do enjoy the Christmas and Easter programs should have the right to see them, provided their presentation in the schools is legal. They did agree, however, that Mrs. Blakeley's child and any others who do not wish to attend should be given that option.

Board Member Affirms Belief

At one point Mrs. Blakeley asked board member Pete Williams if he believed everyone should be a Christian. "I certainly do," Williams replied.

McClesky, speaking for the board, assured Mrs. Blakeley that "this board will comply with the law" regarding the religion in the classroom situation.

Mrs. Blakeley also complained about the dangerous driving and parking habits of those picking up children at West Ward School — to which the board and Principal James Perkins agreed is a serious problem — and Mrs. Blakeley also objected to a first grade reader which she said contains a comment about a girl's accomplishing some kind of feat although she was "just a girl."

Mrs. Blakeley said drivers in the West Ward area park in the crosswalks and drive in ways which are dangerous to the small children. She said she has taken license numbers of offenders, and stated that "my own child has almost been killed twice, and I saw another little boy" have a narrow escape.

Seek One-way Designation

After some discussion of the dangers in that area, the board moved to have Supt. McClesky talk with the city commission in regard to the possibility of making Lubbock a one-way street going east for a block on either side of the school during school hours only.

The board voted to put private cars and all registered motor vehicles on the school tax rolls for the coming year, after Supt. McClesky reported that most of the school finance bills being considered by the legislature would require that the vehicles be put on the rolls at 100 per cent of value, then be taxed on the same formula as other property.

Cars, trucks, motorcycles and airplanes based in this district would be included, with value of cars to be determined by the NADA blue book. This means cars older than six years would not be taxed.

Roy Resigns C-C Manager Post Here

Tom E. Roy, manager of Slaton Chamber of Commerce and Board of City Development for the last 15 months, has resigned that position to accept a job with the Texas Industrial Commission in Austin.

Roy submitted his resignation "with regret" at Tuesday morning's meeting of the chamber board of directors. Chamber President Ernie Davis and the board members also expressed regret at the decision but approved a resolution commending Roy for his work here and wishing him well in his new job.

Roy explained that he had not been looking for a job when he was contacted by the TIC, but that "this is an opportunity I just can't afford to turn down." His resignation is effective June 1.

Commission Asks Police Chief Clark To Resign

Chief of Police Clark was asked to resign by the City Commission Tuesday afternoon. The commission did not act on any of Clark's requests. Present Tuesday were Otis Neill, acting as mayor pro tem, and commissioners H. R. "Shorty" Donaldson and Hesikize Thomas. Mayor John Landreth was hospitalized in Lubbock and was unable to attend. Commissioner J. P. Spears reportedly was ill. When the Slatonite contacted the Spears home, Mrs. Spears said her husband was sick in bed and could not talk.

Others on Hand
Approximately 20 visitors attended the meeting. Glen Crawford and his son Jeff seemed to be the spokesmen for the group protesting the commission's action.

"I, for one, want to know what the charges are against this man," said Glen Crawford. "I would like to know what his inefficiencies are." Crawford went on to say that some people in town don't respect the law. Donaldson said he was not at liberty at the time to name names of those who had complained against Clark. "If it is so that we have to present them, they will be presented," he said.

Jeff Crawford supported his father's statements, adding that The Slatonite never did print any good news. "They always print the thefts and things, but they never tell who gets arrested," he said.

"Kangaroo Court"
Glen Crawford told the council he thought they were trying to get rid of Clark "because he is not a puppet." In a filmed interview later with KMCC's Rusty Jones, Crawford said the procedure was "Like a kangaroo court, the man was guilty without a chance to prove he's innocent." Local citizens began a petition Wednesday morning in support of Chief Clark. Winnie Vaughn and Wayne Green are heading up the effort to show the City Commission that city residents do respect the law and Slaton's law enforcement officers. A petition is also located at Ideal Cleaners.

Donaldson said, "I have nothing against Mr. Clark. This is not a personal thing."

