Slaton Gets Odd Fellows District Meeting in April

The South Plains Odd Fellows' association, in semi-annual session at Littlefield, selected Slaton for the next semi-annual convention, to be held in April, 1930. Slaton was chosen in a spirited contest with twenty-five or more delegates from the Slaton I. O. O. F. lodge, with the co-operation of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce, were responsible for bringing the convention here next April. The meeting will be a one-day affair, followed by a night session and program.

The Slaton delegates to the Littlefield meeting Monday went with the object of securing the next South Plains Odd Fellows' meeting for this city. They were armed with an official and cordial invitation for the convention, which had been prepared by the local Chamber of Commerce officials. This official invitation, coupled with the strenuous personal work done during the day by the Slaton delegates, won the meeting for this city, the Slaton Odd Fellows said.

Lodges represented in the district are: Slaton, Lubbock, Littlefield, Amarillo, Sudan, Amherst and Abilene. Also, Rebekah lodges at Slaton, Lubbock and Littlefield are included. The attendance at the Littlefield meeting was above 300 during the day, and the attendance at next April's meeting here will probably be large or larger, it is expected.

J. W. Scott, of Slaton, was chosen president of the South Plains association Monday, succeeding C. A. Baird, of Littlefield. A. M. Holt, of Sudan, vice president; Mrs. C. A. Baird, of Littlefield, is second vice president; and L. Alexander, of Slaton, is secretary-treasurer.

E. H. Ward, noble grand of the Slaton I. O. O. F. Lodge, No. 861, together with J. W. Scott, L. Alexander and other local and district officials, will work to make the April meeting here the best in the history of the South Plains association, they have declared.

In urging the delegates at Littlefield to accept Slaton's invitation to hold the April convention here, the Slaton Chamber of Commerce said, in part:

"We would give you the key to the city, if we had one, but Slaton never has her door locked—you are always welcome."

That spirit will characterize the city's entertainment of the Odd Fellows next April, officials here have said, and every effort will be made to entertain the visitors most royally.

Those present were: Messrs. J. W. Scott, D. W. Liles, Joe Walker, A. M. Holt, B. A. Hanna, Jack Waldrop, C. Bailey, Arnold Morris, E. H. Ward, Bob Swafford, Q. B. Murphy, J. W. Anderson, Dan W. Liles, Jack Waldrop, Joe Walker, B. A. Hanna, J. E. Robertson, J. W. Ward, V. Woolever, P. M. Wheatley, George Evans, G. B. Stanley, Arnold Morris, A. Dennis, D. W. Garner, W. T. Driver, Tate, and Missess Stanley.

Deal Weather for Cotton Picking

The Plains area has been blessed with a week of made to order weather. Cotton is coming in rapidly, while some state they are short of pickers, others claim to have from five to thirty bales that need attention. At the first picking, the outlook is for a crop at least equal to 1928, even though damage from hail was caused in some localities. From reports obtained from those who have been in the sections, Slaton area is a favored spot. It is good for the eyes to see the fleecy cotton coming in.

WISH NEW YEAR ROSH HASHANA

C. E. Beal, local manager of the Western Union, advises that his company is granting special inducements in celebrating the new year, which is observed with the Mosaic law, which prohibits tearing anything during the celebration. A very low rate is made for European countries.

Local Men Attend Lynn County Fair And Judge Parade

Three local men, A. J. Payne, T. A. Worley, Jr., and L. A. Wilson, attended the Lynn County Fair at Tahoka Wednesday morning and served as judges for the big parade which was held at that time, the fair's opening day. They represented the Slaton Chamber of Commerce, in some measure returning the courtesy recently extended by the Tahoka Chamber of Commerce when judges came here from Tahoka to make the awards in Slaton's third annual "Pretty Lawn Contest".

Winners in the parade at Tahoka Wednesday, as selected by the three Slaton judges, were the following rural communities of that section, and they placed in the order named here: Petty, New Lynn and Dixie.

The Slaton men reported that large crowds were at the Tahoka Fair Wednesday, and that splendid exhibits were being shown in all departments.

Church Services Held Twice Daily At Baptist Church

With the beginning last Sunday of a revival campaign at the First Baptist church here, of which Rev. B. G. Holloway is pastor, two church services daily are being held, one at 10 a. m., and the other at 7:30 p. m. Dr. W. R. White, pastor of the First Baptist church, Lubbock, is the revival speaker. Large crowds are attending the services, reports said.

Legion to Elect Officers Friday Night, This Week

The local American Legion Post will elect officers for the coming year when members of the Post gather Friday night at the Slaton Clubhouse for this purpose, it has been announced by Dan W. Liles, local Post Commander.

All members of the Legion Post here are urgently requested to attend Friday night's meeting in order to help attend to this important business, Liles said. Necessity for electing officers now instead of later on was brought about by changes in Legion procedure which were adopted at the recent State Legion Convention, Commander Liles has explained.

Eight Speakers Will Appear on Rotary Program

Eight different members of the Slaton Rotary Club are to make short addresses at the club's regular luncheon meeting this Friday at the Slaton Clubhouse.

J. Tom Overby and Walter B. Hestand are to talk on "Should Rotary Have a Local Program of Policies to be Pursued."

"Should Rotary Seek to Exert a Political or Religious Influence in an Effort to Bring About International Peace?" This is the subject for P. G. Stokes and Jess Swint.

Bill Smith and John W. Hood are to give talks on the question, "A Frank Discussion of Ways in Which the Slaton Rotary Club Might Make Improvements".

The title of the subject to be discussed by Will P. Florence and R. H. (Bob) Tudor, is: "A Very, Very Frank Discussion of Things I Have Heard Members Say They Do Not Like About the Slaton Rotary Club's Programs, and What Changes They Would Suggest for Improvement."

Friday's meeting will close the programs for the quarter, and a new series will be started the following week.

SLATON TIGERS WALLOP BIG SPRING STEERS IN THE FIRST GAME OF SEASON; 12-0

The Slaton Tigers proved themselves stronger in every part than their Class A opponents, the Big Spring Steers, in the first game of the season, which was played last Friday at Big Spring, when the score resulted in a 12-0 victory for the Tigers.

