Ten Candidates 'Too Close for Comfort' in Subscription Campaign

SHIRLEY WILLIAMS, campaign manager of the candidates for the Slatonite's Goodwill Subscription Campaign remain "too close for comfort." Several of the pro-ratings have taken place during the past week. Final prize winners are very much in doubt at this time.

Contestant contact is very important in a campaign of this type, and it will be interesting to the public to know the advice given by the campaign manager to candidates in ironing out their problems and helping them in their efforts to make not only good candidates, but help them conduct a winning drive.

"Your efforts as an individual during the remaining weeks of the campaign will determine whether you win or lose the first prize. If you stage a big spurt and bring in a big list of subscriptions, the biggest and best you have turned in thus far, it is possible that success awaits you.

"Whether you win or lose depends entirely upon your efforts during the remaining days of the campaign. If you let your drive for success lag, you can depend on losing. Right at your elbow are candidates who are ready and anxious to go ahead of you at the very first sign of weakening on your part."

The changes that have taken place since last week are certainly proof that the first prize can go to any of the enrolled workers. Yes, anyone can win!

POPPY DAY SATURDAY — Getting ready to sell poppies for the American Legion Auxiliary on Slaton's Poppy Day Saturday, November 9, Mrs. Allie Grace Bentley pins a corsage of poppies on Mrs. S. W. Clark, Auxiliary president. Mrs. Bobby Edmondson, left, looks on. Sale of the poppies is made each year for the benefit of disabled veterans and their families. Auxiliary workers have been asked that every person living in Slaton wear a poppy on Saturday. They will be available from Auxiliary members, and in various local stores.

Onset of Cold Weather Brings Calls for Clothing for Needy

Calls for clothing for Slaton's needy children have been coming to the Welfare Center, sponsored by the Federated Church Women and the Ministerial Association of Slaton. Needs are being met as well as possible with the clothing available, but more good warm clothing and shoes for children are badly needed.

Anyone having warm clothing and good shoes that have been outgrown are asked to contribute them to the Center, so that some child can get the good from them.

Slaton citizens have been generous in their support of the Center, which was opened last fall, but with the winter months approaching, the supply of clothing on hand will not be sufficient to meet the needs, according to those women who are giving their time working at the Center.

Contributions of money are needed to be able to provide medicine and other emergencies that will arise with the winter months. The Ministerial Association contributed the free-will offering received at the Open House meetings in October, but that will not be sufficient to meet the needs for emergencies and for the Christmas Season.

Slaton's Welfare Center is for the needy of Slaton. It needs the support of every family for it to be able to care for the needs of those less fortunate ones, who, because of illness or lack of a job are not able to provide for their families.

The Center is open each Saturday from 9 a.m. until noon and from 1 until 4 p.m. Donations may be taken to the Center, located on the second floor of City Hall, or contributions may be mailed to Federated Church Women c/o Mrs. H. F. Martens, Treasurer, 935 W. Crossby street, Slaton.

Tigers in Final Game Tonight at Abernathy

Coach Leonard Ehler's Tigers travel to Abernathy tonight for their final game of the 1957 season. They will be looking for their fourth win in this year's district play.

Game time will be 8 p.m. Parents of the Tiger players were honored last week, football and pep squad sweateaters were crowned at half-time ceremonies. And to top it off, the Tigers downed the Tahoka Bulldogs 26-7.

Only in the final period did the Bulldogs gather enough steam to score on the Tigers.

Slaton's scoring began with just over five minutes remaining in the first period. Pat Adamek, in a six-yard run went into pay dirt. Alex Franco's run put the extra point on the score board.

In the second quarter a pass from Douglas Corley to Adamek for 32 yards put the Tigers into a 13-0 lead. Later that same period, Rodney Fulcher, on a 15-yard run, brought the score up to 19-0, where it stood at half-time.

A pass completion from Corley to Limmer set up the last score. The pass, good for about 19 yards enabled Corley to enter pay territory from the Bulldog one-yard line. Jimmy Sikes took the ball over for the last point, which left the score 26-0.

The Bulldogs scored when George Adams completed a pass to Jay Gurley, that netted some 58 yards for the visiting team. The extra point was scored by David Copeland.

Mahon 'Disturbed' Over Cotton Acreage Allotment Proposal

Representative George Mahon of the 19th District said this week that he was "greatly disturbed" over a proposal to change the method of determining cotton allotments in Texas, which is now pending before officials of the Department of Agriculture.

Mahon said in a statement from California, where he is currently on an emergency inspection tour of the nation's missile program in his capacity as Chairman of the Defense Appropriations Subcommittee, that he had been alerted to the proposal about two weeks ago.