Clark told the Slatonite Wednesday that the next move would be up to the commission. "I'm just going to wait for a list of the allegations citing specific incidents and a list of those making the complaints," he said.

The meeting ended shortly after it began, with only one other action taken by Burglaries Of Homes Reported

Several thefts and accidents were investigated by Slaton Police during the last week, with some of the largest losses occurring in burglaries of private homes.

Frank Cardenas, 105 S. 6th, Friday reported theft of light bulbs, two sets of curtains and two mirrors from his home. Police later recovered the curtains. Value of all the missing items was set at $220.

Clyde King, 425 N. 5th, told officers Sunday that an 18-inch gasoline lawn mower valued at $25 had been stolen from his yard.

On Saturday, Bernardina Herrera, 1135 S. 4th, reported burglary of that the Commission. They voted to authorize Harvey Morton, city attorney, to settle a pending litigation with Lloyd Meurer. Meurer had filed against the city to remove a paving lien against his house on Division St. The city cross filed for the value of the paving, and now Morton will try to settle the dispute.

WINNING FLOAT — "The Sundance Kid" float by the senior class won first place in the Western Day parade Friday. The huge constructed cowboy was equipped with a moveable head, operated by ropes.

Hospital Gets Accreditation

Mercy Hospital received word Monday that the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals has awarded the hospital one year accreditation.

Arnold Ingraham, hospital administrator, said, "It's getting more and more difficult to be accredited. I'd like to commend the hospital personnel for their hard work and long hours."

Ingraham said accreditation means that Mercy Hospital "is continually striving for improvement."

Burglars who entered through a window took a TV set, stereo and radio, total value $235.

M. A. Brown, 835 New Mexico, said Sunday $211 cash and some checks were stolen in a bank bag from his home. Later the checks and bag were found by two boys who returned them to Rev. Brown.

A. A. Trawek, 100 N. 4th, said a black leather suitcase was stolen from his pickup Friday while it was parked at a station and restaurant on U.S. 84. He valued the suitcase and contents at $60.

Last Thursday, Tommy Magallanes, 555 W. Division St., reported burglary of that ving to provide the patient with the best possible medical care and treatment at the very lowest cost. It means that personnel charged with patient care are keeping abreast of the development in the medical, nursing and scientific field."

"It means," said Ingraham, "that Mercy Hospital, having attained the necessary standard and goals to be accepted, will continue to meet the demands for safe, economical hospital care."

Along with the accreditation came a list of improvements which will need to be made by next year.

Ingraham said one of the needs of the hospital was fire resistant walls, flame retardant furnishings and an automatic fire alarm system which gives an alarm directly to the fire department.

Other recommended improvements listed included an emergency power system, a new nurse call system, more RNs, and the need to isolate surgery and obstetrics.

The accreditation is a feather in the cap for Mercy Hospital, and a certificate from the Joint Commission on Accreditation was sent to the hospital recognizing the fact. Mercy was last accredited in 1973.

This week is also National Hospital Week, and the Joint Commission sent a letter to Mercy saluting them as being one of the 4800 accredited hospitals in the nation.

Rainfall Brings On Smiles Here

A booming, crackling thunderstorm brought rainfall to the Slaton area Monday night, with measurements ranging from a half inch to more than an inch in the vicinity.

The .60 of an inch measured in town was boosted by an earlier .25 inch rain the previous night, bringing a total of .85 here and putting smiles on the faces of cotton farmers planting or getting ready to plant.

More rain than that is needed, but farmers agreed that this much certainly helps. The total amount of rain measured here for the year is only 4.25, with nearly half a year gone.

EAR at this time we reported on a trip to Carlsbad, N.M., and how rugged the trip was and through the New Cave is. This went back again as guests of the Chamber of Commerce, and the trip to New Cave is just as steep and rugged as it was then. Or so we were told by the news media people who climbed it. We decided to forego the trip to Carlsbad and do a tour of some rugged country in the Guadalupe Mountains National Park to Carlsbad, you should go to the older famous caverns if you can, and take the trip up toward the canyon in the national park if you can. Whatever you do, be sure to visit the gardens just outside the city of Carlsbad and see all the plants and animals in the park.

