me,

It's just about two and one-half months until Christmas and already Slaton merchants are advertising their Christmas merchandise. T.G.&Y are featuring a Toy Fair at their store this week where they say "it's so easy to shop now and pay later." Selections are complete now and you are not in that rush that always catches us just before Christmas.

Last week Anthony featured dolls in the ad which reminds me that I can hardly keep from buying dolls every time I see them. Guess it is a good thing that we didn't have a little girl in the family for I'm afraid I would have succumbed to that yen for buying dolls.

Two new families are moving to Slaton as soon as they can get housing accommodations. Both men will work out of Lubbock but preferred to make their home in Slaton. They are among the many people who would move to Slaton if we had adequate housing facilities. These two families have five children which will add that many more people in Slaton to need groceries, drugs, clothing and all the things Slaton merchants have for sale. We welcome them to our town.

Francis and I went to Alpine last week to attend the annual meeting of the West Texas Press Association. We were not entered in any of the newspaper contests as we were all sick with the flu last spring when the entries were to be sent in. We did get a lot of inspiration, new ideas and had a real good time with the more than 200 people who were attending the convention. Alpine's a good place to have a convention for the people are among the most hospitable we've met in a long time.

Our convention was held in the Little Auditorium at Sul Ross College and it made we want to start to school all over gain. Sul Ross is a good school, has lots of good, well equipped buildings and I read in the Alpine paper that they were to have another new science building. Some of our students attended there last year. I don't blame them for it is beautiful there at the foot of the mountains.

Candidates are making those last minute appeals for votes for the second primary on August 23. I believe if I were to have political aspirations I would wait and see if there were to be more than two candidates in a race before I announced so that I would either be eliminated or elected in the first go-around. Candidates in the second primaries have my sympathy.

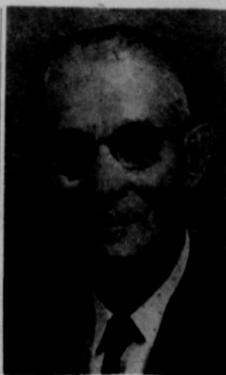

Will soon be time for our young people to be going away to college. Have not yet learned where they will be going but they can be assured they will be greatly missed from Slaton. Venita Green has been helping out with the news gathering at the Slatonite this summer and I, for one, will miss her when she's gone. She has done a fine job, is a lovable person and it has been a real pleasure to have had her this summer.

Speaking of students reminds me that Raymond Smoot has just returned from Dallas where he attended a work shop for Distributive Education teachers. He is already on the job getting his students lined up with sponsors in town so that they will be ready to go to work as soon as school starts in September. This course is a boon to those students who want to work and go to school too for they can work and get credit in their school work and a salary besides.

Lasater-Hoffman's building at a fresh coat of paint this week which makes it very attractive. In case you won't recognize the place, it is a pretty shade of green with a darker green roof. Congratulations, Mr. Lasater, it looks very pretty.

J. H. Brewer, leader in Slaton civic, church affairs buried here Monday

One of Slaton's pioneer citizens who had been active in civic and church affairs here was buried Monday. Last rites for J. H. Brewer, 70, were held Monday morning at First Methodist Church.

