A WEEK AT A TIME

LET THE GOVERNOR DO IT

We do not envy Governor-nominee O'Daniel his task of finding money for financing the old-age pensions and the teacher retirement funds without raising tax rates or assessing new taxes somewhere. But we hope he gets the job done. There are a great many people in Texas who do not pay directly any taxes whatever; it must follow then that those who do pay the taxes directly must pay terrific sums. Taxes in Texas are too high. Just off-hand we'd be willing to agree that a re-organization of the state government might help some, but to take up a slack of twenty or thirty million dollars is beyond our feeble financial genius to even suggest the means.

SUBSIDIES IF NECESSARY

The declaration of the Department of Agriculture that the AAA would sell a hundred million bushels of American wheat abroad even if a subsidy had to be paid growers is comforting to those who have feared America would lose her world wheat markets. This announcement has been made when it appears that no more than fifty million bushels will be in demand. We have about come to the point that we would rather see plenty of stuff raised and prices raised by subsidy, than to see efforts to raise prices by scarcity. Farm producers are entitled to a living out of the food and clothing they produce for the world at high hazards of time, labor and expense. If they are to have a living only by subsidies, then it is time to grant the subsidies.

WORSE THAN WE THOUGHT

We felt pretty bad when we saw the outside of the West Ward School buildings and said so. "Just go inside and see that," somebody told us. We did. It was worse than we thought. The conveniences provided are more than twenty years behind modern requirements. The light provisions in the classrooms violate practically every rule of scientific research and of the State Department of Education. Children with good eyes have a good chance to come through the year with permanent and irreparable injury done to their sight, and children with defective eyesight stand a good chance to fail to see enough to make work they are able to do if they could only see. The light is not adequate for bright days, and for cloudy days a lot of electricity must be consumed if children are to see. We are told when winter comes, there are problems of heating and ventilation that make the light troubles insignificant. Next Thursday we have a chance to say whether we think something ought to be done.

Scattered Rains Cool Plains

Quarter Inch Falls In Slaton Saturday

Scattered rains again brought relief to the South Plains last week. From mere showers to more than an inch in various places, the precipitation gave relief from the heat and, where the heavier rains fell some welcome moisture was received. In most instances, however, farmers who had spread expensive poison on the cotton fear the rain washed it off and further damage by worms is feared unless more poison is applied. In Slaton the rain gauge showed .27 of an inch.

FIREMEN ANSWER TWO CALLS

Firemen answered two alarms last week-end. The first one was Friday afternoon when an oil stove exploded at 1005 South 8th. The blaze had been extinguished when the department got to the scene.

Saturday morning about 2:00 A.M., the department was again called out. This time to a substantial blaze in the negro section of town. A negro rooming house, vacant because of law-enforcement padlocks, was practically a total loss.

Stop Lights Going Up On Highway Here

Some crates of lighting equipment lying in the store rooms of the city, some holes being dug around the city square along the highway, and some talk in recent months about stop-lights led to inquiries of the Mayor, who reports that the stop lights are on hand and will be erected soon.

Some little controversy has prevailed about the added safety the lights will bring, some believing they wouldn't help and others thinking they will help organize the traffic; some arguing that stop-lights will make the Highway Department route highways around the city, others setting out that the Highway Department wants to do that anyway.

Some delay occurred when remodeling of the corner of Ninth and Lubbock came up. Decision in the matter is not available, but stop lights will soon add to the worries of Slaton motorists.

Santa Fe Groups Get Together

New Organization Is Begun Here

A joint meeting of six of the standard railway organizations was held in the Trainmen's lodge room, Slaton, Texas, on August 28th. Twenty-three members representing the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, Order Railway Conductors, Brotherhood of Railway Clerks and the Order Railway Telegraphers, were present.

Election of officers was held. J. M. Hannah was elected Chairman, J. C. Burton, Vice-Chairman and W. D. Hardy, Secretary-Treasurer. Members expressed desire that the organization be made permanent and a name is to be selected at next regular meeting which is to be held the second Sunday in September.

Any member of one of the five organizations shown above is eligible for membership. The object of this organization is closer contact among the members and an occasional get-together, such as a picnic or dance.

The initial get-together of the members of this organization is to be at McKenzie Park on Sunday, September 11th, 5 p. m. where a picnic will be held. The only requirement is a basket of eats and presentation of membership card in one of the five organizations.

Next regular meeting is called for 2 p. m. Sunday, September 11th, where it is hoped a large number of the members will be in attendance.

Theo Schuhmann Dies At Houston Sunday

Theo Schuhmann, long-time resident of Slaton died at Houston last Sunday. He had been in poor health for several months and was at Houston for treatment at the time of his death. Mr. Schuhmann was a member of the Christian Church and a Mason. He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Rudie Valenta of Shiner, and one son, E. A. Schuhmann of Houston, and by two sisters and three brothers.

Funeral services were held at the home of his daughter in Shiner and interment was there. Reverend A. Guyon officiated at the services.

Slaton people attending the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Sheppard and daughter, Mr. M. L. Foster, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Keys and daughter Jean, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Self, and Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Eubank and son.

SLATON SCHOOLS OPENED Enrollment Near Thousand

West Ward Rooms Sorely Crowded

The Slaton Public Schools opened the fall term last Monday with an enrollment slightly exceeding the first day's enrollment of last year.

The enrollment by classes in West Ward is as follows: Egginners and first grade, 48; 2nd grade, 48; 3rd grade, 40; 4th grade, 47; 5th grade, 94; 6th grade, 92; 7th grade, 80. The report from Principal McKinnon at East Ward is, 1st grade, 28; 2nd grade, 21; opportunity class, 21; 3rd grade, 21; 4th grade, 51. Total for elementary grades, 605. This total is approximately 5 per cent greater than at the same time last year. There will be a number enrolled yet this week, and perhaps a hundred more before Christmas.

The high school enrollment has reached 356, divided among the classes as follows: Freshmen, 110; Sophomores, 86; Juniors, 84; Seniors, 56.

