Child is Snake-Bitten, Sunday

Dorothy Kobel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Kobel, was snake bitten Sunday afternoon about 3 o'clock, at the J. R. McAtee home in west Slaton.

She was rushed to a local physician where immediate treatment was given. It is not certain as to what kind of a snake she was bitten by, but it is thought to have been a rattlesnake. The reptile disappeared before being seen by anyone except the child.

At the last report she was resting well.

THE LAW GETS ANOTHER.

In the quiet hours of the early morning, between 2 and 3, Tom Abel, Chief of Police, and Zeke Bates, Santa Fe officer, went hunting, whether for snipe or other things, we do not state. In their hunting they discovered a Mex., claiming to be from Sweetwater, who was dispensing the strong stuff. He was most accommodating, one could get it by the drink or by the pint, and under his garments he had arranged a perfect dispensary. The law got him, and the sheriff took him to Lubbock for a much needed rest.

Mrs. R. L. Tate and son, R. L., Jr., and daughter, Mrs. Truman Campbell, of Lamesa, returned Friday from Sulphur Springs, where they have been visiting friends and relatives for the past week. They report a delightful trip but terribly hot weather.

COL. GUY GREEN IN KENTUCKY

A short letter from Col. Guy Green advises he is in the land of fast horses, blue grass and beautiful women, but that the bourbon does not flow as freely as in the past. He is now located at Crestwood, Ky., being on the program as one of the stellar attractions.

The Methodist Church, South, is holding its 54th annual Camp Meeting, said to be the largest in the country, at Camp Kavanaugh. From the program enclosed to The Slatonite, they must have a wonderful time there. Col. Green wishes to be kindly remembered to all of Slaton folk, and hopes the future may again call him to Slaton.

Word has been received by Mrs. Abe Kessel, that Mr. Kessel and Bertram have arrived in New York, landing there last Friday, the 16th. Mr. Kessel and Bertram are expected home in the next few days, coming back by the way of Birmingham, Ala.

C. L. Garrigues Has Good Fruit Crop This Year

C. L. Garrigues, who lives at 215 North 4th St., has proven to The Slatonite "force" that he is a fruit grower.

As a proof of his peach crop he brought in several large Elberta cling peaches and remarked that his trees were loaded. He also displayed a sample of his golden gage plums, on a limb about thirteen inches long were thirteen large yellow plums.

This is indeed a wonderful showing for the Slaton vicinity and The Slatonite "force" is glad to the recipient of these specimens of delicious fruit.

Most Important Achievement of Science Debated

"The One Scientific Achievement Which, in my Judgment, has Most Benefited Mankind, and Why," this was the subject of two discussions given last Friday at the luncheon meeting of the Slaton Rotary Club.

W. H. (Bill) Smith and Will P. Florence were the speakers.

Electricity, as used in transmitting messages by telegraph, by radio and other ways, was the theme developed in Mr. Smith's talk, while the discussion given by Mr. Florence dealt with the use of electricity in furnishing heat and power. He predicted that within a few years, electricity would be a much more important force in the civilized world than it is even today.

"We use electricity to cook foods with, and then use it to freeze them after they are cooked," Florence stated. "Finally, the use of coal and steam will disappear and electricity will supplant these. It is not impossible that within the lifetime of people now living, the winds of these Plains will be used to store great quantities of electricity, from which heat and power can be secured over long intervals, serving the entire population."

Among the visitors at the club meeting were Jack Stalcup, Ralph Dickson and Irvin Reed, three of the four Slaton 4-H club boys who attended the Farmers' Short Course at A. & M. College, July 29 to Aug. 3.

Reed, Stalcup and Casey Fine, who lives at Posey, were the three boys sent to the meeting by the Rotary Club. Dickson went as a result of winning an essay contest which was conducted by the Kiwanis Club of Lubbock.

Jack Stalcup, representing the club boys, made a short talk at the meeting, describing the experiences the club boys and girls had this year at the Short Course at A. & M. His discussion was one of the interesting features of the Friday program.

Stalcup and two other Lubbock County boys won first in dairy judging this year at the short course, and will represent Texas at the National Dairy Show in St. Louis, Oct. 12 to 17.

A quartet was given at the beginning of the program by Allan J. Payne, Claude F. Anderson, Tom J. Abel and Lloyd A. Wilson.

