

A LESSON IN HUMILITY

In spite of all the wonders we mortals have produced, we are a pretty puny lot, after all. We stand in awe before the mushrooming cloud of a man-made A-bomb. Then Nature, with a grim smile, flicks a lightning bolt into a boiling cloud. A funnel of whirling blackness materializes and races along the earth.

Next day the headlines read: "Twister Kills 77," or 90, or 100.

The other day a man flew from coast to coast and back between sunup and sundown.

Scientists are about to perfect an "intercontinental ballistic missile," and are working on service stations to be anchored out in space as way-stops for inter-planetary travel.

Aren't we humans wonderful? We are annihilating space and time, and are harnessing incredible energy released by nuclear fission.

And so we pat ourselves on the back, fondly suspecting that we have just about reached the zenith of all knowledge. Little do we think that beyond the comprehension of our moral sense is the fundamental Intelligence of the universe. We have, up to now, only a glimmer of the principle that keeps the stars in their courses.

What we mortals need more than anything just now is humility. And if anything is calculated to give it to us, it is the awesome ease with which Nature produces a million times the power of an A-bomb and sends it scurrying across the earth in the form of a tornado.

Some day man will overcome all evil forces, but he won't do it through pride in material accomplishment. From the Salvation Army War Cry.

LIFE - SAVING

"Joe Doakes, 47, RFD 2, was killed Wednesday night while walking along the highway. The driver of the car said that Doakes was wearing dark clothing, and he could not see him until too late."

Notices like this appear frequently in the newspaper and nothing much is done about them. A few of the more prudent wear or carry something white while walking on a road at night, and some carry a flashlight. The great majority, however, set out with no attention to dress. If they give the danger of being hit a thought, the reaction is, "Oh, well, it won't happen to me."

It could happen to you. Like any other recurring danger it should be guarded against. A new material for clothing which lights up when an automobile beam meets it has been put on the market. Under a direct light it makes garments of any color look silvery white. This ought to offer ample protection. But whatever method is used is unimportant as long as sensible precaution is taken.

NOISE ANNOYS

Civilization provides many good things, but silence is not one of them. Noise is a by-product of our complex society.

Although by no means all noise is bothersome, the ear drum is severely assaulted wherever there are crowds of people and the mechanical slaves that do their bidding. Beyond certain limits of tolerance, such noise causes extreme nervousness and even impairment of hearing.

Fortunately, scientists are learning how to reduce the volume of aggravating sound. Some machines have been redesigned to this end. Airplane passengers are more comfortable because high-frequency engine noise has been reduced by special cabin linings. In restaurants, insulation absorbs some noise and then the customers help by talking more softly.

One of the most clamorous products of civilization is the jet plane. It has been estimated that a 10,000 horsepower jet makes about as much noise as a billion and a half persons talking all at once. But something can be done about that terrific roar. The other day the various services using a large mid western airport adopted a program intended to reduce jet noise.

Some day, scientists may have learned enough so that civilization will be as quiet and peaceful as an afternoon in the country. Meanwhile, it is good to know some progress is being made.

"WHATSOEVER THINGS ARE PURE... THINK ON THESE THINGS" — PHIL. 4:8

HOLY BREAD MUST BE SHARED

One cold winter night a man named Donley, who had been out of work for months stood in front of a private club in Kansas City and saw a well-dressed man accompanied by a woman, and asked the man for money to buy food.

"Sorry, fellow, but I've no change with me," the well-dressed man replied crisply.

"Oh, Larry! We can't go in the club and eat a meal and leave a hungry man out here."

Then the kindly woman turned and gave Donley a dollar saying: "Here's a dollar, buy yourself food and don't lose courage."

"Thanks, lady! I'll never forget your kindness!"

"You'll be eating Christ's bread. Pass it on!" she said with a kindly smile.

Donley found a cheap eating place, spent fifty cents, resolving to save the rest for another hungry day. He would be eating Christ's bread for two days. Christ's bread! But look here—One could not save Christ's bread just for one's self.

An old man shuffled along just ahead of him. Maybe that old man was hungry too.

"Hey, friend, what do you say to a good warm meal?"

The old man turned, blinked at Donley: "You wouldn't fool me, would you, Buddy?"

They went into the cheap restaurant, ordered a bowl of stew, and in the midst of the meal Donley noticed that the old man was wrapping up his bread in a paper napkin.

"Saving some for tomorrow, hey?"

"No,—no. There's a kid down the way. He's had tough luck; was cryin' when I left—hungry. I aim to give him the bread."

"Christ's bread—holy bread to be shared!" Donley was shaken as by a presence, a third guest at that cheap oil-cloth table.

The two of them took the bread to the hungry boy, who began to eat greedily. Then he stopped, called a frightened dog: "Here, Jack, you can have half of it," said the boy.

"Christ's bread—holy bread—ah, yes. The four-footed brother should share it too. St. Francis of Assisi would have done that," murmured Donley to himself.

Donley started off down the avenue with a hymn singing in his heart, a hymn he remembered from childhood Sunday School days: "Break Thou the Bread of Life, dear Lord, to me, as Thou didst break the bread, beside the sea." Then he remembered what the woman had said: "Christ's bread, holy bread, Christ's bread is to be shared." And he walked on with eyes shining, his shoulders up, with a new stride, and that old hymn singing in his heart.

Wait—that's not all.

