The Slaton Tigers, coached by Homer Tompkins, will be better prepared for the Olton game Friday night than for either of the two previous games played. Game time is 8 p.m. at the high school stadium in Olton.

As a result of the game last week with Seagraves, Tompkins has switched his line up in the possibility of gaining better blocking. Lavoy Reed, Douglas Corley, and Rodney Fulcher may fill-in some in the backfield. Jerry Gentry, Nobeerto Diaz and Conrad McCain will fill in the line.

Spanish American Residents Celebrate Mexican Independence In Slaton

Celebrating the Mexican Independence Day, Sept. 16, in Slaton were several hundred Spanish American residents and out of town visitors.

The celebration in Slaton centered around the crowning of Miss Gloria Griego, 19 year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Griego.

Following the traditional crowning of the queen the celebration quickly took on the carnival spirit.

The first dance of the evening was the queen's and no one stepped onto the dance floor until she and her escort had circled the floor to officially start the dance.

After that the dance floor was filled with gaily dressed dancers. A 25-girl choir from Our Lady of Guadalupe Catholic Church in Slaton sang both the American and Mexican national anthems. The choir was under the direction of Frances Flores.

Miss Griego was crowned by Felipe Estrada, president of the Mexican Honorary Commission. Present at the celebration was Joel S. Quinnes, Mexican consul and Manuel Aguilar, assistant to the consul from Amarillo.

Princess at the Slaton celebration was Miss Dora Aguilar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thodoro Augular. Duchess was Miss Caroline Pina, daughter of Mrs. Elena Pina.

Surrounding the dancers on the platform were several gaily colored booths, serving Mexican foods to the hungry fiesta goers.

WATER RUNS CURB DEEP SATURDAY FOLLOWING HEAVY RAINFALL HERE

Fast moving clouds Saturday afternoon dropped from 1 to 3 inches of rain on Slaton. At times the downpour was so heavy that visibility was cut to nothing.

Water was standing in the streets around the city hall so deep that the building and its grounds looked like a floating island.

Curb-deep water stranded many people getting off at noon, many of them had to wade to their cars.

Reports on the rainfall ranged from 1.45 inches by Norbert Kittlen west of town to unofficial reports around town of 3 inches.

N. R. Boyce, two miles east reported 1.6 inches as contrasted with Rudolph Schwertner who reported over 2 inches, one mile south of town. Leo Kittlen three and a half miles west and Ed Macker at Possey both reported 1.7 inches.

F. A. Stube, four miles northeast reported 2.3 inches. Arthur Kahlich southwest of Slaton reported 2.5 inches and Roy Saage, southeast of town one and a half miles reported 2.2 inches.

Other reports of rainfall were: C. O. Buxkemper, east of Slaton with 2.1 inches; Norbert Kittlen, west of town 1.45 inches and Herschel Glascock 2.2 inches on 6th St.

RUMOR OF LIBRARY CHANGE BRINGS PROTESTS FROM CLUBS

Two of Slaton's civic organizations went on record this week as protesting any change by the county in the operation of Slaton's library.

The rumor that the library might be closed or be changed brought forth immediate protests from the Lions Club and the Slaton Chamber of Commerce, both clubs saying that the library serves a definite need and purpose in the city.

The rumor was to the effect that the library would be replaced with a mobile unit. This would mean a loss of convenience to residents and their children who patronize the library and who would have to await the arrival of a unit to make use of the books offered.

To investigate the rumor, The Slatonite this week called County Judge Dudley Brummett in Lubbock.

Judge Brummett told the reporter that there was no cause for alarm and that Slaton is not going to lose its library. He stated that there will be a committee set up to study the library setup in the county so as to be in a position to make recommendations for improving it.

ECONOMICAL HIGHLIGHTS

The so-called "new look" in East-West relations, which was unveiled officially at the Geneva Summit conference, has two sides to it. On one side—the superficial one—there is an amazing amount of sweetness and light. The lavish and unprecedented party which Premier Bulganin gave for Western diplomats had a carnival atmosphere. U. S. farmers have visited Russia and Russian farmers have visited here, with hospitality reigning supreme in both cases. Russia has announced plans for not only permitting but encouraging Western tourists to visit Moscow and various other centers. The top Russians, like their counterparts across the Iron Curtain, have again and again pledged their dedication to peaceful co-existence. The blunder and the arrogance of the Stalin era have largely disappeared.

On the other side—the fundamental side—there has yet been no indication that the basic differences between East and West are in the process of successful reconciliation.

