Theft of Explosives Here Could Prove Dangerous If Precautions Not Observed

Theft of some 300 pounds of dynamite from a Continental Oil Co. geophysical crews' storehouse last week could prove extremely dangerous, according to Bill Horton, crew chief.

Horton said that whoever took the explosives should take extreme care in handling and storing them. He said that the blasting caps are the most sensitive of the materials taken. They can be set off from static electricity.

In addition to the dynamite, some 55 electric blasting caps and three primers were taken. The primers, which have the explosive power of about one pound of dynamite, could prove fatal if exploded, Horton said.

He explained that the cost of the explosives, about $150, was not the most important thing. He urged that they be kept away from populated areas, and away from children.

the Davis & Humphreys Company for nine years, coming to Slaton from Lubbock. Just how many new employees will be needed has not been determined but it is thought some will have to be added.

The old building was closed Wednesday and Thursday so that the employees could get the new store completely stocked and ready for the opening.

ren. The caps and dynamite should be stored separately as a safety measure.

Dynamite can be thrown or dropped and not always explode, Horton said, but at times if it is dropped or thrown it might explode.

He cautioned that the quantity of explosives taken is extremely dangerous.

Persons knowing of the whereabouts of the explosives were urged to contact Slaton police officers, or Morton, at VA 8-4387.

Idalou Future Farmer Addresses Lions Club on 'Idea of Future Farmer Work'

W. R. Collier used "The Idea of FFA Work in Democracy" as the title of his talk before members of the Slaton Lions Club Tuesday.

Collier, along with his FFA adviser, Lee Christie, of Idalou, were guests of Truett Babb, program chairman for the day.

President of the student body of Idalou High School for two years, Collier is now a candidate for the presidency of the State Future Farmers of America organization.

The Future Farmer organization, Collier pointed out, was one of the first organizations of its type to be run directly by the vote of the members. It is a national organization, with chapters in each of the 48 states, Puerto Rico, and Hawaii.

Included in the aims of the F.F.A. are the development of agricultural leadership, the development of cooperation among agricultural people.

Farming today is quite different from farming 50 years ago, he pointed out. Then only a few hundred dollars were invested by the farmer. But today the investment is several thousand dollars, in tractors and other farm machinery, he continued.

Where there was no need for technical training a half-century ago, Collier explained that today's farmer should be able to maintain and keep his machinery in good condition.

In the Future Farmer organization, there are some 38,000 members in Texas. The organization begins with the local chapter in high schools. The next step includes district chapters. Slaton and Idalou, he pointed out, are in the Lubbock district, which includes some 13 schools in three counties.

The area organization in which we are a part of Area I, includes some 96 schools. There are 10 area chapters in the state.

The state convention will be held in Fort Worth this year, Collier said, on July 17, 18 and 19.

Within the national organization, there are four regions. The national convention is held each year in Kansas City.

Awards are given members of the F. F. A. on the basis of previous accomplishments. Degrees, in the order in which they are given, are Greenhand, Chapter, Lone Star Farmer, and American Farmer.

Marvin Rushing was a visitor at Tuesday's meeting, in addition to Collier and Christie.

HABIT OR PRESSURE?

If we're honest with ourselves, most of us will admit that now and then we get caught up in the tempo of the times. The nervous hurry-for-hurry's sake seems to get into our blood. There's so much pressure, so much tension.

If we happen to be driving a car when we're in one of these moods, the chances are we will set our speed by the inner rhythm of hurry. Emotions, reports the Texas Safety Association, are known to play an extremely important part in our driving actions.

The "rouged up" driver, then, can be very dangerous. Fortunately, this mental condition is usually easy to spot. Our driving habits will be characterized by quick starting and stopping, lane hopping, improper passing and other signs of discourteous behavior . . . especially speeding.

If we find ourselves caught up in one of these "frenzies of modern-day living" moods, the best thing to do is either let someone else drive, or relax and correct our own actions.

