Local Merchants Plan Style Show For Monday Night

Seven local merchants will display their clothing lines, draped around lovely Slaton models, when the "Flight Into Fashion" Style Show is unveiled next Monday at the High School Auditorium.

The show, billed as, "An Interlude in Time, Space and Cotton", starts at 8 p.m. It is under the auspices, and for the benefit of, the First Presbyterian Church.

The models, both male and female, will display their sponsor's goods on the big stage to the accompaniment of a stage band, with appropriate lighting and dialogue. Featured will be new spring styles, showings of many famous-name manufacturer's clothing for men, women and children.

Each of the participating merchants is also going to give free items to winners in drawings to be held before the night of the show. To win, you should visit each of the participating stores and register. You could win an expensive dress and hat, a complete Easter wardrobe and many other items. Men, women and children all are eligible to win. Get details and rules at each of the stores, which specialize in keeping Slaton's modern men and women dressed in the very latest in fashions. Winners will be presented their gifts at the style show.

A further survey is being made at present of 10th, 11th and Division Streets. The High School area will be surveyed also, to determine what controls might be necessary.

Equipment and information is being collected in order to determine the need for pedestrian walkways in downtown and heavy traffic areas.

In other police activity, it has been announced that an organization is being formed by volunteer students that will be titled The Junior Police Auxiliary.

The primary purpose of this organization will be the protection of life and property during a time of disaster, and its members will receive qualified training and instruction along these lines.

They will work hand in hand with the Police Department and from time to time be assigned duties within the Police Department. Also at times they may be assigned to a Police Patrol Unit along with a commissioned Police Officer, and at such times when they are on duty, at the scene of a disaster, they will be given proper authority with which to bring about peace and good order and protect life and property. They will be trained in Police Communication and be thoroughly familiar with Police Communication Codes, etc. They will be trained in traffic control, at

To Prove A Point . . .

Firm Meets Payroll With $2 Bills

A Slaton firm, which will observe its 38th birthday here in May, was the originator of an unusual project this past week. Slaton Motor Company met its payroll with $2 bills last Saturday. The idea was to demonstrate to the people of the community how many places the money shows up and how many times the payroll money is "turned over."

The project has met with formidable success as comment and curiosity have been abundant. When the bills first started making their appearance, local people were calling for them at stores and at the bank to keep as souvenirs. Before three days had passed, however, calls for the special bills had decreased to a large extent, they had become so common over Slaton.

Slaton Motor Company thus which, according to the national demonstrated to the people of Slaton how their employees held a large role in the economic picture of the community. There's no telling how many times the $2 bills changed hands in Slaton but there was a vivid demonstration of how much local businesses mean to the local economy. What if you had not received the $2 bills this past week that you did?

The firm has 16 employees, all of them local residents and most of them, long-time residents of Slaton. Thirteen of them own their homes here. Their time of service with the company averages 11.2 years and their total experience in the automobile business is 263.5 years, an average of 16.5 years.

The firm had a payroll of approximately $90,000 in 1958.

standard, would have turned over many times in this community alone. The company also points with pride to the voting record of its employees. Over 50 per cent of them paid their poll tax this year, an off-year for elections. Bill Smith refers them as "voting citizens... not just talking citizens."

Yes, Slaton Motor Company is important to the civic and economic life of Slaton, as are many other local companies, some of which occasionally take for granted. But, without them, many of us might actually go hungry.

This is not "Business Appreciation Week," but it well could be, and we are grateful to Slaton Motor Company for reminding us again of the importance of local businesses.

Record Entry List Is Anticipated; Showmanship Awards To Be Given

A record number of animals are expected to be registered here by 1 p.m. Saturday, when judging in the 18th annual Lubbock County Fat Stock Show gets underway.

Some 465 animals will be shown, it is anticipated, which would eclipse the 1958 total of 335.

The show will be held at the old Western Cotton Mill. Five Farmers of America and 4-H Club members from throughout Lubbock County will be competing for some $500 in prize money and premiums to be donated by businesses and civic organizations, and raised by the local FFA chapter. The entry list, it is anticipated, will include approximately 275 barrows, 75 gilts, 25 calves and 90 lambs.

Special showmanship awards will be presented in each division and the exhibitor of each champion animal will receive a $5 savings bond. Banners and ribbons will be given class winners. J. P. Brown, local vocational agriculture teacher, and James Shearer of Lubbock are co-general superintendents for the show and Alton Brazell, Shallowater, is assistant general superintendent and narrator.

Secretary is Joe Walker, Jr. of Slaton while divisional superintendents include Don Bell, calves; J. E. Bridges, sheep; John Powers and Buddy Winters, fat barrows; and Richard Powers, gilts.

Calvin Holcomb, Gaines County agricultural agent, Seminole, will judge the steers and lambs while Paul Gross, assistant to Holcomb, will judge the swine.

FFA and 4-H members from some eight area high schools will participate in the show, designated for members of those organizations in Lubbock County and the Wilson School District.

'Support The Church' Series Starts Today

A non-denominational "Support the Church" advertising service designed to stimulate interest in church activities and increase church attendance will be starting this week in The Slatonite.

The program, prepared by William Waldrop of Austin, will message one week which will feature a local picture and be copied and used over the Southwest by subscribers to Waldrop's service. The other weeks, a general theme will be used.

Local merchants who are cooperating in sponsoring this series feel that these timely, beautifully written messages will serve a definite purpose in reminding citizens of the Slaton area of the necessity of strong churches.

