Employees Of The Texas Electric Have Barbecue

Affair Will Be Annual Event Of The Company

Texas Electric Service company employees, members of their families and friends—a crowd of about 200—assembled at the country club Thursday evening for a barbecue supper and an informal get-together. It was the first such affair the company has sponsored, but it will be promoted as an annual affair.

Barbecued beef, beans, pickles and onions, bread and lemonade were served to the guests when they first gathered. After the "feed" the crowd went to the country club house for an informal program that was business and fun intermingled. The business was the showing of a film, "More Light On Power," in which facts concerning electric utility investments and operations were presented.

The entertainment included a brief, humorous talk by Rev. P. Walter Henckell, rector of St. Mary's Episcopal church; songs by the Westerners' trio composed of Mrs. Ruby Reed, Miss Ruby Bell and Mrs. Alma Blount; and songs by Herman Haygood and Reuben Choate. Jack Hodges was master of ceremonies for the program. The film was shown under direction of W. H. Merrick of Fort Worth, merchandise manager for T.E.S. Another Fort Worth official here for the party was Cy Hockaday, transmission superintendent. Carl Blomshied, district manager, was official "host" for the affair.

Following the program, guests danced at the club house.

Proceeding the picnic, power employees and sales employees engaged in a softball game at the city park, the power group winning by a score of 10 to 6.

Your Walls Will Wear Stripes If You Paint Them The New Way

MURAL INTEREST
The new trend to stripes and squares in wall decorations gives the home decorator a wider scope in the use of ornaments and statuettes.

By MARY DAVIS GILLIES
Prepared by McCall's Magazine for The Herald

Now that it is old-fashioned to paint all four walls of a room in one color instead of two, three or four, we are stepping out into even more dramatic effects—patterns!

The dining room, for instance, why not make it different? Three walls can be grayed-pink and the fourth alternate pink and white vertical stripes, each about eight inches wide.

Redecorating the breakfast room? Why not horizontal stripes—twelve-inch yellow bands alternated with two-inch white ones. For excitement, add an orange red baseboard. The furniture might well be painted white, with the table top shiny black. A cheerful start for the day!

For an interesting bedroom—walls of deep flesh beige. The area behind the bed is marked off, with two-inch bands of white, into a checker board with sixteen-inch squares. In the center of five squares is a small wall bracket holding an amusing figurine.

These color bands are easy to make. The first coat of paint should be white. Before the colored coat is put on, apply gummed tape to the parts which are not to be colored. The wall is then painted and the tape pulled off. Simple?

Correction

Pat Stasey, the local lad who fished a return to form by taming Wink with five hits Thursday...

It seems that Stasey, in throwing his curve ball, was holding his fore and index fingers too close together...

Johnny ought to know. He's the best curve baller in the WT-NM league.

Clint McDonald, the chubby boy who tore into Red Cunningham in a Golden Gloves fight here in January...

The Barons hit the road following today's game and will visit Clovis and Lubbock before returning home.

New Spudder

Glad to see Stu LeBarron join the Wink club. Jodie Tate is badly in need of replacements and Stu, provided he can get in shape...

It is still a mystery as to why the Spuds let Barnhill go. To the observer he was about the best second sacker in the entire loop...

He was released following the Wednesday game here. A "boner" in the eighth may have led to his downfall.

The improved clouting of Al Berndt, the pint-sized catcher, has been a feature in the Barons' attack since their return home.

Loses Fourth

Jerry Blanchard, Lubbock's ace lefty, lost his fourth game of the season Wednesday night when he was beaten in Midland, 2-1...

At the present time Clovis, the WT-NM league cellar club, is seven games out of the loop lead, two games out of second place.

Big Spring, the fourth place team, could go into second place today provided the Lubbockites take Hobbs tonight.

'Kidnapped' To Show At The Ritz

Baxter, Bartholomew In Robert Louis Stevenson Story

"Kidnapped," the story Robert Louis Stevenson is said to have considered his best, comes to the Ritz theatre Friday and Saturday, done in somewhat streamlined form and produced on the spectacular side with a cast of 5,000, including Warner Baxter and Freddie Bartholomew in the leading roles.

Unlike several other Stevenson stories, "Kidnapped" has never before been made into film. Its debut, however, appears to have been marked by the assembling of a worthy cast for the benefit of movie goers.

