Little Minds Are Wounded By Little Things

From the White County (Ind.) Times comes a list of the advice, criticism and complaints that plague the life of the average newspaper publisher. Here are a few of them:

"My name was spelled wrong in last week's paper. If you can't do better than that, you can stop sending it."

"When you print this story about my daughter's wedding, use it just like it's written. It's exactly right, so don't change a word."

"I hate farm news. Why clutter up a paper with that stuff?"

"I think your farm page is good, but there's not enough of it."

"If I couldn't write an editorial any better than you do, I wouldn't have any at all."

"(To operator running the Linotype) Where does the newspaper come out?"

"You're lucky you only have to work one day a week."

"Why don't you put out a daily?"

"Why don't you have more news and not so much advertising?"

"I find the ads as informative as the news and always read them."

"I've got to cut down on my advertising, Bill. Your wife hasn't been buying much here the past couple of months."

"If there is anything that disgusts me with a paper, it's all that drivel about who entertains who. Who cares about society news?"

"How do you get your news?"

"Why do printers get drunk?"

2. Here's a garden worth cultivating:

Four rows of peas;
Presence, Preparation,
Promptness, Perseverance.

Three rows of squash:
Squash gossip, Squash indifference, Squash criticism.

Five rows of lettuce:
Let us obey rules; Let us be true to obligations; Let us be faithful to duty; Let us be loyal and unselfish, Let us love one another.

Three rows of turnips:
"Turn up" at work; Turn up with a smile; Turn up with determination to make everything worthwhile!

Recently, while Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Edmondson, were returning from a vacation trip to Yellowstone National Park, they stopped at a service station in Utah. Robbie, 11, pulled off a new shirt in order to wash off the heat and grime of traveling. And he left the new shirt. After returning home, Mrs. Edmondson tried to pinpoint the station. After much discussion, it was decided the shirt was left in Gunnison, Utah. But they still couldn't recall the name of the station. Luckily, they had used a credit card, and Mrs. Edmondson sent off a postcard. Before the postcard could be reached, Gunnison, here comes the shirt. The attendant had found it, and taking the name and address from the credit card, had promptly wrapped and mailed the shirt, investing 28c in postage.

A small thing, maybe, but proving again that there are plenty of people who will go to extra trouble to do a kind deed. "I guess I'm just too suspicious of people," laughed Bobby Edmondson, "because I sure didn't think I'd ever see that shirt again."

My blessings on Rush Wheeler for getting his ad copy to me on Friday. Six lives were made sweeter by your efforts, Rush, and if someone doesn't hurry and get you some blackeyed peas, I will pull you some of green ones!

and Hack Lasater gets my blessings, too, such as they are.

QUESTION OF HERITAGE

Conservationists seek to preserve as much as possible of the natural beauty of the United States, together with the wildlife that flourishes in areas least disturbed by the hand of man. This is an admirable goal. It strikes a responsive chord in all who desire such things for themselves, and who believe that generations yet to come should be left a heritage of wilderness and wildlife.

Those who argue to this end are constantly running up against the arguments of others who, if they had their way, would "develop" every last inch of usable land. According to his viewpoint, other considerations should be secondary to that of "usefulness;" marginal land should be planted to crops, wilderness should be mined and grazed and tourist-camped, downtown parks should be converted into parking lots.

This is a somewhat exaggerated statement of their position, granted. But not much. When conservationists opposed drainage of natural marshes in the Minnesota and Dakota waterfowl-breeding areas at a recent congressional hearing, for example, a member of the committee asked, "Does your organization place the interests of wildlife above the interests of people?"

The question was not pertinent. To millions of people in the United States, wildlife is of great importance. This includes not only hunters and fishermen, but many others who enjoy seeing the creatures of wood and field in their natural habitat.

If waterfowl breeding grounds are drained, there will be fewer waterfowl. If wilderness areas are opened to the full exploitation of commercial interests, there will be no wilderness left for future generations. The question is not people versus wildlife. The question is whether this generation is going to preserve or destroy the natural heritage that is one of the great assets of American life.

A NOTE ON SAVING

There's hardly a man alive who has not remarked that keeping money is harder than making it. This is one of those Great Truths that acquire more bite as the years wear on. Yet hope of saving an occasional simoleon from the ravages of the high cost of living need not be abandoned. That inexhaustible storehouse of information, the National Geographic Society, has shown the way.

