Roosevelt Says Lend-Lease Has Eased War Situation

House Committee Studies Says War Must Be Carried To Our Enemies

WASHINGTON, March 11 (AP)—The house ways and means committee, trying to raise at least $7,000,000,000 new revenue, called on treasury officials today for all available statistics on the sales tax. Sentiment for some kind of a sales levy appeared to be growing among congressmen. Some members took open exception to Secretary Morgenthau's program which calls for raising $7,000,000,000 chiefly through stiffer individual income taxes and corporation levies, and from new excise taxes. Morgenthau and many treasury officials have expressed their opposition to a sales tax, contending among other things that it would be inequitable and inflationary. W. J. Scheffelin, Jr., chairman of the New York state chamber of commerce, proposed yesterday that congress raise $4,000,000,000 through a graduated retail sales tax and $1,000,000,000 from higher income taxes, with the other $2,000,000,000 of President Roosevelt's $7,000,000,000 program being deferred until fall. Scheffelin recommended that a 2 or 3 per cent rate be imposed on food, and at least 10 per cent on higher-priced articles, with an average of about 5 per cent. Treasury officials have estimated that a 5 per cent manufacturer's sales tax would yield from $153,000,000 to $3,780,000,000, depending on exemptions. Chairman Doughton (D-NC) of the committee said that he opposed a retail sales tax but was maintaining an open mind on a manufacturers sales tax.

Hitler Asks For Troops From Allies

LONDON, March 11 (AP)—Germany was reported today to have called upon Hungary, Slovakia and Italy, for as many as 2,000,000 fresh troops to bolster Adolf Hitler's army for spring offensive operations after its hard winter in Russia. Factory production was adjusted to fit the pattern. A Berlin dispatch to the Stockholm newspaper Dagbladet Nyheter said more than two-thirds of Germany's industries were producing war materials; that the state spent more than two-thirds of the whole national income to cover the expenses. Fresh manpower was needed for replacement of the dead, wounded and missing. Soviet authorities declared Feb. 22 that Germany had lost 6,000,000 men on the Russian front. Computations a month earlier indicated 1,700,000 had been killed and 2,000,000 seriously wounded, Russians reported. Advice received by way of Bern from various parts of Europe on the call for fresh troops indicated Hungary is to provide 1,500,000 soldiers, Slovakia 100,000 and Italy many more than she has yet sent to the eastern front, with some unverified reports mentioning 1,000,000. Axis staff officers have conferred also with Bulgarian leaders in recent weeks and diplomatic circles believe the question of a Bulgarian declaration of war on Russia was discussed, it was asserted.

Huge German Battleship Is Attacked

LONDON, March 11 (AP)—The 35,000-ton German battleship Tirpitz was attacked by fleet air arm torpedo planes on Monday off the coast of Norway, it was announced today. The Tirpitz, thus reported in action for the first time, is a sister-ship of the Bismarck, sunk in the North Atlantic last May by British warships and planes. The Tirpitz last was seen retiring under the cover of a heavy smokescreen toward the Norwegian coast, an admiralty communiqué said. The communiqué said the warship put out of Trondheim and took a northward course, but was sighted by reconnaissance planes and then attacked by the torpedo planes. "It was not possible to observe the result of this attack," said the admiralty.

New Yorkers Most Gullible To Rumors

NEW YORK, March 11 (AP)—Suave New Yorkers were taken down a peg today when the would-be sophisticated metropolis was found the "most gullible" of three cities tested for susceptibility to rumors. The committee for national morale upset the applicant by announcing that the people of Boston and Dover, N. J., showed more resistance to propaganda than those of the nation's largest city.

Harsh Treatment Of Brazilians Denied

TOKYO (From Japanese Broadcasts)—March 11 (AP)—A Japanese spokesman declared today that Brazilian diplomats "are treated according to law" and that "some misunderstanding" must have prompted Brazil's announcement that she would take retaliatory measures against Japanese diplomats there. The Brazilian government, which has served diplomatic relations with the axis powers, announced Saturday that its embassy in Japan had been occupied by military police, its functionaries "treated like prisoners of war" and that it would take "similar measures" against Japanese officials in Brazil.

Commandoes Train At Texas College

ARLINGTON, March 11 (AP)—The first commando unit to be organized in any United States college is learning at North Texas Agricultural college to deal roughly with the enemy. The unit, composed of 120 bright and rugged youngsters, is basing its training program on that of Britain's superfighters. But some made-in-America touches have been added. Jujitsu, offensive and defensive, is included in the course of study, as well as lessons in the Japanese language.

COGS WORK EXTRA

HOUSTON, March 11 (AP)—Thirty-three officers have responded to Police Chief Ashworth's plea for volunteers to work extra hours because of the war. They will not be paid for the extra hours.

Independence Plan Offered To India

LONDON, March 11 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill repeated today Britain's promise of domination status for imperiled India after the war and announced that his ranking aide, Sir Stafford Cripps, would go to India as an emissary to seek assurance that a precise plan already drafted by London would gain general Indian acceptance. The promise of Indian self-government within the British commonwealth of nations after the war, first made in August, 1940, so far has failed to mollify Indian nationalists.

Bold U-Boats Strike Twice Near Coast

NEW YORK, March 11 (AP)—Ever bolder and swifter in their attacks, axis submarines have sunk two ships in nearby waters in as many days. In the latest and most brazen approach to the east coast since the United States entered the war, an enemy submersible with one well-aimed torpedo split in half the 6,776-ton Gulf oil tanker Gulf-trade early yesterday less than four miles off Barnegat, N. J. Some time earlier, between 7 and 7:30 p. m. (EWT) Sunday, either the same raider or another with an aim almost as good blew asunder the 5,152-ton Brazilian cargo-passenger vessel Cayra carrying 130 miles off Ambrose Light, beacon for New York harbor. The two sinkings, numbers 28 and 29 on the officially announced list of ships sent to the bottom of the U. S. east, apparently resulted in heavy loss of life, with a total of 78 still missing. Sixteen of the 35-man crew of the Gulf-trade were picked up by coast guard boats and landed safely at Tompkinsville, Staten Island, while 22 of 78 seamen and four of 10 passengers were rescued from the Cayra.

The captain of the Gulf-trade, "Forget Olsen of Fort Arthur, Tex., said his ship was struck a few minutes after he had ordered the running lights put on "in order to avoid a collision with two ships ahead of us." "All I wish," he added, "is that they would put me aboard a coast guard cutter so I could go out to sea and hunt that sub that sank my ship." One of seven survivors who remained aboard the stern half of the split tanker until rescued, Chief Engineer Guy F. Chadwick, said that after bisecting the Gulf-trade the submarine impudently raised back and forth between the halves for 30 to 45 minutes, before disappearing.

British Ask For Stop In Atrocities

LONDON, March 11 (AP)—The British Red Cross called an appeal to the Japanese Red Cross through international headquarters at Geneva today, seeking assurance that additional atrocities, such as Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden reported yesterday, will not be committed against prisoners of war at Hongkong. The message carried a personal appeal to Prince Shima, head of the prisoners of war relief section of the Japanese Red Cross, to "take every possible step" to give the Hongkong captives Red Cross protection "and to ensure that such treatment does not occur in the future."