Out-of-town visitors at the meeting were, O. E. Conley, Lubbock County deputy sheriff, and the following members of the Lubbock Rotary Club: Ray Grisham, George Benson, Roche Newton and Walter Jennings.

Three new members will be received by the club at the next meeting, it was announced by President Bill Smith. They are: Bernie Payne, lumber; H. S. Riggs, confections; and Jeff Graham, oil.

The program for next Friday will begin with a piano solo by Allan J. Payne, followed by a quartet by Will P. Florence, Claude F. Anderson, George W. Shanks and Tom J. Abel. Classification talks, will be given by Floyd C. Rector, speaking on life insurance; by A. Lee Tudor, speaking on the risks a West Texas cotton farmer must take and how to avoid them; and by Harry C. Burrus, discussing the question of whether a retail business should go on a strictly cash basis.

This is the program which was originally scheduled for Sept. 6, and the program which was set for next Friday will be given on the September date instead of the regular time.

Letter Carriers To Meet in Lubbock Labor Day, Sept. 2nd

The City Mail Carriers from all sections of the South Plains, including Amarillo, Canyon, Childress, Plainview, Borger, Slaton and Lubbock, will meet in the city of Lubbock on September 2nd, Labor Day, for the purpose of organizing a district association of letter carriers.

The organization will include all city carriers in the Eighteenth Congressional District.

Arrangements are under way for an enjoyable program and an all-day session including a dinner to be served by the Ladies' Auxiliary of Letter Carriers.

The Slaton carriers expect to attend this meeting and assist in perfecting an organization of this nature.

Marie Doherty is Painfully Hurt Sunday Evening

Marie Doherty, six year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Doherty, was painfully hurt about the right eye Sunday evening, while playing with other children at the family home.

A door was slammed in the child's face, seriously injuring the right eye. She was rushed to a Lubbock sanitarium where efforts which are thought to be successful, are being made to save the vision of the eye.

Law Finds a Couple Of Slaton Oases

Coming down from the north, like a winter blizzard, the strong arm of the law, represented by Deputy Sheriff C. B. Conley and Asst. Dist. Atty. Burton Burks, supplemented by Chief of Police Tom Abel and Special Santa Fe officer Zeke Bates of Slaton, without much effort, found a couple of places where they dispense joy in liquid form. Providing you have the price. Casually dropping into the Burleson House, Miss Ida Thomas, the proprietress, and Miss Ollie Hedrick were taken into custody, after finding the home brew and whiskey.

A. L. Hoffman, a man only 78, was found to be in possession of the home brew and whiskey, doubtless for uses other than medicinal, and a colored man, Sam Taylor, was found to have been selling the hard stuff. They were all whisked away to the County Seat on charges of sale and possession of the liquid stuff.

The two women made bond, as well as Hoffman, in the amount of $1,000 each, the wet goods were confiscated and in charge of the officers. Surely the way of the transgressor is hard.

Mrs. Edmondson Gone To Family Reunion

Mrs. H. H. Edmondson and two sons left Thursday for Los Angeles, California, where they will attend a reunion of Mrs. Edmondson's family.

This will be the first time in seventeen years that the family, consisting of four girls and one boy, have been together. The mother is seventy-two years of age and the father seventy-eight.

Mrs. Edmondson will be away from the city about thirty days.

Mr. and Mrs. Stevens Entertain Friends

Mrs. J. B. Stevens entertained friends with a swimming party and supper at Buffalo Springs, Friday evening at 6 o'clock.

Those enjoying the occasion included, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sparkman, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wilson, Miss Rose Wood of Tahoka and D. Remy, of Amarillo.

WILL SPEAK TONIGHT.

It is announced by J. E. Mullins, pastor of the Church of Christ, that Rev. Lewin of North Carolina will address the people of Slaton at the Church, Tuesday evening. He brings a message that all people will enjoy, especially the Masons of the city. All are welcome. He had a wonderful audience at Lubbock, and they speak very highly of his address.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Devore and family and Miss Elma Allison spent Sunday afternoon in Lubbock.

WINNERS ANNOUNCED IN PRETTY LAWN CONTEST

American Legion Selects Our "Most Useful Citizen"

In compliance with instructions received from Rufus S. Scott, of Paris, Texas, state Legion commander, the local American Legion Post held a contest, to determine who had been Slaton's "Most Useful Citizen" for the past year. It is the intention that these contests shall become annual events. The names of those selected each year will be engraved on a parchment scroll and deposited at the state Legion headquarters in the Capitol building at Austin.