As befits the Geographic, the way is to be found in a remote area—the island of Yap, in the Pacific. The Yapfolk, it seems, have no worries about letting money slip through their fingers. Their coins are of stone, and may weigh a couple of tons.

So there it is: Get the boss to pay you in Yap coin. You may not eat very high on the hog, but keeping your money will be a cinch.

OUR NORTHERN FRIEND

The United States has a birthday this month, its 182nd. Canada also had a birthday, its 91st. We celebrate our Declaration of Independence. Canada's freedom was gained less spectacularly, in 1867, when a large measure of self government was granted to a new federation of British North American colonies.

The fate of the United States and Canada has to some extent been intertwined for many decades. There has been a remarkable state of harmony between these two nations, so different and yet so much alike. These are good things to think of, in this year 1958. We do well to study how this state of harmony can be preserved.

Of late the Canadians have been rather irritable because of injuries, real or fancied, which the United States has done their country. Our relationship with our friends north of the border has become a little touchy. Canadians are irked because our disposal of surplus wheat interferes with their wheat sales. And many good citizens of Canada are troubled because U.S. private capital investment exercises such control over Canadian industry.

These and other points of difference between the two countries need to be dealt with on the basis of friendship and mutual benefits. This was noted in a recent congressional study mission report.

In the light of these circumstances, the visit of President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles to Ottawa is a heartening step forward. The very fact of this visit should help to reassure Canadians of our national concern and good wishes. If the Ottawa talks signalize the start of improved U.S.-Canadian relations, that will be greatly to the advantage of both countries.

STRENGTH FOR THE WEEK

Since the Bible is the Word of God we have the obligation of reading it, studying it, and helping to spread it throughout the world. Sometimes individuals may feel that since they have a Bible in their possession and since their friends have a Bible in their home then it should naturally follow that everyone has a Bible. It is hard to imagine that there should be people or nations where the Bible is not available.

The plain fact, however, is that some portion of the Bible is available only in 1,134 of the world's 2,796 languages. In only 195 languages is the entire Bible available, while the New Testament, and an additional 602 have a single book of the Bible, and an additional 85 have only a portion of a selection.

We do appreciate the fact that a portion of the Bible is made available every year in one or more languages. But we still have a long way to go until even a portion of the Bible is available in every language.

And when you stop to think that not even 200 out of nearly 3,000 languages have the complete Bible, then you will realize that there is still much work to be done.

Since we have the Word of God in our language we should do everything in our power that others may have the same privilege that we have, namely to read the Bible in their own language. Just because we cannot translate the Bible into another language does not excuse us from helping in this

CITATION

Recently the Bell System was selected to receive the "Distinguished Service Citation" from the Reserve Officers' Association of the United States. The award was presented for our outstanding contribution to national defense. The Bell System was cited to provide "a bulwark of security behind such scientific developments as the Distant Early Warning Line and numerous other defense projects, many of them still secret." This is the first time this award has ever been presented to an industry.

You may wonder what this means to you here in Slaton. Only this, that it's a good thing for all of us that the Bell System, through Bell Laboratories, Western Electric and the Bell Telephone Companies is able and willing to perform these projects or you and I might be up to our necks in Russian bombs. This defense was created for you and me and the rest of the nation, and the Bell System because of its many advancements in the field of research, contributed greatly to its creation.

TIP FOR BUSINESSMEN

Ever try answering your out-of-town mail with long distance calls instead of letters?

Nothing can beat long distance when it comes to getting things done.

Just the other day, for example, I had three or four letters on my desk, all waiting to be answered. I just couldn't seem to get to them. Finally, I picked up the telephone and called the people. In 20 minutes I was through. I must have saved myself at least an hour's work.

Try doing it that way yourself. When you do, I think you'll like the quick action you get—as well as the small amount it costs.

DRESS UP YOUR KITCHEN

A lot of people who have remodeled their kitchen add a finishing touch by ordering a wall telephone in color to blend with the new color scheme.

You don't have to remodel, of course . . . a wall telephone in color will brighten your present kitchen—let you reach for the telephone and bake a cake at the same time.