The sponsors are:

Rinne Implement Co., Carroll's Oil Co., Arrants Wholesale Meats and Lockers, Ray C. Ayers and Son, Inc., Slaton Cop Gins, Slaton Implement Co., E. W. Ham and Son Plumbing, Butler Monument Works, Higginbotham-Bartlett Lumber Co., Union Compress and Ware house, Bruce's Cafe, P. M. Wheatley, Williams Funeral Home, Geer Texaco Service, O. D. From Wilson, sponsors are the Mustang Cafe, Wilson State

Bank, Cleckler Motor Service, Wilson Barber and Beauty Shop and Wilson Machine Shop. Southland sponsors are Basinger Gin, Southland Hardware Basinger Drilling Company, Dunn's Food Store and Southland Butane Company and Big State Garage.

Support of the churches is sound business in any community. It takes no oracle to note the stability of a community with strong, active churches.

The "Support the Church" feature will be run each week and will consist in most instances of a parable-like message, beautifully illustrated. The program has proved popular in hundreds of other communities over the US, Canada, and Alaska.

Find $50; Please Return It To

R. H. Luttrell

If you have found $50, it might have been that lost by a man making a delivery to the bank Wednesday morning about 11:15 for R. H. Luttrell, who works at Geer Texaco Service Station.

According to Luttrell, he sent a man to the bank with two $20 bills and one $10 bill to make a deposit. Someplace between the station and the bank the man lost the money. A reward is offered for the return of the money, in case some HONEST local resident finds it. If so, please take it to the station to claim the reward.

Traffic Flow On Main Square Changed

According to a report released Slaton Police Chief Gene Martin, six patrolmen, on a per cent basis, have been employed. This action was authorized by Slaton City Commission, and make it possible for the streets of Slaton to be patrolled hours a day.

Action taken as a result of traffic survey, several streets have been erected and services more changed. Those streets involved are:

Stop sign erected at 8th and back will stop traffic moving on Lubbock.

Stop sign erected at Panhandle and 8th will stop east-bound traffic on Panhandle.

Stop sign at Lubbock and 8th will stop west-bound traffic on Lubbock.

Garza traffic going east will be stopped by a new stop sign at Garza and 8th.

Texas Avenue traffic traveling west will be required to stop at 8th.

Garza has been supplied with a yield right-of-way sign for west-bound traffic.

North and South-bound traffic on 8th street will not be required to stop.

These changes have been instigated after a summation of the property damage caused by traffic accidents the past year, according to a report by Chief Martin.

The intersections of Garza and 8th and Lubbock and 8th have been the places where accidents

Miss Texas Of 1958' To Speak Here Sunday

Mrs. Mary Nell Hendricks, Miss Texas of 1958, will speak Sunday night at 7:30 at the Methodist Church.

At 6:30 p.m. that day, she will speak at the church's Senior F meeting.

Mrs. Hendricks' address is part of a program begun here last year by the church to provide training speakers at the Sun-evening worship services.

Sunday night, Mrs. Sune ards, renowned photographer, spoke on her "Search for Disciples," living persons in she pictured portraying Disciples.

Mrs. Hendricks will give her personal witness at the 7:30 p.m. service of "What Christ Means to Me."

Mrs. Hendricks, 22, a teacher second grade students was crowned "MISS TEXAS OF 1958" in the finals of her title pageant on August 2.

A total of twenty-eight contestants from all sections of the state competed for the crown prizes which included an air trip to Europe, a "Miss America of 1959" title, blue eyes and brown hair; complexion; and a gorgeous gown. Graduating from High School at the age of 18 as a Salutatorian, she received her B.S. degree from Texas Wesleyan at the age of 18 in August, 1954. In September of that year she joined the Arlington School faculty and received statewide publicity as the youngest teacher ever employed in Arlington. She was chosen Campus Beauty and Class Favorite in college, and graduated with honors. During the summer of 1956 she toured Europe; another interesting note on Mary Nell is that she has been interviewed by Life Magazine about her teaching.

No one could be more proud of the teaching profession than is Mary Nell. Her classroom of basal readers, workbooks, sand-

EDITORIALS

Sweet Odor Of The Future

Editor's Note: This week's editorial is guest-written by A. M. Jackson, a former publisher of the Slatonite. Mr. Jackson, now retired, lives at 735 W. Lubbock.

It is the fashion these days to go all hog for industrialization and expansion of all areas but it might be a good Plains to take a good look at what is threatening us.

Mammoth Cattle Feeding Lots where thousands of cattle are cramped into small pens and cheap grain sorghums along with chemicals crammed down their throats to fatten in the shortest time possible and to then butcher them for the market are being constructed at a rapid pace.

The Wall Street Journal of Feb. 13, devotes one column on its front page and two more on the inside pages to such operations between Slaton and Lubbock and to new ones that are planned to go in this area and near Plainview.

The first impression would lead one to consider the business activity and population growth that this kind of development could bring to this area and is going to bring because at present there is no way to head it off and most likely there will be no organized effort made to stop it but there are folks on the South Plains who foresee a lot of bitterness along with the sweet that is going to have to be swallowed when the dose is administered and one of the bitterest will be the stench that will permeate the sweet air of our part of the country.

There is a foretaste of what is to come now discernable as one travels between Slaton and Lubbock but if future development goes as the Wall Street Journal predicts the odor will be so thick that they will saturate clothing, hair and skin and the only way one will be able to stand it will be to become so numb that one's senses of smell will become paralyzed.

It's a sad prospect but it's coming. We quote below from the first part of the Wall Street Journal article:
Jack Hanicks, Staff Reporter of The Wall Street Journal LUBBOCK, Tex.—Thousands of white faced cattle with round, sad eyes and unsophisticated lastes nose about in long troughs filled with a green, flaky concoction.

