My song this week has been "Have I Stayed Away Too Long?"

I hadn't realized how gruesome I must have looked, until everyone began to tell me how much better I look after the appendectomy and the rest that followed. Seriously, I have so many people to thank for so many kindnesses that I'll never be done with them. I am going to mention Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Hoffman of Pittsburg, California, and say "Thank You" to them for sending me a get-well card and a nice note saying that they enjoyed Ad Libs. I'm glad.

The first thing I did upon returning to work, was to prowling the stores seeing the new things that had come in during my absence. I can vouch for the new fall clothes at Rona's. They are beautiful. There are fall clothes all over Slaton. And how about the new shoe store, Holt's? Sure is nice.

Football and school days are upon us now, and everyone I've talked to seems glad they are. I'm hoping we have a good team this year.

It was after much discussion concerning insects in general and the Praying Mantis in particular that a four-year-old came running through the house, much excited. "Come look, come look, I've found a Praying Methodist," he said. The sight of a praying Baptist might have been too much for him.

The First Methodist Church Day School Kindergarten, how's that for a mouthful! will start September 2, as per plan. However, it seems there was not enough interest to support two kindergartens, and the Jack and Jill Nursery will not open. I can't help but believe that if more mothers understood the value of a good Kindergarten, so much shortage would exist.

Betty Vandergriff, my sister-in-law from Greenville, visited me about two weeks after my appendectomy, and we had gone to town for something or other. I didn't feel any too well and it is evident that I didn't look any better, because we met Postmaster McClannahan on the street, and he cracked, "Mary, what are you doing, walking around to avoid funeral expenses?" Whispered Betty, "Who's he, the Undertaker?"

I said yes, and that serves you right, Postmaster!

As I understand it, the Shirley Williams School of Dance has a good enrollment and interest is high in their activities. I have heard her praised as being an excellent dance teacher.

Read Dr. Belote's ad in the Slatonite this week and let me tell you this little story that came from the mother's lips. Her first grade pupil refused to place his numbers on the line as she directed him to do. Time after time she spanked the child for being so willful and disobedient. Then she had his eyes examined, found that he needed glasses and got them for him. The next time they sat down to do the numbers, the child spoke with delight, "Why, mother, this paper has lines on it!" According to the mother she cried for an hour to think of the spankings the child had had, and all the time, he couldn't even see the lines.

It seems logical to assume that the same thing has happened in many homes. A child blamed for spilling milk at every meal; clumsiness that was most irritating; all could be a need for glasses.

C. A. Womack of 835 S. 18th St. brought proof into the Slatonite of his ability to grow tomatoes in a backyard garden. Part of my tomatoes plants made beautiful stalks — with no tomatoes and part of them never did get off the ground and they are loaded with tomatoes. Reminds me of what Farmer Weaver told me. Said he made a big stick and beat the vines good and proper and they would produce more. Womack must have really given those vines a trouncing!

Tickets for Tech football now available

Individual game tickets to Texas Tech's 1958 football games as well as season tickets are currently on sale, according to Jimmie Wilson, business manager of athletics.

Game tickets are $3.50 each, season tickets to four home games, $14. Mail orders should be accompanied by a 25c fee.

Tech this season has home games with West Texas State, Baylor, Arizona and Arkansas. On the road the Red Raiders play Texas A&M, Texas, Texas Christian, Tulane, Tulsa, and Houston.

Local men receive Tech degrees Saturday

Two Slatonites were among those to be awarded degrees at Tech's summer commencement held Saturday at Lubbock Municipal Auditorium.

Billy Jackson Townsend received his master of education degree in music education. Townsend is currently band director at Slaton High School.

John Wayne Richey received his bachelor of science degree in education, majoring in mathematics.

