Slaton People Attend Meeting at Estacado

A number of people from Slaton attended the monthly workers' council of the Lubbock Baptist association, held Tuesday at Estacado, about thirty miles north of here. Luncheon was served at noon by the host church. Those who attended from here, representing the First Baptist church of this city were: Mesdames C. W. Wilks, W. P. Florence, P. G. Stokes, Lloyd Wilson, E. C. Foster, L. E. Worley, O. Z. Ball, E. F. Jarman, and Arthur Dennis; Miss Freddie Marie Worley, Dr. E. C. Foster, C. V. Young and Rev. W. F. Ferguson, pastor of the local church.

The Slaton delegates report a good meeting at Estacado. The associational organization of the Baptist women elected Mrs. W. L. Patillo, of Lorenzo, as president of the W. M. S. of the association. She succeeds Mrs. W. M. Lawrence.

Smith, Wilson To Chicago for Meet of Rotary Clubs

W. H. (Bill) Smith, out-going president, and Lloyd A. Wilson, president-elect, of the Slaton Rotary club, will leave here Saturday morning via the Santa Fe to attend the 25th annual convention of Rotary International, in Chicago, the birthplace of Rotary. The two men will return here on Sunday, June 29. They will reach Chicago Sunday night, and will attend the convention from Monday morning to Friday night, leaving there that night and reach Slaton at noon the following Sunday.

President Smith's term of office at the head of the club will end on July 1, when he will be succeeded by Mr. Wilson.

Slaton Man Asks Recognition for Legion Fathers

A resolution, asking that some kind of organization or movement be started to give "proper and deserved recognition to fathers of American Legion members, living or dead, thus honoring the men whose sons served their country during the World War," was adopted here Sunday afternoon at the closing session of the 18th District American Legion convention.

The resolution will be presented to the Texas Legion Department, with the request that it be submitted to the National Legion body for final approval and action.

G. H. Brown, service officer of the local Legion post here, is the author of the proposal, which was made and adopted on "Father's Day." Durwood H. Bradley, Lubbock, district attorney and member of Allen Brothers Post there, made the principal address supporting the resolution. It was passed unanimously amid vigorous applause.

The plan of recognizing mothers of veterans, as is now being followed by the U. S. government in sending Gold Star mothers to France to visit their son's graves, was praised by the Legionnaires, but they declared some kind of recognition was also due to the men whose sons were sacrificed in the World War, and also all whose sons were in service during the conflict.

Another resolution passed by the district body here Sunday urged that the various Legion districts of Texas be ranked according to their success in reaching membership quotas when the parade is held at the state convention in Austin on September 1. At this time, the 18th district has 106 per cent of its quota, the membership being 3,568, while the quota for this year was placed at 3,350. The 18th district is leading Texas in per cent of membership quota reached.

Slaton Man Is Santa Fe Agent Southland

R. L. Bell, of Slaton, formerly of Wellington, Kansas, has been appointed agent at Southland to fill the vacancy left by Verne Walden, who was promoted to station agent at Crowell.

Mrs. J. A. Young has been retained as night operator.

DISTRICT LEGION MEET HERE WAS ACCLAIMED BIG SUCCESS

"Miss Slaton" To Be Selected

The most unusual opportunity ever offered local girls will be Monday June 23, at the Palace theatre, when "Miss Slaton" will be selected to enter "The Miss Plains Beauty Pageant," with eliminations at the Palace theatre, Lubbock, July 27-28, where seven judges will select "Miss Plains" to enter the International Pageant of Pulchritude, Galveston, Texas, August 2-6, where $3,000 in cash will be given to the various winners. "Miss United States" will be selected; also "Miss Universe." All contestants will be judged on poise, figure, appearance, and personality according to David Dallis, manager and director of the "Miss Plains Pageant."

Other Towns Entered

"Miss Slaton" will compete with "Miss Greater Lubbock," "Miss Silver Falls," "Miss Plainview," "Miss Tulla," "Miss Dimmitt," "Miss Amarillo," "Miss Pampa," "Miss Borger," and "Miss Levelland." This is the first official contest that has ever been staged in Slaton, and much interest is being shown.

Merchants To Select Girls

According to Dallis, the merchants will select girls to represent them in the "Miss Slaton" Beauty pageant. Quite a number of local merchants have agreed to enter girls to represent their business since the pageant has been endorsed and recommended by the local Chamber of Commerce.

In view of the fact that the Palace theatre is "wired" with talking equipment and the stake is too small for the revue, the "Miss Slaton pageant" will be presented at the Texas Theatre.

Part of the proceeds will go to the local American Legion Post. The cooperation of the public will be appreciated. A photoplay will be shown with the revue. "Miss Levelland" and "Miss Lubbock" will appear in person, also "Miss Price" who conducts a dancing school will do several dance numbers.

"Dregs", a one-act comedy play will be presented Monday evening at the Texas theatre by the Community players of Lubbock, in connection with the beauty pageant which will be staged at that time.

The cast includes David Vaughan, Nydia Young and David Dallis. Miss Mildred Price, who won second place in the beauty pageant staged at Lubbock, will give a dance number. This promises to be a very amusing play-let.

County Democratic Committee Meets

The Democratic Executive committee met Monday at Lubbock. The voters of Lubbock county are advised just what is expected of them in the Primary, to the effect that they will be expected, if they vote in the primary, they must pledge to support the nominees of their party. There will be no change made in the nature of the pledge that will appear on the ballot. The pledge will be that "I am a Democrat and pledge myself to support the nominees of this primary." "And any ballot which shall not contain such printed text above the names of the candidates thereon shall be void and shall not be counted." It is stated there are 49 candidates that have filed for the various offices, and the assessments levied for each office or candidate, some of them come high for the privilege of being a candidate. So they all start from the wire, and there will be some mighty good fence riders, holding the voters in line for the primary which will be July 26. This falls on Saturday and we should have a fine time over the county. All candidates have merit and they will surely tell you what these merits are. Any way a good time to get better acquainted.

Tess Bruner is visiting with relatives and friends in Strawn this week.

Attendance Passes 300 Mark; Programs Were Excellent

In spite of unfavorable weather conditions which kept scores of delegates from attending, the 18th District American Legion convention which was held here Saturday and Sunday, had over 300 people in attendance from twenty-five different Legion Posts and sixteen different Auxiliary units of Northwest Texas. The convention was declared by the delegates to have been one of the best, all things considered, that the district has ever held.

Besides the threatening weather which kept many delegates from coming to the convention, the plans that had been made to run a special train from Amarillo to Slaton, bringing 150 to 200 delegates, were abandoned at the last minute, thus reducing the anticipated attendance.

