Annual Halloween carnival last Thursday night at West School netted approximately $600. It was announced this week by L. C. Bond, president of Elementary Parent-Teacher Association. P.T.A. will use the money to work on a project to prostrate curtains and window shades in the West Ward School room.

Cellar-Dwelling Tigers Are Two Touchdown Underdogs For Tonight's Tilt With Tahoka

"Snakebit" 40-20 in their annual grudge battle with the Post Antelopes last Friday for their third consecutive setback in as many district outings, the Slaton Tigers will journey to Tahoka tonight for an 8 p.m. tilt with Coach Bill Haralson's highly-rated Bulldogs.

Tahoka, with an impressive 6-1 season record and a 2-0 record in District 5-AA play, will rate a 14-point edge over the Bengals, who have failed to show the power in district play which they exhibited against non-conference opponents earlier in the season.

If the Tigers win tonight, they'll have the job of bottling up 176-pound J. B. Ables, the Bulldogs' big, bruising fullback who is being boomed for all-district honors. Scouting reports indicate that Tahoka's offense moves best on the ground, and Ables—who runs something like a jet-powered milk truck—has been the big gainer for the Tahokans.

In sophomore quarterback Gordon Smith, Coach Haralson also has a capable passer for his T-

CUB SCOUT 'INDIANS' were the main attraction at the October Pack meeting of pack 128 held recently. Dressed in Indian costumes which they made, the boys gave demonstrations of Indian dances, and other Indian lore they had learned during October. In keeping with their 'Indian Summer' theme, the boys made Indian weapons, Indian tee pees, in addition to their costumes.

INDIAN DANCES, LORE, COSTUMES HIGHLIGHT CUB SCOUT OCTOBER MEET

Slaton's Cub Scouts were about strong at their regular October Meeting, held last week at Scout House. Cubmaster Bill [Name] was in charge of the program, which carried out the "Indian Summer" theme for the October work. The pack meeting, held once a month, gives each of the boys an opportunity to display their work which is carried on at weekly den meetings.

FUNDS BEGIN TO TRICKLE IN FOR NATIVITY SCENE HERE

Approximately $30 has been contributed at mid-week to the Chamber of Commerce project to erect a Christmas nativity scene this year on the City Hall lawn, it was announced Wednesday by Mrs. R.

D. Bisbee, C. of C. secretary-manager.

Launch Widening Of Single Block On No. Ninth St.

Work got underway this week—and probably will be completed some time next week—to widen North Ninth Street from Garza to Lynn by 10 feet to allow diagonal instead of parallel parking in the one-block area.

The Chamber has expressed the hope that contributions will be forthcoming in sufficient volume to make possible the purchase of life-like weatherproof figures which can be kept from year to year.

The City of Slaton and merchants in the one-block area will bear the cost of the project on a 50-50 basis, according to terms of an agreement made at a recent city commission meeting.

A minimum of $300 is needed to purchase the figures and to pay for the carpentry work necessary for erection of a life-like nativity scene, Mrs. Bisbee said.

The job is being done at the request of merchants in the one-block area.

Contributions may be taken or mailed to the Slaton Chamber of Commerce office at the City Hall. The Chamber expects to defray part of the cost of the project.

SCOUT FUND DRIVE TOPS $700 MARK

A total of $730.50 had been raised up to mid-week in Slaton's annual drive to solicit funds for the South Plains Council of Boy Scouts, it was announced Wednesday by Melvin Kunkel, drive chairman.

Only 40 per cent of the drive workers have turned in their contributions, Kunkel explained, and it is anticipated that their reports will boost local contributions above the $1,000 mark.

Approximately $1,400 was raised in the drive here last year. No definite goal has been set for the Slaton drive, which probably will continue throughout the remainder of November. For the entire South Plains Council, however, the drive seeks to obtain $81,303.99 for the 1954 budget. The Council includes 55 communities of the South Plains and West Texas.

Contributions should be made payable to "Boy Scouts of America" and should be mailed to Melvin Kunkel, c/o Southwestern Public Service Co., Slaton.

The Council conducts an independent campaign in all communities of its 20-county area except Lubbock, Plainview, Lamesa, Seminole and Matador, where the Council is a participating agency in their Community Chest.

The Slaton drive opened on Saturday, Oct. 24. More than 100 volunteer workers are soliciting funds here in an effort to contact a minimum of 10 per cent of Slaton residents.

The Bulldog defense is expected to be one of the stiffest yet encountered by Slaton. Tahoka has allowed only 71 points in seven games against formidable opposition, an average of less than 11 points per contest. Offensively, the Bulldogs have averaged 26-plus points per game.

At Post Friday night, the Antelopes and the Tigers were 13-13 after three periods of play, then Coach Bing Bingham's suprising eleven exploded for four tallies in the final period to turn the game into a 40-20 rout before a homecoming audience of some 1,400 fans.

Breaks Of Game

The statistics on the game suggest that the Antelopes won the game with the aid of some important breaks. And so they did. Post's capable little quarterback, Moody Graham, flipped only two passes all evening long. Both went for touchdowns. The Tigers had

EASIER AND BETTER

Entirely aside from the fact that the current Boy Scout fund drive here is a worthwhile project, it is also a whale of a lot of work.

Organizing such a fund campaign involves considerable time on the part of dozens and dozens of individuals.

Slaton has several such drives each year. Each of the drives demands a well-knit organization. Each of the drives consumes time, both on the part of the solicitors and the solicited.

Why wouldn't it be a reasonable idea for Slaton to join other cities which have Community Chest drives, and lump all of the fund-seeking campaigns held here annually into one well-organized campaign?

Such a drive would receive far better publicity than would individual campaigns. Merchants, once given the assurance that it would be the only major fund drive of the year, would be inclined to give generously. It would involve considerably less time and trouble.

It would take time to organize a smooth-functioning Community Chest here. But over the long haul, it would save time and trouble, and this newspaper believes such an organization would pay handsome dividends to the participating organizations.

THAT "SLAVE LABOR" LAW

Labor leaders often express amazement that union members show indifference to the burning issue of the Taft-Hartley law, especially when voting.

Here may be the answer. It is a story on the front page of The News, published by District 50, United Mine Workers:

"The government reported that, as of Labor Day, 1953, the nation's workers were earning more money, had a higher standard of living and were more fully employed than ever before.

"The latest survey of earnings of the 16,000,000 factory workers—a good barometer for pay levels across the country—showed wages were at a peak of $1.77 per hour. This was 21 per cent above the level prevailing before the start of the Korean war, and nearly double the increase in the cost of living during that period."

