

Scores Of Citizens Voice Endorsement Of Hospital-Site Bond Issue

Overwhelming endorsement of the $50,000 municipal bond issue to finance purchase of site for the West Texas state hospital and which will be decided at the polls tomorrow, is given in statements assembled by The Herald during the past few days.

T. S. CURRIE—"We should be proud indeed that our city has been selected by the state board of control. This honor cannot be overlooked considering the group of West Texas cities competing. Big Spring has the opportunity to take another forward step—a step that will reward its business men and citizens directly and indirectly, increase its pay rolls, make Big Spring the logical distributing center of West Texas. The failure of Big Spring to approve the bond issue would mean that we could not be seriously considered in the future on state or federal projects and would effect our chances in getting new industries."

ROBT. T. FINER—"The old saying that the recollection of quality remains long after the price is forgotten, can be well applied to the proposed bond issue. While fifty thousand dollars is a lot of money, there can be no doubt that the pay rolls and other funds spent by this institution throughout the years to come will make its first cost to us seem insignificant."

CLYDE E. THOMAS—"Great blessings incur grave responsibilities. A city cannot grow, increase its values, and provide for those modern conveniences of a great town without assuming responsibility by way of cooperation and expense. The favor of our state government in granting to Big Spring this state institution, and the further favor by the state of continued annual appropriations for this institution, does not, cannot, and ought not, to be a free gift without any duties or expenses on our part. The gradual expansion of our town by way of adding institutions after institution, industry after industry, and the necessary increase in taxable values will more than take care of this bond issue as it matures."

JAS. T. BROOKS—"If we are going to secure an institution that will benefit our town, add to its stability, and add to the stability of our property values, then shouldn't we be willing to do our part? We cannot build and improve our town without a concerted and united effort, this is our greatest opportunity for our people to unite, and each to do his part towards securing for Big Spring an institution that will help and benefit all of us."

I. S. McDOWELL—"I am very much interested in the outcome of the election. I want to see an overwhelming victory for the bonds at the polls Thursday. I am wholeheartedly in favor of the issue, and will vote that way. Big Spring has a real opportunity to go ahead with the addition of this institution, and we can not fail to give all our efforts to put the election over."

ANDREW MERRICK—"By all means Big Spring should put this bond election over in a big way. The new hospital will mean a great deal for us, and we cannot afford to pass up this opportunity. Personally I am strong for the bond issue."

W. H. HOMAN—"I think the bond issue will carry by about three or four to one, and you can say for me I am going to support it. Big Spring will certainly benefit from the hospital."

H. D. COWDEN—"Sure, I'm for the bond issue. I believe the people will vote strong for the proposition, which is a fine thing for the city."

DR. AMOS WOOD—"The bond issue should carry by a large majority. I am for it. The new hospital here will mean considerable to Big Spring."

A. R. KAVANAUGH—"I am strong for the bond issue, and you can quote me to that effect. I think it would be a shame for this issue to fall, since we have secured the state hospital. We can't afford to let this proposition go by."

ARTHUR WOODALL—"I am heartily in favor of the bond issue to provide funds with which to purchase the hospital site, and hope the citizens of Big Spring give the issue an overwhelming majority in the election August 26. I would have thought the hospital would be a distinct asset to this community, and we should by all means meet the requirements of the state in securing the institution. There are many ways Big Spring will benefit."

L. E. COLEMAN—"You can say for me that I am 100 per cent for the bond issue, and we cannot fail in this election. I would like to see an overwhelming majority for the bond issue. New Type Of Pet For Children To See When Chinese Buffalo Is Exhibited At Ritz Theatre Thursday

Children the world over have a fondness for pets, expressed by their love and affection of some animal or bird friend. One of the strangest pets imaginable will be in Big Spring Thursday, when Hill, Chinese buffalo, and featured animal actor in Metro-Goldwyn-Stayer's production, "The Good Earth," arrives on a personal appearance visit.

Hill is 40 years of age, and was born in China, where he not only plowed the land, and turned the water wheels for his owner, but also served as pet for several generations of small Chinese children, who romped and played with him, in much the same manner American children do with their kittens or pup. Hill loves children, and during the production of "The Good Earth" liked nothing better than to have the native children on the set shower attentions on him. The caravan of Chevrolet trucks which transport Hill on his countrywide tour, will arrive at 3 p. m. on Thursday, and he may be seen and visited at the Ritz theatre from 3 to 6:30 p. m.

city bond election to provide means to purchase land for the new state hospital in Big Spring, and will cast my vote that way. Big Spring must not let this issue fail, and I am quite sure it will not. However, in case it does, you can put me down for a donation to help raise the money."

A. M. RIPPES—"I'm for it. A $50,000 bond issue is not much, considering what we get in return. If there had been a public subscription to raise that much money, it would have cost me more, at one time, than will my share of city taxes over 20 years. The bond issue will mean only a dollar or so a year on my property. I think that's the fair way. And look at the jobs to be open for the next eight or 12 months during first construction."

W. M. B. CURRIE—"I'm in favor of the bond issue. Surely Big Spring will put this over."

DR. E. H. HAPPEL—"You can say for me that I am heartily in favor of the bond issue. We must not neglect this opportunity to put over something for Big Spring."