Slaton Motor Co. To Clear Decks

Plans for a special "Clear the Decks" Sale of used cars and trucks during September were announced today by Slaton Motor Co., local Ford dealers.

"To get ready for fall new car business we must move as much of our used car and used truck stock as possible," said Stokes Brothers, Ford dealers, "and to this end we are offering price reductions on all units. Our past used car sales have moved out much of our stock at a definite advantage to used car buyers, and we are confident this sale will be no exception.

"Many of the cars to be offered in the Clear the Decks Sale," said Mr. Stokes, "will carry the Ford R & G, Renewed and Guaranteed, insignia. A car sold under this nationally known symbol has been renewed, where necessary, to meet strict factory specifications and carries a written, money-back guarantee. R & G applies only to cars up to three years old, which represent the cream of our stock.

"In addition to these high grade cars, our stock includes a wide selection of lower priced cars which will fit the needs and purse of practically every buyer. Our entire stock is included in this sale."

Association For Deaf Meets At Lubbock

Ernest T. Lynn, first president of the newly-organized Eleventh Chapter of the Texas Association for the Deaf announces the meeting of the Chapter for Sunday afternoon, September 11th. The place will be McKenzie Park at Lubbock, east of the swimming pool.

Lynn reports that there is much controversy brewing about the present superintendent of the School for the Deaf at Austin, and expects at the meeting to have a lot of it aired. The discussions will be in the sign language, but interpreters will be on hand to give voice to the discussion for the benefit of those who can not follow the sign language. All who are interested in the welfare of the Deaf of Texas are invited to attend.

New Publication Printed Here

The Baptist Voice, a weekly, appeared last week under the publication masthead of Rev. Boyd P. Milburn of Lubbock. It is designed to serve the Baptists of this district as a reporter, as a clearing house of news and ideas, and as a source of inspiration for all who read it. It is being printed by the Slatonite office.

PIONEERS STUDY CLUB WILL SHOW

Daughters of Pioneers Study Club will hold their annual Flower Show and food sale, Saturday, September 17 at the bandstand on the Square. Everyone is invited to enter his flowers; a Grand Prize will be given for the most attractive.

Patron Writes Of School Needs

Slaton needs a new school building for the same reason that the farmer needs a tractor instead of a one-horse plow. Slaton needs a new school building for the same reason that the banker needs an adding machine. Slaton needs a new school building for the same reason that the traveling salesman needs a car instead of a horse and buggy. We need a new school building for the sake of efficiency—that better work may be done in a better way.

There comes a time when the new must replace the old. Your wife could still be "roasting taters" in the hot ashes, but she isn't; instead she turns a handle on her magic chef. We could still be "toting" water from the spring on our heads—if they are flat enough—or winding up a bucket of water from the bottom of the well, but instead we turn on the spigot and get it hot or cold. We could still be adding long columns of figures one by one in our heads, but we don't. We pull a lever and the machine does the rest. We could be, even yet, "hitching old Dobbin to the shay," but instead we hop in our cars and step on the gas.

We could not disparage the work of our Slaton Schools. Where there is a good pupil and a good teacher there is a good school, not always on account of surroundings—sometimes in spite of them. The thing we are pleading for is that these good pupils and good teachers be given a square deal.

We realize that the average taxpayer has had little opportunity to know of conditions first hand. Let me take you on a little trip to Junior High. This is not a special occasion but a typical day. We entered one of the west rooms. A regular West Texas sand storm is on with full force. It is not only sandy but cold. The wind whips through the loose rackets windows, bringing its full quota of gravel and dirt. Do they suspend operations? Not on your life! Without a word of complaint they put on their wraps, huddle together on the far side of the room where it isn't quite so cold, where the sand doesn't pile up quite so high, and the work goes on as best it can; and "believe it or not," without even a suggestion from the teacher we are told, that these industrious youngsters clean their room from four to eight times a day. Fathers, where you have plucky kids like these shouldn't you give them a square deal? We visit the study hall when a norther is in full swing. We find three teachers, having three classes with three sets of youngsters—more than one hundred—in one room at one time. What is the trouble? Well, trying to heat the three north rooms with their rattled, shackled north windows is like trying to heat up the big out-of-doors, so the teachers without a word of complaint move out. In chapel we find half the children lined up around the wall for lack of seating capacity. And worst of all, in the class rooms 48 and 49 youngsters occupy the space that is supposed to be used for 30.

As we said before, we can put up with these conditions indefinitely, but we don't believe we'll have to. We believe that you—the tax-payers of Slaton and vicinity—are too smart to say to Uncle Sam as he stands with outstretched hand, "No, we don't want your 45 per cent. We'll just wait a little while longer till old Junior High falls down on our heads, then we'll plank down the whole 100 per cent." We believe you are too loyal to these fine sons and daughters of yours not to give them a fair chance. We believe you have too much pride to sit idly by and let every rural child have better opportunities than your child has. We believe in that spirit that caused those heroes of the Alamo to give the last drop of their life's blood that posterity might have a chance. We believe that this same spirit is in the heart of every real red-blooded Texan today, and we believe that the citizenship of this section will rise up as one man to meet the challenge. That they will say with one accord our children shall NOT be handicapped. They shall have a fair chance in this world. We will give them a square deal.—A PATRON.

Bond Election Stirs No Great Excitement

No excitement is apparent about the School Bond Election called for next week. It seems to be accepted as desirable and inevitable. It is also accepted that the issue will be opposed. But the need is apparent. The advantage of immediate action is not to be disputed. The danger of delay is also apparent. It is not expected that any great opposition will be manifested, though all who believe in our system of democracy feel that all qualified voters should express themselves at the polls.

G. G. Thompson Buried Sunday

G. G. Thompson, born at Brownwood in 1888, died at Topeka, Kansas, Wednesday, August 31. He was buried in Englewood Cemetery, Sunday at 3:00 p. m. under the auspices of the Masonic fraternity of which he had been an active member for many years. He was widely known throughout the Panhandle and his activity in Masonic circles led his wife to name the following Masons as honorary pall bearers: All the members of Slaton Lodge No. 1098 of which he was a member at his death and a Past Master; All the Masons in the 93rd District of Texas of which he was Past District Deputy Grand Master; all the members of the Grand Lodge of Texas, of which he was at the time of his death, Grand Junior Deacon.

