Webb's clearance sale of last week has been the talk of the town. Some fifty women were said to have been waiting for the doors to open, and in a cold blowing snow, too! With the telephone ringing, and shoppers so thick, it took Alex some time even to work his way to the telephone. Elsewhere in the Slatonite you will find a picture of a part of the crowd. You know me, I couldn't make it while things were really popping but came dragging in around eleven. As it was, there was some 25 people caught in the photo. Notice that hardly anyone looked up. Even with the flashlight going off, the shoppers didn't notice our care. That is unusual, and shows how intent they were on the merchandise.

If you're interested in the new spring fashions, turn to WHEELER'S page ad, and let's see what's new. Dresses with a waist line make me very happy. You'll be happy too, that Wheeler is having a style show Thursday night at 8:00 p.m. with live models. All of the dresses you see in Wheeler's ad will be modeled. Mrs. Joe Walker Jr. will narrate. I don't have a complete list of the models as of now, but I do know that Mrs. Calvin Lamb is to model and you know as well as I do, that she is a living doll. Other living dolls that come to mind are Peggy Crow, Lucille Ayers, Patsy Davis; they are not modeling in the show as far as I know—'t's just that when I think of glamour, I think of them. And there are others of course, but the list would be too long. Anyway, be at Wheeler's at eight o'clock on Thursday and let's see what the months ahead will hold—fashionwise.

I feel the urge to throw another bouquet: Ready! I vote for Mrs. Leo Hensler, as most gracious and somehow dramatic person I know; Mrs. Ala McClanahan as the most serene and poised; (and the boss's merchant-prodessor and Mrs. Albert Kuss for having the most wonderful telephone voice. I've never met Mrs. Kuss but have talked with her many times and if she is as nice as her voice, I'm missing a treat.

Stay tuned to this column next week and we'll have a run-down on the men in Slaton and see who gets a vote for what.

"GIVE TO THE HAND OF MERCY" is the slogan for this year's Mother's as they make their annual march on polio. We're all acquainted with the Mother's March of Dimes. This year a new three point program is being stressed. Polio, birth defects, and arthritis are all included on the fight. According to Mary Lee Schutte, program chairman, the marchers will wear white gloves to symbolize and dramatize the fact that the hand of the Mother is put forth in order to secure mercy for these sufferers. When you see the white glove at your door on January 27th—remember that it is the hand of mercy—and give.

Pink And Blue Shower Honors Mrs. Roy Jones

A pink and blue shower honoring Mrs. Roy Jones, Friday, Jan. 16, at 7:30, was in the home of Mrs. Boyd Wright. Mrs. Jones' corsage was pink and blue baby rattlers with net and tiny baby dolls tied to them. Refreshments of cookies, nuts, mints, coffee and cakes were served to twenty-one guests. Several games were played and decorations were tiny baby clothes hanging from miniature close lines all through the house.

BLUE CRUTCH GIRL

John W. Bagby, left, gets the first Blue Crutch to be sold in Slaton this year in the connection with the March of Dimes. Girl Scout Diana Schuette pins the lapel tag on Bagby. Local Girl Scouts will be selling Blue Crutches on the streets of Slaton this Saturday to get the MoD campaign underway here. Miss Schuette is a member of Girl Scout Troop 107 and is a sister of Miss Mary Lee Schuette, local MoD Campaign Chairman.

March Of Dimes Campaign Will Get Underway Here This Saturday

Launching an expanded attack on behalf of a whole new group of physically underprivileged persons in this community and throughout the country, the "Greater Victories" March of Dimes will get underway Saturday in Slaton, Mary Lee Schuette, campaign chairman here, has announced.

A short, hard-hitting campaign will be conducted in Slaton, Miss Schuette said. On Saturday, local Girl Scouts will be on the streets downtown selling Blue Crutches on behalf of the MoD.

Next Tuesday, starting at 5:30 p.m., the Mothers March will be held.

The little Blue Crutch lapel tag, symbol in the past of the needs of polio patients, will be a token of hope for many handicapped by other ailments during the 1959 MoD, Miss Schuette said.