The convention opened at 1 p. m. Saturday when registration began. A theatre matinee at the Palace theatre, skating at Selmon's skating rink, entertainment for the men delegates at the Recreation club on North Ninth street, golf playing at the two miniature courses here, a special theatre party in the evening, with "Blaze O' Glory" as the main attraction at the Palace theatre, and a reception at the Slaton clubhouse, sponsored by the local Legion Auxiliary—these were the features of the program for Saturday afternoon and Saturday night.

At 10 o'clock Sunday morning, about sixty Legionnaires attended a school for Service officers of the Posts in the 18th District, conducted by R. E. Waters, assistant manager of the U. S. Veterans Bureau, Dallas. He attended instead of Read Johnson, the bureau manager, who had intended coming, but who was detained because of illness in his family.

A special service was held Sunday morning at 11 o'clock at the high school auditorium, with Slaton church people and Legion and Auxiliary delegates attending. The auditorium was filled, and an excellent program was given. Judge Homer L. Pharr, of the 72nd District Court, Lubbock, was the main speaker. He delivered an address on the "Ideals and Principles for Which the American Legion Stands." His address was well received.

Other features of this program included: music furnished by a choir composed of people from the various churches of the city, for which the preparations were in charge of Mrs. Lillian Butler, although Mrs. Butler was unavoidably absent from the Sunday program; the invocation was said by Rev. I. A. Smith, pastor of the First Methodist church; D. E. Kemp, commander of the local Legion Post, welcomed the visitors in behalf of the Legion and Auxiliary here; G. W. Moody, of Wellington, responded; L. A. Wilson, adjutant of the local Post, extended a welcome in behalf of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce and the City of Slaton; the response was given by R. O. Whiteaker, of Austin, state Legion adjutant; and the benediction was said by Rev. Z. B. Daly, pastor of the First Christian church.

Mrs. Joe Dobson and Mrs. O. P. Reed, of Slaton, had places on the rostrum during the morning service, and were introduced by Commander Kemp as Slaton's two Gold Star mothers. The audience stood for a minute in silent tribute to them after they were introduced.

Following the conclusion of this service, the luncheon was held at the city hall at 12:30. Over 300 people were served. The menu consisted of: baked chicken and dressing, mashed potatoes, peas, pickles, lemonade, iced tea, coffee, cake and ice cream. Delegates were seated under the shade trees on the city hall lawn, this providing an ideal arrangement for the luncheon.

The business sessions of the convention were held at the high school auditorium at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, closing at 5, after which the delegates started homeward, declaring the convention to have been a marked success, and praising local Legionnaires and Auxiliary members and all

Slaton Growth Is Great In 10 Years

J. P. Smith, of Liberty, South Carolina, who has been visiting his son, L. M. Smith, and family, was a caller at the Slatonite office and stated that he was greatly surprised at the growth of Slaton in the past ten years.

Mr. Smith visited his son here ten years ago and he says that the growth and improvement in the past ten years is three hundred per cent. He stated further that when he was here in 1920 there were no conveniences and Slaton was a dark "burg," no electric lights, and the town looked like a city of windmills as that was the only source of water supply.

Mr. Smith is an ex-member of the House of Representatives of South Carolina and is running for re-election. He was accompanied on the trip by his wife and daughter. They made the trip overland.

Legion Meeting Is Set for Friday Night, June 27th

Luther Powers Post, No. 438, American Legion and the Auxiliary unit of the Post will hold meetings at the Slaton clubhouse next Friday night, June 27, it was announced today by officers of these two organizations. It will be the regular meeting time for both bodies, and all members are urged to attend. A check-up will be made at that time as to the expenses of entertaining the district convention here last Saturday and Sunday, it was stated.

Slaton Birthday Program Is Held By Rotary Club

Slaton's nineteenth birthday anniversary, which occurred last Sunday, was observed with a special program at the luncheon of the Slaton Rotary club last Friday.

Will P. Florence, who has lived here since the city's earliest history, spoke on "Slaton as I First Knew Her," and J. A. Elliott talked on "Slaton—The Modern City." The contrast between the two pictures drawn by the speakers showed a most marvelous development here during these last nineteen years, and increased the appreciation which members of the club hold for the city and territory's progress.

D. E. Kemp, commander of the local Legion Post, addressed the club on plans for the Legion convention, held here last Saturday and Sunday.

After an explanation, briefly given, by Lloyd A. Wilson, soon to become president of the local Rotary club, the club voted to adopt the Aims and Objects Plan for the conduct of the Slaton club. This plan is the latest outline for club management that has been recommended by Rotary International.

Visitors at the meeting were: Marvin Collier, Bill Price and J. L. Stimpson, of Lubbock; and D. E. Kemp and Howard Hoffman, of Slaton.

At the luncheon this Friday, President W. H. (Bill) Smith will give his closing address for the year, and President-elect Lloyd A. Wilson will announce committees for the coming year, explaining briefly their separate duties and functions.

An Independence Day program has been arranged for the following Friday. A debate will be held on the question, "Does the Trend in Social, Political, Economic and Moral Affairs in the United States Indicate that This Country Will Stand as An Independent Nation for Another 154 Years?" W. Everett Payne and C. C. Hoffman, Jr., are on the affirmative and John W. Hood and Jeff R. Graham will defend the negative.

The program for Friday, July 4, will be given over to reports on the Rotary International convention at Chicago, to be given by the retiring and incoming presidents, Smith and Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. Coy Roberts and children, of Versailles, Mo., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Paul P. Murray. Mr. Roberts is a brother of Mrs. Murray. He is taking a rest from his professional work, being an optometrist.

Contracts Given On New Santa Fe Las Animas Line

Contracts and sub-contracts on the new Santa Fe line from Amarillo to Las Animas, Colorado, have been let during the past few days, and actual construction out of Amarillo was expected to start this week, according to news dispatches from that city.

Hundreds of men have thronged the contractor offices in Amarillo, seeking employment on the new construction job, it was reported.

Completion of the Las Animas road in the next year is expected to be realized, Santa Fe officials have announced. When finished, it is said the volume of traffic over the Slaton division of the Santa Fe will be increased, thus enlarging the list of employees here and increasing the Santa Fe payroll at Slaton. This increased volume of traffic will be felt throughout the year, it is estimated but it will be especially noticeable during the summer months when the wheat is being harvested in Kansas and Colorado.

Plains Poultry Show Plans Gets Much Approval

The proposal that a regional show be organized with Slaton as headquarters, serving a territory of 54 counties of the Texas Panhandle-Plains section, is receiving favorable response in many parts of the territory already, according to officials of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce. The Slaton chamber originated the movement last week, sending letters to 84 Chambers of Commerce and County Agents of the entire area, inviting them to cooperate in forming the regional show, making Slaton its permanent home.