There are seven attractive colors . . . light gray, cherry red, white moss green, ivory, pastel yellow, and light beige. Table model telephones are available in all these colors, too, plus aqua blue and rose pink. Call the telephone company today to put more color in your kitchen—or any other room in your home.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

SPOKEN WORDS HAVE A WAY OF BECOMING DISTORTED

If you've ever tried to track down a rumor, or unscramble a piece of gossip, you know how elusive is the spoken word! Or maybe you've noticed that you can't quite recall that funny quip by your favorite radio or TV comedian, yet you have no trouble quoting a joke you've read. It's a natural thing with all of us. That's why newspaper advertising gets such good results. It's there to read—in black and white (color too if you want it) and to refer back to, at your leisure.

Question: "Does the increasing need for college education today make it harder on young people to work out their marriage plans?"

Answer: Today there are two things that do affect marriage plans to a degree. One of these is the armed services and the other is college education.

Of course, one thing that makes these things a problem is the tendency toward early marriages. Some haven't properly realized that marriage is for mature persons. Quite often the body matures ahead of the mental and emotional nature of boys and girls. There are entirely too many marriages going on the rocks today primarily because the couple could not make the transition from the romance of dating to the reality of marriage responsibilities. gining of a family makes army life or college life more difficult. Many have to drop out of school because of home responsibilities.

When we realize that some of our most meaningful acquaintances are made in college, and when we realize that the four years that we delay marriage won't amount to much when considered in relation to the 40, 50 or 60 years that we may be married, those four years of preparation can well mean the difference between a compatible marriage and a thoroughly happy marriage.

Education can help the man to succeed in many ways, and it can also give a girl security, if something should happen to her mate. She will also find that a college education will help her in training her children and in working in her community and church.

The increasing need for education might make it necessary for young people to re-evaluate their marriage plans, but I would not say that the young folk who pursue the educational route are in any way hindered or put to a disadvantage when seen in terms of their whole lifetime. We get what we get ready for in life.

Blakley Story Is Typically Texan

The typical American story is of the poor boy who made good through his own efforts. This is the story of Bill Blakley, born in a covered wagon while his parents were on their way to homestead in Oklahoma territory. He has come a long way in 69 years. Said the Austin American-Statesman, when William A. Blakley announced for the Senate: "... He was a top-hand cowboy; he was a crackerjack bank clerk; he was an exceptionally good accountant and lawyer. We have an idea that he is going to be a refreshing, able political candidate. He would make a great United States Senator."

Vote for Bill Blakley on July 26 — an able man whose only ambition is to serve all of Texas.

Santa Fe film highlights Brussels Fair's observance of Texas Day

The cities of Amarillo, Lubbock, El Paso, and San Angelo and the productive areas of West Texas and the Panhandle will be a part of a film presentation on the Lone Star State which will feature Texas Day at the Brussels World's Fair, July 17, Governor Price Daniel announced today.

The documentary film "Texas, the Big State" produced by the Santa Fe Railroad has been loaned to the World's Fair by President E. S. Marsh of the Santa Fe lines at the request of Governor Daniel.

GOVERNOR DANIEL had been asked by the State Department for a film generally representative of the state, and he selected this film which has been shown extensively in schools in Texas, and elsewhere in the United States, Canada, and Latin America.

The film is a great story wherein Houston and many other communities can benefit greatly," Bryant said.

"It is a great film on a great state and tells a good story wherein Houston and many other communities can benefit greatly," Bryant said.

"SEEMINGLY EVERY EFFORT was made by the Santa Fe to capture the progress of industry and culture and to present the State in its many compelling phases. We are pleased that Governor Daniel is promoting international interest in the present and potential of Texas by this means."

The film sent to Brussels is a 35 millimeter color film, but "Texas, the Big State" is available on a free loan basis in 16 millimeter, color and sound, through the Santa Fe Film Bureau, 408 Santa Fe Building, Amarillo, Texas.

Four of the Slaton cheerleaders attended the seventh Annual Cheerleaders' School which was held June 29-July 4 at Midwestern University in Wichita Falls.

Those attending were June Johnson, junior, head cheerleader; Gail Johnson, sophomore; Gail Huser, senior; and Janet Adamek, freshman.

This is the third year that the Slaton cheerleaders have attended the school which had 220 enrolled from 50 schools. In the judging of how well the cheerleaders perform, Slaton cheerleaders placed five out of seven times. They received two honorable mentions, two second places and one first.

