BACKING UP THE TEAM

More than five hundred people, conservative estimate, came from Colorado on Armistice Day in the backing up of their high school football team, matched to play the Big Spring school on that holiday occasion. They came in a special railroad train, by automobiles and trucks. They came decorated in the high school colors of white and gold, with varnished brass bands, with individual noise producers and with bells and brass on their boys who were in measure lances with our home product on the field of athletics in the afternoon.

Account of the game is given in another column. It is desired here to, partially in contrast, comment on the Colorado outpouring.

It may be said, from estimates made at the game itself, that there were as many Colorado fans present as there were home people and surely they did not fall behind in enthusiasm and encouragement of their gridiron warriors.

Saying only as much as is said above the rest might be guessed. Big Spring, in her citizenship, is not "backing up" her school interests in manner that Colorado is backing up hers, nor in degree that most allive communities are backing up theirs.

It may be true that football is not approved by all adults. It is true, however, that foot ball is a prominent and popular part of a general interest which of late years has been taken in the public schools by the public. Under the general term of "Athletics" there has been an almost reborn of school accomplishments, reflected in class room as on field of contest. Along with the more strenuous athletic strivings there are scholarship rivalries, of debating, music, domestic science and field sports in which there is place for every boy and girl to take part, to their scholarship betterment and to their physical development.

Going to school today is different from the slavery of schools of old. Of old, the hours were long, the discipline galling and the fraternal spirit as between teachers and pupils, between the pupils themselves and between teachers and parents was so wholly or nearly lacking that the schoolroom was a treadmill, and but for the enthusiasms of youth which overrode the handicaps to some extent, going to school was a drab experience at least and too often a punishment.

Today, the school is a place of pleasant friendships and companionships: it is a tie which unites all the pupils, boys and girls, in mutual interests and acquaintanceships. It is a period in which parents, through their organizations, and principally through mother-interest, have concern as to the teachers and to the daily doings of their children, in helpfulness and in encouragement. Today, there is a "school spirit" among the pupils, the teachers and the patrons. Nothing is too good for the schools and the major portion of the tax money collected is expended on the schools. Citizens individually, in lunch clubs, in organizations of all kinds direct a great portion of their activities to the welfare of the schools.

Colorado, in sending so many of her citizenship to Big Spring to encourage their foot ball team as well as to enjoy the sport furnished was but in line with other cities and towns which are doing the same thing—that is, most places are backing up their schools. Some are not. Some give a partial interest. In this last class it is that Big Spring belongs. In illustration and as a comparison, it may be cited that not long ago there was an effort made to sign up only forty people in this good town of Big Spring, to go to a neighboring town with the football boys who had an important, championship game for that day. The forty could not be made up and the special coach, promised by the T. & P. Ry. company was not attached, with its excursion rate fare. Contrast this with Colorado's special train and procession of automobiles, even allowing for the "holiday" which our neighbors appreciated as a good time to join in with the kids in their school's "Big Day." Maybe there are some who cannot wholeheartedly join in the athletic programs—for such there are other channels in and through which they can "get in behind the schools."

Whatever the chosen, or the neglected support and encouragement one gives the home schools, there is the startling fact that the boys and girls are to be first in consideration in town building as well as in home building. Give them the friendship of their companions, the regard of their elders, the love for their institutions and their town as a whole and they are going to carry on with ability and enthusiasm in all those things which add to character, pleasures in life and upbuilding of the community. The children are the big asset of any town. Be with them more, boost their contests in athletics and other fields of school life, put on their colors when they go forth to conquer, holler a little when they lead the way and even a tin whistle in a dignified citizen's mouth is ornamental, to the coming-on kids and to the other grown-ups who always admire a fellow who fights for his side.

Big Spring is lacking just a little in getting behind the school kids in their big interests. The kids are losers—the city is loser. Isn't it time to WAKE UP?

IN THE AGE OF GASOLINE

An interesting and maybe profitable diversion of the residents of any town or city these days is to take a census of the home town's business section and interests. This would require the talents and knowledge of older citizens. Let such ones set down on paper or keep mental count of the places of business now operating. Keep separate the places in the automobile line and its kindred occupations and businesses which have come with the "gasoline age." Take account of the other kinds of business combined. Set down their street frontages, all of them. Then calculate the percentage of the today's business in gasoline line as compared with all other lines together. It may be safe to say that fifty per cent of the total business of today, as measured in store frontage and probably in amount of money spent for cars, upkeep and gas, is the measure of the new business which twenty years ago was practically unknown in commercial significance.

Now, let the old-timer mentally count up the places of business and the characters of same, as were in his town twenty years ago and compare the present size of his town as represented in its business interests, with the size of his town twenty years ago.

