Cooperative Creamery, Proposed Railway Discussed at Gathering Of Farmers and Local Merchants

Committee Appointed to Investigate Possibilities of Organizing Creamery; Webb, Evans, Principal Speakers at Quarterly Meeting

A committee to investigate possibilities of organizing a cooperative creamery for Howard county farmers and dairymen was appointed at the quarterly open membership meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, held in the district courtroom of the Howard County courthouse Tuesday night. The courtroom was crowded and it was estimated that between 200 and 250 farmers and Big Spring business men attended the meeting.

Ollie B. Webb, assistant to the president of the Texas & Pacific Railway, C. M. Evans, agricultural agent of the railway company, were the principal speakers.

Dr. E. O. Ellington, president of the commercial organization, presided at the meeting.

Although nothing definite was done in regard to organizing the creamery, the committee will meet at 10 a. m. Friday at the Chamber of Commerce office, to further discuss the proposition.

The committee is composed of Walter Coffey, W. M. Denton, W. H. Sneed, Earl Phillips, Ray McNew, John Bruton, Charlie Robinson, J. F. Thixton, T. E. Satterwhite, Ray Wilcox, T. S. Currie, C. W. Cunningham, Tom McKinn, J. V. Bush, Burney Cliffe and I. L. Cook.

A number of Colorado, Stanton and Lamesa residents attended the meeting. C. M. Anderson, manager of the Lamesa milk plant, W. M. Wilson, secretary of the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce, and A. H. Merrick, prominent Dawson County farmer, attended the meeting and spoke.

Webb continued his talk to discuss the proposed Texas & Pacific Northern Railway, from Big Spring to Vega, Lubbock and Amarillo. He declared, in his opinion, the chances to obtain permission from the Interstate Commerce Commission to construct the $15,000,000 road, were excellent, "to put it mildly."

In his opinion, he declared, there "seems to be little question of obtaining permission if the ones who have promised to do so 'go to the bat' as they say they will."

He explained the attitude of the commission, pointing out the main thing to be brought before the body is "how badly the area to be served really needs it."

In his judgment, he declared, "what we have to say in favor of the road, or what the Santa Fe has to say in opposition, will not matter materially. The greatest influence will come from the people living in this area." In discussing what the road would mean to Big Spring and Howard County, Webb declared it would start a revival of industry and furnish an excellent market for farm products, provide competitive conditions, make of Big Spring a greater county seat.

He explained that the railroad would not only enhance the value of property along the line but would increase taxable values over the county, would tend to give a greater development to agriculture, and would indirectly be responsible for bringing to this section farmers of neighboring states.

Evans, in opening his speech, declared the time is here when Texas boys can feed Texas "cattle on Texas farms with Texas feed and sell to Texas markets for a profit."

He declared the territory to be served by the new railway line "is the greatest in the world for feed stuffs."

Big Spring and the Texas and Pacific pioneered this area," he declared, "and returns now to find the country on a new basis. It is plowed up and is productive."

C. M. Anderson, manager of the Lamesa milk plant, and one of the organizers and former manager of a similar plant at Plainview, declared the cooperative creamery idea is a sound one. He declared from two to six cents' profit per pound of butterfat is paid at Plainview. He declared approximately 2,000 cows are needed to make a milk plant pay under present conditions.

The Plainview plant started with 2,000 cows available, and now has grown to 1,200 members, owning 6,000 productive cows. It made a profit the first month, and has every month since, he declared, out of construction of the cooperative creamery ranges from $20,000 to $50,000, he declared.

Wilson Here. Speaking of obtaining right of way for the proposed T. & P. N., W. M. Wilson, secretary of the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce, declared the first month, and has every month since, he declared, out of construction of the cooperative creamery ranges from $20,000 to $50,000, he declared.

Snow, Rain and Sunshine Texas' Weather Allotment As Cold Wave From Rockies Sweeps Over State

By The Associated Press

Snow, rain and balmy sunshine was Texas' weather combination today, as a cold spell moved in from the Rocky Mountain region.

