Mary Baggett is getting along nicely at her home since her appendectomy last week. She is chipping away at her desk and will soon be able to work at her desk.

Have you ever had house pests and the sink stop or things go out or some such family?—well last Thursday evening while Home Furniture was jammed with people and the sales people were busy as bees, the air conditioning went off. That didn't seem to phase the buyers, though. Mr. Tomlinson says they've been having a wonderful sale. It goes to show that the buying public will buy when they receive their money's worth, even if it is hot. Their sale will continue through Saturday.

Jack Lasater says he sold out of lawn mowers from his advertisement in last week's Slatonite. Guess it is a good thing for I've never seen the grass grow so fast as it has since it rains last week. He chose proper time to reduce the price on his mowers and to let people know he was offering them a bargain.

While I am thinking or reading from advertising, we were told this week to please discontinue a classified running in this paper for the lady said she couldn't get her afternoon dress for the phone ringing, someone wanting to rent the apartment she had listed.

For the first time in several years, Slaton hopes to have a kindergarten, in fact, looks like there will be two of them. First Methodist Church is to sponsor a day school for younger children under the direction of Mrs. Tom Longtin. The classes will meet in the Educational Building while Mrs. Jack Berkley plans to teach one in her home.

I would hate to try to get without paying my just obligations in this town or any other that matter, for Mrs. Vivian Jones, manager of the Slaton Mail Merchants Association, said run down every clue, then address and get the money from her clients. In case you haven't thought about it, she's doing an outstanding job over here and no doubt saving Slaton merchants much money.

The best way I know to keep going is to associate with young people. They will make you feel how tired and stiff you are, and you'll get a new lease on life. You don't have any youngsters in your home, make friends with your neighbors' children. We had the pleasure last week of entertaining Miss Danielle Thuillier, the Rotary guest from France. She's so full of pep, enthusiasm, wit and fun that we're good for having been with her. She's a very wholesome, lovable person. If all the French youth compare with her, Pierre Devillers, the Rotary guest from France three years ago, my hat's off to the youth of that land. It is a privilege to have them in your town.

Bill Haddock, over at Haddock's Food Store, told me yesterday that Swift's Mello was about one of the most popular items in his store during the summer months. This weekend he is selling one half gallon for 35 cents which makes it not only a popular seller but a mighty good buy. Look his way and you will find some money-saving buys, bacon for instance.

Something new has been added to O. Z. Ball's, that's a boys' apartment. They are inviting us to come visit them Thursday night at their formal opening and see their store since they have made this addition.

Slaton has had two good openings on 9th street vacant for several weeks but I believe they won't be long before they are occupied. Brewer's building, recently occupied by Southwestern Barber Shop, is being rented this week making room for a shoe store, we hear. I don't know any of the details but I think it will be open August 15.

French aims, way of life told local Rotarians by Danielle Thuillier

An explanation of French aims and goals was made to Slaton Rotarians last Thursday, as they welcomed their guest for the summer, Miss Danielle Thuillier, a native of Paris. Miss Thuillier explained that the biggest problem facing the French nation as present was that in Algeria. She said that the French people had placed their faith and hopes in General de Gaulle for a quick solution to the problems. "We are also placing our hopes in the referendum which will change our constitution," she continued. "We know now that we will have to share our wealth with other countries."

Presbyterian women plan cake sale for Aug. 16

Women of First Presbyterian Church will sponsor a cake sale in the educational building of the church beginning at 10 a.m. Saturday, August 16. Mrs. M. G. Mitchell will be chairman of the sale. Homemade cakes of all varieties will be available, and the sale will continue until the cakes are sold. Proceeds of the sale, like those of other projects carried on throughout the summer, will go toward the improvement of the educational building and the purchase of equipment for the educational program.

