Opportunity To Secure Motel Offered Slaton Citizens

Slaton citizens are being offered the opportunity to secure a first class motel for the community through a letter which the Chamber of Commerce is mailing out this week. A loan of $50,000 is needed from private citizens so that construction of the El Lora motel can begin.

The letter which is being sent to residents summarizes information on the proposed motel and is accompanied by a form for the resident to fill out and return to the Chamber stating if he is interested in investing in the project.

Mrs. Electa Williams and Mrs. Wicker, according to the letter, will put in land and cash, $50,000 to apply on the cost of installing the motel in Slaton. The letter further states that it is agreed that the corporation give to the Lubbock National Bank as Trustee, a first lien for $50,000 repayable in or before a 15 year period, 15th of the principal repayable each year, plus a 6% interest per annum as it accrues.

It is proposed that the $50,000 be represented by bonds in $500 denominations at 6% to be purchased by local people. Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Wicker between them, will be putting in one half of the money, as evidence of their confidence that this operation will be successful. If through some unfortunate circumstance, a default should be made upon the indebtedness, the bond holders will find themselves in the position of owning a $100,000 installation when between all of them together they have put in only $50,000.

Passed Hat Nets $14.55 for Pony League Expenses

A hat passed through the stands of a baseball game between the old men of Slaton and the pick of the Pony League, Wednesday night, netted $14.55, according to Mrs. LeLand Scott, Pony League, secretary. The old timers met the Pony Leaguers at 9 p. m. in Pony League park following the Pony League game there and according to C. E. McCoy, spokesman for the old men, it was mostly just hitting and running. The old timers amassed 13 runs to the Pony Leaguers 11.

The money which was collected will go to the Pony League to be used toward defraying expenses. Otis Neil, who was pitcher for the ancients, probably proved a good indication of the seriousness of the game. Tiring of pitching for the old men he switched sides midway in the ball game and pitched about three innings for the Pony Leaguers.

Slaton Plays Host To First U. S. Senator In City History

Slaton played host Wednesday at noon to the first United States Senator ever to speak here in the city's history. Senator Price Daniel appeared before a crowd of about 60 citizens in an open meeting at the Clubhouse to explain some of the working of the national government. It was felt by those responsible for arranging the meeting that the turn-out was very good considering that no advance publicity was possible and those that attended were contacted by members of the civic organizations which sponsored the meeting.

The First "It is indeed a pleasure to be the first United States Senator to visit in Slaton and I want to thank you for the honor," he said. In a non-political speech the junior senator, who is campaigning for governor, spoke of the duties of a senator and of recent legislation that he has had a hand in.

"I understand that you've been taken off the veteran's loan list for housing in your community—when I get back to Washington I am going to see if there is anything which I can do to get you reinstated."

Speaking of farm problems Daniel said, "In working with Senator Lyndon Johnson we passed an amendment to the recent farm bill giving the same government assistance to the grain growers of the area as was given to the corn producers of the midwestern part of the United States."

"The citizens of this county are to be congratulated for their work on the Canadian River Dam project—it is a good example of what local initiative can do and has done to assure a continuing water supply."

Hopeful of Gov't Aid He stated that he is hopeful that the Federal Government will participate in the project for the cost of flood control, fish and wildlife benefits, and recreational facilities. "There must be a partnership among the Federal, state and local governments to establish a conservation and reclamation program for every river and stream in Texas."

In a statement that brought applause from the audience, the senator said "We should turn back to the states some of the responsibility the national government has taken over."

Narcotic Board Daniel was recently named chairman of a committee to hold narcotic hearings on a nation-wide scale. As a result of those findings he has introduced a bill into congress asking for an over-all strengthening of the narcotic laws in the nation. The new bill would ask for the death penalty in some instances. "I would rather see one of my sons shot with a gun, than to be shot with a needle containing heroine. Over 60,000 people in the United States, 13% of them

Application Filed With FCC For Daytime Radio Station

If plans, which are now underway, are completed Slaton may soon have a radio station. Two Plainview men, Kermit Ashby and Bill Harrell, have applied to the Federal Communications Commission for a construction permit for a radio station here.

The two men have filed for the permit under the business name of Star of the Plains Broadcasting Company to operate in Slaton on 1050 kilocycles with 250 watts during daytime hours only.

Application Received When an application for a new standard broadcasting station is received the FCC checks it to determine whether it is sufficiently complete for examination. If such completeness is found a file number is assigned and this number determines the position in which it is placed to await study in the processing line.

The Star of the Plains application was filed April 4, 1956 and is No. 60 on the processing line. At the current rate the two men should know definitely if they will be allowed to go ahead with construction here around the latter part of June or the first part of July, according to a letter written by the FCC to several citizens here. At the present the men are looking for a transmitter site that they can purchase near town. The main studios, if the FCC grants the application, will be located within the city.

With Plainview Station At present Ashby and Harrell are affiliated with radio station KVOP in Plainview. Ashby is manager of the Plainview station and though he will not operate the local station, he will be a part owner. Harrell is an announcer at KVOP and will operate the local station and move to Slaton. He has been with the station in Plainview for eight or nine years.

Local Needs "If the station is built here it will be directed entirely to Slaton and the surrounding area in news and sports coverage. We want to bring Slaton the type of station that the people want and our set-up will be motivated by the wants and needs of the people here. I would like to thank the local people for Harrell and myself for writing letters to the FCC in regard to our application for a construction permit," says Ashby.

DEFENDERS OF PURITY

Midway in the 20th century, we in the United States have such confidence in the purity and quality of foods and drugs that we rarely give the matter much thought. It is an effort to realize that this was once a prime consideration when one ventured forth to supply the household.

