

Slatonite Opens $2,000 Prize Subscription Campaign

Slatonite today announces in keeping with the progress of expansion a subscription Slaton and its place of influence in the Slaton trade in the country. A list of candidates who have enrolled as solicitors in the campaign thus far can be found elsewhere in this issue of the paper.

An estimated $2,000 in prizes and commissions are being offered to residents of the Slaton area, who within the next few weeks will gather subscriptions to The Slatonite.

Cash Awards

First award is a cash prize of $800.00, the winner to be announced December 3. Second prize will be $400.00 in cash; third prize, $200.00; fourth prize, $100.00; and fifth prize, $50.00.

In addition to the prizes, each contestant who does not win an award will receive 20 per cent commission on all sales of subscriptions that person has made.

Only persons residing in the Slaton trade territory may take part in the campaign and share in the awards. Goal is to have every home in the trade area as a Slatonite subscriber and booster.

In boosting its circulation, The Slatonite will be aiding Slaton in its growth as a trade center for persons in the South Plains area.

Good Will Boosters

The campaign is a business proposition. The Slatonite is out to have more readers, and is willing to reward generously those who will become Good Will Boosters.

Everyone in this territory will profit. All who take active part have everything to gain and nothing to lose. Each worker who does not win one of these big prizes will be paid 20 per cent commission on all the business he or she turns in.

You don't have to win a prize to be a winner, but you can win a prize if you will try—and the prizes are worth striving for.

We of the Slatonite staff invite people to take part in this campaign and to share in the awards and commissions. Non-subscribers are equally invited to join. Only requirement is a portion of your spare time; we all have some of that. Now is the time to turn it into cash. The opportunity is yours to win the $800.00 first prize.

Not a Gamble

The contest will close all too quickly, and on that day this newspaper will award the prizes as advertised in a two-page announcement in this issue. You can be one of the lucky persons. The campaign is not a gamble on your part. All persons taking part will be paid in proportion to what they do. Anyone who has the ambition to get out and do a little "Good Will Boosting" can earn more money through this campaign than is possible in any other way for a few weeks' work.

Any man or woman, except employees of The Slatonite and managers of the campaign, can enter this contest. There is no entrance fee or charge of any kind. You need not even be a subscriber to The Slatonite to enter your name as an enrolled worker.

An entry blank can be found in the two-page ad in this issue. Clip it, fill it out, and send it to the campaign office. But remember — you must enroll quickly.

Come into the campaign office located at 605 S. 8th street and talk the matter over with the campaign manager, Mrs. Pearl Williams.

Closes Dec. 2

The contest will close Monday, December 2, and prizes will be awarded Tuesday, December 3 according to the vote standing of the workers.

Enroll today—and make up your mind to go out and win one of these prizes. Someone will win, and it may as well be you.

The Slatonite has employed the Edwards Circulation Company, a nationally-known firm, to conduct the circulation campaign which is being announced today. This is an old concern—18 years in the business—and well recommended by publishers and press associations in many states.

Mrs. Pearl Williams is here to personally conduct the campaign.

The Slatonite is taking this step as a means of doing a bigger and better job than even before in covering its trade area.

"Why do newspapers put on subscription campaigns?"

Mrs. Williams answers the question this way:

"Some have asked this very question in the past, and there are doubtless many others who have been curious but never voiced the thought.

"It can be answered by asking a series of other questions, such as: Why do insurance companies offer prizes to the agents who write the most insurance in a period of time? Why do utilities offer special premiums to employees who sell the largest number of new users of their particular service? Why do large manufacturers and wholesale concerns put travelling men on the road, calling on retailers?"

Modern Salesmanship

"All such efforts are merely modern forms of salesmanship. These methods have built up increased volume and brought many persons into possession of something they need and could have enjoyed, but which they might never have possessed if it had not been sold to them through the personal contact of some person engaged in special sales campaigns.

"Newspaper subscriptions have to be sold just like a life insurance policy, electric refrigerator, gas ranges, or even a new brand of coffee.

"The person who is not a subscriber must be advised in a convincing manner the advantages of having the paper coming into the home. There are continual changes in every community—people moving in and out, etc.

Easily Neglected

"Newcomers may not become new subscribers unless the paper is sold to them. Then, there are others who permit their paper to lapse and be discontinued for failure to pay the renewal subscription price . . . not because the item is large, but because it is so small. They, therefore, neglect it unless a representative of the paper comes to their home.

