Announce Plans For Construction On Forrest Site

Post Office Future Remains A Mystery

Barring unforeseen difficulties, construction of a one-story tile and stucco business building with a modern brick and glass front will get underway sometime this week on the former Forrest Hotel site at Ninth and Lubbock.

A permit for the building in the amount of $30,000 was issued Tuesday to Forrest Lumber Company. The property is owned by Mrs. Moulton "Ty" Cobb of Westlaco.

Don Britt, Forrest manager, told the Slatonite Tuesday that construction plans call for a 35 by 90 foot building on the corner, and a 25 by 110 foot building adjoining the C. R. Anthony Company.

Who'll occupy these structures upon completion remains shrouded in official uncertainty, but Britt verified Tuesday that the building which will be built to specifications for a new U. S. post office.

Lease To Expire

The lease on the present post office location expires at the close of this calendar year, and it's reliably reported that governmental authorities want expanded post office quarters here.

As Britt explained the matter Tuesday, "The building next to Anthonys will be built to comply with post office specifications, but there's nothing definite that the government will accept the building for a post office."

Building plans are flexible insofar as the size of the inside building is concerned, Britt explained. Between the corner building and the inside building lies a space approximately 15 by 90 feet which can either be closed off as a separate building, or can be incorporated to give the inside building a frontage of approximately 40 feet instead of 25 feet.

Another Possibility

The possibility that a new post office may spring up on the Forrest Hotel site lends another interesting facet to already much-boostered post office rumors.

Oran McWilliams wants to build a building on the east side of the square and lease it for post office use, and so advised federal officials in April.

McWilliams proposes to construct his building immediately south of Reed's Drive-In, at the southeast corner of the square, a long architectural lines similar to those incorporated in the new post office building on North College Avenue in Lubbock. Estimated cost of the building—including lighting, heating and air conditioning—would be about $20,000.

McWilliams told the Slatonite. Construction plans submitted by McWilliams call for a building 30 feet by 87 feet 4 inches.

Government specifications for a post office here, should a new one be okayed, call for a minimum of 2600 square feet of floor space.

In response to his bid for the post office building, McWilliams received a letter from Post Office Inspector J. L. Pearce, Dallas,

SCD Promises To Pull All Plugs In Working To Meet Drouth Emergency

The seriousness of the current drouth and the necessity of providing winter cover were among the chief topics of conversation at Friday's meeting of the Lubbock County Soil Conservation District supervisors, it was explained Monday by Joe S. Walker, Sr., Slaton, chairman of the board.

The board is outlining a broad and comprehensive approach to the problem, Walker said. Board members plan to ask and enlist the assistance of landowners, businesses, agencies and organizations throughout the Lubbock County SCD to meet the emergency needs, he asserted.

"In view of the existing serious situation and the impending trouble that might arise from loose, bare soil this next winter and spring," Walker emphasized, "an organized approach must be made."

Landowners, the board chairman said, will be asked to plant cover on their land if rains do come.

"Every conceivable type of assistance this district can get will be used toward that end," Walker continued, "and we're going to call on a lot of people in the near future to give us their advice and assistance."

Walker explained that members of the board of supervisors hope to hold a called meeting within the next two weeks with representatives from every type and kind of agency and business to help formulate drouth emergency plans.

"Conservation problems are too big to be licked in any other way," he pointed out. "Emergency drouth relief measures now are a good thing, but we've got to keep this soil for the good years ahead."

At Friday's board meeting, agreements were approved with 23 operators covering 5,116 acres of land. Operators include Roscoe Sides, George Ralsback, Jake Darby, Earl Forster, Isaac Weems, W. A. Mabry, Arlon Payne, J. P. James, A. E. Newton, J. F. Hazel, A. C. Walter, William Lyle, Eugene Parrish, Lonnie Brownlow, Earl Horne, Erceel Givens, Clell Showler, Carlos May, Noel Bryant, Fred Greenhaw, Cecil Bradshaw L. C. Hill and Louie Mote.

Allen King presented a formal Renewal Schedule of Assistance for the period July 1, 1953 to June 30, 1954 from Soil Conservation Service, promising "Available personnel to assist district cooperators in conservation surveys, planning, application and program dated May 1, 1953. In that letter, Pearce advised, "I appreciate your letter of April 28, 1953, advising the conditions under which you can furnish a building for post office purposes. As soon as practical, I will make a visit to your city to further discuss the matter, however, it will probably be at least two weeks before I can make the visit."

That letter was received here some two and a half months ago, and McWilliams frankly admitted at mid-week that he's wondering why he has heard nothing further.

McWilliams told a Slatonite newsman, "I think post office traffic congestion would be considerably less on the east side of the square than on the west side."

maintenance in accordance with provisions of the Supplemental Memorandum of Understanding between the Soil Conservation Service and the soil conservation district."

Board members present for the meeting included Joe S. Walker, Sr., (Slaton), George Hindman and John Pugh (Lubbock), and Edwin Merrell (Shallowater). Others present included Mrs. Alton Strickland, employee of the board; Allen King, area conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service, and D. W. Sherrill, county agent.

Pember Condition Remains Critical

The condition of M. A. Pember, 1025 West Garza, remained critical at mid-week at Mercy Hospital, where the 80-year-old longtime Slaton resident was taken Friday afternoon suffering from severe abdominal pains.

Mr. Pember is suffering from a coronary heart condition and kidney failure, according to an attending physician.

Fitzgerald Rites Pending; Await Word From Sister

Mrs. James E. Fitzgerald, a former resident of Slaton, died at about 6:20 p.m. Tuesday, as a result of burns suffered in an explosion at her home at Grand Prairie July 4. Seventy per cent of Mrs. Fitzgerald's body was burned when flaming curtains wrapped around her as she was thrown 20 feet from the house at the time of the explosion, believed to have been caused by accumulated gas.

Mrs. Fitzgerald is survived by her husband, one daughter, Cynthia Ann, her mother, Mrs. Vivie Lee Hudman, and one sister, Mrs. Jerome Burns of San Angelo.

The body was taken to Post by Hudman Funeral Home. Services will be held at First Baptist Church, Slaton. Final arrangements had not been completed Wednesday pending word from the sister, Mrs. Jerome Burns, who is on a two weeks vacation trip. Efforts to contact Mrs. Burns continue. When last heard from, the Burns were at Yellowstone National Park. Jerome's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Burns of Slaton received a letter from Governor Dan Thornton of Colorado Wednesday morning saying that every effort is being made to contact them in Colorado. There is a possibility that they continued north from Yellowstone. Forest Rangers have been alerted to contact them in that direction.

