Around and About SLATON

Are long now, A. M. Jackson easily is able to qualify as best-read man on the South Jack, away from his Slaton desk since Jan. 30 with a home ticker, reports that he reads every magazine available in the newsstands, even by his many friends, and is beginning a second reading of O. Henry's works, one of O. Henry's favorites. Mrs. Jackson is that her editor-publisher is beginning to inquire and more frequently as to whether there'll be cornbread at time. Sounds like progress to me.

heard a new complaint the day. A local merchant observed that he had cracked down to such extent on bootlegging operations in the flats that many Slaton residents now find their "business" hampered, and consequently spending less money in town.

Sometimes the police probably like they might as well stay at home. "Catch and wait" seems to be the policy in the local political arena.

la named Paul Walker was in office the other day for a ribbon, and he's of the opinion that there are too many dogs in town. Says they've been scratching in his wife's flower beds. Says something ought to be done about it.

of this city's most energetic civic workers turned down their day an offer to serve on Chamber of Commerce board directors because he already is in various capacities on a few boards and committees. It seems that's the case a lot of our folks who are willing to devote a good bit of personal time to making Slaton a better place to live. The ones are called on over and over again. Each time a new promise comes along, the same names come to mind. And they serve well, but at a considerable sacrifice to their personal lives and spent with their families. It is far better if more of our citizens willing to help our neighborhood and our city as well as ourselves.

cial Prize Will Be Given For Best Scramble Calf

A. C. Strickland, superintendent of the Lubbock County Stock Show held annually in Slaton, has announced that a special prize will be offered next year for the boy who does the job of feeding his scramble calf at this year's show.

ch calf was weighed this year and it was taken home and comparisons of original weights of the finished calf will be made. Special award will not effect scramble calf division in next year's show; it will be an additonal award.

calves caught by Quinton Be. Slaton, weighed 250 lbs. Winners in the scramble calf show were: Jim Allday, Lubbock; Jack Stanford, Cooper; O. Fritch, Lubbock; Frank D. Dunn, Cooper; C. O. Cowan, New York; Keith Dempsey, Cooper; J. Dunn, Shallowater; Wayne A. Dalou, and Nolan Robnett, Bock.

ramble calves were donated by Forest Lumber Co., Southern Public Service Co., Veterans of Foreign Wars, Western Home Co., Citizens State Bank, King Gin Co., Slaton Motor Co., Campbell Gin, Piggly Wiggly and Ray C. Ayers and Son.

FUNERAL NOTICES FROM PAST EIGHT YEARS ARE COLLECTED

Have more men died in Slaton in the past eight years than women? Statistics taken from a book of funeral notices saved by O. D. Kenney would indicate that this is true.

Mr. Kenney started saving all the funeral notices that were left at O. D. Kenney Auto Parts during the 1930's. During the course of the years a desk was cleaned and some of the collected notices destroyed. He now has a collection of notices from August of 1944 to the present.

This is not an accurate tabulation of all the deaths in Slaton during that period, because funeral notices were not printed for all of them, and it is possible that he failed to get a few of those that were printed.

Of the 124 notices in the collection, 81 were for males, 43 for females; 58 were 60 years of age or over, 3 were under 10 years of age at the time of death. All but 16 were buried in Englewood Cemetery. Services for 45 were conducted from the Methodist Church, for 44 from the Baptist Church, and the rest divided among the different churches of Slaton, Williams Funeral Home, and one service was held in a private home.

Fifteen of the notices had pencil notations of the cause of death. Of these deaths 6 were due to heart attacks, 1 to T. B., 4 to cancer, 3 were suicides, and 1 was caused by a fall.

A breakdown of the deaths by months shows them fairly evenly divided, with more coming during the winter months with the exception of July, which ranked second high. In January there were 15; February, 13; March, 8; April, 8; May, 8; June, 9; July, 14; August, 5; September, 10; October, 10; November, 11; December, 14.

Oldest at death was Mrs. Cornelia Marable, 96, who was born November 15, 1854, and died July 27, 1950.

SET FAMILY NIGHT

A special family covered dish supper will be held at 7:30 o'clock Thursday night, March 26, in the basement of the First Methodist Church, it was announced Wednesday by Rev. J. L. Mayhew, pastor. Speakers for the occasion will be Rev. and Mrs. Leonard Bloomquist who are missionaries in Rhodesia and formerly were missionaries in Sweden for several years.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Johnson are spending a month at Hot Springs, N. M.

Week's Question . . . On This Question We're Unanimous Modern Art Is Not To Our Liking

"Do you like modern art—the kind of modern art that deals in surrealism and abstracts? This includes Dali's melting watches and ever-present insects. It also includes the jumbled pieces of the human body, the disembodied leg with an eyeball in the kneecap, the profile with three eyes showing, and all attempts to express the subconscious mental activities by presenting images without order or sequence as in a dream, as well as geometric designs."

Mrs. T. G. McEver, "No, I don't like it, honey. I belong to an art club in Lubbock and two prominent Tech professors who have been speakers at our meetings, teach all that. They like it. I gave them the horse laugh so much they don't mention it to me anymore. There is enough in life that it maimed as it is. Art should be wonderful; it should uplift and make better; it should be something near God—worshipful. This stuff is maiming and degrading. The artist who produces it is not on the square somewhere. Geometrical designs can look like something, but when they put eyes in the back of the head or shuffle the parts of the body like cards and throw them—that's what it looks like they've done. I feel artists have to be mentally deranged to do it."

Howard Hoffman, "I've seen a little of it. I've had no training along that line and wouldn't be qualified to say from an artist's standpoint, but for my own personal taste, I can't fathom what they're driving at. I can't understand how that type of art originated. That must have more appeal for the intelligentsia in art than it does for me. It seems sort of a

Red Cross Drive Is Launched With Goal Of $2,000

Slaton's 1953 Red Cross drive was scheduled to get underway here Tuesday with a goal of $2,000 as a part of the overall Lubbock County goal of $48,000. It was announced by John T. Sims, local drive chairman.

$709 IN THE BANK

Through Wednesday noon, a total of $709.09 had been collected in the current Red Cross drive here, and a number of workers hadn't yet turned in reports, according to John Sims.

Local organizations which were helping conduct the residential canvass included the Tuesday Club, Tuesday Luncheon Club, Thursday Club, Daughters of the Pioneer Club, Junior Civic and Culture Club, Athenian Club, Bluebonnet Club, Methodist W.C.S., and Church of Christ Bible Class.

Local businessmen have agreed to canvass the business district, and representatives of various women's organizations here will solicit funds in the residential area under direction of Mrs. H. G. Stokes, Sims said.

Sims said Tuesday he is hopeful that the majority of the $2,000 being sought in Slaton can be raised by the end of this week, though the drive is scheduled to continue until March 31.

Those desiring to give to the fund drive who are not contacted personally may send their contributions to John Sims, care of the West Texas Gas Company, Slaton. Contributions to the Red Cross here last year totaled $1,124.57. That drive was headed by O. Z. Ball and J. S. Edwards, Jr.

BUY PRIZE ANIMALS

The following Slaton firms purchased local boy's animals at the South Plains Fat Stock Show on Wednesday. Pember Insurance was high bidder on the lamb shown by Loran Gilliland at 60c per pound. Slaton Farm Store bought a calf shown by L. C. Strube at 33c per pound, and Citizens State Bank purchased a hog shown by L. C. Strube at 36c per pound.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Johns have returned from a month's vacation to the Rio Grande Valley. They found lots of fish and lots of fruit.

Predict Long Row As Tags Go Slow

It looks very much like there are going to be a lot of people waiting in line along about the end of this month. For their 1953 license plates, that is.

That's the outlook from the office of Mrs. F. A. Drewry, 136 South Eighth, where the tags are on sale.

Mrs. Drewry, deputy tax collector here, said at mid-week that approximately 900 sets of the 1953 black-on-orange tags have been sold since they were placed on sale at her office over a month ago. She anticipates that approximately 2,000 sets of the tags will be sold by the March 31 deadline.

Those who call for their tags must present their vehicle title and the 1952 registration receipt, she pointed out.

Priest's Home To Be Blessed Mon.; Plan Open House

Rev. T. D. O'Brien, pastor of St. Joseph's Catholic Church, has announced that the new rectory will be blessed Monday, March 23, with Bishop Fitzsimon of Amarillo and a number of visiting clergy present for the blessing. On Monday morning confirmation will be held at St. Joseph's Church for a class of 80, including children and adults.

The new brick and tile home has twelve rooms and three baths. The church rest rooms are at the back of the double garage which joins the house on the west.

Father O'Brien says the house is modern, very nice and very comfortable, but that he feels a little lost in so many rooms. This isn't his first experience of living in a big house. In Amarillo he lived in a new 18 room house and he could never find his hat. He finally put a hat rack in the front hall and always left his hat there. He says he hasn't had that trouble here. No matter where he leaves it he can pick it up on his way out.

The house was built to accommodate two priests and any visiting clergy.

Open House is planned for Sunday, March 29, from 1 to 5 p.m., for anyone who wishes to see the new home.

Thomas L. Vivian Services Monday

Funeral services for Thomas L. Vivian, 705 So. 9th St., Slaton, who died Sunday in a Plainview hospital, were held Monday, March 16, at 1:30 p.m. at the First Baptist Church Extension with the Rev. Bryan A. Ross, officiating. Burial was in Matador Cemetery, Matador, Texas, under the direction of Williams Funeral Home.

Vivian had been in the grocery business in Slaton since 1948. He was born January 6, 1913, at Matador, Texas.

He is survived by two children: a son, Tommy David, and a daughter, Kay; his mother, Mrs. Maud Vivian of Midland; one brother, Bill Vivian of Las Vegas, N. M.; four sisters, Mrs. Gertrude Reeves, Las Vegas, Mrs. Opal Horseshoe, Mrs. Lois Stansell, McLeishoe, and Mrs. Ruby Polk, Midland.

Pallbearers were: Crawford Alingham, Howard Swanner, Jim Kiker, Joe Walker, Sr., Bill Mosley, and Pete Lancaster.

Church Meets Goal On Victory Sunday

"Victory Sunday" at the First Methodist Church was a success, Rev. J. L. Mayhew declared this week. A recent fund drive—aimed at raising approximately $6,500 needed to pay off all indebtedness on the new sanctuary—more than met the goal, the pastor said. Results of the drive were announced at a March 15 "Victory Sunday" service.

Plans are being made for a formal dedication of the new sanctuary, which with furnishings cost approximately $138,000. Bishop William C. Martin of Dallas will be present for the dedication service, Rev. Mayhew said.

Planning is in process, too, for construction of additional educational facilities at the church, he said.

Expect 20 Teams For Track Meet Here March 28

Eleven definite entries—twelve counting that of Slaton—are in for the Caprock Relays track meet to be held at Tiger Stadium here on Saturday, March 28, it was announced Tuesday by Willard Hedges, S.H.S. track coach.

"And we expect seven or eight more entries to come in by Tuesday's filing deadline," Hedges commented. In all, upwards of 350 track athletes are expected to participate in the king-sized high school track and field event, one of the biggest ever held in Slaton.

Hedges has entries from Morton, Abertathy, Floydada, Tahoka, Spur, Crosbyton, Ralls, Muleshoe, Olton, Tula, and Anton.