Time was when the housewife had to have a watchful eye for contaminated or adulterated food and drugs. Before the turn of the century, shopping for such items was by no means the relatively carefree task that it has become. Guarantees of purity and quality could not be taken at face value. Few manufacturers listed their ingredients on labels. The unwary buyer was likely to get stung.

The situation has changed because of the pure food and drug laws, which became effective half a century ago. The Post Office Department is issuing a special stamp honoring the 50th anniversary of their enactment. The stamp will depict a man whose name, Harvey W. Wiley, is scarcely remembered today.

Yet Wiley's portrait will fittingly decorate the anniversary stamp, for it was he who led the fight for enactment of the pure food and drug laws. He dramatized the need for such laws by persuading volunteers—who became known as "Wiley's poison squad"—to eat contaminated foods and report the results. We all still benefit in great measure because of the efforts of these men and their leader.

ANTI-MISSILE MISSILE

Testimony before a House of Representatives appropriations subcommittee has once again underscored the folly of talking about the so-called ultimate weapon. There is no such thing, and it is dangerous for us to think that we may have it.

The ultimate weapon would be one so fearsome that nothing could withstand it. There could be no defense against it. History is spotted with such "ultimates," none of which was really ultimate at all. In each case, the weapon so described was in reality nothing more than the most deadly weapon then available. In each case, something more terrible and effective came along in due time.

When the atomic bomb smashed Hiroshima, it was widely hailed as the ultimate weapon. In the intervening decade it has become apparent that the Hiroshima A-bomb is by no means all-powerful. But some of the same persons who regarded the A-bomb as supreme have recently been talking about another "ultimate weapon" that bears a fancy name—the intercontinental ballistic missile.

The ICBM is a terrible weapon indeed, potentially capable of spanning thousands of miles at supersonic speed and delivering a warhead that will destroy a city. It would be too fast to be tracked and shot down by any device now known.

But does that make it the ultimate weapon? Not at all. Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin, chief of army research, told the House committee that the army "expects to be able to defeat" the intercontinental ballistic missile. The army, he made known, is working on development of an "anti-missile missile." When it is perfected, another ultimate weapon will no longer be ultimate.

CRUEL AND UNUSUAL

In recent years, such college boy high jinks as swallowing goldfish and stealing cannons from the town square have given way to a strange phenomenon known as the pantie raid. This species of rowdiness is not much for the nation to brag about overseas, but its annual recurrence has become part of the American scene.

This year it looked as though this item of spring foolishness would not occur. But the situation is back, for better or worse, to normal; the boys at Idaho State College came through handsomely. The girls, understandably nettled, retaliated.

Those lads deserved to be punished, no doubt about that. But girls, was it really necessary to serenade them with trombones in reprisal? Remember what the law says about cruel and unusual punishment!

It is usually precarious to attempt to glide through life in someone else's shadow. One misstep, and the sunlight can be blinding.

The charge against us

STRENGTH FOR THE WEEK

By J. T. Bolding
 Christians should be great optimists. They ought to be very courageous, but sometimes even genuine Christians let fear get in to their souls, and dread possesses them.

Paul had a fear. Now he was not afraid of death nor of judgement for he was at peace with God. He was not afraid of physical or material hardships for he had learned to be content with his circumstances. But he was fearful of being laid on the shelf, of being relegated to the junk heap as useless.

Lots of us are running ourselves to death from the same fear for the same reason. Such need not be the case for if we have the love of God in our hearts, then we may always not only be blessed, but we may be a blessing whatever the circumstance. Let us concentrate, not on doing so many things, but on being that which will make it easier for someone else to trust and serve God.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Blair and children left Sunday, May 27 for a camping trip to Santa Fe National Forest in New Mexico. They camped at Hyde Park near Ski Range. They returned May 31st reporting a very enjoyable trip.

"Mystery Farm" In June 1 Issue Is Unidentified

This is the second week in a row that no-one has known the identity of a "Mystery Farm." So if you know who lives on or operates the farm which appeared in the June 1 issue of The Slatonite let us know and we'll present two free passes to the Slaton Theatre and a one-year subscription to the paper to the name that we draw out of our box.

We finally got the May 25 farm identified as the William Lumsden farm near Wilson. We knew who owned that one, but we are just as lost this week as you evidently are.

When you call in your guess on this week's farm why don't you take a chance on last week's farm at the same time?

THE "MYSTERY FARM" which appeared in the May 25 issue of The Slatonite is the William Lumsden farm located near Wilson. The Lumsden family has owned the farm since 1907.

The house which appeared in the picture in the paper burned to the ground in March of this year. Lumsden was able to save a part of the furniture in the house before the fire destroyed it.

The Ho-Hum Waitz
Vienna, the city of lights and gaiety, is a weary old business man these days. As a matter of fact, it is difficult to tell the difference between that once-waltz-thrilled capital and any American city, judging from the sorrowful reports. Vienna is plagued with a virus called "managerial fatigue". It is said to be the unhappy result of living in the twentieth century.

The Austrians, particularly the Viennese, used to scampering about the Alps in three-fourths time and used as well to the hearty and light-hearted aspects of life, view their tired selves with amazement. Instead of chewing a couple of aspirins or gulping a noisy seltzer as life-weary Americans do, the Austrians are buying antifatique policies offered by a Viennese insurance company.

