Westview Baptist Host to Youth Program Activities Friday Night

The Baptist Youth Program, sponsored by Baptist churches in this area, will meet Friday at 8 p. m. at Westview Baptist Church, Slaton.

Tickets Issued In Connection With Accidents

Two accidents occurred within the city limits during the past week. About 11 p. m. Tuesday, June 25, a car driven by Howard L. Limmer collided with a truck parked near Deal's Machine Shop.

Then on Monday, July 1, a car driven by A. W. Arnold collided with one driven by Mrs. William Housour at the intersection of Garza and 2nd St. Arnold received a ticket for failure to grant right-of-way.

During the week, seven persons were jailed, two for liquor law violations and five for drunkenness. Ten traffic tickets were issued, for driving without an operator's license, running a stop sign, negligent collision, failure to grant right of way, and imprudent speeding.

A house at 1005 S. 4th street was broken into Sunday night. Some household goods were found in the alley near there.

Vandals were reported destroying property at 800 S. 19th where a house is being built.

The Little League Park concession stand was broken into sometime during the night of June 22. An undetermined amount of candy, peanuts, cold drinks and ice cream were missing.

Activities will include films, games, and refreshments. All young people ages 13 through 24 are invited to attend any and all of the Friday night youth meetings, according to Jerry Hitt, reporter.

Last week the meeting was held with First Baptist Church, Wilson. About 40 young people were present for ping pong, shuffle board, badminton, volley ball and a fellowship period.

The Baptist Youth Program is directed by Jerry Arrington, youth director of the Westview church. The program is guided by a youth council made up of pastors and young people from the sponsoring churches.

The program has been set up to give the young people of this area an opportunity for clean Christian fellowship, Hitt said.

Committee Work Topic at Lions

A discussion of the committee functions within the Lions Club was the program when the Slaton Lions Club held their regular luncheon meeting Tuesday.

Bill Daniels, program chairman, was in charge.

Committee chairmen outlined the duties of their respective committees and gave a summary of what they expected to do during the coming year.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Ward and daughter, Delores, of Fort Worth visited from Sunday until Wednesday in the B. H. Costen and W. E. Polk homes. They were en route to Alameda, Calif., to visit with a son. Mrs. Ward is Mrs. Costen's niece and a cousin of Mrs. Polk.

Austrian Agriculturist To Arrive This Month as Slaton Rotary Club Guest

Johann Reichart, Rotary Guest

Johann Reichart of Bregenz, Austria, will arrive the latter part of July for a 7-week visit with members of the Slaton Rotary Club.

Reichart will be the third student to be guest of the local Rotary Club since they began the program in 1955. Pierre Devillers from France visited here in 1955, and Iradj Master of Iran in 1956.

International Research Fund

His visit here is arranged through International Research Fund, Inc., of New York City. Selected European students are given a summer's stay in the United States as guests of American communities, or an organization within the community.

The student lives in six to eight homes during his visit, and is drawn into all activities of the town. He learns what America and Americans are like; that while it is true that we have money, cars, and refrigerators, there is an awareness of problems both material and spiritual on the part of many people.

Reichart attended Hochschule fuer Bodenkultur, an agriculture university in Vienna, Austria, finishing there in 1956 with a diploma in agriculture. His present field of study is in soil fertility, and irrigation.

From Large Family

He is the 11th of 12 children. His father is a master carpenter in Bregenz, a little town close to Lake Constance. Prior to attending school in Vienna, Reichart farmed for four years in order to pay for his schooling.

Johann participated in two international conferences of agriculture students, one in Bonn, Germany, and the other in Paris, France.

Soil Scientist

Following his graduation from school, he was employed in a soil science laboratory at the University in Vienna. He is presently connected with an organization of planning and consulting engineers which will be dealing with irrigation and cultivation of dry-land areas in Syria and the Mediterranean Orient.

In order to learn French, which is used widely in the Middle East, he presently is working as a probationer at a 500 acre farm in France.

While in Slaton Reichart will be guest in the homes of various Rotarians.

