Juvenile 'Gang' Tie-In to Local Thefts, Vandalism Investigated

Police this week were investigating local juvenile "gang" tie-ins with theft of a tire and wheel and bumper jack stolen from a car parked at the Assembly of God Church Sunday night.

Three Slaton youths were jailed Monday in connection with the theft. The stolen articles were recovered after sale of the jack was reported to local officers.

County juvenile probation officers were working with local officers in the investigation.

Three gangs are known by local officers to be in existence. The "Vargas," a group of around 20 members; the "Stompers" with about 10 members; and another unidentified by the wearing of a denim jacket with skull and cross-bones on the back, which has about 10 members.

Officers said that the boys being questioned are fairly certain to belong to one of the gangs.

Vandalism, theft, and burglaries have been attributed to the gangs, and officers said that some whippings have occurred between the gangs.

Cooperation between local officers and the County Juvenile Probation Officers had been good, Police Chief Bill Daniels said. He continued that both groups were working in an effort to dissolve the gangs here.

Some 29 calls were received by Slaton Police this week. Five persons were jailed, the three juveniles, one person on a traffic violation warrant, and one person was jailed and held for the Sheriff's Office in Lubbock.

19,000 Go To Meeting at Clubhouse in '57

"Slaton people are taking advantage of the use of the county Clubhouse here in Slaton more than ever before" stated C. D. Willis clubhouse manager. He further stated that the Clubhouse was better equipped and was in a position to better take care of those using it.

Three hundred thirty nine meetings were held there in 1957 with more than 19,000 people in attendance at the meetings. Among the groups using the building have been civic clubs, anniversary parties, birthday parties, scout meetings, school banquets, Christmas parties, family gatherings and church meetings.

Willis states that any group desiring to use the building should make reservations far in advance in order to have the building on the date desired. "Some dates are reserved a year in advance" says Willis. Reservations may be made by calling the clubhouse or by calling by clubhouse office during the week days.

Juvenile Delinquency in County Pointed Out by Probation Officer

The existence of three juvenile "gangs" in Slaton was pointed out by Tom Cannon, County Juvenile Officer, when he spoke before members of the Slaton Lions Club Tuesday.

Cannon, along with other county juvenile officers, is working with local law enforcement officers in an effort to learn more about the gangs, and to bring them under control before a more serious situation comes about.

"Lubbock County is lucky," Cannon said, "because it is not on a transcontinental highway." In that, he went on, we don't have the juvenile delinquents from both coasts stopping over on their way from one part of the country to another.

With the county being primarily rural the juvenile problem is also lessened.

The Lubbock County Juvenile Probation Office employs four full-time employees and one half-time secretary. Included on the full-time staff are three probation officers and a full-time secretary.

The office has a budget of $25,000 annually, with half the amount supplied by the City of Lubbock and half by Lubbock County. Cannon said that 80 to 90 per cent of the work was done with juveniles in the City of Lubbock.

Two purposes guide the work of the Probation office, according to Cannon. First is to serve the Juvenile Court, the other to supervise juvenile probation.

Juvenile law says that we cannot punish a juvenile, Cannon continued, that we can only take such actions as will be in the interest of the child's best welfare.

Juveniles, as defined by law, are boys between the ages of 10 and 17, and girls between the ages of 10 and 18.

In combatting the delinquency problem in Lubbock County, the Juvenile Probation Office is giving a rather loose interpretation to the juvenile laws. Rehabilitation is attempted in all cases—by placing some in foster homes, by use of the "Big Brother" and "Big Sister" program, and by making a concerted effort to find jobs for the youths.

In addition to working with delinquents, the office also works with neglected and dependent cases, and with medical cases.

Waiting lists are long, Cannon said, to get a boy into one of the Boys Ranches. It takes about two years to enter a boy there. Some six or eight months are required to admit a juvenile to a mental hospital for care.

During 1957 the Lubbock County Juvenile Probation Office had more than 1,000 offenders go through. An estimated 50 to 60 per cent of the delinquents in the County were seen by the office, Cannon said.

About three to five per cent of all juveniles are considered delinquent, he continued, pointing out that in the county there are about 750 youngsters who would fall into that category. A rough estimate put about 40 Slaton youths with that group. Three or four boys will be delinquent for every girl who is delinquent, he said.

Of the cases handled in the county, some 80 per cent are white, 15 per cent Latin American, and 5 per cent Negro.

During 1957, 43 juveniles were committed to state training schools. He explained that about 30 juveniles from Lubbock County are in training schools each month.

Ten boys from the county were placed on Boys Ranches, while 35 were placed in foster homes.

Some 35 per cent of juveniles sent to a state training school return for a second or third term.

A brighter side of the delinquency problem, Cannon said, was the fact that facilities to care for the youths were improving; changes are being made in trained personnel available; and professional organizations are taking an interest—and action—in the problem.