LET'S DO IT MY WAY, BOYS—And that apparently was what Coach Leonard Ehrler meant when he told the football boys that he didn't want any long sideburns this year. When pictures were being taken for the football program on Monday morning, he noticed Bill Barry hadn't shaved his sideburns—so Ehrler did it for him. All activities in the football training camp which got underway Sunday night, stopped long enough for a razor and shaving soap to be brought out to relieve Barry of his sideburns. Commissioners begin work on expansion of city limits; ordinance to be written soon Expansion of the city limits was set into motion by city commissioners Monday night at their regular meeting. They authorized the preparation of an ordinance which would annex additional areas.

Included in the land in the proposed annexation would be property adjacent to the new Shelby addition, as well as the Shelby addition, the new high school building, and the Evans school building, as well as additional areas.

As proposed by the commissioners, the area to be annexed would be roughly as follows:

Beginning at the intersection of highway 84 and Farm Road 400, thence south to the intersection of farm road running East and West on the south side of the Englewood Cemetery; thence west to the right of way of proposed highway 84 around Slaton, then following this right of way in a south-southeasterly direction to the intersection of the right of way with Farm Road 2150, then follow this right of way until it intersects the right of way of the P&SF Railroad, and follow this right of way until it intersects the present corporate limits on the east side of town, and beginning at the extreme north corporate limit and follow the P&SF right of way to the intersection of Farm Road 400, the point of beginning.

City spokesmen said that the above proposed boundaries were roughly the area which would be annexed. Exact limits would be defined in the ordinance.

Tiger junior players will report Monday

Coach Leonard Ehrler said this week that the following boys were to report on Monday, September 2, to begin fall football training.

The list includes Jay McSweeney, Glenn White, Eddie Gravell, Bill Wheeler, Dan Edwards, Raphael Diaz, Darris Linder, Gene Talbert, Heliodoro Diaz, Ronnie Bridges. Travis Hendrix, Billy Patterson, Jim Lowry, Dick Marriott, Joe Loke, Ellis Gill, Don Edwards, and Jerry Williamson.

G. A. Cook of Phoenix, Arizona, visited here last week with his sister, Mrs. J. R. Robertson.

Kindergartens aim to teach; not working as baby sitters

Many happy hours will be spent in the classroom when the First Methodist Day School Kindergarten officially begins its first session September 2nd.

Thirteen children have registered so far, according to Mrs. Thomas Longtin, who will teach the kindergarten class.

"I hope the aims and purposes of this class are not misunderstood," stated Mrs. Longtin, "we are not here as glorified baby-sitters, but rather to begin various instruction that is particularly needed by this age-group."

Mrs. Longtin spent two weeks this summer in Fayetteville, Arkansas where she attended a church-sponsored Laboratory school in Kindergarten work. The teachers in training there met in the classroom at 9 a.m. and began classes at 9:30 a.m.

According to Mrs. Longtin, it was sort of an "on the job training course" as they actually taught children enrolled in the kindergarten. The teachers were supervised by qualified instructors, and each teacher had an assignment of 20 pupils. The classroom instruction ended at 11 a.m. and teachers continued various studies, until 6 p.m.

Mrs. Longtin has also acted as substitute teacher for the past eight years in Slaton.

Pep Squad will begin practice today, 5 p.m.

Members of the 1958 Slaton High School Pep Squad will meet at 5 p.m. today (Thursday) at the high school, according to Mrs. Audean Nowell, pep squad sponsor, and June Johnson, head cheerleader.

Girls will learn new yells to be used this year, and are asked to bring their dues of 50c. All girls planning to take part in the pep squad this year should be present, Mrs. Nowell said. The meeting will last until 6 p.m.

Noel Gene Berkley and his three aunts, Mrs. J. S. Avent, Mrs. Ettie Mathis and Mrs. Ruby Woods, spent the week end near Colorado Springs, Colo., with another aunt, Mrs. Elmer Gollehon, and Mr. Gollehon.

Brenda Dooley of Lubbock spent Tuesday with Canzada Lee.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Mulloy of Ft. Davis visited recently with the W. C. Addison family here.

Week end visitors with Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Bollinger included Mrs. Lou Bollinger of Portales, New Mexico, Mrs. Walter Gregory of Floyd, New Mexico, and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Gregory and daughter.