Donley returned that little lost dog to its master and as a reward received employment the next day.

Gardening Hints For The Week

Get ready to protect COSMOS, DAHALIAS, and OTHER ANNUALS from the first frost.

Small sized REGAL LILY BULBS can be purchased now. Plant them at once for blooms next June.

HARDY LILIES are often held over until spring but it is much better to plant them, when possible, in the autumn or early winter. This is particularly true as applied to LILIJUM AURATUM, which deteriorates rapidly over winter.

FINNY FASHION—Symphony in styling for underwater fishermen is exhibited by Met's top basso, Jerome Hines, who "models" a striped sheephead which goes well with his patterned sweater, as he comes from the water at Nag's Head, N.C.

JUST DREAMIN'—Ensign Brian Lewis, disbursing officer, dreamily contemplates 154 thousand dollars, all in two-dollar bills. The "race-track" money will be used to pay officers and men of the Glenview Naval Air Station, near Chicago, Ill., in order to determine how their money is spent in the community.

First Baptist Pot Luck Supper Well Attended

Over 100 teachers and officers of the Sunday School and Training Union of the First Baptist Church met in Fellowship Hall at the church Tuesday, Sept. 27, at 7:30 p.m. for a pot-luck supper and installation service.

Inspirational messages were given by J. C. Smith Jr. and Ray Samples, retiring Sunday School superintendent and Training Union director, respectively. Jack Clark, new Training Union director, and Joe Rhoads, new superintendent of Sunday Schools, also brought short talks.

Mrs. George Privett, WMS president, and Hack Lasater president of the Brotherhood, told of plans for those organizations. The Rev. J. T. Bolding also brought a short message.

According to the pastor, lots of food and good fellowship was enjoyed.

Lutheran Church Celebrates 25th Anniversary Oct. 2

Celebration of the 25th anniversary of the American Lutheran Church will take place in more than 2,000 churches of that denomination Sunday, October 2.

The observance will take place locally in Grace Lutheran Church, Rev. Henry F. Treptow, pastor. Services will be held at 10:30 a.m. Holy Communion will be celebrated.

An official celebration will be held at 4 p.m. on Sunday, October 2 in St. Paul Lutheran Church, Toledo, Ohio, the actual site of the merger convention which in 1930 united three former independent Lutheran church bodies. Dr. Henry F. Schuh, general president of the Church, will preach and other officials will participate.

Dr. Schuh also is to be heard nationally on the anniversary Sunday on the Columbia Broadcasting System's "Church of the Air" program.

The A.L.C. with a baptized membership of more than 850,000 at the end of 1954, is the fourth largest of the Lutheran bodies in America. In 1930 the comparable membership figure was just over a half million.

The Church, which has headquarters in Columbus, Ohio, is divided into 13 districts, covering all of the United States and Canada. The Church operates four colleges and two seminaries, numerous charitable institutions in various parts of the country, and foreign mission fields in India and New Guinea.

Although predominately rural at the time of the merger, the A.L.C. has emphasized mission work in larger city developments in recent years.

While the present anniversary is being celebrated, the A.L.C. is engaged in negotiations toward merger with three other Lutheran synods.

First Presbyterian Hosts Meeting Of Church Group

The First Presbyterian Church of Slaton played host to a meeting of the Amarillo Presbytery of the Presbyterian Church USA, Sept. 27-28, Thursday, Sept. 22.

The organization meets three times each year with the member churches taking turns acting as hosts. One pastor and one elder from each church is selected to represent the church at the meetings. The purpose of the meeting is "to promote the growth of the program of the Presbyterian Church."

Highlight of the meeting was an address by the Rev. J. Plummer Van Eaton, Missionary from Columbia, South America. The missionary told the group about Presbyterian mission work in that country.

Thursday evening the missionaries spoke about the persecution of the Protestant Churches in South America. Following the talk, question and answer period was held.

Women of the First Presbyterian Church served coffee and doughnuts from 9 to 9:30 a.m. in the church basement. Dinner was served the 52 delegates at the Methodist Fellowship Hall.

On the following evening Van Eaton spoke at the Slaton News Mission on the topic covered the previous evening. He spoke to the congregation in their own language.

The representatives met each day from 9:30 a.m. to noon, and again from 1:15 to 4:30 p.m. The next meeting will be in Pampa, January.

Saturday morning, Sept. 23, Van Eaton appeared before the Women's Council of the Presbyterian Manse in Post at a coffee given by the Rev. and Mrs. G. N. Blackburn, pastor of the church there.

Churches represented at the Slaton meeting were: Slaton, Littlefield, Plainview, Silverton, Tule Canyon, three churches from Amarillo, Memphis, Childress, McLean, White Deer, Pampa, Canadian, Berger, Dumas, Dalhart, and Herford.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Savell and family and Mr. and Mrs. James Savell and family spent last weekend in Colorado Springs, Colo. visiting their daughter and sister, Mrs. Blanton Cogburn, and family.

Guests in the L. C. Odum home last week end were Mrs. Odum's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Wyatt, of Ft. Worth.

SURPRISE BIRTHDAY PARTY GIVEN
SLATON FIRE CHIEF ELBERT WILSON

Elbert Wilson, Slaton's Fire Chief, was a surprised man Monday night. Monday is the usual meeting night for the Slaton Volunteer fire department. As meeting time drew near, Wilson received a call from Southwestern Public Service, where he is employed as a service lineman. The call instructed him to go to Southland for a repair job. While he was out looking for a non-existent job, members of the fire department were preparing a surprise birthday party for him at the station.

