LUBBOCK DOCTOR'S NAME IS USED TO SELL GLASSES

A man representing himself to be Doctor Armistead, Lubbock optometrist has been circulating among the residents of the Flats selling glasses. Dr. Armistead called Optometrist Joe Belote of Slaton this week to say that a man was selling glasses in the Flats in Slaton, using the name of Dr. Armistead. According to reports received by the Slatonite, the people who ordered the glasses from this man, have received neither glasses, nor money back. The man has cards with Doctor Armistead printed on them, evidently a name he picked from the list of Optometrists in the Lubbock telephone directory. The man, according to information received at the Slatonite, has sold orders for at least two sets of glasses, possibly more. Since that time, four weeks have elapsed and still no glasses have come to the people who ordered them. The man is described as being about 70 years old, tall and stout. He is a white man and was driving a green 51 or 52 Buick, according to those ordering the glasses. Upon checking with the Retail Merchants Association, it was found that any door-to-door solicitor in Slaton must have permission and a license from a committee, composed of members of the Retail Merchants and the Chamber of Commerce. If any resident of Slaton is in doubt as to the salesman, who comes to the door or the product sold by that salesman, that resident should immediately contact either the Retail Merchants Association or the Slaton Chamber of Commerce.

Ice Cream Party Planned Tonight By Presbyterians

Slaton's City Commission passed an ordinance Monday night regulating domino parlors in the City of Slaton. The ordinance will regulate hours of operation and the licensing of such establishments within the city. The ordinance goes into effect on the date of publication, which is today, Aug. 26. The ordinance appears in the Slatonite. The commission voted to order a carload of 6 inch pipe, for use by the city water department to complete wells in the King Well Field. The commissioners voted to investigate area police departments, to see how two-way radio set-ups in those cities are being used. The commission felt that by seeing how other departments were using their two-way radios, they could decide how to make Slaton's hookup work to the best advantage. The two-way radio which Slaton has purchased will be used to maintain contact between the police patrol car and the city hall. In this way, the patrol car or help from city hall can be called for immediately, as the need arises for it.

YARDSTICK OF BOOKS

Simply reading books does not make a man cultured. But the number of books read by a people does provide a rough measure of its cultural level.

Americans do not measure up very well. Last year, for example, retail sales of fiction and non-fiction books in the United States totaled, in dollars, only $64,000,000 as against $100,000,000 in England. Yet England has less than a third of the population of this country.

These sales figures bear out the findings of a survey made a few years ago. It showed that only about 15 per cent of all Americans ever bought or read a book, contrasted with 50 per cent in England.

Americans, however, need not hang their heads in shame. We are a young people. We have been so occupied with developing a great nation and assuming its responsibilities that we have not taken time to read as many books as we might have.

There are encouraging signs of change. American book publishers are enjoying good business this summer in place of the usual doldrums. Sales the first half of the year were 10 to 15 per cent ahead of last year's. They are expected to be even better in the fall.

That is good news, both for publishers and for all who want to see this nation's cultural level rise in keeping with its world political stature.

STOUTER FOOTWORK

More Americans than ever before, adults as well as children, are riding bicycles these days. This ought to please the bike manufacturers. They like the idea. But they are groaning because too many of the two-wheelers are made in England, France, Germany and Austria.

American bicycle manufacturers say they are suffering great hardship because a low tariff permits a flood of foreign bikes to enter the country. They want a big boost in the tariff. The U. S. Tariff Commission, which turned down such a plea three years ago, now urged President Eisenhower to triple the duty in imported bikes.

The Tariff Commission however, is not infallible. The President, who strongly believes in free trades to strengthen international accord, may find good reasons to deny the request for more tariff protection.

Actually, the bicycle industry may not be doing too poorly. There is good reason to believe that what it needs is not more tariff protection but more vigorous effort to compete with the light-weight, three-speed, foreign bicycles that have become so popular.

Barron's, that old and respected financial weekly, put the matter flippantly but well:

"In an uphill stretch a push from Washington would undoubtedly be welcome. But the surest way to reach the top, as nobody should know better than the bike makers, is by leaning hard on the pedals."

HEROIC EATING

The United States farmers touring Russia probably don't think of themselves as heroes. Yet they ought to receive some sort of medal for heroic conduct at Soviet lunch and dinner tables.

