Cotton Acreage Allotment Cut Planned For West Texas Farmers

Cotton acreage allotments for West Texas cotton farmers in 1956 will be cut 260,000 acres below allotment for 1955, it was announced by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, on the basis of unofficial information on a program for study by the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee. Lower Rio Grande Valley counties will be cut about 100,000 acres in 1956 below 1955 acreage.

The program is based upon an estimate of a reduction in the state allotment amounting to 200,000 acres in 1956 than given to the state in 1955. It is anticipated that cotton producing states will receive lower quotas in 1956 than were provided in 1955.

The entire 1956 cut will be made in West Texas and Southwest Texas counties plus a further cut of about 100,000 acres in those counties that East Texas and east Central Texas counties may be given an increase in 1956 of approximately 100,000 acres more than acreage allotments made to those counties in 1955.

This is contrary to the general trend which has prevailed in those counties in East and east Central Texas which have shown a gradual decline in cotton acreage in uncontrolled years and consistently lower underplanting of cotton acreage allotments in controlled years.

The last uncontrolled year was 1953. The 1956 program will give one of 24 counties in East Texas, reporting districts number 1, an allotment which will total 30 per cent more acres than the counties planted in the last uncontrolled year of 1953. This district would gain eight per cent more acres in 1956 than allotted in 1955.

Other East Texas districts in 1956 will show cuts below 1953 ranging from 22 to 29 per cent. In West Texas counties, the acreage allotments for 1956 will be more severe reductions ranging from 38 to 46 per cent below acreage planted in 1953. One district in the Lubbock area will show a decrease in 1956 of nearly seven per cent below allotments.

In 1955, West Texas counties had cuts from 23 to 40 per cent below 1953 acreage, while East Texas counties showed cuts from 15 per cent to 34 per cent below 1953.

The program for 1956 amounts to a reversal of previous policies and procedures in many respects. Part of the program will provide for additional acreage to all farmers in East Texas who had allotments from 15 to 25 per cent in cotton.

ATCC officials point out that exact parallel in the hardship of the small farmer in East Texas and in the economic hardship in the West Texas farmer planting 100 acres in 60 dry-land West Texas counties because of the dry lower rainfall and lint production per acre in those counties comparison with East Texas.

The "Eyes To The Future" Contest Deadline Is Midnight October 20

It's still not too late for you to enter the Slatonite's "Eyes To The Future" Contest, which appeared in last week's issue of the paper. The contest is open to all except the Slatonite employees and their families.

Interest has been running high about the contest, and several entries have been received, but the contest doesn't close until midnight Thursday Oct. 20.

Look in last week's paper for rules and the pictures to be identified, then mail your entry—you may win one of the four prizes. The prizes are $10, $7, $5, and $3. In case of a tie duplicate prizes will be awarded.

The winner will be announced in the Oct. 28 issue of The Slatonite.

Lions Hear About Dial Change-Over

Glenn Scott, lecture demonstrator for the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, gave a talk Tuesday at Lions Club about telephone service to come in the future.

After the dial change-over is completed throughout the country each person with a phone will have an individual telephone number.

In the not too distant future a person will be able to pick up his phone and call anyone in the United States or Canada by number.

As comparison in the time saved in calling, Scott told the Lions that in 1920 the average caller making a long distance call waited 14 minutes before being connected with his party. Under the new set-up a person will have approximately 16-20 seconds dial while his call is being connected.

When the change-over is complete everyone will have two letters and five digits in his telephone number.

The prefix here in Slaton, according to Scott, will be Valley, as compared to Porter and Sherwood in Lubbock.

"We must establish a prefix in every town in the United States that everyone will be familiar with," he told the group. "Then if a man goes to a strange town, he will still know how to use the telephone," he added.

There are over 300 telephone companies in the United States and Canada, all of whom plan to join in the new system.

Tigers Travel To Floydada Friday Night For Game

The Slaton Tigers will travel to Floydada Friday night to play a conference game with the Floydada Whirlwinds at the high school stadium there. Game time is 8 p.m. This will be the third game of the season played by the Tigers away from home.

Slaton, which so far in the season has a record of five losses, will be trying for their first win Friday night.

The Tigers, according to coach Tompkins, are improving with each game as they gain more experience. The Tigers showed that they could go on the ground in the game last Friday night with Sudan at Tiger Stadium, as they scored two touchdowns in the fourth quarter. Though the score came too late in the game to turn the game in favor of Slaton, they kept the Sudan team from making a clean sweep in scoring.

Charges Filed Against Negro In Slaying Here

Albert Artison, 38 year-old Slaton Negro was charged with murder with malice Saturday in connection with the fatal shooting last Sunday here of a 22 year-old Lubbock man.

The victim, M. B. Smith, died as a result of two 38 caliber bullet wounds in his chest. The shooting took place outside a Negro cafe in Slaton. A Negro living nearby reported to police that as he arrived at the scene, he observed an unidentified man escaping into the darkness.