When all was ready, he received another call from Public Service, that evidently the job had been a false alarm.

After returning to Slaton, and changing clothes, Wilson hurried to the firemen's meeting. When he walked in the door of the meeting room, he found the men and their wives sitting in the dark singing "Happy Birthday".

In the center of the room, was a serving table with a cake inscribed "Happy Birthday Chief". In the center of the table was a fireman's helmet decorated with red carnations. A punch bowl and a toy fire truck carried out the theme of the decoration.

Wilson was presented with a $100 wrist watch by the men and their wives. His only words as he came into the room were, "I don't know what to say."

Those attending the party were: Mr. and Mrs. Walter Smith, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Kenney, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Burton, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne West and family, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Walston Jr. and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bart Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Dowell, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Gentry and family, Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Wall and family, Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Baxley and family, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Elder, Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Kendrick and family, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hargraves and family, and M. B. Tudor.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Rackler and children, Patricia, Susan and Addie spent Sunday in Smyer visiting Mrs. Rackler's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Robertson, and children, Loyd, Janice and Janell.

Dr. and Mrs. Jack Nesbitt of Snyder visited Mrs. Nesbitt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Hickman, during the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Edd King of Muleshoe have moved to the Grady King farm near Southland.

ELBERT WILSON HOLDS the surprise birthday cake for those present at his birthday party to see.

SPOT OILING IS JOHNSON
GRASS KILLER

There is an easier and cheaper method of getting Johnson grass out of the cotton field other than by hoeing. It is known as spot oiling.

Fred C. Elliott, extension cotton work specialist, in response to many requests from over Texas for information on the equipment needed for doing the spot oiling job, has made available to the county agents plans for gravity flow hand sprayer.

This type sprayer is recommended because it is cheap and a good application job can be done with it, says Elliott. They may be built in the farm shop or by a local tinner. Included on the plan is a complete listing of all the materials needed to do the construction job.

Elliott says that other types of light portable sprayers if already available may be used for applying the oils. In the case of pressure sprayers, only 10 to 12 pounds pressure is recommended, and a fan type nozzle should be used.

The cotton specialist says that many different type application rigs have been tried a thorough job of killing all the grass with the least damage to cotton plants was done by a man with a small tank of oil on his back and a trigger type assembly for getting the oil on the Johnson grass crowns.

Touchdown Club Urges Town To Boost Tigers

About four or five years ago a group of Slaton men got together and organized a club to boost the Slaton Tigers, and to give the team added spirit throughout the season.

The club is known to Slaton residents and to the football boys as the Touchdown Club. The purpose of the club is not unusual in Slaton where so many groups band together to work and make Slaton a better community.

Fred Schmidt

Improvements

The club had in mind a plan to add improvements to the football stadium each year and to help the boys in any way possible.

In the first year of its organization, the club contributed to the team in the form of transportation to and from out-of-town ballgames. Touchdown Club members used their private cars to take the boys to the games. At that time the team didn't have a bus. About a year after the club was organized the members bought a bus for the football team to travel in.

Each year at the end of football season, the club honors the Tigers with a banquet at the Clubhouse.

Program Sold

The Touchdown Club has sold programs at the home football games each year. This year's first programs will be ready when the Tigers play Phillips here in Tiger Stadium, Friday, Sept. 30. The programs each year feature pictures of all the football boys.

The club also takes moving pictures of each of the home games to be shown at its meeting each week. The films are also available to the coaches so that they might study the games.

The club meets on Monday of each week at 8 p.m. at the Clubhouse. At the meetings, the members usually hear a report from the coaches about the past week's game and the game coming up on the following Friday night. The members have the opportunity to ask the coaches questions about the games played or just about football in general.

The organization is a non-profit one. All money collected throughout the season is spent either on improvements on the football field or on something needed by the team as a whole.

Needs Members

The club needs more members and residents to help support the team this year, according to Fred Schmidt president of the organization. "The team needs support now more than ever before," Schmidt said.

To join the club, a resident need only buy one of the Touchdown Club stickers and display it in a prominent place, either on a car window or store front. The tickets can be obtained for $1 from Fred Schmidt at Slaton Hardware. Would-be members can, if they wish, wait and a Touchdown member will be by with the stickers for sale. Anyone is eligible to join and all Slaton residents are encouraged to help the organization boost the Tigers, Schmidt said.

New Officers

Recently elected officers of the club are: Schmidt, president; J. C. Smith, vice-president; and J. W. Thomas, secretary-treasurer.

Among the club's projects of improvement was the sponsoring of a fund-raising campaign to purchase and erect the clock and scoreboard which is now at Tiger Stadium.

This year's project is the erection of a sign at Tiger Stadium. "We need something out there to attract attention and to prominently display the name of the stadium."

Members are eligible to attend the weekly meetings and join in on the discussion of the games.

An important point about stock car racing that may not have occurred to you:

The safer car wins... and Chevrolet is the big winner

Auto races aren't won by brute horsepower. Roadability, acceleration, precision steering and stamina—the very qualities that make a car safer for you—are the keys to victory on the track! And that's why Chevrolet is top car, by far, on the NASCAR (National Association for Stock Car Auto Racing) Short Track circuit.

