"Slaton, A Good Place To Live," Theme of C. of C. City Booth at South Plains Fair

Slaton will again be on hand Monday at the South Plains Fair promoting the town, letting those far and near know that this is the

BILL SMITH NEW PRES. OF PONY LEAGUE

At a meeting of the Pony League of Slaton last Tuesday night at the Junior High School, Bill Smith was elected president to succeed George Harlan. Other officers elected were J. S. Edwards, vice-president and Ed Cummings as secretary-treasurer.

Retiring officers besides Harlan are M. D. Berry, vice-president and Mrs. J. L. Scott, secretary-treasurer.

Evans School To Open Monday

Evans school will begin classes on Monday next week, according to a statement issued by Supt. P. L. Vardy, Jr. The new building will not be ready for occupancy until October 15, due to not being able to get sufficient steel, but classes will be held in the Triumph Baptist Church and the Methodist Church in the same locations as they were held last spring after the school burned.

WYLIES WILL HOLD OPEN HOUSE SUNDAY

The Rev. and Mrs. Clarence N. Wylie will hold open house, next Sunday afternoon, September 23rd, at the Presbyterian Manse, 435 W. Lubbock, from four until six o'clock.

They are inviting all of their friends.

Tiger Mothers Meet Monday

The Tiger Mothers met Monday night, September 17, and decided to serve the football boys a hot meal after every home game only. The meetings of the Tiger Mothers will be held every Monday night preceding a home game.

A chicken dinner was served to the varsity team Friday night after the ballgame with Seagraves.

place others would like to live. The same booth location will be used this year as last year. Again it will be manned by the civic clubs of the town and sponsored by the Slaton Chamber of Commerce.

"Slaton, A Good Place to Live," is the theme of the booth display. Under the direction of Bill Ball, the booth will feature fine churches, fine schools and fine homes. The beauty of the booth will be brought out with shadow lighting and shadow play of lights. Shadow boxes will emphasize the schools, churches and home themes.

Folders about Slaton, which will be distributed during the fair, will carry out the same theme as the booth. The main points included in the folder are designed to appeal to the family which might like to live here and raise their children.

Items of interest to the family are included, such as a section on the schools and churches; a section on the many activities and organizations which Slaton has; and a section on the attractive homes which appeal to the average family. Also covered are the many facilities that combine to make good community living, such as the fire department, the post office, and the hospital.

Appeal to Family The only statistics which are included are designed to be of interest to the family, who might choose to settle in Slaton, rather than the manufacturer or business man.

Only the high spots were touched upon according to the Chamber of Commerce. If all the advantages of Slaton as a town to raise children in were listed it would fill a small book.

Copies of the folder are available at the Chamber of Commerce office now.

Those groups which will staff the booth this year are: Monday, School officials. Tuesday, Rotary Club. Wednesday, Junior Civic and Culture Club. Thursday, Athenians. Friday, Future Homemakers of America. Saturday, Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The booth is located in the Merchants Building on the fair grounds and will be open from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m. each day. The fair opens Sept. 24 and closes Sat. Sept. 29.

Resident Has Picture of 1920 School System

If you were enrolled in the Slaton Public School system in 1920 you may be interested in knowing there is a picture in existence that you may very well be a part of.

The photograph shows the first two buildings which formed the Slaton schools in 1920. The buildings are located at the location of the present West Ward School. In the picture also are the students who were enrolled in the school.

Unfortunately The Slatonite found that it would be impossible to reduce it in size so that it would fit within the columns of the paper and still make it possible to recognize the students in the picture.

So if you would like to take a look at the picture and perhaps renew a few acquaintances with some of your old classmates of 1920 you have an invitation from Preston to drop by and have a look at the photograph.

In 1929 the roof was blown off one of the two buildings, which at that time was a two-story building. When the building was rebuilt it was made into a one-story structure. Residents now know the building as a part of the West Ward cafeteria.

The nation's first billion bushel wheat crop was produced in 1915-16 and the next one in 1944-45. But for the next nine years, except for the 1951-52 crop, the nation's annual harvest exceeded the billion bushel mark.

Booster Caravan for Fair in Slaton

The Lubbock Chamber of Commerce fair booster caravan will be in Slaton on Friday, September 21. The caravan is to arrive at 4:40 p. m. The side street on the west side of the square will be blocked off at 3:30 p. m.

Free souvenirs and literature publicizing the Panhandle-South Plains Fair, September 24-29, will be distributed and there will be free entertainment.

SEAGRAVES DUMPS SLATON TIGERS 12-6 AT LOCAL STADIUM

The Slaton Tigers were dumped, for the second straight year Friday night at Tiger Stadium by the Seagraves Eagles in a game which will be remembered most for the number of fumbles which took place.

The Seagraves team led the Slaton team at the end of the game by a score of 12 to 6. Seagraves fumbled and lost the ball eight times, but was followed closely by Slaton with six fumbles lost.

Seagraves' Jim Hamilton scored late in the first quarter to make the first tally of the game and put the Eagles out in front 6-0. After the half Slaton came back following a fumble recovery on their own 40 yard line to run the ball in a series of downs across the goal line for a tied-up ball game. Dickie Thomas carried for Slaton.

Near the end of the game a Slaton penalty placed the ball down on the Tiger 1 yard line where Seagraves recovered the ball following a fumble. From that point it was Seagraves game with Jerry Blakeley carrying the ball over to make

Outstanding Methodist Minister To Conduct Revival Meeting Here

First Methodist Church of Slaton is completing plans in anticipation of the arrival of Dr. Clovis G. Chappell to conduct the church's revival meeting beginning Sunday, Rev. J. B. Sharp, pastor of the church, states that persons in several distant points have expressed a desire to drive to Slaton to hear Dr. Chappell, and that the membership of the local church is expecting a fine meeting. Services in the meeting begin Sunday morning, September 23, at 10:50 a. m. Evening services on Sunday will be at 7 p. m. Weekday services will be at 10 a. m. and at 7:30 p. m., through Friday night, September 28. The distinguished clergyman and author who is to preach in all services is listed in Who's Who in America; he has been awarded the Doctor of Divinity and Doctor of Letters degrees by several colleges and universities; and he has been named in several lists of the most outstanding preachers.

In addition to authorizing thirty books of sermons and religious writings, Dr. Chappell has pastored some of the outstanding churches of Methodism. His former pastorates include the Mount Vernon Place Methodist Church in Washington, D. C., famed as the church of senators and congressmen; and the First Methodist churches of Birmingham, Memphis, Houston, and Charlotte, N. C. During his stay in Houston, his church was the largest Methodist church in the nation.

Music for the local meeting will be led by Jim D. Campbell, Minister of Music at the church. Campbell states that the choir of the church plan to provide music that is "warm-hearted but dignified" during the revival. The Chancel Choir will sing Fred Waring's version of "Onward Christian Soldiers" in the opening service, while other choir presentations of the week will feature old favorites. Soloists of the church will assist. An "old hymn sing" consisting of well-loved gospel music will be a feature of the evening services.

The pastor extends an invitation to the entire community to hear this outstanding speaker and writer. "Denominational differences will not be dealt with," he says, "and all who love the Christian gospel will enjoy hearing this man."

Rotary Guest to Complete Visit Here After Thursday

Iradj Master of Iran will complete his eight weeks visit in Slaton Thursday of this week. He will be returning to his country after having been the guest of the Slaton Rotary Club. His return will be via Chicago, then to New York where he will fly to the Atlantic on Sept. 27th.

