'58 Cancer Crusade Gets Underway Monday; Workers Beginning 6 p.m. To Canvass Town

Summer Revival Begins Monday At Westview Baptist Church

April 14-20 have been set as dates for the Summer Revival at Westview Baptist Church, according to the pastor, the Rev. Bryan Ross.

Rev. Cole is a native of Humble, Texas, and the son of a Baptist minister. He is a graduate of Hardin-Simmons University and Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary. He has served pastorates in No-trees, Breckenridge, Mineral Wells, Anna, and Lampasas. At present he is pastor of First Baptist Church, Snyder.

Bowen was graduated from Post High School, and Hardin-Simmons, and has attended Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary. At present he is director of music and education at Highland Baptist Church, Lubbock.

"We issue a special invitation to the people of this area to attend and be a part of these services," Rev. Ross said.

Slaton's 1958 Cancer Crusade will get underway at 6 p.m. Monday, April 14, according to Mrs. Tom Claiborne, drive chairman.

Mrs. Claiborne said that this year's drive, like last year's will be a house-to-house canvass conducted by members of various women's civic and study clubs.

Taking part in the drive will be members of the Jaycee-ettes, the Daughters of the Pioneer, Junior Civic and Culture Club, Athenians, and Centurettes.

Volunteer workers will be located at Teague Drug and Citizens State Bank between 10 a.m. and 12 noon and 1 and 3 p.m. Monday, Mrs. Claiborne said. They will be members of the Daughters of the Pioneer Study Club.

Funds derived from the crusade each year go to finance research in the cancer field, and to perfect treatment and find the causes of the disease, as well as for educational purposes in the field.

The local drive, Mrs. Claiborne said, will tie in with the drive being held throughout the country.

Working with Mrs. Claiborne on the Crusade on the publicity are Mrs. Glen Payne and Richard Perry.

Further research and education concerning the symptoms and early detection of the disease could possibly reduce the number of fatal cases to about half of the number at present, according to a statement by an American Cancer Society spokesman. It was pointed out that early detection of the disease made chances for cure much better than in cases where the disease was allowed to progress without treatment.

What To Do in Case of Tornadoes Told by Local Chief of Police

Did your boy lose one of his boots last Saturday? Mrs. Jack Cooper, clerk at the Slaton Pharmacy picked one up in front of the drug store. It is blue and black, size 12, pretty good condition.

Miss Zelda Parkhill brought into the Slatonite office an old flyer sent out by Sears & Roebuck on August 31, 1913. It advertises the latest fashion for women, a floor length house dress. Cost? One dollar.

Miss Parkhill found the old advertisement in an old trunk that had belonged to her father. We appreciate her kindness in bringing it in.

I got a chuckle out of this clipping from the Castro County News: Seems a contractor was building a big fine building and he learned some of the workmen were walking off with some of the supplies, so he put up a fence around the project and posted a guard at the gate.

One man in particular went through the gate every evening wheelbarrow loaded with straw. The guard searched the wheelbarrow dug around in the straw and shook down the man, but could never find a thing. He nearly went crazy looking through the straw in the wheelbarrow every evening and making the man empty his pockets but he could never find a thing.

Finally the job was finished and the guard ran into the worker a few days later downtown. "Now look, bub," he said, "the boss and I both knew you were stealing something from the job but we couldn't catch you. We're both out of work now and it's no skin off either of our backs, so why don't you tell me what you were stealing before I go crazy!"

The workman looked around and whispered into the guard's ear: "Wheelbarrows."

Tornado safeguards were pointed out to members of the Slaton Lions Club at their Tuesday meeting by Bill Daniels, chief of police.

He stated that local officers were working in cooperation with the U.S. Weather Bureau, and other law enforcement agencies in the area in keeping track of tornadoes when they are reported, in an effort to alert the people and keep injuries to a minimum.

Elsewhere in this week's Slatonite is a blank, asking for information concerning storm shelters in Slaton, their location, how many people they will accommodate, to provide local citizens with possible places for shelter in case of need.

The blanks should be mailed or brought to The Slatonite, or the information called to VA 8-4201.

Publication of cellar locations will be made as soon as the data is compiled.