What's Made In Slaton Makes Slaton (Third in a Series of Editorials)

A Slaton business man new in our city asked: "Why have the merchants declared war on the newspaper?" The answer given him was "We don't know." When questioned further as to why this question was asked he said that from the large support given out of town advertising it looked that way to him, and that he could not understand why.

The Rotary Club has a "Four Way Test" that is applicable. Let's take this as a guide:

"FIRST . . . Is it true?" Yes, it is true that too large a number of Slaton merchants are sending their advertising dollars out of town. It is also of record that this is not of recent origin but goes back over the years.

"SECOND . . . Is it fair to all concerned?" The people of Slaton do not think so. Neither is it fair to those other merchants that work so hard to keep Slaton's money and industry at home.

"THIRD . . . Will it build goodwill and better friendship?" So far it has not. The facts are that this has been a big factor in dividing the interests of Slaton.

"FOURTH . . . Will it be beneficial to all concerned?" If Slaton merchants do not adhere to a policy of loyalty to our city, then the people cannot be expected to do so. This in turn would disband Slaton as a city as far as spirit and interest in each other is concerned. Town loyalty and love of community is the cornerstone of the future of all business and pleasure of living in any city or even a city shopping center.

This appeal to business establishments is not for the purpose of just the dollars and cents involved, but is an appeal for a reconsideration of the attitude causing this to be so. It is hoped that this attitude will not spread among Slaton business men's customers too. This is why it is being brought to the attention of all before it is too late.

Christmas Gifts For Veterans Being Collected

Members of Luther Powers Post 438, American Auxiliary Unit, are presently engaged in preparing gifts for the Christmas Gift Shop at the Big Spring VA Hospital.

The Gift Shops, now a nationwide Christmas hospital project of the Auxiliary, were begun in the 1930's in the VA hospital at Kerrville. Since that time they have grown to one of the major projects undertaken by Legion Auxiliaries throughout America.

Gifts being solicited are placed in the shops, where they are selected by the hospitalized veterans to be sent their families for Christmas. The gifts are Christmas-wrapped and mailed by Auxiliary members working at the hospitals.

Mrs. Hobart Trimpka is chairman of the Christmas Gift Shop committee of the local group. She said that gifts for all ages—from young children to adults would be welcomed. Clothing or items to be used in the household will also be appreciated, she said.

Persons wishing to donate gifts may leave them at the C. R. Anthony Store in Slaton, or with Mrs. Trimpka at 840 S. 18th, Mrs. Alvin White, 855 W. Division, or Mrs. Flora Mae Williams at 235 S. 9th. Gifts will be picked up if donors will call VA 8-3708, VA 8-3489 or VA 8-3535.

In addition to making gifts available for veterans to send to their families the veterans themselves are also remembered with gifts at Christmas, Mrs. Trimpka said.

H. H. "Soapy" Gore, combination man with Southwestern Bell Telephone Company here, is attending a Switchman's School sponsored by the company in Ft. Worth. The course will last from six to eight weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Baggett, Jr. and children attended the funeral of Mr. Baggett's grandmother, Mrs. A. D. Brown, in Greenville, Texas, Saturday.

P-TA Receives $170 in Stay at Home Program

Some $170 has been received to date by the Slaton Parent-Teachers Association as a result of their "Stay at Home" program conducted at Halloween this year.

Cancellation of the Halloween Carnival because of flu caused the donation program to be put into effect.

Monies received through the program will be used to purchase overhead lights for the West Ward school auditorium.

The Rev. Claude Wingo will present the program Monday at 7:45 p.m. when the P-TA meets for their regular meeting at the will be "All-Veterans Day."

Membership prizes will be awarded winners. First prize is $7.50, second prize $5.00.

The children's recreation room will be open for children 4 years and older. Mrs. Gunter's room will be in charge.

Mrs. R. E. Ayers, P-TA president, expressed appreciation for the donations sent in this year.

AUTO CURTAIN RISES

The curtain is rising again on one of the world's astonishing economic performances, the movement of new automobiles by the millions from the factories to the American consumer. The play really is continuous, but each fall it is given fresh impetus by the appearance of models for the coming year.

As the new car season approaches, manufacturers and dealers exhibit signs of nervousness. They button-hole the man on the street, singly and collectively, in hopes of learning what kind of a year they are going to have. This year, if advance notices are to be credited, is going to be a good one.

Not spectacular—six million cars, perhaps a few more. Not spectacular. But six million! Anywhere else on earth a figure even within distant sight of six million new cars would be considered sensational, phenomenal, beyond belief. And it does have something of that quality about it.

Manufacturers and dealers are fairly confident about a high demand for their product, if only because of the rising population. It appears that credit will be available in good supply to finance the purchases. The jackpot question that remains is: Which brands of luxury on wheels are going to sell the best? It is a question that only the public can answer in the months to come.