All during this time, of course, that "slave labor" Taft-Hartley law has been in effect.—Carlsbad Current-Argus

BUSINESS? COME AND GET IT!

There has never been a time when Americans had more money to spend than now. And there has never been a time when it took more ingenuity to sell them.

The reason is that consumers as a whole have literally billions of dollars at their disposal that they don't have to spend. They'll spend it if somebody offers them something they can be convinced they need—or even want. But they'll leave it in the bank unless business makes it attractive for them to spend it.

The net worth of the American consumer (his cash, his possessions less his debts) is at a whopping $640 billion. Incomes for the first eight months of the year are at a record annual rate of $248 billion. And personal savings are 6.9 per cent of income after taxes—or $16 billion a year.

There is nothing wrong with savings. Old Ben Franklin's dictum that a penny saved is a penny earned is almost true today (not quite, though, because in inflationary times the value of money declines).

But there is something wrong when Americans save so much money. Summer Slichter, the Harvard economist, puts it this way: "The potential demand is there . . . It will be a blot on the American system of private enterprise and a reflection on the resourcefulness of American management if unemployment develops because business concerns are unable to persuade customers to raise their spending."

Americans being what they are, they'll spend it all right—if. But it's a big if. They'll not spend it without an incentive. And the incentive isn't necessarily merely lower prices in themselves. The incentive often is at the other end of the twin-pronged magic wand that American business has used for generations—better goods at lower prices.

There is the challenge. Business must continue to produce better goods—so much better that consumers will want them badly enough to take money out of the bank to buy them. And it must continue to produce them at prices that consumers will consider attractive.

The sales are there, ready and waiting for the companies that are aggressive in both of their major departments—production and sales.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

My greatest concern is not whether you have failed, but whether you are content with your failure.—Abraham Lincoln

Pray as though no work would help, and work as though no prayer would help.—German proverb.

● SHORT GRASS

by gpt

My favorite brunette has been observing a rather rigid diet of late in the interest of her girlish conformity, and it reminds me of a poem by I. E. Martin about Methuselah, that famous Biblical character who lived to the incredible old age of 969 years.

The poem, titled "He Wasn't Worried," is as follows:

Methuselah ate what he found on his plate,
And never, as people do now,
Did he note the amount of the calorie count;
He ate it because it was chow.

He wasn't disturbed as at dinner he sat,
Eating succotash, chicken or pie,
To think it was lacking in granular fat
Or a couple of vitamins shy.

He cheerfully chewed every species of food,
Untroubled by worries or fears
Lest his health might be hurt
By some fancy dessert—
And he lived more than nine hundred years.

A rumor which reached my ears this week is that there's some possibility that Singer Sewing Machine Company may rent one of the three attractive new store buildings which are rapidly nearing completion on the former Forrest Hotel site. We hope the rumor—if it has basis in fact—pans out. Singer has an excellent reputation in the sewing machine field, and this columnist believes one of their shops here would prove a real moneymaker. It should be welcome from all corners, for it would not be directly competitive with any firm we have here, and probably would be a considerable incentive to purchase of more piece goods from local dry goods merchants.

We would heartily welcome Singer to Slaton.

Every man needs a wife, because many of the things that go wrong can't be blamed on the government.

Don't look for a Slaton listing in any of the hotel-motel-tourist guides. You won't find it until some of our monied citizens acquire a lot more faith than they now have in their hometown (which made them their money).

So business is off from last year to some extent. So a fantastic era of business is leveling off. So now we have to hustle a bit more instead of asking the customer what he can do for us today. It probably will be good for all of us. We better send the crying towel to the laundry and hunt up that old salesmanship book we had about 15 years ago.

Mrs. L. A. Curry, 895 South Eleventh, brought several ancient copies of the Slatonite to our office this week, and we were struck by this "poem" which appeared in the issue of June 9, 1922:

A few days ago
A farmer drove his big six
Up in the shade of
The Slaton State Bank
And withdrawing his gloves
In a most precise
And leisurely manner
Walked up to
B. M. Holland

And made application
For a liberal loan
Holland looked him over
And sniffed the perfume
That emitted from his person
And carefully replied
"Sorry, but we can't Accommodate you."

"Why? Why?"
Sputtered the farmer
"You don't smell right!"
Replied Mr. Holland
"What! What!"

Echoed the farmer
You smell wrong
Too much like
A dry cleaning plant
And not enough like a mule barn

Too much like a gas tank
And not enough like a hog lot
Too much like a benzine wagon
And not enough like a dairy lot
Sorry, but we go by scent

These days
And not per cent or sight.

This week's nomination for one of Slaton's most conscientious people: R. C. Wilkins, operator of Wilkins Help Yourself Laundry.

The judge was remonstrating with a leading citizen of Mexico Street over an arrearage in his alimony payments. "Well, judge," says the fellow, "Reckon as I's behind on de payments . . . but you se, judge, mah new wife ain't turned out to be de worker ah tho't she was gwine to be."

The fact that the roof fell in at Jack's 5 & 10c store is certainly no reflection on the contractor who built that building. Lightning has destroyed more monumental edifices than that one. It has little respect for steel or stone.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower is the nation's president-elect. Texas favored Ike, and so did Lubbock County as a whole, but voting figures show that Slaton did not go along with the state and county-wide trend. Governor Adlai Stevenson was the favored candidate here, returns show. Stevenson polled 889 votes in Slaton to Eisenhower's 665.

Home places in Slaton will soon look like they did back in 1915, according to an old timer, only it will be TV aerials that will be whizzing and rotating in the wind instead of wind mills. Used to be you could hear the wind whistles screeching and moaning a long time before a town could come in sight. The old timer said things certainly do change and not always for the better. Maybe we did not have TV then but neither did we have a Korean war, five per cent, ulcerated stomachs, automobile mechanics, women drivers, income tax, social security tax, hot dogs, forward passes, bathing beauty contests, parking meters and flying saucers.

Voting in Precinct 2 was the heaviest for many years for a national election with a total of over 1200 votes. As was expected, precinct 2 went heavily Democratic, but there were more Republican votes than most people expected, there were no Wallace votes and a good many split the ticket. J. S. Edwards and Bill Klattenhoff, two prominent Slaton Republicans were getting the razberries. J. S. said that Truman is the smartest man in the world, for according to all the polls, news broadcasters and newspapers he did not have a chance to be re-elected while he predicted victory all of the time. made for Red Cross workers. Ten robes and 114 kit bags have been cut and are ready to be sewed. Anyone with a few hours to spare is asked to come to the Red Cross Sewing Room, which is open Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons from 1 to 5.

