

Deserving of Better Support . . .

One of this city's newest organizations is the Slaton Agriculture Club.

In the words of club president Joe S. Walker, Jr., "We're making a genuine effort to provide a good program at our monthly dinner meetings, and we're anxious to have more members because we believe the club offers a real opportunity for fellowship, and for agricultural improvement in the Slaton area."

Club officers are frank to admit, however, that they're disappointed in the response. Attendance at the once-a-month dinner meetings has averaged about 15 to 20, and few of those in attendance have been farmers.

The purpose of the club—improvement of our agriculture, with attention to newest farm crops and methods, and emphasis on soil and water conservation—is worthy of a better response.

Membership costs little, in either time (about an hour and a half once a month) or money ($10 per year dues).

This newspaper sincerely hopes that both farmers and businessmen will give better support to such a worthy organization.

In an area so obviously dependent upon good crops and proper guardianship of our soil and water resources, surely it's worth our time to get together once a month and talk it over.

They Carry Precious Cargo

In the Slaton area and over the entire nation, school buses now have begun the task of carrying thousands of children to and from their studies. Soon to be expected are the inevitable tragic reports of deaths and injuries occurring when impatient youngsters dash across busy highways to greet their waiting parents or to board the bus. Most of such accidents could be avoided if motorists would adhere strictly to the letter of the law pertaining to the passing of school buses.

Most Slaton residents are aware of the law which requires a driver to come to a complete stop when overtaking from the rear a school bus which has stopped to receive or to discharge school children. After stopping immediately behind the bus, he is then allowed by law to proceed past the bus at a speed "which is prudent, not exceeding ten (10) miles per hour, and with due caution for the safety of such children."

What many persons do not realize is that the very same rule applies when MEETING a stopped school bus. While everyone is interested in protecting our children, unthinking violators of this simple safety rule greatly outnumber those who comply. Failure to follow the law in this case can lead to fines up to $200 even when no accident occurs. Following an accident in which some child is injured or killed, the penalties are naturally much more serious.

Although the above rule does not apply when passing a stopped school bus in a business or residential district of a town, the necessity for extreme caution even in those locations is obvious.

The law boils down to common sense. Won't you use yours? The big orange school buses carry precious cargo.

Golfology . . .

Our military expert has not filled us in on the status of standardizing arms in Britain and the United States—a project begun after World War II—but we suspect that from Denver around to San Diego, Dubuque and Daytona the uniform golf ball would command a little more interest today. For reasons which would have us stymied if stymies were recognized any longer, the American golf ball is 6-100th of an inch larger than the British version. Lord Brabazon of Tara, the Lord Big of British golfdom, and Ben Hogan of Texas, the Mr. Big over here, agree that the golf ball ought to be standardized.

That would present some problems, such as are presented when you try to standardize machineguns. The language, for instance.

If you go shopping for golf balls in England you go to a sporting goods store. Our golf lingo is said to dismay the British, and away back yonder in the '30's the Readers Digest discussed it learnedly. So when a divot digger goes out to the pasture with his bag rat for a major golfst and lands a screamer in the jungle, how is our cousin to know what he is talking about?

The standard ball would be a help, but the language needs a little attention, too. What?—Asheville (N. C.) Citizen.

Cheap at the Price . . .

The United States Senate is not known as the "greatest deliberative body on earth" for nothing, and in this case the observation has a special meaning for the country's taxpayers. The senators deliberate (talk) a lot, and so do members of the lower house of Congress. The Congressional Record, in which the words and the doings of Congress are recorded, has issued a resume showing that floor debates and supplementary material in the recent session, excluding the final two days, covered 16,211 printed pages. These—and here is the special significance for the taxpayers—cost $84 a page, or a total of $1,371,724.

The senators, being more deliberative (talkative) than their colleagues in the House, filled 6,479 pages with the record of their debate, at a cost of more than $544,000. The more numerous representatives used fewer pages—4,533—and the cost was slightly more than $380,000. The remaining pages were devoted to the appendix to the official record, a catchall for such things as off-the-floor speeches by members of Congress and others, extensions of remarks made on the floor, newspaper editorials laudatory of the congressmen inserting them or supporting his views, and resolutions and communications from constituents back home.