J. H. Brewer ... dies Friday ...

Brewer died Friday in Mercy Hospital. He had been ill for several months. A Slaton resident for 42 years, he was active in the insurance business here, and conducted farming interests as well. He had formerly been president of the First State Bank here. A member of the Board of Trustees of First Methodist Church, he was also a member of the Official Board of that church and had served as head usher for about 27 years. Brewer had served as president of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce, and took an active part in Democratic politics in this area. He was a Rotarian. The Rev. Elmer Crabtree of Plainview preached the funeral sermon. Assisted in the service were the Rev. James B. Sharp, pastor of First Methodist Church, and the Rev. W. F. Ferguson of Lubbock. Pallbearers included E. R. Legg, Judge Smith, Joe S. Walker Sr., Howard T. Swanner, R. D. Hickman, and C. A. Porter. Survivors include three sons, Joe T. Brewer of Grand Prairie; Dr. Jesse H. Brewer Jr., Waco; and Phil R. Brewer of Slaton; a daughter, Mrs. C. W. McDavid of Waco; two brothers, Irving Brewer of Little Rock, Arkansas, and Joseph E. Brewer of Hollywood, California; three sisters, Mrs. M. O. Hill of Frisco; Mrs. J. V. Bowling of New Orleans, Louisiana; and Mrs. Nowlan Whitlow of Dallas; and nine grandchildren. His wife preceded him in death in 1956. Burial was in Englewood Cemetery under the direction of Williams Funeral Home.

Faculty complete for school opening; first classes scheduled September 2

The 68-member faculty for the public schools in Slaton is complete, according to P. L. Vardy, superintendent of schools. Vardy said this week that all places in the faculty had been filled, including three vacancies which occurred last week. SCHOOLS will open at 9 a.m. Tuesday, September 2, for the first day of classes. Only half-day sessions will be held for first graders during the first two weeks of school. Teachers will use the remainder of the day to visit in the home of their students. FIRST GRADE students will be required to present birth certificates or baptismal certificates as proof of age, Vardy said. Also required will be vaccination certificates for smallpox and diphtheria. School lunch rooms will be open on Wednesday, September 3, Vardy said. Short classes will be held on the opening day of school and students will be in school only about a half-day.

and Mrs. Nan Tudor. Teaching third grade will be Miss Ruth Burton, Mrs. Flossie Gum, Mrs. Nellie House, and Mrs. Virgie Hunter. Mrs. E. D. Cummings, Mrs. Carroll Commons, Mrs. Polly Waters and Mrs. Jennie Nobles will be fourth grade teachers. Mrs. Tennie B. Wingo, Mrs. Sara Hollomon, Mrs. Grace Parks and Mrs. Evelyn Ball will be fifth grade teachers. Mrs. Anita Perkins will be music teacher.

Slaton team wins honors at local swimming meet Saturday

Slaton swimmers walked away with the meet Saturday as they hosted the second annual Slaton Swimming Meet at the local pool. Glenn Payne, Marilyn McSweeney, Jan Scott and David Cross dominated the Slaton meet, leading the team to victory. Slaton qualified 73 for the afternoon finals, and compiled 280 1/2 points. Lubbock swimmers came in second with 139 1/2 points, followed by Portales, New Mexico, with 112. Clovis, New Mexico amassed 29 points; Lubbock Boys Club, 7; and Post

3. STARTER FOR the meet was Jim McNally, Texas Tech swimming coach. Assisting in the meet were Eddie Brown, manager of Lubbock swimming pools; Dr. Don Hatchett, Donald Polk, Charles Dickson, Leamon Reasoner, Dickie Thomas, and Mrs. Cecil Scott. Miss Barbara Arrants was official hostess for the meet, and presented winners with their trophies. The meet was sponsored by the Slaton Chamber of Commerce. Results were as follows:

PRIOR TO the opening of the 1958-59 session, teachers will attend a pre-school workshop. The sessions will begin Friday, August 29, and be concluded on Monday, September 1. Vardy said that an enrollment increase of about 75 students over last year was expected. About 18 changes have been made in this year's faculty. AT WEST WARD school Thomas C. Martin will be principal. First grade teachers will include Mrs. Evelyn Boyd, Mrs. Edith Brooks, Mrs. Wilma Daffern, and Mrs. Ginger Jekel. Second grade teachers will be Mrs. Opal Townsend, Mrs. Beryl Gunter, Mrs. Geraldine Nowlin

AT EAST WARD school W. C. Gilmore will be principal and fourth grade teacher. Jessie Dabla will teach third grade, Mrs. Wanda Hurst will teach second grade, and Mrs. Winnie McGraw and Mrs. Earl Reasoner will be first grade teachers. J. D. Perkins will again be principal of Junior High school. Included on the faculty will be Mrs. Willard V. Childers, Mrs. M. G. Davis, Victor Day, Miss Eula Ferril, Mrs. Lillian Russell, David Duke, Mrs. Jewel Kenney, M. W. Kerr, Mrs. Lena C. Legate, Miss Ola Fae Schneider, and Mrs. Ed Eitelman.