Nearby, workmen are finishing off a new 25,000-square foot meat-packing plant scheduled to begin handling 400 head of cattle a day next month.
"We can do as good a cattle feeding job here as anybody in the Corn Belt—and do it cheaper," boasts sport-shirted Durward W. Lewter, part owner of Lewter, Inc.'s feed lot and packing plant here. "We have our choice of the best cattle here. We're in the heart of the grain sorghum area with its cheap feed. And right at hand is the cotton that supplies us with the meal and hulls for feed supplements."

Make it a habit to keep your feet on the ground and you'll never have far to fall.

Living today is a game of robbing Peter to pay Paul in order to make it possible to stand pat.

The trouble with a cronic borrower is that he always keeps everything but this word.

Those thing that come to the man who waits seldom turn out to be the things he's waiting for.

Highway accidents will diminish when brainpower matches horsepower.

Many people reach great heights by putting up a bluff.

No man is fully educated until he learns to read himself.

It's better to give than to receive—because it's deductible.

'Tis well to forget the past because the future will give you plenty to worry about.

All things come to those who wait—on themselves.

THE AMERICAN WAY

Keepers Of The Flame . . .

By George Peck

(Editor's Note: George Peck is Honorary Chairman of the Laymen's National Committee, sponsor of National Sunday School and Bible Weeks.)

In the little town of Summit Mississippi, there is a small grassroots weekly newspaper, published by a gallant little lady who not only owns it, but edits it and produces it single-handedly. The newspaper is the Summit Sun and the versatile publisher is Mrs. Mary Dawson Cain.

The Summit Sun may be small in size, but it bulks large in influence. Its editor has done more with that tiny "rag" to fight for freedom of the press and states' rights; to battle centralization of power at Washington, and creeping Socialism, than the biggest metropolitan daily. Mary Cain's brand of Americanism can best be summed up by passing on the words of another great Southern editor, Henry W. Grady of the "Atlanta Constitution," whom Mary believes stands shoulder to shoulder with the immortal Thomas Jefferson:

"Exalt the citizen! As the State is the unit of government, he is the unit of the State, Teach him that his home is his castle and his sovereignty rests beneath his hat. Make him self-respecting, self-reliant and responsible. Let him lean on the State for nothing his own arm can do, and on the government for nothing that his State can do. Let him cultivate independence to the point of sacrifice, and learn that humble things with unbartered liberty are better than splendors bought with its price."

Says Mary regarding this statement of Henry W. Grady: "It is our privilege to follow that great American concept but, more than that, it is our sacred duty."

Here is a personal human interest story about Mary Cain—one that we love to tell. Some eight years ago, Mrs. Peck and this columnist found ourselves in Mississippi where we had the honor of sharing the platform with Mary Cain before a convention of editors at Biloxi. While in the State, we visited the Cains (Mary and husband John) at Summit.

The day we arrived there was the day of the week on which Mary puts the "Summit Sun" to bed. When we saw her at her printing plant in the afternoon, she was busy running the press. As already stated, Mary runs a one-man newspaper. She is publisher, editor, advertising manager, circulation manager, lino operator, caster and pressman. Well, you just can't work around printing machinery without getting a bit messy, and Mary was covered with ink up to her elbows.

Yet, just three hours later, we sat down in the dining room of the Cain home to an excellent dinner, served on a beautifully appointed table and presided over by a radiantly beautiful and charming hostess. Mary was impeccably costumed and bore not the slightest evidence of the battle she had fought that very afternoon, getting her newspaper off the press.

What has led us to write of Mary at this time? To Mary's many accomplishments, she is by way of being a poet. She has just sent us a copy of her most recent poem. It carries such a vital message that we feel it incumbent to pass it on to the readers of this column.

TO KEEPERS OF THE FLAME

Are you weary of the battle?
Do you feel that all is lost
To the scourge of Communism,
Which hides its dreadful cost
Beneath compassion's kindly robes
Until all are victimized—
Compulsion's victory over freedom fully realized?
We who fight this battle
Through every weary day
Know its cost in courage
And in strength, but lay
Out all upon the altar of Sacrificial living; ever praying
God will give us back the freedoms
Lost to us, and saying,
"Give, O God, our people knowledge
That on the right to live our lives
Free of government tyranny,
America grows and thrives."
It lies not within our power
To do more than just our best,
All else is in God's hands,
And in His strength we rest,
Praying for the miracle
Of "Americans born again"
To their heritage as free men,
And their duty to retain
For children who come after us,
The noble freedom-dream
Bequeather as by our forebears
Who followed freedom's gleam.
God bless you every one,
You "Keepers of the Flame,"
Posterity will bless you
And honor your fair name.
You have chosen "humble things,
With liberty unbartered,"
But do not wear the faces
Of those who feel they're "martyred."
God renew your strength,
And give you courage, to—
Have you ever thought dear friend:
All the freedom in the world depends on you!

THE AMERICAN WAY

Refusing to Face Reality

The Sounding Board

(Editor's Note: Comment from a couple neighboring papers for your enjoyment.)

Willard Jones in the column, "Popvalve," in the Hamlin Herald:

George Washington's birthday first of last week brought around the usual bunch of yarns related to the occasion. We heard this one . . .

The hillbilly father was furious. "Which one of you pushed the outhouse into the creek?" he asked.

"Me, Paw," spoke up Zeke. "Wal, boy, come into the woodshed. I'm gonna tan your hide good."

"But, Paw," countered young Zeke, "George Washington's paw didn't lick him when he told the truth."

"Maybe not," replied the father, "but when George cut down that cherry tree, his old man wasn't settin' in the branches."

—SOUNDING BOARD—
Joe Ed Boatright in the column, "Local Business," in The Colorado City Record:

Claude Lancaster who works for his wife at a certain auto store in town, was needed into spinning a yarn this week.

He told of a drunk who wandered into a cemetery one dark night and stumbled into an empty grave. After struggling for a long time he finally fell exhausted in the fresh dug pit.

