Stabilizing Of Dollar Enters Farm Talk

Agency With Power To Control Currency Is Suggested

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP)—A recommendation for giving a single federal agency power to adjust and stabilize the "value of the dollar" came today from the senate agriculture committee in its report on the "ever-normal granary" bill.

Prices Too Low
Asserting the fluctuating value of the currency as well as crop production affected farm income, the committee report suggested:

The present price level "is too low and should be raised to at least the 1926 level."

Congress should concentrate all powers over the "value of the dollar" in one agency and order the agency "to properly adjust and regulate the value of the dollar."

The senate committee report was made public just as the house agriculture committee formally approved a new crop control bill, by a 16 to 7 vote, and prepared to start debate on the house floor Monday.

Chairman Jones (D-Tex) of the house committee immediately began writing a report asking the house to accept it.

The senate committee report said "cheapening of the dollar" by gold devaluation moves of the president, had stimulated prosperity by raising prices.

Market Feature
Jones, discussing the new house bill, said he considered provisions for increasing domestic and foreign markets of farm commodities its "major feature."

Secretary Wallace, Jones asserted, "is required to use the approximately $100,000,000 from tariff revenues set aside annually for agriculture in disposing of farm

Texas Divided Into Two Sections For New Program

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP)—Here is how Texas tenant farmers will go about seeking loans from the government to buy the land they till.

As explained by Farm Security Administration, they first must learn from their county agent or other farm leaders if their county has been selected for the program.

For administration of the program, Texas has been divided into sections, one comprising Panhandle counties and the other the remainder of the state. The former will be part of a "dust bowl" region including parts of Oklahoma, Kansas and Colorado, with headquarters at Amarillo. John E. Hill of Amarillo will head a committee named by Secretary Wallace. A separate committee has been named for the rest of the state. These committees

Pioneer Of Area Taken By Death

A long-time resident of West Texas, John Terrell Vanlandingham, died early Friday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Jim Pardue, on the Wilkerson ranch 12 miles west of Big Spring. He was 79 years old.

Mr. Vanlandingham came to Abilene in 1892, residing there until the death of his wife last August. Since that time he had made his home with his daughter. Survivors, besides Mrs. Pardue, are another daughter, Mrs. C. Thornton of Big Spring; seven grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

The body was taken overland in an Eberley coach Friday afternoon to Abilene, where funeral services are scheduled for 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

SUSPECTS HELD AS HOLDUP REPORTED

Two men were being held by officers Friday in connection with a reported hi-jacking on G. A. Barber.

Barber told authorities he was stopped by two men who asked about a job picking cotton, and that he was subsequently hi-jacked. He was victim of a robbery here about a year ago, an affair which drew a conviction for the hi-jacker.

No charges had been filed against the two at noon Friday.

CUSTER MASSACRE SURVIVOR DEAD

TUPELO, Miss., Nov. 26 (AP)—W. T. Dugard, 82, who claimed to be a survivor of the Custer massacre at Little Big Horn, died here yesterday and was buried today.

Dugard had said that he was a scout at the time General Custer led his men into the massacre. He said Calamity Jane once saved his life by shooting an Indian who raised a tomahawk to his head.

Other Powers' Interests Are Involved

Censorship Might Result In International Complications

SHANGHAI, Nov. 27 (AP)—Japan tightened her grip on Shanghai today by taking over control of all communications facilities hitherto held by the Chinese government in the International Settlement as well as the native parts of the city.

Own Censors?
The postoffice, telegraph and radio administrations and broadcasting stations KQHC and CGRA were placed under Japanese rule. Many of the principal offices and installations of these services are in the International Settlement.

Japanese authorities have not indicated whether they intend to establish their own censors in the cable and radio offices communicating with foreign countries.

Japanese indicated plans to extend their influence in the Chinese customs service at Shanghai by placing Japanese appraisers and examiners in customs offices on the Shanghai waterfront.

There were reports, not immediately confirmed, that the Japanese also intended to seize the customs levy on the International Settlement's waterfront, largely used as a landing place by American and other foreign fleets.

Complications Feared
Serious international complications were feared in the event of Japanese attempts to control operations of foreign cable and radio

Education Problems Studied As State's Teachers Assemble

And On The Side, League Committees Try To Pick Football Champions

HOUSTON, Nov. 26 (AP)—Problems of education today were laid before Texas school teachers in sectional meetings on the second day of the 59th annual state convention.

Dr. W. B. Bizzell, president of the University of Oklahoma, prepared formally to dedicate Houston's new $1,500,000 municipal coliseum, where the convention general sessions are held.

While the teachers wrestled with the problems of education, in a downtown hotel a District Interscholastic league committee tried to decide the football champions of the Beaumont-Port Arthur-Galveston district. Because of Port Arthur's use of twelfth grades, their claim has been protested. From the committee room also probably will come a decision on who will represent the Oil Belt district in the state race.

Abilene and Stephenville are tied for the championship.

Ideas on education were expounded to the 15,000 teachers yesterday. Delegates worked far into the night, finally nominating officers just before midnight.

Speakers
Dr. Henry McCracken, president of Vassar college; Dr. William F. Russell of the Teachers college, Columbia university; Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of the Texas Technological college at Lubbock, and Dr. Bizzell were among speakers heard yesterday and last night.

Campaigns for officers nominated last night were under way today in behalf of the candidates.

John P. Manning of Robstown and R. H. Bristow of Waco were the nominees for president.

Nominees for the vice president were: For first vice president, H. R. Alberts of San Antonio, George B. Wilcox of College Station, and J. R. McLemore of Paris; for second vice president, James H. Goette of Spring, Missouri; for third vice president, Miss Mamie Bastion of Houston and David Lemon of Slaton.

The nomination committee, in a report read by Frank Delaney, of Dallas, chairman, recommended the reelection of all members of the executive board whose terms expire in 1937. These include Joe Bergin of Greenville, District 4; H. O. Whitehurst of Groesbeck, District 6; John Long of Crockett, District 7; E. E. Oberholzer of Houston, District 8; O. D. Moore of Fort Worth, District 12; E. C. Dodd of Brownsville, District 15; and O. Boyles of Amarillo, District 18.

Executive board nominees were P. H. Green of Webster, District 8; J. Milard of Lyford, District 15; and C. R. Cryer of McLean, District 18.

BLOOD OFFERED FOR VICTIMS OF RARE INFECTION

WINDSOR, Ont., Nov. 26 (AP)—(Canadian Press)—From a list of 1,500 offers of blood-transfusions, doctors today selected two persons who may have a rare and deadly infection, known as streptococcus viridans.

One offer was from a boy in Erie, Pa., whose doctor telegraphed that he had recovered from the infection. The second offer was from a man in Detroit.

In addition to having type four blood—the same as the victims of the infection—the donor sought must be one who has recovered from streptococcus viridans, and recoveries are few.

PONTIAC, Mich., Nov. 26 (AP)—Work was resumed today at the Pontiac plant of the Fisher Body division of General Motors corporation with 2,000 employees going back to their jobs. The plant was closed by a sit-down strike November 17.

The remainder of the plant's 5,000 workers will report for duty Monday.

WOULD - BE ROBBERS ADMIT 'WE'RE WHERE WE BELONG'

LAS CRUCES, N. M., Nov. 26 (AP)—Two young eastern "drug store cowboys," whose Thanksgiving Day attempt to hold up a crack transcontinental train contained all the elements of a western fiction "thriller," told their story from a jail cell again today as officers prepared to file charges.

District Attorney Martin Threet said the two, Henry Lorenz, 2, of Manitowoc, Wis., and Larry Dwyer, 27, of Digby county, Canada, had admitted firing the shots which claimed the life of one man before a crowd of enraged train passengers overpowered them as they attempted to flee the train. Lorenz and Dwyer were brought here last night from Denning. They were taken from the Southern Pacific train there yesterday, bruised and bleeding, their cowboy clothes torn, after passengers thwarted their hold-up.