Slatonites will participate in Tech home economics talks

Three Slaton residents will be speakers at a workshop interpreting home economics next week at Texas Tech. Mrs. Ima Dora Haile, Slaton home economics teacher and Shirley Kitten, vice president of the Future Homemakers of America at Slaton High School will speak on Home Economics; while June Johnson, area vice president of FHA will speak on a home economics information and education program. Other speakers will include Dr. Willa Vaughn Tinsley, dean of Home Economics at Tech, Mrs. Aubrey Russell, district home demonstration agent; Bob Stevens, farm director of KFYO; W. E. Garets, chairman of the department of journalism at Tech; B. J. Whitted, instructor of journalism at Tech; Mrs. Novella Hart, home service advisor for Pioneer Natural Gas Co., and Fred Cunningham, superintendent of Hereford Public Schools. The special speakers will present

Police seek aid in church parking

Cooperation in relieving the parking situation around Slaton churches this week was asked by the Slaton Police Department. Bill Daniels, chief of police, said that the parking situation around many of the local churches when services are being held was such that an emergency vehicle, such as a fire truck or an ambulance, would encounter difficulty in getting through. He said that cooperation of the church officials, as well as church members was required, so that they would not have to resort to a more stringent method in keeping streets open for emergencies.

gram chairman for the day. Miss Thuillier is the fourth visitor from a foreign country to spend time in Slaton as guest of members of the local Rotary Club. She arrived in Lubbock by bus from New York last Sunday. While here she will also spend some time in Post as guest of the Rotary Club there.

Texas, New Mexico teams here Saturday for Swimming Meet

Swimmers from Portales and Clovis, New Mexico, and Post, Tahoka and Lubbock will be in Slaton Saturday for Slaton's annual swimming meet. Preliminary races will begin at 9 a.m., and races will continue throughout the day until all finals have been completed.

Methodists at Cooper holding revival meeting

The Rev. Ellis Todd, pastor of First Methodist Church, Sudan, is evangelist at a revival meeting underway this week at the Cooper Methodist Church. Services are being held twice daily, at 8 a.m. and 8 p.m. The meeting will continue through Sunday, August 10. Rev. Todd is former pastor of the Methodist Church at Union.

present different aspects of interpretation. Then participants will develop applications suited to their own interests and situations. They may create exhibits or demonstration programs, or prepare information for newspapers, radio, television and other public communication media.

EAGER TO LEARN—Quite anxious to know more about America, Texas, and Texans, Danielle Thuillier, left, is making some comparisons of her first impressions of this country with the way things are in her native France. Shown with her are Wanda Kunkel, and Mrs. Melvin Kunkel, in whose home she stayed upon her arrival here last week. Sponsored by the Slaton Rotary Club, Danielle is here through cooperation of the local club and the International Research Fund, Inc. She is the fourth visitor from a foreign country to be guest of the Rotary Club. While here she will visit in the home of various Rotarians, as well as spend some time in Post as guest of that Rotary Club.

Officers included in the conference include deputy grand knights, financial secretaries, trustees, treasurers, and general chairmen of the six point program. Pool record broken; Local swimmers place fifth in Amarillo competition

Two Slaton boys broke pool records at the 1958 West Texas Swimming Meet held last Saturday in Amarillo. David Cross set a pool record in the 50-meter backstroke for boys 14 and under with a time of 37.6 seconds. Noel Lee Dickson, with a time of 47.5 seconds set a new pool record in the 50-meter backstroke for boys 12 and under. Cross was only one point shy of high point boy honors. Slaton's team placed fifth, coming in behind Amarillo, Oklahoma City, Odessa, and Lubbock. In the 50-meter freestyle for boys 12 and under, Dickson took second place, with Alan Reasoner placing fifth. Betty McSween placed fifth in the 50-meter breaststroke for girls 14 and under, while Deanie Hatchett placed third and Larry Smith placed fifth in the 50-meter breaststroke for boys 12 and under. Third place in the 50-meter breaststroke for girls 12 and under went to Marilyn McSween. David Cross placed first in the 50-meter backstroke, and took second place in the 50-meter butterfly stroke. A CIVIC-MINDED EFFORT

The presence of a foreign visitor in Slaton again this year points out the civic-mindedness of Slaton Rotarians. Miss Danielle Thuillier, the fourth visitor here from a foreign county, is visiting in Slaton and Post this summer, getting an impression of the American way of life.