Faster acceleration means safer passing

Chevrolet's cannonball acceleration has punched past many a bigger car to victory. But the same blazing surge is a vital safety factor on the highway—one that can whisk you more safely around other cars and out of critical situations.

Easier, super accurate steering

Nimble is the word for Chevrolet. But you don't have to see them in action on a tight quarter-mile track to judge how they make other cars seem clumsy. You can feel that yourself in the press of traffic, and sense the feather-light precision of Ball-Race steering in every curve. There's extra safety, too, in Glide-Ride front suspension that sops up the harshest bumps—that lets your car "keep its feet under it" for maximum traction on the roughest roads.

More stability on curves

Chevrolet's famous stability means money in the bank to the race driver—it lets him broadside through turns faster and smoother. But it means peace of mind to you on the road—more comfort in every curve and less body-roll with broad-based Outrigger rear springs, extra security if you have to swerve sharply to meet an emergency, a solid "one-piece" feel that is a delight to any driver.

The ability to slow down and stop quickly and smoothly

Those big 11-inch brakes have averted many a disaster in the close-packed battle of racing. But they weren't designed for that; they were made to give you "heads-up" stops and extra stopping power in traffic, on mountain grades, on high-speed expressways. Competition has merely proved their margin of superiority!

Come in and try out this new winner yourself... and see how easy we're making it to buy a Chevrolet right now!

"Family Of Man" Photography Show At State Fair

"The Family of Man", a gigantic assemblage of photographs from all over the world—depicting the entire sweep of man's whole existence—will be shown at the 1955 State Fair of Texas, Oct. 7-23.

The collection has been described as "the greatest photographic exhibition of all time". The unique exhibition will occupy virtually all of the gallery space in the Museum of Fine Arts on the Dallas fairgrounds. Admission to the show will be free.

The exhibit was created by Edward Steichen, dean of American photographers, for the Museum of Modern Art in New York, where it has been seen by over 300,000 people.

Mr. Steichen and his assistant, Wayne Miller, spent 2½ years assembling the tremendous exhibition. They examined 4 million pictures taken in all corners of the world by photographers of every nationality. It required five months to go through the LIFE magazine collection alone. Finally, they selected the 503 pictures which comprise the exhibit—representing 273 photographers, amateurs and professionals, famous and unknown, in 68 countries.

"The Family of Man" is tremendous in scope as well as size, and is said to have a tremendous emotional impact on its viewers. Its message is the universality of human life everywhere—the basic oneness of the human race, in spite of wars, language barriers, differences of religion, culture and race.

Each photograph shows some aspect of an experience or an emotion which is common to the whole "family of man". For example, there are 18 separate studies of happy children playing "ring around the rosy"—in 12 different countries.

Carl Sandburg, noted poet and author and Mr. Steichen's brother-in-law, has written the introduction to the exhibition, concluding with a poem: "There is only one man in the world and his name is All Men. There is only one woman in the world and her name is All Women. There is only one child in the world and the child's name is All Children."

The United States Information Agency has announced that it will send two copies of the complete show on overseas tours, one to Europe and the other to the Far East.

compared to $76 million originally. Considerable discussion by directors of the nine remaining cities centered around objections to reducing the project in any manner despite the key cities' withdrawal. Following the discussion the directors scaled the bonds proposal to the 10 per cent contingency addition.

Sites For Balloting

The site for the balloting and judges for the election in each of the nine cities were set at the meeting.

Slaton's election site is the office of the Board of City Development, in the City Hall. Phil Brewer is the election judge.

Howard Hoffman and J. J. Maxey, city secretary, were present at the meeting of the authority from Slaton, on Sept. 12.

The board decided to wait until the Oct. meeting of the authority to take any action on calling the water contract elections.

CORN COBS GOING TO INDUSTRY

COLLEGE STATION, June — Farmers are exploring a new market for corn cobs, once a waste product.

More than one million tons of cobs were used last year in industrial products, returning some $10,000,000 to farmers and rural cob grinders, the USDA estimates. Owing largely to research by governmental agencies and private industry, use of corn cobs increased 60 per cent in the past five years.