The price seems high, but maybe it is a bargain. For the Congressional Record resume shows that 9,330 bills were introduced at the session but that only 302 were passed. If all the measures proposed had been enacted, we would be the most law-ridden people in the world. Perhaps it is better that a lot of it is taken out in mere talk.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

by gpt

Now that football season is here, my favorite brunette says she has a changed personality. She calls herself a football widow now instead of a golf widow.

And being that football seems to chiefly occupy my thoughts lately, here are this week's grid predictions:

Slaton 20, Seagraves 13
Spur over Ralls
Floydada over Tullia
O'Donnell over Post
Denver City over Tahoka
Texas Tech over West Texas
Baylor over California
Kansas State over Drake
Kentucky over Texas A&M
Texas over LSU
Maryland over Missouri
Nebraska over Oregon
Oklahoma over Hardin-Simmons
Rice over Florida
TCU over Kansas
Cincinnati over Tulsa

Washington over Colorado
Wake Forrest over Wm. & Mary
UCLA over Oregon State
So. Cal. over Wash. State
Perhaps the most interesting game on the college schedule this week is the Baylor-California tussle tomorrow afternoon at Berkeley. If Baylor can get past Pappy Waldorf's highly-rated Golden Bears, you can look for the Bruins to be plenty tough in Southwest Conference competition later in the year.

Chiefly from Jack Kirkpatrick fans, I have heard a considerable amount of criticism lately against Jerry Johnson, the Hale Center junior who is Texas Tech's No. 1 quarterback.

The record book, however, shows that Johnson did a pretty fair job of running the Raider offense last year. He set an all-time Tech record for total offense of 1027 yards during the season (325 rushing, 702 passing), and completed 48 of 109 passing attempts for a 44 per cent average, which is pretty fair pitching in anybody's league.

This week's nomination for one of Slaton's most conscientious people: J. J. Maxey, city secretary.

One thing this column will never campaign for is parking meters. They are becoming more and more popular, and many towns the size of this one or only slightly larger have the infernal contraptions. In theory, they are designed to keep parkers on the go so that adequate parking space can be maintained. But it doesn't work that way, and my personal opinion is that those who install them in the first place know that they won't work that way, either. I suspect the real reason they are installed is that they pay themselves out in a relatively short period of time, and thereafter they become good money-makers. The people paid for the streets to begin with, and I'll be darned if I can see why they should have to pay to park on them.

The following poem, written several years ago by a Panhandle cowpuncher named C. L. Anderson, undoubtedly will never win a prize as an example of outstanding composition, but the thoughts it contains make more sense than the "cute" and "clever" poems we read in today's slicks.

You tell on yourself
by the friends you seek;
By the very manner

in which you speak,
By the way you employ
your leisure time,
By the use you make
of dollar and dime.
You tell on yourself
by the things you wear,
By the spirit in which
your burdens bear,
By the kind of things
at which you laugh,
By the records you play
on the phonograph.
You tell what you are
by the way you walk;
By the things of which
you delight to talk,
By the manner in which
you bear defeat,
By so simple a thing
as how you eat,
By the books you choose from the well-filled shelf.
In these ways and more,
you tell on yourself;
So there's really
no particle of sense,
In an effort to keep up false pretense.

Inadequate finances undoubtedly render impossible an adequate system of street markers here. But they are needed.

About a year ago this time, the First Baptist Church bulletin included this bit of railery by Rev. Grant H. Elford. It's entitled, "Why I Do Not Attend The Movies."

- 1—The manager of the theatre never called on me.
- 2—I did go a few times, but no one spoke to me. Those who go there aren't very friendly.
- 3—Every time I go they ask me for money.
- 4—Not all folks live up to the high moral standards of the films.
- 5—I went so much as a child, I've decided I've had all the entertainment I need.
- 6—The performance lasts too long; I can't sit still for an hour and three quarters.

7—I don't care for some of the people I see and meet at the theatre.
8—I don't always agree with what I hear and see.
9—I don't think they have very good music at the theatre.
10—The shows are held in the evenings, and that's the only time I am able to be at home with the family.

Heard some fellow saying the other day that business is not exactly booming over at Tahoka.

Vic Hudman, operator of Hudman Furniture at Post and a partner in Home Furniture Co. here, says Post has a bigger volume of retail sales than does Slaton. We wonder, I doubt it.

Directors of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce have voted to renew Truett Fulcher's contract to manage the swimming pool here again next year.

More active recently: car salesmen.

Queen Anne of England originated the idea of racing horses for cash awards in 1714. The sport of chasing queens is somewhat older.