Six simple rules for safety in case of a tornado were reiterated by Daniels. They included:

1. When time permits, go to a tornado cellar, cave, or underground excavation, which should have an air outlet. It should be kept fit for use, free of water, gas, or debris, and preferably equipped with pick and shovel.

2. If you are in open country, move at right angles to the

TO CONDUCT REVIVAL — Rev. Sullivan G. Wallis of Waco will conduct revival services at the Bible Baptist Church beginning Sunday, April 13, through Sunday, April 20. Services will be held daily at 7:30 p.m. Rev. H. E. Summar is pastor of the church.

Red Cross Drive Passes $500 Mark

Slaton's Red Cross drive Tuesday had reached the $500 mark according to Don Crow, drive chairman.

Crow said that about half the reports from workers had been turned in, and that the remainder would probably be in and tabulated by the end of the week.

tornado's path. Tornadoes usually move ahead at about 24 to 40 miles an hour. If there is no time to escape, lie flat in the nearest depression such as a ditch or ravine.

3. If in a city or town, seek inside shelter, preferably in a steel reinforced building. Stay away from windows. Persons in homes should seek the southwest corner of the lowest floor or the basement. People living in brick or stone houses should seek other shelter, preferably in a storm cellar or the basement of a frame house. If time permits, electricity and fuel lines should be shut off. Windows on the north and east sides of the house may also be opened to help reduce damage to the building.

Standing against the inside wall on a lower floor of an office building offers some protection.

4. If in schools in city areas, children should follow the general rules listed above, and in addition, avoid auditoriums and gymnasiums. In rural districts, children and teachers should be removed to a ravine or ditch if a storm shelter is not available.

5. In factories or industrial plants, a look-out should be posted upon receipt of a warning. Advance preparation should be made for shutting off electrical circuits and fuel lines if the tornado approaches the plant.

6. Keep tuned to your radio stations for latest information. Do not call the weather bureau or local law enforcement agencies except to report a tornado, as you may tie up telephone lines urgently needed for special work.

The suggestions for safety, Daniels said, were formulated by the office of the Governor, Division of Defense and Disaster Relief and the U.S. Weather Bureau, in an effort to advise the public of procedures to be followed in case of an emergency.

Local tornado warnings are given through the fire siren, Daniels said. The warnings are sounded when a tornado is sighted within three or four miles of Slaton and headed this way. Three short blasts on the siren will signal tornado danger, he said.

Local police patrol cars are dispatched when a tornado is reported in the area, and reports are received from the cars as to the funnel's whereabouts. Fire department personnel are alerted by the police department as to when the siren should be sounded.

Final Registration Tonight at City Hall for Little League Players

Last chance for registration in Little League baseball for this summer will be held at 7 p.m. tonight at the City Hall Auditorium, according to Norbert Kitten, player-agent.

Kitten said that about 70 boys registered at the meeting Monday. League set-up calls for 12 teams of 15 boys each. He said that league officials were expecting more to register Thursday than did Monday night.

The registration this week will be the last chance for boys to participate in the summer program. In order to qualify under Little League regulations, all boys playing must have been registered, Kitten said.

In order to be eligible to play in Little League, a boy must be 8 years old on or before July 31, 1958, and his 13th birthday must come on or after August 1.

As explained in Little League regulations: "This means that the boy who will be 13 years old on August 1 is eligible to play. Boys who will be 13 years on July 31 or earlier will not be eligible for either local league play or tournament play at any time during the calendar year."

When boys are registered, parents are requested to pay $1 toward the insurance program required by league regulations. H. M. Englund, league president, stated that payment is not mandatory for registration.

Freshman Car Wash
Members of the freshman class at Slaton High School will hold a car wash Saturday at Smoot's Gulf Service, beginning at 8 a.m.