Every person conversant with so much as high school English has thrilled to the adventure in "Kidnapped," so the picture is destined to meet a host of familiar friends. It will be these "friends" who will remember that the story had little or no "feminine interest" being chiefly the tale of the escapades of Alan Breck and David Balfour (portrayed on the screen by Warner Baxter and Freddie Bartholomew).

Purists may try, therefore, to quarrel with Hollywood's introduction into the story of a Joan MacDonald, Highland lass who becomes enamored of Alan Breck. The role is portrayed by an astonishingly vivacious and beautiful screen discovery, Arleen Whelan.

It is interesting to note, then, that the motion picture people have gone less a precedent than Stevenson himself, for allegedly "tampering" with the facts. He admits he tampered with the historical facts in writing the book.

"It is more honest to confess at once how little I am touched by the desire for accuracy. This ("Kidnapped") is no furniture for a scholar's library, but a book..."

If Hollywood has taken liberties, it has only to paraphrase the author of the book from which it made its film:

"This is no furniture for a scholar's library, but a triumphant piece of motion picture entertainment, lavishly done."

The stellar cast of "Kidnapped" includes C. Aubrey Smith, Reginald Owen, John Carradine, Nigel Bruce, Miles Mander, Ralph Forbes and H. B. Warner.

THRILLS IN WESTERN MELODRAMA

Bob Steele gets tough with his enemies, in this scene from "Thunder in the Desert," the Queen theatre's featured offering for Friday and Saturday. It's a story of thrills and excitement, as Steele tracks down his outlaw foes.

Farm Pictures Are Snapped

Demonstration Is Concluding Feature Of Agents' Meet

Extension service officials, concluding a one day session, gave practical demonstrations in agricultural photography before a group of county farm and home demonstration agents here Thursday afternoon.

Farm pictures - among them shots of horses, yard improvement water system, etc. - were taken at the R. E. Martin farm near R-Bau school.

Other pictures, which may be used in a pasture bulletin to be issued soon by the extension service, were taken on the S. D. Buchanan place where a shinnery pasture thrives, and on the A. L. Wassor (Capps) ranch northeast of Coahoma. A spreader dam built by Wassor across Morgan creek to irrigate tobacco flats furnished a good subject, with water backed up a distance of two miles and blocking two roads.

Howard Perry, experiment station photographer, took the pictures and Louis Franke, assistant extension service editor, gave new hints to the agents on the field trip. R. R. Lancaster, extension service pasture specialist, made comments on pasture practices and conditions during the afternoon.

J. D. Pruitt, district agent, and Ruth Thompson, district home demonstration agent, were in charge of the group. Here for AAA matters Thursday morning were R. H. Nelson, AAA field supervisor, and L. O. Brackeen, regional AAA field supervisor.

culturalists, he now lives in retirement at Arcady, the heavily-forested, 200-acre Drane estate on the outskirts of town.

The man who gave trustees of the foundation a deed of conveyance to his separate estate, with some $360,000 reserved until his death, philosophized "the best way to help those needing help is to show them how to help themselves - never forgetting, however, the good Samaritan aid to unfortunate. Only the utterly unfortunate should have everything done for them - and then for only periods of time. Benevolence should always go back to the base of things."

Drane, as trustee emeritus of the foundation, stressed he did not wish to bind the foundation by mandate, and added:

"I crave to counsel full consideration in the fostering of formative, preparative character - building agencies to create industry, frugality, self-independence and helpfulness to others - primarily by helping them; teaching them, showing them how to help themselves. Persons should make and move on their own power; stoke their own fires - remove their own ashes; consume their own smoke - contribute something to the sum total of human well being, and not subtract something from it."

Under articles of association, the foundation was created for promoting the well-being of mankind primarily in Navarro county, and elsewhere in Texas only upon the initiative and unanimous action of its trustees.

China's Attempt To Build A Navy Back In 1922 Thwarted By U. S.

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP)—The state department disclosed today through the publication of foreign relations volumes for 1922 that the United States had squelched an attempt by China 16 years ago to build a modern navy.

The hitherto secret document disclosed that the United States learned of China's intentions and not only opposed them, but also induced Japan, Great Britain, France and Italy to oppose them. It also brought pressure on the Bethlehem Shipbuilding company not to fulfill a shipbuilding contract with China.

The reason given by American diplomats was that "in China there is at the present time no central government of sufficient strength and stability really to rule the whole of the country, and that some of the influential local authorities, maintaining armies for their own ends, are indulging in strife, these contending influences being subject to incessant vicissitudes."

