STUDY SHOWS SLATON-LUBBOCK AREA ONE BEST IN NATION FOR RETAIL SALES

It is the second largest city in the country which has proven its businesswise, to be one of the best in the entire United States. According to a survey study just completed by the West Texas Association of Commerce.

West Texas counties rank in the top 200 of the U. S. in retail sales, the survey discloses. Besides Tarrant (Fort Worth), with $1,138,562,000, which ranked 15th, and El Paso (County City), in 119th place they are Lubbock (County and City), with $1,178,066,000, in 142nd place; Amarillo, $160,521,000, in 178th place; and McLennan ($152,925,000, in 178th place).

Tarrant and El Paso in retail sales and in average net effective buying income, with its $182,172,000. Only six West Texas counties had 1952 retail sales totaling more than $100 million. They were, in order, Tarrant, El Paso, Lubbock, Potter, McLennan (Waco), and Wichita (Wichita Falls).

People Today Do Not Practice The Little Courtesies Of Past Decades

Cherry, a former resident of Slaton, is indirectly responsible for the question. He is conducting a survey for the "Daily News" in Slaton in which he observes and considers as courteous and inconsiderate acts.

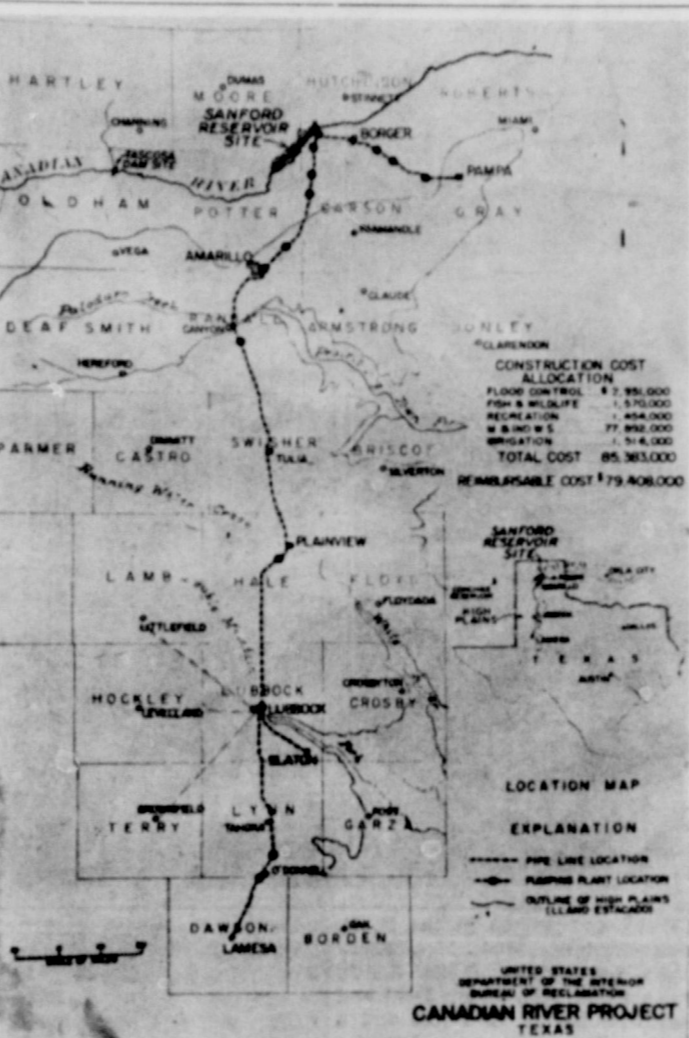

Many little courteous acts that we didn't, and our children do things and omit other things that we were not permitted to do or omit.

A History of Slaton . . .

Editor's Note: This is the second part of a history of early Slaton. The history was written as a term paper by Rev. Lowell C. Green, former Lutheran pastor here and at Posey. Its preparation involved considerable research, and though the Slatonite does not vouch for the veracity throughout, it is our belief that it will prove of interest to Slatonite readers.

As may be expected, the locating of the Santa Fe division point at Slaton instigated bitter rivalry between Slaton and Lubbock. On August 10, 1911, the editor of the Slaton Journal glowingly described the projected erection of the proposed $75,000 Harvey House, and asked, "Does this look like temporary building, oh ye knoekers?"

scarcely keep pace with the merchants. Within a relatively short time an astonishing variety of merchandise and services was offered by the business and professional men of Slaton. Building supplies could be purchased at the Rockwell Lumber Company, located at the corner of Lynn and North Seventh Sts.; at the Panhandle Lumber Company on North Seventh St.; at the Alfalfa Lumber Company at Lynn and Ninth Sts., and at Slaton Lumber Company.

Carr Emphasizes Canadian Dam As Self-Sustaining In Rotary Address

A very interesting talk on the proposed Canadian River Dam project was made Thursday at the Slaton Rotary Club by Representative Waggoner Carr of Lubbock.

The water would in fifty years pay for the costs. The water would be delivered to the various towns by pipe line and pump stations. This water supply would be supplementary to the water supplies that these towns now have.

WATER PLIGHT BETTER, BUT CURBS HOLD

Recent rains greatly improved Slaton's water shortage situation, but usage was picking up sharply at mid-week, and City Water Supt. Forrest Davis pointed out Wednesday that water restriction regulations must remain in effect until more rains come.

