Report On Community Clinic Received By Slaton Chamber

Editor's Note: Following is report and analysis of the Community Clinic which was held in Slaton May 28-29. The report was prepared by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and has been submitted to the local chamber as a program of work. The report is lengthy and will be covered in a series of articles. The first article deals with an overall picture of the report and a discussion of the divisions of the program of work Civic Improvement.

wide range of practical projects as suggested by a representative cross-section of your citizens from which you may select a constructive program of work. (2) It stimulated interest in your chamber of commerce among citizens, which should result in putting to work more of your people in community endeavor and add materially to the membership and budget of your chamber.

Seven Point Program

"For the purpose of general outline and classification, the following seven-point program for your balanced development is presented for your consideration: (1) Civic Improvement, (2) Parks and Recreation, (3) Retail-Tourist Trade, (4) Highways and Transportation, (5) Industrial Development, (6) Agriculture and Livestock, and (7) Member Relations-Public Relations-Publicity.

"In order that your program of work committee can be better guided in formulating your program of work, we are listing, so far as we consider practical, in this and the following divisions objectives and activities that we shall classify as Immediate Objectives, Short-Range Objectives, and Long-Range Objectives. This should be of assistance to your committee in determining which objectives should be considered first.

Result of Clinic

"As a result of your Community Clinic program, you have the opportunity to adopt a program of work that will challenge your chamber membership and leadership to do a bigger and better job of community building. And, your program will be well balanced since you will be able to carry on a definite amount of work at all times on specific objectives, and you should be able to report completion of projects from time to time that will stimulate your membership."

Civic Improvement

Next week The Slatonite will report on Civic Improvement, the classification which received the largest number of suggestions from those attending the two-day Community Clinic.

Summer Program Softball Game Saturday Night

Girls who are taking part in the summer program in the city will participate in a double header softball game at Pony League park Saturday, June 23, at 7:30 p. m.

The girls will play according to their ages, with 9, 10, and 11 year-olds playing in the first game of the evening and girls 12 and older playing in the second. The first game will be a four inning game and the second will be six innings.

The summer program for girls is proving itself to be very successful according to Coach M. W. Kerr, director of the activities. So far there are a total of 66 girls signed up with an average daily attendance of about 48 girls.

A varied program is being offered including basketball, volleyball, ping pong, bad minton, softball, swimming, miniature golf, and an occasional morning session of calisthenics. Main emphasis so far in the program has been on basketball as the girls became very basketball conscious during the past school year, when Slaton's High School girls basketball team ran up an unusually good record.

"They would play basketball all day long every day we meet if I let them," coach Kerr said.

Tuesday the girls went to the County Park at noon for a picnic sponsored by their parents.

NEGRO ARRESTED, JAILED TUESDAY ON SUSPICION OF WINDOW PEEPING

Slaton police officers arrested and jailed a 16 year-old Negro man Tuesday night on suspicion of window peeping in the city. Police said a call was received at the police station about 11 p. m. reporting that a window peeper was in the neighborhood on North 5th St.

Investigating officers were unable at first to find the man, but found his car and waited in the back seat for him to return. When he returned to the car he was arrested and brought into the station for questioning where he confessed to several instances of window peeping in the West part of the community.

The arresting officers were W. C. Brush and R. L. Bartley. The man was in jail Wednesday pending further investigation and the filing of charges, according to patrolman A. O. White.

Paducah Resident Named Evans High School Principal

O. B. Allen, a resident of Paducah, Texas, has been hired as principal of the Evans School for the coming year. Allen will replace M. E. Granville who recently resigned after 12 years service in the local system.

The new principal is a graduate of Moorehouse College in Allarita, Georgia, where he received his bachelor of arts and master of education degrees in education.

He will arrive in Slaton to begin his new duties about mid-August, according to P. L. Vardy Jr., superintendent of the local school system. Allen's wife will teach first grade students in the Evans school during the coming year. She is a graduate of Bishop College of Marshall, Texas, with a bachelor of arts degree in education.

Members of Slaton's volunteer fire department extinguished a fire at 105 S. 4th St. late Monday night. The fire was confined to service wires which winds blew together causing a short and resultant fire. Damage was limited to the wires.

Guest Editorial CONCERNING THE CITY BOND ELECTION

From information received in print and from city officials, it seems that the planned bond election for city improvements is a must for the future of Slaton. It is a well-known fact that a town has to provide for its people or else its growth is halted.