The body of W. L. Smith, El Paso, Tex., railroad worker who was wounded fatally in the crowd's scuffle with the bandits, was sent to his home today.

"There is no chance of our beating the law," Lorenz and Dwyer were quoted as saying. "We know we're both where we belong."

One-House Legislature May Be 1938 Issue

AUSTIN, Nov. 26 (AP)—While thousands of high school boys and girls debate whether Texas should try the unicameral legislature, their elders look forward to widespread discussion of the subject in the 1938 political campaigns.

Fresh fuel to the controversy was added by the legislature's failure to pass a tax bill at its October session. Senate leaders blamed the house or Gov. James V. Allred, or both, while the governor and house members generally blamed the sen-

City Turns To Plans For The Yule Season

Holiday Lights Going Up; Santa To Visit Next Thursday

With Thanksgiving behind, Big Spring Friday was priming itself for the opening of the Christmas shopping season here next week.

Plans for holly-bells appeared not far off in Texas. Electric Services began the installation of green and red lights in the downtown section. Inauguring an even more colorful lighting effect than that employed for the past several years, 12 additional strings of lights were added to the supply. The strings, 80 feet in length with lights on 60 feet, will permit stringing of the overhead lights over a wider section.

With Santa Claus' arrival here scheduled for Thursday, the parade committee of the merchants and chamber of commerce Christmas set-up, promised to complete details for the affair within a day or two.

Soon Nat Shick is to organize his lighting of the Christmas tree on the courthouse lawn, and the Red Cross advertising on the lawn signboard, furnished by the West Texas Advertising company, will be supplemented by one of Christmas design.

Anticipating a heavy Christmas trade, merchants are stocking heavily and this year offer the most complete list of gift offerings in the history of the city.

Show Proceeds To Be Used Locally By Red Cross

Those who contribute to the Red Cross through attendance at the benefit picture show to be staged at the Ritz Sunday night will be donating solely to the Howard-Glasscock chapter, it was announced Friday by Shine Phillips, chairman. Entire proceeds from the show will be kept at home to finance the organization's local activities.

A ten-cent admission charge will be made for all children under 12, it was announced. Fee for all others will be 25 cents. The Ritz is contributing its services and facilities, and all film costs, so that all receipts go to the Red Cross. The feature of the program will be a comedy drama, "Easy Living," co-starring Jean Arthur and Edward Arnold. The show will start at 8:30.

FURTHER MOVES TO BOOST BUSINESS ARE OUTLINED

Housing Program, Curtailment Of Road Building Funds Mentioned; Work On Levies Up To Congress

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP)—President Roosevelt said today he wanted tax revision as soon as congress is ready to go ahead with it. As further moves to restore confidence and stimulate industry the president told his press conference he would send a message to congress Monday recommending legislation to spur private financing of a large scale housing program and another Tuesday proposing curtailment in the annual appropriations for federal aid in road building.

A fourth step, Mr. Roosevelt disclosed, involves a presidential letter to department heads to anticipate federal purchases of supplies for the remaining seven months of the current fiscal year and to speed these up instead of spreading them over until June 30.

Wants Changes When Congress Is Ready
Asked if he favored tax revision as an aid to business now, or at the regular session starting in January, the president joked with his questioner and asked if he had been reading the newspapers. Mr. Roosevelt advised reading his message to the special session which he said made very clear that tax revision was desired.

In other words, he added, he wanted tax changes when congress had them ready to be made.

With a smile, however, he said he did not want to fly in the face of critical editorials of the past which warned against undigested legislation—that is the White House just handing in bills to a rubber stamp congress.

He emphasized all legislation should be considered thoroughly. The reduction in federal aid highway appropriations recalled Secretary Morgenthau's recent speech in which he listed this item as well as relief and farm aids as possible outlays that could be cut to help balance the budget.

Other Expenditure Cuts Studied

Asked if this was the first step under the Morgenthau program, the president replied by saying the other cuts proposed were budgetary and did not require legislation whereas the highway slash did.

Elaborating at another point, the president said his message Tuesday would say that the time had come to try the annual road authorization bills. He noted that the government was now spending approximately $200,000,000 compared with $80,000,000 or $90,000,000, prior to 1929.

The practice of authorizing such appropriations a year or two, in advance was unsound, he said. He added that under this system future congresses were more, or less, obligated to appropriate the full amount authorized because after passage of authorization bills the secretary of agriculture was required to notify the states before January 1 as to what their share would be.

Thus, the authorization was more than that, the chief executive remarked; it became a tender, and all to states had to do was to make the tender and it obligated the federal government.

Lower Realty Taxes Urged

Green Says Reduction Would Spur Home Ownership

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP)—President William Green of the American Federation of Labor suggested today reduction of real estate taxes—rather than labor costs—would be the most effective method of stimulating housing ownership.

While President Roosevelt worked on a special housing message to send congress Monday, Green proposed that the administration sponsor an interstate program to coordinate ways of lightening the tax load.

Green objected to the idea of guaranteeing building trades workmen a steady annual wage, in lieu of high hourly rates with no certainty of working more than a few weeks at a time, proposed at a recent White House conference.

J. W. Williams, president of the A. F. of L. building trades department, commented that such a guarantee would be impossible.

A fundamental purpose of the vast residential housing program the president has in mind was said to be an improvement in living conditions.

Of more immediate benefit to the nation, advocates of the program said, would be alleviation of the current construction lag.

Strikers Fail To Close Plant

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 26 (AP)—Striking United Automobile Workers of America, massing a heavy picket line with the aid of other CIO unions, failed today in a second attempt to halt production at the Ford Motor company's St. Louis assembly plant.

The picket line, formed in the early morning darkness, was broken, with little disorder, by automobiles loaded with workers and escorted into the plant by police cars. At dawn, the first motorcade of 30 automobiles approached the main gate, where a police detail watched milling pickets closely. A few stones were thrown.

An hour and a half later, a count made by an Associated Press staff member and four other newsmen showed 474 workers had entered the plant in 137 automobiles.

Five Blocks Of Paving To Be Finished By Tonight

Five blocks of paving on West Third street westward from Lancaster were to be completed by tonight Friday, state highway engineers said.

As rapidly as weather will permit, surfacing of the remainder of the street to the western city limits and part of highway No. 1 west to the two-mile airport section will be accomplished.

Thursday the prime coat of cut-back asphalt was placed on the untouched portion of East Third street and paving was installed on the highway eastward to where the new route intersects with the surfacing done last year.

All of the prime coat on the 10.4 mile highway project is in except on the airport section. Both courses of caliche base, however, were in on that section and it was to be opened to traffic Friday afternoon. After it is compacted, it will be bladed, compacted again and then given the prime coat.

Engineers believed that the entire project, started last summer, "is rapidly drawing near to completion."

READING AND WRITING

By JOHN SELBY

"A WORLD HISTORY OF ART," by Sheldon Cheney (Viking; $5); "SIX CENTURIES OF FINE PRINTS," by Carl Zigrosser (Covici-Friede; $5); "BOTTICELLI," by Lionello Venturi (Oxford; $3).

That sly Hendrik Willem van Loon has scooped Sheldon Cheney, and the latter's "A World History of Art." Van Loon has taken the whole field of art, including music, and made a living history of it. Cheney has taken one section of the subject and made a first rate textbook.

"A World History" contains almost as many pages as "Gone With the Wind," and probably more type. There are 500 illustrations, mostly in the traditional textbook manner, though almost pertinent, and sometimes very handsome indeed. The matter of personal bias is solved very well, excepting (perhaps) among the moderns — it would be difficult to explain why a painter like John Stuart Curry gets a mention and Thomas Hart Benton and Grant Wood gets none.

But just the same, this reader finds this informative book stiff going. The text has an overloaded feeling which may be the result of too much detail, but which probably is the result of confining the book to only one of a number of possible channels. After a while consecutive reading was abandoned, and the index was resorted to. And pretty soon the index was abandoned, and a chronological list of artists begun. This yielded the information that as a rule painters and such are long lived; their life span averages, we imagine, quite a bit more than that of the average football star.