Carr Named Speaker for Chamber Banquet

Guest speaker for the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet February 10 will be Waggoner Carr, speaker of the House of Representatives of the Texas Legislature.

Chamber officials said this week that ballots for nomination of businessmen to the board of directors had been mailed to the membership of the Chamber.

Other ballots are in the Chamber of Commerce office in City Hall, where any persons so desiring may make their nominations for directors.

Five members of the board will retire this year. They include Don Britt, Francis E. Perry, Earl Reasoner, Leroy Holt, and Bruce PEMBER.

Hold-over directors are Truett Babb, Bill Ball, Ray Belt, R. S. Boyd, Don Crow, M. G. Davis, Don Hatchett, John Schmidt, Clark Self Jr. and Ted Swanner.

Voting for the new directors will be done at the banquet. Tickets to the banquet will be $2.50, and will be available at the Chamber of Commerce office. Some 150 tickets will be available.

Deadline for making nominations for directors is January 20.

I've got a sad, sad story to tell. Spike is gone. Spike is, or was, our four month old boxer puppy that we gave Glendal on his sixth birthday. He disappeared Tuesday between 9 and 10 o'clock.

We have hopes that, since we live on 20th street near the high school, that Spike followed off some high school boy or girl. We caught him twice, doing that very thing. At any rate, I hope if you are reading this, you will go to the door and look out, and if you see a brown boxer puppy, playing around, that you will call VA 8-4741. Two boys and a girl will be eternally grateful to you.

Heard someone say that people who advertise their troubles never seem to dispose of their stock.

Notice in the Piggly Wiggly ad, the statement, "These prices become effective after 2 p.m. on Thursday." That is the hour set for the price changes and if we try to buy before that time it leads to confusion.

Circulars have suddenly become a dirty word to me, having alleviated a certain amount of my advertising. So imagine my irate reaction calls us on the carpet for doing such lousy printing. Well, we didn't do that printing. Any circulars that we print will carry the Slatonite Signature.

How pleasant it will be for customers of the Slaton Dress Shop now that their new home is next to the Slaton Pharmacy. So much more room to display the lovely dresses they carry.

I've found a kindred spirit. The Trail Dust column written by Douglas Meador states that: "Sometimes I become so confused I don't know the direction the "go getters" went." Me, too.

From the same source: "The observation is too old to supply any particular service, but Cupid could prevent a vast amount of confusion if he would refrain from hunting on other people's property."

By the way, Spike's ears are not completely healed after having been trimmed some two weeks ago. So that will help in identification.

Recent guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Max Jackson and Mr. and Mrs. Alton Edwards for a family reunion were Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Hampton and Doug from Brownwood; Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hampton, Wayland, and Linda of Belen, New Mexico; Mr. and Mrs. Glen Hampton and Karen, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hampton and Vicki of Brownwood and Mr. and Mrs. Roland Hampton from Breckenridge.

Six Applicants To Date for Great Plains Conservation

Policies and procedures of the Great Plains Conservation Program were discussed Friday afternoon when the county committee governing the program met with members of the Board of Supervisors of the Lubbock County Soil Conservation District.

Bill Reece, SCS work unit conservationist, spokesman for the group, presented six applications for farmers who want to participate in the program. Reece said these were the first to apply for a portion of the $53,000 allocation for Lubbock County.

Applicants for the program included E. R. Steen, John Pugh, Tom Scarborough, Frank Gray, J. J. George, and Finas Griffin.

This is a long range conservation program which takes into consideration the entire farm, and can be entered into by a farmer for a minimum of three years and a maximum of 10 years.

In the program, the farmer can draw federal assistance while carrying out his conservation practices.

Attending the meeting were Sherman Nelson, Joe S. Walker Sr., George Hindman, Frank Gray, Cecil Brashear, E. O. Ramsey, Fred Warren, Lee McElroy, Bill Reece, and Mrs. Alton Strickland.

Pony League Officers To Be Elected Monday

Election of officers for 1958 will be the main item of business transacted when persons interested in Pony League Baseball meet Monday at 7:30 p.m. at Slaton High School.

Bill Smith, president of the league this year, said this week that parents of 15 and 16 year old boys, men interested in working with the boys, and others with an interest in the program were welcome to attend the meeting.

In addition to the election of officers, planning of the program for 1958 will take place, as well as consideration of an extended program for 15 and 16-year olds.

Mrs. George Evans spent the week end in Amarillo with her brother, H. L. and Mrs. Henderson who had been injured in an automobile wreck a few days before Mr. Henderson was released from the hospital after a week but Mrs. Henderson remains there suffering from a broken hip, bruises and injuries.