A second fellow came along about that time and he, too, fell into the grave.

The second man likewise struggled to get out of the grave, but not until the first fellow revived, stood up and gently tapped him on the shoulder to say, "Say, buddy!" did he manage to easily scale the grave wall.

—SOUNDING BOARD—
A pessimist is a sentimental optimist who expects too much.

—SOUNDING BOARD—
American business begins 1959 with confidence and optimism. Even careful economists venture the belief that 1959 will be the most prosperous year in our history.

Yet, only a year ago the nation appeared to be on the brink of a major depression. The free enterprise system was facing a critical test.

The depression was not really necessary. American consumers simply were not using their accumulated savings and credit.

The major problem was not of demand. Industry had the productive capacity to create the goods and services which could turn consumer credit and savings into trade.

Economic stagnation could be prevented only if people could be stimulated to use their savings and credit to consume a larger portion of the wealth available to them.

American business faced the problem with boldness and daring. Billions of dollars were spent to make the 1959 products better and more attractive. Billions more are being spent on advertising to spread the word about the improved goods.

The increased advertising was just as essential to recovery as product improvement. The two go hand-in-hand. For, a better standard of living has to be sold to newly prosperous people.

Often, people do not know how to use their wealth until advertising has given them a lead. Bud Sherak, a market research expert, noted recently:

"Twenty per cent of American families — 10,000,000 families — could buy additional cars, washing machines, television sets, and other durable goods without batting an eye."

Advertising which sells large groups of what it can and can easily afford, will much toward setting a basic, a prosperous 1959. — Cold City Record.

BUYS HIS WIFE GAS APPLIANCE

There is often more to an object of art than the mere surface discloses. A man of discriminating tastes has an instinct for evaluating real craftsmanship. This is the kind of man who buys a GAS Range for his wife's kitchen. In appearance, anyone can see its cleanliness of line . . . glamour of design. Most ranges can claim this. But it's in Performance that a Gas Range achieves superiority! For here is a precision-engineered, automatically-controlled instrument that removes guesswork from cooking. Closed-door, smokeless broiling, instant ignition, and shut-off with no heat hang-over . . . here is Performance that assures success in the fine art of cooking. # A Church Not Supported Weekly Is Weakly Supported!!

Hello Everybody!

This is Don Prince, Austin, Texas.

Listen "real good", 'cause I have something to tell you: Sunday is mighty near — time to go to church again, or time to start going if you're not in the habit already.

Whatever you do, don't miss church. Life can mean so much more to us, and we can mean so much more to others— even to the whole wide-world if we are a part of the church.

I've been going ever since I was six days old. I'm three now; years, that is. Looked like I just had to wait six days to start, 'cause, you see, I was born on Monday!

Of course, Mommy and Daddy take me, but they stay, too, 'cause there's a place for ever'body in Sunday school. Then, after that, the preacher, too, (he's my good friend), tells 'bout Jesus, an' more 'n more folks learn to love Jesus an' begin living for Him. That's what church is for—an' it's th' happiest place in th' world. 'cept home when folks let Jesus live there, too.

I'm so happy to invite you to church. Jesus said, "A little child shall lead them." I'd be so glad to know that you went. Want to write to me? I live at 1706 East Avenue. Got it? 1706 East Avenue! This is "long distance"— gotta go now. 'Bye!

DO YOU HAVE A PERSONAL OR FAMILY REAL-LIFE PROBLEM? Would you like to become a Christian, but feel that you need guidance? The pastors are your confidential friends—why not counsel with them about your problems and needs—TODAY?

THERE'S A FRIENDLY CHURCH NEAR YOU. You are cordially invited to attend Bible studies, Worship Services, Business and Social Hours. Make your life complete by finding a church home. Do it now!

"Other foundation can no man lay than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ" 1 Corinthians 3:11.

Local Little League Park Gets-Face Lifting

Attention Little League Patrons! The Ideas of March brings not only wind and dust but also thoughts of the coming Little League baseball season. The Board of Directors of the Slaton Little League met recently and laid the first plans for the 1959 season. Many major repairs were deemed necessary as the league goes into its fifth year of operation. New posts, pickets, and boards for the side line fences, complete repainting of the outfield signs, rewiring of backstop fence, and reworking the field were among the necessary repairs discussed.

is the INSURANCE on your house

as dated as the dodo?

Chances are you need more complete "coverage" on your home and furnishings than your present insurance provides.

Reason? Replacement costs are way up on homes and their contents.

Cure? Let us look over your policies and bring them in line with current values.

We'll gladly do it any time at all—but from your standpoint, the best time is NOW.

MISS TEXAS

And could a person so young handle 35 lively second graders? She is more than a match for them. Charming them with her beautiful smile and winsome ways, for four years now she has been teaching "reading, writing and arithmetic," and the tasks that go along with the teaching such as soothing hurt feelings, watching scraped knees, etc.

Some of the young lady's most prized letters begin: "Dear teacher—I love you." She admits she has had to discipline a few, but the mischievous little ones that she has had to reprimand will have the distinct privilege of telling their own children how they were once spanked by Miss Texas.

Superintendent James W. Martin says: "Mary Nell is one of our top teachers. She does a fine job and is an outstanding success. She is well-liked by students, parents, and fellow teachers."

Hobbies? Only traveling, snow skiing, water skiing, sailing, dancing, singing, swimming, sewing, horseback riding, and music.

Ambition for the future? Mary Nell says, "To further my education, become a better teacher and later to have a successful marriage."