There is only one safe way to set speed. That is by driving at a speed that is safe for conditions prevailing at the time . . . conditions of the road, traffic, weather, the mechanical fitness of our car . . . and with consideration for the other drivers.

THE NEED FOR HOUSING

A persistent major problem in the American economy—and one that is bound to be of great and perhaps even growing importance as the population grows—is that of providing adequate housing. Construction of dwelling units, houses and apartments, has fallen off this year although the number of people who need to be housed is rising. There is a notable lag between home construction and population growth.

There are numerous reasons for this. Many observers believe that the terms and availability of financing comprise the dominant reason. That may well be, but there are other factors that should not be neglected.

For one thing, the cost of materials and labor for construction is so high that the price of new housing is beyond the reach of many families. Though a vigorous demand for housing continues to be unsatisfied, there is a dwindling effective demand—that is, desire backed up by the ability to pay. Even in many cases where actual ability to pay is not in question, there is a great deal of buyer resistance to the high cost of housing.

Although some increase in efficiency has reduced the impact of high construction costs, relatively little has been done along this line. There has not been any great surge to develop better, more efficient building methods and cheaper materials. Little has been done to adapt low-cost housing to the American scene. Many thousands of dwelling units are built slowly and without an alert eye to the means of holding down the cost.

All this is a challenge to the housing construction industry. Easier credit may be a major part of the answer to its problems, but the industry itself also could do much, if it would, to cut the cost of housing and thus increase effective demand.

FREEDOM OF INQUIRY

Thirty-four years ago, Dr. Alexander Meiklejohn was forced to resign as president of Amherst College in Massachusetts because of his advanced ideas on education. The other day Dr. Meiklejohn, now 85, returned to Amherst to speak at a commencement chapel service.

On this pleasant occasion, the noted educator's differences with certain faculty members and the board of trustees those decades ago were the subject of amused reminiscence. The wounds had been healed. All the same, his return now was a kind of symbolic triumph for the idea that higher education should be free and untrammelled.

Dr. Meiklejohn believed back before World War I, and believes now, that education should involve a great deal of what one writer called "speculative inquiry and a lively exchange of ideas." He believes that students should have the utmost freedom to pursue the truth. Recently he had this to say about his philosophy:

"No matter what a person believes in, we must hear it. That's the essence of freedom. The only way to fight communism is to let it speak itself out. That's true not simply of communism; it's the only way to fight anything."

That was a worthy philosophy in the early years of the 20th century, before two world wars had disrupted society. It is philosophy no less worthy in our day, when students must seek truth in the turmoil of a conflict of beliefs and ideas such as the world has rarely if ever seen before.

Proposed destruction of some of the older government buildings in Washington has prompted objections from some people who believe the structures should be preserved for their historic value. At the same time, history would be made by saving money for the taxpayers.

An authority on the subject reports that Russians are the world's greatest chess players. They certainly keep everyone guessing about their next moves.

STRENGTH FOR THE WEEK

CHICKENS COME HOME TO ROOST
When I was a boy growing up in the parsonage of the Methodist Church, my father was one of six boys. There was that wonderful relationship between brothers that is so often found in large families. When one brother had something that another brother needed, the other brother simply asked for it and received it. My father happened to have a healthy and husky boy in his early teens. My uncle needed some help on the farm during the summers, and I was the most desirable prospect. I spent summers plowing cotton and feed from daylight until dark. At the end of the summer my wages consisted of one Saturday's money received from selling the cream. Chicken houses were found only on the well-to-do farms. Our chickens had to use the trees down by the barn or just any place that was safe from those things that prowl upon chickens. Our chickens were "purebred" with all the varieties known to man and some, from the looks of them, known only to God. During the days some of the more venturesome chickens would stray as far as a mile from home in their search of grasshoppers and junebugs. But they always came home to roost.