ATTEND PLAINS ASSEMBLY

Rev. J. T. Bolding, Taylor Sims, Tommy McClanahan, and Roy Wilson left Monday and returned on Wednesday from the Plains Baptist Assembly near Floydada. The boys are from the Intermediate department of the First Baptist Church.

The Korean peasant is not clean like the Japanese people. His diet of uncleaned fish dried in the sun and Kimschi, a delicacy made of fermented vegetables along with his indifference to bathing makes him unpleasant to be around. Stokes describes the rice paddies as having a very foul odor.

After his 30 day leave, Lt. Stokes will be stationed at Luke Air Force Base, Phoenix, Arizona, where he will be an instructor in combat crew training. He has almost two more years to serve in the Air Force.

Other local businesses are not greatly different. Each of us, from day to day and month to month, depend entirely for our livelihood on "Hometown Loyalty."

We want YOUR ideas on the subject. We think it's one that should be of vital importance to all of us who are interested in a growing, progressive Slaton.

Remember, the contest is open to anyone. Essays should be typed, or neatly written. If you send your entry by mail, just address it to Hometown Loyalty Editor, The Slatonite, Box 775, Slaton, Texas. Be sure to include your full name and address.

We plan to announce the winners, and print their essays, in the August 7 issue of the Slatonite.

Gerald Stokes

Airman Returns From 10-Months Duty In Korea

1/Lt. Gerald Stokes arrived in Slaton about 3 a.m. Monday to spend a 30 day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Stokes. Lt. Stokes arrived in the States Wednesday, July 8, after spending 10 months in Korea as a F-84 Fighter-Bomber pilot, doing most interdiction and close support bombing.

Stokes' only close call during the 10 months was in March when his plane was shot down and he was forced to bail out. He was on a close support mission and was about 2 miles north of our lines when his plane was hit and caught fire. He cut the engines and glided to our side and ejected. Stokes says as close as he would have been picked up by helicopter had he not been able to bring his plane over our lines. He has seen rescues of this type.

As far as information on the Korean situation is concerned, Lt. Stokes says they got the same newscasts in Korea that we did. He reports that North Korea is a shambles and there is very little left to hit. Most of the bridges are gone and during the day the roads are empty except for an occasional ox cart or pedestrian. He flew some night missions, and found the roads at night to be bumper to bumper with trucks. All supplies are moved at night in the North Korean area.

Stokes says it is easy to locate the front line from the air in the daytime. To the north there is nothing, to the south traffic is heavy and supplies are out in the open. Our airfields have been bombed at night, but most of the enemy raids have not been effective. The planes are so slow that our fast interceptors can do nothing with them, but also so light that they can't carry much bomb load. One was dubbed "bed check Charlie" because of the Red alert it brought every night.

Lt. Stokes did not see the big South Korean demonstrations at Seoul. Three or four hundred Koreans marched to the field where he was stationed, but they were not violent. The men were not allowed off the field because our advance, after being pushed back to the end of the peninsula, was so rapid that the area was not cleaned up. Guerrillas took pot shots at them as they were taking off.

The day's program opened with about 100 members and candidates receiving Holy Communion at the 8 o'clock Mass at St. Joseph's Church. Following the Mass, breakfast was served to the group by the Children of Mary Sodality in St. Joseph's Hall.

The First Degree was exemplified by the Amarillo Degree Corps during the morning. In the afternoon, the Second and Third Degrees were given.

The Third Degree was under the direction of Anthony L. Borho, Lubbock, district deputy. He was assisted by Jake Miranda, Dallas, representative of the state deputy.

Visitors attending the initiation came from Amarillo, Dallas, UMBarger, Brownfield, Pampa and Lubbock.

A dutch lunch was served at the conclusion of the program. A dance was held Sunday night for candidates and their wives.

Put Tighter Curbs On Irrigation As Water Use Goes Unchecked

"We mean business." That was the courteous but meaningful word from City Hall this week as Slaton city commissioners Monday gave their unanimous okay to a new water restriction resolution, chief points of which are these:

1. Persons occupying or controlling even-numbered lots or houses may irrigate said lots on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays between the hours of 7 a.m. to 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. only.

2. Persons occupying or controlling odd-numbered lots or houses may irrigate said lots on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays between the hours of 7 a.m. to 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. only.

As before, watering of yards is prohibited for everyone on Sundays.

To now, the "evens" had been allowed to water from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, and the "odds" during those same hours on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

Need Fire Water "We're cutting down the allowed watering time each day from 13 hours to 6 hours for the chief reason that we MUST BY ALL MEANS maintain an adequate water reserve for fire fighting," Mayor O. N. Alcorn said Tuesday in announcing the newly-passed resolution.

"We're asking—in fact, we will demand—complete cooperation," he stressed.

If that cooperation is not forthcoming, definite enforcement measures against non-cooperators will become necessary, the mayor said. City water pumping facilities have been going full blast here since early June, and local residents are using all of the water the city can pump, according to Forrest Davis, city water superintendent.

Just Lucky "It's just extremely lucky that Slaton hasn't had any bad fires during that period," Davis commented, "because our reserve water supply is negligible."

As an example, Davis cited water usage on Tuesday morning of this week. When watering time rolled around at 7 a.m., overhead storage reservoirs were nearly full. Four hours later, local residents had gobbled up more than 600,000 gallons of water, completely emptying the overhead tanks and nearly depleting the supply of water for fire-fighting emergencies.

"We have had a considerable number of complaints about folks who are not observing the regulations, and I feel the complaints are justified," Davis said. "The water restriction plan was designed to meet an emergency situation, and it was designed for everyone's good . . . if one has to live up to the requirements, then everyone should."

Enough Pressure With citywide compliance, Davis pointed out, there'll be sufficient water pressure to "do some good" during the newly-announced allowable watering hours.

"Too, we feel that folks can actually get more good out of watering during the early morning and early evening hours than during the middle of the day when so much of the water is lost to evaporation," the water superintendent said.

Production from city wells has fallen from 2,000,000 gallons per day to less than 1,600,000 gallons per day as a result of the heavy continuing demands on city wells, Davis said.