Also, the Washington disarmament conference had successfully completed its labors and the American government did not want to see "any steps which the Chinese government might take to nullify the work and influence (of the conference)."

Wheat Crop Placed At More Than 760 Million Bushels

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP)—The agriculture department said today June 1 conditions indicated a winter wheat production of 760,623,000 bushels, based on an average yield of 15.0 bushels an acre. Production was 683,102,000 bushels last year, and the 10-year average, 1927-36, was 546,396,000. The largest crop heretofore was 826,396,000 bushels in 1931.

The department said it was too early to forecast spring wheat production accurately, but that March acreage intentions and June 1 conditions indicated a crop of between 260,000,000 and 288,000,000 bushels. Production was 188,891,000 bushels last year, and the 10-year average, 206,549,000.

The first completely air-conditioned train in South America is being put into operation between Buenos Aires and Cordoba by the Central Argentine railway.

China ranks first in the world in the production of antimony and tungsten.

NO SPECIAL MESSAGE ON RAILROAD ACT

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP)—President Roosevelt said today he did not contemplate any special message to the current congress urging the enactment of railroad legislation.

He left the impression that the question of such legislation was entirely up to congress.

The administration learned meanwhile, from an eleventh-hour congressional canvass that it could not count on enacting immediate legislation to alleviate the financial plight of the railroads.

Houses Disagree On Flood Control Measure

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP)—House members expressed dissatisfaction today with senate amendments to the flood control bill which would eliminate local contributions to the cost of property rights for reservoirs.

They said the measure, passed by the senate yesterday, probably would be turned over to a conference committee as soon as the house received it. The bill authorizes projects to cost $275,000,000 during the next five years, but does not appropriate the funds.

The senate changed the bill to require the federal government to pay the full cost of relocating highways, railroads and utilities on land needed for flood control reservoirs.

Under the house bill, local governments would pay 30 per cent of the cost of all property rights for reservoirs.

Another amendment proposed a 30 per cent federal payment for land required for channel diversion projects.

The senate changes, house members said, meant a further reduction in local contributions, already cut 70 per cent by the house.

WILDLIFE PARLEY AT GALVESTON

GALVESTON, June 10 (AP)—Sportsmen, nature lovers, game commission officials and conservation authorities gathered here today for opening sessions of the annual convention of the Texas Wildlife Federation. Henry W. Flagg, of Galveston, president of the federation, outlined objectives at the initial meeting.

One of the features of the convention will be a symposium on night presided over by Dr. A. B. Connor, director of the Texas agricultural experiment station, at which a number of experts will present papers on methods of wildlife.

GOVT. PURCHASES TOMATOES TO AID MARKET

JACKSONVILLE, June 10 (AP)—The Federal Surplus Commodities corporation began the purchase of East Texas tomatoes today in an effort to aid a distressed market.

Loading stations are being established at all important producing areas throughout the tomato belt.

Joseph F. Hatch, FSCC agent, said 45 cents would be paid for a half-bushel tub, adding that for the time being no limit had been placed on the quantity to be purchased but that the price was subject to change.

Hatch said the price would net growers $1.10 per hundredweight and inasmuch as the government would take 20 per cent of each purchase in No. 2 grade, the price would be higher than the farmer had been receiving.

Western Pictures At Local Theatres This Weekend

In the cast also is Tuffy, the wonder dog, an intelligent, well-trained canine which has an important part in the plot. "Stagecoach Days" is an action-filled story of the Plains country in the old days, when transportation was hazardous.

The Queen's feature for Friday and Saturday will be "Thunder in the Desert," with Bob Steele, popular western player, starred. Louise Stanley is his leading lady. The story details a daring cowboy's long and finally victorious fight against a band of range outlaws.

Buffalo Calves Are A Shade Tough, Punchers At Carter Ranch Learn

There's a big difference between handling calves and buffalo calves, Bill Cushing, Jr., Bismark Schaefer and Joe Carter learned at the Carter ranch Thursday.

The three, accustomed to handling beef cows and calves, undertook to administer blackleg vaccine to two calves that have blessed the Bison herd on the J. G. Carter estate range.

Schaefer tackled the animals barehanded and declared they were the hardest things to hold he had ever laid his hands on. He found difficulty in staying anywhere near the top.

The four grown cows and one bull in the Carter herd were separated from nine calves before the operation was begun. Joe Carter surveyed the havoc worked by the 1,000 pound brutes and figured he had "a little nailing to do."
