PROUD DAY FOR THE SANTA FE— Members of the Mechanical Department of the Slaton Division of the Santa Fe were justifiably proud last Friday when they were presented one of two safety awards given in the entire Santa Fe system. H. E. Anderson, Master Mechanic

LITTLE LEAGUER—His uniform might not be the right size, and his shoes are amply large, but that doesn't keep Robert Glenn Englund from being a full-sized Little League Booster. Little Leaguers in Slaton will hold their fund-raising drive this week end, when they canvass the town with peanut patties. The 15-ounce patties, selling for 50c, are freshly made just for the Slaton Little League, according to C. D. Harden, drive chairman. League officials said, in connection with the drive, that besides boosting Little League in Slaton, with the patties, they're certainly getting their money's worth in Merchandise. It's a good chance to help the boys of our town have a profitable summer. (SLATONITE STAFF PHOTO)

It happened at Westview Wednesday night: Rev. Ross took his place at the speaker's platform and began: "What Time is It?" Promptly came the reply, "Eight thirty," another person answered, "I have eight-twenty," and another thought both answers wrong; he had eight twenty-five. When the hub-bub died out, Bro. Ross looked a bit flustered. "I wasn't asking the time," he stated, "that is the title of my talk."

The paper was hardly off the press Thursday when calls began to come in lauding the Slatonite for taking a stand against sidewalk solicitors. And according to one clerk, they don't always stay on the sidewalk. They come right into a store and try to sell the clerks an item that she can buy from an orthodox business right next door.

As one woman put it, "They're driving me nuts!" She also stated that she didn't know the downtown area was infested because the door-to-door salesmen (and women) kept her so busy that she didn't have time to go to town!

The Slatonite wins again — this time 2nd place in the Texas Panhandle Press Association for typography and Press work. . . . Now consider that that award came after the battle — competition from every week — newspaper in the association) — and you can see that it's no small honor.

Last week I promoted Mr. Green of Green's Jewelry Store as official timekeeper of the Santa Fe Railroad. On Mr. Green's advice, I now bust him back to Official Time Inspector, his proper title.

Loyalty and generosity are wonderful traits, and perhaps railroad men have them in abundance that do others. I had little story that seems to prove this point happened (Continued on Back Page)

THEY'RE TAKING A BEATING—Shrubbery at the Clubhouse in Slaton's park is taking quite a beating this spring, according to C. D. Willis, custodian. Bushes such as these shown here, which have taken quite a number of years to grow to the size they are now, are being beaten down by carelessness, Willis said, when youngsters climb all over them. Quite often in recent weeks youngsters have been seen climbing all through the shrubs, and destroying them. Willis urged the youth, as well as their parents and sponsors to be more careful when using the facilities provided in the park. (SLATONITE STAFF PHOTO)

SPOKEN LITERATURE

Reading aloud has become, if not a lost art, at least an art transformed. Though homes where books are read aloud are much fewer than they were a generation ago, the sound of spoken literature is increasingly familiar. This seeming paradox is explained by the fact that a wealth of poetry, fiction and drama now is available on long-playing records.

A happy result of this is that one can hear the words of great writers beautifully spoken by trained voices. Often, in the case of contemporary writings, the voices are those of the poet or novelist himself. Chaucer's Canterbury Tales may be heard in the archaic speech of his time, so that the sound of them is much as it was when they were first told. Shakespeare, Milton, Wadsworth and Shelly—the whole range of English poetry, spoken with clarity and feeling, can be brought into the living room.

No mechanical reproduction of sound can substitute for the warmth and intimate pleasure of reading aloud in the family circle. Yet the recordings are to be prized because they help to enrich and preserve our cultural heritage.

TOO MANY MOONLETS

If anyone had ventured to suggest publicly, around the end of World War II, that within 15 years or so there would be a serious problem because of too many satellites cluttering up space near the earth, doubtless he would have been regarded as a ridiculous visionary or even a madman. Today we take such predictions in stride, because enough has happened to make us aware that anything more could happen.