RETURN FROM HOSPITAL Bill Klattenhoff returned home from the Plains Hospital in Lubbock, Sunday, July 12. He had been there about 10 days suffering from a kidney ailment. According to his brother, Ben Klattenhoff, he is doing fine.

Two special dedication services will be held Sunday, July 19, at the new and beautiful St. Paul Lutheran Church (Missouri Synod) in Wilson, it was announced this week by Rev. Paul W. Heckmann, pastor.

Speaker at both of the services will be Rev. Carl Heckmann, Lutheran pastor at Eden, Tex., a brother of Rev. Paul Heckmann.

The services are set for 10:30 a.m. and 3:00 p.m. Rev. Heckmann's sermon topic for the morning service will be "Truly This Is the House of God." His afternoon sermon topic will be "The Building Goes On."

The church choir's morning selection will be "Praise to the Lord," Calvin Kunkel will be the organist at the morning service, and Mrs. P. W. Heckmann will play in the afternoon.

A noon barbecue will follow the morning service and a lunch will be served following the afternoon service. The public is invited to attend the services and the meals.

Ground-breaking ceremonies were held for the new church on Jan. 5, 1953. Sunday's services will be the first to be held in the new church, which serves a congregation of approximately 150 people.

The church, situated about half a mile north of the Wilson business district, is immediately west of the St. Paul stucco church which has served the congregation for approximately 20 years.

Of Gothic architecture, the new structure includes a large sanctuary, Sunday School room, pastor's study, and restrooms. Cost of the tan brick veneer building—including furnishings—was about $57,000. Included in the furnishings is a church model Hammond electric organ.

Initiation Held Sunday By Slaton Council K. of C. The Slaton Council No. 2571, Knights of Columbus, held initiation for 19 candidates Sunday, July 12, in St. Joseph's Hall. Candidates for the Slaton Council were: Donald Raines, Leon Pinkert, Walter Lee Bednarz, Bruno Schwertner, Joseph Heinrich, Leo Wisley, Max Maier, Ronald Schilling, Roger Sokoll, Leon Schilling, A. J. Kitten, Franklin Heinrich and Victor Buxkemper.

Name Committeemen For Baptist Revival Committee chairmen were announced this week for the week-long revival to be held at the First Baptist Church July 26-August 2.

Committee chairmen include Ray Samples, cottage prayer meetings; Jack Clark, lighting; Truitt Bownds, songbook; L. C. Pruitt, platform; J. J. Maxey and C. J. Rhoads, seating; Elton Smith, pianos; Hack Lasater, publicity; and Paul Gentry, visitation.

Services will be held twice daily, at 10 a.m. and 8 p.m. Morning services will be held in the church sanctuary and evening services will be conducted on the church lawn, weather permitting, Lasater said.

Dr. C. B. Jackson of the State Evangelist Department will preside as evangelist.

Requests Drivers To Go Easy On Topping Take it easy. That's what County Commissioner George Green wishes drivers would do on the newly-topped parking areas at the municipal swimming pool.

"If folks don't stop spinning their wheels for a fast getaway on that new topping," Green said, "a lot of the area is going to be badly damaged."

Green said it takes about 30 days for the topping to get a "good set."

Topping of the parking area was completed on Saturday.

Begin Untangling Of Red Tape for Motel Court Here

From a maze of legal technicalities this week emerged the news that it's going to be clear sailing for the modern hotel motor court proposed for construction south of Slaton's city limits on U. S. Highway where the unused migratory labor camp is now situated.

Best current estimate is that construction probably will get underway in 30 to 45 days.

Bob Ayers, Chamber of Commerce president, said Tuesday it probably will take that long to iron out the legal matters surrounding the property deeded by the City of Slaton (for a consideration of $10) to the Judge B. Fite Co. of Dallas, which will build and operate the 14-unit motor court and restaurant.

Confere Here Judge B. Fite and Hadley Roberts, partners in the Dallas firm, were in Slaton on Monday and Tuesday to confer with city and Chamber of Commerce officials concerning the deeding of the property, bringing down of the abstract, and other legal technicalities connected with the project.

"We're ready to get to work just as soon as all of the papers have been cleared," Roberts told the Slatonite on Monday. He said work on preliminary drawings for the court would begin this week.

Upon acceptance of the abstract by the Fite Company, the City of Slaton will issue a warranty deed to the Dallas firm to be placed in escrow until such time as the firm presents Slaton a contract and bond from a reliable builder, at which time the deed will be transferred directly to the Fite Company, Ayers explained Tuesday.

$70,000 Project The deed, Ayers explained, will specify that a motor court be erected on the property. Should building plans not materialize for any reason, the Chamber of Commerce president pointed out, the property would automatically revert to City of Slaton ownership.

Estimated cost of the hotel motor court is $70,000. The modern story-and-a-half 14-court structure will include a restaurant and banquet room, and will face west. It is designed as an expandable facility should tourist traffic here warrant expansion, Judge Fite told a citywide meeting here three weeks ago in proposing the project.

More than 30 Slaton residents voiced a heavy majority opinion to deed the labor camp property to the Fite Company for purposes of the tourist court project at a citywide meeting held here on July 6.

Sorghums and Soil Protection

This newspaper does not pose itself as an expert on the affairs of agriculture.

We do feel, however, that the past three dry years experienced on the South Plains have left our farmland extremely susceptible to blowing during the 1953-54 erosion period.

And we're inclined to side with those who suggest that a sorghum crop would be well worth the investment for erosion protection this winter, as well as the organic matter it would return to the soil.

Agronomy experts have pointed out recently that a sorghum crop, stubble mulched into South Plains soil, would be considerably better treatment than letting our farms lie fallow.

There's a lot of truth in the oft-heard assertion that our soil is an inheritance from the Almighty, to be used with wisdom and in the fullest for the perpetual benefit of all men.

We can't buy more. What soil we have now is going to have to serve the generations to follow.

Why People Buy Stocks

More and more people, and particularly people of moderate means, are buying stocks.

Various reasons lie behind this purchasing—the hope of a good return on the investment probably being paramount. But there is another reason that is extremely important. As a people, we buy enormous quantities of trade-marked, nationally-sold wares of all kinds. Everything from such frequent purchases as a breakfast food to such occasional ones as an automobile is produced by companies whose shares are listed on the security exchanges. People like the products, have faith in the soundness and integrity and future prospects of the concerns which make them. So what could be more natural than for them to put a part of their savings in these companies' shares.

