AS ALWAYS, FOR AN EVENT to be a big success, someone has to get out and do a lot of preparatory work ahead of time. These five girls were among the teenagers who turned out Saturday morning to decorate Tiger Town for a dance and party that night. The girls are, left to right in the back row, Alma Jean Winn, Dorothy Heaton, Sandra Wells, and Suzanne Neil. In the front row, left to right, are Sharon Smith and Beverly Bland.

Teenagers Attend Benefit Dance At Tiger Town

More than 75 teenagers attended the benefit dance at Tiger Town Saturday night at which about $25 was raised to be used to help with remodeling the building. Decorations followed a spring-time theme with crepe paper streamers and pastel flowers arranged about the interior of the building. Adult advisors who attended the dance were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Swanner. "If the public could have seen the happy expressions and the excellent behavior of those students, they would really appreciate the good that their donations have done for Tiger Town," said Mrs. R. E. Ayers, a member of the adult council.

Plans were underway this week for the teenagers to start painting the building, both inside and out. The interior of the building will be painted pale pink with red and black trim. Membership cards for Tiger Town were to go on sale this week, so that they can be in use before another week passes, according to Phil Pearson, club reporter. The tickets will sell for 50 cents. Parents of those teenagers who join Tiger Town will be contacted in the future and asked for assistance in sponsoring various functions of the organization.

Mrs. Ayers emphasized that parents are always welcome and are urged to visit the functions of Tiger Town and "see for themselves the good that is being done." Tiger Town officers are Lanny Swanner, president; Freddie Marriott, vice president; Charlotte Muse, treasurer; Marilyn Boyce, secretary; and Phil Pearson, reporter.

The adult council consists of Howard Swanner, Bill Smith, Bill Ball, Charles Marriott, and Mrs. K. E. Ayers.

Co-Captains Chosen For Next Year's Tiger Football Team

The Slaton High School Tiger Football team will have three co-captains next fall when football season gets underway. The three were chosen at an afternoon practice session this week and are Roland German, guard; Don Wright, tackle; and Phil Pearson, fullback. All three of the co-captains will be in their senior year when the season opens, according to Tiger coach Leonard Ehrler.

LET'S STAY BEHIND OUR POLICE DEPARTMENT AND CITY OFFICIALS

(An Editorial)

Slaton's police department, under the leadership of Police Chief Bill Daniels, has been making progress in cleaning up our city by making raids and filing charges following these raids. This newspaper goes on record as standing squarely behind the police department, the mayor and the city commission in this policy.

We believe that Slaton mothers and fathers are entitled to have a town that is clean and healthy morally in which to rear their children. This should be put ahead of any money considerations, for when raids are made somebody has their income cut off.

We ask that the people of Slaton join us in backing our officials in cleaning up our town. Let them know that you are behind them, too. Let's make this the best town in Texas to live in.

Lubbock Firm Is Low Bidder On Evans School Construction

Low bid for the construction of a new Evans High School was submitted by Bell and Eadhart Contracting firm of Lubbock Thursday afternoon at a meeting of contractors and school officials at Slaton High School.

The Lubbock contractor submitted a base bid of $67,169, which after some alteration in the original plans, was reduced to $64,007.

Second low bidder was J. E. Reid, also of Lubbock, with a bid of $69,195. In all there were 14 firms bidding on the job, according to P. L. Vardy Jr., Slaton school superintendent.

Vardy expressed his pleasure in what he termed a "good bid" and related that construction will begin in the very near future, with the building complete and ready for occupancy about September 10. The new school will be built in the southwest part of the city on the same site as the former school which was destroyed by fire in January.

When complete the seven room building and auditorium will be of semi-fire proof construction similar to the buildings already in use in the local system. Two of the rooms will house homemaking and natural science classrooms.

Floor space is estimated at 6,500 square feet. The building will have a brick exterior, steel deck, terrazzo and vinyl asbestos floors, plaster and exposed glazed tile interior partitions, and a warm air heating system.

Interested Persons Urged To Attend Motel Meeting

Persons in the city who feel that Slaton needs a new up-to-date motel are urged by the Chamber of Commerce to meet at the City Hall at 2:45 p. m., Friday, April 20.

At that time ways and means of carrying through on the project will be discussed. Attorney Roy Bass of Lubbock will preside at the meeting.

The Rev. Elmer Crabtree, retired Methodist minister, will preach Sunday services at the First Presbyterian Church of Slaton.

Residents Have Opportunity Of Getting New Farm Road

An opportunity has arisen for the residents of this community to benefit from the construction of a new farm-to-market road which the state highway department has offered to build. A meeting has been called of those people who live on the farm road which runs from the edge of town, out Division St., to where it intersects Farm Road 41, a distance of four and a half miles. The meeting will be held at 8 p. m. Wednesday, April 25 at the Clubhouse and was called by the directors of the Chamber of Commerce.

The purpose of the meeting is for the farmers to form an organization of their own and work out the problem of getting the

Slaton Voters Approve Bond Issue For Buffalo Lakes Improvements

Issuance of $1,860,000 worth of bonds for financing a lake and park at the site of the present Buffalo Lakes was approved by the voters of the county in a light turnout at the polls Tuesday. The vote was 2,454 for and 1,451 against. In local voting at the polls in City Hall 176 persons voted approval to 134 against the bond issue.

The issuance of the bonds is expected to cause an increase in county taxes up to 11 cents on each $100 valuation. Project officials have stated it is hoped that revenue from operation of the will retire most of the bonds without having to use the tax money.

Completion Date
Officials of the water district have set a tentative completion date possible some time in 1957 with hopes that actual construction can begin before the end of 1956.

Purchase of a park site would involve the largest outlay of funds and would cost an estimated $500,000 for the purchase of 1,892 acres of land.

Park and recreational facilities would cost an estimated $342,000, and an additional $300,450 of the bond money would be used for the dam and spillway.

Remaining Funds
Most of the remaining funds would go toward the construction of roads, bridges, bath and boat houses, an administration and recreation building, water, sanitary sewer and power systems.

When complete the lake will

Many Important Issues Discussed By C of C

Groundwork was laid to revitalize and enlarge the scope of operations of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce at a meeting of the directors of that organization Tuesday night, with the announcement that a "Community Clinic" will be held here May 28 and 29.

All Walks of Life
People from all walks of life and every vocation will be called upon to attend the clinic and offer their suggestions as to what they consider to be the definite needs of this community. The future work programs of the Slaton Chamber will be based on the suggestions of the people who attend the clinic.

Meeting with the directors was Ralph Duncan, manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, who told the directors that the most effective method of building a town is by planning a program through the minds of the people who live

Masons Honor Past Masters At Fish Fry

Past Master's Night at the Slaton Masonic Lodge No. 1094 Thursday night featured a fish fry followed by ceremonies in which a master's degree was conferred.

B. H. Bollinger, who was in charge of arrangements for the fish fry, reported that he had obtained red snapper for the fry while on a recent fishing trip to the coast.

The Past Masters are honored each year by the lodge and come to the event from all over this area, according to Bollinger. The local Lodge was formed in 1914.

Jaycees to Sell Pony League Ball Park Signs

Phil Brewer, chairman of the Jaycee sign selling committee, stated this week that signs for the Pony League ball park fence were on sale for $35 each. "We have space available for about 40 signs on the fence at the park and at present we have accounted for about 15 of these signs," Brewer went on to say that with the baseball season was expected to start about May 26. Merchants have only a limited time left in which to purchase these signs so that they can be completed before the season starts.

Members of the sign selling committee will be contacting all of Slaton's businessmen in the next few days," he said. "Several contributions have been received from residents and businessmen of the community, but more are needed." Those wishing to donate are invited by Brewer to contact him or George Harlan, Pony League president.

Slaton's Junior Chamber of Commerce will also erect and maintain a concessions stand at the ball park. Proceeds from the stand will be used to defray the expense of lighting the field for night games. Another Jaycee committee, headed by Glen Akin, will paint the stands which are now at the Pony League ball park.

Twelve Establishments Hit

Police Confiscate Wine, Beer, Whiskey in Raid On Flats

A raid on 12 establishments in the Negro section of the city Sunday night by officers of the Liquor Control Board, Lubbock County Sheriff's Deputies and Slaton Officers netted a haul of over 50 cans of beer and a large amount of wine and whiskey.

