

Hundreds Greet S. A. F. E. Officials Here

Synod To Hear Dr. W. M. Anderson Tonight

HOME TOWN TALK

By Beddy

Apparently Big Spring is going to grow truly air-minded in spite of itself. The Chamber of Commerce and the Airport company kept hitting the ball until a real home run was smacked. Through thick and thin, lean days and fat days, criticism and everything, they fought the good fight that brought Big Spring air she sought.

When the airport here was designated the West Texas air mail depot, as well as the point to which the only spur route on the new transcontinental line would join the main route, the city's aviation future was made exceedingly bright.

Big Spring has not been air-minded in the strict sense. Her people have enjoyed watching sky capers of flying machines but the idea of using airplanes as vehicles of travel has not been very widespread. Other West Texas towns have far outstripped us in passenger traffic. Several sad accidents have, perhaps, contributed to this lack of personal air-mindedness.

Now, we have the opportunity of direct benefit from air mail service. Letters dispatched from here at 11 a. m. on the westbound ship will reach Los Angeles that evening. Leaving here at 5 p. m. eastbound letters will reach Atlanta the following afternoon, making direct connection with ships there for New York. At Dallas there is a direct connection with ships to St. Louis and Chicago.

This Big Spring-San Antonio line ought to be developed especially by Big Spring people. Letters leaving here at 4:55 p. m. for the south will be in San Antonio an hour later and in San Antonio an hour and 5 minutes after leaving here. Train connections for an over-night trip to Houston are provided. At the latter point air mail service again is available, for New Orleans and other cities.

Use the air mail.
Big Spring put more mail on the first eastbound ship Wednesday than El Paso, where a strenuous campaign has been conducted for weeks in an effort to amass a large volume of matter for mailing on the first schedules.

The eastbound ship, piloted by Johnny Martin, made the trip from El Paso to Big Spring in 1 hour 50 minutes after having been delayed there by ceremonies. Stopping here 17 minutes, the pilot said he expected to reach Dallas by 7:10 p. m., only ten minutes late.

Which shows just how rapidly you may travel if you desire.

75th Session Scheduled To End Tonight

Evangelism Report Given At Wednesday Evening Session

Southern Presbyterians' representatives, to the 75th session of Synods being held at the First Presbyterian church here, will conclude their three-day program this evening by listening to a message from Dr. William M. Anderson, Dallas, eminent minister.

This afternoon the Synod was scheduled to hear additional reports and to choose the place of the next meeting.

Thursday morning an address by Dr. Egbert Smith, Nashville, Tenn., home missions director, was the most interesting feature.

The morning devotional was led by Dr. W. R. Hall. Dr. C. T. Caldwell spoke on some assembly agencies, principally the foundation project.

It has been decided, following reports from the special annuity committee, to concentrate efforts at raising the Texas Synod's quota of the proposed $3,000,000 fund during the month of November.

Other members are Dr. F. C. Coleman, Colorado; H. L. McClintock, Michigan; Prof. R. E. Jones, El Paso; T. S. Currie, Big Spring; B. G. Alexander, Knoxville, Tenn., a member of the general assembly Synod here.

The plan is to provide all ministers on reaching the age of 65 with an annuity of not less than $500 or more than $2,000, depending upon term of service and salary received.

The report of the stated clerk-treasurer was approved by the finance and audit committee which took occasion to compliment highly the accuracy and efficiency of the work of that official, who is Dr. Stowell J. McMurtry of Bartlett. He has served as stated clerk for many years. He was permanent clerk from 1904 to 1914 and from 1919 to 1922, when he became stated clerk. He has been in this Synod since 1886 with the exception of four years in Oklahoma. Dr. J. D. Leal, whom Dr. McMurtry succeeded, now is clerk for the general assembly, making headquarters of the entire Presbyterian church in the United States at Dallas. Dr. Leal's nom.

A special committee to name a standing special committee on evangelism was named, as follows: Rev. W. R. Minter, Rev. B. O. Wood, Rev. W. R. Hall.

Wednesday following the afternoon session pastors and elders were called for a drive over the city, ending on scenic Mountain following a ride over scenic Drive. From there the visitors were carried to City Park where an old-fashioned West Texas barbecue was tendered them by the Rotary, Lions and Kiwanis clubs of the city. Rev. W. G. Bailey of the Methodist church, Dr. W. Bristow Gray, moderator of the Synod; Dean J. M. Gordon of Texas Technological college, an elder and Rev. W. R. Minter, host pastor, were heard in brief talks. E. A. Kelley, an elder of the local congregation, was master of ceremonies for the informal program.

Wednesday evening's service had as its dominant topic, "Evangelism."

Annuity Leader

DEAN J. M. GORDON, Annuity Leader

The dean of Texas Technological College, Lubbock, delegate to the Synod of Texas, Presbyterian Church, U. S., now in session here, is chairman of a special committee of the El Paso Presbytery appointed at the last meeting to cooperate with the general assembly in raising $3,000,000 as a minister's annuity fund.

Report of the committee to the Synod here led to determination to concentrate efforts at raising the Texas quota of the fund during the month of November.

Posse Seeking Kidnapers Halts In Downpour

GREENFIELD, Mo., Oct. 16 (AP)—Temporarily halted by a down-pour last night, possemen from several southwest Missouri counties today were ready to resume their search for the abductor of Mrs. Alma Wilson McKinley, 24-year-old oil heiress.

Mrs. McKinley, whose story of nearly 24 hours with the kidnapers has stirred this section of the state, was under the care of a specialist, who said her condition was "not so serious" as the long exposure, the doctor said, sent her temperature to 101 last night. She is an expectant mother.

For a time late yesterday, members of a sheriff's posse believed they had the abductor surrounded in a dense woods near Stockton. After sending for additional help, they searched in vain for the man, who told Mrs. McKinley he was former convict and would rather hang than return to prison.

Because of last night's downpour, investigators said today bloodhounds would be of no further aid to them.

Although Mrs. McKinley, in her high school days at Greenfield, was rated as the greatest woman basketball player in the world, talked freely of her experiences, she refused to confirm a report she had agreed to pay the kidnapers $10,000 after his release.

The abductor treated her with "utmost respect," she related, "and before he finally let me go we became downright confidential."

Although the kidnapers, who invaded the Wilson home Monday night armed with a sawed-off shotgun and forced Mrs. McKinley to drive away in her own motor car, repeatedly told her about "the gang," investigators today were inclined to believe he worked alone. He appeared familiar with the Wilson family, even mentioning the exact amount involved in a lawsuit involving Benion Wilson, Mrs. McKinley's father, several years ago.

Charges against Freeman were the aftermath of a motorcycle-truck accident near Tye, near here, in May of 1929 in which Warren W. Hudson was swept from his motorcycle and fatally hurt, and his young wife, riding with him, severely injured. Freeman was tried here last year on a murder charge and convicted but the case was reversed on the ground that the indictment had failed to include the clause "with malice aforethought."

Veterans Pilot Thursday Ships

HOMER RADER, Veteran Pilot

HOWARD WOODALL, Veteran Pilot

These veterans, who have been regular pilots on the S. A. F. Dallas-El Paso passenger line almost constantly since it was established in March, 1929, were at the controls of the two huge tri-motor Fokker Thursday morning when they brought mail and a party of high officials of the Aviation Corporation and Southern Air Fast Express, Inc., to Big Spring on the second scheduled westbound flight of the new southern "all-weather" transcontinental air mail and passenger line. Rader has had more than 6,000 hours flying and Woodall almost as many.

Baby Girl Perishes In Well After Volunteers Work All Night Seeking To Save Her

LEVELLAND, Texas, Oct. 16 (AP)—A 22-month-old baby girl, daughter of a cotton picker on a farm near here, perished in a whirlwind well, where she had fell.

Volunteers from Levelland worked all night in an effort to extricate the child, whose little body slowly descended down the narrow and deep hole as the workers above tried every conceivable means of rescue. Gradually the baby's cry became fainter and presently there was silence after death had stilled the childish voice but, not until one of her arms had been broken by a rope that had been looped around her wrists in an effort to dislodge her.

The child was toddling around outside her father's hut when she attempted to walk a plank placed over the newly drilled hole for the windmill well. The plank gave way and the baby slipped into the hole. At first, she was barely out of reach of her mother's arms as she lowered them to bring her child back. Their fingers touched. Presently the little form had slipped farther down, beyond the reach of any arms.

County Gins 7,724 Bales

Ten gins in Howard county reported 7,724 bales of cotton had been ginned at the closing hour Wednesday. This is counting round bales as one-half the standard size, 500 pound bale.

"Back Seat Driving" Pleasant For Two Girl Stars of Air

"We're glad to be the first back seat drivers on this new air line," Miss Ruth Nichols and Miss Elinor Smith declared today as they alighted from a special Fokker F-10 plane tearing a party of high officials of the company.

The "back seat driving" experience is something new in their line. Veterans of the sky—and two of the foremost aviatrices in the world—are more at home with the controls than they are in one of the roomy chairs on the passenger slip.

They slipped away from the crowd a minute to inspect the Stearman plane used on the Big Spring-San Antonio route.

"How that plane can fly," Miss Smith declared.

"The trip over this morning was wonderful," the fliers said. "It was cool and we flew high and fast. We were 6,000 feet the greater part of the time. They didn't talk much of their own experience in the clouds. They were more interested in talking about aviation in general, and the new transcontinental route in particular.