WILBURN BARCUS—"Of course I'm for the bond issue. I think it will carry by a nice majority."

H. CLAY READ—"I'm strongly for the bond issue and will support it in Thursday's election."

HUGH DUNCAN—"I hope to see the bond election go over in a big way. We cannot afford to miss the opportunity."

W. R. DOUGLASS—"I'm a strong enthusiast for the bond issue. It is bound to succeed."

W. E. HORNBERGER—"Big Spring cannot afford to turn this proposition down now—the board of control has favored us with the site, and now we must by all means provide money to purchase the land. I am in favor of the bond issue."

DAVID MERKIN—"If we don't put this over, we might as well quit. It will mean more business and benefits for everybody."

REV. C. E. LANCASTER (speaking to congregation)—"I think we have a humanitarian obligation, aside from any economic benefits, in doing our part to provide a place which will take unfortunate people out of jail and afford them the treatment they require. Church people should be interested in relieving human suffering."

WALTER PIKE—"We can't afford to pass this opportunity of providing means with which to buy the land for the state hospital. I am strongly in favor of the bond issue. It would be a calamity for us to fall on this proposition. Big Spring certainly has a chance to go forward with the addition of the hospital, and I am sure the citizenship will vote overwhelmingly for the bonds Thursday."

MRS. CHARLES KOBERG—"Sure, I'm for the bond issue, and I think it will carry by a large majority. Big Spring must approve the bonds so we can assure the hospital, which will be a fine thing for this city and section."

R. L. EDISON—"Everybody should vote for the bond issue Thursday. Big Spring has an opportunity now to advance, and we can't afford to turn down this proposition."

GEORGE WHITE—"My personal opinion is that it (the hospital) will be a very stabilizing influence for everything here. It appears to be a means for absorbing surplus labor of all classes. I am for it."

M. WEAVER—"I own my home in the north part of town and I believe that the hospital will cause that section to build up. I believe it will be the best thing for this town since the location of the railroad shops here."

E. E. FAHRENKAMP—"I am in favor of the bonds. I believe the people will vote strongly for the issue, so the land can be purchased as a real opportunity to go forward."

JOHN HODGES—"I favor the bonds and believe the election will carry."

HAROLD HOMAN—"We can not let down now, we must put the election over. I think it will carry safely."

LESTER FISHER—"I am in favor of the bond issue and hope it will go over Big Spring has an opportunity that it can't afford to overlook."

JOE FLOCK—"I am for the bond issue 100 per cent, and I can't see any reason for anyone being against it, when you consider the many benefits the people of this city and section will receive directly and indirectly. It will certainly be a big help to the railroad."

SAM HATHCOCK—"I'm for the issue, and surely it will carry by a big majority. There are many reasons why Big Spring citizens should vote in favor of this bond issue."

JAMES LITTLE—"I think Big Spring has reached the turning point for a bigger and better city. By all means we should vote the bond issue for the state hospital by a wide margin."

T. J. A. ROBINSON—"By all means Big Spring should put the bond issue over in Thursday's election. We have a chance to go forward and we cannot fail to lose this opportunity. If we fall in this we might as well put up a fence around the city."

R. C. HARGROVE—"I don't see how anybody could be against the bond issue. It should carry by a very large majority, and I think it will."

RAY MILLION—"I am going to vote for the bonds Thursday, and I am sure it will carry by a large margin. I hear very little opposition to the proposition."

TAYLOR ANDERSON—"I am in favor of the bond issue, and I believe it will carry by a large majority. There is no doubt in my mind that Big Spring will receive many benefits from the state hospital."

ROBT. W. CURRIE—"I favor the city bond issue, and there should be a large majority. Big Spring will receive many benefits from the hospital."

FLOYD ROMAR—"I think the bond issue will carry by a large vote, and I am in favor of it."

ROY CARTER—"The bond election Thursday is bound to carry by an overwhelming majority. We can not fail to put this issue over."

DAVE WATT—"I firmly believe the bond issue will carry by about three to one. Big Spring certainly should put this election over."

J. E. FORT—"The new institution is bound to be a big asset for Big Spring, with all the building and labor expenditures required in construction. Naturally that will bring more money into circulation. There are many other advantages after the hospital is built. I am strongly in favor of the issue, and will cast my vote for it."

GLENN GOLDEN—"I favor the bond issue and hope to see it carry by a large majority. The hospital for Big Spring will certainly be a big asset."

GEORGE HANDLEY—"It looks like to me building of the hospital will bring lots of new money here—especially to the working people who will have a part in the building program as well as to help out the unemployed by providing jobs. I am for the bond issue, of course. I would say it will carry by at least five to one."

LEE HUBBY—"The new hospital will mean a big thing for Big Spring. I heartily endorse the bond issue."

CALVIN BOYKIN—"I'm for the bond issue—we must put it over."

SHIP FIRE BROUGHT UNDER CONTROL

CORPUS CHRISTI, Aug. 25 (AP)—Fire which broke out in an aft hold of the Norwegian motor vessel Siemmesstad last night as she was docked at the port here, was under control this morning.

The hold was still sealed but Capt. P. Haridson and port officials said they were certain the cotton blaze had been extinguished after the all-night fight using carbon dioxide. A survey will be made of the damage today and investigation will be held to determine the cause.