Mrs. Paul Patterson from the University of Texas was director for the school.

Qualifications for a good cheerleader were taught by the directors to be personality, leadership, rhythm, enthusiasm, courteous sportsmanship, personal appearance, imagination, voice and practice.

The purpose of the school was to teach the cheerleaders points on being a good cheerleader, new yells, stunts, and suggestions for pep rallies.

Dove banding shows decrease in white-wing doves this year

Recent white-winged dove banding operations in Mexico by the Game and Fish Commission personnel have been completed, according to the Director of Wildlife Restoration. During a 10-day period 934 white-winged doves were banded.

Bird counts on established census lines in northeastern Mexico indicated decreases in the breeding population ranging from 38 to 46 per cent below the 1957 counts. There was a three-day open season last year.

The project just closed was to determine the status of distribution of the white-wing in Mexico. Whether a season can be recommended again for this year will depend on further investigations of the crop in the Rio Grande valley.

Last year's season netted six banded white-wings from Mexico.

"These were bonus birds," said P. B. Uzzell, Project Leader of the Mexican operation. "If any appreciable number of Injuries up, deaths down in traffic figures for first half of year

Highway Patrolmen investigated a total of 240 accidents during the first six months of 1958 in the Lubbock station area, comprising Hockley, Lubbock, Crosby, Lynn and Garza counties, Sergeant E. L. Stroud said this week.

Of the above total, four were fatal accidents, 77 personal injury accidents, and 159 were property damage accidents.

Stroud reported a total property damage of $177,179 with 131 persons injured and four killed. This is an increase of four accidents and a decrease of 11 deaths for the same period last year.

Stroud said the patrolmen in his area contacted 8,628 drivers during the six-month period for the following violations:

DWI; speeding; 3,074; improper passing, 122; wrong side of road, 229; defective equipment, 3,143; disregard of stop or warning sign, 923; and all other violations, 1,113.

"During the vacation months, thousands of motorists are on the highways, and too many of them are intent on cramming as much activity as they can into one brief vacation, Stroud said. "The result is often tragedy."

He cautioned vacationers to be on their guard against speeders, drinking drivers and drivers who disregard traffic laws. Traffic accidents take no vacation, so to stay safe, step up your vigilance on the roads, and slow down and live.

Stroud also urged all motorists to check the expiration date on their drivers license to see that it has not expired. Patrolmen in this area are going to increase their activity in regard to drivers license checks, he said.

Agriculture Department vital to city and rural dwellers alike

City people have a vital stake in affairs of the Texas Department of Agriculture just as much as farmers and ranchers, Commissioner John C. White said this week.

White, who is seeking reelection as head of the state's top farm agency, said, "Every housewife, businessman or worker is somehow served by nearly all the duties of my department. We keep every grocery store scale accurate, check proper measures on gasoline pumps, make certain that printed weights on all foodstuffs are correct as well as maintain sound and economical policies that protect all phases of agriculture."

The 33-year-old White predicted a sweeping re-election victory in the July 26 primary based on his observations during a just-completed 1,600-mile tour of Central, North and West Texas.

"You can't argue with successful policies that have made Texas first in the South in modern farm services," White declared. "People assure me they want to keep an efficient administration in office."

Citing recent gains in agricultural work, White pointed out that the Texas Department of Agriculture services have been increased as much as 300% on many programs without making constant demands for new tax money.

Born and raised on North Texas tenant farms, John White was head of the Department of Agriculture at Midwestern University, Wichita Falls, prior to his election to office. He won re-election over two opponents in both the 1952 and 1956 campaigns and was unopposed in 1954.

Push-Button Cars Won't Do Push-Button Thinking for Us Citizens To Slow Down and Live

"Today's cars are really automatic. They have everything from push button windows to push button shifting. Yet, there still isn't a button to push that will do your driving-thinking."

This statement was made by J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety Association, which is co-sponsoring traffic laws program in cooperation with the National Safety Council's campaign to Back the Attack on Traffic Accidents.

"Every driver has to accept his responsibility for traffic safety," Musick said. "He has to know all the traffic rules and regulations and follow them to the letter."

