PUT ON YOUR RODEO OUTFIT AND KEEP IT ON SAYS ANDERSON

"We believe we have arranged the best program for our Rodeo that has been held in West Texas this season," said Claud Anderson, chairman of the Rodeo Committee. "The steers that will be used is all young, the owners of the horses and the steers have not allowed them to be ridden very much and none of them have ever been in Texas before. The trouble with a great many Rodeos is that the horses and steers have been in so many shows that they do not put up a good fight, but the ones we will have will be in top form for our Rodeo. Johnson Claims President's Support

The following telegram received Wednesday from Lyndon Johnson's office in Austin in support of his claim that President Roosevelt has given him his support is given as proof that his claims are true:

"Austin, June 17.—Wire service stores from Washington today, as printed in the Austin American-Statesman and other daily newspapers, said 'Pres. Roosevelt gave his endorsement to Lyndon B. Johnson for the Senate seat vacated by the late Morris Sheppard.'

"A reported asked at the President's press conference if the administration had any comment on the Texas Senate race now that around 17 of the candidates were claiming Roosevelt support.

"Referring to his press conference several weeks ago at which he followed Johnson's announcement from the White House steps with a statement that the Congressman was his 'old and close friend', the President, smiling, said he thought he had done a good job the first time and was quite certain the people of Texas understood him."

"Gordon Fulcher."

Walter R. Irwin, newly appointed general claim agent of the Panhandle & Santa Fe Railway Company, was raised in New Mexico and has seen many years of railway service, principally in the claims division in New Mexico and Texas. He succeeds the late Bowman Jarrott, veteran railway official, and his headquarters are in Amarillo, Texas.

TRAFFIC ARREST MADE.

One arrest was made this week for traffic violations, according to Chief Police Austin Yeats. "The co-operation of the driving public in following the rules of the road has helped in reducing the automobile accidents in Slaton," said Mr. Yeats, "and we sincerely of the best I have ever seen. Weaver and Juanita Gray, trick ropers, riders and performers, will do some tricks that seem almost impossible, and the show they put on is worth the entrance fee." Beginning today and continuing through the 28th, every man, woman and child is urgently requested to don Rodeo Regalia and wear it continuously. "The louder the colors and the more varied the apparel, the more advertising we will get," said the Rodeo Chairman, "and we will appreciate all the cooperation we can get. Remember to put on your rodeo outfit and wear it every day this week."

WPA Employees Open For Work

Wednesday, June 18.—WPA District Manager J. O. Jones today reiterated his reminder to farmers and other private employers that all WPA workers are listed with the Texas State Employment Service and are available for private employment.

WPA workers will be released from projects wherever needed to make farm help available, Mr. Jones declared. "Prospective employers should consult local representatives of the Texas State Employment Service," he explained, "as this is the duly-constituted agency for referring WPA workers and other persons seeking private jobs to employers."

Rolls of the WPA are constantly open to private employers and no worker who refuses a bona fide offer of employment will be retained by WPA. This regulation is based on the following section of the WPA appropriation act:

"No person is need who refuses a bona fide offer of private or other public employment under reasonable working conditions which pay the prevailing wage for such work in the community where he resides and who is capable of performing such work shall be employed or retained in employment on work projects under the funds appropriated in this joint resolution for the period such private or other public employment would be available."

Currently employed on WPA projects in this district are 1,819 men and women and an addition 751 persons are certified as eligible for WPA employment and are awaiting assignment whenever jobs are available. All of these persons are registered with the Texas State Employment Service and are immediately available to private employers, the District Manager stated.

Plans have started for the $44,500,000 shell loading plant to be built near Texarkana, Texas. Tomorrow and Saturday will be dedication days for the 985 State Park just ten miles north of Tyler, Texas.

Bass Funeral Is Held Saturday

Funeral services were conducted for Mrs. O. B. Bass, mother of Mrs. Earl Mangum, Saturday afternoon in Post. Services were held in the Methodist church, and burial was in Post cemetery.

Mrs. Bass was born March 5, 1875 in Huntsville, Alabama, and had lived in Post approximately 25 years. During the past few years she had lived in Dublin. At the time of her death she was at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Walter Julian, of Post. She had been a member of the Methodist church since the age of 15 years.