Green, Rieger, Davis win in second Democratic primary

Light balloting at the polls Saturday was noted in Slaton, as well as throughout the county and state in the second Democratic Primary.

Somewhat less than 1,000 persons cast their votes in the three Slaton voting boxes.

In the election, incumbent County Commissioner George Green edged out Leon "Red" Walston by a scant 57 votes. Throughout the county, Green received 897 votes, to Walston's 822.

Voting in Slaton boxes saw Green and Walston tied in Precinct 26 with 139 votes each. Precinct 27 voters gave Walston 106 as compared with Green's 188. In Precinct 28, Green received 196, as against Walston's 173.

In other balloting, candidate for the Supreme Court Hamilton received 609 votes with his opponent, Smith, receiving 231.

Ottis Isom failed to carry any of the Slaton boxes in his race for County Judge. Bill Davis carried Box 26 183-81; Box 27, 214-78; and Box 28, 280-86.

Mrs. Jane Rieger defeated Mrs. Anne Ford Neal for the County Treasurer's office, and also carried two of the three Slaton boxes. Precinct 26 voters went for Mrs. Rieger 137-133; Precinct 27 went for Mrs. Neal 143-108, and Precinct 28 went for Mrs. Rieger 217-150.

Good attendance in prospect for farmer cotton award dinner here

Interest was running high here this week in the Chamber of Commerce-sponsored Farmer of Appreciation Dinner scheduled for Monday night at St. Joseph's Hall. Merchants and professional men in Slaton also are helping make the affair possible. The dinner will also see awards made for the first three bales of cotton to be ginned in this area.

Mrs. R. D. Bisbee, manager of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce, said this week that should the dinner have to be postponed until September 8, notices would be posted on the gin offices in the area on Sunday afternoon.

If the three bales are not ginned by noon on Sunday the dinner would be held on Monday, September 8.

Some winners, Mrs. Bisbee said, had called at the Chamber of Commerce office for more tickets which are being distributed free of charge to farmers in the area.

Tickets are available at the following gins, all of whom are cooperating in the awards dinner: Campbell Gin, Howard Gin, Slaton Cooperatives Gins, Posey Gin, Union Cooperative Gin, Gordon Gin, Pleasant Valley Gin, Hackberry Cooperative Gin, Midway Paymaster Gin, Acuff Cooperative Gin, Gatzki Gin, Planters Gin, Wilson Cooperative Gin, Basinger Gin, Malone Gin, Woodrow Gin, and Coyle Gin.

Door prizes, donated by Slaton merchants, will be awarded farmers attending the dinner. Awards for the cotton will be made as follows: First bale—$150; second bale—$75; third bale—$50.

Entry blanks have been supplied the gins in the area, and the time—hour and minute—the cotton was received at the gin will be recorded in order to determine the winner. In order to qualify the bale must weigh at least 450 pounds.

The class is offered in preparation for becoming United States citizens. Miss Murel Rankin, 1507 Avenue N in Lubbock, will be instructor for the classes.

Preview of Humble football activities held

Slaton Humble dealer Richard Becker and F. E. Perry, Slatonite publisher, attended the 25th anniversary observance of Humble Oil & Refining Company's broadcasting of football games held Tuesday night at the Caprock Hotel in Lubbock.

Using the theme, "25th Anniversary—a Golden Opportunity," Humble representatives from throughout the area were informed of Humble's plans for the current football season.

The latest film in Humble's series, showing the highlights of the 1957 Southwest Conference football play was presented.

Humble dealers were told that they would have copies of the 1957 Southwest Conference football schedules for distribution to their customers.

Will receive degree

Mrs. Keith Wiseman, the former Nancy Clifton, will receive her bachelor of science degree in elementary education from McMurry College, Abilene, in commencement exercises Thursday, August 28.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Lott and Jan of Fort Worth spent the week end with Mr. Lott's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Lott.

Douglas Corley will enter West Texas State College, Canyon, on September 3. A 1958 graduate of Slaton High School, Corley will receive a football scholarship at WTSC.