"Your crowd here indicates aviation is sweeping this section as well as others. This new line is one of the greatest steps forward, and should develop into one of the biggest units in the air mail system."

Air Mail Rules Are Outlined

Postmaster E. E. Fahrenkamp today announced "dead-line" time for mailing letters for air mail delivery.

For a letter to be placed on a westbound plane, it must be in the postoffice by 10:20 a. m. The plane arrives here at 10:40 a. m. Eastbound letters to be placed on the 4:40 p. m. craft must be in the postoffice by 4:20 p. m. Fahrenkamp said.

Fahrenkamp also urged residents to mail letters at the postoffice instead of taking them to the airport.

The Southern Air Fast Express is conducting a contest between cities and towns along the route to encourage the use of airmail. The city showing the greatest number of pounds, in comparison with population, will have one of the giant Fokker planes named for her.

Barrett And Party Flying New Route

Women Air Stars Here! 16,000 Letters Mailed From Here

High officials of Aviation Corporation, and Southern Air Fast Express, with Miss Elinor Smith and Miss Ruth Nichols, world famous flyers, as guests of honor, landed at the local airport today in a special Fokker F-10 ship, to mark the second day of a two-day celebration which launched the new transcontinental route over the southern system.

The party traveled in a special craft, arriving here before the regular mail plane. Homer Rader was pilot and Dick Fagin, co-pilot of the craft.

Those in the party besides Miss Smith and Miss Nichols, were Mrs. Loma Laughlin, Mrs. Lois Dalton and Miss Fred Roemer, of Fort Worth; F. G. Coburn, New York, president of Aviation Corporation; Graham B. Grosvenor, New York, vice chairman of the board; Earle P. Halliburton, chairman of the board of Southern Air Fast Express, and A. P. Barrett, vice president, Aviation Corporation.

The mail plane, piloted by Howard Woodall, had as passengers, E. J. Brodick, representative of the International News Service, and E. B. Armstrong, Los Angeles Times reporter.

T. J. Halre was co-pilot of the westbound mail plane. Pictures were taken of the party, after which short talks were made by Miss Smith, Miss Nichols, Barrett, Halliburton and Grosvenor.

The special plane took off for El Paso a few minutes ahead of the regular mail plane. Both ships were serviced here.

Sandwiches and coffee were served on the part. Red carnations were given as favors to the pilot and members of the official party.

Six pounds of mail, 640 letters, were placed on the westbound ship here, representing the Big Spring consignment. The northbound plane from San Antonio this morning brought 22 pounds of mail, and these pouches were distributed to the west and east bound pouches and local distribution.

Since the first plane landed here Wednesday morning, postoffice officials have been rushed to distribute the air mail to the planes.

Typical 4-H Pair Chosen

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 16 (AP)—A college girl from Wisconsin and a football player from Tennessee today had the distinction of being typical 4-H girl and boy for 1930.

Out of 550 boys and girls sent to the National Dairy Show to represent the 850,000 American 4-H club members, Miss Elsie Onsrud, 19, of Stoughton, Wis., was selected as the typical girl, and Lyman Davis, 16, Madison, Tenn., the typical boy.

Although both have many interests, typical 4-H work, both raise their club activities ahead of all else.

Miss Onsrud, a co-ed at the University of Wisconsin, lives on a 100-acre farm. Her Jersey calf recently brought her the title of Wisconsin state champion calf club member.

Davis resides on a 180-acre farm eight miles from Nashville, and next to 4-H club work he likes football best. He is a crack guard on a Nashville high school team. He has a herd of eleven Jersey cows and calves, which have won three first prizes for him in Tennessee fairs.

PAROLED LEPER PROBLEM FACES HOSPITAL HEAD

Morrow, Borah Discuss 1932 GOP Campaign

"Strong Men" Give Public Peep Behind Scenes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13 (AP)—The rehabilitated leper who longs for his colony, instead of wanting to live in the work-a-day world, is one of the puzzling problems of the United States public health service.

Instance of a cured leper, who had twice paid his way from a distant city to Carville, La., was reported to public health headquarters here today by the medical officer in charge of the Carville colony.

This particular discharged patient was found in a hospital during his hospital life, but was anxious to make attempts in the hope of re-admission for permanent residence, though no longer diseased.

The medical officer told of other cured lepers who insisted on returning to the colony physicians for treatment of their ailments, instead of consulting local physicians in their home towns. And he described one case in which a man, "completely cured and in the pink of condition," refused point blank to leave when discharged, put in an ambulance by a guard and taken home.

"Recently a paroled patient came from California quite emaciated, hearing to consult a local physician, and preferring to spend his own money to get to doctors who knew his condition," the physician continued. "He had merely temporarily ruined his digestion. Another drove from Florida in his own car to be treated for a gangrenous finger, alleging the same lack of confidence in the home doctors. A few days ago a paroled patient rode the bus route from New York to Baton Rouge, and then walked to Carville (20 miles) for readmission—and he surely needed it for he could hardly drag his feet and was about 40 pounds underweight. As soon as we get these chaps in good condition, we release them again on parole."

The medical officer said the problem of what to do with the paroled leper is under serious consideration by many institutions. Some permit readmission for observation; others insist that they shift for themselves.

NORFLEET ON WAY TO HUNT FOR SUSPECT
SAN ANGELO, Texas, Oct. 14 (AP)—J. Frank Norfleet of Hais Center, West Texas ranchman and crook catcher extraordinary, is on his way to Mexico in an attempt to track down an alleged murderer, who is wanted in connection with the brutal slaying of a school teacher near Muleshoe, Texas, several years ago. Norfleet said he thought his man was now living across the Texas border.

Until about ten years ago, Frank Norfleet was just a hard-working ranchman near Hais Center his career as a "slueth" started when a gang of "confidence" men swindled him out of approximately $35,000, his life savings. Norfleet set out to catch the band. His hunts took him to practically every state in the United States and several foreign countries but he rounded up the entire gang.

Since then Norfleet's "sluething" has netted him a haul of 83 wide-known crooks. Eighty of these crooks have been tried and convicted, according to Norfleet. The other three are in jail but have not been tried yet.

The very little ranchman, 35 years old, who still wears a big hat and boots with his breeches leg-stuck down inside them, is engaged in private detective work.

Several years ago, Norfleet published a book relating to the details of his search for the gang of men who swindled him. The book is now in its third publication and is soon to be made into a talking movie, with Norfleet enacting the leading role, he says.

SLAYER GIVEN 2 LIFE TERMS
HOUSTON, Oct. 14 (AP)—E. F. Grimes, confessed companion of J. J. Maple, the condemned slayer of Motorcycle Officer E. D. Fitzgerald, in a number of robberies, was assessed life imprisonment plus 90 years, today in perhaps the speediest trials of that gravity ever held in the county.

Only 18 minutes elapsed from the time a jury filed into the box until the last verdict had been signed. In that 18 minutes two cases were tried and two charges dismissed.

An agreement had been reached between counsel and approved by the court, whereby the state asked for the life penalty in two cases and dismissed other charges.

The first case called was a charge of robbery by assault in connection with the holdup of the William Penn Cafe on the night of July 31.

A verdict already prepared by the clerk was handed to the jury foreman, who after a whispering conference with other members of the jury, signed it and returned it to the court. The jurors did not leave the box. A verdict was life in the penitentiary.

Then the robbery of the Touchy Furniture Company on the night of September 29, an hour before the gun battle in which Maple killed officers Fitzgerald and W. J. Phares, was taken up.

The charge in the Touchy robbery case was robbery by firearms. As the jurors were about to take the case under consideration, one of the attorneys "pointed out" a firearms case the penalty is given by the statute at "death or at any term of years in the penitentiary."

As there was no provision for a life sentence under that charge, attorneys agreed to ask for a 99 year sentence. The jurors agreed and the verdict was written accordingly.

WOMEN, PILOT DIE IN FALL
PERTH, West Australia, Oct. 14 (AP)—Flight Lieut. C. H. Nesbit and two women pupils were killed yesterday when their Luscombe plane, in which they were making a navigation flight, was wrecked.

At the plane failed to return seven machines today made a search for it and located it standing on its nose 45 miles from Perth.

LONGHORNS SCATTER YELLOW JACKETS IN DRIVING RAIN

AUSTIN, TEX., Oct. 11 (AP)—After holding their heavier opponents scoreless for the first two quarters, Howard Payne weakened in the last half of their game with the University of Texas and the steers pushed across four touchdowns and kicked two points after touchdown to win 26 to 0.

The second and fourth quarters were played in a driving rain. Texas scored 15 points in each of the final quarters, the hard driving of the Texas backs and the power of the line wearing down the Jackets, the steers had more luck with their passing attack than in former games, completing several for considerable yardage.

The first score came when Texas took a Howard Payne punt on a criss-cross and persistent plunging by Shelley and Roy put the ball on the 12-yard stripe from where Shelley skirted right end for a touchdown. Perkins' try for goal was short.

The second Texas score came a few minutes later when McQueen got off a bad punt which Roy recovered on the 30-yard line and advanced it to the 12-yard line from where Shelley again ran the right end for a touchdown.