The tags this year will identify donors to the expanded National Foundation program of continued polio aid plus a new medical assault on arthritis and birth defects and basic research aimed at improvement of man's health. They will be sold by Girl Scout volunteers at busy intersections, other street corners, shopping areas and elsewhere.

In the Mothers' March activities, plans call for participation by the Jaycee-Elites, Centurettes, Jr. Civic and Culture Club, the Athenian Club and several other volunteer workers.

During the March, members

Davis, Wheeler, Teague Elected To Head Slaton Chamber Of Commerce

Robert Hall Davis, Rush Wheeler and Joe Teague III were elected to head the 1959 Slaton Chamber of Commerce in a meeting of that organization Monday night. Davis was elected president, Wheeler first vice-president and Teague treasurer.

The three will be installed at the chamber's 33rd annual banquet on Feb. 2.

The 16 men whose names will be placed on the Chamber of Commerce ballot and who will be voted on at the banquet were also determined at the Monday meeting of the chamber.

The 16 are Jesse P. Brown, Bob Clodfelter, Claude Cravens, Woody Rosser, Don Crow, Joel R. Combs, Frederic de Vries, Kenneth Jones, A. E. Kerchival, "Hack" Lasater, Cecil Self, Clark Self Jr., Bill Smith, R. H. Todd Jr., Bland Tomlinson and Alex Webb.

Of these 16, the five who receive the highest number of votes at the banquet will be installed as directors of the chamber for terms of three years.

The banquet will be held on Monday, Feb. 2, at 7:30 p.m. in the K. of C. Hall. Tickets are now being sold by each director of the chamber and may be purchased at the chamber's office in City Hall.

At the Monday night meeting, Bill Ball, vice-president, presided in the absence of President Don Crow. Directors present were Robert Hall Davis, Ted Swanner, John Schmidt, Dr. John Locke, Rush Wheeler, Ray Belt, Dr. Lee Vardy and Sherrill Boyd.

Two Men Are Honored At Jaycees' Banquet

Two local persons were honored at Tuesday night's "Bosses Night" banquet held by the Slaton Jaycees.

Certificates of appreciation were awarded in absentia to C. A. Porter and "Whitey" Guest, two local businessmen whose efforts on behalf of the local Jaycees is "deeply appreciated," according to Jaycee President Ted Swanner.

Several local businessmen were entertained at the banquet, held in the VFW Hall at 7:30 p.m.

John Schmidt was the speaker for the evening, informing the bosses and Jaycees' guests present of the work of the local club and of Jayceecism itself.

D. W. Walston brought the invocation at the affair, the bosses and guests were introduced by members of the club, and President Swanner handled special announcements, etc.

Swanner pointed out that the club, under the committee directorship of Don Kendrick, will sell poll taxes house to house tonight. Local residents who are not called on or who the Jaycees miss have been urged to call VA 8-3952 and ask that a representative of the club call on them for their poll tax. Some 10 Jaycees have been sworn in as deputy tax collectors for Lubbock County.

Background music will be provided by a Stereophonic Sound Record player, furnished by Slaton Hardware.

Official Holiday Is Voted By Local Association

The Slaton Retail Merchants Association has voted to recognize Jan. 1, New Year's Day, as an official merchant's holiday here.

The action was taken after it was observed that some businesses closed this past New Year's while others did not. Compliance with the holiday, of course, is up to the individual stores.

Other official holidays set up by the association are Memorial Day, Independence Day, Thanksgiving and Christmas.

FATAL ACCIDENT

A Slaton man, Pedro Martinez Ybarra, was killed instantly when this 1955 Ford was involved in an accident on the curve between the compress and Davis Motor Co. The car hit a fire plug, flipped over on its left side and skidded by a tree which stripped off the top and left side. It came to rest against a utility pole. A passenger in the car was injured. Slaton Man Victim Of Car Accident

Sunday morning about 4, a Slaton man was killed and another injured as the 1955 Ford in which they were riding skidded out of control on the curve between the compress and Davis Motor Co.