The fact is that the problem of too many satellites whizzing around the earth is, for all its comic overtones a potentially serious matter. The hazards were pointed out by John P. Hagen, director of Project Vanguard, in testimony before a House committee studying space problems. If there are too many moonlets aloft, he noted, our military forces—or, conceivably, those of some other nation—might mistake one of them for an incoming missile and take retaliatory action that would start a big war.

The prospect of having too many satellites in orbit is not a remote one. Hagen believes that the number will be "far beyond the fingers of two hands" in a year or so. It will be hard for the armed forces to keep track of all those, and the difficulty will go up as the number of moonlets rises.

Hagen has proposed a way out. He suggests that there be an international conference to limit both the number of satellites and the kinds of radio transmitters they may carry. Such an agreement would be easy to police; it would be entirely possible to limit the number and kind of satellites. The step is one that should be taken before the problem approaches the danger point.

ONLY JAZZ IS JAZZ

For many persons, perhaps a majority, jazz is associated with the "roaring 20s," the coonskin coat and bathtub gin. This general impression has been carried down through the years until virtually all popular music, even the "top 40" played endlessly on the radio, has become identified with this vaguely defined term, jazz.

Yet actually jazz is a particular kind of music that has little or nothing to do with so-called popular tunes. It is a peculiarly American form of musical expression, with Creole origins. It has spread all over the world, even behind the Iron Curtain; Stalin called it "odious" but couldn't suppress it permanently.

Jazz burgeoned and became the vehicle for much of modern musical invention. Many fine artists are finding this medium the most adaptable to the ideas they wish to express musically. So when the "pop" tunes get on your nerves, don't blame jazz. Your true jazz man is a serious musician who wouldn't be caught playing most of the stuff poured out by the platter spinners.

A partial return to rural capitalism is seen in a move by Khrushchev to increase private farmland in order to augment meat and dairy production. Khrushchev is still red—especially his face.

British actress April Olrich declared after a nationwide tour that American men are the world's most romantic. Well, it is about time for giving credit where credit is due.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

AUSTIN, Tex.—If you drive a car, 1958 will be a good year to play closer-than-ever attention to how you drive it.

Under Gov. Price Daniel's "Texas plan" to reduce highway fatalities, the spotlight will be on individual driving practices as never before.

Speeders and drunken drivers will be prime targets. Governor Daniel is heading a drive to mobilize all the state's resources to combat "the threat of public disaster. Annual loss of life, health and property in traffic accidents," he said, "is greater than the loss sustained in all our natural disasters combined."

Five-point "Texas plan" involves (1) cooperation between all safety and enforcement officials, (2) formation of local traffic safety councils, (3) public education to the problem, (4) road improvement at hazardous spots and (5) more rigid enforcement and certainty of punishment for violations, especially drunken driving and speeding.

Last year 2,539 persons were killed in traffic and 122,000 were injured. Even so, 1957 ratio of fatalities to miles traveled was down—from 6.5 deaths per 100 million miles in 1956 to 6 deaths per 100 million miles in 1957.

Department of Public Safety Director Homer Garrison Jr. attributes the reduced rate to lower average speed. Texans saved 111 lives, he said, by slowing down average speed by 1.6 miles per hour.

Goal for 1958 is more ambitious—to save 254 lives or one for each Texas county.

It's up to every Texan, said the governor, to "accept traffic safety as a do-it-yourself project."

TOWARD SAFER ROADS—An important arm of the anti-accident campaign is a $43,000,000 program to rebuild some hazardous spots in the highway system.

Governor Daniel and State Highway Engineer DeWitt Greer formally launched this work by placing a "drive carefully" sign by a narrow bridge on a farm road near Austin. Scene of previous accidents, the bridge is to be widened.

State Highway Department allocated $25,000,000 to the emergency safety construction fund, and $18,000,000 will come from federal funds.