'Soil Building Week' observance underway throughout South Plains

Organizations and individuals throughout the South Plains have joined hands this week in observance of South Plains Soil Building Week. The observance, which began August 10 and will continue through August 17, is the outgrowth of activities of agriculturally minded people who have expressed themselves as follows:

under the 1957 A.C.P. Program in Lubbock County. Officers of the Lubbock County Soil Conservation District estimated that farmers spent at least twice that amount in building the soil, indicating that at least a half-million dollars was spent under the program.

intent of Soil Building Week when he said that "Balanced agriculture requires stabilized soils with good fertility. Nature has produced some of the world's most productive soil in our West Texas area. As husbandmen of these soils we have an obligation to protect them from useless losses through erosion and wasteful farming practices. Since the soil is the basic tool with which the farmer works, keeping this tool in good condition, capable of full productive capacity should be the goal of a prosperous and balanced agriculture.

Cake sale set Saturday, 10 a.m. All types of homemade cakes will be on sale Saturday when the women of First Presbyterian Church conduct their cake sale. Beginning at 10 a.m. in the educational building of the church, proceeds of the effort will be used to improve the educational building and purchase of equipment to be used in the church's educational program. Mrs. M. G. Mitchell is to be chairman of the sale.

"WE BELIEVE it is wise and essential that the land be protected and its productivity increased through the observance of sound conservation and soil building practices. Therefore we join in urging residents of the South Plains to participate in the observance by learning and employing methods to conserve and improve the value of the land, which is Texas' most priceless resource."

GREATER PROFITS, increased crop yields have been the dividends for those who have diligently worked toward the conservation of soil and water, Charlie Fisher, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station said. Dr. W. W. Young, agronomist at Texas Tech summed up the

FOR MANY years, he continued, the Lubbock County Soil Conservation District has joined forces with federal, state and county agencies, as well as other non-agricultural businesses and groups in an active education and information campaign to stress the importance of planting cover crops for protection and soil building. These campaigns have been led by businessmen who are concerned about the South Plains' most valuable economic asset—agriculture—and are willing to use their time and influence to promote its continued worth.

WIND AND soil erosion have caused some of the most fertile land in our area to become less productive, and both natural rainfall and underground water have been wasted because we have failed to recognize the economic needs for this region, W. L. Broadhurst of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District said. Nearly 182,000 was earned

Slaton man dies in Colorado truck accident

Charles E. Cooper, 27, of 900 W. Lubbock, was killed about 4:30 a.m. Wednesday, August 6, when the truck in which he was riding rolled about 1,000 feet to a canyon floor on Wolf Creek Pass in Colorado. The vehicle, believed driven by Robert Davis, 28, of Phoenix, Arizona, swerved along the shoulder of U.S. Highway 60 for about 300 feet before the trailer overturned. The cab portion then shot over the edge of the road. Both men were killed instantly.

MORE FOR A PENNY

The addition of one cent to the cost of mailing postcards and first class and airmail letters seems to have been accomplished without much of a public howl. Probably this can be attributed to general recognition that the cost of almost everything else has gone up far more, proportionately, since the three-cent stamp first appeared on the scene.

It may be, also, that citizens are docile about a boost in mailing costs because they now hope for better mail service. Presumably this will become possible as the increased revenue begins to make itself felt.

The postal service is not as bad as it is sometimes made out to be. Yet the fact remains that numerous other countries provide better postal service than we have in the United States.