Killed instantly was Pedro Martinez Ybarra, 30, of 740 W. Panhandle, the apparent driver of the car.

Injured was Thomas Diaz, 21, also of Slaton.

Traveling south from the direction of Lubbock, the driver apparently came upon the curve without realizing it and before speed could be reduced the car began to skid out of control. It crashed into a fire plug and rolled over on its left side. The automobile skidded into a tree, stripping the top and left side practically from the remainder of the car. The vehicle came to a stop against a utility pole.

Ybarra was in the car when investigating officers arrived at the scene, but Diaz had apparently been thrown clear during the skid.

The funeral was held Monday at Our Lady of Guadalupe Church. Father Erickson officiated. Burial was in Englewood Cemetery.

Lee Westerman, 83, retired farmer, was found dead Friday morning in the home of a daughter, Mrs. E. G. Murphy, in Ackerly. Mr. Westerman lived at 835 S. 9th St., Slaton.

Burial was in Englewood Cemetery under the direction of Williams Funeral Home.

Westerman moved to Slaton in 1924. He retired from farming recently.

Survivors include a son, S. W. Westerman of Morton; three daughters, Mrs. E. G. Murphy of Ackerly, Mrs. L. B. Murphy of Big Spring and Mrs. Roy Collins of Slaton; a sister, Mrs. Alice Fenter of Clint, six grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

For Children of Tomorrow . . .

With polio on the run, the Mother's March in the March of Dimes here next week has a new appeal for all women interested in building a healthier world for the children of tomorrow. Women will be quick to see this implicit promise in the broad goals of the National Foundation's newly expanded program.

They should be eager to rouse their neighbors to active cooperation and full-strength participation in the mothers march that has become the traditional climax to the March of Dimes.

Our entire community is grateful for the vigorous Mother's March, which annually provides aid to polio patients and supports the research that produced the Salk vaccine. We are grateful, too, for the follow-up by mothers in recent years in encouraging polio vaccinations for all members of all families.

Many of us remember the horror and haunting fear of polio close to our homes. We had a share and a personal stake in winning victory over the crippling disease.

Now, with the March of Dimes tackling other causes of crippling, we have a bigger stake on the health front. All of us are familiar with the suffering caused by arthritis but we are horrified to realize it affects children as well as adults. We can all imagine the anguish endured by parents of children born with defects (congenital malformations) and our hearts go out to them. We want to help finance research through the March of Dimes until the answers are found, even as the Salk vaccine was found in 1955.

Let us light the way with our Mother's March this year. Let us all join the March of Dimes toward greater victories.

The Mother's March here will be held Tuesday, Jan. 27.

The Sounding Board

(Editor's Note: In case you like to read items in papers other than The Slatonite, we have a few for your consideration.)

By Joe Ed Boatright in his column, "Local Business," in the Colorado City Record: Christmas shopping is over and early checks show that new sales records have been set in many retail stores here in Colorado City.

The holiday trade records indicate that optimism about 1959 business activity will be justified. A prosperous New Year has a good start.

This seems to be a good time to reflect a little on the meaning of retail trade to this or any community. For we sometimes forget our whole community is built around the retail business of the town.

The community which is not a trade center is not a complete community. The quality of schools, churches, cultural and recreational facilities are reflections of the business health of a community.

When a town loses its status as a trade center the community suffers in every respect. It means more than a loss of jobs and reduced income from taxes; it means a loss of community spirit and unity.

For this reason, we feel that one of the most valuable community services a local newspaper can provide is the advertising which helps to keep our retail business thriving.

The business places in Colorado City which are regular advertisers deserve the gratitude of the whole public. Yes, the advertiser is primarily interested in selling his own goods. Yet, his advertising, at the same time, promotes the prosperity of the whole community.

When a merchant does a good job of selling his store, he automatically raises the general level of business in the trade center.