The game was called for 3 o'clock. The Tigers were on the field before that hour, kicking and passing the ball and making ready for the battle. After the Steers arrived and proceeded through a short work-out, the game was called. Captain McMennany won the toss up and defended the south goal, and the game began. D. Cannon kicked off for 80 yards, and the ball was returned by the Steers. Austin gets a fumble and plows through the line for 5 yards.

In the second quarter, Austin did good work in tackling. D. Cannon gets a fumble and runs for 35 yards. O. Cannon and Austin make the greatest gains in carrying the ball in this quarter.

During the third quarter gains are made by passes, with J. Simmons making a touchdown by catching a pass. O. Cannon punts a great deal and gains yards.

In the fourth quarter, there is much passing, with both Cannons making gains in this way. In the last twenty-nine seconds of the game, C. Scott catches a pass and makes a touchdown, making the score 12-0 for the Tigers.

The line-up was as follows: center, Armes; guards, Maxey and Evans; tackles, McMennany and Hodge; ends, Scott and Simmons; quarterback, O. Cannon; halfbacks, D. Cannon and Johnson; fullback, Austin; subs, Lott Alfred, W. Covington, Rucker, Savage, Smith, L. Jackson and Henry.

Athletic Field Plans Completed At Mass Meeting

At the mass meeting held Monday night at the office of the Chamber of Commerce in the city hall, plans were completed for securing an athletic field here to be used this season by the Slaton High Tigers. The field will continue in use until permanent arrangements have been made.

The new field will be located northeast of the county park, to the left of West Panhandle Avenue. It will be ready for use this Friday when Slaton and Clovis play here, and the game will be played on the new field Friday afternoon.

Committees working on the completion of arrangements included Carl W. George, J. T. Overby, Foster Carroll, Dr. W. E. Payne, Coach Paul Wright, T. A. Worley, Jr., and others. The field will be fenced before the game is played this week, and will be in excellent playing condition, it is expected.

Dr. Paul W. Horn Addressed Teachers At Meeting Saturday

The teachers of the Slaton schools met Saturday morning at 9 o'clock in a mass faculty meeting at the high school building. Every teacher was present and a splendid attitude of co-operation was displayed.

The first hour of the meeting was spent in making announcements and in routine matters.

L. T. Green gave a discussion on "The Narrow Way of Teaching Versus the Broad Method". The main idea which Mr. Green stressed was that the child must be happy in his or her work and must learn to do by doing. The discussion was greatly enjoyed.

During the next hour, Dr. Paul W. Horn, president of Texas Technological College at Lubbock, gave a wonderful address on "The Great Things Which Will Inspire the Teachers With Their Pupils". The discussion was well received and exceedingly interesting and instructive to all of the listeners.

The teachers' meetings are conducted once each month and the next meeting will be one month hence, when Superintendent M. H. Duncan, of the Lubbock schools, will discuss "The Practical Side of the Group Method of Teaching".

County Officers From Sheriff's Department Raid Filling Station

The Sheriff's department made an unexpected visit to a filling station on the Slaton and Lubbock highway, operated by J. B. Aichlmayer. The result of the call was the confiscating of 100 gallons ready for bottling, and 40 gallons bottled and awaiting delivery. There was no indication of mash, just a concoction called home brew. You could drive in and buy 9 gallons of gas and a bottle was given free. If you wanted another, 15c was the price. Aichlmayer was arrested on the charge of violating the prohibition law. He was taken to Lubbock, having a hearing before G. R. Scott, Justice of the Peace, he was held under $1,000.00 bond. Later he made the bond.

Tigers Will Play Clovis Eleven in Game Here Friday

The Slaton High School Tigers will play their first game at home this season when they face the Clovis, N. M., High team here Friday afternoon, starting at 3 o'clock, at the new football field, which is located northeast of the county park, to the west of West Panhandle Avenue.

Completion of the field for Friday's game was assured Thursday, committees in charge announced.

Definite information about the Clovis outfit is lacking, but it is expected that the Tigers will have a real battle Friday afternoon. A big delegation from Clovis is expected to accompany that team to this city. A large local attendance is expected. Popular prices will be in effect, officials announced.

The first game played this season by the Tigers brought a 12 to 0 victory over the Big Spring Steers, at Big Spring last Friday. The Big Spring and Clovis games are not a part of the local team's interscholastic league schedule.

Plainview will meet the Tigers, Saturday, Oct. 5, at the Panhandle South Plains Fair at Lubbock.

J. F. Harrell was returned to his home here last Sunday, after spending three weeks in a Matador hospital following an automobile accident. He was on the streets Wednesday shaking hands with friends and stated that he was feeling fine and glad to be home.

C. C. Needham and C. W. Ligon, of Anton, Texas spent Sunday with R. L. Tate, and family.

One Charged With Robbery of Harry's Grocery is Arrested

Homer Holland, of Long Beach, California, who is charged with burglary in connection with the robbery of Harry's Grocery on last Friday night, is lodged in the Lubbock County jail. His co-partner in the offense has not been located, but officers are still working on clues.

Harry Burrus, owner of the store, and his young son, H. C., Jr., went into the store about 9:30 o'clock Friday night to make a "check-up" of the day's business. After Mr. Burrus had gone behind the counter to the cash register, he noticed someone's feet protruding from under the counter and only thought someone was playing a joke on him, and told them to come on out, but he was ordered to step to the center of the store and put up his hands. He obeyed and the yeggs made their "get away" through the rear of the building.

The pair looted the two cash registers of $9.35.

Holland was identified by young Burrus while at a lunch stand shortly following the robbery. Holland denied the charge, but was forced to make admission after a small piece of paper with the name "Harry's" was found stuck to his cap. He was arrested and taken to Lubbock by Chief of Police Tom Abel.

