

THE BITER BIT

Everybody likes to see a designing man fall into his own trap all the more, perhaps, because it does not happen too often. This is a true tale of two speculators who bought a handsome old city apartment house. They made all the long-established tenants leave so that their successors could be charged double rent. But before they got the new lodgers in, they conceived the idea of making even more money by splitting the large apartments up into smaller ones. A real killing seemed certain.

Just then they found that they had overlooked something. A city ordinance requires the construction of new apartments to be accompanied by adequate parking space. Such space did not exist in that neighborhood. As a sequel, it was several months before the building could be filled again and then at lower rents.

The speculative owners have been shown a lesson which wiser business men know well: It is always better to be satisfied with a reasonable profit.

PROFESSORS IN CABINETS

In politics, Europeans utilize one source of talent which is not drawn upon often enough in the United States. This is the college professor. The new Italian premier, Antonio Segni, is a professor of law, yet that point has never been raised as a reason for not choosing him. Almost every German, French and Italian cabinet includes one or more professors and not infrequently one becomes premier. The same state of affairs holds true for the Netherlands, Belgium and the Scandinavian countries. Enough of these professors do well to make their selection for cabinet post a common practice.

In the United States the professor is still looked down upon, by those who do not know the profession well, as visionary and impractical. Three years ago "egghead" was a common taunt used by people of less education against those who had more.

With the increased technological and scientific dependence Americans are placing upon the university figure, this area might prove a rich source for cabinet and other public posts of responsibility and prestige.

A BRISK WALK, ANYONE?

The fellow who can devise a lazy way to become slim and trim will have an address on Easy Street. Americans are doing a lot of worrying about overweight, and they are willing to pay for advice—if it doesn't involve too much work.

But the chances of finding an easy remedy for those extra pounds are dwindling. It begins to look more and more as though there will have to be a little huffing and puffing for those who want to keep fit.

Not long ago, for example, three New York University doctors told the American Medical Association that lack of exercise makes such things as diabetes, backaches, heart trouble and various other ailments—not to mention plain, old-fashioned fatness—more likely. And in the July issue of The Atlantic an expert on obesity writes that exercise is necessary to keep the weight down.

"If we want to avoid obesity," says Dr. Jean Mayer of the Harvard School of Public Health, "We must either exercise more or feel hungry all our lives." In short, eat a bit less or do more pushups. Physical fitness is like learning: there's no royal road to take you there.

BOO BIRDS

Many sports writers and lay followers of baseball are disturbed by the common practice of booing hard-working players who happen to have an off day on the field. These players may before that day have won many games by their own efforts, but let them falter for an instant and they hear taunts from the stands.

Admittedly the practice is unfair, but it would be a mistake to make too much of it. The boosers often do not seriously mean what their cries indicate. They are out in the open air, having a good time, and part of the good time consists in telling the world that they are there. Often they grin as they boo.

"Boo birds," the name these hecklers have gained, are really part of life. Ordinarily the victim need not think that there is anything personal in their noises.

Santa Fe's New Credit Cards Go In Use Aug. 1

Imagine being able to step up to any Santa Fe Ticket Agent and buy a rail ticket to any city in the country without spending a single cent in cash.

It can be done after August 1, according to announcement made today by R. T. Anderson, Santa Fe Railway's General Passenger Traffic Manager at Chicago, provided the individual holds a Credit Card issued by Rail Travel Credit Agency.

While Santa Fe and 16 other roads have been members of the Agency since 1947, 26 additional Railroads have announced their cooperation in this plan designed to reduce the risk and inconvenience of carrying large amounts of cash.

No deposit or cash balance is necessary as Rail Travel Credit Agency simply clears the credit rating of applicants for its member roads which will handle billing directly with the card subscribers.

The Rail Travel Credit Card can be issued both to regular travelers on company business as well as to individuals for personal travel. The card will be honored in lieu of cash in ticket offices for rail transportation including sleeping and parlor car tickets, all-expense tours and for meals and refreshments aboard trains.