CAN YOU TELL A GOOD EGG FROM A BAD EGG? With the help of this candling machine, Bob Huser, owner of the Huser Hatchery, can grade the eggs according to size and quality. The light at the starting point allows Mr. Huser to see through the egg in order to accept or reject it. The egg is then moved along by means of cup-like metal holders and rests upon automatic weight balancers. The eggs are thus separated according to their proper weight and quality. The size of the eggs shown in an ordinary carton, gives testimony enough that Mr. Huser knows his business. (SLATONITE STAFF PHOTO)

Pony League officials this week announced that registration for the 1958 season will be held at 7:30 p.m. Monday, April 14. Registration will take place at the High School Library. Age limits for boys playing Pony league ball include boys now 12 years old who will be 13 before August 1. Boys who are presently 13 are eligible, as are boys who are presently 14 that will be 15 on or after August 1. Boys 15 years old prior to August 1 will not be eligible to play.

In registering, a boys' parents must accompany him and present a birth certificate or baptismal certificate for certification of birth dates.

League officials stated that boys who were registered last year must register again this year. Birth certificates for boys who have previously been registered with either Little League or Pony League will be on hand Monday night. Players who picked up their birth certificates last year must present them again this year.

Boys living within a 15 mile radius of Slaton are eligible to play in the Slaton league. Tentative plans call for games to begin May 26, with four games to be played each week through July 25.

Managers this year include Pete Lancaster for the Braves; B. R. Underwood, Red Sox; and C. M. McCoy, Tigers. No manager has been named for the Cubs.

James H. Goerge will be Player-Agent. League officers include Sam Ellis, president; Joe W. Belote, vice-president; and E. D. Cummings, secretary-treasurer.

MAIN PENTAGON JOB

It now appears that, though Congress probably will take some action to curb inter-service rivalry in the armed forces, there will not be enough change in the Pentagon to avoid harmful duplication of efforts. The pressure to develop radically new weapons, and the fantastic cost of such weapons, will put new fuel on the fires of competition among Army, Navy and Air Force.

This is not entirely to the bad. There have been occasions when a healthy desire to show up a rival service has resulted in development of a superior weapon. A certain amount of competitive spirit is a good stimulant in any organization, the armed forces not excluded.

The trouble is that this competitive spirit tends to get out of hand. And the fact also must be faced that a lot of inter-service rivalry is a far cry from what is implied in the phrase, "competitive spirit." Much more is involved than a sort of old-school-spirit pride in one's organization. The struggle for more funds and more prestige and power is in dead earnest. Sometimes the struggle, consciously or not, appears to take precedence over the national interest.

Secretary of Defense McElroy seems more inclined than his predecessor was to step in and halt disputes that threaten the national interest. But no amount of willingness to do that can be effective unless the Pentagon is reorganized to play down rivalries and force more sharply on the central task of maintaining the very best defense possible without regard for who gets the credit.

COMING AND GOING

Life, as someone must surely have remarked at one time or another, grows complicated and complicated. Consider, for example, this Wall Street Journal item: "North America Aviation sees rocket-powered airliners, within a decade or so, flying passengers across the country in a breath-taking 30 minutes."

Breath-taking it certainly will be, but there is more to the matter than that. Suppose a New Yorker has an appointment with a Los Angeles man. He wants to get an early start because there is much to discuss so he takes off at 8 o'clock of a bright, sunny day—and arrives at Los Angeles in the gray pre-dawn of 5:30. If that wouldn't throw a chill into the eager New Yorker, what would?

The next time, he figures he'll be smart and time his arrival for the civilized hour of 8:30, when his man will have had breakfast and be ready for business. But to manage this, the New Yorker has to dawdle about town until 11 o'clock, so that when he arrives in Los Angeles he is already under the psychological cloud of having wasted half a day.

As we said, life gets complicated all the time. And it's going to be tough figuring the angles when-cross-country flights in half an hour become possible.

AFTER KHRUSHCHEV

Nikita S. Khrushchev is approaching the age of 64. The man is not going to live forever, nor is he going to solve all the problems of humanity before he passes on yonder to Glory and to Joseph Stalin. Crisis and conflict continue to mark political life in the Soviet Union and the Russian Empire. After Khrushchev, the crisis will be far, far greater than the post-Stalin crisis.

The post-Khrushchev crisis will be the fatal one in the history of the Russian Communist party. Whereas Americans think of Russian deterioration in terms of economics, it will come mainly in politics. And it appears to be inescapable.