February Film Showing Planned For Cancer Detection Methods

Women in Slaton will have opportunity shortly to learn how to safeguard their health and lives. They will have a chance to see a motion picture that doctors say already has saved the lives of a great many women and can be the means of saving thousands more each year.

Showing of that film, entitled "Breast Self-Examination," have been arranged by the Lubbock County Unit of the American Cancer Society, Dr. John Selby, its medical adviser, announced today.

For five years that picture, teaching women to examine themselves for early signs of possible breast cancer, has been a vital factor in the ACS nationwide public education program. It was produced jointly by the Cancer Society and the National Cancer Institute of the U. S. Public Health Service.

"So far 300 women in Lubbock County have seen it," Dr. Selby explained. "But there are still about 40,000 women 21 years old or older who have yet to see this film, and who certainly ought to see it, for their own good. In all, throughout the country, more than 5,000,000 women have seen it, which means about one in ten."

"With good taste and dignity the film portrays a technique of self-examination, which enables the viewers to find possible lumps in their breasts that might spell cancer. It makes clear, however, that the majority of lumps discovered will not be malignant."

Emphasis is placed on the fact that when cancer of the breast is detected in its early stages and proper treatment is begun at once, 81 per cent of all cases can be cured. The present cure rate for this type of cancer is only 46 per cent.

"The picture has a calm, positive approach. It is in natural colors. Members of a woman's club are seen as they listen with rapt attention to a talk by a physician, who explains the great value of breast self-examination. One of the listeners goes to her own doctor, who then demonstrates that simple method so that viewers of the movie can readily learn how to make their own examinations."

"This year the number of American women who will die from breast cancer will be about 21,000. The number of lives thus lost which could have been saved through earlier detection will run to about 11,300."

Showing of the Breast Self-Examination film in Slaton is now scheduled, Dr. Selby said for February 11, 9:45 a.m. at the Slaton Theatre.

Admission is free always, and physicians will be present to answer questions after the showing.

Browning Named To Buffalo Board Tuesday

V. G. Browning of Slaton was named to the Buffalo Lakes Water control district board of directors in an election held Tuesday.

The four incumbent directors seeking re-election were elected also.

Browning replaces J. S. Edwards Jr., who has served as chairman of the board.

Incumbents include O. Gowen, Earl Kerr, Woodrow DeBusk, and O. A. Terry.

Browning received 316 votes, Gowen, 331; Kerr, 303; DeBusk, 302; Terry, 286.

Other candidates and the vote each received included M. M. Brieger, 274; Roscoe Sides, 266; Marion Leftwich, 181; and W. W. Allen, 180.

In an election held by High Plains Underground Water District No. 1, Earl Weaver and Vernice Ford were leading in the race for committeemen for Lubbock County. Returns were incomplete early Wednesday.

In Slaton, voting in the Buffalo Lakes directors election went as follows: Allen, 32; Brieger, 164; Browning, 168; DeBusk, 52; Gowen, 29; Kerr, 32; Leftwich, 26; Sides, 43; and Terry, 29.

Both Brieger and Browning are Slaton residents.

Reduction of Delinquent Taxes Totalling $19,000 Sought by City

Concerted efforts on the part of city officials have resulted in collection of over $2,500 in delinquent taxes during the past four and one-half months. Tax rolls in September showed over $19,000 in delinquent taxes had accumulated since 1923.

Commissioners, in their regular meeting this week, stated that the effort to collect delinquent taxes was being made in order to keep to a minimum the possibility of a tax increase for the tax year 1958.

Possible increase is necessary because of increased bond payments and the increase in operating costs of the city. "Every possible effort is being made to keep an increase in taxes to a minimum," they stated Monday. No general tax raise has been made since 1947.

A review of delinquent taxes showed that a good portion of the taxes had accumulated on real property, and would be collectable. Tax collections over the past six years have been maintained at 97.67 per cent.

Forty-four cases concerning delinquent taxes have been turned over to the City Attorney for collection. Arrangements have been made for liquidation of several of the cases on a voluntary basis. Five tax suits have been filed to date.

Cases are reviewed by the City Commission before being placed with the City Attorney for collection. When the attorney receives the case, he mails a delinquent notice with a notation for payment or arrangements to be made within 30 days. If, at the expiration of this period no action has been taken, a registered letter is sent the property owner advising him that suit will be filed within seven days if no effort is made to take care of the taxes.