Preliminaries will begin at 10 a.m., and finals will get underway at 1:30 p.m. Admission price for the afternoon events will be 25 cents for students, 50 cents for adults. There'll be no admission charge for the morning activities, Hedges said.

The Bengals have scheduled a meet with Anton at 3 p.m. here this Friday as part of their conditioning for next Saturday's big meet. Coach Hedges said Tuesday he hopes to get a third team—possibly Ralls—to participate in this Friday's meet.

Events to be held in the March 28 meet include 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash, 440-yard dash, 880-yard run, mile run, 180-yard low hurdles, 120-yard high hurdles, 440-yard relay, mile relay, high jump, shot put, discus throw, pole vault, and broad jump.

Everything needed to complete Slaton's municipal swimming pool is on hand, and according to foreman Tom Eaton of Paddock Engineering Company of Dallas, nothing can hold up construction now unless it rains, and he says he hopes the work will be held up for that reason.

Pipes were laid Monday, three filter tanks are in place north of the pool, and it was expected that construction of the brick pump house would be started this week. Tile work was scheduled to start Wednesday, and walks to be poured this week.

Mr. Eaton says work is progressing very fast and the pool will really shape up by the last of next week. Walks will be completed and it will really look like a pool. He says the filter tanks were permanently placed above ground because experience has shown that to be the best method. They rust out very quickly when placed underground, but will last indefinitely above ground.

The pool could be completed by April 15, but since it will not open until June 1 there would be no point in completing it and filling it with water only to have to drain it again. The white marble on the floor of the pool will be the last job completed. They will wait until about two weeks before opening date to put the marble on.

The pool is 65 feet wide at the shallow end, 35 feet wide at the deep end and 105 feet in length. It will have a safety line at the 4 1/2 foot mark to keep children out of the deep water. There will be five 1000 watt submarine lights for underwater lighting, and five tile lanes for swimming meets. The pool will have two diving boards, a 1 meter and a 3 meter.

Stress Need For More Players As Jr. Softball Group Poises For Play

Official league play will get underway this Saturday morning in the Junior League, newly-organized softball league for Slaton youngsters 12 years of age or less, it was announced Wednesday by Dick DeMoss.

To date, there are four teams entered. Each team has a roster limit of 15 players, and each of the aggregations has need of from three to five additional team members, DeMoss said. Should enough additional boys express a desire to play, one or more teams will be added to the league, he explained.

This Saturday's schedule pits the Wolves against the Bears at 9 a.m. and the Lions against the Bobcats at 10:30 a.m. Both tilts will be 7-inning affairs, and will be played on the softball diamond at West Ward school.

In non-official warm-up contests, the Lions edged the Bears 12-8 and the Bears squeezed past the Bobcats 26-24 on March 7. Last Saturday morning the Bears trounced the Lions 13-4 and the Wolves ran over the Bobcats 39-8. In the latter contest, Ronnie White and Bill Barry each scored six runs to pace the Wolves' victory.

Bobcats: Howard Limmer (captain), T. L. Blissard, Gene Talbert, R. D. Klaus, Teddy Sands, Roger Cummings, Charles Eanes, Tommy Tompkins, Jim Warren, Pete Harris, Pat Fondy, and Jerry Hodge.

Lions: Randy Sanders (captain), Jerry Harlan, Danny Warren, Billy Don Stewart, Robert Keys, Russell Cummings, John DeMoss, John W. Owens, James Cole, Danny Winn, and Richard DeMoss.

Bears: Dale Gordon (captain), Derry Edwards, Tommy Foster, Larry Terry, Richey Polk, Carroll Hunter, Arlie Bowers, Ronnie White, John Dickerson, James Bolter, Bobby Moore and Clay Foster.

Building Permits Top 1952 Pace

Slaton scarcely is undergoing a building boom. Nevertheless, figures in the office of City Secretary J. J. Maxey show that building is moving at a more rapid pace here thus far this year than it did in 1952.

To date this year, Slaton building permits total $59,150. At this time last year, building permits totaled only $32,600. The 1953 permits include four residences totaling $39,650 and a service station at $14,000. Remainder of the total is in repair jobs.

If the present building pace continues here, 1953 will easily go into the record book as a better building year for Slaton than 1952, when permits totaled only $188,820 for the entire year.

The year of 1952; however, can scarcely be considered an average building year here. In 1951, permits here were $855,005. And in 1950, they totaled $471,990, figures in Maxey's office show.

Coahoma To Open Tiger Grid Slate

Tentative arrangements have been made with Coahoma High School to fill the only remaining open date on the 1953 Slaton High School football schedule, it was announced Tuesday by Homer Tompkins, Tiger grid coach.

Coahoma will meet the Tigers here on Friday, Sept. 11, according to arrangements worked out between Tompkins and the Coahoma coach at the recent coaching clinic held at Texas Tech.

The remainder of the 1953 Tiger schedule includes Sept. 18, at Seagraves; Sept. 25, Ralls here; Oct. 1, at O'Donnell; Oct. 8, Morton here; Oct. 15, at Floydada; Oct. 22, Spur here; Oct. 29, at Post; Nov. 6, at Tahoka; and Nov. 13, Abertathy here.

McAneer Services Conducted Sunday

Funeral services for Francis M. McAneer, 73, 550 West Knox St., Slaton, were conducted Sunday afternoon at the First Baptist Church, with Rev. J. T. Bolding, pastor, officiating, and Rev. J. L. Mayhew, pastor of First Methodist Church, assisting.

Mr. McAneer was born January 24, 1880, near Brownwood, Texas. He moved to Cleburne with his parents and grew up there. He was married in 1910. All of his five children were present at the funeral services.

Cleburne was longtime family territory. A little creek in the edge of the town bears the family name, being called McAneer Branch, having been named for his grandfather.

Twelve years of the time McAneer lived in Cleburne, he worked for Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

In 1937 he moved his family to Slaton, where he was employed by the Co-op Gin as nightwatchman. Survivors include his wife; three daughters, Mrs. Leonard Johnston, Mrs. W. W. Stanley and Mrs. Wayne Smith of Slaton; two sons, Herbert McAneer of Lubbock, and one brother, John McAneer of Burleson.

SHS Students Rarely Need These Excuses For Absence - Tardiness

There are a lot of students at Slaton High School who are never absent and never tardy. In fact most of them are pretty punctual, according to Principal John Gilbert, and usually ninety per cent of the student body is present.

But there are times when absence is unavoidable. For example, Mr. Gilbert would know when dollar day comes even if he didn't have a calendar. One of the most frequent excuses given for absence from school is, "I had to go to Lubbock," and the biggest per cent of those come in after dollar day.

So you can see that important things do come up in the life of a student, making it absolutely necessary to miss a day of school now and then.

Illness is high on the list of oft-given reasons for absence. Others frequently heard are, "I had to stay home and work," "We had out of town company," "I went on a trip with my parents," and "I had to baby sit." Mr. Gilbert has come to the conclusion that there are a lot of little brothers and sisters in this town. And when he sees how some of these students work at school, he wonders why

Special Service Set At Assembly Of God

Special service is being conducted Monday night, March 23, one night only, at the Assembly of God Church, 8th and Powers Sts. Talented young evangelists, Bud Chambers and Otho Allen, who have just closed revivals in California, are stopping one night on their way back East. Rev. Bud Chambers plays the steel guitar and Rev. Otho Allen also plays the guitar.

The pastor, Rev. Clarence Glaze, invites all who like good playing and singing and old fashioned preaching to be sure and attend this service.

Only One Candidate But Two Vacancies

Slaton Independent School District voters will go to the polls here on Saturday, April 4, to ballot for two school board members—but so far there's only one candidate, Mrs. F. A. Drewry pointed out this week.

Mrs. Drewry, school business manager, explained that Robert Hall Davis, one of two board members whose term expires this year, has announced for re-election. J. C. Smith, Jr., the other board member who is slated to go off the board, had made no official indication at mid-week whether he'll seek another term. No others have filed.

Filing dates, Mrs. Drewry explained, is Wednesday, March 25.

Board members are elected for three-year terms.

Other school board members are Tip Kendrick, Joe S. Walker, Jr., Curtis Dowell, Jack Clark and M. M. Brieger.

SHORT GRASS

I had always thought the practice of handing a customer the entire box of cigars and allowing him to make his own selection was nothing more than custom. But Clyde Doherty says it is law. He believes the law dates back to the time when cigars were not cellophane-wrapped.

It's reported by a reliable source that the Christmas lights are still up at Flap Samples' house.

Touchdown Club members were around town last Friday morning soliciting contributions so that the S.H.S. track team might go to Snyder last Saturday to participate in the annual Canyon Reef Relays.

No one, I'm sure, minded contributing. But it's a shame that we can't arouse enough interest in our high school athletic program so that we can keep a balance in the athletic fund for just such purposes without soliciting funds. Salvation Army style so that our high school can have a decent athletic program.

An opportunity to alleviate that situation is just around the corner. There's to be a king-sized track meet here on Saturday, March 28, thanks largely to the efforts of Bengal Track Coach Willard Hedges, who has proven himself quite an aggressive young man when it comes to scheduling things for our own hometown.

Willard says there'll be at least 15 teams in the meet, and it ought to be a dandy. Among those high schools which already have agreed to send teams are Tulia, Abernathy, Floydada, Ralls, Crosbyton, Tahoka, Spur, and others.

The preliminaries will be held during the morning and the finals will be unreeled in the afternoon. The cost to see this fine assemblage of track and field talent from all parts of the South Plains will be 25 cents for students, 50 cents for adults.

This columnist sincerely hopes there's an excellent turnout for this meet, to be known as the Caprock Relays. If the turnout is a good one, Willard says it will become the annual Caprock Relays. If the turnout is a poor one, we can turn over the opportunity to stage such a potentially wonderful event to some other city where the fever for high school athletics runs a little higher.

I am among the many who are mighty, mighty glad to know that A. M. Jackson, the redoubtable wild-haired boss of the Slatonite office, is feeling better.

Jack, incidentally, is enough better that he's back to his old practice of poring over the joke columns. Here's something called "Rules for TV Guests," that he ran across the other day:

1. Seating:
The overstuffed chairs in the front row are reserved for guests over 80, and members of the immediate family. Good seating will be found in the second row (dining-room chairs), and third row (kitchen chairs), with standing room available between the piano and the library table.

2. Picture Quality:
Guests will not tamper with brightness, clearness, focus, volume, or anything else. If the picture appears too bright or too dark, too high or too low, too this or too that, leave quietly, remembering that we prefer it that way.

3. Refreshment:
Under no circumstances will the proprietor or his family be goaded, teased, or shamed into serving anything whatever in the form of food or drink. Clean glasses will be found on the kitchen sink. The faucet on the right is the cold.

4. Comparisons:
We have no interest in the names, makes or locations of the television sets that have (a) larger screens, (b) produce clearer pictures, (c) are easier on the eyes, or (d) are better in any way. Of this set, we simply say (a) it is ours, (b) it is paid for, and (c) look who's talking.

5. Exits:
All doors open outward and can be used at any time. In any case, they shall be used within five minutes after program is terminated.