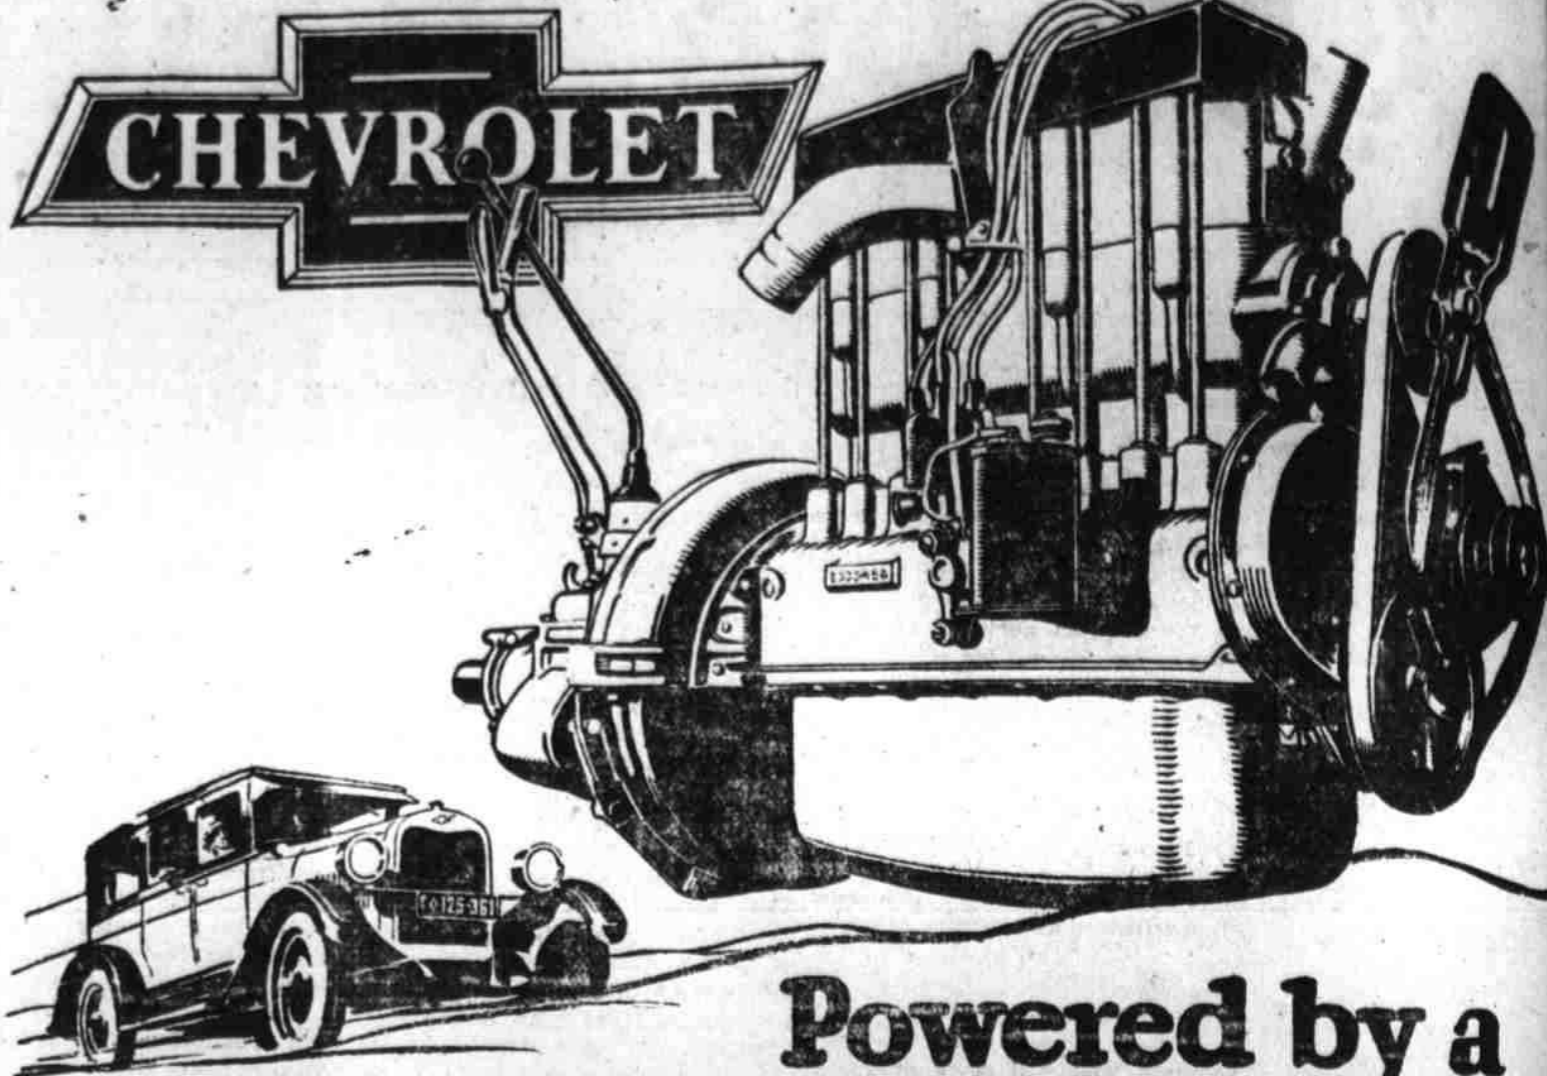

Out of this opening of the eyes should come a better realization of what a change has come over the country in its present and its future considerations. So-called "general business" has not increased. It has more probably declined in volume, during the past twenty years. A new business has been born and has filled the store, saloon and other deserted occupancies. The new business has built out on business blocks formerly residential districts and it has spotted the way-out blocks with filling stations and garages.

No, hard to realize, the country is not ruined by spending most of its income on automobiles and expensive roads for same and other things which go with the layette of the new-born business represented by gasoline. One would think that the drain would ruin any country and that there would be a crash come from the diverting of the main energies and investments and expenditures from old and substantial industries and occupations to a new, largely "unnecessary" and mostly pleasure pursuing something which absorbs the money of all classes.

The fact that the auto business continues to grow, that cities and towns continue to thrive upon it, that it is by far the largest industry in America today and that America is in most prosperous condition of any country on the globe, present or past, these are conditions and not theories. Theoretically, we should all be headed toward the poor house and possibly we are but as the old farmer said after listening to a pessimistic speech warning of the poor house route: "Yes, we may all go there but thank goodness, we'll go in our own cars."

Big Spring, paved, is such a different-looking place from the old Big Spring, unpaved. And its looks, which are mostly observed of strangers, is not the biggest benefit—the citizenship gets the use of the paving, and as paving becomes appreciated as a cure for dust as well as mud the good work will spread all over town. What a wonderfully attractive home-town place Big Spring will be when the paving and sidewalk building are general!

NATURAL GAS TALK

Labeling the securing of natural gas for the string of good towns along the T. & P. railroad as a "possibility" rather than as something definitely in sight, the Midland Reporter of last week published this important item—"important if true" as the saying goes:

"Natural gas for Midland is a possibility.

Morgan Utilities, Inc., of Little Rock, Ark., has ordered a survey of Odessa, Midland, Stanton, Big Spring, Coahoma, Westbrook, Colorado, Lorraine, Roscoe and Sweetwater with a view to the possibility of piping gas from the Coleman field, according to L. F. Troxel, representative of Morgan, and manager of the Breckenridge Ice Co.

"Mr. Troxel stated he would start on this survey next week. If probable consumption warrants a natural gas line will be laid at least as far west as Midland, according to Mr. Troxel. The line now runs to Abilene from Coleman."

Speaking for the Big Spring participation in the prospect it may be freely said that Big Spring hopes it is all to come true and will do her part toward securing the blessing.

Texas women, through the state federation of women's clubs recently convened in Dallas, are not going to wear cotton wearing apparel, not if the clubs' decision is continued to be observed by the mass of woman-kind. One reason given for voting down the cotton proposal was that they did not believe any of their sisters would pay attention to an injunction to discard silk and substitute cotton wherever practicable. That "wherever practicable, or "possible" as the reports have the wording, is the milk in the coconut.

The Bankhead Highway brings many desirable people to these West Texas towns but it is also a selected route for the army of cripples, beggars, bums, and suchlike who drift southward in their professional capacities when the wild goose leads the way to milder climate. This class of winter visitors does not find all they hoped for when they left their northern routings. They discover that the high altitude of West Texas, with its Rocky Mountain Range, is about the coldest country they could get into, for outdoor camping at night especially. In all kindness to the unfortunates, it is recommended that they write their friends who have not yet penetrated the frosty night section, to keep on going southward and not turn to the west at Fort Worth as their maps might indicate warm climate and California beyond. It's warmer down on the coast and distances are not so great. Good, kind people live in both sections and the wayfarer, while not desired, is well treated in all of Texas.