The reports that the watering of Garza Street on the North side of the square was being done to keep down the dust and that the unpaved space was being prepared for flower beds were all wrong. It is being prepared for topping with asphalt, as is a part of West Lynn Street where the paving has gone to the bad.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Cherry, of 445 West Panhandle, observed their Golden Wedding Anniversary last Friday with a dinner and on Sunday afternoon their three daughters honored them with a tea. The daughters are Mrs. Mary Watson of Slaton, Mrs. Ida Crittendon and Mrs. Jimmie Brown of Amarillo.

A meeting of all Cub Scouts, those interested in becoming Cubs, and their parents, has been called, to be held at the High School on next Monday night, at 8 p.m. District officers will be present to explain just what "Cubbing" is and if a large enough group is in attendance, the Slaton Pack will be reorganized for the coming year.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Holt are going to Abilene Sunday to visit their son, William Holt, who is stationed at Camp Barkley in the Medical Corps.

Dignified middle aged folks have certainly lost a lot of their pompous ways since the war started. It is a very common sight to see some big fronted man or woman with frost around their temples, jelly-rolling down the street gnawing on an ice cream cone or a bar of candy, something they would never have done before the war.

Campaign Planned For Wilson Scouts

The annual Boy Scout Financial Campaign will begin this week in the Wilson community with Elmer Blankenship as campaign chairman.

The Wilson Boy Scout Troop No. 116, sponsored by St. John's Lutheran Brotherhood, has been carrying on an active troop since July of 1952 with Edmund Macker as Scoutmaster and D. F. Haynes as Explorer Advisor. Even during the first year, the troop won honors at the Camporee at Camp Post. The troop, which is open to boys of all faiths, has had almost 30 boys in its ranks continuously. It has endeavored to train all boys for better service to God and country by character building and citizenship training.

The Wilson troop receives its help and supervision from the South Plains Council. In order to provide these services to all troops, Wilson, together with each community having a troop, is asked to share in the financial responsibility of bringing this worthwhile Boy Scout work.

"I hope that there will be many in our community who will be anxious to sponsor the Boy Scout work for one boy," stated the chairman, Elmer Blankenship. All contributions, large or small, may be given to the chairman or to any of the following troop committeemen: Erwin Sander, R. F. Stegemoeller, Rev. C. C. Ehler, or Walter Macker. If it is inconvenient to see any of these, the contribution may be mailed to: Boy Scout Troop No. 116, Wilson, Texas.

Mrs. Callie Cash and sons, Wilburn and Milburn, of Levelland, visited Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Butler Sunday night.

Girls. She is also a member of the Idalou Methodist Church. Patsy is 19 years old, has brown eyes and dark hair, is 5 feet, 5 1/2 inches tall and weighs 120 pounds.

TECH PROF TALKS TEXAS TO RMA MEET

The approximately 50 people who attended the annual banquet of the Retail Merchants Association at the Club House on Thursday night elected half a dozen new R.M.A. directors and heard Dr. S. S. McKay, Texas Tech historian, spin a variety of interesting stories about the Lone Star State.

Named as new directors from an 18-man ballot were B. N. Ball, Don Crow, Bob Ayers, Claude S. Cravens, Fred H. Schmidt, Jr., and B. H. Sokoll. Holdover directors are Bill H. Smith, Harold Tucker and Alex Webb.

DIRECTORS TO MEET

Both the retiring and the newly-elected directors of the Retail Merchants Association were scheduled to hold a joint business meeting at 6:15 p.m. on Thursday, Nov. 5, in the R.M.A. office, it was announced Tuesday by Mrs. Lee Green. The business agenda is expected to include election of new officers.

Retiring R.M.A. directors are LeRoy Holt, Cecil Self, Bill Kelley, Harmon Thompson, Cecil Self and Seaborn Teague.

Commenting statistically on the size of Texas, Dr. McKay observed that "Texas is 212 times as large as Rhode Island, 132 times the size of Delaware, nine times as large as Indiana or Ireland, six times as large as Pennsylvania, and 5 1/2 times as large as New York. If Texas were as densely populated as New York State, we would have more than 100 million people in Texas," he pointed out.

The historian humorously pointed out that the King Ranch, near Kingsville, Tex., is larger than the entire state of Delaware.

Mrs. Lee Green, longtime R.M.A. secretary, spoke briefly, pointing out that the Association has had a very active year, enjoys a growing membership, better office equipment, and active reporting.

She urged all Association members to cooperate wholeheartedly with the R.M.A. office in an effort to avert credit losses wherever possible.

Dinner music was provided by Mrs. L. B. Hagerman. The turkey dinner was served by Mesdames Ben Mansker and H. H. Edmondson. Cliff Cox served as master of ceremonies.

Mr. and Mrs. Arvel Kitten, Steven and Bruce, of San Antonio are leaving this week end after spending a two weeks vacation with Mr. Kitten's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Kitten. During their stay Mr. and Mrs. Arvel Kitten and Steven made a trip to Colorado to visit Mr. and Mrs. Ed Miller and family at Trinidad, and to Nebraska to visit relatives there.

Mrs. W. R. Tomlinson of Temple is visiting her two daughters, Mrs. W. H. Hoffman and Mrs. Claude Porter for about two weeks.

Week end guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Childress, Slaton, Rt. 2, were Mr. and Mrs. John R. Burks, Abilene; Mr. and Mrs. C. A. McNeese and sons, Brownfield; and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Childress of Carlisbad, N. M.

THIS and THAT FROM HERE and THERE

Drifting Sands—

The people of the United States were shocked beyond words last week when the body of little Bobby Greenlease was found in that shallow grave.

And they were more than shocked when they read that Mrs. Heady and Hall had murdered the little boy even before sending the $600,00 ransom note.

We've never had any desire to sit on a jury where a man or woman's life was at stake, but we confess that we'd be delighted to help send those two to the gas chamber. No punishment used in this country is adequate for that pair.

James used to tell us of some of the GI bull sessions by American prisoners-of-war in Germany in which the chief idea was to see who could dream up the worst form of torture for Hitler.

Some of those, so downright gruesome at times, would seem adequate for the kidnapers.

Just Between You, Me, And The Gatepost—

In a chance meeting with Pat Baber last week, a page of quips changed hands. You might not like the results but they came to rest right where they will end up in this column. They are appropriately termed JOLTS, and that may be just what this column needs.