This policy must have been prompted by a philosophy unknown to Americans. We wear ourselves out because it is a cultural expectation. But the Viennese are expected to be symbols of romance, youth and joy. If they get tired or wake up one morning looking the world right in its ugly realistic eye, they have an indignant right to sue somebody or be compensated for the loss of their national character.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Hasenbren and son, George, of Cullman, Ala. visited here Tuesday with Mr. Hasenbren's uncle, Joe Grabber. They also visited with Mr. and Mrs. Francis Grabber and family, and Mrs. Rose Grabber and family.

Station Re-Opens Tuesday Under New Management

C. C. Eudaly of Wilson announced the re-opening of the Phillips 66 service station in Slaton early this week. Formerly "Mac's" 66, the station will operate under the name "Slim's" 66 Service Station.

Eudaly plans to move from Wilson to Slaton where he will reside at 420 E. Scurry St. The station is located at 9th and Scurry Streets. He will feature Flite Fuel gas, Phillips tires and batteries, oils, Lee tires, wash and grease service and free pick-up and delivery service.

He is married and has three children. Eudaly says that this is his first time to operate a station on his own, but that he has managed several stations in past years and brings with him plenty of experience in service station operation.

DANGERS INVOLVED IN KITE FLYING

COLLEGE STATION—High winds are a boon to kite flyers and kites are in the air. Now comes this word of caution from a farm safety expert, "don't fly kites near electric power lines."

The safety expert, W. L. Ulich, agricultural engineer for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and secretary of the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Committee, says reports are already coming in from over the state on accidents or near accidents involving kites.

One of the greatest dangers, says Ulich, comes from flying kites near power lines. Should a kite become tangled in a line, don't try to get it down. Leave it there and call the power company for assistance. A damp string will conduct electricity and shock could prove fatal. Above all, he warns against using metal of any kind in the construction of the kite and of using string containing metal, such as Christmas wrapping string, for flying the kite.

Should such a combination come in contact with an electric power line, there'll be trouble and it could be very serious.

Ulich says it is fun to fly a properly constructed kite. He suggests taking the kite to an open field or pasture for flying. There the danger from power lines and traffic hazards are no problem and kites can be flown by even the youngest members of the family.

TRENDS SHOW FAVOR TO DEBEAKING

COLLEGE STATION—Buying debeaked chicks for broiler production has become an increasingly popular practice among poultrymen, says Ben Wormell, extension poultry husbandman.

Chief advantages of debeaking are prevention of feather picking and cannibalism among chickens and turkeys. Live market grade debeaked chicks is significantly better due to more complete feathering, and experimental evidence indicated that debeaked chicks tend to produce a pound of gain for less feed than non-debeaked birds.

Day old chicks are usually debeaked by the block method, searing off 1/3 both top and bottom beak. Debeaking of adult birds consists of removing 1/3 of the upper beak with a knife or a hot electric blade which carterizes the area.

When debeaking is correctly done, the only real discomfort is due to extra handling, says Wormell. The outer beak is the same type of material as horn and hoof, and careful removal does not produce pain. If laying hens are carefully handled during debeaking, egg production will not be lowered.

Debeaked birds tend to grow to more uniform size, feather more uniformly, be less nervous, and have better eating habits. It is reported that hatcheries charge 25 cents for debeaking 100 head, and where birds are raised in close quarters it would seem to be a good preventative investment for the commercial poultryman. Due to present trends, it is reasonable to expect an increase in the number of chicks and turkey poult that will be debeaked at the hatchery, says Wormell.

FAMOUS COLLEGE CLASSES
Why do some college classes have an unusual number of gifted members? The death of Ualmer Smith, for 28 years scientific writer and editor for the Department of Agriculture, recalls that Columbia University's Class of 1917, to which he belonged, had many such. Among them were Morrie Ryskind, the musical comedy librettist; Prof. Irwin Edman, a noted figure in Columbia's Philosophical Department; Max Shuster, publisher; Ralph B. Smith, editor of Business Week magazine and George Sokolsky, columnist.

Harvard's Class of 1910 was also notable. It included T. S. Eliot, poet; several commentators and sociologists, such as Walter Lippmann, Stewart Chase and the late Haywood Brown; Clarence C. Little, former president of the Universities of Maine and Michigan and labor director of the American Society for Cancer Research; the late Senator Bronson M. Cutting of New Mexico, and John Reed, fiery radical who, for his services to Communism, achieved the honor of burial in the Kremlin.

On the other side of the picture is the wall of Charles Francis Adams, railroad financier and publicist, whose autobiography complained that he had missed membership in the Harvard classes of 1855 and 1857. In either case he would have had distinguished classmates. Graduating in 1856, he could boast only of membership in a class that specialized in penitentiary inmates.

Kirkpatrick Leads Unusual Life On Indian Reservation

By Pauline Maxey

Who would have thought in 1937 Wayne Kirkpatrick would become a doctor, lawyer, merchant and chief? But that is exactly what happened and if you do not believe it just ask the Apache Indians who live near his trading post.

He is one of the members of the Slaton High School class of 1937 who plans to be in Slaton tomorrow, June 9, to attend a class reunion. As far as it is known, he is among the greatest distance, as his home is at Whiteriver, Ariz.

Knows Apache Language
Wayne, who has always been of a happy and carefree disposition, perfectly suited for the life he is leading with his family on this remote reservation. About 12 years ago he began working at Goodwin's Trading Post where he learned the Apache language. This prepared him to the Indians—that and his helpful spirit.

Before too long he was called to the Marines and after his discharge returned to the reservation with a desire to have a trading post of his own. To secure a post must be voted on by the tribe and the government will issue a license. And to complicate matters an ex-serviceman, who was Indian, was also trying to secure a license. Wayne was highly complimented by receiving the post votes.