Mr. Master has spent a week in each of eight homes here. His hosts have been Mr. and Mrs. Clark Self Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Howard Swanner, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hoffman, Rev. and Mrs. Henry Treptow, Mr. and Mrs. John Berkley, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee Hagler, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Layne and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Pender.

The past week Master visited with the Tahoka Rotary Club, where he was presented with a complete western wardrobe. He has just returned from a trip to Carlsbad Caverns and Ruidoso with the Pembers. He also saw his first football game last week.

"The people of Slaton and the United States are the friendliest that I have ever known," said Mr. Masters. This statement comes from one who has visited many countries.

When asked what impressed him the most in this country, he said: "The high standard of living is what I have been most impressed with. Opportunities for success are great in Texas compared to Iran," he continued. He was also impressed with the large number of clubs and organizations, each working for the betterment of the country and the people. Here the individual was what counted and not wealth, while in his country that is not the case.

Master expressed the desire to go home and try to make his people understand the human element in this country that helps make everyone more successful. He said that there was as much difference between this country and European countries as there was between Europe and Iran. He expressed gratitude for his visit in Slaton and for what the people had done for him.

OUTDATED LAWS

For years there has been a parking ban in a certain section of a midwestern city. The ban has not been enforced, however, and during most of those years the area was considered an ideal parking place.

Recently the city officials decided to enforce the ban. The decision has resulted in a full scale debate, in indignant letters to the newspapers, in arguments before the city council.

Most of the people involved in the controversy seem to forget that for all these years a city law has been violated. The fact that the law was not enforced does not change the fact that it was in effect. It was a mistake on the part of the city to permit the law to continue on its books if it was not useful enough to merit enforcement.

Most cities have laws which are not enforced. Seldom is an effort made to revise these laws or to declare them invalid. Instead they are allowed to die what seems to be a natural death by simply forgetting that they exist.

Yet when laws, even unnecessary laws, are ignored or disobeyed, a certain disrespect for all law is bred among the violators. It is far better for those charged with enforcing laws to strike outdated ones from the books than to permit them to be ignored.

ELDER STATESMAN

Former President Hoover, who turned 82 recently, offered some advice to the aging. "Keep busy," he said, "or you will degenerate into talking to everyone about your pains and pills and income tax."

Hoover is one sage who takes his own advice. He still works a daily schedule that would fatigue many men 40 years his junior. He still responds to a call of duty with the same willingness that characterized his younger years.

As a politician, Hoover was both fortunate and unfortunate. He rode a wave of immense popularity to the presidency. He was unlucky enough to be the occupant of the White House when the most severe and prolonged depression this country has ever known brought an end to an era of unprecedented prosperity. People who had cheered and voted for Herbert Hoover blamed him for their troubles.

Time has passed, and Americans are now able to look at the great depression with perspective—to see that no one man could possibly have been responsible, that any man in Hoover's position would have been faced with the same situation. Today Herbert Hoover is regarded affectionately, by all except the diehards, as an elder statesman well worth listening to.

SWIMMING FOR LIFE

The United States Marine Corps may revise its training program to make certain that every recruit can swim before leaving boot camp. During the recent court martial of a marine drill instructor it was revealed that a number of the men he led on a night march could not swim. The march resulted in death by drowning for six of the recruits.

It would be wise for the Marines to put more emphasis on qualifying recruits as swimmers. All of the other services should do the same.

As a matter of fact, the business of learning to swim should not be postponed until a young man enters the service. Boys, and girls, too, should be taught to swim as soon as they are old enough. Parents and teachers should co-operate in this training.

Swimming is a pleasant leisure time activity. It can be cooling in the summer, and in the winter swimming in an indoor pool can be relaxing. More than that, however, the ability to swim may at times mean the difference between life and death.

With all the politicians cavorting on television this summer we haven't even missed the top comedians who are off on vacation.

STRENGTH FOR THE WEEK

The preciousness of God's love toward man is realized in the forgiveness of sins for the sake of Jesus Christ. Nothing is so real and so meaningful to the Christian as this treasure. There is nothing more to be desired by the Christian because this is then the door through which life and salvation is bestowed by God. Our sinner-saint relationship is all too precious to forsake.

Envy, anger and dejection are three of the so-called "Seven Deadly Sins." God speaks to us very clearly concerning these disobediences against Himself and other men—and ourselves.

Charity (love) suffereth long, and is kind; charity envieth not; charity vaunteth not itself, is not puffed up. I Corinthians 13:4

"What kind of sailors are these?" asked St. Peter at the gate.

"Americans," said the gatekeeper.

"Let 'em in," said St. Peter. "They'll be asking for a transfer in 6 months anyway."

The wise man learns to live; the shrewd man how to make money; but the man who learns to be content on what he makes is the happier of the two.

There are a lot more warmed-over ideas than hot ones.

Our egghead friend finally bought a television. He said he had to because his whole family are opera lovers; he, grand; his wife, soap; his kid, horse.

love—just as He has portrayed His greatest love to us (His ability and willingness to save us through the atonement of Christ). Love, or charity, is not possible where there is envy. As emphasized last week in this column, pride becomes a source from which envy grows. Thus, love is not possible.

Let all bitterness, and wrath, and anger, and clamour, and evil speaking be put away from you, with all malice; and be ye kind one to another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake hath forgiven you.

Ephesians 4:31-32

For the Christian, merely to put away anger is not enough. It must be replaced with something worthwhile. God's power and spirit only can replenish the evil heart and life with the good things of life. Kindness and forgiveness and tenderness—all these things given to us in a real way through Jesus Christ are the worthy replacements of such sins which separate man from God.

Sins separate, but obedience unites man with God. But this obedience must be expressed through the Gospel of God's love. Man is unable to satisfy and obey His perfect Law—yes, even the Christian. The inability of man to the grace of God. He came to save man from this weakness of sin in the life, death, and resurrection of Jesus, the Savior.

Weather Cycles Not Found in Recent Study

Predictions of rainfall cannot be made on the basis of weather cycles of "wet and dry years."

Recent studies of 31 locations in the High and Rolling Plains of Texas show that cycles play little or no part in annual rainfall figures dating as far back as 89 years.

Drs. R. J. Hildreth and Gerald W. Thomas of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, who made the studies, state that an optimist can find traces of cycles at some locations; but no statistical significance of cycles is revealed in the records.

"Average or normal rainfall seldom occurs," Dr. Hildreth said. "The records indicate that farmers and ranchers in the High and Rolling Plains should figure that more years—32 to 69 per cent—will be below average in rainfall than years above average."

Prolonged droughts have occurred on the High and Rolling Plains at least two or three times during the period weather records are available. The famous drought of the 1930's, which led to the dust bowl period, shows up in records at most locations. Another bad drought period occurred around 1917. At most locations the recent drought began in 1951 and is the longest and most severe on record. Records go back to 1866 at Abilene.

In most cases, it is not the first year of low rainfall that is disastrous, but the 2, 3 or 4 years in a row of low rainfall. During the dust bowl period Amarillo had 8 consecutive years of below average rainfall.

The study and publication of the results—"Farming and Ranching Risk as Influenced by Rainfall"—is the first of a planned series to include several other areas of Texas, the Edwards Plateau, Trans-Pecos and Rio Grande Plain, where drought also has affected farm and ranch income.