The Great State of Texas sent not only a beautiful girl, but one with a beautiful character to the Miss America Pageant in Atlantic City, New Jersey, during the first portion in September 1958. Mary Nell was chosen as one of the ten semi-finalists and had the opportunity to compete in swimsuit, evening gown, and talent divisions before a nationwide audience on television. The big hearts of Texans were happy to share their Number One girl with the country and joined with other

Golden Age Clubs Flourishing As Ranks Of Aged Grow Rapidly

The proportion of men and women 65 years of age and over is increasing rapidly in the population of the United States. Since 1900 the population of the United States has doubled, but the number of people over 65 has quadrupled. At least one person in every 12 in the U.S.A. is now over 65.

How and where do these older people live? The majority are still in their own homes or households, but hundreds of thousands live in the homes of relatives, or are rooming or boarding with people not their relatives. And many tens of thousands are in sheltered care—in institutions provided by tax and philanthropic funds.

Social justice to the aging is everybody's business—government, welfare agencies, the churches. The church is showing her concern in several ways.

Golden Age Clubs flourish where promoted. The injunction in I Timothy 5:8 is bearing fruit in the rising tide of respect being shown to older people.

SENTRY DUTY

In America every editor is on sentry duty, guarding constantly against all encroachments on the Freedom of the Press. It has always been like this. Ever since the press battled for and won freedom of expression, its guardians have had to be on the constant lookout for infiltration by the enemies of that freedom. Infiltration—pressure from powerful groups to tone down comment on a situation...pulling of strings to keep a story from being published...predigested press releases.

But the press knows the importance of never giving up its freedom. For on freedom of the press depend all other freedoms that make up democracy. Therefore, the men of America's press refuse to recognize any check—except military security—on complete, unbridled and inviolate freedom to print the truth.

That is the challenge of today to the courage and the vigilance of these sentries of America's press.

By Karen Henry and Carol Rosser

The faculty enjoyed a supper last week given for them by the home-making girls. The theme of the supper centered around George Washington's birthday. The girls really worked hard to make the supper a success. Peggy Gentry and June Johnson added their part by peeling "tons" of potatoes.

A funny sight to see was Betty Johnson chasing "Tiny" Mike Rose around the room in English Class. We don't know the reason for this merry chase, but it was amusing to watch.

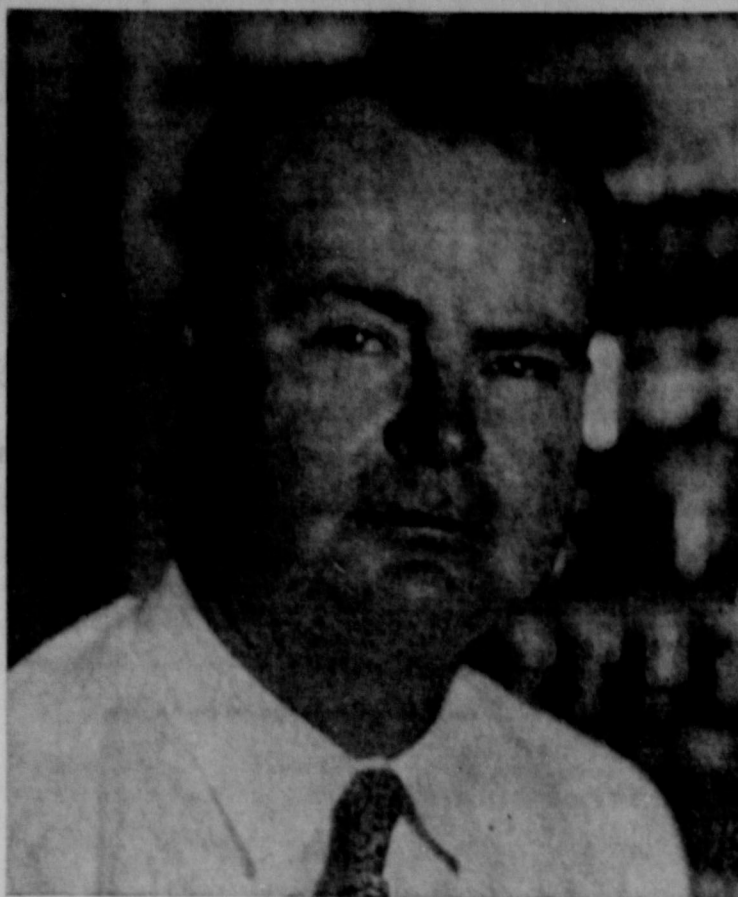

The Choral Clinic, held Friday afternoon, was successful and inspiring. The special director, Mr. Schantz, is a very amusing, but capable man, and he certainly helped the Choralers understand and appreciate their music.

The speech play entitled "Pearls", is coming along nicely. There are two separate casts competing against each other. In the first cast are Sue Fields, Irene Tomlinson, John Dodson, and John Fincher. In the other cast are Carol Rosser, Karen Henry, Billy Dickson, and Charlie White. Members of both casts are anxiously waiting to see just who will be in the all-star cast.

As you all know, this is public school week here in Slaton. Isn't it funny to be pinned with a little sign saying "I will visit a public school?" After all, what other choice do we scholars have?

We saw Olivia Sanders picture on television this week, as an entry for the fat stock show queen. We're sure Olivia has an excellent chance for winning this title. The fat stock show, to be held soon, is expected to draw a large crowd.

JAMES W. TURNBOW

Slaton Man Receives Doctorate In Engineering From Texas U.

James W. Turnbow, son of Mrs. M. L. Turnbow of Slaton, received his Ph. D. degree in Engineering on Jan. 31 from the University of Texas.

The title of his Doctoral Dissertation was, "Properties of Metals at High Strain Rates." Dr. Turnbow is an assistant professor in the Engineering Mechanics Department at the University and also associate director of the Structural Mechanics Research Laboratory. This laboratory is currently doing contract work for the Quartermaster Research and Engineering command, to determine the energy absorption characteristics of various materials to be used in the dropping of military equipment and supplies from aircraft while in flight.