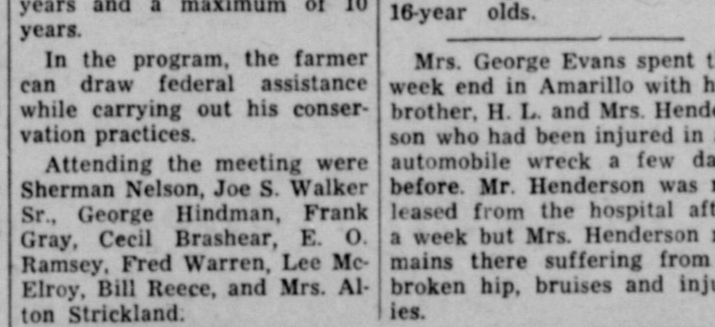

When the suit is filed, judgment will be asked, and when secured, the property will be sold to satisfy the claim.

Commissioners pointed out that, contrary to general belief, a homestead can be attached for city taxes. Three exceptions exist to the homestead law: purchase price, merchant's lien, and ad valorem taxes.

In emphasizing the fact that the Commission is willing to work with any property owner in working out a schedule for liquidation of the account, the commissioners stated that no discrimination was being practiced in the program. Whenever taxes become delinquent, action will be taken to collect them, they stated.

An invitation for property owners who owe delinquent taxes to come in and talk with the tax collector concerning their taxes before the suit is filed was advanced at the Monday meeting.

Current taxes will become delinquent on January 31, the commission pointed out.

SAFETY QUIZ WINNER—J. R. Hartsfield is pictured here as he and H. E. Anderson, Master Mechanic with Santa Fe, hold the prize won by Hartsfield in the Mechanical Department's Safety Quiz. Prize this month was a combination set of tools, a set of small sockets, and a headlight and battery. Other members of the Mechanical Department are pictured as the presentation was made last week. The Mechanical Department of the Slaton Division went through 1957 without a reportable injury, Anderson said.

Mrs. Melvin Weckwerth and two children, Debbie and Billy, are spending some time with her mother, Mrs. W. L. Holloman, before going to Arlington, Virginia, to join her husband who has been transferred there. The Weckwerths have been living in El Paso. Mrs. Weckwerth is the former Patsy Holloman.

NO REMOTE ISLANDS

Most of us dream, at one time or another, of a simple, uncomplicated life somewhere remote from the usual hurly burly. At such times we think it would be pleasant to spend lazy days on some green island, or perhaps in the north woods or the desert. Yet the fact seems to be that most of us would sink into a state of petulant boredom after a few days or weeks in such circumstances.

Human beings are, by and large, gregarious creatures. They were not made for solitude. Though some persons relish being alone, and are never so happy as when they are isolated from their fellow men, the bulk of us are social beings. It is our natural tendency to seek out the company of others.

Because of this a happy and satisfying life is possible, for most of us, only the extent that our relations with others are good. Every blight of anger or misunderstanding reduces one's happiness in some degree.

This is not said by way of suggesting that everyone should hasten to agree with everyone else rather than risk unpleasantness. That would be cowardly and dishonest—and very far from satisfying. The important thing to remember is that needless misunderstanding, and differences exaggerated by malice or false pride, are harmful to all concerned. We live in what must be, because of our very nature, a social world. We might as well make the best of it.

"FOR CHRIST SENT ME... TO PREACH THE GOSPEL: NOT WITH WISDOM OF WORDS, LEST THE CROSS OF CHRIST SHOULD BE MADE OF NONE EFFECT."
— I COR. 1:17

STRENGTH FOR THE WEEK

By Bryan Ross
Westview Baptist Church

Strange were the words that the Lord spoke on one occasion: "Somebody hath touched me." (Luke 8:46) It seemed so unusual that a person pressed by the crowds would stop and make a statement like that. Even the close followers of Christ were amazed by it.

We remember that a notable characteristic of our Lord was his deep sympathy with those who were suffering. He cared for the lame, the bedridden, and the blind. Jesus at this time was on His way to heal the daughter of Jairus, but as He made His way through the crowd a woman with a great need reached out to touch him that she might be healed. No one knew of the touch save she and the Master. It is wonderful to know that even in the hustle and bustle of life that Christ can recognize the softest touch of a soul in need.

Faith draws out the compassionate love of our Lord. The secrecy of the touch did not limit its power. She was healed in both body and soul. She received all that she could have ever hoped for. No matter how great our needs are, they will be dealt with by the Lord, if we

Card of Thanks

Our deepest appreciation and thanks go out to the people who helped care for Molly Ann Kucabak while she was in Methodist Hospital, and those who helped care for Ikey Kucabak while he was in Mercy Hospital. Your help, and care given by the staffs of the two hospitals was most gratifying.

will take these burdens to the Lord and leave them there.

We can be assured today that no matter how dark the road may look to us, or no matter how severe our sorrow or suffering, that even the faintest faith can gain for us the wonderful working power of the Lord. "I can do all things through Christ, which strengtheneth me," Paul says. Through faith, you can say that too.