The Siemmesstad was to have sailed today for the far east with 10,000 bales of cotton.

Capt. Haridson discovered the fire last night. None of the crew or local firemen was injured although the second mate and a city fireman were overcome by fumes.

CONCURRENT HUNTING SEASON FAVORED

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 25 (AP)—William J. Tucker, secretary of the Texas fish, game and oyster commission, sought today to remove the "double jeopardy" of game along the Rio Grande.

He advocated concurrent hunting seasons north and south of the Mexican border to prevent "near annihilation" of animals.

Tucker's plea was prepared for the opening session of the 31st annual convention of the International Association of Game, Fish and Conservation Commissioners meeting here.

Among those who will report on conservation in the United States is Elliott S. Barker, New Mexico game warden.

"Nations anxious about the prestige of their flags must be most interested to see that the seas are cleared of this band of undesirables," the communique said.

Over 1,000 File Claims For Share In Estate Of Eccentric Widow Who Guarded Big Fortune

NEW YORK, Aug. 25 (AP)—Five years ago a lonely, wizened old widow with a genius for finance and a penchant for carrying fabulous sums in a paper bag died in the Herald Square hotel.

Mrs. Ida E. Wood was a symbol for eccentricity to Manhattan's crowded, legend-loving millions. Today attorneys representing 1,019 men, women and children—most of whom never saw the queer little widow in life—sought in surrogate's court to establish a right to share in the $87,500 estate left when she died March 12, 1932, at the age of 92.

The task of sifting the rival claims moved slowly and tediously. Seventy-four were eliminated yesterday, but claimants remained from almost every state in the union and Canada, Newfoundland and Ireland, England and Scotland. Musty records from graveyards, churches and genealogical libraries brought into court by contending lawyers, unfolded the strange career of a woman who renounced a life of brilliance to lead a solitary existence.

Society Leader

The story began in 1867 with her marriage to Benjamin Wood, a wealthy widower prominent in the turbulent business life of that day and brother of a mayor of New York.

When the Victorian era wound to a dusty end in the whirl of the gay nineties, Mrs. Wood was established as a reigning figure in the "golden age" of metropolitan society.

After the death of her husband in 1900, however, the middle-aged widow forsook social life to carry on her husband's business interests, which included the ownership of the old New York Daily News.

With the ascension of a Hetty Green, Wall Street's best remembered woman financier, she added steadily to her fortune by astute stock speculation.

As she wrung more profits from her investments, she dropped all outside interests.

Disturbed Banks
Then came the panic of 1907 when hundreds of banks closed Mrs. Wood sold her holdings in time to avoid loss, but the experience left her badly frightened and profoundly distrustful of all banks.

In 1931 it was found she had not stirred for two years from her room in the Herald Square hotel, where she lived surrounded by 40 trunks crammed with family relics, jewels, valuable books, silk and old lace worth hundreds of thousands of dollars.

A court declared her incompetent in 1931. A nephew, Otis F. Wood, appointed to care for her, disclosed the frail widow—she weighed only 70 pounds—for years had carried hidden in her dress paper bags containing $900,000 in $1,000 bills.

Friends said she told them of making a trip through Africa with $700,000 in a brown paper bag tied night and day to her wrist. Her guardian reported she sometimes covered the floor of her hotel room with $500 bills.

Wood deposited her hoarded wealth in banks and moved her to a larger apartment. She died there of heart disease and pneumonia.

The scramble over her fortune began when it was found her only will bequeathed her estate to her daughter and a sister, both dead.

Mrs. K. J. Sides of Snyder and Cecil Bickley of Kilgore are guests this week in the home of Rev. and Mrs. C. A. Bickley.

PENNSYLVANIA AREA GETS FIRST OIL STRIKE SINCE '17

BRADFORD, Pa., Aug. 25 (AP)—"Black gold" spurted today from the first gusher in 20 years in the Bradford oil field of northwestern Pennsylvania, near the scene of the first oil strike a half century ago.

Veteran oil men sought vainly throughout the night to cap the $7,000 a day flow, splashing up through the 60-foot derrick and across the ground at the rate of 100 to 110 barrels an hour. Crude oil brings $2.85 on the market.

Oldsters said it was the first gusher since 1917 and probably the largest in the history of the field. The Bradford field is known as the Upper Pennsylvania field and the Titusville area, where oil was first struck, as the Lower Pennsylvania field.

The well came in last night nine miles south of Bradford, 1,600 feet deep in the second sand on a lease owned by the Niagara Oil company, subsidiary of the Forest Oil company of Bradford.

ONE KILLED AND ONE INJURED IN CRASH

EDEN, Aug. 25 (AP)—Roy Day of Paint Rock was killed almost instantly and Leonard Pike of Paint Rock was badly injured when the Chevrolet coupe in which they were riding crashed into the rear of a truck loaded with cedar posts on the road to Menard early this morning.

The accident occurred near the Concho and Menard county line at about 1 o'clock. Both vehicles were traveling north.

Arch Jacobson, driver, and Floyd Guice, both of Eden, were riding in the truck. They suffered minor cuts and bruises.

Pike was brought here for emergency treatment then taken to a Ballinger hospital. Extent of his injuries was not determined.