During the rains, water usage approximated 600,000 gallons daily. The tapering off of water demands allowed some of the city wells a long-needed rest, and afforded opportunity for the city to build up an adequate reserve of water for fire-fighting emergencies.

SW Bell Asks Hike In Telephone Rates

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company on Monday entered formal application with the city commission for higher telephone rates in Slaton.

Requested Rates Rates requested by the company include $3.25 a month for a four-party residence line, $4 for two-party residence line, $5 for an individual-line residence telephone, and $9 for a business telephone.

DEADLINE IS SATURDAY IN CASH CONTEST

There's still time. You have until Saturday noon, August 1, to submit entries in the Slatonite's Hometown Loyalty Contest.

No Rural Hike He pointed out that the company is not seeking an increase on rural telephone rates. These stand at $3.50 a month on residence telephones and $6 a month on rural business telephones.

"Cotton Insect Control" will be the topic of discussion when the Slaton Agriculture Club holds its monthly dinner meeting at 8 o'clock Tuesday night, August 4, in the Slaton Club House.

Rev. Lake To Take Presbyterian Pulpit

Baptists To Conclude Revival On Sunday

The summer revival at the First Baptist Church, which began last Sunday and which has attracted good crowds throughout this week, will continue through Sunday, August 2, it was announced Wednesday by Rev. J. T. Bolding, pastor.

Hatchery Occupies Site On Highway

Huser Hatchery this week completed its move from 235 West Garza, where the firm had operated since 1945, into larger and more modern headquarters at 310 South Ninth in the building formerly occupied by Kendrick Pontiac.

More Water Wells On Planning Board

Two more water wells are in immediate prospect for Slaton, Mayor O. N. Alcorn said Tuesday. The prospective well sites, situated north and slightly west of the city and not far beyond the city limits, proved the best of six test holes drilled this month, the mayor explained.

BURKS LEAVES SLATON FOR CARLSBAD POST

Battle Plan Against Polio

With the continuance of scorching summer weather on the South Plains, the possibility of polio striking in our community has increased sharply.

Figures compiled to date by the Texas State Department of Health show that the rampaging disease this year is striking harder at Texas than at any other state in the nation.

That sharply presses home the need for doing what we can to form a battle plan against polio. Official recommendations of the State Health Department are these:

1. Spot spray insect breeding places after they have been cleaned up and destroyed. Spraying indiscriminately might kill a few insects on the wing, but it won't do the job. It might kill valuable plants and create a false sense of security.
2. Get rid of animal shelters in urban areas. They cannot be kept clean and consequently create a health hazard as fly breeders.
3. Get rid of dump piles, tin cans, old tires, and accumulated debris which breed flies and mosquitoes and provide harborage for rats.
4. Provide a properly operated sewerage system, and get rid of all surface toilets. Dr. Cox believes toilets constitute one of the major health hazards facing Texas.
5. Provide a source of pure water.
6. Protect food supplies in wholesale business houses, retail shops, and in private homes.
7. Make regular inspections of all premises to see that no possibility exists for fly breeding. If you have flies, somebody is maintaining a breeding spot.
8. Garbage should be placed in fly tight garbage cans until time of disposal. Tubs, boxes, lidless garbage cans, etc., are of no value.

Each home owner must assume the responsibility.

Too Long A Lag . . .

Col. Homer P. Garrison, director of the state's Department of Public Safety, promised in an interview here that he would make a prompt check of the driver license issuance lag that creates a dilemma for many motorists through no fault of their own.

The dilemma is that many motorists find themselves, for a time at least, driving with an invalid license and subject to arrest for violation of the law, yet powerless to do anything about it. They have complied with the requirements for license renewal by filing application with the safety department at Austin. They cannot obtain a temporary driving permit if their old license expires before the new one arrives, as frequently is the case. They have followed faithfully the instructions for license renewal—barring instances in which motorists are laggard in filing applications after receiving the 30-day advance notice of expiration—but they nevertheless are in danger of being accused of driving an automobile illegally.

The only safe course for such a motorist, advises Corporation Court Judge Gilmartin, is to leave his car in the garage until his new license is received. That is a necessity which should not occur. The automobile is heavily relied upon by most families. In many cases it may be the only means of transportation to and from jobs or in the performance of work necessary to earning a living. The driving privilege is highly valued and it should not be forfeited, even temporarily, for reasons beyond a driver's control.

Colonel Garrison says he has heard no complaints except from drivers who have lost a few days of time through too-early issuance of renewal licenses. That complaint, it seems to us, could be easily cured. It seems both simple and logical to date each renewal license from the time of expiration of the old one, and such procedure would ease the burden on the licensing bureau by encouraging motorists to file applications promptly.

A revision of the license-issuing process to eliminate the kinks and hitches is in order. The motorist who attempts to be law-abiding should not be penalized for the shortcomings of a state bureau.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

When Mother Works

The United States Labor Department reported a few days ago that more than 19 million American women hold regular jobs. In other words, nearly three-tenths of the labor force in America is made up of women.

This indicates how far-reaching is the earnest argument raised by such questions as, "Should mothers work?" or, "Is a woman's place in the home?" Recent discussions of juvenile delinquency emphasized how desirable is the guiding hand of a mother at home. Some working wives should ask themselves seriously whether their pay checks can do as much for their children as their presence could do.