Amarillo was favored by the snow flakes, first of the season to cross the Texas boundary, but they melted almost as quickly as they hit the ground. The temperature was 35 degrees at 9:30 a. m., and the same cold wind that was forcing the mercury down had penetrated as far southward as Wichita Falls, where the velocity was 30 miles. Rain was reported in Wichita Falls and Vernon.

El Paso reported a minimum of 33 degrees this morning, some rain and a trace of snow. Mountains in that section, for the second time this week, were blanketed with snow. The wind was blowing at the rate of 36 miles an hour there. It unroofed one house, tore down a power line and did other damage. C. E. Wright and his son escaped uninjured when the wind lifted the roof from their home.

The Dallas office of the United States weather bureau forecast a minimum temperature of 26 degrees in the northern part of the Texas Panhandle for the next 24 hours. West Texas was to have a temperature of 32 degrees and slightly lower.

Dallas and vicinity was to have cloudy weather and some rain, followed by fair weather within the next 24 hours, the weather bureau predicted.

SIXTY INJURED WHEN STORM STRIKES TOWN NEAR OKLAHOMA CITY

One Hundred Buildings in Small Town of Bethany Wrecked by Twisters; School Building Demolished During Wind

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 19 (AP)—Striking suddenly during a heavy rain today a tornado took a death toll of approximately 17 persons and injured sixty others in and near the little town of Bethany, seven miles west of here.

The downpour of rain continued several hours after the tornado twisted past, handicapping the efforts of relief workers. Over a foot of water stood in the town, in which 200 buildings were destroyed.

Before the wind struck Bethany, it demolished a school house at Camel, a short distance away, killing two pupils and injuring the teacher and other children in the building.

As the rain subsided, Red Cross, Salvation Army and National Guard relief workers were able to work faster in removing the dead and injured from the debris.

The entire eastern half of Bethany was razed by the wind, Hutchinson said. He believed many persons had been buried in the wreckage as roofs and sides of houses collapsed.

More than a foot of water was standing in the stricken town. Governor W. J. Holloway issued orders for all available space at the University Hospital here to be converted into emergency operating rooms.

Employees of the state health department were sent to this institution, to help render first aid.

The miraculous escape of Mrs. W. L. Burton and her baby, whose home was destroyed, was told by her husband.

Burton ran to his home after the storm to find his wife and child shivering in the heavy rain. When the wind struck, Mrs. Burton caught the baby in her arms. She sheltered it as the house collapsed.

The baby sustained only minor scratches while the mother escaped with lacerations.

An ambulance driver, Yates Hoover, accustomed to carrying on without a show of emotion, found the body of his father in the debris of his home.

Unable to find his mother, young Hoover rushed the body of his father to a hospital and then speeded back in search of her.

Before the storm struck Bethany, it demolished a school building near Campbell creek, killing Marquette Zurling, 14, Delbert Sharp, 12, and an unidentified person.

Miss Mary Proctor, the teacher, and several other pupils were injured. Farmers pulled the dead and injured from the wreckage.

Jack Zurling, a brother of one of the girls killed, brought all of them to the Oklahoma City hospital.

Adjutant General Charles Barrett ordered three companies of National Guard with a strength of 175 men into the storm swept area during the afternoon.

Claude Seaton, an aviator, made a survey to determine the extent of the storm. He reported the damage was confined to the immediate area near Bethany.

Floyd Roettger, 12, a pupil in the Campbell Creek school, told his Miss Proctor had made a valiant effort to save the children.

"It kept getting darker all the time, he related. I was looking out the window. Soon I heard a loud noise coming our way. I shouted:

"Here it comes!"

"The kids screamed. Miss Proctor told us to be quiet and all to fall to the floor. Every one did so, but before we were all down the school seemed to be sliding. Then all of a sudden it crashed.

"The next thing I remember was a man telling me to call an ambulance. When I got back, I carried Delbert Sharp to the Zurling home. I knew he was dead. Then I found Marquette Zurling and also carried her to Mrs. Zurling."