THE SPORTS PARADE

Red Petty, formerly of Nocona, was appointed head coach of Cisco high school yesterday afternoon, succeeding Dexter Shelley and Walter Roush as the mentor of the Oil Belt school. Roush took Petty's place at the beginning of summer but he quit suddenly a week ago when he was offered the position as assistant coach of Arlington Heights, Fort Worth.

Petty is third newcomer to Oil Belt ranks this season. Eastland gridirers will learn a new system as will our own Steers.

Smallest lad out for Longhorn practice Tuesday afternoon was the 110-pound O'Dell "Red" Womack, leader of Ben Daniel's Red Devils last season. Largest was Doug Rayburn, 185-pound center and co-captain this year. J. Wheat, 235-pound tackle, and Red Cunningham, 200-pound fullback, have not reported.

Pecos will have a new gridiron this season. A service club of that city is building new stands and adding a field. The Eagles may not have anything to put on it, however. Little Joe Bob Kelton will not be back this season.

Barnes should make a good player. Sam Flowers and Good Graves, former Steel linemen, were out to watch the new edition of the high school eleven try it yesterday. Sam is trying for a place on the Rice varsity while Good is attempting to break into the lineup at Howard Payne. Brownwood... Jack Hagan returns to the local wrestling arena next week to meet Victor Weber in the main event. Louie Madison seems very interested in Texas Tech after his swing through South Texas.

Towns And Horse In Special Race

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Aug. 25 (AP)—It's Forrest (Spec) Towns, Olympic hurdler, against a spirited cavalry horse in a special timber-topping race today.

And, it seems, no one will predict just what might happen.

"I can't say how I will do against a horse because I don't know how fast the horse can go," said Towns. "I don't know how well the horse will fare against Towns," said Captain Arthur N. Willis, adjutant of the Fort Oglethorpe C.M.T.C. where the race will feature the annual field day.

Four of the usual nine hurdles of the 120 yard spring will be eliminated, because cavalry officers feared the horse, to be ridden by Private John Henry, would not be able to get set for the shorter spaced jumps.

BETTY TO PLAY MRS. CHANDLER

ST. PAUL, Aug. 25 (AP)—Golfing protechnics were in prospect in the 37th annual women's Western championships today as top ranking favorites squared off for second round matches.

Dorothy Traug of San Francisco, defending champion, was paired with Betty Botterill, Salt Lake City, Utah state champion, but preliminary attention was focused on the competition between Mrs. Opal Hill of Kansas and Marion Miller of Cincinnati.

Mrs. Hill won the medal trophy by qualifying with a course record-breaking 75 Monday, and won handily yesterday from Muriel Vestch of Portland, Ore., women's Western junior champion, 4 and 3.

Miss Miley, thrice winner of the women's Western derby, triumphed by a similar margin over Shirley Ann Johnson of Chicago. Two Western stars meeting today are Mrs. Dan Chandler of Dallas, Texas, and Betty Jameson of San Antonio.

Rowe And Paul Dean To Pitch At Marshall

MARSHALL, Aug. 7 (AP)—It was a sure bet here today baseball fans in this area would pack the ball park tonight.

Opposing pitchers in an East Texas League exhibition game will be Lynwood (Schoolboy) Rowe and Paul (Duffy) Dean, who last faced each other in the world series of 1934.

In that contest, Dean outthrew Rowe, giving the St. Louis Cardinals a 4-3 victory over the Detroit Tigers. Tonight Dean will pitch for Marshall and Rowe for Texarkana.

Both youngsters, among the major league pitching greats, are suffering from arm injuries and admit they relish the test to determine whether they can rejoin their teams.

Rowe was touched for six hits in several innings he worked for Texarkana several days ago.

Farr Taught Max Baer A Lesson

Britten Easily Hit In Training But Can Do Better

By GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK, Aug. 25 (AP)—If the rain lets up, Shufflin' Joe Louis is going to defend his heavyweight championship at Yankee Stadium tomorrow night against an old carnival fighter named Tommy Farr.

Most everybody seems to think that Louis will hang on to the Welshman's jaw early in the evening and then call at the pay-off window for the 40 per cent Mike Jacobs has promised him.

Some of the fellows are inclined to think there's going to be a better fight when the income taxers start whacking up Farr's $60,000.

If there's any betting, it mainly concerns Tommy's chances of lasting the 15 rounds, and so forth. However, a lot of people, including young Joe Louis, may be making a serious mistake about this old carnival fighter, Tommy Farr.

Beat Baer Easily
It's a little difficult, on the Welshman's record, to understand why he's been sold down the river. He cut Max Baer into small chunks in London.

The American experts have based their opinion on the fact that Farr has looked like an easy man to hit in training. He is, without doubt, the world's worst gymnasium fighter.

Maxie Baer tried to tag the Welshman solidly for 12 rounds and never did. Maxie, it's true, never was much of a hand to hit anything but the fact that Max never once shook Farr would indicate that the visitor doesn't absolutely stick his teeth into Farr.

It's doubtful that Louis in his short but eventful career has fought a man who goes about his business like Farr does. If Joe doesn't score an early knockout he is likely to be extremely sick of the tonnyandy scumbler before the 15th round. He could even drop the decision.