Around three or four o'clock in the afternoon, after hours of trudging about on a collective farm, they are brought in for "lunch." They are confronted with a table of which farm girls have loaded such appetizers as caviar, river carp, salmon, potato salad, cold roast beef and ham.

Sounds fine? It's only a beginning. Comes the main course—chicken, veal cutlets, or maybe shashlik. Also of fried potatoes and salad. Also, to wash it down, vodka, champagne, beer, wines. And dessert—maybe a Ukrainian cherry delicacy called vareniki, with ice cream, piles of fruit and sugar buns.

Repeat day after day, not forgetting to drink plenty of toasts to Soviet-American freindship. It's no wonder the Americans are beginning to cry uncle, or Tovarich, or whatever it is you cry in Russia when you've had more than enough!

During the past year competition in the consumer market has become extremely keen. Credit has been used to promote sales with the result that credit outstanding has increased faster than income and is near peak levels.

A penny and a cannon ball, dropped from a high place, would reach the ground at the same time.

Samuel Butler wrote "The souls of women are so small, that some believe they've none at all."

The word "bonfire" was originally known as bonfire or fires of bone.

More than three quarters of a million acres are encompassed in Texas State and National parks.

Mr. and Mrs. James F. Merrill, Mike, Sharon and Gregg of Ft. Worth arrived Saturday to spend a week visiting Mr. Merrill's mother, Mrs. J. F. Merrill.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sears of Fort Lyon, Colo. will return home Monday after visiting for a week with their daughter Mrs. A. P. Hinkle, and family.

Visiting last week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Vickers were Mrs. Vickers' brother, L. B. Epps, Mrs. Epps, and sons, Lawrence and Kenneth, of Lake Jackson.

Consumer credit remains at record high levels—proving that thousands of people are going around spending money as if they had it.

The riding group will continue playing as often as they can get a group together, all winter long, he said. Anyone who is interested in playing polo is invited to contact Fondy of F. B. Riney of Slaton.

Calcium Needed If Cattle Ration Has No Legume

COLLEGE STATION.—If no
legumes are included in a fattening ration for cattle, there may be a deficiency of calcium in the feed.
This element is needed, according to U. D. Thompson, extension animal husbandman, because it contributes to the animal's bone development.

It is most important in rations
for young animals.

Calcium may be supplied in many forms, such as pulverized limestone, oystershell, or calcium carbonate. One ounce of calcium in the daily ration in any of these forms should make up for any calcium deficiency due to the absence of legumes, Thompson suggests.

Another valuable calcium supplement mentioned by the specialist is steamed bonemeal. This con-

FIVE SLATONITES AT TECH TO BE SUMMER GRADUATES

Editors Criticise Secret Sessions WTPA Meet

At a recent meeting of the West Texas Press Association at Colorado City, the organization approved the resolution criticising the practice in some counties of commissioners courts holding closed meetings on county business.

The resolution on closed door
meetings stated that "a number of West Texas newspapers have had difficulty in getting facts concerning action taken by some West Texas county commissioner's courts." Continued investigation, the resolution said, revealed "many discrepancies of which the public should be informed."

The resolution went on to say that, proof of poor judgement and disregard for public opinion and the wishes of the people is being shown by some county commissioners courts in West Texas."

West Texas newspapers were urged by the resolution "to make every effort to give complete coverage on all such matters."

Another resolution said that Texas and West Texas County
Judges and Commissioners Associations "have lobbied vigorously in the last legislature to defeat a precinct redistricting bill and have on other occasions brought pressure to bear on the will of the people."

The press association approved
a resolution stating that "officials entrusted with collection and disbursement of public funds owe it to the taxpayers to make a full and complete accounting of such monies."

The WTPA went on record as favoring constitutional amendment, which would allow residents of a county to call an election on the proposition of redrafting precinct lines.

There will be five students from Slaton among the more than 320 Texas Tech students scheduled to receive degrees at summer commencements Friday, Aug. 26, president E. N. Jones announced this week.

They are Edwin Henry Akins Jr., Marketing; Marsha Swope Porter,
Elementary Education; James Robert Burton, Chemistry; Sara Sexton Holloman, Elementary Education
and Roy J. Hansen, Accounting.

This year's exercises will be held on the Administration Building green, beginning at 7:15 p.m.

Seven doctoral degrees will be conferred, the largest number since Tech established the program in 1950, Dr. Jones said. In addition, the summer graduating class includes 114 candidates for the master's degree, and 201 for the bachelor's degree.