Brazil Calls Her Ships To Port

RIO DE JANEIRO, March 11 (AP)—The government shipping line, Lloyd Brasileiro, said today that the government had ordered the suspension of all sailings to the United States and the recall to Rio De Janeiro of all Brazilian ships now en route to the United States. The company said it already had instructed certain of its vessels which now are in Santos preparing to go to the United States to return here to await orders. These moves followed the recent sinkings of four Brazilian vessels by axis submarines off the east coast of the United States.

Alert Sounds In Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, March 11 (AP)—Air raid wardens and emergency units were mobilized shortly before dawn today by an alert order, but the fourth interceptor command gave an all-clear signal an hour and six minutes later without decreeing a general blackout. In San Francisco, the western defense command said an "unidentified object" caused a preliminary, or "yellow," alert at 5:49 a. m. (PWT). This was changed to a "blue" alert at 6:03 a. m. The "blue" signal mobilizes all emergency agencies and silences radio broadcasting stations. The "yellow" alert was effective from Santa Barbara to San Diego counties, the "blue" only in Los Angeles and its neighboring counties on the north and south, Ventura and Orange. Radio stations returned to the air at 8 a. m.

Many Seek To Adopt Infant Found Here

Pleas Come From As Far Away As Springfield, Mo. Unwanted? Who said that about the baby girl abandoned at birth in Birdwell pasture here Monday afternoon. Sure the mother didn't want her, for she left her to die. But fate stepped in and the baby was discovered and rushed to the Big Spring Hospital where she is now the darling of that institution. But it's wrong to say she is unwanted. Why, pleas for the right to adopt the baby have been pouring in since a few minutes after she was found. Possibly a score of Big Spring couples have announced either at the hospital, at the police station, at the sheriff's office and to the county judge that they want to give her a home. This is but the starter. People all over the state have called to ask if they might have her, and one request came all the way from Springfield, Mo. M. H. Morrison, an attorney, told a Herald reporter Tuesday that early Tuesday morning William Moon, attorney at Springfield, had called to relay the request of one of his clients for adoption. Ranking next to this as the request coming from the longest distance was one from El Paso. And two from Tyler, and one each from Mineral Wells, San Angelo, Lubbock, Brady and Abilene. The Lubbock applicants—a young couple who never will be blessed by children of their own—made a trip here Tuesday evening to see if they couldn't somehow get custody of the baby. Just how the baby will be given a home and who will be given the responsibility of furnishing it remained a clouded question. Seemingly, the first step will be to go to district court and declare one child neglected and dependent, and then follow this with a petition of adoption. Officers said Wednesday that they had been unable to pick up any leads that would lead them to the apprehension of the mother and any others responsible for the abandonment of the baby at birth here Monday afternoon. They renewed appeals for anyone to report any possible information which might lead to bringing those responsible into custody. At the hospital nurses had taken the infant to their hearts and agreed at last to call her "Doris Marie," a name that might stick if and when she becomes a part of a home. Whoever gets the baby may have to deal with these nurses who still call her "our daughter." E. E. Bethell, policeman who rushed the infant to the hospital after she was discovered, said that when he went to see the baby Tuesday he almost found the way barred by nurses who thought he had come to take her. Clothes were quickly collected by nurses, and the little "miracle" baby was off to a good start in life as any child ever had. Unwanted? Well, before these adoption requests stop coming in, the total will be imposing enough to banish any such thought. Why, almost everybody wants her.

Man Confesses To Texas Slaying

DALLAS, March 11 (AP)—Washington police today notified Dallas officers that a 22-year-old man had admitted robbing and killing Rudolph Canan of San Antonio and dumping his body on the highway north of Plano, Tex., March 1. Three Mexicans were arrested at Fort Smith, Ark., yesterday and charged with the slaying. Canan's bloodstained car was abandoned in Dallas.

Three City Commissioners To Stand For Reelection

Three members of the city commission whose terms expire this year Tuesday filed their names for appearance on the ballot in the annual municipal election which occurs on April 7. They are J. H. Collins, R. L. Cook and W. S. Satterwhite, each of whom is serving his first term and who will stand for reelection to a two-year term. The other two members of the commission, Grover Dunham and T. J. A. Robinson, are due to serve until 1942. Numerous friends of the three commissioners had urged them to stand for reelection. Filing of candidates for a place on the April 7 printed ballot must be done 15 days before the date of the election. The commission held its regular meeting Tuesday evening with transaction of routine business. Bids were ordered for the city depository, and City Manager Boyd McDaniel was instructed to complete negotiations with Mrs. Marie Stewart for audit of the municipal fiscal records for the fiscal year which ends March 31. Commission members discussed informally ways of remedying the wave of juvenile crimes which has swept the city and pledged full cooperation with county authorities. Also discussed informally were plans for obtaining a city-county health unit. McDaniel was authorized to work with the state health department on the matter.

Japs Continue To Marshal Forces

CANBERRA, Australia, March 11 (AP)—Beating violently at Japanese invasion flotillas which nevertheless apparently still were being marshaled above the mainland, the Royal Australian Air Force reported tonight that seven enemy ships were known to have been sunk or damaged and two others probably damaged in the waters of New Guinea. Of this number two ships definitely were sunk, four were set afire and one was beached, said an official announcement today on Japanese ship concentrations in the harbor of Salamau, on New Guinea's east coast. But even as the air arm continued its running counteroffensive action a large new Japanese convoy was reported heading for Port Moresby on the southern New Guinea coast, in an area only 300 miles from Cape York on the mainland. The Australian Associated Press observed that the government had no denial to offer of these reports. Port Moresby likewise was under new enemy aerial assault, 13 bombers participating in this thrust, although there was no immediate announcement of damage there. The RAAF's action was described in its communiqué as "one of the heaviest aerial attacks so far launched in the New Guinea area." It said "direct hits were scored upon a warship which was either a cruiser or a large destroyer" and added: "When the aircraft left the target area one ship was burning out and three others were on fire. Two of them were sinking and one was being beached."

President Of Brazil Takes New Power

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, March 11 (AP)—President Getulio Vargas issued a decree today giving himself the authority to declare a state of war or a state of emergency throughout the country in case of foreign menace, imminence of internal disturbances or existence of a plan of conspiracy. Promptly answering the toppling of the fourth Brazilian ship off the United States coast in three weeks, the decree cleared the way for imprisonment of axis subjects and seizure of axis property. Orders for seizure of axis property were expected within forty-eight hours. The decree, issued as Brazil was experiencing increasing shipping losses as a result of axis submarine activity off the United States Atlantic coast, declared that "from the time the use of the armed forces for the defense of the state becomes necessary, the president will declare a state of war in all national territory or in part of it." Any endangering of the country's institutions or the safety of its citizens or territory is sufficient cause for the president to declare a state of emergency in the whole country or any part of it, the decree provided. An constitutional guarantee relating to the life and property of citizens of foreign states which may have "practiced acts of aggression harmful to the Brazilian state" would thereby be suspended, the decree said. At the same time the government shipping line, Lloyd Brasileiro, announced that suspension of all sailings of Brazilian ships to the United States had been ordered by the government and all such ships en route to United States ports ordered recalled home. This followed upon the loss of four Brazilian ships totaling 22,333 tons by submarine attacks off the North American coast. (Brazil's shipping losses in the World War led her to declare war against Germany.)