More Ease in Attending Tech Game Predicted for Baylor Cage Tilt

Texas Tech's next home game —with Baylor University on Saturday night, January 25— should be a lot easier for the general public to attend than previous contests have been. Reason is that many Tech students will be home between fall and spring semesters. That is the last day for examinations, and most will have probably completed them by then.

Just the same, Jimmy Wilson, business manager of athletics, has urged fans planning to attend the Southwest Conference clash with the Bears to buy tickets early and avoid a possible last-minute rush.

Tech's first two games here as Southwest Conference members broke attendance records for college games played in the Southwest.

A crowd of 10,000 saw Tech beat Texas Christian 83-70 on January 7, and an estimated 10,175 were on hand for Southern Methodist's 84-80 defeat of the Red Raiders January 10.

Coach Polk Robinson's Red Raide's, generally assigned to seventh or eighth place in their first year of Southwest Conference competition, pulled three surprises by knocking off the defending champion, SMU, 72-70 in the pre-season tournament, and defeating the predicted champion, Rice, 66-63 in Houston, before upsetting another title choice, TCU.

But Tech was dealt a low blow when 6-9 Pat Noakes of Ft. Worth, a star in the TCU game, broke a bone in his ankle in a pileup in that con-

One-Third of State's Cars Inspected; Deadline for '58 Stickers April 15

With the 1958 motor vehicle inspection deadline more than three months away, about one million vehicle owners have obtained their 1958 inspection stickers, setting a trend for early inspections.

According to John H. Grant, manager of Motor Vehicle Inspection Records of the Texas Department of Public Safety, more than 300,000 vehicles above the number inspected during the comparative period last year have been inspected to date.

But he cautioned that more than three million vehicles are to be inspected before the April 15 deadline.

Regarding the early inspections, Grant said, "In addition to the ever increasing awareness of automobile and truck owners of safety inspections as an essential safety measure, the increase this year is due in part to the realization that periodic inspections help maintain automobiles at higher value by lessening depreciation."

Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, reported that vehicle inspections have reduced traffic fatalities. Garrison said that "mechanical defects were causative factors in 19 per cent of the rural fatal accidents in 1951 prior to the inauguration of the inspection program. "In 1956 mechanical defects were causative factors in only five per cent of the fatal rural accidents."

The state police director asked for the continued good cooperation of vehicle owners in getting their trucks and cars inspected during the short period that remains in the inspection period.

He asked that vehicle owners obtain their inspection stickers early to avoid long waits in lines that normally occur during the first two weeks of April.

State Capital NEWS

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN, TEX.—Education has been a prime concern of Texas government for more than a century and a quarter. But seldom, if ever, has the subject loomed so large in public discussion as now in the satellite age.

Austin, site of the Capitol and state university, is the center for a swirl of conferences and statements on the direction in which education should move.

Mirabeau B. Lamar, known as the "father of education in Texas," admonished early lawmakers with the famous statement, "The cultivated mind is the guardian genius of democracy."

In the past few months, since Sputnik, statesmen have taken up this theme in different words, but with greater-than-urgent urgency. They're saying, in effect, that unless the tempo of training can be stepped up immediately to train more people better, democracy is doomed.

In Austin this challenge has set off lively debates and given heavy new significance to the planning conferences of those who set educational policy. Current examples in the news:

SCIENCE AND MATH study in Texas public schools will get a critical examination by a group of school principals with advice from business and industry leaders.

State Board of Education set up the study group which is to complete its project by end of 1959. Goal is to find means to enrich the schools' curriculum in some areas, set standards in others.

Board has previously raised graduation standards in Texas high schools, taking away from the students the chance to pass up math and science in favor of "snap" courses. This action, taken before the current science emphasis, was "somewhat prophetic," commented one board member.

NO TAX FOR TEACHERS

Extension of Cotton Loans Asked for '58 Cotton Crop

W. O. Fortenberry, president of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., said this week that the PCG is working with Congressman George Mahon and the US Department of Agriculture on the wasty and barmy cotton situation as it exists this year on the Plains.

Fortenberry said weather conditions, a late planting, fall rains and an early frost, made a disaster condition beyond the cotton producer's control. In would do more than scholarships and new buildings to raise level of instruction, said the secretary to the Commission on Higher Education.

Jack D. Cox said exempting teachers from income taxes would have the effect of raising salaries without levying additional taxes.

POOR PAY FOR PROFS was hit even harder by a University of Texas faculty member in an Austin talk. He cited salary incentives as crucial in comparing Russian and U.S. school systems.

According to Dr. B. H. Armstrong, an American college professor can expect to double his salary in a lifetime; his Russian counterpart can achieve 15 times his beginning wage. American teachers make 10 percent less than factory workers, said Dr. Armstrong. Russian teachers 2 1/2 times more.

Proposed federal scholarships will be useless, he opined, unless there's also more money to attract people to run schools.

