

THESE WOMEN!

By d'Alesato

"Figure it out for yourself . . . At the rate you're asking for shorter hours, in six months, you won't be coming in to work at all!"

"Be not deceived; God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap." Galatians 6:7. This, from the creation, is the unchanging law of God. Bitter tears have been shed by many that thought they could get by with sin.

Sowing seed of disobedience brought sin into the lives of Adam and Eve. Hatred and murder came into the lives of their children.

Lot looked upon earthly things and pitched his tent toward Sodom. Later he sat in its very gates. He was to die in shame because of the seed of evil he had sown.

The brethren of Joseph made merchandise of him and lived to regret the evil they had done. Pharaoh fully disregarded the warning given unto him and perished in the Red Sea.

Achan foolishly took things that were forbidden (Joshua 7) and not only he but his family suffered because of it.

Saul sowed seed of unfaithfulness and was rejected by the Lord to be king over Israel. David sinned against God and wet his couch with his tears. His beloved son was taken from him and he reaped what he had sown.

Belshazzar the king defiled the vessels of God and "Was weighed in the balances and found wanting."

The record goes on and on. If we think that we can sin and get by with it we are only fooling ourselves. Parents that live ungodly lives before their children will one day regret it as the evil harvest comes in.

Some think that they are doing right by their children and at the same time do not take them to Sunday School and church. They will one day regret this sad mistake. We as parents are miserable failures if we fail to give our children proper religious education.

A child is a wonderful, trusting, little human being. Because the child has been given into our hands to take care of we owe them our best in spiritual as well as material things. To give them less is a shame. To neglect it altogether is a great sin against yourself, your child and God.

To say that a child must sow wild oats is foolish. If there is a sowing there will be a harvest. There are thousands of young people today that have found true peace and happiness living for God.

The important thing is to get on the right track. The Bible says, "For he that soweth to his flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption; but he that soweth to the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting." Gal. 6:8. All ages can learn from this. Why not sow for the best harvest?

Thanks for reading this column this month. I hope you will keep reading it each and every week.

AT METHODIST BANQUET

Coach Marvin Smith of Slaton High School struck this pose in answer to a query from Bill Ball, emcee of last week's banquet given to the graduating seniors of the local high school by the Methodist Church. Superintendent and Mrs. Lee Vardy are in the foreground at right. You will recognize others in the picture as your son, daughter or neighbor.

Do You Remember?

Taken from May 1, 1953, issue of the Slaton Slatonite.

Marriage vows for Airman Bill Thompson and Miss Nita Ray McClellan were read Friday afternoon at 6 o'clock in the home of Rev. J. T. Bolding. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray McClellan of Post. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Thompson of Slaton.

Mrs. Edgar Ehler honored her daughter, Jane Carol, with a party on her 8th birthday, Saturday, April 25.

Bonnie Boyce, junior at Slaton High School, was installed as president of the Slaton Chapter of the FHA for the year 1953-54, in assembly on Wednesday, April 29.

Mrs. Webber Williams and H. M. "Bud" Englund are visiting in Harlingen with Mrs. Williams' parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Scudder. They expect to return to Slaton the latter part of this week.

Sgt. and Mrs. Tom Smith are visiting in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Smith, Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Spradley. Sgt. Smith recently got his discharge. They are planning to make Slaton their home.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Hafra left Sunday for a week's trip to the Rio Grande Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Harmon Thompson were in Dallas on business the early part of this week.

Dr. and Mrs. Jay McSweeney returned home Saturday morning with their daughter, Marilyn, who underwent major surgery at John Sealy Hospital in Galveston. Five-year-old Marilyn is doing fine.

Rev. Elmer Crabtree has been spending some time in Leveland helping his son build a new home.

Mrs. Lee Wootton, who underwent surgery Saturday, April 25, at Scott and White Clinic at Temple, is reported "doing fine."

Mrs. Fred Stottlemire's daughter, Mable Dix and husband, Ralph, from Sonnydale, Calif., spent the night last Saturday with her.