Hagerman Attends National Jamboree

L. B. Hagerman was one of 296 persons who left the South Plains Tuesday morning for the fourth National Jamboree of Boy Scouts of America which will be held at historic Valley Forge, Penn., from July 12-18. Mr. Hagerman has been a member of the executive board of South Plains Boy Scouts of America for the past 27 years. This will be his third National Jamboree.

Seven chartered buses were used to carry the scouts. Their itinerary will take them through the states of Kansas, Missouri, Indiana, Ohio, Michigan, across from Detroit, Michigan, into Windsor Canada, Hamilton, Ontario then back to Niagara Falls where they will attend church next Sunday. From Niagara they will go to New York City and then to Valley Forge. Before the Jamboree begins they will tour Baltimore and Washington D. C., where Geo. Mahon, Lubbock's representative in Congress, has planned a program and dinner for them.

Camp will be set up in the 10 more than 2000 acre park that has been loaned to the 65,000 inhabitants of America's newest, youngest and busiest city by the state of Pennsylvania. There will be 38 villages composed of about 1,400 campers each. 39 foreign countries will be represented.

It is felt that these boys will catch the spirit of patriotic service by living and sleeping where George Washington and his army camped, lived, suffered in that bitter winter of 1777-78, that by so doing kept alive the spark of liberty and secured the nation's freedom.

On their return they will have church services in the Great Smoky mountains.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sandusky of Hoehne, Colo. spent Friday night in the home of Mrs. Sandusky's sister, Mrs. Joe Teague and Mr. Teague.

Mrs. A. R. Keys returned home Monday from New Orleans where she had visited for the past week with her son, Pfc. Ira R. Keys, and his family. Keys is stationed at Camp LeRoy Johnson where he is assigned to electronics. Mrs. Keys said she came through the area that was destroyed by the hurricane and the devastation is beyond the imagination. They could feel the effects of the hurricane in New Orleans.

HARD BUT NECESSARY

When it comes to disarmament, there are two essential points to be made. The first is that disarmament would help to ease world tensions and thus reduce the chances of getting into a nuclear war which might well destroy civilization. The second point is that every progressive step in disarmament would by that much reduce the colossal economic burden of maintaining armed forces at their present high level.

Either of these considerations is enough to justify the most determined, ardent and prayerful effort to bring about really workable agreements with Russia to cut down on armed forces. Taken together, the two considerations give us an overwhelming mandate to work toward that desirable end.

No sensible man can any longer suppose that this is a simple task. The Soviet Union's record of breaking treaties and using disarmament negotiations as a cynical propaganda tool must be held clearly in mind. We are not dealing with honorable men; we cannot expect the Russian leaders to behave as honorable men do.

But we are dealing with frightened men. The bosses in the Kremlin know as well as anyone else the appalling devastation that would result from nuclear war. Whatever their motives, they know that they could in the end gain nothing from such a war. This heightens the possibility, makes it even a probability, that a workable disarmament formula could be devised.

It is easy to point out the failure-strewn history of disarmament talks. It is easy to shrug and be cynical about the chances of reaching any agreement with the Russians. It will be hard to discipline ourselves to the point of maintaining a single-minded determination to keep trying until such an agreement is reached. But it is this hard way that we must choose and follow.

HELPING THE WEAK

President Eisenhower has drawn an interesting parallel between aid to handicapped nations and aid to physically handicapped persons. The parallel is one worth thinking about when citizens consider the nation's mutual security assistance program now pending in Congress.

"We find countries," the President said, "that are physically handicapped. The United States applies some of its energy, some of its techniques, and provides some of its teachers, to helping these countries become earning, contributing members of the society of free nations. And as they grow stronger, we grow stronger. Just as these physically handicapped grow stronger and contribute more, America grows stronger from within."

As the President made clear, the same philosophy guides the mutual assistance program and the efforts to aid our own physically handicapped persons. In both instances, it is a case of the strong helping the weak. And the strong, as well as the weak, benefit in some measure by programs of this kind.