Miss Thuillier pointed out this week that a majority of Europeans have the idea that American youth are of the "James Dean" type—wandering aimlessly through life with no concern for anything or any person.

Already her idea of Americans has undergone drastic changes, and doubtless as she stays longer in various homes in our community, she will come to know more about how average American—and Texan—families live.

Visiting in private homes, staying in one locale, and living ordinary everyday life with our people should do much toward destroying the picture of an "orge" as has been painted of American citizens by communist propaganda in Europe.

ART BY ACCIDENT

So-called "modern art" does not deserve the blanket condemnation it often receives. Yet a willingness to judge each work on its own merits need not blind one to the fact that some who call themselves artists enjoy pulling the public's leg—and especially if they can get paid for doing so.

A young Briton named William Green is a case in point. Last year he was producing "art" by running his bicycle back and forth across canvas smeared with various substances. This year he has topped that by drenching bitumen-covered board with kerosene and setting it ablaze. The scorched results are being offered—at up to $280 per scorcher—in a London art gallery.

Actually, Green shows a lack of imagination. He could obtain interesting effects, for example, by dropping ripe fruit and tomatoes from a 10-story building. Or how about stretching a paint-splotted canvas where cars could run over it, and calling the result "Traffic Patterns"? Or how about just getting a job?

THE FAUBUS VICTORY

The landslide victory of Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas in the Democratic gubernatorial primary is a setback for those in the South who believe that "civil order and obedience to law are supreme values overriding any subsidiary issues." The Faubus triumph, which virtually assures him a third term as governor, who doubtless stimulate renewed defiance of the Supreme Court's order against racial segregation in the public schools.

The quotation above is from a pamphlet, "The South Speaks Out for Law and Order," prepared by a group representing various church groups and the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith. The pamphlet makes it clear that many Southern newspaper editors, who in turn express the sentiments of millions of Southerners, have spoken eloquently against the use of violence and intimidation.

This view, calling for moderation and for civil change only through due process of law, was rejected by a heavy majority in Arkansas. That is disheartening to all who believe that the Faubus approach to the situation at Central High School in Little Rock was wrong because it involved open defiance of federal authority.

The vote in Arkansas is not the end of the story, however. It cannot obscure the progress being made, in other parts of the South, toward solution of this complex problem in human relationships. Thousands of Arkansas citizens did vote for men who, though they too believe in segregation, would fight for it by orderly, legal means. It is the regard for order and obedience to law that must eventually prevail.

All those jokes about the space satellites would be much funnier if we, and not the Russians had sent them up.

Russia's announcement that it will quit atomic tests, just after setting off several whopping explosions, reminds us of the kids who always wanted to quit playing ball when they had just had their innings.

A sincere hope is that quadruple headlights will not serve to make the target easier for some drivers to hit.

When good King Arthur ruled the land of Britain, he had a goodly throng of knights. Devoted they were to the king, but of each other very jealous. Quarrel followed quarrel as to precedence at the king's table. The king tired of the bickering, could ill spare those who had died fighting over who should sit nearest the head of the table. King Arthur had a solution. He built a round table to seat the knights, so that all might be equal. Tradition says that henceforth all went well. Instead of fighting each other, they all fought for the king.

ELECTRIC WATER HEATING IS BEST FOR YOU!

These photographs depict simple illustrations of water heating principles. Any high school physics student can perform them. They graphically show why electric water heating is safe, efficient and dependable.

PHOTO 1—Electric water heaters have cold water baffles. Smoke is used to represent cold water as it enters the water heater at the bottom of the tank. Because of the baffle, the smoke lays on the bottom, just as would cold water entering an electric water heater. The baffle keeps the cold water from mixing with the hot water.

PHOTO 2—Remove the baffle and the smoke surges through the entire glass just as cold water entering non-electric water heaters surges throughout the tank, reducing the overall temperature of the previously heated water.

PHOTO 3—Using a paper cup to represent a non-electric water heater and a candle as the heat source, you find that water poured into the cup keeps the paper from burning.

PHOTO 4—But, now add sand, representing the sediment that collects on the bottom of water heaters due to solids in the water. The bottom of the cup is subjected to excessive heat and will burn out quickly.