6. Program Termination:
A simple majority of the immediate family may vote when to turn off the set.

7. Future Programs:
No future programs until further notice.

Can Slaton raise its quota—$2,000—in the current Red Cross fund drive? Johnny Sims is the chairman. I am among the World War II servicemen who served overseas and DIDN'T discover anything dreadfully wrong with Red Cross. vastating tornado that flattened South Amarillo about three years ago.

This week's nomination for one of Slaton's most pleasant people: Travis Reynolds.

Slaton has progressed in the past 25 years. Or has it? Here are a few excerpts from a Slaton Chamber of Commerce leaflet issued in March, 1927, which was handed me the other day:

The population of Slaton in 1927 is estimated at 5,500. Building permits in Slaton have averaged $250,000 each year for the past five years.

Two strong banking institutions are in Slaton. A modern bottling works and ice cream factory are situated here.

The annual rainfall averages approximately 25 inches.

Yeah, but the leaflet also noted that Slaton in 1927 had 20 blocks of paved streets. There are now more than 13½ miles of paved streets within our city limits.

Under a paragraph entitled, "Slaton Needs," the 1927 leaflet observed that "Slaton needs a modern hotel." No comment.

Heard a boy ask his dad the other day what kind of a car the Humobile was.

There are many cars no longer being manufactured, of which the present younger generation has never heard. Among them (better not tell publicly how many you remember) are the Apperson Jackrabbit, Auburn Beauty Six, Case, Cole, Cord, Chandler, Chalmers, Dort, Essex, Hupmobile, Locomobile, Maxwell, Mercer, Metz, Moon, Mormon, Oakland, Premier, Rambler, Stanley Steamer, Stutz Bearcat, Stearns-Knight, Texan, Valie, Sinton, Wills-St. Claire, Willys-Knight, White Steamer, and lots of others.

Many of those cars were selling, big, by the way, before the first World War. Many, for example, far outsold the 1917 Chevrolet, and in fact sold all they could make. So they quit advertising. But Chevrolet didn't stop advertising, and today Chevrolet sells more cars than any other.

That proves the saying, "Stop advertising, and be forgotten."

Stock Garden Shelf For Insect Control

Equip your garden shelf now with the supplies needed later for controlling insects on your flowers. According to Sadie Hatfield, homestead improvement specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, there are at least six ingredients which you will want to include. These are lindane, chlordane, poison bait, sulphur, lead arsenate, and oil emulsion.

Miss Hatfield says each ingredient is particularly efficient for control of certain insects. Lindane used as a one percent spray will help kill the aphids, the tiny insect which is active from spring until fall. You can use lindane for the adult white fly, thrips or "rose petal lice," small beetles, leaf hoppers, young squash bugs and many others, but you may need a two percent dust for the mature squash bug.

For the cutworms and some leaf-eating caterpillars, you will find chlordane, in a five percent dust or spray effective. Chlordane is also effective for killing sow bugs, white fly, lace bugs, thrips, beetles, flea hoppers and leaf hoppers. Ants and grasshoppers will also succumb to treatment with chlordane.

The best control for slugs and snails is poison bait. Sow bugs or pill bugs eat small bait, so this is effective control for them. Dusting sulphur will control the red spider and other tiny mites which yellow the leaves and kill evergreens, annual and other plants. It takes a spray of two or three tablespoons of lead arsenate to a gallon of water to control the bag worms if applied when they are young. The grown bag worms need a double dose of the lead arsenate spray.

Oil emulsion spray will dissolve the troublesome scale that grows a waterproof cover or shrubs and plants.

For detailed information, ask your county home demonstration agent for a copy of L-132 "Control of Insects and Allied Pests in the Flower Garden."

Highlights and Sidelights FROM Your State CAPITOL

Austin—Crime is the big news in the Legislature.

Lawmakers are considering a report of the House Crime Investigating Committee. Among other things, the committee recommended that the state set up an agency, something like the FBI, to act when local law enforcement officers fail to do their jobs.

Representative Fred Merith of Terrell is chairman of the committee, which spent two years looking into the status of crime in Texas.

But members warned that the situation can change suddenly. Liquor violations are serious, the committee said, suggesting that the law be changed so that:

Liquor permits would be cancelled if there is gambling or sale of narcotics on the premises. Licensed establishments would be forced to close when the curfew hour on liquor sales is reached.

Bringing of liquor from Mexico would be prohibited except during those hours when liquor can legally be purchased in Texas.

The Texas Liquor Control Board would have radio cars to help agents apprehend bootleggers.

Also recommended was establishment of a narcotics division in the Texas Department of Public Safety.

In the Senate is a modified automobile inspection bill, passed by the House after a great deal of wrangling.

Representative D. H. Buchanan of Longview is author of the bill, which provides that brakes, lights, warning devices, horns, mirrors, and windshield wipers must be inspected.

The bill does not make an inspection tag necessary to get a car license.

The Senate also heard sharp words on the subject of car inspection, and Senator Carlos Ashley of Llano went to the length of suggesting the impeachment of Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Ashley's charge was that Garrison had not enforced the law requiring motorists to have the inspection tag before buying their automobile licenses.

Ashley, long a foe of the car inspection law, believes that if it were rigidly enforced the people would demand its repeal.

His move in the Senate was a resolution ordering the upper house investigating committee to find out why Garrison had "refused to perform his official duty and to determine whether or not this arbitrary refusal is grounds for impeachment proceedings."

Senators A. M. Aikin Jr. of Paris and George Moffett of Chillicothe defended Garrison, saying that his administration has been exemplary. Ashley's resolution was defeated, 27 to 3.

Senator J. T. Rutherford promised a "fight to the finish" for the removal of Dr. George W. Cox as state health officer.

The state board of health again postponed action on Cox's appointment at a meeting where Rutherford demanded a complete investigation of the department.

Rutherford charged that Cox had used a state employee and state materials to paint his house. He accused Ed Ridel, business manager of the department, as being its lobbyist; and he contended that the health office has so many employees that they are falling all over each other.

Cox and Ridel denied these charges, and Cox said they were nothing but politics.

The board meets again in June, and Cox' appointment may come up again at that time.

The House appropriations committee allowed the lead of economy-minded members and approved a bill providing $161,358,168 for general expenditures during the next two years.

That is all the money in sight from present sources. According to the constitution, the state cannot spend more than it has.

The appropriation does not take care of increased spending, demanded from many sources or higher teachers' and state employees' salaries, road building, and other expenses.

If those expenses are to be met, there will have to be new taxes to raise the money.

Representative George T. Hinson of Mineola advocates getting the money by means of his bill to put a tax of two cents per thousand cubic feet on natural gas produced under contracts covering more than a one-year period.

The tax, Hinson estimates, will bring the state $30 million a year.

Another recommendation was that of a West Texas group in the House. They presented a bill that would put taxes on natural resources, refineries, and the chemical industry so as to bring the state an additional $80 million per year.

The money would go to teachers and state employees, city streets, highways, colleges, and prisons.

Some legislators were up in arms about the Esquire magazine piece "Truth About Texas." Representative Marshall O. Bell urged the Attorney General to find out whether the magazine's mailing privileges could be suspended.

The word cereal comes from Ceres, the Roman goddess of agriculture.

Junior jet maker, 18-year-old Henry Cassidy, Jr., of Painted Post, N. Y., built this unusual turbo-jet engine out of tin cans, stove pipe and other things he "found laying around the house." The engine burns natural gas or propane as fuel. The model has been entered in a contest for Westinghouse scholarships in Washington, D. C.

Circle Meetings Are Held Monday

"Vision from Bingahuru" was the topic used when the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church held circle meetings Monday.

Mrs. Joe Wicker taught the lesson and Mrs. Bill Smith gave the devotional to eight members of Africa Circle, meeting in the home of Mrs. W. L. Blaylock, 1205 W. Garza. The meeting was closed with prayer led by Mrs. Elmer Crabtree.

Cuba Circle met in the home of Mrs. S. H. Jaynes, 455 West Lubbock. Mrs. E. S. Timmins gave the devotional and Mrs. Ted Swanner taught the lesson.

Mrs. Wallace King, 340 W. Lubbock, was hostess to India Circle. Mrs. T. A. Turner presented the devotional and Mrs. J. D. Barry taught the lesson to eight members.

Ten were present for Mexico Circle, which met with Mrs. Magnus Klattenhoff. Mrs. S. H. Adams gave the devotional and Mrs. S. W. Clark and Mrs. W. R. Lovett presented the lesson.

Clinton A. Braendle, a grandson of the late Mrs. Cora Reichling of Slaton, died in St. Louis, Mo., on March 5 as result of a heart attack, it was reported to the Slatonite this week. Braendle, 39, was an electrician with the American Stove Co. in St. Louis, where he had been employed for the past 11 years. Burial was at Hermann, Mo., Braendle's birthplace.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. May of Whitewright, Texas, are on an extended visit with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Pembler.

Miss Fannie Lou Shaw-Wesley Shelton Marries In Double Ring Home Ceremony

Miss Fannie Lou Shaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carter Shaw, 4375 W. Scurry, and Wesley Shelton, son of Mrs. Hugh McShelton, of San Angelo, Texas, were united in marriage in a double ring ceremony in the home of the bride's parents on March 14 at 7:30 p.m., with Rev. J. T. Bolding officiating.

The couple stood before a window flanked on either side by baskets of white gladioli and white lilies.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a suit of white tulle with navy accessories. She held a white Bible topped with a purple orchid and showered with petals of the valley and satin streamers.

Mrs. Stewart Jones of Tulsa, Oklahoma, matron of honor, wore a blue linen suit identical to the bride's. Her corsage was of white gladioli.

The candles were lighted by Mrs. Audrey Birdwell of Midland. Carl Shelton served his brother-in-law as best man.

Mrs. J. T. Bolding played "I Love You Truly" and the wedding march.

A reception followed the ceremony. The table was laid with a white cloth and decorated with a silver wedding cake. A silver service was used for coffee. Mrs. Wynora Sharp, sister of the bride, poured coffee and Mrs. Sarah Bell, sister of the bride, at the cake.

After a trip to Santa Fe and Abilene, New Mexico, the couple will be at home in Andrews, Texas, where Mr. Shelton is with the Humble Oil Co. and Mrs. Shelton with the Andrews Hospital. For the bride were a two-piece gray linen dress and red wool topper.

Miss Childress Is Shower Honoree

Miss Bettye Jean Childress, bride-elect of John Burks, was honored at a bridal shower Friday night in the R. W. Cudd home.

Mrs. Cudd greeted guests at the door and presented them to Miss Childress, her mother, Mrs. J. R. Childress, Mrs. Andy Burks, and the honoree's aunts, Mrs. C. W. Gentry and Mrs. Jim Gentry, in the receiving line.

Mrs. Bill Dooley was at the bride's book.

The table was laid with an imported linen lace cloth, and centered with an arrangement of pine sprays flanked by white candles. A silver service was used. Sandart cookies and punch were served. Mrs. Bill Dawson and Miss Marcell Childress poured.

The hostess gift was a Martha Washington bedspread.

Hostesses were: Mesdames J. L. House, Byron Johnson, W. A. Sikes Horace Crumby, Leon Kenney, Bill Dooley, J. B. Wells, Jr., Delma Hodge, Edgar Williams, J. S. Arent, John Wiginton, Ernest Short, Ruby Wood, Agnes Black, Albert Zettie, A. R. McGuire, Ted Melugin, J. L. Parks, Clark Self, John Berkley, Charles Whalen, J. L. Reed, W. L. Stafford, W. E. # Former Resident Foo Chow, China Speaks At Club

The Athenian Study Club met in the home of Mrs. H. V. Jarman with Mrs. K. C. May, Mrs. C. M. McPhearsan, Mrs. N. W. Spears and Mrs. Ted Swanner as hostesses.