But the size of the statistic shows that women are in industry, business, or professional careers to stay. Many, of course, are single, but some of these have dependent relatives. The married woman who works may do so either to add a few luxuries to her budget or simply because the family would not be adequately fed or housed otherwise. Or she may be a widow with children to clothe.

In any event, it is not easy these days to find competent help if children or an aged father or mother must be cared for while the woman bread-winner is away. Not when the Labor Department also reports that there is only one household worker for every 25 families in America.

Consequently several groups—among them the Oklahoma Federation of Business and Professional Women—have asked Congress for legislation to permit a limited income tax deduction for either a man or woman who is under expense for the care of a young child or other relative incapable of self-care and who must bear this expense because he or she is gainfully employed.

It is not wise policy to introduce any tax reductions or exemptions until the nation has achieved a balanced or nearly balanced budget, but this is one type of proposal which would seem to deserve careful consideration when a time arrives that tax cuts or tax relief can be contemplated.—The Christian Science Monitor.

Major League Stars Tell "How to Watch Baseball"

Baseball puzzler: The rule says a runner hit by a batted ball is out. This runner was hit, but not called out. Why? (See below.)

If you would like to become a baseball expert in 16 easy lessons, you can do it with the help of a new illustrated booklet, just published, written by twelve famous major leaguers.

Entitled "How to Watch Baseball" the book is intended mainly for spectators, but it also contains plenty of tips on playing the game, as well as American League and National League schedules for 1953. It is available free at Phillips 66 Stations in this vicinity.

Each of these major leaguers has contributed one or more chapters to the book. You'll learn from Robin Roberts, star pitcher of the Philadelphia Phillies, that there is "no better pitch" in baseball than a live, fast ball, "provided the pitcher can keep it where he wants it." Ralph Ciner of the Pirates discusses the secrets of power hitting, while Yankee Phil Rizzuto tells how a properly executed bunt may win a ball game quite as effectively as a home run. Other players who contribute good advice are Mickey Mantle, Stan Musial, George Kell, Red Schoendienst, Roy Campanella, Whitey Lockman and Bob Lemon.

The problems of a baseball manager are discussed in a chapter entitled "Masterminding," by Paul Richards, manager of Chicago's White Sox. Finally, Bill Stewart, Dean of National League Umpires contributes a chapter on the umpire's point of view. A glossary of common baseball expressions is included as well as two pages of "baseball puzzlers" to enable you to test your knowledge of the game.

Answer to Baseball Puzzler

Runner is out when hit by batted ball only if he is hit before infielder has chance to make play. In this case, shortstop missed chance to field ball before it hit runner, so runner is safe.

ONE YEAR AGO IN SLATON

Taken from Aug. 1, 1952

Roger Sokoll, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Sokoll, was taken to John Sealy Hospital in Galveston Saturday, where he will be under the care of Dr. Truman Blocker, professor of plastic surgery at the medical school. On Saturday, July 19, Roger went to St. Joseph's Hall in a pick-up to pick up Coke bottles, and got stuck. He put the pick-up in gear, pulled the throttle and got out to push, but the wheels continued to spin. He found some burlap cotton bale wrapping and was trying to hold it under the rear wheel for traction when his foot slipped and caught under the spinning wheel. It burned through his shoe down to the bone and wore off part of the ankle bone.

The marriage of Miss Joyce Pember and Richard J. Cheatham, Jr., was solemnized at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in a double ring ceremony read in First Methodist Church by the Rev. Lloyd Mayhew. Well, anyway, a snorer is a sound sleeper. (Pretty deep is it?)

With us, snoring seems to accompany dreams. You must have been snoring the other night for we dreamed an awful dream. We dreamed we were to dinner and got up with the check.

When we were young, some said if we hummed a piece of wedding cake and slept it under our pillow, we'd be about our future wife. We did it and dream about the Dame football team.

We're not dreaming when we say we would sure like to have you as a customer.

Slaton Women Give Their Favorite Tested Recipes

Mrs. Gordon Burrell's favorite recipe is for Angel Pie. It is easily prepared, so different from most pies, and a good summertime dessert. This dessert has brought many compliments and was described by a visiting minister as "heavenly eating."

Angel Pie
4 egg whites
1-8 tsp. cream of tartar
1 cup sugar
1 tsp vanilla
peaches and sugar
Beat eggs whites until foamy.

Add cream of tartar and beat again until stiff but not dry. Add 1 cup sugar gradually, beating until the mixture stands in peaks. Add vanilla as you beat. Oil deep 8 inch pyrex pie plate and dust with flour. Turn mixture into pie plate. Bake in slow oven, 275 degrees, 30 to 40 minutes. When cool top or fill with sliced peaches, sweetened to taste. When the pie is removed from the oven it will be tall, maybe two inches above the plate. Then it will sink in the center and that's where the peaches are put.

Mrs. Burrell was born and raised here. Her husband is a farmer. They have two children, Jeanette, who is almost 15; and Jerry, who is three.

Mrs. Burrell is a member of the Westview Baptist Church, where she teaches in the nursery department and works in the nursery in Training Union.

She is a member of the Mes Amies, a club which is primarily social but has a good record of civic achievement.

Mrs. Burrell loves to sew. She makes her own clothes and sews for her daughter. She likes to embroider, but hasn't had much time for that recently. Another of her hobbies is interior decorating. She likes to make her own curtains and drapes and do upholstery. Canasta gives the variety that is the spice of life to her chosen hobbies.