PHOTO 5—This is true because the insulating qualities of the sediment prevent the heat from reaching the water. This graphic presentation shows, too, why old non-electric water heaters become unsafe.

Electric water heaters are fully insulated on all sides. The heating elements wrap around the sides of the tank and are not affected by water solids which may collect in the tank. It is impossible for the bottom of an electric water heater to burn out. Electric water heating is safe and you can get Reddy's special water heating rate—ask your Public Service Company manager.

Automobile drivers at fault in majority of car-train accidents

Most people probably assume the train usually hits the car in highway-railroad crossing accidents.

Not necessarily so. "A third of the time," says the National Safety Council, "it's just the reverse — the car strikes the train."

The Council says the car does the hitting in half the nighttime accidents and in about 1 out of 5 daytime car-train accidents. About 1,300 persons are killed annually in grade crossing motor vehicle accidents.

The reasons? Misjudged speed, starting up too soon after a train has passed without checking for trains from the opposite direction, ignored warning signals, drinking and driving, speeding, and familiarity with frequently used crossings, according to the Council. Motorists can prevent car-train accidents, it says, if they will:

1. Approach highway-rail intersections with their vehicle under complete control, heed the round advance warning sign and be prepared to stop if necessary.
 2. Use extra precautions if they can't see far down the tracks. Be sure the way is clear before crossing the tracks.
 3. Obey traffic rules, and caution others to do the same.
 4. Observe crossing signs, signals and markings. Preventing highway-rail traffic accidents is, in the opinion of Jack C. Trimble, secretary of the Council's Highway-Railroad Crossing Committee, "the job of traffic officials," the railroads and the public.
- "But it isn't a fifty-fifty proposition," he says. "The driver must bear the biggest burden. He can stop quicker or swerve to avoid an accident, while a train can't. His is the more maneuverable vehicle."
- "It's a needless tragedy for motorists to run into the side of or in front of trains. "It is almost invariably the motorist's fault. It is his responsibility to be alert for signs, to watch his speed, and to stop if necessary."

Shock control unit for freight cars developed by Santa Fe Railway

In order to reduce loss and damage and to provide better protection to lading from shocks, Santa Fe Railway has developed a new "shock control" unit for use on freight cars.

President Ernest S. Marsh announced today that 100 of the new "shock control" cars have just been put in production schedules for August and September, 1958, construction.

The first "shock control" freight car, ATSF 10001, was released from the company's Topeka, Kansas, shops on June 14, and will be given its initial public exhibition at the Pacific Coast Shipper's Advisory Board Meeting to be held at Fresno, California, on June 19 and 20.

"Marsh said the new 'shock control' design incorporates into the car a movable center sill having a predetermined amount of travel in either direction which is retarded by means of a hydraulic device located horizontally in the middle of the car between the center sills. It also includes the use of standard draft gear arrangements at each end of the car.

The hydraulic device is a double-acting cylinder and piston contained within an outer housing which acts as a reservoir for the hydraulic fluid. Being double-acting, it absorbs impact energy from both buff and draft impacts and, although designed to absorb high impact energy, there is no inherent recoil in this hydraulically-actuated device. Its use in conjunction with conventional high capacity draft gears protects fragile lading at impact speeds up to approximately 12 miles per hour.

ATSF 1000, the first car to be placed in service equipped with the new "shock control" unit designed and built by Santa Fe personnel, is a modified conventional 50-foot-6-inches "DF" (damage free) box car with a floating underframe having 10 inches of travel in either direction.

It also is equipped with roller bearing control trucks having long travel springs and 6x11 journals to compensate for the additional weight and to provide a car having 60-ton capacity instead of the conventional 50-ton capacity generally specified for a car of this size. The car has standard "damage free" loading equipment with nine belt rails, 50 cross members, 10 each of the 24-inch and 48-inch deck bars and 8 doorway members. It has a clear door opening of 8 feet by 9 feet and ten and five-sixteenths inches. Its new color scheme is Indian red with black and white stenciling which reads "DF with shock control—floating underframe—gives freight a smoother roll."

