MARCH 28TH, 1930.

EDITOR OF THE SLATONITE,

DEAR MR. RODERICK:

For the purpose of protecting the citizens of Slaton and community from imposters soliciting donations for first one thing and another and claiming to be endorsed by the American Legion, I desire to inform you and request that you give it publicity that any one having the endorsement of the American Legion will upon demand be able to present credentials signed by the Commander and attested by the Adjutant of Luther Powers Post No. 438.

On Thursday morning four people, two men and two women were in Slaton soliciting funds for the "Disabled Veterans of the World's War" claiming to have the endorsement of the Mayor, the Chamber of Commerce and of the American Legion, none of which was true; they did not have the endorsement of any one of the three, and it is for this reason that the local post of the American Legion desires that you inform the public through the columns of your paper that any one claiming to be endorsed by the American Legion should have credentials written on the local post's stationery and bearing the signatures of the Commander and Adjutant and unless they do have these credentials to produce upon demand, they are impostors.

Thanking you for this and the many other courtesies shown this post by your esteemed paper, I am,

> Cordially yours, D. E. KEMP, Commander, Luther Powers Post No. 438 AMERICAN LEGION, Department of Texas.

"The Lost Zeppelin" Is Huge Talking Thrill

"The Lost Zeppelin," Tfifany's alltalking special, with Conway Tearle, Virginia Valli and Ricardo Cortez heading a great cast, opens at the Palace Theatre on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

This is considered as one of the great pictures of the year, dealing as it does with romance, and thrilling adventures near the South Pole. The picture gives a clear idea of the hardships Commander Byrd's expedition is going through, and also of what the Graf Zeppelin will encounter when she tries her Polar flight, as planned.

The story of "The Lost Zeppelin" tells of Commander Hall, an explorer, who on the eve of departing for the antarctic regions, learns that his wife oves his aide, Tom Armstrong. She asks him for a divorce but he advises her to wait until the return of the expedition. The Zeppelin starts for the South Pole and is wrecked on the antarctic continent. All except Hall and Armstrong perish.

An aeroplane comes to the rescue in response to a wireless call for help, but only one passenger can be taken away. Hall orders Armstrong to go, telling him it is for the sake of his wife. Mrs. Hall has picked up radio hulletins as to the plight of her husband and Armstrong, and when she learns of the rescue of the young man

To obtain good municipal government, the citizens need to vote at all local elections, and to vote for the best andidates, regardless of politics, pulls, and prejudices. They need to form intelligent opinions about local problems, and discuss these issues with their friends, and join in movements to have them solved correctly.

PALM SUNDAY AND HOLY WEEK

Sunday, April 13th, ushers in Palm Sunday, and commemorates the triumphal entry of Jesus into the Holy City, when the multitude sang Hosanna's, strewing palm leaves in His pathway. This Passion Week or Holy Week, especially solemnizes the passion of our Lord. Maundy Thursday and Good Friday are especial days in this week, when men are encouraged to meet and break bread with each other, and clean the heart of malice one for the other.

We should reflect upon the scenes that were enacted in Jerusalem, during the week we now reverence, in ber reflection upon those events, applyng to ourselves a cleaning and scourging of the mind of evil thoughts with due reverence to that Sublime GALA BRIDGE PAR Character, that we may rejoice in the many, promises given humanity, and that He has gone to prepare an abidare suffering in mind, body and estate. May grace be given then to fight the trials of this life, and that their faith may be abiding. Remem-ber the week, Passion or Holy Week.

STATEMENTS BEING MADE

Attention has been called to statements being made concerning Mercy Hospital, that in their very nature are not only misleading, but grossly erroneous.

Statements of such character are vicious to circulate, and one should think twice before repeating or entertaining such misstatements. It is be ing circulated that people will not avail themselves of the good offices of this institution, because there are so many deaths taking place there.

This statement is false on its face. as there have been but three deaths since the institution opened, two of these were accident cases, with no hope held out for recovery from the time of their admittance to their demise, the other case when passed upon placed in the same category.

The records of Mercy Hospital are open to any that wish to vesify the statements. Let us not make state-ments that do not contain a grain of truth. Mercy Hospital is a Slaton in stitution. If you are for Slaton, sup port her institutions.

