Charles E. Martin

A former soldier in the U. S. army, Charles E. Martin was captured at Fort McPherson, Alabama, by an officer and turned over to the city police. Martin had been sought by Atlanta and DeKalb County authorities for questioning in connection with the slaying of his 24-year-old wife in Kirkland, Ga., who died in the middle of a street from knife wounds.

The club decided to have two large meetings a year which are to be held in Lubbock. March 16 is the date of the next meeting which will be held in the Broadway Church of Christ just after church services.

Mrs. Joe Webb and Misses Ura Mae Hagger and Inez Davis of Slaton attended the last meeting.

SCHOOL ACTIVITIES

Students Learn How To Buy Meat

Following a brief study of meat, the second year food class went out to Mr. Garland's Tuesday to study cuts of meat, storage and care of meat.

In the cold storage vault, the girls saw halves and quarters of beef and pork, and Mr. Garland explained to the class from what parts the various retail cuts such as steaks, roasts and stew meat are taken.

Nineteen girls accompanied by Miss Drake made the trip. Field trips of this type make possible a first hand experience with various problems of every day life. These girls will be better buyers of meat since learning some of the more valuable cuts and how they are used.

School Lunches Help Children

College Station—A quarter of a million children in Texas were benefited in December because of the school lunch program. Free surplus foods furnished by the Surplus Marketing Administration helped feed 260,348 children in 3,627 schools, according to a report compiled by the SMA.

Schools in 212 Texas counties operated under the program during the month, leaving only 42 counties in the state which failed to participate. Aid of the Texas Extension Service and other interested groups and agencies in Texas has been enlisted in acquainting people of these 42 counties with the benefits of the program.

Participation in the program is much higher than the peak reached during the 1939-40 school year.

Slaton Student On Trinity Honor Roll

Marion Bechtel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Bechtel of this city and a sophomore in Trinity University, Waxahachie, has been placed on the honor roll for the first semester of the 1940-41 year, it was announced today by Dr. Paul J. Schwab, dean of the University.

The requirements for the honor roll necessitate the student's averaging a total of 30 quality points for four courses taken, 36 quality points for five courses, and 42 points for six courses.

Majoring in music and minoring in speech, Miss Bechtel is a member of the Trinity University choir, which annually makes an extensive tour of the States, and a member of the French club.

Growing of Alfalfa has paid New York farmers the most for the time spent on it for the past 25 years. The return averaged 68 cents an hour for labor.

H.E. Girls Study Sewing Technique

First and second year clothing classes have selected patterns and materials for their dresses and have begun work in fitting the patterns.

The second year girls are making general wear dresses, so have chosen rather tailored designs and mostly spun rayon materials. A number of the girls are using rayon gabardine.

The third year girls are making dressy type dresses and the patterns they have chosen are softer in detail. The materials they are using are softer and with a smoother surface. It will take about six weeks of classroom work for the third year girls to make their dresses and about nine weeks for the second year girls.

During this time the fundamental techniques of home sewing will be demonstrated in class and the girls will put these techniques and methods of sewing into practice on their own dresses in sewing outside class. The girls should be able to select becoming and appropriate materials and patterns for themselves and make many of their dresses at home.

East Ward Notes—

The Citizenship club met Tuesday, February 18. The house was called to order by the president. The minutes were read and approved. There was one absent. Reports were then given from the rooms. The meeting was then adjourned.

The subject for the seventh grade English themes on Tuesday was "What Is Right With My School." The four things mentioned in order of their importance judging from the frequency with which they were given are: Citizenship club, 28; Sports, 18; Helpful teachers, 15; friendliness, 12. This is a typical theme from a girl who has attended five different schools.

What Is Right With My School
By Kathryn Lowry

In the Slaton Junior High school we have one of the best schools known. We have mayors to keep us quiet while the teachers are changing rooms, and most of the pupils cooperate. When the children from the other schools first come they don't exactly know what to do, but the Citizenship club tells them and helps them to get acquainted and make more friends. Our school tries to see that every one has something to do and does not have to be fussing because of nothing to do on the play grounds. The Citizenship club has been a great help to Slaton schools. It has put people on the right road that were on the wrong road. We have teachers who help us in more ways than just giving us books and helping us with an education, but tell us right from wrong. I have had more pride in learning in this school than in any other school I know of.

Junior High Notes

Several boys from Junior High are working out in the afternoon at the gymnasium for boxing. Most of them are in the 75 and 85 pound class. Those working out are Billy Loyd Brackeen, Brian Sartain, Billy Reed and Kenneth Jobe.