"SURVIVAL DEPENDS on the quality of our schools," Sen. A. M. Aiken, Jr. of Paris told the Texas Association of School Administrators.

Aiken, leading legislative spokesman for education, reported on the aims of the Hale-Aiken Committee of 24 set up by the Legislature to make an over-all study of the state's school needs.

"Specific recommendations from the people of Texas on many important school matters are needed by the study group," Aiken said. Success of the study depends on how well the people get behind it and participate, he added.

It was begun, said the senator, "before foreign development re-emphasized the fact that education is a vital part of our national defense."

LAND LEASING SET—School Land Board has set March 4 for sale of oil and gas leases on public lands.

Some 34,000 acres of tidelands plus several hundred tracts on state prison farms will be offered for leasing.

It will be the first time tidelands leases have been offered since the federal government filed suit contesting Texas' claim to land more than three miles from shore. State officials were unsure how attractive the land would be under the circumstances.

OPTOMETRISTS AT ODDS—Rival groups of Texas optometrists are apparently on their way to the Texas Supreme Court to settle differences over what practices are legal for that profession.

view of this situation, the PCG is asking the Commodity Credit Corporation to allow wasty and barmy cotton to be allowed to enter the government cotton loan.

"This cotton would enter the loan at a discount of around 200 to 300 points below the established loan value. For example, low middling spotted cotton of 7/8 inch staple has a loan value of 18.83 cents. If this bale was classed wasty, it would go in the loan say that 300 points off the loan price, or at 15.83 cents," Fortenberry explained.

The CCC would catalogue this cotton separately for future sales and clearly identify it to the trade, he added. It has been estimated there are more than 100,000 bales of wasty and barmy cotton on the plains this year. Since such cotton is ineligible for the government loan, there is very little or no immediate market for such cotton, it is working a hardship on many farmers, he continued.

In addition to Congressman Mahon, other representatives including Congressman Walter Rogers of Pampa, Senator Lyndon Johnson and Ralph Yarborough are being acquainted with the situation.

WTCC Plans Industrial Meet In Abilene

A five-point program on how to obtain new industries is expected to attract a crowd of more than 200 West Texans to Abilene January 23 for the fifth annual West Texas Industrial Development Conference.

The conference is designed to provide members of local chamber of commerce industrial committees with a better working knowledge of the procedures involved in obtaining new industries.

Included on the program will be discussions on industrial foundations, garment industries, mineral resources, processing agricultural products and a study of West Texas in the era of missiles and satellites.

The conference will begin at 9 a.m. Thursday, January 23 at the Wooten Hotel in Abilene.

Disagreement centers on two issues: (1) whether optometrists may advertise, and if so, who and (2) whether they may have offices in part of the space of a store.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson ruled unconstitutional the portion of the Ophthalmic Dispensers law passed last spring that pertained to advertising. Reason, a familiar one: the topic was not mentioned in the bill's caption.

Members of the Texas Optometric Association disagreed with the opinion. They brought suit asking that the State Board of Examiners in Optometry be enjoined to enforce a no-advertising rule. Since the case involves constitutionality of a law, it can be appealed to the Supreme Court.

Another suit was brought by a group of optometrists protesting a state board ruling that an optometrist's office cannot share space in a store.

Attendant publicity resulted in the resignation of Charles M. Babb of Austin as executive secretary to the State Board of Optometry Examiners. Babb was criticized for holding that position while also serving as legal counsel to the Texas Optometric Association—i.e., serving both the regulators and the regulated.

SHORT SNORTS—Travis County grand jury gave state officials and employees a clean bill of health after two months' searching for "any further evidence of misconduct." It did, however, recommend tighter regulation of notaries public and insurance company officials handling company funds.

Railroad Commissioner Olin Culberson made the first state-wide political announcement by stating he would seek a fourth term in his present office. Persons wanting to buy under the veterans land program will have a chance Jan. 21 to buy land of previous owners who failed to meet payments. Forfeited land includes 58 tracts in 21 counties, said Land Commissioner Earl Rudder. L. Gov. Ben Ramsey named Judge Joe J. Fisher of Jasper, Judge A. R. Stout of Waxahachie and Earl Smith of San Antonio to the Law Enforcement Commission created during the special legislative session. Three were appointed to the commission by the governor, three more will be named by the House Speaker. J. T. Ellis, Jr. of Westaco has been appointed to Governor Daniel's staff to assist with water, job classification and fiscal matters. Ellis resigned as state representative to take the post.

Facilities for Caring for Juveniles Good--But far from Being Adequate

By Judge Sarah T. Hughes
Texans like to brag and we have reason to be proud of our history, our vast ranches and cattle, our natural resources, and, most of all, our people. But one thing we can't brag about—our facilities for handling juvenile delinquents are very insufficient. What we have is good, but it is far from enough.