Mrs. Burrell considers Slaton the grandest place in the world to live, because she likes the folks so well.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Cooper and their daughter, Mrs. Harrison Keys and grandson, Robert Keys, spent Friday in Lubbock visiting with their daughter and sister, Mrs. Leon Graham, and family.

Social Security Man Sets Thursday Visit At Slaton City Hall

Look at your social security card! There's not another one just like it in the whole world! It's different from every other social security card in that a number, which belongs to you alone, appears on this card. This number, which identifies you, even though you may be one of the hundreds of thousands of Smiths and Johnsons living and working in America, is the key to financial security for you and your family.

When you make social security tax payments, these payments can only be credited to your account if your employer has a record of your correct social security number.

Since social security benefits are based on the amount credited to your account, it is vitally important for you to get credit for all the wages you earn from work covered by the social security law.

To guarantee your receiving social security credits for your earnings, take your social security card along with you whenever you start to work on a job. Don't trust to memory! Show your card to your employer and make sure he copies your name and your number exactly as it appears on your card.

By following this simple rule, you and your family will get the full benefit of your social security insurance.

To assist in all matters concerning social security, a representative of the Lubbock Social Security Field Office will be in Slaton at the Red Cross Room on Thursday, August 6th at 2:30 p.m.

Texas Federal Cooperation

Should Texas abide by all the projects and directives from Washington? Which joint programs are the most worthwhile?

The answer is obvious in some cooperative projects now in operation within our state. Certainly the commodity market news which keeps producers informed on current prices is aided immeasurably by joint federal-state efforts. And no one objects when U. S. aid is rushed to states paralyzed by the drought.

But where does federal cooperation end and federal encroachment begin?

Lots Of Money

A prime case in point is the Texas-Federal Fruit & Vegetable Inspection Service. An average of a half-million dollars is involved in this project annually. This money is collected in Texas from Texas vegetable growers, buyers and shippers. It is of vital importance particularly in East and South Texas and other areas where commercial vegetables and fruits are grown.

In return, the products are inspected and graded in a uniform manner. This allows qualified Texas fruits and vegetables to be shipped out-of-state where they command prices comparable to those received by products from all other areas of the country.

Whose Right?

This program is valuable and needed by all phases of the fruit and vegetable industry. Yet the question arises—who should control the functions of such a joint project? The obvious answer is that both parties should at least have 50-50 rights. But here is how the situation stands at present. The most recent agreement with the federal government was drawn up and signed Aug. 1, 1949. Under its terms, the federal authorities exercise almost complete control over state employees hired on the project. Federal agents can even veto expenditures of money believed necessary by state agents. And some 10 per cent of this Texas money is funneled directly into federal coffers.

Seek Remedies

The State Department of Agriculture has submitted a new contract to the federal government in the hope of remedying some of these defects. Texas money collected for Texas projects should be spent in Texas. Texas authorities should have control over their own state employees. But to date, officials of the U.S.D.A. Fruits & Vegetable Branch have refused to sign the contract—a contract which is in every way similar to those of other states where the cooperative project exists.

Texas deserves the rights granted other states. The present contract is a perfect example of federal encroachment.

The O. L. Doyle family had as guests last week, Mrs. Doyle's uncle and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Stan Lincecum of Altus, Okla., and her aunt and husband, Mrs. Sanders Walker and Mr. Walker from Vernon, Tex.

Slaton Scout Recounts Experiences Journey To National Jamboree

Editor's Note: The following is an outline of the Boy Scout Jamboree trip to California. Three Slaton Boy Scouts, Billy Earl Caldwell, J. L. Shaw, and Mackie Klattenhoff, represented the Slaton Scouts. They were accompanied by Scoutmaster, L. B. Hagerman, assistant scoutmaster, and Raymond Lupfer. The trip also, but with group which did not include Slaton boys. Caldwell was one of the patrol leaders on his bus. The 34 scouts were divided into patrols, with a Scout being in charge of each patrol. On the trip with the Slaton boys were: Hood, Lubbock, scoutmaster; L. B. Hagerman, assistant scoutmaster; and Raymond Lupfer, scout executive. In the office held by Caldwell, J. L. Mayhew was Scribe of group.

day, July 9, leaving Lubbock at 7:05 a.m. We stopped at Tulla and picked up some scouts there, and went on to Amarillo, where we had a 10 minute break. We crossed into New Mexico at Texline, and followed Coronado's route into Colorado. We had supper at Pueblo, and spent the night in Boy Scout Camp Roosevelt there.

Royal Gorge

The highlight of Friday's drive was the trip to the Royal Gorge, where we went to the bottom of the gorge on the trolley. We also made the trip across the bridge.

After having lunch in Gunnison, Colo., we drove to Price, Utah for supper. Friday night was spent in a park in Price.

Saturday morning saw us on our way to Salt Lake City, Utah. We toured the Mormon Temple grounds, and received free souvenirs from the guides there. During the afternoon we went to the Great Salt Lake for a swim, and returned to the city to spend the night in a park there. We played baseball, and took in the organ recital at the Mormon Tabernacle that night.

Church In Utah

Sunday morning we drove to Eureka, Utah, and attended Sunday School and church at the Methodist Church there. Sunday night was spent at Tonopah, Nevada.