Officers filed charges on two of the establishments which were raided, and searched the remaining 10, picking up some liquor in each. The raid was carried out by two sheriff's deputies, two representatives of the liquor board, two local policemen, and Slaton's police chief Bill Daniels.

"We have the most talked about Flats in this section of the country," Daniels stated. "If we could get the white people to stay out of the Flats we could run most of the bootleggers out of business—if the white people stayed out most of the people who are selling liquor would have to stop for lack of business."

Daniels went on to state if anyone in the city has information on conditions in the city that could be used to help clean up the situation the police would like to know about it.

The new police chief stated that since he has been in the community there have been 31 arrests, 14 traffic violation tickets given, two wrecks and no burglaries.

Ordinance Prohibits Parking On Paved Part of Division St.

An ordinance prohibiting parking at any time on the paved part of Division St. from the west end of Division to the west edge of the intersection of Division with 5th St. was approved by a vote of Slaton City Commissioners in a meeting Monday night.

The ordinance was passed because of several injuries which have been sustained as a result of traffic accidents there in the past, and because of the traffic hazard which exists there.

Parking will be allowed on the street between the hours of 9:30 a. m. and 9:30 p. m. on Sunday, and 6:30 p. m. and 9:30 p. m. on Wednesday.

The commissioners voted to hold a city employees banquet here in May. This move is a continuation of a program which was started last year as a time each year when city employees could all get together for an evening. Feature of the banquet again this year will be the awarding of service pins to employees.

Pony League Registration Ends Thursday Night

Registration for Pony League baseball hopefuls was expected to be wound up here at 8 p. m., Thursday, April 19 in a meeting at the Junior High School. All boys who plan to play in Pony League were to have turned in their birth certificates at the Thursday night meeting.

At a recent meeting of the League officials the managers and the names of the teams which will play during the summer months were chosen. The managers and their teams include T. M. "Shorty" Wright, Red Sox; Pete Williams, Braves; Glen Akin, Cubs; and A. D. Howard, Tigers.

Sand and gravel for the Pony League dugouts has been donated by J. C. Strange of Slaton, according to Mrs. Frank Chapple, reporter for the League.

Slaton's C of C Directors Plan Community Clinic In May

Ralph Duncan, manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce community services department, met with the directors of the Slaton Chamber Tuesday night to discuss plans for a Community Clinic in Slaton.

The clinic, as described by Duncan, is a series of meetings of local people who come by the invitation of the local Chamber of Commerce to discuss the job that needs to be done in the community by the Chamber.

The clinic will be held May 28 and 29.

The directors voted to donate $350 toward the renovation of the building in the county park which houses both Tiger Town and the boy and girl scout meeting rooms. Slaton teenagers have been working on the building for the past several weeks and through donations have been able to add a new floor to the wing which houses Tiger Town. Future plans for use of donated funds include painting both the exterior and interior of the building and repairs to the roof.

Following a suggestion by Sheriff Boyd, chairman of the Industrial Committee, the directors voted to go along with businessmen and residents on any plans which they might use to welcome new businesses into the city.

A community-wide meeting of all persons interested in a motel in Slaton will be held in the Chamber of Commerce office at 2:41 p. m. Friday, April 20. Purpose of the meeting will be for the discussion of a possible stock selling plan for the construction of the motel. Attorney Sam Bass of Lubbock will preside at the meeting.

The directors also voted to write a letter to the Federal Communications Commission recommending Slaton as a town for the assignment of a radio frequency. A copy of the letter will be given to a representative of a proposed radio station in Slaton who will use it as a reference in talking to local merchants.

Slaton's Oldest Citizen, J. M. Olive, Buried Saturday

Slaton's oldest resident, J. M. Olive, died Thursday, April 12, just a year and nine months before he would have reached the century mark.

Mr. Olive was active until about eight months ago and was a familiar figure as he walked to and from town. He came to Slaton in January of 1918 when there were only about 1,000 people in the area. He farmed and ran a grocery store at Posey for a number of years.

He was born in Lawrence County, Tennessee, Jan. 13, 1858, and he came to Texas the first time in 1878 stayed two years before returning to Tennessee for a short time, but returned to Texas in 1882 and made his home.

Services were conducted in the Church of Christ Saturday, April 14, with C. L. Newcomb, minister, officiating. Mr. Olive had been a member of this local church since moving to Slaton.

Survivors included his wife, who was unable to attend the services because of a heart condition; a son, A. J. of Little Rock, Ark.; two daughters, Mrs. Waulsie Tucker of Brownsville and Mrs. Tamsie Johnson of Odessa; a stepson, Edwin Haddock of Slaton; 13 grandchildren, great grandchildren and great great grandchildren.

Pallbearers were Cecil Self, Otis Gunter, John R. Childress, W. A. Sikes, Mack Klattenhoff and M. D. Barry. The elders and deacons of the church were honorary pallbearers.

LET'S BACK UP OUR BRAGS!

It has been said that Texans brag a lot about the history of their state but do little to preserve their historical landmarks. Anyone who has visited the historical shrines in the Northern and Eastern states where practically every historical spot has been properly marked and developed must admit this fact. Texans have been too busy making history to preserve it.

But Texas has become of age. More people today are interested in preserving the historical relics of earlier days than ever before. We are at last awakening to the fact that we Texans have a history far more glorious than the average state. Our forefathers fought against terrific odds to carve out a republic of their own. When they defeated the Mexican army and gained their independence, those early Texans exerted a profound influence on the remainder of the United States by making it possible to extend the country all the way to the Pacific Ocean. The documents which they wrote, the costumes they wore, and the articles they used and handed down through their descendants prove both interesting and inspirational to present generations, when they are put on public display.

But in addition to the patriotic and educational value of museums of Texas history, they form a magnet to attract tourists to the state. Last year some ten million persons visited Texas in search of interesting places to see. That is more than the population of the entire state. The number can be increased by providing them with interesting shrines to visit. Needless to say, tourists are profitable to the entire state.

Texans now have an opportunity to develop one of their most sacred shrines into a No. 1 historical and tourist attraction. A movement is on foot to raise one million dollars by public subscription to build a memorial in keeping with the bigness of Texas at the spot where it was born. That is Old Washington-on-the-Brazos where the Texas Declaration of Independence was signed. It ranks with the Alamo and the San Jacinto Battlefield in importance in the history of the state. The other shrines have been developed. Only Old Washington has been neglected. Now is the time to change all that.

In co-operation with the Texas Press Association, which has endorsed this movement, this newspaper will accept contributions to the fund to build this museum of Texas history, which will honor the names of the signers of the Declaration. We shall acknowledge the contributions and send them on to the Texas Independence Day Organization, which is in charge of the project.

Let every Texan join in this worthwhile cause.

THE GREATEST HIGHWAY OF LIFE

himself. He had painful memories. He would offer only the simple love of his heart. He would leave the rest to the Lord. "Lord, Thou knowest all things; Thou knowest that I love Thee." How humble and devoted Peter was now!

Jesus accepted his love, and caused it to grow. It was as though He said, "Yes, Peter, once you said you would die for Me, and then you denied Me. Now I ask you to love Me with your whole soul, and you offer only the child-like love of your heart. But I will take that. Feed My lambs, and tend My sheep. One day you shall suffer for me. Follow Me, Peter!"

Peter was an apostle. He preached and taught, as Jesus asked him to do. Finally he even died for his Lord. We who love the Lord today are not asked to be apostles, nor do we all have to preach or teach. But as followers of Jesus, we will want to bring others to Him. We will tell others of His love. And, best of all, we will live so that others may see Him living in our hearts. Do you love Jesus? Let Jesus live in YOUR heart.

STRENGTH FOR THE WEEK

Do You Love Jesus?
Rev. Malcolm E. Hoffman
Do you remember what happened to Peter during the night in which Jesus was betrayed? He had three times denied that he knew Jesus! The Lord had warned him about this. But Peter had been very sure of himself. Then after he had denied the Master, Jesus looked at him—and Peter remembered. He went out to weep bitterly. Never again would he trust himself. Would Jesus still want him among His disciples? Yes! The Lord had forgiven him. On that first Easter day Peter had seen the risen Master!