Jolt No. 1, we love to have a man come right out and say what he thinks, as long as he agrees with us.

Next, it doesn't make much difference which side our bread is buttered on, because we eat both sides anyway.

A lot of people who never took a music lesson can certainly do a lot of fiddling around.

What makes some fellows confirmed bachelors is that they can't take "yes" for an answer.

Ever notice the man who drinks now and then usually drinks more now than he did then.

Pen Feathers—

I was shown a sales slip by L. A. Bryson for a case of eggs the other day dated 1932 covering a sale to the Farmers Produce Company. A good comparison between these times and those occurred to me when I noted it was for $2.25, or seven and a half cents per dozen. 1932 was in the heart of the depression and eggs got as low as five cents per dozen, or $1.50 per case, I am told. This week's financial report lists the dollar worth 52 cents as compared with the 1939 dollar. Even so, with the dollar at half value and eggs at their present price, you can buy approximately three times as many for the money as you could in 1932. Or, is that the way to figure it? I was never very good at economic problems anyway.

—The Hamilton Herald-News

Popvalve—

Now that the hunting season is on, we are reminded of a yarn about a big game hunted in Africa who was on his way back to camp one night when an enormous lion walked out of the jungle not 20 feet away. As the lion was about to spring, the hunter fired his last cartridge and missed.

The lion sprang too far and landed 15 feet beyond the hunter, who then ran for camp and made it safely.

The next day the hunter went back of the camp to practice a little shooting at close range. He heard a strange noise in the brush and investigated. It was the lion

POSTAL TAKE IS AHEAD OF LAST YEAR

Slaton postal receipts for the first 10 months of 1953 amount to $25,815.44, according to figures released this week by Postmaster T. E. McClanahan.

That's $1,389.74 more than the amount of postal receipts recorded during the first 10 months of last year.

October receipts here, however, show a drop from last year. Postal business in October, 1952, amounted to $3,337.52, and in October of this year the postal take was $3,130.61. In only two other months this year (April and September) have receipts failed to show a gain over the comparable month of last year.

The comparison follows:

Month	1952	1953
Jan.	$ 2,747.65	$ 3,110.46
Feb.	2,311.62	2,513.97
March	2,070.61	2,784.20
April	2,924.50	2,677.26
May	2,502.93	2,764.08
June	1,833.45	1,902.91
July	2,038.11	2,497.16
Aug.	2,241.44	2,298.71
Sept.	2,417.87	2,136.08
Oct.	3,337.52	3,130.61
Totals	$24,425.70	$25,815.44

Postal receipts are normally considered a fairly reliable index to a city's business condition.

For the entire year of 1952, postal receipts here totaled $32,494.40, of which nearly $6,000 was recorded in December.

Posey Items

R. L. Bogd

Mr. and Mrs. William Kemplen of San Antonio have had as recent guests Mr. and Mrs. John Kurtz of Mulvane, Kansas, Mrs. Julius Stahl, Fabian Stahl and Mrs. Joe Moeller of Posey.

Howard Carlson who lives a few miles west of Posey is in possession of an old Almanac, printed in 1870 which tells of a traveler on the Plains almost 100 years ago.

Earl Foerster has drilled a well for irrigation which is said to have a four inch pipe flow.

Pvt. Edward Maeker is now stationed in New Jersey.

Clifford Kitchens has been on a hunting trip in Colorado.

Mr. and Mrs. John Fullingim of Petersburg visited with Katherine Boyd Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. MacGowan had as a week end visitor, Mr. MacGowan's brother of Dallas.

Several members of the Cloninger family held a reunion Sunday at the community center. Those present with their families were Mrs. Louie Melcher of Slaton, Mrs. Alexander of Breckendridge, Mrs. James of Plainview, Jaynes Cloninger of Amarillo, Mrs. Klattenhoff of Midway, and Mrs. W. W. Gentry of Posey. There was also a sister from Detroit, Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Halfmann and children of Rowena were week end guests in the home of Mrs. Halfmann's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Gully.

Slaton has one resident who lives right in the middle of town and really knows what goes on in Slaton. "I hear it all," he says, and he takes a genuine interest in Slaton, its people, and its progress. He is Ed McKinney, a widower for eleven years, who has a room on the second floor of the city hall where he is custodian.

Ed McKinney has lived in Slaton 24 years and on the Plains 29 years. He came here from Rockdale, Texas. During his 24 years here he has worked at a number of jobs, including six years with Santa Fe. He has been custodian at the city hall for the past nine years, and Mr. Mac, who will be 70 in December, says it's a good job for an "old man" who couldn't get out and do hard labor. Mr. McKinney does a lot of hard labor in connection with his job in spite of what he says. The city hall has 13 rooms and 4 rest rooms and he also has charge of the grounds and always helps with the birthday and Christmas celebrations.

McKinney enjoys the extra work connected with the celebrations. He is, in fact, happiest when he has a lot of work to do. And that is why he has no thought of retiring. "What would I do, sit by myself and do nothing?" he asks. He smiled with a negative shake of his head at the suggestion he might some day be a member of the oldtimers spit and whittle group that meets each day on the city hall lawn. That is not for him, he says with conviction.

McKinney owns four small houses in Slaton. He has one daughter, Esther, who is Mrs. William Stewart, three grandchildren, Doyle Dean, Jim Ed and Eva Nell, Mrs. Stanley Hindman, and three great-grandchildren.

Mr. Mac considers mowing the lawn with the power lawn mower the hardest part of his job. He says no changes have been made in the building in the 9 years he worked there, and no remodeling or improvements except repainting.

McKinney, who considers the people who work in the city hall offices his good buddies, has seen many changes in one office, only a few in others, and is considered a newcomer by a few people who worked in offices at the city hall for many years before Mr. McKinney arrived on the scene.

RMA Secretary Mrs. Lee Green, and City Secretary J. J. Maxey have been there the full time, and so has Grady Elder, whose job was split when Forrest Davis became water superintendent and Elder became outside superintendent only, with charge of streets, alleys, garbage.

Slaton has had only two mayors in the past nine years. L. B. Wootton had been appointed to fill out Teague's term and was elected at the next election and held the office until O. N. Alcorn was elected at the last city election. E. A. Gentry is the second Chief of Police to hold office since McKinney went to work at the city hall. Ward was Chief at the time he was hired.