The Post Office Department has been slow to change its ways. It has been slow to apply American inventive genius to the problems of handling mail. Perhaps more revenue will stimulate improvement. If that happens, those extra pennies will be money well spent.

PROPAGANDA DYNAMITE

One of the most telling propaganda jobs that could be done on Khrushchev and his Kremlin clique would be a campaign contrasting the views of the Soviet rulers on nationalism as related to Hungary, Poland, the nations of the Soviet Empire on the one hand, and the Arab nations on the other. What Khrushchev claims that he wants for the Arabs, he forcibly denies to the Hungarians, Poles, Czechs, East Germans, Latvians, Lithuanians, Estonians, Rumanians and Bulgarians.

Also, the character of Soviet aid to the captive nations and to the Arab countries, and the sale of arms to the Arabs, should be analyzed. Finally, the Soviet action against the Hungarian revolution should be set in stark contrast with the hasty Soviet defense and approval of the revolutionary actions in Iraq.

All of this would be good dynamite for the Voice of America, for Radio Liberation, and even for Secretary of State Dulles, if only it were used. Now is the time to use this dynamite.

WILDERNESS COMFORT

Fathers in each generation are wont to tell their sons that life is mighty soft and easy as compared with life a few decades ago. Rare is the lad who has not heard remarks on this theme beginning, "Now, when I was a boy..."

This provides helpful perspective when one considers the charges, heard a good deal this summer, that camps for boys are getting too luxurious. A certain allowance must be made for "now-when-I-was-a-boy" content. All the same, there is substance to the charges. Some of the camps—and these are not merely the camps for lads with wealthy parents, either—resemble fancy motels more than they do encampments in the wilderness.

David Dunbar, assistant national director of camping for Boy Scouts of America, is the latest sounder of the alarm. He thinks that half the Scout camps in the nation are a bit on the luxurious side. And some, apparently, carry this to the extent of being downright sissy. Dunbar tells of one "camp," for example, that provides the intrepid campers with such refinements as refrigerators, innerspring mattresses, indoor toilets, and gas and electricity for heating and cooking. Hot showers, potato peelers, dishwashing machines and deep freezers are also to be found in camps here and there.

That's living, all right. But is it camping? Why, when I was a boy...

Gov. Mike Stepocivk of Alaska has made some mighty optimistic pronouncements about future population in the new state-to-be. It's not just idle talk, either; the governor has eight children.

Men annoyed by having the contents of shirt pockets spill out when they bend over will be glad to hear of a new non-spill pocket. Another solution is to avoid bending—or, better yet, to keep that shirt pocket empty.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights
by Vern Sanford
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex.—Texas Legislative Budget Board is somewhat in the position of the harassed husband who's struggling with a stack of unpaid bills when his wife announces the children all need new shoes.

Budget Board works out a recommended state spending plan in advance of each regular legislative session. This year, to make "ends meet," the Board will have to stretch a shorter rope over more territory.

Briefly, the horns of the dilemma are these:

Horn 1. For the next biennium state agencies have turned in requests to the Budget Board for $368,000,000 more than they received for the current two-year appropriation period.

Horn 2. Official predictions indicate the state is far from having enough money to grant increases. Instead, it may start the next two-year fiscal period $100,000,000 short of enough money just to maintain the present level of spending.

That leaves a potential gap of some $468,000,000 between the two horns—money requested and money in sight. For the next Legislature it's a half-billion-dollar headache.

As far as can be seen, closing the gap would involve either (1) sharp cuts in state spending, (2) enactment of a fair-sized new tax or (3) letting the state government go into debt.

None of these cures likely would be either painless or popular. Third possibility is virtually prohibited by the constitution which says no appropriation in excess of revenue in sight can be passed "save in the case of emergency and imperative public necessity and with a four-fifths vote of the total membership of each house..."