Now, sometime after Easter, Jesus confronted Peter with the searching question: "Do you love Me, Simon?" Three times He asked, just as Peter had denied Him three times. He asked for the love of his whole soul, of his whole being. But Peter was no longer so sure of

Then there is the Texas yarn about the woman who called her husband and asked: "Will you get the car out and drive the children to the backyard, so they can play."

Dear Friends

As a part of their work in Humble's Refining Research Laboratory, Humble scientists bombard petroleum hydrocarbons with electrons in a 2-million volt Van de Graaff Accelerator.

But if you ask one of these scientists what he expects to find, he'll answer, who knows!

For this is fundamental research. Results may be quick or they may be a long time developing. Who knows?

... Perhaps the scientists will find a way to increase the yield of useful products from a barrel of crude oil.

... Perhaps they'll be able to make improvements in the fine products already supplied you.

... Perhaps they'll develop an entirely new group of petroleum products.

Who knows!

This much, however, is certain: Humble research scientists at Baytown use every device of physics, chemistry, mathematics and mechanics to provide you with more and better petroleum products.

Two quick examples: The specifications for Esso Extra gasoline, the formula for Humble Uniflo motor oil. These, without question, are the finest products you can use in your car.

Sincerely
HUMBLE OIL & REFINING CO.

Kilmer Corbin

Corbin Candidate For Re-Election To State Senate

Lubbock, Texas, April 18. Senator Kilmer Corbin today announced his candidacy for re-election to the State Senate. In making his announcement the Senator said:

"I am grateful to the Democrats of this district who twice have honored me with the high privilege of serving them in the State Senate. I have endeavored to discharge the trust imposed upon me with all the ability at my command.

I am a Democrat. To that party I owe more than I will ever be able to repay, and I have never deserted it to vote the Republican ticket. As a Democrat I have championed the cause of the masses and have tried to be the spokesman in the State Senate for the interests of the average man. This has brought upon me the bitter opposition of the special interests. Groups who seek to shape and dominate the legislative policies of our state.

I have fought for clean government. When many who are now vocal for a "clean up in Austin" were silent I was demanding a full, thorough and complete investigation of all departments of State government including the Governor's office. Had my advice been heeded the insurance scandals would in all probability never have occurred.

I have refused to obey the dictates of certain selfish cliques and groups in this district who think it their duty to run the people's affairs. Because of this they have determined to bring about my defeat. I welcome their opposition, confident in the belief that the people want a man in the State Senate who will represent them without fear or favor rather than be the errand boy of certain power-hungry big shots who want a rubber stamp Senator that will represent them and their interests rather than the voters of this district.

I have never dodged or hedged on any issue. In the last session of the Legislature I fought almost alone the greedy and corrupt practices of the political machine which has sought to dominate and control our State Government for a decade. Subsequent events have proved I was correct.

The unfair effort to saddle an ad valorem tax on the high plains counties to build dams downstate had my vigorous opposition. The long filibuster which I conducted for over 28 hours contributed to the defeat of this effort.

I have never yielded to the whip-lash of any pressure group, be they the Avalanche Journal, Lubbock, the oil, gas and insurance lobbies, or any other crowd trying to use the office of State Senator to their selfish advantage.

Among the accomplishments of my tenure of office are the redistricting of the State for legislative purposes, the first passed since the 1920 Census, and giving West Texas its share of representation. I have supported all beneficial farm legislation including underground water legislation which established ownership in the land-owner and local control. The farm-to-market road program consisting of Fifteen Million Dollars a year from State funds to be matched by Federal funds has had my support. I have supported soil and water conservation legislation administered on a local level. I have supported the gasoline tax refund for farmers and opposed its repeal. During my term of office extensive school reform has had my support, including the Gilmer-Aiken Program, and I have supported more pay for public school teachers including the full $600.00 a year pay raise. I have worked for Texas Technological College, and during my tenure the State appropriation has been roughly $2,000,000.00 a year with a building program in excess of $5,000,000.00. I was the author of Senate Bill 83 passed by the last legislature creating the new 140th District Court for Lubbock County. In the tax field I have always favored natural resources taxes and have opposed all sales taxes in-

TODAY'S BIG SPECIAL at a price that will open your eyes (and Purse)

If you're in the market for a real buy, take a good look at this one. It's a 1956 Buick SPECIAL—which means, of course it's a big car. But look again at the price news it carries.

It tells you this big Buick SPECIAL can be yours for only a few dollars more than the price of the well-known smaller cars—for even less than some models of those very same cars. (And the price we'll show you proves how true that is.)

The gospel truth is—this brawny new beauty is the biggest bundle of high style and hot performance ever offered in Buick's lowest-priced Series.

Even that, though, doesn't completely explain why Buick outsells every car in America except the two well-known smaller ones.

To understand the big reason, you've got to know something about how much pure automobile you get for your money in a 1956 Buick—

The extra satisfaction of commanding Buick's walloping new 322-cubic-inch V8 engine—

The extra joy and comfort of Buick's new buoyant ride, Buick's matchless new handling ease, Buick's extra solidity of structure—

The extra thrill that comes from the world's most modern transmission. For, at your option, you can also have the new double-action take-off—and the extra gas-saving mileage—of Buick's advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflo.†

Those are some of the things we'd like you to know, firsthand, about the 1956 Buick. And we'll let the car itself—and that low price tag—do the talking. Will you come in—real soon—this week maybe?

†New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

WHERE IS THE MISSING WOMAN?

The case of the Missing Woman and the Mysterious Box, as baffling as any Sherlock Holmes encountered, was centered in Slaton earlier this week following a long-distance phone call to The Slatonite.

Tommy Stuart, who lives at Rt. 1, Tyler, Tex., phoned to say he had a box belonging to a young woman whom he believes to have relatives living in or near Slaton.

Stuart related that he had met the woman on a bus going from Dallas to Tyler on Feb. 29 of this year. The woman, a brunette about 20-25 years of age with a five-year-old girl, told Stuart that she lived in Eldorado, Ark. where her husband worked in an oil field, and that she had been visiting either her mother or some relatives in Slaton.

Stuart said he found the box after the woman had left the bus and is sure that she would like to have it back but he has no way of knowing how to send it to her. The lone facts he knew were the skimpy ones above and that her mother is a widow originally from Santa Anna.

Anyone recognizing such a young woman from the descriptions in this case may contact Stuart at his address in Tyler or get in touch with The Slatonite which will help notify Stuart.

THE WORST KIND OF MONOPOLY THERE IS

Monopoly is a word that has a bad sound to the ears of Americans. Monopoly never did fit into our ideas of a free nation. When it arose, we squelched it with the might of public opinion and the antitrust laws. Better than any other nation, we know the value to consumers of competition—and the value to business of the freedom to compete. Monopoly in products or services is evil because it enables those who hold monopoly power to ignore the interests of the consuming public.

But far worse than any monopoly in goods is a monopoly in people. Under a state tyranny like that of Soviet Russia, the rulers exercise sole rights to the use of individual lives—in aggression, labor, and everything else. Monopoly in any form is the reverse of freedom. Monopoly power over people—whether its use is attempted by government or by any group or organization—is intolerable in any nation that respects liberty and individual rights.

Paradise of Silence
A new type of vacation spot has been found. Prince Wolfrad Von Schaumburg-Lippe, who owns a resort near Hanover, Germany plans to establish a "paradise of silence" for the far-famed tired business man.

Only quiet sports will be permitted, such as golf, archery and tennis. There will be neither automobiles nor radios. Music is permitted for just one hour a day, and then only for classical selections, chosen for their quietness by the management. Wagner is likely to be rejected for Chopin.

It sounds like an ideal spot for jangled nerves. Not only tired business men might like it, but some others, also.

ATTIRED IN ONE OF HER many Japanese kimonos, Mrs. E. P. Schmid, who is visiting in Slaton with her mother-in-law, Mrs. Frank A. Drewry, arranges a floral grouping in a recent exhibition for the Slaton Garden Club. Another example of her work, in all of which individuality and gracefulness are stressed, sits at left before a Japanese parasol.

'Jingle Bells' Scores Hit At Top Japanese Function

"Art, music and flowers go hand in hand and I believe God gave us talents to be developed," says Mrs. E. P. Schmid, daughter-in-law of Mrs. F. A. Drewry, who has been visiting here from Ft. McPherson, Atlanta, Ga. She explains that she tried music but hit a mental block and was getting far more out of art than she could prove to anyone who would ever take the time to look over her paintings.