Dan W. Liles, commander of the local Post, with the assistance of the members started the machinery for this year, by asking all the various organizations of the city to place names in nomination for this distinguished honor.

Six of the city organizations responded by placing five names before the local Post, two organizations having selected the same person. After a secret vote by the membership of the local Post, the result was obtained and carried to the City Hall Park, Thursday evening. There a dual program was carried out, wherein prizes for the "Pretty Lawn Contest" were awarded, and the "Certificate of Honor" to the "Most Useful Citizen" was presented. This part of the program was in charge of Judge D. E. Kemp, who in a very pleasing manner, and with some choice remarks covering the occasion, delivered to Mr. L. A. Wilson, for his keeping the first "Certificate of Honor," finely engraved and bearing the signatures of the state Legion officials.

In acknowledgement, Mr. Wilson stated he believed that there were many citizens who were far more worthy of the honor. He then expressed not only his surprise but his sincere appreciation of the recognition given him by the Legion.

He further stated, "If I have in any sense been useful to my city and community, I am glad, and hope that I may be more useful in the future than I have been in the past. Please let it be remembered that whatever of success has been made, the good citizens of Slaton have made it possible, and to them should be given the credit. I trust for the future that I may have your full confidence, good will and your esteem." This, the speaker stated in closing his remarks of appreciation.

A representative of The Slatonite asked Mr. Wilson last Friday how he felt about the honor that had been given him, and he replied, "Of course, I appreciate it, but think the American Legion made a big mistake when they picked me. There are too many others who deserve it far more than I do." When asked by this Slatonite representative as to his life before coming to Slaton, he replied:

"I was born on an East Texas farm, and practically reared between the plow handles. My parents were far from wealthy, but they had the noble ambition to give their three children the best educational advantages they could provide. I finished high school when sixteen years old, all due to the effort made for me by my parents.

"After high school, I attended Baylor University at Waco, and the North Texas State Teachers College at Denton. I taught in the public schools for six years. I was married to the girl of my choice, at Byers, Texas, 1922. We moved to Slaton five years ago.

The contest was conducted again this year by the Slaton Chamber of Commerce, under direction of the civic committee, composed of George G. Green, H. S. Riggs, F. C. Jackson and H. C. Burrus. Seventy lawns were entered, the same number as last year. There were thirty-seven entries the first year.

Judges for this year's contest were furnished through the courtesy of the Tahoka Chamber of Commerce, of which C. C. Williams is secretary. The judges were Mr. and Mrs. M. L. H. Baze and Mrs. C. C. Williams. They were experienced judges and worked hard through most of the day last Thursday, picking the winners in the contest here. The judges were guests of the Chamber of Commerce at luncheon last Thursday noon.

Splendid compliments were passed upon Slaton by the judges while visiting here Thursday and making their inspections. They were surprised at the large number of lawns in the contest and also at the unusual beauty of the city's homes. Recommendations were made by the judges that the contest be continued as an annual feature of civic improvement in Slaton.

Betty Jo Cramer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Cramer, underwent a tonsillectomy operation at the Slaton Clinic Monday morning. She is reported to be doing fine.

YOUTHFUL ENTHUSIASM.

An old stager in our community life who has contributed much to the development of the city in years gone by offered us a few thoughts recently on what our town needs.

"You mustn't depend too much upon us old fellows," he said. "The future of our town is now in the hands of the younger men who must take things up about where we left off. We've met with too many disappointments in years gone by and we've become too conservative in our point of view.

"When a new proposition is advanced we see all the reasons why it can't be put over with success. Perhaps we're wrong, but that's the fault of age. What the town needs is a lot of young fellows who don't know it can't be done and for that reason go ahead and do it."

All of us may well give profound thought to his remarks. A community is not unlike a business. The time inevitably comes when young blood and youthful enthusiasm are badly needed.

If we might have the right degree of co-operation here we would find the young men furnishing the energy and the old men supplying the judgment that comes only with long experience.

PROMOTING CULTURE.

There are in this land of ours many lofty souls who scoff at the work of a chamber of commerce and condemn Americans for their proclivity for "boosting" their home communities.

It is purely the mark of a material civilization, showing supreme neglect for anything of cultural value. It is a spirit dictated only by selfishness, by a will to have a larger community in which to carry on a program of exploitation.