The office that has had most changes in personnel is that of secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce. Three former managers have died in the past nine years, Briggs Robertson while he held office and Joe Bob Stevens and P. G. Meading after they had left the office. Others who have served in that capacity during McKinney's time are Haywood Basinger, Max Arrants, Connie Strickland, and the present secretary-manager, Mrs. R. D. Bisbee.

The other office at the city hall, that of Justice of the Peace, has seen one change. Horace Smith was replaced by J. B. Wells, Sr., about four years ago.

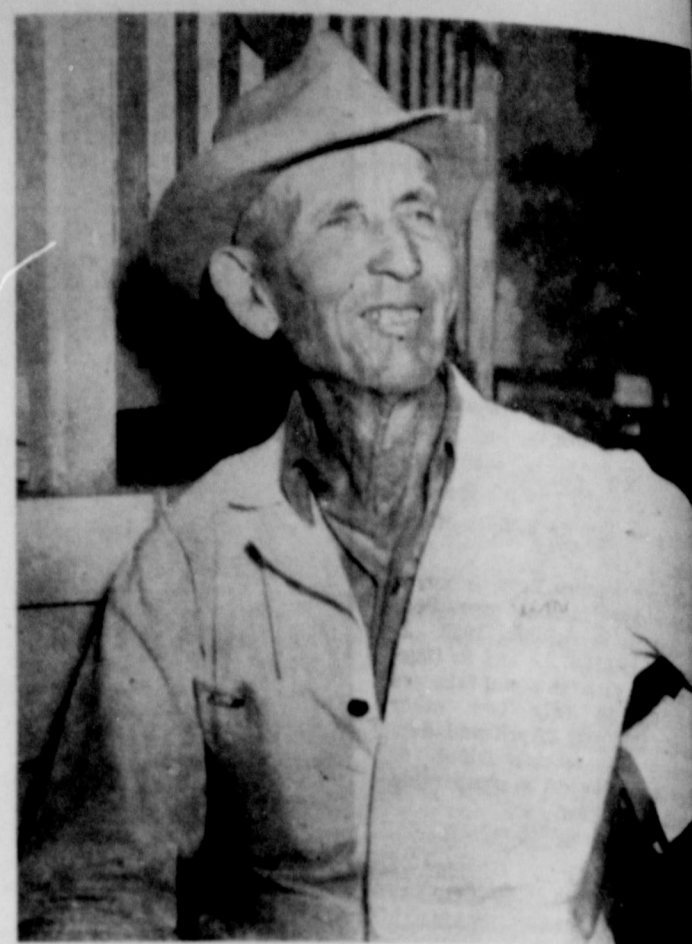

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Davis Friday through Sunday were Mr. Davis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Davis and Ray of Littlefield.

Miss Betty Enos left Thursday of last week by plane for Bridgeport, Washington, after spending ten days with her grandmother, Mrs. J. R. McAtee.

Mrs. Louis Mosser and Mrs. Gus Seel left Monday by train for Amarillo, where they attended the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine, a three day meeting held in that city. They planned to return Thursday or Friday. Mrs. Mosser visited with her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Mosser and children, and Mrs. Seel visited with Dr. and Mrs. Jerry Johnson, former Slaton residents.

The weather holds a direct bearing on the future price outlook for beef cattle. With the exception of seasonal ups and downs, the markets should level off and prices become more stabilized unless the drought conditions and other weather factors force marketings.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Davis Sunday were Mrs. Davis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hutson, and her grandmother, Mrs. M. L. Brock, of Littlefield.

ED MCKINNEY—custodian at city hall. That safety pin on his pocket is not just a decoration; it serves a purpose.

Total Population Includes Greater Percentage Of People 65 And Over

While the total population of the United States has doubled since 1900, the number of persons 65 years old and over has quadrupled so that today older people make up eight per cent of the total population.

Home Management Specialists for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service says recent reports from legislative committees indicates the long-run declines in the mortality rates and in the birth rates, as well as in immigration, have been important causes of the increasing proportion of older people in the population.

Out of every 10 persons 65 and over, four are under 70 and seven are under 75. The larger majority of older people are urban residents, but 14 per cent of them live on rural farms. More than half of the older people are women.

Sixty-nine per cent of these older people live in their own households, 25 per cent live in households not their own, and only six per cent live in institutions, rooming houses or motels. Forty-four per cent are married and living with their own spouse in their own household.

As to the income and assets of the 13 million older persons, 31 per cent were earners or wives of earners; 38 per cent received payments under social insurance and related programs such as Old-Age and Survivors Insurance, railroad retirement, veterans' compensation and pension program; and 20 per cent received Old-Age Assistance, according to recent estimates by the Social Security Administration. About eight per cent of them received income from more than one of these sources.

No information was available on sources of income of about 20 per cent of this age group. For every 10 employed, six were wage and salary workers, two were farm operators, and two operated non-farm businesses, indicating that self-employment was much more common among employed older persons than among the working population as a whole.

Over a quarter of the families headed by older people had incomes below $1,000 in 1951 and half of them had incomes below

$2,000, according to the Census Bureau. The Bureau of Labor Statistics estimated that it cost an older couple with a retired husband about $1,200 exclusive of housing, or $1,600-$1,900 including rent, to maintain a level of living in large cities that can be considered modest but adequate.

FRIENDLY GOBLINS

A group of small Halloween trick or treaters knocked at Grandmother Mattie White's door Saturday night. She answered the door on crutches and had to tell them she had forgotten Halloween and had nothing for them. The little goblins replied, "We will not play tricks on you. You're crippled; we don't want anyone to play tricks on you." For insurance against any other tricksters who might call, the children left Mrs. White the candy they had collected at previous stops so she would have something for the next group.

TRAPPED! ONE SPOOK

B. W. West, who lives just out of the city limits on the Post Highway caught him a spook on Halloween night. It seems that several of the trick or treaters called at his place and after they had been duly treated departed, that is, all but one. A little bit of a spooker was caught in the entrance to the front door of the house which is constructed with an outer door and an inner door. It didn't take him long however before he let his predicament be known. B. W. said he thought he had really caught a live spook from the amount of yelling and hollering that took place.

LEAVING FOR SERVICE in the Marine Corps three years ago are left to right: Joe Tucker, Bobby Cook, Alton Kenney, Mac Hudgins, Jerry Lovelady and Tip Culver.

THREE YEARS LATER, Alton Kenney, Joe Tucker, Mac Hudgins, Tip Culver, Bobby Cook and Jerry Lovelady at a reunion party following their discharge from the Marine Corps.