Active pall bearers were L. B. Hagerman, M. J. Nelson, L. L. Lively, T. C. McCall, J. D. Barry, C. C. Young. Hundreds of friends mourn with Mrs. Thompson the passing of one who was so loved and will be so sorely missed in the community where he was active in service.

Football Opening At Cooper Friday

A glimpse of future Tiger pigskin hunters may be had Friday evening when the Cubs go to Cooper to engage the neighbors in a friendly contest to see who is biggest and toughest. While this will not feature the Tigers, it will be of interest because it is the first real taste of the season and because there is no telling how many will graduate off the cub squad to the bigger and tougher aggregation known as the SLATON TIGERS.

South Plains Fair Boosters Due

Will Be In Slaton Next Tuesday Morn Before Breakfast

Lubbock—More than 50 Lubbock Goodwill Boosters will arrive in Slaton Tuesday, September 13, at 7:35 A. M. on the annual goodwill tour publicizing the 25th annual Panhandle South Plains Fair which is to be held in Lubbock September 26 to October 1.

With this group will be 25 select members of the crack Lubbock High School Band.

Traveling in special chartered buses, this delegation will leave the "hub city" early Tuesday morning, dressed in cowboy regalia. In each town along the route the trippers will stop to present a short program and distribute the free fair souvenirs to school children and grown-ups. Every school child on the South Plains will be given a ticket to the fair for School Children's Day, Wednesday, September 28.

Plans are nearing completion for the quarter century exposition as workmen finish laying out the new parking area which will be inside the fair grounds, and put the finishing touches on the new walks and roadways.

Chamber of commerce, newspaper and school officials in Slaton have been asked to assist in arranging for the local program. Everyone young and old is urged to meet the Lubbock delegation at 7:35 A. M.

Miss Jewel Armes is in the hospital at San Angelo where she underwent an appendectomy last week. She was critically ill a few days but is reported well on her way to recovery.

Slaton Post Office To Be Moved Soon

Ninth Street Site At Center Of City

After fifteen years in its present location, the Slaton Post Office will be moved as soon as the required remodeling can be done at the new site and new fixtures can be set, according to reports from postmaster K. L. Scudder.

The new site is at 145 South Ninth street. It was selected from the six different sites proposed as the best and lowest bid offered to the Post Office Department early this summer.

The new site will be more centrally located than the present one and will make routing the city carriers easier and the division of their loads more equal. The new fixtures that have been approved have been needed for fifteen years, according to Scudder. The comfort and health of the employees and of the general public have been considered in the required remodeling of the building. Wooden floors will relieve the permanent injury often done by constant standing on concrete. Special attention will be given to ventilation, and air-conditioning will be installed next summer.

No definite date can be given for the removal, but it is expected that it can be done within the next sixty days.

Tech Stickers Of Much Interest To Slaton Fans

The current football stickers advertising Tech's 1938 football season are of much interest to Slaton fans because of the figures carried on them. If you see one with two football players carrying a map of the United States showing the various cities where Tech is to play this season, you may recognize one of the players if you've followed Tech's football the past few years. The brunette gentleman with the number 19 on his jersey is the well-known tackle, Holt Waldrep, who is to be a junior in Tech this year and is a tackle wherever he may wear a football suit. The other gentleman—also a tackle of parts—is Dixie White of Lubbock. Tech's schedule is as follows:

- Home Games
- *Sept. 17th—Montana State
- *Sept. 24th—Wyoming University
- *Oct. 8th—Oklahoma City University
- Nov. 5th—Loyola University
- Nov. 11th—Gonzaga University
- Nov. 26th—Marquette University
- Out of Town Games
- *Sept. 30th—Duquesne University
- Oct. 15th—Montana University
- Oct. 22nd—Texas School of Mines
- Nov. 10th—New Mexico University
- *Night Games.

Kahlick Opens New Service Station

Anthony Kahlick, well known among us as "Tony" has leased the Whitehead building at the corner of Panhandle and Garza and has put in a complete line of motor fuels, and greases. He will carry the famous United States Tires, advertisements of which are to be found in this issue of the Slatonite. The new location at that famous and popular corner should enjoy a liberal patronage.

Weekly News Review
Modern 'Holy War' Threatens
Over Domination of Palestine
By Joseph W. LaBine

Races
Tiny Palestine is far smaller than the average American state, yet its city of Jerusalem is a religious shrine for Christians, Jews, Arabs. From a Biblical start, Christianity spread over the earth, largely deserting its birthplace. Hebrews also left, driven by the hated Arabs who later fell under Turkey's yoke. Not until the World War was this yoke thrown off with Great Britain's aid. If Arabs expected Great Britain to hand them Palestine on a silver platter, Lord Balfour outfoxed them. In November, 1917, the foresighted foreign secretary saw Russia persecuting the Jews, possibly foresaw a coming European revolution against them. So Palestine was favored as a national home for the wandering Jew and in 1923 Great Britain was granted a mandate over the land.

Had Lord Balfour's foresight included Jew-hating Adolf Hitler, he might have been less anxious to guide Palestine's destiny. Since 1923, Holy Land Jews have jumped from 75,000 to 375,000. Arabic population meanwhile standing at 325,000. Led by a Zionist world organization, zealous Hebrews have fostered such projects as Tel Aviv, all-Jewish city just outside Arabic Jaffa.

In 1929, Arab resentment boiled over into riot, again in 1936. This time worried Britain investigated, finally decided to place Jews on one side of the River Jordan, Arabs on the other. Since Arabs got the biggest share and Jews the most fertile share, neither was happy. Upshot was a new series of riots, starting early last July and continuing unbroken ever since. Last week, as harried British troops swept up after Jaffa's latest bombing, the world wondered how peace could ever come back to the Holy Land.