Cards will also be honored by the Fred Harvey organization in their hotels and restaurants for lodging, food and refreshments. Holders of Credit Card previous AUSTIN, Tex.—Bascom Giles' own story finally was told last week in the Veteran's Land Program furor.

In an expected, but unannounced move, the former land commissioner took the witness stand in his 98th District court trial. He is charged with stealing or aiding the stealing of $6,800 from the veterans program he administered.

Giles previously had been tight lipped to reporters and investigators. He pleaded his constitutional immunity against testifying in the Senate inquiry.

Firmly and emphatically, Giles denied he ever stole or helped anybody steal the $6,800.

He placed equal responsibility on the Governor and the Attorney General with himself for administering the program citing they were all members of the Land Board by constitution and by statute.

He denied there were any inaccuracies to his knowledge in board minutes as both the Governor and Attorney General have previously claimed.

He denied ever seeing in a hotel room the state's witness who claimed to be present at a hotel-room conversation in which Giles allegedly discussed making a $250,000 profit on a veteran land deal with Brady land dealer B. R. Sheffield.

State Auditors Report

State Auditor C. H. Cavness suggested last week that Texas use part of its oil and gas income from public lands for current school expenses.

Freeing this money, Cavness said, could ease the strain on the state's general fund, even possibly reduce taxes.

Royalties and lease payments from state lands now are deposited in permanent funds of the public schools and the University of Texas. Only income earned by investment of the funds is available for spending.

Under Cavness' plan only 27 1/2 per cent of royalties would go into permanent funds, now totaling more than a half billion dollars.

Copies of the proposal went to the governor and Legislature. Execution of the plan would require both a constitutional amendment and revision of statutes.

Criticism came promptly from University President Logan Wilson who compared the plan to "eating seed corn."

It conflicts, he said, with the present plan to increase University income by easing restrictions on investment of the permanent fund.

A constitutional amendment, approved by the recent Legislature and awaiting vote of the people, would allow University Officials to invest up to 50 per cent of the fund in corporate stocks. At present all investment must be in low-interest-bearing government bonds.

Highway Bids Taken

Low bids totaling $14,197,575 on road and bridge projects were tabulated by the State Highway Department last week.

Two major improvements—on US 80 east of Big Spring and on US 83 north of Brownsville—were included in the 402 miles of road work.

A contract was let to build a bridge in Dallas across the Trinity River. It will eventually connect with the Dallas-Fort Worth toll road.

Parr Documents Sought

Attorneys for George Parr have asked to inspect 89 checks and other documents the government will use in its income tax evasion case against the South Texas political boss.

Prosecuting attorneys protested, arguing that the defense was trying to find out what specific evidence the government would introduce.

Federal Judge Ben H. Rice Jr. took the motion under advisement. Trial is set for Sept. 6 in Austin.

Morrow Showdown Expected

Wright Morrow's party status was to be determined by the State Democratic Executive Committee in Austin on Tuesday.

Gov. Allan Shivers recently indicated he thought the Texas national committee should resign to promote party unity. Morrow has been unacceptable to national party leaders since his support of Eisenhower in 1952.

Committee members also were to lay plans for control of 1956 precinct, county and state conventions.

Opposing plans for convention control were made by the Loyalist wing of the party at an earlier meeting in San Antonio.

Oil Allowable Unchanged

Texas crude oil allowable for August will be on the same pattern as for July.

At a statewide proration hearing last week the Railroad Commission ordered the present 15-day production schedule continued.

Under that formula, permissive flow on July 16 was 3,028,324 barrels daily. Some August increase would result from allowable grants for new discoveries.

Segregation Ruling Studied

Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd last week withheld comment on an El Paso district judge's ruling that Texas school segregation laws are unconstitutional.

He would have to make a detailed study of the decision first, Shepperd said.

Judgment resulted from a Negro girl's suit for entrance to Texas Western College. University of Texas regents had two weeks previously voted to admit Negroes there.

Board of Regents Chairman Sealy said he thought the judge's ruling was moot. However, he said he believed any effort by Negro undergraduates to enroll immediately in the main University could and would be successfully resisted.

Integration Impact Felt

Desegregation has rubbed out growth plans for at least one Texas Negro College.