The text of Carl Zigrosser's "Six Centuries of Fine Prints" suffers a little from the same faults, although it is not a quarter as long. Because prints are the only representatives of art inexpensive enough for wide distribution, they have been and in a measure still are the art of the people. This has had some influence on the public; perhaps some on the artists as well, who at least have more often chosen topical, contemporary subjects than have the portraitists with their burden of flattery, for example. Whether this is an advantage or not, not even Mr. Zigrosser can prove.

And finally there is another of the Phaidon Press books, this one by Lionello Venturi, and about Botticelli. The introductory text is good; the illustrations excellent.

PUBLISHER'S DEATH IS INVESTIGATED

NEW YORK, Nov. 26 (AP)—Police sought an explanation today of the death of Claude H. Kendall, former publisher, 24 hours after his battered body was found in a hotel room he occupied alone.

The one time publisher of "Mystery Thrillers" was last seen entering the hotel at 3:30 a. m. yesterday with a stranger who later disappeared.

About 4 a. m. a couple occupying a room above Kendall's heard a thumping noise. Several hours later a negro maid found Kendall's body on the floor, his face cut and swollen and a sheet wrapped loosely around his neck.

Inspector Michael F. McDermott said he was inclined to believe the death was not a homicide but was due to a fall.

Barcuses Are Complimented With Farewell Affairs By Friends

Gay, Informal Parties Given For Couple Leaving For Waco

To honor Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Barcus who are to make their home in Waco in the future, friends entertained with informal affairs over the holidays as farewell gestures to the popular couple.

Wednesday noon, Mrs. Ralph Rix, Mrs. Robert Currie and Mrs. Adolph Swartz were hostesses for luncheon at the Settles hotel with Mrs. Barcus as the honoree.

The table was laid in the coffee shop and a color theme of red and gold was used in table decorations and on the place cards.

The guest list included Mrs. J. Gordon Bristow, Mrs. William T. Tate, Mrs. Curtis Driver, Mrs. J. Henry Edwards, Mrs. Ray Simmons, Mrs. R. B. G. Cowper and the honoree.

A gay affair Thanksgiving morning was the breakfast given by Mr. and Mrs. Swartz at their home when nine friends were invited to breakfast with the departing couple.

A fawn and brown striped damask cloth covered the table that was centered with yellow chrysanthemums and laid with bright pottery. The meal was served buffet style and the hostess poured coffee at the coffee table.

For this entertainment Mr. and Mrs. Bristow, Mr. and Mrs. Tate, Mr. and Mrs. Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. Currie and Mrs. Ralph Rix were guests.

Dinner Party
Climaxing the round of complimentary parties was the dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tate Thursday evening.

The guests were seated about the long table that was spread with a cut work cloth. A crystal bowl holding chrysanthemums matched the candelabra in which white tapers were burning.

After dinner coffee was served at the Bristow home by Mrs. Bristow who served from a silver urn.

Tommy Hutto was a guest in addition to the members of the breakfast party.

Mrs. Barcus will leave Sunday with her small daughter for Waco and will be joined there by Mr. Barcus in two weeks.

Disturbance Moves On Florida Coast

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 26 (AP)—Weather at the mouth of the Mississippi river moderated considerably as a disturbance in the Gulf of Mexico, shifting eastward, moved toward the northwest Florida coast today.

The weather bureau here said the center of the disturbance was centered last night about 150 miles south of Pensacola and probably would strike Florida coast today with squally winds not expected to exceed 40 miles per hour.

"Small craft in that area," the bureau reported, "should remain in port."

Shipping officials said that with the change in the direction of the storm, the freighter Cranford, aground near Pass a Loutre, and the dredge Windham, disabled off Southwest Pass, probably would resume their voyages today.

The Cranford of the Lykes Brothers-Ripley Steamship company was coming to this port from Tampa City when it was grounded Wednesday. The Standard Dredging company's Windham, being towed from here to Galveston the same day, broke loose from its towboat when a hawser snapped.

THE SPORTS PARADE

BY HANK MART

The district race really seems to be in a muddle at the present time. San Angelo, the trouble child of the Oil Belt in years past, did it again and they had no right to do it.

General belief here is that the Eagles will be awarded the title even though they did lose to San Angelo yesterday, 13-7, and dropped into a tie with Stephenville.

This department has come to the conclusion that the Yellow Jackets should gain possession of the crown and thereby enter into bi-district play.

The Jackets have a better season record than do the Abileneans and it is known that they are a home grown product.

Big Spring was one of the three teams in the Oil Belt to score in every game this season. Both Abilene and Stephenville managed to count at least one touchdown in every game but San Angelo, Sweetwater, Cisco, Ranger, Eastland, Brownwood and Breckenridge were all shut out at least once.

Weldon Bigony never carried the ball from scrimmage in the classic played with the Mustangs yesterday but he gained more yardage than any man on the field. Red Womack had a word to say about that.

We chose Cecil Yoss of the Sweetwater eleven on our all-district team the first part of the week but after getting a look at this boy, May, who holds down the other anchor, we'd like to change. He was the big difference between the two teams.

The Mustangs bring back most of that backfield for another year but Coach Priddy won't have a line to work with. He loses seven regulars in that front wall and a flock of reserves as well.

Robert Winslow managed to play his first, last and only game of varsity football when he was substituted in the fourth quarter along with three other reserves. He did marvelous blocking but his only chance at carrying the mail resulted in a seven-yard loss. The big red line seeped through and broke up his interference.

Curtis Bishop, local boy, has a feature story in the All-America Sports magazine this week. Labeled "Gridiron Snobs," it deals, of course, with football.

Southern Methodist, which is still very much in the running for the Southwest conference gridiron championship, will turn within two or three weeks to preparation for defending its basketball title which it bagged last year.

A very good prospect is on tap for another winning season since the Ponies lost no one high Bill Blanton from last year's crew.

Among those who will report for early training are Pete Adick, Billy Dwell and Charles Sprague, all football regulars who will help in the Texas Christian game this weekend, and J. D. Norton, one of the greatest players to ever appear in the conference.

Norton raised the quintet from a mediocre outfit to the championship crew that it was. He helped defeat Arkansas once and all the other schools twice. He's only a junior.

Yardstick

- YARDS FROM SCRIMMAGE: Bethel—nine yards in five tries, 1 1/2 yard average. Bethel—one yard in three tries, 1-3 yard average. Womack—14 yards in four tries, 3 1/2 yard average. Cunningham—15 yards in eight tries, two yard average. Settles—seven yards in four tries, 1 3/4 yard average. Williams—no gain in one try. Winslow—no gain in one try. PASSES: Bettel passed five times, completed two (Settles, Anderson) for total of 28 yards. Womack passed 17 times, completed nine (Bigony 6, Anderson, Cunningham 3) for total of 188 yards, one intercepted. Williams passed once, ball was intercepted. Cunningham passed once, ball was incomplete. PUNTS: Bigony punted nine times for total of 297 yards, 33 yard average. KICKOFFS: Bigony kicked off three times for total of 131 yards, 43 yard average. KICKOFF RETURNS: Bethel returned one for 15 yards. Anderson returned one for nine yards. PUNT RETURNS: Cunningham returned one for 11 yards. Womack returned one for three yards. FUMBLES: Womack fumbled once, lost ball. Cunningham fumbled once, recovered.

THE PONYES WIN OFFENSIVE GAME FROM STEERS, 26-13

Herd Passing Combination Troublesome

Victors Lead From Beginning, Ground Game Shines

By HANK MART Sweetwater, Nov. 26 — Lawrence Priddy's Cayuses of Sweetwater high school closed their season's books in a blaze of glory here Thursday afternoon before 3,700 fans by defeating the black and gold bedecked gridders from Big Spring, 26-13, but before they sounded taps they were addressing one O'Dell Womack as Master Mite and one Weldon Bigony as Mr. Bigony.