When that happens, the share owner has a direct personal interest in everything that the company concerned may do. He shares in the risks and the rewards alike. He can cast his vote to keep or change the management at annual elections. And, most important, he has a real stake in the American free enterprise system—the capitalist system, which has done more for people than any other economic system ever tried since history began.

Finally, he can buy more stock or sell what he has any business day in the year, at an openly quoted price which isn't "fixed" by anyone—a price which reflects the honest judgement of the prospective buyer and dealer.

An American Institution

It is our villages and towns, and the people who live in them, that keep America American. It is the rural hometown newspapers and the service they render to the people in their community that keep these towns so American.

It is the personal items these papers contain that keep the people of each community interested in each other that makes them a homogenous whole working in the interest of all. That is the American way for which the leadership and influence of the home town rural newspapers are more largely responsible than any other one thing.

It is that leadership and influence that keeps us traveling along the American way. It is the condition for which the nation owes the rural home town newspapers. It is a debt of no small importance. It makes us different from other nations and from other people.

There was a man, a widower whom my family had known for a number of years, an acquaintance born of the personal columns of the local hometown newspaper. When he died the people of the town felt they had lost a personal friend. He and his people were bound to others of the community through the personal columns of the hometown newspaper.

The individual, whose passing the town grieved had neither great wealth nor important place. For a livelihood he took care of lawns and as such worked for many people. He had been known as a vocalist in one of the town's several churches in years past. He was just an average American and accepted as such with whom he associated.

That is our American way. That is what makes each one of us feel free and independent. That is what makes each one of us Americans. That is what causes each of us to hold up our heads and look the other fellow square in the eye.

It is the attention each resident of the village or town receives from the local newspaper that makes us Americans different from the people of other nations. It is that for which the nation owes the rural newspapers and their editors. It represents a real service to the nation.

The editors keep Americans worthy of America. They encourage envy but they do encourage interest, one in another. They make better unselfish citizenship.

Stop Cotton Pests

Insects destroyed $18,783,000 less cotton and seed in Texas last year than in 1951.

This optimistic news was released last week by the National Cotton Council which reported that, in spite of the evident progress in this direction, insects reduced the full yield in the state an estimated 7 per cent.

Obviously, our cotton farmers have made a concerted effort to control boll weevils, bollworms, aphids, thrips, and the other pests that plague their crops and, consequently, a great industry.

They have learned through painful experience that a hungry insect has little respect for cotton and they stand ready to greet his arrival with a control program recommended by their state entomologists.

Last year, crop losses due to insect damage in Texas amounted to $100,932,000. This seems staggering, even in the face of the fact that it is $18,500,000 less than the year before.

And it is urgent that farmers check fields frequently for pests and carry out a thorough poisoning schedule if the current crop is not to suffer as much or more than the one of two years ago.

No Eggs Today, Lady

The art of government is not unrelated to the art of mystification. Hard facts are presented to the electorate in soft words; simple facts are presented to whom it may concern in a legalistic welter of elaborately polysyllabic verbiage calculated to bewilder the wits of the uninitiate.

We are moved to this observation by a bit of officialese that has come to our desk from South Africa—the match of anything we have seen from the jungles of Washington or the wide Potomac veldt:

With the approval of the Minister, the board may from time to time prohibit any person or any person belonging to any class or group of persons or any person other than a person belonging to any class or group of persons from acquiring, selling or disposing of any quantity of eggs.

There, we submit, is a rhetorical tour de force that should be preserved for posterity. Who says that the language of bureaucracy is lacking in poetry, drama, or a sense of the ultimate mysteries? Poised on that splendid crescendo of prohibitions, nestled among all those unfortunate, unprivileged persons in or out of groups and classes, hidden at the quite heart of that explosion of gobbledegook we find the small, incontrovertible, strangely pathetic emptiness where an egg ought to be.

9,550 PEOPLE

Read The Slatonite Each Week

There were 1,910 Slatonite newspapers printed for last week's issue. The National readership average for all weekly papers is five to the paper. This would make the Slatonite of July 19 have 9,550 readers.

Last week we printed 335 more papers than we did May 1st of this year. This is an increase of some 1,752 readers.

The National average of people in each home is 4.2 people. The readership of a weekly paper averages five to the paper because weekly papers are passed on to the neighbors.

Since May 1st The Slatonite has installed its own Speed Graphic camera. This is why pictures of local events have been appearing in your newspaper. We have also installed another telephone in order that the people may call in local news and news stories. This part of the paper has been improved.

We have more good plans for The Slatonite. With the continued help of the people of this area, it is our hope that our town will in the future have the BEST WEEKLY NEWSPAPER IN TEXAS. It can be done.

Mrs. Trevor Recites At Ladies Aid Meet Red Wilson Performs

Mrs. Oliver Worthington Trevor will recite "Trees" tonight at a meeting in her home of the Ladies Aid Society. According to Mrs. Trevor, it's worth going miles to hear her recite because she's so enthusiastic about everything she does; she simply throws herself into everything.

It is rumored that her social rival, Mrs. Belmont, who isn't going to the meeting because she prefers to do her sleeping at home, has suggested that Mrs. Trevor dig herself a well and throw herself into that.

The outcome of this situation and other complications will be revealed tonight and Saturday when the 3 act comedy, "Enter Mr. Patricia," is presented at St. Joseph's Hall at 8 p.m. by the Sodality of Mary.

Between acts entertainment will be provided by vivacious, green-eyed Red Wilson, who will present one of the pantomimes for which she has become famous.

CHICK CHATS
Presented By Dr. Salsbury's Laboratories

VACCINATE FOR THESE DISEASES

Many of the most damaging diseases of poultry can be prevented. Among these are Newcastle disease, fowl pox, and laryngotracheitis. These three can be practically absolutely prevented through vaccination.

Vaccination should be done in advance of the usual disease period or season. It requires a brief period for the vaccine to produce immunity to the disease; therefore, protection cannot be assured unless the vaccination is done a long enough time before an outbreak.

Newcastle Vaccination

Because Newcastle disease has often attacked birds of all ages, vaccination is usually recommended at an early age. However, if birds have not been vaccinated early, they can be immunized at any time with intranasal vaccine. Wing-web vaccine may be used instead, if the birds are between 4 and 16 weeks of age.