Blanton's place kick was good. On the next kickoff, Roy returned the pigskin from his own 20-yard line to the Jackets' 35-yard line. Shelley made eight around right end and a pass from Shelley to Peterson was good for 22 yards, Peterson being forced out of bounds on the five-yard line. Two line bucks by Shelley and Clewis put the ball on the six-inch mark as the quarter ended.

On the next play Brown, substitute fullback, scored. Blanton place kicked for the extra point.

Straight driving mixed with passes netted Texas' final score. Craig took the kick off on his own 15-yard line and returned it to the 42-yard line. Brown made 30 yards on a spined play but Craig was thrown for a 5-yard loss on the next play. Brown then hit the line, for three and a lateral pass from Craig to Perkins put the ball on the Yellow-Jackets' 14-yard line. Brown made one through center and repeated for nine after Craig had failed to gain an end run. With the ball on the four-yard line, Perkins slanted off tackle for the final marker. His place kick for point was wide.

"Parent-Child Relationship" Is Discussed
Study Club Meets In Interesting Session

The Parent-Child Relationship, was the subject discussed at Friday's meeting of the Child Study Club at the home of Mrs. M. A. Cook with Mrs. E. D. Norman as leader.

T. E. L. And Homemaker Groups Give Church Tea Yesterday Afternoon

Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Chambers Visit In City; Both On Furlough From Posts In Shanghai

The T. E. L. and the Homemakers Classes of the First Baptist Church entertained with a tea yesterday afternoon from 3 to 5 in honor of Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Chambers, missionaries to China who are visiting here on their furlough.

Mrs. Chambers, who was Miss Christine Coffee before her marriage to Dr. Chambers in China, is an old resident of Big Spring.

A short program was carried out with Mrs. Chambers as the principal speaker. Mrs. J. T. Mercer played a piano solo and Mrs. Bruce Frazier sang "The Voice of One Crying in the Wilderness."

Mrs. Chambers made a short talk on China and her work there. She and Dr. Chambers, who were stationed in Canton before the revolution drove them to Shanghai, published Christian literature for distribution among the Chinese.

The organization there is building its own offices now in Shanghai, according to Mrs. Chambers. When this is finished, she says, it will be the headquarters of the Baptist workers in China. Shanghai is the center of all things in China, said Mrs. Chambers, and it is hoped to reach a larger number of people from this city than from Canton.

She told several stories of the missionaries work in China and the tribulations of the workers. She explained the lack of modern conveniences such as the poorest American is accustomed to—the lack of proper heating facilities, of chairs and beds.

Mrs. Chambers presented a group picture of herself and family to the church. Mrs. J. C. Douglas, president of the local W.M.U. made a short talk of appreciation.

Mrs. Lynn Hatcher presented the Chambers with roses from the two classes.

Mrs. Walter Douglas and Mrs. Ira Thurman acted as hostesses.

Back To Earth

INTEREST in the beginning of air-mail service, with Big Spring an important depot on a transcontinental line having been high through the week, it is now time for us to return to earth, as it were, and continue our consideration of a plan for building state and county roads in Howard county.

Value of permanent improvement of roads is indisputable. No open-minded person would argue otherwise.

When a county can afford to levy the necessary tax to retire a bond issue for this purpose, and when its roads are obviously in real need of improvement it is time for that county to get to work and vote bonds.

The state and federal departments will pay two thirds of the bill on the two state-federal roads across Howard. Expenditure of more than $1,500,000 on these roads would naturally have a good effect upon employment and business conditions.

We have procrastinated long enough, too long in fact. The state highway department is the supreme authority under the law in the location and choice of type of paving for state roads.

Action by the people of Howard county is the remaining unperformed step. Let's act.

Darrow Fights The Law

Indianapolis News: EMERGING from his retirement to defend a gangster in Chicago, held as a vagrant under heavy bonds, Clarence Darrow believes himself to be defending American liberties as written in and safeguarded by constitution and law.

But there are two points which Mr. Darrow overlooks. The first is that the authorities are acting under the law, though there may have been a strained interpretation.

The other point is that the authorities are dealing with what virtually amounts to civil war. Chicago has been living under two governments—one of gangland, and one elected by the people.

They are two aspects as they have been made one as a result of a partnership or conspiracy between them. The gunmen are not merely criminals—they are traitors and rebels.

This, as has been suggested, is no ordinary case, but a very extraordinary one. It is true that the authorities are dealing with "public enemies," enemies in a sense that a mere criminal is not.

NURSING

There is a statue at Waterloo Place in London of a gentle, sad-eyed woman in mid-Victorian garb, bearing a symbolic lamp in her right hand, while with the left, she holds her trailing skirt.

It is the statue of Florence Nightingale, heroine of the Crimean war, who brought comfort and solace to soldiers of the battlefield and who later extended her labors to assuage the sorrow and suffering of sick mankind in peaceful times.

Florence Nightingale, whose interest in nursing was first aroused by the terrible loss of life which British soldiers suffered during the Crimean war, set herself a little task of developing nursing for hospitals and homes.

As part of her crusade, she wrote a popular book of instruction on home nursing. So great was the need for such a work that 15,000 copies were sold within a month and by 1860, the booklet was reprinted and translated into several languages.

The art of nursing since the days of Florence Nightingale's "Notes on Nursing" has made great progress, but one main idea which she emphasized therein holds as valid today as ever before.

This is the idea that women are, and probably will remain the nurses of the world—that fewer if any women escape the responsibility of the care of some sick or helpless one, and that in consequence, it should be part of every woman's training to have as much of a knowledge of nursing as will enable her to take care of those who, in the home or elsewhere, "naturally" look to her for care and protection.

Bullet Wounds In Mouth and Chest Drives 12 Miles

CHICAGO, Oct. 15 (AP)—Thomas W. McManus, with a self-inflicted bullet wound below the heart and another in his mouth, drove his automobile 12 miles last night, so that he might say goodbye to his wife before dying.

The suicide attempt was made in the forest preserve. McManus, 46 years old, first fired the shot that entered his body near the heart. Then he lifted the gun to his mouth and pulled the trigger again.

At a hospital today he said he lost consciousness for three hours. He regained his senses and felt an overpowering desire to see his wife, Miss, once again.

With his shining strength, he drove his automobile home, stumbled to the door, greeted his wife, and collapsed.

The wounds, doctors said, may prove fatal.

Hollywood Sights

By ROBBIN COONS HOLLYWOOD—There will be no "successor" to Lon Chaney, so far as his studio is concerned—the studio which had contracted to pay him nearly a million dollars for making talkies.

Yet, the studio has been receiving quantities of mail from would-be Chaney extollers their fitness to step into his place.

There is Walter Huston, for one, and Lucien Littlefield, the "young old man" of the screen, and O. P. Heggie, whose portrayal of the French monarch in "The Vagabond King" stands out in memory—these among many.

For actual resemblance, however, John Jaake, for years Chaney's chauffeur and best friend, is as close to a double as can be imagined. He is not in pictures, of course, but many at the Chaney funeral mistook Jaake for a brother of the star.

Wallace Beery and Lionel Barrymore, it appears now, will divide the starring roles which were scheduled for Chaney.

Why successors? This question of "successors" for screen idols seems to arise whenever one passes away. Ever since Valentino died, every Latin actor of any prominence has been publicly hailed as "Valentino's successor," to no avail.

The latest, not Latin for a change, were the dashing Chevalier and the spectacular Lawrence Tibbett.

Neither resembles Rudy, but the question has been as to which more nearly filled his place in favor as a screen lover.

The best recent instance of capitalizing a real-life romance in the movies is the change in title of "Broken Dishes"—the stage play, Loretta Young and Grant Withers, married a few months ago to the accompaniment of her mother's protests that she was too young to marry, are co-featured in the film now labeled "Too Young to Marry."

"Crime Safe In U. S." Say English Papers LONDON, Oct. 16. (AP)—The attempt against Jack "Legs" Lynam's life in New York continues to be a front page feature throughout Great Britain.

Not only are the newspapers printing columns of news and pictures but many of them are editorializing.

The London Daily Express said editorially today: "Gangsters flourish in the United States because of the virtually complete failure of American justice to secure and enforce convictions. Judges, lawyers and politicians have between them made crime one of the safest of American callings."

THE ROSE IN THE DARK BY ROY VICKERS

Chapter 1 THE GIRL ON THE CLIFF Sunset. The cliff-head looked out to the west, straight into the last molten gold of the day. The sands at the cliff's foot glittered and dazzled for a moment. Then slowly they lost their glory and darkened to the grey of the sea.

Up in the shelter, built into the face of the cliff, it had been dusk for some time but the man and the girl seated there had not noticed it.

"Sunset," said the man, "you haven't seen a sunset until you've seen the end of an African day. It all goes with a rush—reds and greens and purples rushing up from the skyline, the sun rushing down, all the beauty and all the savagery clashing together and becoming one."

"But it's no good trying to describe it. You must see it." He sighed so sharply that the sign was nearly a groan.

"What is the matter?" asked the girl quickly. "I was remembering that perhaps I shall never see any kind of sunset again."

"Oh!" There was such pain in her explanation that he became incoherently apologetic.

"I'm sorry. I can't imagine what made me say such a thing! Must need more exercise or something. I don't usually indulge in cheap melodrama."