MONEY HUNT—Gloomy predictions abound as government and industry leaders look toward the state's 1959 financing problems.

These extra projects will mean 20,000 new jobs in the state, says Commission Chairman Marshall Formby. Each million-dollar project brings an estimated $1,000 a day for six months into the affected community, he said.

"Times have been so good since World War II," commented Formby, "that most people have forgotten the impact of a highway dollar."

SHORT SNORTS—Major crimes committed in Texas increased from 104,451 in 1956 to 116,899 in '57, reports the FBI. It was an increase of approximately 11 per cent for Texas compared to 9 per cent nationwide . . .

Unemployment figures moved up again in Texas Employment Commission's latest report. Total number of persons filing claims was 91,328 compared to 91,214 for the previous week.

Total payments were $1,875,520 compared to $1,830,794 . . . Texas Court of Criminal Appeals has the task of deciding whether Promoter BenJack Cage got a fair shake in the trial that brought him a 10-year sentence on charges of embezzling $100,000. Defense attorneys contend the money, withdrawn from ICT Corp. and channeled through a maze of Cage enterprises, never went to Cage personally. Prosecutors retort the route was purposely devious . . .

Building construction awards for March increased 29 per cent—almost three times the expected 10 per cent seasonal increase. Dollar-wise, construction for the first quarter of '58 was within one per cent of the same period in '57 says the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. But, allowing for higher costs, the volume was 4 per cent below '57.

Oil industry spokesmen served notice that oil, even if it pulls out of its present slump, cannot produce nearly enough revenue to save the day.

Charles W. Alcorn, president of Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association, predicted a need for as much as $65,000,000 a year in extra revenue. "Even if all imported crude oil were cut off from the U.S.," he said, "we would stand to gain only about $20,000,000 a year."

MORE NEEDED—Further complicating the fiscal picture are statements, such as that of the State Board of Corrections, that it will need more money from the Legislature next year.

Chairman H. H. (Pete) Coffield said the Board will ask for $8,000,000 in building funds and a $1,500,000 increase in its operating budget.

State prisons are overflowing, says Mar. O. B. Ellis, with more to come. Prison population (10,400) has doubled in the past seven years while population as a whole increased 24 per cent. ANCHORS AWEIGH—After 115 years, Texas again has a Navy.

Governor Daniel has reactivated the Texas Navy and called on the some 286,000 owners of powered craft to join up. Nucleus of the fleet will be the Texas Game and Fish Commission's 180 boats.

Their purpose will be to defend, if necessary, the 10½ miles of tidelands claimed by Texas and assist with civil defense in time of disaster.

A large early response by boat owners and previously commissioned admirals "convinces me we're going to have the largest Navy in the world," said the governor.

Texas had a vigorous, if small, navy in the days of the revolution and Republic. It thwarted Mexican efforts to blockade the Texas coast and boldly raided Mexican ports. It ended its last expedition in 1843 and after annexation was incorporated into the U.S. Navy.

20,000 NEW JOBS—State Highway Commission will start taking bids next month on $36,000,000 in "extra" road building projects made possible by the new federal aid bill.

Texas gets $24,000,000 in federal funds, puts $12,000,000 in

May is United Cerebral Palsy Month and, of course consecrates Memorial Day on the 30th. MOTHER'S DAY, MAY 11th, IS ONE DAY EVERYBODY CELEBRATES. Appropriately, we all remind ourselves that without Mothers, none of us would be here. We'll give Fathers a little credit next month, but this one day, at least, Mother is queen. OUR PHARMACY IS MOTHER'S PERMANENT HELPER. She visits us often to secure the many health-aids that keep her loved ones well. When sickness strikes a member of her flock, mother entrusts us with the compounding of the prescription her physician prescribes. MOTHERS KNOW THAT PHARMACISTS ARE DEDICATED TO THEIR BETTER HEALTH. We hope that they will come to us for any information or help a pharmacy can ethically supply.

The Thinker . . . are you one?