Chickens which have been vaccinated early against Newcastle should ordinarily be revaccinated if they are to be kept as layers. This step is customarily recommended 30 days before they start to lay. The second vaccination will ordinarily be sufficient to carry them through the laying season.

Birds which are not being kept, but are to be sold as fryers, need not be revaccinated.

Fox and Laryngo

Fowl pox is commonly a disease of fall and winter. Chickens can be vaccinated against pox anytime, but vaccination before birds begin to lay is preferred.

One vaccination with fowl-pox vaccine is sufficient to give lasting immunity, unless the vaccination is given when the chicks are very young. Turkeys which are to be kept as breeders should be revaccinated.

Laryngotracheitis is a disease which also occurs in the fall and winter. It occurs in certain areas most frequently. Where laryngo is a problem, vaccination should be done well in advance of the usual season. A single vaccination is usually permanent.

Should laryngo vaccination be deferred, it can still be done at a later age. However, it is preferable to vaccinate birds which are not yet in production.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh
An Honest Night's Sleep

Slim Johnson, just back from a business trip, tells about a hotel he stayed at one night. "I hit town late and went right to the hotel. There was no clerk at the desk, but there was a sign that said: 'Gone to bed. Rooms $3. Take a key. Pay when you leave. Sleep Well.' "Upstairs, the room was real clean, the bed comfortable, and I slept like a log. Came down in the morning—still no clerk. So I left three dollars at the desk and went on. Can you imagine folks that trustful?"

THIS and THAT FROM HERE and THERE

Over Lightly—
Benson, agricultural spokesman for the GOP, has come and to a cloud of dust. He spoke in the trials and tribu-lating of farmers, and managed to get out one solid fact—farmers, we got troubles. We hope this won't come as too much of a shock to most of you.

Anyway, the drouth relief problem is solved. The GOP administration, demonstrating how much they care about farm costs, has announced the magnificent sum of $100 million for the relief of the drouth-stricken farmers in the counties, or thereabouts. Now, each one of you boys will go up and get your $50 we'll get this over in a hurry and settle down to living again.

Any onto those old Ike-buttons, they come in mighty handy to keep up your overall straps.
—The Lorenzo Tribune

Wife—
A successful girl of today knows many answers—and many them are patterned after the examples advanced by their parents.
Example:
The angry dad went to his daughter's room after she got in a late date, and is reported to have said:
"Well, young lady, explain yourself coming home at an hour as late as this!"
"Oh daddy, I was sitting up with the sick son of the sick man and always tell mom you sit up with her."
—The Hamlin Herald

Feathers—
Think this story has a point.
A father was listening to his four-year-old daughter saying her prayer.
"I can't hear you, Kathy," he said.
"Wasn't talking to you," was her firm reply.
—The Hamilton Herald-News

Mr. Podge—
This month's Cosmopolitan magazine has an article about why laughter, and what it takes to be the most of us.

The consensus of opinion among the learned contributors to the article that we laugh at anything that sets us free of doubt, worry, convention, or just imagination.

It is laughable to think that now we are getting to the stage where we are analyzing laughter. The psychiatrists are taking over, run for the hills boys!

It certainly seems odd that we cannot keep our inquisitive fingers off something as wonderful as laughter. Why do we have to monkey around with this precious commodity. First thing you know, we WILL find out about laughter, and then it won't be spontaneous any more, and then where will we be.

Talk In Print—
A fellow from Avenue D side of town is telling that business is works the front chair in a certain shop is running up and down the sidewalk with a razor looking for customers.

Abernathy Weekly Review

Talk In Print — Complaining about the weather is a popular passtime in West Texas, but when long-time residents start screaming about it as they are now, it must be awful. Heard a native say Wednesday of last week:
"If I ever die of heart attack, hope its on a day as disagreeable as this.
I'd hate for it to come when we have pretty wheather."

Whether considered, we still defend the South Plains as the finest country anywhere. Borrowing the slogan a Lubbock firm used in advertising: "We'll Be Here Next Year", and who knows there may be a bumper crop in 1954! We're sticking around to see, anyway.
—Abernathy Weekly Review

Doodling—
A local grocery store recently learned the meaning of 100 percent profit... or loss depending on where you sit.

A daily caller in their store was a young lad with an armful of pop bottles for deposit redemption.
A curious clerk asked the lad one day, "Where do you find all those bottles?"

The reply, "Out back."
The store had been buying its own bottles.
—The Winkler County News

Wrong Number!
One of the News' talented printers received a light shock one noon recently.

Calling home to his wife he dialed a number and a female voice answered.

"When are you coming after me," he demanded.
"I don't suppose I am," was the calm reply.

"Must not have been my wife,"
he said as he gently laid the receiver in its cradle.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" By C. WILSON HARDER

Did you enjoy the butter you bought today? If you eat toast dry, or margarine spread, you still bought butter today, because every day the government uses over a million dollars of taxes collected from all families to buy surplus butter to hold up the price. Today, Uncle Sam has almost 200 million pounds of butter.

That fact stands behind report that government plans huge nation-wide sale whereby for every pound of butter you buy at regular prices, you will be able to buy a pound from government stocks for only 10 cents.

There was discussion of selling to foreign governments, taking their currency for it, instead of requiring dollars.

However, it was learned this would upset economy of butter producing nations, by taking their customers.

Government also owns over 100 million pounds of dried milk, plus huge daily mounting supplies of other farm products.

And neither Brannan or Henry Wallace have anything to do with it.

Instead, Ezra Benson of Utah, who has both publicly and privately abhorred government price supports, directs the program.

Yet, as Agriculture Secretary he directs a program as obnoxious to him as deals with the devil would be to his beliefs as a pillar of the Mormon Church.

Many explanations are made why the government is supporting butter prices. Increased margarine use is frequently cited.

Yet government also owns a billion pounds of cottonseed oil, which with dried milk, is principal ingredient of margarine.

Thus Benson, or any Agriculture Secretary is constantly tossed on the horns of a dilemma.
If butter sells at expense of margarine sales, more dried milk, more cottonseed oil will pile up.

Thus in Washington belief grows that not the Agriculture Department, but the anti-trust division of the Justice Department must solve the farm problem.

In the dairy industry, for example, producers receive smaller share of consumers dollar. Retail stores also get small share of this dollar. But between the farm and store, there's a lot of "water" in dairy products.