Don't pass up the Texas Tech-West Texas game at Lubbock tomorrow night because you think it will be a runaway. Tech won't have the easy 48-7 time of it they had with the Buffs last year.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Tucker and sons, Steve and David, left Thursday for a four-day vacation in Ruidoso, New Mexico.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Kendrick and daughter, LeRue, and Mr. and Mrs. Don Kendrick visited friends and relatives in Floydada Sunday.

College Training Program of Navy Open December 4

The Navy has announced that the nation-wide competitive examination for its 1954 college training program, the Naval Reserve Officers' Training Corps, has been set for Dec. 12, 1953. The Navy emphasized the date as final. Examinations will not be given at any other time, regardless of circumstances.

Successful candidates will participate in four years of college training as Midshipmen USNR, and commissioned as officers in the Navy or Marine Corps upon graduation. While in college, Midshipmen's tuition, books and normal fees are paid for by the Navy. In addition, Midshipmen are paid $800 a year and provided with the required uniforms.

Applications for examinations are available to male U. S. citizens who are high school seniors or graduates, between the ages of 17 and 21. Quotas have been assigned to each state and territory, based on its high school population. Applications may be obtained at any high school, college, or Navy Recruiting Station. Completed applications must reach the Educational Testing Service in Princeton, N. J., by Nov. 21, 1953.

Those passing the aptitude test will be interviewed and given physical examinations. If qualified, their names will be submitted to state and territorial selection committees composed of naval officers and prominent citizens for final selection.

The Navy expects to enter about 2000 students into the program for the fall term of college, 1954. Those selected by the competitive examinations will be assigned, if possible within quotas, to schools of their choice among universities and colleges which maintain NROTC units.

Between academic years, summer cruises of six to eight weeks are taken in ships of the fleet to provide practical shipboard training.

After commissioning, NROTC graduates serve on active duty for three years before applying for retention as career officers.

Mrs. J. T. Bolding accompanied by Mrs. Joe Trammell and Miss John Baker of Lubbock and Mrs. E. H. Tate of Post attended the WMU Board Meeting of Texas in Dallas, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Buist (Buzz) Warren, Texas Tech baseball coach and assistant football mentor, played second base for the state International Softball League champions, the Lorenzo Lions, this summer.

Texas A&M and Texas Tech, who meet in Lubbock Oct. 10, had similar records last year. The Aggies won three lost six, and tied one game. Tech had a 3-7-1 mark.

AT SELF'S SERVICE STATION

Howdy Folks: There's a lot of talk about class hatred, now days, but the best example of it is with some of the school kids.

This class hatred is what keeps the home fires burning.

When we went to school, it wasn't the school we disliked, it was the principal of the thing.

Lots of school kids major in alibiology.

As far as school teacher's pay is concerned, a lot of kids would be willing to pay them enough to retire immediately.

We know a teacher who said she'd starve before becoming a teacher and she says she's been doing it ever since.

It's a problem, but as was said long ago, the little red school house is much better than the little red citizen.

And it's much better to be sure of safe driving when you get our extra special service.

AERIAL ARTIST TO FEATURE FAIR MIDWAY ATTRACTIONS

LUBBOCK—Rietta, intrepid aerialist, celebrated for her breathtaking swaying pole thrillers, will headline the four big free acts to be presented on the midway of the 36th Annual Panhandle South Plains Fair, Sept. 28 through Oct. 3.

The curvaceous aerialist will work from the top of a slender steel pole more than 100 feet high. From that high point, without the protection of a net beneath her, she will force the pole to sway from side to side a distance of more than 30 feet.

From that high point, too, she will execute brilliant acrobatics, feats which even if presented at a lower level and with the protection of a net beneath her, would be notable. Breath-taking push-outs from the side of the pole will be made as the pole is shoved in a sweeping arch through space.

Skill And Daring

The graceful girl performer will also make hand stands from the side of the pole, and then will describe graceful poses as she links first a leg, later only one arm around the pole as it careens from side to side.

Her skill and daring stem from a circus heritage. She is the fifth generation of her family in the circus field, but her accomplishments eclipse those who have preceded her.

The steel pole is the result of the long-time experimentation by members of her immediate family, who down through the years have kept intact the secrets of their riggings. A special metallurgical formula was devised by Rietta in collaboration with some friendly scientists, and it was this formula that was used in the development of the pole she uses.

The pole has amazing capacity to withstand the strain she imposes upon it with her acrobatics.