Many otherwise law abiding citizens will treat traffic laws casually and even ignore them when it becomes inconvenient to comply. Too many drivers leave their morality and common sense at home when they get behind the wheel of a car, the safety expert said.

Continuing, he added: "Traffic laws can't be treated lightly. The attitude that 'it is okay if I can get away with it' causes many useless accidents. Every driver must be on the side of law observance if we want to cut down the shocking traffic death and injury toll."

Musick urged each Texan to be his own policeman by obeying traffic laws voluntarily.

"After all," he concluded, "These laws were enacted to protect you, not annoy you."

Texas Tourist Traffic Is Now Big Business

AUSTIN, TEXAS — Visitors to Texas spent more money and stayed around longer spending it in 1957 than during any previous year, so indicates the Tourist Industry Report released by the Texas Highway Department today.

D. C. Greer, State Highway Engineer, pointed to statistics in the Report which show that expenditures per person per day jumped to $8.22 in 1957, as compared to $7.71 in 1956. "Moreover, the typical tourist extended his visit to 6.3 days in 1957, as against 5.9 days the previous year," Greer observed.

The Report defined tourist dollars as new money earned elsewhere and brought into the community where it is spent and respent into the local business cycle. Specifically, tourist dollars to the tune of $531 million made music in Texas cash registers and jingled in the pockets of Texas jeans last year. This whopping amount was cleared from tourists travelling by automobile. Greer pointed out that this was an impressive increase over 1956's intake of $379 million. The Report says that approximately $98.9 million was spent also in 1957 by tourists visiting Texas by air, rail, bus, and ship.

Largest part of the tourist dollar in Texas is spent for food, lodging, and car upkeep. To serve those basic needs, the Report estimates, 25,320 established businesses with 102,265 employees are required. The final figures are increased many times when the retail stores, amusement spots, gift shops, and other places where the remainder of the tourist dollar is spent are considered.

Tourists themselves provide the records from which the Highway Department obtains the statistics in the annual Tourist Industry Report, Greer remarked. Survey cards, to be completed and mailed back after the visit in Texas, are given tourists' stopping at the Department's seven Highway Travel Information Bureaus located on major highways entering the state. Last year the Bureaus played host to 174,000 such out-of-state guests.

DAVID CROSS took first place in his division in breast stroke, and second in backstroke, while Ritchie Polk placed second in freestyle.

Marilyn McSween took two first place honors and one second. She finished first in freestyle and backstroke, second in breast stroke. Nancy Smith placed third in breast stroke. Both girls competed in girls 11-14 division.

Sammy Wilson took first place in the back stroke contest for boys 15-17, and fourth in freestyle in that group.

Blakley's campaign for Senator termed one of 'most effective'

William A. Blakely, Dallas rancher-lawyer-businessman who had never sought public office and was virtually unheard of in Texas politics a year ago, is now being credited with having conducted one of the most effective campaigns in Texas history in the race for U. S. Senator. So states James Blundell, Blakley's campaign manager.

Since announcing for Senator three months ago, an office in which he served with marked distinction in an interim appointment for four months in 1957, Blakley has traveled more than 12,000 miles and visited upwards of 200 towns and cities throughout the state. He has waged a campaign of personal visiting and handshaking with tens of thousands of voters on courthouse squares, on the streets and in the stores.

A plain man, characterized "an Texan as a cowboy's saddle," Blakley has never outgrown the cow country background from which he launched his remarkable career. Born while his family was on the way to Oklahoma territory in a covered wagon, he was earning a cowboy's wages at 14. He got hold of the books, taught himself accounting and became an accountant. He taught himself law and became a lawyer. Long years of hard work and sacrifice made him a successful businessman, rancher and lawyer, but he has never turned his back on his humble beginnings.

"I do not believe," he says, "that the day will ever come when the working man or the farmer will be paid too much for his services, so long as his earnings are based on productive time. The more he earns the better off we will all be—and I support the proposition of his having every benefit possible—so long as it is also tied to productive effort.

"The right to work and the right to educate your children, without restraint, regulation or interference from government, or private associations and organizations, must be reestablished, protected and maintained if this nation is to continue to be the land of the free."

Mrs. Thomas Longtin is attending a two-week Leadership School at Mt. Sequoyah, Arkansas. She left Sunday with Rev. and Mrs. J. B. Sharp and sons. Mrs. Longtin will teach the kindergarten sponsored by First Methodist Church this fall.