Early this week a pistol was found buried near the canyon, according to Slaton police, and police chief E. A. Gentry, being familiar with the gun, was able to connect the pistol with its owner. Following a tip from an undisclosed source with further information about the killing, Gentry was then able to call Lubbock officers who made the arrest.

Arraigned before a Lubbock Justice of the Peace Court, Artison was jailed in lieu of $7,500 bond.

One of the girls that was injured in the accident at the State Fair in Dallas last Tuesday is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Jones, Route 1, Slaton. She is Miss Kay Leslie, 13, of Memphis, Texas. Kay is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Leslie. Mrs. Leslie is the former Wilma Jones and attended school in Slaton for many years. Kay's condition is very serious, according to Mr. Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones live on a farm on the Lubbock highway.

Services have been held in a different church each of the five nights during the past week, at 7:30 p.m.

Considerable interest has been shown in the services, and the residents of Slaton who attended them have gained a renewed understanding of and appreciation for the other denominations of the city, the Rev. Bryan Ross, pastor of the Westview Baptist Church, stated.

The University of Texas training courses being offered in Slaton met for the first time Monday night at Slaton High School. The two courses each had a good turnout.

The "Merchandise Display" course meets at 7 p.m. and is followed immediately by the "Show Card Lettering" course at 8 p.m. each night.

Mr. W. G. Bohannon, advertising specialist of The University of Texas, is teaching both courses.

An announcement was made this week of plans to incorporate in New Mexico a uranium producing company under the name of Slaton. Temporary officers of the organization are J. B. Kitten, general manager and president, Slaton; Homer Price, executive vice-president, Ballinger; Boyd Johnson, vice-president and assistant general manager, Albuquerque; Wilfred Kitten, secretary-treasurer, Slaton, and M. After incorporation is complete and when permanent officers and directors are elected, four more members will be added to the board of directors.

Local offices are at 210 W. Garza St. in Slaton, the home offices are in Albuquerque, and field offices will be at the mine. The organization has as its purpose the production of uranium properties held in Rio Arriba and Sandoval Counties in New Mexico. A total of eight claims are held at present, approximately 20 miles north and slightly east of Cuba, New Mexico. All claims are within the Santa Fe National Forest. The claims are broken up into two groups, one group of three claims and one group of five, with ore outcropping in both claims.

Pioneer Resident Buried At Lamesa

Services were conducted Monday at 4 p.m. at Lamesa for Mrs. Myrtle McDonald, a resident of Slaton.

The funeral was conducted in the First Baptist Church of Lamesa and burial was under the direction of the Higginbotham Funeral Home there.

The Rev. Troy Dale of Ozona officiated, assisted by the Rev. Mylo B. Arbuckle, pastor of the Lamesa Baptist Church.

A very active worker in the church and in study clubs there, Mrs. McDonald taught a Sunday School Class for almost 50 years. She was born in Lebanon, Tennessee.

She was the first president of the Women's Missionary Society Association, an organization that included about five counties when it was created in 1926.

She was a member of the Women's Study Club and the Delphian Club in Lamesa. Mrs. McDonald came to Slaton in 1916 and lived here until 1925, at which time she moved to Lubbock. She lived in Lubbock for a year before moving to Lamesa, where she resided until last year. At that time her daughter, Mrs. H. G. Stokes of Slaton, brought her back here to live because of Mrs. McDonald's ill health.

Survivors include: two daughters, Mrs. H. G. Stokes of Slaton, and Miss Marie McDonald of Big Spring; a son, Ross M. of Lamesa; three grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Brackeen of Lubbock are the parents of a baby girl, born Wednesday at 11:00 a.m. in the West Texas Hospital in Lubbock. The little girl has been named Diana Dawn. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. McClanahan.

Five new Royal typewriters have been added to the Commercial Department. This makes a total of 30 machines, two of which are electric. —Tiger's Cage

Statement Shows Loan Increase Deposit Decrease

A Citizens State Bank statement of condition, issued at the close of business on Oct. 5, shows increased loans and decreased deposits.

A comparison between the October 5 statement and a statement of a year ago dated October 13, 1954, shows that loans and discounts have gone from $1,222,531.56 to $1,588,010.25. This is an increase of $365,478.69. Deposits meanwhile, decreased from $3,725,927.22 in October of last year to $3,159,026.83 on October 5, a drop of $566,900.29.

Merchants Warned Check Passer Is Working Town

Mrs. Vivian A. Jones of Retail Merchants Association in Slaton reported to the Slatonite Wednesday that two checks had been passed in town Saturday by a man evidently signing with a fictitious name.

Both checks were made out in the amount of $28 and were said by the man to be pay-checks for farm labor.

The man is described as being a tall Negro. According to information received by this paper, he enters a store, buys two or three dollars worth of merchandise, and offers the bad check in payment.

Merchants are urged by the Retail Merchants Association to investigate any check which they find suspicious, especially if the merchant is not familiar with the person offering the check.

The annual Rotary Teachers' Banquet was held Oct. 13 at 7:30 in the Clubhouse.

The feed is an annual affair given by the firemen for city officials and for other invited guests. Included among the guests Monday night was the ladies auxiliary of the fire department.

