School Here Must Raise More Money

The school finance bill finally passed by the Texas Legislature and sent to the governor this week will mean Slaton Independent School District must come up with about twice as much money locally as it has done in the past, it was learned this week.

schools - has been about $132,000 a year, and this figure will double (the maximum increase allowed by the new bill).

"This possibly will mean an increase in taxes at the local level," said Supt. J. C. McClesky Tuesday. "However, we don't have enough information on the entire bill yet to know exactly what will happen to Slaton schools financially.

There were indications that some money not previously available to the local district would be made available from the state under the new plan, but no detailed information had reached the school administrative offices here early this week. McClesky said more information on how the district will be affected should be available by the time the board meets next Tuesday

ed.

Slaton City Commissioner Otis Neill turned a deaf ear to the protests of angry citizens and refused to resign his commission seat when a petition for recall was filed in the City Secretary's office.

Neill had until Tuesday to resign or face a recall election. According to Alex Webb, city secretary, the recall election must be held within 30 days of the filing of the peition. Although he doesn't know when the Commission will set the election date, Webb said it must be before July 1. Fifty names appeared on the petition to recall Neill.

The recall election will be a ballot for Ward II voters to vote either for or against

"If the majority votes for recall, then Mr. Neill will be out, and we'll hold another election to fill his seat," said Webb. "If the recall is voted down, then he will remain as a commissioner."

If recalling Neill passes, a special election will have to be called within 10 days or not later than 20 days.

Since a partial City Commission consisting of Neill. H. R. Donaldson and Hesikize Thomas voted last month to fire Police Chief Fred Clark, angry citizens have been canvassing the town collecting signatures on several recall petitions.

According to Webb, petitions demanding the recall of Neill. Thomas and J. P. Spears have been returned to his office, but only the petition regarding Neill will merit immediate action.

A total of 13 residents of Ward IV signed the petition for recalling Thomas. Webb explained that the Slaton city charter states that a commissioner must be in office for six months before was sworn in January 28 of this year, and will not be eligible for recall until July

"The man who took out the petition for Thomas said he would file again when it was legal," said Webb.

Elected In January Thomas was elected in January during a special called election to fill the seat of Eugene Mask, who died in November of 1974. Thomas received 29 votes. His closest opponent, Edward Gaydos, received 22 to fill Spears' seat or appoint a new Commissioner. Because of the controversy. Webb said he thinks the Commission will hold an election rather than make an appointment.

Spears was re-elected in April. He received 23 votes, running unopposed.

Webb said that one person had called requesting a recall petition for Donaldson, but when he found out about the six months clause. the matter was dropped. Sworn in April 8, Donaldson will not be eligible for recall until Sept. 8.

Donaldson apparently was the motivating force behind the firing of Clark. On the same day he was sworn in as commissioner, he suggested, during a closed meeting, that the Commission ask Clark for his resignation and give him a 30-day grace period.

The minutes of that meeting read, "If Mr. Donaldson's suggestion was in motion form, no second was received. A discussion followed with the commission deciding to table this item until Mayor Landreth and a full commission could be present.'

Secret Session

Five weeks later, in another closed session, Donaldson proposed that the Commission call for Clark's resignation. A special called meeting took place May 13 and the Commission requested that Clark resign.

A full commission was not present at the time. Mayor John Landreth, home recouperating from a heart attack, was absent, as was

At the May 28 meeting when Clark was fired, Landreth and Spears were still absent.

Following the ousting of Clark, four of his officers quit the Slaton police force. Clark and officers Steve Mild and Bobby Turner will begin patrolmen duties late this week in the central Texas town of Coleman. Iris Clark, who was an employe of the city, is being replaced by Kathy Smith, former head dispatcher at the police department.

Applications Received According to Webb, approximately 10 applications have been made either in person or by phone for police work in Slaton. He said that the new police chief would be responsible (See CITY, Page 3)

Wreck Causes Injuries Here

The collision of two autos at the intersection of 9th and Scott Streets Monday evening caused injuries to four passengers in one of the cars. Two of these. Connie Garza of Southland and Olivia Martinez of Lubbock, were treated at Mercy Hospital and then released. Two others, Lisa Martinez, 2, and Max Martinez. 20, apparently suffered only minor injury.

The four were passengers in a 1964 car driven by Ray Garza of Southland. It was involved in a collision with a 1968 auto driven by Melba Ann McCormick, 945 S.

A 1966 auto owned by James E. Gary of Slaton was parked on Floyd St. near 10th when it was struck by a 1965 auto driven by Epifania Madrid Ledesma of 220 W. Floyd on Tuesday.