This is their argument but is it intelligent? Isn't an active chamber of commerce an agency for the development of things of cultural value as well as of things of material value? Isn't lack of money the great drawback to the proper development of almost every community in the land?

The thinker can answer in one way only. It is the prosperous community that can afford the best schools, that can support the finest in entertainment, that can maintain the best library. Poverty never produces anything of merit. This is true of individual careers. It is likewise true of communities and municipalities.

When an active commercial organization in our city brings a new business to the community it adds much to the tax roll of the city, and it thereby opens the way to any number of enterprises of cultural value that could not be considered otherwise.

We want to see Slaton prosper. First because we feel confident we too will prosper along with the general movement. Second, because we know that our citizens will lead better and happier lives as the community forges forward in a material way.

PAN AMERICA DISCUSSES ROADS.

An imposing delegation of engineers and road constructors will represent the United States at the Second Pan American Road Congress meeting at Rio de Janeiro this month.

Roads, their construction, their benefits, and the ultimate construction of an Inter-American Highway that will unite the capitals of nearly all the American nations, are topics occupying the immediate attention of the American governments, and they will be thoroughly discussed at the Rio conference. Important sections of the Inter-American Highway have already been constructed in several countries; and it is hoped that before many years have elapsed many of these will have been connected to form more than half the extent of the Highway.

The man who insists that he is always right confesses that he cannot learn by experience.

A local citizen observes that we can always see two sides to every question in which we are not vitally interested.

A youth charged with bigamy, having two wives at the same time, pleads mental derangement. Any will agree at once.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?

By Edson R. Waite,
Shawnee, Oklahoma

John L. Brady, Co-Publisher of The Blackfoot (Idaho) Daily Bulletin, says:

THAT an outstanding reason for American supremacy is our persistent and intelligent advertising. While some of our foreign cousins boast, we just advertised. We have efficient foreign cousins who are less wasteful than we, but we advertise better. It is the American way. We know what we have and let the fact be known.

By advertising we express ourselves as much as possible through our manufactured products. We are able to meet keen competition and pay good wages because by advertising we have a rapid foreign turnover.

What is true of the nation is true of individual business. The merchants who last are the merchants who advertise. They succeed because they let the excellence of their goods be known and because they have increased sales they can sell cheaper.

It is all very well to put a light under a bushel, but the firms which conduct their publicity in this way soon find themselves out of business. The problem now is not "Does advertising pay?" but it is that it is becoming such a science to meet advertising competition.

"Robert," said the teacher, to drive home the lesson which was on charity and kindness, "if I saw a man beating a donkey and stopped him from doing so, what virtue would I be showing?"

"Brotherly love," said Bobby promptly.—Open Road.

Suggestions for Fruit Exhibits

Miss Louise Baird, County Home Demonstration Agent, has kindly furnished us with suggestions covering canning for exhibit purposes, as well as some recipes.

The time is approaching for the South Plains Fair, to be held at Lubbock, and much interest is manifest in the canning of fruits and vegetables.

Tomato Preserves.
1 qt. tomatoes, peeled and quartered.
3 cups of sugar

1 to 1½ lemons, sliced thin.
Cook the mixture until it is thick and clear, then pour it into scalded jars and seal.

Pear Preserves.

Mellow pears are not good for preserving, but may be used for marmalade. Juicy, firm pears such as Russet or Kieffer, are good preserving pears. The fruit may be preserved whole, in halves, or in quarters though the halves are best in most cases. Peel, core and weigh the pears. For every pound of pears use 2 cups sugar and 2 cups water. Boil the syrup 10 minutes, vigorously. Add pears a few at a time. Cook until the pieces become transparent. Remove the fruit from the syrup. Cook the syrup until it reaches the consistency of honey. If desired, slices of pineapple or lemon may be added about twenty-five minutes before removing from the fire. Plump the pears by pouring the syrup over them, and allowing them to stand over night. Pack cold in the morning. Cover with syrup. Remove air bubbles. Process 15 minutes.

Watermelon Rind Preserves.

Cut 1 pound of rind in one inch squares. Remove the peel and pink part; soak over night in lime water made by using 2 tbsp. lime (calcium oxide) to 2 qts. water. Next morning drain, allow to stand in cold water for 2 hours. Drain, drop in boiling water, cook very rapidly for 10 minutes. Drain again, and add gradually to the syrup. (Made by boiling together 3 cups sugar and six cups water). Add to this the juice of one-half lemon and three extra slices of lemon. Cook until the melon is tender and transparent. Allow to stand until cold, arrange the pieces attractively in jars, garnish with slices of lemon, cover with syrup, process and seal.