—SOUNDING BOARD—

From the column, "Wise and Otherwise (mostly otherwise)," in the Hamilton Herald-News:

This is another story that we do not vouch for its truth and veracity, but we do say that the clerk is a quick thinker and knows how to get out of a tight situation. Just before Christmas, a grocerman advertised fat hens at a special price. He had a barrel full, packed in ice. They went like hot cakes and he soon had only one left. A lady came in and told him she wanted a fat hen. He reached down in the ice and pulled out the last one, threw it on the scales and said: "That'll be $1.35," she eyed it and replied: "That's too poor. I want a fatter one." He placed it back in the barrel, ran his hand down in the ice and came up with the same hen and put it on the scales "That'll be $1.95," he said, "I believe I'll take both of 'em" she said, "Can't let you have both; I'm saving one for myself," the clerk replied.

Did you ever carry a buckeye in your pocket? A friend gave me one while in Longview. There is an old superstitious belief that it will prevent rheumatism if carried in the pocket. Imagine it is about as effective as Tennessee Ernie's asafetida bag.

A Hamilton County rancher was telling me he bought a horse at a sale recently. Since taking it home it would neither eat nor drink. Then he said, "Bill, you know, I got a real bargain if he's a good worker." Headline of the week: "Pink Mink Stole Stole."

—SOUNDING BOARD—
Once again, from Douglas Meador's column, "Trail Dust," in the Matador Tribune: Hate is a treacherous acid which can not be poured without spilling on the raw heart that held it.

Friendship admits imperfection as a gentle abrasive to polish the rough edges of mutual understanding.

Most of our mistakes are half grown before we are conscious that lethargy fired the incubator from which they were hatched.

It is significant that Benjamin Franklin considered printing to rank at the top of his abilities. He saw the potential influence of printing on the world of the future, and was proud of his profession. It is interesting to speculate what life might be like if the printer and his process of transmitting thought had never existed. It is doubtful if our form of government could have been achieved, and religions of the world, especially the Christian religion surely would have suffered. Handwritten Bibles would have been so expensive that hundreds of millions would never have had an opportunity to read the word of God. Destiny and the printer have worked together at the same case.

Ambition is the nail on which a determined man hangs his coat as he prepares to go to work.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

AUSTIN, Tex. — Some cheered and some wept but none will soon forget the eventful, suspenseful opening day of the House of Representatives of the 56th Legislature.

Waggoner Carr became the third man in recent history to win a second term as Speaker of the House; and Joe Burckett became the only one in many years to lose by so close a vote — 79 to 71.

Burckett and Carr had been in a hard-fought contest for a year and a half. Burckett, from Kerrville in the Hill country, is a staunch conservative. Carr, from Lubbock in the South Plains, had more liberal support.

When the day came, every representative was present, and the floor and galleries were jammed with spectators. Secretary of State Zollie Steakley served as temporary presiding officer. An elaborate voting procedure was agreed upon to safeguard secrecy and assure fairness.

Representatives filed to the front of the chamber, one by one, had their folded ballots initiated by the clerk and then placed them personally in the ballot box. Six watchers, three representing each candidate, stood by.

The ballot box was opened and results called out, one by one. Only sound in the large chamber was the scratching of the pens of many score keepers, and the occasional fidgeting or gasping as the lead saw-sawed between the candidates.

A cheer went up as Carr received his victory-assuring 76th vote. A round of hand shaking, back slapping and congratulating began. Following the final count, a procession composed of Carr's family and supporters escorted the Lubbock representative to the rostrum to take the oath of office.

ON WITH THE SHOW—After the opening dust had settled, Legislators turned to their everyday concerns.

Most immediate and pressing problem was finding money to operate the Legislature. Since the state's main monetary cup-board, the general revenue fund, was bare (worse still, in debt), there wasn't so much as a nickel on hand to pay salaries of the lawmakers and their helpers, nor even for stamps, stationery, phone calls and trav-

Jr. was named parliamentarian of the Senate, a post held last session by Dan Moody Jr. AN EARLY CRISIS was averted when the House sergeant-at-arms rushed a spittoon to the desk of Percilla. Spittoons, once a standard accessory, had gotten lost in the chamber's revamping.