POINT OF NO RETURN!

More intently than ever the pilot now watches his dials, cocking a sensitive ear to the motors' rhythm. He has reached the point of no return. He dare not turn back.

Years of research by scores of scientists have perfected his plane. Hours upon hours have been spent in reading it for the journey. If something goes wrong now, the pilot will know instinctively what to do, because of his long years of training.

Like the pilot, you try to prepare for emergencies. You realize that without training beforehand, it is impossible to meet a crisis wisely and adequately.

The spiritual knowledge you'll need for these times can be found in the Church. Through its guidance you will learn to meet everyday problems with serenity, and emergencies with confidence.

Begin right now to strengthen your spiritual reserves of courage, faith, and hope. TODAY is your point of no return.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor in the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Farm Machinery On Highways Safety Hazard

"More and more farm implements now are seen on public highways. This, of course, is one result of rapid mechanization on Texas farms. And it has brought with it added dangers," W. L. Ulich, Texas Agricultural Extension Service Engineer, said.

One-third of all tractor fatalities occur on public roads, and many others occur on private lanes and drives, Mr. Ulich added. Mile per mile, it is much safer to operate an automobile on public roads than it is to operate a tractor. The heavier the traffic, the greater the hazard.

Farm work should be planned to reduce the exposure of slow-moving tractors and farm machinery to traffic hazards.

Rules of the road apply to farm tractors and implements. Come to a full stop when entering the highway and at regular stop signs. Do not proceed until it is safe to do so, and then be sure to turn into the proper lane. Don't cultivate the habit of driving on the

Early evening is not only a period of heavy automobile traffic, but it is also the time when motorists have the greatest difficulty in seeing. If machinery must be on the road at dusk or during hours of darkness, proper lighting is a must.

Reflective material applied to tractors and equipment is an added safeguard, and during daylight hours a red flag helps draw attention of the motorist to the hazards of slow-moving machinery. Mr. Ulich concluded. Motorists should not be expected to assume the entire responsibility for safety on rural highways. The farmer must also share in this responsibility.

OUTDATED LAWS

For years there has been a parking ban in a certain section of a midwestern city. The ban has not been enforced, however, and during most of those years the area was considered an ideal parking place.

Recently the city officials decided to enforce the ban. The decision has resulted in a full scale debate, in indignant letters to the newspapers, in arguments before the city council.

Most of the people involved in the controversy seem to forget that for all these years a city law has been violated. The fact that the law was not enforced does not change the fact that it was in effect. It was a mistake on the part of the city to permit the law to continue on its books if it was not useful enough to merit enforcement.

Most cities have laws which are not enforced. Seldom is an effort made to revise these laws or to declare them invalid. Instead they are allowed to die what seems to be a natural death by simply forgetting that they exist.

Yet when laws, even unnecessary laws, are ignored or disobeyed, a certain disrespect for all law is bred among the violators. It is far better for those charged with enforcing laws to strike outdated ones from the books than to permit them to be ignored.

ELDER STATESMAN

Former President Hoover, who turned 82 recently, offered some advice to the aging. "Keep busy," he said, "or you will degenerate into talking to everyone about your pains and pills and income tax."

Hoover is one sage who takes his own advice. He still works a daily schedule that would fatigue many men 40 years his junior. He still responds to a call of duty with the same willingness that characterized his younger years.

As a politician, Hoover was both fortunate and unfortunate. He rode a wave of immense popularity to the presidency. He was unlucky enough to be the occupant of the White House when the most severe and prolonged depression this country has ever known brought an end to an era of unprecedented prosperity. People who had cheered and voted for Herbert Hoover blamed him for their troubles.

Time has passed, and Americans are now able to look at the great depression with perspective—to see that no one man could possibly have been responsible, that any man in Hoover's position would have been faced with the same situation. Today Herbert Hoover is regarded affectionately, by all except the diehards, as an elder statesman well worth listening to.

SWIMMING FOR LIFE

The United States Marine Corps may revise its training program to make certain that every recruit can swim before leaving boot camp. During the recent court martial of a marine drill instructor it was revealed that a number of the men he led on a night march could not swim. The march resulted in death by drowning for six of the recruits.

It would be wise for the Marines to put more emphasis on qualifying recruits as swimmers. All of the other services should do the same.

As a matter of fact, the business of learning to swim should not be postponed until a young man enters the service. Boys, and girls, too, should be taught to swim as soon as they are old enough. Parents and teachers should co-operate in this training.

Swimming is a pleasant leisure time activity. It can be cooling in the summer, and in the winter swimming in an indoor pool can be relaxing. More than that, however, the ability to swim may at times mean the difference between life and death.

With all the politicians cavorting on television this summer we haven't even missed the top comedians who are off on vacation.

DIVINELY ACCOMPLISHED FACT

"SURELY HE HAS BORNE OUR GRIEFS, AND CARRIED OUR SORROWS" —ISA. 53:4

STRENGTH FOR THE WEEK

The preciousness of God's love toward man is realized in the forgiveness of sins for the sake of Jesus Christ. Nothing is so real and so meaningful to the Christian as this treasure. There is nothing more to be desired by the Christian because this is then the door through which life and salvation is bestowed by God. Our sinner-saint relationship is all too precious to forsake.

Envy, anger and dejection are three of the so-called "Seven Deadly Sins." God speaks to us very clearly concerning these disobediences against Himself and other men—and ourselves.

Charity (love) suffereth long, and is kind; charity envieth not; charity vaunteth not itself, is not puffed up. I Corinthians 13:4
God desires eternally that we love—just as He has portrayed His greatest love to us (His ability and willingness to save us through the atonement of Christ). Love, or charity, is not possible where there is envy. As emphasized last week in this column, pride becomes a source from which envy grows. Thus, love is not possible.

Let all bitterness, and wrath, and anger, and clamour, and evil speaking be put away from you, with all malice; and be ye kind one to another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake hath forgiven you. Ephesians 4:31-32

For the Christian, merely to put away anger is not enough. It must be replaced with something worthwhile. God's power and spirit only can replenish the evil heart and life with the good things of life. Kindness and forgiveness and tenderness—all these things given to us in a real way through Jesus Christ are the worthy replacements of such sins which separate man from God.

Sins separate, but obedience unites man with God. But this obedience must be expressed through the Gospel of God's love. Man is unable to satisfy and obey His perfect Law—yes, even the Christian. The inability of man to obey the Law is realized in the grace of God: He came to save man from this weakness of sin in the life, death, and resurrection of Jesus, the Savior.

Weather Cycles Not Found in Recent Study

Predictions of rainfall cannot be made on the basis of weather cycles of "wet and dry years."

Recent studies of 31 locations in the High and Rolling Plains of Texas show that cycles play little or no part in annual rainfall figures dating as far back as 89 years.

Drs. R. J. Hildreth and Gerald W. Thomas of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, who made the studies, state that an optimist can find traces of cycles at some locations; but no statistical significance of cycles is revealed in the records.

"Average or normal rainfall seldom occurs," Dr. Hildreth said. "The records indicate that farmers and ranchers in the High and Rolling Plains should figure that more years—52 to 69 per cent—will be below average in rainfall than years above average."

Prolonged droughts have occurred on the High and Rolling Plains at least two or three times during the period weather records are available. The famous drought of the 1930's, which led to the dust bowl period, shows up in records at most locations. Another bad drought period occurred around 1917. At most locations the recent drought began in 1951 and is the longest and most severe on record. Records go back to 1866 at Abilene.