She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Julian, Mrs. Mangum and Mrs. Shirley Robbins of Big Springs, and one son, Farris Bass, of Big Springs.

New WPA Project Started In Slaton

A new Housekeeping Aid Project has recently been opened in Slaton, under the Community Service Division of the W. P. A., sponsored by the city of Slaton. Sixteen people have already completed the initial course of training, so are ready to be assigned to homes for service four days each week. Services will be rendered in homes five days each week, but half of the group will be in the work center each Wednesday and the other half each Thursday for further training.

Several homes have already been referred for services, but many homes needing this help evidently do not understand they are qualified for it as they have not asked for the help. Because of the nature of W. P. A., help can only be rendered to relieve temporary situations in homes of the unemployed with low incomes.

These aides are not servants, but render assistance to the needy so should be respected and appreciated. They can prepare and cook foods, do housecleaning, care for children, sew, operate all heating units except gasoline, assist in making home improvements, do emergency laundry work, (washing for sick, etc.), but not regular family washings, or give simple home care to the sick under written instructions of a doctor or a nurse. Naturally they follow specific rules in all of their work, infringement of which would mark the name of any off the working list.

The project center is located at 620 S. 7th, phone number 134. The Assistant Supervisor and Time-keeper is Miss Esle B. Green, who lives in Abilene, but has been teaching school in Borger, Texas. She has a B. S. degree from Abilene Christian College, and an M. A. degree from the Colorado State College of Education, Greeley Colorado, with majors in Home Economics and in Education. Mrs. Edna Rannels is Foreman of this project.

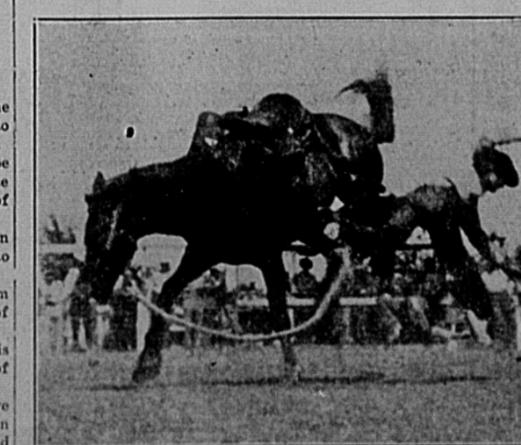

To obtain services in your home, call Mrs. Billy McIlroy, County Social Worker, as she approves of and refers homes for services.

Thrills and Spills at Slaton June 27-28

Thrills and spills like the ground diver is taking in this picture will probably be seen at the South Plains Rodeo and Round-Up to be held in Slaton, Texas, June 27 and 28.

The cowboy falling from the horse was taken at the South Plains Rodeo held last June in Slaton and as the Rodeo planned for this June will have more steers, calves and rough riding horses than last year's entertainment; there will probably be more spills and chills than last year's thrilling exhibition.

Mrs. Earl Prosser Injured In Fall

Mrs. Earl Prosser, who was badly shaken and received minor bruises in a fall into the basement of the building on the corner of Eighth and Garza street Tuesday afternoon was treated at a local clinic, whose report was she was not seriously hurt.

Mrs. Prosser, under the impression that she was entering the door which led to the stairs for the second floor of the building, stepped off the steps into the basement before realizing her mistake. The two doors are similar and near together.

Mr. E. R. Legg announced this week that he has completed all details for the perfect operation of the new Slaton Frozen Locker Plant and will have the Formal Opening tomorrow afternoon, beginning at 1:30 p. m.

A varied program has been arranged by Mr. Legg that will be both instructive and entertaining, which will include music by The Pickering Family, who perform daily over Radio station KFYO. Their music is both unusual and very popular. The musical program will open the ceremonies, Jack Norman of The Slaton Chamber of Commerce will be Master of Ceremonies, C. C. Jobson, Lubbock County Agricultural Agent, will give an address on "The History and Value of Frozen Food Lockers," A. C. Strickland, Slaton Independent School Vocational Agriculture Instructor, will talk on "Quality of Products for Locker," and a special demonstration on Cutting and Preparing Meats for Lockers will be given by A. L. Everette, who is the operator of the Slaton Frozen Food Locker Plant. Mr. Everette has recently returned from A & M College, where he has just completed a short course in Frozen Food Locker operation. Mr. Everette is one of the best trained locker plant operators in the State and his demonstration will be very instructive to any one interested in cutting up and preparing meats and foods.