Jews recall that when Moses led their ancestors into the "promised land," some stayed on one side of the Jordan, some on the other. Thus they want more land, yet insist—publicly, at least—that Arabs can remain. Arabs recall the Holy Land has been their home 1,300 years, stolidly threaten to fight unto death protecting their heritage.

Foreign
As leader of Czechoslovakia's autonomy-seeking Sudetens, Konrad Henlein is admittedly nothing more than Adolf Hitler's mouthpiece. So anxious observers looked behind the mouthpiece last week when Konrad Henlein told Sudetens to "fight back" against "attacks" by the Czech government. Thus arose the latest crisis in a series of crises that has kept Europe jittery all summer.

At little Lanark, Scotland, Britain's Chancellor of the Exchequer Sir John Simon made the bold assertion that Adolf Hitler must not start a war over Czechoslovakia, else he might find Britain on his neck. Coming from a member of Neville Chamberlain's dictator-wooing cabinet, that pronouncement

SIR JOHN SIMON
Franklin Roosevelt made him bold.

Politics
What they lack at Washington, D. C., Republicans made up during a week-end of blistering heat and fried chicken at Washington, Ind. Their host was Homer E. Capehart, vice president of Buffalo's Rudolph Wurlitzer company, whose farm was covered with tents until it looked like a circus. Attending were Republicans from 11 states.

Day before, G. O. P. "strategists" met in Indianapolis behind closed doors, emerged with no comment except that they expected 70 more seats in congress after next November's election. Then, headed by Chairman John D. M. Hamilton and New York's Rep. James W. Wadsworth, they headed south to Mr. Capehart's circus tents.

To entertain 25,000 ardent Republicans, Ringmaster Capehart spent $25,000, fried 4,500 chickens, baked 40,000 claims and roasted three truckloads of corn. Said he: "I am sick and tired . . . of hearing businessmen and men of all other groups complain and talk against the New Deal and then do absolutely nothing about it."

Said Mr. Hamilton, who seemed content with talking about it: "Instead of hurling meaningless epithets at those who disagree with him, let Mr. Roosevelt explain to us why we have almost 13,000,000 unemployed, a number no less than in the very depths of the world-wide depression of 1929-32."

"I am sick and tired . . ."

At dusk the second day, speech-weary Republicans headed for home. But Franklin Roosevelt could not fail to heed the Capehart show. Next week, Indiana enthusiasts showed signs of invading 47 other states.

Business
His crop control program bogged down under bountiful harvests. Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace discovered early last month that this year's wheat would more than fill America's granaries. Only remedy was export, and wheat-con-sounding strange. But soon Sir John's boldness was explained. Said he:

"You will have read the striking speech made the other day by Mr. Cordell Hull, American secretary of state, when he laid stress on . . . the necessity for . . . friendly co-operation. What he said, and what President Roosevelt said a few days later in Canada, must awaken a responsive echo in many British hearts."

Since Franklin Roosevelt had promised to help Canada in the event of invasion, Great Britain was clearly relying on a far-fetched hope of U. S. support. Two days later, it was plain the bluff had worked. Backing Britain came France, Russia, Rumania and Jugo-Slavia, each warning Germany to keep its hands off Czechoslovakia.

War
Important goal of Generalissimo Francisco Franco is the Almaden mercury mines of southwestern Spain, where an offensive began August 1. Last week revived Loyalist troops closed in on Rebel Gen. Gonzalo Queipo de Liano's advance positions at Cabeza del Buey, regaining practically all land lost since the insurgent drive began. But Loyalists received bad news, too. In the Strait of Gibraltar, a 1,650-ton destroyer was waylaid by four insurgent warships. Twenty were killed, 14 wounded, and the ship limped to port in hopeless condition.

● Still 100 miles from Hankow, Japanese invaders captured Liuan and Sukiafow on the Peiping-Hankow railroad, while defending Chinese captured three important towns on the upper Yangtze river. Meanwhile, in Washington, a U. S. foreign policy association predicted continuation of the Sino-Jap conflict until the U. S. shuts off supplies.

People
In 1894, an unconventional American actress named May Yohe married England's Lord Francis Hope, owner of the famous Hope diamond. In 1902, May Yohe tired of English royalty, eloped with Capt. Bradley Putnam Strong, son of a one-time New York mayor. In 1914, May Yohe married again, this time Capt. John A. Smuts. Last spring, the once notorious May Yohe was found on WPA rolls. Last week, aged 69, May Yohe died at Boston.

● At Orange, Conn., John Coolidge, son of the late President Calvin Coolidge, entered politics for the first time by getting himself elected delegate to Connecticut's Republican state convention.

Bruckart's Washington Digest
President's Supporters Catch
Brunt of Opposition Criticism

Roosevelt Personally Under Direct Fire of Enemies Only Twice; Interference in State Primaries Now Subject of Bitter Controversy; Prestige Will Be Hurt.

By WILLIAM BRUCKART
WNU Service, National Press Bldg., Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON.—It has been a matter of frequent reference among observers how President Roosevelt's supporters or subordinates, or spokesmen for him, have caught the brunt of opposition criticism. Mr. Roosevelt personally has been under the direct fire of his enemies on only two occasions. He played his political cards so that, when some plan blew up, it was some subordinate or supporter whose neck was found out too far. The President, of course, found himself as the target when he proposed packing the Supreme court with six additional justices of his own choosing and when he sought reorganization of the government, but, generally speaking, the Roosevelt prestige has avoided damage, until now.

Which brings us to the bitter controversy over presidential interference in state primaries, and the second stage—Mr. Roosevelt's declaration that it was a violation of public morality for Republicans to enter a Democratic primary. This controversy is the most heated and has the broadest implications of any of the three in which the storm centered about Mr. Roosevelt's own head. It is likely to be the most far-reaching in its result. The Roosevelt prestige is bound to be damaged whether he wins or loses when the score finally is totaled, and, as far as can be seen now, he will not be able to avoid it.