For example, the Russians are holding firm to two goals which are unacceptable to this country. First, and foremost, they want NATO to be disbanded. It would be replaced by a new and purely European security pact. The U. S. then, according to the Russian plan, would withdraw its forces from Europe and dismantle its bases—including those in North Africa and the Middle East as well. The advantage that would accrue to Russia are too obvious to need explanation. Second, they want Formosa to be given to Red China, and Red China admitted to U. N. membership.

The American position was again made clear by President Eisenhower, in his major policy address before the American Bar Association. Three points were stressed. First, Germany must be reunited. Second, Russia must cease to dominate her satellites. Third, there must be an end to Russian-backed efforts to subvert and communize other nations. None of these absolutes, obviously, fits in with Russian ideas.

It may be that the best chance for concrete progress, even though of a limited nature, lies in the prospects for some disarmament. There are four plans here. The U. S. backs the dramatic Eisenhower program which would permit free aerial inspection by the powers of any and all military and related installations. Russia wants to limit inspection to certain major ports and bases. England proposes that inspections, at first anyhow, be confined to the East-West forces facing each other in Europe. The French plan is based on reduction of national military budgets. Out of all this, some common ground for successful negotiation may be found.

It is possible, finally, that the real achievement at Geneva was of a somewhat intangible nature. Edward Weintal made an interesting point in Newsweek. In his opinion, the conference should not be considered a failure because no specific agreements were reached. He believes that Soviet threat remains and will remain so long as Russia "has a powerful war machine, nuclear arsenal, and ruthless men to run it." But, he adds, "Moscow's new look has given Washington the opportunity to think of the menace as a long-range problem and not as a series of recurrent crises..." Now, undoubtedly, a period of trading and bargaining on a global scale is about to begin.

PLANT A FLAG

A Chicago relation man with an eye for public attention has thrown a small but not very disturbing monkey wrench into plans for sending up an earth satellite. "Anybody who launches a satellite without permission," says James T. Mangan, "is trespassing."

Mangan bases his challenge on a claim to all outer space, duly filed in 1949 by the Cook County, Ill. recorder. He calls his "possessions" Celestia, or the Nation of Celestial Space.

The state department is not likely to be much troubled by Mangan's claims. It may even remind him the explorers traditionally have taken possession of new territory only after planting a flag there. That may take a bit of doing, even for a Chicago public relations man.

As of January of this year, 215,000 South Vietnam refugees received Red Cross parcels of food, clothing, and other necessities.

DID I DO MY BEST?

When our forces invaded Attu in World War II, they had to fight for twenty-one days without a let-up, day and night living on K rations. During that time they exterminated more than 7,000 Japanese but with a grueling cost to our own forces, not so many fatalities, but many weary, wounded and battle-exhausted men. One boy who fought without rest for those twenty-one days was not only battle-exhausted but wounded seriously. He was brought back to a very small dressing station where Captain Witherspoon was the Chaplain in charge. That boy seemed to be haunted in his delirium by something which haunted all American boys. It seems that the one thing which an American soldier dreaded more than anything else was that he would be afraid that he would fail to do his duty, and that he might, in the crisis, let his buddies down. That haunted his waking and sleeping hours. That fear dug down deep into his subconscious mind like a Japanese beetle, a corn-borer or a termite.

All night long in that canvas dressing station, the Chaplain told us, that boy kept calling out, now in a whisper, now in a torrent of shouts, now pleading, now weeping, "Did I do my best? Did I do my BEST? Did I do my BEST?" When we think of Christian service, when we think of others, when we think we're doing our share, possibly we should let the words of that boy haunt us. When you give money, teach Sunday School, work, help, lift, or love ask yourself, "Did I do my BEST?" And YOU—are YOU doing YOUR best to do God's will for YOU. James B. Sharp, First Methodist Church.

And think what EXTRA egg money can mean to you. Last fall 1,033 women sent their daily egg records to Purina. These showed that the EXTRA eggs above U. AUSTIN, Tex.—Granite in the capitol building is more radioactive than the dirt being used by Texas' mushrooming "uranium dirt-sitting" businesses. So say state health department officials.

Landowners near uranium strikes have erected benches and charge patrons $2 to $3 an hour to sit with their feet in the supposedly irradiated dirt. Hundreds of people seeking relief from arthritis and other aches have patronized the places.

After analyzing the dirt, Dr. Henry Holle, health commissioner, said that dirt-sitting does no actual harm—except that it may encourage an ill person to delay visiting a physician.