With approximately three-quarters of the organization's membership voting, the vote was 13,779 to 6,310 in favor of repeal. In the opinion of Hon. Oris L. Phillips, chairman of a sub-committee which counted the votes, however, the question whether any definite steps will be taken toward urging repeal probably will not be determined until the next annual meeting. This will be held in Atlantic City next September.

Don't Forget His Growing Mind

Miss Dorothy Jordan Outlines The Four Mental Stages In A Child's Development

YOUR child outgrows his little suits. They are still good, but you have to lay them away, or give them to the Orphans' Box, for they do not fit him any more. He has a ball. In his mind his ball is a wonderful thing. He must sleep with it. One day you find his ball under the dresser. He has forgotten it. His love is now more complex. He has a teddy bear which he carries about by one leg. He croons to it by the hour. Thus his little body grows and develops. And, swiftly keeping pace, so grows his little mind. In time it outgrows his body. But most mothers want to keep their children always babies. They see and admit with regret his bodily development, but they will not recognize that his mind has progressed and that its eager groping sensitiveness is casting about for something new—always something new. He must learn. He must read. So, according to Miss Dorothy Jordan, teacher of reading for

Do You Annoy Your Children? Chances Are That You Do, Says Expert At Angelo P.-T.A. Meet

WITH the rain and-sleet effectually closing the road to San Angelo those mothers and teachers of the local P.T.A. will have to abandon any attempt to attend the convention now going on there. Four North Ward members attended yesterday and several other women are now in Angelo. They all heard the interesting talk made by Dr. Garry C. Myers, head of the parental education division of the Western Reserve University and newspaper columnist, who spoke yesterday afternoon. Dr. Myers talk is reproduced here, taken from the San Angelo Standard Times.

For children to succeed in school, their home training in the six years preceding should be given with sympathy, helpfulness and understanding on the part of the parents rather than be hampered with criticisms and sarcasm, according to Dr. Myers, who spoke this afternoon to a large assembly of visitors and delegates to the Texas Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teachers Association in session here at the Hilton Hotel. The evening session will be held in the Municipal Auditorium rather than in the First Baptist Church and will begin at 8 o'clock with a musical concert by the San Angelo High School Band, and members of the Girls' Glee Club. E. M. N. Myers, state superintendent of education, will speak from 8:30 to 9:30 o'clock. Dr. Myers' address followed the opening business session at which reports of state chairmen and officers were made to the 262 delegates and a number of local visitors. Marked progress was shown from every bureau and department while about 120 life memberships were pledged.

"The parent is the child's greatest teacher because the things the child learns upon which he places the basis upon which he places practically everything else he learns," Dr. Myers said. "Among the things mothers and fathers can do to help their child succeed is that of training him in forming good habits of routine, such as regular hours of sleep, study, of meals and the proper amounts of food necessary for his development. School is the formal part of education."

The lack of training children in self-restraint was named by Dr. Myers as being one of the causes of the crime wave that comprises conversational topics today. "I deplore the fact that emphasis has been placed on self-restraint to such an extent that the need of self-restraint has been overlooked," Dr. Myers said. "A child must learn to respect authority in his early life or else he will learn it later at drastic cost."

"Parents make fatal mistakes when they laugh at their children and tend to destroy the personality of the child by not trying to understand his questions and to answer them in the same manner in which they were asked," Dr. Myers said. "The problem of emotional control is one that confronts every parent and it should be thoughtfully considered at all times and the parent should be constantly on guard to maintain helpful rather than destructive attitude toward the activities of the child, according to this lecturer, who speaks from practicalities and not theories and who does not maintain that he is the perfect father but one who is also facing the problems that confront others. Children should be made to feel responsibility and the value of carrying it well he continued."

Child Welfare Body Called

President Hoover To Address Conference Tonight

By BESS FULMAN
WASHINGTON, Nov. 19. (AP)—Their "home work" neatly done into printed reports, the 1200 experts set to work out the nation's child health and protection problems, assembled here today at the summons of their school-master, President Herbert Hoover.

With the men and women who have been working for more than a year on child welfare tasks specified by the president, came delegates who will swell to 3000 the number of those participating in the White House conference on child health and protection.