Miss Clara Pratt, Lubbock County Home Demonstration Agent, and Miss Mona Keeter, her assistant, will demonstrate how to prepare vegetables and fruit for proper freezing in locker plants. They will also demonstrate how to cook and serve food from these plants.

The Slaton Frozen Locker Plant is one of the most modern in operation anywhere in America today. Mr. Legg spent many weeks visiting Locker Plants all over the State and has incorporated all of the best points in the plant here. Every part of the plant is of the very newest design and has all of the latest improvements.

"While many Locker plants have been installed within the past few years, those that have been installed in recent months have many advantages over those of a few years of age," said Mr. Legg.

Many thousands of dollars have been invested in the new plant and it is one of the greatest steps forward for Slaton that has been taken in several years. Mr. Legg will be glad to have every one in this entire section to visit him and the new plant tomorrow, or at any time.

The program starts promptly at 1:30 and will continue most of the afternoon. Visitors will be shown through the plant. While farmers find the locker system meets their needs better than anything that has ever been developed, those who live in town will also find the system most convenient and economical and every one will find the Formal Opening of the Slaton Frozen Locker Plant interesting.

Stress Good Nutrition As Defense Need

Today nutrition authorities are stressing the need for guarding the national health in carrying on an effective program of defense. In calling attention to the importance of proper food, it is pointed out that a survey has revealed that approximately 45 million of our population are living below the "safety line" of what is considered an adequate diet.

What factors are essential in our foods to assure that the diet fully meets body needs? Protein is necessary to build and repair body tissue. There must be vitamins to promote growth and protect health, and calories to supply heat and energy. Minerals, such as iron, copper, phosphorus and calcium, are needed to build blood, bones and teeth.

Importance of Iron
In considering the minerals needed, medical authorities point to the special importance of iron as a blood builder. It ranks first among the nutritive elements in this respect.

The iron in the body of an average adult is only about the weight of a penny, but this element is vital to health. Iron enters into the structure of every active body cell. Iron is a constituent of the hemoglobin or red pigment of the 25 trillion or more red blood corpuscles, and thus helps to carry oxygen to every part of the body.

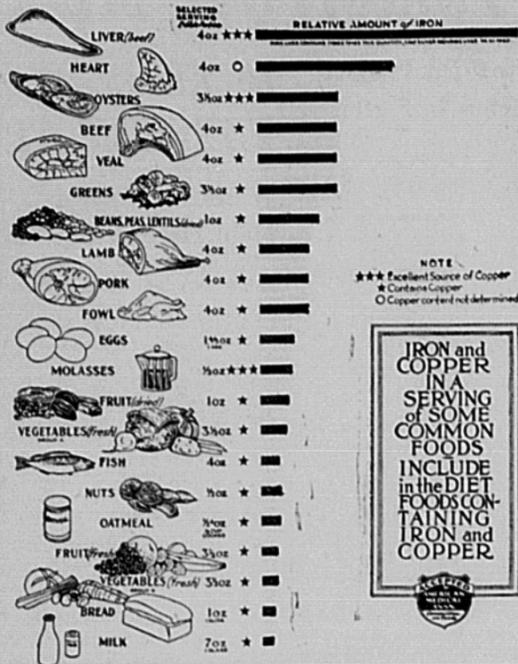

Foods rich in iron must be added to the diet at six months or earlier and continued throughout life, according to nutrition authorities. The adult requires at least 12 milligrams of iron daily.

Iron Prevents Anemia
The penalty for an insufficient iron supply is a condition known as nutritional anemia, characterized by fatigue, digestive disorders and other symptoms.