Dr. Turnbow was the recipient of the First Convair Award presented by the Convair Division of the General Dynamics Corp. of Fort Worth, for the recognition of excellence in engineering teaching. He is a registered professional engineer and a member of the Tau Beta Pi and Sigma X, honorary societies.

Dr. Turnbow follows in the footsteps of his father, a former builder of Slaton, in that he is often found in his workshop on week-ends designing or building boats or sail-planes, or repairing antique furniture. He is assisted in these projects by his wife, Velda, and daughters, Mary Linda and Janet.

He is a member of the Civil Air Patrol and is active in the Soaring Society of America. Last August he became the 320th pilot in America to receive the International "Silver C" award for sail-plane pilots to obtain this award, each pilot of these unpowered planes must, while flying alone, remain aloft five hours after release from the tow plane, gain 1,000 meters of altitude after release, and fly a distance of fifty kilometers.

Dr. Turnbow began school at West Ward in 1926. He was Valedictorian of the graduating class of 1936 with an average of 97.3. He served one year as class president, received the American Legion Citizenship award, was active in Hi-Y and Scout Work, model plane building and was an amateur photographer.

He graduated from Texas Tech in 1940 with honors from both Mechanical engineering and R. O. T. C. departments.

He was awarded the first Sabre ever given at Tech to the top-ranking Military Student. He was a member of the Alpha Chi and Tau Beta Pi national honorary societies.

Visiting last week-end with Mr. and Mrs. George Gamble and family were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Walters of Beaville, Mr. of Midland, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Walters and family of Seagraves, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Presley of Abernathy, Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Eilenburger of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Shelton of Post, Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Cade of Lubbock, Dwayne Walters and boys, Mrs. Ardelia Miller, and Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Cunyers all of Slaton. The Gambles have a new baby. Mrs. M. D. Gamble has been helping with the new granddaughter.

(Editor's Note: Last week was FFA Week in Slaton, as proclaimed by Mayor Pro Tem Howard Swanner. The special week ended Saturday. Here, in articles written by members of the local FFA organization, is the explanation of the functions of FFA.)

During the past three years the Slaton FFA has produced an outstanding string of accomplishments. Under the leadership of Truett Babb through 1958 and Jesse P. Brown in 1959, the Slaton chapter has come from mediocrity to be one of the finest chapters on the South Plains.

In 1954, Babb came to Slaton from Meadow, where he had taught for nine years. The Slaton chapter owed money to the bank and was never considered a threat at any contest. After Babb took the reins, work progressed slowly and little advancements were made until 1956, when the chapter was able to clear its note at the bank and buy a new pickup. In the same year, the Junior chapter conducting team placed third at Area while the Senior chapter conducting team went on to the state contests in Huntsville, where they placed sixth. The chapter began to realize its potential and more emphasis was placed on the chapter and its advancements.

In 1957 a complete shakeup of the program of work and officers took place. Four sophomores were elected to chapter office and under the leadership of President Randy Sanders an extensive program of leadership, scholarship and supervised farming went into effect.

At the Area leadership contests, both Junior and Senior chapter conducting teams took first place. When both teams took second place at the state contests, it was the first time in the history of the chapter that a Slaton team had been presented a banner on the state level. For the first time in over five years, Slaton was represented in the Area judging contests at Texas Tech, where three teams participated. At the end of the year, Slaton had a member elected to area office for the first time in its history. James Cole also took the publicity award.

In June, the year was climaxed by the announcement at the State FFA Convention in San Antonio that the Slaton chapter had placed in the top 30 chapters in Texas in a chapter rating contest. In August, Babb resigned as Vocational Agriculture teacher in order to take up the duties of Principal at Slaton High School. Appointed to succeed him was J. P. Brown from Tulla.

Early in the year, the chapter bought a 1959 station wagon. With its financial condition in good shape, the chapter was able to concentrate on other matters. Giles Smith was elected District Sentinel at Idalou in September, and soon after the leadership team went to Lubbock for the contests at district, both chapter conducting teams and the FFA Quiz team qualified for the state contests when they won at area.

The result of Babb's and Brown's combined five years of work was climaxed at Huntsville when the Junior chapter conducting team won the state contest. The Quiz team and senior chapter conductors both placed fourth. Members of the Slaton chapter are now working with each other to try to make this one of the best years ever. The officers are looking to the state convention, where they hope the chapter will be named one of the top ten in Texas. FFA members are proud of the past four years and the distance they have come, and hope that Slaton's citizens will realize that Slaton has an outstanding chapter and one of which they can be proud.

Mahon Asks Reconsideration Of Drop In Support Loans For Milo

WASHINGTON, March 5—Rep. George Mahon reports that the recently announced drop in support loans for feed grains has been a shock to the members of Congress from grain sorghum producing areas.

The House Committee on

Agriculture is making a study of the situation in preparation for a Committee hearing which will be held March 13. The support loan level announced for milo for the 1959 crop is 31 cents per hundred below the level for last year. The national average support for milo last year was $1.83 per hundred. The announced national average support for this year is $1.52 per hundred.

On Feb. 18, 1959, the Secretary of Agriculture announced support loan levels for corn, milo, and other feed grains. In view of the language of the law, it was anticipated that the support price for milo in 1959 would be approximately the same as corn, inasmuch as both have approximately the same feed value. This is not the case, and an explanation is being demanded and ways are being sought to remedy the situation, Mahon reports.

He stated, "Since the drastic drop in support levels for milo was announced, I have appealed to the Secretary of Agriculture and others in the Department to reconsider the action taken. I have received complaints in regard to the situation from Mr. Frank Moore of Plainview, President of the Grain Sorghum Producers Association, and many others. If the drastic cut in supports remains in effect, grain sorghum producers will sustain losses totaling many millions of dollars. A more effective program for all feed grains is needed, but action is made most difficult by reason of the well known attitude of the Secretary of Agriculture."