Like a gigantic school, with four separate sessions busy as bees on major phases of the subject, the conference will be in full swing tomorrow. But tonight was set aside to listen to the man who put the knotty sums on the slate. President Hoover's address, at 9 p. m., will be radioed by both the National Broadcasting Company and Columbia systems.

Time To Think Of Christmas

Bobby Jones Leaves Golfdom An Open Battle For Championships As Heritage Of His Retirement

By HERBERT W. BARKER Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK, Nov. 18. (AP)—Bobby Jones, master golfer of all times, who has retired from competition in order to make sound films, has left as a heritage a wide-open battle for the four American and British national championships he holds.

Nowhere on the horizon at present does there loom any amateur with the golfing gifts needed to duplicate Bobby's unprecedented feat of winning all four national titles in a single year, perhaps there never will be another Jones.

The stocky Atlanta lawyer, alone among amateurs, consistently has beaten the professionals at their own game. Four times he won the American open against the best pros and amateurs in the game and thrice the British open fell to his amazing skill.

With his retirement, it seems certain that the pros again will dominate both open tournaments for certain amateur ranks contain no figures even approaching Jones in shot-making ability or in steadiness under fire.

It is a coincidence, and an odd one, that in the last few months George von Elm and Johnny Goodman, the only players who have beaten Jones in the American amateur in the last seven years, both have announced their retirement as amateurs. Von Elm beat Bobby in the final round at Balustr in 1928 and Goodman eliminated him in the first round at Pebble Beach in 1929. In every other year the Atlantian emerged victor.

BOBBY JONES 'THE GREATEST'

"Most Natural" Press comment on Jones' decision to renounce his amateur status was almost uniformly favorable. The New York Herald-Tribune called Jones' decision "most understandable, most natural."

"Who in his position would not welcome the profitable opportunity to teach golf through motion pictures?" The editorial continued, "for the Atlanta lawyer's frank facing of the amateur problem there can be nothing but praise. He prefers not to be in any twilight zone but recognizes fully the commercial application of the motion picture contract. It is a straightforward, unequivocal decision and certainly neither the motives nor the attitude of Mr. Jones toward golf in its commercial phase can be criticized." Herbert H. Ramsay, president-elect of the United States Golf association, through whom Jones' statement was made public, paid this tribute to the champion: "He has unquestionably during his career made the greatest competitive record in the history of the game. Aside from that, though his character and personality are such that he has become a popular world figure. His withdrawal from competition will be greatly regretted by everyone." There were similar expressions of regret in England.

Friends of Tommy Armour Fail To Place Him On American Ryder Team

CHICAGO, Nov. 19. (AP)—Friends of Tommy Armour, professional golf champion of the United States, have lost their fight to gain a position for him on the American Ryder Cup team.

The Professional Golfers' Association of America, in annual convention here, last night voted that no player be permitted to compete on the team in the international matches with Great Britain unless born in America. The decision automatically barred the Detroit professional as he was born in Scotland. Armour did not play on the 1930 team either but his absence brought a storm of protests.

Dates for the 1931 Ryder Cup matches, to be decided over the Scioto Country Club course at Columbus, Ohio, were set for June 26 and 27 by the convention delegates.

The field for future national P.G.A. championships was increased from 64 to 100 by the association's vote last night. Included in the new rule was the provision torch bearer went to town and robbed a couple of blocks of stores, or something like that. Anyway, they got a new gate and a portion of a new fence, which is something, if not everything.

At last accounts Midland and Stanton would play Friday, afternoon. Such things as those two towns are saying about each other! It is too bad the game comes on the same day as the Ranger-Big Spring conflict. It probably will knock a couple of hundred fans out of accompanying the local team to the city of flowing gold.

James Was Proud Of Tickets To Football Game—Was Is Right

EVANSTON, Ill., Nov. 19. (AP)—James A. Thimios, owner of foodshop, loves football. He was the proud owner of two tickets to the Northwestern-Notre Dame game to be played here Saturday. For weeks he kept them in his cash drawer.

Then when a favored customer came in he would take them out for display purposes only.