But distribution and marketing of dairy products has been concentrated into a very few hands, aided by a monopolistic control of dairy labor.

Thus, many are taking the point of view that the nation's farmers are not plagued by over production, but by monopoly control of the distribution of their production.

The belief is growing that unless this control of farm products is broken by enforcement of anti-trust laws, the American taxpayer will always be assessed to keep the nation's farming community from collapsing. Monopoly business practices, it has long been held, are the most inefficient practices and eventually require government support, and rigged-prices to exist. Thus in the dairy industry, the public pays two ways to support a monopoly, through higher prices, through taxes to support the farmers.

HARD ON CATFISH

The Rio Grande River, noted for its giant catfish, can be restored to its piscatorial eminence, according to the Executive Secretary of the Game and Fish Commission. He said the record drouth, with consequent lack of flowage along great stretches of the Rio Grande, will be costly to the fish population. But he explained that river observers report many large pools, deep enough to sustain adequate brood stock.

No need to buy new furniture. Plenty of life and beauty in those old pieces yet. We rebuild, restyle and reupholster at amazingly low prices.

WEST TEXAS ROUNDUP

Hamilton's most disastrous fire in many years took an estimated damage of $400,000 Sunday morning when the Hamilton Mill & Elevator Company's plant was gutted by a seething cauldron of flame. The blaze was reported at 9:35 a.m. and the fire raged for four hours with the Hamilton, Meridian and Hico Fire Departments battling for control.

Of undetermined origin, the fire started in the mill and grain storage warehouse, which were completely destroyed. One elevator and the feed warehouse were completely destroyed. The office and large elevator were unharmed. The ruins were still smoldering Tuesday.

A "hopped-up" automobile which its driver claimed would "do 114 miles an hour" led Cochran County officers a wild chase through Morton streets and out Highway 291 Sunday night before the car was overtaken a mile east of Whiteface.

The driver, 21 year old Billy Joe Cunningham of Lubbock, paid a disturbance fine. In addition, the contributing factor to the car's being stopped, a ruined rear wheel and tire added more cost to the reckless trip.

Andrews County, particularly the east side, is the site of the largest oil exploration spending booms in the history of the Premian basin. The boom area is from two to 20 miles in all directions from the town of Andrews. Although the Andrews' boom has not approached the 300 active rig total enjoyed by the Scurry reef and Sprayberry booms, the cost for drilling the deep tests in Andrews approaches expenditures in the above two areas. The highest number of rotary drill units in Andrews County since the deep drilling program started gaining momentum the middle of 1952 is 58. That figure was recorded on May 25. The latest survey of activity in the Premian Basin showed Andrews with 51 rigs in operation. At the present time there are approximately $12,000,000 worth of activity in Andrews County, nearly $11,000,000 of it concentrated in the east side of the area.

Fifty eight of the 109 Swisher farmers who returned in the "price supports" ballot carried in the last week's paper favored price supports on cattle, hogs and sheep as well as other agricultural commodities.

Thirteen favored flexible price supports on agriculture excluding cattle, hogs and sheep. The results will become a part of a state report to be forwarded to federal officials as indicative of the thinking of Texas farmers.

Ford Master-Guide

the last word in Power Steering!

"WHO NEEDS MUSCLES?"

Master-Guide applies hydraulic steering power automatically... and in varying degrees as required... right at the steering linkage, close to the wheels. At the same time the system serves as a hydraulic shock absorber to keep road jars and jolts from your hands. As a result all you do is... guide the car... Master-Guide supplies the muscles.

It's the newest in a long list of Ford advancements that make this Ford the outstanding car for '53!

No other car near Ford's price has ever offered you so much!

Ford was the first in its field to bring you V-8 power. Today, Ford alone of all the low-priced cars offers you the smooth, unsurpassed performance of a V-8 engine. And Ford's Six—the most modern in the industry—with Overdrive, won the Grand Sweepstakes in this year's Mobilgas Economy Run.

Ford first brought to the low-price field a completely automatic transmission that combines the smoothness of a torque converter and the gas-saving "go" of automatic gears. Fordomatic remains the most versatile automatic you can buy.

Ford's new "ride" brings you road-hugging and bump-leveling qualities never before known in low-priced cars. Front end road shock alone has been reduced up to 80%.

Easier-acting suspended pedals. Center-Fill Fueling and Full-Circle Visibility are just a few of the many important advancements first introduced by Ford.

And now Ford brings you the newest and finest in power steering... Master-Guide, a system exclusive in Ford's field! It's no wonder, then, that Ford is the "Worth More" car... worth more when you buy it... worth more when you sell it.

HELPS YOU OUT OF "TIGHT SPOTS!" The tougher the going the more Master-Guide works for you. For example, if you go off the pavement onto a soft shoulder or a rough, rutted road, Master-Guide provides the muscles to keep you on a steady course. At the same time, Master-Guide absorbs the shock that might otherwise be transmitted to the steering wheel. You'll find all handling is easier with Master-Guide and that parking requires only one-fourth the normal effort. Should Master-Guide ever lose its power, the standard steering mechanism will operate just as usual. Thus, Master-Guide provides new ease and stability, with a natural feel and full security, wherever you may drive.

Optional on all V-8 models of 1953 Ford.

It occurs to me that someone is missing a bet here ... not only to make some money, but to help put Slaton on the map as a progressive city.

My favorite brunette and I visited in Amarillo over the Fourth of July week end, and I can perhaps best illustrate the point by quoting portions from these want ads, which appear regularly in the Amarillo Daily News and Globe-Times:

See these three-bedroom FHA homes, 100 per cent insulated. Only $400 total cash required to veterans or non-veterans. Immediate possession. Paved streets. Concrete driveways. Curb and gutter. Hardwood floors. Coleman automatic heat. Crane & Co. plumbing fixtures. Outlets for automatic washer. Lots of storage.

Veterans! $75 deposit will start you on the road to owning your own home. Three bedrooms and two bedrooms with attached garage. Monthly payments only $53.

Three-bedroom GI homes, only $335 down! Attractive loan features with low monthly payments. Garage, metal tile in kitchen and bath (with shower), lots of closet space. In lovely new addition.

And so on. The Amarillo newspapers daily carry dozens and dozens of such listings. Attractive new low-cost housing developments are springing up all over the capitol city of the Panhandle. And the same thing is being done in hundreds and hundreds of other cities throughout the Southwest.