It is noted that $85,000 is the amount planned to be used for water and sewer improvement. Of this amount it seems that $60,000 will be used for an overhead water supply tank. This leaves only $25,000 for additional water and sewer improvement.

Slaton has a condition that is not good in the southeast part of town and the Flats. This section now is in need of water and sewer facilities. We must remember that what affects the health of these citizens of Slaton also affects us, regardless of where anyone lives in our town.

The question is: Is this enough to do the job? It is our belief that this amount is sadly inadequate to remedy the situation. We think that it would be well if the public could be furnished more information compiled by competent men, informing the voters what kind of a job we would have with only $25,000 to work with.

We propose that unless we are otherwise informed and if the total bond issue will not sufficiently take care of our needs; that unless we as citizens are satisfied with the distribution of this money; then we should not accept this bond, but call for a larger more equitable one.

Slaton To Get Help of Agency In Securing FHA and GI Home Loans

The first break in relief from tight restrictions on home loans in Slaton was received this week. The Slaton Chamber of Commerce has put forth considerable effort in calling attention to the shortage of homes and the fact that this town is not considered in the Lubbock set-up.

A letter was received this week from the Voluntary Home Mortgage Credit Program of 114 Commerce Street, Dallas, Texas, stating that all of the area in Lubbock county, outside of the city of Lubbock was set up in their program in securing FHA or GI home loans. Lubbock was not included as they are already in the FHA and GI program directly, while Slaton is not.

This agency is sponsored by private lending agencies for the purpose of assisting anyone secure loans that cannot get them through other sources. Forms for assistance under this program can be secured from the FHA or VA offices in Lubbock. The regional office for Slaton is in Dallas, as stated above.

"This is the first step in getting Slaton in the direct loan area," stated Francis Perry, president of the C. of C. It is also the first recognition given Slaton in regard to the acute housing shortage here and the need for home financing on the same basis as Lubbock.

C of C Reports Commitments Of $12,000 Toward Motel

Mrs. R. D. Bisbee, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, reported that commitments of $12,000 had been received in the past week toward the construction of the proposed El Lora Motel in the community.

The directors voted to followup a recent letter which went out to residents offering them the opportunity to invest in the motel through $500 bonds at 6% interest. The second letter will be in the form of a progress report summarizing information on the motel and accompanied by a form for the resident to fill out and return to the Chamber stating if he is interested in investing in the project.

F. E. Perry, president of the organization, reported that the report and analysis of the Community Clinic which was held recently had been received. The local newspaper will run a series of seven articles on the various phases of the report, Perry told the directors.

A letter from an agency which will make it possible for Slaton to receive loans on housing development was discussed by the directors. Perry stated that Senator Price Daniel has said on his recent visit to Slaton that he would look into the loan set-up in Slaton on his return to Washington.

The erection of signs advertising Slaton on U. S. Highway 84 was also discussed at the meeting. B. N. Ball is heading the committee which is looking into the possibility of advertising the town on the billboards.

City Commission To Get Petition For Sign Change

Various businessmen on the west and south sides of the City Hall square and others in different sections of the city were this week circulating petitions requesting the city commission to consider a change in the sign which is at the end of the 100 block of south 9th St.

The 12 petitions which bear about 250 names will go to the commission at its regular meeting Monday night in city hall. The businessmen expect to have a total of about 400 names on the petitions by that time.

The sign as it now stands reads right-turn-only. The petitions ask that the sign be replaced with a sign reading yield to traffic. The petitioners feel that the sign will serve the same purpose as the present sign and that by leaving the concrete island in place, motorists will be governed by the traffic signal at the intersection of Lubbock and 9th Streets.

When he turns left from the street paralleling the highway the motorist will be facing the traffic light and will have to wait for a signal before entering or crossing the highway.

The petition read as follows: We the undersigned merchants and customers of these merchants of the city of Slaton, hereby petition the City Commissioners of said city to remove the right-turn-only sign at the corner of south 9th Street and Lubbock Street and that it be replaced with a sign to read yield, right-of-way.

total of 149 citizens, 36 of whom are members of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce, attended the six group sessions of the Community Clinic in Slaton May 28-29. Each person who attended took part in the planning of the work program for the Slaton C. of C. through their suggestions and discussions at the sessions.

Attitude Favorable

The attitude of the people to the Slaton chamber was found to be generally favorable according to Ralph Duncan, manager of the Community Services Department of the WTCC, who was present at each of the sessions to give advice in conducting the clinics. "We found our citizens willing to invest time and money to carry out an expanded program of interest was shown by the attendance, and we think the opportunity is great for a constructive program of activities, and you to put to work an increased number of citizens in the committee structure of your chamber."