I remember having written, when the President made his cross-country trip in the dual capacity of President and head of the Democratic party, that it appeared difficult to dissociate the two capacities. I predicted at that time, two months ago, that there were germs of trouble in such an attempt. It was not long before the germs were growing. Mr. Roosevelt's pat on the back for Senator Bulkley of Ohio, and his bold command to the Democratic voters of Kentucky to send Sen. "Dear Alben" Barkley back to the senate brought a shower of ripe verbal eggs onto the head of either the President or the head of the Democratic party. I did not know which personality was naming the favorite Democratic candidate in the primaries then, nor do I yet know. From all of the information from those states since, I gather that the voters in the primaries did not know whether they were voting to support the President of the United States or the head of the Democratic party.

Pat on Back for McAdoo, Face Slap for O'Connor

Then, on to the Middle West and the Far West, the pat on the back for Senator McAdoo, who has opposition for the Democratic senatorial nomination in California; and, next, in Georgia where Mr. Roosevelt uttered the now famous "God bless, you, Walter—but you're no liberal" to Senator George, to be followed by a direct endorsement of Lawrence Camp for the senatorial nomination against Mr. George. Later, Mr. Roosevelt gave a vicious political slap in the face to Rep. John O'Connor, in New York, and attacked Senator Tydings in Maryland by saying that Representative Davey Lewis ought to have the Democratic nomination.

In addition to these direct interferences in state primaries, Mr. Roosevelt's subordinates—men like Relief Administrator Hopkins and Secretary Ickes—horned into primaries in Iowa, Oregon, Idaho and elsewhere. They were well licked in Iowa and Idaho, and it was the result in the latter state that has brought up the second stage of the controversy.

Idaho's Senator Pope used to say that if any constituent wanted to know his position on a given question, it was necessary only to inquire whether the President was for or against it. Apparently, the voters in Idaho did not like that; they preferred a senator to vote their views rather than one who consistently voted the President's view. Anyway, they nominated Representative Clark, in their Democratic primary. He had something in excess of 3,500 more votes than Mr. Pope.

The licking administered to Senator Pope did not taste well to the President or the coterie of New Deal advisors. Senator Pope obviously did not like it either, and he did the childish thing of emitting a loud and noxious squawk that the nomination was taken from him by Republicans. He said they went into the Democratic primary and gave Representative Clark their votes in sufficient number to override the will of a majority of the Democrats in the state. Senator Pope went to Hyde Park, N. Y., to weep out his story on the shoulders of Mr. Roosevelt, but it has not been made clear whether it was the shoulders of the President of the United States or of

Star Dust
★ Sing You Sinners
★ Langdon's Return
★ Allen's a Cop
—By Virginia Vale—

AT LAST Bing Crosby has made an outstandingly good picture. Apparently Paramount should have found out long ago that it's a good idea to hitch a man's job to his hobby; that's what happened in "Sing You Sinners," for Bing plays a young man who makes his fortune, accidentally, in horse racing.

The picture is uproariously funny, and has two good songs. It also has an excellent cast, including Elizabeth Patterson and Fred MacMurray. Incidentally, it looks as if the character Bing plays, "Joe Beebe," might be part of a new cycle, so far as heroes are concerned. "Joe" is a ne'er-do-well, that kind of young man who, in real life, is so badly adjusted to life that he's just all wrong.

And along comes "Four Daughters," a grand picture in which John Garfield plays "Mickey Borden," another young man who's off on the wrong foot. "Mickey" is bitter and reckless and rude, and Garfield plays him magnificently. And that is no easy trick, for Priscilla Lane is very good indeed, and young Mr. Garfield has plenty of competition from May Robson, Frank McHugh and Claude Rains.

John Carradine, an excellent actor, turns in such a swell performance in a bit part in "Alexander's Ragtime Band" that he deserves bigger and better roles and many of them. He had hung up a record for himself on the stage before he took to the movies, and if he doesn't grab stellar honors in movies soon it's going to be because the producers can't recognize real talent.

Current news of George Raft's squabble with Paramount—Lloyd Nolan will be seen opposite Dorothy Lamour in Raft's role in "St. Louis Blues." Other changes: Harry Langdon's chance for a come-back as a partner for Hardy of the team of Laurel and Hardy, as a result of Stan Laurel's suspension by the studio, and Dorothy Lamour's departure from her role in radio as one of Charlie McCarthy's co-stars.

Speaking of radio, Kay Kayser and his band are going on tour, and the man whose cry of "Students!" has become so popular a part of modern dialogue will be doing his broadcasting from a lot of places, including a couple of universities (Pittsburgh and Pennsylvania) before he returns to New York. Kayser's rise to fame has been speedy; it's not so long since he was a college student himself.

When Fred Allen returns to the air it's pretty certain that he'll write two characters for himself into two of his scripts—an honorary policeman and a judge of a marathon race. The reason being that he's been appointed a policeman and a judge this summer in Old Orchard, Maine, and he's as proud of his honors as the late Will Rogers used to be over his job as mayor of Beverly Hills, Calif.

ODDS AND ENDS—There's a new trend in pictures at the moment; Central Casting bureau gets call after call from the studios for extras under 35 years old . . . Pretty hard on the old-timers who are supporting themselves by work as extras . . . Janet Gaynor has a favorite story, "Forever," the rights of which she owns; she'll probably make it as her first picture under the new Selnick "share the profits" plan . . . Three characters have been written out of "The Cowboy and the Lady" since it went into production, and three players dropped, all for the sake of economy—the picture got to costing too much . . . The three who got the ax are Benita Hume, Thomas Mitchell and David Niven . . . They're still laughing at Claudette Colbert's reason for not working in "Spaven of the North"—to the effect that she "couldn't star with a fish."

TRIBUTE TO THEO SCHUHMAN
by Mrs. M. A. Grant

What greater eulogy can be given of man than this—that he lived his life a God-fearing, Christian gentleman; dealt fairly with all men; stood ever ready to help a friend in time of need; bore patiently his sorrows and suffering.