Commencement speaker will be the Honorable Waggoner Carr,
Lubbock member of the Texas
House of Representatives and a member of the Texas Tech class of 1940.

The Rev. Paul F. Heberger, pastor of St. Paul's Church of the Plains in Lubbock, will deliver the invocation with Father Edward Lyon's St. Elizabeth's Catholic Church, pronouncing the benediction.

Commencement music will be provided by the Tech vocal Quartet consisting of Mrs. Robert Gaston, soprano; Mrs. T. J. Lovett, contralto; Ira Schantz, tenor; and Eudell Spitzer, bass. The quartet will sing Rossini's "Hear Us, Lord"
from Stabat Mater. Mrs. S. H.
Lee, organist for St. John's Methodist Church of Lubbock, will play
the processional and recessional
music for the service.

The USDA's special livestock loan program has been given a two year extension. Applications for these loans may be filed at county offices of the Farmers Home Administration.

to "Old Man Snow," who keeps cool despite the 90-plus degrees sometimes recorded in Los Angeles, Calif. Snowman, sponsored

Rains Improve Crop Conditions

Light to fairly heavy rains greatly improved growing conditions for crops in many localities. Where cotton had been irrigated prior to the recent rains, plants grew rapidly. The rains, added to the irrigations, produced excessive vegetable growth with accompanying shed of some small squares. The cloudy weather, as normally expected, retarded fruit set. This condition should not be confused with insect damage.

Aphids were present in most fields throughout the area. Most infestations were light, although damaging populations were reported in some fields in Dawson, Floyd
Hale, Lubbock and Lynn counties.
The insects were found in heaviest infestation in fields which had earlier aphid control application of insecticides, and on cotton which had suffered earlier hail damage.

Fleahoppers continued to cause concern in some areas. While blowing rains reduced infestations,
the insects often increased rapidly in number from heavy hatching in the fields. Heaviest infestations were reported from Crosby, Floyd, Hale, Hockley and Lubbock counties.

Bollworms increased in numbers in many fields throughout the area, although damaging infestations were not general. Eggs and bollworms were found in sufficient numbers to warrant control in some fields in Crosby, Garza, Hale, Howard, Lubbock, Lynn, Mitchell
and Seury counties. In most cases bollworms were of different sizes, indicating a light hatch over a period of several days. Infestations were heaviest on older cotton.
Since most fields have reached a stage of growth and fruiting to be attractive to bollworms moths, all fields should be closely watched for eggs and small worms. The entire plant should be examined if eggs and small bollworms are not found on the terminal growth.
Bollworm moths may deposit eggs
on any part of the plant.

Lygus bugs were present in low infestations in most fields and in somewhat larger numbers in cotton near legumes. Cabbage loopers were reported in light infestations
in most fields, while grasshoppers damaged parts of some fields in Floyd County.

Information contained in the cotton insect situation release has been compiled from reports received from county agents, vocational agricultural teachers, personnel of the Texas A&M College System, various branches of the U. S. Department of Agricultural Commercial Cotton Inspectors,
chemical companies and others.

It is only at trees that bear good fruit that stones are thrown.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

After-Dinner Speaker Gets His "Deserts"

"Red" Thomas tells about a dinner party he and his Missus went to in Center City last week. He said it was a wonderful party—except for one guest who was a real "know-it-all," right from the start.

Whatever the subject, this fellow considered himself an "expert." Wasn't quiet about it, either. He told different people what automobile to buy, what books to read—even told some who they "just had" to vote for.

When it came time to leave, this fellow must've felt a pang of conscience. He turned to the hostess and said: "I suppose I was a bit outspoken tonight." Quickly she replied, "Of course not. No one could have out-spoken you."

From where I sit, it's all right to have opinions as long as you don't try to force them on neighbors. Take those who would deny me an occasional glass of beer simply because they prefer something else. They're welcome to their choice but shouldn't try to force me to be a "party" to it!

L. B. Kitten Owns And Operates "Mystery Farm"

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Kitten are the owners of last week's "Mystery Farm". The farm is located three miles west of Slaton on the Woodrow road.

The farm has been in operation since 1920, when it was first put under cultivation by the Kittens. According to Mr. Kitten, the farm was raw prairie land. The house and other buildings on the farm were also built in that year by the Kittens.