Since the basketball season has ended, Mr. Harvey has been working out some sixth grade boys who did not make the team this year. There are about 20 boys who play each day. A record is kept of each team's scores, and the winning team is announced each day. This creates a great deal of interest and keeps the boys from loafing.

The seventh grade mathematics classes have been finding the percentage of increase and decrease of populations in the counties of Texas. Attractive maps have been constructed showing the shifts in population between 1920 and 1930 and between 1930 and 1940. Similar maps of the United States are being planned.

Mr. Reed reports that two letters have been received in answer to the fifth grade geography project of writing to all the states in the Union.

Welkin McDonald received an interesting letter from South Carolina and Peggy Jean Abernathy has received a letter from Vermont. The other members of the class are waiting eagerly for replies to their letters.

Future Homemakers Sell Ice Cream

The Mabel D. Erwin chapter of the Future Homemakers of Texas has been selling ice cream at noon at the High school, and one day, at the two ward schools.

The proceeds from the sale are to go toward sending four girls to the State Future-Homemakers Rally at San Antonio the end of April. Later the chapter expects to take orders for and sell doughnuts.

HERE of late the modern automobile has been giving a pretty good imitation of a man getting up in the morning.

It has stretched and s-t-r-e-t-c-h-e-d—until today you almost have to have a shoehorn to get a car of any size tucked away in the family garage.

We thought something ought to be done about that.

So today in Buick dealers' showrooms you'll see four new models, additions to the 1941 Buick SPECIAL line.

They are typical Buicks on every count—steady, tireless travelers with a big 115-hp. Buick FIREBALL straight-eight under their bonnets.

But by the simple step of compacting all this ability, goodness and value on a 118-inch wheelbase, we've trimmed inches off the over-all length—and dollars off the cost.

We're passing those dollar savings on to you, which makes three reasons for going to see these honeys now: You'll go for their ability—your wife will go for trim size and easy handling—and both will stand up and cheer for the easily-reachable price.

A.M.J.

H. G. Sanders says that he has to watch the best citizens in town every time he puts a display of pecans in the front of his store. "It's not the hungry looking people who nibble on the cheese when you are not watching them, it's the big fat rats that go around taking samples of things." In fact we are beginning to wonder whether it pays to make our display too attractive for we loose most of our profit from folks who do a lot of testing before they buy. And another queer thing is the women who come in to buy vegetables and fruits. They always smell, shake and mash the things they are figuring on buying and when a banana or a squash goes through one of these inspections it is all out of shape and good only for the ash can.

"I feel like a Greek who operated a fruit stand in New Orleans. A woman picked up a banana and began the usual procedure of smelling and mashing and the Greek handed her a Coconut and said "Here Lady, don't masha the banana, if you gotta mash then masha the Coconut."

Looks like we are going to see a lot of women back at work in the stores and on jobs that are now filled by men. And a lot of the older boys who were being put on the shelf will find that they are not near as worthless as the big shots in business have been telling them they were.

There are a few lines of work that women tried to fill in 1917 and 1918 that they never did fit into and one of them was in Shoe Departments. Even other women never did get to where they liked to have another woman fit shoes. And women waitresses behind the counter in restaurants never did get over too well. Women barbers were a total flop regardless of how much allure they possessed personally. A woman just doesn't look right wielding a razor nor does she possess the bravado to do a good job of hair cutting. However, if the young fellows keep on going into the army those of us who are left at home are going to have to be satisfied with the awkwardness of women or the leisurely efforts of the older men who have been on the shelf for some time.

Hard work, it is said, never hurts any one but taking things easy is not such bad medicine either. And just to prove it look at J. J. Neihoff who retired several weeks ago from railroad work. He has gained about twenty pounds, looks 20 years younger and is wearing a 20 yard wide smile.

But sad to relate his wife has lost about as many pounds as her husband has gained; looks like Mr. Neihoff is getting all the groceries at his home.

And another man who looks like he is spending more time at the dinner table is J. H. Brewer. When I first came here he had a figure like a drink of water but he is developing a "Dutchman's Goitre", and it won't be long before he'll be in the portly class and will have to have an oversize chair in the living room to fit his expanding girth.

The boys with the barrel top pants are nearly always good fellows but its hard to get them into action. They always agree too easily. It takes a nervous skinny man like Nelson, Joe Webb or C. C. Hoffman to get things going. They are off on any objective like a shot, sometimes half cocked, but off just the same, and it takes action to get things done these days.

J. S. Edwards is telling a good story about a trip he made not long ago with a Slaton minister. It was a long trip, and on the way back the minister offered to drive.

"I thought I would take a little rap," said Mr. Edwards, "but before I could get my head back on the cushion, I felt the car give a couple of leaps and then leave the ground and start flying. 'What's going on, I asked?'"