Slaton Men Return To Civilian Life After Three Years In Marine Corps

A reunion party was held Oct. 22 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Kenney, for six young men of Slaton who enlisted in the Marine Corps in a group, served three years, and returned home with none of them even having been wounded. They believe they have set a record for group enlistments of this type. Alton Kenney met a Marine in Korea who was one of eight in a group enlistment and the only one surviving.

The men, Alton Kenney, Mac Hudgins, Joe Tucker, Tip Culver, Jerry Lovelady, and Bobby Cook, had their boot training at San Diego. Alton Kenney went overseas in September of last year and spent over a year in Korea. Bobby Cook went to Korea in January of this year. Joe Tucker made two overseas tours, the first a good will tour to the Mediterranean; the second to the Caribbean and Panama for two months of maneuvers and some stops at liberty ports. Just prior to their discharge, Tip Culver and Jerry Lovelady were stationed in California, and Mac Hudgins at Quantico, Virginia. The men held the ranks of Sergeant and Staff Sergeant at the time of their discharge. The men are all working now.

Tip Culver and Joe Tucker as telegraphers at Santa Fe; Bobby Cook and Mac Hudgins with Bell Telephone Co. in Lubbock; Alton Kenney, O. D. Kenney Auto Parts and Jerry Lovelady as assistant manager at Piggly Wiggly.

Guests at the reunion party were Alton Kenney, Mr. and Mrs. Mac Hudgins, Joe Tucker, Tip Culver, Jerry Lovelady, Bobby Cook, Davy Lee Kenney and Patsy Hickman, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Kenney and Diane.

After supper movies and still pictures were made and a recording was made with each man giving a brief sketch of his life in service.

AUSTIN, Tex.—Plotting against the Texas conservative Democrats was carried on when the state Young Democratic clubs were reactivated at a San Antonio meeting.

As far as the official state Democratic organization is concerned, the San Antonio gathering had no official status.

But the group went ahead anyhow, bent on furthering the interests of the loyal Democratic group, as opposed to the conservatives who strung along with Governor Allan Shivers and President Eisenhower last year.

A speaker at San Antonio was Ralph Yarborough of Austin, who ran against Shivers last year and who is expected to be a candidate for governor again in 1954.

Yarborough will get the loyal-liberal Democratic support—plus, perhaps, aid and comfort from a large number of teachers who are not happy with the way their salary increase proposals have been handled.

Yarborough has stated publicly that he favors more money for the teachers.

Shivers let it be known, meanwhile, that he is ready to serve a gain as leader for the conservative Democrats if they want him to function in that capacity.

Whether or not he will run for a third term as governor is a matter of conjecture, but he has said privately that he does not intend to oppose Lyndon B. Johnson in his race for the U. S. Senate.

That Johnson will have competition, however, is sure.

In the first place, the Republicans have guaranteed that an opponent for Johnson will be in the running.

In the second place, there is another movement afoot to put a Democrat in the race against him. This project is coming along smoothly, and the likelihood is that an announcement will be made before you hear Santa Claus' sleighbells.

There is a possibility that the anti-Johnson Democrats and the Texas Republicans will get together on their choice of a candidate.

There was a political flavor to the pleadings of Texas cattlemen and those of other states for price supports.

A caravan of livestock people went to Washington — and got nothing.

Each delegate thereupon vowed to go home and take up the problem with his senator and congressman.

The Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association is opposed to beef price supports.

In favor of supports is the United Livestock Producers Association of Dalhart.

John C. White, Texas commissioner of agriculture who stuck with Adlai Stevenson last time, is pecking away at the Eisenhower administration in general and Secretary of Agriculture Benson in particular.

In White's opinion, the Eisenhower administration is undermining the three keystones of American farm policy—rural electrification, soil conservation, and 90 per cent of parity.

Opposition to support prices, said White in a speech at Giddings, is based on "calculated, deliberate untruth."

Phillip B. Gilliam, judge of a famed juvenile court at Denver, said in a speech here that America may fall beneath a tide of juvenile delinquency.

"Increasing delinquency is a greater threat to security than is Communism," the judge declared, "and possibly greater than the atom bomb. There is great danger that the nation could fall from within."

These remarks were made at a meeting of Texas judges.

Annexation laws of the state will be studied by the Texas Legislative Council.

"Annexation has become a game of chess between the big cities and the small," said Representative Tom King of Dallas, member of the committee which will direct the study.

Big cities, King asserted, have taken in territory without the consent of residents therein, and without a promise of city services.

To protect themselves, small cities have taken in large areas, including farms and ranches, the legislator said.

Labor constitutes "the greatest pressure group the world has ever seen" and wants to run the government of this country, Dr. Leo Wolman of Columbia University said at a personnel and management conference here.

Labor and farm pressure is making the government nervous, the speaker said, "and a nervous government won't govern well."

FEEDING FOR MORE EGGS

The average sized hen consumes about 64 pounds of feed per year just to maintain her body and about 9/100 of a pound of feed to produce one egg. Thus hens laying 250 eggs per year will consume an average total of 86.5 pounds of feed (mash and scratch), or 4.15 pounds of feed for each dozen eggs. Now compare these figures with the consumption of a hen that lays only 100 eggs per year. She will consume a total of 73 pounds of feed, but this amounts to 8.8 pounds of feed per dozen eggs—or 4.65 pounds more than required by 250-egg hens. This clearly shows the profit-value of high producing hens that are fed properly. USE AYERS SUPREME 20% PROTEIN EGG MASH.

Fall Fertilization

If you expect to achieve maximum efficiency in the use of fertilizers for these 1954 crops, then you need to begin your fertilizer programs this fall.

The trend now is towards working the fertilizers into the soil during the fall season, after harvesting has been completed. But even if you don't follow this practice, now is the time to plan your fertilizer needs and locate your supplies for next year.

There are several reasons why fall applications are becoming more popular. They are:

- (1) A better distribution of labor may be attained. Working in the fertilizers during the "slack season" after harvest will lighten the load of farm work next spring.
- (2) Undesirable compaction of the soil may be kept to a minimum. Fields which remain fallow and unworked over an extended time begin to pack, especially if no cover crops are introduced.
- (3) Spring work may be accomplished in a more orderly fashion. Your planting season can be organized with greater efficiency if you don't have to plan for two separate operations of seeding and fertilizing.

(4) Conservation of organic matter may be enhanced. It is a scientific fact that the bacteria necessary for good plant growth is preserved by the presence of fertilizer elements, particularly nitrogen, in the soil.