Letters have been received since last week from a number of cities in the territory, most of which have placed their approval upon the plan. Only one or two unfavorable replies have been received, and they were from people who said they were too far away to expect to cooperate if the plan was inaugurated.

It is expected that a general meeting will be called here to consider the matter of organizing the show, probably early in July, local Chamber officers have said.

Ear Corn For Sale In Town Near Here

If any Slaton farmers are interested in buying ear corn, the Slaton Chamber of Commerce has information about where it may be secured from people at a nearby town. Any farmer wishing this information may secure it by calling at the Chamber of Commerce office, city, according to L. A. Wilson, secretary of that organization.

TEXAS COWBOY RE-UNION

Stamford, Texas, is to be the host to the first annual show of the Texas Cowboy Re-union. This event will take place June 26, 27 and 28. This will be a get-together of the pioneer cattlemen of the state.

Yes, there will be a rodeo, in a natural amphitheatre just a mile west of the town. Cowboys from all over the west are expected there. There will be at least 100 entrants.

TEXAS UNITY CLUB MET IN LUBBOCK MONDAY

The Texas Unity club composed of employees of the Texas Utilities company met Monday evening in the company office at Lubbock.

The business session was conducted by Herbert L. Allen, district manager for the company, during which time important matters were discussed and acted up.

The next meeting of the club will be at Post with the employees of the company at that city acting as hosts and hostesses for the affair.

The Slaton employees who attended Monday evening included: J. A. Elliott, Mrs. Charlie Marriott, Miss Vinita Bowen, J. R. Thompson, Elbert Wilson and Pierce Youngblood.

I REASSURE A MOTHER

A Mother writes me about her son's reading. Among other things, she says:

"In spite of all I can do or say, he insists on reading stories. How can I correct this habit?"

Frankly, madam, I do not know. It is about as easy to cure a boy of eating as it is to destroy his love for good stories.

Centuries before there was any writing, story-tellers drifted about from village to village, gathering the people together and telling them stories.

The love of fiction is as old as that—older than recorded history, older even than civilization. It can not be rooted out: its roots run back too far. And why should you want to root it out?

The greatest Teacher that ever lived spent half His time telling stories to His disciples. "Without a parable (a story) He taught them nothing." These stories have transformed humanity.

One great story written in our own country, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," so stirred men's hearts that they said, "Slavery must go."

Good stories will not hurt your boy: they may, if he is the right kind of boy, inspire him to real achievement. And they will do something else for him, equally important. They will develop his imagination.

We have too little regard for the high value of the imagination, we Americans. We are too matter-of-fact. We forget that all great inventions, all great discoveries, all great achievements in science or business, came to pass because some man first had imagination enough to conceive them.

Many men have been hit on the head by a falling apple. Newton, when the apple hit him, had imagination enough to formulate the law of gravitation.

Many men have been burned by their wives' tea-kettles. Watt had imagination enough to conceive the steam-engine.

Look through the pages of history, and you will discover that the leaders of men have been those who could dream great dreams and carry them out—the men of powerful, intelligent imagination.

Because this is true, the editor of a magazine that prints stories has a responsibility that he must take seriously if he is any sort of man at all. He is intrusted with the duty of stimulating the imagination of thousands of children of mothers like you.

He may, if he choose, publish stories whose appeal is to the baser side of the imagination—and even achieve a certain sort of circulation increase for his magazine by so doing. Or he may regard every mother among his readers as if she were his own mother, and every mother's son as a younger brother.

You need not concern yourself because your boy likes stories. But are the stories he reads the right kind of stories—do they appeal to his imagination on its best and highest side?

That is the important question for you.

CASTLES IN SPAIN

I have been reading the story of Cecil Rhodes.

His life was full of adventure: it makes excellent reading.

But the passage that interested me most was this:

Riding to the Matoppos one day at the usual four miles an hour, Rhodes had not said a word for two hours, when he suddenly remarked: "Well, de-Sueur, there is one thing I hope for you, and that is that while still a young man you may never have everything you want.

"Take myself, for instance: I am not an old man, and yet, there is nothing I want. I have been Prime Minister of the Cape, there is De Beers (the diamond mines that Rhodes controlled) and the railways—and there is a big country called after me, and I have more money than I can spend.

"You might ask, 'Wouldn't you like to be Prime Minister again?' Well I answer you very fairly—I should like it if it were offered to me, but I certainly don't crave for it."

At twenty-five he was so rich that he did not want for any of the things that money can buy; at thirty-five he did not want anything at all; at forty-nine he died.

I hope I may never be guilty of writing anything intended to make poor people contented with their lot.

I would rather be known as one who sought to inspire his readers with a divine discontent.

To make men and women discontented with bad health, and to show them how, by hard work, they can have better health.

To make them discontented with their intelligence, and to stimulate them to continued study.

To urge them on to better jobs, better homes, more money in the bank.

But it does no harm, in our striving after these worthwhile things, to pause once in a while and count our blessings.

Prominent among my blessings I count the joys of anticipation—the delights of erecting Castles in Spain.

If you would discover the really happy men of history, look for those who have striven forward from one achievement to another, drawn by the power of their own anticipations.

They have made every day yield a double pleasure—the joy of the present, and the different but no less satisfying joys provided by a wise imagination.

I believe in day-dreams. I am strong for Castles in Spain. I have a whole group of them myself, and am constantly building improvements and making alterations.

I do not let my work upon them interfere with my regular job. Rather, it reinforces the job. My castles are incentive to efficiency; they give added reason and purpose to the business of being alive.

Konjola Proved Real Boon To Amarillo Man

Stomach Trouble and Nervousness Proves No Problem To Power of New Medicine

"For quite some time I was troubled with my stomach," said Mr. Neil Kinard, 2101 Polk street, Amarillo. "I bloated after meals and my appetite was growing less. These gas pains caused me to become extremely nervous and I was losing weight and becoming badly run down. My liver was sluggish and my blood was in very bad condition. I tried several kinds of medicine over the period of my illness but I could get no relief from any of them. A friend of mine suggested Konjola. "From the first few doses I knew this medicine was helping me. My appetite increased and I began to eat heartily without the after effects of gas. My constipation was relieved and my nerves were growing steadier. I slept much better and was becoming rid of that tired and worn-out feeling in the morning. As I continued the treatment I began to gain in weight as my entire system became toned up. I can truly say that I think Konjola a wonderful medicine."

Konjola is designed to give quick thorough and lasting relief. Like any worth-while medicine, Konjola should be taken over a period of from six to eight weeks. When so taken, the results will amaze you as they have thousands of men and women.

Konjola is sold in Slaton, Texas, at the Red Cross Pharmacy and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section. Adv.