"Every progressive and aggressive newspaper realizes that it must pay back into its circulation a great deal of the circulation income in order to retain and extend its list of subscribers and provide as nearly a perfect coverage in the immediate trade area as it can for the benefit of its advertisers.

"The subscription campaign provides an opportunity for a group of local people to utilize some of their spare time for a few weeks in subscription solicitation, which they find both pleasant and profitable.

"It serves as a means for the annual collection of renewals and provides an opportunity for the paper to extend its circulation to include new homes within its territory."

Business Mgr. At Colored Youth Center Resigns

Eddie Fisher has replaced Stinson Behlen as business director of the Colored Youth Center following Behlen's recent resignation. Behlen had held the office for the past year.

Behlen said the center has been finished, painting has been completed, both inside and out, and facilities available there have been greatly improved.

A snack bar has been provided, as well as various games and a juke box.

Dixie Hodge, president of the center, said that members of the center were deeply appreciative for the work accomplished by Behlen.

Last year the youth of Texas raised some $34,910. This made possible the distribution of more than 70 freight car loads of surplus food, purchased and shipment of a carload of peanuts to Korea, and a share of the costs of shipping more than $20,000 worth of cotton, rice beans, and other contributed commodities to hungry peoples.

The CROP Trick or Treat in Slaton will be sponsored by the Slaton Ministerial Alliance, under the direction of the Rev. Ted E. Gaze, chairman, assisted by the Rev. Claude Wingo.

Young people will meet briefly for instructions on Tuesday evening at 7 p.m. at First Baptist Church. After the collection they will return to the church for a celebration, and to count the results of their canvass.

Identification tags will be supplied to all who ask for contributions. Leaflets with information about CROP are given to each donor.

What's Made in Slaton Makes Slaton

(The First in a Series of Editorials)
In 1953 when the publishers of The Slatonite came to Slaton, the people were promised a continuation of their good newspaper with improvements being made gradually. This has been done with the wholehearted cooperation of the people and with the help of most merchants.

As one of these improvements, The Slatonite this week announces a big subscription campaign. Our confidence in the people of this area made us realize that a $2,000.00 outlay would be good for the newspaper and good for Slaton.

We are asking every person to boost this campaign and to boost your newspaper. This is the way to make your newspaper even better. The Slatonite last year was awarded third place in general excellence among newspapers in towns the size of Slaton in Texas. We want Slaton people to be proud of this high recognition with us.

"What's Made in Slaton Makes Slaton" is a quotation from Mrs. Raymond Smoot of the Slaton school faculty. This is indeed true and applies to many things in our town. Your newspaper is a Slaton institution and needs everyone's support. It is more important to keep a Slaton industry and build it up than it is to try and get another factory to come into town.

We are appealing to all Slaton Merchants to cooperate with us to make your newspaper a better newspaper for our community.

Wilson Schools Plan Open House For Ex-Students

J. P. Hewlett, superintendent of the Wilson Public Schools, announced this week that the Wilson Public Schools will hold Open House for all former teachers and students at the school on Friday, October 25.

Hewlett said that visitors to the school would have a special welcome on that date, and urged them to renew old friendships and also to see the football game Friday at 8 p.m.

Pop rally for the game will be at 3:40 p.m. Friday. Former students are requested to come and take part.

The Wilson Mustangs will be hosts to the Cooper Pirates. The good sportsmanship these two teams have always shown when they meet assures a good game, Hewlett said.

Dads of the players will be featured at this game by being given seats and the wearing of the number worn by their sons.

Tigers Meet Whirlwinds at Floydada Tonight

Following a week-end of inactivity, Coach Leonard Ehrler's Slaton High School Tigers go to Floydada tonight to come up against the Floydada Whirlwinds. Game time is 8 p.m.

Slaton will go down in the books as victor in last week's game, which Spur forfeited Friday afternoon. Influenza was cited as cause of the cancellation of the game.

Ehrler said this week that his boys should be in good shape for the game tonight, provided that sickness doesn't take too many of them out by game time. He said that he had had some sickness keeping players from practice each day this week.

Efforts were made last week to schedule an alternate game for the local players, but all tries were unsuccessful. Notice of cancellation was not received here until too late to secure an alternate opponent.