An ice cream factory for Big Spring, a big factory it is to be, is another industry which will add much to the town's importance and prosperity.

W. C. Westfall of Coahoma was a visitor in Big Spring Monday of this week.

THIS COUNTRY HAS A GREAT FUTURE

"The more I see of Southwestern Texas the more enthusiastic I become regarding the future greatness of this section for agricultural, commercial and industrial greatness, said R. A. Caples, a veteran Washington newspaper man, who is accumulating data for a series of articles. These will be published shortly in a number of eastern papers by the syndicate he represents.

"I use the word 'industrial,' he continued, 'advisedly. I was told a few months ago by one of the most prominent manufacturers of Tonawanda, N. Y., Mr. J. F. Donahue, that it has now become only a question of time when many of the eastern factories will be forced for economical reasons to abandon costly plans and rebuild in at the source of supply of raw material and cheap fuel.' Southwestern Texas has them in abundance.

"In many instances, in the eastern manufacturing centers, the cost of fuel which means power, already exceeds the cost of labor in the production of their respective class of goods. There is yet large beds of coal in eastern Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia but these mines have now reached such a depth that it has become too costly to enable many factories to compete with others closer to the source of the supply of cheaper fuel.

"Truly, with all your wondrous natural advantages I predict a very great change within the next decade. Villages and towns in Southwestern Texas will develop into magnificent business cities. I believe this and base my prediction upon a study of economics and observation. I hope intelligent study, cannot help but come into your for a period of half a century. You own."

Mr. Caples is making his tour in motor buses and stages several reasons for doing so. He says that

CHAPTER SEVENTEEN

The Lord Jesus Christ, who came "to seek and save that which was lost," is still seeking through kind hearts and willing hands touched by His love. In evidence, I offer material for another chapter in the Mexican Mission story.

Each time a chapter has been taken to the Herald (so gracious in its help) I have asked the Lord: "Where will the next one come from?" But it has not failed to come, so far. Surely this means His approval and blessing.

SALTY PUPS HERE TODAY

FOR GAME WITH STEERS

The Sweetwater Salty Pups football team of the Sweetwater high school are in Big Spring today and will meet the local Steers on the gridiron this afternoon, game to be called promptly at 4 o'clock. This will be a real fight as the Salty Pups have done some good playing this season. They were defeated by the Colorado Wolves by a greater score than were the Steers, but they have about as many victories to their record as our local team. The Steers are ready and waiting for the battle and were never more determined to be victorious. The regulars will be in the line-up for today, and they are in great shape for this fight.

The Pep Squad will be on hand to furnish pep during the game and a large crowd of fans are expected to be on the sidelines to cheer the boys and show them that they have the backing of our citizenship.

Game will be called promptly at 4. Those who do not have season tickets will be admitted to the game by tickets sold at the box office. Prices 50c and 25c. Everybody come.

"Their next game on Friday afternoon of next week, will be at Big Spring against the high school team of that city. A very hard game is forecasted by the fact that although Big Spring lost yesterday to Colorado, the only touchdown followed a Big Spring fumble. Segall, flashy halfback on the Big Spring team, has an educated toe, which would have won the game but for the loose handling of the ball."

STILL A BOOSTER

FOR HOWARD CO.

W. P. Soash and son, George, and Capt. W. L. Sayre of Lubbock were visitors in Big Spring Saturday. Mr. Soash made his home in Big Spring for many years, and has sold more West Texas land perhaps than any other man in the state. W. P. is still very optimistic over the future of West Texas, and says that even though the price of cotton is low, there has been so much raised out here this year that he looks for 1927 to be a very prosperous year, and a big tide of immigration to come our way. Mr. Soash thinks that Big Spring is looking more like a city and when the paving is completed, this will be one of our greatest improvements and assets.

While he did not say this, we detected from the look on his face that he would like to be living here again and we hope that things will shape up so that he can soon be a citizen of our town. He has true faith in Big Spring and West Texas prosperity.

THANKSGIVING AT OLD HOME

Miss Loula Cardwell returned Sunday from Abilene, where she had been to attend the home coming at Simmons University on Nov. 10 and 11. While in Abilene Miss Cardwell was guest at the Exchange Luncheon in the dining room of the Grace Hotel, and was also on the program, giving a vocal solo.

THE FLOWER SHOW

Many of our citizens have evidenced their intention of having in next year's Flower Show, means more attractive yards to town and a stronger community spirit. People working for a common purpose are drawn to and become more interested in other cooperative enterprises.

In the list of awards published last week there were some interesting ones, one of which was the gold chrysanthemum. They perhaps the largest specimens and caused much favorable comment. The awards were as follows: 1st prize, Mrs. A. G. Hall; 2nd prize, Mrs. J. M. Morgan; 3rd prize, J. B. Nall.

Each of these women is successful in their flower culture and have a great encouragement to others trying to beautify their yards. Many expressions of appreciation were heard concerning the list of the Wolcott Motor Company allowing the use of their show for the display of flowers, many courtesies extended during the day by the employees. Mr. Wolcott very materially aided in the success of the flower show and the committee in charge are grateful for the use of the building.

The next step in the home town beautification is shrub tree planting. December is a month to begin such work, as roots may make substantial during the winter months.

EUGENE Permanent Waving

The Eugene Method is more kindly. It winds the hair dry—just as it naturally is—then softens it with tiny jets of clean steam until it relaxes comfortably into the easy flowing lines of the Eugene Wave.

Just clean steam upon the hair. This is the only means the Eugene Method uses to attain its grace and permanency in waving.

FOOTBALL IDOL OF AMERICA STARS: 'ONE MINUTE TO PLAY'

The greatest football player of all times... in a great picture! The silver sheet is at last graced by the "Ill Flash," not a brief news reel, but a full length feature picture, entitled "One Minute to Play" which will be shown at the R. and R. Lyric theater next Monday and Tuesday, November 22 and 23. Admirers of Red Grange and lovers of football will have the treat of their lives when they see the popular idol in a story that is built around football, and one which gives Red a chance to show the stuff that has made him the greatest player the world has ever had.

The story revolves around a boy who goes to college with the purpose of making a football record both for himself and for his Alma Mater which to date has never won a game. This theme gives Grange a great opportunity to display his flashing speed and remarkable technique, and also offers the entire country a chance to see the "Gridiron Ghost" in perfect form. Aside from the thrilling football sequences, the picture is replete with side-splitting humor and has a beautiful romance of youthful love. The story is an original by Byron Morgan and was made under the direction of Sam Wood. The cast includes Mary McAllister, Ben Hendricks, Jr., Lincoln Steadman, Lee Shumway, Charles Ogle, Jay Hunt, Edythe Chapman, and George Wilson, famous All-American halfback.