Japs Take Over Irrawaddy Delta

MANDALAY, Burma, March 11 (AP)—The withdrawal of British troops from the southern Burma trap left the Japanese in possession today of the great Irrawaddy delta which bulges 100 miles into the Andaman Sea and extends 100 miles from the Gulf of Martaban to the Bay of Bengal. Its ports, Rangoon and Bassein, now are open to the Japanese navy, and it seemed likely that Japan's next sea move might be directed against the harbor of Akyab, close to the frontier of Bengal province, India, and the Chittagong coast. Japanese submarines as early as January lurked off the Irrawaddy delta in wait for shipments of supplies sent via Rangoon and the Burma Road to China. Depending upon motor couriers for reports from the land war front, military circles said the exact situation in the south was uncertain, and was changing hourly.

Stimson Inspects Panama Canal Zone

BALBOA, C. Z., March 11 (AP)—Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson was here today on a personal inspection of this vital area, already a trouble spot, on his first trip outside the United States since the war began. Stimson, who arrived by plane yesterday with a protective escort of 12 pursuit craft, was believed to be concerned primarily about buttressing the canal's defenses.

Only 50 Per Cent Capacity Reached - Nelson Says War Factories Loafing

WASHINGTON, March 11 (AP)—The nation's war industries were told today that they were operating at only 50 per cent of capacity, although "face to face with an army determined to destroy us." Speaking a determined public demand for faster "production, and no fooling," Donald M. Nelson blamed the current output lag on three main causes: Reluctance to increase the number of shifts; Lack of imagination in meeting production problems; The issue of extra pay for holidays and Sundays; Excessive flow of materials; Time required to train new men; Shortages of certain specialized facilities. The war production chief, in a radio address to the country last night, voiced his belief that these difficulties could be overcome by government, labor and management working together in concerted effort. "If all our equipment now involved in war production were used 24 hours a day, seven days a week," he declared, "we would practically double the man-hour being put into military production."

WOMEN, GIRLS 2-way Relief!

Modern facts prove CARDUI helps 2 ways: Taken as a tonic by directions it usually stimulates appetite, increases flow of gastric juices, so improves digestion. That's probably the reason for the new energy and strength and the relief of periodic functional distress of many users. The other way such distress is relieved for many is by starting 3 days before "the time", taking it as directed. Try CARDUI—adv.

Backstage Notes On Style Show

Don't know which of the St. Mary's women were the busiest last night but taking a guess it looked like Mrs. DON REALE, Mrs. BILL TATE, Mrs. R. B. G. COWPER and Mrs. SHINE PHILIPS had their hands full directing backstage activities.

Most hilarious part of the amusing "Tea Time" scene to our way of thinking is the solo given by Mrs. RAY LAWRENCE and her exit—on roller skates and done up in a most outlandish costume.

Just from looking, it seems as if we gals are going to have to be strictly business-like in suits, prettier than usual in feminine afternoon fashions and go all out for glamour at night in formal, or stick to short dresses for evening. Needless to say, there aren't any startling fashion changes for 1942—due to the war you know.

Helping out with the Recreation center scene were soldiers from Sloan Field, Midland who took their job of entertaining the models seriously. They went wholeheartedly for securing the pretty girls around the stage, as who wouldn't?

Understand the jitterbugs, ANN TALBOT, DEAN MILLER, GLORIA NALL and DELBERT SHULTZ really went over with a bang with the audience who called for more after the one dance.

It is just our guess that a lot of the women of the auxiliary didn't get up until noon today. Putting on a show that elaborates and that big is a real job. But hats off to the ladies for doing a good job.

Fashions For Defense Shown At Tenth Annual Revue Staged By Auxiliary At City Auditorium

Three Act Affair Shows Influence Of War Times

Fashions for defense was the theme of the tenth annual Fashion Revue presented Tuesday night at the city auditorium by the Women's Auxiliary of St. Mary's Episcopal church.

The three act revue featured first a victory garden scene and models displayed styles for play and work. The second act showed afternoon fashions and the third act in a recreation center and evening fashions both formal and informal were shown.

Farmettes dressed in overalls and red and white striped shirts gave a drill and song before a garden background to open the show. Noticeable in the spring fashions shown was the trend toward simpler and prettier slacks and garden attire.

Taking part in the farm scene were Louise Ann Bennett, Janet Robb, Jerris Hodges, Camille Inkman, Mina Mae Taylor, Barbara McEwen, Marjio Thurman, Cornelia Frazier, Betty Bob Dilts, Patricia Belkirk. Dan Conley acted as farmer.

The trend of the times was shown in the fashions for bicycling during the first scene by the models.

Specialty numbers were given by the Farrar pre-school children including Sylvia Brigham, Billy Mancill, Sally Cowper, Tommy Tate, Lynn Scott, Gilbert Barnett, Lucker, French and Thelma Lou Tucker gave a dance.

Hair styles also pointing to a closer and neater style were displayed by Emily Staleup, Elaine Davidson, Bobby Joe Dilts, Prudy Cummings, June Lacy, Lorene Moseley, Mrs. Charles Tompkins, Mrs. Hayes Stripling, Mrs. J. E. Fort.

Before a large blue V for victory sign flanked with the dot, dot, dot, dash also in blue, models displayed afternoon fashions.

A feature of the second act was a song by Jean Young of Coahoma showing graduated sized Uncle Sams portrayed by Pat McKinney, Ronald Minter, Peppy Blount.

An amusing interlude was presented in the skit "Tea Time" when Nell Brown, Mrs. H. P. Kling, Mrs. Ray Lawrence, Mrs. Douglas Orme, Mrs. Roy Anderson, Elouise Haley and Mrs. Ed Gabriel showed what not to wear to a tea. Dialogue was read by Howard Kemper. Making a black dress come to life with bright accessories was modeled by Mrs. Gabriel and arranged by Mrs. Bert Read.

Correct clothes for tea time were shown by Opal Smith, Martha Flaherty, Chessie Miller, Omega McClain, Mrs. J. D. Jones, Edna Mae Hampton and Mrs. J. C. Foster.

The third act modeled after a U. S. O. center evening wear for spring. Ann Talbot, Dean Miller, Gloria Nall and Delbert Shultz gave a jitterbug dance.

Cigarette girls were Joan Rice, Jerry Staba, Janet Robb, Mary Lou Watt and Cody Belkirk. Betty Bob Dilts sang a solo which was followed with the finale and singing of "God Bless America" by the group.

Howard Kemper acted as commentator. Mrs. Jim Kelly directed the models and Anne Gibson House directed the chorus. Music was furnished by Jack Free and his orchestra.