Drouth And Sand Storms

Asked by the interviewer if anything unusual had ever occurred on the farm, Mr. Kitten grinned, and said, "Nothing but the periodical drouths and sand storms."

Mrs. Kitten is the former Rose Reuss. She and Mr. Kitten were married in 1916, the year they came to Slaton.

When they first arrived in Slaton they farmed half a mile west and half mile south of the present farm.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Kitten were born in Ferdinand, Indiana and later moved to Lawrence, Nebraska.

Parents Of Six

The Kittens are the parents of six children. The children are: Norbert, Rusty, Arvel, Audrey, Arlene Shultz, and Jean Kveton.

Arvel lives in San Antonio; Arlene and her husband live in Ponca City, Okla.; and Jean and her husband live in Abernathy.

Norbert Kitten and his family live on a farm in the Slaton area, and Rusty and Audrey live in Lubbock.

Memberships

Mrs. Kitten is a member of the Catholic Daughters of America and both Mr. and Mrs. Kitten are members of St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Slaton. He is also a member of the Farm Bureau.

Kitten likes to spend his free time reading and watching television, and Mrs. Kitten's hobbies are cooking and reading.

Well Completed

The Kittens dry land farmed up until April of this year, when a three inch well was completed on the farm. Though the well won't irrigate the entire 310 acres in cultivation, Mr. Kitten says, the land it will irrigate could mean the difference between a small crop and no crop at all, in case of drouth.

Cotton and feed are the main crops on the farm.

The remaining acres of land on the farm are divided between a small pasture and the land the house is on. The Kittens also have a small vegetable garden and six head of cattle.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Perry spent the week end visiting in Dublin with Mr. and Mrs. Coy Perry. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Patterson and daughter, Peggy, Mrs. H. W. Cooper and Mrs. Patterson's mother, Mrs. Elsie Hickman, of Arlington visited with them Sunday. Mrs. Cooper is Mrs. Francis Perry's sister and Jack Patterson is her brother.

THE L. B. KITTEN FARM was last week's "Mystery Farm". The farm is located three miles west of Slaton on the Woodrow Road. The Kittens have farmed there since 1920.

Rotarians Hear District Governor Thursday, Aug. 25

Rotary Clubs in 92 counties and geographical regions throughout the world are united in an endeavor to promote international understanding, good will and peace. That was the message of Ridgion Edwards of Sweetwater, Texas, Governor of District 183 of Rotary International, in addressing the Rotary Club of Slaton Thursday, Aug. 25, following a conference with local Rotary officers and committee chairmen.

In addition to the activities of Rotary's 8,770 Clubs within their own communities to promote this objective, Mr. Edwards explained, Rotary International has spent more than $1,750,000 in recent years through its program of student fellowship, which enable outstanding college graduates to study for one year in countries other than their own, as ambassadors of good will. Since 1947, when this program was established, 709 Rotary Fellowships have been awarded to students on 57 countries. Gerre Hancock, Lubbock, Texas, was chosen as the Rotary Fellow from District 183 for the coming year and he will study at the University of Paris, Paris, France.

"With fellowship and service to others as its keynote, Rotary provides a common ground for more than 414,000 business and professional executives throughout the world, regardless of differing nationalities or political or religious beliefs," the Rotary Governor emphasized. "In addition to the promotion of international understanding," Mr. Edwards continued, "special emphasis is being placed by Rotary Clubs this year on activities of their own communities which will furnish leadership in youth programs, raise standards in business and professions, promote traffic safety, develop good citizenship and build rural-urban relationships."

Mrs. John Morris and children, Johnny and Michael, will leave Sunday to go to Ft. Worth, where they will visit with Mrs. Morris' parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Storey.

Robert Hall Davis, John Morris, Alex Webb and U. H. Mileur spent from Thursday until Sunday fishing on the Conejos river in Colorado.

Ever wonder what "Santa Fe" means?

Back in 1901, about 40 years after the Santa Fe Railway was founded, the ancient Indian Cross-within-a-Circle design was placed in a square and the assembly was adopted as the official trademark of the young railroad.

The words "Santa Fe" means Holy Faith. Today, that faith and vision in America's future have built the Santa Fe Railway System into a vital network of steel, linking the West, Southwest and East with fast, efficient transportation services. These rails serve your town; help it grow and prosper.