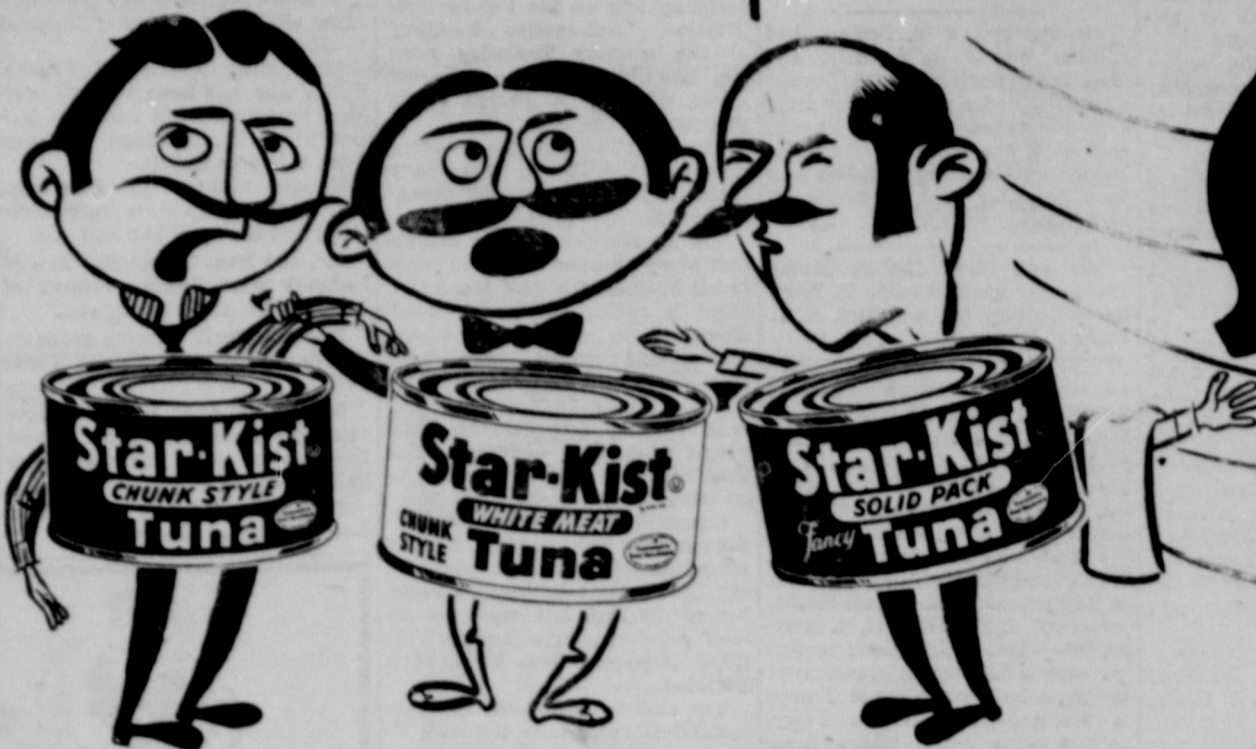

The USDA says that each year's corn crop produces about 15 million tons of cobs, largely in Iowa, Illinois, Nebraska, Indiana and Minnesota.

But regardless of the increasing absorption by industry the major portion of the cobs still are waste.

About half of the cobs collected and sold go into production of the chemical furfural which is required in the manufacture of nylon, synthetic rubber, pharmaceuticals, and resins, and for petroleum refining and as an industrial solvent.

The remainder is used for incorporation into livestock feeds; in cleaners and polishes of metal, glass, plastic and molded rubber items; for air-blast cleaning of engine parts and large electric motors as a carrier of insecticides;

Wolverines Play Littlefield Here At Tiger Stadium

By Coach Elroy Hall
The Evans High Wolverines began practice workouts Tuesday in preparation for the Littlefield game Saturday at 8 p.m. at Tiger Stadium.

Four regulars are expected to return to the line-up this week. They are Bill Johnson, Herbert Johnson, Rodney Featherston and John D. James.

Injuries having hit the team during the first week of training have been an important factor in the Wolverine's season.

There are some desirable factors existing in the Wolverine camp too. Buford Shields, 190 lb. tackle and K. C. King, 185 lb. tackle. Though both boys are inexperienced they show improvement with each game. Other boys expected to see a lot of action in the game Saturday night are Harold White, Herbert Hammons, Guy Warren, James Moten and Charlie Hawkins.

Hammons, playing at fullback position got away for three long runs in the game last week, for 30, 40, and 55 yards respectively. He is also credited with the only touchdown of the season.

The game Saturday night is expected to be a thriller and with a few breaks the Wolverines could come out victorious.

One of the factors hurting the team the most is the lack of attendance. The boys all feel that they could do a much better job if the stands were filled at the games.

Everyone is invited and expected to attend the game Saturday. Admission for the game is 25 cents for students and 75 cents for adults.

PRAYER MOST POWERFUL THING IN LIFE SAYS FORMER SLATON RESIDENT ON 87TH BIRTHDAY

Editor's note: The following article recently appeared in the Sherman Democrat and will be of interest to Mrs. Fogle's numerous friends and neighbors of Slaton. She will be remembered as a saleswoman of dress materials and lived in Slaton for 17 years, leaving here in 1945. She resided at 530 W. Division St. Many a dress has been constructed from material she sold to the women of Slaton.

By PHYLIS NIBLING
Mrs. E. B. Fogle, daughter of one of the "Boys in Blue" who came to Texas as a girl and married the son of a "Johnny Reb," celebrated her eighty-seventh birthday recently.

Daughters Benefit Show Scheduled For Moday 8 p.m.

Monday, Oct. 3, is the date for the long looked for and planned for "Fashion Is You" benefit show sponsored by the Daughters of the Pioneers Study Club and presented by Dunlaps of Lubbock.

According to the publicity chairman, Mrs. Alex Webb, a crew of workers will arrive early Monday morning to begin the stage setting plans. The professional models will arrive at 2 p.m. Monday for rehearsal.

Designs for all ages will be shown featuring children's, teenage's and matron's clothes. The show will be at 8 p.m. in the new high school auditorium, although the new seats have not arrived. The club members are setting up seats and promise a good show for all who attend. Music will be furnished by Bernice Howell.

Tickets may be purchased at Webb's Department Store or from any of the club members. On Saturday ticket booths will be set up at the Slaton Pharmacy, Teague Drug and Piggy Wiggly, also.

Homemakers Hold Installation And Birthday Party

Homemaker Class of the First Baptist Church met in the home of Mrs. Joe Teague Jr., on Thursday, Oct. 22, at 3 p.m. Mrs. J. A. Elliott was co-hostess.