He carries to his grave the love, honor and respect of every man, woman, and child with whom he came in contact in either a business or social way.

Thus:
A living memorial stands alone,
On merits of goodly deeds well done
And a life left to pattern by all mankind
In most of us would be hard to find.

RALLS PIONEER HONORED

Open House honoring S. U. Payne on the occasion of his ninetieth birthday was held at his home at Ralls last Sunday. Mr. Payne is very active for his age and alert to the changing conditions of the world. He was born in Georgia and came in early manhood to Texas. He has lived in Crosby county for more than a quarter of a century. Slaton people attending the occasion were Mrs. W. R. Wilson, Mrs. J. M. Rankin and Jean and Joe.

AN AMERICAN CAVALCADE!

Now you can see the picture that is as great as the acclaim that has greeted it! Local motion picture critics have joined in the chorus of praise that "Alexander's Ragtime Band" has received the nation over! Thrilled audiences have been stirred by this drama of our times and the memory-knitting melodies of Irving Berlin.

"Alexander's Ragtime Band" is all you have heard—everything you have imagined—and more! It's a heroic drama—rich in memories—richer in the thrilling life drama of two lovers who rose from the brawling Barbary Coast together. Alexander, whose band brought him fame—lovely deep-throated Stella Kirby, who sang another's love songs to the one man she adored! It's our three event-packed decades spanned by the story races from those innocent days before the Great War to its rescuing climax today.

Enjoy the greatest performances of a great cast. Enjoy seeing Tyrene Powers, Alice Faye, Don Ameche with Jack Haley and Ethel Merman in this triumph of surpassing greatness.

See "Alexander's Ragtime Band" playing at the Palace Theatre at the preve Saturday night and Sunday and Monday.

AUTO CLINIC TO

REDUCE ACCIDENTS

Austin—Auto clinics conducted by state police are testing 2,000 cars daily for mechanical defects which might contribute to traffic accidents.

Homer Garrison, Jr., assistant state police director, said modern equipment is being used by two units of state patrolmen in searching for defective horns, brakes, lights, wheels and windshield wipers.

He explained that the intent of the officers is to have the faults corrected rather than bring charges against drivers. The clinic, in co-operation with local officers, operate on schedules of from two to five days in Texas towns and cities.

Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste
 Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery. Symptoms may be nagging headache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder may be burning, scanty or too frequent urination. There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. FARM TOPICS

MILK IS FAVORED AS POULTRY FEED

Stimulates Birds' Appetites During Hot Weather.

By Dr. W. C. Thompson, Poultry Husbandman, Rutgers University, WNU Service.

Because hot weather tends to lower feed consumption of poultry flocks, resulting in lower egg production, anything which stimulates the appetites of birds is of value in summer. For this purpose there is probably nothing better than milk.

Milk can be fed in the liquid form as either buttermilk or skim milk for drinking purposes when available in sufficient amounts. One hundred birds will consume between 35 and 40 pounds of liquid milk daily if they do not have water available, and a large quantity is needed when milk is used in this form. Ordinarily, it is not feasible to give birds milk only and, when a limited supply is available, it can be given the birds for a portion of the day, with water provided after the milk has been consumed.

The semi-solid or paste form of milk is very satisfactory for summer feeding, as it is palatable and the birds will consume it in rather large quantities, even under adverse weather conditions. When first used, it should not be fed to the extent of more than about 2 pounds for each 100 birds daily, but this can be increased gradually until 4 or 5 pounds can be fed without any detrimental results.

Milk in paste form is probably one of the best summer feeds for poultry. It is even somewhat superior to dried milk, unless the latter is used in a moist mash. Increasing the dry milk content of a dry mash does not usually produce any beneficial effects, because the birds do not increase their dry mash consumption during the summer, with the result that the increased milk content is of very little benefit. As a matter of fact, dry mash consumption is noticeably decreased during spells of hot weather.

The use of an increased quantity of milk in the proper form should be continued until late September, or until such time as more satisfactory weather conditions prevail.

Flies Not All to Blame For Drop in Milk Flow

Don't blame the flies for the drop in summer milk production, says H. R. Searles, extension dairyman, University Farm, St. Paul. Your feeding practices may need overhauling.

Summer is the low-cost period for the dairyman, and if cows go down in production when pastures begin to get short, he is losing an opportunity for profit.

The ripe mature grasses have about the feeding value of wild hay, and the dairyman can supplement these through a variety of ways. Second crop hay can be pastured, with some care to prevent loss from bloat when pasturing legumes.

Then, points out Searles, there is always regular barn feeding, which is practiced by the good dairyman every summer. Alfalfa or clover hay, if available, is cheaper than grain. Searles explains that the best dairyman of the state feed hay right through the summer, even when grass is plentiful. Feed what the cows will eat twice a day, he says. For the fresh, high-producing cows, a few pounds of grain will be needed, however.

Where hay is not available, about a half winter ration of grain will give excellent results. If there is a fair supply of grass, the ration can be any one of the farm grains available—corn, oats or barley. But where there is very little grass, the ration should be supplemented with its regular high protein feed, such as linseed oil meal, corn gluten meal, soybean meal, or cotton seed meal, up to 10 or 20 per cent of the grain mixture.

Agricultural Notes

There are 19 million acres of land under irrigation in the West.

New York and Wisconsin are the principal cheese-making states.

Bamboo will grow in the United States where cotton is harvested.

Moisture in the place where eggs are stored helps to maintain their quality.

Live stock and fires are the two most important factors in preventing the improvement of farm woodlots.

About 18 distinct varieties of cheese are on the market today.

Wheat raised in Argentina in the 1937-38 season weighed nearly 6,000,000 tons.

Supplemental irrigation is practiced on nearly 1,000,000 acres of land east of the 100th meridian.

The Iowa corn crop has had an on-the-farm value of more than $200,000,000 in each of eighteen years since 1912.