As early as 400 to 500 B.C., a condition corresponding to anemia was described by Hippocrates, the Father of Medicine. Menghini an Italian, is given credit as the first to discover iron in the blood—in 1747. The present view that an iron deficiency is the principal cause of anemia, was first advanced in 1889.

In 1849, a serious form of anemia, known as pernicious anemia, was described. In the year 1934, Drs. Minot, Murphy and Whipple were awarded the Nobel prize in medicine for their discovery that liver was effective in the treatment of pernicious anemia which was previously regarded as a fatal disease.

Sources of Iron

The accompanying chart carrying the seal of acceptance of the Committee on Foods and Nutrition of the American Medical Association, presents the most up-to-date information on the iron and copper content of our common foods. The iron of foods is better utilized in the presence of small amounts of copper. Liver, which heads the list, is recognized as pre-eminent among blood-building foods.

An average adult would be assured an adequate daily supply of iron if the following amounts of foods are taken each day: 2 servings of meat (1 serving of liver each week); 1 egg; 2 servings of vegetables; 2 servings of fruit.

Milk Is Still The Good Old Standby

A household standby is an accurate description of milk, especially if it is a product of the John's Jersey Dairy.

This product of John's is a great aid in helping children grow and keeping grown-ups healthy. A protector against bacteria infection, milk is also a source of vitality, a necessity for happiness.

John's Jersey Dairy protects the wonderful value of milk by handling it under the most sanitary conditions and using modern sanitary equipment. Be sure. Use milk from this dependable dairy.

Bing, Dot, Bob Star In New Laugh Hit, "Road To Zanzibar"

Loaded with swift-paced gags and several brand new hit tunes, Paramount's new comedy with music, "Road To Zanzibar," opens at the Palace Theatre Saturday midnight preveue, also Sunday and Monday. Starring Bing Crosby, Bob Hope and Dorothy Lamour, three of the screen's best entertainers, the film is easily one of the funniest that has come along this season.

Not since that scintillating Preston Sturges film, "The Lady Eve," came our way, has this reviewer laughed so hard and so often. Crosby and Hope have a knack for delivering a gag line that is just perfection, and Dorothy Lamour is still one of our favorite eye-fuls with an extremely pleasant voice and beguiling manner. She doesn't wear a sarong in this, film fans, but never fear, for she does wear something even more exciting—a dress made of fern leaves.

To See America

The 3,065,000 miles of highway in America, upon which virtually "one-third of a nation" will travel on vacation jaunts this summer, play a second vital role as the arteries of a vast dollar flow from section to section, state to state, coast to coast. American highway tourists will spend between five and six billion dollars for vacation tours this year, according to estimates of travel bureau experts.

By U. S. estimate, approximately half the 27,300,000 cars registered in the country will carry their owners on summer jaunts averaging 3,300 miles—a greater distance than from the Atlantic to the Pacific. With an average of 3.5 persons per car, this represents some 47,775,000 Americans en route over the highways.

Virtually every fourth car on the road today is a Chevrolet, according to William E. Holler, Chevrolet general sales manager, who has headed an organization that has sold a million cars a year during the seven years he has held that position. "Assuming that Chevrolet owners are represented among

HERE IS YOUR INVITATION TO RESERVE A PRIVATE LOCKER IN THE

Slaton Frozen Food Locker Plant

It is impossible to make a personal call at each farm home and city home to solicit rental of Lockers. Therefore, we request all people interested to read this advertisement thoroughly and to call at our office and reserve a box NOW, so that we can get an idea of how many lockers will be needed to serve the people of Slaton and surrounding communities.

We have an office one block north of Palace Theatre and a representative will be there to answer questions about the Plant and to take your Locker reservation. Locker boxes will be $10.00 per year; locker drawers $12.50 per year. Those who make reservations now will be allowed $1.00 off these rates. Regular rates will prevail after Saturday.

While the Frozen Food Plant is a great advantage to the town resident in keeping his surplus meats, fruits and vegetables the lockers are just as valuable to the farmer and his family, because in addition to the advantages in connection with fruit and vegetables, they afford him the opportunity to preserve in perfect condition a large stock of meat, no matter what the season of the year.