Even as a child in Mt. Pleasant where Mrs. Schmid had been reared and known to her friends as Jerry, she loved flowers but never really decided to concentrate on the finer points of floral arranging until living in California. Her husband attended a school of language at Monterey where he studied Japanese and she was briefed in music, art, Ikebana, customs and habits of the Japanese by wives of the Japanese instructors.

Attends Sogetsu School
Consequently, on arrival in Japan Mrs. Schmid had enough background to at least know what she wanted to study, for the distinctive art of flower arrangement (Ikebana) in Japan is known the world over. She decided that the school that would most benefit her future in America was the Sogetsu School of Ikebana of Japan.

She now has four certificates for her Master's Degree signed by Sofu Teshigahara, founder of the Sogetsu-Ryue Academy in Tokyo. She gives all the credit to her teacher, Mrs. K. Watanabe of Nagata, and she hopes to make "Sofu" very proud of Mrs. Watanabe, through her work in America. She said that she would like to do exhibits and teach for her own satisfaction.

Home in Niigata
They lived 27 months in the City of Niigata, a city of 265,000 Japanese and a few Americans. Niigata is located on the Japanese Sea and is on the eastern sea coast just a short distance from Korea. For several months while there, the Schmid's lived in a lovely Japanese home, but did have American furniture.

At the time it was the only house in the city for rental that had both a stateside bathtub and automatic hot water heater. A lovely garden surrounded the house. In each room, where it was appropriate, a takimona or altar was placed. In the Schmid home there were Bibles rather than Buddha or Shinto symbols.

Every moment of Mrs. Schmid's time was spent in trying to absorb some of the culture, ways, tradition and the friendship of the Japanese. She says everywhere she went she was impressed with the patience, humbleness and charm of the people.

"We visited in the homes of the governor of the state where we lived, of the top officials, of the 'middle class' and of the very poor and each time we were impressed by the 'correctness' by their standards."

When Japanese guests called they were always anxious to see the Japanese home with American furnishings. Her husband was tied down with numerous obligations and she was busy filling her duties, too, with guests who visited the home often.

Love to See Her Home

To entertain the wives and daughters, Mrs. Schmid would let them tour her home. They loved to look in closets, try her electrical equipment and view her garden. She would teach them sentences in English and vice versa. Recipes, books and patterns were also exchanged.

When the dressmaker, flower woman or the teachers came, the maid was instructed to show just as much courtesy to them as with any other guest. They think of coffee as a luxury and there was never a day when she did not have "our" type of pie, cookie or cake available.

It is their custom to bring a presento (gift) and when leaving the remaining refreshments are always wrapped and given to guests by the hostess. Mrs. Schmid said that nothing was more admired than a gift made by the donor's hands.

When an invitation was sent to an official's wife, Jerry always inclosed her card and the card was returned in acceptance with a simple token of appreciation. In about two days, if it was to be an elegant party, Jerry sent an appropriate gift of appreciation also.

Festivals Interesting

Capt. and Mrs. Schmid were interested in and are familiar with the festivals concerning the Japanese culture and have witnessed festivals concerning religion, history, marriage, birth and death. These seasons were never boring to her she says.

"In fact, we wouldn't be over one until another started. The fathers take a great part in the ones meant for the children and this is wonderful to see. The children are especially good performers and will just 'knock themselves out' as they parade down the street if the Americans encourage them. They loved our waves and greetings to them."

Although Capt. Schmid speaks Japanese fluently, Mrs. Schmid says she never understood a word of any type of difficult Japanese, just common polite expressions. But her interpreter was a graduate of a famous girl's school in Tokyo and could translate speedily.

"She was a great help to my understanding the ways of her country and I hope I gave her an insight into America and my people," says Jerry. The Japanese are a very serious people and restrict themselves to their surroundings, their schools and their work.

Learned to Use Chopsticks

Mrs. Schmid practiced much to master the chopsticks as they are a basic part of the Japanese eating habits. She says she didn't dare drop a piece of fish, meat or noodle, for her chief companion, (best friend in Japan), or maid would have fainted.

Trains Very Small

When traveling in Japan in the company of her husband, Jerry was forced to travel first class, but when she traveled with others who were not required to travel in this manner she enjoyed second and third class. The trains were small and the pullmans were too short for Capt. Schmid.

Third class trains are smelly with fish handlers as they have their ware on their backs. One time she got on a train and set in the midst of a group who appeared to be Anti-American (first time she had ever had anyone move when she sat down by them). She moved also as she didn't know what to do. They moved back and the kind conductor said the seat was reserved for her and asked her to move back. As she was by herself and couldn't understand the language she just sat and smiled and acted especially lady-like and kind during the long ride. She found out they were going to another city to attend an "America, Go Home" meeting. Japanese are so polite they are made to feel ashamed if they make anyone feel they are not welcome and she hopes she impressed them.

New Year's Party

One of the biggest thrills Mrs. Schmid had while living there was to be the only woman present at the annual New Year party held by the city officials. She knew only three American wives were invited, but she did think the Japanese officials' wives would be present. When she arrived however to her surprise she was the only woman there.

This party was one of the most impressive acts of friendship she has ever witnessed. The State department had 'hinted' that it would be nice if Americans were included so the city officials invited some. Four Americans went, two men and Capt. and Mrs. Schmid. In all the years a woman had never been attended and to her astonishment she was on the program. They wanted her to sing "Jingle Bells!" The applause was thunderous.

In her memories she says she has only the finest and the fondest for all the lovely thoughts, honors and occasions granted her while in Japan which are too numerous to mention. She said that she loved Japan from the only standpoint she had . . . human kindness. She would like to return for a visit.

Husband Was Prisoner

"My husband had been a prisoner of war of the Japanese during World War II following the fall of Java. When I saw the Japanese veterans, crippled and putting on solicitations for themselves, I would try to think . . . 'They brought it on themselves,' but when they didn't hiss when I passed by, but instead bowed, I couldn't help but think, 'God made us all,'" says Mrs. Schmid.

Thus the honors, the expressions of respect that were paid to her wherever she went made her want to live that she could sell her country to them.

Warning Issued From National Safety Council

CHICAGO, Dec.—If you've had your hand on the bottle keep your foot off the throttle.

That warning was issued the nation's drivers today by the National Safety Council as it opened its annual Christmas safety campaign.

The campaign is aimed at reducing holiday accidents. Special emphasis will be on traffic accidents, which have taken an upward swing this year of about 6 per cent. A contributing factor to this increase is an even greater gain in motor vehicle travel.

Heavier travel and the festive spirit of the Christmas season always add to the normal winter hazards of bad weather, slippery roads and added hours of darkness the Council said.

In warning against driving after drinking, the Council said that one-fourth of all fatal traffic accidents involve a drinking driver or pedestrian. The conviviality of the holidays probably increases this percentage.

In an effort to reduce yuletide accidents to a minimum, city and state officials, civic leaders, safety councils and 160 organizations are joining with the Council in enlisting the cooperation of every motorist and pedestrian.

"If everyone would be his brother's keeper and assume personal responsibility for himself and others, whether walking or driving, many holiday traffic accidents could be prevented," Ned H. Dearborn, president of the Council, said.

Lonnie Lange, who attends Texas Tech in Lubbock visited Saturday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Kunkel and Wanda Jane.

Mrs. Elizabeth Steffens of Nebraska City, Neb. is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Ray Kitten, and Mr. Kitten.

Mrs. Harley Davis of Omaha, Neb. visited recently with Mr. and Mrs. Byron Johnson and family. She is Mr. Johnson's aunt.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Jones and Ronny attended the Golden Wedding anniversary celebration of Mrs. Jones' aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Ott Smauley, in Roby last week end.

Slaton Group to Attend Pleasant Valley Revival

A. L. Romines and a group of Slaton youths plan to attend the Pleasant Valley Youth Revival Saturday night and Sunday afternoon. Romines requests anyone who wishes to attend to be at his home at 6:45 p. m. Saturday or at the First Baptist Church at 1:45 p. m. Sunday. Transportation will be available.