The barbecue was served cafeteria style by the members of the department.

Forrest Davis To Attend Water Works Meeting

Slaton's Water Superintendent, Forrest Davis, will leave Slaton Saturday morning for San Antonio, where he will attend a meeting of the Southwest Section of the American Water Works Association.

Edwards Named Director Of Water Control District

J. S. Edwards of Slaton has been named as one of the directors on the newly-formed Lubbock County Water Control and Improvement District No. 1.

The directors were named this week following approval by the Lubbock County Commissioners Court of a proposal to create the water district. The directors will serve temporarily until an election is called, probably in January, and the $1,860,000 issue is voted on by the public.

Steps to be taken next by the directors include:

1. After the directors have qualified by making bonds and taking oaths of office, a county election must be called to confirm creation of the water district.

2. Organization of the district must be followed by an exclusion hearing in which portions of the county may be removed from the district.

3. The directors may order a bond election after all previous steps have been taken.

4. A hearing on taxation plans must follow the bond election.

5. Bonds may be issued as voted in the bond election.

"SLATON IS SUCH A WHOLESOME PLACE!"

The above exclamation came from a newcomer who the other day was expressing satisfaction over having settled in such a town to rear his son.

He was speaking of Slaton's attractive Little League ball park, the centrally located city park and community center, the fine swimming pool, the good looking school buildings, the commendable behavior of the youth on the streets and in public gatherings and, above all, the lively churches.

"And I'll bet this is a good Boy Scout town," he added. Slaton citizens soon will have an opportunity to show the newcomer whether or not his later observation is correct.

But let it be said, here and now, that Slaton has always prided itself on the strong support it gives its Boy Scouts. And the Boy Scouts, along with being grateful for this support, are proud of their contribution of community service.

Actually, the boy activities are largely self-supporting. Dues paid by the boys and contributions to the troops, packs and posts by parents and sponsoring institutions pay much of the cost of Scouting. The money which the community donates to the Scouts makes it possible to serve these institutions, and to extend the program in order that more boys may benefit from Scouting.

Certainly the opportunity to become a Scout should not be denied to any boy. In modern America, Scouting fills a void in a boy's mental, moral and physical development.

It goes without saying that on October 25, Boy Scout Day, our people will give generously to support the Boy Scouts. The slogan this year is "Building Tomorrow's Better Texas." If all boys were Boy Scouts, tomorrow's would be a better world.

EDUCATED TOMATO

Scientists have devised machines to harvest almost everything from walnuts to lettuce but the tomato still baffles them. They are making a double-barrelled approach to the problem, seeking to create both a mechanical picker and a more co-operative tomato. Said one of them, according to the Wall Street Journal:

"We want to develop a tomato that will meet the machine halfway. We want all the tomatoes on the vine to ripen at the same time, we want them to shake off the vine easily, and we want the vine itself to pull out of the ground easily. The tomato ought to taste good, too."

As any true tomato-lover will rise to testify, it's that last point that's important. If the experts can produce a grocery store tomato with the juicy, sun-ripened flavor of those that used to grow in Grandma's garden, it won't have to meet the machine halfway. The pickers will be out after it all day long.

ATOMIC DILEMMA

Words of promise, hope and warning have been intermingled at the international gathering of nuclear scientists in Geneva. Mankind must work toward realization of the promise, but in the process the warnings must not be forgotten.

Some of the words of promise were spoken on behalf of President Eisenhower. In his message to the assembled scientists he said that "atomic science is the newest and the most promising tool" for fighting disease, ignorance and the lack of economic opportunity which "are the dark breeding places of disorders and wars."

A leading scientist from India, Homi J. Bhabha, also spoke of good things to come through atomic science. He even predicted that within 20 years or so man may learn how to control hydrogen fusion, source of the terrible H-bomb. That, he said, would solve our energy problems virtually forever. Yet Bhabha warned that atomic power on a big scale would be dangerous without a world society "in which the major states have agreed to maintain peace." And President Eisenhower implied further warning when he renewed this country's pledge to help make sure that man's inventiveness "shall not be dedicated to his death, but consecrated to his life."

That is the dilemma of the human race as it stands at mid-century.

"Mystery Farm" Is Owned By
Mrs. W. H. Sewell

The "Mystery Farm" which appeared in last week's Slatonite is owned by Mrs. W. H. Sewell and is located six and a half miles southeast of Slaton.

The farm was at one time part of a ranch owned by Mrs. Sewell's father, A. B. Robertson. At that time it was all grazing land.

At the time of Mr. Robertson's death, the ranch was divided between Mrs. Sewell and her three brothers.

Mrs. Sewell's husband was a lawyer in Abilene and Eastland before they moved to the farm in 1925. The couple added many improvements to the buildings on the farm and to the land itself.

THE "MYSTERY FARM" APPEARING IN last week's Slatonite is owned by Mrs. W. H. Sewell and is located southeast of town. The farm was at one time owned by her father, A. B. Robertson, and at that time was all ranch land.

