Regular Legion On Friday, June 27th

Tonight (Friday) the Luther Powers Post of the American Legion and the Auxiliary will meet in regular session at the clubhouse.

This is the first meeting to be held since the 18th District convention held here on June 14-15 and it is requested by the local post officers that a good attendance be had at this meeting as there will be several things of importance to come up at this time.

Mrs. E. C. Foster, president of the Auxiliary, announces that the auxiliary will hold a formal initiation ceremony at their meeting.

Two Post Boys Arrested Here On Charges of Theft

"Bud" Luman and "Dude" Williams, both of Post, were arrested last week by Chief of Police Tom J. Abel on charges of stealing a cow from W. C. McCelvey, at Southland and contracting the butchered meat to the Texas Grocery here.

The youths stole the cow and butchered the meat the same night and the following morning came to Slaton to sell the meat when they became suspicious of officers and started back to Post. When arrested Williams was in the car which was "broken down" on the Slaton-Southland highway, while Luman had stolen a horse and was endeavoring to get away but was overtaken by the officers.

Luman and Williams were carried to Post and placed in the county jail.

War Veterans Act Oked By Senate

By an overwhelming vote in the United States Senate, Monday, the War Veterans Act carried by 66 to 6 in favor of the measure.

Democrats and Republicans voted for the measure regardless of the position held by President Hoover and statements from Secretary of the Treasury Mellon that it would create a deficit. All indications are that President Hoover will veto the measure. The bill goes back to the House where it is expected a record vote favoring the same will be given. The bill carries compensation up to a maximum of $100 per month for disabled veterans.

The senate added a few amendments but it is felt that the House will concur. It is also felt that the temper of congress is such that even though the president vetoes the measure, it will be passed over such veto.

Mayor W. G. Reese, who has been quite ill at his home for several weeks, was removed to the Mercy hospital Thursday morning for treatment and examination.

Posey Club Girls Make Good Show At Lubbock Meet

Misses Lois Fincher, Ardell and Geraldine Wicker, Lois Shafer and Elizabeth Schultz attended the annual 4-H Club encampment at Lubbock and took an active part in the program and contest. Mrs. Nellie Fincher attended as chaperone.

The program Tuesday was a service of demonstrations with Geraldine Wicker acting as hostess and Miss Myrtle Murray, district home demonstration agent, of College Station, as judge. Lois Fincher and Ardell Wicker gave an interesting demonstration called "The BeautyPot," winning fourth place.

On Wednesday afternoon the 4-H Club appropriate dress contest was held. The winners for the school dress contest were as follows: Ardell Wicker, first and Geraldine Wicker, third. First prize entitled the winner to a trip to College Station and third place is cotton print material for a dress.

An interesting feature of the camp was a linen dresser scarf exhibit. Forty-two scarfs were on display and the one judged as the best, by Mrs. Murray, was made by Geraldine Wicker. This scarf will be sent to the Short Course at College Station in July.

The 4-H Club representatives were guests of Tech college Tuesday night for the Jubilee Singers program and were guests of the City of Lubbock at Tumble N on Wednesday morning. A delightful time was reported.

HORD RETURNS FROM HIS FATHER'S BEDSIDE

T. P. Hord, of this city and his brother, J. D. Hord, of Southland, who were notified of the serious illness of their father at Valley Mills, returned to their homes after spending several days there. Presley states that his father is in a serious condition from the effects of the stroke of paralysis.

Camp Expected To Set Record

More than 200 boy scouts from thirteen South Plains counties are expected to attend the annual Scout Camp at the C. W. Post Memorial camp, near Post.

D. T. Jennings, scout executive, and K. N. Clapp, scout commissioner, will be in charge of the camp this year assisted by other Scout officials.

Two sessions will be held, one starting June 30 and the other July 9. Both sessions last ten days.

This camp is an annual affair and is greatly enjoyed by the boys.

Former Slaton Youth Drowns In New Mex.

Stewart Eades, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Eades was drowned in Dayton, New Mexico, Tuesday afternoon, according to a telegram received here.

The youth and his mother have made their home in Dayton for the past four years, although Mr. Eades has remained here where he is employed as a Santa Fe engineer.

Mr. Eades accompanied by Mrs. R. L. Smith, R. L. Smith, Jr., and Mrs. W. E. McAllister, left Slaton immediately upon receipt of the telegram.

Santa Fe Safety Supervisor Here

A. R. Tillman, safety supervisor with the Santa Fe headquarters at Albuquerque, was a between-train visitor Tuesday. Of course, A. R. found time to come over to town and give us all a shake and pleasant smile. Mighty glad to see him again. He has been making a trip over the Orient, coming from San Angelo. He is soon due in Wellington, and in July expects to attend a national meeting of safety supervisors to be held in Denver during that month.