739 Suggestions

Discussions of suggested projects for the improvement of Slaton and its surrounding territory were made during these sessions, the clinic cards filled. Discussions of suggested projects were held at the meetings practically all of those present participated in the spirit and purpose of the meeting.

We summarize the general results of the clinic meeting as follows: (1) It gives your chamber a

South Plains Girl Scout Council Fast Becoming a Reality

Counties in the South Plains are joining together in forming the South Plains Girl Scout Council. Slaton is a member of the group. This will bring all of the facilities of the Girl Scouts under one central organization, promote summer camps, training for leaders, planned work for the year, concerted financial plans and many other advantages.

Leon Walston attended a meeting of the Organization Structure and Jurisdiction Sub Committee Tuesday afternoon at the Girl Scout house in Lubbock. Mrs. Walston is Slaton's representative on the committee.

Francis Perry attended another meeting Tuesday morning of the South Plains Girl Scout Council Planning Committee at Lubbock. The finances of the organization were worked out. The Girl Scout area drive is being held this fall, at which time the quota will be $1294.70. This is in proportion to the other counties in the area.

Counties participating are Bailey, Lamb, Cochran, Terry, Lynn, Crosby, and part of Hale. Representatives of the towns in this area will be present at both meetings. The present time Slaton has more than 130 Girl Scouts.

Slaton Men Attend Water Meeting Tuesday

The Wayland student's appearance is being sponsored by the young people of the local church who urge all to attend.

PRESIDENTS AND VETOS

President Eisenhower is piling up quite an accumulation of vetoes. His disapproval of the farm bill makes the number 67. Many were minor matters, but this year has already seen two major instances, the farm bill and the measure exempting natural gas producers from federal regulation.

For many years the doctrine prevailed that the president should reject only bills which he thought unconstitutional. Though the Constitution sets no such limitation, this was long the practice. This may have been due to the lingering dislike of a strong executive which led us to break away from Great Britain. Not till Andrew Jackson vetoed the renewal of the United States bank's charter did a president disapprove a major measure solely on grounds of policy.

The record for vetoes was long held by Grover Cleveland, who in his first term vetoed no less than 343. Most were private pension claims which he found to be fraudulent. Cleveland's record was broken by Franklin D. Roosevelt, who returned 631 bills to Congress without his signature, many of first importance. Serving four years longer than any other president naturally helped build the total.

Usually voters like a vetoing president, who impresses them as a strong executive. They feel that bits of jobbery are apt to slip through Congress, with no one but the President to stop them. So far as is known, no chief executive has been defeated because of his vetoes. That is no guarantee, however, that this may not happen some time.

IF PERSIA HAD WON

Would it have been a good thing if the Persians had conquered the ancient Greeks, instead of losing to them in immortal battles won against great odds, at Marathon and Salamis?

Arthur U. Pope, an authority on Persian civilization, especially art, writes in the New York Times: "The Greeks had difficulty in keeping the peace in areas smaller than Rhode Island, while the Persians maintained for over two centuries a world of law, peace, prosperity and justice that consisted of 137 nations, a sort of anticipatory United Nations."

Had Persia conquered Greece, he thinks, the Athenians would have been entirely free to build the Parthenon, and to write their great literature and philosophy. Persia would have maintained an overhead sovereignty, leaving the Greeks free to manage their own affairs.

This is a novel idea to most people who have regarded the Greek victory with the sympathy with which we view the triumph of the weak over the strong, of David over Goliath. It is at least true that the Persian kings Cyrus and Darius were among the great monarchs of all time, and were noble and humane.

It is also true that Persia had her tyrants and incompetents. Dr. Pope does not tell the whole story, but he tells enough to show that there was another side.

THE LAW'S DELAYS

The chief enemies of justice are the judges and the lawyers. This frank opinion is voiced by one who has been both for many years, and is known all over the nation as an outstanding occupant of the bench. He is Judge Harold R. Medina of the United States Court of Appeals, who in 1949, under great difficulties, presided with notable fairness at the trial of the 11 top Communist leaders.

Medina says that the courts of his state, New York, are filled with political appointees, who hold back from even the slightest attempts to speed up justice, telling the world blandly that the system is satisfactory. The lawyers, who know better, applaud the present system because it makes for more business for them.

Judge Medina did not say, as he might well have done, that if a profession refuses to reform itself, outsiders may take a hand and compel the adoption of needed changes.