And, no matter what your shipping or travel problems may be, Santa Fe will solve them. Your local Santa Fe agent is right here in your town to help you.

You can depend on him, as you can depend on the vast system he represents.

Slaton Women Give Their Favorite Tested Recipes

PLANNING A MEAL can run into work, but with all the helpful books Mrs. Sherrill Boyd has around her, the big job will likely be choosing between the wonderful recipes.

Mrs. Sherrill Boyd, who recently moved here from Post, chose one of her husband's recipes, as she says he is the cook of the family. Although she doesn't mind cooking, it is necessary for her to use a recipe and go strictly by it. It seems her husband has a little more freedom in the kitchen.

Barbecue Sauce

1/2 cup worcestershire sauce
1/2 cup ketchup
1/2 cup tarragon vinegar
1/2 cup oleo
chili powder, to taste
onion, sliced as thin as possible
1 clove garlic, chopped

Method: Mix together all ingredients and bring to boil. Keep hot while in use. Mrs. Boyd says she uses this recipe on beef ribs and they really enjoy them. She takes her ribs from the freezer and sprinkles them liberally with meat tenderizer and lets them set about 30 minutes. Place a large piece of heavy foil on top of the grill in the broiler pan, place ribs on foil, pour half of the boiling sauce over them, put another piece of foil on top and seal edges. Cook in oven for about 1 hour at 450 degrees. Pour remaining sauce over the ribs, reheat, turn heat to 250 degrees and cook for 2 or 3 hours. The ribs are so tender, Mrs. Boyd says, that the meat can be cut with a fork.

Reared Near Post

Mrs. Boyd, who was Evelyn Babb before her marriage, was born and reared on a ranch near Post, and says her ancestry is definitely Texan as her father, John H. Babb, came to West Texas when he was seven years old and if he were living he would be 105 years old. She left Post when she was 15 to go to college and was gone for 20 years before moving back. She laughingly said that one generation grew up and married while she was gone.

Evelyn first attended Simmons University in Abilene (now Hardin-Simmons) but received her B.A. in English from the University of Kansas. After taking one course in journalism before graduating and "falling in love" with this subject she decided to go to Northwestern University where she received her M.A. in journalism.

Boys Met In Lubbock

The Boys met in Lubbock where she was working for the Lubbock Avalanche and were married on July 4, 1936. While living in Lubbock Mr. Boyd had the Caprock Engraving Co., but closed it when he went into War work. At the time, he had thought he would be accepted into the Navy but because of a change in age limit he was not accepted.

Mrs. Boyd worked for the Amarillo News Globe from 1939 until 1944 as a reporter and photographer. While there she had a radio program on KGNC called "Daily Woman's Chatter". When she thought her husband was going into service, she decided she did not want to be a war widow and applied for work with the Office of War Information. She went to Dallas to be interviewed and returned "just furious". They told her, upon learning her husband was a photographer, that they could not use her but certainly could her husband. After much maneuvering and a lapse of time they were both employed by this agency. Sherrill was sent to England and four months later she was sent to Italy.

Work In Italy

Her work in Italy was purely psychological warfare work in that she prepared photographs and wrote the captions. Their office processed all information sent back to the United States except for the war progress stories and also got as much information in the papers there as possible about the U. S.

One of her most interesting experiences was the night the films were flown into Rome showing Mussolini's body after he had been

COKE PARTY HONORS

Price, Linda and Ruthie, all of Brownsville and Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Housour of Lubbock. Mr. and Mrs. Ussey and children and Mrs. Massey returned to Slaton with Mrs. Ussey and Mrs. Massey's parents and visited until Wednesday, Aug. 17.

Junior GA's Meet At First Baptist To Elect Officers

Mrs. Gale Smallin, a new leader, met with them for the first time. The girls elected new officers.

Those attending were Sue Liles, Jen Bownds, Ann Basinger, Susan Lovelady, Areta Privett, Canzada Lee, Pam Stansell, Sharon Perdue and Patsy Pettigrew.

Blum Family Reunion Held Last Week In Mackenzie Park

Mackenzie Park was the scene of the Blum family reunion, held there daily on Aug. 16, 17, and 18. Seven of the eight Blum sisters were present for this annual reunion.