Traffic fatalities, accidents being accepted as 'routine' part of life

J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety Association, said today that Texans are becoming "case-hardened" to fatal traffic accidents. Accepting them as a part of routine news and not as state and national disasters.

"The Galveston flood of 1900 with its 6,000 fatalities; the Texas coast hurricane of 1915 and 375 dead; the New London school explosion in 1937 costing 294 children their lives; Texas City's 550 dead in 1947; and, the Waco tornado of five years ago with its toll of 114 lives; these represent some of Texas' worst disasters. They are headlines of yesteryear and they won't soon be forgotten," Musick said.

"BUT THE COMBINED death toll (7,333) from these tragedies falls short of the 7,697 lives lost on Texas streets and highways in just the past three years.

"In fact, in the twenty years since the New London explosion, traffic smashups have claimed more than 40,000 lives in the Lone Star state. We are apparently becoming case-hardened to reports of these motor-cases, because we continue to tolerate them in spite of published, effective measures of accident prevention."

THE SAFETY expert was speaking in behalf of TSA's current Slow Down and Live Campaign, which is being conducted by the statewide organization during summer's peak vacation months—and urges drivers to reduce their speed. Musick said that speed was the contributing factor in 57 percent of Texas' rural fatal accidents in 1957. Thus making the Slow Down and Live program a campaign that is directed at the heart of the traffic problem.

New Senate Hand Aided Democrats

When William A. Blakley was appointed to the U. S. Senate in 1957, he was a political unknown in Texas. But Washington awaited his arrival with great interest. So close was the party balance in the Senate that Blakley's vote was the difference between Democratic and Republican control.

True to his Democratic tradition, Bill Blakley voted with his fellow Democrats. They have been in control ever since.

Now Bill Blakley seeks his first elective term in the U. S. Senate. A vote for Blakley is a vote for sound, Democratic government.

New information booklet about veterans land program available

A new information booklet about the Texas Veterans' Land Program has been printed and is now being distributed, Land Commissioner Bill Allcorn says.

"Veterans, attorneys, and others interested in the program will find the new booklet of especial interest and help," Allcorn believes.

The pamphlet was published to meet an increasing demand for information about the speed-up Veterans' Land Program, the land commissioner notes.

"In rewriting this material, we have included changes in the program since the last booklet appeared late in 1955. Our pamphlet has been written so that it is easily read," Allcorn explains.

The booklet is divided into two parts. One outlines procedures and information and the other is the Veterans' Land Act.

The booklet may be obtained without cost by writing to Allcorn at the General Land Office, Austin 14.

ARE YOU interested in your County Government?

ARE YOU interested in the roads in your own neighborhood?

ARE YOU interested in keeping taxes at a minimum?

Your commissioner is an important member of your county governing body. This is where your tax rate is made. With my help we have kept your county taxes down. Lubbock County of all the 254 counties in Texas rates 212 from the top, or 42nd from the bottom of the list. Our county tax rate is 83c per 100 valuation. This low rate has been maintained in the face of a tremendous growth in population over the past years.

OUR ROADS

Building roads is the duty and responsibility of your commissioner. During my administration there have been 45 miles of roads paved by precinct funds. 32 miles of roads have been paved by state funds with 12 more miles to be built by the state this year. We are in the process of paving about nine more miles of roads with precinct funds this year.

The cemetery streets in Slaton have been paved and the County-Slaton park has been improved tremendously and kept in good condition at all times.

My time has been spent in every worthwhile effort to improve these things for the public. My many friends tell me that Precinct 2 does not need a change at this time. This decision is based upon the accomplishments of this office over the past years.

I devote all my time to the duties of county commissioner and have no other business interests. This I will continue to do if continued in office.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex.—In 1876 a wagon with a team of oxen was good transportation in Texas. But on today's city streets and super-highways, the ox wagon would be just a traffic bottleneck.

Some Texans now are saying Texas' 82-year-old, ox wagonera Constitution is a bottleneck on the road to development of dynamic 20th-century government.