Canada has begun to plan a transcontinental radar network to help control air traffic in the future. It's none too soon to start figuring out how to keep all those jets of the future out of each other's tail winds.

ATTEND CHURCH EVERY WEEK
...PRAY EVERY DAY

STRENGTH FOR THE WEEK

By J. T. Bolding
On a few occasions I have met individuals, and several times in life I have had friends who professed to be atheists. It always makes me sad to hear them say so for I know Him whom they are missing.

On the other hand I know many people who profess to believe in God, who claim to be saved people, and church members, but who, for all practical purposes, have left God out of their lives. With no real place for Him in their existence, they have "a form of godliness but" deny "the power thereof."

Now a question: What is the difference? One a professing, the other a practical infidel. The end result: no, to Jehovah God. But God's Word says, "The fool hath said in his heart, no God."

C. T. Johnson Campaigns in City

C. T. Johnson, Democratic candidate for Lieutenant Governor, was campaigning in the city Friday of last week. The 45 year-old Austin businessman was the first candidate to file for the office in the upcoming election.

He is a veteran of World War II, member of the First Baptist Church, and an ex-student of the University of Texas. He is married and has two daughters.

Mrs. W. L. Roche and children and Mrs. J. E. McMeekan and Diane left Sunday June 10th, for Dove City, Colo. to spend a week with Mrs. Roche's parents near Dove City.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Holt and sons, Russell and Wesley, spent the week-end fishing at Oak Creek, near Blackwell.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Taylor returned Wednesday from visiting relatives in Haynesville, La. and Beaumont.

Mrs. N. M. Hale of Lubbock spent last week with Mrs. George Marriott.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Eastham of Clovis were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Thompson.

Highway Accidents Increase With Summer Travel

Take safety with you and enjoy your vacation. Toss caution to the winds and there may never be another vacation trip, warns the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council. For they point out as motor travel booms, traffic accidents, especially in rural areas, also zoom upward.

The Council offers a few suggestions for cutting the summer accident toll. Give the car a thorough check-up before starting on the trip and watch for signs of trouble along the way. Don't block vision by improperly loading the car for good vision is a must for safe driving.

Be prepared for emergencies. A first aid kit, maps, permits if needed, identification, a flashlight a tool kit and maybe a few spare parts should be carried along.

Much of the responsibility for a safe trip rests with the driver. Fatigue greatly reduces his efficiency. Plan the trip, urges the Council, to allow for rest stops during the day and a good night's sleep each night. Don't, they caution, try to drive and take in the sights at the same time.

Know the laws of the states in which you expect to travel for ignorance of the law is only an excuse. Use traffic signs as a guide for safe driving. They are for your protection.

Traffic will be a problem during the vacation season in all parts of the country. Don't get in a hurry nor drive faster than conditions justify, warns the experts. Be adaptable and fit your driving to the peculiarities and conditions that exist in the areas where you drive. Respect the rights of others and remember, if safety rides with you, you and your family can look forward to next year's vacation.

Rotarians Enjoy Humorous Letters

Laughs and more laughs was the order of the day at the Slaton Rotary meeting Thursday noon. A collection of humorous letters were read by John Mitchell of Lubbock. These had been collected over past years by the speaker.

"Dear Sir" was the subject given for the program. Mr. Mitchell explained that the best humor is found direct from actual happenings of people. This was proven from the excerpts read from actual letters collected by him. Dub Williams introduced the speaker.

Visitors were Nat Heaton, Will Victory, Lubbock; George Kerson, Lubbock; Grandall drip, Ralls; and Abe Kessel, Las.

President Sherrill Boyd announced that the club's visitor would be from Iran, due to arrive in Slaton some the latter part of July.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM Your State CAPITOL

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

STIN, Tex.—Regardless of who elected this summer, most Texans probably won't find their daily lives greatly changed.

But to one segment of the population, the 22,000 state employees and their families, it matters a great deal. As much as a 20 per cent turn-over in state employes can be expected after the new officials take office in January.

This estimate comes from Pirtle, executive secretary of the Public Employes Association. About one-third of the membership is concentrated in the Capitol, the rest is scattered over the state.

TEA members on the whole are quite discreet in their politics, he thinks. Their association by laws expressly prohibit any group endorsement.

But individuals, especially certain key personnel, are courted by candidates. Many office-seekers, especially in Travis County, regularly promise "more adequate pay."

And those employes whose jobs hinge on the boss' being reelected naturally pull for him. State law, while not as strict as the federal Hatch Act, puts some restrictions on this.