There are a buffalo, a bear which whirls around in the pond, reptiles, a beautiful eagle which it is hard to keep caged up, and many other critters in the zoo is an otter, but I have seen one of those, and with all the animals around, I couldn't tell one from another.

Carlsbad is a nice place to vacation, and the city is very nice, with boat rides, and such stuff.

Finally, we had to drive 70 miles for the mountains, but you really do do that, since there are places to stop.

CAMPAIGN: Various groups of people all over the country periodically are pushing to get people to cut back on the use of gasoline, but we doubt that any move to get people to do so will have any noticeable effect so long as gasoline is available, even at high prices.

Just this week comes a release from the American Automobile Assn., Texas division, that says nearly half of the fuel used in cars is consumed during trips of 100 miles or less, and about a third of all trips consist of such trips. "Because of the frequent stops and starts involved in more travel with a fuel-robbing car, gasoline consumption increases," it said.

It suggests combining shopping trips with errands, pooling cars, telephoning instead of going to see them, and so on.

It's not going to do any of these things unless gas again becomes unavailable, and the shortage is real or artificial, as we believe it was.

Plans For New City Buildings Viewed building, according to Reaves, is $21,881.

Urges Action

Reaves also reported on and recommended that Slaton participate in a federally subsidized flood insurance program.

In a survey made by government officials, ten areas of Slaton have been designated as flood prone areas. These low lying areas are located next to play lakes, and flood waters have gotten as high as front doorsteps in some of the areas.

Reaves said the government instigated the program in 1968. By subsidizing flood insurance, the government reasoned they could save on disaster funds when floods did occur. In the 10 areas in Slaton designated as flood prone, there are approximately 170 residences, 500 people and 400 acres involved.

Reaves said compliance with the program would be easy to do. The city would have to furnish copies of their building code and drainage reports, and an application would have to be made.

Reaves told the Commission that if the city did not participate, no federal money could be spent in these areas. "That means no FHA money," said Reaves. "In fact, I can't think of any kind of money that could be spent there. A homeowner couldn't even get a title II loan to build a fence."

Both Citizens State Bank and the Slaton Savings and Loan have urged the Commission to join the program. The commissioners decided to "study the matter further" and they put off any action. According to Reaves, July 1 is the deadline for joining the program.

Board Changes

At the end of the meeting, Alex Webb, city secretary, made several announcements concerning the resignation and appointment of various board members.

The Commission accepted the resignation of Jack Clark, chairman of the Planning and Zoning Commission. Mayor John Landreth, prior to his going to the hospital, appointed Byron Crandall to the Commission. A new chairman has not yet been elected.

Mrs. Louise Smith resigned from the Cemetery Board, and Joe Van Ness was appointed to fill her place.

Webb also announced that Roman Alvarado, cemetery superintendent, and his two assistants resigned, and applicants are being considered for the positions.

Present at Tuesday's meeting were Otis Neill, mayor pro tem, H. R. Donaldson and Hesikize Thomas.

Guadalupe Mountains Park Drawing Crowds

CARLSBAD, N.M. — The gigantic limestone reef bolts toward the clean West Texas sky from the brown desert. One can see green conifer trees riding the uppermost crests and, in season, see snow caulked in deep fissures. The sight is breathtaking.

It is Guadalupe Mountains National Park, a combination of mountain and forest located between Carlsbad and El Paso. It is one of the nation's newest national parks and offers visual delights not available anywhere else in the world.

The core of the park is the southern point of the Guadalupe Mountains from the New Mexico state line into West Texas. The range continues north to the park, but is lower and less dramatic.