That duo almost upset the Ponies at their own passing game. The likes of the aerial bombardment that the red head and the captain put on has rarely been seen in this air minded sector. They didn't complete as many passes as some of the other combinations have but they never tried as many. Those two backs went in for distance and seemed to connect with startling regularity.

The Mustangs had the better running attack. They piled up a total of 202 yards from scrimmage to 46 for the visitors and that steady pounding drive at the palisade of the Big Spring eleven told the tale long before the end drew near.

Led by Webster and Wetzel, the Ponies jumped into a 19-0 lead before the Longhorns ever came out of their shells, but, typical of their type of attack, the Bovines started and hadn't finished by a long way when the gun ended all arguments.

Sweetwater's gridders allowed the Steers to receive the kickoff and then held them for down's 60 yards from pay dirt. Bigony had to kick and the Mustangs set up their stand for a prosperous evening.

After receiving Bigony's short punt on their own 38, they marched down to the Longhorn 15-yard marker on three line plays and took exactly three more to go into the zone. Webster went off tackle for the key 40 on the sixth offensive play and Sweetwater led 6-0. Wetzel failed to kick goal.

The Steers tried again. They got all the way up to their own 46 before kicking out but kick they did and the Ponies again took possession of the pigskin. The fleet backs ran into all kinds of opposition when they tried to break loose for their second score but Webster booted one down into the coffin corner and Owen killed in on the Big Spring six-yard line to put the Murphy hopefuls in a bad spot.

Redhead Fumbles Bigony booted out and Webster booted back. That could have gone on, indefinitely, but Womack happened to do a little booting of his own at that point and it wasn't with his foot. He dropped the punt and Sweetwater recovered on the Steer 22-yard marker.

Four plays resulted in hands-on gains for the Sweetwater crew with the fifth drawing the prize when Mays went over on an end-around. Wetzel failed again to kick the extra point and Sweetwater led, 12-0.

Red Cunningham had a confab with Lie opposition when the first quarter ended and was holding the floor in the interest of debate but he tripped the ball on one occasion around the Longhorn 40-yard line and Owen pounced on it for the recovery. That was Sweetwater's cue to begin again. May slipped around Carley Ray Settles on the third offensive play in that series of downs and thundered goalward after receiving Webster's 25-yard heave.

Simmons' kick split the upright and Sweetwater was out front with a 16-0 margin. The half was left the score the same way and the crowd rested for the slaughter that was expected to take place following the parade of the music hounds at the half.

The Ponies evidently got the idea that Big Spring had left its water on the field at the beginning of third quarter because they didn't pay any attention to Womack when he faded back for his first pass. He missed one intended for Dopey Anderson but he tried again and hit a moving target 20 yards down field. That target happened to be Bigony and off he scatted 33 yards to the end zones for the first tally. That evidently pleased the crowd because they applauded the lad and that evidently pleased the lad because he tried again.

The Mustangs struck once more at the turn of the third quarter when Wetzel flipped a 30-yard heave to May who was in the end zones and Simmons booted the point to run the tally to 26-6 but Big Spring wasn't through yet.

Womack gambled and won following the kickoff. After firing three incomplete passes from his own 42-yard line, he pointed into the right flat and to Bigony in the huddle and that was enough. The rangy co-captain ambled down 25 yards from the line of scrimmage, turned to find Womack's pass wrapped up for him, and whizzed past the double stripes once again. Womack's dropkick was wobbly and looked out of shape but it got through somehow and the score stood at 26-13.

Pitt Must Win To Stay In Running

Fordham Out For Victory

Alabama Stands By To Wait For Bowl Invitation

By DREW MIDDLETON NEW YORK, Nov. 26 (AP)—Propelled by the accurate toe of gangling Hayward Sanford, Alabama's unbeaten eleven lands in the middle of the most muddled Rose Bowl situation in years.

Sanford booted a field goal for the Alabama boys yesterday to beat Vanderbilt, and the harried gentlemen who must pick the outland representative called for another gross of aspirin. If Pitt beats Duke and Fordham loses the same to New York university, Saturday, there will be three major claimants.

The 9 to 7 triumph admits Alabama into the charmed circle but Duke stands in the way of Pitt. The Blue Devils are no small obstacle.

All this is all very important to the teams that hope to be tapped for the Rose Bowl society, but the biggest crowd of the day will congregate at Philadelphia for the Army-Navy meeting.

Here, despite sorry seasons for the service teams, brass hats and plebes and dowers and debutantes will gather to the number of 103,000.

Big Red Triumph The stirring events at Nashville yesterday can't quite eclipse the equally uproarious events at Philadelphia. There Cornell and Pennsylvania closed the "Ivy" league season with a burst of offensive football that brought a 34 to 20 score with the Cornell on top.

These two games stood out on a Thanksgiving day program that was a far cry from the old days of a dozen or more turkey classics. Duquesne tripped Detroit and Brown downed Rutgers, 7 to 6, on a 95-yard run back of the kickoff by Frank Foster.

Maryland's Terrapins trimmed Washington & Lee, 8 to 0, to leave the Southern conference championship up in the atmosphere. North Carolina, a strong claimant for the crown, ran Virginia, 40 to 0, in a non-conference game.

Volts Slap Tucky Maryland's conference record shows two victories while the Tar Heels have won four. Clemson had a hand in the title but it was tied by Furman, 0-0, yesterday.

Elsewhere in the South, Tennessee downed Kentucky, 13 to 0, and Mississippi State edged out Mississippi, 9 to 7.

The Big Six tie resolved into a Nebraska sinecure as Kansas and Missouri played to a 0-0 tie. The Cornhuskers can win by either tying or beating Kansas State.

Texas A. and M. made a first quarter touchdown stand up to beat Texas, 7 to 0, in a conference game in the Southwest and Arkansas whipped Tulsa, 28 to 7.

Byron White, the Colorado whizzer, went all out to trim Denver, 34 to 7, a victory that gave the undefeated, untied Buffaloes the Rocky Mountain conference championship with six straight wins. Utah downed Utah State, 27 to 0, and Montana rallied to beat North Dakota, 14 to 3.

Two traditional season-end battles which may settle the most vexing question of Southwest conference leadership are scheduled for broadcasting by the Humble Oil & Refining company on Saturday afternoon. They are the annual meetings of Texas Christian and Southern Methodist universities at Fort Worth, and of Baylor university and Rice Institute at Houston.

Two High Districts Still In Muddle

Jackets Very Much In Loop Three's Race

Waco Unsets Temple To Give District 11 Three Leaders

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF DALLAS, Nov. 26 (AP)—Thirteen district champions marked time today while committees checked results in an effort to decide three others to enter the first round play-offs of the Texas Interscholastic league football race next week.

Amarillo, Vernon, Austin (El Paso), Sherman, Highland Park (Dallas), North Side (Fort Worth), Woodrow Wilson (Dallas), Lovelock, Lufkin, Thomas Jefferson (San Antonio), Conroe, Robstown and Mission were safely under the wire, but ties existed in the turbulent Oil Belt and the Central Texas district and a rule against use of 12th graders stood between Port Arthur and Beaumont in District 14.

Amarillo, seeking its fourth straight title, defeated Lubbock 14-6 yesterday to take the Panhandle title and pair with Vernon, which clinched District 2 honors with a 7-6 win over Electric, in the first round.

San Angelo upset the hitherto undefeated, untied Abilene Eagles, 12-7, to throw the Oil Belt race into a tie between Abilene and Stephenville, which downed Ranger 39-7. Austin remained one of the undefeated, untied teams by downing El Paso high 14-0 for the District 4 crown.

Highland Park in Sherman played a 6-6 tie with Gainesville to take the District 5 title and will meet Highland park, which clinched District 6 honors by smashing Greenville 26-0, in the first round. Gainesville had previously been tied by Denison but Sherman was undefeated in conference play.

