Mrs. Mamie Wiley of Berger, is visiting friends in this community. Thirteen of our good farmers plowed for Mr. Stewart last Thursday.

Bro. Clinton was unable to fill his appointment here last Sunday. He fell from a building one day last week, breaking several bones in his feet.

G. W. Parkhill and family drove over to Brownfield last Sunday and spent the day with Bro. Curry and his wife.

Miss Fay Kerley spent the weekend in Lubbock with friends.

The women's home demonstration club gave a program at their meeting last week. Delicious refreshments were served.

There was a good attendance at the community singing last Sunday afternoon. A number of good leaders were present.

Mr. Eaton is sure the farmer's friend, doing all in his power to help them realize better prices for their products. Then, his work with the club boys cannot be given too much praise. We are certainly proud of our county agent.

The New Hope singing class, and all lovers of sacred music here, have received a cordial invitation to meet with the community class at Union next Sunday night, April 22, at 7:30 o'clock. The Pacey class also extended an invitation that this class meet with them on next Sunday afternoon. Let's all go to both places.

He was here only two or three hours going to Tahoka Friday night. His presence in this part of the state at this time was caused by an engagement to deliver an address before the Parent-Teachers convention at Lubbock, speaking there Tuesday night of last week.

While in Slaton, Mr. James was the guest of L. A. Wilson, secretary of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce. The two men have been well acquainted with each other for a number of years.

Schedule Made Out for Visits To Communities

A tentative schedule for visits which Slaton business men are to make this spring and summer into communities surrounding has been completed. The first community to be visited is Acuff and the date for this trip is Friday night, April 27, next week. This is yet to be verified by the Acuff people however. The schedule for other visits is as follows:

Posey, May 4; New Hope, May 11; Woodrow, May 25; Unico, June 1; New Hope, June 8; Wilson, June 15; Joe Stokes, June 23; Lynn, June 29; Morgan, July 6; Southland, July 13; Hackberry, July 20; Pleasant Valley, July 27; Gordon, August 3; Robertson, August 10; and McClung, August 17.

The meetings are all set for Friday nights at the school building or other public meeting place of each community. Of course, changes in dates may be necessary, but the hope is that the schedule may be followed as accurately as possible.

A large attendance from Slaton to each point is urged by Chamber of Commerce officials who have been planning the trips in the interest of developing better understanding and closer acquaintance between Slaton and her neighbors.

Cars making the trip next Friday night to Acuff will assemble at the city hall as a starting place, and the entire group will then go in a body; it is announced. It will be necessary to leave Slaton about 7 o'clock, according to the announcement. Every business house in town is invited to send one or more representatives, and anybody else is invited to go who may desire to do so.

MISS STALLINGS' NAME ON DEAN'S HONOR LIST

Belton, Texas, April 17.—Appearing on the Dean's Honor List at Baylor College is the name of Evelyn Stallings, Slaton, who is listed among those making not less than "B" for the fall and winter terms.

It is considered an honor to have one's name on the Dean's list. Dean E. G. Townsend sends a letter of congratulation to each of the students having her name on the list and also a letter of congratulation to the superintendent of the high school from which she was graduated. This year the list shows that the students from small town high schools make on an average higher grades than do the graduates from city high schools.

INDUSTRY HELPS AGRICULTURE BUILD UP THE SMALL TOWN

Decentralization of Manufacturing Brings Markets for Products Closer to the Farm—Gives Employment and Better Standards of Living to Rural Communities.

By T. R. PRESTON
President, American Bankers Association

NO class of people has been more diligent in trying to understand the agricultural problem than the bankers of this country. The agricultural problem is a rural problem and demands the best thought of everyone. This country cannot continue along happy lines with only sections of the country prosperous. Prosperity must be passed around if anybody is long to enjoy it. This question cannot be solved by the farmers alone, but the majority opinion is that there is no legislative remedy for agriculture. It is an economic question pure and simple and must be worked out accordingly.

A few years ago it was contended that agriculture did not have sufficient credit facilities. That proposition was often made a political question. I do not presume there are many who will question the fact that agriculture now has ample credit facilities.

Mixing Farms and Factories

It is a fact that no community and no state has ever become great purely from agriculture. It is not to the interest of New York and other great centers to see the small communities and the agricultural sections losing their wealth and importance. In the end it will react upon them to their disadvantage. There seems to me a real remedy for these small communities and also for agriculture. This remedy, which is the mixing of industry with agriculture, is now being applied in many localities with satisfactory results.