"What is the matter with your eyes?" He answered the question as simply as she had asked it. "Nobody quite knows. I got a germ—a poisonous germ—in them while I was out in the wilds. Two or three doctors—fine fellows—are on the germ's track, and although they haven't really found out much about him, they believe they know what will kill him."

"And that is—?" "Another germ. Only, you see, they aren't sure. It's a big risk in a way, they hate to take that risk. Personally, I feel I'd rather risk blindness than be pottering about like this indefinitely."

"You can't see clearly?" "I can't see you clearly—no." The girl blushed beautifully, and although she knew she had just not the courage to ask, she felt a keen disappointment that he could not see her clearly, and then an immense flood of pity for him.

"I can see fairly well in a shaded room," he was explaining in a matter-of-fact way. "Sometimes if one shaft of light falls on a face, I can see it as well as ever. But out here in the air I have to wear these dark glasses and that obscures everything; even—the sunset!"

She told her she had just not the courage to ask, she felt a keen disappointment that he could not see her clearly, and then an immense flood of pity for him.

She was amazed at herself. What was she doing? What was she thinking? This was only a chance encounter with a man whose name she didn't even know. She had been waiting for another man of an utterly different type—the man she loved. She repeated it firmly to herself—the man she loved and was going to marry.

Well, she had been waiting for him rather impatiently because he

Galloping Joe Prances For Irish

Crosses Navy Line Three Times To Run Up Tally

SOUTH BEND, IND., Oct. 11 (AP)—The first hero in the lore of Notre Dame's $700,000 stadium is none less than the renowned hurdler from Three Oaks, Mich., "Galloping Joe" Savoldi.

Piercing through the navy's steel plated defense when all the rest of Knute Rockne's famous "Shock Troop" failed, Savoldi made the spectacular dash for the new stadium perfect today by leading Notre Dame to a 26 to 2 victory over the Middies.

Three times did "Galloping Joe," whose muscles are steered each summer by carrying a hod of bricks, crash through and around the navy wall for touchdowns and many more times did he back up a staggering line with brand of unbeatable defensive play.

The rest of the Irish did their share and two others joined in the scoring, but Savoldi stood out of the fight like a man mountain. Forty thousand fans, who came to cheer Rockne and the stadium turned their cheers for Savoldi. He was the first hero of the new stadium.

Navy, although outclasses from second period on, had two big chances to score today, only to be confronted by a stone wall when the chances looked the brightest. It took a Notre Dame mistake to save the Middies from a shutout, however. With but five minutes to go, the "Blimp" Bowstrom, navy's punter, booted the ball out of bounds on the Notre Dame two yard line. Quarterback Mahoney signalled for a punt but the center toward the oval far over his head and Mahoney left on the ball for a safety.

The Lineup:

Pos	Notre Dame	Host
Right End	Bowstrom	Hoffman
Right Tackle	Black	Rogers
Center	Gray	Terlaak
Right Guard	Bryan	McCannon
Right Guard	Bauer	Jaskwich
Quarter	Gannon	Koken
Right Half	Hagberg	Howard
Back	Notre Dame	Howard

Score by periods:

Notre Dame 0 13 7 6-26

Notre Dame scoring: Touchdowns, Savoldi (substitute for Howard) three; Staab (substitute for Howard and Savoldi) one.

Points after touchdowns: Carideo (substitute for Jaskwich) two; Safety; Mahoney (substitute for Jaskwich) one.

Elbow District Formally Opens New Building

The Elbow school district, located southwest of Big Spring, continued its record of many years as a leader in providing up-to-date school facilities Friday evening when its new $12,000 brick school building was formally opened.

The 1930-31 session will be opened Monday morning. J. R. Hale is beginning his third year as principal of the school. Mrs. Hale and Miss Thetis Boyd are his associates on the faculty.

Judge M. H. Morrison, as the principal speaker of the opening program, pleaded for return to the strong ties of community life, declaring that good churches, good schools and good roads in the rural districts are necessary to maintenance of national life of a wholesome sort.

Miss Pauline Cantrell, county superintendent of public instruction, and Prof. Hale were the other speakers of the evening, the latter presiding. About 200 persons, school children and their friends attended.

A bond issue of $12,750 was voted to finance the new building and its equipment. However, all of the fund thus created was not expended, the total expenditure being less than $12,000, according to J. H. Bruton of the board of trustees. O. G. Kidwell and J. R. Cotter are the other trustees.

An auditorium-study hall equipped with a large stage and seating facilities for several hundred, with four large well equipped classrooms are in the building. The scholastic population of the district 167 and total enrollment last session was 122. This session one of the rooms will not be needed for recitations and the community home demonstration and boys' and girls' 4-H clubs have been invited to use that room for their meetings.

The Elbow district school tax is one dollar, 75 cents for maintenance and 25 cents for interest and sinking fund.

Progress

Mr. Hale traced progress of the school, recounting that in 1927 there was a small frame building and a teacherage that was not in use. The school session then continued seven months, with two teachers. In 1928 a new teacherage was provided and there were two teachers. In 1929 the session was extended to nine months and a third teacher added.

Judge Morrison recalled that when the frame building being abandoned for the brick structure was built at Elbow it was the best rural school structure in the county.

"In a building of this kind you can have a much more efficient school and an attractive center of community life," said Miss Cantrell. She congratulated the people of the district, the trustees, the faculty and the pupils upon completion of the building.

"I congratulate you as strongly as I know how," said Judge Morrison. "I have viewed with alarm the disintegration of our communities. I have watched people flocking to the towns and cities and leaving the rural districts without community life or community centers. So when I learned of this splendid building I rejoiced."

Spirit Needed

"The nation will go on the rocks when community spirit dies. You can't train the right type of citizens without it. If there could be one in the community who does not rejoice tonight I believe he ought to be taken to jail. We cannot live to ourselves. We can't get away from the responsibility that is in our boys and girls."

"We have not the right to do as we please with land that we have bought and paid for. We hold it in trust for future generations. We ought not to use it so as to decrease its fertility. It is a sin against unborn generations."

"Suppose you do away with the rural school and the rural church. Suppose you take your boys and girls to Big Spring and go there to church. You would be destroying the most valuable influence in their lives, outside their homes. I believe a greater responsibility rests upon you than upon me. Through the history of this county 75 per cent of the men who have really accomplished anything have been those reared in the rural districts. Take this building away and in five years your neighbors of the community won't know each other."

Good Roads

"Along with good schools go good roads. A great majority of the people now realize the necessity of good community roads and state highways. I think we ought to congratulate ourselves that we have a commissioner's court that is building good community roads. The responsibility of providing good highways also is on you so that your near neighbor or persons from other states may come here on roads that may be traveled 365 days in the year."

He traced the history of efforts to have what now is state highway 9 designated from Corpus Christi to Farwell as a state highway and later a federal road. He told of the rejoicing in Howard county when these designations were granted.

"It does not like to fly false colors and therefore I believe that if we do not expect to improve this road we ought to tender the designation back to the state and federal authorities and tell them to give it to some county that will improve it," said Judge Morrison.

Following the address Mrs. Curlee of Big Spring, who will offer lessons in piano to Elbow boys and girls, played a solo.

Tea cakes and coffee were served following the program by the women and girls of the community.

John Bryan, manager of the Great West Refinery, motored to Colorado Sunday.

Broken Field Run By Flowers Responsible For Single Longhorn Tally

Boone Magness Whole Show of Breckenridge's 1930 Revue; Steer Brigade Stage Brilliant Defensive Work

(By BOBBY CAMPBELL)

Some are prone to say the Big Spring Steers earned a "moral" victory over the highly touted Breckenridge Buckaroos Saturday afternoon. As a matter of fact they did nothing of the kind. What they earned was a 6-6 tie, and nothing else but.

It is true that the 1929 co-champions of Texas high school football downed the Herd 19 to 6, but it is equally true that Mims, Steer, quarterback, chose to block rather than tackle one runner, and allowed another to slip through his arms, and as a result the Bucos pushed over a couple of touchdowns and gleaned an extra point when they had no business doing anything like that.

A Bit Late

It is a little bit late to talk of what should have been. The thing is the Steers were defeated, and cleanly at that. But it doesn't do any harm to say that the Steers held the Buckies 7 to 0 for three quarters, and fought them off their feet, at intervals, after the first unlucky marker had traveled across the white line that counts.

23-Yard Dash

Two aspiring young gridsters stood out above the meek—Boone Magness, all stack back, and Bill Flowers, who is well on his way to an all-district berth if nothing else.

It was Bill Flowers who, in the fourth quarter, took Henrichs' kick off on his 18-yard line and through a broken field outstepped the green and white forward, swept by the secondary and carried the ball 82 yards for a touchdown. Yet, even Flowers' run could not have been made possible had not Captain Delbert Rogers blocked out the final threat when he took Stapp out just as he was ready to tackle the fleetly Flowers on his touchdown dash.

Score Early

The Buckaroos scored early in the first quarter. Coburn kicked off to Magness who returned to his 25-yard line. Magness and Stapp crashed through for a first down to place the ball on Breck's 49-yard line. A pass was incomplete. Magness made six yards and then booted the skin out of bounds on Big Spring's 5-yard line. It was just another beautiful toe and air-pocket affair that Magness is afflicted with.