329 Rural Traffic Accidents In Lubbock County During Past Year

The Highway Patrol investigated 329 rural traffic accidents that occurred in Lubbock county during 1958. Sergeant E. L. Stroud, Patrol Supervisor of this area, announced today.

Property damage accidents accounted for 214 of the total. Personal injury for 104 and 11 were fatal accidents. These accidents caused a total property damage of $200,535.75 with 221 persons injured and 12 lives lost.

"In 1958, Texas recorded 1,869 fatal motor vehicle traffic accidents which resulted in 2,311 deaths," said Sergeant Stroud, adding that "639 of these deaths were in cities of over 2,500 population while the remaining 1,672 were rural traffic deaths."

The Sergeant further pointed out that these figures were not complete and an accurate account will not be known until about March 15. He estimated that when the final reports are received, the 1958 death figure should be approximately eight percent less than 1957.

Sergeant Stroud advised the Highway Patrol had investigated 18 rural accidents in Lubbock county during January, 1959, with the following breakdown: Property damage 7, Personal injury 10 and fatal accidents 1. This is a decrease of 3 accidents for the same period of 1958.

The Sergeant pointed out that speed continues to be the number one killer in traffic accidents throughout the State and called on all motorists to voluntarily observe the speed limits in an effort to prevent further carnage on our streets and highways.

WHAT IS THE OUTSTANDING MARK OF REAL MANHOOD OR WOMANHOOD?

To the writer of this article the answer to this question might be found in one word, and that word is "Truth". Sometimes we hear it said, "That a man's word is as good as his bond." That is a high compliment, for it means here is a true man, one who can be depended on in any circumstance.

In the book of Proverbs (30:7-8) we have a short prayer of Agur, son of Jakeh. "Two things I ask of thee; deny them not to me before I die: Remove far from me falsehood and lying." That was a short prayer, but it is right to the point, and it is evident that Agur considered truth as an outstanding mark of real manhood. There is nothing more godlike than truthfulness, for our God is always true to his word, and true to the laws which he created. A false god is no God. A false man is no man.

But being true to "Truth" includes a great deal more than speaking the truth, as important as that is. It includes being true to one's family; being true to one's citizenship; being true to one's business obligations; and being true to one's self, as that familiar quotation says:

"To thine own self be true, then thou canst not be false to any man."

Two men were employed by a lumber company in Houston, Texas, and sent out by themselves to do a certain job. One of the men was indifferent and careless with his work. The other man tried to be true to the task assigned to them. The first man said: "What is the use of taking so much pain with your work? There is no one here to see whether you do it well or not. No one will ever know, so it won't do you any good."

The second man said: "But, I will know whether or not I do my work well, and I believe it will pay in the long run." Then, jokingly, added, "Some day you will be coming to me for a job."

STRENGTH FOR THE WEEK

When that particular job was finished, the careless man was let out, but before long the other was promoted as foreman of the mill. A few years passed, then one day Frank turned up, looking for a job, and to his surprise he faced the very man who had said, "Some day you will be asking me for a job." He said, "Do you remember that time when we worked together on a certain job? And, do you remember what you said to me?"

"We said a lot of things," said the foreman, "Just what thing do you have in mind?"

"Do you remember saying that some day I would be asking you for a job? Well, here I am, and that is what I am asking, today."

"Yes," said the man who was then foreman, "I do remember. And I do need a man. But I wonder if you have learned to do your work well. If you think you have, I'll give you a job, right now."

But Frank had not learned to be true to his responsibilities, and it wasn't long before he was looking for another job.

"To thine own self be true, then thou canst not be false to any man."

That is good advice, but there is something even better, that is true to God, for then it can be said: "Be true to your God, then thou canst not be false to thine own self."

As is always the case, the best example of truthfulness is found in the life of Jesus Christ, who said, "I came down from heaven, not to do my own will, but the will of Him who sent me. 'I always do what is pleasing to Him.'"

If we would bear the mark of a true man, or a true woman, truthfulness must be embodied not only in our speaking, but also in our every act. That means being true in our business relationships. It also means being true to the vows of church membership, and to God. It means loyalty and faithfulness in service.

"I would be true, for there are those who trust me: I would be pure, for there are those who care;

County Officials Attend College Conference

County judges and or commissioners from 100 Texas counties attended the three-day County Judges' and Commissioners' Conference held on the campus of Texas A&M College Feb. 24-27.

Attending from Lubbock county were Judge Bill A. Davis and Commissioners Arch G. Lamb, George G. Green, Leslie Derrick and Alton Brasell.

The "back-to-school" type conference program was developed from suggestions by county officials. Its primary purpose is to give those participating a better understanding of the many problems which commissioners courts must handle in the discharging of their responsibilities.

The Conference is sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the County Judges' and Commissioners' Association of Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Creswell and Mrs. A. C. Ownby and son, Ozell went to Sherman, Saturday to attend funeral services for Mr. R. J. Stone. Mr. Stone was a brother to Mrs. Ownby and an uncle of Mrs. Creswell.

by J. C. Oakley, Manager

THE BEST WAY

"In placing a long distance call," I asked Mrs. Miller, the Chief Operator, the other day, "Many of our Slaton customers want to know the best way that would speed their call." "Tell them," Mrs. Miller said, "to give the operator the name of the called placed and the telephone number, if you know it, such as 'Houston, Capitol 7-1314' then, while the operator is advancing the call, she can obtain the calling party's telephone number and any other required information."

Following this advice will not only aid the long distance operator in handling your call but will also save valuable minutes for you—especially when you're in a hurry.