Slaton Men Get Poultry Awards At Abilene Fair

A. A. DeVore, E. L. Hicks and Pierce Youngblood, three Slaton men who make a specialty of raising fine poultry, entered a number of their birds in the West Texas Fair at Abilene this week and captured a lot of first, second and third ribbons. Hicks and DeVore attended the Fair personally, returning here Tuesday night.

Mr. DeVore won five first premiums, three seconds and two third prizes on his fowls, as follows:

First and third on Dark Barred Rock pullets in a class with twelve pullets; first and second on Dark Barred Rock young pens in a class with four pens; first on Light Barred Rock cockerel in a class with 14 cockerels; first, second and third on Light Barred Rock pullets in a class with 16 pullets; and also won first on a Dark Barred Rock cock.

Hicks won the following premiums:

First White Wyandotte cockerel; first young pen in the White Wyandotte group; first White Plymouth Rock cock; first and second White Plymouth Rock cockerel and first White Plymouth Rock pullet. Youngblood's winnings were: First, second, third and fourth White Wyandotte pullets and second White Wyandotte cockerel.

Hicks and Youngblood faced strong competition in all classes, just as did Mr. DeVore.

The two men who attended the Abilene Fair reported that the poultry division had 1,000 fowls on display. They boosted the Slaton Poultry Show while at Abilene, insisting that poultrymen in that section be sure to place their exhibits here on Dec. 5, 6 and 7 this year. They also boosted the Panhandle-South Plains Fair which will be held next week at Lubbock.

PAVEMENT TO NEW HOSPITAL.

With fine progress being made on the Mercy Hospital, with the prospects that the early Fall will find the consumption of a dream fully materialized, there is in connection with its erection and completion, another vital matter for Slaton's consideration, that of having paving to the Hospital. Four or five blocks would give access by paving if the effort is made. This should by all means be done before the colder season sets in. We suspect that our City Commission has this matter before them, but we are not fully advised, but it should be given consideration, not only by the city officials, but all of Slaton. Kinda think about it, folks, just talk about it from day to day. We are sure we will soon have it.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Barton and Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Lee and family left this week for Houston, where they will make their home. They expect to go into business there.

Rotary-Anns and Teachers Guests At Banquet Here

The Slaton Rotary Club gave a banquet last Friday night at the Slaton Clubhouse, honoring all teachers of the local public schools, together with wives and friends of members of the Slaton Rotary Club. It was the annual affair for the Rotary ladies and the teachers, which the club has held for the past three or four years. More than 100 people attended the program, and banquet Friday night.

Roy A. Baldwin was toastmaster for the occasion. Ben G. Holloway gave the invocation, after the audience had sung "America" as the opening song. The banquet dinner was then served, with the women of the First Presbyterian church in charge.

W. H. (Bill) Smith, Rotary club president, gave the welcome address to the Rotary-Anns and teachers. Mrs. P. G. Stokes responded for the Rotary women, and L. T. Green, superintendent of Slaton schools, gave the response for the teachers.

Misses Frankie McAtee and Ella Loise Gentry, accompanied at the piano by Miss Jeannette Ramsey, rendered two violin and cello duet numbers, "To a Wild Rose," by McDowell, and "When You and I Were Young, Maggie." Miss Frances Adams gave two readings.

Rotary Club members and their Rotary-Anns were introduced by Lloyd A. Wilson, using a novel poetical arrangement which suggested each Rotarian's line of business or classification in the club.

The teachers were introduced by Superintendent Green, A. M. Sprinkle, high school principal, and C. W. Roberts and M. S. Ledger, principals of the West Ward and East Ward schools, respectively. Miss Jeannette Ramsey introduced the fine arts teachers.

An address on "What Rotary Is, and Its Relation to This Community" was given by Lloyd A. Wilson, who pointed out the fact that Rotary was organized in Feb., 1905, and that there are now 3,200 Rotary Clubs scattered throughout 48 different nations of the world. He said Rotary is more than a luncheon club, and that it is the expression of a great ideal, that of "Service Above Self," and also declared that the Rotary Club in any community is always expected to support such community movements as will provide better conditions for the people of that community. The attainment of world peace, as the Rotary organization stands for in its sixth object, was stressed as one of the outstanding features of Rotary International.

A vocal quartet number was presented by Floyd C. Rector, H. L. Henderson, J. L. Cassaway and Lloyd A. Wilson. The audience sang a special Rotary song as the closing number.

At one point in the evening's program, a special feature proved to be rather entertaining. A rose was started down a line of the ladies who attended, and a lemon was passed down a line of men who were present. An alarm clock, set to ring at an unknown time, gave the alarm while the lemon and the rose were being handed down the two different lines of guests. The lady holding the rose as the clock rang was the recipient of a prize, consisting of a box of chocolates, and the man who held the lemon was to pay for the prize. Mrs. Ben G. Holloway was the possessor of the rose at the end of the period, but it was impossible to determine exactly who held the lemon, so the club will pay for the prize, which went to Mrs. Holloway. This stunt was in charge of the toastmaster, Mr. Baldwin.

The committee arranging the program for the occasion consisted of Floyd C. Rector, Abe Kessel and Lloyd A. Wilson.

Plainview Man Wants to Tell the World About It

Orgatone Restores His Health After Flentge Was All Run Down.

"All my troubles have been completely overcome since I commenced taking Orgatone, and I never enjoyed better health in my life," said Ben Flentge, a well-known farmer residing on Route 1, Plainview, Texas.

"About seven years ago," he continued, "my stomach went back on me, and I began to have nervous indigestion. I lost my appetite also, and just had to force myself to eat enough to keep me going. Everything I ate would sour on my stomach, and I would often be so badly bloated with gas that I could hardly get a good breath. I was so nervous from headaches, too, and would often have such bad dizzy spells I could hardly walk. I also suffered from a pain in my back around my kidneys nearly all the time. I didn't seem to get a particle of good from any of the many different kinds of medicines I took, and I finally got so weak and run-down that I was hardly able to go at all.