Last night a policeman walking by the shop an hour after Thimios had locked up, noticed that the front door had been broken open. Nothing was disturbed except the cash register, the drawer of which was open with $20 lying there in plain sight.

But the tickets were gone.

Olympic Body Opens Parley

More Harmonious Session Than in 1926 Is Looked For

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19. (AP)—Close on the heels of the National Amateur Athletic Union convention, the American Olympic Association met today with prospects of a more harmonious session than that of four years ago.

Members looked for no repetition of the bitter battle for control which ended in the National Collegiate Athletic Association delegates walking out of the council room at the last quadrennial meeting here.

Leaders of the A.A.U. and the N.C.A.A. were firmly resolved to keep the hatchet buried while at the same time determined to give their respective organizations as strong a voice as possible in Olympic affairs. The principal points of difference were expected to be the election of officers and a two-thirds rule embodied in the new constitution which is to be submitted.

It was by defeating the two-thirds rule in 1926 that the A.A.U. with the necessary majority, made the most of its numerical superiority and climbed into the driver's seat.

Meeting every four years, the association, headed by Dr. Graeme M. Hammond, faced the task of doing in a single day all the organizing groundwork for America's participation in the Olympic games at Los Angeles a year from next summer.

Among the delegates were many of the individuals prominent in the A.A.U. convention which ended yesterday with the re-election of President Avery Brundage of Chicago.

At the concluding session ten athletes were announced as adjudged the outstanding figures in American amateur sport today.

Bobby Jones' name led them all, although the committee which announced the selections stated the belief Bobby had "eliminated himself" by having withdrawn from amateur competition.

The others were: Clarence De Mar, marathon runner; Miss Helen Madison, swimmer; Mrs. Helen Wills Moody, tennis queen; Barney Bestlinger, track and field; Stella Walsh, sprinter; Ray Ruddy, swimmer; Tommy Hitchcock, polo ace; Harlow Rothert, Stanford shot putter and all-around athlete; and George Simpson, Ohio State's sprinter who has covered 100 yards in 9.25 seconds with starting blocks.

BOBBY JONES MAY HOLD TO SOLON GROUP

NEW YORK, Nov. 19. (AP)—Bobby Jones' retirement has brought up the question of his eligibility to continue to sit in the councils of the United States Golf association as a member of the executive committee.

Informally at least, Herbert H. Ramsay, president-elect of the association, has taken the position that there is no reason why Jones' withdrawal from competition should persuade him to resign from the committee.

Jones, who with Harrison R.

SAVOLDI WILL GO WITH 'ROCK'

NEW YORK, Nov. 19. (AP)—The committee arranging details for the benefit football game between the Notre Dame All-Stars and the New York Giants here on Sunday, December 14, announces that Joe Savoldi, battering ram fullback will appear in the All-Stars lineup.

Savoldi, star of this year's Notre Dame eleven, withdrew from school a few days ago because of marital difficulties.

CROWELL — Sealed proposals being received for paving portion of Houston Street adjacent to Courthouse square.

FIELD TRIALS OPEN

WINTA, Okla., Nov. 19. (AP)—With Simco, a pointer dog owned by Harold M. Balch of Tulsa, leading as champion of the 1930 American Field Futurity, national classic for bird dogs, the annual Southwestern field trials got under way here today.

Simco won the national event yesterday in competition with a setter field, not another pointer getting into the money. Second place went to Bog's Spectre Lad, owned by J. E. Olive, New York; third to Lolo's Betty Lou, owned by Lolo Kirkpatrick, Chelsea, and fourth to Tinbrook, owned by M. E. McMeel, Jr., Yates Center, Kans.