Bollinger, as a representative of the railroad brotherhood; L. B. Hagerman, Distribution Clerk of the Santa Fe Division here; Dave Tipple, Santa Fe Freight and Passenger Agent of Lubbock; and G. R. Buchanan, general manager of Western Lines of Santa Fe.

Recognition Given

Special recognition was given to retired engineers of No. 1809, W. R. Lovett, Walter Cannon, Jack Stewart and Louis Smith.

Speaking during the program Lovett, told the crowd that No. 1809 had been pleasant to work with and "helped make Santa Fe."

Also present were: Ralph Ater, special representative, Amarillo; and R. H. Deitiker of Amarillo, freight and traffic department.

Others on the speakers platform were Floyd Elterman, division trainmaster and Harry Marsh, chief dispatcher.

Sept. 13th of the year...

Mr. Lovett and the Board of City Government, Melvin Kunkel, gave Mr. Lovett a warm address. Kunkel and the audience, "Since the City of Slaton was founded and created by the Santa Fe, it is a tribute to the citizenry of Slaton to be the recipient of a monument to the progress which has been made by this great railroad." He went on to mention the progress that has been made by the Santa Fe from steam to diesel and of the possibility of the diesel someday giving way to atomic power.

Services Listed

He listed a few of the services offered residents of the South Plains by Santa Fe, including the cotton special from the Plains to Gulf ports to help the farming economy.

In closing Kunkel said, "I can personally count many friends among the 432 employees of Santa Fe there in Slaton and am glad to be able to work with them toward a better Slaton."

Superintendent Carter told the spectators that the engine weighs 242,000 pounds, had 200 pound steam pressure in its boilers when in operation, has 70 inch drivers and had been used as a combination freight and passenger engine.

High School Band

The Slaton High School Band under the direction of Bill Townsend and the Slaton Rangers led by John Fondy also took part in the program. The band played several selections, among which was "The Alchison Topeka and The Santa Fe."

School children, dismissed for the presentation program, swarmed like ants over the engine. They climbed over and into the cab of the engine, each seeming intent on ringing the bell at least once.

Sporting a new coat of paint and newly painted numerals on her side, No. 1809 rode on a special track from the Santa Fe Yards to its new site in the park.

The city and the chamber of commerce has announced plans for the construction of a nine-foot fence around the engine as a safety precaution for children.

G. C. Hampton and Harold Hampton visited last week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. Hampton.

The Weekly Meow

from Tiger Mothers Club

"A mother's feeling about football"

Dear Son:
You're off to another school year and I see you have arranged a fine schedule: math, history, English and science.

I notice you are coming out for the football team. I am so glad you could work this in with your fine program. I have always had a desire for you to play football, as I think it is America's most wonderful game for young athletes.

Football is a rugged game and you may get a broken bone or your nose skinned, but I am glad my boy has the grit and determination to tackle something so tough and rugged. There is a lot you will learn playing football that you will not learn from your other subjects. You will learn to put forth your very best both physically and mentally. Then there is teamwork, which is important in everything you do.

There may be times when you feel like quitting or letting up a little. Rest, if you must, but don't quit. Stick to the fight when you are hit the hardest. It's when things seem the worst that you must not quit. Remember you will be playing on a team that is representing your school, community and home. So put forth your very best, do your part, play fair and hard.

Be the kind of man you would want on "your" team. It doesn't matter so much whether you win or lose but how you played and how you come back if you lose. It takes a "good" sport to be a winner or loser.

There is one last thought I would like to leave with you to think about as you play football. "For when the one Great Scorer comes to write against your name, He writes not that you won or lost, but how you played the game."

Love, Mother

The next meeting is Monday night, September 26 at 6:45 at First Methodist Church, at which time the group will probably go bowling, according to Gaylon Weaver, a member of the Young Adults Sunday School class of First Methodist Church.

PICTURED ABOVE IS THE "Mystery Farm" which appeared in last week's Slatonite. The farm is located about eight miles northeast of town. Don Alspaugh is the operator and has been on the farm since 1953.

"Mystery Farm" Located 8 Miles Northeast of Town

The J. W. Alspaugh farm is the "Mystery Farm" which appeared in last week's Slatonite. The farm is located about eight miles northeast of Slaton.

The farm was unbroken pasture land when Alspaugh acquired it in 1921. At that time it was part of the O. L. Slaton Ranch.