Industry and agriculture are better balanced in Ohio, North Carolina and Pennsylvania than in any other states of the Union, and in those states there is no serious agricultural problem and we hear little complaint from the farmers. This mixing of industry ing examples from my own state to prove this proposition, and I mention these because I am more familiar with conditions there than elsewhere. Twelve years ago Kingsport, Tennessee, had a population of about one thousand. Great industries like a large camera company, a big cement plant and a number of other industries were located there partly through the influence of an outstanding New York business man. In a little more and agriculture is called by some decentralization of industry. I would not suggest that manufacturing institutions move from the cities to the small villages, but I do think it would be better for this country for future industries to be placed in these small villages rather than to be further congested in the great centers. This would in part also be a solution of our labor problem. The bringing of industries to small villages increases the market for agricultural products, gives employment to surplus labor, elevates the standards of living, increases public revenues, reduces taxes and vastly increases educational facilities.

T. R. PRESTON

Mixing Industry With Agriculture Means Prosperity for Rural Districts

Two Striking Examples
I believe I can give you two stri-than twelve years these have brought the population of that city up to seventeen thousand. Just a few miles away, at Elizabethton, they are building a great rayon plant, the first unit to cost $5,000,000. The population of that town is now two thousand, but it is estimated that this will be multiplied by five in less than two years. It is stated that the total investment in manufacturing industry in that community within a period of five years will probably reach $50,000,000.

The balancing of industry and agriculture will solve most of our so-called agricultural problems and we will not need such political measures as will in my opinion, do harm if enacted to the very class they pretend to benefit.

Little Damage Done Monday in Alley Blaze

What could easily have been a serious fire, but for the quick work of the Slaton Volunteer fire department, originated last Monday afternoon in the alley cleaning room of the Evans' Cleaning Plant on Garza St., when a drum of gasoline, being used in cleaning clothes, ignited.

The fire department arrived on the scene soon after the alarm was turned in. It was stated, and quickly extinguished the blaze.

ATTENDING MEET.

G. H. Orr and Jas. Rayburn, representing the local Presbyterian church, are in Plainview attending a meeting of the Amarillo Presbytery. Mrs. Clifford Simmons is representing the ladies of the Presbyterian church here at the Plainview meeting. The delegates expect to return Friday.

HOW TO TURN IN REPORT OF FIRE

To properly turn in a fire alarm, the following method should be observed, as nearly as possible, says L. B. Hagerman local fire chief:

First, call central and tell her that you want the fire station, number 54, and do not leave your telephone until you have given the person answering the name of the street, and house number, if possible, at which the fire is located, also the name of the person occupying the house. By all means do not leave your telephone until the fireman answering understands the location.

Mrs. Virginia Fann and brother, W. R. Akers, of Lubbock, were Slaton visitors Monday. Mrs. Fann is a candidate for county treasurer.

PINEAPPLE DISHES POINT THE WAY

"Oh, oh, how pretty it looks, mother," was the rapturous remark of the small boy as he looked at his dessert; then he dipped his spoon and tasted the pudding. "Oh, but it's good." And his mother smiled.

For this was the lad who only the day before had scornfully pushed away his dish of custard with the remark that that was "baby's food." But today the familiar appearance of the custard had disappeared. Arranged on the top of the dish were tiny squares of pineapple in concentric circles. And even the flavor was different, for part of the liquid used in making the dessert had been pineapple syrup instead of all milk.

This simple discovery of the charms of pineapple instituted a new regime in this household. For pineapple, aside from tempting Sammy to eat the things he should, has a definite food value of its own. With its enzymes, bromelain, which is a distinct aid to digestion, and the high ash content, canned pineapple can occupy an important place in the dietary. Because of its excellent flavor which is pungent and yet not sharp, it provides a most welcome variation from the fruits which, by much repetition, become uninteresting to the child.

A Real Party

One group of children always were invited down to their little toes when, in the afternoon, mother let them set their tables on the stone floor of the house. They had their own punch and their tables in a tea consisting of canned pineapple, cream crackers, and soft butter with washed milk powder. A pineapple cream custard was the centerpiece of the table and the food touch of hospitality to the children came for candy, what can be easier to give them than glazed pineapple? By making it at home the cost is extremely low, about twenty-five cents a pound, as contrasted with the dollar to a dollar and one-half in the stores. The fruit so prepared retains all its good qualities, and if given after a meal, as part of the dessert, will provide both fruit and sugar.

To make the glazed pineapple, boil two cups sugar, one cup water, and one-eighth teaspoon cream of tartar to the crack stage or 300° F. Keep hot over hot water while dipping the pineapple. Cut the pineapple in convenient sized wedges for serving, and drain well. Then dip a few at a time in the syrup and remove to oiled paper to dry. It is most important to have the pineapple drain for at least several hours before using.