"Santa Fe is placing these 'shock control' cars in service as part of its contribution to the railroad industry in its effort to reduce loss and damage and to provide our shippers with improved equipment," Marsh said.

His wife, the former Betty Joyce Green, and baby daughter live in Slaton at 955 W. Lynn.

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (FHT-NC)—Jerry D. McClain, gunner's mate third class, USN, grandson of Mrs. O. W. Wals-ton, returned July 25 to San Diego, Calif., aboard the destroyer tender USS Prairie after completing a tour of duty in the Far East.

Examinations for Highway Patrol planned September 16 in Lubbock

Competitive examinations to fill about 200 vacancies in the ranks of the Texas Highway Patrol, will be given on September 16 in Lubbock, September 17 in Amarillo, and September 18 in Wichita Falls, according to Maj. R. A. Crowder, DPS regional commander.

Crowder stated that applicants must be between the ages of 21 and 35 years of age, have at least high school education or its equivalent. He must also be in good physical condition, be at least 68 inches and not more than 76 inches in height, and weigh not less than two pounds nor more than three pounds per inch of height.

Applicants must also have been a resident of Texas for at least one year prior to the date of the examination.

"We offer 10 weeks of general training in Police Science, Tactics, and Administration, under some of the nation's foremost professional police authorities at the Department of Public Safety Police Academy at Austin, Crowder stated.

He said that men graduating from the Academy hereafter will be outfitted with the entirely new western-type uniform which will be worn by all the services of the Department.

Persons interested in making application for employment may pick up application forms and receive additional information at any Department of Public Safety Office or at any office of the Texas Employment Commission. All applications must be in Austin by September 6 in order to be eligible for the September examinations.

THEN OR NOW?—Judging from the attire of these ladies, it is difficult to tell whether the picture was made about 30 years ago, or within the past few weeks. If, as the adage goes, "history repeats itself," then this picture certainly proves that point. Shown above in the picture owned by J. L. Phillips, E. of Slaton, are, left to right, Mrs. Ted Cofield (Lessie Mae Rampy), Inez Boyd, Ona Fay Boyd, Edna Reynolds, Elsie Boyd, and Mrs. Douglas Dennis (Lennie Cline).

Shad kill on Possum Kingdom executed by air this week

World War II TBM torpedo planes were to be used in the gizzard shad kill on Possum Kingdom Lake scheduled for Wednesday August 6, reports Ken Jurgens, fish biologist of the Game and Fish Commission and coordinator of the project.

The TBMs did the bulk of the spraying, followed by Stearman light planes for clean-up of coves and special areas. A TBM and a Stearman worked in a team, each team covering different parts of the lake.

Treatment was to begin at dawn and be finished by noon if all goes well, the Director of Inland Fisheries of the Commission said.

Earlier estimates had set the lake surface to be sprayed at 14,000 acres, but recent rains have kept the lake at 16,100 acres. Of this area, the planes were to treat 15,400 acres; the remaining 700 acres to be done by boat at the same time.

Slaton Lodge No. 1094 AF & AM Stated Meetings 2nd and 4th Thursday Nights in Each Month, Fred H. Schmidt, W.M. W. T. Brown, Sec'y

Since the TBMs carry 650 gallons of solution and the Stearmans only have a 100-gallon capacity, the City Airport at Graham was used as a base for refueling and reloading.

The first run was made from the dam which is the farthest point from Graham. Succeeding runs were begun up the lake as the operation progressed.

Mr. and Mrs. John Morris, Johnnie and Mike, had as week end guests Mrs. Morris' sisters, Mrs. R. F. Loughmiller, and Mrs. Al Newton and her daughter, Lucy, from Sacramento, Calif.

Highway deaths in state show 15 percent decrease first half of '58

Texas motorcides dropped 15 per cent for the first six months of 1958 as compared with state highway traffic deaths for the same period of 1957.

Governor Price Daniel, as chairman of the Texas Traffic Safety Council and the Governor's Highway Safety Commission, is heading the most intensive drive against traffic deaths in the history of Texas.