At 9 a.m. Monday we crossed into California. Plans called for us to visit Yosemite National Park, but about half-way up the mountains the bus had to turn around and come back. It just couldn't make it. We even had to get out and push some to get them as far up as they went. Some of the hair-pin curves were so sharp the buses couldn't make them.

Mohave Desert

Because of the delays we couldn't have lunch until 3:30 p.m. in Bishop, California. We crossed the Mohave Desert that afternoon and stopped at Mohave for the day. We took a swim at an indoor swimming pool at the Grade School following our supper, and slept outside the school that night.

Tuesday we drove to Pico, California, where we had lunch as guests of the Lions Club there. We drove on to the Jamboree grounds that afternoon, set up camp, and fixed our supper that first night on the grounds.

Each day while we were on the grounds, we had breakfast and then raised the flag. The flag was lowered again following the evening meal.

Trip To Catalina

Wednesday we went to Catalina Island, and had lunch at a ball park there. We returned to the Jamboree grounds about 6 p.m.

Thursday morning we had free time after we cleaned up our camp site, and went swimming in the Pacific that afternoon. A section meeting followed supper that night.

Friday morning was spent on the rifle range, and after dinner we visited with other boys and traded things that we had brought from home. At a pageant that night was the first time all 50,000 boys were together. An estimated 103,000 people were at the pageant, including Scouts, visitors, and officials.

We worked on achievement awards Saturday morning, went swimming during the afternoon, and had a "fireless campfire" that night. Because of the extreme dry conditions, we didn't have the fire.

Church Services

Worship services were held Sunday morning according to denominations. That night a convocation was held. The afternoon was free time.

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday

State Fair Plans Colorful Feature On South Plains

An impressive display of products raised by South Plains farmers will be featured in this region's colorful "Agriculturnama" exhibit at the 1953 State Fair of Texas, Oct. 10-25.

The South Plains is included in the Texas A&M College System Extension District 2, composed of the following counties: Bailey, Borden, Briscoe, Cochran, Crosby, Dawson, Floyd, Gaines, Garza, Hale, Hockley, Howard, Lamb, Lubbock, Lynn, Mitchell, Scurry, Swisher, Terry and Yoakum.

Alfalfa, cotton bolls, grain sorghum, sudan, red top cane and white potatoes will be displayed as part of an irrigation scene depicting how pump water flowing into ditches has been used to turn the South Plains into fertile fields.

Giant dahlias which grow in this region will be flown in daily to Dallas for the exhibit.

Agricultural leaders of District 2 who cooperated with the fair in working out the South Plains exhibit include Mrs. Emabeth Towery of Colorado City, W. B. Griffin of Tahoka, and Miss Clara Pratt, David W. Sherrill, Otice Green, Jack Creel and R. L. Johns, all of Lubbock.

The dramatic three-dimensional "Agriculturnama" will include individual exhibits for each of the A&M Extension Service districts of Texas. They will carry out the "Water for Texas" theme of the Agriculture Show, explaining the water resources problems of farmers and ranchers in different parts of the state.

THIS WEEK'S SMILES

A stranger sauntered up the sidewalk before a modest, new ranch house in a small midwestern city. "Nice house you got here," he observed to the owner. "Worth about $20,000, I imagine." "Nope," retorted the owner, "it's worth every cent of $30,000. Are you looking for a place to buy?"

"No," replied the stranger, jotting something in a notebook, "I'm the new tax assessor."

WORLD'S ONLY V8 VERTICAL VALVE V8

GET behind this big, bold, beautiful front in the driver's seat—and get set for a new kind of automotive pleasure.

Get set for everything symbolized by the "V" of that ornament nestling in the nose of the hood.

Get set for the thrill of bossing the new V8 engine that crowns fifty great Buick years with record-high power.

This is an invitation to drive a 1953 Buick ROADMASTER—where you command the power of the first Fireball V8 engine.

It is the only American passenger-car V8 with vertical valves—for greater engine compactness, uniform oil distribution to valve stems, full turbulence in the fuel charge.

It is the first such V8 to reach 8.5 to 1 compression ratio—the first to exhaust through a muffler of zero power loss—the first with a whole long list of advanced engineering features.

But the translation of these features into performance is the real news, the real thrill. You accelerate, cruise, climb hills with the effortless ease of almost limitless power—instantly responsive.

You barely hear the velvety purr of the power flow—yet you're handling the highest horsepower in all Buick history.

And since you have this with the other great engineering advance—Twin-Turbine Dynaflo—you get brilliantly new getaway with complete and utter smoothness through all ranges.

Want to try it? Want to take the wheel of the greatest performing Buick in 50 great years and judge things for yourself? Drop in on us first chance you have, and we'll gladly arrange matters.

WORMING PLAN PAYS DIVIDENDS

It is an adage in poultry-raising that everywhere there are chickens, there are worms. It is extremely difficult, if not impossible, to raise poultry free of internal parasites. The important thing is to keep down the number of these costly pests.

By rearing chickens on clean range, much can be done to control worms. Certainly, no flock should be ranged on an area where another flock has been previously ranged within a year. Such precautions minimize the worm problem and assure healthier, better birds.

Worming Programs

Even in the best-kept of flocks, worms will get a start and will develop rapidly, through multiplication, unless controlled. Therefore, it is wise to carry on a regular worming practice or program; such a program is low in cost and will pay dividends in better laying birds.

Since the principal worms reproduce on a 28 or 30-day cycle, a monthly worming schedule can be recommended. This assures keeping the worm burden of the chickens at a minimum and also tends to reduce the worm population of the range area.

