READ AND OWENS JOINED BY WOMACK IN FIGHT WORKOUTS

Red Womack Monday joined Ellis Read and Johnny Owens for an extensive workout at the high school in preparation for the local boxing team's invasion of San Angelo Friday night.

Womack has been working lightly with the pair for the past few weeks but he bore down with enthusiasm Monday and was expected to be in fair shape for the encounter with the respected Noah Valdes on Don Legg's TAAF show at the end of the week.

The bout will be one of the major features of the exhibition. Womack two months ago was beaten in a close match by the Angelo Mexican and immediately asked for a rematch.

Lubbock-Big Spring Game "Dusted Out"

Midland Takes Two From Hobbs; Clovis Wins Fifth Game In Row

A typical Panhandle "duster", causing partial darkness, forced a postponement of the Lubbock-Big Spring game in Lubbock Monday afternoon. The two teams will meet this afternoon.

Marvin Keller, who appears to be in his best shape of the season, will get the starting mound call.

Midland's Cardinals escaped from the WT-NM league cellar by taking two wild games from the Hobbs Boosters on Card field. They clouted out a 14-12 victory in the opener, scoring early to turn the trick.

Then did most of their scoring in two innings of the aftermath to copy, 11-1.

In Clovis Norman Boiserano paced the Pioneers to their fifth victory in a row, defeating Wink 6-4, in an extra inning duel. Bud Cheeves made his pitching debut for Wink, throwing six hit balls.

Paul Derringer, Reds, and Bill Lee, Cubs—Reds' hurler chalked up seventh victory with eight-hit pitching in first game; Lee blanked Reds in second with six hits.

Charley Ruffing and Lou Gehrig, Yankees—their pitching and hitting beat Red Sox twice, Ruffing allowing three hits in first contest and Gehrig hitting two-run homer in second.

Pete Appleton, Senators, and George Caster, Athletics—both turned in fine pitching performances, former in relief role, as Washington and Philadelphia split double bill.

Bob Feller and Johnny Allen, Indians—kept pace with each other with six victories each as they checked White Sox with total of nine hits for double win.

Edward Lear, whose "Book of Nonesuch" was published in 1846, was the most famous composer of limericks.

The Oklahoma City Indians wore 14-3 and lost 4-1 in their double-header with the Fort Worth Cats. The Cats took the opener when Manager Homer Peel knocked a home run in the seventh with the bases loaded. Jim Kosew, Indian skipper, knocked a two-bagger, with the bases loaded, in the second inning of the second game. That started a spree that ended only after eight runs in that stanza.

The Shreveport Sports went down for their eighth consecutive defeat as the Houston Buffs pounded Barnes, Canby and Jakucki for a 15-5 victory.

By the Associated Press The Tulsa Oilers, winners over the Dallas Steers 5-3 last night again were on top of the heap in the Texas League today. The Oilers, trailing with one run to the Steers' three, going into the seventh inning, staged a three-run rally, based on Al Baker's wildness and added another counter in the eighth.

The San Antonio Missions, erstwhile league leaders, again war victims of the Beaumont Exporters 3-2 as the Exporters eased within a whisker of the league top. John Tate, Beaumont's young right-hander, outpitched Bill Trotter, sideballer.

Today And Tomorrow

By Walter Lippmann (Mr. Lippmann's column is published as an informational and news feature. His views are personal and are not to be construed as necessarily reflecting the editorial opinion of The Herald—Editor's Note).

INTERMISSION

Being about to sail for Europe, I ought no doubt to be filled with large ideas about the prospects of peace and of recovery and of civilization in general. But I cannot really pretend that to write this article is anything more than one of the numerous chores that have to be done before embarking though it should be taken more seriously, in fact it is just one more thing to do along with going to the dentist, trying to understand the regulations about tourist lire, and wondering where the keys to the trunk have been mislaid.

Not perhaps it is just as well for each of us that now and then he should become diverted from the great and infinitely disturbing events, tendencies and forebodings of these days to the trivial, boring, but comforting details involved in doing some definite personal thing. For it is exhausting, and rather bad for the ego, to live perpetually on the grand scale of world history and to traffic only in affairs that are paramount, decisive, critical, spectacular and earth-shaking.

At that point he needs a vacation, and, if he finds in himself any secret disposition to think that he cannot be spared, it is the surest sign of all that he needs a vacation. I detect the symptoms in myself, and so for a few weeks, until July, I shall be like the young lady who did not know what she thought until she had heard what she said.

It would, of course, be an excellent thing if all the peoples of the world could have a vacation from the attention of their rulers, and still better, if their rulers would take a vacation from their heroic posturing as the agents of human destiny. Large portions of mankind are under the spell of men who seem to go to bed with their boots on, and are magnificent and grandiloquent even in their sleep.

But if I read history correctly, the ultimate remedy in such periods as this, when mankind becomes exalted beyond its capacity, is not any one of the logical solutions that reasonable men propose, but a gradual exhaustion of the operative emotions, a growing indifference to the issues, with the coming of a new generation, a loss of interest in the subject matter of the quarrel. That is why the religious wars of the sixteenth century really ended, in a benign lack of interest in the dispute, in a civilized unconcern with the grandiose claims of the partisans, and in the discovery that there are other and better things to attend to.

It does not seem to me likely that the great issues which now embroil mankind will be resolved either by war or by statesmanship. They are in the deepest sense insoluble in that they arise out of passionate differences about human values. In conflict of this sort, there is never a decisive victory for the partisans of one view; the ultimate victory is to those who are interested in other human things, in things that finally dispense and obscure the burning but insoluble issues. In the sixteenth century it was the view of Erasmus that finally prevailed and brought peace, not that of the irreconcilables on either side of the barricades. And perhaps in our time, if catastrophe can be postponed, it can be averted by the generation that did not start these quarrels and can have no true interest in perpetuating them.