THE POPULAR TASTE

It is an axiom that there is no accounting for tastes. Some people dote on calendar art; others prefer Michelangelo. There are those who swoon at a croon about the moon in June, while others scorn such pap and drink instead the stronger wine of Beethoven.

The axiom, then, is unassailable: There is indeed no accounting for tastes. It does not follow that every man's cultural taste is as good as any other man's, and that therefore taste cannot be improved. It does not follow that those who write or publish, who paint or display paintings, who compose or play music, who entertain in movies and television, must forever "give the public what it wants."

In the first place, finding out what the public wants is a tricky business. Often enough, something thought to be far above the common standard becomes a rousing success because it is first-rate. The public rises to that higher level; it wants something that the wiseacres had no idea it wanted.

The public's taste in music, literature, art and drama has often been raised in the past. It can be raised and improved again, if those responsible will quit thinking only in terms of the lowest common denominator.

NO PLACE FOR CRUELTY

No one who accepts the benefits of modern medicine can in good conscience object categorically to animal experimentation. For much of what we know about the prevention and treatment of disease is the result of experiments on animals.

The other side of the coin is that needless experiments, and inhumanity in the use of experimental animals, cannot be condoned. Here, as the British have realized for many years, is the crux of the matter.

This is a touchy question. It is not made any less so by the fact that there are extremists on both sides—those who advocate animal experimentation without limit, and those who insist that there should be none at all.

The former, in their zeal to defend whatever science chooses to do, sometimes forget considerations of humanity and respect for life. Those at the other end of the spectrum are inclined to ignore the fact that animal experimentation has played a major role in relieving mankind's burden of agony.

It would be ridiculous to attempt a fair analysis of these opposing views in this brief space. It can be suggested, however, that cruelty—and, what is much more common, a certain callousness to animal pain—have no respectable place in the laboratory. Kindness and a decent regard for the sufferings of dumb animals are needed even in the lofty world of science.

Signs of the times: A New Jersey woman pays a $15 traffic ticket and then asks for the trading stamps. If you save enough of them do you get a Cadillac?

Private swimming pools have become so numerous in the United States they are no longer a symbol of opulence. It is unnecessary to wallow in money in order to be in the swim.

Overweight is blamed by chiropodists as the main cause of foot trouble, but it does help chiropodists foot their bills.

MONSTROSITY

Isaiah 59:1-2. "Behold the Lord's hand is not shortened that it cannot save; neither is his ear heavy, that it cannot hear. But your iniquities have separated between you and your God, and your sins have hid his face from you that he will not hear."

God is all power, able to deliver from all things evil if men want to be delivered. But if men are satisfied with things as they are they will never seek to be delivered from them.

If mankind loves darkness, then they do not want light, for light will dispel darkness. If men love sinful things, they will not seek to be delivered from them.

Many want to serve God, but not bad enough to quit sinful practices. They cry to God for deliverance, yet hold on to the one thing that causes God to deny their petition. Yet they say, "I cannot get to God as I would like to do."

The text tells why: God's hand is not shortened, nor his ears heavy. But sin and iniquitous practices have put a barrier between God and them that he will not hear.

There is a cure for this awful condition that exists now. God, through the prophet Isaiah gave the certain cure.

Isaiah 1:16-20. "Wash you, make you clean; put away the evil of your doings from before my eyes; cease to do evil; learn to do well; seek judgement, relieved the oppressed, judge the fatherless, plead for the widow."

your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool.

"If ye be willing and obedient ye shall eat the good of the land; but if ye refuse and rebel, ye shall be devoured with the sword; for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it."

Sin in the hearts of men is bringing God's wrath to bear on us as individuals, and upon the nation we live in.

We act as though there was no such thing as God. We are trying to ignore the awful approach of war that we see coming to our own fair land, coming to make slaves of our children and the future generations.

We need to come down in sackcloth and ashes and seek the face of God, repent of our sins and get the ear of God that we might ask Him to spare us from His wrath.

Old fashioned repentance will help us to live godly, and will not only bring strength for the week but will bring strength for the weak as well.

Farm Trailers, Harvest Vehicles Covered by Texas Traffic Laws

Operators of farm trailers and other vehicles engaged in harvesting operations were cautioned by the Lubbock office of the Texas Department of Public Safety to have the vehicles properly equipped before operating them on public roads.

Maj. R. A. Crowder, commander of the Lubbock DPS region, pointed out that all trailers "must have at least two red reflectors and one red tail light in the rear, and only one trailer may be towed by a truck, car or tractor."

Crowder added that all trailers with a gross weight of 3,000 pounds or more must be equipped with clearance lights and reflectors at front, sides, and rear, according to state law.

Texas law also prohibits the towing of two trailers on any public road.