"One of my friends had been taking Orgatone, and it has done him so much good that he insisted on my giving it a trial. Well, I bought a bottle of Orgatone, and it wasn't long after I commenced taking it until I could see that it was the very medicine I needed. My appetite came back, and now I can eat three square meals every day, and I never suffer the least bit from indigestion or stomach trouble of any kind. Why, I even eat big meals of heavy food like meats and pastry, and it doesn't hurt me at all. The nervousness has left, and I sleep just fine and dandy every night. I never have that pain in my back anymore, and haven't had a headache since I took my first bottle of Orgatone. In fact, I never had better health in my life, and I will tell the world that Orgatone did the work fine."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy but a new scientific bile treatment containing no alcohol or other false stimulating drugs and is sold in Slaton by the Tegue Drug Store who are direct laboratory agents.

"The Sage of Potato Hill"

BAD HABITS. A KING. STIMULATION.

Most people believe that to achieve success in life it is essential to have a good president in the White House, a good pastor, a progressive Commercial Club in his town, national prosperity, and neighbors devoted to God and country. The truth is, success depends entirely on the man who achieves it. He must have fewer bad habits than is the human average; with such an advantage, success is certain. . . . Another feature of the argument is, a man with fewer bad habits than the average actually gets along more comfortably than his acquaintances whose average of bad habits is higher than the unwritten law.

My favorite recollection of literature is that story of some drunken courtiers returning from a carouse. . . . Encountering a proletarian sleeping off a debauch, they escorted him to the palace, and put him to bed. When awakened, he found himself arrayed in royal raiment, surrounded with luxury, and lackeys who hastened to do his bidding; he went to sleep drunken vagrant and awakened a king. . . . And he was the most important king in history; he grandly ordered this and demanded that, and was none too good for him. If the courtiers engaged in the prank failed to bow sufficiently low, they were upbraided; a servant who neglected the old plate in serving food, was whipped, although the vagrant had been accustomed to pewter. Soon the vagrant was beaten, his rags restored and turned into the street. . . . Every man believes he is capable of being a king, and that he has been wronged, because he is not. And if suddenly promoted to so high an estate, he would be as mean and incapable as the worst of them.

A Methodist preacher of national distinction told me this story: When his mother was always expecting to die of heart disease; whiskey was kept in the house, to stimulate her heart when it threatened to stop beating. . . . She died at ninety-one and her heart beat feebly three days after all her other organs were dead.

The most universal human longing for the possession of money. This denied by a few, who say Principle their real goal, but the truth of the statement cannot be reasonably questioned (it is a human characteristic that certain facts we all know to be universal are almost universally denied). . . . And the surest way to acquire money is the exercise of character, honesty, industry, politeness. . . . Aristocracy of birth is not fair, and nature accepts nothing

Castoria is a comfort when Baby is fussy. No sooner taken than the little one is at ease. If restless, a few drops will bring contentment. No harm done, for Castoria is a baby remedy, meant for babies. Perfectly safe to give the youngest infant; you have the doctors' word for that! It is a vegetable product and you could use it every day. But in an emergency that Castoria means relief. Some night when constipation may be relieved—or colic pains—or colic suffering. Never be without it; get mothers keep an extra bottle, unopened, to make sure there will always be Castoria in the house. It is effective for children, too; read the book that comes with it.

The Dairy Cow Needs Vacation

Care During Dry Period Helps Production After Calving.

Dairymen sometimes find it difficult to dry up high producing cows within a reasonable time before freshening. To get the most profit from dairy cows, however, it is essential that they be given a rest of from 6 to 8 weeks between lactation periods.

One of the best ways to dry up a high producing cow is to put her in the stable for a week or two, and feed her largely on timothy hay. One milking a day should be omitted for about a week and then milk her every other day until she goes down in milk flow to about 10 pounds per day. Milking may then be stopped and no harm will result.

Many farmers give but little attention to the feeding of cows during the dry period. They do not appreciate that this is an exceedingly important time and that proper feed during this period is necessary for the best results when the cows freshen.

Experience has shown that a cow produces more milk and butter fat if at calving time she is not only in a good thrifty condition, but also if she carries a fair amount of fat. During the first months of her milk flow, a good dairy cow will change this body fat over into milk fat, thus increasing her yield. It is important that a good balanced ration be fed during the dry period if the cow is to carry that fat at calving time.

After a cow is dry, a good grain mixture to feed her is one composed of 200 pounds of corn meal and hominy feed, 200 pounds ground oats, 200 pounds wheat bran, and 100 pounds of linseed meal. About a week or ten days before freshening, take out the corn meal and cut the amount of grain feed to 1/2 the normal allowance, 8 to 12 pounds of grain daily would be a normal allowance while the cow is dry, and 4 to 6 pounds the proper allowance for about one week before she freshens.

CONGRATULATIONS.

To the Avalanche-Journal Publishing Co., and the personnel, in producing the Fair Edition, and having the "Largest Paper in Texas" Sunday,
September 22, 1929.

It figures a distinctive feature in typography, with a clean make up, with the Art Gravure embellishing
the edition, showing the wonderful growth
Lubbock has secured since its birth.
We, as well, congratulate the various interests that have made the Fair Edition possible, by their staunch support.
The whole Plains should welcome the advent of this paper, that stands for all that is good in building
the mighty empire of West Texas.

MONUMENTS OF PRIVATE INITIATIVE.

Individual prosperity and attainment must always come before general progress. It is the aggregate result of private initiative and enterprise in many fields of endeavor that has made our modern industrial age possible.

The great progressive movements in this country have been started and given momentum by the individual,
and not by government.

When the government goes into business, forcing out the private citizen, the result is economic and social paralysis.

We had an instance of political dissension during the World War, when railroads were taken over by the government. The tremendous losses that the carriers sustained and the retrogression of standards of service should be well remembered by our citizens.

Our telephone, railroad and electric facilities are supreme and give the best service at the lowest rates.
They are a living testimonial to the wisdom of public regulation, rather than ownership and operation of business by government. The inevitable results arising from government ownership of public utilities in America would be a vast government payroll.
The amount of that payroll would have no check such as prevails in private business; and would bear no proportionate relation to the efficiency of the departments or the value of the public service rendered.
The only limit would be the ability of the people—including private industries—to meet enormous tax bills. As we opine, it would be the setting up of a mighty political machine, covering not only the economic but the political government as well, with in time the mass would be left with no incentive and function as merely automatons in the great scheme of government.