Members of the Daughters of the Pioneer Study Club were guests.

The speaker for the occasion was Mrs. Joe Ma, formerly of Foo Chow, China, and now of Lubbock, who spoke on "The Chinese Woman."

She pointed out that Chinese women are victims of history dating back to the age of Confucius. She emphasized that the invasion of western civilization has done much toward changing the status of the Chinese woman.

The St. Patrick's Day motif was carried out in house decorations. Mrs. McPhearsan and Mrs. Spears served refreshments from the silver appointed table.

Guests present for the occasion were: Mesdames Joe Walker, Jr., M. J. Nowlin, Cecil Scott, Earl Reasoner, H. N. Ball, Gordon Tompkins, M. B. Adams, John Sims, Bill Smith and 18 members of the host club.

Matron of Honor will be Mrs. Clyde Hoffman of Lubbock, who will wear a boned, strapless, ballerina length gown, with surplice bodice of pink nylon taffeta with shaped cummerbund over pink ruffled organza, with matching stole, and will carry a bouquet of white carnations with pink streamers.

Bridesmaids will be Mrs. Dortha Dawson of Lubbock, and Miss Helen Burks of Slaton, sisters of the bridegroom, who will wear blue and yellow imported organza dresses with full, three-quarter length sleeves and fitted bodices decorated with rhinestone buttons and full gathered ballerina length skirts over matching nylon taffeta and will carry bouquets of white carnations with matching streamers.

All attendants will wear shoulder-length veils of nylon tulle sprinkled with sequins and rhinestones.

Junior bridesmaids will be Miss Jayne Sue Burks, sister of the bridegroom and Mary Frances Dooley, both of Slaton who will wear identical dresses of ruffled organza over blue nylon taffeta, and will carry bouquets of carnations with matching streamers.

Flower girls will be Misses Marcia Dawn Childress, niece of the bride and Dinah Jean Dooley, who will wear identical dresses of imported yellow organza over matching nylon and will carry baskets of rose petals.

Candlelighters will be Misses Barbara and Beverly Childress, nieces of the bride who wear matching dresses of pink ruffled organza over pink nylon taffeta.

The ring bearer will be Donald Mike McNece of Brownfield, a nephew of the bride.

Best man will be Paul Ellis of Lubbock, and ushers will be Glenn Scroggins of Slaton and Bill Dawson of Lubbock.

The brides' going away suit is an original designed by the bride and made for her by her mother.

It is of gray nylon tweed with crystal buttons and has a fitted

Bridal Shower Is Courtesy For Miss Fannie Lou Shaw

Miss Fannie Lou Shaw, bride-elect of Wesley Shelton of Andrews, was honored with a miscellaneous shower at the Club House from 7 to 8:30 o'clock Thursday evening, March 12.

Guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. Joe Tate and presented to the honoree and her mother, Mrs. Carter Shaw. Mrs. J. H. Thomas was at the register. The bride's book was on a table decorated with a floral arrangement and a lighted blue candle with blue and yellow streamers with the couple's names lettered on them.

The tea table was laid with a maderia cloth over yellow and decorated with a centerpiece of yellow garden flowers, flanked by blue and yellow candles in candleholders. Coconut macaroons and frosted punch were served. Mrs. Lindol Beard poured.

The hostess gift was a Martha Washington bedspread.

Hostesses were: Mesdames W. H. Crosby of Lubbock, Ruth Keys, Clea Young, Ernest Ward, Charlie Walton, J. H. Thomas, Joe Tate, C. B. Teftiller, Joe Teague, R. L. Bain, Slaton, and Travis Wayne Huddleston, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Huddleston, New Home, read at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The Rev. J. L. Mayhew officiated at a double ring service before an altar decorated with baskets of pink gladioli flanking a white archway, lighter by tapers.

Miss Bonnie Taylor sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because" accompanied by Mrs. Webber Williams, organist, who played traditional wedding marches.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white nylon net over tiered taffeta, designed with low round gathered neckline trimmed in pastel sequins and completed with a net ruffled stole. The ballerina length skirt joins a shirred bodice. The bride wore a pearl and rhinestone tiara, to which is attached a figner veil and carried gardenias atop a white satin covered Bible.

RECIPES

SLATON WOMEN GIVE THEIR FAVORITE TESTED RECIPES

Mrs. Gordon Tompkins has chosen for publication her cheese soufflé, both because it was requested and because it is one of her favorite dishes. She loves cheese and had been looking for a good cheese soufflé. She found it when she visited a friend in Brooklyn who served this one. She says she was amazed at the beautiful dish when her friend carefully removed it from the oven. She has been making it successfully since, and has made a little addition of her own to the recipe.

CHEESE SOUFFLE

First make a thick white sauce of 4 lbs. butter, 4 lbs. flour, and 1 cup milk. Before adding the milk, add 1-4 tsp. dry mustard and a dash of salt and pepper. Put on fire and when hot stir in to the white sauce 1 cup (about 1-4 lb.) shredded sharp cheese or parmesian cheese. Take off heat and stir in 3 egg yolks well beaten. Beat until very stiff the 3 egg whites with 1-4 tsp. cream of tartar. Here is where Lou departs from the original recipe. She adds 2 lbs. minute tapioca, which doesn't change the flavor except to enhance the richness, and does keep the soufflé from falling. Pour into a greased casserole dish and bake 50 to 60 minutes at 350 degrees F. Lou likes to use individual servings in custard dishes. She bakes these 20 to 25 minutes. Set the casserole or individual dishes in a pan with about 1 inch of water during baking time. Serve with crisp bacon. Serves 4 to 6.

Mrs. Tompkins has lived in Slaton a year and 2 months. Her husband is an editorial and advertising man with the Slatonite. She teaches the 4th grade at West Ward School. She finds teaching the most interesting work she has done. She received her training at West Texas State at Canyon.

She has also worked as secretary to the Personnel Director at Amarillo, in a shoe store, as a counselor in a New York underprivileged children's camp, and at the Sid Richardson Oil and Gas Corporation in Fort Worth. She found some of these jobs interesting, but prefers working with people to pencil and paper jobs. Being tied to a desk all day would drive her mad she says. She likes advertising and has done some writing. She covered the Fat Stock Show for the Slatonite this year.

Mrs. Tompkins' special interests include anything that's out of doors. She likes hiking and nature, especially in wooded or mountainous areas. She enjoys sports, especially tennis and swimming, and likes to ride.

She enjoys cooking and sewing too, but doesn't have a lot of time for that while working.

She is a member of the Methodist Church.

Meet A Newsboy

Slatonite newsboy Charles White is 11 years old and in the 5th grade. He sells Slatonites on Texas Ave. and 8th St., and lives at 310 Texas Ave. with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank White, and his sisters, Echo, 12, and Callie, 14.

Charles is a witty, mischievous boy, tall and slim, with snapping brown eyes and black hair. In spite of his roguishness he is always courteous and speaks in a soft voice, slurring his R's. He doesn't have a girl friend. He says the reason is he just doesn't care to get married.

Charles says his mother is a good cook—a real good cook. "You should taste her cherry pies." Cherry pie is his favorite food. Arithmetic is his favorite subject in school, but it took a lot of serious thought before he could decide on a favorite. His favorite sport is playing any kind of game. He likes tennis, basketball, volleyball. Last year he and Virgil Coffee won the doubles trophy in the tennis tournament here.

The best day of all the year from Charles' point of view is April 29, his birthday.

Until this week you could always tell when Charles was coming, because his big black and white bird dog was a few laps ahead of him. He and "Pal" have been very good friends. The reason he likes summer better than any time of year is because he can play with Pal. The dog had to be penned while Charles was in school. Pal has been developing bad habits, like upsetting garbage cans, tearing up trash containers, etc. He was sent out to New Mexico last week to Charles' uncle's home, where he will have lots of room to run around, hunt rabbits, etc. That's why Charles was the saddest boy in town last week.

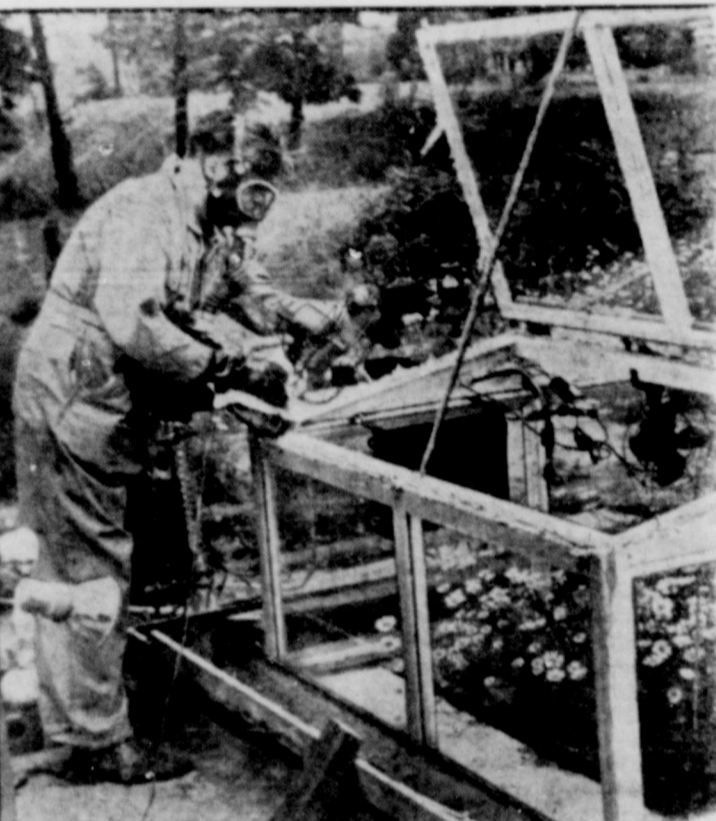

His favorite TV programs are "Private Secretary," wrestling, "Movietime," and "Frontier Theatre." He is a member of the band and probably plays the clarinet. He was a little coy about telling which instrument he plays and never did say definitely, but his face lighted up on the Clarinet guess.

Right now he is looking forward to marble time. He says he plays for keeps and comes out about even in the long run.

Cattle with snakeroot poisoning resemble those suffering from John's disease. The poison passes through the cow's milk.

MAPLE SYRUP SYMPHONY—Gulping the sweet distillation of maple tree sap are these New Hampshire youngsters enjoying a "sugaring off" party on the farm of Allie Freeman near Claremont, N. H. The boy at lower right has pushed his cup of syrup into the snow to chill it. The syrup will thicken into a taffy-like mass.

HOT HOUSE—Raised in a deadly atmosphere of radio-active gases, these flowers are tended by a well-protected gardener, entomologist A. C. Miller, who is clad in gas mask, gloves and protective clothing. Located in Pittsburgh, Pa., the "hot" house is used by the Gulf Oil Corp. to raise pyrethrum flowers from which insecticides are made. Miller will use radio-detection equipment and the plants to trace processes by which the drug kills insects.