Mrs. J. T. Bolding brought the devotion and was also installing officer at the installation service. Officers installed were Mrs. Elliott, president; Mrs. Dan Liles, 1st vice-president; Mrs. Teague, 2nd vice; Mrs. J. A. Douglas, 3rd vice; Mrs. Hanna, secretary; Mrs. Ed Myers, treasurer; Mrs. George Payne, reporter; and Mrs. Clea Young and Mrs. Luther Faulkner Sr., group captains.

A surprise birthday party was given in connection with the class meeting for the class teacher, Mrs. Leonard Nowell.

The class also presented a gift to their out-going president, Mrs. Teague. Twelve members and seven guests were present. The guests were Mrs. Bolding, Mrs. Dudley Berry, Mrs. O. N. Alcorn, Mrs. Elton Smith, Miss Neutie Nan Watson, Mrs. L. R. Gregory and Mrs. Henry Jarman.

The next meeting will be Oct. 20 in the home of Mrs. Hanna.

frail enough to be whirled off by a breeze like a milkweed baby, she's lived in Texas since she was 9 years old.

But she's still "a Yankee and proud of it!" Actually, she has never been north since she came to Texas. She has planned to make the trip once or twice, but something always happened to prevent it.

She still dreams of seeing her family's home place in Edwards County, Ill., again, however.

"If I wasn't afraid of flying and if I had an oil well, I might go yet," she said with a twinkle in her eyes.

An oil well isn't too preposterous a possibility, either. She has the oil and mineral rights to her former homestead in the Kentucky town community under lease.

Mrs. Fogle was born Susan Annettie Howell July 24, 1867, in the northern Illinois settlement which her grandfather founded.

"Of course, everyone called me Nettie back then, but I'm not going to put it in the paper that way now that I don't have to," she confided.

Oldest of Five
The oldest of five children, she has a brother, L. H. Howell, living in Sherman, another in Memphis, Tenn., and a sister in Westfield.

Mrs. Fogle didn't have a birthday party since she had been in ill health recently.

Her memories of Illinois still are vivid, even if she hasn't seen it since she was a child. "It's just as plain to me as this Sherman town," she said.

She recalled visiting the home of a Sunday school teacher, Dora Baker, as a child. Most of Dora's family had died of consumption.

The walls of her living room were covered with picture frames, each holding a "picture" of leaves and flowers woven from the hair of a deceased member of the family, Mrs. Fogle remembers.

First Teacher
Dora was her first teacher at the Methodist church where she went as a child. She taught her a little poem which Mrs. Fogle still recites today:

"A kiss for a blow, always bestow,
And angels will guide you,
Wherever you go."

"There's a lot of truth in that," Mrs. Fogle said. "If people would always be kind to one another, no matter what happened, this would be a lot nicer world."

Jasper and Elizabeth Howell moved their family to Texas in 1877 because of her mother's health, and settled in the Cannon community, which was then known as Centennial.

Annettie, the oldest child in the family, was "just as afraid of anything" the Texans, only recently shed of the carpetbagger government, would kill her "daddy."

Talk she heard from her Texas schoolmates about the Hoosiers and the Yankees (both words meant about the same in those days) wasn't reassuring.

Picture Hung
"Ma finally let me hang a picture over Daddy's discharge papers (from the GAR)," she recalled.

On October 29, 1894, however, 16-year-old Annettie Howell was married to "E" Fogle, 21-year-old son of a Confederate veteran. They moved to a farm in the Cedar community, where two daughters, Neely and Birdie, were born.

Mrs. E. B. Fogle

When Neely was 14, however, she became ill with a "rising" on the lung and died three months later.

The Fogles traded their Cedar farm shortly afterwards for another one mile north of Kentucky town. Mr. Fogle died a few years later.

Birdie, the younger daughter, studied music for awhile at old Grayson College in Whiteside until she and her mother moved to Sherman in 1914 so that she could finish at Kidd-Key College.

An accomplished violinist with the same delicate features and pale skin as her mother, she taught in West Texas and almost completed her doctorate at Southern Methodist University.

Died of Polio
Only a few months before she would have received it, however, Birdie became ill at Brownfield one night after a recital. She died three days later of polio at the age of 33.

Mrs. Fogle brought her daughter home to the Grayson County cemetery where Neely and her husband were buried. Then she decided to move to Slaton, where she had business interests.

She worked there for 17 years, selling dress goods, until the business was finally settled. Then, in 1945, she returned to Sherman and bought the home where she now lives at 904 E. Lamar.

Prayer, Mrs. Fogle believes, is the most powerful quality of life.

"You know," she said, holding a much-thumbed Bible, "When I was a little girl, they always taught us we'd have stars in our crowns, and I believe it."

Then she added mischievously, "They always laughed at me when I was young because I bought such pretty hats. They said Nettie wanted such pretty hats because she wanted stars in her crown. And that was right."

Sidelight
FROM the CAPITOL
By Vern Sanford
Mgr. Tex. Press Ass'n.

STIN, TEX.—Almost everyone talking about farm prices. In Austin before a meeting of the Texas Farm Bureau officials, the Texas Bureau's president predicted a "depression that will make 'thirties look like a picnic'" present farm policies continue. At his Gillespie County ranch, Senator Lyndon Johnson said a Republican sliding scale of "prices slide down and prices slide up."

in a speech before Texas Citrus and Vegetable Growers. Democrats, he said, left him a "neat package of carefully fused bombs"—falling prices and accumulating surpluses. Substantial progress has been made, nevertheless, Benson said. Major strategy to help low-income farmers, he promised, is in the offing.