Maybe the Welshman is exactly cut out for Louis. The negro may be the right on the dotted line before the boys in the back rows get comfortably seated. But again he might not, and this is a mild effort to suggest that he will be in for a rough evening if he doesn't.

Three Texans Survive At Portland Billy Coffey In Tie For 3rd Place

Schumacher To Play Lynch, Smith Meets Eddie Hogan

By FRANK GORRIE
PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 25 (AP)—Sharpshooters who won 64 qualifying places in the national amateur golf tournament here tee off today for a battle that will leave only 16 survivors.

Roger Kelly, Los Angeles, proved the crack-shot when he captured qualifying medal honors with a par-shattering 142.

Kelly added a dizzy 70 yesterday to his par 72 of Monday.

His 20 was one of two scored over the Alderwood golf club course.

Marvin (Bud) Ward of Olympia, Wash., got the other par-buster to put him in a tie at even-par 144 with Art Doering, Jr., of Chicago and Ray Billows of Poughkeepsie, for the second best medal score.

Texan Is Third
Par whipped Frank Strafaci of Brooklyn by two strokes giving him a total of 145 and a tie with Billy Bob Coffey of Fort Worth Texas, for the third ranking card.

One of the first pieces of business, was a playoff this morning between T. S. Jamison, Jr., of Pittsburgh and Willie Turnesa of White Plains, N. Y., for the 64th qualifying position.

They were tied with eleven others at 156 for the one remaining spot.

The eleven men who lost out in the playoff were Frank Hixon of Pasadena, Calif.; Jack Mungler of Dallas, Texas; James French of San Francisco; Robert Fraser of Omaha, Neb.; Jeb-Halaby of Los Angeles; Edward Meister of New Haven, Conn.; Phillip M. Aitken of Lincoln, Neb.; Eddie Held of Denver; Don Edwards of San Jose, Calif.; Johnny Kruilla of Homewood, Ill., and David L. Davis of Tyler, Texas, who lasted to the third hole.

Pairings for the first round of match play starting at 8 o'clock included: Reynolds Smith, Dallas, Texas, vs. Eddie Hogan, Portland.

Joseph Lynch, Boston vs. Don Schumacher, Dallas, Texas.
Jimmy McHale, Los Angeles, vs. Billy Bob Coffey, Fort Worth, Tex.

Von Cramm In Spotlight

BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 25 (AP)—American tennis is enjoying a boom. Much interest is being shown in the national doubles tournament on Longwood's velvety courts.

Large galleries followed the opening play yesterday, attracted by a brilliant international field. Most of the attention went to the German team of Baron Gottfried Von Cramm and Henner Henkel.

Von Cramm and his partner swept aside their American opponents, Dick Murphy and Sam Pritch, without extending themselves.

The Germans engaged Norman Bickel and Horbert Burgess of Chicago today while the defending champions, Don Budge and Gene Mako, faced Gardner Mulloy of Miami, and Alfred Jarvis of Tennessee, N. J. Budge and Mako ousted their fellow Californians, Bobby Harman and George Toley, in a first round match yesterday.

John McDermid, and Arthur Hendrix, fell before two unranked Britishers, Murray Delaford and Clarence M. Jones.

The second seeded American team, a new combination of Johnny Van Ryn, and Joe Hunt of Los Angeles, faced Paul Guibord and Ed Fuller of Massachusetts in the second round. The American-Japanese team of Gregory Mangin and Jiro Jamagishi was favored over Russell Gabbett of Atlanta and Frank Guernsey Jr. of Orlando, Fla.

In the women's division, Carolin Babcock of Los Angeles and Mrs. John Van Ryn, Austin, Tex., attempting to retain their title, opposed two capable New Yorkers, Norma Taubole and Grace urber. The top ranking foreigners, the pretty Kay Stammers and Freda James of England took on Mrs. C. R. Mabley, Jr., Brookline and Mrs. E. B. Corbiere, Southboro.

A local team of junior golfers, those 20 years of age and under, may form a five man team and take part in the eleventh annual San Antonio Junior golf tournament which begins Monday, Aug. 30, and continues through Friday, Sept. 5.

All golfers eligible for the tournament, have been requested to meet with Pro Harold Akey at the Municipal golf course in an attempt to forward plans for the trip.

The tournament, conducted yearly since 1926, will be played over the Brackenridge golf course of San Antonio.

There will be no entrance fee. Prizes have been provided for medalist and runner-up and winners and runners-up in all flights, including consolation and for the winner in the driving contest which will take place Thursday, Sept. 2.

Allison Looks To Younger Players

Says Don McNeill Is Tops Among Netters Just Starting

By FELIX R. McKNIGHT
AUSTIN, Aug. 25 (AP)—Wilmer Allison put his best forehead smash into a tee shot that sailed 250 yards and opined that Don Budge wouldn't turn professional for another year or two.

"Why should he?" queried the former American tennis king. "Don is on top now. It would be rather foolish for him to accept an offer now—just when he has mastered all the amateurs."

Complexion of the professional tennis setup may change within two years, Allison said, with the expected retirement of Ellsworth Vines tearing up the ranks. Observers believed Budge could further add to his prestige by "grand slaming" the tennis field again next year and then replacing Vines, if he retires, as Fred Perry's teammate.