Prospects of competition with the University of Texas had that impact last week on Houston-Tillitson College in Austin.

"A first class small college" of 500 to 600 students, rather than an increase to 1,000 to 1,200 students, is the current goal, the president announced.

Crop Acreage Drops

Total acreage of Texas crops has dropped five per cent, or 1,200,000 acres, for last year, according to the US Department of Agriculture.

Allotment restrictions on wheat, cotton and rice plus abandonment of planted wheat acreage account for the decrease.

Partially offsetting this is the record sorghum acreage.

Patrol Extends Deadline

Deadline for highway patrol job applications has been extended from July 25 to Aug. 1.

One hundred new officers are to be hired by the patrol. Funds were provided by the last legislature by raising drivers license fees.

SHORT SNORTS—John Sealy Hospital at the University of Texas Medical Branch at Galveston will begin Sept. 1 charging $3 a day for indigent patients, $1.50 more per day for pay patients. Cause was laid to low legislative appropriations.

TEAGUE DRUG MONTHLY NEWS

A Message from Teague Drug "Your Pharmacist"

THE PRACTICE OF PHARMACY is daily becoming so complex, that the Colleges of Pharmacy have just decided that in the future, a Pharmacist will have to study for five years instead of the usual four.

ANY MEDICINE, whether it be a prescription, or one of the so called "Patent Medicines" can be potentially harmful if not properly taken.

ONLY A PHYSICIAN is learned enough to properly advise you what medicine to take.

ONLY A PHARMACIST is taught the complete knowledge necessary to compound medicines, and how to best preserve and protect medicines so that they are potent when you get them.

ACCORDING TO A MOST PROPER LAW it is not only a moral, but a required duty of every Pharmacist to make certain that any medicine you get from him is a safe medicine to take.

THAT IS WHY we must have a license to practice Pharmacy, and thoughtful people are always careful to get any medicine from a Pharmacist.

Wendell Services Set Today, Aug. 5

Allen Wendell, 2, of Slaton, collapsed on a train enroute to Philadelphia for a medical checkup and died shortly after reaching Chicago Tuesday, according to a report from the United Press in Chicago.

It was reported that the child was being taken to Children's Memorial Hospital by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Wendell, for examination. The child had undergone brain surgery in Philadelphia when four months old and was to return in about two years for examination. When the child developed a virus infection about three weeks ago, according to the report, the parents decided to take the child for treatment and the examination which was due.

The child became sick on the train shortly before the train reached Chicago. The parents wired ahead to Chicago requesting that a fire department rescue squad meet the train. The squad reportedly worked on Allen for 15 minutes without success and death followed soon after.

The body arrived in Lubbock by plane at 9:15 p.m. Wednesday and was transferred to Slaton by Williams Funeral Home.

Funeral services are pending.

Conner Funeral Here Thursday

Funeral services were scheduled for 2:30 p.m. Thursday for Frank Conner, 65, an employee for the Goodnight ranch for about 15 years.

Conner died at 9 p.m. Tuesday in a Pampa hospital.

Services were in the Church of Christ here in Slaton, and burial was in Englewood Cemetery under the direction of Williams Funeral Home.

The Rev. W. M. McFarland, minister of the Gordon Church of Christ, officiated, and was assisted by the Rev. M. E. Blake of Slaton.

Conner is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Joe Slater, Pampa; Mrs. J. O. Reed of Wilson, and Mrs. W. Ray Cooper of Pampa; two brothers, S. D. of Lubbock and Bobo of Slaton; six sisters, including Mrs. C. T. Trammel of Longview, Mrs. Walter Dennis of Lamesa, Mrs. W. B. Smith of Corvallis, Ore., and Mrs. D. Pounds of Livingston, Calif.; and ten grandchildren.

During the Civil War the Confederate Army used Texas Longhorn Cavern, near Burnet, as an arsenal to manufacture and store gunpowder. The explosive was made from the guano of bats which inhabit the vast cave.

A U. S. Department of Foreign Affairs was established in 1789 and reconstituted in 1789.

Alligators are unable to swallow unless completely submerged.