North Side became Woodrow Wilson's bi-district opponent by downing Paschal for the Fort Worth title. Woodrow Wilson had clinched the Dallas crown last week.

Longview's Lobos, favored to reach the state finals, battered the hapless water Bears 57-12 to top District 11 honors and pair with the mighty Panthers of Lufkin, District 10 titlists. This looms as the feature game of the first round, pitting undefeated, untied teams.

Temple, Waco and Cleburne finished in a tie for the District 7 championship when Waco staged an upset to defeat Temple 7-0. Previously Temple had beaten Cleburne 13-0 and Cleburne in turn downed Waco 7-6. The winner of this district will play Thomas Jefferson (San Antonio) in the first round. The latter, undefeated in conference play, downed Brackenridge of Corpus Christi 24-13 for the District 12 title.

Corpus Christi upset the District 13 championship last week. The Tigers, boasting one of the outstanding records of the year, meet the District 14 winner which was to be determined today by the executive committee. Beaumont finished the district campaign without defeat by blasting South Park (Beaumont) 35-12 yesterday. Port Arthur closed an unbeaten drive two weeks ago.

Robstown staged one of the state's most jarring upsets by noosing out the highly-favored Corpus Christi team 7-6 for the District 15 title. It erased Corpus Christi from the unbeaten, untied list. Robstown meets Mission, which won over San Benito 14-6 for the Rio Grande valley district title.

Only one more game remained on the regular season card in the state today. John Reagan and San Jacinto, Houston teams, clash in a contest having no title bearing.

Jews Ousted BERLIN, Nov. 26 (AP)—Three thousand Jews have been driven from the German theater, motion pictures, and newspapers since 1933, Propaganda Minister Joseph Goebbels announced today at the annual meeting of the reich culture chamber.

S'West Ready For Two 'Deciders' Saturday

Artillery Due To Roar In Ft. Worth

Baylor Goes After Clincher In Game With Rice Owls

By FELIX R. MCKNIGHT COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 26 (AP)—Glamor game tucked away with the left-over cranberry sauce by the Texas Aggies, the Southwest Conference readied itself for a pair of battles tomorrow that will make or break the title hopes of four deeply involved teams.

On two fronts, at Houston and Fort Worth, games will be played that may determine a champion. One half game ahead, Rice Institute, the scoreless wonder of early season, plays a Baylor Bruin at Houston that ran wild for six games before being headed off.

At Fort Worth the traditional classic between Texas Christian and Southern Methodist, carries the same importance. Only one game remains after Saturday's duels—and it could easily determine the title winner. Rice still has a rapidly reviving Methodist team to meet at Dallas Dec. 4 in the curtain dropper.

Texas Closes Books Thirty-two thousand fans, the season's largest gathering, started this mad weekend of features here yesterday by sitting through a brilliant Thanksgiving Day skit which saw Texas A. and M. beat down a Texas rival of almost a half century, 7-0.

The churning legs of Dick Todd, their broken field streak and superb exhibition of defensive power by "the thin red line," carried the Cadets to victory over a Longhorn eleven that awoke with a start after a drowsy first half and almost trapped themselves a tying score.

Fumbles in the tense first few minutes provided the breaks that beat Texas. Bulky Zed Coston, Aggie center, gave the Aggies their scoring chance. Wallace Lawson, Texas fullback, juggled an attempted shovel pass behind the line of scrimmage, batted it crazily into the air and Coston came up with it, lateraling to End Rankin Britt, who carried to the Texas 41.

The Aggies used the same staged pass to score. Jim Shockey underhanding one to Todd, who ran 27 yards to place the ball on the Longhorn 13.

Owen (Slick) Rogers made a nine-yard blast over tackle and Dick Vitek, bounding Aggie halfback, took just two whacks at the Texas line before he scored. Todd kicked the extra point.

VOTE OF CONFIDENCE PARIS, Nov. 26 (AP)—Premier Camille Chautemps today won a vote of confidence from the chamber of deputies in approval of a bill earmarking 1,745,000 francs (about $59,200,000) for pensions and wage increases for government employees.

The vote on the measure which had threatened to split the people's front majority was 518 to six.

Pastor Fights Mann Tonight

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF NEW YORK, Nov. 26 (AP)—Bob Pastor and Natie Mann, two of the up-and-coming big boys of the fight business, tangled for ten rounds or less in Madison Square Garden tonight for the right to survive in what now amounts to a heavy weight "elimination" series.

With Joe Louis' and Maxie Schmeling slated to fight for the title next year, provided, of course that Der Mox hands Harry Thomas as what for in their little get-together Dec. 12, the challenging field is narrowed down to the youngsters.

In the heels of boxing ability and punch, the two rate about even—though in pre-fight calculations.

Two Games On Air Saturday

Two traditional season-end battles which may settle the most vexing question of Southwest conference leadership are scheduled for broadcasting by the Humble Oil & Refining company on Saturday afternoon. They are the annual meetings of Texas Christian and Southern Methodist universities at Fort Worth, and of Baylor university and Rice Institute at Houston.

Rail Rate Increase

Request of the railroads of United States to the Interstate Commerce commission for a rate increase is coming up for hearing, and on the face of the arguments made by the roads in advance of the hearing it would seem that they must be granted the increase or go into the hands of the courts and receivers.

The latter would be bad for the roads and for the general public, for a receivership is never an inviting condition, whether of railroads or whatnot. So if some agreement can be reached by which the roads may get an increased revenue it would seem good business to reach it and at least try it for a while.

There is little possibility for decreased expenses for the railroads. On the contrary, these expenses seem to be increasing, such as the unemployment tax and the retirement tax, which amount to more than a hundred million dollars a year. Their expenses for material and supplies have also increased just like those expenses of individuals. The only place where it might be possible to give some relief would be on taxes — and the lowering of taxes is something that just isn't done nowadays.

The railroads state that the requested increase is about fifteen per cent on freights and a little more than that on passenger tariffs. That would seem not to be burdensome that it cannot be allowed, and if it be granted it will do one of two things — it will give the roads what they say will enable them to continue operation and make necessary replacements and improvements, or it will so reduce their income, by reason of possible lessening their use of the roads, that it will prove to be a mistake.

There is no gainsaying the fact that we must have railroads and if the freight increase is necessary to their operation let us have the increase. For an increase will be preferable to government ownership and operation, and that seems to be the alternative.

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—It was with a sobering shock that I walked into the studio of an artist the other night. It was a little after midnight and his face seemed strained when he opened the door. We went back into the studio proper, a great lighted room done in plum and chromium fixtures. Suddenly he burst into tears and fell face down across a divan. Horrible sobs racked his body. I was stunned, and could only stand there, speechless, and stare like a fool.

Then he got up and dragged a forearm across his face. The hot tears were coursing down his cheeks. If you have never seen a man weep you can not understand how thoroughly and altogether horrible the experience can be. He started to explain and the sobs came again.

For a few moments he wept uncontrollably, and I wished a thousand times I hadn't come in just then. It was terribly embarrassing. Eventually he was able to shake some of it off. Suddenly he lifted his head. "I know I'm a fool, but I can't help it. My girl just gave me the air. She's going to be married."

Again paroxysms of sobs shook him and beat him until he was a sodden wretch, helpless and down. I tried to mumble the consolation applicable to such an emergency, but everything I thought of seemed stupid and out of order. Finally my leaden senses told me what to do. I reached for my hat and closed the door softly as I went out.

Johnny Nuisance, unfortunately, has escaped his obscurity and is back at his old trade of misbehaving once more. Johnny is the lad who used to earn his living by stealing tips from waitresses.

His program was simple. He simply wandered through restaurants, as if looking for people, and as a customer would rise Johnny would drift by that table, sit down and pocket the tip before the waitress could get back. Then he would shift his position, gathering other stray dimes.