THE BEST WAY

Nowadays, we hear the term "good living" quite often. I have a few ideas about it, but to find out what it means to other people, I brought up the subject with a group of friends a week or so ago.

Before the "good living" talk was over and the coffee served, one of the women made music for my ears by saying that the telephones in color in her home are certainly an important part of good living.

Everyone seemed to agree, and that gave me a chance to point out that extra telephones in bedrooms and kitchens are low in cost, too—just $1.00 a month plus installation. For color, you know, there's a one-time charge of $10.

LOOKING AHEAD TO EASTER

Easter Sunday, to most of us, is a happy, dress-up, go-to-church day for all the family. And I hope you and your family will all be together for a Happy Easter.

Unfortunately, some families are scattered and won't be gathered around the table for the carving of the ham.

For these families, a Long Distance visit or two by telephone is the answer. It's the next best thing to being there in person, and everyone has fun on an out-of-town call.

Naturally, low Sunday rates will be in effect. And if you call station-to-station, you can talk longer for less.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

JUST TALK
BY A. M. J.

By A. M. Jackson

By request, I have dug my old reliable three-fingered typewriter from under the kitchen sink where it has been resting for nearly six years and am making a trial run with Just Talk. The disturbance displaced a family of mice and three black widow spiders and the request I mentioned came from my wife who wanted the space to store an electric iron with its innards blown out, some dog medicine and a pair of overshoes that she figures she will have no further use for.

The publishers of the Slatonite do not wish to be held responsible for anything that may appear in Just Talk and neither do I so to be on the safe side those who may not agree with the things that I write should read no further for I often find myself not agreeing with the ideas myself. In fact, I have on several occasions lately been accused of being against most everything. This is true and I blame it on indigestion, poor eyesight, too much coffee and the fact that I have nothing to do but find fault with things. This is much easier to do than to find what's right and a lot more fun. Who wants a steady diet of milk? It is my intention before long, as soon as I can get my charter granted, to organize a "What's wrong with the World Club" and Judge Smith says he wants to be the first member. He has a long list of things he wants corrected and first on the list is a reduction in Income Taxes and I want an Increase in Social Security Payments. Those being made now are just a tantalizing taste.

Those wishing to join my club must make personal application to me and make out a list of the things that need attention.

A few days ago ex-mayor Lee Wootton, who lives across the street from us, came over to show us his newly-banded hand and it was real neat. Lee according to his grief-stricken story had gone out in the dark to put his cat to bed for the night in the garage and hung his hand on a long and vicious nail that took a big bite out of the hand near his thumb. The doctor, according to Lee, punched his arm so full of holes with a hypodermic needle that he could easily be used for a salt shaker if he were filled with salt. The accident was to the same hand that got badly mangled way back yonder when Lee used to punch cattle in Borden county when he was helping brand calves at a round-up. He grabbed a big yearling in the corner of the mouth and instead of throwing it, he got his thumb hung on its teeth and when he got loose his thumb had almost parted company with his hand. The other cowboys took him to a stock tank, skimmed off the moss and washed his hand with the water that was full of wiggle tails, tadpoles and weeds and then put him on a big, rangy horse and headed him for Gall, which was seven miles away. He went through a wooden gate without even opening it and fell off the horse in front of the doctor's office in town. All the boys came running out of the hotel and saloon and carried him into the doctor's office and the Doc sewed the thumb back with a needle like a bootmaker does a leg on a boot.

Then wrapped it up in a bundle bigger than a bale of hay. He carried it like a mother does her first baby for about six months and it finally got well. The doctors do a lot better job of wrapping these days, said Leo. As he left he was considering putting some pink roses on the bandage so that it would look like a Christmas, Valentine or Mother's day present to his wife.

Have you noticed lately how many women are breaking their ankles and wrists? It's because of the high heeled shoes they are wearing. It has always been my opinion that women are smarter than men but lately I have begun to doubt it. Seeing all the women tottering down the street regardless of their age, contour or degree of beauty I feel real sorry for them and nearly every day I hear of some woman who has, for no reason at all, fallen on the kitchen floor or stumbled over a black-eyed pea and had been taken to the hospital with a fractured ankle.

The heels the manufacturers are putting on women's shoes have been a boon to the doctors, the hospitals and the women don't rise up and march on Washington or somewhere I'm going to classify them along with dogs and men.

This winter has been three year's long according to my calendar and I've got the spring fever so bad that it makes me weary to see Claud Spence leaning against the wall on the North side of the square. I think he ought to lie down and leave room for me and two or three others who like to soak up sunshine too. In case you should see a string of bodies along the downtown side walk on sunny afternoons don't worry, we won't be dead, we'll be resting from our labors.

Have you leafed through any nursery catalogues lately? Now is the time to really enjoy the delicate flavors of delicious sweet corn or the luscious crisp crunch of cucumbers grown on your very own cucumber vines. Sniff the breeze that blows over the full blown petals of a mammoth Peace rose as it bursts into flower on the bush you have planted and enjoy the full rich color of the shrub that has grown at your door step. I can see and smell and taste all of these to the tune of about fifty-nine dollars and forty-three cents and I'm going to enjoy these thrills now before all those things get here and before my back aches from planting them and before the bugs get on them and before the dog roots them up and before the cheeks come back from the bank on the first of the month. If you have not given in to these temptations it is safe now to take a peep at the catalogues for it's just about too late in the year to do your ordering. In case you do not have enough material let me know, I might lend you some.

Chuck Laird, 10, had been told flatly and finally to quit watching a TV western and wash the dinner dishes as that commercial came on about "rough, red dishwashing hands". The woman in the commercial asked desperately what she could do about her embarrassing dishwashing hands. Yelled Chuck indignantly, "Get yourself a child."