Models displaying fashions for Albert M. Fisher company were Mrs. W. K. Edwards, Jr., Betty Cravens, Ladine Cantrell, Mrs. Hayes Stripling and Mrs. John Davis. Modeling for Margos were Billie Bess Shive, Wanda McQuain, Nell Rae McCrary, Mrs. W. H. Scott and Mrs. C. E. Shive.

Showing fashions for the Settles Style Salon were Mrs. Ed Gabriel, Mrs. J. O. Vineyard, Mrs. Cecil McDonald, Mrs. R. H. Miller and Fern Wells.

Models for Swartz's were Mrs. Jim Kelly, Mrs. M. K. House, Jr., Mrs. O. O. Craig, Martha Cochran and Betty Lee Eddy. For the Vogue Evelyn Merrill, Jeanette Marchbanks, Mrs. V. H. Flewelen, Mrs. J. C. Allen and Mrs. Charles Kee modeled.

Mrs. Escol Compton, Mrs. Jack Smith, Elvora Hubbard, Mrs. Burke Summers, Cornelia Frazier modeled for C. R. Anthony Company and E. C. Bell, Elmo Wasson, Ira Thurman, R. R. Cloud, Lloyd Wasson showed men's styles for Elmo Wasson's store.

Children's fashions were shown by Sue Carol Wilkinson, Bonnie Lou Talbot, La June Haynes, Betty Kay Haynes, Cecelia Mae McDonald.

In step with 1942, the show gave scenes from a nutrition class, with Raleigh Gulley, Dot Cauble and Tommy Tate taking part and a fugitive from a first aid class shown by Margie Hudson and W. H. Wharton. Approximately 800 persons attended.

Room prize went to Mrs. W. N. Curtis' room. Others present were Mrs. Harry Weeg, Mrs. Jack Morton, Mrs. L. H. Marworth, Mrs. J. H. Marworth, Mrs. Joe Arnold, Mrs. W. O. Leonard, Mrs. Wayne Pearce.

Mrs. Martin Dehlinger, Mrs. Mrs. B. E. Winterwood, Mrs. Curtis, Mrs. Walter Rueckart, Mrs. W. F. Cook, Lois Carden, Mildred Creath, Mrs. H. G. Carmack.

Is your child a NOSE PICKER?

It may be more than just a nasty habit! It may be a sign of worms. Yes, ugly, crawling roundworms inside your child! Other warning signs are: "picky" appetite, crankiness, itching in certain parts. Roundworms can cause real trouble! If you even suspect your child has them, get Jayne's Vermifuge right away! Jayne's is America's best known proprietary worm medicine. Scientifically tested and used by millions over a century. It expels stubborn worms, yet acts very gently. If no worms are there, Jayne's acts merely as a mild laxative. Be sure you get Jayne's Vermifuge.

Balch Keeps Leadership In Bowling Loop

Balch Bow Shop held its margin over Tate & Bristow in the Young Business Men's bowling league Tuesday evening, taking two games off J. & L. Drugs while losing one.

At the same time Tate & Bristow kept within striking distance by winning a similar victory over Texas Electric Service.

Tony Ramirez of Balch's was the individual star for the evening, and his shooting contributed greatly to the two games Balch won. His 234 was the high game for the evening by a 43-pin margin. His 86 series total was 85 points ahead of the nearest competitor.

B. Neville had 499 and K. Neville, both of T.E.S., had 486, for good series which were overshadowed by Ramirez' rolling. K. Neville had a good 192 and Donnie Alexander, Tate & Bristow, a nice 191 for a stand-out in individual games.

Tax Collections In East Texas Good

LONGVIEW, March 11 (AP)—Collections of county ad valorem taxes during 1941 for their 71 counties were the best in a decade, the East Texas Chamber of Commerce reports.

Representative tax surveys of county finances for last year completed by the regional chamber reveal a steady rise year by year in the percentage of current county taxes collected before the final date of delinquency.

Earl Walsh Named Coach At Fordham

NEW YORK, March 11 (AP)—The same system that brought Fordham university 73 triumphs and only 14 defeats in nine years under Jim Crowley will be continued with Earl F. Walsh, big, smiling Iowan, at the helm.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH PULLESTON

NEW YORK, March 11.—The New York track writers would like to put on an indoor meet March 25 for the benefit of the Navy Relief Society, but they won't try it unless Les MacMillan, Greg Rice and Gil Dodds can run. . . Harry Hillman's Dartmouth show is scheduled the 24th and the Cleveland K. of C. games the 27th. . . Pit probably will follow the Big Ten lead and schedule football games already on the program. . . The Oklahoma Aggies' basketball team drew 19,000 fans for three big games this season. Their top football crowd last fall was 12,000. . . Gerry Walker is looking after business at his Orlando (Fla.) drug store while he waits for the Indians to see things his way in their salary argument. Must be a drug store on the market.

Secret Thoughts

After Sammy Secrest, the Pittsburgh welterweight, licked Vic Delcourt recently, he was offered a bout with Ray Robinson as a reward. . . "A reward is it?" Manager Tom Walsh exclaimed. "If you don't mind I'll take a few weeks to look up the meaning of that word."

Spring Training

Frank Greenberg, now stationed in Florida, is preparing to enter an officers training school. . . Six years ago Tommy Holmes, a Brooklyn schoolboy, wanted to become a Dodger so he could play in the outfield with Johnny Cooney. This year he and Cooney are teammates on the Braves. . . In spite of reports about the dough Burt Shotton will get for coaching the Indiana, Detroit papers say Charley Gehring will be the highest-paid coach this season. . . Oh, well, that Newsum vs. Feller argument is played out. . . The season's highest-priced rookie may be Bobby Erazut, a Portland (Ore.) Sandlot pitcher. Report is that he turned down an offer of $12,500 to sign with the Dodgers and Oscar Vitt said he'd give $10,000 of his own money for the kid's signature.

Art Cohn, Oakland, (Calif.) Tribune: "Consult page 322 of Nat Fleischer's all time boxing record book. You'll discover that my Sullivan, famous old-time welterweight, was managed by a man named Jack Moran. . . Kating Do-ran the first but not the last Jerk to manage prize fighters."

One-Minute Sports Page

Publicity for the basketball game here Friday between Lincoln and Howard universities describes them as "the Yale and Harvard of negro schools." They have carried on continuous sports competition since 1894. . . Billy Weber has taken Speedboy Johnny Rucker Rucker under his wing and says he can teach John to steal 40 bases this year. . . Ex-Jockey Baron "Sam" Couls, whose kid brother Nick is a star rider at Tropical Park, works around racetracks now as an act. His colors and pen-and-ink drawings have attracted a lot of attention. . . Dwight Parks of Baylor, who scored 214 points for a new South-west conference basketball record this season, also led his loop in field goals and free throws and turned in the highest one-game totals in all three departments.