RICHES WASN'T ALL

The name of a few ancient kings are familiar in our time, even though the average man knows little or nothing of their history. One such is Croesus, king of Lydia. His capital, Sardis, is being excavated by American archaeologists.

Croesus, who ruled in the sixth century B.C., impressed the Greeks of his time and later as a king of fabulous wealth. "As rich as Croesus" is still familiar as a proverb. Croesus unwittingly contributed more than that proverb to the total of human wisdom, however. His experience provides a good lesson for conquerors.

The reign of Croesus ended in an alliance with Egypt and Babylonia against the rising power of Persia's Cyrus the Great. Before declaring war Croesus consulted the sacred oracle and was told, "If you make war, you will destroy a great empire." He rashly interpreted this as meaning the kingdom of Cyrus. It turned out to be his own. Dictators who contemplate war might well ponder the fate of Croesus.

RESPITE FOR HOODLUMS

Voters might as well reconcile themselves to the fact that they are in for a lot of post mortems on the House defeat of the labor reform bill. Politicians in both parties are going to blame their opponents for the failure to get adequate legislation on the books.

Many a voter may be less interested, however, in political blame-placing than in some straight answers as to why Congress bogged down on this important issue. Quite a few citizens surely feel, as we do, that the bill which spring out of McClellan committee's grim disclosures deserved better treatment than it received.

The Senate passed this measure, which had bipartisan sponsorship, by a vote of 88 to 1. Members of the House were then subjected to a barrage of claims that the bill would be ineffective, that it would weaken some Taft-Hartley provisions, that it was unfair to labor, and so forth. This attack on the bill was made, for a variety of reasons, by such diverse groups as the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, the National Association of Manufacturers, the United Mine Workers. The upshot of it all is that Congress is going home without having done anything about corruption in labor union activities.

Senator Ives, the Republican vice chairman of the McClellan committee, was not far wrong when he commented that this failure to act will encourage racketeers to make the most of their opportunities in the labor-management field. That is the important thing now—that for at least several more months the hoodlums who feed on organized labor will not feel the last of public outrage aroused by revelations of the Senate labor-management rackets committee.

Leaders in the 85th Congress rate its accomplishments among the greatest in congressional history. The people are likely to withhold judgement pending the arrival of their next tax bills.

The postwar ban against the Nazi party in West Germany recently, but no "Heil Hitlers" marked the occasion.

Those Arabs seeking to change the name of the Persian Gulf to Gulf of Arabia may get into hot water with Iran, which used to be known as Persia.

Civilization is improving all along the line. In the old days, our dollars merely took wing. Now they appear to leave the pocketbook under jet propulsion.

The adult prison population is on the rise. It's anyone's guess whether crime is increasing or police efficiency is improving.

At a summit conference, the trick is to keep from being pushed off.

Some television programs seem to be written for the single purpose of selling headache remedies.

One trend in international thought is that it would be better to talk with Russia than to let Russia do all the talking.

Distributive Education Notes

—by Raymond M. Smoot, Coordinator

As I indicated last week, I'm going to attempt to clarify the definition and meaning of Distributive Education. You will note in the following lines some of the requirements students should meet who are in or who are planning to take Distributive Education.

First, the student should be 16 years of age, but in some cases there is an exception to be made. We are authorized to take them if they will be 16 during the school year.

BUSINESS men prefer students to be as mature as possible. We would like to say this without being misunderstood. We prefer junior students by all means, and there is reasoning behind this statement: We can have this student for two years, which is the desirable aim.

Students who are seniors and have not had D. E. are welcome, and we are glad to have them. But if we could have had the students when they were juniors, then we could hope to do a great deal more for them. The training sponsor could mean more to them, and certainly they could mean more to the sponsor.

BY TAKING the program when a student is a junior is the only possible way for a student to get in his two years. This is why we hope that every student who is a sophomore this year will begin now and think about this matter of getting into Distributive Education in his junior year.