We spent considerable time driving around and looking at some of these housing projects. Many of the homes are nice ones, and the main thing that makes them so attractive is the low down payment. Total cash required for immediate possession of most of these new and attractive homes ranges from almost nothing to around $500.

Promoters of such projects undoubtedly had to fight their way through reams of red tape. But as with anything else, the end result is what counts. And the end result in Amarillo is that the city is growing by leaps and bounds.

In all of those houses, it might be pointed out, people live. They earn money. They spend it with local merchants. Business improves. Outside interests learn that business is good there. New business and industry springs up. New jobs are created. More housing projects. More people. And the thing just keeps mushrooming.

I do not propose that Slaton engage Amarillo in a population race. But it is my contention that an attractive low-cost housing project here, featuring a low down payment, would meet ready acceptance.

I am scarcely familiar with the situation, but others have told me that such a project would find a considerable number of buyers among people who live in Lubbock and work in Lubbock, but who would prefer to live in Slaton and work in Lubbock.

Slaton's present real estate market, I'm told, isn't exactly the hottest thing going. And the rather formidable down payments required on most houses here probably figure heavily into that situation.

GI loans of any size, it has been my experience, have about disappeared for the individual. Their most attractive feature is a low interest rate, and most lending agencies today apparently are in a position to loan money at more remunerative rates than those afforded by GI loans. They treat you nicely when you inquire, but it sort of amounts to this, "Who gives a damn about suffering humanity ... let's get what we can out of it while the getting's good."

Large-scale builders and promoters, however, seem to have had considerable success with obtaining GI and low-cost FHA loans for housing projects like those springing up in Amarillo.

I do not stay that such an investment is a wise thing for the average would-be homeowner. Over the long haul, he pays one whole lot of a load of interest because of his low down payment. But the main point seems to be that IT WORKS. People buy the houses. The town grows.

I hold no reasonable doubt that a small-scale housing project, perhaps 40 to 50 two and three-bedroom homes, would find a ready market here.

It would work if someone would get behind it. That someone would have to be the owner of illimitable patience with red tape, someone who's willing to work hard to make some money, and someone who has unswerving faith in Slaton's future.

In connection with this housing project business, a longtime Slaton resident suggested something the other day which might prove a boon to our community, should some low-cost housing projects eventually develop here.

His idea: to establish a once-an-hour commuter bus service between Slaton and Lubbock for the convenience of those folks who work there but live here, and for anyone else who might care to use such a service.

Heard a man stand up in a public meeting the other day and exclaim loudly that he buys less merchandise in Lubbock than most Slaton residents he knows, and that he'd be willing to compare notes with anyone who doubts his word on the matter.

The man was Judge Smith. I scarcely know the gray-haired dean of 41 years of cotton farming in the Slaton area, but it made me feel good to hear him stand up and say so and be so proud of it.

I see by the big city newspapers that the ACP program in USDA's Production and Marketing Administration is probably due for some trimming in 1954, and I'm glad of it.

The main shift in emphasis, as far as I'm concerned, is that Congress wants to withhold payments in 1954 (and thereafter) for any practices that a farmer would probably carry out anyhow with his own money. Achieving this objective will take some doing, but conservation workers are going to be asked to give it the college try.

This columnist would be glad to see that change. There weren't any government men going around offering to pay our great grandfathers for terracing their cornfields, and I don't see too much reason why there should be now.

Other reported changes upcoming in the 1954 ACP program:

1. Substantial reduction in payments for lime and fertilizer, probably less than half that of recent years.

2. The top payment that may go to any farmer is likely to be $1,000 instead of $2,500, as in the past.

3. The aim is to work out more pooling arrangements, encouraging ranchers and farmers toward joint efforts to solve mutual soil and water problems. USDA conserva-

Veterans Are Urged To Take Advantage Of Reserve Program

Veterans are being urged to take advantage of the opportunities offered Army Reservists by joining an Army Reserve unit and becoming active in the Reserve program, in an appeal currently being made through unit instructors.

All men of draft age, it was pointed out, who entered the military service after June 19, 1951, are required to serve a total of eight years. This means that even though an individual has served two years of active duty, he is still a soldier for six more years in a reserve status, and subject to immediate recall by the President at any time during that period.

However, by taking an active part in the Ready Reserves training program now, and serving in his spare time for only three years, a person may then be transferred to the Standby Reserve where he is subject to recall only during an emergency declared by Congress. The Standby Reserve is the second priority group for recall to active duty; the Ready Reserves is the first priority group.

Benefits of joining are: Receiving the pay of your rank for each training assembly or day at camp with a unit.

Opportunities for advanced training at Army schools. Retirement benefits which can amount to $90 or more a month for an enlisted man.

Opportunities for promotion in the Army Reserve, even to rise from a private to high officer rank.

These benefits are received from spending only 15 days at summer camp, plus 40 hours in additional Reserve activities each year.

Information on the program is available through U. S. Army Reserve Unit Instructors.

The poultryman who does a good job of culling the laying flock during the summer will be well paid for his trouble and at the same time he will be following one of the important practices of efficient management.

President Taft weighed more than 300 pounds.

Acquiring title to a modern family-size farm requires a considerable chunk of capital and this is not always easy to get. Help is often obtained from the family but major financing comes from individuals, commercial banks, life insurance companies and the Federal Land Bank.

All About the New AIR-CONDITIONED OLDSMOBILE!

FRIGIDAIRE CAR CONDITIONING* BRINGS YOU COOL, REFRESHING DRIVING COMFORT IN HOTTEST WEATHER

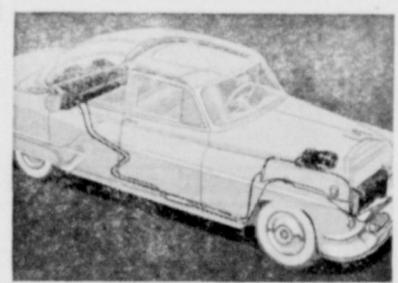

Imagine—driving along on the hottest day of the year—through city traffic or along country roads—and enjoying the same cool, fresh comfort as you get in the finest air-conditioned room!

Imagine—parking your car all day long under the broiling summer sun—and then driving it away with the temperature inside cool and comfortable within minutes!

Imagine—driving along on the hottest day with windows closed—with no wind blowing your hair—with no discomfort from dust, drafts, bugs, humidity or noise.