Mr. Alspaugh spent two years breaking the land, 1921 and 1922.
The land was first planted in 1922 with cotton and feed. At that time he farmed with a team of horses.

Alspaugh married the former Myrtle Bird of Snyder, Okla. in 1921. They have five children, James of South Dakota; Bill, living north of town; Mrs. E. F. Kilcrease, living with her husband who is stationed in Germany; and Don, who is operating the farm at the present time.

J. W. Alspaugh moved to Lampapas in 1951 and the farm was operated by James until the return of Don from the army. When Don was discharged, James went to South Dakota and Don took over operation of the farm.

According to Bill Alspaugh, his father, J.W., was a member of the First Baptist Church during the time he lived here. Alspaugh was also a director of the REA and a member of the farm bureau.

The only unusual thing about the farm, according to Bill Alspaugh, is that it has had only one crop failure in all the years it has been farmed. That was in 1935.

The farm has two four-inch irrigation wells supplying water to approximately 75 acres of land.
In all the farm is made up of approximately 300 acres of land.

Cotton, seed, and grain sorghums are the chief crop produced.
Five head of Durham cattle make up the farm's livestock.

According to Bill Alspaugh, his brother Don, is highly interested in flying as a hobby. He is at present taking lessons in his spare time.

If Don will drop by the Slaton
Feed Store he will be presented with an attractive picture of the farm.

Guests in the home of Mrs. Eva Trimble recently were Ensign Delmer Trimble and Mrs. Trimble of New York City, N. Y., Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lester and Cindy, Mr.
and Mrs. Johnny Abare, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lytle and June, and Elmer Trimble, all of Slaton, Mr. and Mrs. Tuney Basinger and Nancy of Southland, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Trimble and Mr. and Mrs. Bill
Trimble and boys of Midland, J.
H. Trimble and Loy Brake of Slaton and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Payne of O'Donnell. Ensign Trimble is being sent to San Diego, Calif., where he will be stationed on the Submarine Diodon.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Kirk and daughter of Ft. Worth spent the week end visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. George T. Kirk and
Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stephens.

Slaton Lions Hear About Trip Made By Resident

Guest speaker at the Slaton Lions Club luncheon-meeting on Tuesday of last week was Mrs.
Virgie Hunter. Mrs. Hunter told the Lions about a recent trip of 18 days during which she toured the Southern States, up to New York and into Canada.

The first night of the trip Mrs.
Hunter spent in Shreveport, Louisiana, where she attended The Louisiana Hayride radio program.

Washington, D. C.

The best way to see Washington,
D. C., Mrs. Hunter said, is to contact your congressman. George Mahon, congressman from Lubbock, has four Lubbock girls working for him in his office, she said. Mahon assigned one of the girls to guide
Mrs. Hunter and her party around Washington.

In the capitol the most interesting thing she saw was the Archives Building where the Declaration of Independence is on display. The well-guarded document is kept in Helium gas to preserve it against time, she said.

In the Smithsonian Institute, Mrs.
Hunter saw the Spirit of St. Louis, the plane that Lindberg flew across the Atlantic in the first non-stop flight.

Traffic Heavy

Heavy traffic in New York was a big problem. Mrs. Hunter told the group. "You have to drive with a prayer on your lips and one foot on the brake pedal."

An interesting side trip in New York was a boat trip around Manhattan Island.

The group went to Coney Island on a subway train. An interesting point brought out by Mrs. Hunter in connection with the subway trains is that a person need not go above ground to shop in New York.

While in New York the party saw St. John's Cathedral, China Town, and the Bowery. Expecting to find a huge slum area in the Bowery, Mrs. Hunter said, she was surprised to see neat apartment houses.

The group attended the stage show "Guys and Dolls" and saw the Radio City Rockettes, a famous dancing team.

Canada

From New York, the Slatonites went up into Canada, where they visited Niagara Falls. The Canadians are very nice people, Mrs.

Hunter told the Lions, and treat
you like a friend instead of a tourist.

The tour led next through Detroit, Kentucky and Nashville.
"The biggest thrill of going on a trip," Mrs. Hunter remarked, "is coming home. Slaton sure looked good to me."

E. E. Hancock, who is associated with Lubbock County Schools, was a guest at the meeting.

Mrs. Bert Hastings left for Houston Sunday night to attend funeral services for her son-in-law, R. C.
Mundy, who passed away Sunday,
Sept. 18. Mrs. Mundy was reared in Slaton and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hastings. Mrs.
Hastings returned home Wednesday morning.