A LOT of counseling needs to be done right here, but I'm not a counsellor in an official capacity. Even so, I'm going to make a statement: Far too many students wait until their junior or senior year to get off their required subjects. If I were telling freshmen what courses to take, and again in the sophomore year, I would tell them to get as many of the solids off as possible, and even take more of the solid-course area than is required. Then the student can fit in his electives in his program as needed. But don't wait until the last minute and then find out that more requirements are needed than it appears you have time to get in.

Students should be physically fit to receive training. Distributive Education is strenuous work in many cases, and even if there is no semblance of work, the student should be prepared to work if and when the call comes.

STUDENTS should have their school credits so arranged as to allow them to graduate on schedule and take Distributive Education. Those students planning to go on to college should check their schedule of credits to make sure they meet the requirements for college entrance.

Then, if they can add D. E. to the program, they can do so without endangering their college prerequisites. College-bound students may want to continue their D. E. in college. In some schools where they have plenty of students to pick from, and also plenty of sponsors, there is a personality requirement that always results in the favor of the whole program.

THERE SHOULD be a fair record of success in other subjects if the student expects to get into D. E.

Another factor in favor of the D. E. student is good personal appearance. Mature attitudes toward training including traits of punctuality, honesty, loyalty, alertness, accuracy, perseverance, cooperation, moral responsibility, common sense, initiative, sincerity and willingness to work.

The training station might be entirely new to the student and he should have the ability, or at least the willingness to adjust himself to whatever conditions might exist, remembering he is working for an employer who has his interest at heart and will do all he can to train the student.

NOW, THIS gives me another opportunity to tell all the junior and senior students that if they can adjust their program they are welcome to the D. E. program. But first of all comes the general requirements of the school. Then we will fit them into our program according to the possibilities.

I am securing the names of students who have any interest in D. E. during the remainder of August, and I have been assured that where it is possible they will be allowed to take D. E.

Students must first meet the requirements for graduation before we can ask them to consider D. E. This does not mean that D. E. does not count toward graduation—it certainly does. But it is an elective, and a student with four or five electives to get off in his senior year has to think of those first.

AS I SEE it, a senior should not have more than two or three requirements left to take during the senior year. This is said and given with the hope that parents will be of some help to students in making out their schedule.

I am securing recommendations from employers regarding students they might like to see enter the program. Just heard a certain employer say "that student appears to be a fellow who would make good in a certain area." Of course, I'm going to approach that student and see if he has any interest in the suggestion.

Some of the factors which might be considered in rating the training stations are the availability of instructional material, opportunities for advancement, working conditions suitable for high school and junior college students, and for Mr. Snellen, who invented that vision test in 1863. But not for today's needs, for much more is involved.

OPTOMETRY: The Art and Science of Visual Care

Children in school today do not learn at 20 feet but at near distances, 10 to 18 inches away. That's why testing for skillful vision at "near" is so important. Evidence shows that most children who fail the 20-foot test usually are in the UPPER fourth of their class.

Seeing problems increase as the grade advances. In grade school 9 per cent, in high school 24 per cent, and in college 40 per cent of the students have deficient vision.

Be sure YOUR child is examined for NEAR vision. That's important!

THEY'RE OFF—Entrants in the Midget Boys 25-meter breaststroke competition at the Midland Swimming Meet last Saturday are just ready to hit the water in the top picture. Slaton boys are Deanie Hatchett, with Deanie coming in first. Three timers clocked each of the swimmers. Deanie is the son of Dr. and Mrs.

Big Business head deplores union criticism

"I believe in unions, and I believe that free, honest labor unions are our greatest guarantee of continuing prosperity and our strongest bulwark against social and economic totalitarianism."

J. Paul Getty, billionaire operator of oil fields and other businesses throughout the world made the above statement in an interview in "True" magazine recently.

In the interview, which covered a variety of subjects, Getty derided the views of some American businessmen about the "exorbitant" price of American labor.

"To hear some men talk, labor in general and union labor in particular are threatening to wreck the national economy," he said.