He quoted the Statistical Division of the Department of Public Safety as saying that 177 persons are still alive in Texas today, who, on the basis of last year's near-record list of fatalities, already would have been killed in traffic.

Total motorcides on June 30 had reached 1,008 in 829 separate, fatal crashes. This compared with 1,185 deaths in 965 crashes during the first six months of last year. Thus, the death list was reduced by 177 names this year, while fatal accidents were reduced in number by 136.

The 15 per cent improvement in the traffic toll was exactly 50 per cent greater than the Governor's goal. In starting the vigorous campaign earlier this year, the Governor had called on Texans to reduce the toll by at least 10 per cent, or 254 lives, over 1957, or one less in each Texas county.

Governor Daniel said the first six months' reduction of 15 per cent is being matched by early reports in July.

"This steady decrease," he added, "leads statistical experts to the cautious expectation that a real and dependable trend has set in. This is true because June, July, and August are nearly always deadly months in Texas because of the steadily swelling vacation and tourist travel, along with the cotton harvest."

"But these are the months when more lives can be saved, and I am delighted to see Texans 'Slow Down and Live' and bring about this change."

Federation of women's clubs meets July 29

The Shallowater Home Demonstration Club and the Southwest Home Demonstration Club were co-hostesses for the Lubbock County Federation of Women's Clubs, Tuesday, July 29, in the Shallowater Clubhouse.

A coffee at 9:30 a.m. preceded the program and business session.

Mrs. W. R. Lovett, president, presided. Mrs. R. C. Hall was secretary and Mrs. E. J. Exum, treasurer, called the roll which was answered with names of club presidents.

Mrs. Fred H. Schmidt, president of Slaton Civic and Culture Club gave a devotional using scripture and meditation on the subject "Desire." She applied it to future ideals for this particular organization.

Mrs. J. J. Willingham, acting on the program committee, introduced the guest speaker, Dr. F. W. Mattox, president of Lubbock Christian College.

Dr. Mattox explained the citizenship training program offered at LCC. He pointed out the imminent danger of the growing tendency toward socialism to the American way of government.

"We must," he admonished, "try to promote individual efforts, personal income and incentive toward the advancement of the American way of life as established by our ancestors who helped to form our constitution and our free government—the only one of its kind."

Mrs. Garnett Reeves and Mrs. R. L. Smith arranged the program.

Mrs. A. T. Cocanougher was recognized as the new president of Seventh District of T.F.W.C. She brought to the group an explanation of some of her plans for the two years of her administration, urging attendance of presidents of federated clubs and district board members for a meeting scheduled for October 9.

Mrs. Edwin Melchior Klars Jr. . . . the former Valeri a Joyce Verkamp . . .

Edwin Melchior Klars will live in Oklahoma following honeymoon

Before the altar of St. Joseph's Catholic Church Saturday morning, August 2, Rev. Msgr. T. D. O'Brien, read the double ring ceremony which united Miss Valeria Joyce Verkamp and Edwin Melchior Klars Jr. in marriage.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Verkamp, Rt. 1, Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Klars, San Antonio.

Banks of yellow chrysanthemums and basket arrangements of white gladioluses and emerald leaves decorated the altar. Miss Carol Buxkemper played traditional wedding marches and "Ave Maria," "On This Day," and "Pani's Angelus."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was wearing a gown of pure silk organza combined with appliques of filmy Chantilly lace, featuring a molded bodice with short sleeves complemented by short gloves. The bouffant floor-length skirt billowed from a deep point at the waistline. The bottom of the skirt was outlined with applied points of Chantilly lace. Her tiered veil of silk illusion depended from a crown of seed pearls and she carried a colonial nosegay with a yellow-throated orchid surrounded by white butterfly roses and streamers.

Miss Jerene Verkamp of Wilson was maid of honor; Mrs. Elroy Sinnacher of Waco was matron of honor; and Miss Barbara Ann Shaffer of San Antonio was bride's maid. They were dressed identically in gowns of yellow organdy over slips of matching taffeta. The street-length frocks were accented with cummerbunds of taffeta which tied in back to form a long flowing sash. The bodices with scoop necklines and short sleeves were accented by short white gloves. They wore head dresses of yellow tulle designed into short veils held in place by bandeaux of yellow velvet. Their flowers were colonial nosegays of yellow carnations with yellow streamers.