Some other wrecks and other incidents reportedly were investigated by Slaton Police Dept. and by Lubboc County deputies manning the police department here during the week, but no reports of any of these were available at the police station Wednesday morning.

PRAISE THE LORD

By LENDA WOOD

Keep on expecting answers to your heart's desires - if you're certain you're praying according to God's will for your life.

For many years I did not expect immediate answers to my prayers. I prayed, yes, earnestly for things that were near and dear to my heart, but I felt that in the end, it would all be answered and taken care of for me. I felt so insignificant and unworthy that the Lord would pay any personal attention to me and my prayers.

We were taught (or at least this was what I surmised) that we should not think of ourselves more highly than we ought to think. To me this meant that I should think of myself as of no importance at all. Of course this resulted in an inferiority complex, which was misery to me.

When I discovered that Jesus loved me personally and suffered and lived just for me, then I had to do a lot of un-learning. It was such a joy and a thrill to realize that Jesus was and is my personal companion. When this happened, I cried tears of joy for three solid days. It was so wonderful to know that He cared for me. Since that time, Jesus has answered so many prayers for me. Some were literally answered before I finished praying them and said

"amen." One time in particular, we had a need and discussed it and agreed we needed to pray about it. That need was answered before we even prayed about it! Isaiah 65:24 was and is very real to me: "And it shall come to pass, that before they call, I will answer; and while they are yet speaking, I will hear."

Too many of us have thought that our prayers will all be answered in the end. And of course that is true to a certain extent. But Jesus wants to answer our needs now as we live and as we experience those needs, as well as save us in the

In the 11th chapter of John, when Lazarus died and Jesus came to Mary and Martha to answer their need. Jesus told Martha that Lazarus would live again. And Martha believed that he would live again in the last days. She didn't realize that Jesus was talking about "right now" Then Jesus did the impossible by bringing Lazarus

Jesus is wanting to do many "impossibles" with us if we'll just let Him. But before that can happen, we must let our eyes look away from our problems, and look above them to Jesus.

He is the same today as He was in all of the vesterdays.

introduced to handbells. According to J. D. Mc-Phaul, a member of Wayland's board of trustees at that time, handbell history on the high plains began in 1964 when he donated 25 chromatically-tuned bells to the music department of Wayland Baptist College. "As always," McPhaul said. "I have wanted Wayland to be the 'firstest with the mostest'." There now are two other groups of handbell ringers in Plainview, one at First Methodist Church and the other at First Baptist Church.

Earl Miller, assistant professor of music at Wayland, began Wayland's first group that year. "Every year, graduating students leave and there are new members to train. When they enter the handbell room to audition, most of them do not know what to expect," Miller said, "but they soon find that the only requirements are to know how to read music and to count time. They learn how to handle the bells and play as a unified team, which takes quite a bit of concentra-

All of the students in this year's Handbell Ringers have had some music training and some are either in the band or a choir. Two members, Joe Tom McDonald, a sophomore from Lovington, N.M., and Becky Saunders, a junior from Plainview, are music majors. Joe Tom is a member of Wayland's Concert Choir

WAYLAND HANDBELL RINGERS — Shown presenting the special music for a recent service at College Heights Baptist Church, Plainview, are Wayland's Handbell Ringers directed by Earl Miller, assistant professor of music. and plays the bass guitar in the band. Becky, the daughter of L. E. Saunders who just recently moved from Plainview to Prescott Valley. Ariz., has been in the Wayland Singers for two years. She plays the piano and is a member of Sigma Alpha Iota (SAI), national women's music fraternity.

Marilyn Walker and Jane Hewett are sophomores minoring in music and also are members of SAI. Marilyn is from Slaton, and Jane is a native of Plainview, the daughter of Mr. C. Wayne Hewett of 606 Nassau. Skip Love, a freshman music minor, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Love of 2212 W. 10th. Georgia Osborne is the only member not majoring or minoring in music, but she has studied music for several years and plans to continue. She is from Fairplay, Colo. The group normally has eight members, but for various reasons has had only six this semester. The bells of the unoccupied stations were divided among the ringers and Miller so that some of the members handle four bells at a time.

In addition to learning the techniques of ringing the bells, dampening them, trilling, switching hands, reading the music and playing together, they must memorize their parts for the processional which they play while entering the churches for their concerts. "The hardest part is learning to ring the bells and step at the same time." Miller

The Handbell Ringers perform for many groups in the Plainview area with most of their requests coming from churches. This year they have played for the First Baptist Churches of New Deal and Slaton; First Methodist Churches of Hale Center and Olton: College Heights Baptist Church and St. John's Methodist Church of Plainview. In addition to playing hymns, various students read Scripture, give the benediction, and speak on the advantages of going to a Christian college. times after the concerts, they lead fellowships in which the students perform their individual talents, lead singing, present skits, or play games. Two of their most unique performances were for weddings where, from the balcony, they rang traditional wedding music.