DEATH TRAPS

There is hardly a community in the United States that is free of potential death traps for children. Every pond or drainage ditch, every excavation and gravel pit, every old refrigerator left unsecured on a back porch—these and many other hazards tempt children in a way that can lead to tragedy.

In a Minnesota town, a two-year-old girl toddled into a drainage pond and was drowned. A snow fence erected to guard the pond had been trampled down at one point, and the little tot had wandered through the break. When her mother found her floating in the water, it was already too late. This was but one instance of the kind of danger we have in mind. Others occur almost daily somewhere in the country.

As school ends and summer deepens, the number of such tragedies will inevitably rise. This is, therefore, a good time for citizens of each community to take stock of their surroundings. It would be an excellent community project to seek out such hazards and safeguard them in the best way possible. No community should wait until another tragedy stimulates it to action.

The head of the Twentieth Century Fund believes a four-day work week is a future possibility but observes that "society cannot go on indefinitely expecting to get more and more by working less and less." It's a problem many people will thoroughly enjoy trying to solve.

Some of the new sports shirts are confusing. You can't tell whether the bright daubs of color are a design or whether the wearer just brushed too close to fresh paint.

An eminent industrialist recently receiving a Horatio Alger award remarked, "There have never been more opportunities—and fewer people really looking for them." Too many people see opportunities but don't recognize them.

It's surprising how many people who will endure a 15-year-old movie on television will complain at having their newspaper delivered 15 minutes late.

TRUE POOL OF REFLECTION

STRENGTH FOR THE WEEK

Three times in Moffatt's translation of the New Testament is the word "sneer" used. The Pharisees, who were fond of money... sneered." (Luke 16:15). At the crucifixion, "The people stood and looked on and... sneered at Him." On the day of Pentecost, when the power of God moved in the lives of men, "Some of the people sneered." (Acts 2:13). Three sneers for nothing! That's the motto of the cynics of our day. The first verse of the first Psalm reads, "Blessed is the man that... sitteth (not) in the seat of the scornful." It seems of late, however, they have had to add additional chairs in the cynic section since the mood of cynicism is on the increase.

Doubtless, the chief enemy of Christianity is not intellectual skepticism but moral cynicism. Our trouble is not that people disagree with the tenets of the Christian faith; they are cynical about the whole process of life—its value, its possibilities, its goals, that "far-off divine event to which the whole creation moves."

The cynic's first step is the loss of faith in people. David in his haste said that all men were liars, and the cynic says the same thing after mature deliberation. Thomas Carlyle said that the people of England were mostly fools, and the contemporary cynic would agree with him wholeheartedly.

It is by no means easy to keep one's faith in humanity. Jesus himself said some rather biting things about people. "Ye serpents, ye generation of vipers, how shall ye escape the damnation of hell?" Having said that, He trusted men, He believed in them. He placed upon the shoulders of His disciples heavy responsibilities. No man can long be cynical about another person without becoming cynical about himself. If all men are liars, he will begin to lie. If all men are cheats, he will become a cheat. If a man amounts to anything, it is because people have had faith in him. If we have lived by our ideals, it was because those we loved most had faith in us, were not cynical concerning us. Cynicism, damns men; faith builds men!

The second step of the cynic is loss of faith in social possibilities. Cynics said we never would establish a democratic government. To be sure, there are chinks in the armor of democracy, but none of us want to scuttle it. Cynics said we could not survive economically without slavery... but no one dreams of going back to such barbarism. Cynics said we could not have free public schools... but we have them and they are the pride of the nation.

The cynic's final step is loss of faith in God, in the spiritual meaning of life. If a man starts by being cynical about people, about social causes, he will ultimately become cynical about the whole meaning of life, including his own.

Shun cynicism as you would a plague. If you would keep a wholesome attitude in this cynical generation, keep close to the radiant and undiscourageable Christ.

DON'T BUY ANY CAR BEFORE YOU DRIVE A CHEVY... ITS BEST SHOWROOM IS THE ROAD.