A lot of drivers give very little thought to the care of their cars. Most any gasoline will do, or indifferent service. Not so the thinking man!

He knows his car is a big investment. He wants the best gasoline and motor oil and the best service he can get to prolong his car's life, improve its performance, maintain its value.

What promises to be the culmination of one of the most cherished hopes of J. S. Edwards of Slaton, will be a reality in the near future if the farm-to-market road is authorized from Slaton to Idalou and from Lynn County to the Lubbock County line. Mr. Mansker reports that the completion is the No. 1 project of the year from the Lubbock County Commissioners and that if at all possible the road will be put through this summer.

The people who didn't drive by the park Friday night to see the Indian Ceremony the Boy Scouts of Slaton and Post put on, missed something.

Early in the afternoon, Cecil told the Scout Leader the boys could get water from our house. I was kept busy for two days talking with boys who came for water, sometimes in twos and fours. Now, I understand their oath. "Upon my honor, I will do my best to do my duty to God and my country, etc." Those boys were tops with me before they left Saturday.

Having three brothers of my own, I've decided I know the answer to the question, "What is a boy?"

After a male baby has grown out of long clothes and triangles and has acquired pants, freckles, and so much dirt that relative do not dare kiss it between meals, it becomes a boy.

A boy's nature's answer to that false belief that there is no such thing as perpetual motion. A boy can run like a deer, swim like a fish, climb like a squirrel, balk like a mule, bellow like a bull, eat like a pig, or act like a jackass, according to climatic conditions.

It's impossible to touch off a firecracker, strike up a band, pitch a ballgame, or turn an ice cream freezer without drawing a host of boys.

Boys are not ornamental. They are useful. If it were not for boys the newspapers would go undelivered. A boy can easily do the family errands with the aid of five or six adults. The zest with which a boy does an errand is equaled only by the speed of a turtle on a July day.

A boy is a piece of skin stretched over an appetite. He is a growing animal of superlative promise, to be fed, watered and kept warm. Every boy born is evidence that God is not yet discouraged of man.

A noise, covered with smudges, he is called a tornado because he comes in at the most unexpected times, hits the most unexpected places, and leaves everything a wreck behind him.

Boys are very durable. A boy, if not washed too often and if kept in a cool, quiet place after each accident, will survive broken bones, horns, swimming holes, fights and nine helpings of pie.

A boy loves to trade things. He will trade frogs, fishing hooks, marbles, broken knives, and snakes for anything that is priceless or worthless. When he grows up he will trade puppy love, energy, warts, bashfulness, and a cast iron stomach for a bay window, pride, ambition, pretense, and a bald head, and will immediately begin to say that boys are not what they were in the good old days.

PAULINE SCOTT.

Texans improved their driving sufficiently in 1957 to lower the motorcade total by 72 persons over the all-time record high of 2,611 who met death in the highways in 1956, but they paid increasingly for it while adding more than two billion (B) miles to the distances they traveled.

The annual final report of the Statistical Division of the Texas Department of Public Safety shows that Texas motor-rides dropped from the record-breaking 2,611 in 1956 to 2,539 in 1957.

Those totals left 1956 the greatest killer-year of all in Texas, traffic-wise, and gave 1957 the dubious honor of being the second worst. But there was an improvement of 3 per cent.

Governor Price Daniel's traffic safety director, Brad Smith, said the new total means "72 Texans lived through 1957 who would have been killed in Texas traffic had the 1956 death rate continued," and added: "Something was done when the full horror of the 1956 highway tragedy in this great state became known."

Smith called attention to passage by the Texas Legislature of Senate Bill 471, establishing the Texas Traffic Safety Council, as an example of the swift action that followed the 1956 tragedy. This bill called on six of the top agencies and departments of the Texas State Government to use their influence and personnel to help solve the problem. The Council, headed by Gov. Daniel as chairman and Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the DPS as vice-chairman, staged three special safety publicity campaigns last year during heavy holiday traffic periods. These spot campaigns apparently helped reduce the usual toll during those periods. A co-ordinated program of activity, involving these and several other state departments, is now being developed.