Joe Louis never received a finer tribute than the one paid him by Corp. Chick Posak of Waterbury, Conn., in a letter to Hank O'Donnell of the Waterbury Republican. Chick wrote: "The other day I was walking along one of the highways here in Fort Dix and in the Red Cross building I saw Joe Louis. Didn't realize his auto-pen-and-ink drawings have attracted a lot of attention. . . Dwight Parks of Baylor, who scored 214 points for a new South-west conference basketball record this season, also led his loop in field goals and free throws and turned in the highest one-game totals in all three departments."

Joe Says He's Tougher Now Than Ever

FORT DIX, N. J., March 11 (AP)—As though income tax time and the draft and such matters weren't enough just now, the heavyweights in general and ample Abbie Simon in particular were informed today that Joe Louis is stronger now than he's ever been.

Of course, this is like saying a red pepper is hotter when doused with mustard, but it is the awful truth, nevertheless, because buck private Joe, himself, says it's so. What's more, Joe says, this Army life is the thing that turned the trick and changed him from a comparative weakling into the great big strong man he's suddenly become.

"It's not only the Army work and stuff," Private Joe said as he went through his chores in preparation for his work with the Madison Square Garden party with Simon. "But when you're in the Army, you don't get out as much. There's not so much time for foolin' around. So you just build up naturally."

Joe isn't kidding about that. His program these days is as full as a glamour girl's date book. He's up at 8 a. m. for six miles of roadwork. When he comes back he takes an hour's nap, then sits around for some work with a knife and fork, and then has to run through his two-hour daily drill in his basic Army training. After that, he has his work to do for the Army emergency relief fund affair with Abbie.

Poultry Meet Slated Here

County farm and home demonstration agents of the district will meet in Big Spring March 18 for a study of poultry producing methods.

The agents will assemble at the Settles hotel for discussions during the morning and take a field trip to leading poultry flocks of this vicinity in the afternoon.

George McCarthy, extension service poultry specialist, and J. D. Prewitt, district agent, will lead discussions at the meeting.

More Farmers Get Insurance On Cotton Crop

Applicants for cotton crop insurance continue to come in slowly but steadily at the A.A.A. offices. Ninety-one persons have been policies on about 115 farms thus far. A.A.A. clerks believe there will be a last minute rush for the insurance before the deadline Monday.

Next Monday is the last day on which the policies may be written. Sometimes, the A.A.A. office is also making list of new farms to determine their allotments. New farms include new units created either by division of old farms or by combination of two or more old farms. There will probably be 80 to 75 such new farms this year.

That the figure is considerably larger than usual reflects the unusual amount of trading done in farm properties during the past three months.

Draft Draws Heavily On Connie Mack's Prospects

ANAHEIM, Calif., March 11 (AP)—The pity of it all is that Mr. Connie Mack might well have had a first division club for the first time since 1933.

It is lamentable to report, then, that the general feeling around the Philadelphia Athletics camp is that the honorable A's will make a determined fight to stay out of the American league cellar for the third consecutive year.

Mr. Mack lost nine men via Uncle Sam's draft. At least three of them, slugging Sam Chapman, Benny McCoy and Al Brancato, were figured upon heavily in the Philadelphia plans this year. A fourth, Don Richmond, might have become a sensation, and that comes straight from Mr. Mack himself.

On the good side of the ledger the venerable, lovable Mr. Mack has a fine looking array of rookie pitchers.

"If we can just keep them around for a year I believe we have a real club in 1942, and some of these big boys might come through this season."

Four Texas League Clubs Open Training Tomorrow

By The Associated Press

Four Texas league clubs—Dallas, Houston, Fort Worth and Shreveport—open spring training tomorrow, leaving only two squads yet to swing into action.

Beaumont was already working out at Lakeland, Fla., and Tulsa opened training yesterday at Ocala, Fla.

Oklahoma City and San Antonio were the late ones, the Indians starting work Sunday at Tyler and

Notes From The Training Camps

LAKELAND, Fla., March 11 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers play their fourth and final intrasquad game today with Virgil (Fire) Trucks, Lynwood (Schoolboy) Rowe, Hal White and Earl Cook slated to pitch. Coach Merv Shea's Lambs and Coach Charley Gehring's Wolves each have won a contest and a third was tied.

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif., March 11 (AP)—A rookie team which beat the regulars 1 to 0 yesterday behind the five-hit pitching of Lloyd Dietz and Rip Sewell will face Seattle today in the Pittsburgh Pirates' first exhibition game. A triple by Johnny Barrett and a long fly by John Wyrostek, two young centerfielders, provided the run.

MIAMI, March 11 (AP)—Capt. Billy Jurges, a New York Giant holdout until late last week, thinks he has reached the point where he can make a serious threat to oust veteran Dick Bartell from the shortstop position. Jurges will see some action in today's encounter with the Philadelphia Phillies.

Bond-A-Month Club Formed In Plainview

PLAINVIEW, March 11 (AP)—Pledged to buy a defense bond of any denomination from $25 up each month for 12 months, over 500 Plainview citizens launched what is believed to be the nation's first bond-a-month club.

The bond-a-month idea originated with the Plainview Lions club which soon after the declaration of war voted almost 100 per cent to purchase bonds. The Lions proposed that an organization devoted entirely to bond-a-month purchases be formed.

A person qualifies for membership in the club by purchasing $300 worth of bonds with his membership. Bond purchasers wear a red, white and blue lapel button inscribed, "I belong bond-a-month club."

Organizers of the club say 60 per cent of their membership is on the salary allotment plan. The club functions principally on its universal public appeal plus leadership of a group of energetic representatives from the city's civic organizations.

Stiteler May Take Waco Coaching Job

WACO, March 11 (AP)—Little Harry Stiteler, successful leader of Corpus Christi high school's gridiron forces, was expected here today to confer with Waco school officials regarding the coaching post left vacant when veteran Paul L. Tyson was discharged.

Stiteler was the most prominently mentioned of the growing list of men reported seeking the job. He was said to have filed his application with local authorities yesterday.

Editorial -- Less Fussing Will Help

Free debate and buck-passing are fundamental American rights and customs, but frankly we think a great deal of the first and all of the latter could be suspended for the duration of the war with a great deal of advantage to the nation.

Even in the darkest hours of the struggle—and they keep getting darker, thanks to our lack of foresight and unwillingness to act—we keep arguing. We lose precious days and precious weeks in enacting legislation which is the enabling power of our entire effort. Democrats still point the finger of suspicion at republicans, and the republicans still hurl imputations against the democrats. Liberals persist in assailing the conservatives, and the conservatives hide behind the skirts of the war program to yell waste!

And all of this is not getting us anywhere in particular—unless it is in a mess. We can't afford to be mired in an internal mess when the enemy is pressing us externally.

This is no time for individuals, no matter what their position, to be playing to the public eye. This is no time for men prominent in public life to second-guess in glowing terms and to ride politically on the coat-tails of popular figures. This is no time for labor and capital to shut the blame for slow production to each other and sulk in hope that the public will take its side.

All this bickering and personal hide-saving will result in only one thing—the foolish and needless repetition of mistakes of our allies, who have been in this thing a lot longer than we. Some lessons are so plain that they require no argument. To be unable to interpret them is an indictment of our intelligence and our democracy.