Formerly a rider on the appropriations bill forbade any political activity by state employes. Now the ban is only against use of state cars, or campaigning on state time.

INSURANCE COMPANIES REALIGN—"Merger" will be a much-discussed word in the Texas insurance industry during coming weeks.

Wind-up of the State Insurance

Commission's stringent solvency survey left 94 companies—or seven per cent—without licenses. New permits were granted to 1,219 firms.

Results confirmed Chairman Byron Saunders' prediction that the industry would prove 90 to 95 per cent sound. He said so last January when the commission began its drive to "weed out the bad apples."

Many already have negotiations underway, or completed, to merge with stronger companies. More realignments are expected, especially among life companies where many large firms actively seek reinsurance business.

RADAR TRAPS ATTACKED—Are the Texas Highway Patrol's radar speed nets illegal?

Amarillo Attorney Horace E. Wilson says he will fight to the Supreme Court, if necessary, to prove they are. Wilson was arrested recently and fined $5 plus costs. A radar set near Seguin had clocked him at 71 miles per hour.

He declares Section 803A of the State Penal Code provides for automatic dismissal of a speeding charge if the arresting officer lies in wait or hides.

In Austin Patrol Chief W. J. Elliott said "nothing in state law prohibits hiding the radar unit, but the highway patrol does not make this a practice. We can do more good by putting ourselves out in the open."

CITIES NEED MORE WATER—A majority of Texas cities feel their water supplies are inadequate for the future.

State Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas, chairman of the Texas Water Resources Committee, says a recent survey of 255 cities shows 54 per cent with this problem. Purpose of the survey was to search out needs and sentiments for a statewide water program. Recommendations go to the Legislature in January.

Parkhouse said city officials "almost without exception" favor building their own water facilities aided by financing "on the lowest level of government possible." He said he is hopeful the next Legislature will make such a program possible.

DAVY READY FOR TOURISTS—Texans, who tour their Capitol by the thousands each year, will see a fresh-faced Davy Crockett this summer.

Crockett's huge portrait was rehung in the Capitol foyer recently after an extensive re-touching job. Legislators last session authorized $12,000 for conservation work on five valuable paintings.

Taxpayers have invested $95,409 in the fabulous art collection scattered over the Capitol. Resale value is estimated as high as half a million dollars. Tourist favorites

NO TROUBLE SEEN ON POLL—No objection is expected by the Democratic Executive Committee chairman to putting the interposition question on the July primary ballot.

Chairman George Sandlin discounted talk of a court challenge to the validity of the 150,000 signatures on the referendum petitions. Spot checks are being made against poll tax lists, said Sandlin.

Texas Referendum Committee presented the petition. It asks a vote for or against interposition, integration of Negroes in public schools and intermarriage of whites and Negroes.

SHORT SNORTS—Dr. John Paul Abbott, dean at Texas A&M College, has been appointed program examiner for the Texas Commission on Higher Education. He will take office July 1. . . Texas stamp tax sales for cigarettes, wine and liquor totaled $4,907,078 in May, nearly one million more than a year ago. Raising of the cigarette tax by the last legislature is cited as the cause for the increase. . . Claude B. Tate of Huntsville is now with the Board for Texas Prison System for the past six years. . . Newton Gresham of Houston is the new president of the State Bar of Texas. Virgil T. Seaberry of Eastland was elected vice president. . . Texas farmers mortgaged their property to the tune of $227 million last year, the Farm Credit Agency reports. This is 31 per cent more than 1954 and 375 per cent above average.

Huser Hatchery Adds Mobile Feed Mill Service

A "feed mill on wheels" built in Lancaster, Pennsylvania has turned up in the Slaton area and will soon be a familiar sight on local farm roads. The local mobile unit will be operated on a farm-to-market route by Huser Hatchery. Robert Huser and Elby Murphy left earlier in the week to pick up the unit in Lancaster. They will return the latter part of the week.

Hoped for Machine

"This is the machine that both feed men and farmers had hoped they'd get to use some day," according to Huser. It will soon be here, ready to operate as a complete feed mill. The big selling point of the rig is that it brings the mill to the farmer instead of the farmer going to the mill.

"Self-contained and powered by its own diesel engine, the truck-mounted mill has been making a big hit with farmers all across the country. It's designed particularly for converting the farmer's home-grown grains into ready-to-eat rations for milk cows, beef cattle, or poultry.

"It grinds the ingredients, blends them with fresh liquid molasses and concentrates and dumps the mixture into bags or bins. It also lets the farmer see exactly what's going into his feed formulas—and that is mighty important to him.