Unfortunately, for him, however, one waitress thus fleeced turned out to be the girl of a cop. The copper was a big muscled guy who could get extremely tough whenever the occasion demanded it. Hearing of this, he ambushed Johnny one day in front of a large restaurant in 43rd street. He gave Johnny some extremely rude cuffs about the head and then delivered the final humiliation.

"How much money you got?" he demanded. "About $4" wept Johnny. "Then let's have it," growled the cop. Wherefore the money was changed into dimes, and Johnny, with the cop waving his big club suggestively, went meekly into the restaurant and distributed it among the aproned pretties until every cent was gone.

"Now git!" bellowed the cop, giving him another extremely boot in the pants.

Johnny hasn't been glimpsed in that sector since.

ON THE RECORD

By DOROTHY THOMPSON
 (Miss Thompson's column is published as an informational and news feature. Her views are personal and are not to be construed as necessarily reflecting the editorial opinion of The Herald.—Editor's Note.)

THE NEXT THIRTY DAYS

The next 30 days will be as important as any in the history of this republic. They will determine whether a business recession snowballs into a serious depression and a social crisis. If the latter happens, the very future of American democracy may be at stake. For the capacity of this country to weather another depression, before the serious social, economic and political effects of the last one have worn off, is one great big question mark.

It is the belief of this column that this recession can be halted, provided that seven things occur. They are the following: (1) That a genuine equitable settlement is reached, and reached quickly. In the utilities question. (2) That the railroads are salvaged. (3) That the system of federal taxation is revised to furnish incentive for capital investment and re-employment. (4) That no farm bill is passed which will reintroduce the radical planning features of the A.A.A., bring about drastic reduction of acreage, and thus cause a sudden acceleration of unemployment in all those agricultural sections where there is a large amount of hired labor. (5) That no legislation is passed which will have the effect of seriously increasing production costs. (6) That some new great horizontal expansion is given impetus, which will not make a drain on the public purse—probably in housing. (7) That the budget is not seriously unbalanced.

The demand for statesmanship is tremendous. Statesmanship in the White House, statesmanship in congress, and statesmanship in the business world. The first necessity of that statesmanship is that a bridge should be built between business and government, and that they should cease to continue operating like mutually hostile armies. Business and government are like a married couple who have quarreled. The quarrel has been disastrous for the lives of each. It has disrupted the society, to which both belong; it has caused the family, of which they are a part, to suffer; it has humiliated and caused pain to the children. Both parties know this, and both want to make up. But each waits on the telephone for the other to call. Each feels that in the issues which caused the quarrel, he was right, and his partner was wrong. Each of which they are a part, to suffer; it has humiliated and caused pain to the children. Both parties know this, and both want to make up. But each waits on the telephone for the other to call. Each feels that in the issues which caused the quarrel, he was right, and his partner was wrong. Each seriously hurt. Each feels that his prestige is at stake.

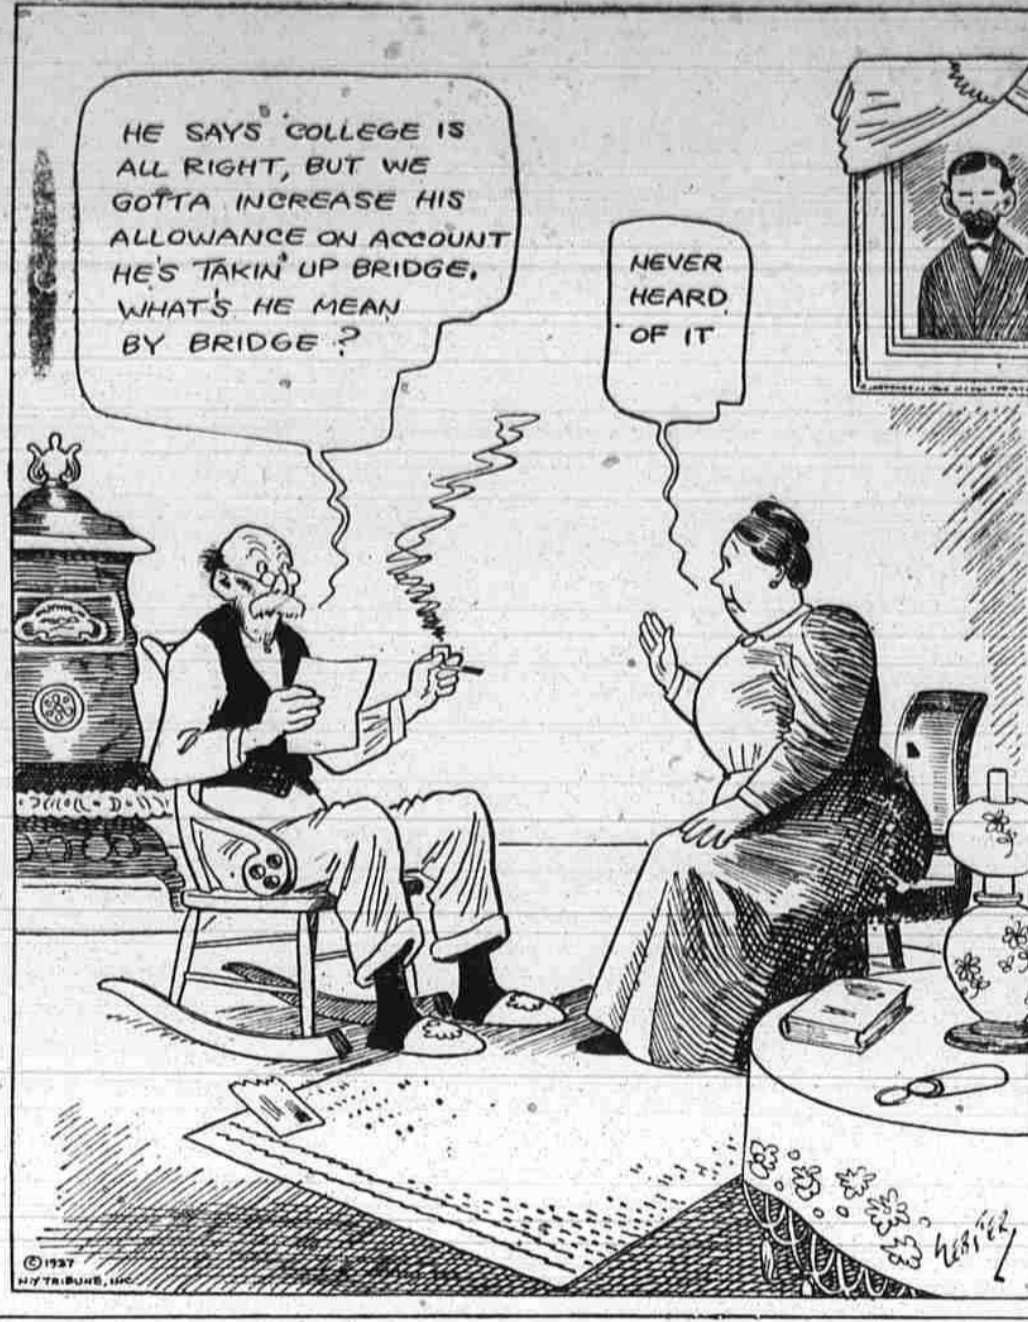

Each sits on the telephone, nursing injured amour propre and remembering insults. I have no doubt that the president, who is a proud and sensitive man, goes over in his mind everything that has been said by or about him in the last five years. And the sum of that reverberation probably: "Well, I certainly won't call up first. If I do, they will cackle joyfully. This just shows that he never did know anything about business, and he had to call on us when he gets into a jam." And business says to itself: "If I and business says to itself: "If I and say I want to make up, he will spread it all over the place that I couldn't get along without him after all, and that I need him even more than he needs me." Meanwhile the sheriff approaches to foreclose the old home.