Here's why Chevy's best showroom is the road!

Because Chevrolet's sleek good looks, its advanced features, are only part of the story. The big bonus is its remarkable roadability, the crisp precision handling that has posted an entirely new standard for cars in every price class. There are reasons for this, of course: Chevrolet's balanced weight distribution that takes excessive loads off the front wheels, the wide stance of outrigger rear springs, Ball-Race steering, spherical-joint front suspension. Sure, you can admire the sculptured lines in the showroom. But Chevy's a car specifically designed for beautiful motion—you have to travel in this one to know just how terrific it is. Try it, this week!

The Brotherhood of the Wilson
Baptist church last week purchased some play equipment to be enjoyed by the youth of our community. The games that were bought can be set up on the church lawn or in the Educational Building. A lot of time, money and effort on the part of the Brotherhood has been expended that the young people of this community might have lots of clean wholesome fun.

Among games now available are Ping Pong, badminton, shuffleboard, volleyball, croquet and horseshoes. The plans are being made for different age groups to have a night to play. A family night is also being planned. It all sounds good to me and here is hoping the community take advantage of the opportunity to have

Daughter of Local Woman Publishes Second Book, 'Deep in Heart of Texans'

Auto Accident Victims Remain On Critical List

J. D. Holt and Claude Anderson remain in a critical condition at West Texas Hospital in Lubbock as a result of injuries sustained in a head-on collision between Anderson's car and a truck last week.

Holt, who has not regained consciousness except for a short time Saturday night, has undergone brain surgery twice this week to remove blood clots from the brain. He underwent tracheotomy Sunday night. He is still suffering from pneumonia.

Anderson who has also had pneumonia will undergo surgery as soon as his condition will allow.

Both men were transferred by plane from the Shackelford County Hospital in Albany to West Texas Hospital in Lubbock Friday night and Saturday morning.

Mrs. Olive Keys Nichols, a former Texan and daughter of Mrs. A. R. Keys of Slaton, has just released her second book, "Deep in the Heart of Texans." Her first book "When My Daughter Married" was published in 1955.

Mrs. Nichols says her husband is the inspiration for the first story in the book. In her acknowledgments she recognizes Mrs. Ruth Keys, her mother; Boyce House, Miss Laura V. Hamner and others.

"It is the purpose of this book to dispel the mystery surrounding the stories of Texans and their achievements, for there is a valid reason why every minute spent in this great state is a moment everyone wants to squeeze in his hand and hold forever," Mrs. Nichols writes in her prologue.

Included in the Texans described in the small book, bound in a rich shade of brown with a brilliant yellow jacket, are Cal Farley of Boys' Ranch; Boyce House; Miss Laura Hamner, that grand old woman of the Panhandle who is described by the writer as "the most unforgettable woman I ever met," and many others.

The book is dedicated to her daughter, June, who was killed in a car wreck whom she says "was my critic who did not live to read these printed pages."

June was named after Juno, goddess of marriage.

Taken from Files of July 6, 1956

Two Slaton Firemen, Delbert Geer and Ted Gentry, will attend the annual fire-fighters school at Texas A&M College at College Station July 8-13, according to Elbert Wilson, fire chief.

A new patrolman, Herman Keen, 22 year-old former resident of McAuliffe, Texas, was added to Slaton's police department recently, according to chief of police Bill Daniels.

Slaton's swimming team swept the field of races in a swim meet with Post at the Post Municipal pool last week. In the intermediate division for boys through 15 years of age Slaton took four firsts. In the one pool-length free style race Douglas Corley took first, Sammy Wilson was second and Ritchie Polk was third.

Construction was completed and the police department had moved into the new police station early this week. The new headquarters for the Slaton department is located at the corner of 8th and Crosby Streets.

PFC Leroy Bloodworth, son of Mrs. Irwin Reed, Slaton, Tex., is tank commander in Headquarters Company of the 3d Armored Division in Germany.

Dr. and Mrs. John C. Locke and daughter Cindy arrived in Slaton Sunday and will make their home here, Dr. Locke is to be associated with Slaton Clinic.