Witness the photograph above. It was autographed and mailed to us. It isn't a collar ad advertisement. It's Dangerous Daniel McCarty. Dangerous Daniel, who provides the meat for this thump nail sketch, goes to Ranger high school, or should as he is playing football for Ranger high school. To the best of our knowledge, Mr. McCarty started playing football for Ranger back in 1928. No, he wasn't born of Ranger soil. He lived at Caddo, and finding himself torn between two loves—Breckenridge and Ranger—went to Ranger. For which Ranger is very grateful for Dangerous Daniel is one of the sweetest ball toters in Texas high school football circles. This young man, with his swift arches and ball bearing hips, will be among those present Friday afternoon when the Steers take on the Bulldogs. Members of teams who have played against the Bulldogs declare McCarty has the best shaped heels of any player in the district. They should know, as they have had plenty of opportunities to view them. Big Spring would do well to sic Brownie Hanshaw, Hopper, Eddie Maxwell, Heblson, Glover, Cotts, Fardus and Rogers on this man at the same instant. In that manner maybe he can be stopped. The question is who is left to handle Chuckaluck Bird? Schwatzenbach, 135 pounds, more or less, probably will get that assignment. We won't charge Mr. McCarty anything for us permitting him to get his picture in this most prominent position.

The schedule in this district for the week calls for San Angelo at Breckenridge, Abilene at Mineral Wells, Sweetwater at Brownwood. Prospective winners in order, Breckenridge, Abilene, Sweetwater, (maybe Brownwood.)

Judgment Against Man Whose Automobile Was Responsible For Death

CHICAGO, Nov. 19. (AP)—The owner of a parked automobile which subsequently rolls down a hill responsible for whatever damage it does before it comes to a stop.

A jury in Judge Walter P. Steffen's court, presented with this unusual question, yesterday decided that the owner is responsible and awarded judgment of $3000 to Chris Kupchris in favor of J. J. Velus, whose son, Francis J. Velus, was killed in such an accident.

The boy lay asleep under a tree when the automobile came crashing down on him in a forest preserve. His father's attorney argued that the boy, when he lay down to sleep, had a right to consider himself safe, and that there was no legal need for him to take any precautionary measures.

COCHRAN WINS

NEW YORK, Nov. 19. (AP)—With one-third of the long grind behind him, Welker Cochran held a lead of 630 points over Willie Hoppe in their world's 181 billiards championship today.

Cochran, who won the first two blocks by comfortable margins, duplicated again yesterday taking the afternoon session 300 to 152 and the evening block, 300 to 183. The grand totals were Cochran 1200; Hoppe 570. Eight more blocks will be played.

Cochran flashed a sensational burst of billiards in the afternoon block yesterday when he ran 154 to shatter the world's record of 143 set in 1901 by the late Frank Ives.

RATES REDUCED

AUSTIN, Nov. 19. (AP)—Application of the Texas Mexican railroad to reduce passenger rates from 2 cents to 2 cents a mile was granted by the Texas Railroad Commission today.

The rate was allowed to meet motor-bus and private automobile competition. It extends along the railroad's route from Corpus Christi to Laredo.

The Texas-Mexican was the second railroad to ask the drastic cut in fares as an experiment to determine whether passenger revenues could be increased. The Texas-Pacific led the way with a reduction in fares as an experiment to determine whether passenger revenues could be increased. The Texas-Pacific led the way with a reduction on its Fort Worth to Big Spring line.

TRAFFIC CRIPPLED

NEW YORK, Nov. 19. (AP)—New York and the Atlantic seaboard today entered the fifth day of lowering fog and wintry rain.

From the Canadian border to the tip of Florida, traffic on land and sea in the region was crippled by the misty mantle and its sister element. Points as far inland as Pittsburgh were affected by fog and Boston and Jacksonville, Fla., were under continued bombardment from the clouds. Sea traffic moved slowly, and automobiles crept on slippery pavements and flights were held to a minimum.

EVERYDAY QUESTIONS

Answered By
Dr. S. Parkes Cadman

Questions from readers are answered by the Rev. Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, Radio Minister of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America. Dr. Cadman seeks to answer inquiries that appear to be representative of the trends of thought in the many letters which he receives.

Indianapolis, Ind. What is psychiatry?
Psychiatry is the scientific study and treatment of mental and active mental disorders. Formerly victims of disease, madly looked upon as under the curse of fate or the domination of Satan.