BUTCHERING THE YEAR ROUND IS POSSIBLE

It is not necessary to await the arrival of cold weather before you butcher your beef, hogs, or sheep. It makes no difference if the temperature is 100 degrees in the shade or in the low 30 degrees. You can butcher any time you wish if you use the facilities of a Frozen Food Locker Plant.

Here is how it operates: Simply butcher or have us butcher whenever you desire. Bring the carcasses to our plant, where facilities will be provided to cool it out. It doesn't matter how hot the weather may be—you can butcher your animal when it has reached its peak, thus avoiding unnecessary feed bills and care.

We will also provide a cooling and aging room where your meat carcasses are cooled and aged in the most modern and scientific manner.

CURING PLANT FACILITIES

The locker plant will have complete services for the curing of all meats. It will also offer a smoke house service for those wishing to both cure and smoke meats. You can get these two services along with the Frozen Food Locker plant service.

CUTTING, WRAPPING AND PROCESSING ROOM

In order to assist with your butchering work, we have installed a cutting, wrapping and processing room in which we will cut up your meats or other produce. In addition, we will provide an electric grinder to grind your sausage and hamburger. Complete processing equipment is available for all products.

CUSTOM BUTCHERING

We have arranged for the service of an expert meat cutter to do the work. A nominal fee is charged or we will butcher beeves for the hide.

BRIEFLY JUST WHAT THIS PLANT MEANS TO YOU

It makes possible for you to buy products when they are in flush production and are cheap, at a wholesale market price, then store this product in your locker and use it when it is out of season or extremely high in price. For instance, during summer months one can usually buy fryers around 30c each. Why not store these fryers in your locker and make use of them in the winter when they are hard to get even at an extremely high price?

FRESH FRUITS, VEGETABLES AND FRUIT JUICES

Similarly your Frozen Food Locker may be utilized to freeze and hold any number of fruits such as strawberries, blackberries, prunes, grapes, cherries, peaches, apricots, pears, etc., as well as such fresh vegetables as snap or stringless beans, sweet corn, peas, spinach, squash and such fruit juices as orange juice, apple juice or cider, cherry juice and pineapple juice. As the fruit and vegetable season comes on, suggestions will be made of interest in this connection. No longer are these delicacies out of season, available to our city brothers and sisters only; they can now be more economically prepared at home and conserved in your Frozen Food Locker.

For This Service (Including Cutting, Wrapping, Sharp-Freezing, Labeling, and Packing in Locker by Expert Butcher) a Nominal Charge of Around 1 1/2c a Pound is Made.

After all my cash purchases of glorious gold shirt and two story hat will not be a total loss and my flair for wearing lurid colors will be satisfied for one glorious week.

It has always been my desire to wear something bright red with a touch of green, a dash of purple and a slug of gold... and I'm going to strut my stuff next week. The only regret I have is that I cannot, with safety, get out this week in this regalia. Before my hair began turning mouse colored or taking flight altogether, I was pretty well confined to sober colors, for when I was in full bloom my dome was covered with a fair imitation of red hair, but now I can go wild, for any color will go with a billiard ball covered with a little fuzz.

Jack Norman over at the Chamber of Commerce reports that more people have entered the Pretty Ladies contest than have ever been recorded before. The rules of the contest have been changed so that prizes will be awarded to each round in town.

Personally, I am considering the advisability of entering with an entirely new style of lawn, one that will appeal to the rugged type of nature lover, one who loves brambles, unexpected bushes and a few colorful sunflowers sprinkled around on the lawn.

There is something very mysterious about a lawn that is perfectly manicured. Just to look at one makes my knees ache and my back begin to cramp, and when I see a lawn sprinkler going around firing water up in the air with such lack of consideration for some poor water bill payer, it makes me pull out my pocket book and look with gloom down into the cheap abyss, and to sadly finger the frayed edges of a dog eared one spot.

What do you say, Jack, would an individual lawn with all of the advantages I have described be eligible?

J. H. Brewer has quite a scheme to have Johnson, Mann and Dins draw straws to decide which one should get out of the Senatorial race and let one of the three run against O'Daniel... which reminds me of my father who edited a paper in Paris, Texas, many years ago. At that time two men were running for sheriff and my father disliked both of them very much, so in his editorial, he suggested that they draw straws and then let the voters elect the straw.