America does almost nothing to help this deterioration come, but at least some of our political and intellectual leaders ought to realize that this is a possibility. They need not assume that Khrushchev, like love, is forever. And they could do worse than pay attention to a recent statement by Boris L. Nicolaevsky, one of the truly knowledgeable authorities on Soviet politics now living in this country: "The Soviet Communist party, from all appearances, is moving into a new period of major conflicts."

Pleasure boat manufacturers have just closed a big year and look forward to a bigger one. If this keeps up it may move enough joy riders from automobiles to boats to break the traffic jam.

'Plains Cotton Guide' Developed By Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

The Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. in cooperation with the Texas Extension Service and the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station has drafted a "Plains Cotton Guide."

Personnel of the Extension Service, Experiment Station and other organizations have met with the PCG and planned a coordinated cotton educational and promotional program for the High Plains area.

The new guide will be used for the educational program, which is to be aimed at helping High Plains farmers grow quality cotton and have it processed and marketed for greater profit.

Three Sections
The guide is divided into three sections, production, processing and marketing. It is to be made available to county agents and others who work with farmers throughout the High Plains. All members of the PCG will be mailed a copy.

The guide analyzes the Plains cotton situation and sets forth steps to help producers in the production of higher quality cotton that has more uniformity and good character and in the marketing of such quality cotton for greater profit.

For Better Cotton
"For many years the personnel of the Lubbock Experiment Station have worked on problems to give better quality cotton. However, sometimes these farming tips and suggestions are not as widely publicized as they might be and too many farmers do not know of their importance. In our educational program we hope to spread this type of information throughout the area and help our farmers in producing better quality cotton." W. O. Fortenberry, PCG president, explained.

Directors of the Educational and promotional program at the last board meeting and appropriated necessary funds to carry out such a program.

By cooperating with the Extension Service personnel and members of other organizations, we hope to eliminate duplication of effort and help one another in an overall educational program. George W. Preiffenberger, executive vice president of the PCG, said.

Methods Govern Yield
W. H. Jones, district Extension Service agent, Lubbock, pointed out that production practices in general govern quality and yield. Processing procedures are problems of the farmer in harvesting and of the ginner in ginning cotton.

"The cotton farmer has a greater opportunity to improve his production and harvesting practices than to better the ginning and marketing procedures, but an understanding of how cotton is processed and marketed may enable him to realize more net return from his investment and labor," Jones said.

Earl Hobbs, New Deal president of the Plains Ginner's Assn., sat in on several planning sessions and urged the cooperation of ginner with the farmers in this united effort to raise the quality of Plains cotton.

50,000 Copies
The new cotton guide was printed by Texas A&M College and 50,000 copies are to be distributed to farmers and others in the area.

Eleven of the top cotton officials in this area and in Texas assisted in drafting the cotton guide and have approved the information it contains.

These include Charles Fisher, Don L. Jones, Dr. J. D. Bilbro,

Further speed-ups in the already accelerated Veterans' Land Program are anticipated when money is received from the April 1 sale of $21 1/2 million worth of Veterans' Land bonds.

Bill Allcorn, Chairman of the Veterans' Land Board and Texas Land Commissioner, said that the board had already speeded up its buying program as funds became available on January 16 from sale of a 1 1/2 million bond sale in December 1957.

SPARKS FOR MINDS

ALMOST five centuries ago, Gutenberg's invention of movable type started a revolution. It has been going on ever since.

For five times five centuries—and eons before—a few men were the privileged rulers—by accident of birth or of circumstance. The people were subjects, supporting those thus kept in authority.

However, movable type, by cutting the cost of printing, began the process of making knowledge more widely available. People's understanding then grew. Sparks of hope were awakened in the minds of men. . . . When it became apparent to entrenched authority that permitting wide dissemination of information and ideas might in time destroy their securities, censorship was exercised.

In a search for greater freedom, men of many races and creeds crossed the ocean to establish homes on this continent. They and their children founded here a nation dedicated to a new principle: government by the people, and for the people. And knowing that liberty could be overthrown only by subduing freedom of speech and the press, they provided further that this basic freedom should never be abridged.

That system of government created an opportunity for all men to advance, limited only by their efforts. In but a few generations it won for this people a higher standard of living and of human welfare than had ever before been dreamed possible.