In this dilemma, which is psychological and atmospheric, as well as specific and real, congress ought to act as the family lawyer and try to get the parties together. Washington needs hearings by well informed men in the business world. They, in turn, need to think inside the realities of the situation and propose definite measures. And public opinion can do its part by demanding from both sides the greatest possible measure of good will. For, as in every disrupted marriage, there will be so-called friends and advisers of both parties who will do their best to exacerbate injured feelings and exploit pent-up grievances. There is no question that in the business world there are die-hard who are willing to sabotage the American economy for the sake of revenge against Roosevelt, and there is also no question that in government circles are those who wish to exploit the present situation to aggrandize more power for the administration.

For all those who want to keep, with however much necessary reform, the system of private enterprise, which with all its faults and shortcomings has produced prodigious values, the making of a new bridge between business and government, the return to deliberative government, and the re-establishment of an atmosphere in which cooperation is possible, is of an importance which cannot be exaggerated.

The president is a certain kind of individual. He is audacious—sometimes to the point of recklessness. His is the temperament that, under strain, acts. Given a continued crisis, there is nothing in the past pattern of his behavior to indicate that he will be inclined to let things drift. Just now there is good reason to believe that he would respond to overtures from the more enlightened section of the business world, especially if those overtures were accompanied by specific programs for collaboration.

But if the bridge is not made, if co-operation with private capital for recovery fails, Mr. Roosevelt will be pushed, by the actual situation, by his own temperament, and by certain of his advisers, to take far more radical measures than heretofore. What those measures may be, one can guess. He may go into increased government interference and control to the point of socialization. The process, carried out under pressure of powerful and greedy groups would almost certainly mean further unbalancing of the budget, further increases in production costs, and inflation. And it takes a ruthless and courageous mind to face what would be on the other side of that.

There may be people in this country who are thinking: Let the whole thing slide. It will liquidate the New Deal. Let them be warned by the experience of other countries! The sudden and catastrophic liquidation of any system is—sudden, and catastrophic. History will not forgive the wrecking of the American economy—either by fanatical idealists, breaking chains left and right in their zeal, or by weak-minded congressmen, intruding to sacrifice a vote, or by intrinsically business men, unwilling to take a risk or relinquish an item for the sake, even, of saving their own throats.

'Good Connections' Spurned, She Gets Along On Her Own

By the AP Feature Service
 NEW YORK—Joan Edwards, 19-year-old radio pianist-singer, the greatest obstacle to success is "good connections."
 Joan should be something of an authority on the matter, too. Her father is a music publisher, for whom a great many band leaders and others of stage, screen, and radio, would be pleased to death to do a favor. Her uncle is Gus Edwards, whose vaudeville units have played practically every theater in the land, and who is credited

Transportation Of Helium Withheld

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP)—The Zeppelin-building Germans can hope to get no helium for their mate to the Hindenburg until after January 1, the interior department said today.
 Legislation permitting exportation of the gas was passed by congress during the summer, but it specified that exports be withheld until after appraisal of new federal gas properties.
 Meanwhile in Germany the LZ-130, a sister ship to the Hindenburg that crashed last May with a loss of 36 lives, is being completed.

Chapter 50
A NIGHT IN ATLANTIC CITY
 Nina had got going now—and she couldn't stop... quietly sarcastically, standing very still by the wing chair... but her heart was thumping wildly against her breast and her blood was tingling.

"Me—holding you off because I'm scared," she went on. "That's a good one. You're the one who will lose out over this trick you've pulled. If you're caught, Richard, Not I! David will find out all about this the minute I get back, because I'm going to tell him—everything my part too. And he'll believe me, because I'll have been open with him... But you! You'll be thrown right out of your comfortable berth, if Honey finds out... and then where will you get your money from your prize sponger?... Your food and your liquor... and all your Charvet ties?"
 She was shaking with hysterical laughter.

"Sure—sure—go ahead and pour yourself a drink—light a cigarette too, why don't you?—and try and work on him. But you're not, in spite. I'm getting to you at last, my friend. I could talk about decency and loyalty until I was blue in the face—and it would roll off your back—but now I'm using your own language... Everybody is on to you—you poor self-satisfied fool—I'm on to you. I hate you for living off Honey and proposing to cheat her on the side—I hate your leering, oily smile... the way you stalk about in your too tight, too well-tailored suits, and think everybody should fall on their faces—just because you're around. I hate you for pursuing me, refusing to admit the possibility of any one not succumbing to your charms..."

Richard was making a great business of measuring whiskey, putting ice and just the right amount of charged water into his glass. "When you've finished your—historical, darling, let me know..." he remarked, when she paused for breath. "Drink?" He held up the bottle.
 It delighted Nina to see the cold fury that was in his eyes. She had caused Richard pain!
 "There's just one thing more I want to say before I go. I'm going to tell David everything, but I'm not going to tell Honey—and he won't either. If I ask him not to, she's not well-yes, you'd quite overlooked that, hadn't you?—and while there's still the vestige of a chance of your making her happy, pulling the wool over her eyes, as you have succeeded in doing, I'm going to let it go... But I swear by everything that's holy, if you don't play fair with her from now on—I will tell her!"

Richard said: "I believe you murdered something to me, once, about what you chose to call, my 'stained-glass expression of sanctity.' I remembered it. Thought it was rather good, as a matter of fact... Well, now I'm going to use it on you, my dear... Your—stained-glass expression of sanctity, regarding your mother, amuses me—Nina—no... end!"
 "It would be shot back at him. "It would be because it's not in you to realize when you have done wrong... to admit it, and repent. By telling Honey the truth, my part and all, you know it's undoubtedly separate us, for ever; and yet I'm willing to do it if I must. That's how much I care!"

He smiled, as he said: "Somehow I don't seem to think that you will find it necessary."
 "You mean that in a nasty way—I presume. But I do sincerely hope that it won't be necessary, Richard..." She spoke with a hint of pleading for the first time. "We—you, have done enough to her. Don't you realize how—ghastly this was... sending for me this way? Turn over a new leaf, Richard. Do... in heaven's name!"
 He was so angry with her... so angry at the way things had turned out that he could only sneer.
 "And now we will all sing hymn No. 274..." He chuckled over his drink.

Nina picked up her suitcase and walked to the door.
 It was locked. The key was not there.
 She simply looked at Richard over her shoulder, and every bit of the disgust she felt for him was in her eyes.
 He fished in his pocket for the key, and brought it over to her... he was as nearly embarrassed as she had ever seen him.
 "May I... call a boy?"
 But Nina was through talking to him.

She walked down the hall.
 The last train has left!
 Round the corner, at the elevator, she paused.
 Now that it was all over, the tears were very near.
 She took several deep breaths and tried to steady herself, because there was a lot of thinking to be done. After a minute she rang the bell, and went down to the front desk. It was half-past nine.
 "I've changed my plans," she said to the young clerk in even-numbered clothes, who had talked with her when she first came. "What train can I take to get me back to New York tonight?"
 "I'm sorry, miss," the man looked fittingly disturbed, "the last train for New York left at 7:55."
 "Oh... thank you..." and to the bellboy: "I'm going down to the taxi stand."
 Now the tears were perilously close. No train tonight! No way of getting back to David... of spilling over and confessing, and crying it all out into his arms... All

Meanwhile spearhead units of Japan's Shanghai armies tore into the heart of Chinese defenses in a drive their commander-in-chief declared would force speedy collapse of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's regime.

Field officers sent back word to Japanese headquarters that their troops had crossed Lake Tai, the great natural barrier between Shanghai and Nanking for a push against the virtually evacuated capital.

have yet to select the counties for the program and the three-member committee for each county.

Mr. and Mrs. Tenant Farmer should then lay before a local committee their qualifications and recommendations as applicants for loans. Some authorities suggest it might be advantageous if they even have in mind then the farm they would like to buy.

Great latitude in the selection is then left up to the three county committees, who are to be chosen partly for their knowledge of the circumstances and reputation of all residents of their sections. They will narrow the field to a comparatively few names and send them, with recommendations, on the state or regional committee. Final approval is given by the secretary of agriculture.