Carl Pfeiffer of San Antonio was best man and groomsman were Paul Britton of San Antonio and Daniel Verkamp of Wilson.

Ushers were Elroy Sinnacher, San Antonio; Bobby Ledbetter, Waco; Walter Retzliff, El Paso and Joe Kolodziejczyk of Wilson.

A reception was held in St. Joseph's Hall following Mass. Refreshments were served from a table covered with a white linen cloth and centered with an arrangement of yellow roses. The three-tiered wedding cake decorated with yellow rosebuds was flanked by crystal candelabra holding yellow tapers. Crystal and silver appointments completed the table decorations.

Members of the houseparty were Misses Eunice Lee Buxkemper, Lucille and Norma

When the newlyweds left for a trip to Dallas, Fort Worth and points in Oklahoma, the bride was wearing a fitted brown linen suit with beige and bronze accessories and an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Klars is a graduate of Wilson High School and is a senior elementary education major at Our Lady of the Lake College in San Antonio. She holds membership in L.S.A. and is past treasurer of Student National Education Association at O.O.L.C. She was queen of the St. Mary's Military Ball while at college.

The bridegroom graduated from Central Catholic High School in 1954 and from St. Mary's University in 1958 where he received his degree in geology. He is affiliated with Tau Delta Sigma, a social fraternity and was commissioned as a second lieutenant in the U.S. Army in May. He will enter the Army on August 9 and will be stationed at Fort Still, Okla. They will be at home in Lawton, Oklahoma.

Vacation travel brings 10½ million tourists to state during 1957

Vacation motor travel is big business in Texas, with nearly ten and a half million tourists spending $531 million as they piled up four billion miles of driving during 1957.

These figures were mentioned today by J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety Association, as he warned Texans of the many traffic accidents that occur during summer's peak vacation months.

"EVERY YEAR, more and more persons take to the open road during the summer months," Musick said. "And each year, more and more of them manage to get themselves injured or killed in traffic accidents while on vacation."

He attributed such accidents to many causes, but listed the principal ones as being:

(1) EXCESSIVE SPEED. Because many vacationers try to cover too much territory in too short a time, speed is an important factor. More than fifty percent of the drivers in rural fatal traffic accidents are traveling at excessive speeds at the time of the accident.

(2) Alcohol. People on vacation are likely to be in a holiday mood and frequently their pursuit of a good time includes drinking. Drinking and driving motorists are involved in more than a third of all rural fatal traffic accidents.

(3) LAWS. FAILURE to observe traffic signs and laws exacts a high annual toll. About one-fifth of the cars smashed up in rural fatal accidents are found to have disregarded warning or stop signs.

(4) Fatigue. Driving while fatigued is a foolish practice indulged in by vacationers who won't take time out to get sufficient rest. On a national basis, about one out of thirteen drivers involved in fatal traffic accidents are found to be in a physical condition that could be a contributing factor in the accident. In about two-thirds of such cases the drivers are fatigued or asleep.

"Don't turn your vacation dream into a nightmare," Musick said. "Use a few common sense safety rules and courtesy. Be especially conscious of your driving speed—slow down and live."

Benefits of Social Security waiting for many; application only required

A person doesn't have to quit working completely or sell his business to become eligible for old-age insurance benefits under the Social Security Act, according to John G. Hutton, manager of the Lubbock Social Security district office.

The law required that deductions be made from benefits of eligible persons if their earnings are over $1200 in a year. However, even though earnings are over $1200, the worker or self-employed persons would be eligible for one or more monthly payments if the earnings were not more than $2080 per year.

Hutton explained further that it is also possible for a beneficiary to receive payments when earnings exceed $2080; no deductions are made for any month in which earnings are $80 or less, or the beneficiary is 72 years of age or older.

Persons who meet the age and work requirements should inquire about benefits even though they are still employed, or are in business for themselves. Hutton stressed that the difference between being eligible for benefits and actually receiving benefits is only too often the mere filing of a claim. No benefit can be paid unless a claim is filed.