Flock-type treatments are used by many raisers. They are convenient and economical. Many can be given in a day or less, and they do not involve a great deal of mixing.

Individual Wormers

The tablet treatment for removal of worms is not as popular as the flock method, because it involves handling of birds. But there is a place for the tablet method in a worming program, as it is a reliable method of administering a dose. Many flockowners are partial to the tablet immediately before housing.

Treatments containing various drugs which are effective against different types of worms, are available. These include a new tablet which removes large roundworms, cecal worms, tapeworms, and intestinal capillary worms—the main species of worms that parasitize poultry in the intestines.

The results obtained by poultrymen who follow regular worming programs—during the growing period and year around—are evidence that good worm control does pay. Their production records are largely superior to those of other raisers.

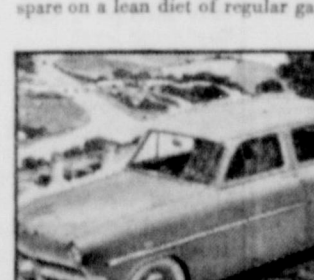

"Best buy" where you ride! Ford's foam-rubber cushioned seats, front and rear, are soft-wide and soft-soft. Interior fabrics, color-keyed to Ford's smart outside colors, would be a credit to any car at any price.

"Best buy" where you drive! Ford's suspended pedals operate more easily . . . eliminate dusty, drafty floor holes. And Ford drivers have a choice of Fordomatic Drive, Overdrive or Conventional transmission.

"Best buy" at the gas pumps! When you need to "fill 'er up", you do it the modern Ford way with Center-Fill Fueling. And Ford's Automatic Power Pilot gives you power to spare on a lean diet of regular gas.

"Best buy" on the road! The rougher the road the better your Ford likes it because Ford's new "ride" cuts front end road shock alone up to 80% . . . babies you over the bumps . . . and cuts sideways on turns.

Why FORD'S your best buy!

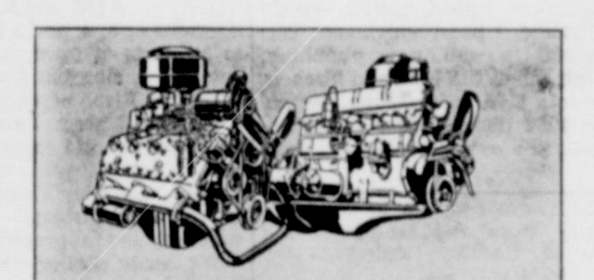

"WORTH MORE" IS THE ANSWER . . . IT COSTS SO LITTLE TO BUY . . . SO LITTLE TO RUN . . . AND HAS SUCH HIGH RESALE VALUE!

The best buy in an automobile usually means the amount of pleasure and satisfaction the owner gets from his original investment, plus low day-to-day running costs, plus the amount of value he recovers when he sells his car.

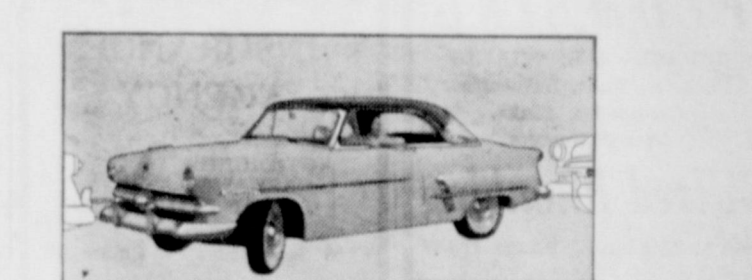

What is it that makes Ford your best buy? Is it the fine styling and craftsmanship of its Crestmark Body . . . or its new "ride" with curve-hugging and bump-leveling qualities never before known in low-priced cars? Or is it Ford's famous V-8 or Mileage Maker Six? Maybe it's the easy way the car handles with Fordomatic Drive, or Ford's Master-Guide power steering! Perhaps it's Ford's suspended pedals, or Center-Fill Fueling or Full-Circle Visibility!

Actually, it's not just any one or two of these fine things that make Ford your best buy. It's all of Ford's "Worth More" features combined . . . features which make Ford worth more when you buy it . . . and worth more when you sell it!

"Best buy" in engine power! Only Ford in its field offers you a choice of V-8 or Six. Ford has built more V-8's—over 13,000,000—than all other makers combined. And Ford's Six—the most modern in the industry—with Overdrive, won the Mobilgas Economy Run Grand Sweepstakes!

"Best buy" in power steering! Ford's Master-Guide (available on all V-8 models) supplies hydraulic "muscles"—automatically whenever you need them—to do the work of steering for you. All you do is guide the car. Makes all driving easier, and safer. And parking's so easy!

THIS and THAT FROM HERE and THERE

Talk In Print—

Rev. Arthur Brewer brought a piece of innertube to The Review office Tuesday morning, with this believe-it-or-not story. His sister-in-law, Mrs. Chas. Brewer, found the piece of rubber, 8 1/2 inches long and 1/2-inch wide, in the gizzard of a frying-size chicken Monday while dressing poultry for the locker. That chick probably thought it was the biggest and toughest "worm" it had ever tried to swallow.

—Abernathy Weekly Review

Lipstick Logic—

A magazine we read carries a regular feature called "Mistakes We Have Made." And each month prize letters are printed, telling what three contributors consider their worst mistake ever. A recent issue includes an interesting variety of blunders.