Dr. Loveless says he had never found anyone who will admit having voted for O'Daniel, and that according to his estimate, O'Daniel was not elected for Governor at all, however, he admits that a great many of the people he interrogated made some mighty queer statements about just when they would pay their bills.

In looking back, which is a sure sign of age creeping up on me, I often think of my father's editorials. He would sit at an old desk at home digging with one finger at an old Oliver typewriter, the kind that thrashed away with an overhead movement like an old rooster pecking at a big fat worm. The impact of the type on the paper sounded like a machine gun and my Dad would rip off expletives every time he punched the wrong key. His desk was one of the old time roller top models and was crammed full of newspaper clippings in various stages of decay. The top was littered with pencils from two inches long to the full grown writing implements.

He was an inveterate reader and when he came home from the newspaper office in the evening, he resembled a porcupine that had been mistreated, for newspapers and magazines would be sticking out of his pockets in every direction.

In composing his editorials, he would shun all of the simpler words and in place use those that were longest and most obscure in meaning. His compositions were impressive to read, but, to get his full meaning one of ordinary intelligence, would have to sit with a dictionary in one hand and the newspaper in the other.

He was in top form during the world war No. 1, and many of his editorials would fit today's problems just as well as they did those of 1917 and '18.

As time goes on my respect for my father grows and I wish now that I had given more heed to what he told me, a warning to stay out of the newspaper business.

Do dogs have a means of communication that is almost as good as speech in the human race? Our little fox terrier often sleeps on my favorite broken bottomed couch and other dogs may bark right outside the window but she will pay no attention whatever, but at other times, some dog a mile away will put her into hysterics with some insult or invitation to fight, at least that is what I would judge the bark to mean from her actions.

She is an expert beggar, an artist in the intricacies of deceit and has a better philosophy of life than I have, for she knows when she has enough to eat, when to rest and when to play, and she never works at all.

If I were as good a salesman as she is I could get rich in a few weeks, and if I had her sensible philosophy of life, I would not care a thing about the money after I got it, for I could get along better without working and without money than I do now working seven days a week. "Who said a dog's life is tough... why, every animal on the face of the earth has a better time than a human being.

We got a sample of the Frozen Locker Food last week when Charlie Austin, (who has one of Mr. Legg's Lockers full of good things to eat), gave us a big piece of tender cow that he had been keeping in the locker for several days.

It was hard when we first got it, but after an all day's thawing, it got as tender as Pollyanna's heart. If we had a farm or a house full of children and a few dollars, I'd rent one of Mr. Legg's Lockers myself, in fact, I think I'll rent one anyway, to keep meat for our little fox terrier in, for my wife is certainly getting particular about what she feeds it.

Slaton is gradually getting over the effects of Christmas, all of the Christmas lights have been taken down except those across the northeast corner of the square. They were real pretty at Christmas time and perhaps they will do for the Rodeo or for the 4th of July, however, it seems to me that a little change in the color of the globes would be more appropriate as it just does not seem right to celebrate every Holiday the same way. Perhaps we could get Santa Claus and change the color of his underwear and make an Uncle Sam out of him for the mid-summer celebration.

These are the little things that mar the looks of a town. The holiday lights still hanging across the street, buildings that would look modern and up-to-date if an old awning were torn down, sidewalks that would be easy to walk on if a few holes were filled in and store fronts that would attract more buyers with a gallon or so of paint upon them.

Did you ever stop and take stock of yourself to find out that even though your old hat is comfortable, and at last tilted at the right angle to keep out the sun, it has gotten so greasy and flop-eared that you look like a modern Rip Van Winkle?

It is not the price of a new hat that keeps you from buying a new one; it is just the fact that you have become accustomed to the old one and that is true of a home or a business building. The paint has worn off the front door so gradually that you do not realize it should be repainted. The awning has been there ever since you can remember and is just a part of the building and even though it is knock-kneed and sway backed, you you are willing to let it stay there until it falls in.

The actual cost of repainting or remodeling would be so little that it would not be noticed; no more than you would donate to the porter's picnic fund, but it just has not come to your mind.