While the 1957 death toll was down 3 per cent from 1956, the number of accidents jumped from 61,945 to 67,886, about 10 per cent, and the number of injuries increased by some 9.6 per cent, from 111,501 in 1956 to 122,195 in 1957.

At the same time, Texans increased their traveling by 6 per cent, from an estimated 40.1 billion (B) miles in 1956 to 42.2 billion (B) miles in 1957. The death rate per 100 million vehicle miles driven showed a decrease of 8 per cent, dropping from 6.5 deaths for every 100 million miles in 1956 to 6.0 in 1957.

Estimated economic loss from Texas motor-rides, plus human injuries and property damage, amounted to $277,500,000, an increase of $47,800,000 over 1956.

Col. Garrison pointed out that the reduction in the death rate and the increase in the vehicle miles traveled, greatest in the history of the state, meant that Texas highways last year were actually safer than ever before.

But both Col. Garrison and Smith agreed that the price of 2,539 lives lost on Texas highways was too high, but that only careful obedience to traffic laws and careful driving attitudes on the part of Texas drivers could reduce the toll.

"Thankful as we are that both the death toll itself and the death rate were down," Smith

The Slaton, Tex., Slatonite Thursday, May 1, 1958 concluded, "nobody in Texas takes any pride in the loss of 2,539 Texans in this needless way. And worse, while Texans were driving an extra 46 million miles a week last year, they were injuring an extra 206 persons in an extra 114 crashes every week and the economic losses were jumping at the rate of $92,000 a week over the 1956 rate. Even for fabulous Texas, this was unbelievably fantastic waste."

75 Junior High Boys, 25 Dads Spend Weekend at Lake Stamford

About 75 boys and 25 dads took part in the third annual Junior High School boys Athletic Club outing this past weekend when the group went to Lake Stamford, some 150 miles from Slaton.

Under the direction of Coach Maurice Kerr, the boys spent Saturday and Sunday camping, fishing, and having a good time.

The group left the Slaton Junior High Field House about 6 a.m. Saturday in buses and cars. The boys pitched their own tents, cooked many of their meals, and enjoyed swimming, boating and fishing.

Other activities included games of horseshoes, flying kites, exploring the territory around the lake, and other things that boys from 11-15 will naturally wander into.