America's freedom of the press has proved to the world that the patriotic instinct of an informed plain people can be relied on to govern wisely and well.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex.—It's a comparatively dull season at the State Capitol now. About the only noticeable "sound and fury" is generated by the workmen putting air conditioning in the legislative chambers and building new state structures nearby.

Last year at this time the Capitol was a turbulent arena. Lawmaker's pounding debates, electric disclosures and close votes kept galleries filled, committee rooms jam-packed.

Now the lawmakers are scattered. But state issues are being decided—elsewhere. Next year's legislators are out "talking with the people to see how they feel."

They're at the church suppers, PTA carnivals, civic club luncheons, lodge nights and cemetery "workings." They're feeling out support, asking questions, making commitments—in your town.

Answers they get and com-mi men's they make now will, in large measure, determine how the close votes go this time next year.

SMALL TURNOVER POSSIBLE—Prospect now is mostly for familiar faces at the legislative desks next January.

Barring a sudden rash of announcements, at least two-thirds of house members and nearly 90 per cent of senators will be old hands.

Latest statewide survey by the Texas Legislative Service shows only three senators—Ottis Lock, Searcy Braecwell and Carlos Ashley—bowing out of politics. There'll be a scramble by House members for those seats.

Of the other 12 senators up for re-election only one, at last count, had an opponent. Remaining 16 in the upper house are having a "breather," since only half of the senate runs each two years.

House of Representatives generally has a large-scale assault on incumbents every election, and about a 30 per cent turnover.

Less upheaval seems likely this year. Only about 20 representatives are not seeking re-election, including those running for the senate. Of those running for the house again, or still undecided, only 30 have announced opponents.

A question mark enters into race decisions this year. Whether or not legislators will have annual sessions and annual salaries will not be decided until the constitutional amendment is voted on next November—after the primaries. For some the prospects of $7,500 yearly is a lure. Others don't like the idea of having to be away from homes and businesses a good part of every year.

AT LAST—Spring has finally sprung in Texas employment, bringing the long-awaited seasonal pick-up in jobs.

Texas Employment Commission's latest report, for the first time since Dec. 20, showed a significant decline in the number of unemployed compensation claims. Drop was from 92,435 to 89,326.

TEC said some 14,974 claimants had exhausted their benefits during January and February. Maximum allowed is $28 a week for 26 weeks.

GROW WITH US—Some 3,000 major new factories will locate somewhere in the South within the next 10 years.

In reporting this prediction, Gov. Price Daniel urged the state's new Industrial Commission to get in and pitch for a Texas-sized share of the incoming wealth and job-making industries.

Chairman E. B. Germany of Dallas said the commission would accept the challenge. He said the commission would study industry-attracting techniques of other states and prepare a brochure on Texas' advantages.

Chief among these, said Germany, head of Lone Star Steel, is a "healthy attitude" among Texans toward industry.

Commission members serve without salary and without state funds to pay for projects. Several hundred dollars in donations have been received.

If voters next November approve an amendment removing the ban on state-financed advertising, the legislature can appropriate money for this purpose.

"MAKE IT PAINLESS"—Tax talk towers over other topics in the build-up for the 1959 legislative session.

West Texas Chamber of Commerce has added a new idea to the stacks of proposals and counter-proposals being presented to the State Tax Study Commission. It suggests making available for general use some of the unused balances tied up

Mrs. Victor Steinhauser
... the former Onita Ehlers ...
(See story on Society page)

in the state's more than 100 special funds.

AFL-CIO says stricter application of present property tax laws might solve the problem without enacting new levies. "Proper enforcement," said a labor spokesman, would tax, not only real estate, but bank deposits, boats, bank shares, stocks, etc. AFL-CIO has previously suggested a corporation income tax to meet the state treasury's expected need for more than $100,000,000 in additional revenue.

Business groups, generally, have opposed the corporation tax, saying it will hamper Texas' industrial development. Some have proposed a general sales tax.

Tax Study Commission already has issued two of a series of 8 to 10 research reports to lawmakers for tax decisions. A third report, on how tax money is used and what future needs will likely be, is due later this month.

Though taxes are a prime campaign issue, legislative candidates are treading delicately around the subject. One said in his announcement that he opposed a general sales tax and a state income tax and that "if additional taxes have to be levied, let's make it as painless as possible."