Folks, let's wake up and take down the Christmas lights from the square, the few dejected awnings still tottering in the wind and put some paint on the bald spots. A little loose change will do it.

We are moving into a new house where there is a mile and a half of hedge. It is six feet, six inches, high and way out of proportion across the middle. Personally, I think a hedge is a mighty pretty thing in some one else's yard, but even when I can look at one, and just the thought of giving it a haircut, gives me the back ache.

Never did I think I would have the misfortune of having a fox terrier dog, two long hedges and a weekly newspaper society editress who sits and looks into space with an expression on her face like Santa Claus has just come in the front door. If there were some way to slip some poison to that hedge some night when my wife is asleep or put a curse on it so that it would dry up in a few minutes, I would do so with a clear conscience. Any suggestion from any kind-hearted reader about an overgrown hedge will be greatly appreciated.

Saw a man with an umbrella last week, which was the second umbrella I have seen in West Texas in fifteen years. The other one was in Amarillo in '35 and was the property of an old negro woman. She was using it for a sunshade. If a scourge of umbrellas is about to invade West Texas, something should be done about it immediately for there is nothing as dangerous in a woman's hands as an umbrella. During rainy spells in South Texas the hospitals are often filled with men who have had their eyes poked out with umbrella staves. There is nothing as provoking to a man as to wonder what 's under an umbrella. Most of the casualties are usually men over fifty.

 That ambulatory jamboree invented by Hollywood, the junket, is about to be adopted by the Department of State in its campaign to bring good-will to S. O. U. H. America. The recent junket of Hollywood stars to Mexico was an astonishing success, with the natives reaching a new high in their enthusiasm for the Americans. This proved to be the bee in the State Department's bonnet and plans were drawn for similar junkets to Cuba, Rio de Janeiro, and Buenos Aires. Smartly realizing that blondes are lovely rarities in Latin countries, prize junketeers will include Betty Grable, Alice Faye, and Ginger Rogers.

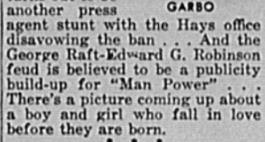

With a bunch of carrots in one hand and a bucket of water in the other, Francia White, young soprano star of the Monday evening telephone hour programs, stood outside of ASPCA headquarters in New York last week to play Santa Claus to over-worked dray horses. The occasion? Be kind to Animals Week. Miss White was called in to help focus public attention on this event.

Joan Crawford has participated in many stunts in her career, but perhaps the oddest will take place on June 1st when she'll appear in person at the amusement park at Playland, Rye, N. Y. to present a streamlined roadster to the winner of a marathon contest. Contestants, of all things, will have to hop on and off all the rides at the amusement park, with time off to eat and sleep, the winner being the one who can last longest. Miss Crawford will judge—but won't ride.

HOLLYWOOD NOTES: Greta Garbo raised a howl when she was snapped by a photographer hiding in a bush as she was taking her regular 4 o'clock stroll in unglamorous slacks and dumpy hat. That sweater ban edict now turns out to be another press agent stunt with the Hays office disavowing the ban. And the George Raft-Edward G. Robinson feud is believed to be a publicity build-up for "Man Power". There's a picture coming up about a boy and girl who fall in love before they are born.

Latest radio stars to get the nod from Hollywood are a couple of youngsters—the Moylan Sisters, two vivacious curly-tops, and Olivio Santoro, 12-year-old yodeler, who are featured on their own programs Sunday afternoon on NBC. The Moylans will appear in an MGM picture this summer while Olivio is slated for a Republic contract.

Our Weekly Sermon—HOW ARE YOU WALKING?

By Rev. Robert Parsons, Assistant to the Director of Radio Station WMBI Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

Text: "He that saith he abideth in Him ought himself also to walk, even as He walked."—1 John 2:6.

These challenging words were addressed to a group of Christians almost 1900 years ago. They contain a practical message for believers, and like so many passages of Scripture, they are just as applicable to Christians today as to those of the first century.