Speedier Service

"Before this time, local farmers who wanted feed prepared generally had to sack their grains, truck them to the miller, and either wait around until the feed was made or go home and come back later. Then they had to load the stuff at the mill, tote it home, and unload it again into their feed bins. All that took a good bit of time and labor.

"Now, by using this mobile feed service, all that is necessary is to have the ingredients handy for the machine's operator and the finished feed comes out just the way the farmer wanted it—and the machine deposits it just where he says it should go.

"It's all done in jig time, as much as eight tons of feed an hour—and the operator can visit more than a dozen average customers in a working day. In fact, in most cases the farmer doesn't even have to be home because the operator gets to know what each stop calls for and grinds and mixes the feed accordingly.

Mobile Mill

"One of the mobile mill's outstanding features is making use of hay roughage, which means an added saving in the farmer's feed costs. A much smaller proportion of grain can be used when home-grown hay is ground with the feed mixture.

"Dairymen using the service report not only considerable savings but improved milk production and healthier herds as well. The truth is, the new mobile unit service can chalk up savings in money, time and labor for all feed users—dairymen, stockmen, poultrymen and hog raisers alike."

Huser went on to state "We feel like this mobile mill offers a feed service unexcelled in any area. It's economical, efficient, and convenient right on your farm. Watch for a demonstration."

Tornado Warning System for Slaton Ready if Needed

A tornado is approaching Slaton! You are warned to take the necessary precautions!

This is the message that will be contained in the continuous short blasts from the siren atop the fire station should a twister ever threaten the city.

The signal from the fire station would be the end result of a chain of events which would begin with the United States weather bureau station in Lubbock. Should the Lubbock bureau radar pick up a tornado threatening the Slaton area a warning would immediately go out over the air to either the state highway patrol or the Lubbock police department.

These two agencies would then relay the message on to the two-way radio located in the police department in City Hall. The police department here would contact the fire station and the short blasts on the siren would be sounded to pass the message on to residents in the community.

Those residents, who have them, could sit out the danger period in storm cellars or basements. Should a resident have no place to go he could take precautions at home. A snug spot underneath a good stout table or the bed is a good place to be in case of falling debris. As fire chief Elbert Wilson put it "You never can tell when one of those things might blow in and it won't hurt to know what to do if and when one should hit our community."

More than 24,000 U. S. cities receive and deliver all mail by motor truck.

Iranian Student To Visit Slaton As Rotary Guest

Iranj Master of Iran will visit Slaton for eight weeks this summer as a guest of the Slaton Rotary Club. The visit will be a continuation of a program begun last year when the Rotarians had as their guest Pierre Devillers of France, another foreign student.

Master is now studying agriculture in Bonn, Germany where he is working on his doctor's degree. He is interested in coming to this country to meet the people and study their methods of agriculture. He hopes to eventually return to Iran to aid in the improvement of his country's farm methods.

He will arrive in Slaton in mid-July with all expenses paid from New York where he will enter the United States from Germany. While in the community he will stay with eight different Rotarian families.

The program is sponsored by the Rotarians to promote understanding and goodwill between foreign countries and our own United States. Master's father is an importer-exporter in Iran and is also a farmer.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe E. Huffman, Larry and David of Ft. Worth and Mrs. Nellie Huffman of Cleburne, will arrive Saturday for a visit with Mrs. F. M. McAnear.

An upside-down map of the U. S. East Coast, is now available for motorists driving South. Florida is at the top of the map; New England, at the bottom; and the reader needn't reverse the map to find out where he's been or where he's going.

THE "MYSTERY FARM" which appeared in the June 15 issue of The Slatonite was the Oscar Wuensche farm located on Route 1, Wilson. The farm was the last in the 52 week "Mystery Farm" series to appear in the paper. The Slatonite was unable to contact Wuensche for a farm story before press time this week. If he will drop by the Slaton Farm Store he will be presented with a handsomely framed picture of his farm.

"MYSTERY FARM" CONTEST ENDS AFTER 52-WEEK RUN IN SLATONITE

The "Mystery Farm" contest is over. After 52 weeks and 52 farms to be identified the contest has come to a close. The residents of the area seem to have a good idea of where their neighbors live because we only ended up with about eight farms that were never identified.

Usually the farms which remained unknown were farms which were out or nearly out of this trade area making it hard for area residents to recognize them.

The Slatonite awarded 44 subscriptions to winners in the contest and the Slaton Theatre presented 88 free passes. A picture of each of the farms as it was identified was presented to the operator by the Slaton Farm Store.