Many counties have no probation or parole officers. In these counties if a youngster is put on probation there is no official to keep him in line. A boy released from the state institution to a county without a parole officer has no one trained to assist him in finding a place in the community. Effective supervision after release is just as necessary for rehabilitation as training in the school; and without it, money and effort expended are a loss to the state as well as to the child.

In some instances small boys 10 to 13 are sent to Gatesville because the county has no facilities for handling them and doesn't know what else to do with them. They may have committed only minor offenses and have no home. This is not good. There are 40 to 50 boys this age at Gatesville. They sleep in a separate cottage, but otherwise—at meals, in school, and at play—they mix with older boys who have longer criminal careers and are good instructors in the ways of crime.

Community Fails
The community which allows a 10-year-old to be committed to Gatesville is failing in its responsibility to youngsters. Gatesville, in addition to not being able to do the right kind of job for boys between 10 and 13, is heavily overcrowded. The result is that boys usually stay only about 7 months, not long enough to complete training. The result of a too-short stay and no state parole officers is a high rate of return. Last year, 34 percent of the boys released from Gatesville returned.

The last regular session of the Legislature provided for new buildings at both Gatesville and the girls' school at Gainesville. But it was far too little. The building will take the place of those that are already unsafe for occupancy and will permit less crowding. The increased juvenile population of the state is not taken into account, and unless something is done immediately, the present situation will be back at us.

There is, however, something that can be done. AND IT IS UP TO THE PEOPLE TO DO IT.

Voters Say
Public officials respond to what the voters want. After all, they have to be elected, and if the people feel their responsibility strongly enough and vigorously urge their officials to provide necessary facilities for delinquent youngsters, it will be done.

On the county level it is the Commissioners Court which must provide for probation officers, foster homes, and county institutions for dependent and delinquent children. If your county is very small a volunteer probation and parole system might be set up, or perhaps two or more counties cooperate in providing a paid officer.

The Legislature has the responsibility for the state institutions and parole officers for such institutions. If there is a strong enough public opinion favoring adequate facilities for training and rehabilitating delinquent children the Legislature should be made aware of your opinions.

Public opinion is something you can be a force in developing—by conversations with friends, by talks to clubs, by letters to editors. And then the Commissioners Court and the Legislature should be made aware of your opinions.

Until we have done whatever is necessary to provide proper facilities for juvenile delinquents, let's not blame the youngsters. Put the blame where it belongs—on the communities and the state.

Ways To Combat Rising Costs Will Highlight Press-Mid-Winter Meet
Ways to combat rising costs will be a topic of major interest at the 11th annual Mid-Winter meeting of the Texas Press Association January 25 at Austin.

"Constantly spiraling cost of operation is today's greatest problem for newspaper publishers, according to TPA President Jimmie Gillentine, publisher of the Hereford Brand.

"We've invited Johnny Barron of LaSalle, Illinois to show us some of the many ways he has devised to cut costs in a newspaper's mechanical department. His talk will be one of the most popular at the meeting."

Barron is mechanical superintendent for the LaSalle News-Tribune. "He has conducted thousands of experiments to find better ways of performing the many varied jobs in a newspaper printing plant and is a popular speaker on the subject," Gillentine added.

Another key feature of the meeting is a special afternoon session for the ladies when Mrs. Kay Metz of the Quaker Oats Company of Chicago will speak. Mrs. Joe T. Cook of Mission is chairman for the session. Mrs. L. B. Smith of Brady will be vice chairman.

Publishers will begin their annual winter meeting with an Early Bird Breakfast which will be followed by a business session. Speakers to appear on the morning program include Governor Price Daniel, Texas' former secretary of state, Tom Reavley; and Ben Reddick, publisher of the News-Press at Newport Beach, California.

Program Development Conference Planned January 31 for Farm Groups

Ways To Combat Rising Costs Will Highlight Press-Mid-Winter Meet

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Heinrich had a number of Mrs. Heinrich family in their home for Christmas holidays, the first time they had been together since 1910. Those visiting here at that time were Mrs. Heinrich's sister, Mrs. T. E. Clifton, James and Adher niece, Mrs. Herb Stepp, Mr. Stepper, Connie, Nancy Terry, all of Salem, Oregon; another sister, Mrs. W. W. Lott, Jorje Ray and of Fort Worth; two uncles, Vin Droemer of Kilgore, Louis Droemer of Slaton, their families; and her mother, Mrs. H. Schuette, also of Slaton.

An all-group farm program development conference will be held in Lubbock Municipal Auditorium January 31, at which time the former Secretary of Agriculture, Charles Brannon, will speak.

Brannon is now general counselor for National Farmers Union of Denver.

