Community Development Workshop Set

Clayton Elected To New Office

On July 19, State Rep. Bill Clayton (D-Springlake) took time from his duties at the Texas Constitutional Convention to win election to the important Vice-Chairman's slot of the Southern Legislative Conference during its annual meeting in San Antonio.

The 450 delegates in attendance at the Conference elected Clayton after naming Virginia's Senator J. Harry Michael Jr., to the Chairman's post. During their four day meeting, delegates heard from such dignitaries as Texas Governor Briscoe and Lt. Governor Hobby, and passed resolutions on such topics as the energy crisis, comprehensive health planning, mass transit, and deficit financing.

The Southern Legislative Conference is the representative organization for state legislators and staff coming from fifteen southern states and is an affiliate of the Council of State Governments.

One major role of the Southern Conference is to serve as the intermediary organization between the states and the federal government and to provide for better communications between these two levels.

Clayton, a six term veteran of the Texas House, has served on the Executive Committee of the Southern Legislative Conference for the past year. In addition to this post, Clayton, a leading contender for Speaker of the Texas House of Representatives, was recently elected Chairman of the Southern Environmental Resources Conference.

Football Workout Begins August 12

High school football hopefuls began a voluntary workout on July 22. Assistant Coach David Lynn stated that "just from our observation, the boys' attitudes seem to be very good and they have been pursuing the workouts under their own steam. It looks like we have a good potential here for a top team if we can put it all together."

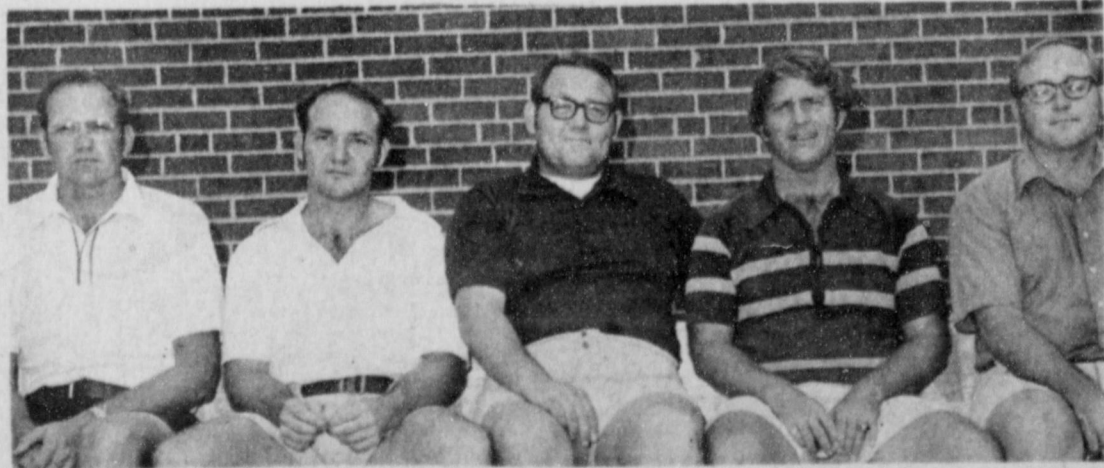

The coach indicated that the "preseason workouts are on a voluntary basis and the boys work strictly on their own volition and supervision."

Head Coach Chuck Stout said that "physicals will be given at 2:00 p.m. on Sunday, August 4 at the high school gym. Also, on Wednesday, August 7, shoes will be issued and official school workouts will begin at 8:00 a.m. on August 12."

All the coaches wish to "encourage any boy who is interested to participate in these workouts."

Further details will be made available at a later date.

Brucellosis Quarantine on Area Feedlots

Texas Farm Bureau reports that at Waco there are a number of quarantined feedlots in the state of Texas authorized to feed cattle branded with an "S" on the jaw. These cattle, when moved, must go directly to slaughter. A list of area approved quarantined feedlots, as of June 25, 1974, are: Bailey County Feedlot, Box M, Muleshoe, Texas; Chow Tex Feedlot, Inc., Route 1, Box 134, Muleshoe, Texas and Sugarland Feedlot, Box 186, Hereford, Texas.

The Executive Director of the Texas Animal Health Commission also reports that as of July 1, indemnities will be paid on cows reacting to the brucellosis test. These payments will amount to $50 for grade cows and $100 for registered cows. The animals must be tested at the slaughter houses and auction sales barns will not qualify.

Grain sorghum water use is highest just prior to and during the booting stage, New explains. He says that response to irrigation at booting generally contributes 3,000 to 4,000 pounds of grain per acre. Even short periods of stress can cut into yields at this time. Plants are likely to require three to four inches of water every 10 days during this period.