The Slatonite arranged to have the Slaton-Robbins Company of Harlan, Iowa, take the aerial photos of each of the farms last summer. The Iowa company are specialists in this type of low altitude aerial photography.

The feature was run for the 52 week period as a tribute to agriculture in this community. The Slatonite recognizes that farming is one of the most important businesses in land, machinery, and livestock, in the community. And it was with this thought in mind that the farm series was run.

Kenneth Neal Young of San Bernardino Calif. visited Laquetta Polk from Monday until Saturday of last week.

Watch That Contract!
When we talk about contracts, we usually think of a formal piece of paper written in rather fancy language, which we look over carefully, and to which we sign our names with a great flourish. It's true that a written contract is the best-known type and the safest, and in certain instances (like the transfer of real estate) the terms must be in writing. Yet, when it comes right down to the most common contracts, they are seldom in writing. We make new contracts day in and day out, hardly giving them a second thought.

Actually a contract is merely an agreement in which two or more persons (or companies, or organizations) bind themselves to do—or not to do—certain acts. In doing so, each acquires a right to have the other person keep his promises. You have made a contract when you accept a job, charge a new suit at the clothing store, agree to pay the boy next door a dollar to mow your lawn, or tell the milkman to leave three quarts each day and collect at the end of the month.

In the eyes of the law, there are certain elements which go into making any promise a legal contract. There must be "mutual assent," which usually means that one party accepts a definite offer made by the other, and both parties must be "competent" (same and, under most circumstances, of legal age).

The agreement must be for a lawful purpose. There must be a consideration" which in many instances is the payment of a certain sum of money. In other cases, a promise to perform some act may constitute consideration.

While contracts made by word-of-mouth are legal and binding for the most part, they are, of course, more difficult to prove if any questions arise. So it is usually best, on any deal of importance, to demand that the terms be written out in detail. An exchange of letters, or a signed memorandum, may constitute a written contract.

Here is one rule that should be a "must" with everyone before placing their signature on any sort of agreement: Read every word before you sign, and be sure you understand what those words mean! Saying later, "I didn't know what it meant," is no excuse.

In everyday life, this rule is most important in signing anything

FORD sets 500-mile record at Indianapolis Speedway

Again proves nobody outperforms Ford

... dramatic demonstration of the kind of performance and roadability that makes all your driving more fun in a Ford!

A Ford V-8 hurtled across the brick and asphalt surface of tough and testing Indianapolis Speedway... whirling through the tight turns and flashing over the straight stretches... to set a mark that no stock car ever reached before!

Previous to Ford's record run, no other stock car had gone even one lap at Indianapolis at 100 m.p.h., but one of Ford's laps was timed at the electrifying speed of 113.7 m.p.h. And Ford averaged over 107 m.p.h. for the full five hundred miles... close to the average set by the extremely costly, specially-built racer which won the Memorial Day "500"!

Ford fully realizes that the welter of claims and counter claims about "racing victories" (many of them completely contradictory) must be confusing and disillusioning to the public. Ford ran this race against time, over the true "Classic" distance and at the most famous track in America, in order to dispel this cloud of doubt and disbelief and prove that no one outperforms Ford!

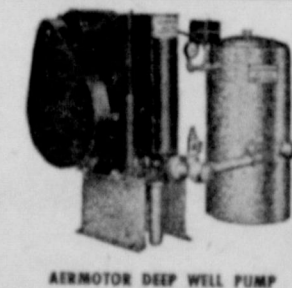

Peter de Paolo, leader of the team of drivers that piloted the winning Ford, states flatly: "No other stock car could have equalled this performance!" And Pete de Paolo should know, for he was the first driver to win the "500" Classic with a better than 100 m.p.h. average. And now he comes back with a group of drivers to establish a stock car record with the great '56 Ford!

Ford wrote this new mark large and bold in the record books. And the whole Ford did the trick. From the hood-full of throbbing horsepower to the road-hugging rear end, Ford demonstrated that it has what it takes to make your driving more enjoyable. Convince yourself that driving a Ford can be real fun. Test drive a '56 Ford. There's a set of keys waiting for you, so come in and see us soon.

Ford's record was timed and certified by the United States Auto Club

Tech Cows Earn Awards For Production

Two registered Jersey cows owned by the Texas Technological College, Lubbock, Tex., have earned special certificates in recognition of their outstanding production records made on Register of Merit test. The announcement was recently made by The American Jersey Cattle Club from its headquarters in Columbus, Ohio.