Indianapolis, Ind. His purpose, and He will achieve that purpose because it is All-wise and All-God. God being what He is, man is immortal. I also believe He is immortal because of the revelation in Christ, which harmonizes with and transcends what I have set down here. The experience of all who have trusted that revelation confirms my assurance. If Jesus went from the Cross to His Father, and promised that He would meet His friends in the Father's presence, the entire matter is settled for me. This may sound dogmatic; nevertheless, I am content to accept Christ's word for I do not know any authoritative source so trustworthy.

Des Moines, Iowa. I am a young man, a college graduate and a liberal. If you know what I mean, my point is that if our parents and grandparents had not been so strict with the younger generation, would we have had a better chance. What do you think?
It is a common habit of your group to accuse the older groups of staidness, stuffiness, prudery and fear of life. If by this indictment you infer that our immediate ancestors were Puritans to the limit the inference is quite misleading. Full-blooded men and women of the world who reared their children in the most abundant life to one hundred years ago as they are now. I have no desire to pose as an old smasher. But the social reforms of the Victorian period grew out of the argument of a woman who lived during that period. She said, "Our men were trained in a bad school. Gambling was rampant in its varied forms. Politics, literature, art and religion had their bad half hours. In those days the rules of the world prevailed the same courses and made much the same excuses then which their successors pursue and make now. I congratulate you on being a liberal! If by that you mean that you will not allow tradition to stifle truth, nor conventionalism to stifle your best ideals. But take care those ideals are of the best. Whenever you practice them, they may turn again and tend you."

Brooklyn, N. Y. Do you believe in a conscious personal existence after death? I want to find out as far as possible the basis on which this belief rests.
My personal belief in conscious personal existence after death is based upon the evidence of the total life process itself. The Bible and science agree that life moves toward a richer, higher, firmer. The good becomes the giant, the waving harvests of tomorrow are looked up in the dusty bins of today. Second man is at the climax of this restless life movement. That bodily death can mean his finish is simply incredible to me in the face of all the evidence we have in our possession. I hold steadfastly that every individual is destined to fulfill the promise of his own nature. It is undeniable that this promise is not fulfilled here and now. It has potentials beyond our dreams of which the noblest and best of our kind have given us hints.

Again, I believe in conscious personal existence because I believe in the living personal God. He has supreme control. He would that man should be. No man-made factors could have produced man apart from God's creative intervention. Those factors are but the instruments of

Robison Is Convicted

Of Manslaughter, Term of Sentence Withheld. ALTUS, Okla., Nov. 19 (AP)—The second of two Robison brothers today faced a penitentiary sentence in connection with the slaying August 29 of Elmer Carter, Jackson county deputy sheriff, who was killed as he attempted to halt a truck carrying liquor making paraphernalia.

Vernon Robison was convicted of manslaughter by a district court jury which left the sentence to the court. Judge Frank Mathews did not set a date for sentencing.

George Robison, alleged to have been the actual slayer, was sentenced to life upon his conviction of murder a month ago.

Ernest Jackson of Vernon, Texas, with the Robison brothers when Carter was killed and Joe Whitt, Altus police chief, was killed by a bullet, is held in the county jail here on murder charges. Date of his trial has not been set.

MECHANIC HURT

ALTUS, Okla., Nov. 19 (AP)—Leslie Hamilton, Tipton mechanic, was critically injured and his wife less seriously hurt in a motor car accident east of here last night.

Hamilton lost control of his car and it overturned in a ditch. A four months baby and 16-year-old nephew of the Hamiltons were unharmed. Hamilton has serious chest injuries.

Police Patrol Madrid Area

60 Jailed. MADRID, Nov. 19 (AP)—Armed with sawed off shot guns and side arms, police patrolled this city today while the government took final steps to break up a communist plot to upset the thronand establish a republic.

More than 60 communist and republican leaders of Madrid have been jailed since Monday when authorities first discovered the plot, and a similar round-up has been ordered in the provinces where general strikes still are in progress.

As revealed by government officials the communist and republican agitators planned to create disturbances here yesterday morning and in the ensuing confusion bring about the fall of the government and the monarchy.