Plum Preserves.

Prick the plums with a coarse needle. Allow 2 cups sugar to 2 cups fruit and a cup of water to each 2 cups sugar. Let boil, skim, add the plums a few at a time, letting them boil gently about twenty minutes. Remove the fruit to the jar with a skimmer, and let the syrup boil until it gives the test for jelly. Fill the jars 5-6 full of plums, finish filling with the syrup, and seal.

Peach Preserves.
1 pound peaches 1 cup water
1½ cups sugar

Remove the skins and cut the peaches. Make a syrup of the sugar and water. Pour this over the peaches and allow to stand overnight. In the morning, cook until the fruit is clear, pack the peaches in jar and cook the syrup until thick. Pour the syrup over the peaches and seal.

Fig Preserves.

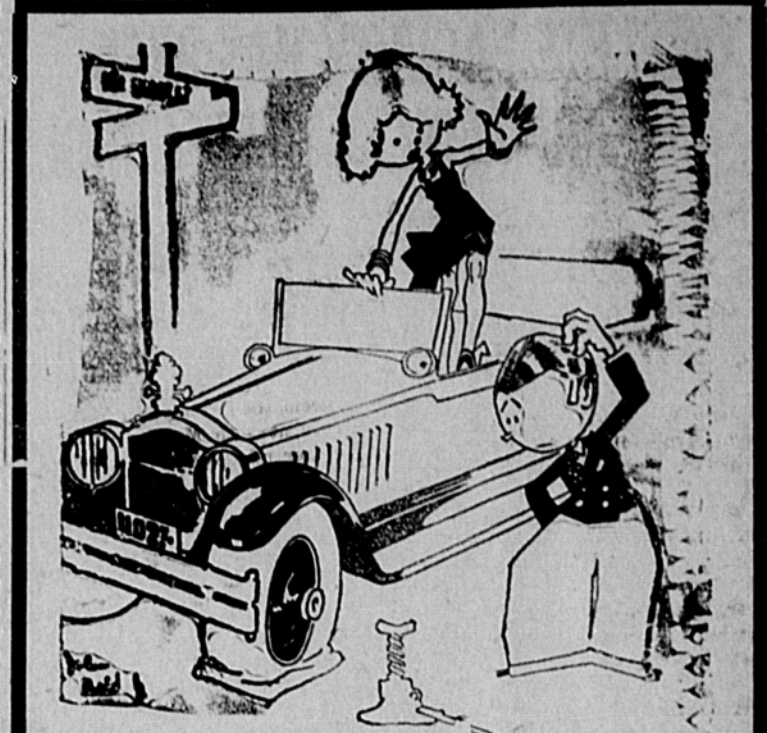

6 qts. boiling water
6 qts. figs
6 to 8 cups sugar
1 cup baking soda
3 qts. water.

Select firm, ripe fruit. Sprinkle 1 cup baking soda over the figs and cover with 6 qts. boiling water. Allow them to stand 15 minutes, drain the solution from the fruit, and rinse the figs well in clear water. Cook the sugar and water together 10 minutes and skim the surface. Add the well drained figs gradually. Cook rapidly for 2 hours; the figs should be tender and clear. Remove the figs and continue cooking until the syrup is thick. Allow the figs to stand in a shallow pan over night, covered with syrup. Pack them in sterilized jars having the stems placed upward, and of the same length. Cover with the syrup. Process 15 minutes and seal immediately.

It has been found that the fruit can be packed more attractively in square jars than round jars. Preserves are judged on the basis of:

Attractiveness of container
Arrangement of jar
Appearance of product
Uniformity of product
Texture of product
Flavor (in extreme cases).

AMERICAN LEGION SELECTS "MOST USEFUL CITIZEN"

Since then the people of Slaton know the story, which isn't anything spectacular at all.

"It just happens that I have had the privilege of doing what I could, with the assistance from the good people of Slaton, and anybody who has done that deserves as much recognition as I do."

We truly feel that this has been an honor justly arrived at, and the recipient well worthy to have this signal honor bestowed upon him.