DEPENDABLE

is the word for Humble Service

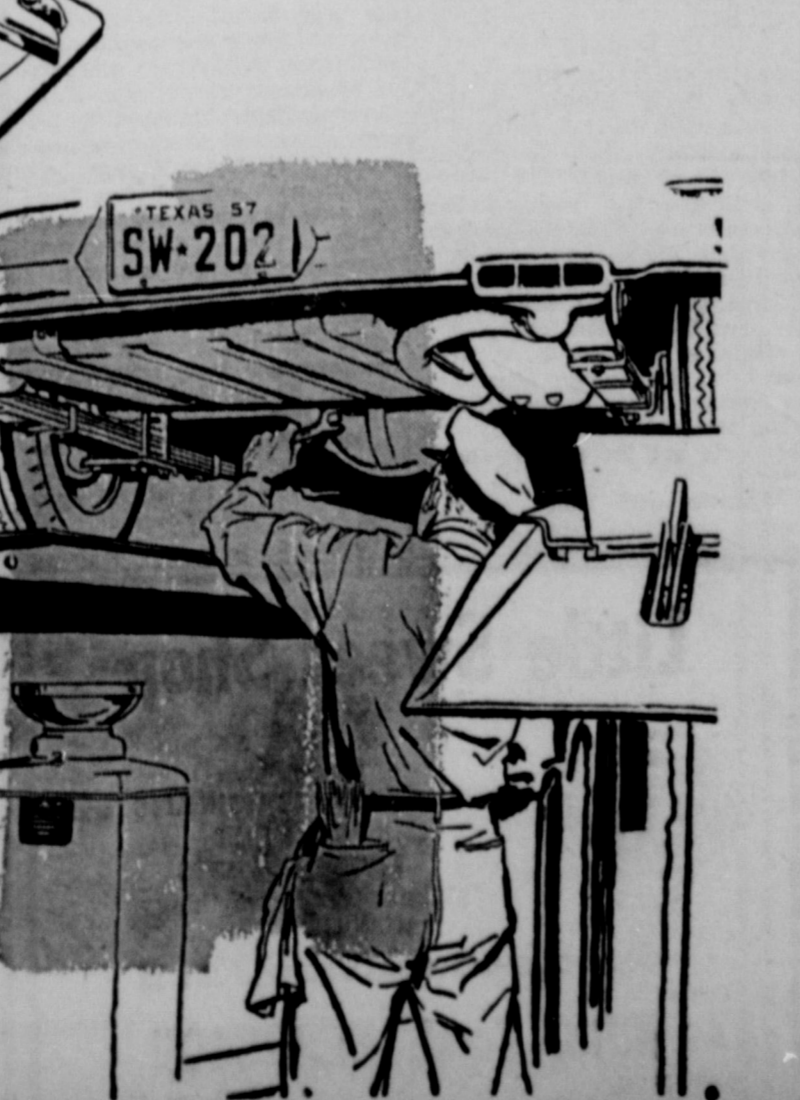

That's the word Texans use to describe Humble service.

You can depend on it that your neighbor in a Humble uniform knows his business. You can depend on him to give your car the care it needs to keep it running right and looking good. You can depend on him to keep his rest rooms clean and sanitary. You can depend on finding his salesmen prompt, well trained and courteous.

Stop for dependable service under your neighbor's Humble sign.

Ford wins the battle of the builds

• Sure! Many people buy Fords because of their long, low, whistle-collecting looks. Do you blame them? But beauty alone isn't enough to earn for a car the No. 1 spot in America's heart. And that's just what Ford has earned. The real secrets of Ford's success are the extra values that go into building a Ford. Let's look at a few of these features. Ford shares them only with a select number of America's most expensive cars. But you get them at low Ford prices.