Claude S. Cravens left Tuesday to attend the annual Texas City Attorneys' Association convention in Houston. The meeting was held in the Rice Hotel on July 4th.

The Slaton Rangers, one of the community's better known carriers of good will, took part in the parade and Fourth of July celebration Wednesday at Hale Center.

Taken from the files of the Slatonite July 4, 1952

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Ayers and two children have gone to Corpus Christi for an indefinite stay. The new manager of Kessel's Five and Ten store here is W. E. Edwards, a former Slaton resident who has been managing one of the Milam Stores in Lubbock.

Postal receipts—usually considered a good and fairly reliable index to a town's business activity and population trends—are up better than $1000 for the first six months of this year as compared with the comparable period last year, according to figures released by Postmaster P. G. Meading.

Receipts for the first half of 1951 totals $13,388.85 and for the first half of 1952, $14,390.76.

Bland Tomlinson, owner of Home Furniture Company, is back home from the big annual furniture market and convention in Chicago with news of the latest trends in furniture fashions. Dual purpose sleeping equipment is being given more attention by fashion designers.

The Baptist Church at Union has been discontinued and moving of the building to Slaton for a mission church in the near future is being considered.

The Sisters of Mercy, who own and operate Mercy Hospital, are engaged in an expansion program with the building of a modern two-story 40-room Sister's Home. The building which was started August 7, will be completed this week at a cost of $200,000 without furniture and equipment. It contains about 30 sleeping rooms, a large community room, a sun room, utility rooms and storage rooms.

The marriage of Miss Marjorie Ann Sims to Fred Pothast was solemnized Monday at 8 p. m. at First Methodist Church by Dr. Travis A. White, pastor of First Christian Church. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Gladys Sims and the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Pothast.

Taken from the files of the Slatonite, July 4, 1947

Construction has already begun on the new building on the west side of the square. W. E. Kidd, contractor, began moving dirt this week in preparation for laying the floor.

Berkley and Haddock, owners, report that the building which is to be occupied by C. R. Anthony Dry Goods Co., will be ready for occupancy September 1.

Demonstrating the post-war spirit of growth and faith in the future development of Slaton, the Slaton Lumber Company announces its formal opening for Monday July 7, giving Slaton another building material outlet that is modern in every way.

B. B. Castleberry and W. T. Davis are the owners of the new concern. While there is a lot of talk about prices going down, the real estate men in Slaton say that prices in homes are still high on the good ones and that it is harder to find a seller than a buyer.

The West Texas Gas Company thermometer registered 109 Sunday afternoon which is tops so far this year. This, according to Mrs. Joe West, is not a record for she said that about four years ago the report was that 114 had been reached.

Monday afternoon during the little thunder storm lightning struck a tree in the yard of F. B. Dement at 1215 South 9th. J. A. Shelton who has been managing one of the Milam Stores in Lubbock.

Mayor Lee Wootton reports that 3000 feet of cast iron 8 and 10 inch water mains have been laid between the new water well on the southwest part of town and the city main at the hospital. The new supply will be turned into the mains as soon as the pump has arrived and put into commission.

Several former PTA members who were influential in helping to secure the grounds and equipment for the tennis courts in the Slaton Clubhouse Park have complained that reports have come to them that plans are underway to construct a hard ball diamond where one of the tennis courts is now. This they feel would be an injustice to those who worked hard to raise the money for the tennis courts and it was their opinion that some other location should be provided for the ball diamond if it is to be built.

According to Mr. Eidson of Ayers Feed Co. the average yield of the wheat in this section is about 22 bushels per acre with the wheat from Lubbock south being of the best grade. The company is working at full capacity and is shipping wheat to almost everywhere except to Alaska or so it seems to Mr. Eidson.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Patterson and daughter, Peggy, of Arlington will spend the holiday week end in the home of Mr. Patterson's sister, Mrs. Francis Perry, Mr. Perry, Richard and Daniel John.

Getting Married Soon?