In most cases, it is not the first year of low rainfall that is disastrous, but the 2, 3 or 4 years in a row of low rainfall. During the dust bowl period Amarillo had 8 consecutive years of below average rainfall.

The study and publication of the results—"Farming and Ranching Risk as Influenced by Rainfall"—is the first of a planned series to include several other areas of Texas, the Edwards Plateau, Trans-Pecos and Rio Grande Plain, where drought also has affected farm and ranch income.

POINT OF NO RETURN!

More intently than ever the pilot now watches his dials, cocking a sensitive ear to the motors' rhythm. He has reached the point of no return. He dare not turn back.

Years of research by scores of scientists have perfected his plane. Hours upon hours have been spent in readying it for the journey. If something goes wrong now, the pilot will know instinctively what to do, because of his long years of training.

Like the pilot, you try to prepare for emergencies. You realize that without training beforehand, it is impossible to meet a crisis wisely and adequately.

The spiritual knowledge you'll need for these times can be found in the Church. Through its guidance you will learn to meet everyday problems with serenity, and emergencies with confidence.

Begin right now to strengthen your spiritual reserves of courage, faith, and hope. TODAY is your point of no return.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Farm Machinery On Highways Safety Hazard

"More and more farm implements now are seen on public highways. This, of course, is one result of rapid mechanization on Texas farms. And it has brought with it added dangers," W. L. Ulich, Texas Agricultural Extension Service Engineer, said.

One-third of all tractor fatalities occur on public roads, and many others occur on private lanes and drives, Mr. Ulich added. Mile per mile, it is much safer to operate an automobile on public roads than it is to operate a tractor. The heavier the traffic, the greater the hazard.

Farm work should be planned to reduce the exposure of slow-moving tractors and farm machinery to traffic hazards.

Rules of the road apply to farm tractors and implements. Come to a full stop when entering the highway and at regular stop signs. Do not proceed until it is safe to do so, and then be sure to turn into the proper lane. Don't cultivate the habit of driving on the

Early evening is not only a period of heavy automobile traffic, but it is also the time when motorists have the greatest difficulty in seeing. If machinery must be on the road at dusk or during hours of darkness, proper lighting is a must.

Reflective material applied to tractors and equipment is an added safeguard, and during daylight hours a red flag helps draw attention of the motorist to the hazards of slow-moving machinery. Mr. Ulich concluded. Motorists should not be expected to assume the entire responsibility for safety on rural highways. The farmer must also share in this responsibility.

Prospects right now are slim for winter pastures, but says E. M. Trew, extension pasture specialist, plans, seed and fertilizer should be ready if and when it rains. The need for winter forage is critical in most areas of the state and winter pastures, if conditions become favorable, can be used to cut wintering costs for livestock and up the output of meat and milk from the farm.

FALLOUT CLOUD could look much like this artist's conception following an attack on a target city, such as the 76 target areas which will be assumed hit during Operation Alert, 1956 (July 29-30). Radioactive dust in the bomb's mushroom could be blown 200 miles or more downwind from the blast area, covering the countryside with radioactive material which for days could bring injury or possibly death to anyone not under cover. In rural areas, a basement, root cellar or "cyclone shelter" would be the best shield from radiation. Such a shelter should have food and water for at least seven days, and a battery-operated standard radio to receive emergency instructions from civil defense broadcasts. (UCDA Photo)

SLIGHT EXAGGERATION—Very slight. The camera angle at which this picture was taken is only partially responsible for massive appearance of the sandwich. Argentinian Juan Pombo considers the creation a normal production, as Argentina boasts of the size of its loaves of bread—said to be the largest baked anywhere regularly. Here's what the monster sandwich contains: half-pound of steak, two tomatoes, sliced onion, potatoes and beets.

FLYING ASH CAN—Caught by the camera at moment of launching, the rocket, circled, is one of Uncle Sam's newest antishubmarine weapons. Shown being launched from the U.S.S. Wilkinson, "Weapon Able" has 3 mounds which can be trained in a nearly complete circle. Its blast shield deflects the hot exhaust gases into a torch-like flame shape, as shown, and protects deck areas below it. The rocket is designed for launching from Navy escort destroyers and frigates.

The Tigers put up a good fight but were defeated by the Antelopes 7-13.

The eighth grade game followed. Moses Diez displayed tremendous power and drive. He carried the ball for a touchdown in the second quarter. Post made a touchdown in the fourth quarter and charged through the Tiger line for the extra point. In the fourth quarter, with 3 minutes to go, Slaton was held by a tough line for four downs and the Post eleven took over as the game ended with a 6-7 score in favor of the Antelopes.

Father of Slaton Woman Dies of Heart Attack

G. M. Reid of Tahoka, father of Mrs. Jack Berkley of this city, passed away in the Crosbyton Hospital Tuesday evening following a heart attack suffered a short time before. Funeral services were conducted in the First Methodist Church of Tahoka Thursday afternoon at 3 with interment in the Tahoka cemetery.

Mr. Reid suffered a heart attack about ten days ago as he was returning from a visit with his mother in Arkansas and had been a patient in the Crosbyton hospital since that time.

Survivors include his wife and one daughter, Mary Helen, of Tahoka and another daughter, Mrs. Eva Jo Berkley of Slaton; several brothers and other relatives.

Young Speaks To Church of Christ Dinner

The Church of Christ held their annual Fellowship banquet on Tuesday evening, Sept. 18, at the clubhouse. Dinner was served to about 200 people.

Dr. Norvell Young, pastor of the Broadway Church of Christ of Lubbock was the speaker for the evening using as his subject "Church Vision." Dr. and Mrs. Young recently returned from a lecture tour of Europe.

Telephone Dial System Begins Operation Here September 28

A bit of Telephone History will be made here at noon on September 28.

That's when Southwestern Bell Telephone Company will put its new dial telephone system into operation.

The intricate dial equipment is a big contrast from the one magnet-type switchboard here in 1919, when Southwestern Bell purchased the Slaton exchange from the Western Telephone Company.

Growth of Slaton
The growth of Slaton is reflected in the growth of its telephone system. Back in 1919, there were only about 100 telephone lines here.

By 1941, just prior to World War II, the number had climbed to 350 telephones.

But the most rapid growth has come since 1941. There are five times as many telephones here today as then.

1800 Phones
Slaton today has more than 1800 telephones, and the exchange is still growing. The new dial plant was engineered and built with Slaton's future growth in mind, according to J. C. Oakley, Manager for Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

"The new system was put in at a cost of more than $158,000," Oakley said. "An investment like we are making certainly reflects our confidence in Slaton's future."

Slaton people make 12,500 telephone calls on an average day, including about 327 outgoing long distance calls. The busiest hour is from 9 to 10 in the morning, when about 1,200 calls are made.

"Everything considered, people in Slaton spend about 835 hours a day using the telephone," the manager estimated.

System Ideal
The new dial system is ideally suited to the needs of a busy city. Electrical impulses, sent out when you dial, automatically select your party's number and connect you in a few seconds.

The manager predicted that all Slaton residents will enjoy the speed and convenience of the dial system.

Dr. C. M. Patterson, extension veterinarian, says gin trash and cotton burs may be used as a maintenance ration for livestock with no danger from poison if insecticides had not been applied to the cotton plants for three or four weeks prior to harvest.