Clyde Mayo Hoffman, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Hoffman of Lubbock, spent the week end in the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde McGinley. Mrs. Hoffman and a friend also of Lubbock, Mrs. Hershall Tigg, came for Clyde Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. K. E. Martin have had as guests for several weeks Mrs. Martin's sister, Mrs. W. H. Dorman, Mrs. Chester Choats, and Mrs. Choats daughter, all of Frontana, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Middleton had as guests last week end their daughter, Mrs. D. L. McCain, Mr. McCain, and their son, Gilbert of Odessa. Gilbert stayed for a visit with his grandparents. Visiting for several weeks in the Middleton home are the Middleton's daughter-in-law, Mrs. G. M. Middleton, and two children of Tulsa, Okla.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. McCormick visited last Sunday in Littlefield with their daughter, Mrs. Earnest Durham and Mr. Durham.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

main bout of the political summer is over, there's still considerable commotion ahead.

Generating a little extra heat during the scorching weeks ahead will be these events:

STATEWIDE RUNOFF: Only one race for statewide office, a place on the Supreme Court, remains to be decided at the Aug. 23 primary. Contenders are Robert W. Hamilton of El Paso and J. Edwin Smith of Houston. In a one-contest race like this, the candidates' big problem is likelihood of being ignored. A tiny segment of authorized voters could tip the election.

LEGISLATIVE RUNOFFS: Winners of 33 legislative posts are yet to be decided.

Included are three campaigns to decide successors of retiring Senators Otis Lock of Lufkin, Searcy Bracewell of Houston and Carlos Ashley of Llano. All of the 28 senators already definitely "in" are incumbents. In the House, also, it appears to be a good year for incumbents. Out of a membership of 150, 101 won out in the first primary or had no opponents. Nineteen new members were elected to the House in July, and winners of 30 seats are yet to be decided. Twelve incumbent representatives are involved in these runoffs.

SPEAKERSHIP RACE: Hanging in the balance of the 30 House of Representatives runoff races is the outcome of months of persistent campaigning for one of the key posts in state government—Speaker of the House.

Speaker is elected by fellow House members. Candidates are Rep. Waggoner Carr of Lubbock, seeking a second term, and Rep. Joe Burkett Jr. of Kerrville.

After the July primary, each claimed to have 45 per cent of House members pledged to his side. This is not literally possible since only 80 per cent of the total membership has been elected. But it illustrates the nip 'n tuck nature of the contest that probably won't be over until the last chip is down.

STATE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION: Climax to the precinct and county conventions—and all the struggle that preceded them—will be the state meeting in San Antonio Sept. 9.

It's known traditionally as the "governor's convention" with the nominee for governor and his supporters taking the lead in deciding on officials, committees and policies for the next two years.

Gov. Price Daniel, who worked harder at rallying moderate-conservative Democrats to precinct conventions than at his own race for renomination, predicts a comfortable margin of supporters at the state meeting.

BETTER DAYS — More students, more prosperous profits are in prospect on the campuses of Texas state colleges and universities this fall.

Commission Higher Education predicts a total enrollment of more than 81,000 at the 18-tax-supported colleges, up from last year's 77,913. Beginning this year, a growing flood of

STILL DOING IT ALIKE—Call it coincidence if you like, but what one identical twin is doing, the other is too—especially in the case of Ray and Raymon Wilkins, Slaton's identical twins. To start it off, even their close friends have had trouble for years in telling the two boys apart. Then, after graduation from high school both boys married girls named Betty. As time went on, Raymon and his wife, Betty Ruth, had a daughter, now two years old. Soon Ray and his wife, Betty Jean, followed suit with a daughter, Angela, now 22 months. About four months ago, Raymon and Betty became the parents of a son, Michael; two weeks ago Monday Ray and his wife welcomed a son into their household. This young lad they named Brentley Ray. Incidentally, Raymon's son is named Raymon Michael . . . in keeping with the method for naming the youngest of the Wilkins clan. Raymon and his family are on the left; Ray and his family are shown on the right.