THE WORLD SERIES.

Again we are confronted with the phenomena of the World Series. No game ever before has held the undivided attention of an entire nation for so long a period. From 1884, when Providence won laurels as the World Series winner, right up to 1928, when the crown went to New York, interest has been intense in every corner of the land. And now everyone is asking: What team will bring home
the bacon in 1929? Philadelphia?
Chicago?

Since the inauguration of the World Series, many things have happened to captivate the fancy of a curious world. Radio, the modern miracle.
The development of aviation. The epic-making flight of Lindbergh and the astounding feat of the Graf Zeppelin.
The growth of the motion picture and the invention of the "talkies".

There are a thousand more things to do than there were in the old days.
And so, perhaps many of the old diversions are being forgotten.

But one thing has an eternal charm.
Baseball will never lose its place in the affections of the multitude. The World Series of 1929 is looked forward to as eagerly as was the World Series of 1909. Other things may change—but the heart of the American is still the heart of a boy who knows that one of the most important things in the world is to keep right on playing.

No, Sir! Nothing's going to distract us from the World Series!

EDISON INVENTIONS ARE GREAT AID TO TELEGRAPHY

The numerous celebrations to be held this fall in honor of Thomas A.
Edison, in conjunction with Light's
Golden Jubilee suggest similar tributes for other contributions which this grand old man of science has made to the world's progress. Possibly because it was his first work it is not so well known that Edison aided tremendously in the development of the art of telegraphy. His inventions of the duplex and the quadruplex methods of telegraphy, the Universal stock ticker, and various automatic relays and other pieces of telegraphic equipment have exerted a wide influence on the progress of this form of instantaneous communication.

Edison became interested in telegraphy when he was a news boy on the Grand Trunk railway, at which time he was but fourteen years old. His taste for chemistry induced him to set up a laboratory in the empty baggage car always carried on his train. One of his experiments set the car on fire and so increased the conductor that he summarily ejected the young inventor at Mount Clemens, Mich., the next station. Edison sold papers at this station, and out of gratitude for saving the life of his son the station agent taught him the Morse code and the lad soon became proficient enough to accept a job as a railway telegraph operator. Later the desire for travel manifested itself and he journeyed to Indianapolis where he went to work for the Western Union.

His early days as a telegraph operator took him to various parts of the country and he developed into an unusually expert operator, noted especially for the excellence of his handwriting.
From Indianapolis Edison
went to Cincinnati and then to Memphis, where he devised an automatic telegraph repeater which enabled New York to send directly to New Orleans.
He next visited Nashville and left there for Louisville where he arrived cold, hungry and broke; but he soon got a job and remained in that city
for two years, copying press reports.
After a journey to New Orleans he returned to Louisville; then went to his home in Port Huron and subsequently journeyed to Boston where he obtained work with the Western Union and, because of his speed and skill, was assigned to Number One
New York wire.

In Boston he found conditions favorable for continuing his experimental work and invented a stock ticker and started a market quotation service.
In 1868 he made an unsuccessful trip to New York in an effort to sell his stock ticker. After a fruitless trip to Rochester for the same purpose and a return to New York he got a position as expert in charge of the Gold Indicator Company's stock ticker service at the then munificent salary of $300.00 per month.

The young inventor built an electric printer which with several other improvements he sold to the Gold and Stock Telegraph Company, and after the Western Union assumed control of this firm he was retained by General Marshall Lefferts, the president, to improve the ticker. The result of his labors was the Edison Universal Stock ticker which is in general use today. He received $40,000 for this invention and with this money in hand he opened up a factory, purchased machinery, hired men to work for him and went into the business of manufacturing tickers.

Probably the most important telegraph inventions of Edison were the duplex and quadruplex. For many years after the invention of Professor Morse some of the best engineering brains not only in this country but in Europe, too, had been endeavoring to perfect some method whereby more than one message at one time could be sent over a single telegraph wire. Each attempt was found to be at fault in some particular or other which made it impractical. Edison put his mind on this problem and the result was the duplex method of telegraphy by which two messages may be sent over the same wire at once.
Later he invented the quadruplex, which permits four messages to be sent simultaneously over a single wire. These two inventions resulted in the saving of millions of dollars to the telegraph companies and are considered today by telegraph experts to be the most important contributions to telegraphy since the invention of the telegraph.

In one of his business deals with the Western Union, Edison made a peculiar stipulation. He sold two of his inventions outright to the Western Union with the specific understanding that he should receive $12,000 a year for them over a period of seventeen years, the life of the patents.

"I knew that if I got all that money
at once I'd spend it in further experiments," Edison explained. "Getting it the way I did saved me from financial worries for seventeen years."

Even today Edison retains his interest in telegraph and is still a proficient Morse operator. Despite his deafness which has become quite pronounced in recent years he is able to hear the dots and dashes of the Morse sounder and he has lost none of his aptitude at the key.

BUSINESS-LIKE DIPLOMACY.

"If you would be a Diplomat, be a business man first," seems to be the new command of our State Department.
The appointments in the State Department and foreign service under this administration may be accidental in this respect, but they have a significance to close observers that can hardly be overlooked.

General Charles Dawes in Great Britain, Dwight Morrow in Mexico, and John W. Garrett, soon to take his post in Rome, are all bankers. Senator Walter Edge of New Jersey will go as Ambassador to France, completing the list of men in our diplomatic corps who emerged from the business world. Secretary Stimson himself has many business connections, and Under-Secretary of State Cotton has sponsored several recent mergers.

Mr. Hoover as Secretary of Commerce developed the belief that more commercial international contacts will lead to a better world. Perhaps the day will come when the domestic investor abroad will be as dear to American politics as the domestic producer is today.

Texas has more land in cultivation than any other State and also has more good raw land available for future cultivation than any other state.