In stating his views, Getty said that some businesses have people who have embezzled them, but no loud cry goes up that that entire type of business throughout the nation is bad. "Yet let a single union—even a local—turn sour, and loud alarm is raised, castigating all organized labor. It doesn't make sense," he concluded. "Excessive labor cost," he concluded, "is just a handy excuse to cover up inept management's inability to meet competition."

What is a safe speed apparently downfall of most sensible drivers heavy? Do weather conditions create a hazard? Is the road itself in good condition and without steep hills and curves.

"Slow down and live—and let live!"

This terse warning was issued today by A. Ross Rommel, president of the Texas Safety Association, as a prelude to TSA's annual Slow Down and Live campaign.

"Sensible drivers know they should drive at a safe speed," he said. "The trouble seems to be that not enough drivers know how to determine just what a safe speed it."

"Any speed is too fast if it causes you to lose complete control of your car, even for a moment."

"But a safe speed is one that will enable you to maintain control of your car and stop it within the distance you can clearly see ahead. Thus, permitting you to avoid any emergency that might pop up."

The safety expert offered the following points that a driver may use to help himself in determining a safe speed.

1. Obey traffic signs and always drive within posted speed limits.
2. If you are passing most of your fellow motorists, you are probably going too fast.
3. On the other hand, if too many cars are passing you, you are very likely going too slow. Either case would be an unsafe speed.
4. At night, reduce your speed to stay within the assured stopping distance ahead.
5. Take into consideration the driving conditions. Is traffic

Workout of Tech's Raiders get underway with 62 candidates

Texas Tech's fall football workouts begin Monday, September 1, with 62 candidates expected.

In the turnout will be 17 seniors, 13 juniors, and 32 sophomores. Freshmen will report two weeks later.

With 20 of last year's 28 lettermen reporting, bolstered by two lettermen from previous years, prospects appear brighter than in 1957, when there were only nine returning lettermen on the squad.

A tougher schedule, with five Southwest Conference opponents instead of the three played last year, looms, however.

Since so few of Tech's returning lettermen are linemen, fullback Gene Bentley of Panhandle, 240-pound senior, has been moved to right guard. In the backfield, quarterback Floyd Dellinger of LaVega has switched to halfback, quarterback Glen Anderson of Munday to fullback.

Returning lettermen include ends Gerald Seemann of Ft. Worth, Bobby Stafford of Roaring Springs, Jerry Selfridge of Borger, tackles Jim Henderson and Phil Williams of Lubbock, Jerry Don Stockton of Tuscola, guards Roger Nesbitt of Compton, California, Bill Turnbow of Burk Burnett, Ed Strickland of Pampa, Bentley, center Jackie Henry of Floydada.

Quarterbacks Jerry Bell of Ballinger, John Riddle of Artesia, New Mexico; halfbacks Ronnie Rice of Lefors, Mack Pogue of Sulphur Springs, Milton (Rabbit) Vaughn of Littlefield, John Roberts of Stillwater, Oklahoma; Jimmy Knox of Graham, Mickie Barron of Childress, Dellinger, fullbacks Doug Duncan of Wellington and Floyd Cole of McCamey.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McMeekan and Diane have returned home after a week's vacation. Mrs. McMeekan and Diane visited with Mrs. McMeekan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Quisenberry in Lockney. Mr. McMeekan spent one day in Kansas City and three days in Chicago before returning home.

PRETTY BIG MESS, HUH?—Anyway, this is what happened when Mrs. Ralph Hayes' car jumped the curb Tuesday morning and crashed into the front of Walton Drug. B. H. "Whitey" Guest, store manager, had a pretty good-sized job waiting for him in sweeping up the broken glass, and getting the merchandise sorted out and put back into place. No one was injured in the accident, although Guest said that he was pretty well frightened. Could be it was just another case of Slaton people trying to get to the local stores for some of the good back-to-school bargains they have.

Research projects for area schools outlined for WTex School groups

The West Texas School Study Council has approved two 1958-59 research projects aimed at improving curricula and counseling in its public schools.

Representatives of all 13 co-operating school systems will make a detailed survey of what is being taught. Representatives of the system will exchange information and views.