Allison, favoring a wrenched back and a lame hand that cut short his sparkling string of tennis victories this summer, admitted his ailments didn't bother his golf game as he holed a birdie putt.

Out of international competition but still unable to keep away from tournament tennis, Allison came out of partial "retirement" a few months ago, won the Texas title and then went East. He bagged every title he went after until defaulting to Bobby Riggs in the Seabright final.

Paramount Thrill
"I got an old-time thrill out of winning the Longwood tournament," grinned the genial Texan. "It gave me permanent possession of the Longwood bowl—quite a trophy to have around what with names of Bill Tilden, Ellsworth Vines and others on it twice. It took me years to win that tournament the third, and final, time."

Are there any good youngsters coming up?
"Hundreds of them and all fine tennis players, but, strangely, you never hear of them. Right now we have an abundance of great young tennis players but only a few come through. Why? I can't figure it."

"I would say Don McNeill is a crackerjack prospect. Bobby Riggs is playing fine tennis but is little improved over last season. It is awfully hard for young players to break into the tournaments. You must be tops or your entry isn't even accepted."

Just off the edge of the home, par-four hole, Allison chipped up, buried his birdie putt, counted his

Forced by the weather man's lack of consideration to pack their short and potentially decisive selves into one afternoon, the Chicago Cubs and the New York Giants today held the esteemed "front and center" position on the nation's baseball stage.

In the natural course of events, a doubleheader is a strain on both contending parties. This bargain bill at the Polo Grounds held a threat of becoming no bargain at all to the second-place Giants, who are booked tomorrow for another two games with the Pirates.

But the downpour that pushed the Cubs and Giants into the background yesterday made it so much easier for another baseball hired hand, the Boston Bees' Jim Turner, to grab himself a snatch of lime light.

Turner shut out the Pirates, 1-0, on five hits to run his winning tally to 14.

The coat of whitewash he daubed on the Pirates was his fourth of the year.

The big southerner's performance yesterday was enough to overshadow even the fact that the Yanks dropped a 9-8 decision to the White Sox and that Rudy York blasted three homers and got two other hits while his fellow-Tigers were splitting a doubleheader with middle-70 score, collected his winnings and guessed "this golf is just an easy game."

His best score over the Austin Country club course, a par 70, hill-studded layout, is 66.

New Hospital—Improved Results

One of the really worthwhile distinctions of the new West Texas state hospital, whose final location in Big Spring awaits only an affirmative vote on a $50,000 bond issue tomorrow, was pointed out in compelling fashion Tuesday by the man who will supervise the institution, Dr. George T. McMahan, the superintendent.

That distinction, as emphasized by Dr. McMahan in a talk before a local service club, is that the West Texas hospital, new from the ground up—new in conception, new in design, new in equipment, new in engineering and medical approach—will be in a position to chart an improved path in the treatment and cure of mental cases.

It has been one of the shortcomings of institutions of the sort that too much attention has been given to mere housing of patients and not enough to actual treatment. And Dr. McMahan pointed out the program in days gone by was to provide huge wards in which the mentally ill were kept. That "keeping" comprised most of the program.

As medical science has progressed, however, and as new realization has come of the humanitarian responsibilities we have toward caring for these unfortunates, stress has been placed on scientific supervision of the patients, with every possible effort put forward for improvement of their condition and, in many cases, for their cure.

State hospitals built under the old conception unfortunately are not equipped to carry forward the new activity; the cost of change would be prohibitive. But in this new institution, the leaders responsible for such work hope to achieve new success in getting at the foundation of the psychopathic troubles.

Dr. McMahan said: "We hope to build an institution here that will not be regarded as an 'insane asylum,' but as a true hospital. Our principal aim will be for the improvement and cure of the patients."

The superintendent also pointed out that in building the new institution, the latest knowledge in that field of science can be made use of; mistakes of the past can be eliminated, and a truly modern hospital to fit the needs of the times can be established.

With this new skill and this new knowledge, it is not unreasonable to believe that in a few short years the West Texas hospital will be regarded as a great humanitarian enterprise serving its own patients in a fashion to draw attention from medical men, sociologists and others in all quarters.

We have here the making of something truly big.

NEW YORK—Coming in off a late junket the other night, I passed the mortuary where the body of "Legs" Diamond's kid brother was taken after that wan, emaciated young man passed away.

There is a fantastic story attached to this occasion, although it may not be nearly so fantastic as it seems. At the time, "Legs" was badly wanted by the police (as when wasn't he?), and a cordon of detectives was thrown about the place in hope that he would decide to drop by for a last farewell.

They didn't catch him, although it is believed that he was there. They say "Legs" successfully passed through the lines, disguised as a priest, and knelt unmolested at his brother's bier.

Emily Deutsch's orchestra begins each medley with a mournful wail of the reeds which seems to me the very epitome of despair.

Kap Parsons, whose Show Boat plies up the Hudson each sundown, was accused recently of imbibing too freely some of that Gordon's water that they sell in the stubes.

"Who? Me?" ejaculated Kay. "That wasn't hootch. That's the rolling gait I've acquired after being aboard ship so long."