Hand-Knits Combine Style, Service for Campus Wear

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

STURDY and protective from the elements were things knitted in the "Jong, long ago" pioneer days, but they lacked the esthetic. But modern knits! It is as if knitting in this day and generation had become a magic art whereby designers have dramatized the theme to a point of high styling such as our faithful ever-knitting great-great-ancestresses never dreamed could be.

Back to college in a knit bolero frock such as the stunning model to the right in the group illustrated will cause one's sorority sisters to voice a chorus of oh's and ah's of admiration. It's worth the experimenting, just see if it isn't! A bumpy crocheted cotton lends itself beautifully to this knit design because of its resiliency and smart rough surface effect. Boleros come in so "handy" and you can wear this one separately with other frocks if you wish. You'll like the flattery of the figure-molding dress that, together with the bolero, forms as stylish a costume as ever might be.

With fringes all the rage this year you will be right on your toes come autumn if you wear a trim sports outfit as shown centered in the trio. It is knit of a nubby crocheted cotton and what endless wear one does get out of these cotton crochets! Wash them and wash them and it never fades their good looks. Then, too, being handknit, they have style and distinction. It is not only that the fringe that finishes the edges is definitely fashion correct but it gives opportunities for interesting color combinations. The jacket fits snug around the waistline to give a neat line, which is a highly important styling item—that of the fitted defined waistline.

Wouldn't any school girl, business woman, debutante, clubwoman—wouldn't any member of the fair sex that goes motoring, or treks about town—love a handknit coat as here pictured! It surely is an inspiration to start knitting needles clicking. It is knit of a nubby crocheted cotton in a striking plaid patterning with immense patch pockets of the darker color. They will tell you at any fancywork department where you get the yarn as to effective color combinations. You can make this colorful coat up very quickly if you get it at a will. Grand to wear to the early autumn games!

Here are a few general items in regard to latest knitting trends. The tendency this season is to knit entire suits or ensembles, the exquisite simplicity of which achieves a smart tailored look. Interesting skirts are ribbed around to simulate pleats. Wear gold jewelry with your new black knit frock. Sweater jackets are "dolled up" with silver buttons of hand-wrought type. Knitted combined with woven fabric is very popular, as for instance a cloth jacket with knitted sleeves. Plaid skirt with bright sweater is popular schoolgirl formula.

Sweater and Skirt

Little fashion-correct "Missy" in this picture is dressed in her new sweater and skirt outfit ready to answer first-day-of-school roll call. It's the smart vogue this season for little girls to companion a suspender skirt of handsome wool with a sweater of exact color match. In this instance the skirt of fine Arlington wool comes in interesting colors of Scandinavian influence such as Viking copper and Peer Gynt blue, also navy, green and brown) has a novel suspender fashioning that widens at its buttons to the skirt belt.

Muffs Match Hats In Latest Trend

Muffs that match hats are among the latest fads to tempt women seeking the unusual in costume accents. Many different decorative fabrics such as matelasse crepe, embroidered wool and velvets are being used for these as are the numerous fur fabrics. The hats are of the turban type, always high and often draped. The muffs are variously shaped, depending upon the fabric. Fur materials, for example, are cut very simple, while the decorative materials are draped, twisted and bow-trimmed.

Don't Be Deceived By New 'Doll Hats'

It's a fact that doll hats are gay deceivers. They look so impossible off the head you think you can't possibly wear them. But you can! And to your amazement you will find them actually becoming. Step in to your favorite milliner's, try on a few, and you will find they are irresistible.

Just now the shops are displaying little black velvet types that pose over one eye with a head strap at the back which holds them firmly into place.

Veil Tied Over the Face

That is the way smart Paris women are wearing their veils—tied over the face. They are wearing veils to a far greater extent abroad than we in America are doing.

Huge Jeweled Pendants

The latest is to suspend a handsome antique-looking pendant from a thin necklace. Earrings are very much in evidence, too, and they also favor the pendant motif.

C. Houston Goudiss Enumerates the Nutritious Values of the BANANA

Explains How Our Most Satisfying Food Fruit Helps to Maintain Health at All Ages.

By C. HOUSTON GOUDISS

6 East 39th Street, New York City.

BEFORE the discovery of the vitamins and before we knew as much regarding the body's mineral requirements, interest in food was centered around proteins, carbohydrates and fats. Fruits, which in general supply little protein and fat, and widely varying amounts of carbohydrates, received scant consideration as a source of essential nutrients.

But with our steadily increasing knowledge of vitamins and of the importance to the body of a long list of essential mineral elements, fruits have assumed a commanding place in nutrition. And those who follow the primary rule of a well balanced diet and serve fruit twice daily have been rewarded with increased health and vigor.

In addition to their minerals and vitamins, fruits are valued because of their bulk or cellulose which helps to insure regular health habits.

The Most Economical Fruit

Many homemakers consider that fruits as a class are among the more expensive items included in the food budget.

But that statement is far too general and indicates a lack of information concerning the comparative nutritive values of the different kinds of fruit. For example, it has been said of the delicious and economical banana, that it gives more nutritive as well as money value than almost any other food.

Fruits, in general, are frequently divided into two classes; they are known as flavor fruits when they contain 80 per cent or more of water and as food fruits when the water content is less than 80 per cent. Bananas are a food fruit of the first order!

Ripe bananas are rich in carbohydrates and furnish the body with splendid energy values, with a minimum tax on the digestive system.

Double Fuel Value

When fully ripened, this fruit provides quick energy because a certain amount of its sugars are almost immediately absorbed by the body. On the other hand, several hours must elapse before the remaining sugars are completely assimilated. Thus, eating bananas provides a continuous supply of energy for a considerable period. They not only help to promote rapid recovery from fatigue but also furnish a continuing supply of energy which keeps one from becoming hungry again too soon after a meal.

The edible portion of one average-sized banana weighs about 3½ ounces and provides 100 calories. It takes almost the same weight of white potato to yield the same number of calories.

Bananas a Protective Food

Bananas take an important position among the protective foods, because they are a good source of four vitamins, A, B, C and G, and contain a total of 11 minerals. They leave an alkaline-ash following digestion.