Resembles "V"

Rising from the surrounding desert floor, the Permian marine limestone reef is one of the most extensive and significant fossil reefs in the world. It resembles a huge "V" pointing south. At the point of the "V" is El Capitan Mountain, which with its sheer 1,000 foot cliffs, is visible for over 50 miles.

Directly north of El Capitan, rising from a base of about 4,000 feet to a height of 8,751 feet above sea level, is Guadalupe Peak, the highest point in Texas.

Placed between the arms of the "V" are two other major features: a pine-covered highland, including the bowl, and deep-cut McKittrick Canyon. These views are hidden from motorists driving U.S. Highway 62-180.

National Park Service officials say climatic differences within the park "are remarkable". Summer temperatures can be hot at lower elevations while the highlands and moist canyons are cool by contrast.

Easiest To Reach

The most accessible area for tourists is McKittrick Canyon. Steep-sided and narrow, both north and south McKittrick Canyons contain streams and communities of hardwood and pines.

While the area's wildlife once included desert bighorn sheep, wolves and Harlequin quail, park experts say the region still contains an abundance of mule deer, black bear, mountain lions and eagles.

The canyon contains an unusual mixture of both mountain and desert plants, including alligator juniper, agave, sotol, Texas walnut, madrone, bigtooth maple, ponderosa pine, redbud and cholla.

Players Sign For Football Game

LUBBOCK — A wide receiver, running back, and five linemen announced last week that they will play for Coach Steve Sloan's East team in the 15th annual Coaches All-America Football Game scheduled June 21 in Texas Tech's Jones Stadium.

Tickets to the game are on sale by Slaton Lions Club members, or at the Slatonite. Reserved seat tickets on the east side are $6 each. These seats are in the lower section, around the 40, and the game starts a half hour later than usual, so they should be shaded.

The receiver is West Virginia's talented Marshall Mills, a 6-2, 180-pounder who caught 36 passes for the Mountaineers in 1974 and wound up as West Virginia's career pass reception leader. He went to the Atlanta Falcons in the professional draft.

Woody (Hurricane) Thompson, the University of Miami's premier running back, will join Sloan's backfield. A devastating runner with bull-like power and 4.6 speed, the 6-2, 219-pounder was drafted in the third round by Atlanta.

Gasoline Safety Cans

In the spring and summer months, a homeowner emptying the contents of a gasoline can into a gas powered mower becomes a familiar sight. Hopefully, these homeowners care as much about the safe storage of gasoline as they do the neatness of their lawns.

Underwriters Laboratories' testing program for "safety cans" was developed with this care in mind. A UL Listed safety can has a tight-fitting cap or valve normally held closed by springs. It may be conveniently carried around, and its design provides for the venting of vapors if stored in an area where high temperatures exist or exposed to fire. This ventilation is essential in relieving pressure buildup inside the can, thereby avoiding a rupture and spillage. A Listed safety can also cannot be filled to the brim. This feature is particularly important in hot weather, when the gasoline must have room within the can for expansion.

Heading the list of linemen is Alabama's All-America center, 6-1, 232, Sylvester Croom and Ohio State's man mountain, Doug France. Named to the 1974 Coaches All-America first team, Croom served as captain of the 1974 Crimson Tide eleven. He was drafted by New Orleans.

France, 6-6, 260, started 11 games for Ohio State at tight end in 1974 and was a first-team All-Big Ten selection for Associated Press. He is rated an excellent blocker and has amazing speed for his size.

Also signing with Sloan's eleven were Jimmy Webb, Mississippi State's 6-5, 245-pound defensive tackle, El-ois Grooms, Tennessee Tech's 6-4, 240-pound defensive lineman, and Virgil Livers, Western Kentucky's 5-9, 176-pound defensive back.

Webb, drafted in the first round by San Francisco, was named to the Coaches' All-America first team and played in the Sun, Hula and Senior Bowls.

Grooms, picked by New Orleans in the third round, compiled 131 unassisted tackles and 77 assists during his career.

