

MEMORIES OF 1607

The beginnings of the United States will come to life again this summer, when Jamestown, Va., celebrates the 350th anniversary of its founding. Here in 1607 the first band of English settlers made a permanent home on our soil. From April 1 to Nov. 30 the Jamestown Festival will commemorate the event.

As far as possible the old town will be restored. The sole remnant now is a tower of an early church; not the first, but one of its successors. A thatched church resembling the original building will greet the tourists. The old, glass-burning furnace will be reconstructed. So will the "long house" or lodge of the Indian chief Powhatan, whose rescue of Capt. John Smith is one of the best-known episodes in our colonial history. And in the James river, by the town, will be exact copies of the three boats, the Susan Constant, the Goodspeed and the Discovery, which brought the first settlers here.

Richmond, Va., will participate in the celebration, as Capt. John Smith explored the James River to the falls which fixed the site of Richmond. And Williamsburg, which succeeded Jamestown as the capital of Virginia in 1699, will add its glamor to the occasion. A lot of history will be on view in Virginia this summer.

UNTIL PROVEN GUILTY

A few weeks ago, scarcely anyone would have given much for the chances of Dr. John Bodkin Adams, a British society physician, to be acquitted of charges that he murdered a wealthy patient. Yet now, after the longest murder trial in Britain's history, Dr. Adams has indeed been acquitted.

The trial at Old Bailey in London was perhaps the most sensational of this century. It had been preceded by months of public comment and speculation on the apparently damning evidence piled up against the defendant.

The Adams case illustrates well the glory of the system of law under which a man, no matter how seemingly clear the evidence against him may be, is presumed to be innocent until proven guilty. It was apparent that, in the eyes of many of the public, Dr. Adams was guilty. But in the eyes of the law, he was innocent. And now, with all the evidence in, the jury has in fact found him not guilty.

This presumption of innocence is one of the great safeguards which have been built into our system of justice down through the centuries. It is a privilege won for us by the blood and devotion of men in generations long past. We must cherish it for our generation, and for those to come.

PLAN FOR AUTOMATION

Much too little attention is being given nationally to the varied and complicated significances and possibilities of automation. This can be dangerous, especially since we have already entered the age of automation, and it well may be that from here on there will be an increase in productivity and a stabilization or decline in the number of those employed in secondary industry, that is, manufacturing.

This will mean an increase in the number of those employed in services. But this must be planned for in industry and education. Another important problem is that of job relocation which, also, means training displaced workers so that they can find new jobs after they have been displaced. Also, automation will make of the most paramount importance the problems of leisure, culture and recreation. This further will call for increased employment in services.

Automation can bring to mankind untold benefits, but its development needs to be planned and provided for intelligently. Not only for the sake and benefit of Americans, but also because, in addition, America is in the position to set a humane and constructive example and pattern in the development of automation for the whole world, we should think more about automation now.

If this is done responsibly and if plans are worked out to shield us from the individual and social consequences of unplanned automation, the strength, wealth and happiness of America can be increased. But now is the time to work and plan for such an achievement.

A safety education director in Iowa, who once endorsed backseat driving, recently backed down slightly from that position. One almost wonders whether he was single when he endorsed it and has married since.

There is some talk about American men wearing kilts this summer. Our nomination for the most courageous man of the year is the first fellow to wear 'em to the office.

It's amazing the way sounds travel on the keen winter air. About this time of the year, lots of people in the northern tier of states can hear the surf from clear down in Florida.

A 10-story revolving parking garage to hold 350 cars is proposed in London. Makes a driver feel dizzy just thinking about it.

STRENGTH FOR THE WEEK

BY Bryan Ross
 Westview Baptist Church

Very blessed is it to belong to Christ's Inner Circle of trusted ones. Jesus took three of his twelve disciples up to "the holy mount," there to behold his glory. We find these words in Luke 9:28 "And it came to pass about an eight days after these sayings, he took Peter and John and James, and went up into a mountain." In like manner he invites us to-day: if we be willing we may enter his inner circle through prayer. Let us therefore go reverently up with Jesus to the Transfiguration vision. There we beheld the glory of the Lord as he talks with messengers from heaven above. As we look we behold that the Master is absorbed in prayer; and just while he is praying the fashion of his countenance is altered, his raiment becomes dazzling white with heavenly brightness.

As we read the account we see that the hour for Christ's death is drawing very near. It seems that this glory upon the "holy mount" is preparation for Gethsemane and the mount called Calvary. God thus graciously strengthens the human soul of his incarnate Son for the hour of anguish which approaches. As we note God's dealing with his own Son we are reminded that God never sends a temptation to one of his children unless he has given him an opportunity to make conscious or unconscious preparation. The promise goes something like this, "As thy day is, so shall thy strength be." Let us draw encouragement for whatever trial may be appointed to us, as we see God's gracious dealing with his own Son.