Everything From Soup on
He and his wife and their eight children have had the trading post since that time and sell everything from baby supplies, to boots, blankets, stoves, jewelry, hay, horses and many, many other articles.

That just about takes care of the merchant part of his life, but now he is doctoring. He serves as a "medicine man," so-to-speak, as he is asked to call and advise on the sick. He sells them pills, powders and potions, performs prayerful remedies over the sick and dying and helps them in as many of their troubles as possible. He also sees their "painless" dental work right there in his store.

Attends Indian Ceremonies
The Kirkpatricks attend the Indians' "coming-out-parties." This fair is given for girls who are eligible for marriage. A huge crowd attends this ceremony which lasts for several days. There is much dancing around a huge fire with Wayne taking part of participating in the dances. Wayne and his wife V. Ann belong to a square dance club for which Wayne is the official caller. This is for the young Americans at Whiteriver, which has a population of about 1500. These people are employees of the government in Indian service.

Wife Big Help
Let's not forget Wayne's wife, V. Ann. She plays an important part in their success there. The Apaches look on her as an example of what a wife and mother should be. The Indian mothers bring their sick babies to her, feeling that she is competent and sympathetic, being the mother of a large family.

Not only will the Kirkpatricks come the greatest distance, but, as far as is known at the present, they have the largest family. Wayne is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. (Dick) Kirkpatrick of La Junta, Colo. At the time they resided in Slaton, Mr. Kirkpatrick was a Santa Fe dispatcher. He has been retired several years on a disability retirement.

Dr. Roy E. German Graduated Friday In Galveston

Another of Slaton's alumni has accomplished a goal which he set nine years ago and has received his medical degree from the Medical Branch of Texas University at Galveston on Friday. He is Dr. Roy E. German.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. German, and Roland have returned to Slaton after attending the graduation exercises which were held in the auditorium on the Municipal Pier there.

Two hundred and thirty-four degrees were awarded to nurses, doctors, technicians, etc., with M. D. degrees being received by 149. Dr. German has attended the school there for five years, after attending McMurry and Texas University where he received his pre-med training. He is a 1947 graduate of SHS, having moved to Slaton from San Angelo following his Jr. High graduation.

He will take his state board examination in Ft. Worth June 18, 19 and 20. On June 28 he is to report to the Naval Hospital in Bremerton, Wash., where he will serve with the navy after having been sworn in Monday, June 4, in Houston.

He and his wife, the former Betty Maeker of Slaton, will arrive in Slaton this week where they will visit with his parents and Mrs. German's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Maeker, until he goes for his state exam. Mrs. German, who is a registered nurse, has been working at St. Mary's Hospital in Galveston.

The banner will be presented on the following basis: (1) For each person enrolled in the various Sunday Schools as of September 1, 1955, minus one point. The idea behind the penalty is to give the smaller churches an equal chance at the banner by penalizing each church according to enrollment, in much the same way as a golfer's handicap.

(2) For each mile traveled from the different churches to the Westview Baptist Church, plus one point. (3) For each person present, plus five points.

Rev. Ross states that the welcome mat is out for everyone who would like to attend any of the conferences.

TELEPHONE TALK

by J. C. Oakley, Manager

Color Extension Telephones

Certainly it's not news that extension telephones save you time and steps, make life easier and more convenient for you.

But the news from the telephone company nowadays is that you can order extension telephones in eight bright colors. That means you can now have the added convenience of extension service with a handsome color telephone to blend or contrast with the color scheme of any room in your house.

Or maybe you'd want a color extension to smarten up your office or your place of business.

The eight colors they come in are blue, yellow, red, ivory, beige, green, brown, and grey.

To put more color into your home, just call us and order a new color extension telephone. Or if it's convenient, come down to the business office, look them over, and pick out the color which suits you best. The cost is $11.75 for the color set and installation. The monthly rate for home extension service is $1.00.

No Time Limit

Many people seem to think we want them to keep their Long Distance conversations short, meaning three minutes or less.

We asked you to do this during World War II so that emergency calls and calls from servicemen could get through.

But since then we have added many new Long Distance circuits. And now you can call whenever you like, and talk as long as you like.

Station-to-station rates are lower after 6 p. m. and all day Sunday. And remember to call by number—it's twice as fast.

Dial Telephone Service

It won't be too long now before your telephone office will be a very busy place. Within a period of some 40 days from now we will start work on our dial conversion. Many hours of planning and actual work has been done on this up to now and now it is almost time to start installing the dial equipment. This is a story in itself so I will keep you posted as it progresses.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

- that's what it is !

You'll see when you try Buick's new Variable Pitch Dynaflow!

IT TAKES a new word to describe the magic at your command when you drive a '56 Buick—with the newest transmission of them all.

It's full power go-ahead on the instant. You can get where you were just looking in a shaved second's time—with the most modern and most thrilling surge of safety acceleration in the land today.

It's smoothness, too. Complete freedom from the "bump" and lag of gears shifting. Only with Dynaflow can you go winging away with so smooth a sweep.

And only with a '56 Buick can you enjoy Dynaflow's newest marvel. It's something the engineers call "double regeneration." Lets you start off like an Olympic sprinter, with the pedal pressed just an inch or less. (And driving that way, you get better gas mileage.)

There's more big news, too, that goes with this new Buick magic. And that covers a lot more than styling.

Sure—you'll like the graceful new beauty of the V-shaped prow and sweep-ahead look. And you'll like the extra room inside.

But as you drive you'll find that this Buick responds with the new might of a big, record-powered V8 engine of 322-cubic-inch heft.

It handles easy as butter to a warm knife. Tracks the curves like a plane on the beam. Makes any road seem paved with pillows.