"It's prayer meeting night, and I've got to get back to Slaton," said the preacher. "I'm saying my prayers right now so there won't be any use my attending the prayer meeting. I told him."

And while we are at it we might as well air our views on women in general. Women are always posing for pictures in bathing suits, tennis regalia and other sports outfits as if they were the most graceful animals on earth but if you will watch most of them in any kind of athletic efforts they are not nearly as graceful as a man.

Watch one of them in a tennis game. They sweat at the ball as if they were killing flies. When they go to the beach they spend most of their time parading around on the bank and when a woman throws anything it is more apt to go backward than it is to go toward the direction she is aiming.

Personally I believe most of it is caused by the fact that women are always acting. They all think that everyone else is looking at them and they try to be graceful and in doing so look like a windmill when playing golf and like a step ladder with the heebe jeebies when on the tennis court.

Now take men, most of them know that they have no particular personal attractions, they are not acting for an audience and therefore concentrate their attention on the game. They do not take short mencing steps nor pose on the bank in bathing suits. Their actions are free and easy and in consequence most men look a lot more graceful in any kind of sport than a woman.

Mayor Teague not long ago made an appeal to the folks here to keep things cleaner in the city. He said that there is not a great deal that the city officials can do about unsightly ash cans, brick and sand piles and old discarded pieces of furniture but that the people themselves should take more pride in their homes and business buildings than they do. It is easy to let things get shabby, one just gradually gets used to it.

Why not look around your home or business place and lets make Slaton a better looking place to live in.

Our Weekly Sermon—
Why Those Terrors?
By Dr. Henry Ostrom, Member of Extension Staff
The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago

Text: "Judgments are prepared for scorners." —Proverb 19:29
Today one often hears the question, "Why doesn't God stop this raging condition? Why doesn't God intervene?"
It is not a matter of God's power; nor it is a matter essentially of God's will. Let these statements be accepted on their face value. God could sweep the earth clean of all mankind, bad and good, in less than a minute. But do not forget that man is not deprived of his will, and that consequently he may be willful, even to scorning.

Considerate men must seek to know God's program. There have been periods in which the program has been filed with epochal judgments. Judgments are prepared, though their appearance may be delayed.

Manifestly, today is not the day of God's judgement. When Christ said, "I am not come to judge the world," He announced a period of time in which judgement would not prevail. We live in that period.

Astonishing it is what God's mercy will allow today. Though His beneficent providence is scorned and denied and His very existence even challenged, God continues to send rain and sunshine, and does not deprive the seed of its productiveness, or multiply disease germs until His opposers are extinct. Why? Because this is not the time of God's judgements. Of course there are multiplied minor interventions by God, but war and all that accompanies it are not ended. However, the day will come when God's wrath will be the program.

What then is this day? This is the definitely proclaimed day of grace. When we realize that grace is offered to "whosoever" will accept it we see that judgement could not be the prevailing order at present. We see, too, that whether we have peace or war, grace to "whosoever," unless rejected, will result in favorable and pleasing conditions. Men are slow to believe this, yet it can be seen in any family or community accepting God's grace. What more could we desire God to do? Ah, but man rejects this and dares to ask, "Why doesn't God intervene?" Would man, then, prefer judgements? If so, is he sure that he himself would escape?

The gospel of God's grace is the power of God unto salvation unto every one that believeth on Christ as Saviour. Salvation has as one significance, the possessor escapes before the judgements because God's program for the earth. "Today is the day of salvation."

Ritz Trumpeters, bass ensemble, will appear in High School Auditorium, on Feb. 26, at 9 A. M., according to an announcement today by Roy Boyd.

Ben Ritzenthaler, formerly with Al Sweet's Singing Band, and twelve years with Herbert Petrie's Quintette, heads the Ritz Trumpeters. Each member of this quartet is an outstanding artist, having an unusual cultural and musical background supplemented by years of study and training in his respective field.

Ritzenthaler studied at the American Conservatory of Music, Chicago. He studied privately under some of the world's greatest teachers: saxophone with Linderman, staff artist N.B.C. Chicago; trombone with Simone Mantia, first trombonist, Metropolitan Opera Orchestra; bassoon with Sensella, first Bassoonist, New York Philharmonic Orchestra. He is composer of several saxophone and trombone solos.

The concert features quartets in brass, instrumental solos and duets, selections from overtures, marches, operatic gems, symphonic arrangements of familiar classics, and several deftly harmonized comedy and novelty selections. Among their comedy numbers is a trombone duet, in which each operates his partner's slide. One of their popular stunts is the blending of four popular tunes into one. In another, each member of the company handles and plays two instruments simultaneously.