A POTENTIAL HAZARD: THE SOCIAL DRINKER

A recent survey of state traffic officials from 46 states and the District of Columbia shows that the social drinker is a bigger traffic hazard than the ordinary drunk.

One of the principal reasons given is that such drivers are protected by the obvious symptoms of the ordinary drunk, thus, the social drinker may go undetected until he makes a miscalculation.

The original report of the survey was released by the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies and was accompanied by a strong plea for (1) total abstinence behind the wheel, (2) uniform legislation and (3) stiffer enforcement.

In our state, the Texas Safety Association, has fought long and hard for the achievement of these some goals. That group, for example, was instrumental in drawing the attention of the 55th Legislature and the general public to the need of increased personnel in the Texas Department of Public Safety—a need that has been partially filled and should result in increased enforcement.

Also, the Association has spent countless hours and dollars in urging abstinence while driving, all with some degree of success. But, the fact that 39 per cent of the rural fatal accidents in Texas last year involved drinking drivers, attests to the need for greater efforts in this area.

Again, TSA worked diligently to pass a chemical testing bill during the 55th session of the Legislature, but lack of public support defeated the cause. It is difficult to understand why the bill did not meet with approval, because it was designed to protect the innocent as well as identify the guilty.

Governor Daniel has taken an unusually strong stand against returning the licenses of convicted drinking drivers—as has Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Department of Public Safety. But neither of these men, any group, or all the law enforcement agencies in the state can do much about protecting innocent motorists and pedestrians from drinking drivers so long as outmoded and unreliable methods of detection must be used.

In spite of the claims of the users and manufacturers of alcoholic beverages alcohol is not just a stimulant. Instead, it is closely related chemically to the important anesthetic gases—chloroform, ether and ethylene. Alcohol not only resembles these drugs chemically, but pharmacologically—that's a fifty cent word meaning that it effect the body in a similar manner.

This, then, is the reason professional safety workers and policing agents so strongly urge greater control over the drinking driver. He should be looked upon for what he is—a potential murderer.

Some advertising experts are said to favor making programs less entertaining so the commercials will appear more exciting. A few recent shows indicate the movement is already under way.

Jurist Irritated With Blame Placed On Parents for Juvenile Troubles

Judge Sarah T. Hughes

—By Judge Sarah T. Hughes

(Editor's Note: This is the first of a series of articles on of juvenile delinquency by one of Texas' foremost authorities on the subject, District Judge Sarah T. Hughes of Dallas. Judge Hughes has handled more than 25,000 juvenile and family relations cases, along with an even greater number of other civil cases in 22 years on the bench. "Family law is probably the most important phase of the law," said this internationally-known jurist, whose work has been honored in Europe and Asia as well as the United States. A discussion of a different aspect of the problem will appear in later issues of The Slatonite.)

Many helpful things can be done to counteract our mushrooming problem of juvenile delinquency—and they must be done by individuals and organizations as well as by parents. In fact, I have become somewhat irritated with parents getting so much of the blame for

Reporter Relates Experiences Of Choraleers At Texas State Fair

Once upon a time, there was a group of Choraleers directed by Mrs. M. G. Davis and sponsored by Mesdames Troy Pickens, Byron Johnson, and L. A. Reasoner, who were invited to perform at the Dallas fair on October 8.

After three weeks of practice, on October 7, they hopped on the big yellow school bus and the trip began. Carl Lewis, the bus driver, was soon put to work with Dorothy Heaton painting on the side of the bus in bright red letters, "Dallas or Bust!" No one had to "bust" because the point of destination was reached that afternoon at about 4:30.

Ready For Fair

Refreshed, the girls were ready to go to the fair, so after "Doc" Babb told Mr. Lewis how to get to the grounds, getting lost three times and stuck in an underpass, the state fair was finally reached.

The next morning the Choraleers showed their skill at singing in the Hall of State where chorale groups from all over the state sang. That night they combined and sang in the Cotton Bowl while 16 bands played. Fireworks completed this magnificent performance.

Fireworks Viewed

Everyone watched the fireworks so closely that they were unaware of what was going on about them. Everyone, that is, except Sue Reasoner and according to her there was a cute, cute boy in front of her wearing a white sport's coat who practically had her in a trance.

The next morning began with "Doc" beating on all the doors and yelling "suitcases" because he and Gary Ward, his sidekick, had to get an early start home. The Choraleers left about three hours later, teddy bears and all.