Authorities believe the movement lacked any considerable strength, considering the diversity of character in the elements concerned and that little co-ordination could have been expected from leaders of the two cliques. Their arrest is believed definitely to have terminated the threat, but as a precautionary measure guards in the city are being maintained in doubled number.

Alarmist reports circulated today to the effect that various units of the army were involved in the conspiracy were denied by government officials.

The government hopes to bring about termination today or tomorrow of the general strike conditions which have paralyzed Barcelona, Alicante, Oviedo and other Spanish cities, causing clashes in which five persons have died and several hundred have been injured.

STRIKE CALLED

SEVILLE, Spain, Nov. 19 (AP)—A general strike was called in Seville today, disorders following immediately when striking workers clashed with police. Two persons were wounded.

Strike delegations visited shops and factories and dragged out workmen who did not cease their labors willingly.

The strike was entirely unexpected. It was called apparently in sympathy with the movement earlier this week in Madrid and Barcelona.

GO BACK TO WORK

BARCELONA, Spain, Nov. 19 (AP)—Squads of police patrolled Barcelona's streets today as thousands of workers, who for two days have been away from their jobs on a general strike, went back to work.

The resumption was only partial, however, and other thousands of workmen, most of them absent, spent the day in the country on picnics.

Trucks and buses operated today but there were few taxis because of a shortage of gasoline. Police trucks carrying food for distribution had large signs: "We are carrying food, do not attack."

PROBE DEATHS

MEDELLIN, Columbia, Nov. 19 (AP)—Two physicians of the National Laboratory of Hygiene in Bogota arrived here today to investigate the deaths of sixteen children in a private hospital after inoculation of diphtheria toxin.

The toxin was said by officials to have been administered by a young hospital interne, Gonzalo Ramirez, in mistake for antitoxin. When the mistake was discovered he became insane. Thirty three other children inoculated were alive today, but their condition was said to be serious.

Don't Forget

The child finally tires of realism and passes into a realm of fancy and magic.

It is natural for a child to go into this stage now, for he has begun to do things for himself. And without imagination little can be accomplished.

Weed Out The Untrue

Now is necessary to weed out certain fairy tales. This is especially true of those that uphold untrue morals or false ideals. To be specific one may take the story of "Pass in Boots." Here we have a character that is large and good for nothing. He becomes rich through trickery and deceit. Unconsciously the child decides that the one aim of life is wealth or riches. Perhaps one story of this type might not be detrimental to your child, but a succession of such stories gradually rubs off the clear cut edge of the ideal and the child begins to think that honesty may not be so important after all.

A rapidly developing mind soon tires of fanciful and unreal stories and begins to demand stories with more plot and real action. The child goes into his stage of hero worship.

He wants true human experience. He wants characters for which he can express a deep sympathy and a deeper interest.

Watch His Friend

Children's friends should be carefully chosen now, for each person with whom he comes in contact makes a lasting impression on him. He now chooses his ideal which will go far toward influencing his life.

Do not give him didactic or preaching stories at this stage, for they will more than likely cause his individuality to react in the opposite way.

Don't set before him too "good" or impossible characters. Let them be faulty enough to be human. A child's reading well directed at this period will keep him out of that well known mischievous or bad stage.

The crucial period of the development of the child really begins when he is twelve to fourteen, both mentally and physically. Psychologists now say that he goes into the romantic stage of his reading.

He is changing from a child into an adult, as we know.

Now he is wondering about the mystery of life. His sex awakens in him. It is new and amazing. Too much supervision cannot be given the child at this period.

The Awkward Age

He is now at the awkward age and is becoming extremely self-conscious.

Guard him against the over-sentimental, flashy, noisy sentimental love story. This is the child's mental food. Don't poison his mind for the ideas and ideals absorbed from reading circulate through his mind and he will give them out again in his actions.

Three good tests to use in selecting a book for your children:

1. Has the story any literary merit?
2. Will it interest the child?
3. Will what it adds to the child's life, be for his good? Is the ideal true? Does it have sound standards, fine spirit and a healthful atmosphere?