In the past the Budget Board has limited its spending recommendations to foreseeable revenue under existing tax laws. Making up the board are the lieutenant governor, speaker of the house and eight other legislators.

How did new money requests get up to $368,000,000 when the present state budget is at an all-time high for more than $2,000,000,000?

Big figures result from a lot of requests from a lot of state departments and institutions. Examples:

State colleges, faced with increasing enrollments, want $49,000,000 more.

State Water Board, charged with a stepped-up water conservation planning program, asked for a nearly doubled appropriation of $3,596,180.

Hospitals and special schools asked for 315 per cent increase, up to $114,000,000.

State Youth Council asked substantial increases for the facilities it operates including a 99.5 per cent increase (to $4,745,925) for the severely overcrowded Gatesville School for Boys.

"HOW MUCH" LABELS—Budget Board has proposed enactment of a "price tag" procedure to help lawmakers keep track of just how much each measure they consider would cost.

Suggested bill would require that each spending bill be accompanied by an itemized list (with prices) of the expenditures it would involve.

It was seen as a means of keeping a tighter check on the tax dollar.

MORE TIME FOR TEACHING—Giving teachers fewer extra chores and more time to teach, has been suggested as a means to relieve the shortage of qualified instructors.

Texas Education Agency conducted a survey on ways to make better use of existing teachers and school buildings. Resulting report noted the many miscellaneous tasks that fall to teachers—keeping up with lunch money, football tickets and charity drives; sponsoring athletic events and special programs; keeping extensive records Use of teaching aides and secretaries was suggested to free teachers to concentrate on class work.

In regard to building use, the report suggested consideration of a longer school year, a longer school day and greater use of special purpose rooms such as laboratories, shops, homemaking departments, etc.

FRESH START—After months of upheaval and dissension, the State Insurance Liquidator's office is reorganized and off to a new start.

C. H. Langdeau, newly appointed liquidator, has announced the names of nine attorneys who will make up his legal staff.

They are Cecil C. Rotsch, general counsel, John G. Grace Clay Cotten, V. F. Taylor, Horace Wimberly, Art M. LeCroix, J. C. Thomas, William Colburn and Hoyt Cole.

Missing from the scene will be Renne Alfred Jr. who had been appointed by Dist. Judge Charles O. Betts as receiver for all insurance liquidation cases in his court. Betts had refused to accept Langdeau as receiver. Langdeau was appointed by Insurance Commissioner William A. Harrison.

Situation was resolved when the State Supreme Court ruled that Betts must accept Langdeau.

Langdeau said his staff would have to do extensive investigating before deciding whether to pursue a $15,000,000 damage suit Alfred had failed in connection with the ICT bankruptcy. Suit charges some 54 different corporations, including some famed names in the financial world, with having some responsibility for the building up of a fraudulent enterprise.

MORE MONEY FOR FARMERS—An overall increase of 3 per cent in Texas farm prices is reported by the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture.

Principal gain came in higher prices for new-season cotton, hogs, beef cattle and calves. Slight gains were shown for corn, oats, barley, hay and po-

WHAT WILL THEY DO?

If you buy wearing apparel, furniture, drugs, hardware, meats, groceries, building supplies, cars, or contract for repairs, etc. from out-of-town dealers, do you think that those merchants will help pave the streets of our town or contribute money toward making our community a better place to live in? They most certainly will not. Their profits create more employment for themselves. They are not interested in our welfare or benefit.

Soil protection, added fertility provided by cover legumes in area nitrogen, but also provides an excellent cover for protection during the blowing season.

This year, with so much of the land in the acreage reserve, will provide an excellent opportunity for farmers to plant winter cover crops.

Winter legumes best adapted to this area for cover and soil improving crops are hairy vetch, Austrian winter peas, and madrid or habum clover.

The vetch and peas may be drilled in pure stands on summer fallowed land, but many farmers prefer to plant in cotton or grain sorghum middles.