Charles Masseege, who recently held a youth sponsored revival at the First Baptist Church, will be leading the youth of the Pleasant Valley Church.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Green of Anson spent the week end visiting their son, B. B. Green, and family.

AUSTIN—Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd grabbed the spotlight with his announcement that he would not be a candidate for "any state office."

Although he had forewarned his friends of the impending decision, they were stunned at the announcement. Most expected him to run for re-election. Many had urged him to enter the race for governor.
In giving his decision, he outlined the many accomplishments of his office, including the housecleaning in Duval County; the veterans block-land exposure; the ex-posure of fraudulent insurance companies; and the establishment of an effective system of co-ordinating law enforcement activities in Texas.

Shepperd intends to remain where he is until his term ends on Dec. 31. It has been reported that he would accept a business offer in Odessa.

His decision not to run for any state office was announced in a letter to Harry Kates, publisher of his hometown newspaper, the Gladewater Mirror.

Close friends of Shepperd say that the announcement does not remove him from the list of prospective entrants in the race for U. S. Senator, if and when Price
Daniel resigns from the Senate.

Personal Privilege

An individual's right to express his opinions, within the bounds of libel, for or against any candidate for public office, or any public issue, will be tested in court by the Texas Press Association.

Under the new Texas Election Code, candidates themselves may publish any amount of advertising, limited only by their own personal finances, and contributions. But an individual is restricted to a $25 expenditure during the entire campaign.

On the average, that is approximately 30 words over the radio; a few seconds of TV time; and less than 20 inches of newspaper space.
And it is below the minimum requirement for billboard advertising.

Hearings on the subject will be before the Court of Criminal Appeals.

Lowry Gets Prison Term

Former Beaumont Mayor Leslie Lowry has been found guilty of perjury, in the organization of an insurance company, and sentenced to seven years in prison.

District Judge Charles O. Betts pronounced the sentence.
Lowry, now a Kansas school teacher, was accused of making false statements in an affidavit filed five years ago in connection with organization of the now defunct Texas Fire Insurance Co. of Beaumont and Ennis.

Supreme Court Ruling

Texas officials are aroused by a U. S. Supreme Court ruling knocking the props out from under another state law.
Latest to fall are state anti-sedition laws, which the high court says are superseded by Federal law. Apparent effect was to nullify Texas' anti-communist law.

Attorney General Shepperd called the action "a stunning blow to states rights. It rules out another field of state-federal cooperation, and is impossible to reconcile with the reserved powers of the Federal constitution."
Meanwhile Shepperd filed a brief in the U. S. Supreme Court in support of a contested Wisconsin law against disorderliness in labor disputes. Texas has a similar law.

Property Rights Asked by Women

A woman should be allowed to manage her separate property, say the Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Texas League of Women Voters, and Texas Federation of Women's Clubs.

They have asked the Texas Legislative Council for such a law.
They also urged repeal of the law requiring wives to make separate acknowledgements on legal documents covering property belonging to a couple.

Gas Company Wins Test

Companies which paid the old gas gathering tax "without protest" will get their money back.

In the first test case ruling the Third Court of Civil Appeals held that Tennessee Gas Transmission Co. is entitled to a refund of the $1,140,906 it paid in taxes. Interest payment of $249,576 was not granted.

Since the gas gathering tax was declared unconstitutional by the U. S. Supreme Court, the state has returned more than 25 million dollars in taxes paid "under protest."
Last year the Texas legislature granted permission for about 30 companies, which paid without protest, to sue for recovery.

Short Snorts

Obie Jones, Travis County representative, took himself out of discussion as a candidate for state treasurer, by announcing for re-election to the House . . . Ambasadors of Mexico and all South American and Central American nations, will tour Texas for three days, starting April 27. They will visit Houston, fly through the Beaumont-Port Arthur industrial areas, and on April 28 visit College Station and Austin . . . A written protest has been filed by the State School Land Board against Louisiana's attempt to lease submerged areas off the Texas-Louisiana boundary, on the ground that Texas claims the area . . .
John D. Cofer, Austin attorney and leader in the Liberal Democrats' set-up, was named chief counsel of the Senate Armed Services preparedness sub-committee, of which
Sen. Lyndon Johnson is chairman.
He will serve through the present session of Congress . . . On May 1, Bill Collins of Austin will succeed Gordon K. Shearer as executive secretary of the Texas Parks Board. Collins is executive director of the Texas Nurserymen's Association . . . Ted Connell of Killeen has been appointed by Governor Shivers to fill the unexpired term of John U. Foster of Lufkin, on the Veterans Affairs Commission.
Connell is State Commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars . . .

areas hard-hit by juvenile windshield breakers face payment of Commission spokesmen are consid-its hearings on credit insurance, the Board of Insurance Commissioners heard recommendations that it "cut the fat out of" loan the lenders more profit.

when about 120 people assembled at the Clubhouse.

Tracy Crawford acted as master of ceremonies and introduced Coach M. W. Kerr and Coach Williard Hedges, who in turn introduced their players. Members of the teams presented their parents.

Gifts were presented by the players to Kerr and Hedges and one was sent to Coach Homer Tompkins, who resigned and is now coach at Cameron. Team co-ordinators Barbara Felty and Barbara McCoy, Robert Heaton and Jerry Don Ross did the honors.

Seated at the head table were members of the teams who are graduating seniors. They are Callie White, Ova Sue Wilson, Barbara McCoy, Barbara Felty, Carol Ann Mann, Martha Allred, Sue Coley, Tracy Crawford, Jerry Don Ross and Robert Heaton.

The head table was centered with a miniature basketball over-with members of the teams made of red and white pipe cleaners.
Trophies were also placed on the table. Food was prepared and served by the mothers.

Several Farmers Complete Land Leveling Jobs

Several farmers in the Lubbock County Soil Conservation District have recently completed land leveling jobs on their farms to conserve soil and irrigation water according to supervisors of the district board.

Some of the district cooperators who have recently done land leveling are: D. D. Mahon, four miles north of Shallowater; and Bill Payne, three miles north of Lubbock.

Malcolm Pennington, Work Unit supervisor with the Soil Conservation Service, said that these farmers have improved their irrigation systems by doing this leveling. Since the primary purpose of irrigation is to supply crops with the needed amount of water at the right time, a good irrigation system is essential. The knowledge of JETAWAY seconds the motion!

(... and America votes it The Gear of the Year)

IT'S AN ECONOMY CHAMPION, TOO! Jetaway-equipped Oldsmobiles rocketed to double victory in 1956 Mobilgas Economy Run!

HERE'S A CANDIDATE for the most talked-about "secret" of all time! It's the secret of the smoothness—the revolutionary second coupling—in Oldsmobile's new Jetaway Hydra-Matic! Oldsmobile first used a fluid coupling to cushion automatic gear transitions in the original Hydra-Matic Drive. And it was this famous transmission that opened the door to the whole era of automatic driving.

Now, in Oldsmobile's new Jetaway, not one, but two fluid couplings harness the go-power of the mighty Rocket Engine—soften the surge of Rocket action!

Fluid in the second coupling fills and spills with jetlike speed—cushions gear transitions so they're almost imperceptible! In other words, Jetaway seconds the motion—gives you all the flow of fluid, yet retains all the solid, thrilling go of gears!

NEW DUAL DOWNSHIFTING FOR EXTRA SAFETY! What's more, Jetaway features new dual downshift action—at traffic and cruising speeds—to split-second the motion, too. Just wait till you try it, teamed with Oldsmobile's new Rocket Engine—240 horsepower strong, charged with a 9.25-to-1 compression ratio—delivering a breath-taking 350 lb.-ft. of torque!

JETAWAY SMOOTHNESS... BEAUTY TO MATCH! You'll go for the glamor of Oldsmobile, too! There's massive magnificence and solid assurance in the advance-design "Intagrilite Bumper." It's two front bumpers in one for protection high and low—an Oldsmobile first, an Oldsmobile exclusive—more unmistakable evidence of Oldsmobile's styling leadership! And it's all underscored by Oldsmobile's ruggedly-built, quality-built chassis featuring sturdy Six-Point Suspension to increase riding comfort and roadability.

Sum it all up—performance, power and appearance—you've got to go some to equal it! Yet Oldsmobile prices start right down with many models in the low-price field—and value is right up with the highest at resale time! Stop at our showroom for a demonstration, now!