He looked at the papers on the table. "Having a burn-up?" he asked pleasantly. And then: "How much stuff have you got?"

Here Danty lied. He could not tell the truth about money.

The conference was a brief one. They agreed to visit the aerodrome that evening and make final preparations for their journey. The journey through the suburbs into outer London was a silent one; now and again Danty lifted the flap at the back of the hired car in which they were traveling, and peered along the darkening road.

He pushed his companion aside and peered. "There's a motor lorry: has that got anything on us?" he demanded.

Danty said nothing. No man could know the terror that was in his heart.

Behind him stalked the grim sha of vengeance, and every second he ex-pected to see the hawklike face of the Gunner peering into his from the darkness.

Danty did not go near his flat. He telephoned to Pi Coles and they met in the park, Pi bringing with him an overcoat and wrap which were to be Danty's sole luggage. 165 N. Panhandle Ave.

It's wise to choose a SIX!

After all, it is a perfectly simple matter to decide which automobile to buy in today's market. Only two questions must be answered to your satisfaction-

First: Which car gives the most for my money?

Second: Which car represents the soundest investment in satisfaction and pride of ownership?

In buying a low-priced car consider the following facts:

It is wise to choose a six-cylinder motor-for six cylinders are necessary to take out vibration and roughness. Six-cylinder smoothness will save the motor, the chassis, the body, the passengers and the driver.

Six-Cylinder Motor

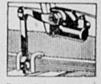

The Chevrolet is a six. And yet it sells at a price that anyone can afford to pay.

This very low-priced car lasts longer, not only because of fine materials and oversize parts, but also because it is a six. Its big, smooth, 50-horsepower six-cylinder engine is always "taking it easy." There is no feeling of strain.

This makes it unnecessary to take the axle apart to examine or clean it.

The new Chevrolet Six is full of such evidence that true motor car economy comes from modern advancement and refinement.

Like the finest cars, the Chevrolet Six provides the comfort and protection of four springs controlled by hydraulic shock absorbers. They are mounted lengthwise, in the direction of car travel, and self-adjusting spring shackles maintain quiet.

Delco-Lovejoy Shoel Absorbers

With low suspension and extra wheelbase, the Chevrolet Six has excellent proportions.

Its impressive front view is distinguished by the genuine honeycomb radiator, another mark of modern cars.

The gasoline tank is in the rear, for safety and finer appearance.

Chevrolet beauty instantly says "Body by Fisher"-costly car style, with the permanent quiet of Fisher composite steel-andwood construction.

With all its six-cylinder smoothness and power the New Chevrolet Six uses no extra gasoline or oil. Efficient design makes this possibleoverhead valves-high compression power from any fuel-very latest carburetor-closefitting, long-wearing pistons-crankcase ventilation-air cleaner. You can really have extreme economy and still satisfy your ideal of truly modern transportation.

Chevrolet economy is also the mark of Chevrolet sincerity in manufacture. To illustrate:

Chevrolet valves are readily accessible and adjustable. This saves replacing valves, and also makes it possible to preserve the efficiency of the engine.

Fully Enclosed Brakes

A similar example is found in Chevrolet's molded brake lining-reducing the necessity of frequent replacement, and consequent expense.

Furthermore, there is a rear axle inspection plate on the Chevrolet.

There is just as much extra value everywhere in the car. BY ANY STANDARD the Chevrolet Six is the greatest value in the low-price field.

It is wise to choose the Chevrolet Six with its six-cylinder valve-in-head motor . . . with full scientific equipment ... with its Body by Fisher ... with four long semi-elliptic springs, long wheelbase, low suspension, rear-mounted gas tank, honeycomb radiator and all the other features of this day and age.

Washington, D. C., April 11th-President Hoover will use every lawful means in the power of the President of the United States to enforce the Prohibition laws and other Federal criminal laws.

He does not expect to achieve 100 percent enforcement. He does not know to what percentage it can be enforced. He knows that 100 percent is humanly impossible, in the case of this or any other laws. The ten commandments are not fully obeyed after 3,300 years of attempted enforcement. But his effort to enforce it will utilize 100 per cent of the facilities which the law puts into his hands. But 100 percent of Federal facilities are really only about one-third of the forces needed on the job. About 33 percent must be done by the state and 33 percent by local police because the en forcement of Prohibition is a tripartite action of national, state and local authorities

It ought not to be necessary to state the President's position on Pro-hibition enforcement at this time. He has stated it himself often enough and clearly enough. But there is a large element of the population of the United States which is accustomed to dis- sizing the point that he still holds the count the statements and promises of politicians, and in this element are to be found many who do not realize that the man now in the White House is a different kind of man.