Drought Aid Announced
Farmers in 22 South Texas counties are eligible to buy surplus feed grain at lower prices. President Eisenhower designated the counties as drought disaster areas at the request of Gov. Allan Shivers.

Application for relief grain will be taken through Oct. 15. Distribution through supervised retail outlets will continue until Nov. 15.

Insurance Overcharges Hit
A Texas Insurance Commission report claiming "millions of dollars" in excess charges collected by a New York automobile insurance company may touch off a nation-wide investigation.

Commr. J. Byron Saunders reported Texas' findings at a zone meeting of insurance commissioners from six states. All indicated they would start inquiries. Service Fire Insurance Company of New York overcharged, Saunders said, by putting policy holders in a higher rate bracket than necessary. He reported that so far the company has refunded $98,000 on the policies checked by the commission.

Attorney for the company said that if there were excess insurance charges, they were offset by an undercharge on financing. Service Fire Insurance Company handles policies for Universal C.I.T., finance company with which it is affiliated.

Vaccine Priority Changed
Texas children under five have been added to the priority group for Salk polio vaccine. In other states only five to nine-year-olds are eligible.

State Health Department officials obtained special approval from federal authorities, as some 44 per cent of paralytic polio in Texas hits tots under five.

School Inquiries Set
Legislative subcommittee reports on school squabbles at Houston and Irving are due Oct. 21. Investigations are being made by two-member groups of the house general investigating committee. Rep. Wade F. Spilman, Jr. of McAllen is chairman.

Suspension of a school administrator was the origin of difficulties in each town.

No Federal Interference
Federal authorities do not intend to interfere with Texas policing of racial problems. Such assurance was sent by an assistant U. S. attorney general to Texas' Attorney General John Ben Shepperd.

A Houston Negro organization has requested U. S. Attorney General Herbert Brownell to investigate the Texas Citizens Council. Shepperd sent a telegram advising that Texas enforcement agencies are able to take care of any Texas situation.

Water Problems Studied
Inform the people about Texas' water problem and money to solve it will be forthcoming. Max Starcke, manager of the Lower Colorado River Authority, so advised more than 100 experts at a Water for Texas Conference at College Station.

It will be a lengthy, costly proposition, he said.

Land Buyers Cleared
Honest deals sought under the veterans land program are gradually being cleared. A suspense order, invoked when investigations began, has been moved from 111 accounts. They were "made in good faith," according to Land Commr. J. Earl Budder.

Another 1,400 accounts, representing a $3 million investment, still are being checked.

Plaques for Early Newspapers
National Newspaper Week in Texas will open Oct. 1 with a ceremony in Houston commemorating the role of the Telegraph and Texas Register in the Texas Revolution.

Russell W. Bryant, Italy News-Herald, president of the Texas Press Association, will present a bronze plaque to be used as a permanent historic marker.

Recipient of the plaque will be Mac Roy Rasor of Austin, president of the State Association of Sigma Delta Chi, professional Journalism fraternity. The plaque will be placed in the museum to be erected at Washington on the Brazos.

SHORTS SNORTS: A. C. Turner, director of rehabilitation for the Texas Prison System, has resigned to become a member of the State Board of Pardons and Paroles. He will serve out the six-year term of the late Lyle C. Harris.

Burton C. Hackney of Brownfield will succeed Hubert T. Johnson of Waco on the State Board of Public Welfare.

Charles A. Rowe of Houston is the new member of the Texas Aeronautics Commission. A new law prohibits drinking or possession of liquor at "public school athletic events. That includes the University of Texas football games in the opinion of Austin law enforcement heads.

A five state drive for funds to extend the Boy Scout program in the Southwest opens Oct. 25. H. H. Coffield of Rockdale is chief planner for the county-by-county campaign.

Texas' oil allowance for October will be 3,148, 459 barrels per day, up 64,772 over September.

Two critical issues, segregation and school district organization, will be scrutinized when the Texas As-

Bland To Head The Tiger's Cage

Members of the journalism class elected Beverli Bland, junior, as editor of The Tiger's Cage.

Other staff members are Henry Adamek, assistant editor; Darwin Merck, business manager; Phil Pearson, sports editor; Barbara Patterson, feature editor; Stiles Beicher and Alton Brookshire, advertising salesmen; and Wendall Akin, circulation manager.

The Tiger's Cage is a member of the Interscholastic League Press Association and last year won an Award of Honor as being one of the better school papers in the state.

In the district journalism contest Ronald Barry and Burdine Becker as a team placed fifth with Larry Moore winning a first-place medal in editorial writing at the judging of all state newspapers at Austin.

The staff plans to publish 15 issues this year and help the Slatonite put out a special edition in the spring. Mrs. Helen Kerr sponsors the newspaper.

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Joiner are their daughter, Mrs. L. T. DeElla, and son, Lew Jr. of Stelton, N. J., and Mrs. Mike Phittler of Geneva, N. Y. They have been here about a week.

"I Can"

Have we not eleven men on our team the same as our opponent? We are all pretty well equipped with the same—with two arms, two hands, two legs, two eyes and a brain to use if we are wise. With this equipment we all began. So let's start for the "TOP" and say "I can".