(5) Virtually all danger of interference of fertilizers with seed germination can be eliminated. Some crops are apt to be depressed by strong concentrations of very soluble nitrogen and potassium elements in fertilizers. This is particularly true when fertilizing and seeding operations are combined or when they take place at close time intervals.

(6) Lastly, a soil fertility "insurance policy" is provided. If fertilization is put off until spring, you may be caught by rains which make planting so late that you haven't time to fertilize before hand.

Therefore, it may be a wise idea to make your purchase in the fall and put the fertilizer in the soil. Then you won't have to worry about storing it in buildings and can rest assured that your soil fertility for 1954 is well insured.

Here's What The Lawyers Say About Who Has The Right At Intersections

Texas laws regulating traffic are quite simple, yet they are misunderstood by many people. This is one factor which places Texas right at the top in number of traffic deaths. Possibly the most mystifying of all traffic rules to the average driver are those relating to "Right of Way" at an intersection.

In trying to understand the laws regulating intersecting traffic, it is best to start off with the premise that all streets are of equal dignity, legally speaking. Traffic signs and signals may vary this rule somewhat, but when in doubt it is safest to assume that all drivers crossing your path have a claim to the right of way equal to your own.

Ordinarily Favored

Obviously, however, in many cases one driver or the other will be legally entitled to the right of way. When it becomes necessary to determine right of way in a particular situation, the driver who reaches the intersection first, or who is going to get there first, is ordinarily favored.

But when two automobiles are an equal distance from the intersection, that one approaching from the other driver's right normally has the right of way.

Some intersections are known as "courtesy corner," having a stop sign or a flashing red signal facing each direction of approach. The first driver reaching the corner and coming to a complete stop will normally have the right of way over vehicles not already in the intersection. However, don't depend too much on the other fellow's courtesy, and be sure to keep a "proper look-out" and your car under "proper control," as explained in a preceding column.

CHICK CHATS
Presented By Dr. Salisbury's Laboratories
FOWL CHOLERA IS A DANGER
What's the story when you enter the laying house in the morning and find several hens dead on the roost? They didn't appear to be sick the day before, yet they are very dead now.

There are a few disease conditions which can cause sudden death, but none is commoner at this time of year than acute fowl cholera. Cholera is a septicemic, or blood-poisoning, disease, and this usually means a rapid decline when the bloodstream is invaded by the cholera organisms.

Early Treatment

With acute fowl cholera, early diagnosis and treatment is essential. The dead birds should be examined promptly. If you "post" them, look at the liver; a cholera-affected liver is streaked or light in color over-all. It is usually brittle, and there are many tiny hemorrhages or white, dead specks on its surface. The breast muscles and the heart are dark, and the blood is dark and clots quickly. A very foul odor accompanies cholera. An examination of the blood through a microscope will confirm a diagnosis of cholera.

The treatment should be applied promptly to prevent further losses. Sulfaguanaxime is recognized as an aid in reducing death loss from acute cholera. It may be given in the water (sodium form) or the feed, but the water method is preferred because of the better results with sick birds.

Sanitation

Fowl cholera spreads through the feces and through nasal discharges. Soil, feed, and water become contaminated. Thus, upon outbreak, the birds should be moved to clean ground or a clean house, if available. Daily disinfecting will be helpful in keeping down contamination. Remove dead or dying birds promptly.

Sanitation is important in preventing cholera. A flock should not be put on ground or in a house where cholera has occurred recently. Also, they should not be placed with birds which have had the disease, nor should any birds be introduced to the flock without an adequate quarantine period. Practice sound sanitation constantly, permitting no offal on the premises. Disinfect feeders and waterers regularly.

through street and another street having a stop sign, a driver approaching the stop sign and coming to a full stop is ordinarily said to have the right of way over vehicles approaching on the through street but not already in the intersection.

However, this last rule must be qualified by saying that you should not proceed, cross or turn onto the through street until you can do so without interfering with oncoming traffic. In other words, if an approaching car will arrive within the intersection before you are completely clear, wait just a little longer. The same rules apply to entering a highway from a side road containing a stop sign.

Wait Your Turn

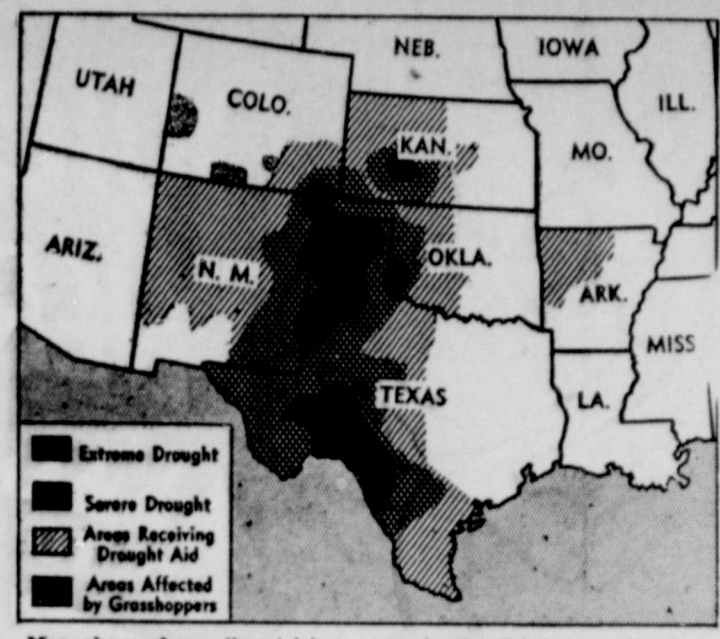

Many drivers violate the rules of right of way covering left-hand turns at intersections. When turning left, you should always be on the inside (or center) lane, displaying the proper hand signal. You must allow all cars coming from the opposite direction, already in the intersection, to pass through before completing your turn. Even when the intersection is cleared, do not proceed unless other oncoming traffic is far enough away to be able to see your signal and slow down to allow you to turn with safety to all concerned.

Stay in the inside lane until your left-hand turn is entirely completed, and only then move gradually over the right-hand lane if you wish. When turning right, stay in the right-hand lane at all times. Do not swing wide into the center lane, as to do so is unnecessary unlawful and dangerous.

Many detailed rules and suggestions for safe driving are included in the official "Texas Driving Handbook" which is available to any person requesting same from the Texas Department of Public Safety, Drivers License Division, Austin, Texas.

ONE BLANKET PLENTY SINCE I HOOK UP WITH REDDY!

In the old days, it took three or four blankets to keep the Chief warm when the wintry winds began to blow across the reservation. But, now that he's "wired for winter", with one electric blanket, he finds that one does the job—even better than a big pile of old-fashioned blankets did.