Phillips kicked the orbit back to his own 21-yard line. It took one, and only one play to grab the counter. The deadly Magness pass went into action and the ball dropped to Stapp's arms. It was a good 20-yard pass, and no more, but Mims, with a clear field, tried to block Stapp instead of tackling, the shifty back neatly stepped aside and moseyed over for the counter. Henrichs added the extra point by a boot from placement.

Even Fight

From then on it was 7 to 0, Breckenridge—with Stapp and Magness attempting to pound a Big Spring line. Soveg first downs were made in the first half by the green and white wave, while the Steers were planning two, but that's not half the tale which hangs thereby.

As the last half neared, Phillips was downed by Spain as he attempted to punt on his own 30-yard line. Two plays carried the ball to Big Spring's 19-yard line, and Stapp piked up nine yards to place the ball on Big Spring's 30-yard line.

With the ball resting there, Magness was thrown for a yard loss, and Rogers downed Stapp at the line to take the ball. Phillips punted out of danger as the half ended.

The Steers found themselves in tough quarters as the third opened, when Magness sent another of his power house punts to Mims, safety man, and it died on Big Spring's two-yard line. Phillips, however, again booted the ball, sending it to his own 27-yard line.

Tally Another

It was the first of the fourth before Silent Show's hopefuls again cranked up the scoring machine and churned out a tally. The drive started in the final minute of the third quarter when Henrichs kicked to Magness who returned his 49-yard line. Three plays—McFall, Stapp and Magness—netted a first down. Stapp was stepped twice before Magness took the hide and gleaned another first down. Stapp was stepped twice more, but Magness continued his shifty stepping to gain another first down and place the ball on Big Spring's 10-yard line.

McFall piked up a yard, Magness was called, and he answered. Taking the ball he reached the line of scrimmage, only to be confronted by Mims; Mims missed his tackle, Magness shifted around right end to the touchdown. Henrichs missed his boot from the ant hill for the extra counter.

It was on the kickoff that Bill Flowers pranced his way into an almost sure all district berth by his dash across the plains for the lone Longhorn counter. Rogers' kick for the extra point was smothered.

Final Score

It was not long after that the Buckies pushed over their final marker. Magness returned Pardue's kick-off to Breck's 39-yard line, Magness shot a 10-yard pass to Stapp, after a 5-yard penalty had been doled out. Stapp went over for a first down. Coburn was sent into the game and talked, and a 15-yard penalty gave the Bucos another first down.

The ball rested on Big Spring's 30-yard line. Magness made four, Stapp, 2, and Magness 5 to place the ball on Big Spring's 19-yard line. Stapp made one, and Magness 5 before Magness shot a pass to

"Tatter'd Lovin'"
By Phyllis Bottoms
Houghton Mifflin Co.

"Tatter'd Lovin'" is, to my way of thinking, one of the most universal portrayals of a woman's character that Phyllis Bottoms has yet depicted. In her quiet, even way she carries to us a woman who carries a peculiar selfishness of womanhood to its fullest extent.

Listen to the story. Veda Middleton married very young, too young to know what was expected of her. Her husband was not a considerate man and she soon began to hate him but she continued to live with him for the sake of her child. One day he brought an oldtime friend to meet her. The friend and the wife fell so violently in love that they immediately forgot everything and went away together. The man sacrificed his career and she her child.

She made no attempt to see the child, Ariadne, again until Ariadne was grown and she (the mother) thought she was dying. The reconciliation was then lasting. The girl came live with her mother, had been legally married in the meantime, and treated the second husband as a father, maintaining all the while her connection with her own father.

Conflict of Generation

Immediately the scene became a conflict of generations. But it was more than that; it was a conflict of personalities. Veda had taken for granted the fact that Edward, her second husband, should have given up his career for their love, and in their simple message she had set herself on the throne. Their love was as idyllic as young love usually is, but its creator and efficiency man was Veda. The reader does not realize that the beginning of the story what terrific demands Veda is making forever on Edward. He is constantly laying offerings at the altar which were really his wife's opinion of herself. Veda combined in an unusual and clever way the assets of a wife and a mistress. She was beautiful; she was thoughtful; she was sparkling; she ran her home on Edward's reduced income and ran it well. She was in short flawless—that is she sought to make herself flawless and Edward's love made her believe that she had succeeded.

Into this came Ariadne—a youthful and modern and frank, the typical English girl of fiction. When she heard her mother's story of her father's brutality she saw nothing brutal in it; she saw only Vera's selfishness in wanting her daughter to have nothing to do with him. When she watched her mother cleverly bring out the stupidity of her boy friends instead of admiring the cleverness she condemned the cruelty behind it. When Ariadne chose the middle of the night for a conversation with her step-father her mother's jealousy, being left out, disgusted the daughter and almost brought the story to a tragic end.

Vera Slips

From there on we see the disintegration of the carefully built up character that was Vera Middleton. Her perfection depended on everyone about her maintaining the ideal she had built up for herself. When her daughter dealt it a death-blow her husband dealt another blow by his attempted kindness. The old-fashioned ideal of perfection went down in ruins before modernism.

An interesting story and especially well done. We recommend it especially to all women who seek after perfection, at the expense of frankness.

W.T.C.C. Directors Approve University Land Tax Proposal

SWEETWATER, Texas, Oct. 11.—Directors of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce meeting here today approved the proposed constitutional amendment to permit taxation of University of Texas land for county purposes. United and Tom Connally and Amos G. Carter, Fort Worth publisher, were States Senators Morris Sheppard commended for their efforts in behalf of drought relief for certain sections of West Texas.

Decision was reached to request the state board of education to withdraw from the public schools geographies said to contain inaccurate descriptions of West Texas. Recently the directors considered a proposal to institute damage proceedings against publishers of such geographies and were supported 40 out of 65 affiliated chambers of commerce approached on the subject. It was agreed, nevertheless, not to bring such suits.

A committee was named to take the request to the board of education, and intimation was made that unless the board withdrew the geographies an injunction to compel it to do so might be sought.

Fattening Range Hogs For Market Urged By Farmer

BRADY, Texas, Oct. 11.—Few farmers feed out their range hogs for the market but that practice may be changed if the example of Raleigh White, a rancher of Brady, is followed. With the help of the county agent, James D. Prewitt, Mr. White fed 114 range hogs a balanced ration composed of 44,000 pounds of maize and 3,700 pounds of protein supplement. These hogs were wormed with tetrachloroethylene capsules as the first step. They had access to plenty of clean water at all times but no hog wallow was allowed. They were hand fed twice a day from Nov. 10 to Jan. 10 and sold for nine and nine and one-half cents per pound. Their initial weight was 11,400 pounds, an average gain of 89 pounds per hog in 60 days. The gross receipt was $2,052; the expense for feeding was $400 and the original value of the hogs was $798 which leaves a net profit of $354.

Bone Meal Used To Fatten Herd

ALBANY, Texas, Oct. 11.—Steamed bone meal has been used to good effect in a grade herd of beef cattle by W. F. Newell of Albany. The bone-meal is fed with equal parts of common salt and is kept before the cattle the year around. Mr. Newell has been following this practice over a two-year period and states that a case of creeps is an unknown thing on his ranch. His records show that it costs a little less than $1 per year "Cattle eat heavily of the mineral when it is first put before them and eat more during dry times, but very little during the time the grass is green and fresh. They do not chew bones and stocks when they have access to bone meal," says Mr. Newell.

Thirteen Years Of Terracing Is Farmer's Record

Twelve years cropping terraced land has established the value of this practice to the satisfaction of J. B. Irwin, Swan Hill farmer. Thirteen years ago he terraced 30 acres of his farm and the yields from this land have improved year by year. He says, "This year I made 23.4 bushels of oats per acre on that land while I only made 15.7 on some other land of the same kind except that it has not been terraced, a difference of 7.7 bushels or $21 per acre." Mr. Irwin further states that he thinks the terraced land is easily worth $20.00 more an acre than the unterraced land and that he intends to terrace all of his farm as fast as he can get to it.

EVERYDAY QUESTIONS

Answered By
Dr. S. Parkes Cadman

Questions from readers are answered by the Rev. Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, Pastor of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America. Dr. Cadman seeks to answer inquiries that appear to be representative of the trends of thought in the many letters which he receives.

When you recall in memory a place of a person almost as plainly as if they were actually before you, where is that image located in the brain or in the mind?

A full discussion of the matter you refer to cannot be given in the space at my disposal. If you wish, write to William James on Psychology, either in the two-volume edition or the "Shorter Course" of that remarkable work. A cloudy but important argument that the recall of memory is more than a psychological process can also be found in Bergson's "Matter and Memory." A review of his interpretation translated into English is contained in Charles's "Matter and Memory."

Strictly speaking, the images which you refer to are not found anywhere. They are purely mental and have no definite location in their recall to purely psychological and can only be effective when they are psychological in their nature. Two factors are always essential and those are effort and association. Consciousness cannot exist without the images which constitute it. The image that is recalled is neither "in" the brain nor "in" the mind. It is a product of the mind's working under favorable auspices. You cannot see a reality like the image of a self-planned, any more than you can definitely place what your mind conceives. Doubtless all the sounds, thoughts, feelings and feelings, but it is a profoundly interesting for advanced students of psychology who are interested in the books to which I have referred.

My wife recently left me four small children and is now employed in another town as an office worker. Her reasons for leaving me are not clear to me. I would like to have her own means to provide clothes and amaments which my income of $18 a week won't cover.