Asked about unusual events in the farm's history, Mrs. Sewell recalled that one time a hail storm broke out all the windows on the north side of the house. In 1953 during the drouth the land was so dry that "We didn't even bother to plant anything that year," she said.

Since that time an eight-inch well has been drilled on the farm, supplying water to about one third of the land.

Since her husband's death, Mrs. Sewell has rented the farm, though she still lives there. G. A. Taylor rents the farm at present, according to Mrs. Sewell.

Mrs. Sewell is a member of the Methodist Church. She spends her extra time reading and watching television.

Her son, Bill Sewell, lives in Lubbock where he is a vice-president of the Citizens National Bank.

Word was received recently from Pfc. Chester Fondy, by his parents Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Fondy, telling of his having a temporary assignment and that he was playing football on the 18th Field Artillery Group's "Red Legs" team. He is now at Peden Field, Ansbach, Germany.

Fondy is playing full back and plays as a linebacker. They are in the Central League. He is enjoying this a great deal.

To Be In Maneuvers
Pvt. Ronald Schilling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schilling, writes his parents from Ft. Benning, Ga., that they are getting troops from overseas and also from a number of camps in the states in preparation for the big maneuver "Sagebrush".

At the present Pvt. Schilling is attending field radio classes. He is working as assistant squad leader in the field and is radioman in the garrison.

Ronald will complete a book-keeping course from the U.S.A.F.I. in the near future, according to his parents.

Soldier Of The Month
Cpl. Daniel J. Fondy, who is with the 130th E.A. Br. in Ashiya, Japan, was recently chosen as one of the outstanding soldiers of the month and was granted a six day leave. On Sept. 24, he and the other soldier of the month left by air for Bangkok, Thailand by way of the Philippines.

He wrote his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Fondy, and told of the nice hotel where they stayed. He said the food was fairly good. They went to a club where they were served a Thai dinner and he said the food was very rich in spices. They also saw the traditional classical dances with their amazing costumes. The people are very dark, according to Cpl. Fondy, and look a great deal like Indians Saigon, Indo-China.

They flew about 6,000 miles on the trip, part of the miles over Saigon, Indo-China.

He hopes to be home in December as he is to receive his discharge then.

Mrs. Larry Lake and son, Steven Allen, left Tuesday to go to Borger to visit her sister, Mrs. John Holst, and family. She will return the last of the week.

King Cotton Gets Royal Treatment In Journey From Field To Baling

King Cotton is and has been for several years one of the most important parts of the economy of Lubbock County. Year after year thousands of bales of the commodity have been raised, picked, ginned and sold from county fields. The area farms around Slaton are no exception to the rule, cotton has ruled here as the leading crop for many years.

In an area where cotton is raised, picked or pulled, and taken to the gin, it is common knowledge about how the process goes from planting to its arrival at the gin.

Mystery Starts

From the gin on is where the mystery starts—what is done to the cotton inside that tin roofed building. On the outside the cotton gin appears to be a maze of buildings, wires, and long metal flues. Surprisingly enough all of this conglomeration of equipment has a purpose in the ginning, according to Pete Langbert at the Co-op Gin here in Slaton.

The travels of the cotton boll are long and complicated within the gin, beginning with the entrance of the cotton through a long pipe. The pipe the man pushes back and forth over the cotton is what actually amounts to a king sized vacuum cleaner, sucking the cotton out of the truck into the gin.

From the pipe or vacuum cleaner the cotton is carried up into the rock catcher, where rocks and green bolls are separated from the cotton.

From there it travels into the airline cleaner. The cleaner is a drum with spikes inside of it which shakes out the dirt and carries it off. Leaving the cleaner, the cotton enters a gas-heated dryer. The heat from the dryer is created in the engine room of the gin by a hot gas flame. Heat from this flame is blown into the dryers.

Magnet To Catch Steel

A magnet to catch any bits of steel which might be in the cotton is the next stop for the cotton. Should these bits of steel, if any, get into the machinery they could cause a fire to break out or tear up expensive parts in the gin.

From the magnet the cotton goes through another cleaner and then to the burr machine. Here the cotton is separated from the boll or burr by a revolving drum carrying saw teeth on its surface. The cotton is caught by the teeth, while the burr is stripped off by a metal plate, oddly enough, called the stripper.

Third Cleaner

After being mangled by the burr machine, the cotton goes through the third cleaner and into the distributor or conveyor.

The conveyors distribute the cotton to the feeders where the burrs and trash left by the cleaners is taken out and carried off.

The cotton moves then to the stand, where the cotton is separated from the seed and the seed dropped out. The seed is carried out to the seed house where it is dumped by the conveyor.

Into The Press

From the stands the cotton goes into the lint flue and into the condenser. Here the air is separated from the cotton and carried off. The cotton goes into the press, where now that the air has been taken out of it, it will stick together.

A machine called a kicker, kicks the cotton into the press and it is packed down by a plunger which travels up and down. As the plunger raises cotton is kicked into the press, when the plunger starts down the incoming cotton is stopped. This process is continued until enough cotton has been packed down to form a bale.