And what's responsible for all this are more new engineering advances than Buick has ever made in one model year.

So why not come in and see—and feel—the difference they make? You'll soon know why owners find it's the best Buick yet—and the best buy yet, by far.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

NAVY LST BECOMES OIL DRILLING TENDER

A converted Navy LST acts as a drilling tender for oil operations in the Texas tidelands. The self-propelled ship serves as warehouse and crew quarters and provides space for equipment necessary to drill a 12,000-foot hole. In case of hurricane, the ship can load up all hands and carry them to safety. Personnel of the drilling crews are transported to the tender by helicopter, which lands on a specially designed fantail on the ship's afterdeck. Such ingenuity is a characteristic of oil industry people, who are forever adapting themselves and their equipment to the most varied situations, challenges, and responsibilities in their gigantic task of supplying oil for America's needs.

OIL FIELDS WEAR HALOS —OF RADIOACTIVITY

Using a radiation detector called a scintillation counter, scientists have discovered atomic "halos" of radioactivity that pin point oil pools deep in the earth and can be spotted from a helicopter. If an interesting change in nuclear count pops up on dials of the scintillation counter, the helicopter may go down for closer study. If the scintillometer still verifies an unusual pattern, geophysicists may tramp over the fields for special readings, even digging a trench and sticking the instruments right into the soil. Thousands of readings must be made before oil men feel they know the device's possibilities, but many are experimenting with it to better their chances of oil discovery. It's another progressive example of a progressive industry.

WORLD'S LARGEST "CAT"

The world's largest "cat," which cracks instead of purring, took two years to build. Used to increase the proportion of gasoline and other high grade oils obtained from crude oil, the catalytic cracker needs 400,000 pounds of steam hourly and 80,000 gallons of cooling water a minute. Combining oil with a catalyst and circulating them under temperatures as high as 1,100 degrees Fahrenheit, the oils are "cracked" into more useable products. With such giant equipment, and attention to even the smallest detail, oil men make the most out of that marvelous substance, petroleum.

IT'S THE LAW

How to Change or Revoke a Will
Changing and revoking wills has involved many an estate in litigation because the proper legal methods were not used and the statutes were not followed.
Take the case of Mr. S. Some time ago he went into his lawyer's office and laid in front of his attorney a will which had been prepared for him a year previously. He said that he had made a few changes in it and wanted to know whether his attorney thought the changes were all right.
Mr. S. was attempting to change two items of his will by drawing lines through certain words in these items and interlining, in his own handwriting, the changes he wanted. He was not attempting to revoke his entire will but merely trying to change these two items.
If Mr. S. were to die with his will in that condition, the probate court would not recognize the changes that he had made, but would probably probate the will as it was originally written. Mr. S. was surprised to learn this and immediately requested that a new will be prepared.
After the will has been once executed, changes cannot be made legally by crossing out parts of a will and interlining corrections or additions. To change a will, an entirely new will must be written and properly executed or an addition by way of a codicil should be executed.

But suppose you want to revoke your will entirely. Here again, the surest and most effective method is to execute a new will or codicil. Since a will does not take effect until the death of the person making it, the provisions of the will should be reviewed by the maker at least once a year to be sure that changing conditions and circumstances have not been such as to require a modification of the will. It is very easy to postpone doing a thing of this kind, but failure to do so may result in the intentions of the maker of the will being thwarted to a certain extent. There are many changing circumstances which would be brought to his attention if a person would review his will at least once a year in the light of circumstances at the time.

Such things as deaths among the legatees or devisees named in his will, births, marriages or divorces in the family, accidents or sickness among the close relatives which make it desirable to increase the amount given certain ones, substantial increase or decrease in the value of the estate of the person making the will, death of all witnesses to the will and many other factors, may cause a person to want to execute a new will or add a codicil to his old one.

Wilson Tax Board To Check 1956 Tax Renditions

The 1956 Tax Equalization Board for the Wilson Independent School District will meet on Saturday, June 16 in the Wilson High School building from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. 1956 tax renditions will be checked with the taxpayers, according to J. P. Hewlett, superintendent of Wilson Schools.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Brannon spent several days visiting in Duncan, Chickasha, and Marlow, Okla.

W. A. Jessie of McCamey visited with Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Ellis last week.

Carson H. White, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. White of 120 S. 2nd. St., will begin his college work at Texas Lutheran College, Seguin, with the summer session on Monday, June 4.

at the Democratic convention. But his control of the convention was shaky all the way through.

Near the end, his personal requests were turned down. His reported choice for Democratic National Committeewoman, Mrs. Lloyd M. Beftsen Jr. of McAllen, was side-tracked for Mrs. R. D. Randolph of Houston. She replaces Mrs. Hilda Weinert of Seguin. Also replaced was National Committeeman Ben Ramsey. Elected in his stead was Byron Skelton of Temple.

A new state executive committee is not to be named until the usual time—the September convention. Meanwhile, the May convention is not adjourned—merely recessed. This is interpreted as a "foot in the door" to keep watch over the present committee during the summer.

Defeated conservatives say that Shivers conservatives and Johnson conservatives soon will be back in the same camp. They think it can happen in time to shift party control again in the September convention.

NEW TAX SUGGESTED—When the 55th Legislature convenes next January, the biggest bugaboo will be a familiar one—need for more money.

Budget estimates indicate at least $25 million more a year will be needed for 1957-59 appropriations.

Campaign platforms of legislative candidates show that many think existing tax sources are paying as much as they can. Many suggest that new revenue sources should be found to equalize the load. Few are very specific.