They announced their arrival into Slaton that evening about 7:30 with "Sound Off." Tired? You better believe it!

Hybrid Sorghum

Always get the MOST for your money. When investing in sorghum seed, remember that DeKalb Hybrid Sorghums are bred to make you MORE MONEY. STIFF STALKS for all-important standability. OPEN HEADS for faster drying. GREATER INSECT AND DISEASE TOLERANCE. HIGH YIELDS for greater returns. ORDER DEKALB.

Ray Kitten reports that his DeKalb F-62a yielded 5603 pounds per acre with one extra watering. Martin yielded 4530 per acre or a gain of 1073 pounds of grain for the DeKalb. This extra yield means Mr. Kitten received an extra dividend of $17.37 for each acre of DeKalb he grew this year over his Martin acreage.

A. E. Schwertner reports his DeKalb E-56 yielded 4830 pounds per acre against a yield of 3912 pounds per acre for a competitive hybrid sorghum. This was a check yield by the sampling method.

END OF A HUNTER'S DREAM—These Slaton hunters came back with the real thing—four fine deer, one of which had a horn spread of 38 inches. Elford Stricklin, right, Kenneth Jones, center, both of Slaton, and C. W. McCullough of New Home spent from Monday until Friday night of last week hunting near Pagosa Springs, Colorado. They brought home four of the five deer they killed. Estimated weight of the largest of the kill was 450 pounds. Weather during the hunt was described as unfavorable, as the men hunted in the rain most of their trip.

-Ad Libs

(Continued from Page One) who may be curious as to how a newspaper is put together. Too many people have the vague idea that is just falls together in spite of the idiotic behaviour of a half-dozen crack-pots!

As the old saying goes, I was feeling "mighty low" last Thursday when I discovered the goof in the Wheeler ad, and here comes a telephone call from Bill Ball to compliment us for having an extra good issue. He said that it looked like a lot of work had gone into the paper, and he was so right. We had worked hard. It was good of you to say so, Bill. How I wish you could see your way clear to supporting us with your regular advertising. Our friends could be your friends, and your friends could be our friends, and Slaton would be the better for it.

My music-loving husband, who operates the linotype, keeps the radio blaring in the backshop from eight to five. Many times I have heard the song, "Honeycomb," but it wasn't until a few days ago that I actually heard the words. Frankly, I almost laughed myself to death.

TECH TO MEET ARIZONA

An offense "25 years ahead of its time" confronts the winless Texas Tech Red Raiders in their game with the University of Arizona in Tucson Saturday night.

Ed Doherty, Wildcat coach, makes the claim of having the offense all teams go to eventually.

Doherty's offensive formation resembles one used a lot by the professionals — with widely spread ends, and backs in the slots so created. But the maneuvering from there is different, and the Wildcats make much of blind laterals and backward passes.

Arizona is also winless, but the Wildcats have tied Brigham Young 14-14. Tech's 15-12 defeat at the hands of Baylor was the Raiders' fifth loss of the season.

... but that's how much you can save a year using economical GAS for Clothes Drying!

If you've already "got it made" ... 25 bucks to the good is of little consequence. But if you still work for a living, using Gas for clothes drying can provide fodder that'll fatten the family piggy bank! (Just $2.64 is the average cost to a family of four!) Add to this the fact that gas dries clothes faster, safer and more dependably ... and it just makes good sense (and a lot of dollars) to go First Class with GAS and SAVE the difference!

COMPARE and you'll go GAS everytime!

Distributive Education Notes

You should see the display at High School our Distributive Education students have arranged. One of our students, Joe Diaz, who works at Fondy's is being featured this week.

Joe is presenting to the student body of our school the "Slaton Tiger Boots"—and they have the appearance of being just what the doctor ordered. We hope to get a picture of the display in next week's Slatonite, and you can see the first demonstration our students in D. E. have put on.

Jerry Jones, president of the D. E. Club, presented to the club pictures, prices, etc., of D. E. Club sweaters and jackets that are being considered. The club has shown all sorts of interest in purchasing representative merchandise.

Three students in D. E. passed their commercial test yesterday for licenses to drive. They included Roy Wilson, Jerry Jones and John Foster. There is a good 2-ton stake truck available for these students to drive, and they are going to be making a little extra money hauling. You will hear more about this matter later.