Child Development Center Organized; Meeting Set Friday

The newly organized Child's Development Center, for brain-injured, mentally retarded, and emotionally disturbed children will conduct a meeting Friday at 8 p.m. in the Educational Building of the First Presbyterian Church, 1500 14th St., Lubbock.
All parents, friends, and interested individuals of retarded children in the Lubbock vicinity are urged to attend the meeting in preparation for the probable establishment of a school in this area.
The school would be for children who are ineligible for public school education and would include the children who can participate in group activity programs. It would be a non-profit, non-demonstrational day school established to develop skills, to increase self-sufficiency, provide group experience for those children so as to facilitate their adjustment to their home and community, and to enable certain children to transfer later to the formal program of public school.

Among the speakers for the Friday night meeting will be Mrs. Harold Wilson of Wichita Falls, treasurer of the Texas Association for Retarded Children.

Released this week will be a book entitled, "Angel Unaware," written by Dale Evans Rogers, wife of the famous movie star Roy Rogers. The Rogers had a mentally retarded child who died last August. Mrs. Rogers is contributing all royalties from the sale of the book to the National Association for Retarded Children.
In connection with this, Mr. and Mrs. Rogers are making a personal tour of the United States and will speak in Fort Worth April 23.

CARLOADINGS DOWN

Texas Families Plan Together

Families are becoming more conscious of the need for planning together. Learning to understand each family member, and to solve every-day problems together, was the trend for farm and rural families during 1952 according to Mrs. Eloise Johnson, family life education specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

As evidenced by the reports from county Extension agents, many families participated in the Extension program and activities which involved the family. These activities involved family counseling, recreation, work on the family history, including young married women in clubs, providing for children during meetings, and considering the needs of older family and community members.

Mrs. Johnson says county home demonstration agents assisted more than 10,000 farm and ranch families to analyze and solve certain problems through individual counseling. Group discussions and counseling enabled more than 40,000 farm families to solve some of their family relationship problems. Many more were given family life information through leaders trained by the specialist or agents.

During 1952 farm and ranch families showed an increasing interest in neighborhood and community study and improvements. The agents and leaders assisted with more than 5,000 family life discussions at agricultural, home demonstration, civic and church meetings. Family life conferences were held in community and county groups to create an awareness of the problems which community analysis and cooperation could solve.

In rural health, attention was centered on ways of finding and meeting personal and community health needs and to the study and improvement of available services for health care. More than 5,000 families were assisted in making health inventories. There were 250 communities which made health surveys and more than 400 reported study of cooperative health facilities and services. Fifteen hundred communities were assisted in organizing and arranging cooperation for health examinations and clinics.

The finest investment of a lifetime is to become acquainted in one's young years with the great thoughts of great men; and it must be done for the purpose of human education only—not for passing an examination more or less brilliant.—Albert Schweitzer.

GOOD FARM MANAGEMENT HELPS PROFITS

Low production—increased costs—inefficient management; these factors are among the biggest causes of unsatisfactory profits for the Texas farmer.

There is an answer. It lies in more efficient operations which include cutting costs, producing more crops per acre, more meat per animal and more work per hour. Of course, it is easier said than done but—

What are the biggest crop yields in your area on your type of soil? By planting better varieties of certified and tested seed, perhaps you can bring your crop yields up to standard. Or a change in rotation plan, plus making good use of fertilizers might mean the difference. Your county agent has a wealth of material available for study, upon request.

While striving to get more meat or other production per animal, its a wise practice to keep track of what's new in feeds and feeding practices. Rid your herd of low producers and slow weight gainers. Sires should be used which have proved their ability to produce quick-gaining offspring of the type best suited to your needs. By controlling diseases, parasites, injuries and death losses, you can cut your animal production costs a great deal.

Getting more out of the hour just involves doing some straight thinking. Doing the job "the hard way" gets it done—but the time and labor costs are high. Efficiency studies show that even a simple re-arrangement of chore routes may save you hundreds of miles of walking in a year. There are new profitable and practical ways of using power and improved machinery, of cutting and storing hay and silage—of feeding livestock—of doing practically all types of farm work better.

Labor saving and work simplification bulletins are available from Texas A&M College. Whatever plans you follow, the proof of their value is measured in terms of whether or not you end up with more per acre, per animal and per hour.

Lower production costs, achieved through efficient operation, has the same effect on net profits as an equal rise in price of products sold. There isn't too much the farmer can do about the selling price, but he can do something a-boct lowering his own production costs.

ATTEND AUCTION

Among the Slaton men attending the auction sale of the South Plains Fat Stock Show to bid on area calves were Joe Walker, Jr., representing the farmers; Dub Williams, Williams Buick Co.; Milton Davis, Davis Motor Co.; Tip Kendrick, Kendrick Pontiac; Joe Van Ness, Slaton Farm Store; Robert Hall Davis, Ray C. Ayers and Son; J. S. Edwards, Jr., Citizens State Bank; Alex Webb, Webb's; and John Berkley of Berkley and Haddock.

Mrs. J. M. Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Pete Grandon went to Clarendon, Texas, Tuesday to attend the funeral of the sister of Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Grandon, Mrs. J. B. Robinson, who died of a heart attack Saturday.

SCD Okays New Farm Agreements

Agreements covering 3,783 acres of land were approved at last Friday's meeting of the board of supervisors of the Lubbock County Soil Conservation District.

New district cooperators representing this acreage include W. A. McCreary, Valton Cox, Joe J. Kitten, Nestor J. Kitten, Ross Edwards Lester T. Obenhaus, Marvin A. Looney, Emil H. Forester, J. C. Igo, Bob Reid, I. W. Ferguson, C. L. Griffin, James J. Smith, Jr., J. W. Craft, Boy B. Boyd, C. E. Ream and J. R. Morris.

A report on a special soils meeting presented before the Agriculture Club of Cooper on March 10 was given by the supervisors. Guest speakers for that occasion were County Agent Dave Sherrill and Allen King of the Soil Conservation Service. The meeting reported a very helpful and educational meeting on soil and water conservation and expressed appreciation to the Cooper Agricultural Club as sponsors. Other meetings of this nature are to be held in the near future throughout the district.

Members present for the board meeting included Joe S. Walker, Sr., of Slaton, H. L. Weems of Lubbock, and Edwin Merrell of Shallowater.

Catholic Church Will Be Blessed

Our Lady of Guadalupe Church, which will serve the Mexican Catholics of the Slaton area, will be blessed Monday, March 23, at 10:30 a.m. Bishop FitzSimon of Amarillo and twenty visiting clergy will be present for the blessing of the church.

Our Lady of Guadalupe Church is the former St. Joseph's Church, built in 1932 and moved to its present site at the completion of the new St. Joseph's. It has been remodeled and looks as good as it did when new. A beautiful painting of Our Lady of Guadalupe, done in Mexico, will hang behind the main altar.

The parish will have a Spanish speaking resident priest in about two weeks when the priest house has been remodeled.

Push Peanut Drive To Buy Pup Tents

Members of Boy Scout Troop 29 have embarked upon a peanut-selling project. Though still in its early stages, the goober-vending deal is going well, according to Charles Marriott, scoutmaster.

In an hour and a half last Friday, nine troop members sold enough of the canned peanuts to realize the troop $16. They plan to continue the project until they can raise approximately $175 needed to buy 16 two-man pup tents for use on a five-day New Mexico trip proposed for troop members this summer.

"We have had excellent acceptance from the public on this project," Marriott commented Tuesday, "and we'd like everyone to know that we sincerely appreciate the cooperation being extended to the troop."

Troop 29 is sponsored by the First Methodist Church.

Liles Home Scene of Bluebonnet Meeting

The Bluebonnet Club met in the home of Mrs. Dan Liles. Mrs. Clark Self presided over the business session.

The social hour was spent in playing canasta and television.

A refreshment plate was served to sixteen members and three guests, Mrs. W. H. Dawson, Mrs. Roy Parks, and Mrs. Wayne Liles.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Wallace King on March 25.

FAMILY GATHERING HELD

All of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Butler's children spent Sunday in their home. Children and their families present were: Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Butler, Jr., Evaline and Sharon of Cactus, Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Butler and Glenda Sue of Cactus, Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Reed and Linda Kay of Posey, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. I Like ELECTRIC COOKING BECAUSE IT IS FAST, Clean and Dependable!

I especially like the convenience of automatic cooking, made possible by my oven timer, Mrs. Watkins adds.

A prize winner in the McCall's Magazine Kitchen Planning Contest, Mrs. Watkins is already teaching her young daughter to follow in her footsteps. She knows, as do many mothers, there is no safer range than an electric range on which to teach young future homemakers.

Fast, clean, dependable, accurate and safe cooking can be yours, too, the matchless, modern range. Of course, it's electric.

Mrs. Ellis has 64 English White Leghorn hens that have produced enough eggs for her family of five and she has sold an average of 33 dozen eggs each week since last November.

The Rotary Club endorsed a plan being considered by the Slaton Chamber of Commerce to bring a limited number of Japanese born Americans into this section to plant truck gardens. ## SCOOPIN' AROUND with the

S.H.S. Snooper

I'm back with my column and I hope that it's better than last weeks. (Also a little longer).

Viola Walton has recovered from a case of measles and is now back in school after a long wanted rest. The only bad thing about it is that she has to catch up on all of her lessons.

The style show that was given Monday night certainly did turn out good. There were girls modeling from Webb's, Anthony's, Payne's, McWilliam's, Hilton's, and Marie's. The background of the stage was a view of 5th Avenue. The stage props were street markers and lamp posts. The food planning was done by a group of second and third year girls with the help of Miss Brown. Of course the freshmen weren't over worked—all they had to do was just work in the kitchen, be the waitresses, and stay after it was over to clean up the place. While I'm on this subject haven't you boys in the orchestra gained a little weight?

Thursday the homemaking girls froze some ham that was left over from the banquet. I'm still wondering if we have any left since Martha Allred, Burdine Becker and some more girls were in the kitchen.

Wednesday Slaton took an assembly program to Levelland. The orchestra and hillbilly band were the main things on the program. After they were through they were invited into the homemaking lab for cokes, although all of them didn't drink them. After that they went to a cafe and ordered some sandwiches. What I can't understand is that they were waited on at 12:15 and got their orders at 1:00. Quick service.

Tommy, where did you and Darrell go Wednesday night, could it have been to watch television.

Before I forget it I must put a word in for the coaches. Notice! Barbara McCoy and Ova Sue Wilson are the new track stars (in high heels, that is).

Thursday the seventh grades from West Ward gave the assembly program. The theme was Spanish and they also had some Spanish dances.

Some of the kids at school were going around getting money from the others to give a party Saturday night.

Does everyone know where the kids hang out after school? If you don't you will find them at Teagues.

Oh! Happy Day! There was no school Friday.

Friday night there was a meeting held at Tiger Town. There were about 30 or 35 present. They elected a steering committee to take care of the business and to get things started. They were: Judy Thomas, Bettye Sue Layne, Norma Corley, Ova Sue Wilson, Sally Cooper, R. A. Thompson, Tracy Crawford, Felix Wylie, Darrell Wiley, and Jerry Reynolds.

Tracy will act as chairman until we get better organized. This committee will meet Thursday, March 19, at Tiger Town. They will discuss some ideas of getting money to fix the furniture and get new curtains. To do this they will need lots of cooperation from the kids. Remember this is for all the kids in SHS. After the meeting all of the kids went to the International Harvester program at High School.