A concrete suggestion came last week from a University of Texas economics professor writing for "Comment," the Bureau of Public Affairs monthly. A "business activities" tax was proposed by Carey C. Thompson.

Such a tax, said Thompson, would be based on value added to a product by manufacture and hence would hit "only newly-created wealth hitherto untaxed."

Michigan, he said, collects about $30 million a year by this means.

Alternate proposals, such as income or sales taxes, widely used in other states, have always met strong opposition in Texas.

"RIGHT-TO-WORK" LAW HIT—Labor leaders are elated, state officials glum over the crippling of Texas' "right-to-work" law.

U. S. Supreme Court last week ruled such state laws cannot apply in the railroad industry. They are superseded by the National Railway Labor Act which authorizes closed shop contracts.

Said Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepherd: It means "railroad workers must join unions or go hungry. A man who is refused the right to work unless he supports certain organizations cannot exercise any of the other rights guaranteed by the constitution."

Jerry Holleman, executive secretary of Texas AFL, called the decision "a great step forward. Texas Federation believes Congress should extend this same protection to the rest of the workers in the country."

OLD DEBTS COLLECTED—A state auditor's survey of the General Land Office resulted in payment of some long overdue debts to the school land fund.

State Auditor C. H. Cavness released a report covering the three-year period just prior to Bascom Giles' resignation. It had turned up 24 mineral leases on which annual rental payments were in arrears. These were called to the attention of Land Office personnel, and collections of $9,373, plus $402 interest, were made.

Cavness noted that J. Earl Rudder, appointed to succeed Giles as land commissioner, has sought to improve lease handling insofar as funds permit.

Restrictive legislative appropriations cause the office to be understaffed, the auditor commented.

NEW FREEWAYS APPROVED—Two new freeway projects were given State Highway Commission okay.

One is to be 33 miles long, on U. S. 81, from Laredo to the La Salle County line. Another multi-lane stretch of 11 miles is planned west of Mineral Wells.

JAMES W. TURNBOW, shown by the glider he designed and built as a hobby, was recently presented an award by the Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corp., for teaching excellence. He is an assistant professor of engineering mechanics at the University of Texas.

Teaching Excellence Award Given To James Turnbow

A former Slatonite, James W. Turnbow, son of Mrs. M. L. Turnbow and the late M. L. Turnbow, was honored by the Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corp., Tuesday, May 29, when he was awarded a $750 award for excellence in teaching.

He is an assistant professor of engineering mechanics at the University of Texas. The award was presented at a luncheon by Frank Davis, chief engineer at Convair in Ft. Worth.

Teacher at Texas U. Turnbow joined the University staff in 1948 while working on his master of science degree in engineering mechanics. Earlier, after receiving a bachelor of science degree from Texas Technological College in mechanical engineering, he had taught at Oklahoma A&M College, served in the Army Ordnance Department as a captain during World War II and worked as a design engineer at North American Aviation at Los Angeles, Calif.

Though only 37 years old, Turnbow has sound teaching philosophy and directs his lectures at the average student. He gives them a great amount of hard work to do and says, "Almost every student if given enough encouragement (in this instance, more work than he would like to do) will actually succeed."

Two Hobbies Although a strict disciplinarian in the classroom he takes every opportunity to be a companion to his students outside of class. He encourages his students to join him in two hobbies: sailing and flying in gliders. He designed and built both his glider and sail boat. He is a member of Soaring Association of Texas.

If weekend weather is not suitable for soaring operations, Turnbow will likely invite some of his students for an afternoon of sailing on nearby Lake Travis.

PITY THE POOR ROMANIAN MOTORIST

Consider the poor motorist in Romania. Gasoline costs almost $2.40 a gallon, although the nation has great oil fields. Price is high because the Russians take most of the oil Romania produces. Motorists in the United States get a much better break. Private management of oil companies keeps competition keen, prices low, and supplies plentiful.

Girl's Summer Program Has 40 Present First Day

The girl's summer recreation program in the city got underway Monday morning with about 40 girls present for the first day of activities. The program has a total of 97 girls already enrolled and more are signing up each day, according to James George, member of the board of directors. Deadline for joining the program has been set for June 8 and girls can pick up entry blanks at the Slaton Junior High School Gym.

With several of the churches in the community holding vacation Bible schools the program is not expected to get into full swing on a daily routine for two or three weeks yet. Once the schools are over the girls will follow a schedule which has already been drawn up.

"The program is designed to fit the needs of the girls and as such it is possible that the schedule will be revised sometime in the future so that each girl will gain the most from it," George stated.

During the last two weeks of the program the girls will enter in team competition in basketball, softball, volleyball, and other sports. At the end of the two-week tournament individual medals will be given to the teams winning each event. Trophies will also be awarded for best attendance, most athletic girl, and sportsmanship.

The schedule as it now stands is as follows:

Monday—basketball, 9-10 a. m.; softball, 10-11 a. m.; ping-pong, volleyball, and badminton, 11 a. m.-12 noon.

Tuesday—miniature golf, 9-10:30 a. m.; and swimming, 10:30 a. m.-12 noon.

Wednesday—ping-pong, volleyball, and badminton, 9-10 a. m.; basketball, 10-11 a. m.; and softball, 11 a. m.-12 noon.

Thursday—basketball, 9-10:15 a. m.; skating, 10:15 a. m.-12 noon.

Friday—softball, 9-10 a. m.; basketball, 10-11 a. m.; ping-pong, volleyball, and badminton, 11 a. m.-12 noon.

On June 18 and July 2 and 6 the girls will meet at the county park with sack lunches for a picnic. The picnics will be held every other week and will be parent sponsored events.