Constitutional revision is not one of the currently sizzling campaign issues. But, quietly and patiently, numerous people in government, in the bar, in professional and civic groups, the press and in private and public educational institutions are plugging away in a make-haste-slowly campaign. Principal objective now is to get Texans thinking about what they want and need in a state constitution today.

Their campaign gained official blessing last year when the Legislature passed a resolution instructing the Legislative Council to do research on the subject and report back in 1959. An 18-member citizens advisory committee was appointed to counsel with the legislative study group. Dean Robert G. Story of the SMU Law School is chairman; C. Y. Mills of Mission and Mrs. Horton Wayne Smith of Austin, vice chairman; and Dan Moody Jr. of Austin, secretary.

Next meeting of the advisory group is to be held in September. Right now, one member admits that progress toward revision is itself moving at an ox wagon pace. Reason is that those concerned feel strongly that any action should be preceded by an exhaustive, professional research job. This takes money.

Legislative Council, with a staff of seven, and 11 studies under way, can't go all-out on this one thing, but is doing some fact gathering during the summer. Both Council and committee hope to get money for the work, perhaps by next year, from the Legislature and/or some private foundation.

Advocates of Constitutional revision advance these points, among others, as reasons for concern:

1. It's a staggering document, 47,000 words long, patched up with 133 amendments. If nine more proposed amendments are approved next November, it'll be 54,000 words. Much of it is regarded by lawyers as properly belonging in the statutes rather than in a basic document like the Constitution. Much is cited as totally useless, such as provisions for repelling Indian raids.
2. Like Topsy, Texas' huge conglomeration of agencies, departments, commissions and divisions, "just grew." It's all so loosely put together, say critics, that folks don't know who to blame when things don't suit them. Same indictment is applied to the fiscal set-up. It's a billion-dollar-a-year business.

and bring all good points to the fore in a promotional effort.

Commission members expressed hope that passage next November of a constitutional amendment to permit use of state funds for advertising would make continuation of their efforts possible.

HANDS OFF—State Board of Education has gone on record as officially—and positively—opposing any plan to tamper with the permanent school fund.

Last legislature voted to make 1 per cent of the permanent fund available annually for current expenses. State Auditor C. H. Cavness has proposed making part of future income from school lands available for pressing present needs and putting only part into the multi-million-dollar school trust fund. But the school board declared the fund should be "inviolable."

At the same meeting the Board learned the school fund had run $6,091,905 in the red for 1957-58. Reduction in oil production, a prime source of school revenue, was blamed. Per student state payments for next year were cut from $82 to $75.

Mr. and Mrs. John Berkley are spending the week on a ranch out from Colorado Springs with Mrs. Berkley's aunt and uncle.

Pam Maxey becomes bride of Jerry Jones in church ceremony Friday

Miss Pamela Ann Maxey and Jerry Lloyd Jones exchanged wedding vows and rings Friday, July 11, at 8 p.m. in First Baptist Church, before an altar decorated with Woodwardia fern, Baby's Breath and candelabra with lighted pink candles. Pink candles, pink roses and greenery decorated the baptistry and lighted pink tapers marked the parents' pew.

Rev. Ted E. Gaze officiated at the twin ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Maxey and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Jones of Route 2, Slaton.

Miss Rojean Collins of Cleburne, soloist, sang "Because," "I Love You Truly," and "The Wedding Prayer," accompanied by Mrs. L. B. Hagerman who also played traditional wedding music.

The bride approached the altar on the arm of her father who gave her in marriage. She was wearing a gown of Chantilly-type lace over satin. Designed with tiny Peter Pan collar and long tightly fitted sleeves extending in points over the hands, the molded bodice terminated in a point at center-front waistline. The bouffant skirt of lace tiers extended over hoops and a satin underskirt to the floor. Her fingertip veil of French illusion depended from a tiara of small seed pearls, iridescent sequins and lace.

She carried a white Bible, a gift from the YWA girls, topped with a cascade arrangement of white butterfly roses, a white orchid with streamers of white satin ribbon and stephanotis.

Mrs. Bobby G. Jones, sister-in-law of the groom, was matron of honor. Other attendants were Misses Monty Dickson, Linda Smith and Beverly Kercheval, bridesmaids; Misses Suzanne Neill and Della Scoggins, candlelighters; little Miss Darlene Jones, cousin of the groom from Lubbock, flower girl. They were attired in gowns of petal pink cotton satin fashioned with square necklines and fitted bodices highlighted by cummerbunds of petal pink nylon organza with bustle-like bows at center back. Joining these were fully flared skirts. They wore crowns of nylon net and iridescent pink sequins complemented with tiny scalloped nose veils. They carried arm bouquets of dark pink majestic daisies with matching wide satin streamers and bows.