Gold Medal Certificates were earned by Tech Welcome Poppy and Tech Sparkling Inez. The former produced 12,159 lbs. milk and 703 lbs. butterfat in 305 days at the age of 6 years and 6 months. The latter produced 13,401 lbs. milk and 732 lbs. butterfat in 305 days at the age of 7 years and 4 months.

The tests of these animals were verified by officials of Texas A. & M. College and by The American Jersey Cattle Club. Production testing is a basic program of The American Jersey Cattle Club. It enables Jersey breeders to determine their most profitable and efficient cows.

Lt. Robert (Bobby) CAZZOS, nation's second high scorer for Texas Tech's 1953 football team, is now with the 24th Division in Korea.

Your signature on these means you accept certain terms in the purchase of an automobile, or washing machine, or refrigerator, or some other necessity. "Code of Fair Campaign Practices" Announced by Daniel

Senator Price Daniel, candidate for governor, announced today that he had signed a "Code of Fair Campaign Practices" proffered by religious groups in an effort to promote clean politics.

The code was prepared and sent to all candidates by Right Reverend Everett H. Jones, Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of West Texas and Vice-President of the Texas Council of Churches; Right Reverend Robert E. Lucey, S. T. D., Archbishop of San Antonio; and Maurice N. Dannenbaum, Chairman of the Southwest Advisory Board of the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith.

The code condemns the use of "personal vilification, character defamation, whispering campaigns, libel, slander, or scurrilous attacks on any candidate or his personal or family life."

Daniel pointed out that he had already pledged to the people of Texas that he would conduct a clean campaign and run for governor on his own merits and his own program. He has also directed his campaign workers to do likewise.

"I have no hatred or malice in this campaign," he said. "Any questions raised by my opponents will be answered in due time but without resorting to personalities or bitterness. I do not intend to lower myself to any campaign of mudslinging and personalities, but will keep my part of this race on a level worthy of the dignity of the office of governor of Texas."

Japan Now Ships More and Better Mechanical Toys

While American boys and girls were planning for summer vacations way back during May and thinking in terms of swimming pools, baseball, and camping, businessmen already were making plans for the youngster's next Christmas.

Ship's manifests from Japan even in April showed imports of Christmas toys and Christmas tree decorations—to help make sure

Santa Claus does not come up short some several months hence. Japanese toys have been numerous in this country both before and since the war, amusing, ingenious, and inexpensive. Last year Japanese toy exports amounted to about $48,000,000, of which about 80 per cent was to the dollar area with the United States at the center. This was an increase of $16,000,000—or 50 per cent—over the $32,000,000 figure for the year before.

This year's toy exports are changing in character—getting away from the cheap metal mechanical toys, and featuring instead the more expensive electric toys using batteries. Whereas the toys formerly were largely in the dime-store category, a good many of the new electrical ones are $5 and up, and in a quality class.

The Ministry of International Trade and Industry estimates this year's toy exports will run about $60,000,000.

Because of the new emphasis on higher quality toys, Japanese toy manufacturers are collaborating in measures to improve their industry, to raise their standards, and to maintain the higher level.

Few Americans Realize Influence Of Japanese Art

Few American homemakers realize how greatly their lives and homes are influenced today by Japanese art and customs. All unconsciously they use articles imported from Japan a dozen times a day—yet would be surprised if told they depend on Japan for some of their most everyday activities, such as setting the family table.

It is not only Japanese products that Americans have adopted, but also Japanese ways. The Japanese influence perhaps began with American architects, who discovered great advantage in the Japanese custom of thinking of home-and-garden as one unit instead of separately. American homebuilders adopted and adapted the idea in innumerable different ways—from picture-windows to bring the garden-view into the house, to terraces and screen-fences and garden-living-rooms. Today modern western-style home almost automatically incorporate this idea.

But that is not the only Japanese idea American builders have adopted. The universal built-ins now prevalent also were adapted from the Japanese idea of built-in storage cabinets between their rooms or in the walls. Sliding doors, bamboo-screened verandas, matted floors—these are but a few of the many Japanese ideas now naturalized and familiar in America.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Richardson attended a church convention in Weatherford last week, they also visited in Ft. Worth and Wichita Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Derr of Irving are visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Mosely.

Joe Teague III, who is attending Texas University at Austin will arrive home Sunday to spend five days between semesters.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Haral last week were Mrs. Haral's brother, A. H. Maxey, and son, Charles, of Ft. Worth.