Here's how you can get better satisfaction on your wedding story and picture:

First, check with the Slatonite Society Editor for a wedding information blank as early as possible. This will give her the correct information from which to write the wedding story. Too, it will eliminate one of those last-minute tasks before the wedding.

Then, when your wedding picture is ready, bring it to The Slatonite as far ahead of the wedding as possible. By doing this, the picture can be engraved and readied for publication immediately following the wedding.

By having the information blank and the picture in the hands of the Society Editor BEFORE the wedding, you will insure early publication of the picture and story.

Wedding pictures made of local weddings cannot be accepted for publication when more than one issue of the paper has been published since the wedding occurred. Pictures of out-of-town weddings will be accepted for publication up to two weeks following the wedding.

IT'S THE LAW
in Texas
A public service bureau of the State Bar of Texas

"Finders keepers, losers weepers." Is this old rhyme true or false? Lawyers say it is not always strictly accurate under the law. It is sometimes rather difficult to define the rights of a finder in court.

There are some rather fine distinctions and exceptions to the "finders keepers" maxim that have plagued the courts—and finders—for generations. In the first place, the finder is not entitled to keep the property unless the original owner is not known and cannot be located. Neither may he keep it unless the object is truly "lost," and not merely "misplaced."

In general, property is legally "lost" when parted with involuntarily—through accident, neglect, forgetfulness or any other unintentional circumstance. Property is not lost in the legal sense when voluntarily left by the owner, intending to pick it up later—even though he fails to do so. Such property is "misplaced."

Legally "Lost"

Thus, if one loses a watch on the street by having the clasp break, not knowing where or when it was dropped, it is legally "lost." The same is true of a fountain pen falling through a hole in one's pocket unobserved. In such cases, the finder owns what he has found against all but the true owner.

On the other hand, a package left on the seat of a bus is "misplaced" rather than lost. In one southern state, a pocketbook left in a barber's shop by a customer was held to have been "left," not "lost." The barber was arrested and convicted of larceny when he spent the money that was in it.

Under the law the finder of either lost or misplaced property should make a "reasonable effort" to find the real owner.

When articles are left on a train or bus, in a public hotel room, or even when dropped on a shop floor, under circumstances indicating that the true owner will later return to claim them, such items are not considered lost. The proper custodian to hold them for the owners return would be the proprietor or other person in charge.

Remaining unclaimed, the property sometimes goes to this custodian, sometimes to the finder. The distinction here appears to be whether the place it is found is private or semi-private, or a place used by the general public.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Highlights and Sidelights From Your State Capitol

By—Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN, Tex.—State Highway Patrolmen are on the lookout for careless drivers.

Ten Texans are scheduled to die on the highways during the holidays, according to Homer Garrison Jr., Department of Public Safety Director. Twelve died on July 4 last year.

DPS fatality predictions usually are frighteningly accurate. However, state law enforcement officers are doing their best to cut the traffic toll and thereby prove themselves wrong in their estimates.

Gov. Price Daniel has made a personal appeal to Texans to join together to "curb the senseless slaughter on our streets and highways."

Colonel Garrison reports 120 extra units will be added to the patrol for the holiday "Operation Deathwatch." Their job will be to spot the speeders, drunken or reckless drivers and take them off the roads before accidents occur.

Texas Safety Association has joined in the push for better citizenship on the highways. TSA says last year's traffic accidents in Texas cost $275,000,000 took 2,611 lives and injured another 115,000 persons.

GRAND JURY DIGS IN—Travis County grand jury touched off a rash of speculation by issuing summons to a new group of witnesses.

What they found out about the affairs of the bankrupt ICT Insurance Co. of Dallas and former Ins. Comm. Chmn. J. Byron Saunders will not be known until later in the summer when the jury reports.

Colorful ex-Ranger Manuel T. (Lone Wolf) Gonzales was the headliner witness. Gonzales once was vice president of a Ben Jack Cage enterprise, making purse-size alarms for women to summon help. He said he had nothing to do with ICT, also managed by Cage.