Rotary International Meeting In Chicago

The twenty-fifth anniversary of Rotary is being celebrated in Chicago this week, with representatives from some sixty-four countries present. Chicago was the city of its birth, and the silver anniversary is being held there.

W. H. "Bill" Smith, out-going president, and Lloyd A. Wilson, the president-elect, left last Saturday morning for the meeting, being representatives of the Slaton Rotary club.

The spirit that actuates Rotary must increase its usefulness as a fact finding organization, and increase its influence in shaping a healthy public opinion. Rotary can not decide issues, local or international, but it can influence its members and friends to approach the discussion and decision of important, thought-perplexing problems, in the proper spirit. Harry H. Rogers, past president of Rotary, stated that "Rotary Fellowship is an Old Idea in a New Dress."

It differs from previous experiences in that Rotary brings together men of different business, different profession, different creed, different race, different nationality instead of the old associations based upon similarities. The climax of the Rotary year, when from every land, speaking every language, of all known faiths, Rotarians meet to experience wholehearted, sympathetic fellowship and to gather the fruits of friendship. This is truly a forerunner of world-wide peace, for which all are hoping.

Lone Star Cafe Is Putting In Equipment

E. H. Jarman and son, Henry, are having their old refrigeration plant removed and installing a new Frigidaire and Kelvinator in their restaurant.

ALLERD MOVING FAMILY HERE FROM COMMERCE

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Allerd and family, of Commerce, have been visiting Mrs. Allerd's sister, Mrs. J. B. Hankins, and family. They have returned to Commerce where they are preparing to move to Slaton where Mr. Allerd will be associated with Mr. Hankins in the operation of the Recreation club here.

Ammonia Burns Jerry Leverett

Jerry Leverett was the victim of a very painful accident late Wednesday afternoon when he opened a bottle of ammonia and it blew into his eyes. It is thought that the violent heat of the tailor shop had caused the fluid to expand and when the cork was removed from the bottle the contents were discharged going into his eyes and on his face.

Mr. Leverett was rushed to a doctor's office where treatment was given at once. He was reported to be resting well Tuesday morning.

McKee Given Death Sentence for Murder

Ira McKee was given the death sentence by a jury in the district court at Lamesa, Monday night. The jury was out only about half an hour. There was but one ballot taken so the report stated. Judge Gordon B. McGuire is expected to pass sentence the last day of the special term of court. The attorneys for McKee expect to file a motion for a new trial and in the event this is denied by the court, it is reported that they will apply to the State Court of Criminal Appeals.

Rejoicing Over The Birth of "Lindy"

Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, who gave birth last Sunday to a 7-3-4 pound son at Englewood, N. J., home of Ambassador and Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow, are reported to be doing fine. It is assumed that the young "Eagle" will carry the name of Charles. Congratulations from two hemispheres are reaching them.

It is hoped that Mother Anne and babe will continue to improve.

Two Others Appeared On Reception Program

In the write up of the American Legion Auxiliary reception in last week's paper, the names of Frances Harlan and Bertrum Kessel, who appeared on the program during the evening in a piano solo and violin solo, respectively, were omitted from the report received by the Slatonite.

We are glad to add these two names to the report.

Races At Abilene On July Fourth

With the completion of arrangements for a gala Fourth of July celebration in Abilene which will include 100 laps of automobile racing, motorcycle racing, a bathing girl revue and an elaborate fireworks display, announcement came this week from the West Texas Fair association setting a schedule of prices for the race track program.

The prices will be $1.00, $1.50 and $2.00. Three thousand seats are available at the bottom price, two thousand for $1.50, and a thousand reserved seats for the maximum.

The race card, including purses that total $3,200, will open at 1:30 p. m. July 4. Time trial awards will be made in both auto and motorcycle race classes.

The bathing revue, open to entrants from throughout West Texas, will be staged at Lytle Beach, beginning at 7 p. m. The fireworks display will be an added feature of unusual attraction.

With race entries being received by the fair association, interest in the Independence Day program is spreading throughout this section and a large crowd of merry-makers is expected in Abilene for the celebration.

Miss Aline Tucker, of Amarillo, spent the week-end with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Tucker, and attended the shower given for Miss Frances Blundell, bride-to-be.

Herman Griffin Is Painfully Injured

Herman Griffin, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Griffin, 830 West Lubbock street, sustained a broken ankle Monday.

Young Herman was on the rear bumper of the car when his mother backed the car out of the garage and he does not know just how his foot was caught under the car to have caused the painful injury.

Attending physicians states that it will be quite awhile before Herman will be able to walk again, however, he will be on crutches very soon.

Slaton Withdraws from Junior League

When we were all set for a summer of baseball the news came that Slaton was out, and would not participate. We are sure sorry that we cannot raise enough wind to have a team. Any way we can get in the shade and play with the shadows.