Most bandmen occasionally go in for college songs, but the medley featured by Ozzie Nelson is the most extensive yet hitched together. The tunes and battle-cries of more than a hundred college campuses are waffled to the delighted ears of Astor-roof crowds. A little investigation explains Ozzie's enthusiasm for such—he used to be a half-back himself. Rutgers!

Castanets—those wooden things which Spanish dancers click in their hands—does anybody know how they began? There ought to be a romantic story there somewhere. Mona Montes, the shapely senorita who divides her time between the Met Opera ballet and El Chico, says she knows the whole romantic legend of the castanet. "I'm going down and get it. I see where a colleague, scribbling of nightlife and such, announces that Mona is the prettiest Spanish dancer in New York. The writer will go further and include all other nationalities."

Chet Miller is busy with a crop of new manuscripts, which he is soon to cast and toss into the theaters. Of all Miller legends, the one concerning the late Edgar Wallace remains funniest.

Wallace, it seems, was complaining bitterly about being refused complimentary tickets to one of Miller's shows. Miller rushed to him. "Ah," he cried, "There is some mistake. You are always welcome in our theaters. It is only your plays that we want to keep out!"

Washington Daybook

By Preston Grover

WASHINGTON—Nobody could accuse President Roosevelt of buying a pig-in-a-poke when he named Hugo L. Black to the supreme court.

Black's opinions as a senator have been recorded on miles of white paper. And they've all been on the Rooseveltian side. He made a speech in the senate that was a battle for Muscle Shoals. He wanted cheaper nitrate rates for farmers. That was in the republication era when a young democrat from Alabama was nothing but a voice crying in the wilderness. But Black stayed to see TVA become a fact in 1933.

His last battle in the senate was his own bill which he says would put a bottom in American living standards; the wages and hours bill.

What To Expect
So what can be expected of him in the oak-lined room where the nine justices finally sit down to iron out a decision?

First it's expected that Black will go right to work. He'll face that little court sleazy that says a polite justice should eliminate himself when a controversy comes up in which he is personally interested. But Black's been a senator 10 years. He's had his finger in hundreds of laws. If he were to become dainty about the laws he should or should not pass upon he would truly become the phantom justice, appearing on the bench only now and then.

Besides he's roasted lip-service artists dozens of times. Half his pleas for the wages and hours bill have been pleas to act, and act now.

As judge, he'll have several New Deal laws on which to act. The holding company bill is on the way up through the lower courts. And when that bill was dying of anemia in congress Black was the hypodermic that shoved it through to enactment. Just as the fight over the act was on Black opened his lobby investigation. In a handful of days he had proved that hundreds of telegrams flooding congress, opposing the bill, had been paid for by the power companies. In a fever of self-righteousness congress passed the bill.

Sense of Humor
Through dozens of senate sessions Black has beat the drum for the rights of people as against the rights of property. He's bristled with figures of people working long hours while others were out of work. He's inveighed against fortunes built from shoe-strings when he was investigating the ocean and air-mail contracts. He has insisted that big business has jumped state lines, and must be controlled by national laws.

He'll probably be sitting on the bench when the securities and exchange commission comes up for review. He'll be there when the right of PWA to lend money to cities for power plants comes up. He'll be there when his old pet, TVA, arrives in the court again.

He's lent such measures a helping hand for 10 years in the senate, and it's an extremely safe bet he'll go lending the same helping hand.

And fortunately for a generation of student lawyers still in their cradles, who will grow up to study supreme court decisions, the new Associate Justice Black has a delicately cut sense of humor.

Childless Homes Criticized By Clergyman
BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 23 (AP)—A Michigan clergyman, once a physician, told Buffalo's interdenominational Bible conference last night that the average 16-year-old girl of today "knows more about sex than her grandmother did after she'd had her first baby."

"Debauchery of sex and the sanctity of the home are driving America toward moral doom," the Rev. Dr. M. R. De Hann of Grand Rapids, Mich., said at the annual Bible retreat at Evangelical park.

"Just look at our modern families," he declared. "People have forgotten that in the old days it was considered a chastisement from God when a family was childless."

"People don't want children anymore. They have forgotten that children are a heritage from God."

"Oh, yes, one child is all right, and you can have two and still remain in high society."

"But three or more! That brands you as some sort of an uncivilized being."

Cats Finally Win
By The Associated Press
A game which ended both losing and winning streaks saw Fort Worth defeat Galveston, 2-1, last night in one of two contests in the Texas League.

The victorious Cats ended a five-game losing streak while the Buccaneers chalked up their first loss in seven.

The league's seventh-place Houston Buffs defeated the tall-end Dallas Stars, 3-1, in the other tilt.

Trailer Tintypes

sound stages. If you know someone really, then you may get inside a stage.

But you won't be too welcome, even if the director smiles at you and the stars come over to say a dutiful hello. You'll be as welcome, to put it bluntly, as you would in a washerwoman's tubs on a blue Monday morning.

But What Can You Do?
Studios are talking now, after a summer tourist season that has brought a steady stream of applicants for visiting, of clamping down the lid on all visitors. They always talk that way, but they've never yet done anything about it. They can't.

Exhibitor, important executive, studio head himself, sends friends. Studio can't afford to make enemies out of important friends. Last time the producers' association issued a strict "No Visitors" edict the tide of out-of-towners increased rather than receded.