Livers, 1974 Defensive Player of the Year in the Ohio Valley Conference, was drafted in the fourth round by the Chicago Bears. He set new school and OVC records in 1974 with 50 punt returns for 545 yards and had a record 145 yards in punt returns against East Tennessee for a single-game record. He is nicknamed "Mighty Mouse" because of small stature and the fact that he can bench press 285 pounds and military press 235.

On the football field parking lot Friday, a 1968 car driven by Lucille Lewis Ferguson, 255 S. 5th, and a 1969 car driven by Naoma Johnston Boyd, 810 S. 13th, collided, with total damage set at $100.

'Eat More Cotton' May Be Slogan

PHOENIX — Cottonseed has potential for much greater use in the food industry as the result of new developments already commercialized, according to National Cotton Council President C. L. Denton Jr.

While oil from the seed has been one of the top quality vegetable oils in American diets for more than a century, Denton says the "cotton industry now appears to be on the verge of seeing a significant part of its meal also going directly into human food products and greatly increasing their protein content.

He explained that this is possible through the use of glandless seed or by removal of the gossypol-containing gland of other cottonseed. The Council president praised members of the National Cottonseed Products Association at their meeting here recently for leadership in these efforts and said the move would become increasingly important to the entire cotton industry.

Study Made

Denton reported that a detailed study of economic and market aspects of cottonseed protein — being made by the Council's market research staff in close cooperation with the Association — will be completed about mid-year.

Turning to government regulations affecting the cotton industry, he said efforts are being made to see that the Occupational Safety and Health Administration director and his staff fully understand all the implications of cotton dust standards that have been imposed and are being considered.

While inspections and citations on cotton dust made at some seed-crushing plants in March have now been withdrawn as a result of these efforts, the Council president said gins and other plants also are being considered for coverage under a cotton dust standard.

Junior High Jottings

By MARLENA RIDDLE and LOY SADLER

This week the 8th graders are reviewing for a nine-weeks test in Mrs. Wright's American History classes.

Mr. Dixon's health classes are working on drug plays.

The art bulletin board was done by Thomas Chapa, Eddie Tamez, Jeff McClanahan, Topsy Alford, Joe Mercer, Marilyn Tipton, Mike Gordon, Nita White, Sylvia Maldonado, Susan Garcia, Lee Ledesma, Jimmy Gilliland, and Don Singleton.

For the bicentennial, Mrs. Lawrence's art students will be preparing their own emblems for Slaton's emblem contest.

The 8th grade art students went on a field trip to the FTAA art show. Mrs. Lawrence arranged for a commercial artist and a fashion illustrator to speak to the students. They showed examples of commercial art and fashion illustrations to the group.

The speakers discussed with the students the education needed to become fashion illustrators and commercial artists.

The art students then toured the Texas Tech museum.

Today is the deadline for turning in money for the 8th grade outing.

Friday will be Award's Day for the sixth, seventh and eighth grades. Outstanding students will receive achievement awards in academics, band, sports, and physical fitness. Read next week's Junior High Jottings for the announcement of "who got what."

The Future Teachers organization at high school is sponsored by Mr. Carnes. FTA students came to Junior High to practice teach on Wednesday.

Teri Holland taught for Miss Zabriskie. Rhonda Whitener for Mrs. Carnes, Raynie Hardesty for Mrs. Childers, Amy Brewer for Mrs. Turney, and Teresa Wright for both Mr. and Mrs. Wright.

Junior High was fortunate to have two winners at the UIL competition at Cooper. Don Patterson won second in number sense, and Lisa Hall won first in ready writing.