In conversation with Mr. Hare and Mr. Gregory, of Southland, they advised that the secretary of the league who resides at Tahoka, phoned that Slaton was out and to call Levelland and make arrangements for their taking Slaton's place.

We are sure going to miss some fun this season. It may be that the players in Slaton cannot arrange their dates, on account of employment. Any way we are sorry to miss the chance of winning the $100.

Postal Workers To Meet In Lubbock

The Texas Rural Carrier's association, the Ladies' Auxiliary, the Post-office Clerks, and Postal Supervisors of Texas, are to hold a session in Lubbock, July 3, 4 and 5. An expected attendance of from 600 to 1,500 is estimated.

The Chamber of Commerce and the City of Lubbock will be hosts to the gathering. Several outstanding officials are expected to be present and other important men in connection with the postal department. Foster Carroll and W. J. Klattenhoff are expected to be there as representatives from Slaton.

Rail Firemen To Be Barred By Engineers

The international convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers in session at Cleveland, Ohio, voted not to merge with the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen. The measure also carried the exclusion of any one who is not a qualified engineer. This would eliminate airplane pilots on rail-plane lines and bus drivers on rail-bus lines.

It is claimed that the firemen have never by an official act tried to join the engineers, but there has been rumors at divers times that there might be an amalgamation of the two orders.

"Miss Slaton" Is Selected at Revue Held Here Monday

In the Beauty Pageant held last Monday evening at the Texas theatre Miss Monette Patterson, representing the Slaton Motor company, was selected as "Miss Slaton."

Five young ladies entered the contest, they were: Monette Patterson, as Miss Ford; Jessie Stotts, as Miss Texas Market; Pauline Owens, as Miss M System; Nadine Smith, as Miss Oakland-Pontiac; and Topsy Ramsey, as Miss Vanity Fair Beauty shop. They won in the order named.

The contest was judged by out-of-town judges.

Miss Patterson will enter the contest in Lubbock as "Miss Slaton" on July 27 and 28 when "Miss Plains" will be selected to enter the International Pageant of Pulchritude at Galveston on August 2 to 6, where $3,000 will be given the various winners and "Miss United States" and "Miss Universe" will be selected.

The contestants were judged on poise, figure, appearance and personality.

In the "Miss Plains" contest on July 27-28 in Lubbock "Miss Slaton" will compete with seven other representatives of the South Plains cities.

Retail Merchants Met On Monday

The meeting of the Retail Merchants association was held in the City Hall, Monday night. Mrs. Lee Green reports a good meeting. Several matters were discussed, among them the United Charities movement in which the Retail Merchants association join with the Chamber of Commerce in formulating plans for its adoption.

There was a discussion as to instituting a Market Day for Slaton. This matter is under advisement and plans are being made to that end, providing it has the support of all the merchants. The Rating Books will soon be issued. There are a few that have not as yet placed their list with the Secretary. Two directors, Jess Swint and Abe Kessel, were elected to fill vacancies.

Three Riflemen Have Returned

Slipping into Slaton at 10 bells, p. m. Sunday night, three riflemen came to the end of a delightful trip. What is more they brought evidence of their agility, not with the rifle, but with the hooks. One might think they had been at the sea shore with the lobster complexion, after the lobster had been boiled, with the epidermis a roseate hue and a nice case of peeling. With all the enjoyment of rain, hail and in the snow area, they report a wonderful time.

Creede, Colorado, was the place of their activities. They are not telling of the ones that got away, but rather each day the quota was caught. They favored the publisher of the Slatonite with two beauties, one of the speckled trout family and the other of the eastern trout variety, and they were fine.

Dr. Marvin C. Overton, Jr., and Howard Hoffman, state that the fishing was fine and they were tired catching them, as well as of eating. Doctor Marvin appears to have the finest complexion of the three. Adrian Owens stated that it was not necessary to use the camera, as proof of their catch, as they remembered their friends with fine specimens. Adrian even brought back his hirsute appendage, and it did not change color.

We are going to back up and will not call them the three riflemen, but will dub them "Knights of the Piscatorial Fraternity." Glad you are back boys, without a puncture.

Cotton Compress Is "Dressing Up"

Not to be outdone by the city, the Compress company treated their tank to a coating of silver paint. This is a complete job from top to bottom.

It looks fine and another mark for airships. Of course, we do not have a landing port, but are in hopes that the time will come when ships of the air will rest in the Slaton harbor.

Busy Men's Class Enjoys Weinie Roast

The Busy Men's Bible class of the First Methodist church Sunday school met in their regular monthly social at the home of O. D. McClintock, 805 South Eleventh street, with twenty-two members present on last Tuesday evening.

Mr. Louis Smith was toastmaster and leader for the evening.