1. Only Ford in its field offers a frame design that lets you ride within the frame side members for greater roominess, more smoothness and increased safety.
2. Only Ford in its field gives you a modern V-8 engine with rigid, deep-block design for smoother, quieter, longer-lived operation.
3. Only Ford in its field offers automatic variable-rate rear springs that automatically adjust to give a smoother ride no matter how rough the road conditions.
4. Only Ford in its field offers new swept-back ball-joint front suspension that "rolls with the punch" on rough, bumpy roads.
5. Only Ford in its field offers as many as five strengthening roof cross members for a more rigid roof . . . greater quiet and safety.
6. Only Ford offers such a savingful car. A Ford Six beat all other cars in the 1957 Mobilgas Economy Run in the miles-per-gallon department.
7. Only Ford in its field offers a frame with 3 tubular cross members. There are 5 cross members in all . . . enabling the frame to withstand stress from all directions.
8. Only Ford, among all makes, electronically balances every V-8 engine while it's operating under its own power.
9. Only Ford in its field offers so much soundproofing for a quieter ride under all road and weather conditions.
10. Only Ford in its field offers such a well sealed body for greater freedom from dust and weather wherever you travel.
11. Only Ford in its field offers rear door assist springs and two-position front door checks for easier entrance and exit.

Highlights and Sidelights From Your State Capitol

By Vern Sanford Texas Press Association
Austin, Texas.—"Summertime . . . and the livin' is easy" says the song. But under the State Capitol dome there's quite a bit to keep folks uneasy, even in this summer lull.

House Speaker Waggoner Carr stirred things up by saying he was afraid the state couldn't afford the possible half-million-dollar tab for a special session in the fall. It might mean new taxes, said Carr, since the last Legislature appropriated nearly every cent now in sight for the next two years.

Gov. Price Daniel, who is considering the special session, hastened to say that he had "no idea" of submitting a new tax request. He pointed to his recent effort to get foreign oil imports limited so Texas production could be increased. Much of Texas' tax revenue comes from oil production, so this move, if successful, could improve the state's financial outlook.

Another source of uneasiness is the Travis County grand jury—hard at work, despite the heat. Insiders predict six or seven indictments resulting from the ICT and bribery investigations begun by the Legislature.

If true, this means more people are in trouble than outsiders can as yet account for.

Others are critical of the State Water Board's inaction. Plagued by internal disagreements, the board has delayed a year in ruling on the Canyon Dam squabble. In this case the City of San Antonio and the Guadalupe-Blanco River Authority locked horns over whether San Antonio could get water from the proposed dam.

Governor Daniel will be able to make a new appointment to this board in August.

COX TRIAL DUE—Trial of Ex-Rep. James E. Cox of Conroe is set to open Monday (July 15), but there are good indications it'll be delayed.

Cox was indicted last spring on charges of consenting to accept a bribe. Dist. Atty. Les Procter says the state is "ready to go." But defense attorneys admit they'd rather wait until publicity dies out and the weather cools off. They spoke of probable postponement moves.

Reporters, recalling the sweltering weeks spent covering the trial of Former Land Commissioner Bascom Giles two summers ago, admit they're not eager to see this one start now.

INSURANCE STUDY ON—An overall survey of the Texas Insurance Commission's operations by a private outside agency is going forward with official approval from all sides.

First action of the new Insurance Board was to request a Texas Research League study of the department. Actually, the League already had begun the task after requests last spring by then-Comm. Chmn. John Osorio and by a House investigating committee.

Reorganized board took the reins after swear-in of new member David B. Irons and Joe P. Gibbs, who had served "temporarily" for the past few months. Former Dist. Judge Penn Jackson was installed earlier.

Governor Daniel expressed confidence the board would soon get rid of the few "rotten apples" still remaining in the insurance industry. None of the men sought the jobs, said the governor; they were "drafted."

50-50 PLAN LAUNCHER—A new era in Texas highway building opened when the state executed its first contracts to help counties with right of way costs.

Until now, law required local governments to buy the land and the State Highway Department to pay construction costs. A new law passed last spring allows the state to share 50-50 in land costs.

Highway Engineer D. C. Greer says that the highway department is working ahead of the effective date of the bill (Aug. 22), "in order to get the program under way."