The group also has performed in public schools where they play such novelty numbers as "Grandfather's Clock" and "Hickory-Dickory-Dock." The children enjoy hearing the clock chimes and the striking of

Throughout the years, the Handbell Ringers have played in New Mexico. Colorada and Oklahoma, as well as Texas, and have accompanied the choirs on tours to Dallas, Denver. Colo., and Monterrey, Mex-

Recently they accompanied Dr. Joyce Jones, guest organist from Baylor University, when she presented a concert in chapel. The music called for a carillon which the Wayland organ does not have, so the bells filled in for that part. "I appreciated the Handbell Ringers for playing such a simple part," Dr. Jones said, "since all their works are more complicated. They did a good job. When I heard these bells several years ago," She commented, "I liked them so much that now I'm teaching a junior high handbell group.' Any of these members, Miller added, is capable of forming other groups and training them for this unique kind of service.

The handbell class meets every weekday except Friday. "There is no way a student can practice alone,' Miller said. "It takes teamwork. The absence of one student hurts the practice sessions for the whole group." So, he established a rule that the last person to matter how early, pays a penny, and any student that is late, pays a nickel.

Their last performance of this semester was Sunday in St. John's Methodist Church of Plainview.

Mix a little cotton with you orange juice and it nearly equals milk. At least in protein percentage. This is just one of the many possibilities now being considered for the new gossypol-free cottonseed flour produced by what is called the Liquid Cyclone Process. LCP for cotton flour will soon be utilized on a commercial scale by the plains Cooperative Oil Mill at Lubbock. The new food-grade cottonseed flour will have as much as 65 percent protein compared to about 13 percent for wheat flour. Unusually high protein content of the flour was the primary rea-son for the concentrated research. Scientists say that as much as six percent of the total world supply of protein is in cottonseed, but until LCP was discovered the protein could not be utilized directly by humans because of the toxic gos-sypol pigment in the cotton-seed. IT'S SMART AND MODERN TO MAKE HOMEMADE JAM

Homemade jam may call to mind a picture of a lady in a bustle hovering over the woodburning stove, but actually it's a very up-to-date treat these days. The high cost of living has created a need for ways to put good flavor and a homemade touch in economy meals, and hot biscuits and rolls with homemade jam and jelly are an inexpensive way to do it. The modern housewife does not need to go to the berry patch for starters. She can make absolutely delicious jam and jelly in minutes from frozen or canned fruits. Even frozen juices. The makers of Pen-Jel, natural apple pectin, includes 33 recipes in every box. One of the most popular is the Cook-No-More Berry Jam recipe that requires no cooking at all. You can start it at the same time you put on the meat and potatoes and serve it for dinner the very same

COOK-NO-MORE BERRY JAM 4 cups berries 1 cup light corn syrup

1 pkg. Pen-Jel Apple Pectin

o cups sugar Wash, stem, and crush 4 cups of strawberries. boysenberries, raspberries, youngberries or blackberries. Put in a 4-quart kettle. Sift in slowly one package Pen-Jel. stirring continuously. Set aside for 30 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add 1 cup light or crystal corn syrup and mix well. Gradually stir 6 cups sugar into crushed berries, warming to 100 degrees. When the sugar dissolves, the jam is ready to eat. For strawberry jam, add 1/4 cup lemon juice after sugar has dissolved. Yield: 4 pints. This jam should be stored in the refrigerator, not on your pantry

HOMEMADE JELLY FROM FROZEN JUICE

(Fast and foolproof) 1 6-oz. can frozen concentrated juice (orange, grape, etc.) 1 pkg. Pen-Jel Apple Pectin 2 cups water

31/2 cups sugar Mix Pen-Jel with 2 cups water in a large saucepan. Place over high heat, bring to full rolling boil, and boil hard 2 minutes, stirring constantly. Reduce heat to low. Add juice and sugar. Stir until both are completely dissolved. (Do not boil). Remove from heat. Pour and paraffin, or cover for short storage in the refrigerator. Yield: 6 medium glasses.

Mrs. Lorene Freeman, home economist, would like to hear how your jam and jelly turn out. Or send her new ideas and recipes. Write her at Speas Company, 2400 Nicholson Avenue, Kansas City, Mo. 64120.