Luckily none of the juniors and seniors lost their buddies, but you know who did: Mr. Elmo Smith, high school principal, lost his pal, Mr. Dail Griffin, senior sponsor. It was funny seeing Mr. Smith asking around if you had seen Mr. Griffin around. He was lost like a needle in a haystack. Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Washington and Mrs. Gracie Shaw, senior sponsor, were the jet setters. They saw them riding the Run-away Mine Train and other go-getter rides. Mr. and Mrs. James Daniel were seen walking around, also riding the rides and eating. Back to Whetzel and Patschke, you saw them walking, eating and talking on the telephone. The day ended at Six Flags at 9 p.m. The group spent the night at the First United Methodist Church in Arlington in the recreation center. By coincidence, Johnny Ray Watson of Lorenzo was there setting up his equipment for Sunday morning to sing. He was shocked to have come all that way and bump into his neighboring town. Johnny Ray sang a few songs for the bunch and joked around. After that most of the guys retired to the game room where pool and ping pong tables were put into use. The girls retired for the

BICENTENNIAL BITS

By NEWMA CARNES

The Slaton Bicentennial Souvenir Calendar is getting a good reception. Everyone contacted is eager to enter at least one name for birthday or in memoriam, and many are purchasing advertising space as well. If you have names or ads that you want listed and no one has visited you, get in touch with one of the following: Frances Schlueter, Virginia Gipson, June Key, Ada Mae Kitten or Almarine Childers.

My apologies to all who tried to call Mrs. Tunnell about the recipes in this column — and my apologies, too, to the gentleman whose phone number was printed! Please call again if you have pioneer recipes — 828-5287 in the mornings or 828-3685 after 4:30 p.m.

Bing Bingham has only seven left of the 25 large flags that can be mounted on a building. These sell for $5, and he can reorder if necessary. He has a large supply of the smaller flags. All profits will be used in Slaton.

Bicentennial Committee members report many citizens are just learning about our activities and are expressing interest, approval, and support. As we talk to Slatonites in pursuit of our various interests (the calendar, the pioneer cookbook, the play, the flags, the 4th of July celebration, the proposed museum, the research for the radio program, etc.) we are told such interesting things. "I was editor of the Tiger's Cage when the old high school building on 9th was nearly new." "My mother still bakes bread and makes the most delicious poppyseed and raisin coffee cake!" "I was in the first Tiger Band," and so on — also, I heard a wild tale about a bakery fire downtown. . . . Carl Lewis, would you like to tell me your side of it?

Remember to plant red, white, and blue flowers. If you are having trouble finding blue flowers, call Helen Dunn (828-3984), who says she has blue flax plants available to Slatonites.

Scott Signs With WTC

Rosemary Scott, an outstanding scorer on the Slaton High School bi-district champion basketball team for 1974-75, has signed a letter of intent with Western Texas College. Dr. Sid Simpson, WTC Athletic Director and women's basketball coach, has announced.

Miss Scott, 5-6, averaged 25 points per game during her high school basketball career. She was named to the All-State Team from Class AA for two years.

The Slaton team won the state championship in 1974. Slaton defeated Coahoma in the 1975 bi-district game played in the Scurry County coliseum, then was defeated in regional competition.

"Rosemary played high school basketball under Gay Benson, whom I consider to be one of the finest coaches in the state." Dr. Simpson said. "As a result, Rosemary is a fundamentally sound player who gives great effort and makes very few mistakes. She is a very coachable young lady with a great desire to achieve. She should be one of our finest players next season."

Miss Scott is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Scott of Slaton.

Ron Bartley Looking To Coming Grid Season

By DAN COLLIER
Sports Information Office
Cameron University
Slaton's Ron Bartley, who has had ulcer problems this year, is well now and looking forward to the 1975 football season at Cameron University.

Ron joined the Cameron football program last season after transferring from Wichita State University. At the beginning of last season, Ron was a defensive back, but early in the year he was moved to quarterback and the move by the Aggie coaching staff has proved to be a good one.

In his senior season at Slaton High Ron was a quarterback, but at Wichita State he saw the greatest part of action at defensive back. And naturally when he transferred to Cameron he said he wanted to play on the defensive squad.

That is in the past now and Ron is finding himself handing off to runningbacks and tossing passes. He had a fine spring practice and he's in line for the No. 1 quarterbacking job when action opens in September.