He came to us with an unblemished character. This he still retains, as all Slaton well knows, he has proved his worth, as an honorable and upright citizen, a most efficient secretary of our Chamber of Commerce, but in addition to the duties of this office, of building a material community, he has given without stint to the things that contribute to the intellectual, moral and spiritual growth of the community, that he will serve for the future as he has for the past there can be no question. We can but add that it is most pleasing to receive the flowers of friendship and esteem from our friends, while we are of material state, rather than after one has passed over the "Great Divide." Truly it has been an honor justly bestowed.

Because of their smartness and grace, capes have found much favor in the feminine eye. Henri Bendel, whose gowns and hats costume many a smartly dressed woman of the fashionable world, has imported from Chanel this chiffon frock illustrated. Wild rose is its color; its most important feature, the novel cape-like collar.

In this instance the cape is made separate from the frock and is topped by rows and rows of fine hand-shirring, a trimming which also forms the fullness of the skirt. Layers of narrow tabs, falling from the hip down below the hemline, form additional trimming. Beneath the transparent skirt we see the scalloped edge of the foundation, which is somewhat shorter, and so, shadow-wise, also suggests a trimming note.

Fall Favors the Black Coat. From early indications it would appear that black is exploited for the first smart coats of fall. And furs used in conjunction are also usually black. Silver fox, black astrakan and Persian lamb are prominent among the furs. Collars are exotic affairs, standing well up around the face, and cuffs showing far more generous applications of fur than heretofore. Second only to the all-black costume is the ensemble or coat combining black with pure white. Black velvet evening wraps show huge white fox collars of white ermine. A short jacket suit of black fur cloth is banded with skunk at the jacket edge and sleeves, while its standing collar is of ermine; its bodice of white moire.

Vogue for the Velvet Turban. For wear with fall afternoon costumes and the chiffon dinner gown nothing will be more charming than the trim little velvet turban which, this season, is frequently made unlined, and fashioned of chiffon-weight velvet so that it may mold more closely to the head. The silhouette for the turban is up in front and down in back, with a cluster of velvet flowers or a bow and ends posed at the side back.

CHEVROLET TRUCK HELPED ROBIN MAKE HISTORY

The St. Louis Robin has already made aviation history, but were it not for the humble part played in its dramatic exploit by a specially equipped Chevrolet six cylinder truck, it is possible that the story might have been different.

A special brand of gasoline was being used in the Robin, and on Sunday, July 21, the flyer's second Sunday aloft, the supply was nearly diminished.

The nearest point where an additional supply could be obtained was Tulsa, Oklahoma, but the train which started forth immediately from that point with a new supply was unfortunately flocked off by a wreck ahead.

News of the mishap was sent on to St. Louis and the reply came back, "Send it by truck".

So a huge tank containing 800 gallons, was placed on the sturdy Chevrolet, and the drivers were ordered to "give it the gun".

Now, speeding a truck is all right under most conditions, but never so if it is a transport for gasoline. At a speed barely within the bound of safety, however, the truck started on its 450 mile trip late Sunday afternoon over a road that was mostly gravel.

Shortly after noon the next day the trip was completed without mishap. Amid cheers the Chevrolet pulled up alongside the refueling plane, and thus was obviated the necessity of switching brands of fuel—a step that was feared both by the pilots and the designer of the Robin's engine.

An interesting point in the part played by the Chevrolet was that it had been run only 15 miles before it undertook its emergency mission.

"BULLDOG DRUMMOND," ALL TALKIE, COMING

"If you really want adventure, I will expect you at the Green Bay Inn, four miles from Godalming, at midnight. Rooms will be reserved in the name of John Smith. If you are a gentleman you will not fail me because I am in hideous danger!"

If you were bored with life and wanted excitement, what would you do on receiving the above note? Ronald Coleman gets it in answer to a want-ad in "Bulldog Drummond," his new starring picture which comes to the Palace Theatre, Slaton, as an All Talkie, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Needless to say, it leads him on a mad chase of adventure and romance with few parallels in cinema history. Incidentally, the picture takes a humorous slap at every screen melodrama which has ever been conceived in Hollywood. Samuel Goldwyn, its producer, describes it as "satirical melodrama" and it is said to be the last work in laughter, thrills and excitement.

Ronald Coleman appears in "Bulldog Drummond" in an entirely new type of role for the famous screen lover. He is virtually chuckling throughout every scene, a decided change from the sombre hero of his earlier screen vehicles.