The program was opened with a beautiful piano solo by Miss Lorene McClintock. This was followed with a talk by the class teacher, Mr. L. T. Green, on "Friendship," which was very interesting and instructive. On account of several being absent who were on the program, the president, A. J. Payne, took charge for a short business session. Mr. Pierce Youngblood entertained with several tricks of magic which were very good and much appreciated.

The guests were then reminded of their boyhood days by playing several funny games, after which the host, Mr. McClintock, invited the class to a nearby vacant lot where a weinie roast was enjoyed with coffee and lemonade.

The class voted to meet at the church for the next monthly social and bring the ladies.

Rev. I. A. Smith, Methodist pastor, dismissed the meeting.

THE NATION'S BIRTHDAY

The American people are this year celebrating the 154th anniversary of their birth as a nation. They have reason to become very enthusiastic. The situation when the representatives of the 13 colonies declared their states to be independent as a nation, was one when two courses were open. One course was to submit passively to wrongs that had been imposed on them by an unjust and tyrannical king. This course would have avoided much personal risk and in a money way the country might have been more prosperous during the life time of these revolutionists. But that course would have been contrary to the conceptions of fundamental law and justice which these colonists nobly entertained. They decided that life was not worth living, unless they could live under a system which provided democratic government and free opportunity for all. When these great men adopted that attitude they began to revolutionize the world. They were to accomplish two great ends. First, this change created conditions in our country favorable to development and prosperity, so that achieving and energetic people could establish comfortable conditions for themselves and acquire education and advantages. Second, it firmly established a new principle which was the dominating motive in the recent World War. The sentiments that heartened our country and others to fight against the kingly pretensions and autocratic tyranny of the rulers of the German empire, were formulated in Independence hall in Philadelphia when that declaration was signed.

Well may we celebrate with all possible enthusiasm such a day, when the progress of America was assured, and when the principles were established that were to promote human welfare all over the world.

A FEW FACTS ABOUT OURSELVES

This is a great country. Uh-huh. We've heard that before. What about it? Just this about it. Dr. Julius Klein, Assistant Secretary of Commerce, than whom there are few keener analysts in the world, has been figuring out how much better off we are than the rest of the world. The United States has only 6 percent of the world's population, but we consume 15 per cent of the world's wheat crop. That means that, if the rest of the world were able to buy and eat as much food as we do, the wheat crop would have to be two-and-one-half as large as it is. We consume nearly a quarter of all the world's sugar, more than half of the world's coffee, more than a quarter of the world's cotton, one-sixth of all the wool, three-quarters, nearly, of all the silk, two-thirds of all the rubber, about two-fifths of all the iron and copper, lead, zinc and coal. We use three-fifths of the world's petroleum, two-fifths of all electrical power, more than three-quarters of all the automobiles and three-fifths of all telephones.

And we number less than one-sixteenth of the world's population! If the rest of the world was as well off as we are how prosperous we and all the rest would be. Our average family income is $3,000 a year. The British income is two-thirds of that, Canada's less than half, Sweden's still lower, Germany's only a little over one-third as large and France's about the same—personal income of the average man, that is. That's why we can, and do, consume more of the world's raw materials than any other nation.

We have set an example to the rest of the world, which it is slowly beginning to follow, in spots. The farther and more rapidly it extends, the sooner and more surely will we reach the stage of human development in which people will no longer die of starvation, in which every human being will have his happiness in his own hands.

There are those who say that in seeking material prosperity humanity is losing its spiritual ideals. It does not seem that way to us. It is quite one thing to forego riches for the sake of the higher life; it is quite another thing to have no choice in the matter. Poverty in itself is not a virtue. It was a wise man who said that it was useless to preach idealism to a man who didn't know where his next day's dinner was coming from. And that is the condition of more than half of the people of the world today, while in a still larger proportion live under conditions which make more than a bare living possible.

This is a great country!

THE TAX QUESTION

Like poverty, the question of taxation is always with us, a subject ever old, yet new for each era and each generation has its particular tax problems to meet. In times of prosperity taxes are paid with only the usual amount of grumbling that most of us indulge in when settling our tax bills. It is during periods of business depression, with everyone critically analyzing every expenditure, that the amount of our taxes looms so formidably. Measured by press comments throughout the country, the discussion of taxation in all of its phases has never been more general than at present. In recent weeks a partial check of such discussions indicates that the subject is receiving the close attention of many people, with the consensus of opinion definite-

"What To Do About Taxes." "Study on the imperative need of reducing the tax burden of the country. Something is radically wrong with the tax system which is bringing down upon itself from so many quarters such an avalanche of criticism and demands for relief as suggested by the following picked at random from recently published protests: "Pyramiding Our Taxes." "Rising Tide of Taxes." "Taxes Getting Stranglehold On Industry." "Tax Inequality." "Taxation One of Our Pressing Problems." "High and Confiscatory Taxes." "The 'What To Do About Taxes.' "Study-Taxation Issue." "The Tax Muddle." "ing Tax Problems." "A Road To Tax Relief." The foregoing are samples of some of the tax protests which have appeared in the newspapers of the country and in such discussions almost every angle of the tax question is presented. As one writer analyzes the situation, approximately a sixth of our combined earnings go to the support of the government.