He discovered his ulcer problem in January, but quick medication cured the ailment and by the finish of spring ball he was in top-notch shape, according to Dr. Don Barney, a Lawton physician.

A 20-year-old pre-law major, Ron should obtain his degree in 1977.

Ron is already showing excitement about the coming football season. "I think we have the kind of team that can make it back to the national playoffs," Cameron traveled to the NAIA playoffs a year ago and lost a 21-19 thriller to Texas A&I University — the eventual national king.

Ron and his wife Frana, who also hails from Slaton, will live in Lawton this summer, where Ron is employed at a Gibson's Discount Center.

Nursing Home News

Because this week is National Nursing Home Week and May is designated as Senior Citizens Month, we are trying to honor our older ones with special programs and activities.

Our Open House Sunday was a real success. It was a lovely afternoon and we had a lot of guests registered. We welcome visitors at any time to come by to see our home.

Monday afternoon we all enjoyed music by Mr. Boise, who played the violin and was accompanied by the piano. He played many of the old favorite melodies that they all enjoyed.

Wednesday afternoon we had a bingo party, sponsored by the Lutheran Ladies Auxiliary. Everyone received nice gifts.

Thursday evenings are special and we always look forward to the beautiful gospel music. We are so thankful to the group that comes so faithfully each week.

Friday afternoon we are planning to have a cookout for the residents. We are going to have barbecued hamburgers and all the trimmings, providing the weather cooperates.

We have some new patio furniture, donated in honor of Mrs. Edith Lewis by Mr. and Mrs. Jay Gray, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Gray and the Slaton Co-op Employees.

By BRENDA JOHNSON

Stick Manufacturing Company: because I am badly in need of help. I am the Slaton High School, and I'm very lonely. I am, but poor old SHS seems to be lacking in spirit. It seems to realize this, but no one really seems to do anything about it.

enough to do anything about it. Did you forget to put me at your company, did you forget to put something in me so I would have a certain spirit? Just what is it? Did you forget to put me on me when I was purchased?

the halls at SHS, I see students marking on the gum under their chairs, and writing on the restroom walls. I see students arguing when they should be striving for unity within which automatically leads to school spirit.

figure it out. However, I seem to be most competitive in the Victory Spellout to win me, I am being used. It seems as if the students are competing against classes instead of making noise for spirit. I just don't understand how people can cheer at a stadium before the game is over, when behind and what they need most is spirit and unity.

is the problem of some students blaming the school, otherwise known as the "Meet and Eat" lack of getting things going in the school. I could realize that each organization isn't for the students themselves are just as much as the school, maybe a change could occur.

certain that if someone who really cared something be done about the situation to the Student Council, or anyone who supports the school activities, I may get to play an active role in benefit the school as it was meant for me.

s another problem — everyone leaves to everybody else....

I'm at fault, but then at least I admit it, and something everyone leaves up to everyone else. I strongly believe I must stick to what I think needs to be done to promote school spirit. I could please send me some encouraging words, lots of hope, and maybe some red and white they haven't been taking good care of me) I'll do.

is that something needs to be done and I'm not it. Do I need to let them realize for I know when people realize things for usually means much more. But I know one when they do realize it, there may be the school to have what some churches have members of their congregation start caring — a spirit.

Sincerely, but most hopefully yours,
The SHS Spirit Stick

Some serious talk about West Texas gas

By K. B. "Tex" Watson, Pioneer president

Living in the middle of an area known for its abundant gas deposits, it's hard to imagine West Texans threatened by a shortage of natural gas. However, there is the possibility that governmental regulations could create a shortage here. If we are not vigilant, we could see much of our gas supply allocated to other areas. Or we could see price controls make it impractical for producers to drill additional wells in this area. What can the average citizen do to prevent that from happening? I would suggest that he be aware of the problem and support Pioneer's efforts to maintain our gas reserves.