POTASH DEVELOPER HERE

Many friends and acquaintances of Mr. W. Fred P. Fogg are welcoming his return to Big Spring and his announcement that he is here to continue his efforts to develop a potash production for the Big Spring territory.

Mr. Fogg has spent much time in Big Spring and in addition to covering the West Texas territory in search of potash prospects he spent a considerable sum in the sinking of a shaft in the southern part of Howard County, in an exploratory test with what definite results not known to the public. After several longer or shorter stays, with Big Spring the headquarters of the Potash Company of America, and after an absence of about a year, he has returned to his field of operations.

In interview with a Herald reporter Mr. Fogg said that there is no question but that potash is to be had in paying quantities over a vast area of West Texas and that his company has positive evidence of locations where it is desired to operate when some expected developments in the potash search are riper. He asserts that there is nothing secret about his work as to keeping others from engaging in the same line of investment, that the world demand for potash is far greater than Texas is apt to ever supply, even in considerable percentage of its use.

Mr. Fogg is an attorney at law with offices in Boston and Los Angeles and he comes to Big Spring from his California headquarters, to again investigate and probably to inaugurate further actual tests in sinking of shafts or wells in promising territory.

"DADDY LONG LEGS" WAS PRESENTED MONDAY EVE

The large crowd who attended the second Lyceum number on Monday evening, at the R. and R. Lyric theater, was delighted with the presentation given the famous book of Jean Webster, "Daddy Long Legs" by the New York players, a most capable company of professional artists. This is a most delightful comedy and the cast of characters was well suited to portray the character capable company of professional actors in this book. "Judy" was a lovely character, and the story of this little orphan girl is one that goes straight to the heart.

The next number of the Lyceum will be presented in this city the early part of December.

WHAT'S DOING IN WEST TEXAS

By West Texas C. of C.

Stamford — The West Texas Chamber of Commerce is making an effort to check a new form of "bootlegging" being practiced by unscrupulous hog dealers who are spreading hog cholera through their careless introduction of infected or exposed swine into West Texas and Federal aid is being sought by the regional organization in the matter.

Graham — A novel storage system has solved the cotton problem for a farmer in this section. Asa Vaughan and sons of Wilbarger County are using a hay baler to put up their seed cotton as it is picked. Dispensing with the cost of ginning and storage, the cotton seed bales are to be held in Vaughn's barns during the present crisis, and will be released to the market at a later date. When ready for marketing, the cotton seed bales will be loaded and taken to the gin.

Fort Worth — The committee named by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to investigate the cotton situation in Texas went on record at its recent meeting here as endorsing the Texas Cotton Corporation to be organized with a $5,000,000 subscribed capital stock by a special cotton committee of the Texas Bankers Association in accordance with plans adopted by six Southern States for the retirement of 1,250,000 bales of Texas cotton. The committee also adopted a resolution relative to a plan for cotton acreage reduction in the state of Texas to an extent of not less than 25 per cent.

Ballinger — The More Feed, Food and Conservation Campaign of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce is to be launched at the Central West Texas District Convention of that organization which meets here Nov. 15. The movement for living at home and encouraging thrift through more livestock for West Texas farms, involves a contest in which prizes aggregating $2500 will be awarded by the regional chamber of commerce to farmers in its territory.

Plainview — A new addition to the Missouri hotel here to cost $5,200 has been planned by its proprietor to consist of ten rooms of brick and tile construction. The improvement program will make the Missouri hotel a first rate structure, fireproof throughout.

Tulia — In line with the increasing business in the local postoffice, a second regular clerk has been employed by the Tulia postmaster.

Robert Lee — Lights in this community are to be installed upon receipt of a transformer which was ordered some time ago.

Paint Rock — A new produce house has been opened up in this section. It will handle poultry, pecans, wool, mohair, furs and other products.

Big Lake — Conditional acceptance of a bid for the construction of a City Hall was made recently by city officials, and work upon the building is expected to start soon.

LOYAL WIFE, ALL RIGHT

When Mrs. Brislin took her husband, who is in jail, pending trial, a box of corn flakes, and sealed the package with molasses, the sheriff got suspicious and found twenty-four hack saw blades, and a note in bottom of the box, so now the loyal wife is on the inside looking out. The offence carries a penitentiary sentence with conviction.

Brislin who was transferred from Barstow charged with a heinous crime, has been in jail for over a month. He is in a cell with nineteen other prisoners.

The penalty for trying to aid in the escape of a prisoner is quite severe under Texas laws and imposes a penitentiary sentence of 5 years following conviction.—Pecos Enterprise.

METHODIST CONFERENCE STANDS FOR FUNDAMENTALS

Childress, Texas.—Following a two-hour debate the Northwest Texas Methodist Conference last Friday adopted a resolution presented by the Rev. Lewis N. Stuckey of Polk Street Church, Amarillo, endorsing the action of the general conference in requiring that heads of educational institutions supported by the denomination be required to file a statement indicating that all instructors in such schools subscribe to the articles of faith of the church. The resolution was adopted after a substitute offered by T. N. Huckabee of Rotan was swept aside by a vote of 75 to 114. The latter endorsed the action of the general conference, but placed compliance with the resolution in the hands of the trustees of such institutions.

The fight was bitterly waged on the conference floor and, following the vote, the bishop spoke at length on his observations. Throughout the controversy was punctuated with wit, oratory and personal confessions of old-time religion and that of the more modern type.

MINISTERS MUST PLEDGE NOT TO USE TOBACCO

Atlanta, Ga.—Ministers applying for membership in the North Georgia conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, must take a solemn pledge to abstain from tobacco in all of its forms before their applications will be considered, according to a ruling by ministers of the conference in session here.

WORK ON BARSTOW GAP ON EAST SIDE OF PECOS

Starting early Monday morning, a large gang of Mexicans hauled dirt and dumped it from the Bankhead bridge on the east side of the river signaling the actual start on the completion of the Bankhead Highway. The gap known as the Barstow Gap will soon be a regular highway.

From the present outlook the completion of Unit One will be sometime during early spring. Unit Two which is the cement work, and building of so-called dips for water escape will be started as soon as the other work permits. By the first of June at the latest, the people in this vicinity look for a perfect highway from Pecos east and west.

The work on the Bankhead near Quito, on the east of Barstow is now ready for the acceptance by the Federal Highway, and State Highway Commission. This twelve mile stretch was done by Fred P. Holt, contractor, and is now in first class shape, presenting a smooth thoroughfare.—Pecos Enterprise.

PALO DURO GAME PRESERVE

Dr. Earl C. Axtell, deputy game warden in this district, has turned loose 24 big bronze turkeys on the new game preserve in the Palo Duro Canyon. The turkeys were turned loose in two groups and were placed in widely separated places in the preserve. This wild game is the first to be turned loose on the Palo Duro preserve but other wild game, including deer, pheasant and quail, will be placed on the preserve in the near future.