Those attending were Mrs. Patsy Lawson of Mineral Wells, Mrs. Callie Cash and sons, Wilburn and Milburn, Mr. and Mrs. Callen Cash, Bennie, Brenda, Callic Jean and Allen Roy all of Leveland; Mr. and Mrs. Hardin Reed, Beverly, Ronnie and Dan all of Sundown; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rains, Jerry and Jackie of Post.

Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Hoover of Miami, Texas, Mr. and Mrs. J. U. Van Norman of Ira and their daughter, Mrs. Harvey Hensley and Harvane Kay of Guthrie, Mrs. John Morris of Gray, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. Buel Morris, Wynette and Natacha of Stratford; Mrs. Louise Sampson of Los Alamos, N. M.

Mrs. Coye Palmerand, Mike and Brice of Pampa; and Mrs. W. W. Hampton, Sherman, Kay and Terry of Stinnett; Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Butler of Slaton; Mr. and Mrs. Billy Blum Butler and Billy of Seminole; Mrs. Shirley Butler, Glenda Sue and Dan of Cactus; Darwin and Boyd Duckett and Mr. and Mrs. James Vannoy of Lubbock; Mrs. Willie Crawford of Anson and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Jackson of Iowa Park. Visitors were Miss Elvyn Johnson of Lubbock and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Lyle and Leonard of Cactus.

People Wonderful

Evelyn says she found the people of Greece to be inquisitive, cultural minded and well educated. Every Greek has dreamed of coming to the U. S. and becoming rich. They are also a thoughtful people. To show this Mrs. Boyd said on March 2, when she came to her office, her desk was decorated with an American and a Texas flag, a large bouquet of flowers and a placard saying "Happy Independence Day to our Favorite Texan".

Six Year Old Son

She has had some wonderful experiences but the greatest has been her experience with their six year old son, Don. She says there is a great deal she and her husband do not know about rearing children but they believe if you give them hobbies and keep them interested they will be happier and better satisfied with their home. They are all working on Don's stamp collection and, whether right or wrong on their theory, they are enjoying the hobby themselves. A hobby she and her husband are both very interested in, of course, is photography.

Mr. Boyd is the consignee for Magnolia Petroleum Co., here in Slaton.

Pierre Devillers Speaks At Lions Club Luncheon

The importance of the car to American people is truly shown by Pierre Devillers, visiting from Lyon, France, at the luncheon of the Lions Club, Tuesday.

In France according to Pierre there is approximately one car for every 20 persons. As an example of the automobile in the American people, he mentioned going to Lubbock Country Club as a club. Pierre said, he is a golfer preparing to start on the spacious course. Even here, he said, they had little automobiles, the players to ride on as they went from hole to hole.

Asked by one of the Lions Club members about his impressions of Slaton, Pierre told the group, "Slaton you feel like you are in an old friend, while in Lyon the people are more formal."

Another thing that Pierre impressed him was the importance of women in the United States. "Women are very important in woman appears to be the chief."

In France, according to Pierre television is much more expensive than it is in the United States. Radio and television are government operated and owned and there are no commercials on the air.

In France, the cars are smaller than automobiles in the United States, but there is a very good reason for this, according to Pierre. Gasoline in France is around 10 cents a gallon, consequently a car is smaller and much more economical to run than our own.

According to Devillers, a car of 20 miles in France is a long one in comparison to the attitude of Texas drivers who think nothing of a trip of 300 miles for a day's outing.

Devillers was introduced to the club, Tuesday by Sherrill Bay Rotary Club president.

Visitors at the luncheon meeting Tuesday were: Sonny Curtis, Marcus Crumley, Jerry Holt and Bill Ball.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM Your State CAPITOL

AUSTIN, TEX.—Despite "go slow" warnings from top state officials, 28 or more Texas schools have announced plans for complete or partial racial integration.

Gov. Allan Shivers, in setting up a statewide advisory committee, cautioned against "hasty, ill-considered action." Earlier Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd had warned schools against "rushing headlong" into desegregation ahead of legislative action.

Though the Texas Education Agency makes no recommendations to schools, it is keeping tabs on locally-decided policies. Its file of newspaper clippings from over the state shows that about 36 schools have definite plans, either pro or con.

In numerous other districts studies are being made by bi-racial committees. Questionnaires are measuring sentiment in some areas.

Texas Citizens Councils, similar to an anti-integration organization in Mississippi, have sprung up in some East Texas areas. Dallas and Kilgore have councils pledged to "fight desegregation by every legal means."