CONDITIONS FOR PROFITABLE DAIRYING

No matter what the price of cream or milk, there are certain conditions necessary to profitable dairying, and we list them as follows: Good cows. Balanced rations fed individually according to production. An abundance of home-grown feed-stuffs, including a liberal supply of legumes. Plenty of good pasture with shade and an abundance of clean water available. Shelter in case of cold weather and driving rains. Kind treatment of animals. A good milk barn or shed, and facilities for the proper handling of milk and cream. Probably the greatest factors in economical production after the cows have been secured, is good and sufficient pasture and plenty of home-grown feed, including the legumes. The farmer who turns his cows into the woods at all seasons, depending upon their picking up their own living, may produce milk cheaply, but not in sufficient quantity to make it pay. The farmer who fails to produce an abundance of feedstuffs either starves his cows to a point of small production or else uses his profits to buy feed. The cost of production is the big factor in the profit column.

It is suggested that every farmer in the Southwest should have enough good cows to provide home needs for milk, cream, and butter, but he should have no more unless he is willing to develop good pastures, produce the necessary feed, and to attend to all other matters carefully and in detail. Dairying as a major project on the farms of the Southwest should pay a reasonable profit on the investment and labor involved, but just keeping cows will not bring desired results.

TEXAS FAIR LEADS ALL OTHERS

If there ever has been any doubt in the minds of anyone regarding the rank and standing of the State Fair of Texas, let them read the following official attendance figures:

State Fair of Texas	963,074
Nebraska State Fair	437,660
Ohio State Fair	437,000
Minnesota State Fair	433,268

Minnesota usually stands next to Texas in point of attendance. A director of the Minnesota fair visited the State Fair of Texas last October and after making the rounds said: "We have a wonderful fair in Minnesota. Many have often said that it was the largest and best fair in the United States, but we will have to admit that we run second to Texas."

Texans should be proud of their State Fair, not only because of its record attendance, but because it is a great exposition of the agricultural, livestock and industrial progress being made in the Southwest.

Nearly all State fairs in the United States are given financial aid by the State, but the Texas fair is self-supporting. Stockholders do not receive a penny on their investment and directors and officers work without salary. Every cent earned above expenses is put back into the fair in the way of larger premiums and permanent improvements.

Miss Nobody from Nowhere

BY ELIZABETH JORDAN

Any woman that's got a real face can't make some man bring her to a cabaret an' dance with her. The ones that come alone an' has to rely on the boys are the ones Gawd forgot.

Don't pay any attention to the loose-ankle lads. They'll come buzzing round for they need a change bad, an' they'll want to give you the once-over because you're green. But Jake ain't payin' us nickels to dance with them."

All the girls were intrigued by new-comer's presence and they showed it in various ways—some by talking, the rest by close attention to what was said.

Eve followed her with a sinking heart. What had she let herself in for? But the two young men they approached were wholesome-looking American lads who had just given an order to a waiter, and who for the present were most interested in having it filled than in the scene around them. Queenie cast a radiant smile at them, and one of the young men returned it with a cheerful but impersonal grin. She slowed her steps a little distance from the table, checking Eve's swifter movement by a warning pressure of the arm.

"Look at them settin' there waitin' for bread and milk, with good music goin' to waste," she tentatively observed in a tone designed to reach the ears of the new-comers. The latter looked up, this time with attention. The girls were under inspection now, to be taken or rejected. To Eve the moment was horrible.

"Give us time, girlie, give us time," urged the young man with the grin. "We're hungry, and we've got a pair of rabbits coming. But if we're able to move after the stuff you folks serve here I'll take you out to the center of the floor later on and make a May-pole of you."

"We've only ordered two, and I could eat them both, he plaintively observed.

"We'll order two more." His friend had been watching Eve. "That goes for me, too," he quietly told her.

"It's a date," Queenie agreed, and tactfully started to move on. But the quiet young man spoke again:

"Won't the ladies join us and have some of the rabbit?"

The young man of the grin frowned. As he spoke, the quiet young man drew out for Eve the chair next to him. Miss Morris secured the remaining empty chair for herself and sat down with a sigh of achievement.

"You ain't got the nice manners of your boy friend, Willie," she told the grinning youth. "But if you stick around with him perhaps you'll improve. Got a cigarette?"

The grinning youth had, and offered his case. Miss Morris helped herself and passed it to Eve, who hesitated an instant and then took a cigarette and lighted it at the match the quiet young man held for her.

"My name is Hunt," he told her as he did so.

"Her's is Berson. She's new to this work. I'm Queenie Morris." Miss Morris made the announcement with an air that impelled the grinning youth to get up and bow deeply, and Queenie accepted the burlesque homage with a care-free grin equal to his own. She had lit a cigarette without his assistance, and having established it firmly between her carmined lips, was doing the honors with easy affability.

"Don't mention your name," she advised the grinning youth. "My heart's goin' to tell me what it is, pretty soon."

"You bet it will," said the grinning youth, in high good humor. "I'm one of the shieks you read about. One long look into my eyes, girlie, and you're done for."

"Let's see if I am," Miss Morris suggested with a sudden interest, and she made the experiment forthwith Hunt turned to Eve.

"You don't exactly belong here, do you?" he asked.

"No. Do you?" He laughed.

"I'm afraid not," he admitted. "I don't care much about dancing, and I'm apt to get sleepy around midnight. I tried to persuade Jack to go home after the play, but he wouldn't . . . and now I'm glad we didn't."

"Shall you be here every night after this?"

"No," she told him. "I'm here only as a substitute. I don't expect to come again."

"Then we must make the most of tonight," he smiled. There was something very nice about his look and manner. He was like . . . whom was he like? Probably he was merely a type she had known well and met often in her former environment.

"Shall we dance now?" she heard him ask. Queenie and Jack were already on the floor. She rose slowly.

"I'm not sure I dance very well," she confessed, and caught his look of surprise as he put an arm around her and swung her out among the others. She exhaled the breath she had been holding. He was a good partner.

"You're an odd girl!" Hunt skillfully guided her through a rapidly increasing congestion on the dancing floor. "What made you say you weren't sure you could dance well?"

"I wasn't." His expression made her amplify the terse statement. "I'm not very sure of anything just now," she smilingly admitted. "I'm so new at all this."

"Well, you can be sure you're one of the good dancers on the floor to-night," he said comfortably. "That's a tribute, too, for there are a dozen here who know how to step out. That uptown bunch over there has some bully good dancers in it."

She looked in the direction he indicated. Half a dozen young men and girls, evidently of good families, were dancing in a close group. They were keeping to themselves and ignoring the other patrons. Their eyes were tired and their expressions somewhat blase, but they seemed content with their entertainment.