The three disciples desire to remain in this place of exaltation; but Jesus has work for himself and for them, down yonder in the low-lying valleys where suffering people live. The disciples follow their Master down from the mountain of vision into the valley of humble ministries to human need. Being human as we are I am sure that some of us long to abide up here in this mount of spiritual privilege

Timer Misses Water Troughs; Finds New Ideas Good For Town

HAROLD CRESWELL
Slaton is shown in many ways. Slatonite has had a loyal following for the past 46 years in C. H. St. 130 7th street.

Whalen has been a subscriber to Slatonite beginning with the first edition published during the first week in September, 1911. He has grown up with the Slatonite. He came to Slaton as a blacksmith working on railroad road construction from Amarillo. He remembers that Slaton was expected to become the largest city in Texas when the Santa Fe offices were established, he said. It went up like a boom town.

During the first 80 days about 1,000 inhabitants poured in to town. Eight blocks of Macadamized streets and several blocks of concrete sidewalks appeared. A church building was under construction shortly, along with 20 other buildings. More than 100 homes were nearing completion at the end of that first 80 days.

As Slaton grew, with the railroad as its heart, so did Charlie. "I first worked as a call-boy, and later became a brakeman. In later years I worked in a couple of drug stores, until 1942 when I opened my own drug store, known as Walton Drug today. Then in 1942 I retired," he said.

"Nowadays I look after the farm and some rent property and I go fishin' occasionally," he said. "I like to get out and visit my old friends, but when I can't, I keep up with them through the paper." Whalen continued. "I've been reading the Slatonite for so long it's a habit now."

He says he never looks for any one thing in particular each week, but just "start at the front and when I get to the back I put it down."

Mrs. Whalen, whom Charlie met and married in 1922 is a front-to-back reader too.

"Sure I miss such old landmarks as the watering troughs around the square," Charlie reflected, "but Slaton is capable of progress, and to do so it needs to bring in some kind of industry to take the place of the railroad."

His loyalty is strong enough to believe that someday industry will come and he'll read about it in the Slatonite.

Railroads of the country have spent $12,000,000,000 (billion) since the close of World War II on improvements, equipment and research. About $1.3 billion was spent in 1956.

Polk, Thomas Rule As King, Queen Of Jr. Field Day

Track and field events, a barbecue, a talent show and coronation of a king and queen highlighted Slaton Junior High's field day last Friday.

Sixth and seventh grade track and field event winners included: Patsy Patterson and Fred Brookshire, 50 yard dash; Webber Tefer-tiller, broad jump; and Glenda Bowns and Roger Cummings, baseball throw.

Rhonda Pettigrew and Fred Brookshire were winners in the 75 yard dash, and Katha Walker and Joann Thomas as team captains tied for first place in the girl's 120 yard shuttle relay. Webber Tefer-tiller took the 100 yard dash title.

Eighth grade winners included: Elaine Pickens and Julian Perez in the 50 yard dash; M. J. Morris, broadjump; Elaine Pickens and Robby Merrill, baseball throw; Charlotte Bland and Julian Perez, 75 yard dash; Elaine Pickens as team captain, 120 yard girl's shuttle relay; and Mosse Diaz, 100 yard dash.

In other events, winners were Jeanette George, sack race; Rhonda Pettigrew, girl's 880 yard bicycle race; Jerry Williamson, mile race; and Julian Perez, three legged race.

First place winner in the afternoon talent show was Melba Wall, who received $5 for singing "Great Pretender." Second place went to Teresa Hamilton and Judy Smith, who received $3 for a pantomime. Third place winner was Becky Toles who received $2 for playing "Ole time Preacher Man" on the piano.

ONE OF THE SECOND-YEAR distributive education students from Slaton High School is Leo Henzler Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Henzler. He is employed by Henzler Implement Co. Among the subjects which the second-year students study are economics of distribution, retail merchandising, sales promotion, and personnel administration.

Grasshoppers cannot jump unless the temperature is at least 62 degrees Fahrenheit.

St. John Lutheran Church in Salisbury, N. C., served as keynote speaker. He highlighted the convention with talks on evangelism, education and stewardship.

Delegates and pastors voted to have the convention at Texas Lutheran College again in 1958 because of facilities in Seguin and cooperation from college officials.

Delegates Return From Convention

Two local delegates to the Texas district convention of the American Lutheran Church, the Rev. Henry F. Treptow, pastor of Grace Lutheran Church, and Walter Voigt, lay delegate, returned last week from Seguin. They reported that the convention's district president's office is due to be moved from Seguin to Austin in the near future.