The Palo Duro preserve now includes all of the Palo Duro Canyon in Randall and Armstrong Counties with the exception of the Arnold Ranch. When this ranch is added the preserve will contain 120,000 acres. It is one of the most beautiful in the entire state, and now contains more than 80,000 acres.—Prairie (Canyon).

WON BOY PICKER ON FARM NEAR STANTON
C. M. Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwards of a few miles west of Stanton, has hung up what we believe is the record for the county for the state when he weighed five hundred eight pounds of turkey in nine and one half hours. He is twelve years old and tips at ninety five pounds. Ten days ago he picked four hundred and fifty pounds, doing his own work. The day he set the record his older brother did the weighing. The boy was picking in a compound field that would average about one-third bale to the acre on a dry, sunshiny day. The older brother stopped him for fear he would overdo himself. Stanton

"HAPPY" JACK EDWARDS VISITS BIG SPRING FRIDAY

With a grim determination on his face, his hands shackled and a fifty pound pack on his back Lionel "Happy" Edwards, seventeen year old Canadian youth from Quebec City arrived in Big Spring last Friday and wrote an exclusive story of himself and his trip for The Herald. "Happy" has walked about 7,500 miles and has "hobnobbed" with prominent people throughout the whole U. S. He has among his interesting collection of letters and certifications, proving his integrity, the names and personal seals of 20 governors and 60 mayors and has an autographed photo of President Coolidge which he proudly displays. Before his affliction "Happy" was a well-known Canadian athlete, being twice picked for quarterback on the All-Canadian football team and holding four Canadian records. But let him tell his own story.

BY "HAPPY" EDWARDS
To start at the beginning, since the time I was a kid of ten years I have always looked after myself, having no relations that I know of. Late last winter I and my pal, Larry Rae, obtained positions in a home town shoe factory and set out to learn the trade of shoe makers. We worked there for five months, and then, discovering that we were losing weight rapidly, immediately consulted physicians. We underwent a week's treatment and were then gravely informed that the chalk which is used extensively in shoe manufacture had entered our lungs and as there was no known method of removing it, we could not live a month. Couldn't live a month. To me it seemed incredible. I had always been in the best of health, as my athletic records will show.

We begged, pleaded, argued, but all to no avail. The doctors could do nothing. That was all. Finally they stated that if it was possible for us to constantly change our climate, there might be a faint chance, depending on the fact that the reaction of the various atmospheres in different parts might eventually loosen the chalk and we would be able to exhale it. The medical men, backed by a firm of betting underwriters, offered to wager us $1,000 against one that we would not live to reach El Paso and return to Quebec.

Accepting the offer, we left Quebec on the 26 of May and it seemed to me that the cards were already stacked against us, we had no money and very few friends. We successfully reached Boston, Mass.; however, but there Larry collapsed, and despite Boston's most expert medical attention, passed away five days later. After communicating with the betters, I washed dishes for three weeks to pay the funeral expenses on my dead pal, and continued on the way alone, this time with a shiny new pair of "bracelets" on my own wrists.

I have had many adventures, many of which I would not face again, even for my life, but I have always hung on and laughed, and it is no easy matter to laugh when you are sleeping in a swamp in the crotch of a tree, with only your belt to prevent you from falling into a bottomless sea of slime, or to smile when you are trying to find a way out of a brushfire that gets hotter every minute.

But now doctors say that my rugged constitution is slowly throwing off the deadly chalk and that some day I will once more return to my home in perfect health. At present I have removed about one-third of it from my lungs.

From here I am going to El Paso and from there up the west coast to Vancouver and back home. Some day I hope to once more chase a pigskin on the grid-iron and perhaps raise my records of 7 drop kicks in one game. Until then, so long.

With the arrival of the 16th day of November, the seals on shot guns and rifles were removed, and with whistle to the dogs many a hunter or bunch of hunters took to the brush and broken lands to try and down a buck or two or to flush the quail coveys. Hunters, as a rule, get out of town without making much publicity of it but when they get meat they are willing for all their friends to interview them. May they all get a mess of game during the short open season which closes the first of the year.

CHICKEN CULLING DEMON- STRATION HELD MONDAY

Before an interested gathering of about twenty-five men and women, last Monday, Secretary C. T. Watson of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce gave a chicken culling demonstration in the county court room at the courthouse. The number to avail themselves of this opportunity to learn something of an art which is so profitable as well as interesting to practically everybody, town and country, was not nearly what it should have been but it was about an average attendance. Mr. Watson says, as to many such demonstrations he has conducted elsewhere, while serving as county agent in other counties.

A brief lecture on poultry keeping was given by Mr. Watson prior to the handling of the birds. Among the gems of advice he gave was the one that the very best breed of chickens to keep is that breed which the individual likes best--that there is no material difference in breeds as to egg laying qualifications but that the excellence of any breed lies in the individual accomplishments of the hens. By proper feeding, housing and culling out of poor layers any breed can be brought to big egg production, he impressed, and this a companion interest to breeding for meat or combination all-purpose excellencies. The much meat and many eggs, however, cannot be expected from some breeds of chickens. The Rhode Island reds, Plymouth rocks and Wyandottes and other American breeds he recommended as the best all-purpose chickens for the ordinary farm or yard.

How to pick a laying hen or one which will pay to keep for egg production was explained in handling of specimens of white leghorns, brown leghorns, Rhode Island reds. Definite and plain markings are observable to the eye and handling of the hen reveals other points which are necessary that a good layer should have. These markings are so well established that there is no guess work about it. The flock can be culled until there is big egg production provided the hens are given proper feed and reasonable attention as to their health conditions.

Those who were present at the demonstration were highly pleased and it is safe to say that all will put into practice the lessons learned.

ORGANIZE P. T. A. AT KNOTT

Representatives from the Parent-Teacher Associations of the Big Spring schools went to Knott, Texas, Wednesday of last week, and assisted the mothers of the community in organizing a Parent-Teacher Association for Knott. Officers were elected, and Mrs. Castle is president of the new association. Prospects for a successful year's work look very promising according to the delegates from Big Spring, who assisted in the organization of this P. T. A. These were: Mrs. E. H. Hoppel, Mrs. J. C. Douglass, Mrs. Della K. Agnell, Mrs. Jas. Campbell, and Mrs. Gentry.

HARRY LEES GIVEN BOOST BY NATIONAL CLEANER-DYER

In a recent issue of the National Cleaner and Dyer, a current magazine published in New York City by the Dowst Publishing Corporation, there is an article telling how cleaners can make their advertising space more emphatic and the message they send to their customers more sprightly by using the exclamation point, this they call the "elixir of life." On this page appears an advertisement for Lees Tailor Shop that appeared in the Big Spring Herald, and with it are six other advertisements used for comparison. All of the ads suggest action and emphasis by the use of the exclamation point, and Harry Lees, tailor, Big Spring, is given the most favorable comment, over ads from other states, such as Illinois, Missouri, California and Minnesota.