B. Y. P. U. Enjoyed Party at Clubhouse

The adult B. Y. P. U. of the Baptist church entertained with a "Laugh Out Loud" party at the clubhouse on last Thursday evening.

The guests were divided into three groups or villages, with Mr. Gassoway as mayor of Grin-dale, Mr. G. J. Catching, mayor of Giggie-town, and Rev. B. G. Holloway, mayor of Ha Ha Hollow.

The competition between the three villages, along with several other games, furnished plenty of peppy entertainment for the evening.

The party was a laugh from beginning to end. There were about fifty persons present. Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. A. King and children, of Doucett, Texas.

At the close of the party lovely refreshments were served, consisting of angel and devil food cake and ice cream.

Y. W. A. Entertain For Mrs. C. E. Hicks

The Y. W. A. of the Baptist church entertained Tuesday afternoon from four until six with a "Come and Go" Tea and Miscellaneous Shower, at the Baptist parsonage, honoring Mrs. C. E. Hicks, of Lubbock, who until her recent marriage, was Miss Nora Sealey, of this city.

The parsonage was beautifully decorated in autumn flowers and the honoree was lovely in a blue velvet dress and hat. She was the recipient of many nice and useful gifts.

A delicious salad course was served to the guests.

Mrs. E. C. Foster Entertains Sunbeam Band

The members of the Sunbeam Band, who are due promotion at the next meeting of the W. M. S., were entertained Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. E. C. Foster, in her home at 235 South 9th St.

Among other interesting features of the evening, a box was packed for Miss Lucile Reagan, a missionary to Africa. Miss Reagan's home is in Big Spring and she is now home on a furlough.

Watermelon was served to the following members present: May Beth Florence, Adeline Hastings, Claudine Weaver, Eugene Weaver, Wayne Catching, Jack Porterfield, J. C.

OLD FOLKS SAY DR. CALDWELL WAS RIGHT

The basis of treating sickness has not changed since Dr. Caldwell left Medical College in 1875, nor since he placed on the market the laxative prescription he had used in his practice. He treated constipation, biliousness, headaches, mental depression, indigestion, sour stomach and other indispositions entirely by means of simple vegetable laxatives, herbs and roots. These are still the basis of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, a combination of senna and other mild herbs, with pepsin. The simpler the remedy for constipation, the safer for the child and for you. And as you can get results in a mild and safe way by using Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, why take chances with strong drugs? A bottle will last several months, and all can use it. It is pleasant to the taste, gentle in action, and free from narcotics. Elderly people find it ideal. All drug stores have the generous bottles, or write "Syrup Pepsin," Dept. BB, Monticello, Illinois, for free trial bottle.

JUNIOR ORDER TO BE FORMED BY I. O. O. F.

HOUSTON, Texas.—A ritual for a boys' lodge to be known as the Junior Order of Independent Odd Fellows has been adopted by the I. O. O. F., in its annual world convention here.

While membership in the junior order will not be a prerequisite to or means of gaining membership in the Odd Fellows, its purpose will be to diffuse the principles of Oddfellowship among boys between 14 and 18. The order will bear the same relation to the I. O. O. F. as the DeMolays to the Masons. The sovereign grand lodge decided several years ago to establish a junior order, but opponents of the move mustered sufficient strength to defeat the ritual, thereby delaying its creation. After the ritual had been considerably amended Tuesday, it was ratified with only a handful of dissenting votes.

The establishment of junior bodies will be optional for the I. O. O. F., in each locality. The Rebekahs voted to recommend a similar organization for girls in their order and it may be authorized by the grand lodge later in the week.

THE WANDERER RETURNS.

Captain Paul P. Murray has returned from an extended visit with his sister at Fond du lac, Wisconsin, whom he had not seen for thirty years. This was an enjoyable meeting of brother and sister after so many years of separation.

Being in a reminiscent mood, the Captain states that wonderful changes have taken place in his old home town of Chicago, with none of his day left, not even a buddy to be found, many having passed over the divide, others in various localities. The old haunts having given away for the progress of this age.

The Captain visited kinfolk at Independence, Mo., Mr. and Mrs. Purcell.

Mrs. Purcell will be known to Slaton folk as Miss Ruth Hickman. The Captain states that the crop conditions in northern Oklahoma, through eastern Kansas, into Iowa and Wisconsin, show the effects of the heat wave that covered that section. With his sparkling Irish blue eyes, the Captain stated the Plains country is indeed God's country, our blessings are many, even though hail may have assailed the crops in certain localities, on the whole the conditions are most favorable for us here, and the most wonderful people live here, just about the best I encountered on my visit. It is a wonderful thing to say "home" again. Captain Paul, we welcome you home.

TENTH INSTALMENT.

What Happened Before.
Remember Steedon comes West to avoid revealing the result of an unfortunate love affair to her father.

The Rev. Dr. Steedon, a clergyman of kind heart but narrow mind who attributes much of the evil of the world to the "movies" and constantly inveighs against them. Mem, her lover, Elwood Farnaby having died in an accident, at the advice of Dr. Brethrick, gives her bad cough as an excuse to get to Arizona and from there writes home that she has met and married "Mr. Woodville," a wholly imaginary person. Later she writes again to say that her "husband" has died in the desert. She takes a job as a domestic to avoid being a burden on her parents. A fall prevents her becoming a mother. In Arizona she had met

Tom Holby, a leading man in a motion picture company, and through him gets the opportunity to play a part in a desert drama. With the company is

Robina Teele, a Star, fond of Holby and Lova Lemaire, an extra woman. After her accident, Mem becomes friendly with Mrs. Dack, a poor woman of Palm Springs, Arizona, and takes an interest in her bright little son, Terry Dack, who has a great gift for mimicry. Inspired by a letter from Lova, Mem plans to go to Los Angeles to take a job in a film laboratory.

She gets a job in a film laboratory, but loses it. She meets a Mrs. Sturgis from her home town, who talks of the evils of the movies and says the stars are forced to sell their souls. Mem then learns her mother is coming to visit her. Mem is worried about her finances.