"What about selling?" is a question often asked when some salesman makes his appearance with evidence that he is a salesman. The answer is given in many ways, but the idea that I'm wanting to get over to you right here is that every living human being is a salesman, with certain wares, either admitted or otherwise.

This article is by no means an exhaustive story on salesmanship; it's just an idea. If you can use it, do so. If not, try passing it on to someone.

A certain man stood one day looking at a 100,000 horsepower generator that was silently producing countless kilowatts.

This observer noted a small square box on the wall, and asked what it was. The engineer told him that it was a booster box; that every motor of this size needs a booster.

The analogy is simply this: every human being is somewhat like this motor—they need a "booster" and it is the salesmen who are the boosters for everything we buy. Furthermore there are some things that we buy and some things that we sell that have a price tag you cannot see with the eye. What about the attitudes, personality, temperament, etc.

The term used by the engineers this apparatus seen on the wall is "exciter," properly spelled "excitor." The only difference is easily seen, just the spelling. The "E" are those of us who are a little careful, maybe sometimes a little too careful about being led around by "exciters," but you can't deny them. You can't refuse them, and they must not be branded as undersirables.

Yes, we well know that the general public and certain other groups have always been slow to accept change in any re-

Legion Post Commander Urges Local Members Participation in Movement

Regular worship, daily family prayer and the religious education of our children are the three objectives being emphasized in the "Back to God Movement" sponsored by the American Legion.

Striving to make the movement an integral part of the American Legion and the local Luther Powers Post as well, Post Commander Claude Wingo pointed out that these three points of emphasis can enable the Back to God Movement to be a really practical move in fulfilling our duty to God and Country.

Spiritual foundations of our freedom have been continuously emphasized in the American Legion pledge "For God and Country," Wingo said. He stressed that we as a nation need to reaffirm our faith in Almighty God to rekindle that spirit of humble reliance in Divine guidance which inspired the founding fathers of our country.

Our security over the years has been based, not in man alone, but on trust in God and in the individual responsibility of free men to God and fellow citizens.

The Back to God Movement, under one name or another, has been a part of American Legion activities for many years. Wingo emphasized that because the movement is basic Americanism, the movement is strictly non-denominational.

In urging members of the Legion to participate in the movement, Wingo said that it does no good to have high-sounding ideals projected on a national or department level unless they produced activity in the posts, where they reach the Legionnaire and the people of the community.

Without the cooperation of the individual Legionnaires, the movement is not an American Legion activity—it is merely an ideal, he concluded.

Rev. C. R. Love, pastor of the Assembly of God Church in Carlsbad, New Mexico, spent Monday night with his brother, the Rev. V. F. Love, and family.

Guests in the Bob Milliken home Monday night were Mrs. Milliken's brother, and William Jones and his family of Hart-spec. Not "change for change sake" but change for the better. Don't begin getting the idea that we are talking about principle, but rather about methods of conduct, presentation, demonstration, etc.

Salesmen make the difference, and even some salesmen become a problem instead of the solution of the problems. This is true in so many fields of endeavor.

Columbus would never have become the discoverer had he not sold Isabella on the idea of "hocking" her jewelry to finance the venture. It took a selling job here. Then the first group of people who came to America and returned to England had a hard time in selling the British on the idea of America . . . in fact they didn't at first, but they kept at it. Even though the revolution had to be, the job was worthwhile.

The leaders were called rebels, fanatics, outlaws, and what-have-you, but you have to know who is doing the calling before you make up your mind. This was just another case of where the old conservative crowd were refusing to be moved, they needed the assistance of the "exciter," the exhorters, the leader, the salesman who believed in himself, in what he was selling and the cause represented.

What are you selling? Maybe I'd better ask if you are really in the game?

Let me repeat: you are selling. What, how well, etc., is the question that you may be able to answer, and it may be that the observers know more about it than you.

regation laws. If so, the state presumably would have to go into debt to pay for the session. For legislators, most of whom will be facing campaign opponents in a few months, this is a hard choice.

EAST TEXAS PUSH—Efforts of a bloc of do-or-die East Texas legislators to protect Texas segregated schools overshadows other lawmaking.

Governor Daniel promised the group that no federal troops will occupy the campuses and halls of our schools as long as I am governor.

But the governor said he wasn't ready to say if or when he would submit segregation laws to the legislature.