Following is the excerpt taken from the National Cleaner and Dyer in November issue, together with the advertisement taken from The Herald:

"Harry Lees, Big Spring, Texas, ran a two column eight inch newspaper advertisement which attracted attention because the exclamation point which was used in headline was animated. Exclamation points are "animated" when, instead of being run in their normal upright positions, they are placed at varying angles. The device is one that has the approval of advertising experts. Still another advantage for cleaners is that although it is used extensively in national advertising, it is used infrequently in advertising for local retailers and service concerns. A tip to the advertising man of the local newspaper will get a big exclamation point animated in any cleaning copy. Some papers may have illustrations appropriate to the cleaning business, with animated exclamation points affixed them; the cut services which supply the papers are beginning to send out a few to be loaned to the local advertisers.

"Using the exclamation point is one of the easiest ways of adding emphasis to the space used by the cleaner."

We feel that this is not only a big boost to Harry Lees Tailor Shop, to have this mention in so popular a publication, edited in New York City, and read in all parts of the United States, but there is honor too attached to it for the Big Spring Herald. It looked mighty good to us to see our little weekly paper mentioned along with papers published in Chicago, and other real cities, and to see one of our ads copied.

Lawrence Simpson of The Herald force set this ad, and it was he who "animated" the exclamation point, the topic of this complimentary write-up.

Oil News of Other West Texas Fields

Nine Wells for Baird

Baird, Texas.—The completion of with another heavy run of new work has furnished a keen degree of interest to operations during the past week in the Baird shallow field.

Fraud Order on Brokers

Washington, D. C.—A fraud order was issued today by Postmaster General New against H. Wilhausen at Cisco, San Antonio and Brownwood, Texas, and against the Wilhausen Brokerage Company at Brownwood. They are accused of using the mails to defraud in the promotion of oil stocks.

Borden County Deep Test

Gall, Texas.—The California Eastern Oil Corporation has spudded in its 3500-foot test five miles east of Gall on section 10, block 21, T. & P. Railway Company land, A. J. Long ranch. This test is being drilled by Robert R. Penn of Dallas and is causing quite an active leasing throughout Borden County.

Material is being hauled out for a test on the J. S. York ranch, fifteen miles east of Gall. A test, also, is to start soon on the Sidney Webb ranch, eight miles east of Gall.

New One for Sweetwater

By the end of next week an oil test will drilling within six miles of Sweetwater. This is the Hucony Gas company's Langford No. 1, a location for which has been made in the southwest quarter of section 7, block 21, of the T. & P. survey. The hole will be drilled 600 feet from the south line and 150 feet from the west line of the southwest 110 acres of the quarter, owned by Henry Langford. The well will be six miles north of Sweetwater. The contract calls for a well 3,000 feet deep.—Sweetwater Reporter.

Sterling County Operations

Drilling is temporarily suspended in the California's Davis No. 2, on section 255, block 2, H. & T. C. Ry. Co., five miles northeast of here, to make repairs to a boiler. 10-inch casing was set in this well a few days ago around 1500 feet. Sorrell No. 1, 17 miles southeast of here, being drilled by Bruce & Hoover, set 10-inch casing last week at 1460 feet and is now drilling around 1600 feet.

The Gulf's Douthitt well, about 23 miles northwest of here, is drilling past 750 feet. Rapid progress is being made on this well, a little more than 100 feet of hole having been made each day since it was spudded in. It is being drilled by Ben Case.

Money to Stockholders

By far the biggest melon to be cut among local stock holders participating in profits of Panhandle oil development came yesterday when the Dixon Creek Oil company, pioneer local operating concern in the Hutchinson field, declared a cash dividend of 100 per cent. It is payable November 20. Most of the stock of the company is held by Amarillo citizens.

The company, of which S. D. McElroy is president and his brother W. W. McElroy, vice president, opened the south Hutchinson field to intensive operations last December when its No. 2 well, section 11, block Y, Smith ranch, came in for 7,000 barrels daily, natural.

A survey of the past week in the Panhandle shows 28 wells completed for a total initial flow of 7,536 barrels; with one dry hole; one location abandoned, and 25 new locations made.—Amarillo Plainsman.

Andrews County Wells

Midland, Texas.—Orders have been received for Cosden's No. 1-B Connell, section 16, block B-16, to plug, while the No. 1-A Cosden has a new oil showing and swabbed 140 barrels Thursday. These holes are in Ector County, southwest of Odessa. Exploration Company No. 1 Kloh et al., section 39, block 45, Ector County, is in anhydrite at 3,890 feet. Exploration No. 1 Slaton, section 10, block 45, Ector County, is drilling at 260 feet. Llano Oil Company No. 1 Cowden, section 5, block B-14, is drilling in lime at 3,885 feet.

Activity has been much stimulated in Winkler County, since Westbrook No. 1 Hendrick was rated as a commercial producer on section 42, block B-5.

West of Pecos Leasing

Major companies many of them with offices in San Angelo, have been among purchasers of leases on acreage near the Mid-Kansas and Transcontinental's joint well on the Ira Yates ranch since this discovery producer in Pecos County came in a week ago. From $35 to $50 an acre has been paid for leases on land lying from 1 1/2 to 2 miles southeast of the well, it was learned here Friday. Most of the acreage is out of the block of 6,000 acres which Mr. Yates had not leased when oil was struck.

The Humble has bought two sections at $45 an acre, the Dixie a half section at $40, the Tidal a half section at $50, the Sims 160 acres at $35 and the Plymouth over a section at $50 an acre. The Plymouth's purchase consists of section 36, block 178, bought from Ira Yates and river survey 51 secured from Kemper Kimberlin of San Angelo.—San Angelo Standard.

4,200 Barrel Well Claimed for Ector Co.

Interest in the Ector County wildcat was renewed this week when the salt water was bailed out, the well deepened a few feet, striking three feet of real oil sand, and increasing the fluid in the hole some 200 feet. The test is in section 13, block B-16, Ector County and is known as the J. S. Cosden, Connell No. A. The reflection from the increased production in this well is being felt in the revival of business in Odessa. New cabins to house the steady influx of workmen dot the town and new business houses opened up this week with every indication of several more in the near future.

The Westbrook well in Winkler County No. 1, Hendricks, is flowing by heads at the rate of 180 barrels per day at a depth of 3095 feet.

Criar-McElroy No. 1, in Crane County, is at present flowing at the rate of 4200 barrels per day. It is the largest producer in the Gulf fields.