Good soil moisture levels must also be maintained during heading and flowering in order to keep yields up, he adds. Although water use may have declined slightly following rapid vegetative growth, 10-day requirements are likely to be two to two and one half inches. Irrigation during the heading and flowering stages

Sorghum Irrigation Key To Success

SPECIAL-- Summer heat and peak demands of grain sorghum for irrigation water are putting the pressure on farmers who must stretch their irrigation water over more acres of crops this year, says an irrigation engineer.

Adequate soil moisture is critically important to grain sorghum in the booting, heading and flowering stages of growth, says Leon New, area irrigation specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. New adds that sorghum will wait for water, but moisture stress slows plant growth and can cut into yields if it occurs during critical plant growth stages.

1974 Wheat Projections Down Again

AUSTIN -- Current USDA figures reveal that Texas wheat production is expected to decline 39.2 million bushels, down from a record 98.6 million bushels in 1973 to 59.4 million, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White has announced.

Most of the decrease is due to the failure of dryland wheat in the Texas High Plains. Growth has been slow because of drought conditions throughout the area.

High Plains farmers are being paid from $3.93 to $4.10 a bushel for wheat.

Public Urged To Attend Mark Wilson Convicted of Burglary

Mark Emilio Wilson, 22, waived trial by jury and entered a plea of guilty to a charge of theft in the regular 154th District Court July 24 session. The case at trial before District Court Judge Pat Boone was for the July 16, 1973 burglary of Harvey Bass Appliance. Wilson was sentenced to serve not less than two years and not more than five years in the State Penitentiary of Texas.

City Manager Jim Rankin has announced that there will be a "Community Development Workshop" held in Muleshoe on August 31 at 1:00 p.m. in the city council chambers. The session is co-sponsored by the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and SPAG. Federal and state agencies that can offer advice and assistance to anyone interested in community development will be here. Representative of HUD and Federal Housing Administration Jolly Dyer of Lubbock, SPAG representative Mike Lumsden, Farmer's Home Administration Representative Clinton Kennedy of Muleshoe and SBA Representative Carl Lightner of Lubbock will all be on hand to advise on expansions of public and private agencies. The program is designed for private housing loans as well as business loans.

SPAG Representative Mike Lumsden stressed the fact that "this workshop is open to the general public and community attendance is strongly urged. The main goal of this meeting is to acquaint people with programs and requirements of these agencies."

1974 Ginning Trade Rules Adopted

SPECIAL-- The Texas Cotton Association (TCA) has adopted new trade rules that will be effective for the 1974 ginning season.

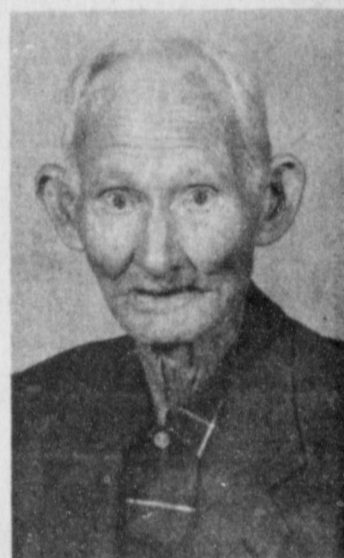

According to Dr. Calvin B. Parnell, Jr., cotton ginning and mechanization specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, penalties will be levied for lightweight and heavyweight flat bales (net weight).

Originally, a penalty was included of $5.00 per bale for every bale that came off a gin flat press that had not been modified to produce 24-inch bales. Parnell said, This modification is referred to as "shimming" the press. However, the "Modified Press Penalty" was delayed by a meeting of the TCA board of directors on June 1, 1974, for one year. This means that gins will not be penalized for not "shimming" their press this ginning season, but will be required to shim their presses prior to 1975-76 gin season or be subject to a penalty.

The objective of the rules is to produce a more uniform bale that will have the end result of making U.S. cotton more desirable for foreign as well as domestic markets. Most ginners are aware of these penalties, he said, and will attempt to produce bales having a weight within the no-penalty range.

"However, many cotton producers may not be aware of the penalties," he said. "They also may not be aware that penalties will most likely be passed on the producer. Hence, cotton producers should try to cooperate with their ginners in providing even bales of cotton in the trailers brought to the gin. It is going to be more difficult for the ginner to handle the remnants without making bales that will be subject to a penalty."