Alex Dickie Jr., Denton, president of the Texas Farmers Union, which originated the idea for the conference, explained the meeting is open to all groups. He urged the various farm groups to send representatives.

Producers of all agricultural commodities and all farm organizations in the state are invited to attend, he said.

Primary purpose of the conference will be to develop a comprehensive farm program that will have the backing of the producers of all agricultural commodities.

After a round of speeches during the morning, the conference will be broken down in the afternoon into commodity groups, with the producers in each session working up a program to suit their particular needs. The conference will then reconvene in a general session to map an overall farm program acceptable to the entire group.

Named to head the commodity group discussions were R. G. Peeler, Hereford; George Pfeifferberger, Lubbock; Russell Hogge, Panhandle; Harold Nelson, New Braunfels; and Eck Brown, Dalhart.

Would YOU work for less than 1¢ an hour?

Reddy Kilowatt does!!
Reddy's average residential customer pays him wages of 22 cents a day for electric service. Reddy's on the job 24 hours a day — so he's working for less than a penny an hour.

What's more, Reddy's wages for an hour of work in your home are LESS than they were ten years ago. The cost of living, on the other hand, is up.

The biggest bargain in your family budget? Reddy Kilowatt, of course.

Minister's Week at TCU Attended By Pastor First Christian Church

The Rev. Claude Wingo, pastor of First Christian Church is one of a group of pastors and religious leaders from all over the Southwest who are on the campus of Texas Christian University, Ft. Worth, for the annual Minister's Week being held January 13-16.

Distributive Education Notes

Nine general sessions are to be held, during which three endowed lectureships will be presented. Special worship services and luncheon meetings are also planned.

Dr. C. E. Lemmon of Columbia, Missouri, will deliver the L. N. D. Wells Lectures. His topics will be "The Fire and the Rod," "Rediscovery of the Inner Life" and "The Ever-Flowing Stream."

Dr. Charles F. Kemp, distinguished Professor of Christian Ministries in TCU's Brite College of the Bible will give the three McFadin Lectures.

The first two of the Oreon E. Scott Lectures will be delivered by Dr. Harold L. Langer, Brite professor of Christian Ethics. Third of the Scott Lectures will be by Dr. J. Irwin Miller, lay leader of Columbus, Indiana.

Dr. Miller, a graduate of Yale and Oxford Universities, will be awarded a honorary doctor's degree by TCU for his outstanding service to the church.

In recent years Minister's Week at TCU has drawn more than 400 pastors and religious workers to the campus. Indications are that this year's attendance will be even higher.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Black and children of Farmington, New Mexico, and Mr. and Mrs. E. Lambright of Lubbock are week end guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lambright.

Mrs. Hilbers Buried Monday

Mrs. Eva Gertrude Hilbers was buried in Englewood Cemetery Monday morning after funeral services were held at St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Slaton.

Mrs. Hilbers died early Sunday in Mercy Hospital. She was 60 years of age.

Msgr. T. D. O'Brien officiated at the services. Rosary was recited at the home Sunday evening.

Mrs. Hilbers is survived by her husband, George Hilbers, a son, Clifford Hilbers of Lorenzo; a daughter, Mrs. Bernadine Herring of Hurley, New Mexico; seven brothers, Bernard Nesbitt and J. J. Nesbitt, both of Slaton; C. E. Nesbitt and Vincent Nesbitt, both of San Angelo; Paul Nesbitt, Clovis; Glenn Nesbitt, Texarkana; and Floyd Nesbitt, Lubbock; three sisters, Mrs. Dorothy Newton, Lubbock; Mrs. Olive Stahl of San Angelo; and Mrs. Gladys Reddin, Ft. Stockton.

Williams Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

run at a time. Don't worry about the room at the top of the ladder. I don't know anybody who has been crippled from having been shoved off because of the lack of room up there.

Getting rich quick is not a worthy motive for working. Fall in love with your job and riches will follow in a variety of vouchers. November 16, 1943 I had the honored privilege of having dinner with the late Henry Ford Sr. at Wayside Inn, just outside Cambridge, Mass. While in conversation with him I told him I had heard an answer to the question, "how much money would one have to have to have enough?" His answer would be in an addition to the answer I already had and his reply was "just a little more."

I asked him about the first light bulb that Mr. Edison made burn in River Rouge. He answered that neither of them had expected it to happen but they were determined to follow through regardless of energy, time or any other factor of human origin. I asked him about the clock on the work bench that I had observed in 1941. The clock didn't have any hands on the face, "why was this," I asked. His answer was "We did not measure a day by the hours but time was estimated only after the job was done." There may be something in these suggestions that will help you; it seems to have helped these men and they are admittedly successful.

If we are to have our school in February, we will know within another week. Otherwise, we may have to wait until a later date due entirely to the schedule. Mr. Brown will give us a date as soon as it is possible.