The average per capita tax, national, state and municipal advanced three fold in one decade and for every 11 persons who work to increase production and wealth there is one person on the payrolls supported by the public. Still the demand is for increased activity by the government, which means a larger standing army of employees and higher assessments. Said one investigator: "I have been shown by landowners tax receipts covering a series of years. They are indisputable evidence that the increased amount being paid in taxes by individuals today is staggering. It would seem that real estate taxes would be lower as a result of the collection of the vast amount of indirect taxes, sales tax, licenses, etc.—but such is not the case."

Public expenditures cannot be maintained at high levels indefinitely. Local taxes in some cases are almost confiscatory. This point was emphasized not long ago by a speaker who showed that since 1913 both national wealth and national income have doubled, while public expenditures have increased four times, and that all government taxes now amount to thirteen billions of dollars and are increasing at the rate of five hundred million dollars a year. He asked whether we could devote 20 per cent of our income to taxes and answered his own question by saying that no nation has done so and survived. Direct taxes paid by the farmers amount to more than nine hundred million dollars annually, which is approximately 84 per cent of the general property taxes of the country, according to the Bureau of Agriculture Economics in its recent study of taxation of farm property. Is it any wonder that the agricultural interests are increasing their demands for tax relief when it is estimated that taxes are taking about 30 per cent of the net rent of farm real estate? Yes, the Tax Problem is quite unsolved. We surely can not have an increasing tax burden.

once as readily as the first pair done. They were middle-aged Can-an cattlemen, out for a good time, they had it with Queenie, while look such mild care as she could to bantering dialogue and danced real times with each of them. Ap-ally this encounter was as successful as the first for both men showed a flashing regret when it over. Before that, moreover, they unconsciously helped Eve through little number of the first half of special program. While this was progress she remained with them, Jake seemed content with the arrangement.

he long night wore on. At the
of it Jake sent for Eve.

"You're over," he impersonally announced when she again confronted in his office. It was half-past and his head was perceptibly sagging. So were his remaining eyes, but Jake himself showed no of the man's strain. His linen was unbuttoned and his hair as passionate as they had been at eleven.
"You're over," he added.

"You're over," Eve said.
"You're over," she liked what she had said at "Wah!" "But I won't take over and now, thank you."

"You're over," she said.
"You're over," she said.
"You're over," she said.
"You're over," she said.
"You're over," she said.

temporary job, and tude of Ivy, to
when she reached
table, and went arters, tired but over what she had undertaken; she had made eight dollars; she had been offered a job;

she had been able to keep her walking nightmare at bay and to feel almost normal. Best of all, there was now no endless night to face, for the night was over. It might be worth while to accept Jake's offer, if only to do away with those awful nights
in the court bedroom.

If she could kill another fortnight that way, and earn the money she so badly needed, Marcel would surely have his reply from Leon, and that reply might lead her out of the fog.
She would think the matter over.
However, she did no thinking then.
She fell asleep at once from sheer exhaustion, and her dreams, when she recalled them in the morning, had to do with large buildings and blaring music and crowds of whirling figures.
Succeeding nights at Jake's seemed very much what the first one had been, with the difference that Eve had a fixed clientele as well as a floating one. The Canadian pair came regularly, and accepted without re-signment her refusals of their invitations to luncheons and other diversions outside the cabaret. Hunt and his friend Jackson also became what the girls called "reg'lars," though Eve suspected that neither young man could long stand the financial strain of such frequent visits, for Jake's, as Ivy had boasted, was no "cheap joint."

Ivy was able to "get back on the job" on the fifth night and to go thru her dances with amazing skill and
pep. Her specialty was the "acrobatic waltz" Queenie had mentioned, and her performance was a revelation to Eve, who humbly told herself that as a "substitoot" she had been a joke.
Miss Davenport was a born dancer,
which undoubtedly helped to explain her employer's patience with her attacks. The only employee that compared with her at Jake's was a young Italian among the loose-ankle boys, whose version of the "Black Bottom"
was the cabaret's best attraction.
Queenie's high kicking was "good but not great," as Ivy expressed it. Maizie, despite her beauty and her superb figure, did no solo work at all, and was not above the average in the ordinary dancing.