Imagine—riding in an air-cooled car with no hot blasts of air to bother you—no damp, sticky atmosphere!

Oldsmobile can do all this for you with the new Frigidaire Car Conditioner, one of the greatest automotive advancements in 20 years.

Here's how it works—The Frigidaire Car Conditioner works on the same basic principle as a room conditioner. A compact refrigeration unit is "tucked away" in the trunk. A rotary compressor is located under the hood. The condenser is installed in front of the engine radiator. The air distribution system is located inside the body of the car.

Two flat sleeves—one on each side of the interior—distribute cool air evenly into the car by means of four sets of louvers and individual air jets. These louvers eliminate annoying drafts, and assure well-balanced air circulation throughout your Oldsmobile.

Here's what it does for you—No matter how hot the weather outside, your Oldsmobile is refreshingly cool inside. And the coolness achieved is a clear, dry coolness—free from high humidity and wind noise. You just roll up your windows and relax in a quiet, serene atmosphere—free from wind, noise and dust. Conversation is easier, radio reception is clearer and warm-weather traveling is much more enjoyable.

No more Heat! No matter how torrid the weather outside, you'll always be cool inside! You can drive all-day long under a blistering hot sun and relax in refreshing comfort.

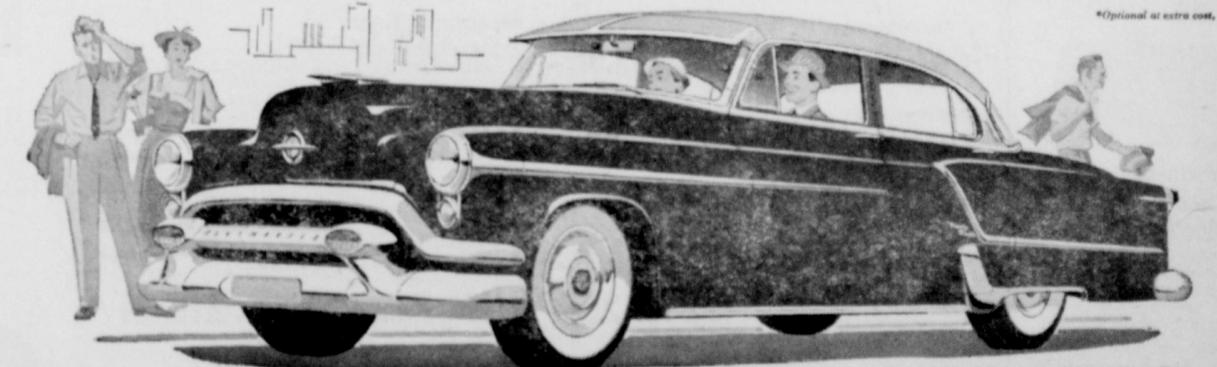

No more Humidity! Here's where you can find relief from high humidity on rainy days. Even in sticky weather, windows stay closed and you enjoy a clear, dry atmosphere.

No more Wind! Think of "windows-up" protection and comfort on hot, windy, dusty days! You'll breathe clear, filtered air even when you travel over country roads.

No more Road Noise! You can actually talk in whispers and be heard easily, and you'll enjoy your radio much more.

Widens Usefulness of Car—The Car Conditioner increases the efficiency of traveling salesmen and many others who depend upon a car in hot weather. And even on days that are not excessively warm, Oldsmobile owners find that "windows-up" driving is so much quieter and more comfortable.

Stop in and ask us about the Frigidaire Car Conditioner. This revolutionary new feature is typical of the advancements you expect from Oldsmobile—"Rocket" Engine and Hydra-Matic Super Drive—"Power Steering" and Power Brakes—"Power Ride" Chassis and Power Styling—the Autronic-Eye—and Custom-Lounge Interiors! Make a date with a "Rocket 8"—the Classic Ninety-Eight or brilliant Super "88" Oldsmobile.

Lions, Bears Get Narrow Victories In Jungle Softball

A pair of well-played, closely-contested games featured Saturday morning play in Junior Jungle League softball.

When the dust had cleared away, the never-say-die Bobcats had dropped an 11-8 decision to fifth place Lions, and the Bears had outlasted the Wolves, 17-14, in an overtime tilt.

The Bobcats, winless in 11 starts, tallied six times in the third inning, but saw their lead fade in the final innings, and the Lions emerged victorious, 11-8. Randy Sanders hit for the circuit and Russell Cummings and Jerry Wilson scored twice each to pace the Lion victory.

Sanders and Johnny Owens composed the winning battery. T. L. Bliard was on the mound for the Bobcats, and Roger Cummings handled the backstopping assignment.

Two extra innings were necessary for the Bears to produce a squeaky 17-14 verdict over the third place Wolves. Leading batsmen for the Bears included Arlie Bownds, Clay Foster and Bob Moore. Lavoy Reed and Steve Smith each tallied three times to pace the losing cause. One of Smith's socks was a bases-loaded homer.

Clay Foster went the route on the mound for the Bears, while Arlie Bownds was behind the plate. Lavoy Reed and Sammy Wilson composed the battery for the Wolves.

Up-to-date league standings include Tigers 10-1, Bears 9-3, Wolves 6-7, Lions 5-8, and Bobcats 0-11.

Saturday's schedule pits the Wolves against the Bobcats at 9 a.m., and the Bears against the Tigers at 10:30 a.m. Both games will be played at West Ward School.

LOST AND FOUND

The man who originated the parody, "Blessed is he who expects little for he shall not be disappointed," and the one who changed it to, "Only half blessed is he who expects little for he shall receive even less," just don't rate with Miss Beverly Kercheval. Beverly lost her billfold while she was hunting seashells at the ocean during the Rainbow Girls trip to Houston almost a month ago. She didn't expect to see it again. This week the billfold was mailed to Beverly by Mrs. C. M. Armocost of San Antonio, who had found it in the ocean.

CONDITION GOOD

Robert "Bunky" Guinn, 23-year-old Slaton resident, was reported in good condition Wednesday at Mery Hospital, where he has been under treatment for minor injuries suffered about 4:15 a.m. Tuesday when he lost control of his late model Ford club coupe and crashed into a parked truck. The accident occurred near Posey on the Lubbock-Slaton highway. Guinn's car was reported a total loss.

Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Woolver left last week end for a vacation in Ojo Caliente, New Mexico.