Remember.....

"WHEN YOU WERE CAUGHT IN A NEIGHBOR'S WATERMELON PATCH?"

Remember how warm dust seeped up between your toes as you and Billy crept through the melon patch, picking out the biggest and sweetest melon to be had. How they glisten in the moonlight, like someone had rubbed them with oil. How that big one "thumped" just like you were thumping the toe of your "Sunday go to Meeting" shoes. How you cradled the still warm, slippery thing in your arms and would have gotten away if your pants hadn't snagged on that darned old barb wire fence.

Mom said "you're a disgrace" and "that's what comes of sparin' the rod." Dad tried to look stern but his eyes looked young and he said "We'll settle this between us" and he lectured you about stealing Mr. Brown's melons but you knew Pop was reliving an instant of his boyhood. That wasn't the last time Pop's understanding was a support to lean on. He was quite and dignified but always a friend in need.

Now you can tell Dad you love him with the best gift you can get. Home Furniture Co. has lots of suggestions and you may have your Father's Day gift beautifully gift wrapped . . . something just between you and him.

Is Yours a Stolen Car?

By
Bob Brewer, Supervisor,
Records Section
Motor Vehicle Division
Texas Highway Department

This story begins with the purchase of a $2,000.00 auto. The buyer paid cash for the car, signed his name on a BLANK application for title and proudly drove home. He and his family were thrilled with their new Super Duper 8. It was a beautiful car; luxurious interior; sleek and chromed exterior, and a real power plant under the hood.

A few months passed, then one day two men came to his home. They explained that they were looking for a car like his that carried a previous mortgage. The two men produced a title, and asked the owner if he had his title. They then asked the owner if he would mind if they checked the motor and serial numbers. Whereupon the owner discovered to his surprise and consternation that his title did not match the car he thought was his. Of course, the two visitors claimed the car, and left him to seek a way in which to recover his money.

These transactions do not occur every day, but it is surprising how often an unsuspecting buyer will purchase a stolen or previously encumbered car.

The Motor Vehicle Division of the Texas Highway Department was created by the State Legislature to administer the Texas Registration and Certificate of Title Laws. The county Tax Assessor-Collectors were appointed agents of the division. It is their duty to collect all fees pertaining to motor vehicle registration and Certificate of Title and also to make preliminary examinations of the evidence of ownership. The problems connected with the titling of vehicles have doubled and redoubled since 1946 due to increased production of vehicles, sales, and the high rate of population shifts between states. Texas now ranks 3rd in the nation with over 4,000,000 vehicle registrations on file in this department.

The average family in Texas will spend more for automobiles in 16 years than for all of their other real property combined. Mr. Texan thinks nothing of spending several dollars and much of his time having the abstract and title on a $2,000.00 lot legally processed. He will purchase an automobile valued at $3,000.00, never check an identifying number or the legal description of the vehicle. Furthermore, he will sign a blank application for title and never ask to see what evidence of ownership the seller has or his right to sell.

The Texas Police Association, in cooperation with the Motor Vehicle Division of the Texas Highway Department, was instrumental in getting a law passed by the last session of the Texas Legislature requiring the examination of all vehicles and their evidence of ownership by a peace officer if the vehicles have not previously been licensed or titled in Texas.

If these suggestions are followed the auto purchaser can be assured of getting a good and valid Texas Certificate of Title on his car:

1. Check the motor and serial number on the car against the ownership papers.
2. Check the year, body style, and make of vehicle.
3. See that the necessary papers are completed as to assignments between seller and buyer, and that the proper notarization is affixed to all papers.
4. Be sure that all liens or mortgages are properly released.
5. Before signing your application for title see that the proper description of the automobile is shown, and most important make doubly sure that your name and legal address are correct.

By performing these simple operations, you will be assured of getting your Texas Title without delay. Otherwise, if errors occur in the title transaction, the Motor Vehicle Division title examiners will return it to the county Tax Collector's office for the proper corrections to be made before the title can be issued. Remember, the Certificate of Title to your automobile is just as important as the title on your other real property. Keep it in a safe place but one that is accessible to you. In the event your car is stolen, you should be able to furnish your local police agency a complete description of the vehicle. Do not carry your title in your car; that is like giving the thief a blank, signed check.

Dust your typewriter by turning the blower nozzle of your vacuum cleaner on it.

Rotarians Hear Conoco Party Chief Thursday

Slaton's Rotarians heard Conoco exploration party chief W. C. Herr discuss the subject "Shooting the Safe Way" at its Thursday luncheon meeting at the Clubhouse. Herr is party chief for the 21 man crew which recently moved here from Andrews where they had been for the past two years doing geophysical work. He discussed the various aspects of the work done by the crew in their search for oil bearing formations. The Rev. Henry F. Treptow, pastor of the Grace Lutheran Church, was in charge of the program.

Internal Revenue Receives Many Unusual Letters

Revenue folks rarely take the able to raise an eyebrow over taxpayers' letters at this time of the year. Quite a few of the letters express a very personal dislike for paying taxes. Few taxpayers consider their tax payments a blessing. The District Director of Internal Revenue received a very unusual letter containing a contribution to the government. Contributions in the form of conscience payments are not especially unusual, but the Revenue folks felt this one was. The dates, names and places have been left out to comply with the taxpayer's wishes.