Rep. W. R. Poage of Waco, Texas, said the county committees would reduce the field to approximately twice the number of loans allotted each county. No county can have less than five nor more than 10 loans.

The county committees will notify applicants whom they believe most qualified for the loans," said Poage, "and discuss with them in detail the particular farms they hope to own eventually. They must make sure the price is fair and the farm productive enough to pay for itself."

The counties and local committees are expected to be named in a few days.

No Champion In Dist. 14

HOUSTON, Nov. 26 (AP)—The torrid controversy over Port Arthur's 12-grade system was apparently ended today when the interscholastic league District 14 committee voted not to award a championship in football.

This action leaves both Art Arthur and Beaumont, which had claimed the championship, out of the state school race and automatically advances Conroe, champion of Houston's District 13, into the quarter-finals. Conroe was scheduled to play the winner of District 14 next week in a bi-district game.

Now, no bi-district game will be played and Conroe, idle next week, will play the next week's winner of the Robstown-Mission game which will determine the champions of Districts 15 and 16.

Governor Taken For A Kidnap

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 26 (AP)—Two ten-year-old girls wrote Gov. Henry Horner today, thanking him for candy and apologizing because they feared he might have been a kidnaper.

Carlynn Rennick and Sue Crawford, while window shopping at a candy store yesterday, were invited inside by a strange man. They debated in excited whispers, noted a uniformed state trooper nearby, accepted the invitation and fled hastily after receiving the candy.

Later they told the story to their parents and from the description of the stranger, all agreed he was the governor and his bodyguard.

"I'll bet the governor thought we were funny, but honestly, we didn't know him," the girls said.

JULIUS GLICKMAN TAKEN TO DALLAS

Julius Glickman was to leave Friday afternoon via American Airlines plane for Dallas, where he will be taken to a specialist for treatment. Glickman has been in the Big Spring hospital for several days. He is to be accompanied by Mrs. Glickman and his brothers, Joe and Oscar Glickman. He has been in a serious condition for several days.

LABOR CHIEF DIES

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Nov. 26 (AP) Otis Embry, 57, general chairman of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen here and a member of the brotherhood's national executive committee since 1906, died here yesterday. Embry came to Springfield from Sherman, Tex., in 1925.

VISITOR HERE

Jimmie Jackson, who is studying in the law school at the University of Texas, is visiting here over the weekend.

SWINDLED

DALLAS, Nov. 26 (AP)—W. W. Porter, Wichita Falls filling station operator, reported to police today he was swindled out of $150 here by two men on a deal for anti-freeze radiator solution.

Ben Smith, manager of the Pecos chamber of commerce, visited here briefly Friday en route home. He had spent Thanksgiving with relatives in Anson.

Shakespeare was the father of twins, Hamnet (not Hamlet) and Judith. He also had another daughter, Susanna.

Extra Guards In Paris

'Precautions' Taken As Drive Against Plotters Goes On

PARIS, Nov. 26 (AP)—The cordon of mobile guards thrown about the ministry of the interior with unearthing of a conspiracy against the republic was strengthened today as a "precaution."

The surete nationale, the national police organization through which the people's front government sought to trace and wreck the revolutionary organization, operates under the interior ministry.

An official, asked if the ministry were "threatened," replied: "We are merely taking precautions."

Guards also were maintained on all arteries into the capital. Every passing automobile and truck was stopped for examination of the papers of the operators and occupants.

More than 20 raids were made in provincial cities yesterday but the results of most of them were undisclosed.

Paris raiders ransacked an apartment near the war ministry and reported seizing a machine gun, a dozen rifles, 15,000 cartridges and several cases of hand grenades.

Winter Weather Is Spur To Buying In Some Sections

NEW YORK, Nov. 26 (AP)—Sudden advent of freezing temperatures this week brought out winter retail buying in rising volume in some sections of the country but in others distribution was under last year's level, Dun & Bradstreet reported today.

"Contractions in the spread over last years' comparative," the review said, "left some of the districts under that level, which narrowed to 2 to 10 per cent the rise in the estimated volume of retail distribution from that of the 1936 week."

It added: "For garments, heavy coats, knit dresses, sweaters and shoes led in women's wear. There was a stronger demand for men's overcoats, furnishings and sports goods. Sales of jewelry, radios, musical instruments, and most electrical appliances continued to advance."

SLIGHTLY HURT

AMARILLO, Nov. 26 (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Armstrong, of Lubbock, were slightly injured today when the motor of the private plane in which they were taking off cut out and the plane crashed.

The nose of the plane was crushed and the propeller smashed when the plane fell a mile north of municipal airport here. The plane was an unlicensed Mohawk Pinto.

The Armstrongs, who until a month ago lived in Amarillo, were returning to Lubbock after attending the Amarillo-Lubbock football game here Thursday.

SHIPPING CALVES

L. S. McDowell and son, Loren McDowell, were shipping 600 steer calves Friday. The work was begun Thursday in Borden county and was to be finished Friday with the driving of the remaining calves from the Howard-Glascock ranch to Morita.

Morris and Zelma Gay have gone to Houston where they will witness the Rice-Baylor football game Friday.

CALL FOR FIGHT ON LIQUOR, GAMBLING

BEAUMONT, Nov. 26 (AP)—The Texas Baptist Training convention today asked the church's members in this state to join a fight against liquor and all forms of gambling.

The convention, attended by 8,500 Baptists, heard Dr. T. C. Gardner, state training director, charge that "breakdown" in American youth has been steadily gaining since repeal of the Eighteenth amendment.

The conference voted to invite religious groups of Texas, including the Allied Youth Movement, to ally with it in an educational program for temperance and law observance.

Next April the organization will seek to sign all B. T. U. members in Texas to abstinence pledges. There are 167,751 such members.

Officers were to be nominated today and a convention city for next year will be selected tomorrow. Houston, Wichita Falls and Fort Worth are bidding for selection as host city in 1938.

SEAMEN ARE RESCUED

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 26 (AP)—Tropical Radio was advised today that 17 seamen remaining aboard the British freighter Nollington Court in distress off Haiti had been rescued but that the vessel was a total loss.

A message from the tug Killierog said: "Tug Killierog took remaining 17 crew from Nollington Court. Nollington Court is a total loss. All lives saved."

WAR OPERATIONS HALTED BY RAIN

HENDAYE, Franco-Spanish Frontier, Nov. 26 (AP)—Cold, driving rain forestalled important operations today on Spain's Aragon and Madrid fronts.

Insurgent and government armies told of minor engagements in scattered sectors.

(Insurgent bombing planes, retreating for the loss of territory on the Guadalajara front, raided the city of Guadalajara and were reported to have killed 15 persons and injured 50.)

(On the Aragon front government aviators attacked the insurgent bases, Zaragoza and Huesca.) Insurgent authorities at Salamanca threatened to carry aerial combat across the French border if government planes again raided insurgent positions "after crossing French territory."

MURDER AND SUICIDE

LONDON, Nov. 26 (AP)—A coroner's jury returned a verdict of murder and suicide today in the Ibsen-like tragedy of Dr. Naomi Daney, 49, widely-known London baby specialist, and her half-blind invalid brother, Maurice Tribe, 43, who was jealous of her "beautiful eyes."

The brother, a research chemist who had lost the sight of one eye in the war and brooded over the falling sight of the other, was found dead in the physician's stately mansion, his throat slashed.

He had shot his sister to death through the eyes—as she lay in her bed.

Lillian and Clara Anderson left here Thursday evening for Clarksville on learning of the serious illness of their mother.

C.C. DIRECTORS TO CONVENE MONDAY

Chamber of commerce directors will meet Monday at noon for their regular session, J. H. Greene, manager, said Friday. Results of a chamber poll of its membership to selection of 20 men as nominees to places on the board of directors will be announced Saturday following a meeting of the elections committee, it was said.