She sees a casting director, Arthur Tirrey, and abruptly offers herself to him in return for a job in the movies. He tells her the talk about "paying the price" is all rot. Meanwhile the attention of Mr. Bermond, head of the company, is diverted to her and he decides to give her a chance.

Soon she finds herself posing with Claymore as her director, obeying his commands in a kind of stupor.

Mem's father reads a publicity story, calling her "the prettiest girl in America" and writes a letter of protest to his wife and daughter. Mem's fame begins to spread, and Claymore, the director, takes an unusual interest in her. He is infatuated with Mem but tries to be aloof and professional to hide the fact from the company.

Mem and Claymore become more and more interested in each other. Out riding one day, Claymore makes physical advances to her. When they are parking a hood-up man approaches and demands their money.

Now Go On With the Story

Claymore, brooding deeply in his earnest soul, felt that he owed Mem some atonement. He meant it nobly, but it sounded crude when he checked the car in front of her little home and took her hand and said:

"If you will let me marry you, I'll see that my wife divorces me."

These divorces of convenience marked the new-fashioned way of accomplishing old-fashioned righteousness. He wanted to make her "an honest woman."

Mem laughed nervously.

"No, thanks!" It was as uninspired as possible, but then it is not easy to make a brilliant answer to a stupid suggestion. She felt that she must improve on it a bit, but she helped it little when she added: "Just as much obliged. Good night!"

Two days later she began work with Tom Holby's company. Holby described the part she was to play, read her the big scenes.

People make love unconsciously at times and in the truest courtships never a word is spoken. Two souls travel mystic gardens together and come to deep understandings without the exchange of a syllabled thought.

Mem was so wooed by Holby.

The orders had gone forth to rush the Holby picture to a conclusion. Big night-storm scenes had been scheduled for the final takes, and on the final morning the first scenes were begun promptly at nine. Kendrick promised to let the company go at three to rest for the all-night grind, but it was not until half past seven that the day's work was done.

At nine they went to the first of the sets. The California night was black and cold. The night in the story was one of tempest and battle. Tom Holby must run an automobile into a ditch and make a desperate war against four brutes who were instructed to put up a good fight.

Each bit of scenery through which she was to flash had been made ready the day before. Perforated rain pipes were reinforced by men who would play a fire hose or two upon the hapless actress. The gale was to be provided by an airplane propeller mounted on a truck.

Mem inspected the settings she was so briefly to adorn.

Why do they build that fence around the wind machine?" she asked Kendrick.

"To keep people from walking into the propeller and getting chopped to mince-meat," said Kendrick.

After an hour of preparation the army was ready for the battle.

A gentle rain fell from the pipes. The fire hose, aimed up in the air, added its volume. The wind machine set up its mad clatter. The water and the lightning filled it with shattering fire.

Then Mem was called forth. She clutched her cloak about her and thrust into the tempest. It was like driving through a slightly rarified catarract. She hardly reached the pillar at the edge of the porch, clutched it for a moment, caught a quick breath, and flung down the steps. And that was that. All this preparation for one minute of action!

She was taken to a warm room and wrapped in blankets while the next scene was prepared. She was supposed to have run a long distance between the last scene and this, and she must enter it wet.

camera range. He called, "Cut!" and the camera men were jubilant as each of them shouted, "O. K. for me!"

Then Kendrick heard screams of terror, wild howls of fear. He ran forward and saw the blinded little figure of Mem still pressing on straight into the blur of the airplane propeller.

His heart sickened. She would be sliced to shreds. She could not hear the yelled warnings in the noise of the machine.

The operator shut off his engine, but the propellers still swirling at a speed that made them only a whorl of light. The witnesses were paralyzed by the horror of the moment.

Tom Holby broke from a nightmare that outran the immediate beauty of the girl walking forward to a hideous fate. He ran and dived for her like a football tackler, hooked his left arm about her knees and flung her backward, thrusting his right arm and his head beneath her, so that when she struck, her shoulders were upon his breast, her drenched hair fell across his face like seaweed.

She opened her eyes in a chaos of bewilderment. Just above her the flying propeller blades were glistening in the light of the sun arc.

They were still revolving when the wind machine man, leaping from the post where he had stood expecting her fate and his own eternal remorse, ran to lift her from the ground. Others helped up Tom Holby.

He had knocked himself unconscious when his head struck a rock in the road. His cheek was ripped and gushing blood.

He came to his senses at once and forced a ghastly laugh.

Mem screamed with fear for him. She had not yet realized her own escape. She was all pity for Tom Holby, and anxiety.

"It's nothing," he said. Then he staggered with dread of what Mem would have looked like now if he had missed his aim at her knees.

He drew her from the vortex of the propeller, which was subsiding with a

His heart sickened. She would be sliced to shreds.

At length she got her signal and went forward again, head down, into the wild storm.

During her absence a telephone pole and a tree had been brought down by the storm and photographed as they fell. It was her business now to clamber across the pole and push through the branches of the tree, and so fight her way out of the picture.

The wind machine had been shifted several times. The wind man in his confusion forgot to notice that the property men had forgotten, in their confusion, to set up the fence before the propeller. It was after midnight now and everybody was numb with cold, drenched with the promiscuous rain, and a little irresponsible. Their working day was already fifteen hours old and it would last at least five hours more.

Tom Holby had been photographed in a climb up the wet sides of a ravine, and was half frozen in his soaked clothes, but he stayed to watch Mem through this scene.

She struggled with the maniac hurricane, stumbled and fell across the telephone pole, thrust aside wires, lifted herself and breast the wind again, drove into the wreck of the fallen tree. The branches whipped her wet flesh cruelly. The lightning just ahead of her blistered her vision like the white-hot irons driven into the eyes of Shakespeare's Prince Clarence. The wind blew her breath back into her lungs. If she had not gained a little support from one stout bough of the tree she could never have reached the margin of the picture.

Kendrick's heart was glad with triumph as he saw her pass out of dying snarl of a leopard that has missed its pounce.

The next day the company gathered to see the rushes of the night stuff. Kendrick sighed, "That came near being a portrait of you walking out of the world."