There should be but two things uppermost in any of our minds—the president—to stand in unity and to work with the utmost degree of haste.

The world is on fire. Are we going to argue over who uses what hose, and how—or are we going to start priming the pumps with every drop of our strength and work, work and work until the world is safe for us again. It is possible, you know, to wait too long to start putting out a fire.

Man About Manhattan—There's Real Romance In Story Of Night Spot Girl

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—People who visit the Hawaiian Room at the Lexington hotel soon become aware of a lovely young girl in a long sweeping gown moving silently among the guests placing leis about their necks.

This is Kahala. She is seventeen. It is the first long dress she has ever owned. If she seems shy, it is because she is still unused to the clamor of the great cities on the Mainland. Less than a year ago she was in Manoa Valley, which is not far from Honolulu, where the red hibiscus and the white ginger blossoms grow. Sometimes she used to stare out across the water and wonder what lay on the other side. At such moments she thought of her father, whom she hadn't seen in nearly 14 years. Her father is Al McIntire, who plays bass fiddle in Lani McIntire's orchestra. Lani is famous as a purveyor of Hawaiian music, as a composer and as a singer. Al and Lani are brothers. Al and Lani are half Hawaiian and half Irish, but Kahala, Al's daughter, is half Chinese, one quarter Irish and one quarter Hawaiian.

One languorous August day the S.S. Matsonia was sailing from Honolulu. Kahala wandered down to the dock to see the sailing. She was barefooted. She had on a simple little dress and she had $2 in her pocketbook.

She thought, "These ships come and go with the regularity of the moon and the tide, but I have to stay. I have a father somewhere in the States. I wonder what he's like."

Suddenly the band began to play, and people began to toss their leis into the sea in observance of the lovely legend that if you toss your flowers into the sunset you will surely return some day.

Somewhere, before she knew what was happening, Kahala was on board the Matsonia. She sat down in a deck chair, clutching her $2, sketching little imaginary figures into the deck with her bare toes.

A ship's officer came up, asked to see her ticket. When she told him, "I haven't any," he said, "Come with me," and he took her to the captain.

But the captain knew Lani McIntire, as who does not know Lani McIntire along the waterfronts of the Pacific and on the Islands. So they put Kahala in a first class cabin, and wired ahead to Lani's other brother, Dick, who owns musical academies up and down the west coast.

It was Uncle Dick who met her, and shipped her east to her father, Al, and to her uncle, Lani. As Lani explained it to me, "Al, he didn't play so good that night. He was too excited. I don't see how he played at all."

But he plays good now. He plays that bull fiddle while Lani sings To You Sweetheart Aloha and We're Dancing Under the Stars.

And as he sings, a lovely shy girl in a long flowing dress moves quietly among the guests and places leis about their necks.

SCOUTER VISITS

more; but if he were not, then—She stood up and moved toward a telephone at the back of the room.

Her hands shook a little as she took down the receiver and with awkward, inexperienced hands dialed the number. She made three trials before she succeeded in getting the right number. The man's voice, cautious, wary, said, "Yes?"

"I'd like to speak to Mr. Hendricks, please," she said, steadying her voice with an effort.

"Yeah?" answered the man's voice drily. "Who's calling?"

"Tell him Melissa Marlowe— from down the river," she answered, and waited breathlessly, her heart pounding hard.

There was a brief delay, and then a voice that had the power to make little silver bells tinkle deep in her heart said sharply, "Hello? Who the blazes— what's all this hocus-pocus?"

Melissa said, straying her voice, clinging to the telephone, her eyes bright, "Randy, it's Melissa. Don't you remember me?"

"Melissa?" he repeated, and his voice vibrated a little beneath the tone. "Not the little lamp-lighter girl?"

"But of course," she answered, and laughter caught at her voice, crossed by tears that threatened her and made her voice oddly husky. "You said if I ever came to town I was to call you—"

Every Australian Fights

By JOE MORTON
Wide World Features Writer

In Australia there is a priority on everything.

Such an expression as "non-defense industry" does not exist. There are no unemployed. "All-out" means precisely "all-out."

Typical of men of the hour is 27-year-old Evelyn Owen, the army private who invented a sub-machine gun which fires so fast that the ear cannot distinguish between explosions. War heroes are folk like the munition workers who piled their machines so earnestly that bullets were produced and sent half way around the world in time to help fight the "Battle of Britain." There is the real story of Australia and the war.

The continent has some 7,000,000 people, and every single one, in the words of the labor minister, "is being directed into the right job."

Before Munich the country's industry operated largely for its own needs and little else. Mountains of iron ore lying close to beds of coal and coke had scarcely been tapped. Bauxite and copper deposits were known to be present—that was about all.

Then came the war and the amazing transformation.

From four small firms making machine tools sprang 130 plants capable of turning out the machines that make machines. A half-dozen "secret" cities bobbed up in the hinterland, spread over whole townships with hundreds of miles of new railroads and arm-producing machinery.

New steel mills, aircraft factories and shipyards blossomed. The entire continent, in the space of two years or so, geared itself to almost unbelievable war production.

The aircraft industry set the pace. Two years ago it depended on the United States for machine tools, motors and parts; this year 3,000 all-Australian combat planes will roll off assembly lines, among them a new-type bomber. Production records were set with the Wirraway, a combination trainer-diver bomber adaptation of the American TA-32.

Munitions Output Soars

Basic cheapness of iron and steel, all of it produced under one corporate structure, enabled the country's munitions industry to mushroom swiftly. At the end of 1941, manufacturers poured out ammunition for every type of gun produced in Australia. Four new explosive factories were built from scratch, each at a cost of more than $15,000,000.

Construction of nearly every important weapon was undertaken and in at least one case, that of the two-pounder anti-tank gun, production topped United States figures.

"It seems," a British war mission reported in London, "there is nothing Australians cannot do when they turn their hands to it."

Hollywood Sights And Sounds—

Irene Dunne 'Roughs It' With Soldiers

By ROBBIN ORIS

PHOENIX, Ariz.—Notes from our Phoenix scrap-book:

A magazine wanted pictures of Irene Dunne "roughing it" in the wilds of Arizona. Miss Dunne's representative escorted the cameraman to the quiet elegance of the Arizona Biltmore, where early-to-bed Miss Dunne was getting away from it all, including her movie companions who bunked in town at the Adams and Westward Ho. On location Miss Dunne's "roughing it" was confined to the simple luxury of her trailer-dressing room. But the Dunne seclusion was broken voluntarily for a big army party. "I want to do more than sing," she said. "The boys can hear me sing for two-bits at any movie house I'll dance with them." And she did, for hours, proving a stamina developed by her movie dances with Ralph Bellamy.

The Bellamy-Dunne dancing was a comedy wop in "The Awful Truth," the picture that started Ralph on the character of bumptious goof he plays so uproariously. Ralph tells me me can't dance—and doesn't—and that, even to dance badly-on-purpose he had to take two weeks' lessons....