One woman, who loves pretty clothes, regrets not having kept her weight down when she was young. Another allowed a vine-covered well to go neglected until her prize animal fell through the rotten planks and was drowned. The third got in a rut planting vegetables until someone got her interested in varieties suitable for deep freezing. This did wonders for her meal planning.

Not all of us find it easy to single out one serious blunder that, if we could retract, would make life different. For most folks, it's the dozens of little mistakes that plague us. Failing to write a letter to an old friend, a smile we didn't answer. An accumulation of small sins that go out in all directions and make it hard to keep our fences mended.

—County Wide News

Trends—

Excessive tidiness is said to indicate a mild form of insanity for which most newspapermen are happily immune.

—The Crosbyton Review

Once Over Lightly—

Those whom we callously refer to as "old people" positively fascinate me. They are living storehouses of the records of man in our day—his hopes and fears, triumphs and failures, laughs and tears, problems and solutions. They watch the young repeat the foolish mistakes of their youth, and wag their heads. They see them enjoy the same exhilarating pleasures they once knew, and nod in retrospective approval. They see all that goes on about them, and little of it is new to them.

The "old men," as we say, are a delightful combination of the wittiness of memory, knowledge of age, impressiveness of dignity, and the titillating cussedness which was born in the rascals. One can learn a lot in a few minutes conversation with them, but I like them just because I can't help it. They are imps with wings, who have seen enough of life (and the people who scramble through it) to respect it or laugh at it, as the occasion demands.

—The Lorenzo Tribune

Drifting Sands—

Chicago is a city for the very young, the very old, and the very loaded.

And it's the little things that stick—and are remembered.

The bossy, matronly woman who belittled and berated a male waiter in the hotel snack counter and climaxing her spiel with "I just don't see where this hotel can find all you stupid waiters," which the young man took in silence. A moment later, screaming at him for toast just ordered her with "Aw right, you old cow, whattya bellerin' about now."

The utter quietness of 19,000 people in one auditorium listening to Helen Keller and her translator speak . . . the ear splitting roar by the same number on a different night applauding Evelyn and her magic violin.

The shocked disbelief in the eyes of two naive Texans who spent $18 in taxi fare trying to fathom the whys and wherefores of the existence of pitiful men and women on Skid Row . . . the never-to-be forgotten scene of tears rolling down the cheeks of a veteran Chicago cab driver as he and his two passengers watched an age-old Skid Row scene . . .

—The Andrews County News

Popvalve—

Important thing for us to think about, whether it be grammatical or not, is the ultimate result. Viz: And the grammarians tell us that whether a hen is "setting" or "sitting" isn't nearly so important as whether she is "laying" or "lying."

—The Hamlin Herald

Up And Down Main Street—

The wise woman we know says you can learn a lot about romance at the movies if you don't let the picture distract you.

—The Post Dispatch

Pen Feathers—

The local drunk staggered out of the bar. He spotted the town's only taxicab and climbed in.

"Take me to Charlie's Place, driver," he said.

"Buddy, you're in front of Charlie's Place now," replied the driver.

"OK, Mac!" said the drunk as he staggered out of the cab. "But next time don't drive so blamed fast."

—The Hamilton Herald-News

Trail Dust—

Wealth may wear the cloak of an imposter and gain admittance to the sanctuary of success thru the device of power, but the fellowship is not deceived. Some of history's most pathetic failures have commanded great riches; poverty is more often the constant but meaningless shadow extending from a full and fruitful life.

—Matador Tribune

Mrs. W. D. Wilson of this city, Mrs. J. H. From where I sit . . . by Joe Marsh

It's Fine To Be Fooled - Sometimes

Handy Peters entertained for the ladies of the Auxiliary the other night—and had the ladies believing for a while that he's the best marksman ever.

Handy put on a great act. He set up a whole bunch of balloons on a muslin backdrop and then took out his pea-shooter. He shot and folded, standing on his head, very which way—and broke a balloon every time!

No wonder Handy impressed the ladies. What they didn't know till the show's end—was that Buck Mulligan was hiding behind the backdrop improving on Handy's aim with a hatpin.

From where I sit, we all get things "put over" on us now and again. When it's good-natured—fine! But, some folks would like to fool the rest of us into believing it's wrong to enjoy an occasional glass of beer—just because they prefer something else. For real American tolerance and neighborliness these people are simply "off target."

AUSTIN, Tex.—While Governor Allan Shivers was considering what the state could do to aid drought-beset farmers and ranchmen, he received a report saying that he can declare an emergency and get a $5 million program going.

The report came from Attorney General John Ben Shepperd who, on the governor's request, had been digging into the legal aspects of the situation.

Action is authorized, said per, by the state civil pro act of 1951.

Much could be done without the Legislature into said the report, and there other things that could be only by legislative authority raised, said the attorney by means of contributions the cities, counties, and government agencies, including and other special districts, ing the balance in the general deficiency appropriation, calling upon the public to $500,000.

"It is our opinion," said port, "that you are authorized mobilize and utilize the services, equipment, and facilities of existing state agencies and subdivisions to assist drought relief program."

The federal government is ing up the job of getting to Southwestern farmers ranchers.

President Eisenhower asked gress for $15 million to financing program. The Dept. of Agriculture already has million available for the purpose.