21 Rural Traffic Accidents Are Reported By DPS

The Highway Patrol Service of the Texas Department of Public Safety investigated a total of 21 rural traffic accidents in Lubbock county during the month of March with the following breakdown: Property damage 13, personal injury 8, and fatal accidents none.

In making this announcement Patrol Sergeant E. L. Stroud reported a total property damage of $15230 with 9 persons injured and none killed. This is a decrease of 14 accidents for the same period of 1958. According to the sergeant this brings the total rural traffic accidents in Lubbock county for 1959 to 60 as compared to 76 for the first three months of 1958.

The sergeant advised that traffic deaths in Texas are 12% higher this year than they were at this same time last year.

He stated that we have seen what can be done when we all get together in a statewide crusade and campaign with the determination to stop highway slaughter. This was evidenced in the 8% reduction in our death toll last year. This year, we must ever more if we wish to further reduce this terrible toll.

A MEMO TO BUSINESS MEN OF SLATON

When Jr. came home from college, he told his father (who did a very nice business) that bad times were coming. And so his father took down his signs, stopped ordering as much merchandise, stopped telling people what he had to sell and, sure enough—people slowly stopped coming to him for things to buy. After a few months, the father turned to his son and said, "You were right son—things are bad."

Around and About Slaton

It is a little late but there are some plants and flowers that can be transplanted yet and some folks in Slaton and surrounding area will want to be separating their chrysanthemums, mint, Phlox and other perennials. Many will have more than they know what to do with, so, if you would like to help make Slaton a more attractive place in which to live, just phone the Slatonite and let us know what you have and where it can be found we'll be glad to print the information and by working together there is no telling what may happen, a jungle maybe.

The doctors' offices report that this is the time of the year when a lot of severe wounds are rushed in because of careless handling of power mowers, trimmers and even hand tools. Warning! Keep your fingers out of the way when any power machinery is still running and watch where you chop, it's easy to chip off a toe or two.

The last freeze got nearly all the peaches and all the apricots and most of the plums, says Claude Spence, who has a back yard full of good looking fruit trees. But C. L. Garrigues said he believes he has saved his apricots and peaches too, because he got up before sunrise the two days when the temperature got below freezing and sprayed all his trees with water. Mr. Garrigues is sold on Kentucky blue grass. He said his lawn has been pretty for over a month and that he has had to mow it several times this season. Sounds like it might run into work.

With the extension of water and sewage to a wider section of town the plumbers and construction men say they have been extra busy. Slaton shows signs of a lot of building activity for the summer, both in new construction and in repairs.

More and more trees are being removed from the parkways between the street and sidewalks than have ever been removed before. A new style that gives better views of homes. A new trend also in tree planting seems to place two to four trees in tight groups and the more gnarled and out of symmetry the trees are, the more desirable the landscapers seem to like them.

Little or no recognition has ever been given the men who deliver the mail in Slaton but the fact should be recorded that for the amount of territory covered, the Slaton postmen do an excellent job. A word of appreciation to your postman would no doubt be worth while.

Attempted Theft Reported Here

Monroe Hinson, Red Arrow Courts, reported Saturday that someone tried to steal his truck sometime between 8 and 9:15 Friday night, April 24.

While trying to steal the truck, the person or persons mixed the wires up causing them to burn and making the truck start. It ran into Mr. Hinson's home, causing only little damage.

Delegates In Return From Convention

More than 350 clerical and lay delegates representing 87,000 members of the American Lutheran Church, Texas District, completed sessions of the 29th—and last official—convention of the synod in a week-long meeting at the First Lutheran Church in Galveston on Friday noon.

Delegates from the local congregations included the Rev. Leroy Deans, Pastor of Grace Lutheran Church, and James Riney who was the lay delegate; the Rev. F. A. Wittig, Pastor of Immanuel Lutheran Church of Posey and George Klattenhoff who was the lay delegate.