Bale Tied Out

After the bale has been formed the entire press revolves around on the gin floor and the bale is tied-out with metal bands. While one bale is being tied-out another bale is being formed in a second press.

The burrs from the gin are carried one of two places. By manipulating a valve, the ginner can send them out to a storage bin should the farmer wish to save the burrs for spreading as fertilizer.

A complicated sounding process to the casual onlooker, but as one of the gingers at the Co-op put it, "there's nothing to it once you catch on."

FHA To Present Three One - Act Plays October 25

The Slaton Future Homemakers of America will present three one-act plays Tuesday, October 25, at 8 p.m., with members from sophomore, junior and senior classes playing the parts.

A Dog's Life

The first of the three will be a farce comedy entitled, "A Dog's Life." Aunt Rosedina's dog, Pinkie, has had fifteen baby puppies in one litter. For six long weeks they have been cared for by Sally and her friend, Jenny. Today they are to be given out to their new homes, homes which were found after a great deal of effort on the part of the two girls. As the play opens the "regrets" begin to come in, until the poor girls fear they will have all fifteen dogs to take care of for life. Then other troubles pile up rapidly to increase the misery.

My Aunt Agatha

The second play is a mystery comedy, "My Aunt Agatha." Though Aunt Agatha has passed her seventieth birthday she's a mighty alert and dominant personality. Her across-the-road neighbor, Kate Wallace, watches over her, which is a comfort to her neices who live in the city. After a fire in her home and a bad fall downstairs 'Aunt Agatha calls her neices together with the idea of settling her estate before her death. To test their sincerity she booby-traps the house so if they snoop around they will be caught. There's a sinister background in the Trefton household and the ingeniousness of Aunt Agatha surprisingly unfolds it, giving the audience some exciting moments before relaxing them with an unexpected but satisfactory ending.

Along Came Harriett

The third play is a farce-comedy entitled "Along Came Harriett". Poor "Mousey" Wilson! The other girls at Lakemoore Girl's School never used carpets to step on—they just walked over Mousey. She did their home work, she coached them to copy her notes, she coached them for exams, and she took their insults with surprisingly good grace. That situation might have prevailed during the four years of her college life if Harriett had not come along Harriett, fifteen, boisterous, and completely nonchalant, knew something had to be done. In her delightfully careless way, she mixes up everybody—and to everybody's surprise "Mousey" comes out on top! This carefree comedy is a play that will intrigue and amuse any audience, according to Mrs. G. K. Haile, sponsor.

Admission to the plays will be twenty-five cents for students and fifty cents for adults. The proceeds will go to the chapter fund. The playing time for the three is approximately one hour and twenty minutes and promises you some very worthwhile entertainment says Mrs. Haile.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Thompson Sr. and Mrs. Fred Stottlemire spent last Sunday in Brownwood visiting R. A. Thompson Jr. and Mrs. Stottlemire's grandson, Joe Sparkman. Both boys are attending Howard Payne College.

AUSTIN, Tex.—A big political question this week was what effect Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey's new job as national Democratic committeeman from Texas will have on his and Texas' political future.

Ramsey, quiet-mannered and nearly 52, was elected at a Fort Worth meeting of the state executive committee last week. He succeeds Wright Morrow of Houston.

Often mentioned as a prospective candidate for governor, the San Augustine lawyer was catapulted into the committee job without advance fanfare. He was labeled a surprise "compromise" nominee after agreement could not be reached on 14 others.

Some viewed it as positioning him on the inside track in the governor's race with firm conservative support and maybe some "loyalist" backing. A few seemed to consider the job a political blind alley. A few others thought Ramsey already had made up his mind against running for anything and welcomed the committee post to stay in public life.

Ramsey himself said he was "grateful and happy," but kept mum on personal political aspirations. He said his only purpose was to help get the best man for the Democratic nominee and to assist in electing him president.

Both House Speaker Sam Rayburn and U. S. Sen. Lyndon Johnson promptly expressed approval of Ramsey's selection. Their approval had been part of the requirements laid down by national party leaders for an "acceptable" committeeman from Texas. Morrow had not been recognized nationally since his bolt from the party ticket to support Eisenhower.

Johnson said Ramsey can do the kind of job that should unite Texas Democrats. Rayburn called him "a good man for the place."

Shivers Sees Victory
Gov. Allan Shivers has launched his drive for conservative control of next year's Democratic Party conventions.

Executive committee members planned convention strategy behind closed doors at Fort Worth last week. Then Shivers took the rostrum for a stirring speech at a $10-a-plate barbecue and rally.

He challenged those who agree with him on party principles to capture next April's precinct conventions.

He said Texas votes in the national conventions may be the decisive ones. "We cannot allow—we must not allow—those votes to be cast against the interests of Texas by a delegation representing a minority of Texans," he said.

"We must fight on if we do not want to see the hand of federal power reach further into the classrooms of our children. We must fight on if we are to hold the right to enforce our own laws and police our own communities.

"The time for quitting has not come. We have won before and we are going to win again."