District CROP Supervisor Tells of Needs

W. L. Holloman of Slaton, newly appointed district supervisor for CROP in this area, reports that citizens of this county still have a "tremendous opportunity" to share their harvest blessings with those in need overseas.

He has just returned from Austin where 15 ministers and laymen, representing more than 65 counties, met for two days to hear and evaluate reports of world hunger conditions. National CROP Field Director Wilson Radway and Texas CROP Director John Gillies led the discussions.

Work to Start Soon
Holloman states that preliminary organizational work will begin in this county very shortly, with representatives of various denominations and farm organizations asked to participate in a local county CROP board. The board will then determine its goal and type of canvass, taking full advantage of the recent release of surplus grains and beans, recognizing that in certain instances contributed commodities must still be shipped if minimum requested needs are to be met.

Those needs, according to the district supervisor, are more detailed and specific than ever before. In some places they are still war-related, as in Korea, Europe or the Middle East; elsewhere they are due to disasters, as in Greece (earthquakes) or India (floods). Two out of every three people in the world still go to bed hungry.

Church World Service
CROP stands for the Christian Rural Overseas Program, which is a program of Church World Service.

Holloman received a letter from John Gillies, state director of the program, stating that 32 carloads of surplus grains that were released Monday of this week for Greece to be distributed by the churches. This is the first shipment of these surplus grains that were released about Christmas of last year. Included in this shipment is 200,000 pounds of wheat, 1,000,000 pounds corn and 500,000 pounds rice. These grains will be distributed to the victims of recent cold wave blizzards, landslides and earthquakes.

Chinese Student Guest Speaker At Rotary Banquet

Stephan Liu a resident of Chungking, China, was guest speaker at the annual Rotary Ann Banquet held at the Clubhouse in Slaton, Thursday April 19 at 7:30 p. m.

Liu is in his fourth year at Wayland College and has attended this past year on a scholarship from the Midland Rotary Club. He attended the first three years of college on a Baptist Foundation Scholarship.

Vocalist for the banquet was Gus Mitchakes, a native of Greece, who offered three songs in as many languages. He sang one song in Greek, one in Spanish, and one in English.

The program was arranged by the international service program committee of the Slaton Rotary Club, of which J. J. Maxey is chairman.

Among the guests who were present were included Rigdon Edwards, governor of Rotary District 183 from Sweetwater, and Mrs. Edwards; and Rex Webster, district governor-elect from Lubbock, and Mrs. Webster.

New Farm Road

right-of-way for the state to build a farm-to-market road to replace the existing road.

The state highway department has furnished County Commissioner George Green with the deeds for the construction of the road and construction will start as soon as the right-of-way is acquired.

The state highway department will take over the road, build a new one, and place it under state maintenance provided that an 80 foot right-of-way is obtained for the state. The present right-of-way on the road is 60 feet, which means that land owners along the road would have to give the state 20 feet additional right-of-way before construction can start.

The county commissioners will pay for any damages to the property. There is no county money available to pay for the right-of-way, and it is not a policy of the commissioners of the county to buy right-of-way on farm-to-market roads as funds are not even available to buy state and federal right-of-way.

Bruce Pember, chairman of the C. of C. highway committee, will be in charge at the meeting Wednesday night.

TEAGUE DRUG MONTHLY NEWS

A Message from Teague Drug "Your Pharmacist"

THIS YEAR, MAY 13th has been set aside as Mother's Day. In 1865 William Ross Wallace wrote, "The hand that rocks the cradle, is the hand that rules the world." Abraham Lincoln said, "All that I am or hope to be, I owe to my angel mother."

IN OUR PHARMACY we owe a great deal to Mother, because without her good will and patronage, we would have little opportunity to be successful.

TO HELP MOTHER is one of our most important duties. We supply the medicines and health-aids that are so necessary to keep her and her loved ones healthy and happy. We try our best to serve Mother courteously and honestly, and welcome the opportunity, to whenever possible, explain how best to use the many important products we carry.

EVERY DAY IS MOTHER'S DAY in our pharmacy because so many Mothers visit us regularly, and we value Mother's friendship.

Dock McGuire Leases Week's "Mystery Farm"

Mr. and Mrs. Dock McGuire live on the "Mystery Farm" which appeared in last week's issue of The Slatonite. The farm is located about four and a half miles northwest of Slaton.

The McGuires lease the house and land from Mrs. Otis Brown, and have resided there since 1950.

They came to Lubbock County in 1927 from Runnels County and settled near County Line, Texas. Prior to the time they lived in Runnels County they had resided in Brown County, where they were married in 1913. Teased about being one of few men able to remember his wedding date, McGuire replied that he could recall the exact date because he was married on Friday 13. His wife is the former Maude Hutton.

The couple has six children all of whom are married. The children include A. R. Muleshoe; Mrs. Artis Robertson, Abilene; Mrs. Virginia Freeman, Lubbock; Hubert, Falls Church, Virginia; John, Odessa; and Mrs. Bonny Ruth Hayler, San Antonio.

The family are members of the Slaton Church of Christ. He is af-filled with the Knights of Pythias.

Cotton and grain sorghums are the two main crops raised on the 375 acre dry land farm.

A possible explanation for the lack of guesses this week as to the identity of the farm was offered by McGuire when he said that two of the buildings which show in the aerial photograph have burned since the picture was taken.

An unusual occurrence on the farm took place in May two years ago when a 13-year-old Latin-American boy was killed on the farm by a bolt of lightning while he was riding on a tractor. Two other persons riding on the tractor at the time were not injured though badly shaken up. The odd thing about the accident is that the dead boy's father was also killed by a lightning bolt. The date of the father's death was discovered to be almost exactly two years before the death of his son.

Service Station Now Operating Under New Owner

C. & W. Service Station at 340 N. 9th St. was operating this week under new management and at the same time was being completely remodeled. The new operator of the station is S. B. Kennedy, who has several years experience in service station operation.

Remodeling plans include a new paint job on the interior of the station and various improvements on the wash and grease racks. Kennedy plans to offer his patrons free pick up and delivery service.

Later on he expects to add a line of automotive accessories including spark plugs, fuel pumps, tires and batteries.

Though he is remodeling at present, Kennedy stated that he will remain open for business. He plans a formal opening of the reconstructed building in the near future.

Roy Parks underwent major surgery in the Veterans Hospital in Big Spring on April 5. Mrs. Parks planned to bring him home on Wednesday. His condition is reported to be satisfactory.

Military Reserve Week Designated April 22 to 28

"Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their country." These familiar words are particularly applicable to the young Texans of today, says Major General Lewis S. Griffing, Chief of the Texas Military District.

"The Armed Forces Reserve has a program whereby all qualified young men can come to the aid of their country," General Griffing explained, "and with the least interruption to their civilian careers."

General Griffing, speaking in connection with Military Reserve Week (April 22-28), pointed out that the U. S. Army is implementing a program designed especially for the youths of America. This program permits a young man to fulfill his military obligation while completing his education or working at his civilian job.

Here's the way it works—he joins a Ready Reserve unit or a National Guard unit. He can finish high school (if he doesn't reach the age of 20 first), then go on six months active duty for training. He is then prepared for his Ready Reserve service.

Normally he will have 7½ years left. During this 7½ years if he trains satisfactorily, he will not have to worry about a draft call. In most instances he can train with a unit right in his own home town. The only time he is called away from home is for two weeks each summer to attend training camp. All of this is designated to interrupt, to the very smallest degree, his higher educational pursuits or his civilian occupation.

"Every young Texan should think very seriously about his future military obligation," General Griffing pointed out. "If he doesn't, Uncle Sam is likely to point a finger at him sooner or later. He should consider this program from a standpoint of how it benefits him as an individual. But most important of all he should consider it from a patriotic point of view."

The Army will pay him for his military participation and at the same time prepare him to defend his country in the event of an emergency.

Military Reserve Week, April 22-28, has been designed especially to present the provisions of this program to young men and their parents. This special drive has been endorsed by the president and is supported by many active civic and veterans organizations in Texas. They understand and see the immediate need for a strong and ready reserve.

"Now is indeed the time for every young Texan to come to the aid of his State and his Country," General Griffing concluded.