Velvet and Cream Custard

Pineapple velvet is another dessert which will appeal both to children and to the mothers of children. Soak one-half teaspoon gelatin in two tablespoons of cold water. Drain the syrup from two cups crushed Hawaiian pineapple. Add enough water to this syrup to make three cups of liquid, stir in one and one-half cups sugar, and boil five minutes. Add the gelatin, stir until it dissolves, and then chill it. Add the drained pineapple and the juice of one lemon. Freeze to a mush, and when nearly hard fold in the stiffly beaten white of one egg. Pack, using four parts of ice to one of mix, and allow to stand at least one hour before serving.

A pineapple cream custard is a good method of supplying the essential eggs and milk, and, at the same time, provides a welcome variation in the diet. Beat the yolks of three eggs slightly, add one-eighth cup sugar, one-eighth teaspoon salt, and two cups hot milk. Cook in a double boiler until thickened, stirring constantly, and cool. Beat three egg whites stiff and add three tablespoons powdered sugar. Add three-fourths cup crushed Hawaiian pineapple to the cold custard, and fold in one-half of the egg white mixture. Pour into serving dish, spread remainder of whites over the top.

Hot Dessert for Cold Days

To make pineapple tapioca mix two cups syrup drained from crushed Hawaiian pineapple and one-half cup granulated tapioca, and bring to the boiling point. Boil two minutes, stirring constantly. Cook in a double boiler until tapioca is clear and transparent, or about twenty minutes. Add one-fourth teaspoon salt, one-half cup sugar, two tablespoons lemon juice and one cup of the well-drained pineapple. Pour into a serving dish and chill.

Bread pudding with pineapple is a popular hot dessert. Add two cups hot milk to two cups stale bread crumbs and allow to stand until cool. Beat two eggs, add one-half cup sugar, one-eighth teaspoon salt, and three-fourths cup well drained crushed Hawaiian pineapple. Combine the mixtures, and pour into a greased baking dish. Bake in a slow oven until firm, or about thirty-five minutes. Serve hot with a sauce made by mixing one cup each of crushed pineapple, sugar, and water. Boil fifteen minutes and serve hot. This sauce can also be cooled and served on vanilla ice cream.

Many delicious and tempting dishes can be given the children in the summer time, using pineapple syrup as a base. Glaze all of a one-pound tin especially suitable with one cup

W. McKirahan is

McDONALD IS SECOND; LAHN,

MAL SHIFT RANK.

The ranking of the varsity tennis squad has been determined by the round-robin tournament that has just been completed. Eight men took part in this tournament, thus each man played seven matches. The following shows the percentage of each player:

Player	Won	Lost	Per Cent
W. McKirahan	7	0	1.000
R. McDonald	5	2	.714
Louis Lahn	4	2	.667
Wm. Sewell	4	3	.571
B. Nunnellee	3	4	.428
Leland Mast	1	5	.167
C. Hill	1	6	.142
Quinn	1	6	.142

This shows the ranking four players to be, McKirahan, McDonald, Lahn and Sewell, but it does not necessarily mean that it will remain so throughout the season, because any man may challenge the man ahead of him as often as once a week if he desires. There are many excellent players who are not on the first four and so it will not be surprising to see a few changes before the season is over.

The squad has an excellent schedule of matches and a good chance to win the great majority of them. The next match will be on the home courts April 23. The netters from Simmons University will be here on that date. Last season Simmons won both matches from Tech, here and at Abilene, but the boys declare it will be a different story this year.

On April 27 and 28 the squad will go to Canyon to take part in the Great Plains meet. Tech holds the singles title of the Great Plains and will go up this year to cop both the singles and the doubles.

On May the 5 and 6, the boys will go to Fort Worth and Dallas respectively where they will engage in dual meets with S. M. U. and T. C. U.

SLATON

On May 15, The Slatonite will become a semi-weekly publication. The publishers believe that the people of Slaton have every reason to be proud of this announcement. It will mean that Slaton is ready for a jump into the class of cities served by twice-a-week newspapers. They believe that the time is not far distant when Slaton will have progressed even further in a newspaper way.

This is but the beginning of the program of expansion planned for The Slatonite, for with the semi-weekly will come additional features which practically assure it a big reception from its readers.