Eve decided that Ivy's "acrobatic waltz" explained Ivy's heart attacks, and she advised the dancer to stop
some of its more taxing features, Ivy shook her head.
"Long's I do it, I'll do it right,"
she announced. Art came first with Ivy.

Ivy's popularity in the "artist's room" was second only to Queenie's and as the two girls stood together on all important issues Queenie's rule was strengthened by her chum's return. So was Eve's position. Miss Davenport had a grateful nature. Loyally and loudly she assured the world nothing was wrong with Berson. She demanded Queenie's continued interest in her protegee, and after a brief contest of will she received it. The "head hostess," it appeared, had a horror of being "high-hatted" by any one; and from the first she had cherished a dark fear that the new-comer was "high-hattin'" and "up-stagin'" all Jake's artists. Ivy was finally able to explain Eve's manner and diction to Queenie's satisfaction.

"She can't help it," she pointed out.
"She's ed-jicated! My Gawd! what can a poor kid do when her folks put her in schools an' has her learned all those things?"

A little later Eve unconsciously helped her own cause.
"Where you from, anyhow, Berson?"
Queenie demanded one night, when the novice had been at Jake's a week. It was the first directly personal question that had been put to Eve, and Eve flushed under it.

"I? Oh, I've lived abroad a good deal," she stammered.
"Where?"
"In France."
Queenie nodded. Living abroad accounted for anything.

"Can you talk French?" she asked
with sudden interest.
"Yes."
"Honest? Say! Jake'll be glad of that! Some Frenchmen blew in here last week, and none of us could parley with 'em. An' only the night before you came—Say, I'll tell Jake", Queenie added excitedly.

She told him, and with all the pride of the discovered, and Jake again sent for Eve.
"Doin' fine," he announced.
"Thank you, I'm glad of that."
"S'caryou' French."
"I beg your pardon?"
"Talk some French."
"Now!"

"Sure."
"Do you speak French?"
"Nope. But I'll know 'f you do."
Eve laughed. It was the first time Jake had heard her do it, and it appealed to him. His remote look changed slightly.

"That's the stuff," he approved.
"Smilin' good for business. Y' oughta laugh more."
Eve answered in French that no doubt this was true, but that she couldn't promise to keep on smiling indefinitely, though she would do her best. Finding it necessary to translate this, she did so, and Jake nodded.

"How 'bout stayin' on?"
"I haven't quite decided yet."
"Can't raise rates but give yuh same guar'ntee's Morris."
"Thank you. I'll stay two weeks longer, anyway, unless something unexpected happens."
"S'allri."

The arrangement simplified Eve's bookkeeping. Instead of being paid nightly as a "substitoot," she was on Jake's weekly pay-roll at a twenty-five dollar salary, which was augmented by the dance-cards she turned in.

A week later, when Eve and Hunt returned to their table after a midnight Charleston, Queenie hurried to them with an expression of urgency
she hastened to explain.

"Jake wants you to go an' meet that guy over there in the corner," she said eagerly. "I forget his name, but he's been watchin' you ever since he come in. He jest told Jake he wanted to talk to you. Introduce yourself. I'm lookin' after a big dinner party."

"Miss Berson is busy here," Hunt began. Hunt's air of late had become slightly proprietary. Miss Morris rebuked him with a friendly shake of her head.

"Get wise, get wise," she advised.
"This has happened before an' it'll happen again. Orders is orders, an' she's workin' for Jake. You had your turn. Phaps you'll get another later on," she kindly added.

Hunt's jaw set. For a moment he seemed about to dispute the ruling.
Then his good sense asserted itself
and he rose with a shrug.
"All right," he agreed. "I'll take you over."

"That'll make a big hit with the new guy," Queenie murmured ironically.
But Eve understood, as she so easily understood everything Hunt did and said, the impulse that always made his escort her through the dancing crowds to any table where she was expected.

She walked by his side with unwilling steps. She never knew what these encounters might bring, and each time she thus approached a stranger every instinct in her protested against what she was doing. She constantly reminded herself that she was here to talk to and to dance with lonely men, to help them to have a pleasant evening, and that the matter ended with the talk and the dance, and that the money
she was earning was necessary to her.

If Jake's was the sort of place girls of good families could visit, as many such girls plainly considered it, it was surely safe for her. Also, she was plainly of no use here, in ways she was not paid for. The girls trusted her and asked her advice. Even Maizie had warmed up since the little session with Jenny, and the latter had shown a somewhat embarrassing determination to establish a life friendship.

Acts Just Like It Was Made for Her

Lubbock Housewife Says She Feels One Hundred Per Cent Better Since Taking Argotane

"This Argotane acts just like it was made especially to fit my case," said Mrs. C. A. Walters, of 1410 Texas avenue, Lubbock, Texas.