POLES WITH MONEY-SPENDING IDEAS had best be armed with money-finding ideas when they come to the Legislature this year. This warning was issued by Sen. William S. Fly of Victoria in an Austin address.

THIRD HOUSE has its own ceremonial this year as, for the first time, lobbyists are required to register under the new law. From the length and variety of the list, there's a lobbyist for practically everything and everybody—teachers, farmers, firemen, policemen, labor unions, industries and even church groups.

GOVERNOR'S APPOINTMENTS—Gov. Price Daniel has appointed Secretary of State Zollie Steakley to a second term and promoted two assistants in the governor's office.

George Christian, former press assistant, becomes executive assistant, taking over non-legal duties of Jake Jacobsen. Jacobsen left to enter private law practice.

John Goldsum was promoted to administrative assistant and will take over Jacobsen's legal duties.

PANORAMA—Other items for the record of what promises to be a historic Legislature:

SENATOR GEORGE PARKHOUSE of Dallas is new president pro tempore of the Senate, and as such, third in line to the governor. An outdoor advertising executive, Parkhouse is beginning his third Senate term.

NO FREE OVERTIME, resolved Senators in one of their first official acts, a resolution to quit on the dot May 12 when the 120-day period runs out. House members cheered the announcement.

A FAMOUS NAME returned to public life as Mattin Dies Jr. of Lufkin took the oath as senator. Former Congressman Martin Dies Sr., long identified with the Dies Un-American Activities Investigating Committee, came to see his son sworn in.

"BABY OF THE HOUSE" is Rep. Jack Connell Jr. of Wichita Falls, youngest person ever to sit in the House. Connell was 21 years old plus 14 days on general election day.

A FOOTBALL STAR when he's not a lawmaker is Yalo Lary, freshman representative from Fort Worth. Lary, a defensive back for the Detroit Lions pro team, was a college star for Texas A&M.

ONE GOVERNOR'S SON succeeded another as W. P. Hobby

PAY FOR SECRETARIES DROPPED — One of the first bills for debate in the 56th Legislature was pay for secretaries of Senate and House members. Generally accepted, the rate is $14 per day for Senate secretaries and $10 for House. But a resolution must be passed setting amounts of each session. Rep. Obie Jones of Austin said House secretaries should receive $12 a day because the $10-a-day figure was embarrassing to House secretaries when they met their Senate counterparts during coffee breaks. Rep. R. H. Cory of Victoria pointed out that the state couldn't afford the increase. "Maybe," he said, "we'll have to pay them out of our own pockets," and he pointed out that not all Senate secretaries received $14 — that some of them were paid as low as $8 per day.

Soil Conservation District Board Discusses Tree Planting Program

The Lubbock County Soil Conservation District Board of Supervisors met last week with members of the Lubbock Nurserymen's Association and drafted plans for their joint Tree Windbreak Assistance Program for 1959.

Under the program, farm land owners may apply through the Soil Conservation District and receive individually potted seedlings of Arizona Cypress (6" height) for 25c each. Persons wanting larger trees may secure two-year old Arizona Cypress Trees (18"-24") at $1.35 each. Prices apply to lots of twenty-five or more. Approximately 17,000 trees were sold by the same nurserymen last year in connection with the program.

but nurserymen and board members were certain of a higher quality of trees than last year. Nurserymen attending the meeting included Max Dodson, John Vaughn, and Randal Kershner. The Board of Supervisors approved 644 acres of land. Landowners who are applying the conservation practices include Keith Snowden, C. B. Stovall, Mrs. Zelma Rush and W. H. Rodgers.

The Calendar of Operations for 1959 and Annual Report for 1958 were completed. Frank Gray and Cecil Brashear reported on the Association of Texas Soil Conservation Districts Annual Meeting which they attend in Abilene Jan. 7 through 9.

All board members were present for the meeting, which included Joe Walker Sr. (Slaton), George Hindman (Slide Community), E. O. Ramsey (Shallowater), Cecil Brashear (Idalou), and Frank Gray (Lubbock).

Others attending the meeting included County Agent Lee McElroy, SCS Work Unit Conservationist Bill Reece, and Mrs. Alton Strickland, secretary for the board.