The letter read:
"I am enclosing a check for $25
as my sincere contribution and an expression of my deep gratitude before God to this big, great, free and blessed country. Please accept it and use it like you want. I know that I am free of income tax, because my incomes are so small and I am allowed so many deductions. I have been living here for several years as an immigrant Priest and I know the price of liberty, being in jail for several years and in two concentration camps under the Nazis. I was liberated from a German concentration camp by American troops. I know what suffering my countrymen and the people of all nations behind the iron curtain are undergoing. I appreciate the opportunity of living here and I feel the necessity to express in fact my gratitude and appreciation. This small contribution springing from gratitude is an expression of my appreciation of liv-

Senator Speaks Up!

George chuckled as he put his paper aside. "Well," he began,
"there's an honest man, and he's not afraid to speak out!"
"Who, George?"

"This U. S. Senator, Capehart. He told the rest of them he would vote for the lobbying and campaign contribution investigation, but then he went on from there.

"Said he was up for re-election,
and welcomed contributions—hoped his friends wouldn't forget him. Said he hoped that any Senate investigation wouldn't discourage people from contributing to their favorite candidates for office, and from expressing their thoughts and views to their elected representatives.

"The Senator pointed out that the government is spending 65 billion dollars a year—has both hands in the pockets of the people, is running about everything that has to do with the people's lives. Right!
"So he says, why shouldn't they see, write or wire their Congressmen—go to Washington in person,
if necessary—to protect themselves? So their representatives in Congress will know their views.

"BIRD" DOG FOR LANDING CRAFT—Designed to retrieve capsized or sunken landing craft, the Army's Landing Craft Retriever lumbers out of the surf with a "dead duck." Four of the world's largest tires, ten feet high by four feet wide, support the 101 tons of hoists, framework and twin diesel engines which make up the behemoth. Built by R. G. LeTourneau, Longview, Tex., the monster can handle upward of 67 tons. The huge device can operate in water up to eight feet in depth, is expected to materially reduce expensive losses incurred when landing craft are disabled.

Conservation of Irrigation Water Important Item

Conservation of irrigation water is very important to the irrigation farmer. Loss of water from unlined ditches because of seepage and evaporation can be enormous and probably varies from 10 to 50 per cent.

A limited supply of water makes such losses doubly serious. Fewer acres can be irrigated, or crops must suffer from lack of enough water. Concrete pipe is one method to cut seepage and evaporation losses to a minimum.

Farmers are rapidly learning the advantages of concrete pipe. Some of the advantages are: it provides close control of water distribution, it saves time and labor, it permits productive use of all the land, it aids in insect and weed control, it simplifies irrigation of sloping lands, and it requires little maintenance.

Of course, any concrete pipeline needs to be properly located, so as to fit into a well designed system.
Since these lines are permanent, it is well for the average farmer to seek advice on their design and location. Soil Conservation Service technicians are available and able to help with your concrete pipe problems.

Since several contractors are installing and furnishing concrete pipe in this area, no problem should be encountered in obtaining the pipe or the installation. All of the contractors guarantee their installations for one year. Generally, any fault in material or workmanship should become evident during the first year of operation.

Perhaps pipelines will never replace all open ditches but may eventually replace most permanent ditches. When concrete pipelines are supplemented with the use of metal or canvas pipe, no ditches are necessary at all.

While concrete pipelines are expensive, their expected life span should be long. Considering the advantages and the saving through their use, a real saving may be expected over a relatively short period of time.

Several farmers in the area already have all of their permanent ditches replaced by concrete pipe.

SYSTEMATIC INSECTICIDE CONTROLS INSECTS

COLLEGE STATION—Texas
entomologists report that cotton grown from seed treated with new systemic insecticide has been protected against thrips, aphids, spli-der mites and leaf miners for four to six weeks from date of planting.
F. M. Fuller Jr. and C. F. Garner, entomologists, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, say that the insecticide is compound 3911. A systemic insecticide is one that can be taken up by plants and translo-cated to all its parts.

Seed treatment such as this will replace the first two early season applications of insecticides, but will not be effective against the overwintered boll weevil. Application of a recommended insecticide should be made before the squares are one-third grown to protect the young fruits from weevils or other insects.

Individuals can not purchase Compound 3911 because of the hazards involved. Severe toxicity to man calls for extreme caution, and all seed containers must be burned. Farmers must transport their seed to and from the treating plant. There are two companies in Texas equipped for treating seeds, both are at Waco. Seeds can be treated at a cost of about three dollars an acre.

Advantages of the systemic insecticide are four to six weeks protection against certain insects, and elimination of the first two poison applications by spraying or dusting. Adverse weather conditions cannot destroy the effectiveness of the poison in the plants, report the entomologist. Loss of time for transportation of seed, and three dollars per acre as compared to two dollars when dusting or spraying is employed, offer some disadvantage.

The first daily paper in England,
The Daily Courant, was issued in 1702, and the first penny paper,
the Orange Postman, in 1709.

Mr. Isaac Holmes, who farms about ten miles Southwest of Hale Center, has about 5000 feet of pipe on 160 acres of land. Part of this pipe crosses bench leveled land which Mr. Holmes keeps in irrigated pasture. Gated aluminum pipe is used in connection with the concrete pipe for row cropping.

Mr. Frank Gray, who farms several hundred acres just east of Lubbock, has several thousand feet of concrete pipes. Mr. Gray has bench leveled several hundred acres, and he feels that concrete pipe is almost a necessity on land which has been leveled in this manner.

Her table carried out a "vacation time" theme with a fish bowl holding a minnow and an artificial lure placed beside the bowl.

Howard Hoffman acted as auctioneer with $105 being realized from the bidding. This money will be used for projects of the club. Mrs. H. G. Stokes won a china desk set for having the most beautiful box and Mrs. Vasker Browning, who had the most novel box, was presented a gardening book.