Counties with which contracts were negotiated are Jefferson,

Slaton Swimmers Take Team Honors In Swimming Meet Held at Post

Slaton swimmers took team honors recently in a swimming meet held at Post. Miss Frances Craig, lifeguard and swimming instructor at the municipal pool in Post, directed the meet, assisted by Gene Young.

In the division for boys 16 and under, Rodney Fulcher won first in the back stroke, and Sammy Wilson, second. In breast stroke, Fulcher took first, with Randy Sanders taking second.

In free style swimming Fulcher placed first with Sanders second. In the free style relay, Slaton took first place, followed by Post in second place and Tahoka in third place.

Slaton's free style relay team, composed of Marilyn McSween, Glenda Payne, Nancy Smith and Falls, Cherokee, Wood and Hill.

SCHOOL STANDARDS UPPED—More money and more study are in prospect for Texas public school children.

State Board of Education voted to hike state aid to schools by $4 per pupil. It means $82 per pupil for roughly two million pupils in the 1957-58 year.

Board also gave final confirmation to a plan to raise accreditation requirements for high schools. Future graduates will have to have 16 units of study, one more than before. Health and physical education won't count, but credits must include four in English, two in math, two in laboratory science.

Beginning in 1959 accredited high schools must have four, instead of three, full time teachers.

UT SALARIES RAISED—Teachers in the University of Texas system can look forward to raises averaging $800 a year for the coming school year.

Due to bigger Legislative appropriations, new budget adopted by UT regents is 16 per cent higher than this year's. Faculty members will get $500 to $2,500 raises, depending on rank. For the average prof, it means a jump from $6,000 to $6,815 per year.

RAIN NEEDED AGAIN—Almost a month of dry sunny weather has many Texas farmers returning to an old refrain—"more rain."

U. S. Department of Agriculture reports that most of the state, except that touched by the hurricane, needs showers.

Range growth has slowed, said USDA, and cotton is running very late. But it predicted good feed crops, possibly one of the largest sorghum harvests on record.

SHORT SHORTS—Texas construction contract awards in June were up $34,000,000 over last year, reports the Texas contractor magazine. A billion dollar construction year is foreseen. . . . Truck freight rates will go up five per cent beginning July 10, announced the Railroad Commission. It will cost shippers an estimated $2,500,000 per year. . . . Texas' draft quota for August is down slightly, 547 compared to 661 in July. Col. Morris Schwartz, State Selective Service director, also announced new regulation giving draft exemption to members of Ready Reserve units. . . . C. C. Crutchefield of Austin has been named director of the League of Texas Municipalities. He succeeds E. E. McAdams who served as director for 22 years. . . . Governor Daniel has asked the federal government to approve flood control projects for Hudson, Bell, Gaudalupe, Comal and Hays Counties. Work would be financed jointly by the U. S. government, local water and soil conservation districts and the affected land owners. . . . R. L. Phinney, district director, Internal Revenue Service, has announced that farmers may obtain refunds of federal excise tax on gasoline used for farming purposes during the fiscal year ending June 30. Claims must be filed before Oct. 1 on Form 2240 which may be obtained at county agents' offices.

Toni Cross took first in the free style relay, placing over Post in second place.

Nita Ward took first place in the back stroke division for girls 13 and under. Betty McSween placed first in the breast stroke. Betty also took first in free style, with Elaine Pickens and Rhonda Pettigrew tying for second, and Areta Privett placing third.

In the free style relay, Slaton's team composed of Betty McSween, Rhonda Pettigrew, Elaine Pickens, and Areta Privett, placed first. Betty McSween took first place in the underwater breast stroke and Rhonda Pettigrew tied with Chris Cornish of Post for third place.

Jeannette George took second place in the back stroke contest for girls 16 and under. Eunice Wiley took first in breast stroke, and Sara Bickers placed third.

In free style, Charlotte Bland tied for first with Linda Lott of Post; Jeannette George placed second, and Eunice Wiley third in that contest.