We quarrel constantly because she won't let me see her. I would like to see her and to know what she is doing. I am a man with no other means of support. My wife is a very capable woman and I am sure that she will be able to support herself and her children. I would like to see her and to know what she is doing. I am a man with no other means of support. My wife is a very capable woman and I am sure that she will be able to support herself and her children.

On the other hand, many wives have not graduated in the first art of housewifery and are learning what you say about your wife's methods. She has some things to learn concerning that important matter. Be patient with her. Four children under eight years of age are quite a chore. Yet it is difficult to conceive how she could do it.

But nerves are treacherous, and if I were you I would approach her as an invalid who has risked her health and life in the marriage compact.

When she has recovered some and bodily strength, she will probably return to the household. No true woman would stay away from her permanently. When she does, see to it that those nagging about money stop. If you cannot do without them you cannot do without your wife. Rebuild your home with your wife and her children and be her sweetheart again.

Why are the miracles of the Bible inspiring to good people who do not seem to know that miracles do not happen?

You quote Matthew Arnold's dramatic poem as an unfortunate psychological error and he will tell you that medical science admits that due to faith as well as works, some of whom would have been healed a few years ago. He says in "Miracles and the New Psychology" by E. R. Mackenzie.

As I have previously said in the column the authority of every supernatural event in the physical world to which a religious significance is attached should be studied as a matter of fact. The miracle is not a supernatural event, but a natural event. The miracle is not a supernatural event, but a natural event. The miracle is not a supernatural event, but a natural event.

Floods Cause Great Damage

Waters Receding From Areas Over Texas

(By The Associated Press) Considerable damage was reported today in the wake of the second series of floods in western and northwestern Texas within a week. A number of bridges were out, highways badly washed and some railroad track in need of repair.

Brady, the chief sufferer in the flood of a week ago, came through its third attack from swollen waters of Brady river with flying colors. Whereas damage of around $350,000 was caused by the first flood, virtually none resulted from the second, because of the warning and experience.

For the second time during the day, the water rolled up toward the north side of the Brady plaza last night, lapping against the sidewalks and the barricades of sand and cement bags in the entrances of mercantile establishments. After attaining a depth of about 18 inches it began to recede, and reports from up river indicated all danger for the time being was past.

A number of persons were driven from their homes, but these had ample time to remove their belongings and to take along food. Red Cross headquarters found it necessary to provide for only 50 whereas in the previous flood it cared for some 200.

More than 400 feet of track and dump on the Santa Fe railroad between Brady and Whitehead was washed out on the first rise of the Brady river, and reconstruction work was interrupted by the second flood.

Railroad traffic north and west of Amarillo was demoralized after tracks and bridges in several places had been swept away. Water from the Concho river washed away 300 feet of Santa Fe track between Valera and Talpa in Tom Green county.

At Wichita Falls creek waters in lower portions of the city rose slowly, backed up by a flood on the Wichita river, and several families were removed from their homes to safety by police and volunteers. Lake Wichita, diversion lake and Lake Kemp were falling.

Heavy rains and flood conditions in some places were reported from eastern New Mexico, especially in the neighborhood of Clovis, and in southern Oklahoma. Traffic was blocked between Wellington, Texas and Mangum, Oklahoma, and several spans of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas bridge over the Canadian river at Camargo, Oklahoma, were carried away.

RAIN AT EASTLAND
EASTLAND, Tex., Oct. 14 (AP)—Water was flowing over the spillway of Lake Eastland today for the first time since May 1929. A rain of two inches brought the total for the month to 5 1/2 inches. There was a fine season in the ground for fall gardens and grain crops.

VERNON RAIN
VERNON, Texas, Oct. 14 (AP)—Rain for the past few days measured 5.75 inches here, 17.4 inches falling last night. Creeks were bank full, but no damage was likely.

WATERS REcede
WICHITA FALLS, Texas, Oct. 14 (AP)—After driving about 100 families from their homes in the lowlands, backwaters of the Wichita river and flood waters from Lake Wichita began to recede today.

Another two-foot rise in Lake Kemp was experienced, however, bringing waters of the lake to a new record depth, and making a total rise of 6.5 feet at the lake within the past ten days.

Not only were residents of the poorer sections of the city forced to vacate their homes during the height of the worst flood since 1915, but several homes in the country club estates, an exclusive residential district, were flooded with several inches of water.

Cunningham Dies After Fall
J. D. Cunningham, 74, died at his home, 1101 Scurry street, shortly after 12 o'clock today, following a fall. He had been in ill health for some months.

He was the father of Grover B. Cunningham, attorney, and Paul Cunningham, member of the C. and C. Hardware firm. He also is survived by his widow, one daughter, Mrs. F. M. Bortoff of Hollywood, Calif., and three grandchildren.

Mr. Cunningham was a pioneer resident of Big Spring, having moved here in 1903. He later moved to Gaines county, where he resided for 10 years, returning to Big Spring in 1916 where he lived continuously until his death.

While living he was a practicing attorney and had many friends in the law fraternity over West Texas. He was a candidate for county judge in the July primary, but ill health forced him to withdraw from the race.

He died shortly after 12 o'clock today from injuries received in the fall.

Oil Magnates, Brothers, Heal 15-Year Fight

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 15 (AP)—A quarrel of 15 years ago has been patched up, and three brothers whose names are eminent in the oil industry are reunited.

Consolidation of the Phillips Petroleum company and the Independent Oil and Gas company, forming one of the world's largest independent oil organizations with assets in excess of $16,000,000, brought the Phillips triumvirate—Frank, L. E. and Waitre—together again.

Back in 1915 when the three brothers were associated in the Phillips Petroleum company at Bartlesville, Okla., there was a disagreement one day.

Waitre, the youngest brother who directed the land department, failed to get a lease which the other two thought should have been obtained. The quarrel led to the withdrawal of Waitre from the company.

The younger brother tried his hand at lease brokering and running a chain of filling stations for a time. Then came a stroke of good fortune and he started a spectacular climb to the heights of the oil business—alone. The start was his opening of a new oil field in Oklahoma county, Oklahoma, at about the time the United States entered the World War.

The field made Waitre a fortune almost overnight. He sold out to the Barnard corporation for $25,000,000 cash. In 1919 he became head of the Independent Oil and Gas company of Tulsa after merging with it the Philmack company, organized by him.

Meanwhile the original Phillips Petroleum company, with Frank as president and L. E. as executive had forged ahead and become a leading company of its kind.

One of its achievements was to develop into the world's largest manufacturer of natural gasoline. Shortly before the consolidation of the company began construction of a $15,000,000 gasoline pipeline—something new in pipeline transportation—from its Berger, Texas refinery to Kansas City and St. Louis.

Before entering the oil business, the three brothers were engaged in banking at Bartlesville, Okla. They had come to Oklahoma from Iowa. Banking still remains the "hobby" of L. E. Phillips, and the other two brothers retain wide banking interests.

10,000 Letters Consigned For First Eastbound Plane

Due Here On Wednesday

As 1,000 spectators looked on, the first chapter in what is destined to be an historic occasion was written today when the giant Fokker F-10 mail plane of the Southern Air Fast Express made its first landing at the Big Spring Airport.

Piloted by Bledsoe "Slim" Payne, the craft was brought to a perfect landing, forty-five minutes behind scheduled time. Stancel Gilley was co-pilot on the first ship to make the run from Dallas to El Paso. No passengers were on the craft, which carried 500 pounds of mail.

A short ceremony held at the airport soon after the huge ship landed, was a vivid contrast between the transportation of the past, and that of the present.

C. A. Owen, riding a pinto pony injected a reminder of the old pony express into the proceedings as he delivered a pouch of mail to Pilot Payne. Sandwiches and coffee were served the pilots by Miss Winona Taylor, Miss Ada Ling, Miss Mabel Eddy, and Mrs. Jack Killway, representing the Chamber of Commerce. Motion pictures of the ceremony were taken. Two Stearman planes, piloted by W. J. Robbins, a brother of Reg Robbins, of endurance flight fame, and J. H. "Stormy" Mangum, arrived forty minutes before the east-west ship. They left San Antonio this morning, stopping at San Angelo to pick up mail.

They delivered 87 pounds of mail here, some of it going east, some west, and some to Big Spring residents.

Thirty-three pounds of mail, representing 2,062 letters, was placed aboard the west bound ship here.

This afternoon at 4:40 o'clock when the east bound plane lands, approximately 10,000 letters were to be placed aboard. At 2 o'clock today 6,840 letters were ready for shipment in mail pouches, with 3,000 to be worked. According to E. E. Fahrnkamp, postmaster, ninety per cent of the letters going east and west were sent by stamp collectors. Only 10 per cent of the airmail going out of the city today was sent by local residents.

The west bound plane left nine pouches of mail here to be worked. Approximately 200 pounds of mail will be consigned to the east bound mail plane today, Fahrnkamp said.

Ceremonies
The first plane was delayed on account of ceremonies in Dallas, where it took off this morning, and at Fort Worth.

The flying time from Dallas was two hours and thirty minutes, and from Fort Worth, two hours and 19 minutes. Four passengers were on the plane when it took off on its initial flight, but departed at Dallas. They were Postmaster George Young; Bruce Luna, assistant; J. Ben Critz, chamber of commerce manager; D. L. Whittle.