One solution suggested has been the erection of sound stages with a glassed-in elevated cage for visitors, where they could see movies in the making without getting in the way of the making.

Another has been a community sound stage, erected at joint expense of all the studios, whereon visitors could go and see a film company—employed for their edification alone—go through the motions. They might even support this with paid admissions, as Carl Laemmle used to collect in the silent days when visitors didn't matter.

But that probably wouldn't work either. No real stars would be on hand and besides—what's the good of seeing something that anybody else can see?

SPARKS 'SOLD' ON TEXANS

By DAVID A. CHEAVENS
DALLAS, Aug. 23 (AP)—Jack (McFish) Sparks, a worm fisherman who has attained a measure of fame because he is such a fine fly-caster, writes from Buffalo that at least a dozen Texans are better at the art than many of the winners of the recent national tournament.

The lanky Texan was adjudged the fourth best all-around artificial bait fisherman in the nation. Immediately after the tournament, the Wacoan sneaked off on a fishing trip, his friends suspecting he had eschewed a minnow bucket and a can of worms somewhere in the gloomy recesses of the Canadian woods.

The national tournament, Parks said, really makes it hard on the fish population.

"I am happy to report most of the entrants were from north, east and west. Southwestern streams are safe for another year."

Giving further evidence of his loyalty to Texas, McFish described his frank opinion that Sparks and Brady creeks in the hill country and the upper reaches of the middle Concho probably hold more fighting small-mouth bass than all the lakes of the north woods.

He mentioned Curley Hargrove of Dallas and Hubert Kraft of Waco and Charlie Hill of Houston as three Texans who could make the Yankee fishermen squirm in competition.

"If these fellows could find time to enter a national tournament, I have no doubt they could win numbers of top honors," said Sparks.

"Earl Wray and Roy Martin of Waco, Weldon Cabiness and Roy Rowell of Houston and Creighton Boyd of Shreveport are all tops in their various branches of artificial bait fishing."

"I know how good these fellows are in comparison with their Yankee brothers because I have been competing with both, and I have been licked by both."

Mrs. Hall Victor But Men's Champ Loses

VANDALIA, O., Aug. 23 (AP)—The professional clay target championship of North America trapshoot program:

Mrs. Lela Hall of Strasburg, Mo., made a bit of history yesterday by breaking 194 of 200 to win the women's North American clay target title for the third straight time. Joe Hiestand, Hillsboro, O., farm boy national clay target champion the last two years, surrendered his crown by breaking but 192 of 200.

Phil Miller, of French Lick, Ind., broke 375 in a row to take the throne.

MR. AND MRS.

In Response To An Alarm

weight of 60,000 pounds. It will have a passenger-carrying capacity of 40 persons for distances 700 miles and berths for 30 passengers. At the Boeing factory at Seattle where many of the army's greatest planes and flying fortresses are manufactured, the Army's YB-17 type is being adapted for civilian use. The latter will be known as the Boeing Model 807 transport type, and eight are under construction.

Can Rise 30,000 Feet
The distinguishing feature of this new plane will be provisions for reaching an altitude of 30,000 feet. Accommodations are being provided for 30 passengers in each. The big ships will have a wingspan of 107 feet, a cruising speed of 200 miles an hour at sea level and 250 to 266 miles an hour at altitudes from 20,000 to 30,000 feet.

They will be equipped with four G-100 Wright motors that are expected to develop 4,400 horse power. Among the super luxuries which these planes will offer will be provisions for super charging the cabin with oxygen at higher altitudes. Otherwise, in minor details they will be bigger sisters to the Model 247 already in common use on American Airlines.

However, they will be constructed with four engines, high wings and stabilizing fins incorporated into the hull. They are to carry 72 passengers each, have a top speed of 200 miles an hour, a range of 6,000 miles, a wing span of 183 feet and will weigh 32,000 pounds.

The latest Martin creation under construction is a modification of the Clipper-type ships now in operation on the Pacific lines. It has a wing spread of 157 feet; a gross weight of 62,000 pounds and a cruising speed of 156 miles an hour.

Luxury Sikorsky Liner
Sikorsky, whose clipper planes seasoned in trans-oceanic service, is turning its attention a little toward luxury. Its newest model is a 100,000-pound luxury flying boat which will carry 40 passengers, and provide dancing facilities and everything in the way of modern trans-oceanic luxuries. It is being built to accommodate 40 passengers and will have a flying range of 4,500 miles.

In the meantime, the Douglas Aircraft factory is building a new type seaplane in which major attention is being centered on safety. The ship will be twin-motored with floats which retract into the wings. It will carry 26 passengers but is not intended for voyages of more than 3,000 miles. The gross weight will be 28,000 pounds, with a wing spread of 95 feet.

Great as the improvements are in these new craft now being constructed by leading American factories, no secret is made of the fact that they are being hard pushed by European companies.

The latter already have craft under construction which if they prove successful may outmode the latest and highest conceptions of American constructors.

NEW OIL WELLS
NEW YORK, Aug. 25 (AP)—Increased demand for petroleum products created by 5,270,000 new automobiles and 300,000 new oil burners will necessitate the drilling of about 32,000 new oil wells this year, "The Lamp," Standard Oil Co., of New Jersey publication, said today.