In the underwater breast stroke, Bickers placed first and Wiley second.

Ricky Polk placed first in the back stroke contest for boys 13 and under. Slaton's relay team took first in the free style relay. Members of the team are Alan Reasoner, Bobby Harlan, Floyd Elterman, and Ricky Polk.

Larry Smith placed third in the underwater breast stroke, while Alan Reasoner placed second in that event.

Polk, Reasoner, Harlan, and Elterman composed the team which placed second in the Medley Relay.

IT'S THE LAW
in Texas
A public service station of the State Bar of Texas

JURY SERVICE IS CITIZEN'S DUTY

One of these days—perhaps soon—you may get a notice telling you to report for jury duty—and to "fail not." In serving, you share one of the most solemn duties known to our democracy. Some people try to get out of jury service. It may be inconvenient or unpleasant. Yet, when you are put on a jury you should think of this as a chance to help make good one of the promises of our Constitution—trial by jury. Say the following to yourself: "My forefathers wrested my right to serve as a juror from tyrants. Under our law no one's life, liberty, or property can be taken without due process of law. Trial by jury is our basic right. All who seek their day in court should have a fair hearing. They will get it from me. I will not ask to be excused from jury service except in an emergency. On my oath I will well and truly try each case before me, and a true verdict render under the law given me by the judge and the evidence introduced at the trial—without fear, favor, or hope of reward. I will listen closely, with open mind until all the facts are in and the judge has instructed the jury on the law. I will search for the truth regardless of wealth or poverty, friendship or enmity, of any party or witnesses. To someone my decision may mean the difference between freedom or imprisonment, poverty or wealth. Justice, once but a dream, is a reality when I, as a juror, do my full duty. No act of mine shall bring shame to our system of liberty under law." (This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Carr Lauds Texas Newspapers for Good Government Fight; Tells of Proposed Constitutional Amendment's Merits

"The only thing which seems to come close to matching their devotion to the newspaper business is their zeal for good government," Speaker Waggoner Carr of Lubbock told members of the Texas Press Association Saturday, concerning newspaper reporters. He was speaking before the 78th annual convention of that group which met in San Antonio last week end. He continued that he did not intend to leave the impression that all newspaper people were dedicated solely to public service, any more than he could believe that all public officials are dedicated exclusively to the public good.

Public Trust

Newspapers are in a position of public trust just as much as are public officials, Carr said.

"Thomas Jefferson's famous statement, 'Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty,' is as true of journalism as it is of government," he said. Newspaper people must constantly guard and defend their right to print the truth, just as all people must continuously fight for freedom.

Carr said that Texas' newspapers, in his opinion, have done a wonderful job in describing the hectic events which plagued our state government for the past two years.

Hectic Events

He described one candidate for a high state office who, not too long ago, campaigned vigorously throughout the state, protected by libel laws from having his rather sordid past exposed.

According to his information, Carr stated, the individual was well-known to policemen who had picked him up a number of times on morals charges without being able to gather quite enough evidence to convict him. Carr gave the illustration to point out how libel laws often tie the hands of newspapers in attempting to expose individuals who operate just inside the law.

He pointed out facts concerning the amendment to the state constitution which will be voted upon in November 1958, dealing with annual sessions for the Legislature and $7,500 annual salaries for members.

Rich Dividends

"The increased costs of this proposed change would be minute, in my opinion, compared with the benefits which it would bring to the people of Texas. It would be an investment in good government that would pay rich dividends."

Carr said that the amendment would eliminate the financial sacrifice that is now an inherent part of honest legislative service.

He questioned the right Texans have to expect their law makers to work at a personal financial loss in solving the problems of the state.

In conclusion, Carr pointed out that he did not expect everyone to agree with him or with any public officials in their opinions or concerning their actions. "I want you to know, however, that even if I disagree with what you have to say, I will always be willing to fight to the death for your right to say it."