The boy who continues to pull on the oars doesn't have much time to rock the boat.

FASHIONABLE?—It is, on a chilly beach. This terry cloth tent-robe is designed to keep milady warm after a swim. Size of the London, England, creation makes it appear useful also as a dressing tent. It's styled by Louis London.

St. Joseph's School Dedication Held

Father O'Brien issued an invitation for the people to come to the dedication of the St. Joseph's new school last Sunday afternoon, and they came in large numbers, some 2000 in all.

The ceremonies began at 4 p. m., conducted by Bishop Laurence J. Fitzsimon of Amarillo. Bishop John L. Morkovsky, auxiliary bishop of Amarillo, administered the Sacrament of Confirmation to about 80 children and adults. Six Monsignori and priests were present.

The enrollment at the school numbers about 160 pupils. Monsignor Thomas O'Brien was in charge of the dedication services for the Church of the Holy Cross at Post on Monday morning of this week at Post. There were some 400 people at this meeting.

"The dedication service Sunday for our school was a wonderful occasion for our church," said Father O'Brien.

Foods rich in protein get leathery when they are cooked at high temperatures, so keep the heat low when you are preparing dishes with eggs and cheese in them.

T. E. L. CLASS ELECTS OFFICERS

Mrs. E. L. Burns was hostess to the T. E. L. class of the First Baptist Sunday School on Sept. 13, at 6:30 p. m.

Mrs. E. M. Lott, president presided over the business meeting in which the officers were elected for the coming year. They will be installed at the next regular business meeting of the class by the out-going teacher, Mrs. Burns.

Mrs. J. R. Robertson read the devotion and Mrs. Burns opened the meeting with a prayer.

Refreshments of cake and punch were served to the regular members, two new ones and the teacher-elect, Mrs. Eula Ferrell.

Western Auto Store Has New Owner

Wyatt Swint became the new owner of the Western Auto Store here on Sept. 1, having purchased it from Bill Welch, who has gone to Dallas.

Mr. Swint comes to Slaton from Hurst, Texas, where he was employed by the Bell Aircraft Corp. His family consists of his wife, Ruby, and their two children, Janice Sue, 6, and Ronald Lee, 2. They are members of the Baptist Church.

Assisting with the operation of the store is Mr. Swint's brother, Robert, who comes from Fort Worth and Kenneth Goen of this city. Robert's wife is Maurine.

Texas Farmers Heavy Participants In Soil Bank

Texas farmers will receive more than 23.8 million as payments for land placed in the soil bank acreage reserve program. Bob Cherry, extension economist, says that a total of 63,672 agreements were signed in Texas before the July 27 deadline.

Under the acreage reserve program, farmers are paid for each acre of land retired from the production of basic crops up to a specified percentage of their allotments. The program is designed to aid improvement and reduce surplus production, points out Cherry.

Farmers of the nation have signed agreements covering approximately 10.7 million acres while the 63,672 agreements signed in Texas cover 1,970,235.3/10 acres. The 3/10 of an acre represents the acreage taken out of tobacco.

Cherry says 14,708 wheat agreements covering 1,066,390 acres and with payments expected to reach $6,193,574 had been signed in Texas. Texas cotton farmers signed 49,322 agreements put $65,654 acre of cotton allotments into the acreage reserve and if they comply with all program requirements, can expect to receive $17,020,430 in government payments. Peanut producers of the state signed 3,195 agreements covering 33,905 acres for which they will receive $396,415.

Only 74 acreage reserve agreements were signed by rice growers in Texas on 4,286 acres on which they will receive $219,487. The single tobacco grower by reducing his allotment by three-tenths of an acre and putting the reduction in the soil bank will receive $102.

The economist said the largest number of acres put under acreage reserve agreements was in the Panhandle district and in the districts immediately to the south and east of the Panhandle. Extension district 8 in central Texas and district 10, south-central, were other areas of heavy sign up.

C. C. Wicker, Henry Jarman, and R. J. Hurst spent last week fishing at Possum Kingdom. They reported a very good catch.

Profits Not Always What They Seem

What does a corporation do with the profits it earns? The obvious answer is that it divides them up among the owners—the investors whose savings made the existence of the corporation possible.

But it isn't always so simple as that. As the American Economic Foundation points out, "There are many cases every year in which corporations are forced by circumstances to overstate their profits and pay taxes on income that should not be taxed." This is the result of two factors—inflation, and the federal laws covering depreciation of the value of the tools used in production.

The Foundation provides an actual example. It concerns a steel company, but all manner of other companies are in the same boat. In 1930, this steel producer built a plant costing about $10 million. Now that plant must be replaced—and at today's labor and material prices the bill will come to $64 million.

The company, through the depreciation allowance the law allows, has recovered the original $10 million. But the remaining $54 million must come out of its profits—the profits that are left after taxes have been paid.

In order to earn $54 million after taxes, this company has to earn $112,500,000 before taxes. Putting it another way, to pay for replacing that one plant, the company has to spend the profits resulting from $600 million of sales to its customers—about one-seventh of its total sales.

Many believe that this is a highly inequitable situation that sorely needs correction by law. Without arguing the pros and cons of that, however, it should be evident to us all that profits are not always what they seem—and that, addi-

Songs, Talk Are Features at Lions Meeting Tuesday

The Lions met Tuesday noon at the clubhouse and enjoyed a double feature program. J. D. Perkins was in charge of the first part. He presented Mrs. M. G. Davis, who rendered several solos, among which was "The Indian Love Call." Mrs. Perkins accompanied at the piano.

Hack Lasater introduced Iradj Master of Iran, who is in Slaton as guest of the Rotary Club. He is one of the 120 foreign students in the United States this summer under the Rotary International student exchange program.

General information about Iran was given by the speaker. Their government has two houses of government as in the United States. Elections are democratic in principle, but of the twenty million people, only fifty percent can read and write. The people use the Persian language. Mohammed is the principal religion, but there are many other religious groups in that country.

Mr. Masters explained that his country was one of the oldest civilizations, but is a backward nation compared to Texas. This condition is being improved with public schools that all can attend. They do not have enough universities to accommodate the large number that want to attend.

Their way of life is much different from Slaton, he said. Oil plays a large part in their economy, as well as industry and agriculture.

"The opportunities for advancement in life are very limited in my country," said Mr. Master. He expressed his pleasure in being with the club.

Lee Vardy presented Miss Mary Ann Klattenhoff as the new queen of the Lubbock County Farm Bureau. She was elected to this high honor recently at a meeting in Lubbock.

Bentley Page Is New Member of Rotary Club

Bentley Page was presented to the Slaton Rotary Club as their newest member Thursday noon at the clubhouse. Howard Hoffman explained the aims and objects of Rotary and presented the pin and manual to him.

The Rev. Clarence Wylie, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, spoke to the club. M. G. Davis was in charge of the program.

Visitors were Odie Hood, Lubbock; and Joe Fields of Sherman, Texas.

President Clark Self Sr. appointed four men to see that the Slaton booth at the South Plains fair was taken care of the day assigned to the local club.

Visiting in the home of Mrs. Toy Melton Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Travis Melton, Freddie and Billy of Midland, Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Bartlett of Friona, and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond McGeehee and Jeanne of Lazbuddie.

Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Brewster accompanied by Mr. Brewster's mother, Mrs. Annie Brewster, vacationed in New Mexico last week. They visited in Ruidoso, Whitesands, Cloudcroft, and Alamogordo.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Phillips visited in Amarillo Sunday with Mrs. Phillips' sisters, Mrs. J. W. Wallace, and Mrs. C. T. Hopkins, and Mr. Hopkins.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Layne, Douglas Corley, and Dale Gordon attended the ACC-McMurry football game Saturday night. Mr. and Mrs. Layne spent the week end visiting their daughter, Mrs. Charles Mote, and Mr. Mote. Douglas and Dale visited with Douglas' brother, Ezra Corley, who is a member of the McMurry football team.

John Hilbers of Ft. Smith, Ark., Bill and Henry Hilbers of Wichita Falls, visited their brother, George Hilbers, and Mrs. Hilbers last week.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hilbers left Tuesday for Hot Springs, N. Mex. where they have gone for Mr. Hilbers' health.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM YOUR State CAPITOL

By Vern Sanford Texas Press Association

AUSTIN—Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd has asked the press of Texas to sponsor 12 bills in the 1957 Legislature. They pertain largely to publication laws. In Shepperd's opinion, such laws would have prevented the land, in-surance and Duval county scandals. Shepperd, whose term expires in January, addressed the 6th An-nual Fall Meeting of the Texas Press Association, in Austin.

He recommended passage of Legislation that would require the land office to publish an official notice in a newspaper in the home county of each veteran applying for a loan under the Veterans' Land Program. This, so that home-town people will know that such an application was made.

Also suggested was publication of a financial statement by insur-ance companies, such as is re-quired of banks and building and loan companies handling the peo-ple's money.

A strict law, making it "an ab-solute, mandatory requirement" that all elected public officials handling the public's money make a public accounting of same at reg-ular intervals was cited by Shep-perd as a necessity "to protect the honest public official as well as to protect the public from the dis-honest public official."

Much deception is being fostered upon the people by failure of some officials to publish the full text of ordinances, said Shepperd. He re-ferred to the publication of de-scriptive captions only, or mere titles, which do not give sufficient notice to the public.

He cited the imperative need for publication of annual financial statements by each school district —before another scandal rocks the state. Ditto for publication of the proceedings of county commis-sioners' courts, and meetings of all boards, commissions and other agencies of the State, City, County or other political subdivision—and opening these meetings to the pub-lic.

Other needed laws dealt with means of recovering money unlaw-fully expended or misappropriated; the hiding of public records; re-quiring special audits; fixing pen-alties for filing false reports; estab-lishing venue for the prosecution of any state official who refuses to testify on the grounds of self-in-nermination.

Shepperd emphasized his re-marks with this statement: "It is the duty of the press to keep the public office open . . . to see that public officials remain public in every sense of the word. For this purpose, this country has cre-ated and maintained a free press."

Fund Regulation Urged

A bill to regulate labor union welfare funds is to be introduced in the next Legislature.

Rep. Tom Joseph of Waco said in a recent Austin statement he will back such a law. Supervision would be either by the Insurance Commission or State Banking De-partment, he said.

Joseph said he believed an exces-sive portion of welfare payments goes to union fund managers, and too little to workers.

Roads of the Future

Highway construction under the new multi-million-dollar federal-state building program is designed to meet anticipated traffic condi-tions of 20 years from now.

State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer said crossroads and railroad crossings will be either separated or eliminated. Hills will be graded down to allow for speeds of 70, 80 and 90 miles per hour, depending on location. Roads will be either four-lane or two-lane with right-of-way for two more.

Texas' share of the projected na-tion-wide highway network will be 2,900 miles.

Roughage Program Under Way

After numerous delays, drought-hit Texas farmers now are getting federal aid to buy roughage for cat-tle.

Certificates good for $7.50 per ton are being issued through near-ly 200 county office of the Farm-ers Home Administration. Hay, cottonseed hulls, corn shucks and corn cobs are classed as roughage. Already a price rise in hay has been unofficially reported.

One million dollars was allocated for the program. Some farm lead-ers have predicted this will not be enough, but FHA officials say more money would be forthcoming if needed.

Crop Forecasts Down

Dwindling prospects in dryland areas have caused the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture to revise downward its estimate of Texas' 1956 cotton crop.

Forecast now is 3,460,000 bales. This is 140,000 bales less than orig-inally predicted, 579,000 less than the 1955 crop.

USDA's rice crop estimate also tumbled this month—from 11,977,

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Stafford, have as their guest Mrs. Stafford's mother, Mrs. Willie Ethridge, of Shawnee, Okla.

Mr. and Mrs. Shuler Trice and two children, Cynthia and Craig, of Hurst were week end guests in the home of Mr. Trice's sister, Mrs. John East, Mr. East and Clarence Weldon.

Mrs. H. T. Scurlock spent last week in San Angelo visiting her daughter, Mrs. G. C. Roe, Mr. Roe and children.

Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Lambert have had as their guests for the week end Mrs. Lambert's sister, Mrs. Otto Johanson, and Mr. Jo-hanson of Bynum.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Verkamp and daughter, Joyce, spent last week in Tucson, Ariz. visiting with their daughter and son-in-law, Lt. and Mrs. Elroy Simmacher.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kolodzeyczyk spent the week end in Odessa visit-ing in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emsick Kolodzeyczyk.

ALL SLATON TELEPHONE NUMBERS CHANGE

At Noon Friday, September 28

All Slaton telephone numbers will change at noon Friday, September 28, when the city's dial system goes in service.

From that moment, all the numbers in your old telephone direc-tory — numbers you have been calling from memory, numbers you have jotted down somewhere — will be WRONG numbers.

Slaton's new DIAL telephone numbers will be listed in the new DIAL directory, which will be delivered to you before the new system goes in service.

Until the change is made at noon on September 28, please continue to use your present directory. After the new dial system goes into operation at noon, be sure to look up the right number in the new DIAL directory before you call.

HOW TO USE THE NEW SYSTEM

Suppose you want to call VAlley 8-3108:

Place the receiver to your ear, and listen for a steady hum — the dial tone. Place your finger in the dial opening over the letter "V." Pull the dial around until your finger strikes the finger stop. Remove your finger and let the dial spin back freely. In the same way, dial the letter

"A" and the numerals 8, 3, 1, 0, 8 in order. Don't confuse the letter "I" and the numeral "one" or the letter "O" and the numeral "zero."

When you have finished dialing, you will hear a "burring" sound if the called telephone is ringing. If the line is busy, you will hear a fast buzz-buzz; hang up, and try again after a short wait.

COTTON AND OTHER CROP PROSPECTS

Texas' prospective cotton crop estimate has been whittled down by 140,000 bales since the United States Department of Agriculture's previous guess of August 1. The new prediction is for 3,460,000 bales this season.

Observers point out that dry weather in unirrigated sections has taken its toll and the production outlook is smaller than for any year since 1950, and is 2 percent below average. Acreage adjustments are a big factor in the reduction.

TURKEY growers in Texas are raising an estimated 4,457,000 birds this year. This increase of 47 percent over the 1955 output has trade persons wondering whether the market will absorb such an increase and still provide any kind of profit for the grower. The turkey crop is bigger than at any time since records were begun in 1934.

Over the United States as a whole, the number of turkeys is put at 76 million or 16 percent above last year.

As a result of this increase and the unsettled condition of the market, the U. S. D. A. has inaugurated a turkey purchase program to prop up the anticipated sag in demand. Turkeys which the government buys will be distributed to non-profit school lunch and institutional programs.