The plane was due in El Paso at 12:36 today, Rocky Mountain time, or 1:36 central standard time. A reception committee, representing directors of the chamber of commerce and the Big Spring airport, greeted the pilots of the three planes as they landed here.

Hundreds of people were at the field by 9:30 this morning, waiting for the first planes. A Lockheed Ford plane and a Lockheed Vega, belonging to the Continental Oil Co., were at the local field when the Stearman and the Fokker landed.

The two planes from San Antonio were to remain here until 5 p. m. today to take mail from the eastbound ship, consigned south. One plane will be used on the route after today.

Gilded horseshoes, bearing a green ribbon, were presented to Payne, Robbins and Mangum, by Mayor J. B. Pickle. A similar token of luck will be given to the eastbound ship this afternoon.

From Los Angeles
The eastbound ship left Los Angeles at 5:35 a. m. Pacific coast time, today, piloted by Johnnie Martin, veteran flier, with F. L. Duncan as co-pilot.

Four passengers were aboard the ship when it left the Los Angeles port. They were Colonel T. H. Bane, vice president of American Airways, Inc.; Duncan Cox, assistant to the vice president; A. M. Roehlen, newspaper man, and Earle Ovington, veteran aviation enthusiast.

Eight boxes of California gardenias were aboard, consigned to the presidents of chambers of commerce of Phoenix and Tucson, Ariz., El Paso, Fort Worth and Dallas. Two boxes will go to Havana and Mexico City through connections with the line.

Eight passengers and a full cargo of mail was on the tri-motored Fokker that left Atlanta at 8:30 a. m. today, starting that branch of the southern run. The plane was scheduled to stop at Jackson, Miss., Shreveport, La., Dallas and Fort Worth.

The passengers included Postmaster General Walter F. Brown, Assistant Postmaster General W. Irving Glover; Mayor Clarence M. Young, assistant Secretary of Commerce; Halnter Hinghaw, vice president of the Southern Air Fast Express; Postmaster E. K. Lange of Atlanta; and Graham B. Gross, the Aviation Corporation.

Kindred Pedley
Herbert L. Kindred and Charles F. Pedley were pilots of the ship. The plane from Dallas to Atlanta left at 11:44 a. m. with Joe Glass at the controls, and carrying 10,000 pieces of mail.

The schedule from Atlanta to Los Angeles is 19 hours, with the Atlanta-Dallas leg requiring seven hours and the Dallas-Los Angeles leg 12 hours. Pending completion of a beacon system between Dallas and Los Angeles for night flying stop-overs will be made at Dallas.

Beacon system together with General Electric broadcasting system which will enable pilots to communicate with airports along the route will be installed here. Payne, whose giant Fokker roared its way into Big Spring today,

Officers' Bullets Fatal For Fleagle, Long Hunted Gunman

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Oct. 15 (AP)—Jake Fleagle, notorious bank robber and murderer, shot yesterday at Branson, Mo., when captured by a posse of officers, died in a hospital here today at 9:55 a. m.

Fleagle, dying, pleading for his mother, but no word from her had come when he died.

The bandit last night had reporters send a wire to his mother's home at Holcomb, Kan., asking her to come to his bedside. Officers said she could not possibly arrive until late today and they doubted one message would bring her, expressing belief she probably would fear a ruse by officers.

Fleagle, rallying briefly early today, told officers on guard about his hospital bed that he wished they would urge his mother to come to see him, saying "I'm afraid I'm going to die."

To his officer he said "I don't know who shot me and I don't make no difference, but I wish they had made a good job of it."

about scores of bank and train robberies with which his name has been linked in a dozen states.

Postal inspectors, searching relentlessly for the desperado in the belief he had a hand in the robbery of a Southern Pacific mail train at Pittsburgh, Calif., traced him to the Ozark country through letters he had mailed on trains in that section.

An impressive array of officers assembled in the region and secretly combed the countryside for the outlaw. Although a trap had been set for Fleagle, the meeting yesterday was by chance.

Five officers noticed him on the platform at Branson, although they had expected to encounter him farther south. As Fleagle boarded the train he was covered by the officers. Instead of obeying a command to raise his hands, the bandit reached for his revolver. One of the officers fired, wounding him. After a tigerish fight, Fleagle was subdued and admitted his identity. A telegram to Los Angeles detective headquarters indicated Lieut. Harry Wilde of that department fired the shot which may end the bandit's life. Officers, however, refused to say who shot Fleagle.

Three Big Spring men paid fines of that amount and three others face gambling charges as result of a raid Thursday by Constable John Williams.

All of the players were arrested. Miss Ruth Earley had as a recent guest Miss Frances Taylor from Buffalo, New York, who was enroute to Hollywood, California for the winter.

None of the passenger coaches left the rails and none of the passengers were injured.

G. I. Phillips, 1602 Rannels street, conductor, was not injured in the crash.

Possibly, it was considered that there might have been a slight rail spread, since workmen had been digging at the side of the roadbed and throwing in additional dirt preparatory to laying heavier steel.

Short had been with the T&P for three years. The body was sent from Dallas to Cisco, the home of his wife, where services will be held Tuesday afternoon, in all probability.

He is survived by his widow and a son, nine, the old. His father, E. A. Short, lives at Weatherford. Two brothers, Ben and Wilmer, live in California, and a sister, Mrs. M. R. McKenzie resides at Dallas.

Fokker Ship To Be Named Will Bear City Which Uses Most Airmail In 30 Days

A concentrated effort to have one of the huge Fokker F-10, trimotored crafts that will be used on the S. A. F. E. line from Atlanta to Los Angeles, bear the name of Big Spring, will be made by the Chamber of Commerce, according to C. T. Watson, manager.

The announcement came after Le Garner, local S. A. F. E. official, had informed the commercial organization of a plan to be adopted by the airline company.

According to Garner one of the ships will be named after the city along the route showing the greatest amount of airmail poundage, compared with the population, during the first 30 days run. Watson will urge business men and local residents to use the airmail extensively during this 30 day period in order to obtain the honor for this city.

Airmail poundage will be checked closely with census figures, and the town or city showing the greatest amount will be designated, according to the plan.

Business houses will be urged to cooperate with the Chamber of Commerce in using air mail when the new line is inaugurated.

Colorado Wolves, Roscoe Plowboys Battle To Tie

COLORADO, Texas, Oct. 10.—Colorado Wolves, playing without the services of three stars, were tied today in their first conference game by the Roscoe Plowboys, 7 to 7. The Plowboys were bi-district champions in 1929.

Both touchdowns came through the air. In the third period, Mann threw the ball to Harlow, who ran 20 yards across the goal. Mann booted goal for the extra point. Roscoe came back in the final quarter with Woody Jones connecting with a 25-yard peg to Mike Hicks, who ambled 35 more yards to the tally. Jones booted the point and the score was tied.

Each team is given half a victory and half a loss.

Colorado had the better of the offensive game, making twelve first downs, while Roscoe was getting its yardage seven times.

Most of the business houses were closed here, and a large audience was out to see one of the most bitterly contested struggles to which Cantrell field has ever been a host, etc.

Big Spring Pastors Vary In Attitudes Toward Intention Of Abilene Pastor To Abstain From Worldly Activities

"And Paul said, 'I became all things to all men that I might win some for Christ,'" was the answer that Rev. R. L. Owen, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of this city gave to the reporter who questioned him yesterday as to his reactions to the avowed intentions of Rev. E. D. Salkeld, pastor of the First Christian Church of Abilene, to "withdraw from all worldly activity."

This seems to be the reaction, in a summary of all the pastors in Big Spring who could be reached, on the subject.

That Rev. Salkeld has withdrawn from all secular activity including his luncheon clubs, his American Legion, Masonic bodies including the Shrine and the Knights Templars, and the incessant ringing of his telephone is a story that has been told in many papers in the state since his statement in Abilene Wednesday.

That he has brought directly on him the floodlight of publicity and, for the most part, disapproval, is also true. Fort Worth ministers and laymen have criticized him roundly.

Local pastors hold to the contention that a minister is not of use to his flock unless he can meet them on their own plane, that of everyday business and social activity.

Rev. W. H. Martin, pastor of the St. Mary's Episcopal church, states "the old monastic ideal died thousands of years ago in the minds of those who would see advancement. The pastor now fears that he owes his flock more than a purely spiritual debt."

To continue with the reactions of Rev. Owen, "It is the undue publicity that seems out of place. Of course there is too much secular activity in the church, I sometimes wish that there was not so much of it, but for a man to withdraw completely is not right. He cannot give his people a spiritual message without contact with the world."

Rev. W. G. Bailey, Methodist pastor, takes issue with Rev. Salkeld in as much as the Reverend renounces all "worldly activity" and holds to football. In statements to the press he said that he "would be on the sidelines at the game yesterday between T. C. U. and Arkansas."

"It," said Rev. Bailey, "I should give up all things worldly and still say, 'except my luncheon club, because I like that,' it would be little sacrifice."

Rev. S. B. Hughes, pastor of the East Fourth street Baptist church, declined to make a statement without deliberation, but indicated that Rev. Salkeld's attitude did not meet with his complete approval. "It does not become," he said, "a minister to hold himself too much aloof from his flock."

Other ministers were not reached at the time this story was written.