The district convention, held this year on the campus of Texas Lutheran College April 23-26, attracted 450 Lutheran pastors and delegates, representing congregations in Texas, Louisiana and Arkansas. The Rev. Frank Efrid, pastor of

If you're a lucky one who already has a pot full (money, of course), might as well skip to the next ad. But if you feel that $24.97 is a sum to reckon with, heed these words of wisdom: 'Go First Class with GAS and Save the Difference!' That's right. With gas, the average cost per year to a family of four is only $2.63—9 times less than it costs to dry the same family's clothes with any other dryer! Add to this the fact that gas dries clothes FASTER, SAFER, and more DEPENDABLY ... it makes good sense—and a lot of dollars—to GO GAS like so many Smart Moderns are doing!

THERE'S AN ELECTRIC HEATING METHOD FOR EVERY HOME NEED!

Electric Heating is CLEAN, MODERN, AND SAFE!

Now, instantaneous, comfortable heating — of course, it's electric! Whether you are building your new home, remodeling or adding a room to your present home, you can use electric heating. The advantages you have with your electric work- saving appliances are also yours with electric heating. Electric heating is the cleanest form of heating known. Now is the time to solve your heating problems for next winter and years to come. For information, without obligation, see your Public Service Company manager.

- ★ YOUR PRESENT HOME
- ★ THAT ROOM YOU'RE ADDING ON!
- ★ YOUR NEW HOME

★ CEILING HEATING UNIT WITH CIRCULATING FAN
Ceiling heating units are ideal for bath- rooms, hallways or kitchens. They can be used as the main heat source or as auxiliary heating. A flip of the switch gives you heat where you want it and, if desired, a controlling thermostat can be added for automatic operation.

★ RADIANT-CONVECTION WALL HEATERS
This type of electric heating you've seen many times either in portable heaters or in wall-mounted units. Such electric heating units are inexpensive, can be thermostatically controlled and are easily installed. One answer to the problem of heating a room added on.

★ RADIANT GLASS, METAL or CERAMIC PANELS
Nearest thing to the warmth of the sun's natural heat rays is electric radiant heat. Heating coils are embedded in a heat con- ducting material which, through radian- ce, warms your family, floors, furniture. These units, mounted on wall, near floor, come in various sizes, up to 50 1/4 inches long.

★ HEAT LAMPS
Heat lamps are used where quick spot heating is desired — over work benches, in garages, working on the family car, etc. A heat lamp can be inserted in place of a regular lighting bulb, or it can be installed permanently in bathroom ceilings, etc.

★ BASEBOARD HEATING UNITS
Electric baseboard heating is completely inconspicuous since it can be painted to match or contrast with wall colors. In practically all homes the heating require- ment is met by installation along outside walls only. Furniture can be placed any- where without interfering with your heating.

★ EMBEDDED CEILING CABLES OR PANELS
As in all electric heating your furnace is miles away (at the electric power plant). You turn on a switch and get completely clean electric heat. Continuous coils are run back and forth across entire ceiling area and then covered with plaster or texture paint material. Heating system is completely out of sight.

★ THE AMAZING NEW HEAT PUMP
Here's the amazing "heat pump" which uses the principle employed in your electric refrigerator to "pump" heat to you in winter and cool air in the summer. It's a combina- tion central unit which costs approximately the same as the central heating and cooling units in conventional use. No matter the outside weather, the "heat pump" adjusts immediately to give you the weather you want inside your home.

Ten Game Schedule Has Been Made For Slaton Tiger Baseball Squad

With one victory behind them, members of the Slaton High School baseball team were keeping an eye on the weather as they prepared for a game scheduled here Thursday with the Ralls Jackrabbits.

Coach Leonard Ehrler's team will start district competition Tuesday in a game with the Post Antelopes at the Pony League diamond. Post and Slaton are the only two district schools which are fielding baseball teams.

The Tigers have lined up a 10-game schedule which will include games with Plainview of District 3-AAAA.

Winner of the Post-Slaton games will be eligible to represent the district in bi-district competition, with the chance for regional honors.

Coach Ehrler nominated Randy Sanders, freshman, to handle the mound duties for the Tigers against Ralls.

Slaton, with its first high school baseball team in about three years, will be hampered by a lack of experience, Coach Ehrler reported. The Tigers will have only two seniors and "will be trying to build."

Friday the Tigers edged Petersburg 3-0 behind the brilliant two-hitter served up by Abel Arguello. Arguello was never in trouble and did not issue any walks. Losing hurler was Max Groce who allowed six base blows.

Leading hitter for the Tigers was Doug Corley who collected two hits in four trips. Dale Edwards got the lone extra base hit of the game—a double.

The Tiger team consists of Lavooy Reed, Tommy McClanahan, Rodney Kitten, Dickie Thomas, Dale Edwards, Russell Cummings, John Owens, Pat Fondy, Glen White, Abel Arguello, Lyndon Macker, Doug Corley, Randy Sanders, Jerry Allen and Dee Allen Tucker.