No Safety Net

The "Four Ceplars" will likewise provide thrills unlimited when Herman Capelar rides his bicycle back and forth 40 feet above terra firma without a safety net. What makes the act even more sensational is his feat of holding two members of his family on his back while he is riding the bicycle.

Also featured as one of the great free act attractions will be the four Sky Devils who will present something new, different and thrilling in a sensational high act.

They have presented their act in Australia, China and practically all the Asiatic countries.

Many New Firsts

Many new "firsts" have been announced for this year's fair, according to Charles L. Adams, Jr., association president. Not only are the free acts the most expensive ever booked but also arrangements have been made to present the first remote telecast in West Texas direct from the fair grounds.

The first annual band contest is off to a good start with area bands announcing their intentions to march in the big opening day parade Monday, Sept. 28, at 2 p.m.

The first 100 percent complete story of irrigation in display form will be presented as a special Agricultural Department booth this year.

Free band concerts nightly (except Friday) and free fireworks shows every night at 10 p.m. have also been announced.

Rev. J. T. Bolding accompanied a large group to the Annual Meeting at the Arnett-Benson Baptist Church in Lubbock, Thursday and Friday.

Otis Neill, Don Hatchett, Howard Hoffman, and Jack Suddath of Trenton, left last Thursday for a four-day fishing trip in Costilla, New Mexico.

H. D. Convention Is Three Dimensional

Design, discussion and demonstration make up the three-dimensional approach to the annual convention for the Texas Home Demonstration Association to be held at Galveston, Sept. 30, Oct. 1-2. According to Bonnie Cox, acting state home demonstration leader for the Texas Agricultural Extension and adviser to the Association, the convention is planned by the women themselves to assist in carrying out their program of work.

The convention has been designed or planned by the officers and committee chairmen as a framework for the constructive discussion and demonstrations in each of the five fields of committee activities. Three elected delegates from each county, return to share with the clubs the inspiration, information and recommendations for the new year's plan of work.

Miss Cox says there are more than 44,000 members of 3,000 home demonstration clubs in the state, and each is a member of the Association. Its objective is to "serve as a cooperative and coordinating agency for the state-wide activities of home demonstration clubs as a medium for expressing the desires and interests of rural women and as a means of cooperating with other organizations of similar interests." The Association was first organized in 1926 at Texas A&M College, to train women attending the annual short course, in parliamentary procedure and to give a scholarship to a 4-H club girl. Since then the Association has awarded college scholarships to 29 club girls.

and assisted with 4-H work, contributing $100 annually to the Extension districts. Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Almy as guests in their home. Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Somers, Quannah and their son, Ann Corn of Muleshoe.

What They Write

La Junta, Colorado
September 10, 1953

Dear Pete:
I'm a little late getting this off to you to catch up on the current Slaton news but am enclosing my check for a year's subscription to the Slatonite. If the current price is more than the enclosed amount let me know and I will forward more. If you can send me last week's copy and this week's copy of the paper I will gladly pay whatever is necessary. We are missing Slaton and Slatonites already.

If you see Homer tell him I am pulling for his team even if I won't be there to give forth my support in person.
Dick and John got started to school in time but they are not carried away with the teachers as they were in Slaton. The Spanish-American contingent is even greater here than it was there and the boys are having a time getting adjusted to the fact. Debra started to kindergarten here and is some punkins getting to go to school.
We haven't been able to move in to our permanent living quarters as yet but hope to get in within the next two weeks. We are at present living in a three room apt. and that is somewhat crowded for five individuals.
You can address the paper to me at 501 Barnes Street for the present and I'll drop you a line in time to get the address changed as soon as we are in our permanent location.
Two of the boys that were on the softball teams there this summer gave me a going away present when we left Slaton and if you can I wish you would give them a little plug in your paper for me as I sure do appreciate the thought behind it as well as the gift. The boys are Gene Talbert and Sammy Jo Wilson.
Not much more to write about for now from Southeastern Colorado but will try to drop you a line from time to time.
Yours truly,
Dick DeMoss

It's all part of the entertainment — completely legitimate — planned for the Hockley County Fair and Jamboree this year. Fair Association directors last Wednesday approved horse racing as one of the official entertainment features of the three-day county-wide event, scheduled here for Sept. 17-19.

Fair directors approved the racing program after it was recommended by Harry Matthews in a meeting of directors and Fair superintendents in the District Courtroom Wednesday night.