This was too vague for Rep. Joe Pool of Dallas. He introduced a resolution demanding the governor announce immediately if he will allow introduction of segregation measures this session or call another session for that purpose. Nineteen other representatives co-signed with Pool.

Some half-dozen other measures designed to preserve local control of schools have been put forward.

LOBBY CONTROL—At least nine lobby registration proposals are before the legislature. No members.

Rival bills in the Senate are sponsored by Senators Crawford Martin of Hillsboro, Searcy Bracewell of Houston, Jimmy Phillips of Angleton and Henry B. Gonzalez of San Antonio. Senator Gonzalez's measure has been labeled the "administration bill." Senator Gonzalez's closely parallels the federal lobbying law.

At the first Senate committee hearing Senator Martin's proposal was attacked as allowing unlimited entertainment expenditures without a report so long as legislation was not mentioned at the time of the entertainment.

Sponsoring the House twin to Martin's bill are Representatives Zeke Zbrancok of Daisetta, Smith of San Marcos and others. Introducing the four other lobby bills in the House were (1) Reps. Charles E. Hughes and Tony Koriath, both of Sherman, (2) Reps. Marshall O. Bell of San Antonio, Cecil Storey of Longview and Glenn H. Kothmann of San Antonio, (3) Rep. Louis Dugas of Orange and (4) Rep. J. C. Day of Brookshire.

WHO GETS THE WATER?—This session's statewide water planning measure is already caught in the same swift currents that have capsized many previous water measures.

Mostly, it boils down to a fear by each individual lawmaker that the overall plan might benefit one area by taking water from his area.

Governor Daniel asked the lawmakers to set up machinery under the State Water Board to draw up a statewide master plan for water. Measures to this effect were introduced in the House by Rep. W. N. Woolsey of Corpus Christi and in the Senate by Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas.

Sponsors have repeatedly reassured that the bill would not take away "any vested right of any water user in Texas." But Rep. W. A. Stroman of San Antonio objected to giving the Water Board planners "law-making powers."

Rep. Leroy Saul of Kress withdrew as House sponsor of the bill because he said he believed its passage would "lead to deficit financing."

STATE PRACTICE ACT—A closer watch and possible limitation of practice before state agencies is proposed in a House bill.

Sponsoring a bill to regulate representation before state agencies are Representatives L. DeWitt Hale, B. G. Forsyth of Corpus Christi and J. C. Day of Brookshire.

Their bill would require each agency to register those who appear before it. This bill also would bar lawmakers from such practice entirely if the constitution amendment raising their salaries to $7,500 annually is passed.

This was one of the bills requested by the governor.

LAW ENFORCEMENT STUDY—Creation of a law enforcement commission, which failed in the regular session, is back in the legislative mills.

This time the proposal is for a commission to study means of crime prevention and improvement of the penal code—but not to investigate specific violations.

Sponsors are Rep. Dick Cory of Victoria and Sen. George Moffett of Chillicothe.

OIL IMPORTS HIT—Companies which import foreign crude oil could have their Texas production cut back under a proposed House bill.

Representatives John Lee of Kermit and Charles Ballman of Borger introduced the bill. It is "waiting in line" with others that cannot be considered until the governor opens up the session to additional topics.

It would give the Railroad Commission power to reduce the allowable production on wells owned by those who import oil. It is designed to help Texas producers who have been unable to find markets for their oil.

SHORT SNORTS—Asst. Atty. Gen. J. L. Smith resigned to return to law practice in San Augustine. Linwood Shivers of Carthage has joined the attorney general's staff. State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert will be honored Nov. 15-16 as man of the year at Howard Payne College homecoming. Clark Diebel has resigned as executive secretary of the Veterans Land Board to become statement analyst in the examination division of the State Board of Insurance.

Serve Planked Salmon Mandarin

During National Canned Salmon Week—February 15 to 22nd—it's well to take stock of one of America's best known processed foods. Homemakers who want to make their pennies count will do well to serve canned salmon often, for it compares with the economical cuts of meat from a thrift standpoint. A one pound can will make four or five servings. Remember when you buy canned salmon that there is not a scrap of waste... every last ounce is edible... even the bones which are valuable sources of calcium. Few foods compare to canned salmon nutrition-wise.