Bobby G. Jones served his brother as best man. Groomsman were Mac Hudgins, brother-in-law of the bride of Lubbock, Carlton Tumlinson, Tommy McClanahan, Joe Bob Jones and Hugh Van Pierce. Mac Hudgins, Lubbock, nephew of the bride was ring bearer.

At the ensuing reception in Fellowship Hall of the church, the bride's table was laid with silver nylon net over pink satin caught at the corners with Baby's Breath. The bridesmaids' bouquets, silver candelabra with white tapers, a three-tiered wedding cake and silver and crystal appointments decorated the table.

Assisting with hospitalities were Mesdames L. M. Hudgins, H. G. Stokes, M. H. Lasater, George Harlan, Francis Perry, Misses Beth Lowry, Louise Moore, Peggy Ray, Ann Haddock, Venita Green and other friends.

Removal of politics from agriculture office aim of Glenn H. Kothmann

Glenn H. Kothmann, candidate for agriculture commissioner, believes that politics should play no part of the agriculture commissioner's office. Accordingly, he has made this his campaign theme:

"Take politics out of the agriculture commissioner's office." Kothmann, a 30-year-old livestock man and legislator from San Antonio feels his wide background and experience in the livestock field and agriculture together with service on all major agriculture committees of the Legislature qualify him for the post he seeks.

He has pledged himself to "serve all areas of the agriculture and livestock business in Texas, from the producer to the consumer," he says also: "I believe the office of agriculture commissioner ought to be operated for the benefit of all the people of Texas. To do this, people must be put ahead of partisan political considerations."

A native of San Antonio, Kothmann was educated in the San Antonio public schools. He graduated from Texas A&M in 1950 with a degree in agriculture.

He is in the livestock business with his family who have been a well known hill county livestock and ranch family for more than 100 years. The Kothmanns have operated from offices in the San Antonio union stockyards since 1893.

While at A&M Kothmann was on the livestock judging and meat judging teams, and a cadet lieutenant colonel in the corps. After graduation he was commissioned a second lieutenant in the infantry. Later transferred to the cavalry he commanded Hq. Co. of the famed 112th Armored Cavalry Regiment. At present he is a captain on the Adjutant General's staff in Austin.

Kothmann belongs to the Texas Cattle Raisers Assn., the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers

Assn., National Guard Assn., Texas A&M Former Students Assn., the San Antonio Junior Chamber of Commerce, the American Legion and the Texas Farm Bureau.

Santa Fe marks record loading of grain cars early in July

Figures just compiled by the Santa Fe Railway's operating department indicate that, on June 30 and July 1 this year, the Santa Fe loaded a record number of grain cars on its system.

On June 30, 2,933 cars were loaded on the Santa Fe, over half of which were on the Western Lines in Texas, Kansas, Oklahoma, Colorado, and New Mexico. This is an all-time high.

On July 1, there were 2,035 grain loadings on the system to establish the fourth highest grain loading figure in the railroad's history.

The other two record dates occurred July 8, 1931, when 2,723 cars were loaded, and July 13, 1929, when 2,124 cars originated on the Santa Fe.

The 1958 record days indicate a good supply of cars for grain movement this year, according to Santa Fe officials who said the only grain put on the ground during the recent and present harvest was there because of lack of people to handle it or some other factor rather than shortage of freight cars.

Sure-footed Man Serves Texas
The colorful language of the ranch and trail seems to fit Bill Blakley, who made his start in life as a working cowhand. He still rides and ropes with the hands on his ranch at roundup time.

Speaking of Blakley's service as U. S. Senator in 1957, the Dallas News said: "... If he was as unassuming as an old boot, it was nevertheless a well polished boot that never wobbled or wavered from its purposeful path. For this man Blakley is a sure-footed man who knows exactly where he stands and what he believes."

Texasans will vote to return William A. Blakley to the Senate on July 28 because he truly represents the spirit, traditions and views of all Texas.