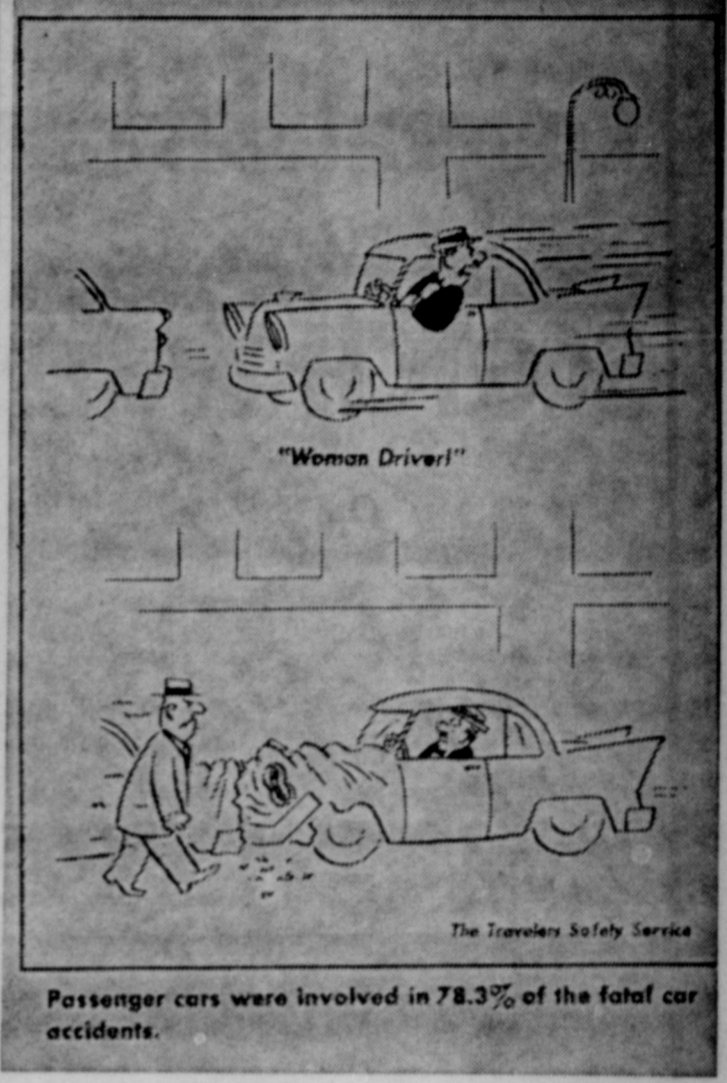

One of the parents cited the casualties as the "usual number of pans of eggs tipped over in the fire when they were ready to eat, fish and bacon cooked a little too much, and baked potatoes burned to a crisp.

The biggest fish were caught

COACH AND CAMPERS—Coach M. W. Kerr of Slaton's Junior High School, is shown here with some of the boys that accompanied him on the school bus. About 45 boys took the bus to the camp, the others went in cars. Passenger cars were involved in 78.3% of the fatal car accidents.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE LUNA TICKS—Campers David Cross, Gregg Nowlin and Kenneth Hargraves, cookin' chow in a kettle in true outdoor style. This trio titled themselves "Mighty Moon Men" and claimed to have direct contact with men on the moon by means of a kite they kept flying "sky-high." They intrigued their fellow tent neighbors with an "electric light with no wires" that illuminated their tent at night. One of their signs read "Peepul are No Earthly Good." Sponsor for the boys was Frederic de Vries. (Photo by Frederic de Vries.)

by L. A. Enloe, C. B. Tefertiller and J. H. George, who came in with a string of channel cats, some weighing more than eight pounds.

Honors for catching the most fish went to Mike Brown, Joe Wicker and Robert Hoffman.

Vehicles for transporting camping equipment were furnished by "Pat" Patterson and Raymond Smoot. The entire trip was under the sponsorship of the Slaton Junior High Athletic Club.

Boys making the trip included Larry Bark, Billy Ganus, Carroll Holley, Gary Peebles, Dickie Marriott, Keith Campbell, Larry Talbert, Ellis Gill.

G. Degan, David Elder, J. Hendrix, Fred Brookshire, Don Biggs, G. Clark, LoLo Diaz, Travis Hendrix, Jimmy Ayers, Bruce Pember, Allan Reasoner, T. McCormick, Butch Custer, Max White.

On April 4, 1776, the U.S. Navy made its first capture of an enemy ship when the UCC Columbus captured the British tender Hawk, while returning from a raid on New Providence, in the Bahamas.

The term bluestocking to describe a learned woman was first used in Boswell's "Life of Johnson."

Rev. and Mrs. James B. Sharp and children will attend homecoming at St. Mark's Methodist Church Sunday evening in Midland. Rev. Sharp organized St. Mark's and was pastor for five years before coming to Slaton.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Foster and Charlotte visited Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Clary and Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Franklin in San Angelo last week end.

In 1957, 1,330 Americans were killed in train-car crashes.

SAFE BY A SHADE—This trio won't have to run for cover at Cypress Gardens, Fla., come rain or come shine. Their unique headgear combines the features of both hats and umbrellas, while protecting the hairdos.

PACHED WITH POWER—Speed's lacking, but there's plenty of power for this one-elephant open sleigh. Going along for the ride is seven-year-old Walter Theisinger, of Hamburg, Germany. The plodding pachyderm is 65-year-old "Mennie," resident at the local zoo. Walter's father is the zoo keeper, thus explaining the special privilege.