If you think you can, the battle is half won. Let's set our minds on the goal that victory will be won and if each man gives his all in determination, fight, courage and spirit, it can be done.

A battle is won or a battle is lost by the spirit of the team. Now our spirits are low from the loss of a game, but remember it takes more determination to win than to lose. So let's use our losses as a stepping stone to a better team.

The knowledge and experiences we have gained will make us a better team in the future. So put forth your best and fight to the end, not for yourself but for your team.

"You may think it fine to be praised for skill, but a greater thing to do, is to set your mind and to set your will, on the goal that's just in view.

"It's helping your fellowman to score, when his chances hopeless seem; it's forgetting self till the game is o'er and fighting for the team."

Lions Plan Broom Sale In Slaton

John W. Crawford of Caravan Sales For The Blind spoke to the Lions Club at its weekly meeting Tuesday at the Clubhouse. Caravan Sales is an organization that works with the many Lighthouses for the Blind throughout the state. The organization purchases merchandise from the Lighthouses and from individual blind workers and offers it to local clubs to sell.

The Lions Club here voted to have a broom sale in the near future far, as president Bill Ball termed it, "a very worthy cause."

So successful has the Caravan Sales been with its work with the blind that it has been endorsed by the Texas Commission For The Blind.

The Lighthouses are state agencies that supply a means of livelihood for the blind worker. These people are paid for manufacturing the products to be sold. Among the products, Caravan Sales handles are brooms, door mats, dish cloths, towels and whisk brooms.

Another duty of the Lighthouse For The Blind is the rehabilitation of people who have gone blind after reaching adulthood. The vocational department of the organization trains these people for some type of work. The placement service then finds the new trained worker a job. Many of these people work in machine shops filing the burrs off metal parts with hand files, a job that requires some skill with the hands. Another example of this type of training and placement is the staffing of many news stands with blind people. These people are trained by the Lighthouse organization to operate the stand. After he is trained the operator takes charge of the stand and it is his for as long as he continues to operate it. When he ceases operation the stand is once again the property of the agency. The agency then restaffs the stand. The only restriction placed on the news stand operators is that they can not sell the stand.

Many of the shut-in blind people or those living in an area without a Lighthouse are also trained by the agency to work and produce things in their home. Raw materials for people in this classification are supplied by the agency.

Crawford himself was blind until the age of 17. He told the Lions that he felt he could speak from experience when he said that the blind appreciated the help afforded them by the agencies.

Under the program planned by the Lions, a truck load of merchandise manufactured by the blind will come to Slaton on the day of the sale. The Lions will each go to the truck and get their allotment of goods to sell, and then will cover assigned routes over Slaton offering residents the merchandise. The program has the endorsement of the state Lions Club secretary. Slaton Lions who will make-up the committee to plan the broom-sale are Bland Tomlinson, chairman; Clark Self, Howard Striling, and Bill Ball.

Following the program, the speaker, demonstrated the use of a Brail-tablet and stylus. The tablet is built like a metal hinge. A piece of paper is inserted within the metal and with the use of a stylus, holes are punched in the paper in the Brail alphabet.

Using the tablet and stylus appears complicated because the writer must spell his words and sentences backward. All writing is done from right to left. After the writer is finished, the paper is removed from the tablet and turned over and read from left to right. Only a person skilled in the use of the Brail alphabet can read it, however, because the letters consist of series of raised dots on the paper. The blind read these dots with their finger tips.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jones received word from their son, Roy, that he would be home about Dec. 16 for a 30 day leave. Roy is in the army and has been in Panama since last May.

Mrs. M. L. Turnbow will return home this week end from a two week's vacation. Her daughter, Mrs. J. D. Freeman, of Austin and Mrs. James L. Woodland of Ft. Worth accompanied her on the trip. They visited in Chicago, made a trip into Canada and attended an Artistic Show in Whitewater, Wis.

1. We would like to show you some of the things that make the new 1956 Ford one of America's finest cars—despite the fact it is one of America's lowest-priced cars. Let's start with these long, low lines. Looks like it hates to stand still, doesn't it?

Let's take a walk around the NEW '56 FORD!

It's the fine car at half the fine car price!

3. Here's what you ride on. This frame has five cross-members including a K-bar member up front. It can take it! And Ford's Ball-Joint Front Suspension really blots out bumps.

5. Note the deep-center design of this new Lifeguard steering wheel. The wheel rim is over three inches above the post to help cushion the driver in case of an accident.

4. Here's the new 202-h.p. Thunderbird Y-3 and we assure you, it will give you new driving enjoyment. It's available in Fordomatic Fairlane and Station Wagon models... the 176-h.p. Y-3 in Fordomatic Mainline and Customline models... the 137-h.p. Six in all models.

6. This Lifeguard cushioning for instrument panel and sun visors is optional. It gives you extra protection against serious injuries when thrown forward in an accident. You may also have optional seat belts to help keep occupants securely in their seats.

7. Here's Ford's new Lifeguard. A double-grip locking door latch reduces the chance of doors flying open under impact. Chances of injury in accidents are less when doors remain in the car.

Well, that covers the important things. But there's a lot more. So we invite you to come in and see the '56 Ford for yourself. Then you'll see colorful new exteriors and interior quality workmanship that is everywhere. Then you'll learn the story. You'll know that Ford is the car at half the fine car price.