Phoenix is bustling with aviation activity. American, Chinese, and British pilots are being trained on various fields close by. ...Took a quick run out to Falcon Field, the British center, where H. C. ("Hank") Potter, the movie director, is business manager. Hank slipped quietly from Hollywood for the war post. Didn't see him, though—we missed connections.

Leon Henderson, the price administrator, plays the banjo in his leisure moments.

SHOW BOAT GIRL

Chapter Six
News Of Rand

Almost a hundred dollars! That, with the hotel bill, meant almost half of her entire store of money was gone! Panic swept her for a moment and then she fought it back. She had a hundred and fifty dollars left; and if the morning had shaken her belief in the enormity of that sum, she knew that she had to have clothes in which to look for work.

"I'll send them up to the hotel right away," said the blonde, bringing her the two or three small bills and the change from the hundred dollars that Melissa had given her. "I'll get them off before I go to luncheon."

"Lunch!" said Melissa, and remembered she had had nothing to eat since breakfast. There was a sudden little eager light in her eyes. "I wonder—I'm a stranger in town and I don't know my way around at all. Would you—would you mind having lunch with me?"

"Would I mind? Lady, I'd love it," said the blonde with gratifying promptness. "Wait until I wash my hands and paint myself a fresh face and we'll tie on the feed-bag at a little beanery. I know that's not too bad."

The blonde came back, smart and cool and very much mistress of the occasion. Melissa trotted beside her, her heart filled with gratitude towards this, the first friend she had made in the huge, terrifying city; only somehow, walking beside this cool, wise blonde, she didn't feel that the city was either so large or so terrifying after all. A trifle cockily, she told herself she was going to lick this town! And if the picture of a man's face danced a bit before the eyes of her heart—well, after all, she was only a little more than seventeen and he was the only young, attractive man she had ever met.

your purse—and clothes out of a rummage sale!"

Melissa told her simply, "I've lived all my life down the river, in a lamp-tender. My grandmother died, and a man wanted to buy the place where we lived and I tend the light and I sold it to him—for three hundred dollars. And now I've got to get a job and make a living for myself. That's all."

"That's plenty," said the blonde vigorously. "A job doing what, if you don't mind my asking?"

Melissa colored a little, but met the wise blue eyes steadily. "I sing a little and dance—and play the guitar. My mother taught me. She was Sadie Marlowe."

The blonde nodded. "You and about a million other babes," she said drily, and studied Melissa for a long moment before she said impulsively, "Look, kid, you're an awful babe. I mean, why don't you just have yourself a few days' fun and then pick up your marbles and beat it back to the old homestead and the light and the rest of it? This town is no place for a sweet, innocent, unsophisticated kid like you."

"But I can't," protested Melissa swiftly. "I sold the place—and the job—"

The waitress came then, bringing their food. After she had gone, the blonde crushed out the tip of her cigarette in the green glass tray beside her and said grimly, "I don't know why I do things like this, but if you're bent on staying in town and finding yourself a job, I suppose I'll have to take you in hand."

Melissa flushed and her head went up a little.

"I don't see why you should," she said coolly.

The blonde grinned wryly.

"Well, for one reason, you gave me the best day's business I've had in ten years," she admitted frankly. "The commissions on the stuff you bought from me will come in plenty handy. And for another reason, I wouldn't sleep at night if I just turned you loose among the wolves. Nope, I'll have to keep an eye on you from here on out."

Melissa laughed. "It's awfully nice of you, but there's honestly no reason—"

"And since when did Irene Graham have to give a reason for anything? I forgot—I tell you Irene Graham was my name? Well, it is! And now stop arguing and eat your lunch and let me think a bit," said the blonde firmly.

Melissa dug a fork into her shrimp salad, tasted it and decided she liked it very much. Irene gave her attention to her food and for a moment they were silent. And then Melissa asked shyly:

"Do you know a man named Rand Hendricks?"

Irene looked up, startled.

"Ace Hendricks?" she asked sharply.

"No, his name is Rand—he says people call him Randy—"

"Then he's a liar—people call him Ace. And how'd a kid like you, from out back of beyond, ever meet up with that guy, anyway?" demanded Irene, more than a trace of belligerence in her voice.

Melissa stared at her, round-eyed, startled at the effect of her innocent question.

"He came to our cabin once when he got lost on a hunting trip," she explained. "I thought he was—well, very nice."

"Well, that just goes to show how you know those men," snapped Irene. "He's a swindler, he's a tough egg—he's bad medicine for nice little kids like you—and you forget you ever heard of him, do you hear?"

Telephone Thrill

Melissa's eyes chilled a little.

"I'll do nothing of the sort," she said stiffly. "He asked me to telephone him if I ever came to town—and I'm going to, this very day. Irene studied her for a moment, and then she shrugged and picked up her fork again. "My mistake," she said formally. "So sorry. I stuck my neck out—but way out!—for that one. Forget I mentioned it."

Melissa said swiftly, stricken by shame, "I'm sorry. I didn't mean to make you mad. You've been awfully kind and good to me, and I do appreciate it—honestly I do. It's only that—well, ever since last year I've had the thought of seeing him again in my mind. I've—well, I've counted on it so much."

Irene nodded, still cool and formal. "Then by all means give him a ring. He'll be tickled pink. Wear the yellow crape when you meet him again. He's a push-over for yellow—it matches the stripe down his back."

Melissa started and her eyes widened. And after a moment she said quietly, "You do know him well, don't you? Only it can't possibly be the same man I know."

"Want to bet on it?" asked Irene drily.

Melissa stared at her, and for a moment great crystal tears were in her eyes. After she'd seen them Irene put out a hand whose nails were long and brilliantly red and patted Melissa's hand in an almost awkward gesture.

"Forget it, babe—Ace Hendricks is a guy who doesn't like women. And to the woman who couldn't help liking Ace—the guy is so damned attractive. And well, she grinned at me and told me to go chase myself, and I've had it in for him ever since. He's a big-shot gambler, you know. Has one of the swankiest places in town, and it's whispered around that he's backed by some of the town's most worthy citizens. Melissa was bewildered and shaken.

"That doesn't sound a bit like Randy," she observed crestfallen. Irene grinned wryly.

"Well, of course it could be a couple of other fellows," admitted Irene, "but I don't think so."

She studied Melissa shrewdly, and then she said suddenly, "Tell you what. You go give him a ring and make a date with him, and let me be with you when you meet him. Then if it's not the same guy I know, I'll blow out and leave you two together. If it is the same guy—well, we'll worry about that later."

Melissa hesitated, reluctant. And yet she knew that there was Randy in what Irene said. If Randy—the Randy who had occupied so large a place in her dreams and plans and hopes for the past year—was really this "Ace" Hendricks that Irene knew, then she wanted not to see or think of him any

Small Quarrel

In the small cattery, crowded last-room to which the blonde had steered her, they found a tiny table wedged in a corner and the blonde ordered brisly, with the air of one clearing the decks for action.

When the waitress had gone, the blonde leaned across the table toward Melissa and said cheerfully, "O.K. Keep 'em have the town down. What's the set-up? What's a babe like you doing in the wicked city all alone and untended, with a mess of money in your purse—and clothes out of a rummage sale!"