The convention met for numerous study sessions before taking action on a multitude of items affecting the work of the church in more than 220 congregations throughout Texas, Louisiana and Arkansas.

The convention authorized the Bible Cam. Comm. to build a new swimming pool at Camp Chrysalis, the district-owned Bible Camp near Kerrville; took the necessary steps for the district's furtherance of the merger of the American Lutheran Church with two other Lutheran groups to form a new body to be known as The American Lutheran Church in 1960, and approved the action and the plans of the numerous committees of the district during the past year.

New chief officers elected for the district include the following: the Rev. Alvin Bohls of Yorktown, second vice-president; the Rev. Edmund Heye of Taylor, secretary; and the Rev. A. E. Flathmann, Sr. of Doss, district statistician. Mr. Marcus Stricker of Rockdale was named lay representative on the executive committee of the district.

The convention in the new $460,000 edifice of First Lutheran Church was actually the last full-term convention of the district before the merger next year. A short convention, dissolving the district, will be held in Austin on May 9, 1960. The next day the representatives of the merging church bodies will meet to form the new South District of The American Lutheran Church, which will number about 2,225,000 baptized members.

BAND SOLO WINNERS

Hopeful teachers could take some comfort from the fact that some who voted against considering the bill said they would favor it when money is on hand.

Loan Shark Curb Passed— Texans will probably have an opportunity to vote in November, 1960, on whether to adopt a new approach for regulating lending practices.

Both House and Senate have approved a proposed constitutional amendment that would allow the Legislature to regulate the amount of interest that could be charged. Present 10 per cent ceiling on interest, set in the Constitution, would be abolished.

A constitutional amendment must be approved by the voters at a general election after it has been passed by the Legislature and signed by the governor.

Backers of the change say it will pave the way for driving loan sharks out of Texas. Such a measure has been sought for a number of years and has the backing of Texas Legislative Council.

More Colleges Okayed— Texas is on the way to having a new medical school and three new state-supported four-year colleges.

Senate, in a burst of educational zeal, passed bills to (1) elevate Arlington State College between Fort Worth and Dallas to a senior college, (2) make Tarleton State College at Stephenville a four-year college, (3) make Midwestern University at Wichita Falls a four-year state-supported college and (4) establish a new University of Texas medical branch at San Antonio.

All except the Midwestern bill already had been passed by the House.

Open Meetings Approved— Meetings of state, city, county and district boards and their records will be required to be open to the public under a bill given final Senate approval.

Measure that passed was a combination of Sen. Preston Smith's "open meetings" bill and Sen. George Parkhouse's

Abandoned Property "Abandoned"
In a vote that surprised many, the House killed the abandoned property bill, 80 to 67.

Proposed measure would have allowed the state to take over dormant bank accounts and property held by insurance companies, utilities and oil and gas companies if it had gone unclaimed seven years.

Some felt that Gov. Price Daniel, who had fought strenuously for the bill, might regard its defeat as third term fodder. He said at one time its passage meant more to him than anything since the tidelands.

Afterward, the governor said "the fight has just begun." He was critical of Speaker Carr for having allowed the measure to come to a vote when it did.

Critic: "Oh, yes. Everybody was happy when it ended."

BEGINNINGS
A doctor, an engineer, and a politician were arguing which of their professions was the oldest.

Said the doctor: "Of course medicine is the oldest. Mankind has always had physicians, and they are even mentioned in the Bible."
Said the engineer: "That's nothing. The Bible tells how the world was created out of chaos, and how could there be any order brought out of chaos without an engineer?"
Said the politician: "Wait a minute! Who do you think created the chaos?"

would prohibit bringing in milk from other states unless it could be established that the milk was produced under the health and sanitation standards placed on Texas producers.

Sen. Ray Roberts of McKinney pushed through a bill that would provide a penalty for allowing cattle to roam on state and national highways and relieve motorists of liability for hitting stock.

A bill tightening licensin regulations of veterinarians also was passed by the Senate. Sen. Andy Rogers of Childress, sponsor, noted that there is no present law to suspend licenses of veterinarians guilty of malpractice.