"They're the types that go to the theatre first, then to supper, and spend the rest of the night rushing from one cabaret to another," Hunt explained. "Quite a lot of them like this place better than the clubs. I think Jake caters to them in various ways—drops the cover charge for them and that sort of thing. He likes to have them come in, thinks they lend 'class' to his place; and Jake is strong for 'class.' They'll probably stay an hour, then leave and visit half a dozen other places before they go home at daylight. In the meantime, we'll have another bunch or two like them."

Eve knew all this, and didn't know why she knew it, any more than she knew why she appreciated the unusually good music of Jake's jazz band.

"Speaking of being here," Hunt went on. "Why are you here, really? It's easy enough to see that you don't belong."

After the First Twenty-five Thousand Miles

THE VALUE of sound design, good materials and careful craftsmanship is especially apparent in the new Ford after the first twenty-five thousand miles. Long, continuous service emphasizes its mechanical reliability and economy of operation and up-keep.

As you drive the Ford through many months and years you will develop an increasing pride in its appearance and a growing respect for the substantial worth that has been built into it. From every standpoint—in everything that goes to make a good automobile—you will know that you have made a far-seeing, satisfactory purchase.

Wherever you go, you hear enthusiastic praise of the car and this significant, oft-repeated phrase—"I'm glad I bought a Ford."

A FORD owner in New York tells of a 13,000-mile trip across the United States and back in sixty days and says "the car was extremely economical to operate, comfortable and speedy." A grateful father tells how the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield saved his wife and child from serious injury.

To test tires, a large company ran a new Ford day and night, for an average of 500 miles every twenty-four hours, still giving satisfactory service after 105,000 miles.

A Ford car that had fallen into a lake was submerged for twelve hours before being raised. After a new battery and carburetor bowl were installed, it was driven back to Spokane under its own power.

Many police departments have adopted the special advantages of the Ford because of its acceleration, and ease of control, increasing number of fleet owners purchasing the Ford because the figures have given conclusive proof of economy of operation and up-keep.

In addition to important triumphs in Germany, France and Italy, the Ford has won six out of seven leading places in races in Finland, first and second in the races in Argentina, first and second run from Copenhagen-to-Paris-to-Copenhagen, three gold medals in England, first ranking in the durability test over the tortuous Amancaes road in Peru, and first place in the 1930 reliability run conducted by the Royal Automobile Club of Sweden.

THE PRIMARIES BEGIN

All the states are to have primary contests this year for nomination of congressmen and other officers. Illinois with its primary on April 8 being the first to start the political battle. They did right well. A Republican woman only spent a quarter of a million dollars to obtain that coveted recognition. Just in the face of such things it seems impossible in most of the states to convince the voters that these primaries are of any importance. Surely it looks like a rich man only can play the game. In some states the primary is about all there is to it and the candidates who gets a certain nomination is sure to win the election. We firmly believe that the American people will never secure real good government until they realize that it is just as important to vote at these primaries as at the elections. The attendance at the elections is poor enough. The still lighter votes at the primaries indicates still more clearly that "Let George Do It" has become the national motto. We rail at high taxes; the mistakes of Congress; and our legislatures, and "cuss out" the politicians and then when primary day comes, they just lay down on the job and usually let the politicians put over whomsoever they want to. Our ancestors sacrificed their lives and fortunes to obtain for themselves and their children the right to participate in their government, but the children and successors for whom these appalling sacrifices were made, won't even bother to exercise that right much of the time. Our country is not going to the dogs. When conditions become intolerable, then the people become angry and turn out and administer the politicians who are to blame, a wallop. Then they go home and forget all about it. The same politicians who were responsible for previous mistakes return to power again. If the gods laugh, they must often snicker at the eccentricities of our people. Well, any way Texas is going to have a primary, and it will be in hot weather, and probably a hot one.

"HANDY MAN" REPAIRS RESULT IN FIRE

When electrical repairs are made by some so-called "handy man," a short circuit followed by fire often results. Such was the case in an instance recently reported from New Orleans. In a room used for storage purposes several portable wires were plugged into a multiple attachment. One of the connections was made up of wire originally intended for other use and poorly attached. The short circuit that occurred ignited the combustible contents of the room and considerable damage resulted. One remedy for such electrical hazards is frequent re-inspection but it is practically impossible to safeguard entirely against sub-standard exten-

the usual four miles an hour, Rhodes had not said a word for two hours, when he suddenly remarked: "Well le'Sueur, there is one thing I hope for you, and that is that while still a young man you may never have anything you want."

"Take myself, for instance: I am not an old man, and yet, there is nothing I want. I have been Prime Minister of the Cape, there is De Beers (the diamond mines that Rhodes controlled) and the railways and there is a big country called after me, and I have more money than I can spend."

"You might ask, 'Wouldn't you like to be Prime Minister again?' Well I answer you very fairly—I should like it if it were offered to me, but I certainly don't crave for it."

At twenty-five he was so rich that he did not want for any of the things that money can buy; at thirty-five he did not want anything at all; at forty-nine he died.

I hope I may never be guilty of writing anything intended to make poor people contented with their lot.

I would rather be known as one who sought to inspire his readers with a divine discontent.

To make men and women discontented with bad health, and to show them how, by hard work, they can have better health.

To make them discontented with their intelligence, and to stimulate them to continued study.

To urge them on to better jobs, better homes, more money in the bank.

sions made by users of current. Those who have not been instructed in electrical work should not attempt any repairs, as poor wiring and the misuse of electricity cause a huge fire loss annually. According to the National Board of Fire Underwriters, the damage from such fires in 1928 totaled over $18,600,000.

All wiring should be done in accordance with the National Electrical code and by authorized electricians. This precaution, if followed, will result in considerable saving in property losses from fire, as well as in fewer deaths and injuries.

DOLLAR

Eighty-six years old, owner of a fleet of fifty great passenger and freight ships and one of the world's largest lumber enterprises, Captain Robert Dollar still runs the details of his own great business. He started to work at 11, in his native Scotland, at wages of 60 cents a week. He has made every cent of his great fortune by hard work and still gets to his office in San Francisco at 20 minutes to nine every morning. When he feels like it he calls up Mrs. Dollar, tells her to pack the bags for a trip, and the happy old couple start out on one of his own ships for a voyage to China or around the world. On every such trip Captain Dollar finds new opportunities for American trade and new business for the Dollar ships.

SPELLING

There is a great revival of interest in the old-fashioned "spelling bee." Helen Jensen, a 13-year-old girl of Council Bluffs, Iowa, has just won a prize of $1,000 and the title of National Spelling Champion in a contest at Washington. Newspaper men, Congressmen, women's clubs and other bodies have been conducting spelling bees in many cities.