Drivers of motor vehicles who reside in Texas or work in Texas are required to be licensed as an operator, commercial operator, or chauffeur, Crowder explained. He pointed out that owners or operators of vehicles who hire other persons as drivers are responsible under the law for seeing that the driver has a valid Texas license.

Captain E. L. Posey, Highway Patrol Commander of Lubbock, warned that trailers operating at night without proper lights are extremely hazardous. He pointed out that trailers have been involved in serious accidents each year as a result of not being properly lighted.

Posey said he has issued instructions to Highway Patrolmen throughout his district to issue summons to persons pulling trailers not properly lighted, in an effort to reduce accidents.

Posey also cautioned that operators of vehicles towing trailers and operators of farm tractors should avoid impeding the normal flow of traffic, as this is a violation of Texas traffic law, and sometimes results in serious accidents.

Vehicles that must move at slow speeds on public roads should move to the shoulder of the road to allow other vehicles to pass.

"Common courtesy in driving will help reduce the accident

Land Purchase By State Board

The Veterans' Land Board has now purchased $114,143,000 worth of Texas farmland with the $100,000,000 available to it, Land Commissioner Earl Rudder said this week.

Payments from veterans participating in the program are used to buy more land.

Eventually, a $25,000,000 "profit" will be realized from the first $100,000,000 in the program, Commissioner Rudder said. This money will be put in a fund which the State Legislature controls.

The land commissioner also noted that the bond market continues to block the sale of some part of the second $100,000,000 worth of bonds in the program.

No more than three per cent interest may be paid to purchasers of these securities. Bonds on the market are now selling at an average interest of 3.43 per cent.

Mrs. W. H. Smith will be honored on her 87th birthday with a dinner in the home of her daughter, Mrs. G. F. Everline, in Amarillo Sunday. This Week in AUSTIN

by Senator Preston Smith

Many of the state's newspapermen are a little confused over a recent House Bill which makes secret meetings mandatory for a committee studying ways to combat ever-increasing crime in the state.

Newsman cannot understand, as one put it, why lawmakers in the midst of a legislative "revival to restore public confidence" should resort to secrecy.

"Secrecy in government always carries with it the connotation of smoke-filled rooms, double-dealing and corruption," the newsman said.

The measure in question, HB 5, authorizes a committee "which shall have the authority to make full and complete studies, investigation recommendations and reports to the governor and the legislature on ways and means to improve law enforcement and crime prevention, including recommendations for improvements in the penal code and code of criminal procedure." The bill specifically provides that the "committee shall not investigate any specific law violation alleged against any individual person." These two provisions definitely define the scope of the law enforcement study committee, confining it to the purpose for which it is being created: to determine why crime in Texas is on an increase, why the prison population has grown far in excess of the ratio to normal population growth, and seeking to offer suggestions for crime prevention.

This study, if House wishes (107 to 2) are followed, must be conducted in executive session, behind closed doors, with none to see or hear, until an official report can be made to a future legislature for scrutiny. The House rejected any provision that would allow such a study committee to require persons testifying before it to take an oath. Therefore, according to the argument of Rep. Harold G. Kennedy, a politician could go before the committee, fabricate any kind of story without fear of penalty of perjury, and conduct a smear campaign.

Thus a House Bill, favored overwhelmingly, is creating some problems in the field of public confidence. Just how the whole matter will turn out is anybody's guess.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Jenkins of Wichita, Kansas, and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Haney of Lubbock, spent the week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Teffiller, and attended the wedding of their brother, Bobby, and Hazel Lancaster.

Lubbock Hosts 'Greatest Show' Early Next Week in Coliseum

The Greatest Show on Earth will play under the "largest top" in this area when Ringling Bros., Barnum & Bailey Circus comes to Lubbock for five performances on November 11, 12, and 13 in Lubbock Municipal Coliseum. Shows on Monday and Tuesday are scheduled for 3:30 p.m. and 8 p.m., and on Wednesday at 4 p.m. only.

Combining the best of the new and old-time circus that has thrilled Americans for 87 years, the 1957 edition of the circus is two hours and 40 minutes of sensational acts and eye-popping spectacles — the greatest package of family entertainment ever to play the Lubbock Coliseum.

Stars of the show which thrilled thousands at Madison Square Garden earlier in the year are the Flying Alexanders and Flying Rockets, trapeze artists; the Justino Loyals and Riding Bostocks, world-famous horseback riders; Galla Shawa who balances on her head and one leg on a high and tiny trapeze.

Tonito, Spanish sensation who performs the spectacular forward somersault on the tight wire; Harold Alzana, high wire artist; Antoniette Bisbini, dare-devil of the trapeze; Marion Seifert, queen of the bareback riders; the Young family and allied troupe of Orientals, Liberty Horses; the Marilexes, sensational plate spinners; the Kayarts, acrobatic phenomenons; the Rixos, sovereigns of suspense and daring aloft; and Jow Nowrath's Royal Bengal Tigers.