Mrs. Alva Willingham of Post visited last Friday with Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Avert.

Armed Services Careers Discussed By Recruiters

Reserve commitments and the opportunities for a career in a branch of the armed forces were discussed by army, air force, and marine recruiters at a meeting of the senior class at Slaton High School April 16.

The three recruiters included M/Sgt. W. A. "Sam" Bass, U. S. Army; M/Sgt. J. A. "Bill" White, U. S. Air Force; and M/Sgt. Ira Laird, U. S. Marine Corp.

"We appreciated the opportunity to speak to the seniors and wish to express our thanks to principal John Gilbert for making it possible," M/Sgt. Bass stated.

What They Write

Dear Mr. Perry,

Dr. Hall has sent to me a copy of The Slatonite, announcing the cooperative arrangement between you and the department of Journalism at Texas Tech to use your newspaper for on-the-job training for our students.

I want you to know how deeply grateful we are to you for providing this very practical opportunity for our students. The general format and the publication record of your paper make it an ideal one in which the students may have this type of experience.

Yours sincerely,
E. N. Jones
President

Deeper moisture, Younger look!

Helena Rubinstein's new SKIN DEW

No other beauty treatment in the world gives dry, sensitive skin:

- Deep-moisturizing yet greaseless lubricants so you can wear all day under make-up, all night without mess!
- Invisible film to protect the natural moisture way down deep inside your skin.
- Activated "ferments lactiques" (concentrated milk ferments) to maintain the healthy acid skin balance that protects against surface blemishes and flaking.

Now Helena Rubinstein creates Skin Dew, the result of years of working with her laboratory chemists and doctors in Paris. Skin Dew, a fabulous creamy-dew, forms an invisible film which protects the inner moisture of deep skin layers and maintains the healthy acid balance of the outer skin. Overnight your skin will look younger, dewier, healthier. A drop of Skin Dew before make-up keeps you glowing all day. Don't settle for partial effectiveness in your beauty care—start giving your complexion its Dew tonight!

Ford goes First!

In Performance

At NASCAR's Speed and Safety Event at Daytona, Ford won the Manufacturer's Trophy for best all-around performance. And Ford's 225-h.p. Thunderbird Special V-8, in one day, smashed 30 world speed records at Kingman, Arizona. No wonder Ford is the world's largest-selling eight.

In Safety

When the editors of "Motor Trend" unanimously voted Ford's safety program "the top car advance" of 1956, they had in mind Ford's Lifeguard Design . . . a whole family of safety features, including a deep-center steering wheel and double-grip door latches, to help protect you in case of accident.

In Economy

In this year's Mobilgas Economy Run, a Ford Customline V-8 with Fordomatic won over all cars in its class. The sturdier, heavier Ford carried more weight with greater gasoline economy per pound than any competitive car. . . "saves" as well as "saves" Ford proved itself a regular gas miser.

THIS PICTURE WAS TAKEN at the Wilson railroad depot on the first Sunday in January, 1913. These four area residents were on their way to the home of Ed Foertsch northwest of Wilson to purchase a team of horses. J. J. Kitten leans against the post and his wife stands on his right. Mr. and Mrs. Clem Kitten are standing together near the front of the building. The couples had just arrived from a trip overland from Slaton by wagon. Mrs. J. J. Kitten recalled that the trip from Slaton took about an hour and a half and that the path lay straight across the prairie. Foertsch, Mrs. Kitten said, owned a lumber yard in Wilson at the time this picture was taken.

Wilson Resident Recalls Life Of Early Day Area Settlers

(Editor's Note: Each week in The Slatonite we run a feature called the "Mystery Farm." Usually we contact the farm owner or operator, whose picture ran the week before, and write a short story about the farm's history. The "Mystery Farm" which appeared in the issue of February 10 was owned by Mrs. C. A. Coleman and is located four miles east of Wilson. A small story appeared about her farm in the February 17 issue. That same week we received a letter from Mrs. Coleman telling about life in this area in the early 1900's as she remembered it. The letter, which follows, was sent to us by her son-in-law, Walter Savell.

Mr. and Mrs. Coleman were married in Sulphur Springs in Hopkins County in 1896. They lived there and in Hunt County, where they secured their first home for two years.

In 1898 they moved to Haskell where they lived until 1908 when they moved to the Plains and their farm near Wilson. The family came to the area in covered wagons, driving their cattle with them. The trip to Wilson from Haskell took them about two weeks.

When the family first arrived in this area they found nothing to greet them but a prairie dog town. Mr. Coleman then began the long drawn-out task of hauling the lumber and supplies in from Big Spring and Colorado City. These supplies were hauled by wagon and strings of teams. The trip took as long as a week, especially when the roads were wet, a common thing in those first years.

Sod Broken

Sod was broken, a few acres each year, to get a fair sized farm started.

The first school was built in the area in 1909 and its first teacher was Miss Aubry Milliken. About 15 pupils were enrolled in the school.

All students walked to school in those days, except for a few that lived as far away as five or six miles and had to go to school in buggies and on horseback.

Six months was as long as families of the day could spare their children for school. Each child had a job to do in those days. No football or other exercise was needed, the children got plenty of road work to keep them healthy. They had plenty of wood and cow chips to pick up on off days. Good old hog jowl and Black Strap "Lasses" and corn bread made plenty of vitamins A, B, C, and D. Good health, combined with Christmas once a year, made everyone happy. Of course we had parties and singings, together with home-spun preaching at the neighbors homes.

New Families

Anyway these things got the job done as all the youngsters managed to "cast that gleam" that meant another family would soon be added to help make the community a better place to live.

According to Mrs. Coleman there were about 40 families in all of Lynn County. There was no railroad, and no towns to speak of except for the county seats.

The nearest post office was Tahoka 20 miles away. Still the family managed to get their Dallas Semi-News once or twice a week by relaying the mail from one neighbor to another.

Model "T" Ford

Mr. Coleman was among the first in the county to own and drive a car, a Model "T" Ford.

In 1914 the farm made one and a half bales of cotton to the acre. This made a good demonstration farm for the land agents who were sponsoring emigration trains from the north and east to sell those Yankees on the broad open spaces.

The agents would invariably bring their potential prospects by the farm to see what could be produced on this virgin loam and many is the settler in these parts that bought land on the strength of Coleman's crops. Once in a while one of these land agents would buy him a hat or something just on general principles.

Mr. Coleman died in 1952 at the age of 83 "years young" as he used to put it. Since then Mrs. Coleman has resided on the home place and only recently moved to Wilson to be near the church, which is her hobby these days. The children are all on and near the old home.

—Sent in for Mrs. Coleman by Walter Savell.

Rules of Evidence Preserve Justice

Are you hopelessly confused by court room procedure? Words such as "objection," "overruled," "sustained," "hearsay," "irrelevant" and "opinion" are meaningless to the average person.

The purpose of a trial is to settle disputes that the parties cannot settle by themselves. Before these disputes can be settled, the facts which give rise to them must be established. This sounds simple, but on the contrary it is a difficult task. If the parties agreed on the facts the job would be easy, but each side has its own version.

The trial court has the job of establishing the facts. This is accomplished by questioning witnesses and the introduction of physical evidence. This requires application of the rules of evidence.

Through the years the law of evidence has been established. The rules place restraints on what type of evidence is proper. They have the effect of protecting the rights of the parties by insuring a fair trial.

Hearsay is a word often heard during a trial. Hearsay may involve a statement by a third person or a conversation between two other persons. It would be hearsay if Jones were asked to tell the court what he overheard Smith tell Greene. With certain exceptions, evidence of this type is excluded because it is not reliable and might open the door to false testimony.

A lawyer objects to evidence he does not believe is proper. If a lawyer objects to evidence because it is irrelevant, he means that the evidence is of such little importance that it has no bearing on the case, and if admitted it would bog down the trial so that the time needed doesn't justify its admission.

Opinion evidence of one not an expert is not admissible since such opinion carries no weight. When an objection is sustained by the judge the evidence is not received. Should the objection be overruled, the evidence is allowed to be presented.

The rules of evidence have been built up through many years of court trials. These rules are not arbitrary but are designed to see that justice is done in our courts. The judge is seeking to have the truth established and insure that all parties and witnesses in the

Laws Against Power Abuses Held Needed

Appropriate legislation is necessary to protect employees, employers and the general public from "the gross abuses of power by labor unions," according to the National Association of Manufacturers.