Twice-A-Week

The twice-a-week field means simply this: that Slaton merchants will have a more timely medium in which to place their messages before the people of the Slaton territory, that two times a week, The Slatonite will reach the readers with later news, features and store news. This naturally will speed up sales for Slaton merchants and put more power behind Slaton's bid for supremacy in its natural trade territory.

The publishers plan on increasing the personnel of the organization to better serve the readers, and to give Slaton a worthwhile newspaper in every respect.

It's coming May 15. Watch for it!

Mission in Progress at Catholic Church Being Attended by Many

The two weeks' mission at St. Joseph's church that began last Sunday morning is being enthusiastically attended by the Catholics of Slaton and surrounding towns. So large was the congregation Sunday evening that it became necessary to place folding chairs in the aisles to accommodate his people, it was stated.

There are two services every day for the adults and one for the children. At 8 a. m. Mass is said by the pastor, Father T. D. O'Brien at which many receive communion. Mass over, a short instruction is given by the missionary, Father Thomas J. S. McGrath, S. J. The evening services consist of the recitation of the rosary by the congregation and the Pastor, sermon by the missionary and benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

At 11.15 each morning the school children gather in the church for an instruction or sermon of about thirty or thirty five minutes.

Father McGrath says that he is more than pleased with the way the people are turning out en masse for the mission exercises. "I don't know of any place where the congregation has shown more good will or corresponded more enthusiastically. They are wonderful listeners. When I see such a large congregation present twice a day and realize that many have to drive from three to thirty miles, I know that they are anxious to hear the word of God."

Father McGrath told Father O'Brien that he much prefers to give missions in places the size of Slaton to giving them in the large cities. "In places like Slaton, he said "You get nearer to the people. You get to know them and they get to know you."

The sermons of this week are moral in type, treating of the soul and its salvation, sin, hell, the mercy of God and kindred subjects. The subjects next week will be dogmatic doctrinal and will be explanatory of the beliefs of the Catholic church. Father O'Brien extends a cordial invitation to all irrespective of creed to attend the sermons of Father McGrath.

The visiting priest follows out the principal of "Shoemaker, stick to your last," and adheres to the doctrines and beliefs of his own church which he explains and defends. But he keeps out of his discourses anything like bitterness for those of other denominations. This feature of his preaching has endeared him to all classes through the south and southwest.

The sermons next week will be as follows:

- Sunday, April 22 at the 10:00 o'clock mass, "The Liturgy of the Mass."
- Sunday, April 22 at 7:30 p. m.: "Why I am a Catholic."
- Monday, April 23 at 7:30 p. m.: "The Tuesday, April 24 at 7:30 p. m.: Author of the Catholic church."

"The infallibility of the Catholic church."

Wednesday, April 25 at 7:30 p. m.: "Can a Priest Forgive Sins?"

Thursday, April 26, at 7:30 p. m.: "Where Catholics and Most Protestants differ."

Friday, April 27 at 7:30 p. m.: "Other Christs."

Saturday, April 28: No sermon—Confessions.

Sunday, April 29, at 10:00 o'clock Mass, "The Peerless Woman."

Sunday, April 29 at 7:30 p. m.: "Back to Christ."

STAR TAKES BIG RISK

One of the greatest, if not the most dangerous risks ever attempted by any motion picture star, goes down on the credit side for Fred Thompson, star of "The Pioneer Scout" coming to the Palace Theatre, Saturday, April 21st.

The action of the story calls for Thompson to leap from Silver King, his Arabian steed, going full speed, to the axle of a wagon drawn by four horses who are also going full bent. The axle was torn from the wagon in a crash, and having only two wheels, it was like jumping to a chariot, only there was less room to stand on.

Thompson refused the services of a double declaring he did not believe in such practice, and forthwith attempted the feat himself successfully. Directors Ingram and Werker were exceedingly nervous during the taking of the scene, and were much relieved when it was completed without injury to the star.

In Honor of Heroes Of the Cross.

Next Sunday, April 22, at 11 a. m., at the Methodist church, the services will be given in honor of our retired ministers of the church.

Be sure and be there and honor that old, faithful hero who has blessed your life in the days of the past.

M. S. Leveridge, Pastor.

Which Will You Save?

YOU can save pennies or save chicks. Poultry yard facts show that ordinary untested rations and mixtures such as hard boiled eggs and oatmeal save pennies but not chicks. Usually 50% of them die. Poultrymen who are making money invest one penny more per chick and save 90 to 100% of their chicks. They feed Purina Chick Starters, the buttermilk starting ration containing Cod Liver Oil. We'll be glad to tell you of a feeding plan that's as simple as A B C. It saves chicks and brings them through to early maturity.