New this year, but acclaimed throughout the world, are the Hugos with their performing elephant, llama and zebra act from Germany; Scipilini and his musical chimpanzees; the Dam brothers, who ride unicycles on a high wire; Kaichi Nambu, Japanese head-walker; Lottie Brunn, world champion girl juggler from Germany; and many others.

Prices for the Lubbock engagement are $3.00, $3, $2.40 and $1.80. Children under 12 will be admitted at half price in any section to the matinee performances only. Prices for the night shows are the same for adults and children.

Delmar McCollum and Mr. Dugan from Sherman spent the week end in the home of Mr. McCollum's twin sister, Mrs. Ira McCarver, and family.

Workers Battle in Subscription Drive

Vote tabulations completed Tuesday indicate that only a few votes separate candidates in The Slatonite "Goodwill" subscription campaign which is ending its first period, Friday, November 8.

All indications point to a record vote Friday, when candidates push to get in final first period reports before the first period ends.

Candidates Work Hard
Candidates are working early and late for the attractive prizes being offered to the top five candidates. Pearl Williams, campaign manager, says that the results being reported show that a lot of work is being done by all the candidates.

Since the first period of the campaign has not officially closed, it is impossible to predict what changes will take place in the standings of candidates when the final returns of the first period are known. It is an exceptionally close race, however, and some rather startling changes are possible.

Points to be Lowered
With the close of the first period Friday, will come a drop in the vote schedule. It can easily be seen why the candidates were working hard to get as many subscriptions sold as possible before the close of this period.

At the beginning of this campaign it was desired that The Slatonite readers should saturate the entire Slaton territory and the way the subscriptions are pouring in, it looks like that desire is being satisfied.

Already hundreds of new subscriptions have been added to the rapidly growing list, and by the time the current drive has been completed the circulation will be something to boast about.

Subscribers Can Help
Most subscribers to the Slatonite are responding splendidly to the efforts of the workers. Readers can make the going much easier for their favorite candidate, however, by subscribing or extending their subscriptions the first time a candidate calls. The hard work of your favorite candidate will avail him nothing without your support. Convert your promises into votes before the first period closes Friday evening.

The second period begins Saturday, November 9. Up to and including November 18, the sum of 400,000 votes will be given candidates for each club of $30.00. Candidates will strive harder than ever to hold and better their positions during this second phase of the campaign.

Five cash prizes will be awarded Tuesday December 3, to the top five contenders. First prize will be $800; second $400; third $200; fourth $100; fifth, $50.

Inspection Brake Termed 'Mockery' of Law

Standards for test on Texas motor vehicles make a mockery of the automobile inspection Highway Safety Council in a letter to the Public Safety Commission.

Director G. C. Morris of the Highway Safety Council, protested the commission's recent order that inspection stations "pull wheels" to inspect drum and fluid hydraulic systems.

He pointed out that a recognized fact that check brakes by road Morris told Dyche, result of the action taken by the commission, the inspection of brakes becomes a farce.

He said that the commission's order is inefficiently to pass inspection there is little, if any, "braking" system.

a condition makes mockery of the purpose of the law."

Morris expressed the desire that the Highway Safety Council be given an opportunity to present "the side of safety" to the commission on this decision.

Regular opening ceremony was conducted by Lubbock County FHA presidents led by presiding officer, La Rue Elliott of Tom S. Lubbock High School. The welcome was presented by Marvin Williams, Superintendent of Roosevelt schools.

GEE, BUT I LIKE ATTENTION—Any young man getting his first pair of hard-soled shoes likes to get some extra attention, and that's just what happened when young Thomas Noel Trimpa, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Trimpa, was fitted for his first hard-soled shoes last week. Several other clerks at Anthony's were camera-shy, and just out of range, but they were all watching as Tommy took those little extra things that were his that day. Left to right are Mrs. J. L. Scott, Tommy LeMaster, Mrs. Trimpa, Tommy, and Mr. Trimpa.

tion of paid lobbyists and reports on how much they spend to influence legislation (over $50 in the Senate bill; over $25 in the House bill).

Neither would require details on how the money was spent.

A proposed substitute measure in the House would make the lawmakers responsible for reporting money spent on them by lobbyists.

SECRET STUDY PROPOSED—Supporters of the crime study commission bill were dismayed at the turn it took in the House.

Before passage, the House put in a provision that the commission's sessions should be behind closed doors. It also gave it no power to subpoena witnesses.

It was the secret session part which disturbed the governor. Main purpose of the commission, he said, was to give the public more information on law enforcement and crime prevention.

TANGLED TRAIL—Senate investigating committee continued efforts to chop through the tangled financial history of three Dallas insurance firms.