Mr. Jno. T. McElroy has recently completed a deal in which he sold over two million dollars worth of royalties lying in this field. Purchasers are men from the north headed by T. S. Hogan of Denver, Colo. It is staggering to figure up the incomes of Mr. McElroy and others with oil interests in this section as developments continue.—Ector County News.

West Texas Locations

San Angelo, Texas.—Irlon, Fisher and Jones Counties have just gained two locations each for oil tests and Upton, Crane and Mitchell Counties one each, a total of nine.

Of the nine tests that nearest San Angelo will be drilled by O. F. Cashdollar of Pittsburgh, Pa., on the Irlon County ranch of Abe Mayer of this city. Lewis Whitehead of Breckenridge began hauling rig materials to the site Tuesday. He will build the derrick and Ben Case of Sterling City, who has the contract, expects to spud in next week. He will go to 3,200 feet, unless production is obtained higher up. The location is on the east line and 1,320 feet from the northeast corner of section 1, block 10, S. P. Railway survey, about seventeen miles northwest of San Angelo. Early in the year, Mr. Cashdollar leased 15,600 acres of the Mayer ranch.

J. P. Williams of Spring Creek is preparing to start a shallow test on the Susan N. Roberts ranch, one and one-half miles north of the location on the Mayer ranch. It will be drilled for the Whitman property trustees of Pittsburgh in the northeast corner of section 16, block 10, S. P. Railway survey. F. N. Snyder of Putman will be in charge of operations.

Mitchell County's location has been made by the California Company for its No. 2 W. W. Foster, 1,650 feet from the south line and 330 feet from the west line of section 6, block 29, township 1 south, T. & P. Railway Company survey. Garland & Drummon have made a location in Fisher County for their No. 1 Glynn 300 feet from the south and east lines of section 18, D. D. & A. survey. The Borham Royalty Company has made the other location in Fisher for its No. 1 Denise 700 feet from the north line and 2,080 feet from the west line of section A, block K, T. & P. Railway Company survey.

Gresham and associates have made a location in Jones County for their Philips No. 1 1,425 varas from the south line and 2,737 varas from the west line of the east half of section 33, Harrison County school land. Gresham & Johnson have made a location in Fisher for their No. 140, Dewitt County school land.

The McMann Oil Company has made a location in Crane County for its No. 1 Hughes, 389 feet from the south and west lines of the east

$2,500 AWARDS FOR BEST YIELD MADE NEXT YEAR

West Texas Chamber of Commerce Announces Prizes for Best Results in Feed-Food Contest

Stamford, Texas.—Prizes aggregating $2,500 are to be awarded to West Texas farmers in the feed, food and conservation contest launched by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in its movement to promote the cotton acreage reduction and to encourage more livestock, poultry, living at home, and thrift throughout the section served by the regional organization.

Tentative plans for the diversification program would call for the expenditure of not less than $10,000, and for the employment of a specially equipped man to take charge of the campaign and to prosecute it in all its angles.

Indorsement of these tentative measures and additional details are expected to be worked out by Nov. 15, at which time the "More Feed, Food and Conservation Campaign" is to be launched formally at the Central West Texas district convention to be held at Ballinger on that date.

List of Prizes

The first meeting of the committee was held at Abilene, Nov. 1, and decision was reached to offer a line of prizes: first, for the greatest production of grain sorghum upon five acres of unirrigated land; and second, for the best crop records. A total of $2,500 is to be offered on the highest yield of threshed grain sorghums, with a first prize of $500; second prize of $250; third of $200; fourth of $175; fifth of $150; sixth of $125 and six prizes of $100 each.

A total of $500 will be given for the best crop records, with a first prize of $125; second prize of $100; third of $75; fourth of $50, and fifth to tenth inclusive, $25 each.

The term "grain sorghum," as applied to the contest includes kaffir, milo, hegaria, feterita and all hybrids between grain sorghums or selection of grain sorghums but does not include seed grown from sweet sorghums or hybrids between grains and sorghums.

Believing West Texas to be at the "cross roads," the West Texas

Chamber of Commerce is promoting the "More Feed, Food and Conservation Campaign," as the measure for real diversification to which this section of the country more than any other in the Southwest is readily adapted.

Men on Committee

George W. Fry, general manager West Texas Utilities Company, Abilene, is chairman of the committee. Other members are: O. P. Trane, banker, Snyder; Herbert James, manager, Postex Cotton Mills, Post; A. Claude Easterling, sales manager, S. M. S. Ranches, Stamford; J. P. Williams, business man, Mineral Wells, all of whom are outstanding philanthropic leaders of West Texas.

SIX SHOOTER SOLDIERS

Nattily uniformed marines, with big six shooters hanging rather low from hips, are everyday sights on Big Spring streets these days. They are of the U. S. Mail service guard recently put on all mail trains traversing territory where handbills might be expected to put over some hold-ups.

So far, most of the train robbery stunts have been near the big cities of the north and not in West Texas and consequently the marines have not been tested on their quickness on the draw. The marines are welcome, anywhere, and it is hoped that if any mail robbers do try to operate along the line of the T. & P. there will be marines on the job at the right time and place. They have shoot-to-kill orders.

$1.00 A HEAD FOR PUPPIES

One dollar for each scholastic registered in the county's common schools, outside the independent districts, was received by Judge Debenport, ex-officio superintendent of Howard County schools, on November 8. This amount was the first distribution for the present school year, of the state apportionment, now increased to $14.00 per scholastic.

The independent districts also received their like apportionment, which puts about $1300 into the Big Spring school treasury.

LOW PRICES FOR WOOL AT SAN ANGELO SALES

Conducting the first sealed bid auction in Texas of 1926 fall, short wool, the Wool Growers' Central Storage Company of San Angelo Wednesday sold 101,318 pounds to E. G. Salter of Roswell, N. M., buying on an order through his son, Jack Salter, who is with Sheldon & Co., a Boston house. Two lots brought 27 7-8 cents per pound and one clip 27 1-2 cents, it was reported unofficially, prices being withheld. Bids were rejected on 678,005 pounds of short fleeces and 21,541 pounds of twelve-months' wool held over from spring. Bids from more than a dozen buyers on the short fall wool ranged from 21c to 27 7-8c, it was understood.

Other auctions were to be held immediately following the first of the season by the Wool Growers' March Brothers here offered around 75,000 pounds at 3 o'clock and the West Texas Wool & Mohair Association of Mertzon will receive bids at 9 o'clock Thursday morning on 80,000 to 100,000 pounds. Captain Charles Schreiner at Kerrville will offer around 800,000 pounds Saturday and F. A. Piper & Co. of Uvalde will offer between 125,000 and 150,000 pounds at San Antonio next Tuesday.