GOOD ROADS AHEAD—State Highway Commission has given approval to final phase of a 1959-60 state highway building program to cost $319,000,000.

It calls for immediate spending of $9,200,000 for right-of-way buying under the new 50-50 cost-sharing plan between state and local governments.

First phase of the advanced planning program was approved in February. Second phase covers 1,630 miles of roadway in 13 districts at a cost of $40,000,000. This does not include future work on farm to market roads and interstate highways.

SHORT SNORTS—State Selective Service Headquarters has asked local draft boards to send up 4,247 men for pre-induction physical exams during May. It will be second successive month of high quotas—highest since Korean War—to replenish pool of potential military manpower.

Price index of Texas farm products rose 2 per cent from February to March, reports U. S. Dept. of Agriculture. Crops rose 3 per cent, livestock 1 per cent.

Sgt. Jim Burleson and Sp. 2/c Glenn Burleson are home for a visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Burleson. Jim is stationed near Washington, D. C., where he has been since June 1956. He expects to be separated from the service later this year and is planning to enter college. Glenn has been in Japan for the past two years and is home on 30 day leave. He will report to Ft. Benning, Ga., for the remainder of his time in the service.

Mrs. T. V. Ellis visited over the week end in Roscoe with her aunt, Mrs. R. L. Criswell while her husband visited in Fort Worth with his niece, Mrs. Frances Stout.

Inoculation, Irrigation Essential To High Plains Soybean Production

Inoculation and September irrigation are essential to successful Soybean production on the High Plains. This was shown in the tests conducted at the High Plains Station of the Texas Research Foundation in 1957.

Plots of the Lee variety which received September irrigation produced an average of 36 bushels per acre compared to 15 bushels per acre on plots receiving no water after August 25. Beans which were not inoculated produced only 18.5 bushels per acre compared to 36 on inoculated plots.

The application of nitrogen and phosphorus did not increase the yield in 1957. The plots receiving no fertilizer produced as much as did plots where 40 pounds of nitrogen and 40, 80 or 120 pounds of P205 were applied per acre.

A row spacing test was conducted with one and two rows per bed at seeding rate of 40, 50, 60 and 70 pounds per acre. The results of this test indicate no significant difference in yield between one and two rows per bed or between the seeding rates.

These tests will be repeated in 1958 with the addition of potash in the fertilization test.

DPS Director States Enforcement of Inspection Law Will Begin April 16

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Gravel, Martha, Eddie, Jim and Charlie and Alfred Blisard spent the week end with the Gravells' daughter, Mrs. J. R. Brush, Mr. Brush and baby at their farm near Brownwood.

Mrs. Carroll, the former Alta Scott of Slaton, visited last Thursday in Slaton with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cullar. Mrs. Carroll had not been to Slaton since 1928. She now lives in Holbrook, Arizona.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Hodges, Royce, Vicki, Phillip and Michael of Lexington, Okla., came Friday for a week end visit with Mrs. Hodges' parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Edwards. On Sunday the Hodgeses and the Edwardses went to Lubbock to visit Mr. Hodges' brothers.

About one out of every five Texas autos have not been inspected as required by state law, according to Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Only five days remain in which to have the inspection made before the deadline of April 15.

Garrison said that some 700,000 motor vehicles still must pass through the inspection lines prior to April 15 if the vehicle owners are to avoid being handed tickets for violation of the Motor Vehicle Inspection law. Enforcement will begin April 16, he said.

Local Auto Dealers Receive Awards For Participating in Training Classes

Recognition for their contribution to traffic safety was received by two local authorized new car dealers this week, when they were presented Highway Safety Awards by the Texas
Automotive Dealers Association.

The awards were for their loaning cars to local high schools for use in "behind the wheel" training under the high school driver training program.

Doc Crow Chevrolet loaned
a car to Roosevelt High School, and Slaton Motor Co. loaned one to Slaton High School.