Hollywood

Sights And Sounds by ROBBIN COONS. HOLLYWOOD — A boy and a girl were riding in a big creaking wagon, a dustless dirt road behind them, riding right into the camera.

For the girl, Anne Shirley, it must have been a good omen, this ride. It was on a similar trip, only in a buggy, that red-haired Anne chattered her way into a good many fan hearts as "Anne of Green Gables."

For the boy, James Ellison, it was just a different kind of ride—but fraught with possibilities too. His role in "Mother Carey's Chickens" is his fourth away from the westerns, and it's his second where, in romantically speaking, he is the whole masculine work.

"I just thought if I worked with it myself I might be able to make it look a little better," he recalls "but I might as well have saved the trouble. I didn't get the contract. Got one later, however, at M-G-M, where I didn't do anything. I took a trip to see my brother in Honolulu, thinking I'd get a job there, but he advised me to come back. And I did, and things have worked out nicely."

After that one came along I was talking to him and, not knowing what to expect, I inquired, "What next, Billy?" "I'm going to do a musical comedy on water," was the astonishing reply... Well, he did just that, at Clevely's Casino, it was the aquadec, the hit of the Cleveland exposition.

Meanwhile, down in Texas, he was handling the midway for the Texas exposition at Fort Worth... They asked Billy back the second year to put on his fiesta. And about that time all the New York producers were going "Billy Rose"... The night clubs, I mean...

ers to a five-member board which could excuse some firms from compliance with pay and hour regulations.

He made it plain he would not support that provision, despite custom which holds that conferees must back the measure approved by their chamber.

Nor will he agree, Borah said, to accept a bill without wage differentials. The house measure carries no such differentials.

His appeal against too speedy consideration of the legislation followed an expression of caution by Chairman Thomas (D-Utah) of the senate conferees against accepting "any old bill." He added, however, that he thought a satisfactory measure could be worked out quickly.

Taking an opposite view from Borah, Thomas bid for unified labor of the "jurisdictional" board empowered by the senate bill to grant exceptions and exemptions to pay and hour regulations.

Commenting that labor, "often betrayed and after the polls, is wondering and uncertain," he said he believed it could trust the administration and congress to set up a fair board.

no significance' is now regarded as 'fatally defective,' Hughes added: "These assertions are unwarranted. Not only are the two decisions consistent, but the rule announced in our former opinion was applied and was decisive of the present appeal. And the government is in no position to claim surprise.

"The effort to establish a case for rehearing, either because of an asserted inconsistency in our rulings, or because of lack of opportunity for full argument, is futile."

Justices Cardozo and Reed did not participate in the action.

Chief Justice Hughes, who wrote the recent six to one opinion (Justice Black dissenting) said the secretary of agriculture had not given the commission merchants an opportunity to learn the government contentions and to contest them.

REVIEW REFUSED IN GAS RATE CASE

WASHINGTON, May 31 (AP)—The supreme court refused today to reconsider its decision on May 18 returning to Texas courts litigation involving a 1933 order by the Texas railroad commission directing the Lone Star Gas company to reduce from 40 to 32 cents a thousand cubic feet its charge for gas sold to distributing companies in 275 Texas municipalities.

Reconsideration was sought by Attorney General William McCraw of Texas.

FDR Facing Biggest Test In Iowa

No National Issue In Other Primaries During June

WASHINGTON, May 31 (AP)—Iowa's primary election next Monday is only one of five scheduled for June, but its democratic senatorial contest probably will be the month's outstanding test of Roosevelt administration strength.

In none of the other June primaries—North Carolina, Maine, Minnesota and North Dakota—has an issue of first rate national interest developed.

The Iowa balloting might have attracted only normal attention had it not been for a remark by WPA Administrator Harry Hopkins that if he were a citizen of Iowa, he would cast his nominating vote for Representative Otha Wearin rather than for Senator Guy Gillman.

That statement and the furor which it caused both in congress and elsewhere has marked Wearin in the public mind as the administration's choice. It has rallied to Gillette's support such anti-administration senators as Wheeler of Montana and Burke of Nebraska, who like him opposed the Roosevelt court bill.

The Iowa primary will be the fourth in which individual candidates have had some form of administration support, and so far the score stands two to one for the administration. It won victories in Florida and in Oregon.

In Pennsylvania, however, democratic voters defeated Thomas Ken-

Call For Volunteers In 'Hopper War'

SPRINGFIELD, N. M., May 31 (AP)—Northeastern New Mexico farmers, battling a mammoth grasshopper invasion, called today for volunteers from neighboring counties which will suffer unless the infestation is checked promptly.

"The field is still undermanned," said Albert K. Mitchell, prominent stockman who is generalissimo of the anti-hopper forces.

Travelling by private airplane, Mitchell is maintaining a constant survey of the infested area, mobilizing workers quickly in sections where the danger of severe outbreak is greatest.

The insect fighters now have 300 poison-spraying machines and ample supplies in the field. But the need for additional men is acute.

COUPLE ARRESTED IN KIDNAP CASE

CINCINNATI, May 31 (AP)—The federal bureau of investigation announced today the arrest Monday in widely separated parts of the west of James E. Merritt, 26, and his wife, Edna Laquell, 22, in connection with the kidnaping of Harley Spruance, wealthy farmer.

Merritt was taken into custody at Buffalo, Wyoming, and Mrs. Merritt was seized by FBI agents at San Francisco.

Spruance told FBI agents he was taken in an automobile into Indiana, and there threatened until he yielded to demands for $3,000.