VERSATILE DRIED BEEF, long-time favorite of Texas homemakers, proves its adaptability for the Texas Beef Council by going to a party as an appetizer, appearing at breakfast or lunch as Creamed Chipped Beef on Toast, and magically reappearing at dinner as Chipped Beef and Macaroni au Gratin.

Versatile Dried Beef Answer To Meal Problems

Dried beef sliced wafer-thin is one of our most versatile foods in its most versatile form, and is recognized by the Texas Beef Council this month as the answer to many prayers and meal problems.

To the sophisticated hostess, it's a delightful appetizer for her guests; to the children it's something REAL good to put in sandwiches; and to the homemaker it's a delicious, inexpensive breakfast, lunch or dinner stored on her "emergency shelf."

In addition to its versatility, dried chipped beef means other things to other people: nutrition experts approve the slow curing process, a gradual one which shrinks the bulk of the meat without depleting food values. A pound of dried beef, they find, has approximately the protein and vitamin content of two pounds of fresh beef.

"Chipped Beef and Horseradish Log" and "Dried Beef Pinwheels" are two appetizers which lend themselves to almost endless variation, and they should be prepared a day ahead—which the Beef Council considers one of the nicest recommendations a party dish can have.

Chipped Beef and Horseradish Log

2 3-ounce packages cream cheese
2 teaspoons horseradish (more, if desired)
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
2 2 1/2-ounce jars or 1 4-ounce package dried chipped beef
2 tablespoons butter

Soften cream cheese with horseradish and mustard (if you prefer highly-spiced foods, increase the horseradish slightly). Chop the dried beef until fine and saute in butter until well frizzled. Form the cheese mixture into a log, or into small balls, and roll in the dried beef. Wrap in wax paper and chill. Serve either on cocktail picks or on toasted crackers.

Dried Beef Pinwheels

4 tablespoons onion chopped very fine
8 ounces cream cheese
2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
8 ounces dried beef (2 4-ounce packages)

Mix the onion, Worcestershire sauce and room-temperature cream cheese. Arrange slices of dried beef on a sheet of wax paper to form a solid sheet of beef, spread with the cheese mixture, and roll up like a jelly roll. Wrap rolls in wax paper and store in refrigerator for 24 hours or longer. Just before serving, slice with sharp knife into thin pinwheels and impale on cocktail picks.

For a luncheon or snack sandwich treat, add one 4-ounce package of dried beef, chopped fine, to your favorite egg and olive salad recipe, omitting salt, or use this one to make 4 to 6 sandwiches.

Dried Beef and Egg Sandwiches

4 ounces dried beef, chopped fine
2 tablespoons chopped onion
1 cup chopped celery
4 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
1/2 cup salad dressing

Combine all ingredients and chill in refrigerator about 1 hour. Serve on buttered rye or whole wheat bread for sandwiches or in lettuce cups for salad.

"Creamed Chipped Beef on Toast" is a classic favorite for a hearty breakfast, a quick-and-easy lunch, or a family supper.

Creamed Chipped Beef on Toast

For 3 or 4 servings: Cut 4 ounces of dried chipped beef into pieces, cover with boiling water, and drain immediately. Make 2 cups of medium white sauce by combining 4 tablespoons melted butter or cooking oil and 4 tablespoons flour over low heat. Mix thoroughly, gradually add 2 cups milk, stirring constantly until the mixture thickens, and then cook 3 minutes longer. Add chipped dried beef and 1/4 teaspoon pepper, and serve on toast points.

Having served faithfully and well as breakfast and lunch, dried beef completes the cycle of meal-time versatility by moving successfully to the dinner table as a main dish:

Chipped Beef and Macaroni Au Gratin

Combine the above recipe for Creamed Chipped Beef with 2 cups hot cooked macaroni and 1 1/2 cups shredded cheese. Turn mixture into a shallow 2-quart casserole and bake in a moderate oven (350 F.) 25 to 30 minutes. Yield: 6 servings.