You, too, can enjoy complete winter-time sleeping comfort with one blanket—electric, of course. And don't forget, they come with dual controls, so that each sleeper can have the comfort setting desired.

SLATON TIGERS—

three aerial attempts intercepted, two of which backfired for Antelope tallies. Recovery of three Bengal fumbles also aided the Antelope cause considerably.

The Antelopes took the opening kickoff and marched 50 yards to score in 10 plays, with Halback Tommy Malouf and Fullback Darrel "Hobo" Bruton cracking off consistent gains through a leaky Tiger line. Bruton bulled over from one yard out for the tally, and Darrell Norman's placement attempt was high enough but to the left.

Late in the second period, the Antelopes added their second tally when Graham flipped a perfect 25-yard pass to his left end, Nolan Williams, who had maneuvered deep behind all Tiger defenders. Norman's PAT boot gave the Antelopes a 13-0 lead.

Tigers Tally

They held it until late in the second quarter when Quarterback Jerry Reynolds climaxed a 62-yard sustained drive by pushing over from one yard out. A 28-yard pass from Reynolds to Joe Sparkman had set up the scoring opportunity. Ronald Smith booted the extra point and the half ended less than two minutes later with Post owning a 13-7 lead.

Joe Sparkman evened it up late in the third period when he picked up a bouncing punt from the toe of Bruton at the Tiger 36, cut away to the left, and raced 62 yards down the sideline behind good interference to score. Smith's PAT try was too low, and the scoreboard read 13-13 as the third period closed.

Then the roof fell in on the Tigers.

Less than a minute deep in the fourth period, Graham shot a short pass over the line to Williams, who gathered it in at the Tiger 26 and scooted across the double stripe. Norman's unsuccessful placement attempt left Post's margin at 19-13.

Pennell Romps

They jumped that lead to 26-13 less than two minutes later when Novis Pennell, a defensive halfback, snared a Reynolds pass intended for Harold Trout in the left flat and skittered 29 yards untouched for Post's fourth score. Norman converted.

After the Antelopes had taken possession at their own 16 on a pass interception by Homer Cato, Graham handed off to Malouf on the first play from scrimmage, and the little halfback bolted 84 yards to score, outdistancing a trio of Tiger pursuers. Norman's successful conversion made the score 33-13.

The Tigers narrowed the gap to 33-20 nine minutes deep in the final period when Fullback Chester Fondy pulled in a screen pass from Reynolds at the Post 41 and shook off defenders right and left in bulling his way to paydirt. Reynolds converted.

Another Tiger aerial backfired for an Antelope score with less than a minute remaining in the game when Charles Chandler, Antelope halfback, speared a Sparkman pass intended for Darrell Wiley and wheeled it back 20 yards untouched for the final Antelope score. Norman again converted to climax an electrifying 12 minutes of football which saw 34 points scored, 27 of them by Post.

It was the first win against two defeats for the fast-improving Antelopes, and was the third setback against no wins for the luckless Tigers.

Do you know that more than 25,000,000 poppies made by disabled veterans are sold on the streets under supervision of the American Legion Auxiliary, by approximately 125,000 volunteer workers who receive no compensation?

Dairymen are advised to get ready for winter. An adequate supply of roughage, if not available on the farm, should be purchased and stored. Two tons of hay or one ton of hay and three of silage should be stored for each cow in the herd. Good hay racks and feed troughs will save feed.

Art Club Has Guest Meet

Slaton Club House was scene of the Slaton Art Club guest day meeting Wednesday, October 28, with forty members and guests present.

Guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. J. L. Mayhew, and then by Mrs. Arthur Dennis to the registration table, where they signed an artist's palette. The table was decorated with pyracantha and a dark vase of colored shells.

Mrs. J. R. McAtee poured coffee from a silver service at a table laid with a dark green satin cloth and centered with pyracantha in a straw basket. Crystal plates and cups were used. Coffee, pinwheel cookies and nuts were served. Napkins were lettered in green, "Slaton Art Club".

Mrs. Harvey Tunnell introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Charles Whitacre of Lubbock, who showed 100 of the 900 slides she made during a recent trip around the world. The slides, all in beautiful color, were made doubly interesting by the commentary of Mrs. Whitacre, a history major, who would tell just when and by whom a castle was built, who lived there, what war it was partially destroyed and by whom, etc.

Mrs. Whitacre chose slides beginning with the docking of the Queen Mary at England. She showed cathedrals, castles and cottages, chestnut trees and rhododendron in bloom, bridges, towers, and places of historical interest, as well as scenes of life in the English countryside. The English homes, even the thatched cottages, where large two-story buildings, but even the best homes do not have closets and have outside plumbing.

Next the Art Club members and guests viewed the white cliffs of Dover, Belgium, the windmills of Flanders, ancient Gothic buildings, flower stalls, French villages, Paris, the Arch of Triumph built by Napoleon, the Garve of the Unknown Soldier, the Eiffel Tower, Notre Dame, Versailles, Switzerland, Lake Geneva with the Alps in the background, Ireland with its green downs, hedgerows, stone fences, Dublin, Scotland, Glasgow and the Clyde river, the shippards, Edinburgh, the mountain called "King Arthur's Seat."

The pictures brought out the beautiful colors of the towns in Europe. Each town has its own color, and all the buildings are of the same coloring. Some are in beautiful pastel shades, some slate grey with terra cota roofs, some drab, but the one color only is seen in the town.

Mrs. Whitacre showed pictures of icebergs taken on one of the Whitacres' ocean crossings, and also a few pictures taken in Colorado. The Colorado pictures showed Dan Thornton's home and ranch and the surrounding country, and were taken at the time of the year when the Aspens were turning from pale green to deep gold and fiery orange.

Mrs. J. D. Norris presented a gift to Mrs. Whitacre on behalf of the club. A painting, "A Rose," by Mrs. J. R. McAtee was on display.

Wise Folks: The treasury department announces that the average dollar bill lasts only nine months. NOT OURS, BROTHER.

• • • • •

Dollars go fast, now days, but not very far.

• • • • •

The dollar sign is the S that's been double crossed.

• • • • •

The dollar used to do pretty well by itself, but now days it has to have a partner.

• • • • •

Famous men get their heads on dollars, but most folks would rather get their hands on them.

• • • • •

Anyhow, a nickel is better than a dollar in one respect. It goes to church oftener.

And in that connection, it's a good idea for any of us to follow the nickel to church more.