The curricula survey will include studies of programs for gifted children, other exceptional children, and students who are not planning to attend college. Effects of the state's 20-credit graduation requirements on curricula also will be considered.

Aims of the guidance programs research include the setting up of criteria for a comprehensive program, showing adaptations needed by schools of various sizes. Team approaches to guidance will be surveyed.

Information will be sought to determine the roles of all who work in guidance. The role of the class room teacher will receive special emphasis.

Council researchers will work closely with the Texas Education Agency and other educational groups in the studies.

Attending their first council meeting were two representatives of Big Spring, the newest school system to join the council.

Other systems represented included Slaton, Lamesa, Plainview, Seminole, Denver City, Hale Center, Littlefield, Levelland, Hereford, Brownfield and Andrews.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Walker Jr and their daughters, Catha and Linda, spent last week vacationing in Colorado. They went to Durango, Silverton and also did some fishing.

"MY ELECTRIC HOME FREEZER MAKES MEAL PLANNING SO

Easy!

SAYS
Mrs. H. S. Hackfield,
2132 56th STREET,
LUBBOCK, TEXAS

"An electric home freezer is the perfect answer to meal planning, especially for working wives," says Mrs. Hackfield. She continues, "There are many advantages of owning a freezer. For example, it's such a convenient appliance and, because we can buy in quantity when prices are lowest, our freezer lets us realize a big savings in food costs. But, getting back to meal planning - when I have odd moments I can prepare complete meals in advance, freeze them, and then when we have dinner guests it's a simple matter just to 'heat 'n serve.'"

The same advantages that Mrs. Hackfield speaks of can be yours just as soon as you get that electric home freezer you've been wanting for so long - why wait - there's never been a better time to buy!

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex. — Labor Day week end is, by custom, summer's last fling. For millions it's a chance for a little more swimming, fishing or boating before school starts.

But for safety officials, it's a headache. They spend the week end picking up the pieces, totaling up the score of those for whom this "last fling" was really the last.

Department of Public Safety statistics, who base their "guesses" on grim experience, predict 29 traffic deaths in Texas over the holiday week end.

Out to beat the odds is a combination of public agencies and private organizations co-operating in a drive spearheaded by Gov. Price Daniel.

Texas Traffic Safety Council, the Governor's Highway Safety Commission and DPS will be assisted by several statewide civic organizations and trade associations in emphasizing the importance of careful driving.

DPS will have 700 patrolmen on duty with two radar speed units in each highway district.

Governor Daniel has proclaimed the Labor Day week end as "Deathless Days in Texas" and the following week as "Back to School Highway Safety Week." Through school officials and assisting groups safety tags and programs will be brought to millions of school children.

This sort of thing has been done before, every year, but there's special emphasis and wider participation this year. Texas safety leaders are straining to set a record of 10 per cent fewer traffic deaths this year. Goal, set by the governor, is in sight. Thus far, 1958 fatalities are 14 per cent less than for the same period last year.

Ultimate success hinges on being able to "keep the lid on" through the holidays ahead. If it can be done, several hundred

Texans, not expected to be, will be alive at the end of the year.

NO SPECIAL SESSION—Governor Daniel said he would not call a special session of the Legislature to extend unemployment payments to jobless Texans.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson recently ruled that Texas could not take advantage of a new federal plan to advance states money for 12 additional weeks of unemployment pay without a special law by the Legislature.

Governor Daniel pointed out that (1) the recession seemed to be easing, (2) the Legislature would be in regular session in less than five months and (3) more than half of the same 54,000 who had used up all their unemployment benefits were housewives, students or other only temporarily in the labor market.

But State AFL-CIO President Jerry Holleman sharply criticized the governor's position. He declared the state's unemployed workers have already lost $8,500,000 by Texas' failure to act.

Said Holleman, "If the oil industry or the insurance industry or any other industry were losing that kind of money and the governor had the power to stop it, I believe he would act."

Daniel retorted that the additional federal benefits were offered as a loan, not a gift, and would have to be repaid by Texas taxpayers. "It is not a matter of picking up free money."