Wedding bells worked overtime in McCulloch County during August. County Clerk, Mrs. Dick Burk, noted this week that 22 marriage licenses were issued and that "was by far the largest month this year."

June, the traditional marriage month, apparently was losing out, for only seven licenses were issued then. The usual monthly average is 10 to 12 licenses, Mrs. Burk said.

Cotton boll worms and leaf worms are still plaguing farmers of the Hamlin area, but most of the growers are waging an effective, if not completely successful, war against the ravaging insects. This was the general opinion of Bill Lehmborg, county agricultural agent, who Wednesday reported to The Herald after checking the cotton situation in all parts of Jones County.
In several instances applications of 2-10-40 and 33-10-40 dust last week has failed to effect complete eradication as expected. This was due in part, Lehmborg said, to a change in atmospheric conditions and the possibility that the leaf-worms are building up resistance to certain poisons.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 11
Attends Sales Meet
Of Humble Dealers

Bill Clack, partner in Clack Bros. Humble Service Station, was among the approximately 50 people who attended an area Humble sales meeting and dinner Tuesday night at Lubbock's rock Hotel.

The meeting was linked to opening of college football games this weekend, and featured a colored film narrated by Humble's ace sportscaster, Kirt on Southwest Conference highlights of 1952.

DeWitt Weaver, head coach for the Texas Tech Raiders, spoke briefly and introduced other members of Tech coaching staff and Redder Co-Captains Don Gray and Vic Spooner.

For the 20th consecutive year Humble again this fall will sponsor radio broadcasts of Southwest Conference games, and the first time will sponsor casts of Texas Tech games.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Taylor Troy Nash of Post spent the end in Weatherford attending funerals of Mr. Nash's brother Sam and Daugh Nash.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Houchin Monday were their daughter and her family, Mr. and Mrs. C. Corley, Karen and of Lorenzo.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford and Mrs. Joe Tate attended services at the First Baptist Church at Lubbock Tuesday night heard Howard Butt.

Mr. and Mrs. Girard and daughter, Virginia, of view visited her parents, Mrs. Elmer Crabtree Sunday.

CHECK LIST AT HOUSING

Since this is about the time pullets to be going to the house, the flockowner has responsibilities with regard to layers. Here is a check-list things to do:

1. Be sure the house is clean, disinfected, in good condition.
2. House the proper number of birds for the house — 100 horns or 75 heavy-breed birds 300 square feet of floor space.
3. Select the layers on the basis of good physical standards, mating capacity for laying and coloring the head, eye, coloring, etc.

Vaccinate Layers

4. Be sure your flock is protected against preventable diseases — Newcastle, pox, and laryngotracheitis (as they occur in the area). Pulletts can be vaccinated against these diseases at any time but it is better to vaccinate before production really gets under way.
5. Worm the pullets before they go to the laying house.
6. Check birds for lice and a delousing treatment, either individually or by the roost-application method.
7. Make pullorum blood-test the flock is to produce hatched eggs.

Avoid Upsetting Birds

8. Use some of the range equipment and watering equipment (cleaned up, of course) along with the new, or strange, equipment. This is to help prevent undue disturbance of the pullets. After a few days, the range equipment may be removed.
9. Move the pullets in one way as to avoid upsetting them. Many poultrymen prefer to move them at night, feeling that this disturbs the birds less.
10. Provide ample feeding and watering space. Ask your feed or equipment dealer for recommendations.
11. Plan to use night equipment when production shows signs of falling off.

AUSTIN, Tex.—A two-edged crusade by the Texas Democrats against the Loyalists and the Republicans is now officially begun.

Governor Allan Shivers called the signal at Mineral Wells and urged his kind of Democrats to begin the struggle immediately.

There are two aspects of the campaign—first, domination of the elections next year; and second, control of the party machinery in the presidential year of 1956.

Every observer at the Mineral Wells session of Texas Democrats interpreted Shivers' remarks to mean that, if necessary, he will run for governor again to gain the objectives.

"If 1952 was the year of decision for the Democratic Party of Texas," Shivers said, "in 1954 will be the year in which the decision is ratified—or rendered empty and meaningless."

"It is the simple fact of political life that victory is never secure. It must be won again and again—and yet again, for each test is a new game, and there is no prize for second place."

As Shivers spoke, his supporters in many parts of the state were reorganizing their forces at precinct level to carry on the fight next year.