This is interesting and more or less important. Correct spelling is an accomplishment which reveals a great deal of the character of the individual. Good spellers are persons who concentrate on details, who have a keen eye and a pictorial memory. Few persons who learn chiefly by ear are good spellers. The "phonetic" method of teaching children to read, a fad which is being abandoned in many schools, is responsible for much of the atrocious spelling which makes so many girls unable to earn more than a bare wage as stenographers. Good spellers remember words as pictures. And that is as it should be. Spelling is of importance only in connection with reading and writing, and reading and writing are a means of expression designed to appeal to the eye only.

TEACHERS

One reason why our public schools are not as good as they could and should be is that we do not pay the teacher the same respect—to say nothing of salary—that they do in Europe. To be a teacher in Germany, for instance, is to achieve at once a degree of social standing equivalent to that of a physician or a lawyer.

Texas set an example years ago in one way of increasing the teacher's self-respect. In 1860 a "teachery" was built in the Blum school district in Gaudalup county—a home for the teacher. Now Texas has 1,330 of these teachers' homes, costing an average of $2,200. One teacher, H. E. Dietel, of Schumannsville, taught one school and lived in one teachery for 40 years. He became the foremost citizen of his community. The rural school without a home for the teacher or teachers is a relic of the dark ages.

THE BACKLOG OF CREDIT

Potatoes are not nearly as fashionable at a party as avocados.

Beans are not as stylish on the hotel menu as frog legs.

Salt pork doesn't have the same rank at the banquet table as does caviar.

An insurance policy against fires and accidents lying in a safe, is not as thrilling to the owner as a steamship ticket to Europe.

But the work and progress of the world is carried forward by the millions of people who live largely on such foods as potatoes, beans and salt pork.

The security, credit and pleasure of the world is guaranteed by the insurance policy that stands back of every commercial enterprise. Without the protection of insurance, the reasonably-priced railroad and steamship ticket would be impossible and security for invested capital which employs the millions of workers who consume our potatoes, beans and salt pork, would be lacking.

The story of insurance is the story of the growth of modern civilization.

Ray Darwin left Wednesday for Dallas and various points in East and Central Texas to visit friends.

Mrs. Bill White left Wednesday for Cooper, where she will visit her parents and friends.

A SUBTLE DIFFERENCE

There is a subtle difference between the methods of handling crime in this country and in many other great nations, that is seldom commented on.

Here, when crime gets out of hand, we begin immediately to suggest and pass new laws that restrict the rights of the good citizen, and so create more criminals; there, the laws and judicial procedure are based on the supposition that the good citizen should be protected, in his rights and his property, and that only the criminal should be prosecuted.

Few of us realize this difference. But a mere glance at our statute books will produce a damning pile of evidence to show that in the past quarter-century more and more laws revoking individual rights have been passed, while the criminal has been waxing fat and prosperous.

It is a cold day that fails to produce a number of armed hold-ups and gang shootings and murders in Our Country. Apparently the underworld is better armed than ever. Yet our more zealous reformers cry unceasingly for anti-pistol laws that will make it impossible for the good citizen to own a weapon, for protection or sport.

We are a great nation, but in many things we can still learn. It is certainly within the bounds of logic that more attention should be paid to preventing and punishing the real criminal than in passing laws against our constitutional rights as a free people.

Port Arthur has the largest single oil refinery in the world.

Protein Concentrate Needed to Balance Ration.

Mr. Average Farmer with a satisfied grin returned from a tour of his well-filled barns, his brimming silos, and his overflowing corn bins. A good hay year and a good corn crop leads him to believe that his dairy cows will be well-fed on such roughage, and yield a heavy milk production and big profits this winter.

Many Mr. Average Farmers are going to be deceived by their own well-loaded barns, silos, and bins into believing that their feed problems for the winter have been solved. Such roughages as timothy hay, corn, and other small grains are necessary parts of a feed ration, but one that is well-balanced must contain a good protein concentrate, such as linseed meal.

Providing a proper amount of protein is the most important part of balancing a ration as it furnishes the raw material for meat, muscle and the protein of milk. Mr. Average Farmer's dairy cows if fed only on corn and non-leguminous hay, will soon fall off in milk production, and be fit subjects for the Cow Sanatorium in the spring.

Proteins in corn and hay are unbalanced in their composition, and will not satisfy the protein requirement for high producing cows who are expected to be good milk yielders within the next few months. Proteins of a concentrate such as linseed meal will supplement those contained in grain roughages, and will "round out" a feed ration. A liberal allowance of such a concentrate will furnish the protein so necessary for the high milk production and the profits desired by Mr. Average Farmer. Besides being rich in protein, linseed meal has a mild laxative effect which is beneficial and regulating during the months of inactivity. It enables dairy cows to utilize the great amount of their feed, acts as a conditioner, and will give them a sleek and healthy appearance.

When stabled for winter, a good ration when clover hay is fed with corn silage, is ground corn, barley or hominy 200 lbs.; wheat bran, 100 lbs.; ground oats, 200 lbs.; and linseed meal, 100 lbs. It is usually recommended to feed one pound of the above mixture to every 3 or 4 pounds of milk per day. For high producing dairy cows it might be advisable to add a little more linseed meal to the grain mixture.

NO WILL ROGERS FOR ITALY

Can a nation's sense of humor be suppressed by governmental decree? Well, keep an eye on Italy, and you may find out. Quips and puns, anecdotes and jokes, which reflect on the existing order are banned by the Fascist regime and the Italian press has seriously suggested the deportation of wisecrackers. Imagine what would happen to our race of columnists, our vaudeville entertainers, and radio speech makers, if such a decree were passed in America! Picture the fate that would befall even our legislators under a law like this.

What punishment might be meted out to "witty George" Moses of New Hampshire for his wisecrack about the "sons of wild jackasses?" What, in turn, would become of Senator Nye with his wittier retort that Old Guard Senators of the Finance Committee came, that there was a Christmas tree in Claus after all! The persistent Senator of Utah's venerable Shakespearean Senator Norris of ally enlivens a doubtful that continue to flourish the Committee if he were deported. In fact, it is a quorum could be if all the wise and deported. Further and many from have to be extended respect for officials.

Don't you think Texas capitalists advantages.

And that doctrine in which no Texas or too big, to Texas around. This is most regrettable. Corn seed, too, will be scarce. Cane seed is quite a bit higher in price than a year ago, and so is sudan. Cotton seed is abundant but high quality seed all too scarce. The seed of grain sorghum will be plentiful, and sweet clover seed, I'm glad to say, abundant. A mighty good way to start the new year would be to lay in a full supply of planting seed without delay. But before buying be sure to test out the ability of that seed to germinate.

AUXILIARY RECEPTION WAS GREATLY ENJOYED

The members of the American Legion Auxiliary unit entertained with a reception last Saturday night at the Slaton clubhouse for the visiting Auxiliary members here for the 18th District convention.