Karen Henry

As we're sure you all realize, report cards were issued yesterday! We hope that this column will bring some sunshine into your now darkened lives—at least for the next six weeks. Why not join the rest of us in trying to turn over a new leaf this term and bring back the light.

Everyone certainly misses Linda Reed, who recently moved to Hereford. We'll miss that cute freshman, Kaye Kincer, who's leaving us soon to live in Hale Center. Good luck to these girls in their new towns. We know they will be just as well liked by everyone there as they were here in Slaton.

Wonder how many people have become sufferers of claustrophobia, since Glen Taylor, John Fincher, Mike Davis, Dale Gordon, and a few others we may not have noticed in the crowd, have moved into the already crowded third period study hall. Ken McCullough, the master of all master-minds, has had a brilliant idea. The next girl who comes into that study hall can sit on his knee! For your sake, Ken, we hope she's not the original Miss 5'5".

Congratulations are in order for Jerry "Red" Allen and David Bishop, who were selected by the Tiger squad to lead them next year. We know these boys are just the ones who can lead them in the coming games.

Guess what? The homemaking girls learned the proper way to wash their lily-white hands last Monday. Mrs. Dodson is teaching the girls health this week in class.

Do you thusly need thy homework done? Harken! Hasten thee to ye olde deske of ye fair maiden, Joanne Thomas. Though she is but a freshman lass, she is well qualified to do senior shorthand. Righto, Joanne?

Any alms for the needy? Poor Don Edwards came to school with a gaping hole in his shirt. Don claims he didn't know it was there, but we know better, don't we?

Sharon Boyd, glamour girl, came to school sporting a snappy new hair-style designed by Charlotte Muse. It seems that Sharon's dad takes a negative view on her new hair-styles. One day, after a few hours in the beauty shop, Sharon went home to show off her hair-do. Her Dad asked her if she "actually paid for THAT".

We overheard this interesting bit of chatter in English class a few days ago.

Teacher: "John, give me a sentence with a direct object."
John Dodson: Teacher, everybody thinks you're beautiful."
Teacher: "Thank you, John, but what is the object?"
John: "A good report card."

Mrs. Dewey Nelson and daughters, Marilyn and Denise, visited Mrs. J. L. Maines of Aeff Sunday.

PEACE OFFICERS' PROJECT
Dormitory Planned For Boys Ranch

Construction of a cottage-type dormitory at Cal Farley's famous Boys Ranch near Amarillo is the 1959 project for the United Peace Officers of America. The national organization was created in 1955 to assist in the building program at the Ranch.

At the present time, 17 boys belows eight years of age are living in the Old Tascosa courthouse, and it has long been the aim of Ranch founder Cal Farley to be able to provide a more homelike atmosphere for them. Most of the small boys came to the Ranch along with older brothers so that the brothers would not have to be separated and also in many cases, to remove the little fellows from unwholesome environments, Sheriff Thompson explained.

The project was approved this week at a meeting of the board of directors of the organization. The new dormitory will be designed especially for boys in the four to eight year age bracket, Thompson said.

In the new building, eight of these smaller youngsters will live with a man and his wife. The housemother will prepare all meals and the entire surroundings will be as nearly like a real home as possible, and there will always be a house parent on hand to look after the little fellows.

In 1955, the United Peace Officers of America was organized to assist Boys Ranch in a building program. The first project was the Boys Ranch Independent School, and since that time the group—composed of peace officers, sheriffs, highway patrolmen, rangers and FBI men from all over the United States and Canada—has helped with raising funds for the new dining hall and in many other ways, says Cal Farley. The Boys Ranch school is dedicated to the members of UPOA.

"We are hopeful that we will be able to raise enough money to build the dormitory by May, when we will hold our annual convention at Boys Ranch," said Sheriff Thompson. "Boys Ranch has helped the peace officers by taking youngsters who were in trouble and is making good, useful citizens of them, and we know that when we take a boy to the Ranch, he is one youngster we will not have to be running after any more."