Job Corps Is Aid To Youth

MCKINNEY -- Secretary of Labor, Peter J. Brennan, spent three and one half hours at the McKinney Job Corps Center for Women in McKinney, Texas, touring the Center's vocational and basic education programs.

At a news conference following lunch and a tour of the facilities, Brennan stated, "I personally like the Job Corps program because it helps young people who need help the most. It instills dignity and self respect while providing training in vocational trades - where the money and happiness are."

"The Job Corps is not merely a training program - it is a MEANINGFUL program which actually finds jobs for participants."

Talking about the Corpswomen and the McKinney Community, Brennan continued stating, "Money is important, but It's not everything. The Center's success is a tribute to this community that has given its time and energy to the program. These girls need help to get a start and then they will take off on their own. They know they will have a meaningful job at the end of the line."

The McKinney Job Corps Center for Women, which is operated by the non-profit Texas Educational Foundation, Inc., provides twenty-eight different job training programs for the 620 young women in training at the Women's Center in McKinney.

Information in regard to joining the Job Corps program for young men and women ages 16-21 may be obtained from the Texas Employment Commission Office in Muleshoe which is located at 100 East Avenue C.

stage," he adds. "An additional application prior to the hard dough stage is more likely to be profitable on sandy soils where less water can be stored."

The time required to water the crop is especially important in minimizing moisture stress. One way to cover acreage faster is to water alternate rows, the engineer suggests. But if Pullman and similar tight soils crack, it is difficult to push water through. More success has been achieved with alternate furrow irrigation on lighter loam soils and on Pullman soils with furrows spaced 30 inches apart. An additional irrigation may be needed to keep soil moisture levels up. When water is applied in alternate furrows, the acreage can be watered quicker.

New figures that more than three to four hours of tailwater runoff time may also tie up water that can be more productive on drier soil. With additional tailwater runoff time, the average yield increase is relatively small.

Another irrigation management tool is the well water delivery rate, he says. With this information water application rates can be easily determined. Excessive application amounts can be adjusted to distribute the same water over more acres.

Farmers who use precise water application procedures will probably boost grain sorghum yields and increase their profits, New concludes.

Sunlight, Water on Sorghum Affect Beefsteak

LUBBOCK - Sunlight and water on fields of grain sorghum may make a difference in whether a beefsteak will sizzle on your platter or burn a hole in your pocketbook.

Grain sorghum, one of the top cash crops in Texas, is a major crop on the High Plains of West Texas. Most of the grain sorghum grown on the High Plains is used by the cattle feeding industry of the area.

Indications are that environmental conditions influence the yield of grain sorghum, according to Dr. Daniel R. Krieg, associate professor of agronomy at Texas Tech University. Yields affect the price of grain among insecticides at 14 days post-treatment, Randolph said. He said four parasite species which attack the alfalfa weevil have been released in Texas. Two of the parasites have been recovered under field conditions. Research results of this phase of the project are still inconclusive.

sorghum to cattle producers which, in turn, influences the price the consumer must pay for beef.

"Grain sorghum yields depend on three variables -- the number of seed heads produced per head, and the weight of the seed," Krieg said. "Changes in any of the variables affect the yield of the crop."

The professor is conducting research on the effects two environmental conditions, water availability and light intensity, have on grain sorghum seed development. His findings should provide useful information about crop handling and be helpful in developing grain sorghum varieties which are more resistant to environmental stress.

"By understanding the effects of environmental conditions on grain sorghum and finding ways to offset or eliminate stress, we can have greater yields of better and more uniform quality in grain sorghum. This will benefit the grain producer, his buyers, and, ultimately, the consumer in the super-market," Krieg said.

Three hybrid varieties of grain sorghum with varying tannin content are being grown for the professor's experiment at Texas Tech's research farm near New Deal, Texas. Stress is placed on the plants by withholding irrigation water and by growing the plants under portable nylon mesh sunscreens to reduce light intensity.

Krieg's experimental plots are arranged to allow stress to be induced on different areas of the field at different times in the plants' seed development cycle. By changing the timing of stress, he will be able to determine at what stage of development, in both flower cluster and seed growth, grain sorghum is most sensitive to environmental stress.

Measurements of water potential are taken in the leaves of the plants to determine the level of water stress present at a given time. At pre-determined stress levels, the crop is watered.

Each of the three grain sorghum varieties is involved in each step of the experimental procedure including three levels of light intensity. One portion of each variety receives full sun, one portion 30 percent shade and one portion 60 percent shade.