Austin last week was the largest city with a high percentage of Negro students to plan integration this fall. It will begin in the top three grades which are 15 per cent Negro. A liberal transfer policy is expected to ease adjustment.

San Antonio, with 7.7 per cent Negro students, is the largest school system to plan immediate integration. All grades will be included here.

Other towns adopting immediate, across-the-board integration include Corpus Christi, Lubbock, San Angelo, El Paso, Crystal City, Carrizo Springs, LaFeria, Mission and Brownsville.

More popular is a partial desegregation policy, such as Austin's.

It begins usually on the high school level with a staggered schedule for lower grades.

Cities favoring this include San Marcos, Robstown, Bishop, Port Lavaca, Brownwood, Kerrville, Weslaco, Harlingen, Sinton, Amarillo, Kingsville, Friona, Rockport, Aransas Pass, Karnes City, Kenedy and Runge.

When it hears of a school planning to desegregate, the Education Agency writes local officials for a blueprint of the plan. These are made available to undecided school leaders who want to know how others are solving the problem.

Vaccine Shipment Expected
 Arrival of 50,838 shots of Salk polio vaccine was expected by the State Health Department this week.

This is part of Texas' allotment of 1,177,069 shots in addition to the vaccine given free to first and second grade school children.

Under the "volunteer control" plan adopted by the State Polio Vaccine Committee, 83 per cent will be allocated for commercial use, 17 per cent for public agencies.

This week's shipment was to come from the Wyeth Laboratories in Marietta, Pa. Meanwhile, Health Department figures showed polio on the increase. Forty-five new cases were reported during the past week, bringing the 1955 total to 939.

Of the victims 45 had received Salk vaccine.

Crop Prospects Improve
 August predictions for 1955 Texas farm production, though improved since early summer, fell below 1954 figures.

US Department of Agriculture forecasts showed a probable cotton crop of 3.9 million bales—one per cent lower than 1954.

But the prospective 278-pound yield per acre is the highest since 1866. Improved soil moisture, irrigation and new yield-increasing practices by growers are credited for the high figure.

Texas cotton acreage is nearly one million acres less than for 1954.

Widespread summer rains have upped the estimated wheat crop by more than two million bushels. In June the USDA forecast a total of 11,883,000 bushels; by August the figure was raised to 14,212,000.

Even with the improved outlook the 1955 crop will be less than half that in 1954.

High yields of hay also were forecast as a result of showers. Sorghum, corn and peanuts were aided.

On the unfavorable side, rains delayed insect control programs and created a critical problem in cotton fields.

Book Lists Mailed
 A list of 318 proposed public school textbooks has been mailed out to county and district superintendents.

Dr. J. W. Edgar, state commissioner of education, urged they be made available for public inspection.

Petitions and suggestions will be heard by the 15-member state textbook committee between Sept. 15 and Oct. 1. Its recommendations will be drawn up Oct. 3-8.

Actual adoption will be by the commissioner and State Board of Education. Texts chosen will be for use in September, 1956.

Schools Satisfy Parents
 Seven out of eight parents either are satisfied with Texas public schools or are too uninformed to have an opinion.

That conclusion was drawn from study of 16,788 "parent reactionnaires" circulated in 59 school districts by the Texas Association of School Administrators.

Survey results were announced last week in Austin by Dr. Kenneth E. McIntyre who coordinated tabulation.

Criticism, he said, was aimed more at high school than lower grades. Also some parents felt the schools fell short in developing "good behavior."

Texas produces nearly half of the oil output of the United States, and has 56.8 percent of the nation's known oil reserves.

Avalanche Journal "Woman's Angle" Features Devillers

Pierre Devillers was in the news recently, following a shopping tour of Lubbock with Mrs. Sherrill Boyd and her son Don.

While there, the group from Slaton met Margaret Turner, Avalanche Journal columnist.

In her column, "The Woman's Angle," Miss Turner reported on Pierre's visit to this county and her visit with Pierre.

Miss Turner wound up her column with the following: This writer is thoroughly sold on student exchanges. Most of the young people from foreign countries are interested in America and are interesting to converse with. Naturally they are the pick of the crop, the same as are our Community Ambassadors. We wish the idea could be enlarged to allow entire classes to travel abroad.

Mrs. Jim Dorsett of Leonard is visiting with her daughter, Mrs. G. R. Brake, and family.