The reception was attended by approximately seventy guests. The guests were met at the door by Mrs. D. E. Kemp, Mrs. L. A. Wilson, Mrs. Art K. Green and Mrs. Oscar Killian and were presented to the receiving line which was headed by Mrs. E. C. Foster, president of the local Auxiliary unit. Others in the line were Mrs. F. H. Carpenter, of Sour Lake, state Auxiliary president; Mrs. Tillman Jones, of Post, chairman of 18th District; Mrs. J. Robert Strayhorn, president of the Rotan Auxiliary; Mrs. W. M. Peticola, Jr., president of the Lubbock Auxiliary; Mrs. R. O. "Bob" Whiteak, of Austin; Miss Edith L. Chapman, child welfare worker for the Southern states, of Montgomery, Ala.; and Mrs. Electre Dobson and Mrs. O. P. Reed, gold star mothers of Slaton.

Mrs. Dan W. Liles and Mrs. Fred Tudor were in charge of registration and presided at the guest book.

Mrs. A. Dennis and Mrs. W. D. Geron served punch from a large punch bowl which was banked in beautiful red poppies.

Music was furnished during the evening with a piano solo by Josephine Adams; vocal solo by Pauline Sanders; piano solo by Lorene McClintock; a Spanish number with Ella Loyce Gentry at the piano. Wayne Catching playing the violin and Jewell Johnson sang La Paloma. Ella Loyce Gentry also gave a piano solo. Mrs. Laura Rhodes gave an interesting reading and the program was concluded with the Auxiliary singing the Legion song, "Legionnaires."

Delegates were present from Lamesa, Amarillo, Wellington, Lubbock, Brownfield, Rotan, Post, Tahoka and Pampa and enjoyed the reception.

The clubhouse was beautifully decorated in summer flowers for the affair.

"Looney" Sayings

By LOONEY, "Himself"

Well! Folks! There are only two more weeks of this cut-price month. Unless the "Big" Boss decides that it shall go on through next month. I haven't taken it up with him but will soon and here's hoping.

Some of you may have read in the Hale Center paper about the theatre there getting a bronze plaque for having perfect sound. Well, the sound in our little Palace at Slaton is very likely to have the next one to be awarded to any theatre on the Plains. We are trying for it and now the chances for us having one are very good. With the improvements that we have put in the Palace and the way the operators have been trying to give you the best that can be had in talking and sound, "there is no reason and no doubt that the Palace at Slaton will be the next to receive one of the beautiful bronze plaques."

We have a dandy line-up of pictures for you this next week. Here they are, so pick your time and don't miss a one of them. First is Richard Barthelmess in "Son of the Gods," his greatest role since "Broken Blossoms," a few years ago. Then there is "The Love Parade," the picture that everyone talks about, and boy what songs. And, last of the week that great picture of the old west "Hell's Heroes," by Peter B. Kyne.

MORE SHORT COTTON.

As has been predicted by those familiar with cotton belt conditions this year, the percentage of untenderable staple has increased over last year. The October 25 report of the Bureau of Economics shows that 15.5 per cent of cotton ginned up to October 1 was untenderable on account of short staple—under seven-eighths-inch—while only one-half of 1 per cent was untenderable on account of grade. The short staple increased 3 per cent over 1928 for the same date. In other words, 287,900 bales more untenderable staple had been ginned October 1, 1929, than at the same date in 1928.

While there has been an increase in the planting of short-staple varieties in some sections, this has probably been offset by increased use of somewhat longer staples in other sections. What has happened, as predicted during the drouth that covered so much of the cotton territory last summer, is that the varieties which under average or favorable conditions produce seven-eighths to fifteen-sixteenths staple, could not make the grade under unfavorable conditions. They were so near the dead line of tenderability that they readily fell below when subjected to drouth.

As has been shown repeatedly, the mass demand is for cotton around 1 inch in staple. The varieties which ordinarily produce staple slightly under or over 1 inch are coming to be the real "staples" of the cotton industry. Furthermore, if they hit a drouth, they are not so likely to fall below the tenderable length. Some of them have been shown to produce in most sections as much lint per acre as the extremely short staples. It would appear, in the light of these facts, that to plant a variety which barely gets over the dead line in good years is taking unnecessary chances.

SEED WILL BE SCARCE

TELEPHONE EMPLOYEES TO RECEIVE VAIL AWARDS

Nine telephone employees, among them an agency chief operator of the Southwestern Bell Telephone company at Imdale, Kansas, have been cited for noteworthy public service performer last year and will receive national Theodore N. Vail medals of gold or silver, accompanied by cash awards, it was learned here today by T. A. White, district manager of the Southwestern company.

Five of the citations were made for heroic service at the Cleveland Clinic disaster, May 15, 1929, when more than 100 persons perished in a fire and explosion. One of these is a posthumous gold medal award made to Miss Gladys I. Gibson, clinic operator, who died in the line of duty. The only other gold medal awarded will go to Gerald T. Mahaffey, of Cleveland, traffic superintendent of the Ohio Bell Telephone company, who performed heroic rescue work and took up Miss Gibson's post at the switchboard after she lost consciousness. Mahaffey also will receive $500 in cash. The three other telephone people who were cited for duty at the Cleveland catastrophe are: James J. Roonan, Benjamin G. Spaeth and Walton A. Turner, Jr., all employees of the Ohio Bell Telephone company, living in Cleveland. Turner recently died from natural causes, his award having been made posthumously. These citations, with four others made in various sections of the United States, bring silver medals and cash awards of $250 each.

Mrs. Myrtle Dull, Elmdale, Kansas, was the lone Southwestern company employee to be cited. She was recommended for noteworthy public service last July, when the Cottonwood river went out of its banks.

Mrs. Dull received a bronze medal from the Southwestern company when the regional awards were announced April 15. The Southwestern company will receive a bronze plaque in commemoration of her act.

"Since Argotane relieved me of my troubles I just can't help praising it to everybody," said J. T. South, of Lubbock, Texas. Mr. South is a well known ginner in this part of the state and owns and operates the J. T. South Gin company.

"For several years," he continued, "I have suffered from stomach disorder and a general run-down condition. I had very little appetite and three or four hours after eating gas would form and cramp my stomach so that nothing would relieve me of the agony, I was in a weak condition and was tired and worn out and didn't feel like doing my work. I had a severe case of constipation and had severe headaches."

"My first bottle of Argotane seemed to hit the spot and I have been getting better ever since. I can eat with a relish and eat anything and everything I want. I don't have any trouble with gas, my stomach is toned up and I feel better in every way than I have for a long time. Argotane has saved me a lot of suffering and money and has made a new man of me. I want my friends to know about it."