These crops may sometime be utilized for grazing in the spring. It is also possible to harvest a seed crop before plowing the crop under.

Madrid and habum sweet clovers are usually planted in pure stands and may be used for hay, pasture, or a seed crop before they are returned to the soil for soil improvement.

Fertilizing is recommended for best results and maximum yields of vegetation. Fertilizing is usually done at the time the legume is planted.

On farms needing fertilizer, it is recommended that not less than 150 pounds 0-20-0, or its equivalent, per acre can be used.

Better results have been obtained with these crops by planting between August 15th and September 15th.

Usual seeding rates are for vetch, 15 to 25 pounds per acre drilled and 7 to 10 pounds per acre in rows. Austrian winter peas, 25 to 30 pounds per acre drilled and 10 to 15 pounds per acre in rows. Sweet clover, 10 to 15 pounds per acre.

Proof of age, eligibility needed for social security

"What documents do I need to furnish when I apply for my social security benefits?"

This question is frequently asked of the Lubbock Social Security office, according to John G. Hutton, manager.

When a person files an application for retirement or family insurance, some records must be furnished to establish his rights to the payments, Hutton said. The proof most often needed are proof of age, proof of marriage, and evidence of the amount of earnings in the preceding year.

Most people have an old record on which their date of birth or age was recorded many years ago, such as a baptismal certificate, school record, government record, family Bible, insurance policy, poll tax receipt, etc. Census records are sometimes available.

A recently-established delayed birth certificate is not sufficient proof of age for this purpose. A widow of a deceased worker who applies for monthly benefits is required to furnish proof of marriage. The marriage certificate or a certified copy of it may be obtained from the county clerk where the marriage license was obtained, Hutton said.

Evidence of the amount of earnings in the preceding year will speed the payment of a claim. In the case of an employee, this would be the statement of wages and taxes (Form W-2) which he received from his employer. A self-employed person should furnish a copy of his last income tax return and evidence of payment such as a cancelled check or money order receipt.

A representative of the Lubbock Social Security Office will be in Slaton at the Red Cross City Hall, at 9 a.m. Tuesday, August 19, to assist in matters pertaining to social security.

Santa Fe film on San Francisco aimed toward 'way of life' story

"San Francisco," a 16mm color motion picture produced for the Santa Fe Railway by Ernest Kleinberg of Los Angeles, has received a George Washington Honor Medal award from the Freedoms Foundation. The presentation was made by Dr. Kenneth D. Wells, President of the Foundation, at a breakfast meeting in Chicago recently.

The Santa Fe film was selected for the award by the Foundation, "As an outstanding achievement in helping to bring about a better understanding of the American Way of Life during 1957."

Nominations for awards were submitted for study to a jury who selected the award winners. Among the list of thirty jurors were: J. W. Carter, Associate Justice, Supreme Court of California; Conard A. Favell, International Director, Lions International; Louis G. Feldmann Jr., Vice Commander-in-Chief, VFW; Levi S. Udall, Chief Justice, Supreme Court of Arizona; Mrs. G. Carr, President, Catholic War Veterans Auxiliary; and Paul Frederick,

Jr., National Commander, Disabled American Veterans.

The Santa Fe film tells the story of San Francisco as seen through the eyes of a captain of a tug boat, one of a fleet which Santa Fe Railway operates in San Francisco Bay.

As the captain steers his freight through the Bay, he recalls the fascinating history of the city, touching on the gold rush, Sutter's Mill and Virginia City. San Francisco's fog is woven into the film as it moves up and around her hills and harbors. But more than that, it's the story of the many nationalities blended into a city known around the world for its charm and sophistication.

The Santa Fe makes the San Francisco film available to schools, community groups and business organizations as program material through its regional film bureaus. The film is also available for television public showing. Running time is 30 minutes.

Interested groups in this area may book the film through the Santa Fe Film Bureau, 900 Polk Street, Amarillo, Texas.