Tom Holby did not speak, but he reached out and, seizing Mem's hand, wrung it with an eloquence beyond words. He seemed to be squeezing her heart with clinging hands.

She was consumed with an impatience to begin a new picture at once, and to be very busy with life and love, beauty and delight.

And yet, when Tom Holby, after they had left the lot, asked her to ride with him for a bit of air, told her he adored her and that she was adorable; when he courted her with deference and meekness and pleaded for a little kindness—her heart froze within her. She could not even accept a proffered beatitude.

She looked at him and thought—and said:

"Too many people love you, Tommy. You belong to the public, and you couldn't bring yourself down to really loving little me."

"Oh, but I could! I do!" he cried. "Damn my public! I don't care for anything but you."

"But I haven't had my public yet, and I love it. Just now the only love I can feel is acted love."

"Then let's have a rehearsal," he suggested cynically. But she shook her head. "I want to laugh, Tommy," she cried. "Amuse me, make me laugh!"

"There's the new Charlie Chaplin comedy," he said. "We might get in." "Let's try," said Mem.

Holby swung his car around.

"Tommy," said Mem, "what is comedy? I'm sick of all these crying scenes and emoting all over the place. I want to be a comedienne. Do you think I could be one?"

"I don't think so," said Holby, with scientific candor. "You never made me laugh. You don't laugh much."

"No, but I'm going to! I think if I ever love anybody really, it will be a great comedian. Do you know any comedians who aren't married, Tommy?"

"Lots of 'em," said Holby. "A sense of humor keeps a man from getting married—or staying married long."

They took in a Chaplin show and on the way home she snuggled close to Holby in the car. Yet when he spoke tenderly she made fun of him, giggled, reminded him of bits of the picture that had amused her. This enraged him.

"I'm going in for comedy," she said. "It's the only thing worth while. All this tears and passion business makes me sick."

Holby fought out in his soul a decent battle of self-sacrifice before he brought himself to the height of recommending a rival. "There's Ned Ling; he's looking for a pretty leading woman. He's not Chaplin, but he's awfully funny in his own way. If you're so hell bent on a comic career get your agent to go after him."

"Ned Ling," she mused. "Yes, I've seen him. I may make a try at him a little later."

But when she reached her home there was something waiting in ambush for her—a letter from her father.

Seniors Enjoy Lawn Party

The Senior Class of '30 enjoyed their first social event this year when Miss Lorene McClintock honored them with a lawn party at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. D. McClintock, 805 South 11th St.

The majority of the class was present because where there's fun and laughter, there also you will find a Senior. The party was a unique social event, as the games were of a nature that we once played in grammar school.

This being our last year in Slaton High, we are going to make this our most eventful year, and therefore, try to make our parties come fast and numerous. So, rest easy, citizens of Slaton, if you are awakened from your slumbers by loud noise and laughter, for it is probably only the Seniors of '30 having one of their "very" formal social affairs.

When Food Sours

Lots of folks who think they have "indigestion" have only an acid condition which could be corrected in five or ten minutes. An effective anti-acid like Phillips Milk of Magnesia soon restores digestion to normal.

Phillips does away with all that sourness and gas right after meals. It prevents the distress so apt to occur two hours after eating. What a pleasant preparation to take! And how good it is for the system! Unlike a burning dose of soda—which is but temporary relief—Phillips Milk of Magnesia neutralizes many times its volume in acid. Next time a hearty meal, or too rich one, has brought on the least discomfort...

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL ITEMS.

Junior High School has thus far lost very few pupils on account of cotton picking.

Deana Price, after an absence of two weeks in Beaumont, Texas, has returned and is now enrolled in Junior High.

Aline Stitt, who has been living in Indiana, has returned to Slaton and is a student in the Junior High School.

Many changes have been made in the rules by Supt. Green and Principal Roberts, that, from the standpoint of the pupils, are a great improvement, and render the school work much more pleasant.

The girls of Junior High are taking an interest in tennis this year and a little later some good games are expected.

The Junior High football team played the freshman team of Central High School Thursday of this week.

Rev. W. R. White, of Lubbock, who is conducting the Baptist revival meetings in Slaton, visited the school Wednesday morning and spoke to the pupils.

The West Ward P. T. A. is sponsoring a contest for cleanliness. The room that wins first place will be given a half holiday. Mrs. Odum, President of the P. T. A., will appoint a committee to make inspections of the different rooms and determine the winner.

Lucy McElroy sustained an injury to her arm while skating and was obliged to be absent two days this week.

At the Slaton-Clovis football game to be played in Slaton this Friday afternoon, the Junior High girls and boys will sell pop and candy to raise funds with which to purchase athletic material.

LEVELLAND MAN GIVEN SUSPENDED SENTENCE

LEVELLAND, Tex., Sept. 21.—A jury late today convicted B. A. Foshee of the murder of Elmer Wright and assessed a three-year suspended sentence.

Foshee pleaded that he killed Wright, 23 year old farm hand from Oklahoma, because of the latter's alleged intimacies with Mrs. Foshee. The wife corroborated the story of her relations with the victim.

Foshee made a short speech thanking the jury. His wife was not in the court room.

It was Hockley County's first murder trial.

The jurors deliberated four hours.

DRY WEATHER OR POOR SOIL?

When the weather turns dry and crops are cut short we are apt to forget the relation between soil moisture and soil fertility.

Crop yields are going to be low in many sections this year for lack of rain. But the poorest crops will be found on the thinnest soil; the best crops on the fertile soil.

Both fields had the same rainfall. The difference in yield is due to the difference in fertility. Lack of moisture reduced the yield on both, and ruined the crop on the thin soil.

In the early days in Oklahoma we talked of moisture as the limiting factor in crop production. It still is. But soil fertility in many counties is now of equal importance as a limiting factor.

Crops will be short because of dry weather, but on most of our land they will be a whole lot shorter because of thin soil.

Man can't control the rain but he can control the fertility of the soil in farms.—Clarence Roberts, in September 1 Oklahoma Farmer-Stockman.

Wiison reports that the roads east to the Garza county line are now graded.