President Hoover has no quarrel with the right of any man to agitate the cooperation of the public. for the repeal of any law which he does not approve, including the 18th Amendment. He does not believe that they will succeed, for 14 state can block it.

that it is his duty to demand of Congress that it give him better tools to work with in carrying out the Federal part of the job of enforcement which has been put up to him.

The weakness of the position of the present proponents of Prohibition repeal is their failure to recognize the fact that the thought of the whole a law, their duty as honest men and civilized world has been concentrating on this problem of liquor traffic regulation by law for at least three generations. Russia under the Czar had abolished vodka long before th war. France placed absinthe under the ban and is now trying to develop a plan to abolish cognac. Belgium ha abolished hard drinks. Sweden's "Gothenburg system" of controlling the traffic in liquor is among the most famous of governmental efforts in this direction and was initiated a great many years ago. Americans generally are familiar with the vigorous and various methods which have been adopted at different times by the Canadian provinces, as well as the efforts of numerous of the United States which had resulted in 70 percent of more of this country, geographically, being to all intents and purposes "dry" before the Eighteenth Amendment was adopted. The forces, social, economic and political, which

And that, as he sees it, is what he as elected for.

Mr. Hoover was nominated for the Presidency on a platform which declared in no ambiguous terms for "the vigorous enforcement of this provision of the Constitution."

,Mr. Smith's platform called for "an onest effort to enforce the Eighteenth Amendment."

There is no national dfiference of opinion on this phase of the subject. the action of both houses In other words, Mr. Hoover took office, as he believes, with a clear have a more efficient enforcement ma-mandate from the people of the United chine, under better control, than he year, of which only 10,000 or so go States to enforce the Eighteenth has had up to now. How important he regards it is easily deduced from the emphasis which he laid upon it in his inaugural Prohibition Unit and the Narcotics address and in his first regular message to Congress.

I am going to quote here from the President's public utterances, emphasame views.

"I have been elected to enforce and execute the laws of the country." Mr. Hoover said in his inaugural address. But he recognized there that the prohibition law can be enforced only with "The measure of success that the Govern-ment shall attain," he said, "will depend upon the moral support which you, as citizens, extend.

"The duty of citizens to support the He has stated his own view as op-posed to its repeal. He insists also laws of the land is coequal with the the laws which exist. For our citizens to patronize the violation of a particu lar law on the ground that they are opposed to it is destructive of the very basis of all that protection of life, of homes and property which they rightly claim under other laws," he said on women is to discourage its violation; their right is openly to work for its re peal. But his active afforts at enforcement of the law are aimed at the professional lawbreakers "To those of criminal mind," he said at the same time, "there can be no appeal but vigorous enforcement of the law.

Well, what is President Hoover doing or trying to do, with or about 'those of criminal mind" in the mater of prohibition enforcement? He tackled this problem in the way

The facts about Prohibition, so far as the laws on the subject go and the responsibility upon him for their enforcement are concerned, have not changed since Mr. Hoover became President. He has no option, sees it, but to go ahead and do the best he can under the laws as they exist, meantime asking Congress to change those laws only so far as necessary to enforce the basic law more effecitvely.

The President has not asked Conrress to change the basic Prohibition law. What he would do if Congress should change it, modify it to permit the sale of light wines and beer, for example, or raise the permitted alcoholic content of beverages, is a question which I cannot answer and which Mr. Hoover himself probably would not answer except in the light of the facts at the time as they might occur

Iso-Thermic Tubes For Automatic Fast Freezing

Here is a feature that will appeal to every user of electric refrigeration-a special Kelvinator com partment that gives extra-fast freezing, auto cally. Note the spiral coil of Iso-Thermic Tubes, indicated by arrows. This is, in effect, a Cold Plate, in which intense cold is concentrated. Ice cubes and desserts are frozen in half the usual time.