PECANS, the fruit of our state tree, may amount to 26,800,000 pounds, according to the Crop Reporting Board. The estimators, remembering a bad miss in their guess of last year, cautiously add that the casebearer insect is busy on the crop and may reduce it somewhat. Drouth is also cited as a factor that may cut his figure down before harvest time.

BROOMCORN, a minor state crop but one of importance in South Texas, is estimated at a low of 2,500 tons this season. This is only 26 percent of the 9,500 tons of last year and 36 percent of the 10-year average.

A record-low crop of 25,800 tons is expected for the entire United States.

Production details for any of the above crops or other state production may be obtained by writing John C. White, Commissioner, Texas Department of Agriculture, Austin, Texas.

Mary and Richard Jackson visited in Borger over the week end with their brother, Paul Jackson, and Mrs. Jackson and friends.

Sandy Stanfield of Turkey is spending the week here with her aunt, Mrs. S. M. Neill, and Mr. Neill.

Mr. and Mrs. James Webb of Plainview visited here Sunday in the home of Mrs. Jessie Prosser and Mrs. Letha Arthur.

Dingy oilcloth can be brightened by washing with a borax solution, then wiping with a flannel cloth dipped in milk and wrung dry.

More than a billion broilers were produced in the nation in 1955. Texas producers raised 79 million birds valued at $60,411,000.

Crippled Children Clinic to Be Held

Plans to conduct a clinic for all crippled children of Lubbock and surrounding counties have been announced by Dr. C. A. Pigford, Director of the Lubbock City-County Health Unit. The clinic will be held on Monday, September 24, at the Lubbock Cerebral Palsy Treatment Center, 3502 Avenue N, in Lubbock.

Registration for the clinic, sponsored by the Lubbock County Society for Crippled Children, Inc., the Lubbock-Crosby County Medical Society, the Lubbock City-County Health Unit, and the Crippled Children Division of the Texas State Department of Health, will begin at 9:00 a. m. No charge will be made for examination.

Open to all Children It will be open to all children, under 21 years of age, who are crippled or who have conditions which might lead to crippling. Parents are requested to accompany the patient.

Among the doctors expected to take part in the clinic are: Dr. Arthur Jenkins, Dr. J. D. Donaldson, Jr., Dr. R. Q. Lewis, Dr. J. E. Lovelless, and Dr. C. E. Ratcliff, all of Lubbock.

Others present will include Dr. Fred P. Helm, Director of the Crippled Children's Division of the Texas State Department of Health; James Tenney, Assistant Director; Miss Imogene Smith, Orthopedic nursing consultant; and Miss Alta Harrison, nursing consultant, all of Austin.

Arrangements for the clinic were made by the Lubbock County Society for Crippled Children, Inc., Dr. L. R. Upshaw, President. Services rendered by the Crippled Children's Division of the State Department of Health include the location of crippled children through the establishment of clinics similar to the one planned in Lubbock. The program includes the financing of hospitalization, medical and surgical care, artificial limbs and related services from funds of the State and Federal Governments for children whose parents cannot finance their care, provided their eligibility has been established under the State Law.

Crippling Conditions A few of these crippling conditions include: Infantile Paralysis, Osteomyelitis, club feet, cleft palate, hare lip, burns, curvature of the spine, dislocated hips and many others.

The overall purpose of the sponsors of the clinic is to provide a means of examination of all children with crippling conditions in order that no crippled child should go without needed attention.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cooper spent the week end in Midland visiting their son, Wallace Cooper, Mrs. Cooper and little daughter, Cydney.

Farmers to File SS Returns Annually

Farmers are no longer required to file Social Security returns on a quarterly basis, according to Mr. H. O. Nichols, Administrative Officer of the Lubbock office. During 1955 farmers were required to file a quarterly Social Security return with the District Director of Internal Revenue. Due to a change in procedure, farmers now file one return in January covering all taxable wages paid to farm employees during the preceding calendar year. A farmer must file a Social Security return during the year when he quits farming before the end of the year and has paid taxable wages during the year.

DOUBLE JEOPARDY

Most likely you can't picture yourself being brought into court on anything worse than a speeding violation. Nearly everyone feels that way. Even so, it is good to know that in this country you can't be made to stand trial twice for the same offense.

We have a provision in the U. S. constitution against "double jeopardy." That's one of the important safeguards in our system of law which makes it certain that once a court has reached a verdict of "innocent," the acquitted person may not be put on trial again for the same offense.

To add to the protection, if a person has been acquitted, the prosecution cannot appeal the case to a higher court. The constitution states specifically: "Nor shall any person be subject for the same offense to be twice put in jeopardy of life and limb."

This right holds good, however, only if a full trial is held and a verdict is reached. It is possible to face another trial on the same charge if the first trial ends with a "hung jury" or a mistrial, or if a new trial is requested.

A classic example comes from the "Wild West" in the late 1880's. A man named Ball was charged with murder, along with two others. Ball was acquitted, but the others were found guilty. The guilty pair appealed to a higher court, and their original indictment was found to be faulty.

Once again the government accused all three men. Ball claimed his right against double jeopardy had been invaded, and the U. S. Supreme Court agreed. He didn't have to stand trial again. The other two did, and paid the penalty for their guilt.

The reason for the "double jeopardy" provision is to protect the individual from being hounded all his life. In old England, where the fear of tyranny first prompted safeguards for personal freedom, one court said: "Were it not for this rule, anyone obnoxious to the government might be run down by repeated attempts to carry on a prosecution against him."

A JUROR'S CREED Most of us want to do our civic duty but we hate to break up the pleasant routine of living. Sometimes we shirk our civic duty to vote. Sometimes we exert every effort to avoid jury service.

Perhaps we do these things because we don't value our freedoms enough, because we haven't had to pay for them through hardship and suffering.

Instead of a sacrifice, jury duty is a privilege enjoyed by the free citizens of our country, giving us an opportunity to participate personally in the administration of justice.

Here is a creed which we might do well to read when the call to jury duty comes our way:

I am a juror.
I am a seeker after truth.
I must listen carefully and with concentration to all the evidence.

I must heed and follow the instructions of the court.
I must respectfully and attentively follow the arguments of the lawyers, dispassionately seeking to find and follow the silver thread of truth through their conflicting assertions.

I must lay aside all bias and prejudice.
I must be led by my intelligence and not by my emotions.

I must respect the opinions of my fellow jurors, as they must respect mine, and in a spirit of tolerance and understanding must endeavor to bring the deliberations of the whole jury to agreement upon a verdict, but

I must never assent to a verdict which violates the instructions of the court or which finds as a fact that which, under the evidence and in my conscience, I believe to be untrue.

In fine I must apply the Golden Rule by putting myself impartially in the place of the plaintiff and of the defendant, remembering that although I am a juror today passing upon the rights of others, tomorrow I may be a litigant whose rights other jurors shall pass upon.

My verdict must do justice, for what is just is "true and righteous altogether;" and when my term of jury service is ended I must leave it with my citizenship unsullied and my conscience clear.

—Judge John H. Flanigan, Carthage, Missouri

Mrs. Noel Ray Wilson

Wells-Wilson Vows Exchanged Sunday

At three o'clock Sunday afternoon, Sept. 9, Miss Mildred Wells of Post and Noel Ray Wilson exchanged wedding vows in the Calvary Baptist Church of Post. The Rev. Graden Howell, pastor, read the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wells of Post and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wilson of Slaton.