Duval Indictments Fall
Officials seeking to clean up Duval County's alleged corruption may have to re-do nearly two years work.

A storm of reaction greeted the Court of Criminal Appeals' ruling last week that the Duval grand jury which returned 104 indictments was illegally organized.

Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd, who worked with the grand jury for months, termed it "a tragic loss."

Specifically, the judgement overturned conviction of R. L. Adame, former Duval County school superintendent charged with felony theft of public funds. But all other indictments by the same grand jury would be subject to the same challenge.

District Judge A. S. Broadfoot named the jury commission that chose the grand jury. He had been sent to Duval County in March, 1954, by the State Supreme Court to replace Woodrow Laughlin, removed for misconduct in office.

Judge Broadfoot's dismissal of the grand jury panel selected under Laughlin and naming a new commission "of his own choosing" was held improper. An open-court hearing should have been held, the appellate court said, to determine if there was cause for dismissal of the old panel.

Judge K. K. Woodley dissented in the two-to-one ruling. He pointed out that in a similar case the court had upheld Broadfoot.

Shepperd also commented on the court's about-face. "The U. S. Supreme Court took 80 years to reverse itself on segregation, but this court reversed itself in 18 months," he said.

He promised re-indictments would be sought before the present Duval grand jury. He also said re-hearing would be asked before the appellate court and disqualification of Judge Lloyd W. Davidson might be sought.

Grounds, he said, would be that Judge David on had "expressed himself" on the Duval cases before he became judge.

Davidson took office Jan. 1, replacing retired Judge Harry N. Graves. In the previous decision, Judge Graves and Woodley had voted together, with Judge William A. Morrison dissenting. In the new decision, Davidson joined Morrison to reverse the court's previous stand.

Bell Indictment Uncertain

Indictments seemed to be falling like ninepins. In Seguin the grand jury which indicted Congressman John J. Bell in connection with a veterans land deal was ruled "illegally constituted."

Another unrelated case was involved when the court upheld an attorney's contention that the jury was not qualified because one member had not paid his poll tax.

It seemed certain that Bell's indictment and several others connected with the land scandal investigation also would be invalidated.

Bell, a former state senator who

Slaton Scores Twice Against Sudan Hornets

A fired-up Slaton team scored two touchdowns in the fourth quarter Friday night at Tiger Stadium to keep the Sudan Hornets from making a clean sweep in the game.

The Tiger touchdown came too late in the non-conference game and the final score stood at 51-12 in favor of Sudan.

Hanna led the scoring for Sudan with three touchdowns. Bates and Woods each made two and Gorr carried for one.

Jerry Ross carried the ball for both of Slaton's scores, though honors should go to Roland German and Wendall Akin for the series of runs of 28, 20, 49 and 8 yards which set up the touchdowns.

Once the Slaton team made up their minds to go, Sudan seemed to be able to do nothing to stop them. A crowd of about 200 shivering spectators watched the game.

Research Paces Oil's Progress

There are three reasons why America's petroleum industry has been able to supply the ever-increasing demand for energy called for by our mechanized way of life: 1, it has fearlessly invested its capital in the hazardous search for oil and gas; 2, it has steadily expanded its facilities; and 3, it has conducted endless research to find better, more efficient ways to make the oil products America needs.

Research! That's the key to the petroleum industry's progress. And the Humble Company assures itself a place of leadership in this field with two great research laboratories.

In the Humble Research Center in Houston scientists and engineers study all phases of finding, producing, and conserving oil and gas.

In the Research Laboratory at Humble's Baytown, Texas, Refinery, highly skilled technicians seek to develop new and better petroleum products, to improve those we already have, and to develop methods for making these products more efficiently.

Just as America's progress depends on oil, so oil's progress depends on research.

Wolverines Close Football Season

By Elroy Hall

The Evans High School Wolverines ended their football season Saturday, October 1st. Saturday's game with Big Spring was canceled when only nine players reported for the trip.

One of the major reasons for the mishap may have been the number of injuries suffered by the team during the season. Another reason was lack of interest shown by the people in our community. Very few of these people seem to realize the importance of a good athletic program.

The Wolverines will have a few weeks of rest and then will begin basketball practice. The basketball team is expected to prove more successful than the football squad, with three regulars having to fight for starting berths.

A group of about 25 boys is expected to report for practice, from which a traveling squad will be selected. Should any boy show enough improvement throughout the season, he may be moved up to replace one of the traveling group.

The official practice starting date has not been determined, but boys who are interested may watch the bulletin at C. C. Jackson's Store for information concerning the date.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Webb and children were Mrs. Webb's mother, Mrs. H. C. Burge, and Mr. Burge of Wichita Falls. They were here from Saturday until Tuesday.

Slaton Farmer Takes Initiative In Farm Fire Prevention Plans

Farm fires cost more than $157 million last year according to a report recently released by the United States Department of Agriculture. The figure is 13 percent higher than the 1953 tabulations.

In view of this costly farm danger, farmers as well as townspeople, are urged to exercise care and to include fire prevention as a major objective in an effective farm safety program.