What's The Use— Senators refused, 16 to 15, to take up Sen. A. M. Aikin's bill to improve schools and raise teacher pay.

Those who opposed said passing the bill before tax money is found wouldn't bring a "crying dime" to the teachers.

BY A. M. J.

By A. M. Jackson

James Roberts, in the column he helps compose in the Andrews County News, commented last week on the trials and tribulations that the crew on the Post Dispatch recently went through when their linotype and press broke down and noted that it reminded him of the time he was working as linotype operator and general handy man on the Slatonite and that the Dispatch trouble would probably bring terrifying memories to me when I think about the time he and another employee dumped four pages of the Slatonite through a partition wall because they had not locked them on the press.

Thinking back over my experiences, this is not all I remember about James. He was, and I suppose still is, about six feet two or three inches tall, and in 1941 when he was working for me, must have been as hollow as a gourd for when he came to work in the morning he always brought two quarts of milk with him, as he consumed along with other odds and ends by noon, and at that time he used to go over to what was then Maxey's Cafe on the North west corner of the square, and eat them both from soup to dessert. He would not accept double portions but insist on two complete meals. In the afternoon he would consume two more quarts of milk at the Slatonite office; as for his other meals I have no idea what he ate but they must have been enormous. He kept a radio going full blast by the side of his linotype and kept it turned on jazz music and sang along with it in a voice that must have been audible down at the Santa Fe station. With two job presses running, the big newspaper press groaning and moaning and the other noises that go on around a newspaper, the Slatonite building seemed to me to bulge with vibration and my nerves quivered like frog legs in a hot skillet. Several times I seriously considered shooting James and then blowing off my own top.

When the Army got James and he went gleefully off to war, I figured he would eat the nation bankrupt and that if he ever met the enemy they would give up rather than hear him sing. No such thing happened. James was very seriously injured in one of the big battles in Italy and spent a long, long time in Government hospitals and came home, went to Baylor University where he graduated with honors in Journalism. He now does the best part of publishing and editing the Andrews County News. He did not come to the bitter end that I used to predict for him and I am real proud of him and of the fact that he once worked on the Slatonite. He has several brothers, all of whom are excellent young men, and one of them, Charles Roberts, also worked for me on the Slatonite and he was one of the best and most conscientious helpers I ever had. Good luck to all of them.

You may have read Rusty Kitten's letter to the Editor in the Slatonite last week. If you did not I'll pay for the ones that go by one for the purpose of reading it, that is in case all of the extra copies have not been sold. Rusty was also at one time an employee of the Slatonite and it's worth considerable money to have any one who ever worked for you and Rusty made my heart swell and throb with pride. She made several suggestions that I am going to promote. I would reprint the letter again in this column, in fact I would run it every week from now on, but the new publisher of the Slatonite objects so if you missed the letter better rush down and get a copy of last week's paper before they are all gone.

Last week when James Vardy, who puts in his spare time fuddling around at the Slatonite, came in to start his labors I asked him what he plans on studying when he graduates from High School this May and James reported that he was seriously considering law.

"You going to be a crook?" I asked and he became slightly indignant and answered that he sincerely believed there are as many honest lawyers as there are people in other professions. In that case, all I can say is that this could be true and not rate too high for lawyers.

Was stumbling around in the back of Bill Layne's Plumbing Shop last week and Mrs. Layne eyed me suspiciously and wanted to know if there was something she could do for me. To tell the truth I was on the trail of a roofing repair man who was beating and banging around on the Layne roof, but what I am getting at, Mrs. Layne weights next to nothing and steps around with great agility and girlishness and when I inquired as to whether she is doing like most of the other women around here by going on a diet or had she been ill, she strolled around like a Powers model on T-V, and said she had been dieting.