Both employees and employers should be protected from coercion by "violence, retaliation or boycotts," the NAM said. It upheld the right of employees to join unions if they choose, but emphasized that they should not be required to join to get—or to keep—their jobs.

Labor Supply Control
The public, employees and employers, the NAM asserted, should be protected against the concentration of power in labor organizations "which enables them to control the labor supply of some industries and to dictate labor-management relations on an industry-wide basis."

The public benefits, it emphasized, from industries which operate at maximum efficiency, and efforts of employers and employees to produce more at less cost should not be frustrated "by work limitations, featherbedding and other restrictive practices."

Union members should be protected from the misuse of union funds for political purposes, the NAM holds, saying that union organizations should not engage in partisan political activities "since such activities are opposed by many members of the unions."

trial are given a full and fair opportunity to present the facts.

West Texas Antelope Trapped For Restocking

AUSTIN — Approximately 350 head of far west Texas antelope NOT harvested during the recent open season are being trapped for restocking purposes, said the Assistant Director of Wildlife Restoration for the Game and Fish Commission.

Less than one thousand permits for antelope hunting were taken up and overpopulation has become so acute in some restricted areas that herd reduction had to be placed on an emergency basis.

The Assistant Director said both bucks and does, are being released on ranches whose owners made formal application for the fleet game animals and whose lands fulfilled the requirements governing such releases.

He explains that antelope require vast areas of habitat in which to roam and that a minimum of ten thousand acres of open country is a basic requirement to receive the two-toned colored game for restocking.

The Assistant Director said such tracts are available generally in the western portions of the state beyond Fort Worth and the Hill Country.

Crews catch the antelope by driving the herd into large net traps by use of an airplane. They are loaded on trucks and taken to the release areas. Unlike deer that are trapped, antelope are not dehorned for transport.

The Assistant Director said the bulk of the animals for restocking will come from West of the Pecos but added that a few head may be trapped in the Panhandle where the herds have increased rapidly in recent years.

TWO HOT ONES!

Here are two subjects certain to provoke a high degree of political turbulence along the Potomac:

1. The Democrats (according to the program announced by Senator Johnson of Texas, Senate Democratic leader, after consultation with other party officials) want a farm program which will restore 90 per cent of parity subsidies, extend the benefits to additional products, and possibly include a soil rental program.

The Republicans, deeply concerned over the price decline of farm products, are developing a program of their own. They believe that the 3,000,000 increase in population each year will in time take care of future surpluses—but it won't be of sufficient help by next November. Some concessions are expected but Secretary Benson's program will not be ditched.

2. The Johnson program calls for tax revision to benefit the low-income groups by increasing exemptions from $600 to $700. This would remove about 6,000,000 low income taxpayers from the tax rolls and cost about $2,500,000,000 annually.

A politically-minded Republican estimates that, assuming that all of the 6,000,000 freed of income taxes would vote Democratic next November, the cost to the Federal treasury would be more than $400 per vote!

They Travel "In Class"

Our high school correspondent says that Economics and Geography students are going in for "grass roots" studying.

They're going to charter buses and take off on Operation See-For-Yourself—have a ten-day look at some of the things they've been studying about.

As I remember, it was hard to keep your mind on schoolbooks at this time of year. Today's kids can give in to that old urge to bust out of the classroom—with a clear conscience. Wish they'd take me along.

From where I sit, it doesn't hurt us adults, either, to get out and see how the rest of the country lives. We find the "typical American" doing everything from herding cattle to flying planes... with everything from steak to chowder for his favorite dish... everything from beer to buttermilk for his favorite beverage. And the more we study our differences the more we learn how alike everyone is underneath.

I know you are eager to know the results of the district Inter-scholastic League contests held at Floydada April 13. I am happy to let you know that Slaton brought home three blue ribbons, although last year's contestants brought home six.

In slide rule, Dal Stanley, Bill Caldwell, and Donnie Marsh won first, third and fourth place respectively. Tracy Crawford won first place in the senior division of boys' poetry reading while Beth Lowery captured the second place in girls' poetry reading.

Veletta Polk took second position in girls' senior declamation, Jackie Shepard placed first in boys' senior declamation, and James Vardy placed third in junior boys' declamation.

Barbara Wilke and Louise Moore both placed third in spelling; in ready writing Beverly Bland placed third; the typing results shows Barbara Wilke, fifth, Loretta Gerngross, seventh, and Rudy Dominguez, ninth. Judy Thomas placed fourth in shorthand.

Dee Allan Tucker placed fourth in number sense followed by Bill Clark who placed fifth. There were 10 ribbons won in all.

"Dad Date Night" sponsored by the Slaton FHA chapter was a big success Monday night. The FHA girls prepared a buffet style meal, especially for their dates who were their fathers. There was no program but after the meal John M. Gilbert gave a "cook's tour" of the school building, as Bill Smith put it.

The reason I say it was a big success, only about 80 were expected and many more than that attended. Slaton High School was very glad to have the Serenaders Tuesday night.

Friday the SHS Choraleers will present an assembly for Tahoka High School.

April 20-21, 14 local FHA girls will attend the state FHA meeting in Fort Worth where the state degree girls will receive their awards. All eight girls getting their degrees are going along with four high point girls from the mother chapter and two from the "Little Sister's" chapter.

They include Helen Norris, president of Area I FHA; Kay Sain, Marilyn Boyce, Barbara Wilke, Rose Custer, Mary Ann Klattenhoff, Karen Cooper, Dorothy Heaton in the place of Burdine Becker, and Pam Maxey.

Gail Huser and Shirley Kitten will represent the "Little Sister's" group; Della Scoggins and Sandra Long will be the remaining two to make the trip.

A FEW OF THE 1200 EGG LAYERS that are participating in a caged laying experiment being conducted in Slaton by John Morris, Robert Hall Davis, and Chester Williams, are shown here as they go about their daily routine of eating and laying eggs. The experiment is being conducted by the three men to determine the exact advantages of the caged laying process.

Caged Laying Loses Lazy Hens

By Paul Foraker
There was a young hen named Mabel Who thought laying eggs was a fable.

"Too much work," she complained As from laying she refrained, Now Mabel lies fried on the table.

Back in the good old days Mabel could probably get by without laying her daily dozen and still go on living a normal happy hen's life. But not anymore. A new innovation which came into being around the end of World War II has put an end to lazy hens who want to eat their share of mash but not put out their share of eggs.

Caged laying has proved to be the answer to many a poultry raiser's dilemma of not being able to do an accurate job of culling their hens, and increasing numbers of poultry men in the Southwest are adopting this process. Robert Davis, John Morris, and Chester Williams, all of Ray C. Ayers & Son, Inc., Slaton feed merchants, have installed three hen houses holding 1200 layers each in a commercial experiment to determine the exact advantages of the caged laying process.

Complete Records Kept
"We are keeping complete records on every phase of our caged laying," says Davis. "The hens either lay or they don't, and there's no guesswork about it."

Each of the 24 by 160' hen houses are equipped with six long cages elevated about two feet above the floor by wires attached to the roof. Each cage holds 200 hens who remain completely clean due to the wire bottom of the cage which allows all dirt to drop through to the floor below. Each hen is individually caged, and life consists of eating, drinking, laying eggs, sleeping, and occasionally emitting satisfied clucks.

Two Main Advantages
The two main advantages of this experiment in caged laying are: First, to interest poultry raisers in West Texas in this type of operation, and, secondly, to improve feeds. By keeping an accurate record of how many eggs each hen lays over a period of 30 days, caged laying meshes can be improved with the addition or subtraction of various ingredients. Also, it can be easily determined which hens are producing and which are not. Those who are not doing their share invariably wind up on somebody's table as a Sunday dinner.

Thus, individual culling leaves no room for guesswork, as contrasted to the old-fashioned method of hand culling which was largely a hit-or-miss proposition. Because of the heavy turnover individual culling brings about, Davis is planning a brooder house to furnish replacements.

"People are coming in from as far as Odessa and Midland to investigate the caged laying process," says Davis. "They usually go home well pleased and full of intentions to start a caged laying process of their own."

Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Hardin spent Saturday afternoon in Olton.