Planked Salmon Mandarin

1 1-pound can salmon	1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/4 cup soy sauce	1/2 teaspoon ginger
Liquid from canned salmon	3 tablespoons brown sugar
1/4 cup water	Steamed Rice
	Broiled Tomato Halves

Drain salmon; save juice. Slice salmon in half lengthwise. Mix together soy sauce, salmon liquid, water, lemon juice, ginger and brown sugar. Four over salmon halves and let stand for 2-2 1/2 hours. Spoon sauce occasionally over salmon. When ready to serve, drain sauce from salmon and strain. Place salmon halves, cut side down, in center of wooden serving plank. Heat under broiler or in hot oven for several minutes until hot. Remove from heat. Spoon fluffy rice around salmon. Garnish with broiled tomato halves and lemon slices. Serve with remaining sauce. Makes 4 servings.

GAME BIRDS RAISED ELECTRICALLY IMPROVES NATURE'S METHOD

Quail raised electrically live better and longer under the guiding hand of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Thomas of Grassland, Texas.

Whether for a succulent meal or the wary hunter prey, the Bobwhites produced at the Thomas farm get off to a flying start aided by two electric incubators and several dozen heat lamps.

The two incubators have a combined capacity of 4600 eggs. Accurate temperature and humidity control delivers an 87% hatch.

The chicks are de-beaked with an electric bill burner at one day old. Otherwise, says Mr. Thomas, "One of the little fellows will grab another by the toe and drag him across the pen like a bulldog."

Heat lamps mother the little birds for the first two weeks with less than a 1% death loss. Then they are moved into wire floored brooding cages, and heat lamps are used to ward off the night chill.

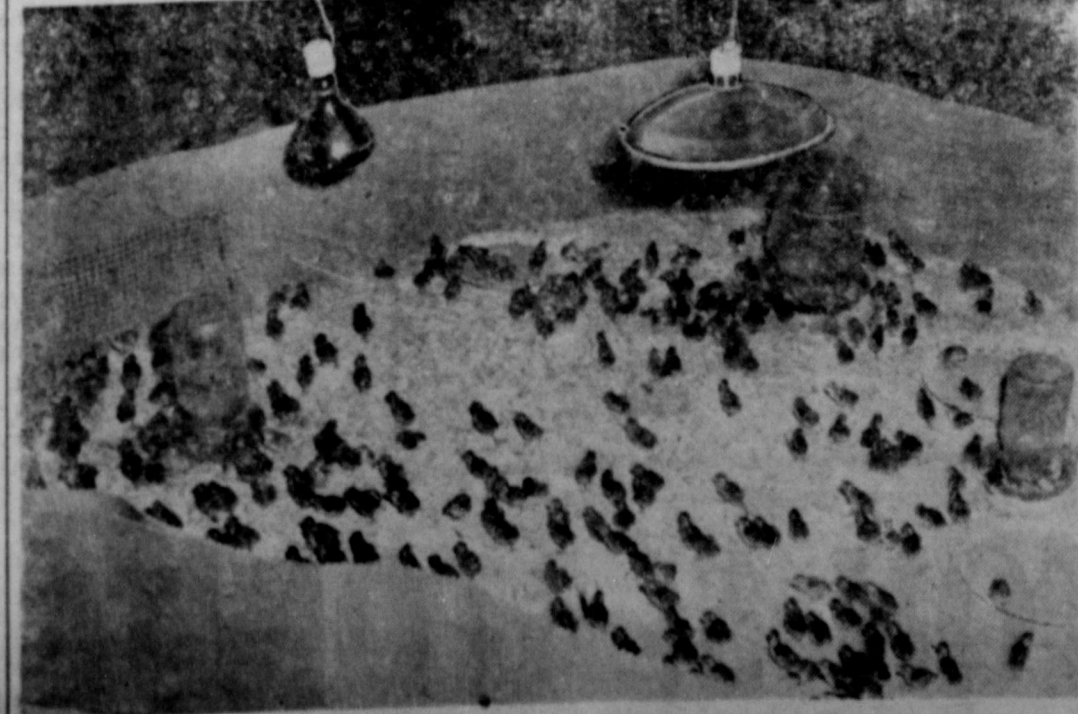

Their brood stock consists of 300 pair of Bobwhites plus 20 pair of Japanese or Coturnix quail. They are housed in long cages with partitions to isolate each pair. A line of electric lamps suspended above each cage are controlled by an electric timer to insure the birds a 14 hour working day.