"The fact is, I haven't seen a well day for the past two years," she continued, "and almost as soon as I started taking Argotane it seemed to go right to the seat of my trouble and anyone could see that I was getting better. My stomach gave me lots of trouble and everything I would eat would sour and cause bloating spells. I didn't have any appetite and I was weak, nervous and run-down."

"I saw Argotane so highly advertised that I decided to try it and it has certainly been the right medicine for me. I eat anything I want and it doesn't bother me at all. I'm not bothered with constipation any more, and in fact, I feel one hundred per cent better than I did before taking Argotane. Argotane has saved me from a lot of suffering that no other medicine or treatment was able to do and I am glad to give this statement and recommend it to my many friends."

THE WAY OF LIFE

BY BRUCE BARTON

DO PEOPLE FEEL BETTER BECAUSE YOU PASSED BY?

It was a doctor's office by appointment at five-thirty when his telephone rang. A woman's voice at the other end of the wire asked him to call at the house that evening.

His voice betrayed his irritation, but he promised to call.

Then he snapped the receiver on the hook and exploded.

"There's a woman who has nothing to do all day but grieve about. She might just as easily have called me this morning or early in the afternoon. But, no, she has to put it off and spoil my evening."

"Nobody but a doctor has any idea of how inconsiderate people can be."

On two recent trips with two different men I had an interesting opportunity to contrast their conduct toward their fellow human beings.

One of them had made several million dollars in the past few years. Whenever he entered a dining car or a hotel he wanted everybody to understand that he is rich and important. Waiters dislike him, even though he tips liberally. I sometimes felt embarrassed by his critical demands for attention.

The manner of the other man is exactly the reverse. You would never guess that he is a power in the world of industry. He never gives orders, but makes suggestions or very courteous requests. He seems surprised that anybody should want to do him a favor. He can make a waiter or a station porter feel a new sense of self-respect merely by his smile.

A noted preacher once remarked that of the finest of all the sayings of Jesus is this: "I have compassion on the multitude."

Said the preacher: "Many men can be virtuous. Many can be honest in a hard, self-righteous way. But how many are really considerate? How many feel instinctive respect and sympathy? How many have compassion?"

A lot of twisted standards have somehow grown up in the world. A lot of very righteous people seem to think that a man is good if he does not smoke, does not take a drink, does not do this or that.

These are negative and unimportant. The real mark of a Christian and a gentleman is whether he treats other people as he would like to be treated.

Whether they feel better or worse because he has passed by.

EXTRA HAPPENINGS FROM MORGAN

If every day from now to the end of time could be as pleasantly spent by all the world as it was by the neighbors and relatives of Mr. Jim McAnally, at his home on the 21st of June, 1930, (and by the way the longest day of the year) there would be no need of law or lawyers.

The day was spent in talking, laughing, playing various merry games, and of course, feasting, all in honor of Mr. McAnally 49th birthday, and the 70th birthday of Mother Hiles. Mr. Mc all unwittingly furnished the peakers quite a bit of amusement while at the dinner table, when the glad circle around him yielded their souls to festive mirth and wit, that knew no gall, he forgot his manly dignity and sat as his little son James would have sat, with both feet upon the rungs of his chair.

After this celebration and great treat, the crowd in the evening, repaired to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Luckey, there to celebrate the 13th birthday of their daughter, Imogene. Cake and ice cream was served

When A CLEANSING MEDICINE Is Needed

"I HAVE taken Black-Draught all my life, whenever in need of a medicine for constipation," says Mrs. G. C. Burns, of Buna, Texas. "My mother and father used it in their home for years, and I was raised to think of it as the first thing if I had a headache or was constipated."

"At one time I had indigestion real bad. I was all out of sorts; my skin was sallow, and I had gas pains. After a course of Black-Draught, I got all right. I have given Black-Draught to my children, whenever they needed a medicine of the kind."

"Looney" Sayings

By LOONEY, "Himself"

Good news folks! Just got a letter from the "Big Boss" and he says we can keep the cut prices through next month with the exception of Saturday night and Sunday. Not a bad break? and the price for those two shows will be in good reach of anyone who wants to go—35 cents.

And, folks what a line-up of good pictures. Let me tell you of Just A Few of the best ones. First on the list for the coming month is "Cohens and Kellys in Scotland,"—that's enough to know it's a good show—then we have the greatest piece of film work that has ever been made—that great picture that got four stars in the Liberty magazine, "Journey's End" and one of the best mystery plays you ever saw—"Temple Tower", which is a Bulldog Drummond story, with the man who gave you the picture "Men Without Women" and many other good ones—and later in the month we have another of those All Natural Color pictures, the title of it is "Song of the Flame" with Bernice Claire, Noah Beery anda big cast of favorites. So that says that if another tent pops down in Slaton that you can see Better Shows for Less Money than any tent show can put on and unless you folks give us a hand on the cut prices we will have to go back to the old price. In the last week it has fell down to the old crowd and the cut price seems to have lost its value to all! THANKS!