Now I have no quarrel with the women who are going on a tossed salad and cracker diet and drinking vinegar water instead of milk but sooner or later they're going to be sorry. Several of them, I am afraid to say who look like me that it is all they can do to drag one foot after the other, their cheeks are sagging and they do not appear half as jolly and well fed as they used to. A good looking woman is a pleasure to every one but one that looks like a T-V antenna doesn't stir up much enthusiasm with me, but of course that would not make any difference any way.

One of the mightiest men in Slaton and probably on the South Plains is E. M. Loti, who chops down trees, spades his lawn and is already running the lawn mower over his grass when it is only beginning to grow. When I meander down the street in front of his house and see him stirring up the dust of industry so fast I go home and decide to turn over a new leaf and have some mighty good intentions for a day or two, but it's too much for me and I'm probably going to have the biggest and prettiest crop of mixed flowers and weeds that has ever been produced in Slaton.

Have been informed that the JC's have stuck their necks out and had a meeting last Monday to which they invited the women of the town to come down to suggest activities that would improve Slaton.

It is my prediction that Slaton will be the first town in the nation to have lace edging around the pen holders at the City Hall, where the garbage collectors will wear kid gloves and where there will be posies in the rest rooms over town.

But I'm for the ladies. They will not only do a lot of talk but they'll talk so much and so long that a lot of good things will get done. Slaton is a mighty nice town, the folks are usually generous and willing to co-operate on most anything, whether it means much or not, and when I think of all the money that has been spent on lighting and building soft ball fields here, with all of them just a memory, I can't help but think that if half that money had been donated for something of permanent good to the community how much better off we'd all be. I'm betting the women of the town will build a fire under the JC's and a lot of other folks and that the JC's will be glad, and sorry that they started the whole thing.

Here's another crack by a child that seems worth repeating: Carol Blackburn, 5 after a session at a TV weather program: "I notice God doesn't always do what the weatherman says."

Southland Woman's Ribbon Salad Recipe

By Pam Jones

Mrs. Edger Mosely of Southland wanted everyone to have the recipe to her Ribbon Salad. This salad has everything including bright color and luscious, blended flavors. Its festive, striped-ribbon look adds to table decoration. You make it a day early, and that simplifies last-minute meal preparations for important occasions.

Besides, you can change the colors to suit your whim or the season. For Easter, a green and yellow or orange salad is as effective as Yuletide red, white and green.

Here is the recipe:
Creamy, white layer serves as dressing, top with mayonnaise if you like.

2 (3oz.) pkgs. lime flavor gelatin
5 c. Hot water
4 c. cold water
1 (3oz.) pkg. lemon flavor gelatin
1/2 c. miniature marshmallows, cut into pieces
1 c. pineapple juice
1 (8oz.) pkg. cream cheese
1 (1lb. 4 oz.) can crushed pineapple
1 c. heavy cream, whipped

1 c. mayonnaise
2 (3oz.) pkgs. cherry flavor gelatin

Dissolve lime gelatin in 2 c. hot water. Add 2 c. cold water. Pour into 14x10x2" pan. Chill until partly set. Dissolve lemon gelatin in 1 c. hot water in top of double boiler. Add marshmallows and stir to melt.

Remove from heat. Add 1 c. Drained pineapple juice and cream cheese. Beat until well blended and stir in pineapple. Cool slightly. Fold in whipped cream and mayonnaise. Chill until thickened.

Pour in layer over lime gelatin. Chill until almost set. Dissolve cherry gelatin in 2 c. hot water. Add 2 c. cold water. Chill until syrupy. Pour over pineapple layer. Chill until firm.

Makes 24 servings.

Behold the Ant...

Science tells us that the strongest thing in the world for its size is the common red ant. This marvel of nature can lift 10 times its own weight.

As strong as the red ant may be, it has been proven that the most powerful thing for its size is the little want ad in your local newspaper.

The want ad, which costs only a few cents a day, does a hundred-fold job. This mighty mite of the printed page finds jobs for folks, sells used lawnmowers, rents houses, sells farms, loans money, finds missing persons, locates lost dogs, rents appliances, thanks folks, locates homes for surplus puppies, and performs a hundred and one useful services for the community.