A black plastic pipe in which holes have been cut on the top side furnish water to each pair of quail in the laying flock. (The cages are outdoors.) Winter freeze-up is overcome by a thermostatically controlled heating cable inserted in the pipe.

The Thomas' market hatching eggs, day-old chicks or started birds and there is a demand for all they can produce.

A bird under a heat lamp has about an 80% better chance of growing to maturity than has his wild brother in the brush. These quail are just a little larger than a man's thumb.

The Plan in Brief

The object of the big distribution is two-fold: Primarily to increase the already large subscription list of the Slaton and advance subscription payments from present to gain new subscribers, and at the same time afford our friends an excellent opportunity to profit in a big way through their spare time during the next few weeks. So it is a plan that works both ways to the ultimate good of all concerned.

In order to gain this end quickly and advantageously, one of the most valuable and attractive lists of prizes ever offered in a local newspaper in this section of the country has been made ready for distribution among those who participate most actively. Ambition and energy are the only requisites for success. The plan adopted is straightforward and simple and is fully explained in this announcement.

Let it be understood at the very outset that this is not a "beauty" nor "popularity" contest, but strictly a legitimate competition for enterprising men and women, and one in which no element of chance enters. One feature of this contest is the fact that there will be no losers in this race.

THE WEEKLY WITNESS by BRYAN ROSS

Westview Baptist Church
830 S. 15th St.

REV. BRYAN ROSS

In the Great Commission we read these words: Go ye therefore and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. As Baptists, we believe that the Lord's Supper and baptism are the two ordinances that the Lord gave to His church. We feel that the authority for administering baptism is vested in the church rather than in the minister who serves the church.

We believe that the immersion of a Christian into the baptismal waters pictures Christ's death, burial and resurrection, and also the sinner's death to sin and resurrection to new life. The water represents a grave. We believe that baptism is the Christian's first public act of obedience after he accepts Christ as his Saviour. We should be baptized, not to save us, but because we have been saved.

Sunday night we will have a baptismal service in our church. The service will begin at 7:30 p.m. You are invited to come and worship with us.

This Week in AUSTIN by

Senator Preston Smith

One of the main targets of the special session is a better-lobby control bill which would, among other things, better define ways a trade association or interest group could have its voice in state government.

Mainly, through new lobby control measures will prevent bribery situations which in the past have cost Texas plenty. Just exactly how much it has cost the state would be impossible to find out.

One measure introduced in the Senate has to do with "direct communication." This bill would allow a lobbyist to spend any amount of money on a lawmaker for entertainment without reporting it, as long as he didn't mention legislation during the entertainment.

"Direct communication" has been defined as "any personal appearance before a legislative committee, or any personal contact or communication with any member of the Legislature for the purpose of explaining, discussing, or arguing for or against pending or proposed legislation or any action thereon by the Legislature, the Governor, or the Lieutenant Governor."

Under this bill, by Sen Crawford Martin, only those persons who make total expenditures of more than $50 during any one calendar year through "direct communication" would be required to file an accounting of the money spent.

The effect of entertainment on legislation is a subject that can be debated in the Legislature from now on.

Even when trade associations, civic groups, private industry and other sponsors entertain groups of legislators through their Austin contacts, legislation is seldom if ever mentioned.

With discussions underway in the Senate, action is underway toward lobby control measures. Just what the final outcome of this work will be, we can only wait and see. At any rate, it is a subject well overdue for consideration.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Burrell had as house guests for the week end Capt. Ben H. Moore Jr. and Lt. Cmdr. D. K. Lee from El Centro, Calif. Capt. Moore is commander of the Naval Auxiliary Air Station in El Centro. They had flown to Lubbock Saturday for Capt. Moore to attend Dad's Day at Tech. His daughter, Mandy, and Jeanette, the daughter of the Burrells, spent the week end in the Burrell home also. They all attended the Baylor-Tech game Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Bourn and two children of Madill, Okla., were guests recently in the home of Mr. Bourn's brother, D. J. Bourn, and family.

D. J. Bourn returned home Sunday from Temple, Texas, where he had been a patient in the Santa Fe Hospital for the past week. Mr. Bourn went for a check-up and medical treatment.

James C. Barry from Longbeach, Miss., spent last Thursday night in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Barry. He was en route to Riverside, Calif., where he has been transferred. His family will join him at mid term.

S. A. Thompson of Amarillo is spending a month in the home of his son, Wade, Mrs. Thompson and David.