WARNING AGAINST FRAUDULENT BROKERS SENT OUT

A warning against fraudulent brokers and promoters who are offering stock in foreign Ford motor companies was issued today by the Better Business Bureau of Detroit, in conjunction with the National Better Business Bureau and affiliated offices throughout the United States and Canada.

Relying on the good will and integrity of the Ford name, thousands of persons throughout the country have purchased stocks which either turned out to be spurious or were not delivered at all, the warning said. There is no way of estimating the financial loss involved.

"There are a number of fraudulent concerns in various parts of the country that represent themselves as a brokerage house and that offers stocks in various foreign Ford companies," the statement from the Better Business Bureau said.

"Several of these companies sell on the partial payment plan. They offer stock for stipulated down payment and a fixed sum per month. Before the final payment becomes due and before the stock is delivered to the purchaser, the company goes out of business and its officers disappear only to begin operations at another location and under an assumed name.

"Stocks of the Ford Motor company of England, Ltd., and the Ford Motor company of France are listed on the New York curb market and the prices at which they are currently selling are printed in the financial pages of newspapers. Nevertheless, many persons are being led by unscrupulous brokers to pay far in excess of the market prices.

"The majority of the stock brokers, of course, are honest. Our warning is directed solely against the fraudulent concerns that carry on their fleecing of the public under the guise of reputable concerns. Anyone contemplating the purchase of stocks should first consult his local Better Business Bureau."

Training School for Salesmen Completed

What has been termed the greatest sales training school in the history of the automobile industry—a series of five meetings conducted over a period of 10 days in each of 12,000 Chevrolet retail stores in the United States and attended by 24,000 salesmen—has just been completed by the Chevrolet Motor company.

So successful were the meetings that Chevrolet central office officials are considering making the "school" an annual affair. In practically every instance Chevrolet dealers reported their complete sales personnel in attendance at each meeting, and in addition the office and service staffs requested and were given permission to attend the sessions. In all, it is estimated that an average of 40,000 sales, office and service employees in Chevrolet retail stores attended each of five meetings. Increased selling efficiency by their present staffs and the addition of many salesmen to their organizations are expected by many dealers as a result of the "school."

The thought behind the school was the belief that most automobile salesmen possess only the theory of selling and usually are forced to undergo long experience and overcome many difficulties before they are able to furnish prospective buyers with a fully satisfactory exposition of the car's features. The school would immediately put the salesmen in possession of the experience and methods of the most successful men in the industry.

All phases of the meetings were worked out and the materials prepared by the central office of the Chevrolet Motor company. Holding the School was optional with each dealer, but practically the entire Chevrolet dealer organization responded. One of the features of the meetings was the use of motion pictures of the "still" type in presenting the subject of each session. In all, five films were used. The most novel of these was the one entitled "Mr. Lilliputian Sells A Chevrolet." It depicted a salesman explaining the features of the car to a prospect. Both figures were so reduced in size and the car's parts so enlarged that the men crawled into the cylinders to inspect the pistons; into the transmission and differential to discuss the gears; jumped in diving suits, into the oil-filled crankcase to examine the crankshaft, oil pump and bearings, and perched on the instrument panel controls, spark plugs, steering wheel, shifting lever and other parts while these were being explained to the purchaser. Many dealers have asked permission to retain the film for future use in training salesmen and illustrating the car's advantages to prospective buyers.

ALUMINUM

The commonest of all metals, more than twice as common as iron, aluminum was a curiosity at the Centennial of 1876 and only came into general commercial use when the harnessing of Niagara Falls made the electric furnace economical. Alloyed to give it strength, its light weight makes it more useful than steel in hundreds of applications. The largest airplanes are built of it.

Now a project team foot to cast automobile bodies in one piece out of aluminum. That will still further reduce the cost and weight of motor cars. This lighter the car, the less gas, the less wear on tires. The time will come when a serviceable automobile will sell for not more than $250 and run 50 miles on a gallon of gas.

FARM ORGANIZATION.

When the subject of farm organization comes up for discussion the editor usually hears someone remark: "You can't get the farmers to work together. Co-operation among the farmers will never succeed."

But the facts, we feel, indicate the error of this notion. It may be difficult to secure the right amount of co-operation among the business men of a community.

Steadily and surely agriculture is becoming an organized industry in America. The fruit growers of the West with their phenomenal success in recent years have blazed a trail that will eventually, we feel, lead to a more prosperous condition of American farms.

We have today wheat pools, tobacco pools, dairy co-operatives, truck farmers organizations, and literally hundreds of shipping associations of all kinds scattered throughout the country. Through these agencies the Federal Farm Board is working to stabilize the agricultural industry.