Development of the grain is monitored daily beginning with panicle or flower cluster development through seed development. Samples are collected and examined in the agronomy laboratory at Texas Tech. Records are kept of cell size and cell number in the developing seed and correlated with stress data to determine at what point stress begins to affect the crop, said Krieg. "Pollination in single heads begins at the top and moves down during a period of about five days," Krieg said. "Samples are collected at the top, middle and bottom of the heads to determine the effects of stress on development throughout the head."

The professor's work at Texas Tech is supported by the Institute for University Research and the Institute for Research in Environmental Quality in Agriculture, both at the university.

Working with Krieg are graduate students Larry Balko, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Balke, Rt. 1, Robstown; Jerry Bennett, son of Mrs. Bobby Crow, Anson; Travis Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Miller, Rt. 1, Robstown; Tommy Gerik, son of Edwin J. Gerik, Whitney; and Eric Ma of Taiwan.

Krieg holds a half-time appointment in the Department of Agronomy at Texas Tech and a half-time position with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station TAES, Lubbock. With TAW he is studying other factors contributing to the Small Seed Syndrome of Grain Sorghum.

MR. & MRS. JOHNNIE HENDERSON

Miss Whitaker Weds Henderson

Miss Laura Ann Whitaker and Johnnie George Henderson, Jr. were united in marriage Sunday, July 7 at 8:00 p.m. in the Calvary Baptist Church of Muleshoe. Rev. Charles Harvey officiated in the double ring ceremony.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lamon Whitaker of Muleshoe and parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie G. Henderson of Hereford.

An arrangement of white gladiolas and baby's breath was centered on the altar. Traditional wedding music was played.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a floor-length, long sleeve dress of white knit, the empire waist was accented by a blue satin sash. Her veil was of shoulder-length white tulle which came to a point in the back. The veil had a knot of white roses on the right side with blue ribbons, streaming from the roses. Her bouquet of French carnations with blue and white streamers lay atop a white Bible.

To carry out the traditional, for something old she carried a lace handkerchief given to her by an aunt, something new was her dress; something borrowed was a necklace from a friend and something blue was the sash on her dress. The bride also wore pennies in her shoe.

Miss Cindy Harvey attended as maid of honor. She wore a floor length short sleeve dress of dark blue and white dotted swiss with an accent of ecru lace around the collar and a long sash tied in the back. She wore a blue ribbon in her hair. She carried a single long stemmed French carnation that had blue streamers attached to it.

Best man was Arlie Beavers of Lubbock, uncle of the bride.

The bride's mother wore a white double knit dress with red figures patterning it. The dress had cut out scallops in the neck and sleeves. She wore a corsage made up of three French carnations accented with baby's breath.

The groom's mother wore a floor length empire-waisted dress of silk that was patterned with different colored flowers and leaves. Her corsage was identical to that of the bride's mother.

The reception was held in the dining room of the church. Mrs. Ruth Beevers, aunt of the bride and Miss Tammy Whitaker, sister of the bride, served the two tiered cake and the punch. The table was covered with a white silk tablecloth that had lace trim around the bottom. The cake was decorated with yellow flowers and had the resemblance of the bride and groom on the top.

The couple plan to take up residence in Muleshoe where the groom is presently employed by Protein Processors.

Miss Harvey Attended F. H. A. National Meeting

Cindy L. Harvey has just returned from Chicago, Illinois where she attended the National Meeting of Future Homemakers of America at the Conrad Hilton Hotel, July 15-18.

Miss Harvey is a member of the HERO chapter and was selected as one of the home economics students in this State as an official delegate to the meeting. The 2000 youth delegates represented a national membership of about half-a-million.

She reports that it was an exciting week packed with concern sessions, resource labs, outstanding speakers, fun time, a night at the famous Auditorium Theatre, and sightseeing around Chicago.

"Our meeting theme was 'SEARCH', she reported, 'to discover resources for use in improving self, understanding others and exploring careers.'"

Miss Harvey pointed out that there were so many interesting sessions at the meeting it was difficult to decide which had the most meaning.

"It was a real learning experience", she said. "And one of the best things about it was the opportunity to make a lot of friends from all across the country. Then, the election and installation of the twelve new FHA national officers and the three national representatives of the HERO chapters was thrilling and impressive. Being selected as a delegate to attend this National Meeting was a wonderful experience and a great honor for me and I am grateful for having been given this opportunity."

THE WAIT IS OVER FOR "THE SOUND OF MUSIC"

The most popular motion picture of all time, "The Sound of Music," 20th Century-Fox's screen version of Rodgers & Hammerstein's Broadway hit, will open its first general release in five years on July 28 at the XIT Drive In.