Saturday night there was a party given in the Legion Hall and everyone had a lot of fun from what I hear. Only one accident happened: the record player didn't have a needle and you have never seen the like of kids trying to find one. Finally Roy Jones came back with fifty of them.

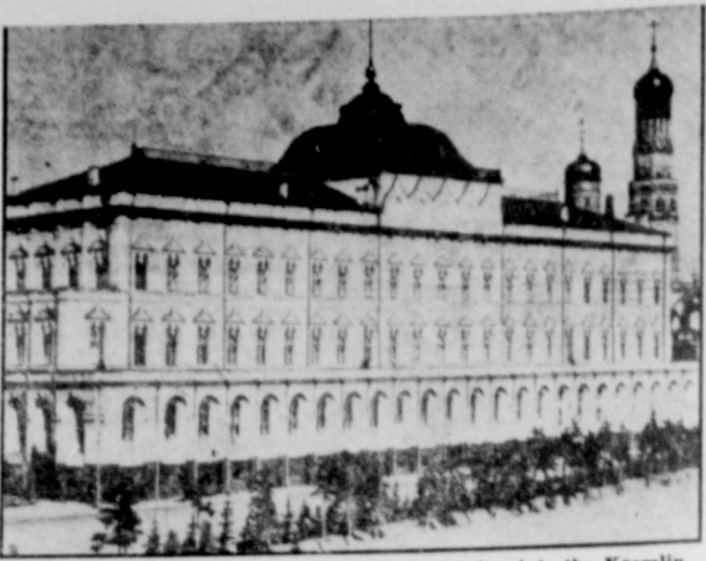

Norma Corley wanted a sophomore name in this column so here it is. She wanted a sophomore's name so she could say I said I said something about one.

Sunday afternoon there weren't many kids riding around or in Teagues, so I guess they went to Lubbock or here to the show.

David, what were you saying about this? (and I quote): "I've never had so many lies told to me in one night."

School wasn't very exciting Monday and nothing really happened, so I'll stop talking and start working on next week's column.

One of the newer antibiotic drugs, chloramphenicol, has been recorded as a cause of fatal aplastic anemia in human beings. But extensive experiments on dogs have failed to show any evidence of injury or disease to the canine species.

Special Offer Is Made On Paint

Springtime is painting time in most American homes. To make this custom a pleasure instead of a chore, Forrest Lumber Co. is always ready to supply homemakers with color and paint information, efficient painting tools and the finest of paint products.

Currently featured by Forrest Lumber Co. are two of the most popular products manufactured by Benjamin Moore & Co.—Wall Satin, a fine quality rubber base wall paint, and Satin Impervo, a brand new low-lustre enamel. Wall Satin and Satin Impervo Enamel are "good decorating companions" because their finishes blend beautifully and their distinctive colors are coordinated. To give local homemakers an opportunity to try them both, a special combination offer is now in effect. Anyone interested in the best of paint products for home or business should investigate this offer as soon as possible.

Wall Satin can be applied with a brush or labor-saving roller. One coat covers most surfaces and it dries to a rich satin sheen in less than an hour. Its easy washability, handsome colors and attractive finish make Wall Satin an appropriate choice for walls and ceilings in living, dining and bedrooms.

Low-lustre Satin Impervo Enamel, a recent addition to the reliable Benjamin Moore line, has already become a best-selling product in paint stores everywhere. Its alkyd content, an innovation in paint manufacture, gives it a durable, colorfast, washable finish that's superior to other types of enamels. Because its colors blend perfectly with Wall Satin shades, the new product is widely used for wood trim and furniture throughout modern homes, as well as walls and ceilings in kitchens, bathrooms and utility rooms. Like Wall Satin, it goes on easily with a brush, roller or spray gun—and dries quickly.

The Lubbock County Crippled Children's Society, the County Health Unit, and the Crippled Children's Division, Texas Department of Health are sponsoring agencies.

Primary purpose of the clinic will be to locate crippled children in need of treatment and to examine children who have received treatment in the past to determine if they require additional treatment. No charge will be made for examinations.

Children who are crippled or have conditions which might result in crippling will be admitted to the clinic between 9 a. m. and 12 noon.

Crippled Children's Divisions accepts the following and other conditions for treatment: infantile paralysis, osteomyelitis, club feet, harelip, cleft palates, curvature of the spine, congenitally dislocated hip, muscular atrophy, supernumerary fingers and toes, torticollis, spina bifida, Pott's Disease, congenital anomalies, amputations, etc.

Wilkes Wins Honors In School At Hobbs

Charles Wilkes, a former student in the Slaton schools, was one of 55 Hobbs High School students who were selected for outstanding ability in music at try-outs held at Portales. They participated in the New Mexico Music Educators Association Convention at Albuquerque.

The following essay, written by Charles on the topic, "What Is Americanism?" was printed in the Hobbs paper and a copy sent to his grandparents, the C. W. Wilkes.

"Americanism can be defined as the way of life based upon the principles of the Constitution of the United States; these principles include freedom of religion, freedom of speech, freedom of the press, and freedom of assembly.

"If we lived in a society that was governed by principles other than these expressed in the Constitution, we could not call that Americanism.

"For example, the people who live under communistic or socialist rule are denied in part, or altogether, the freedoms we enjoy.

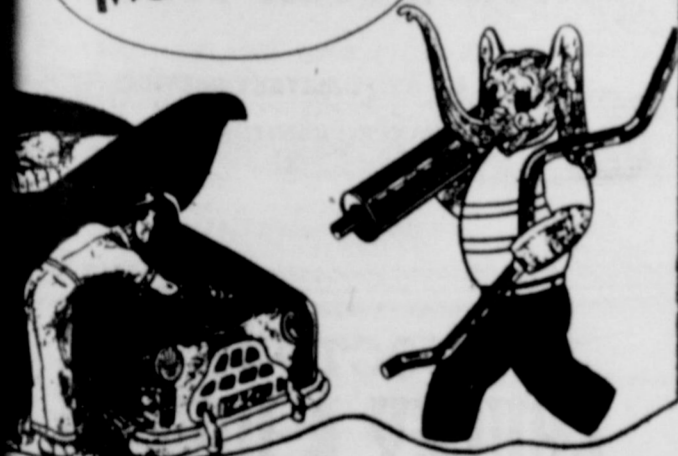

"Americanism also implies a democratic form of government under which all men are born to equal opportunity. Too often we take these things for granted. As long as we fight for these principles, we can hope to continue to live under Americanism."

Spring, that's the time of year when the young man's thoughts turn to something fancy.

It's also the time of year when the girls begin to think about shorter skirts.

Short skirts are a big advantage to the girls, though. They help them to get up stairs.

Modern girls are fond of clothes but they are not entirely wrapped up in them.

Careful plowing pays off, as Ronald Annerson can testify. Last year while plowing on the Gillon farm five miles northwest of Ralls, Anderson lost his billfold containing $60. Last week Anderson was listing the same field and turned up his billfold, with the $60 in currency still intact, but slightly worse for weather. The bills may be redeemed by the treasury. —The Ralls Banner

Visitors at the Gaines County jail are no longer welcome following the discovery on Sunday night by Sheriff Bob McReynolds of around a dozen back saw blades in a prison cell block. Sheriff McReynolds was called to the county jail by radio operator Mrs. Reba Canady who heard a "metal scraping" noise from the top floor of the jail. The sheriff moved the prisoners from the block and made a thorough search of the cell in which four prisoners were placed.

Three bars (advertised as saw-proof in the jail specifications) had been completely sawed through and two cross-pieces in a jail wall leading into the jail run-around. Plan of the prisoners was to gain access to the run-around and attack a jailer. —The Seminole Sentinel

Your local schools are sending out an SOS for help, help from parents and help from students. You are again being urged to keep your children in school every day possible except for sickness or emergencies.

As you know the number of teachers for next year will be determined by the number of students in attendance this year. This does not mean the number enrolled, but the number in regular daily attendance. Our average daily attendance for the first six months was 498.18. Our average daily attendance for the 6th month was 472. You can see that we have dropped off. If we can average 489 in average daily attendance for the entire year we will qualify for a full time principal, another classroom teacher, and a full time special service teacher at no additional expense to our school. —The Petersburg Journal

When James William Martinez yells he gets attention. In fact, he rules the roost on the second floor of Olton Memorial Hospital. James William bears the name of Pee Wee, a handle given him by the battery of nurses who always are ready to satisfy his every whim. Pee Wee became a natural born Texan, although Minnesota had been scheduled to be the state of his nativity. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Martinez of Crookston, Minn., were just traveling through Olton en route home when Pee Wee decided to make his untimely advent into the world. He was born Jan. 31, and at birth weighed 2 pounds, 9 1/2 ozs. He now tips the scales at 2 pounds, 13 ozs. and can make as much noise as any Texan his size would be expected to make. Pee Wee has a soft life. He is waited on hand, foot and diaper by a bunch of nurses who think he's one of the greatest young men on earth. Although he normally lolls luxuriously in his incubator clad only in a diaper and a gown, he has the comforting thought that he has a fine wardrobe stowed away if a formal occasion ever should arise. Among his finery is a tiny cap, gown and shoes which were crocheted by an aunt in Washington state. Pee Wee's feet are about the size of a man's thumb. One of the nurses made her little charge three gowns and four diapers from a yard of material. The gowns, which fit Pee Wee nicely, are about the size of a 10-cent tobacco pouch. —The Olton Enterprise

For the 60-year period from 1879 to 1939 the U. S. corn yield per acre averaged between 25.9 and 27.3 bushels. Since 1939, the Corn Industries Research Foundation points out, the use of hybrid seed and improved farming practices have boosted this average to 43 bushels.

CHICK CHATS

Presented By
Dr. Salisbury's Laboratories

HERE'S GOOD ADVICE FOR CHICK RAISERS

"Attend to the details." That's mighty good advice around a poultry farm. But attention to details is especially important at the time poultrymen are readying their brooder houses and equipment for the arrival of baby chicks. There's cleaning and disinfecting to be done. Heaters must be checked. Feeders and waterers have to be set up, and countless other details have to be thoroughly completed before satisfactory arrangements can be made for those chicks.

Cleaning Brooder House

The best way to clean a brooder house is to remove all roosts, fixtures, and equipment. Sweep down all dust and cobwebs, wash the windows, and clean the floor by scraping off all dried material. The floors and walls should be scrubbed, and the entire house should be sprayed with a good disinfectant.

Feed troughs, drinking vessels, hovers, and other equipment should be sanitized with a similar disinfectant. A good time to disinfect is at the time you heat the house, because disinfectants do a better job when temperatures are above 40 degrees.

Overhaul Brooders

The heating apparatus should be overhauled and placed in first-class working order. It is best to operate the brooder for a few days before the chickens are received from the hatchery, to give a chance to repair or replace any faulty parts.

Since overcrowding slows up growth, increases chances of disease, and leads to cannibalism and feather-picking, see to it there's plenty of floor space in your brooder house. Usually, more chicks are started in a pen or brooder house when pullets are to be grown than when chickens are raised for broilers. This is done because it is expected that laying stock will run on land at an early age. Under such conditions, three chicks may be allowed for each square foot of floor space. But two chicks per square foot is usually preferred.