A Slaton farmer, J. B. Kitten, has taken the initiative in being prepared against fires.

Kitten, who lives about a mile south of Slaton, is ready with fire fighting equipment which is on many area farms.

Using a standard irrigation pump with no alterations except for the addition of a fire hydrant, Kitten was able in tests made by the Slaton fire department to throw a stream of water a hundred feet in the air.

"I've been lucky and never had a fire, but I've seen too many farm homes and buildings lost because there was no water, or not enough water, and I decided to do something on my farm to change that situation if it ever occurs," Kitten explained.

The five-inch irrigation well is about 100 feet from Kitten's house and less distance to most other buildings on the farm. He installed an army surplus gate valve and a regular fire hydrant so that plenty of water is available for fighting a fire on the farm. He is getting hose so he could fight the fire until the arrival of the fire department.

Elbert Wilson, Slaton fire chief, explained that the lack of water is one of the biggest problems in fighting farm fires.

"Usually a fire truck that answers rural alarms has a tank that only holds 100 or 150 gallons of water and that can go pretty fast if you are fighting a large fire. When the supply in the tank is used up, if there is no other water close by, then you're usually out of luck," he continued.

"With such a set-up as Kitten has, he could fight the fire until a fire truck got there and then supplement the truck tank supply." "Sometimes the first five minutes in fighting a fire is more important than the next five hours, and in such a case, a pump rig like Kitten's would sure prove its value."

Kitten said he first thought of

J. B. KITTEN HAS TAKEN the initiative in fire prevention on his farm. Should the need ever arise, he will be ready for it with a plentiful water supply with which to fight the fire until the fire department can arrive.

building a reservoir so as to have available water, but abandoned the idea because he couldn't get the water on the fire fast enough.

Wilson stated that about 1500 feet of hose is carried on a truck and anything erected within that distance of the farm house would be advantageous in aiding firemen by offering them a supply of water.

Kitten said he guessed he spent about $75 in getting the pump rig installed. "It didn't cost much, but it sure could save me lots of money if I ever need it."

He keeps his irrigation pump engine in operating condition at all times and runs it periodically to insure its operation should it ever be needed.

Fire prevention is something all farmers as well as townspeople should take an active interest and and part in, Kitten and Chief Wilson agreed.

When She's Not Fishing Local Woman Is Telephone Operator

"I fish no matter what the weather is like" says Mrs. V. P. Williams, local telephone operator. "When it's too cold to fish off the porch of my floating house, I fish inside through a hole in the floor."

The floating house is located on Possum Kingdom Lake and has several unusual features including the fact that it is 16 feet square, the size of an ordinary room in the average home.

A porch, wide enough to accommodate chairs to fish from in comfort, surrounds the entire cabin. From this porch a ladder extends down into the water for warm weather swimming.

Inside, the house is furnished with all the comforts of home. Three beds, kerosene stove for cooking, and a cooler for keeping perishable foods.

Mrs. Williams also has a dry land cabin on a hill overlooking the lake and the floating house. Since the lake has risen, the floating cabin is 35 feet from the bank and a ferry system is used to travel between the two lodges.

Before the cabin on the hill was complete, Mrs. Williams spent two weeks by herself in the floating house and "it sure was lonesome". During her stay she recalls waking up to find a "coon eating the food she had left on the bank near her car. "I didn't even have screens on the windows then and that was before the water level had risen. I just knew that thing was going to get in the cabin with me. So I closed the door, locked it, and nearly smothered."

"One of the strangest things that ever happened to me occurred off day when I had baited my line and left it to go to something else. When I returned I had hooked the biggest catch of the year, a crane. I really had a time turning him loose—like to have never mustered enough courage to try to catch him... let alone get a hook out of his mouth," said Mrs. Williams.

"My most exciting experience happened when I was at the lake with several couples from around here," she explained. "A storm came up and the wind and hail were terrific. The men were staying in the floating house and we women were up in the cabin on the hill. We began to worry about them and then we suddenly realized that if the wind got much stronger it would probably blow the cabin we were in into the lake and it wouldn't float. So we quit worrying about the men and started trying to figure out how we were going to get to the floating house. Of course the lake was so rough we couldn't get out, so we just had to put.

"Some exciting things have happened to me down there. I enjoy it," smiled Mrs. Williams, especially the fishing."

The Weekly Meow
from Tiger Mothers Club

It is no mere chance that we describe the football player with self reliance, stamina and endurance as a player with "GUTS."

The center of human energy is in the solar plexus—the area of the intestines. Intestinal fortitude is the universal characteristic of the leader, the winner in all areas of sports. A player with "guts" is "able to take it", which simply means refusing to stay beaten. It is forcing oneself to do the difficult thing. It is refusal to "pass the buck," to make excuses. It is wanting to get the job done so badly that nothing else matters.

The player of intestinal fortitude brings to the game a mighty heart and a fighting spirit. He has his temper under control; he has tenacity, stick-to-it-iveness and persistence.