"GET SET" FOR MOST ANY KIND OF FISH STORY SOON

The three rifle men, Dr. Marvin C. Overton, jr., Howard Hoffman and Adrian Owens left in the wee small hours Monday morning, to be exact at 3 a. m., for Creede, Colorado. They expect to spend a week among the fauna and flora of that section. We anticipate some fine stories when they return. They have the latest in fishing tackle and Adrian even took along a camera that they may have evidence of the catch they make.

This will be the evidence when they relate their fish stories.

There's a Reason

"More power to the home" is something more than a catch phrase. A wife at the table is worth two in the kitchen. The elimination of drudgery has done more to raise the standard of living in America than industrial prosperity, high wages or any of the other factors economists talk about.

There has been something more than altruism back of all this development of household appliances designed to put housekeeping on the same plane of efficiency as the average office.

Increased utilization of electricity—that is, increased consumption—has meant decreased cost to the consumer. The industrialist calls it "mass production"—mass production of electricity means lower rates.

The electrical industry has spent large sums in research and in producing devices to increase consumption and improve standards of living.

That's why you are continually urged to use this or that electrical appliance in your home.

Slaton people for having afforded such excellent entertainment for the convention. Guy A. Gibbs, Plainview, district executive committeeman, presided at the business session for the Legionnaires in the afternoon, and Mrs. Tillman Jones, Post, district Auxiliary chairman, was in charge of the women's meeting.

At the joint session, preceding the separate business meetings, Mrs. F. H. Carpenter, Sour Lake, state Auxiliary president; Miss Edith L. Chapman, Southern States child welfare workers for the Legion, and Mrs. Tillman Jones, of Post, made short addresses.

Resolutions were passed at the business meetings expressing appreciation to Luther Powers Post and Auxiliary, the board of trustees of Slaton Independent School district, the Slaton Chamber of Commerce, the county and city officials, the various entertainment and amusement places and all other Slaton people for having provided such excellent entertainment and facilities for holding the convention.

The housing committee, composed of C. A. Porter, Mrs. Lee Green and B. E. Payne, have reported that 145 rooms were made available for the visitors by Slaton people, but it was found unnecessary to call upon anyone to accommodate delegates in their homes. The registrations for Saturday night numbered 75, and these were cared for in hotels and rooming houses. The committee and Luther Powers Post and Auxiliary as a whole, however, wish to thank the citizens of the city who so willingly and graciously offered to throw open their homes to visiting delegates. Had the weather not been unfavorable, homes would have been called upon to entertain visitors, it was said.

Forty-seven of the eighty-one members of Luthers Powers Post and twenty-eight of the forty members of the Auxiliary here registered during the convention, making a total of seventy-five out of 121. Other registrations were: Amarillo, 7; Brownfield, 13; Childress, 2; Hereford, 1; Knox City, 1; Jayton, 4; Lamesa, 2; Leveland, 2; Littlefield, 11; Lubbock, 47; Miami, 1; Muleshoe, 5; Pampa, 12; besides the Pampa band organized recently under the auspices of the Pampa Legion Post, which furnished concerts during the day Sunday; Rotan, 4; Plainview, 6; Post, 12; Seagraves, 8; Supr, 6; Snyder, 1; Tahoka, 19; Tulia, 1; Turkey, 2; Wellington, 6; and Clovis, New Mexico, 2. The Clovis delegates were not in this district, but came to the convention to "see the country," they said.

This did not include other registrations, as follows: R. O. "Bob" Whiteaker, Austin, state Legion adjutant, and Mrs. Whiteaker; Mrs. F. H. Carpenter, of Sour Lake, state Auxiliary president; R. E. Waters, Dallas, representing the U. S. Veterans Bureau; Miss Edith L. Chapman, Montgomery, Alabama, Legion child welfare worker in the Southern States; Mrs. M. A. Griffin, Dallas; and Mrs. Geo. T. Spencer, of New York City.

The Amarillo and Post registrations included Mrs. J. H. Pegues, Amarillo, vice-president of the state Auxiliary; and Mrs. Tillman Jones, Post, chairman of the 18th District Auxiliary.

Besides the housing committee, already named, other local committees in charge of arrangements for the convention were:

General committee—L. A. Wilson, chairman; D. E. Kemp and Floyd C. Rector.

Registration—G. H. Brown, chairman; Mrs. Fred Tudor and W. C. Tillman.

Luncheon—Mr. and Mrs. Dan W.

Liles and Art K. Green.

Legion Reception—Dr. E. C. Foster, C. V. Head, J. M. Sikes, Calvin Robbins and Horace Hawkins.

Automobile—J. A. Elliott, Oscar Killian and Alvin O. White.

Auxiliary Reception—Mrs. E. C. Foster, Mrs. D. E. Kemp, Mrs. L. A. Wilson and Mrs. Arthur Dennis.

Each of these members had assistance of other members of the local Post and Auxiliary.

A fleet of automobiles was organized by J. A. Elliott and his committee, these serving as courtesy cars to transport the visitors to and from various meeting places during the convention, and to meet trains.

The luncheon committee, headed by Dan Liles, and ably assisted by Art Green, Mrs. Liles and about twenty other volunteer workers, is given much of the credit for the convention's success, as they had the complete details for the luncheon arranged and carried out in perfect order and efficient manner.

The Auxiliary was praised highly for the delightful evening they made possible by the reception at the Club house, Saturday night, which included an interesting program, together with the serving of delicious punch. The attendance was good.

G. H. Brown, chairman of the registration committee, and his assistants were on the job throughout the convention, securing almost 100 per cent registration of all delegates, and making them feel at home and well cared for.

Dr. E. C. Foster and his helpers mixed and mingled with the crowds, extending the glad hand to the visitors, showing them every possible courtesy. These men served on the reception committee.

The complete convention plans, worked out by L. A. Wilson, D. E. Kemp and Floyd C. Rector, proved adequate in meeting the needs of the convention without a bobble anywhere. This committee says this would not have been possible had it not been for the faithfulness of all the other committees and the members of the Post and Auxiliary as a whole.

Several Slaton people who are not members of the Legion registered during the convention, thus aiding the local Post and Auxiliary in meeting the convention expense.

No announcement had been made that local people not members of the Legion might do this, or there would probably have been many others to register, it was said.

Due to the unfavorable weather and other hindering conditions, which reduced attendance, the expenses of the convention exceeded the receipts thru registration fees. Therefore, the Legion and Auxiliary here will face a deficit of about $100, it was estimated. Plans are being worked out to raise this deficit.

The Legionnaires and Auxiliary members here have said they would like to thank everybody who in any way contributed to the success of the convention by assisting in entertaining and caring for the meetings and the visitors. They would like to name all such people personally, they stated, but this being impossible, it was said they hope everyone will feel assured that his assistance was greatly appreciated.

The next district convention will be held at Wellington, sometime next winter. Wellington had no competition in securing the convention.