Spell It Sacque Or Chemise; It's The Style

As the curtain goes up on fashions for spring '58 the silhouette (or the lack of it) is a controversial topic.

Whether the word for it is "sacque" . . . "chemise" . . . or "shift," it's an unfitted look that points up a new concept of design and execution.

From the latter part of 1957 to this day in spring 1958, Fashion has spread the word that the CHEMISE is IT!

What is more there are so many novel interpretations of the chemise styling — that no one fashion represents the silhouette in toto.

Basically the chemise is unfitted . . . the waistline is not clearly defined, nor is there any particular emphasis on the bosom.

The look at the hips is slim, uncluttered and unfettered. Side kick-pleats and slits, others at the back bring the eye down to the hemline.

Interesting highlights are draped cowl backs, cut low or high with heavy drapery; important too, is the cocoon-shape with standaway neckline, low placed pockets or cocoon-shaped back with the softly-shaped tie-front.

Two piece effects are achieved by the cowl-drape back, the overblouse look or by means of dramatic, bloused or draped backs. Column-type chemises, with interesting neckline detailing and accent marks of bows or special trims at the hemline are earmarked for the more slender figure.

Fitted-front sheaths, with tapered, controlled backs will look flattering on the average figure.

Shoulder and bustline detailing marked by fine tailoring softens the unfitted line for the heavier-bosomed woman and carries the sleek look down to about the knees where bow, banding or other detailing points up its high fashion!

The many variations on these themes are pointed up by coat-shifts; buttoned from hem to below the chin—in classic lines with gentle-drawstring waists; hipband accents and oversize pockets.

There are cropped and barely-shaped over-tops; belts pulled through a tunneling of fabric, and straight shifts to be worn with or without belt, at will.

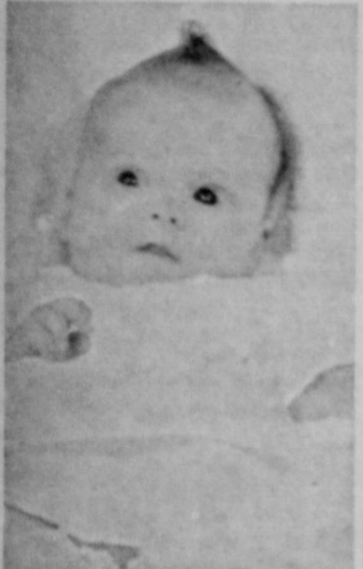

At the Back of It!

Throughout all the spring collections, the back catches the eye with the lowest possible back lines . . . with gathered fullness . . . with bustle effects . . . low placed bands of color and other coquettish detail.

Popular selling styles, already proven in fall and winter's wools, crepes, wool crepes and jersey, will appear importantly for spring in linen-like silks, silk surahs, in wrap prints, silk shantung, and the breeziest of spring jerseys.

The chemise styling has brought up the hemlines to 15 and 16 inches . . . (and is some styles even higher).

Flash! Fever On Rampage

Watch out! Spring Fever is on the rampage! Seems that the fever is catching everyone.

The fever, very contagious, has nearly everyone in its clutches.

Symptoms of the fever include drowsiness (only while studying), windwittis—for example, watching the fifth period girl's baseball class, love-sickness—just ask Hugh Van and Karen, Jerry and Pam, Alfred and Martha, or Carlton and Della, an overwhelming desire to play hooky, or the feeling to oversleep—and be late to school and then try to get past the office and slip into class.

Be careful who you associate with, for they may have it! (The fever.)

Cling Peaches-Cottage Cheese

Salad Buffet with "suit-yourself" toppings
 Get new buffet idea! One big bowl of golden cling peaches and cottage cheese... small bowls of toppings... then everybody makes their own!
 Try marshmallows bits, cranberry sauce, salted raisins, ground carrots, sliced almonds, even chopped preserved ginger.
 Whatever the topping, they're all good combined with the delicious, sweet-tasting peaches you can find—clings from California.