The association making the awards is the statewide organization of factory-authorized new car dealers whose members loan cars, without charge, to high schools having duly qualified
"behind the wheel" instructors.
TADA president Sam H.
White, Houston, calls this driver education program one of the most important phases of high school training. Highway safety is dependent upon safe drivers, he said, pointing out that young men who have successfully completed a high school driver training, are given a preferred theory and "behind the wheel" training, or given a preferred insurance rate because they have proven to be safer drivers.

Tom J. Crooks, TADA manager, added that Texas dealers have well over $1 million invested in automobiles, many of them equipped with dual controls, which they furnish the high schools.

In addition they loan pickups to 4-H and FFA groups to familiarize the students with one type of equipment used in agriculture. He said that many schools offer classroom theory only, due to the shortage of qualified "behind the wheel" instructors.

'Training Time' for Growing Flowers Is Upon Us Now

Growing flowers can be just as entertaining as any sports event and the time to start
"training" is now, says a Texas
Tech horticulturist.

Edward W. Zukauckas, assistant professor of horticulture at Tech, points out that while the cheering crowds may not exist, the challenge of proper timing and showmanship is present for any gardener.

For instance, if you wish to have gladioli blooming in your yard by mid-July, better start planting gladioli corms (bulbs) sometime between April 1 and May 10, Zukauckas advises.

Because the number of days between planting and blooming varies from 70 to 120 days for gladioli, it's a good idea to plant corms at various times.
This gives you a greater span of time for blooming flowers in your yard, he added.

The Tech horticulturist names
a number of varieties that excel in this area. Among the All-American selections are varieties such as "Apple Blossom,"
"Caribbean," "Royal Stewart,"
"Emperor," and "Maytime."

Standard varieties that do well in this region are "Spic and Span," "Burma," "Mother Fischer," "King David," "Jene," "Sans Souci," "Traveler," and
"Prospector."

With spring officially here, it's time to start cleaning the trash out of the flower beds, the Tech horticulture department reminds.

It would also be a good idea to watch for plant disease at this time, especially on roses, Zukauckas said. Mildew is the danger for roses this year so spraying with any one of a number of mildew controls containing a copper or sulphur base is advisable. Spray every two weeks.

Do they confuse you a little?
They do us too! Without a Disability Payments at Age 50 Now Available from Social Security

Of special interest to disabled workers is the provisions of the Social Security Act which provides for disability payments at age 50.

In order to qualify for these benefits, the disabled person must be unable to perform any substantial gainful activity and must have worked under social security for at least 5 out of the 10 years immediately preceding the date he became disabled. At least a year and a half of this work must have been during the three years just before the disability began.

In addition, the disabled individual must have filed an application for these benefits.
Disabled workers who have been unable to work for a prolonged period may lose their rights to disability payments at age 50 if they do not file an application before June 30, 1958. Failure to file for these disability provisions may also affect their rights to benefits upon retirement and to benefits for their survivors in the event of the worker's death.

Any disabled person who meets the requirements set forth above is urged to contact his nearest social security office. If the individual is unable to make this contact in person, a friend or relative may notify the Social Security Administration in his behalf.

A representative of the Lubbock Social Security Office will be in Slaton on April 15, 1958 at 9 a.m. at the Red Cross Room City Hall and will be glad to assist in all matters pertaining to Social Security.

"How's the refrigerator I sold you?" he asked.

"Well," said the smiling Eskimo. "But my wife still doesn't have the knack of chopping up the ice squares to fit those little trays."

Mr. Farmer... The New Plains Cotton Guide

Recommended By

Plains Cotton Growers Inc., Agricultural Experiment Station & Extension Service

CAN MAKE YOU MONEY WITH HIGHER QUALITY COTTON IN 1958

Production practices govern quality and yield. Do your best to see that your land preparation is adequate. Check your soil fertility needs now so that maximum production of quality cotton will not be hampered by lack of nitrogen, phosphorus, potassium or organic matter. Sub soil moisture may be adequate — but check to be sure.

Planting time is almost here. Optimum planting dates on the High Plains are May 5-20. Later planting usually results in lower quality. Before planting be sure the minimum soil temperature averages 60 degrees for 10 days at an 8-inch depth from the top of the bed. Use delinted, treated seed and check for germination. A uniform stand of approximately four stalks per foot in 40-inch rows is recommended. The method of harvest to be used should help determine the variety planted.