Arthur Hoover of Ozona, selling 39,666 pounds and Joe B. Blakeney of San Angelo, a buyer as well as a producer, selling 23,756 pounds, received 27 7-8 cents Wednesday, according to unconfirmed reports. These were to the effect that 36,796 pounds sold by Mears & Wilkerson of Sonora brought 27 1-2 cents. All the short fall wool offered was reported to be of somewhat shorter staple and dirtier than that a year ago, although the growers contend that the grade is not as low as the prices reported paid would indicate.

The Wool Growers' Central Storage Company last fall sold 1,300,000 pounds at an average of 41 cents, which, contrasted with 27 7-8 cents, shows how much the market has dropped.—San Angelo Standard.

ATTRACTIVE IMPROVEMENTS ON BANKHEAD HIGHWAY

In the eastern entrance to Big Spring, on the Bankhead Highway, a regular nest of new buildings and business enterprises greets the incoming traveler and is pleasing outlet to whoever is eastward bound along that route.

The buildings, which are on hill as from either approach, are owned by Coleman & Monk, who have for some time conducted an electric light and auto repair business there. Now, they are completing a big auto wrecking building, a five-room residence and a tourist camp, with nine cabins and that many individual garages, sheds, bath and such conveniences as the traveling public calls for, in neatness and services. All will be brilliantly lighted and in daytime or at night, this hilltop will be attractive and a busy place. The improvements will soon be opened, and the original lines operating as usual.

ARMISTICE DAY

The national celebration of Armistice Day while more popularity than usual observed over the country generally, was devoid of any combined interest in Big Spring, except for the big football game between the Steers of Big Spring and the Wolves of Colorado.

The closing of schools, banks, postoffice, stores and offices generally placed big crowds on the streets, which congregations were swelled by the arrival of hundreds of foot ball fans from Colorado. Two brass bands helped make the holiday occasion and gaily decorated vehicles, shouting, noise-making boys and girls furnished whatever Armistice Day might have lacked in a set program.

JOSHUA RENEWING THE COVENANT

LESSON TEXT—Josh. 24:1-25.
GOLDEN TEXT—Choose you this day whom ye will serve, . . . but as for me and my house, we will serve the Lord.

PRIMARY TOPIC—The Israelites Make a Promise.
JUNIOR TOPIC—The Covenant at Shechem.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Value of Covenants.

I. Joshua Rehearsing the History of the Nation (vv. 1-13).

This was his far well address, the last message to the people. He began with Abraham's breaking with his religion, homeland, relatives and friends, at the command of God, and traced their history in Egypt, their deliverance at the hands of Moses and Aaron through the wilderness journey, and showed God's providential dealing in the crossing of the Jordan at flood tide, and their marvelous blessings now in the land solely by the favor of God.

II. The People Elect the Lord as Their God (vv. 14-24).

Joshua knew that the people were liable to lapse into idolatry, therefore he reviewed before them the history of God's goodness to them, and appealed to their sober choice as to whether they were going to remain faithful to him.

1. He appealed to them for a rational consideration and judgment (v. 15).

He placed before them four candidates upon which they could vote according to their relative merits.

- (1) The Lord.
- (2) The gods worshiped by their ancestors in Chaldaea.
- (3) The Egyptian gods.
- (4) The gods of the Amorites.

Having placed before them these candidates, he urged them to make a rational choice.

2. His own example in the matter (v. 15).

He followed his appeal with his own example. He told them that his mind was already made up. He associated his household with himself. He knew just where they would stand. His decision was not a hasty one. It had been talked over at home, therefore he voiced the united sentiment of his family.

3. The response of the people (vv. 16-18).

Joshua's earnest appeal, accompanied by his own example had its desired effect. When they calmly considered the claims of the Lord as against the other gods, they saw the overwhelming evidence in favor of the God of their fathers.

They assigned the following reasons for their choice:

- (1) The Lord brought us out of Egypt (v. 17).
- (2) He did great signs in our sight (v. 17).
- (3) He preserved us in all the way we went (v. 17).
- (4) He drove from before us all the people (v. 18).

It would have been very foolish, not to say criminal, after they had experienced all this at His hands to have turned Him down.

4. Joshua reminds them of who God is (v. 19).

Wishing them to think more seriously and deeply upon the matter, Joshua drew a somewhat dark picture of God's attributes which were most unattractive to them.

- (1) He showed them that God is a Holy God.
- (2) That He is a jealous God. He could not therefore tolerate a rival.
- (3) That He will not forgive.

He did not mean by this that He was an unforgiving God, but that His nature was such that unless they followed Him fully, He would become the means of their destruction.

5. Joshua demands sincerity on their part (vv. 20-23).

He wished to have practical proof of their profession. He no doubt knew full well that some had idols yet in their possession.

6. The people's position (v. 24).

They cannot avoid their determination to serve God and obey His voice.

III. The People Enter into a Solemn Covenant (vv. 25-28).

This is the clinching transaction of the meeting at Shechem. They entered into a formal covenant. Joshua wrote down their agreement in a book where it would remain a permanent witness against them. As a further help, he took a large stone and set it up as a witness. These would serve as barriers against their lapsing again into idolatry.

Lack of Faith

From lack of faith in Thy revelation of Thyself, from contempt of Thy promises, from readiness to think lightly of Thy holy commandments, and of that account of life which we all must render unto Thee, good Lord, deliver us!

What Mother Really Wants

An Electric Range

Plan now to give Mother what she really wants—what she really needs, and deserves. An electric range will make her future hours in the kitchen a genuine pleasure in contrast to the drudgery of the past. Let her enjoy life more by minimizing her time in the kitchen.

With the use of an electric range, she can always cook everything equal to her "best," because she can always duplicate results when using the constant, uniform heat of electricity.

JUDGE DEBENPORT TO MARLIN

County Judge and Mrs. Debenport left this week for Marlin where the Judge hopes to receive benefit from drinking and bathing in the celebrated hot waters of that health resort. The length of their stay there is not determined and it will be governed largely by the effects of the water and treatment on the Judge's ailments.

The many friends here and elsewhere are hoping that Marlin water, which has proven beneficial in so many cases similar to Judge Debenport's, will do for him what it has done for those others who have returned home cured.

Judge Brooks accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Debenport to the health city.

ONE FEE FOR REALTORS

In deciding four cases on appeal from Dallas County, the Third Court of Civil Appeals Wednesday, Nov. 19 made a ruling as to which real estate agent is entitled to the commission for a sale where the owner places the property neutrally with more than one agent. Speaking through Chief Justice James W. McClendon, the court held: "Appellant had the right to consummate the sale with the agent who had finally brought the negotiations to a close, and was not liable to another agent who may have been instrumental in getting the purchaser in the mental attitude of buying the property at the owner's price." The foregoing was held when the court reversed the lower court and rendered judgment in the case of A. W. Walker vs. F. G. Van Valkenberg.