It Sez Here—
 Evil days have befallen cigarette smokers—the cost of indulgence has gone to 25 cents per pack. The screams of anguish emanating from cigarette counters is akin to those made by children who have just been told it's time to go bed-die-bye. Our nicotine-lined friends see the added cost as illegal, immoral, sacrilegious and debasing. But the merchant who has been paying 21 cents a pack only to sell them at 22 and 23 cents is a happier and more solvent man. We never heard of an alcoholic complaining about the high cost of liquor. Samewise, never heard of a dope addict who wouldn't sell his children into slavery for the price of a reefer. Look at the guy who will look you straight in the eye and tell you he can take cigarettes, or leave 'em. Two minutes before he opens his big blue eyes to a smoke-clouded dawn his palsied hand slides from under the covers to where a pack of the lung-busting weed has been anchored the night before. Yellow fingers fondle the pack, slips one out and pops it into an already parched mouth. Five deep drags later, consciousness returns. If his hand hadn't found the dope, the poor guy would never have awakened. His final ablation before retiring at night is several long, soul-satisfying inhalations to add to his pleasant dreams. Watch him on the street. He unconsciously reaches for the pocket that houses his nicotine. His fingers convulse when the collapsed package indicates no cigarettes are inside. Alarm seizes him. Frantically he slaps all his pockets. His nerves are undone. The very truth of being without the precious pill turns his senses. His calm demeanor does not return until he has stuffed his pockets with cigarettes. He has just had his nicotine fix. But once his craving has been satiated, two-bits is too high, and he berates the merchant for making a pittance of a profit off his uncontrollable desire for smoke. We've seen hungry men too proud to ask for food, others ashamed to beg a drink, but we never saw a nicotine addict who had the slightest qualms about asking any and everybody for a cigarette.

 Many people got the idea that when cars and radios came in the horse and saddle would soon be forgotten. Not so, the saddle has kept pace with modern times and horses have gone up. Recently a saddle was pictured with a built-in radio. Should be an excellent device for getting the horse operas.

—The Canyon News

Popvalve—
 That old rhyme about "little girls being made of sugar and spice and all that's nice" has come in for a debunking by modern science. Chemical research has come forward with a list of the principal chemical ingredients nature uses in building a young woman.

Here they are, boys: Thirty or forty teaspoons of salt—which should certainly keep them from being too fresh; eight to ten gallons of water, which, combined with the salt, provides a bountiful supply of briny tears; enough lime to whitewash a small garage—same being the reason she is so bright and fair; glycerin enough to form a compound capable of bursting a bomb—this may account for her being so explosive; enough gluten to make five pounds of glue—which enables her to stick to the man she loves; phosphorus enough to make 2,200 match heads—this explains why she flares up easily; enough fat to make seven pounds of soap—which provides an ample supply of soft soap to feed the men; enough iron to make a six-penny nail—could be the source of that hard, penetrating look; sulphur enough to rid a dog of fleas—this may explain why those animals live to be petted by her; and finally (this really shows her up, boys) a measly quarter pound of sugar—which anyone not totally deluded by her charms can see is insufficient to sweeten and render edible such a gosh-awful mixture of water, salt, lime, glycerin, glue, phosphorus, grease, iron and sulphur.

—The Hamlin Herald

Wit And Wisdom—
 One of our merchants here suggests that perhaps every woman in the canyon ought to wear fiesta (or squaw) dresses throughout the summer, just to add to the atmosphere of Ruidoso. "They have to wear clothing, anyway, and if they all would co-operate—waitresses in our cafes, and housewives, too, it would certainly be noticed by all of our visitors." We think that's a good idea and would like to know how the men could get in the act. Should all the guys wear Indian beaded belts, or what?

Trail Dust—
 Love is irrelevant and like an orchid parasite, it blooms with sublime magnificence off the substance of its victims. Half a dozen pairs of boots ago the cowboy lived, worked and dreamed with the blonde-headed girl's voice in his heart. His strong, young fingers wove a rug from rawhide hours in the saddle, cushioned with tumbling clouds and laced with the light of cold, high stars. She teased and flirted, laughing at his misery and the humility to which a master subjects a slave. It was a tragic safari into the jungle of a man's emotions and some of him died like a tree that survives a lightning bolt. When she married he tried to run away, as if a man can escape his shadow and he drank hot whiskey that fed the fires of tortured memory. Years passed and the days falling like drops of cool water, wore away the rock crushing his soul. Peace has returned to his eyes and there is serenity in his voice; a quiet man sits before the fire and watches the designs in drifting cigarette smoke.

 New measuring device for the appeal of TV programs and commercials has been found. Toledo, Ohio, water commissioner claims he can do this by means of the fluctuations he has found in the water pressure during the evening. It seems that pressure remains high during the program but suddenly drops off at the end. The commissioner takes this to indicate that although people watch the programs, they get up and do other things when the commercial is on—go to the bathroom and get a drink of water, etc.

 O. D. Cardwell, the insurance man, who usually tells me the kind of stories that are not printable, came up with a pretty good yarn the other day.

A little boy had almost driven his mother to distraction with mischievous acts before she grabbed up a hair-brush and proceeded to lay the back side of it on his bottom. The youngster screamed, "you're hurting me, you're hurting me." When his mother completed her task and left the room the little boy pulled down his pants and looked at himself in the mirror. He yelled, "mama, mama, I knew it, I knew it, you split me wide open."

YOU and YOUR CONGRESS

WASHINGTON—Congress soon will consider a problem as old as government itself — federal-state relations.

It is being asked to authorize a commission — to be appointed by Congress, the President and state governors — to study federal-state programs in such fields as taxation, national security and public assistance.

The study's objectives would include more efficiency and economy in government — with consequent lightening of the taxpayer's burden — and decentralization of power — federal power — which is felt by many to have reached a point threatening the Constitutionally mandated state-federal balance of power.

This project has the blessing of congressional leaders, the Governors' Conference and President Eisenhower, who has initiated it as promised during his election campaign.

Those interested in this problem are using as their basic text a report on federal-state relations made a few years ago by the Council of State Governments to the Hoover Commission.

"The question of federal-state relations prior to 1900 was largely a legal problem," the Council said in a report, which was printed as a state document. "Since that time it has become increasingly an economic problem."

"Grants-in-aid from the national government to the states (to help finance various programs), multiplied 250-fold within the last generation, demonstrate graphically the drift or shift of responsibility for public services from the states to national-state joint responsibility.

"Through the grants-in-aid, the national government influences, and to some extent controls, 75 per cent of the total activities of state governments. With grants goes control. With control goes power. With power goes centralization — and in too much centralization lies danger to our entire federal system of government."

The Council made these recommendations, among others, for federal remedial action:

1. Federal grants should be only for public services "national in character" or having "a definite and measurable national interest."
2. "National grants, where and when available, should be made for broad categories of public services."
3. Grant programs should be based on close federal-state cooperation, with the federal government "in no case" dealing with a state's political subdivisions or with individuals.
4. Federal supervision of grant programs should be confined to "initial approval of over-all plans, postaudit of expenditures and technical assistance and guidance during operation."
5. "The present patchwork of grant-in-aid programs should be systematized, with provision for cooperative planning, appraisal and administration on a continuing basis."
6. "Definite, specific machinery should be established for implementing federal-state relations in the development, operation and administration of cooperative inter-governmental programs."

The Council made these recommendations to the states:

1. Revise and modernize state

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

More and more events are proving the need for a revamping of the system for enforcement of the nation's anti-trust laws.

In two major cases, the oil case and the Dupont case progress has been deliberately slowed down to give the new Administration an opportunity to review the cases and decide what it wishes to do in the matters.

This is especially confusing in the oil company case which is a C. W. Harder criminal action. Five major oil companies are charged with conspiring to create and maintain a worldwide petroleum cartel.

The situation is similar to that which would prevail if all criminal cases pending in state courts would be delayed until a new governor had a chance to look them over.

Thus, for some peculiar reason, the traditional American principle of impartial justice, impartially administered, is suspended in anti-trust violation cases.

It also appears that even Federal judges resent the unorthodox procedure that crops up.

Judge James Kirkland has set March 16 as the last date that the oil companies have to produce documents pertaining to their foreign operations or adequate reasons why they cannot produce them, or face contempt charges. The time was extended, the court said to give the new Administration time to make a decision on the case. This came after the National Security Council held that disclosure of the foreign dealings of the American oil companies might be harmful to the national interests.

However, Judge Kirkland has expressed doubt of any danger to national security in disclosure of the documents.

Earlier in the Dupont case, the statement was made in Federal court that a possibility existed that the new Administration might want to stop the case.

But it is interesting to realize that these cases are prepared laboriously by career attorneys in the Department of Justice.

Yet a politically appointed Attorney General, who in turn appoints the Assistant Attorney Generals including the one in charge of the anti-trust division, can without the public having any recourse, throw out a case that has taken years to prepare.

This in turn results in a two edged weapon that can be used as a political weapon. Cases which should be tried can be dropped, or cases can be instituted against firms for purposes of harassment where the foundation for a case does not exist.

American legal procedure is supposed to be impersonal.

That is why independent businessmen all over the nation are asking Congress to make it impossible for the prosecution of anti-trust cases to be affected by political changes. Even though political factors are not introduced in present pending cases, an unhealthy condition exists when the law makes it possible for many people to believe that a change of administration will have an effect. It is hoped that the position of heading the anti-trust division of the Department of Justice will be made a permanent one, filled by a competent career attorney.

constitutions, many of which "severely restrict the resources of the state governments, hamper the effective solution of urban problems and, frequently, interpose barriers to the fulfillment of needed services."

2. Extend home-rule powers to state political subdivisions, increasing their discretionary power and lessening their dependence upon the state government.

3. Revise and reorganize state tax systems "to reduce inequitable and overlapping taxes and to improve tax administration."

4. Revise and modernize state legislative processes and procedures, giving legislatures "adequate tools, expert assistance, reasonable compensation and sufficient time in which to do their important jobs."

5. Reorganize government administrative branches to improve the quality of public administration.

6. Make increasing use of interstate compacts and agreements "for the solution of common problems," thereby maintaining interest in and control of "activities and programs of vital interest to them."

to be maintained," the Council said, "states must equip themselves and order their facilities to accept and exercise their responsibilities as well as to proclaim their rights."

To: Mr. Irrigation Farmer

We want to take this opportunity to let you know about our new modern Concrete Pipe Manufacturing Plant located in Lubbock just north of the Plainview Cut-Off Road on North Avenue S. This plant has just gone into production during the past week end we will start installation of complete systems on March 19th., 1953.

The installations we make will be guaranteed against defects in workmanship and material for one year from date of the completion of the line. The manufacturing and installation of our underground irrigation systems will be performed under the supervision of men that have had many years of experience in this type of work.

By calling us we will make a definite appointment for one of our men to call on you, stake out your line and make other preparations necessary before starting construction.

If you have planned the installation of a system or the addition to existing lines and have found, as many have, that you were unable to get this work performed until too late in the irrigation season to be of the fullest benefit to you this year, this is your opportunity to secure an underground pipe line now. If you wait a few days our capacity to take care of the demand at this time of the year might not be as good as it is now. If you act now your chances are good.

YOURS VERY TRULY,

Standard Concrete Pipe Co.