Apparent purpose is to discover whether these companies were playing fast and loose with the policy and stockholders' money without restraint from the state regulatory agency.

Chairman Sen. Charles Herring said at the beginning of the inquiry that he felt the Legislature was catching the brunt of public indignation that sometimes stemmed from negligence by state agencies.

Pierce P. Brooks and Lester Hall of National Bankers Life were questioned about the complicated exchanges and re-exchanges of money and stock between that company and now-bankrupt ICT Corp.

Outcome was a $2,000,000 loss to ICT stockholders. Hall said hindsight made some of the deals look bad now, but they seemed perfectly all right at the time they were made.

Former employees of Perferred Life testified they had been instructed to conceal records from Insurance Department examiners. Company books didn't balance, they said, and there was a backlog of unpaid claims.

TAX STUDY LAUNCHED—For the first time in Texas history, work is under way to draw up the "big picture" on state taxes.

State Tax Commission, created by the last Legislature, has begun its work of finding out who pays how much to the state. Plan is to have the Texas Research League do the data-gathering with help from eminent experts in the field.

Findings will be presented to the next regular session which is expected to be faced with a deficit and the necessity of putting new taxes on someone.

But commission members emphasized they would present no recommendations for new taxes, only facts on current ones.

EARLY END—An early freeze caused a sharp halt in crop growth for about half the state. It damaged some sorghum fields, reports USDA, and hit all areas which still had late cotton crops to be harvested. Other areas reported ruined maize and damaged grazing.

Freeze was not unexpected in the Panhandle, said USDA, but came unusually early for many south central counties.

LOBBY PROPOSALS—After all the furor, both House and Senate lobby control bills looked pretty mild.

Both would require registration of paid lobbyists and reports on how much they spend to influence legislation (over $50 in the Senate bill; over $25 in the House bill).

County grand jury has set to work with a charge to discover any possible misconduct by state officials. Gov. Price Daniel urged the investigation. "Wild and unwarranted charges do great harm," he said, "and the makers should be given opportunity to put up or shut up."

Judge Mace Thurman echoed this view at the swearing-in session. Any citizen with information on malfeasance in office has not only the right, but an obligation to go to the grand jury, he said. Object: to indict the guilty and clear the innocent of charges from "insinuation or rumor."

PRISON EDUCATOR HONORED—Some 100 Texas notables attended an Austin luncheon honoring Dr. George Beto, credited with giving Texas the nation's first school behind bars.

Dr. Beto, a member of the Board of Corrections, is given chief credit for establishing a program whereby men in state prison can complete a high school education. Some 188 have received diplomas.

Former Gov. Allan Shivers, who appointed Beto to the board, served as master-of-ceremonies for the luncheon. Governor Daniel also joined in the tribute. Beto is president of Concordia Lutheran College in Austin.

SHORT SNORTS—State Health Department sounded a sober note of caution to fall hunters. Gun accidents killed 169 Texans last year. Department suggests hunters study firearm safety avoid getting overtired . . . After study, directors of the State Bar of Texas said they didn't agree with the American Bar Association canon prohibiting photographic coverage in courtrooms. Control should be with the individual trial judge, they said.

Mac Stewart, University of Texas and Princeton University graduate, has been appointed to Atty. Gen. Will Wilson's staff.

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS FROM YOUR STATE CAPITOL

AUSTIN, Tex.—Gov. Price Daniel's special session legislative program apparently is on the way to being passed—with additions and changes here and there.

Both Senate and House passed water bills—differing quite a bit from each other, and even more from the measure the governor requested.

Governor Daniel asked for a statewide water planning division with an appropriation of $1,024,000. He also asked for state authority to contract with the federal government for water storage in federal reservoirs.

Cut out of the House Bill was the water storage provision. Appropriation also was reduced to about $951,000.

Senate cut the appropriation of $600,240 and gave the proposed new division authority to do research, but not to formulate an overall plan. It authorized conservation storage agreements, but only if they are first approved by the Legislature.

Biggest wrangle came when some House members tried to insert an amendment that would allow landowners to use water from small farm lakes for irrigation. Present law limits these lakes to domestic and livestock uses except with a special permit.

Result was a city vs. farm battle of the sort that has delayed overall water programming efforts for years. Amendment was added in the House.

Entry Deadline Monday for South Plains Maid of Cotton Contest

Deadline for entries in the 1957-58 South Plains Maid of Cotton Contest is noon, Nov. 11, 1957, George Brassell, Jr., chairman of the contest, reminded all potential entries this week.

Entry blanks are available at all Chamber of Commerce throughout the 23 High Plains counties or from the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, The Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., or at various schools and other organizations.

In order to better promote this year's Maid of Cotton Contest, Brassell explained that most of the towns throughout this area will have a bale of cotton displayed somewhere in the downtown area with appropriate signs boosting the South Plains Maid of Cotton Contest.