Winner of five Academy Awards including Best Picture and Best Direction, Robert Wise's production of "The Sound of Music" stars Julie Andrews and Christopher Plummer, and co-stars Eleanor Parker, Richard Haydn and Peggy Wood. The Todd-AO and DeLuxe Color musical was produced and directed by Wise. Richard Rodgers wrote music and lyrics for two new songs for the film production, which has a screenplay by Ernest Lehman.

Wise took his cast and crew to Salzburg, Austria, to film the story of the famous Von Trapp family singers against the authentic background of the world-famed "City of Music." They spent 11 weeks filming in many of the city's landmarks such as Mirabell Gardens, Nonnberg Abbey, Winkler's Terrace and the Mozart foot-bridge.

During the course of the location shooting, which occupied virtually one-half of the production schedule, "The Sound of Music" company utilized historic Frohnburg Castle, now a dormitory for music students at the Mozarteum, to simulate the Von Trapp villa. The actual home of the family was occupied by Gestapo chief Heinrich Himmler during World War II and is now surrounded by a high wall, making it useless for filming purposes.

The famous Salzburg Music Festival scenes were shot in the most spectacular of the city's landmarks, the Felsenreitschule or Rocky Riding School. The stage of the vast amphitheatre is back-grounded by scores of arched tunnels carved out of the rocky mountain that surrounds the city, forming an impressive backdrop for the climactic scenes of the film.

GREEN THUMB

GREEN THUMB... is the way of describing those that have a way with plant life. The ones, who are so gifted, will tell you that to be successful with plants, you must see that they have plenty of water. God knows too, that a soul must be watered in order for it to mature and grow.

"...and thou shalt be like a watered garden, and like a spring of water, whose waters fail not." Isaiah 58:11

Attend Church Regularly and receive your spiritual nourishment.

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH... THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

U. S. Chamber Urges Fight Against Inflation

Inflation has become more worrisome than crime to millions of Americans. What can ordinary citizens do about a problem that distresses them so much?

Economists do not all agree on the solution but all recognize that our shocking rate of inflation stems largely from political rather than economic decisions.

In the last five years our Federal government has primed our economy with $100 billion in new money -- money borrowed to finance our huge budget deficits.

These dollars dilute the value of our dollars. In the market place they compete against the dollars of the public for the nation's goods and services. Deficit spending drives up prices. It is a political matter.

The U.S. government will spend more than $29 billion in fiscal 1975 just to pay the interest on our huge federal debt, now approaching $500 billion. What happens? Young married people are among the first to learn. Interest rates on house mortgage loans soar out of reach. Deficit borrowing drives up interest rates.

It is a political matter. People on fixed incomes, such as Social Security recipients, are hard hit by inflation. To enable Social Security beneficiaries to get along on their benefits in times of rising living costs, Congress has linked benefits to the Consumer Price Index. Benefits rise automatically with living costs. Taxes must go up accordingly. Inflation begets inflation.

In the strong belief that political decisions are urgently needed to stem inflation, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States has consistently worked for sound fiscal monetary policies. It believes that the way all Americans can join in the fight against inflation is to use their power as voters to influence political decisions by government. It suggests to its members that they Call or write their Congressmen. This is good advice for all citizens.

Make a political decision.

Farm Finance Management Can Boost Profits

COLLEGE STATION -- Farmers and ranchers should develop a financial management plan to increase their profit-making potential, believes Cecil Parker, economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Because capital is the most important input of production, efficiency in its use is important in maximizing profits," says the Texas A&M University System specialist.

The financial statement, profit-loss statement and cash flow ledger are three items required to develop a financial management plan.

The financial statement shows the farm's financial picture at a given time. This includes the present solvency of the operation and also a projection of future solvency. List all assets and liabilities. Current, intermediate and fixed or long-term groupings can be used in defining assets and providing a realistic look at repayment requirements.

The profit-loss statement sums up income and expenses and the resulting net profit or loss during a given period, such as a crop year. Handle non-farming items separately. To obtain the operation's gain or loss, subtract net cash expenses from net cash income and adjust for changes in inventory and capital items. Comparing profit-loss statements for a period of years will show any progress or decline of the farming or ranching operation.

The cash flow ledger lists all cash income and expenses. It includes family living expenses, money borrowed and debts paid. A monthly summary of these figures determines the flow of cash during the planning period. The time and amounts of credit needs and availability of repayment funds can be determined by cash flow, points out Parker.

"Although some time is required to develop a sound financial management plan, the end result can be increased returns on capital," contends the economist.