We Would Agree Today, Abe . . .

We hear quite a lot nowadays from the "have nots." They have a lot of fancy schemes up their sleeves for dividing up the wealth. Of course, they invariably have fine-sounding names for their plans, and guise them under ideals of "democratic justices."

But the plans lead directly to socialized government, or worse. And we have witnessed the success of socialized government in other nations.

Abraham Lincoln, it's pretty generally agreed, was a pretty sound old bird. Even back in Abe's day, such schemes were floating around. And the bewhiskered and beloved President didn't think too much of them. Here's what Lincoln had to say on the subject of property.

"Property is the fruit of labor; property is desirable; is a positive good in the world. That some should be rich shows that others may become rich, and hence is just encouragement to industry and enterprise. . . . Let not him who is houseless pull down the house of another, but let him labor diligently to build one for himself, thus by example assuring that his own shall be safe from violence. I take it that it is best for all to leave each man free to acquire property as fast as he can. Some will get wealthy. I don't believe in a law to prevent a man from getting rich; it would do more harm than good."

A point well taken in 1953, too, Mr. Lincoln.

Kindness Lives On

In some churches here, Americans are saving nickels and dimes in little red boxes marked "Hour of Sharing." It's being done all across the nation.

The offering, a sort of "Thanks" for the blessings enjoyed in this country, will enable other millions to eat a bit more or better. India, Korea, Central Europe and the Near East are the areas of distress chosen by the National Council of Churches for this year's aid. Recently flooded regions in the Low Countries and England will come in for a share.

President Eisenhower had written an endorsement of the Council's appeal for a million dollars more this year than the voluntary offering netted last year, or $8 million. The President said that such efforts as this backed the official policy of the government at creating a better understanding between Americans and the people in other lands.

Such gifts as that of sharing food stir feelings in others that no kind or amount of "official proclamations" or actions can reach. One never knows the ultimate result of an act of kindness, but invariably it lives on and on in the lives of others.

More Cars, Less Use

Signs and warnings that our obsolete highways and our congested streets are cutting down on the use of automobiles and will soon reduce their production and sales are becoming plentiful. The measurable decrease in the use of automobiles is still small, but it is a trend that will develop rapidly and will continue to grow until we have adequate highways and streets.

A prominent automobile manufacturing executive recently described the types of people who use their cars less and less and who will not buy another one.

He said they were "terrorized by traffic dangers, angered by congestion, and frustrated by parking woes."

Most Americans are not yet "terrorized by traffic dangers," but everyone who drives a car has many moments of "congestion anger" and "parking frustration."

And these moments will come more and more often until more and more owners give up the automobile as an unsatisfactory means of personal transportation.

This loss of fast, safe, relatively economical means of transportation will be a disastrous thrust at our economy. The wheels of our system will begin to slow down.

Many persons who do not regard themselves as part of the gigantic transportation industry will discover that their own livelihoods are at stake.

The solution is before our eyes—the immediate improvement of our streets and highways to provide adequate arteries for modern traffic.

There is no other solution except to admit that the United States transportation industry has reached its limits.

Today we are faced with a trend; tomorrow we will be faced with a disastrous economic fact.

We must start to get America out of the traffic jam today.—Los Angeles Examiner.

'No Religious Test'

A line of questioning by the Senate investigating subcommittee looking into the Voice of America brought from Roger Lyons, director of religious programs, this declaration:

"I am not an atheist. I am not an agnostic. I believe in God."

Although the important issue here is whether a man in this position has the requisite knowledge of world religions, as Mr. Lyons appears to have, we are nevertheless glad to hear his declaration. We would like to feel that all people in government believe in God.

But this is a very dangerous line of questioning.

We cannot know, of course, what lies in the thinking of the several members of the committee or of its counsel. We do know, however, that historically the question, "Do you believe in God?" usually means, "Do you believe in God as I define him?" And deeply religious, consecrated men and women have been burned at the stake and more recently socially ostracized or publicly condemned because their sincere answers did not conform to the asker's pattern.

Save for the relatively few utterly convinced by Communist dialectic, the genuine atheist is a very rare species indeed. Most who ever say they are atheists turn out to be but agnostics, rejecting the concepts of deity they happen to know about and groping alone toward the light.

The framers of the Constitution laid down in Article VI:

" . . . no religious Test shall ever be required as a Qualification to any Office or public Trust under the United States."

A Quick Deal For Drunk Drivers

Rep. Gabe Garrett of Corpus Christi has introduced a bill in the Legislature permitting city courts to try drunk drivers. City judges would handle only first offenders. Appeal would be direct to the Court of Criminal Appeals.

The Legislature should give favorable consideration. In Dallas, to show the gravity of the problem, around thirty such cases are filed a week with the District Attorney. That's 1,500 a year. Some are dismissed, but those remaining are a burdensome volume on the County Criminal Courts.

This type of case should be tried quickly. Delay makes it virtually untriable. If the volume gets too great, the delay is compounded and the result is lax punishment.

Giving the corporation court at the city hall jurisdiction in first-offender cases would keep the county courts less congested. A court whose dockets are not far behind on business is a court available to try cases quickly.

Speed remains the greatest killer on the highways. But fast coming to the top is drunk driving. Everywhere, states through their Legislatures are introducing punitive bills.

The way to cut down drunk drivers is to put fear into the hearts of the drunk drivers. Cases tried quickly, with a high level of punishment, effect amazing results.—Dallas Morning News.

How Now Brown Cow?

The government has come up with the sensational! Never before has such valuable information been given to the people! Here it is:

How do cows occupy their time? The United States Department of Agriculture has found that the average bovine spends 411 minutes in grazing, 254 minutes in just ambling around, lies down 580 minutes, and "does nothing in particular" for 195 minutes.

Isn't that tremendous earth-shaking information? But this study financed by taxpayers' funds told us some more. It shows that the average cow takes about 50 bites of grass a minute. We do not know how often the cow raises its head between bites or how many times it switches the flies away with its tail but it is official that it takes 30 bites a minute for 411 minutes a day.

Wait a minute. Here is another important fact that the taxpayers' money has brought to light. In that 254 minutes of "just ambling around," the cow travels 3,083 yards. No specific record is shown in the survey available as to whether the walking is at a specific time, between bites, or after the 580 minutes "siesta" lying down.

There is no supplement to tell how much of the taxpayer's time was taxed to pay for the survey of how the time of a cow was spent. The cost of the survey is not known but it would take a lot of milk to pay it, no doubt.—West Virginia Taxpayer.

What They Write

Austin, Texas
Dear Mr. Jackson and the People of the 28th Senatorial District:

The response and interest shown to prior reports on the progress of the session of the Texas Legislature leads me to make this further account on recent developments in the State Capitol.

The session has run about 60 days and the large $162 million biennial budget appropriation is almost ready for consideration by the two houses. By joint rule of the Texas Legislature, these appropriations cannot be considered for the first sixty days of the session. This accounts for the delay in the bringing up for consideration of the $33 million per year pay raise for teachers, as well as the general cost-of-living pay increase for 40,000 State workers. It is estimated that the pay-raise for State employees will run some $10 million per year in its present form. Proponents of this legislation say that the effect of the raise would bring State workers pay in line with federal, business and industrial employees.

The increased salaries for teachers, along with increased salaries for State employees, as presently proposed, would add $43 million per year to the State budget, and would require an additional tax.

In my opinion, there are two major schools of thought concerning the tax situation. Either of these two taxes would provide the needed additional revenue. These proposed taxes are the Natural gas tax, and Governor Shiver's recommendation of a 1c increase in the gasoline sales tax.

As you can see, the entire session revolves around whether these salary increases are granted and then the resulting picture from the standpoint of the proposed taxes.

To the present date, 563 proposed bills have been introduced in the House of Representatives, and some 219 measures in the Senate. I will discuss something about the nature of these bills at a later date.

Below is a brief list of Constitutional Amendments proposed to date:

One has been introduced to increase the pay of our elected State officials.

Another amendment would permit women to serve on juries.

A third would increase State Old Age Assistance and extend similar benefits to the mentally and physically disabled.

Another amendment has been introduced to allow pay raise to members of the Legislature.

Another important amendment would permit a State water-use tax on surface water to build up a fund for water conservation development.

It is my desire to serve in the best interest of people of the district, and I welcome your recommendations and opinions on any matter pending before the Legislature.

Sincerely,
Kilmer Corbin,
State Senator

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

The decision to permit Chiang Kai-shek to invade Chinese mainland, if he wishes, poses economic problems receiving close attention in Washington.

The prime purpose of the decision was to encourage action to end the Korean War, and loss of American lives.

But in the attainment of this worthy objective, new problems can and will arise.

One of them: "Has Chiang learned to quit sucking eggs?" When head of China, his in-laws, the fabulous Soongs, held such a monopoly on Chinese industry and business that it was referred to as the "Soong Dynasty".

The Soongs had closer ties with British interests, because Britain has no anti-trust laws such as America, to hinder British monopolies entering into unholy cartel alliances.

So Chiang escaped to Formosa, but British cartels continue to do business with China even while Americans and Britons die.

Today two $4-dollar questions are asked about China, if Chiang overthrows Communism.

1. Will Chiang encourage free enterprise or restore system that lead to Communism, if he does try to set up free enterprise, will British monopolists aided by American connections permit it?

In rubber, petroleum, light metals, and chemicals, there is a great deal of evidence that some American firms have understanding with British firms to control markets.

Washington feels further investigations may be made of presumed alliances between American firms and British monopolies. Continued British-China trade, plus British protests against Administration's foreign policy, may be arousing ire.

Not the least of this information would be facts on who pressured MacArthur ouster.

Many hold his work in Japan in breaking up age-old cartels and introducing free enterprise to Japan was his greatest achievement. Since his removal, Japanese cartels again wax strong, and one time infinitesimal Japanese communist party is becoming a big factor.

On the surface, it appears government becomes more acutely aware of the problem of monopoly business, and anti-trust law enforcement.

For example, the Senate and House Small Business Committees have been reappointed.

But on the negative side, the House Judiciary Committee has dropped its special Monopoly Subcommittee.

This committee, headed by creator, Emmanuel Celler, (D., N. Y.) did outstanding work on the aluminum and newsprint situation.

Many Congressmen report that they are finding that independent businessmen are not alone in their alarm with concentration of economic power into a few monopoly enterprises, and lax enforcement of anti-trust laws.

They report that farming, white collar, and laboring people are voicing alarm over the situation. Some feel it is reaching crusade proportions; may well become major issue of 1954 campaigns.

All the corn-growing areas in the United States, if massed together, would total 134,375 square miles, an area slightly larger than the combined states of Illinois, Indiana and Ohio. This area yields three-fifths of the world's supply of corn, according to the Corn Industries Research Foundation.

In 1498 Columbus found Haitian cornfields 18 miles long. Accustomed to wheat, the Spaniards did not like the taste of the new grain, but they took specimens back to Europe and it spread through several countries as a garden curiosity.

The modern Olympic Games were first held in 1896.

faith and friendship walk hand in hand

Millions of Americans this month are making it a special point to invite their friends into their churches and synagogues—as freely and frequently as they ask them to their homes. You'll find that sharing your faith does something for you, and for your friends as well... it grows when it's shared... and your friendships grow, too.

Take someone to church this week... you'll both be richer for it