BIGGER OIL FLOW—For the third straight month, Texas oil production will inch up. Railroad Commission set the September allowable at 3,173,736 barrels a day on a 12-day producing pattern.

This will be a 228,302 barrel-a-day increase from August. Oil production, cornerstone of the state's economy and prime source of tax-revenue, was in a deep slump for more than a year. As demand dwindled and crude oil stocks piled up, the Railroad Commission was forced to make deeper and deeper cuts in permitted production. During April, May and June an all-time low of eight producing days was maintained.

Upturn began in July with nine days of production, continued in August with 11 days. At the hearing to set September production, one major buyer asked for 14 days, saying his company's crude stocks were at the lowest level in 19 years.

REFREES—A credentials committee has been appointed to settle any hassles that may come up as to which delegates shall be seated at the Sept. 9 Democratic convention in San Antonio.

Committee members, announced by Executive Committee Chairman Jim Lindsey, are Judge Earl Sharp, Longview, Chairman; James P. Bailey, Houston; Larry Blackmon, Mineral Wells; Mrs. Arthur Harris Sr., Bay City; Mrs. Dorothy Gurley, Del Rio.

Notice of contests (at least five are foreseen) must be submitted to the committee 10 days in advance of the convention. Hearings will be held the day before the convention.

SLIPPED, BUT NOT HURT—Despite a 2 per cent dip in Texas business activity, experts read Texas' economic signposts as "generally favorable."

University of Texas Bureau of Business Research labeled the June decline as probably a "random variation."

"On the whole," observed BBR staffer Francis B. May, "this recession has manifested itself in Texas primarily as an interruption of the upward progress of the economy, a leveling off, more than a decline." Diversification of the economy has helped, said May, with an improvement in agriculture helping to offset the decline in oil.

Looking ahead, May could see "nothing in the immediate future to augment the recession; consequently, recovery seems the most likely course of events."

BBR noted that Texas building is at a level approaching the "boom" stage with permits for the first six months of the year 2 per cent above the previous January-June record.

SHORT SNORTS—State Highway Commission tabulated $24,259,167 in low bids on road construction projects. August lettings covered 554 miles of work. A fourth polio shot (or booster) may be considered desirable to give a high level of protection, especially in high-incidence areas, says the State Health Department.

Back seat driver can prove boon to modern drivers

Want to live longer? Here's one method: Become buddies with that person fidgeting in the back seat of your car—or right there beside you, for that matter.

"Two heads are better than one when they're behind the wheel of a car," the National Safety Council says. It believes that the so-called back-seat driver may hold the solution to the traffic accident problem.

"We're in favor of motorists combining their driving knowledge and skill with the help other passengers in the car can give," the Council says.

It agrees that the term "back-seat driver" has a bad connotation. The motorists who've been subjected to nagging "advice" from the rear understandably takes a dim view of interference with his driving.

"But with the proper spirit on both sides, back-seat drivers can be a real help," the Council says.

1. Let your wife, for example, who used to sit with nothing to do on a trip, be your copilot. Her observations—a car sneaking out from a side street, a quick turn in the road ahead—can take a big load off your mind.

2. Studies show that the irritated driver is more accident prone. The wife can help hubby cool off when he's upset over slow-moving cars or heavy traffic.

3. Giving other persons in your car something to keep them from getting bored makes the trip go faster for both of you—and keeps friction at a minimum.

"In addition to her lookout duties, the back-seat driver can handle many other details to make motoring more relaxing," the Council says.

"Let her light your cigarette, keep down the roar of your kids in the back seat, and chart your course. There are a thousand and one things she can do for you while you're driving.

"Successful businessmen will know the value of delegating authority. Yet, behind the wheel of a car an executive will try to handle the whole job of driving—often with disastrous results.

"Why do all the work, when minor parts of the job can be handled as well by your wife?" the Council asks.

"Bring the back-seat driver up front with you—in other words, giving her responsibilities on a trip—eases your job of driving.

"It may save a life—yours, or the life of the back-seat driver who used to get on your nerves."