While only one official entry had been received at the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce office last week end, several entries are being readied. Conrad L. Lohoefer, contestant chairman announced.

Applications, together with photograph, must be submitted to the South Plains Maid of Cotton Committee, P. O. Box 561, Lubbock, Texas, not later than 12 noon, Monday, Nov. 11, 1957. Entries may also be turned in at the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce office, 902 Texas avenue.

This year the South Plains Maid of Cotton Contest will cover two days, Nov. 18-19. A Maid of Cotton ball will be held the evening of Nov. 18 and the actual contest on the evening of Nov. 19. The South Plains contestants will take part in a program which will include coffee, luncheons, the cotton ball, where music will be furnished by Henry King and his Waldorf Astoria Orchestra, and the contest in the Lubbock Municipal Auditorium.

The winner of the South Plains Maid of Cotton contest becomes an automatic finalist in the National Maid of Cotton Contest in Memphis on Jan. 2-3, 1958. She will be presented with a $1,000 cotton wardrobe and receive an all-expense paid trip to Memphis for herself and the chaperon of her choice.

Applicants must be between the ages of 19-25, at least 5 feet 6 inches tall, never have been married, not wear glasses, and have been born in a cotton producing state. In addition the South Plains Maid of Cotton must have a home residence in one of the following High Plains counties: Bailey, Borden, Briscoe, Castro, Cochran, Crosby, Dawson, Deaf Smith, Dickens, Floyd, Gaines, Garza, Hale, Hockley, Howard, Lamb, Lubbock, Lynn, Motley, Parmer, Swisher, Terry or Yoakum.

Homecoming Game at Tech Saturday Pits Raiders Against Hurricanes

For its Homecoming game, Texas Tech meets the University of Tulsa at 2 p.m. Saturday in Jones Stadium.

A battle all the way is expected from these two teams, generally conceded to be better than their records indicate. Each has won only one game. Tulsa beat Air Force Academy 12-6 the same night, two weeks ago.

Tulsa, with nine starters among the 17 lettermen returning from last year's 7-2-1 team, was expecting its best team since, at least, the Gator Bowl eleven of 1952. An unusually severe epidemic of flu, plus injuries to key players, kept the Golden Hurricane from hitting it stride until late.

With an open date last week, Tulsa should be in its best shape of the year, according to Coach Tom Hamm, ex-Tulsa player, who scouted the Hurricanes this season.

Tech wasn't supposed to have any strength this year, with two of its nine returning lettermen sidelined with injuries most of the season, but the Red Raiders, mainly through sheer fight, have chalked up some near-misses. Tech's record is 1-6; Tulsa's, 1-5.

Last week Tech bowed to Oklahoma State, nation's second best defensive team, 13-0. Gene (Freight Train) Bentley of Panhandle led the Raider attack with 65 yards on 10 carries.

Tulsa, a 10-7 winner in last year's game, has a 9-6 edge in the rivalry.

Mrs. Pete Patterson of Fort Worth is visiting with her sister, Mrs. Henry Patton, and Mr. Patton, this week.

HEADING PONTIAC'S four series of superbly styled cars for 1958 are the five-passenger Bonneville sport coupe, above, and the Bonneville convertible. These two family size "dream cars" mark what the division calls "the boldest advance in 50 years." The big, new "Tempest 395" V-8 power plant in these family sports-type cars gives the acceleration and road performance ed by the enthusiast. The 1958 Pontiacs are on display at Kendrick Pontiac here.

'Genies' from Atomic Lamp Proving Boon to Industry in Annual Savings

U. S. industry already is saving in excess of $100 million annually by calling forth atomic genies from its nuclear lamp, Dr. John R. Bradford of Texas Tech reports.

The genies are tracer atoms that wind their way through a cooking doughnut or plunge through the whirling blades of a huge steam turbine, reporting what is happening with super human accuracy.

"Perhaps as we work and wait for atomic planes and public power from nuclear energy, we have overlooked the magnitude of what the atomic age has brought us through tagged particles," Bradford declares in a report on new uses of tracer atoms in industry.

Bradford says that Union Electric Co. of St. Louis has saved some $400 thousand in five or six years by using radio-tracers to determine under what conditions certain minerals were collecting on the blades of their giant steam turbines.

It had been necessary to dismantle and clean the blades annually at a cost of some $100,000, he says. However, after determining how the minerals were collected, turbine operating methods were altered so that the blades needed cleaning only every five to six years.

Tracers have gained economic stature in the textile industry, Bradford writes. Mills are using phosphorus-32 to determine color soiling in multicolor printing operations, he explained.

Such soiling occurs when one color is carried forward by the fabric from one printing roller to another and the true color soiled by the "pirate" color.