Application blanks were sent to Farmers Home Administration offices and, in some where the demand for loans be heavy, to banks and Federal Credit Administration offices.

South Texas, name of George, called boss of a big part of area, came up in a Supreme hearing on whether District C. Woodrow Laughlin should be ousted from his tion.

Eleven lawyers who practice Judge Laughlin's 790 charged, among other things, the judge had ordered bail and election material delivered the sheriff of Duval County, nephew.

Clint C. Small, representative Laughlin, told the court, "entirely those who want Judge in removed were more in keeping George Parr from the election returns that were in prosecuting election regularities."

It was the view of State tor William H. Shireman, ing for those who want Judge Laughlin, that during the election material to put "in itself a corrupt proceeding making it possible for know how the voters voted."

The Supreme Court case involving the entire pure of the Texas Employment mission in computing employment taxes for unemployment compensation.

The court granted a writ for to Todd Shippard's Corp which had sued for recovery $106,260 in unemployment paid from 1948 to 1951. The corporation contended, higher than it should be.

Judge J. Harris Gardner district court here ruled company, but his decision reversed by the Third Civil Court in an opinion by Justice Robert G. Hughes, that if the Todd claim held, charges and rate of other firm in the Todd would have to be reduced and federal recognition of state employment law withdrawn.

Another state system—prisons—is going into the business in a big way.

Talk In Print—

Rev. Arthur Brewer brought a piece of Innertube to The Review office Tuesday morning, with this believe-it-or-not story. His sister-in-law, Mrs. Chas. Brewer, found the piece of rubber, 8 1/2 inches long and 1/4-inch wide, in the gizzard of a frying-size chicken Monday while dressing poultry for the locker. That chick probably thought it was the biggest and toughest "worm" it had ever tried to swallow.

Lipstick Logic—

A magazine we read carries a regular feature called "Mistakes We Have Made." And each month prize letters are printed, telling what three contributors consider their worst mistake ever. A recent issue includes an interesting variety of blunders.

One woman, who loves pretty clothes, regrets not having kept her weight down when she was young. Another allowed a vine-covered well to go neglected until her prize animal fell through the rotten planks and was drowned. The third got in a rut planting vegetables until someone got her interested in varieties suitable for deep freezing. This did wonders for her meal planning.

Not all of us find it easy to single out one serious blunder that, if we could retract, would make life different. For most folks, it's the dozens of little mistakes which plague us. Failing to write a letter to an old friend, a smile we didn't answer. An accumulation of small sins that go out in all directions and make it hard to keep our fences mended.

Once Over Lightly—

Those whom we callously refer to as "old people" positively fascinate me. They are living storehouses of the records of man in our day—his hopes and fears, triumphs and failures, laughs and tears, problems and solutions. They watch the young repeat the foolish mistakes of their youth, and wag their heads. They see them enjoy the same exhilarating pleasures they once knew, and nod in retrospective approval. They see all that goes on about them, and little of it is new to them.

The "old men," as we say, are a delightful combination of the wittiness of memory, knowledge of age, impressiveness of dignity, and the titillating cussedness which was born in the rascals. One can learn a lot in a few minutes conversation with them, but I like them just because I can't help it. They areimps with wings, who have seen enough of life (and the people who scramble through it) to respect it or laugh at it, as the occasion demands.

Drifting Sands—

Chicago is a city for the very young, the very old, and the very loaded.

And it's the little things that stick—and are remembered.

The bossy, matronly woman who belittled and berated a male waiter in the hotel snack counter and climaxing her spiel with "I just don't see where this hotel can find all you stupid waiters," which the young man took in silence. A moment later, screaming at him for toast just ordered her with "Aw right, you old cow, whatya bellerin' about now."

The utter quietness of 19,000 people in one auditorium listening to Helen Keller and her translator speak... the ear-splitting roar by the same number on a different night applauding Evelyn and her magic violin.

The shocked disbelief in the eyes of two naive Texans who spent $18 in taxi fare trying to fathom the whys and wherefores of the existence of pitiful men and women on Skid Row... the never-to-be forgotten scene of tears rolling down the cheeks of a veteran Chicago cab driver as he and his two passengers watched an age-old Skid Row scene.

Trail Dust—

Wealth may wear the cloak of an impostor and gain admittance to the sanctuary of success thru the device of power, but the fellowship is not deceived. Some of history's most pathetic failures have commanded great riches; poverty is more often the constant but meaningless shadow extending from a full and fruitful life.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

It's Fine To Be Fooled - Sometimes

Handy Peters entertained for the ladies of the Auxiliary the other night—and had the ladies believing for a while that he's the best marksman ever.

Handy put on a great act. He set up a whole bunch of balloons on a muslin backdrop and then shot out his pea-shooter. He shot straight, standing on his head, every which way—and broke a balloon every time!

So wonder Handy impressed the ladies. What they didn't know—till the show's end—was that Buck Mulligan was hiding behind the backdrop improving on Handy's aim with a hatpin.

From where I sit, we all get things "put over" on us now and again. When it's good-natured—fine! But, some folks would like to fool the rest of us into believing it's wrong to enjoy an occasional glass of beer—just because they prefer something else. For real American tolerance and neighborliness these people are simply "off target."

A night swim class for teenagers and adults is slated to be underway Monday night at the Slaton swimming pool, which was announced Wednesday by Truett Fulcher, pool manager.