Calvin Coolidge said, "Nothing in the world can take the place of persistence. Talent will not, genius will not, education will not."

The football player with "guts" believes in luck but knows that Lady Luck favors the hardest worker. He knows that there is a second wind in sports—that most records are broken by an inch, a point, a stroke or a split second.

The player with intestinal fortitude will capitalize on his mistakes and seldom make the same mistake twice. He is not afraid to literally stick his neck out. He has no trace of resentment but works for the advantage of the team. He is his own severest critic, he does not alibi to himself or to anyone. The man with "guts" demands more of himself than others demand. It is his rule to deliver a little more than is expected of him.

One of the sights they particularly enjoyed, according to the Smiths, was watching the construction of the new 26 mile bridge across Lake Pontchartrain. They followed the coastline to Biloxi, Miss., and visited the boat building facilities at Pascagoula, Miss.

Florida Visited
While in Florida and Georgia they visited the Okefenokee Swamp Park, Jacksonville, St. Augustine (a city of the old and modern world), Orlando (where they visited friends) Lake Wales, where they saw the Bok Tower, called the Singing Tower, because of the beautiful sacred music played from it. This tower and sanctuary were gifts from President and Mrs. Calvin Coolidge.

They also visited in Palm Beach, Miami Beach and saw a "Parrot Show" by trained parrots while traveling through Parrot Jungle. They enjoyed the Orchid Jungle, where they saw orchids from all over the world. They took the Tomiami Trail through the Everglades and came up the Gulf Coast side of Florida.

Greek Sponge Fleet
Mrs. Smith said one of the most interesting spots they visited was at Tarpon Springs, home of the Greek sponge fleets. They had dinner at the world famous Louis Pappas Restaurant on the wharf and ate food they had never heard of.

On the return trip home they followed the coast of Panama City and Pensacola and through the tunnel across Mobile Bay and on to New Orleans where they spent two days. They also visited with the Rev. and Mrs. P. J. Burns, former Slatonites, who live in Silbee, Texas now, where he is pastor of the First Christian Church. After visiting with their friends in several different localities, they visited with Mr. Smith's parents at Ganado, Texas.

Slaton Women Give Their Favorite Tested Recipes

A PEACH COBBLER PIPING HOT FROM THE OVEN is a dish Mrs. G. W. Privett enjoys cooking as it is a favorite dessert of her husband and three children.

Mrs. G. W. Privett chose a very simple recipe for her recipe story. One that is a favorite of her family, and one her husband especially enjoys.

Peach Cobbler

Pie crust - 1 recipe
No. 3 can sliced peaches
3 tbs. flour
2 cups sugar
oleo or butter

Method: Line medium size baking dish with pie crust. Pour can of peaches (with juice) on top of crust, sprinkle with 1/2 cup sugar mixed with flour, sprinkle remaining sugar over peaches. Dot generously with oleo or butter. Place top crust over peaches and bake until golden brown in 350 degree oven.

Mrs. Privett, who was Mary Grace Reed before her marriage, moved to Slaton when she was two years old. She says as a child she always envied boys and girls who moved around and went to different schools, as she started to school and graduated from high school here in Slaton.

The first time she met her husband was at church and a standing joke in the Privett family is an account of a later encounter. It seems Mrs. Privett was working in the box office at the theatre when G. W. and three others came to the show. He gave her a five dollar bill (cost of tickets were then 25c) and she was so flustered she handed him the four tickets and said, "Thank you." He laughingly says she has been gyping him ever since.

They were married in 1938, while G. W. Operated a Magnolia Service Station. After he began working for Santa Fe, they lived in Sweetwater for two years and San Angelo for one year. Mary Grace likes to live here and is always busy with one project or another.

The Privetts have three children; George Jr., who is 13, Areta 10 years old and Tony, a live wire of three years. Mary Grace said most of her time was spent in chauffeuring her children from one

Gardening Hints For The Week

Continue to make over the flower borders, heeling in plants that must be taken up temporarily until there is room to reset them. If perennials are not to be transplanted it is best to allow their tops to die down naturally, but be sure to remove all this refuse this fall.

Complete the planting of MADONNA LILIES and NARCISSI immediately. Plant all varieties of garden TULIPS this month.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. VanNess spent from Friday until Sunday in Sweetwater visiting their daughter, Mrs. W. U. Baucum, and family. They also visited with Mrs. VanNess' brother, L. B. Hammack, and Mrs. Hammack in Anson. The VanNesses' daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Barnes, of Hale Center, accompanied them on their trip.

Mrs. C. E. Geer spent the week end in Wilson visiting her brother-in-law and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Baxley.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Martin and Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Jefcoat visited Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Regan in Tulla last Sunday.

Annie Marie Blair of Albuquerque, N. M. is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Blair. She will be here about two weeks.

CORNERED—That's the situation the girls will be in if they take to the hobble skirt, once again appearing on the fashion scene in London, England. Skirt's slimmest is accented by wide, flaring three-quarter-length coat which features fitted bodice and dropped hip pockets. Whole ensemble is in charcoal gray grosgrain.