TO THE VOTERS OF LUBBOCK COUNTY

From
Anne Ford Neal

Candidate For COUNTY TREASURER

Briefly reviewing my qualifications for the office I am asking . . .

I have lived in Lubbock 32 years. I taught school in this County 4 years.

I served as Lubbock County Treasurer four years, 1928 to 1932.

In business (Anne Ford's Women's Ready-to-Wear) 1932 to 1954.

I am a widow and care for and support my 83 year old mother. Mother and I live at 814 Avenue M, Lubbock.

I am grateful for the vote and support I received on July 26th, and I humbly and sincerely ask for your vote and support in the August 23rd run-off. If elected, I promise the honest, efficient and courteous service to which the people of this County are entitled.
THANK YOU!

Warm Springs Foundation faces closure for lack of funds

An urgent appeal for willing workers from Slaton to give a single evening of effort to an emergency statewide "Citizens' March" for the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation (now the Texas Rehabilitation Center) is being made by R. I. Payne of Dallas, foundation president.

Political Announcements

The Slatonite has been authorized to present the names of the following citizens as candidates of the Democratic Voters for their Primary Election.

A civic, church, women's, Scout, or school group in Slaton which would like to volunteer for this one evening's Citizens' March, Payne said. If so, its officers are urged to contact the Foundation's executive director, Walter H. Richter, PO Box 58, Gonzales, Texas, as soon as possible.

DEATHLY BEAUTY—Conditions which produced this "Swan Lake" on ice in London, England, are responsible for over 300 deaths. Cold, snow and storms, worst in a century, have whipped England and the continent this winter. Swans are roosting on the surface of Wimbledon Commons Lake, usually an open haven for the birds.

FREE AIR AT SELF'S SERVICE STATION

A small soiled youngster accompanied by an even smaller brother stopped an elderly lady as she was passing their house.
"For a nickel I'll have my brother imitate a hen for you," said the boy.
"And how does he do that, my little man?" said the lady. "Cackle?"
"No mam," said the little boy. "None of those cheap imitations for us... I'll have him eat a worm."

We're not up in the air about anything, and we don't charge anything for anything. The plain simple truth is that we love life on this earth, and if you don't believe it come on in and let us give you the good ole down to earth service you like.

VISION VISION

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shroeder of Windthorst visited recently in the home of Mrs. Shroeder's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Gitten, and family. They took Mrs. Shroeder's brother, Danny, home with them for a visit.

Enloes have reunion

Visitors in the home of Mr. L. A. Enloe and family last week were Mr. Enloe's brother, James E. Enloe, Mrs. Enloe, and twins, Susie and James E. Jr., from Chillicothe, Ill.

On August 6 they and other friends and relatives had a reunion at the Clubhouse. A picnic lunch was served and motion pictures were shown. William Adams Jr., and Billy Lee provided music.

Others present were Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Bostick and Leroy, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cooper and Mike of Post, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Adams Sr. and grandchildren, Butch and Kathy, of Lockney.

Mrs. Pauline Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Underwood, Billy and Charles, Mrs. C. L. Cooper Jr. and girls, Miss Patty Cole and Arthur, Charles and Danny Enloe.

Mrs. R. T. Simmons of Glendine, Mont., returned home last week after an extended visit with Mrs. Lora Wicker and Helen Keedler.

Mr. and Mrs. T. N. Mabry of Albuquerque, N. M., left last week after visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Mabry.

George Klattenhoff owns, operates last week's mystery farm

Last week's mystery farm contest, sponsored by Huser Hatchery, was won by Mackie Klattenhoff. He will receive a year's subscription to the Slatonite.

George Klattenhoff is the owner and operator of the farm which is located seven miles north of Slaton. He inherited it from his father, M. F. Klattenhoff, in 1945.