Opposing campaigns were also moving—those of the Loyal Democrats and of the Republicans. Not in modern Texas history has there been so much political activity so far ahead of the elections.

Speaking along with Shivers at the Mineral Wells gathering of the State Democratic Executive Committee was Wright Morrow, national Democratic committee man from Texas, who is not recognized by National Chairman Stephen Mitchell.

Morrow said he supported Eisenhower last year because the Republican nominee "came nearer embracing the true Democratic principles."

"We," Morrow told the group, "are the real Democrats."

—tpa—

Jack Porter of Houston, Republican national committeeman for Texas, conferred in Denver with President Eisenhower about building up a strong GOP in this state.

Following the confab, Porter said, "the president impressed me with being in hearty accord with the building of a strong Republican party in Texas."

Also discussed between the two was the president's visit to Texas next October for the dedication of the new Falcon Dam.

—tpa—

While Shivers was making up his mind whether to call a special session of the Legislature, there was considerable improvement in the drought situation.

All but 48 counties in the western third of the state were cut off the emergency list by the State Drouth Disaster Committee. Originally, 152 counties had been included.

No more orders for emergency feed will be taken from the 104 counties that were removed from the list.

Rains that brought relief to a considerable part of West Texas were given as the reason for reducing the area to remain within the drouth designation.

—tpa—

Drouth relief was Shivers' consideration in the matter of whether to call a special session.

Rains helped in many counties, the governor said, "but sections where the worst drouth hit haven't been helped much. There's nothing out there to help. The grass roots are gone."

—tpa—

Another problem for the special session was that of increasing teachers' salaries, but little progress has been made along that line, Shivers said.

He thought the matter ought to be settled, but "not a lot can be accomplished at a special session unless a compromise can be worked out ahead."

Meanwhile, the State Comptroller notified the Board of Education that there was a net cash balance of $2,966,134 in the available school fund on Aug. 25.

Promptly, the Board voted Texas schools an additional dollar per head for the past school year, 1952-1953. That raised the per capita apportionment to $69.

Two top road experts will team up to carry on a highway transportation research program for Texas.

They are Thomas H. McDonald, recently retired as head of the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads, and Gibb Gilchrist, former chancellor of the Texas A&M system and for many years state highway engineer.

Work of these two will be sponsored

Mr. and Mrs. T. V. Walker and son, Mike, of Lubbock, visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Davis, over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Nestor Kitten and children, Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Kitten and family visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Kitten, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Kitten and children, Leroy, Marilyn, and Charles attended the Hubber baseball game in Lubbock Monday night. Albuquerque defeated Lubbock 5-4.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Peavy and Mrs. Peavy's sister, Mrs. Olive Wheeler, a teacher at Texas Tech in Lubbock, spent three days vacationing in Santa Fe and Taos recently.

sored jointly by the college and the state highway department.

As hearings drew to their end in the ouster case against District Judge C. Woodrow Laughlin of Alice, the defense called as a witness the judge's brother, W. M. Laughlin, Jim Wells county commissioner.

Among charges against the judge is one that he dismissed a Jim Wells County grand jury last January to forestall an indictment against his brother.

On the stand, however, the commissioner testified that he was never worried about being indicted because he did not think he had done anything wrong.

—tpa—

Want to lease some of the Texas tidelands? The School Land Board is getting ready to auction off leases to some of this property about December 1.

On September 1 the board leased four tracts at an average of $128 per acre.

Life is sweetest when it is held in the cup of simplicity. A thousand dawns seek to placate my weary spirit with rich beauty, the music of commerce and the vital, moving splendor of a modern world. I would prefer the blue shirt and wash-faded overalls, my bare feet on cool, scrubbed floors; the fragrance of coffee being ground in a hand mill held between my mother's aproned knees. Each streak of dawn would uncover more work to be performed; dew drops on the leaves of booted maize, the scent of moist earth. Once more the call of a bob-white, distant and serene, perhaps just over the hill in paradise.
—Matador Tribune

Pen Feathers—
A note from Miss Carolyn Williams, with comment about the 1913 model coat for ladies which appeared in the "Looking Back" column last week, includes a picture from last Sunday's daily news paper showing one of Dior's ridiculous creations for midday of today, and I must confess there is not much to choose between them. The tragedy of the situation is that men are becoming, I fear, the slaves of fashion, too. That "too" is used advisedly.
—The Hamilton Herald-News