Melissa told her simply, "I've lived all my life down the river, in a lamp-tender. My grandmother died, and a man wanted to buy the place where we lived and I tend the light and I sold it to him—for three hundred dollars. And now I've got to get a job and make a living for myself. That's all."

Ceylon's Strategic Position Is Cited

BOSTON, March 11 (AP) — A Boston University professor who lived in Ceylon for 16 years said today the United Nations should beware lest their concern over the status of India lead them to forget that "the usefulness of India in the war effort is predicated on holding the nearby island of Ceylon."

Declaring Ceylon must be held at all costs as the key to vital supply lines to and from the Near and Far East and as a possible starting point for a United Nations counter-offensive, Professor William A. Beer, one time trade commissioner from Ceylon to the United States, said in an interview: "Ceylon is only 18 miles across the Bay of Bengal from India, but its strategic naval base at Trincomalee commands the sea routes to India, to Russia, and to the jumping off place in the new life-line to China from Ceylon."

"The strategic position of Ceylon should not be overlooked."

Many From Area Are Employed In Aircraft Work

West Texas is furnishing its full share of manpower in the West coast aviation plants so important to the war effort. Men by the score from this section are employed by Lockheed, Douglas, Consolidated, North American and others.

Some of those from this and nearby counties who have been trained and placed in jobs by the Anderson Airplane School of Los Angeles are Claude S. Kline, C. L. Griffin, J. H. Butler, C. L. North, Jr., Oris E. Bullock, Charlie Ross, Robert W. D'Arcy and Ralph Williams.

Men from 18 to 32 years of age in this district can obtain an interview concerning qualifications for aircraft work by contacting Ed L. McTeer, room 1308, Settles hotel. McTeer, state manager for the Anderson school, is to be here through Tuesday of next week.

Destroyer Launching At Orange Slated

ORANGE, March 11 (AP) — The Navy destroyer USS Charles Ausburne will be launched March 18 at the Consolidated Steel Corporation shipyards.

It will be the second destroyer to leave the Consolidated ways, the USS Aulick was launched March 2. The company has a contract for 10 other destroyers.

Mrs. W. H. Cotten of Baton Rouge will be the craft's sponsor. The fifth mine sweeper to be launched at the ways, the YMS-70, will leave the ways at Weaver Shipyards tomorrow afternoon. Mrs. W. B. Perry will be the sponsor.

Rationing Of Gas Due On East Coast

WASHINGTON, March 11 (AP) — Curtailment of gasoline consumption in the east coast by compulsory restrictions apparently awaits only the drawing of formal orders.

Petroleum Coordinator Ickes was understood today to have come to a decision that a restrictive program is necessary. Oil quarters said he probably would draw up the curtailment plan and the order would come through the war production board which has broad emergency powers over civilian supplies.

Cowper Clinic And Hospital Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Bell of Ross City are parents of a daughter, Gloria Sue.

Charles Bebee has been discharged.

Mrs. Jack Turner, Stanton, has been admitted for medical care.

Crash Kills Mrs. B. N. Bell

Mrs. B. N. Bell, 60, long time resident of Big Spring, was killed instantly Tuesday afternoon near Dyersburg, Tenn., and her son-in-law, J. L. Billings, was injured. They were enroute to Owensboro, Ky. where Mrs. Bell was to visit while Billings continued on to Pittsburgh, Tenn. The crash occurred six miles south of Dyersburg when a trailer loaded with lumber got loose and collided with their car, according to word received here by friends.

Billings suffered a fractured knee and minor cuts and bruises. Mrs. Billings, the former Ruby Bell, left with a brother, Roy Bell, soon after learning of the tragedy, for Dyersburg. Billings was reported to be in the Baird-Brewer hospital there.

Funeral arrangements were pending arrival of the daughter and son in the Tennessee city.

Tractor Tires Added To Quota

Tractor tires and tubes sales are held against the county's passenger and truck tire quotas, according to an order retroactive to March 1 and received by the Howard County Ration Board Tuesday.

This considerably dampened the tempo of tire sales to farmers, and had the effect of virtually exhausting the truck tire quota for the month. Tom Rosson, clerk for the board, was in conference with members of the board Wednesday afternoon pondering some 50 to 75 applications from farmers.

Rear tractor tires count against the truck tire allotment and front tractor tires against passenger tire quotas.

Tuesday the board issued eight certificates for passenger tires, five for passenger tubes, 37 for truck tires, 15 for truck tubes, five obsolete tires and as many obsolete tubes. Sale of one new car was approved.

Two Youths Sent To Reform School

Judge Walton Morrison announced today that he had remanded two Big Spring youngsters, aged 11 and 13, to the reform school.

They were sent to Gatesville as a result of a series of thefts and burglaries here. "There seemed to be no way of controlling them, and their parents seemed unable to handle them," Judge Morrison remarked.

may be thanked for the combined strength of the United Nations.

"With the combined strength," he asserted, "we go forward along the steep road to victory."

The British commonwealth of nations and 33 other countries are eligible for lend-lease assistance, which now covers two-thirds of the earth's surface and aids nearly two-thirds of its population.

Congress has authorized a total of $48,000,000,000 in lend-lease aid, the report noted, of which $18,410,000,000 was appropriated directly to the president. Much of this $48,000,000,000 total is represented by war supplies which could be transferred after their acquisition by our war and navy departments and the maritime commission, if the chief executive and heads of the armed forces thought it advisable.

By the end of February, the report disclosed, most of the $12,985,000,000 of actual appropriations in the first two lend-lease funds have been allocated, and $8,459,000,000 had been obligated or placed under contract. In addition, congress has appropriated $4,425,000,000 as of March 5, 1942, to cover commitments to be made before the end of this year.

The report observed that the $2,500,000,000 volume of lend-lease help was impressive as an abstract figure, but that when it was viewed with relation to need, "what has been done falls far short of what is needed to turn the tide toward victory."

Although many persons have inferred that the quantity of military material turned over to other countries has been enormous, the report said, "the hard fact is that in relation to need the volume has been small."

Deliveries are inadequate, it explained, because of the time and effort required "to revolutionize our industrial system" and to attain the production volume demanded of an effective arsenal of democracy.

But some of the actual assistance has included such valuable items as planes, plane parts, tanks, ordnance, ammunition, field communications equipment, trucks, petroleum, ships, naval aircraft and ordnance, ship and airplane stores and equipment, repairing and remodeling of British naval vessels, construction of naval bases and airplane supply depots all over the world.

Public School Land Offered For Sale

AUSTIN, March 11 (AP) — The state school land board has offered for sale 230,000 acres of public school land in 120 Texas counties with bids to be opened April 8, State Land Commissioner Bascom Giles said today.

Tracts of less than 30 acres will be sold by cash only and heavier cash payments, as provided by the legislature last year, will apply. The statute requires one-fifth of the price, instead of the former 1-40th, as down payment. Minimum prices prescribed range from $1.50 to $10 an acre.