Joan Bennett, youngest daughter of the famous Broadway actor, Richard Bennett, makes her screen bow as the writer of the above note and heroine of the picture, while Lilyan Tashman, Montagu Love and Lawrence Grant furnish a trio of thorough-going villains. F. Richard Jones, who directed "The Gaucho" for Douglas Fairbanks handled the direction, with George Barnes as cameraman and Wallace Smith as scenarist.

ENTOMOLOGISTS COMMENTS ON BOLL WEEVIL SITUATION

COLLEGE STATION.—Commenting on the cotton boll weevil situation, R. R. Reppert, Extension Entomologist, has this to say:

"The situation as regards the stage of growth of the cotton crop and the presence of numerous insects is abnormal. Ordinarily we would advise that attempt at the control of the boll weevil this late in the season would be impractical, but with much of the acreage at this time devoid of any maturing bolls, it must be left to the judgment of the farmer as to whether he can afford yet to apply control measures. It will be very difficult to reduce boll weevil numbers to the point where a crop may be set in cases where practically all squares are now being punctured. But if farmers are determined to poison at intervals of four or five days and have the machinery available, it may yet be practical to make application of calcium arsenate in dust form. Five pounds per acre is used and application made while the dew is on."

Nevertheless, according to the drivers, not once did the motor heat up, nor have there been any consequent engine difficulties.

Quality of Dairy Products Must be Improved, Shepardson

COLLEGE STATION, Texas.—Increased consumption of dairy products depends very largely on producing a better quality product which the consumer will find more appetizing, Charles N. Shepardson, head of the husbandry department, A. & M. College of Texas, pointed out in an address before the dairy division of the Farmers Short Course. "It is to the producer that we must turn not only to improve the quality of the finished product, but to help eliminate some of the loss that he sustains at present, due to poor grade milk and cream," he said.

Two things are involved in producing clean milk, the speaker pointed out. The first consideration is the equipment. A strong, well-built barn should be provided with a separate room for the handling of the milk. The utensils should be of good quality and free from cracks. An adequate cooling system is the tubular cooler with circulating water or brine, or if this is not available, the producer will find the conical cooler with ice water in the center a very satisfactory method.

"The best equipment available is not a guarantee of clean milk if the operator is not careful in his methods," Mr. Shepardson said. The four important sources of dirt and contamination in milk to be considered are: The man, the cow, the utensil and the barn and corrals. Negligence in regard to one of these points may be the cause of sour cream and milk and failure in the dairy business. Sterilization may be either by the use of some chemical disinfectant in the rinse water or by heat. A better method is to steam the utensils. In cleaning utensils, dish rags should not be used because of the difficulty of keeping them clean and free from odors. The brush and plenty of good dairy washing powder is suggested as satisfactory method of cutting the film of casein from the utensils.

Milk should be cooled as soon as possible to 50 degrees or lower and if it must be set out on the road for the milk truck, it can be kept fairly cool by placing it under a shade with wet rags around it.

Even if you are a little unprepared, don't admit it. Better still, be prepared.

CIVIL SERVICE BARS CROOKS.

Nobody with a prison record need ever apply to his Uncle Sam for a job, for that ingenious gentleman uses the most scientific and effective way of identifying the criminal—by taking fingerprints. Time was when a crook could worm himself into the Civil Service, and a number of them did as was evidenced by the "inside tipping" that led to a series of mail robberies a few years ago.

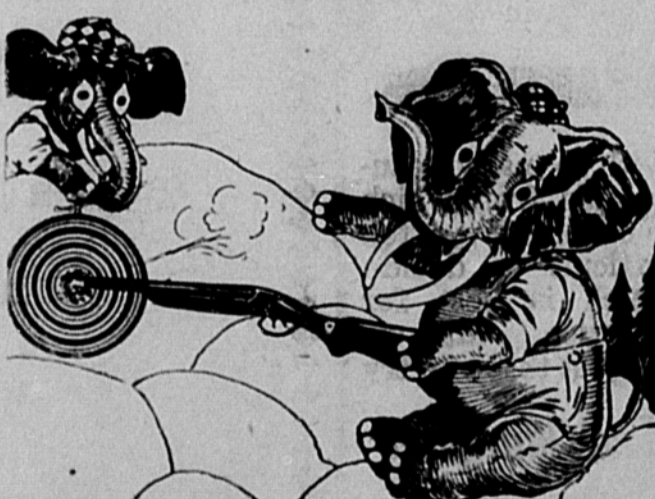

"Oh, dear," she replied, "I don't believe that I can afford it. My husband was six feet tall."