If this passes unnoticed, hundreds of yards of cloth may be ruined, Bradford continues. To prevent such waste, radioisotopes are being used in a particular dye to signal the start of significant color soiling. The isotopes are no longer radioactive when the cloth is used, he emphasized.

One aircraft company is now marking its tools with tracers so no implement will be left loose in the environs of a supersonic jet, Bradford reports.

A loose tool could create havoc in high speed flight, he reminded. So far, tool recovery has been 100 per cent, with inspector going over each craft with a Geiger counter, he adds. Bradford says the petroleum industry is employing radioactive isotopes hundreds of ways—in production, refining and petro-chemical operations.

Many complex operations are analyzed by putting tracers into process fluids, Bradford explains. Uniformity of production in intricate operations is being assured by the reporting isotopes.

In the field, armies of tracers have mapped reservoirs, reported on water flooding and ferreted out many other minute details of production operations as they take place—things oilmen have had to guess at or measure much more crudely in the past, according to Bradford.

In the auto industry, tracers are being employed to determine how and why wear takes place in engines, Bradford says.

About the doughnuts, Bradford reports that DCA Food Industries of New York City has used tracers in fat to determine just how doughnuts can be fried. General Food Co. also has used tracers to analyze cakes and pastries, Bradford adds.

The Slaton Slatonite Friday, November 8,

SPECIAL AWARD WINNER—Mrs. Robert Brake, right, was winner of a special $50 prize given in the Slatonite's Goodwill Campaign, now underway. The campaign will continue through December 2.

WISTFUL VISTA FOR UNIQUE BIRD—Tiny turkey poul on scale, hatched from an unfertilized egg (parthenogenesis), is weighed by Dr. Marlow W. Olsen, co-discoverer of the phenomenon in turkey eggs, at Department of Agriculture's research center, Beltsville, Md. The bird, first of known parthenogenetic origin to live for more than a few hours, has already made poultry history. Dr. Olsen and co-workers hope to grow the poul to maturity so that it can be used as a breeder, to test, against normal breeders, the incidence of the occurrence and whether it is hereditary. Researchers hope it will provide a key to unlock at least part of the mystery surrounding fertility and hatchability of turkey eggs, a serious problem to the turkey industry.

Westview Baptist Church

REV. BRYAN ROSS

Christ once said: "Upon this rock (meaning upon testimonies like the one that Peter had just given) I will build my church." Churches don't just happen; they are built. The building of a strong local church is a never-ending process.

There is an organization in our Southern Baptist Convention whose primary purpose is to enlist the men of the church in the Brotherhood. This organization is the men's Brotherhood.

The Brotherhood offers fellowship, inspiration and information. Sometimes the programs are taken from The Brotherhood Journal and sometimes outside guests are invited in to speak. Our next Brotherhood meeting will be Tuesday night, November 12th, 7:30 p.m. All men are invited.

Besides these monthly meetings, the Brotherhood sponsors an annual Laymen's Day. It also helps out in revivals and other church campaigns.

The Bible says: "Gather the people together; the men that is what we are doing in our Baptist Brotherhoods."

Distributive Education Notes

Your Co-ordinator has just had a visit from the area supervisor and the result of the conference was that we would like to plan a program for the employees of Slaton businessmen.

This program consists of four nights of lectures, two hours each night. Our thought about the matter, while it is still in the planning stage, is to have classes on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evenings.

We have available one of the very best men in the field of professional selling, and it is the hope of your coordinator that we may have the required number of students to warrant the completion of the program.

We plan to get the program set up within the next two months. Classes will begin either the first or second week in February. A minimum of 10 people must enroll in order to establish the course.

It occurs to me that many of our adult people would enjoy going back to school. In fact, many of you wish that you'd never have quit, but that's beside the point. Let's make plans to go to this school. There will be no study hall, no written or oral reports, no examinations, no staying in after school, no books to buy.

Now you know good and well this is a bargain, even if it were costing you $10 per evening. Many salesmen are paying this much and more to hear eight hours of lectures by a professional, and you get all this for the small amount of $2 per person. Yes, just $2 pays for the four evenings—just a plain sandwich each evening is joying a number of games, were served refreshments of punch, sandwiches and cake, Favors of whistles were given each one present.

Mrs. Heywood Basinger reports that her sister, Mrs. Arch Thurman, who was seriously injured in an automobile accident some months ago, is still improving but is not yet able to leave the hospital.

what it amounts to. If you have the idea you can't afford it, let me suggest that you think twice before deciding against it. You really can't afford to miss it. You will be hearing more about this program each week until we find out what you'd like to do about it. Let's go back to school again, just four evenings, all in one week.

You must be able to tell if you are going to sell. Arthur Brown, instructor, is capable from the standpoint of training experience to aid us in our selling abilities. Let's invite him and attend this school of instruction.