The pianist, Mrs. George Hester, played traditional wedding music and accompanied David King as he sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly."

Given by Father

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a waltz length gown designed with a fitted lace bodice, pointed at the center front waistline. The portrait neckline was accented by folds of lace which formed the cap sleeves. From the fitted bodice depended a full ruffled tulle skirt.

Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was joined to a tiara embroidered with flowers and rhinestones. She carried white gladioli tied with satin streamers.

For something old the bride carried a handkerchief belonging to her grandmother; something new was the white lace gauntlets made by Mrs. Hansford Hudman; something borrowed was the tiara belonging to Mrs. Roger Hensley and something blue was a garter. She wore a strand of pearls, a gift from Miss Reba Hays, and a good luck penny in her shoe.

Bridal Attendant

Miss Ruby Montgomery, maid of honor, was attired in a waltz length gown of turquoise nylon organdy over taffeta. The bodice, fashioned like that of the bride's, was complemented by a full skirt. She wore matching gauntlets and headband and carried a nosegay tied with turquoise and silver streamers.

Roy Wilson was his brother's best man.

The bride's mother chose a grey dress with black accessories. Mrs. Wilson chose a charcoal grey suit with black accessories. Both wore pink rosebud corsages.

WHAT'S AHEAD IN AUTO ENGINES

The first automobile manufacturer to produce a workable, powerful and economical successor to the present internal-combustion gasoline engine may put his competitors in the shade, say the editors of Changing Times, The Kiplinger Magazine.

Three types of engines may fill the bill: the gas-turbine engine, the free-piston engine and the fuel-injection engine. Only the latter type can claim any relationship to engines now in use. Luxury cars, such as Continentals and Cadillacs, may be equipped with it next year. A refinement of the motor in your present car, it has no carburetor; the fuel is sprayed directly into the cylinders. The result is fuel economy, improved acceleration and smoother operation.

Experimentation with the gas turbine has been extensive, but you won't see it in cars for at least another five years. It requires only one-fifth the number of parts in a piston engine and weighs a third as much, needs a cheap fuel. At present, the cost of producing the motors is prohibitive since fantastically expensive metals are needed to sustain the 1,600-degree heat created.

The free-piston engine has been successfully operated with cheap

Number of Deaths From Tornadoes Said Decreasing

Over the years loss of life as a result of tornadoes has varied considerably depending, of course, on the intensity of the storms. But there has been a general tendency for the toll to decrease from one decade to another in the last 40 years. United States Weather Bureau records (see table) show that the toll for the last decade is about 40 per cent less than that for 1916-1925. The last decade shows the smallest number of deaths—1,754—despite the heavy toll of 516 lives resulting from the tornadoes of 1953—one of the largest for any year on record. According to the Weather Bureau, at least 3,000 tornadoes have struck the United States in the last 10 years, but fortunately in only a few instances was the number of deaths appreciable. This decrease may in part be attributable to the improved warning system of the U. S. Weather Bureau, which alerts the public through forecasts and advance notification.

All D. E. Students Assigned Stations

All students enrolled in the two Distributive Education courses for senior and junior students at Slaton High School have been assigned to training stations, the coordinator, Mrs. Sherrill Boyd, announced this week. In making the announcement, Mrs. Boyd expressed appreciation for the widespread cooperation of Slaton business firms in the project. Because of this cooperation, she said, there were more training stations available than their ever students to be assigned. Students interviewed The fifteen students in the two classes were first interviewed by the coordinator to determine which ones needed assignment and what their abilities and preferences were in the training program. The unemployed students were then selected, according to their abilities and preferences, for interviews by their prospective employers. The employers each made a selection of a prospective trainee and reported to the coordinator, who completed the assignments. Four of the students in the second-year class are continuing their training in stores which employed them last year. They are Rose Marie Custer at Mosser Radio and TV Service, Reggie Foster at Porter Lumber Co., Leo Henzler at Henzler Implement Co. and Patsy Hogue at Webb's. The other students in the second-year class are William Adams at Piggly Wiggly and James Vivial at J. B. Marion & Co. As some of the nine students in the first-year class are still going through a "trying out" period in their job assignments, their list of training stations will be announced at a later date. The students in D. E. I are Rodney Bednarz, Billy Cox, Dale Edwards, Melvin Elliott, Joe Diaz, Kenneth Green, Jerry Pricer, Dean Stanton and Roy Wilson. Mrs. Boyd also announced the appointment of the following Advisory Committee to help in improving the D. E. program here: John Gilbert, high school principal; Mrs. Bill Chriesman, retail merchant; Phil Brewer, former D. E. coordinator; Sherrill Boyd, wholesale merchant, and W. C. Williams, training station representative.

"Campus Corner"

By Beverly Bland

I'm beginning to wonder if the teachers at SHS haven't formed a "Let's All Give Tests This Week Club," some of us might do better if we took out a week to catch up.

The freshman FHA formal initiation was held Monday night in the high school auditorium with Barbara Wilke, chapter president, presiding.

The Bell Telephone Company visited SHS Wednesday during assembly and gave demonstrations of the dial telephone system. Also Carol Sue Meurer and Glenda Lou Kitten gave a short skit.

Never let it be said that one loss could stop a fighting Tiger. They will prove that Friday night when they meet the Sudan ball team on Sudan's home ground. Let's give these boys representing our town and school a real boost by coming to the game tomorrow night.

Don't forget the pep rally Friday afternoon which will begin at 2:10 p. m.

I would like to mention what a good job the Tiger band is doing again this year.

Use Terry Towels As Place Mats

A HOSTESS LOOKING FOR SOMETHING NEW and original in place mats can find a good idea right in her linen closet! Those bright, colorful little fringed miniature terry guest towels are now doing double duty on the dining room table, points out The Cannon Homemaking Institute.

These little fringed towels are usually 11" x 18". That's the ideal size and shape for a place mat—just right for an individual place setting. They come in lovely, clear colors, pastels and deep tones, all attractive backgrounds for china and silver. Small terries lie flat and smooth, with no curled edges to mar the appearance of your table.

If food spills on them toss them in the washing machine, and they'll come up smiling every time. No need to iron them either. Just give them a good shake when they come from the line or dryer. (ANS)

Science Students Organize Club

The Chemistry Class at Slaton high school has taken the initiative in organizing the science students into a well oiled system for promoting interest in science subjects and activities, not only for their own school, but for the twenty-seven counties of district five.

In order to be of most effective service to the district, they have met and laid the plans for holding a district Science Fair in Slaton, to be held in April, and affiliated with the National Science Fair, held this year in Los Angeles, Calif. in May.

Students from any high school in the district will be able to compete for the high honors in the district by meeting their own school requirements. Two finalists will be sent to the national Science Fair from the district fair.

The Slaton organization is not designed to interfere in any way with the program or organization in any local school, but is designed to cooperate by furnishing information and help in planning and promoting the science clubs and fairs throughout the district. Plans for the local fairs should provide for the event to be completed before April 1st.

The officer of the Dunamis Club of Slaton High School are as follows—President—Shirley Forson; vice-President, Roland German; secretary—Barbara Wilke, treasurer, Sharon Smith; reporter, Marilyn Boyce; program chairman—Kay Sain and Eugene Hopkins.