New, Inexpensive Meat Dishes

By JOSEPHINE B. GIBSON
Everyone who has the task of planning family meals knows how monotonous the meat dishes can become if the same one is served too frequently. Yet, the success of a dinner featuring meat depends less upon mere cost than does vicariously any other type of meal. One of the most encouraging points about meat cookery is the fact that a little ingenuity employed in seasoning and preparing even the cheapest cuts will afford a pleasing variety of highly palatable dishes.

These savory meat dishes, whose success is assured by their seasoning—may take a variety of forms. Some housewives prefer the "One dish" or "Oven dinner" type, where the ingredients "are prepared in advance of the cooking of the meat and subjected to long, slow cooking. Others favor the quickly-cooked style that may be prepared and all ready to serve in considerably less than one-half hour.

Whatever type you may prefer, the number of such meat dishes is almost endless. Simply provide your pantry with a variety of such condiments as tomato ketchup, chili sauce, Worcestershire and beefsteak sauces, prepared mustard, etc. Then see how palatable it is to work out a host of delicious dishes that will delight the entire family. Below are just a few tested recipes that will show you the possibilities for serving delightful meals on even a budget.

Branded Beef with Vegetables
2 lbs. beef from the round; 1 cup diced carrots; 1 cup diced onions; 1 cup diced turnips; 2 1/2 cups hot water; 1 cup tomato ketchup; whole potatoes.

Sprinkle beef with salt and pepper, dredge with flour and brown quickly in fat. When turning meat, avoid piercing it with the fork, as this allows the juices to escape. Place in a casserole or deep pan and add carrots, celery, onions and turnips. Mix hot water with tomato ketchup and pour most of this liquid around the meat and vegetables. Cover closely and bake for 2 hours in a slow oven—225 degrees F.—basting every half hour with the remaining liquid. Turn the meat over once during baking. During the last hour whole potatoes should be placed around the meat, sprinkled with salt and pepper, and baked until tender. When finished, the vegetables and meat are surrounded by a rich, tomato colored sauce, tender and savory.

Quick Chili Con Carne: 1 pound ground beef; 1 tablespoon butter; 1 onion chopped; 1 medium can Oven baked red kidney beans; 1 small can cream of tomato soup; salt to season; small amount of chili powder (1-2 teaspoon).

Brown beef in a skillet with butter and onion. When the meat is browned, add kidney beans, tomato soup, and salt to season, and cook for 15 or 20 minutes, stirring occasionally. A small amount of chili powder may be added if desired. Serve with boiled rice or baked potatoes.

Veal Birds: 1 1/2 veal cutlets, sliced very thin; chopped bacon; bread or cracker crumbs; salt and pepper; one juice; Worcestershire sauce; 1 beaten egg; 2 tablespoons tomato ketchup.

Cut veal into pieces about 4 inches long and 2 inches wide. Chop the trimmings from the meat, and add to them an equal quantity of chopped bacon and bread or cracker crumbs. Season, highly with salt, pepper, onion juice and Worcestershire sauce, moisten with beaten egg, and spread each piece of meat with this mixture. Then roll and tie with a piece of cord or fasten with small wooden skewers. Sprinkle with salt and pepper, roll in flour and fry in a skillet in hot butter until a golden brown. Add cream or thin white sauce to half cover the meat, stir in tomato ketchup, cover, and simmer or bake for about 20 minutes. Remove the cords or skewers and serve each "bird" on a small round piece of toast, pouring the sauce from the pan over the top.

Swiss Steak: Round steak, cut thick; 2 tablespoons fat; few slices of onion; 1 1/2 cups water; 1/2 cup tomato ketchup; 1/2 cup flour; salt and pepper; 1/2 green pepper, chopped fine.

Add the salt and pepper to the flour and pound into the meat. Brown in a skillet with the fat; then add the onion, green pepper, boiling water and tomato, cover closely, and simmer slowly until done. This may be cooked in a casserole in the oven or in a skillet on top of the stove.

Beefsteak Pie: Cold steak or roast beef; 1 onion; boiling water; 1/4 cup tomato ketchup; 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce; flour; salt and pepper; potatoes.

Cut meat into one inch cubes. Cover with boiling water, add onion, tomato ketchup, Worcestershire sauce, and cook slowly for 30 minutes. Remove onion, thickly on gravy with flour to which cold water has been added, and season with salt and pepper. Add potatoes cut in 1/4 inch slices, which have been parboiled for eight minutes in boiling salted water. Put in a buttered baking dish, cover with baking powder biscuit dough or pie crust, and bake in a hot oven for 30 minutes.

Barbecued Lamb: 12 thin sliced cold roast lamb; 2 tablespoons butter; 1 tablespoon pure cider vinegar; 1/4 cup currant jelly; 1/4 teaspoon prepared mustard.

Reheat lamb in sauce made by melting butter and adding vinegar; currant jelly, mustard, and a little salt.

Low Freight Rate Detailed

How To Obtain Permit Outlined For County Agent

Detailed directions as to use of special reduced freight rates made applicable to Howard, Martin, Glascock and other counties by the department of agriculture as a drought relief measure have been received by J. V. Bush, county agricultural agent, from whom permits must be obtained for movement of freight under these rates.

The reduced rates are effective under the current order only to October 31.

They apply to hay and feed shipped in and livestock shipped to areas where feed is available, but not the livestock shipped to market.

"Anyone desiring to obtain a permit authorizing shipment of the designated commodities under the emergency rates must first obtain approval of the county agricultural agent or, in case a county has no agent, from any other designated representative of the department of agriculture. The local railroad agent, R. H. Jones, will upon receipt of this application transmit it to the transportation officer of his railroad requesting permit for such movement, the permit specifying the commodity to be shipped, the quantity, the shipping point, destination, name of consignee and consigning and the time limit in which shipments are to move. The transportation officer of the railroad will issue the permit to the originating carriers and at the same time will furnish a copy to the district manager of the car service division of the American Railway Association having jurisdiction in the territory in which the designated supplies are received or originated in the case of livestock, for the purpose of supervising and policing the arrangements.

The county agricultural agents in designated counties are authorized to approve applications for reduced railroad rates on the designated commodities when the benefit of such reduced railroad rates accrues to the farmer-consumer of hay and feed, and the farmer-shipper of livestock in the drought-stricken areas.

Rain General Over This County

Precipitation totaling 37 of an inch fell in Howard County in 24 hours, Sunday and Monday.

The register was obtained for rainfall between 8 a. m. Sunday and 8 a. m. Monday morning.

According to reports coming in from over the county, the rain was general.

Although in parts of the county cotton picking was halted for a day, little damage along that line resulted from the rain. It is believed.

On the other hand, great benefit was derived from the slow falling rain. Winter pastures, grass, late feed and small grains were aided materially. Ranchmen welcomed the rainfall.

Coahoma, east, Stanton, west, Garden City, south, and Lamesa, north, reported excellent rains.

The northern part of Howard County received a drenching rain totaling one inch in 48 hours. The rain was general over the northern portions of the county and was reported general over Dawson County.

Garden City, south of Big Spring, reported a one and one-half inch rain Sunday and Sunday night. It was raining in that section this morning.

Coahoma reported excellent rainfall from 12 to 5 a. m. Monday, with no material rainfall Sunday. It was still raining at Stanton today, after a good rain Sunday and Sunday night.

Reports coming in from other communities in this territory indicated the entire county was benefitted by the rainfall.

Clarence Waldron of Snyder was a week-end business visitor in Big Spring, returning early Monday morning.

Refreshment Recipes Unusual, Asked

Mimes, Hambrick and McClure Are Weekly Winners

Whether for a child's party or for a grown-up's party refreshments should always be different and amusing. Of all parties difficult to devise "new" ideas in refreshments and decorations the Hallow'en party is the worst.

The conventional black cats, witches on broomsticks, grinning (or scowling, as the case may be) pumpkin heads come up for first consideration.

They should be used, by all means, for nothing so catches the fancy of young or old as the orange and black of October's beloved Hallow'en.

There should be, however, new motifs in which to cast them and new ways in which to present them in edible forms.

Use your ingenuity and send us your ideas. The first prize is $2 and the second $1.

Today's Winners
Today's winners (after two hours of deliberation) are Mrs. J. A. Hambrick and Mrs. S. B. McClure. Runners-up are Mesdames David Waldo Jones, Mrs. Jimmie Mason, Mrs. Troy A. Gifford and Mrs. Mary Tatro.

Every recipe offered was excellent. The Irish Stew led the race, and this was one reason why the winners won. They sent us both Irish and other stews. Both Mrs. Mason and Mrs. Jones, however, sent varied lists as well, but as they are now old timers with us and have won prizes often, we hesitate to be too partial. Their lists are always fine.

As many of the recipes as possible are quoted below:

Mrs. J. A. Hambrick
1. 1 qt. canned oysters
Mrs. Lillie Sue Kopp returned to her home in Midland Friday after having been the guest of relatives in Big Spring the past three days.

Miss Vera Hall, who with her mother, Mrs. E. E. Hall, of Abilene, is visiting Mrs. Harry Hurt, 1611 Rannels street.

Miss Hall was recently Duchess of Abilene at the West Texas Exposition in San Angelo.

She is a graduate of Simmons University, Abilene, and attending the University of Texas where she was a member of the Pi Beta Phi Sorority.

Miss Hall attended the Settles opening and is a frequent visitor in Big Spring where her sister has lived for many years.