Fully ripened bananas are easily digested and are mildly laxative.

Valuable in Child's Diet

Bananas deserve a prominent place in the child's diet from infancy to maturity. Some baby specialists prescribe mashed and strained ripe bananas as one of the first solid foods to be introduced in the infant's diet. The ripe banana is considered to be especially valuable at the time when sugar is withdrawn from the formula and the baby is given whole milk for the first time. The calories in the bananas take the place of the calories previously received from the sugar, and thus weight gains are steadily maintained.

Help Children Gain Weight

Because of their high caloric value, plus their content of minerals and vitamins, bananas may well be used regularly throughout childhood.

Bananas and milk make an excellent food combination because the milk supplements the fruit with protein, fat, minerals and vitamins. This combination is often used as a supplementary lunch for underweight children, and carefully conducted studies have indicated its usefulness in helping youngsters to gain weight.

Almost all children like the taste of bananas and they do not seem to tire of this bland and pleasing fruit. And though the banana is regarded as a solid food, it can, if desired, be mashed and whipped into liquid form and combined with milk to make a healthful and nourishing beverage.

Ideal for the Elderly

If elderly individuals are to maintain top health, fruits should be given a prominent place in their diet. But many fruits are avoided by individuals past middle age, either because their acid taste is displeasing or because they present difficulties in mastication. Ripe bananas, however, practically melt in the mouth. Being easily digested, they are a fortunate choice for elderly persons, providing necessary energy values with a minimum of digestive effort.

Practical, Pretty Designs

MRS. WADE D. THOMPSON

Marriott-Thompson Wedding Wednesday

Climaxing a series of pre-bridal courtesies was the marriage of Miss Audrea Marriott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Marriott of Slaton and Wade D. Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Thompson, of Lockney, which took place at the home of the bride's parents at nine o'clock Wednesday morning, with Rev. J. O. Quattlebaum reading the single ring ceremony.

The vows were exchanged in a garden ceremony before an altar of smilax on trellises flanked by tall baskets of dahlias. The aisle was marked by baskets of galdiols and lern.

Before the ceremony Mrs. D. I. Skelton sang "I Love You Truly," accompanied by Mrs. W. T. Richardson of Chicago. Mrs. Richardson played the Bridal Chorus from Wagner's "Lohengrin" for the processional and during the ceremony played "Traumerl."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore white chantilly lace over white satin. The Elizabethan styled dress had a starched lace collar and buttoned down the front with small satin buttons, and the long full skirt fell into a train. Her finger tip veil was caught at the crown with an off the face halo cap. Her "something old" was an heirloom pin which was given as a wedding gift to her grandmother and she carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Little Ura John Skelton, flower girl, wore blue silk net and carried a basket of rose petals.

Sister Is Attendant

Mrs. Vaskar G. Browning attended her sister as matron of honor. She wore a rose taffeta costume made off the shoulder style and trimmed in chenille and carried a fan-shaped bouquet of talisman roses and gladioli.

Miss Jo Hestand, maid of honor wore a green taffeta frock of Colonial period trimmed in seed pearls and carried a fan-shaped bouquet of Ophelia roses. The fans are heirlooms of the bride's family.

Robert Lee was best man; Charles Marriott, Jr., was usher. The bride's mother wore a black lace gown with black accessories and a corsage of pink gladioli.

Reception On Lawn

A reception was held in the Marriott yard after the ceremony. The lace covered table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake decorated with small white doves and roses topped with a miniature bridal couple.

Assisting in the ceremony were Mesdames Richardson, Skelton, J. S. Vaughn, W. G. Elkins, Curtis Hamilton, George Marriott and Charles Marriott, Jr. The bride's attendants poured coffee.

The couple left immediately after the ceremony for New Mexico and Colorado for a wedding trip. They will be at home here after October 1st at 555 West Garza. The bride wore a teal blue suit with black accessories for going-away.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Ryan and Mrs. R. L. Tate of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hannam of Amarillo, Mrs. Truman Campbell of Lamesa, Girder Levey of Houston and Miss Mamie Fields of Plainview.

BRIDE-ELECT HONORED AT TWILIGHT TEA

Roses, digitalis and fern gracefully arranged in bowls and baskets throughout the home were used by Mesdames C. C. Byars and D. I. Skelton to decorate the home of the latter when they entertained at a twilight tea, miscellaneous shower, honoring Miss Audrea Marriott last Thursday evening from five to seven o'clock.

About eighty guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. W. T. Richardson of Chicago and were presented to the receiving line made up of the following: the two hostesses, Miss Marriott, Mrs. Chas. D. Marriott, Mrs. V. G. Browning, and Mrs. Chas. E. Marriott.

Presiding at the punch bowls were Mrs. J. S. Vaughn and Mrs. W. G. Elkins. Assisting in the dining room were Mrs. J. W. Ecker, Mrs. Brent Thompson and Mrs. Harold Brown.

The lace-covered table was centered with a lovely bouquet of digitalis in an antique bowl having belonged to Mrs. Skelton's grand-mother.

Miss Jo Hestand and Little Miss Ura John Skelton presided at the bride's book.

Mesdames George Marriott, Louie Ares, and Miss Evelyn Stallings greeted guests in the room where the numerous lovely gifts were displayed.

Piano selections were beautifully rendered by Mrs. Allen Ferrel during the tea hours.

Well Known Couple Wed September 3

Miss Arlene Grinstead, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Grinstead of the Posey Community, and Mr. J. L. Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Taylor of this city, were united in marriage September 3, in a ring ceremony at the home of the bride with Rev. W. F. Ferguson, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiating.

The bride was attired in a teal blue dress with black accessories.

Just the immediate families and a few friends were present.

Mrs. Taylor graduated from Slaton High School in '36. Mr. Taylor is employed with the Taylor Bros. & Dad Woodwork here.

The couple left immediately after the ceremony for a short trip. They will be at home at 855 S. 8th St.