He and his wife, the former Verna Cloniger, married in 1934 and have four children and two granddaughters. Their children at home are Joe and John Andrew. Other children are Lena, who attends Texas Lutheran College, and Mrs. Myra Collets.

Mr. and Mrs. Klattenhoff are members of the Roosevelt PTA and Emanuel Lutheran Church at Posey. Mrs. Klattenhoff is president of the Posey Ladies Aid Society.

Mr. and Mrs. Klattenhoffs' favorite pastime is caring for their two granddaughters, one which is 22 months old and the other, two weeks. They also raise a garden.

Mr. Klattenhoff's main crops are cotton and feed. With all his activities, he still finds time to help his sons raise hogs.

Kangaroo court, Indian ceremonial dances highlight Crosbyton jubilee

Highlighting the second day of the Crosbyton Golden Jubilee Tuesday, September 9, will be a Kangaroo Court session, held in cooperation with the Brothers of the Brush.

A style show featuring fashions of 50 years ago, and ending with costume judging and the judging of a beard-growing contest will also share spotlight honors.

Kiowa Indians from Anadarko, Oklahoma, will present a colorful show with their famed ceremonial dances which they perform at the nationally-known Anadarko Indian exposition each year. The second performance of the Calvacade pageant will include a mammoth fireworks display, according to Bill Thames, Crosbyton Chamber of Commerce manager.

Guests attending the final day of the Jubilee celebration on Wednesday, September 10, will be treated to a free barbecue luncheon on the grounds of the new Pioneer Memorial Building.

Congressman George Mahon will deliver the dedicatory address of the new building and museum at 4 p.m. Final performance of the Calvacade will begin at 8:30 p.m. in the rodeo arena.

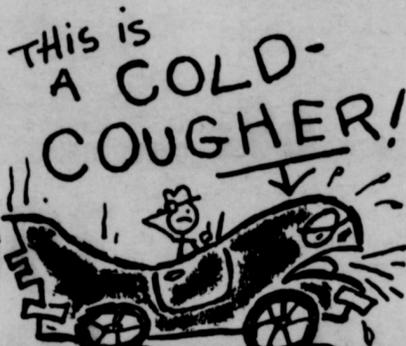

Robin Mote of Memphis, Tex., spent last week in the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Layne, while his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mote, attended a coaching school in Houston. Also visiting in the Layne home over the week end were Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Clark of Rotan. Mr. Clark was on his way to a Whirlpool Dealer's meeting in Chicago, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Carpenter and family visited Thursday of last week in Hart with Mr. and Mrs. William Jones and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lavender of Boston, Mass., visited last Friday in the home of Mrs. Lavender's brother, Roy Hodges, and family.

Miss Jeanette Burrell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Burrell, planned Friday for El Centro, Calif., to spend the week end with Capt. and Mrs. Ben H. Moore Jr. and family. Monday, Jeanette and Mrs. Moore will enroll in San Diego State College for the second summer session. Jeanette and the Moores' daughter, Mandy, will return the first of September for the rush activities and fall semester at Tech.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Johnson, Ruth Ann, Nancy and Gary of Cleburne visited Wednesday and Thursday of last week in the home of Mrs. Johnson's sister, Mrs. Wesley Johnson, Mr. Johnson, and girls.

"Complete Meals from 'extra' food made possible with my food freezer!"

says Mrs. Marvin Shurbet, PETERSBURG, TEXAS

When I am away from home, my family always finds good meals in the freezer. It is so easy for them - just unwrap, heat and eat.

What housewife can always measure exactly how much of each food her family will eat? Even the most exacting woman will occasionally have vegetables, meats and desserts "leftover." It's a shame to throw good food away and no one really likes to do that. Well, Mrs. Shurbet has solved that problem. Here's what she says, "When I cook more than my family eats at a meal, I put remaining servings on foil, divided plates, seal in SARAN WRAP, and store in my food freezer. If additional portions are needed to make complete dinners, I simply add them from various meals."