It Sez Here—
We think the plight of residents of the colored section should be called to the attention of the city commission, chamber of commerce, churches and any other organization charged with the welfare of our citizens. Crop dusters park their planes practically on top of homes in this section of town. From dawn to dusk, the area is a roaring backwash of dirt and trash from airplane propellers. Folks can't hang out clothes to dry, and windows must be kept closed as protection against the blowing dirt. At least one hay fever sufferer has been removed to the hospital to escape it. The city should be interested because there are some taxpayers down there. The cham-

Town Topics—
Today's world is as inconsistent as it is unpredictable. On the international level, we exercise a bout as much logic as the neighborhood gang of junior boys. We divide into groups for the purpose of whipping each other. Then we reshuffle our allies and go at it again. Ten years ago we were in the midst of a hate campaign against Germany and Japan. We, the American people, considered Russia our friend. We applauded when she poured it on the Germans.

Then as soon as the armistice was signed, we set to work repairing the damage we did to our enemy which overnight has become one of our closest allies. Japan and Germany today seem to be closer to our hearts than our World War II allies.

—The Tulsa Herald

Drifting Sands—
From the prices that the Commissioners Court is having to pay for right-of-way acreage, land values have increased immensely.

If the prices paid are any indication, the taxable valuation of the city should be way up next year. We should be able to build a pretty good water system with the new unexpected source of taxes.
—Andrews County News

Getting Out On The Limb—
Proof that the Communists' hides are being gotten under as never before is seen in the news coming out of East Germany that they have made Texas No. 1 in their hate parade. That could well be the beginning of the end for the Commies. Anytime a galoot gets weak-minded enough to cast aspersions at the noble Lone Star State he's headed for the dogs with a one-way ticket.
—The Post Dispatch

Main Street—
The present deplorable condition

THE SLATON SLATONITE
FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 11, 1954

of the streets of this otherwise city sometimes makes a wonder left town for good, or if some stand that this is sometimes referred to in somewhat (bracketed terms). Not that our streets are really bad. With the exception of a few chug-holes whose dimensions compare rather favorably with those of Bryce Canyon, a few stretches of washboard that jolt the eye-teeth out of an eye would put a camel to shame. It might be said that they are as pretty good condition.

While all this may add the elements of high adventure to our ramblings, it is not exactly conducive to peace of mind, and one has jolted loose a lobby or two while traversing one of these formidable fender-rattlers, it comes downright tiresome.
—The Lorenza Tribune

Doodling—
In a recent Uglyest Man Contest a twin was declared the winner. His brother, who lives in the town and is often involved in cases of mistaken identity, wants to know, "Where does that leave me?"

Come in and see . . . value check . . . and test drive a Ford today!

No doubt about it . . .
Ford's the one fine car in the low-price field!

Feature after feature . . . part after part . . .
Ford is as fine as the finest . . .
yet it's priced with the lowest.

No car ever built has won such enthusiastic and growing preference as the '53 Ford . . . and no wonder. For no other car with such a wealth of fine-car features costs so little as Ford.

Yes, Ford, with all its fine-car quality, is offered at a price that's easy to pay.

You can have a Ford with a V-8 engine—the same type of engine that powers America's most expensive cars—for hundreds less than many Six-cylinder cars. And a Ford powered with the high-compression Mileage Maker Six costs even less.

Then, too, Ford's body is built like the best, with steel body panels of the same quality and thickness as in the most expensive cars.

Ford also proves that a car doesn't need to carry gas-thirsty extra weight to "gentle" you over the bumpiest roads! For Ford's smooth, level ride blots out the bumps . . . cuts front end road shock alone up to 80%!

Also, you can have your Ford V-8 with Master-Guide, the last word in power steering. Master-Guide cuts up to 75% of turning effort yet it leaves you with the natural "feel" of steering on the straightaway.

There are many other fine-car features, too! Ford Full-Circle Visibility . . . foam-rubber cushioned seats front and rear on all models . . . finishes that are baked on over a complete rust-proofing treatment . . . to mention a few.

It takes all these features to make a fine car truly fine . . . worth more when you buy it . . . and in resale, too! A survey of used car lots proves that people are willing to pay a larger percentage of the original cost for year-old Fords than for any other used cars. No doubt about it, Ford's your best buy!

Worth more when you buy it . . . worth more when you sell it!

If you're interested in used-cars, be sure to see our selections!