Others called to testify were Mrs. Mae Swainder of Dallas, longtime secretary to Saunders; Paul B. Kelly of Austin, personal friend of Saunders; and Dick Mallard, Tyler CPA who was asked to bring Saunders' financial records.

CAGE PROMISES TO RETURN—Meanwhile, Ben Jack Cage, kingpin of the controversy, announced from Brazil that he'll come back to Texas "in about a month" and straighten everything out.

Cage, former manager of ICT, is under indictment in Dallas for embezzlement of the firm's funds. Governor Daniel had tried to get Cage forcibly returned to Texas for trial, but found the U. S. has no extradition treaty with Brazil.

Cage terms the Texas tax "hysteria," blames his successors at ICT for the company's collapse. But, he said, he plans to set up a corporation under which 75 per cent of his earnings for the rest of his life will go to repay ICT shareholders.

"NEW LOOK" LAUNCHED—Texas' long-heralded "clean slate" Insurance Commission is finally a reality.

The "New Look" was officially launched with the appointment of Assistant State Auditor William A. Harrison as Commissioner of Insurance. Under the reorganization law passed by the last legislature, the commissioner is to be a $20,000-a-year executive who will run the department.

Although it will be one of the highest-paid posts in state government, Harrison is serving without pay. Through oversight the legislature neglected to make the commissioner's salary effective until Sept. 1.

Harrison, who was named "temporarily" until September, is reportedly serving "on faith" that the Legislature will make some adjustment when it next meets.

TEACHER MONEY ASSURED—Teachers, who've had state officials scraping and scrambling for months, are now apparently assured of receiving their $399 a year raise beginning next fall.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson ruled that $4,000,000 can be made available for this purpose on Aug. 22. A bill authorizing transfer of this amount from the permanent school endowment fund becomes effective 90 days after adjournment, said Wilson.

Earlier, doubts had been raised whether wording of the bill would permit the transfer before the end of this fiscal year, Aug. 31.

FIRST WITH THE WORST—Cost of Texas' severe weather damage in 1957 will probably top $100,000,000 says William L. McGill. Official total is already more than $91,000,000.

McGill, director of Texas Civil Defense and Disaster Relief Headquarters, said this year has brought the "most far-reaching and widespread destruction the state ever has known."

Texas always has had the "dubious distinction" of leading the nation in catastrophes he said, recalling the Galveston flood, New London school explosion, and the Texas City disaster.

But 1957, he recounted, brought in just four months, 120 tornadoes that hit the ground; major floods in 13 river basins; and, for good measure, the worst blizzard in history in the Panhandle.

As McGill spoke at a statewide Civil Defense Advisory Council conference in Austin, hurricane warnings were posted on the Gulf Coast. "That," said McGill, "is all we need."

HIGHWAY PLANS EXPLAINED

The Slaton Slatonite

Friday, July 5, 1957

—State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer is trying to soothe riled East Texans who learned that a proposed new interstate highway would bypass them.

Plans show that "Interstate 2" designed to extend from Shreveport, La., to El Paso, would miss both Wood and Upshur Counties.

Greer promised that present U. S. Highway 80, which runs through those areas, will be improved to a 4-lane artery. It will serve the purpose of the area better than the controlled-access interstate road which does not permit easy cross-traffic, said Greer.

SHORT SNORTS—State Supreme Court paid tribute to its "walking dictionary," Legal Secretary Francis J. Krenz, who retired after 38 years service with the high court.

Maria Ruth Alejandro of San Antonio and Glenn Lightfoot of Gholson were certified by the governor's office as Texas nominees for the Young American Medal for bravery. Both are credited with heroic rescues at the risk of their own lives.

No point in trying to avoid being fingerprinted. Atty. Gen. Will Wilson has ruled officers may use "reasonably necessary" force to fingerprint a person legally arrested.

Employment by new Texas businesses dropped 3,556 during May, reports the Texas Employment Commission. But the number still was considered fairly stable—107 new firms hiring 1,552 people.