In the preceding chapter, John is speaking of "abiding" in Christ and of "fellowship" with Him. The terms are synonymous, and we find the significance of their meaning in the Greek word translated "fellowship". It indicates that when we have fellowship with Him we have things in common with Him. We love those things which He loves; His desires are our desires, and we hate things, such as sin, which He hates.

With this idea of fellowship in mind, perhaps we can better understand the text. "He that saith he abideth in Him ought himself also to walk as He walked." A simple paraphrase is this: If you say you are a Christian, act like one.

We cannot, of course, imitate the perfect life of Christ. And certainly no one can merit salvation by trying to follow Christ's example. But after we are saved (by grace through faith), we certainly should do our level best to "walk as he walked."

How important it is. Unless we are walking with Him in obedience we cannot abide in Him. We have joy only when we walk as He walked. Peace is ours in the measure that we walk as He walked. And perhaps the most important factor is that we are effective witnesses only when we are walking as He walked.

Truly, we are the world's Bible. The Bible is the best seller in the nation, but it is a closed book to many who possess it. It is neglected by Christians and ignored by unbelievers. The world does not turn to the pages of the Book, but rather reads you and me. And as our lives reflect His glory and grace, others shall see Jesus in us, and be attracted to Him. How would my Master have walked today, Had He traveled where I have walked; And had He been in my place today, How would my Master have talked?

Help me as I go on Thy errands, To walk as Thou wouldst have walked; Help me, as I speak for Thee, Master, To talk as Thou wouldst have talked.

LOCAL BOY makes good

It happens regularly in the telephone company. Some boy who grew up in your neighborhood moves into a superintendent's or other executive's chair somewhere in the Bell System.

His big asset is his experience... his "know how"... often gained right in your home town.

Because Bell department heads and operating chiefs among them have that "know how," they tackle today's telephone emergency, or tomorrow's telephone growth, with a direct knowledge of your town and your problems. They play a big part in our effort to give you good neighborhood service at rates that almost everyone can afford—and good nation-wide service as you need it.

1 FILL LASTED 13,398 MILES—Certified

Then how long is a quart of this great New Motor Oil?

STRAIGHT FROM SIZZLING DEATH VALLEY COMES YOUR ANSWER...

The lock-guarded engines of 6 coupes faced the Death Valley desert with oil exactly up to "Full." Not a drop could be added. The destination of all 6 identical everyday engines was... Death!

Here were 6 high quality motor oils getting the same strictly fair opportunity to show how long they'd let an engine live on one exact fill and no more.

Down in Death Valley—hotspot of the U. S. A.—every car sped at 57 miles an hour, till its oil gave out and the engine smashed. The brand of oil that used up quickest was outlasted 8,268 miles by a revolutionary new oil in this impartial, certified test. This new oil exceeded the average mileage of the other 5 oils by all of 7,057 miles! Certified. This longest-lasting oil in the test, which your car can have today—at popular price—is new CONOCO Nth MOTOR OIL with its Man-made new Economy aid The record long life that defied Death Valley comes from a new laboratory creation... man-made... called Thialkene inhibitor. Its action in some ways suggests Vaccination—which puts the right protective substance on guard to keep a trouble from even starting on you.

The trouble aiming to start on motor oils lurks in the engine's normal firing. Filth is formed that tends to start the oil "festering." First one drop spoils—then two drops "catch it"—then four—then sixteen—faster, faster, FASTER. Soon oil stamina is sapped; the engine suffers, and cries for quart after quart... but not when the worst of this "festering" attack is nipped in the bud—inhibited—by the life-giving Thialkene inhibitor in new Conoco Nth motor oil.

Now you'll never rashly exceed the proper oil-change period for your car and driving conditions—any more than you ignore traffic rules just to "get away with it." But Certified Proof from the desert that new Conoco Nth could outlast the other oils in the test by as much as 161%, gives you more than mere hopes of long Summer mileage between quarts. AND CONOCO Nth OIL OIL-PLATES YOUR ENGINE!

Long the keystone of Conoco success, OIL-PLATING comes from another great Conoco synthetic... man-made under the famed Germ Processed oil patent. By magnet-like action, OIL-PLATING is bonded to inner engine parts. Then it can't all drain down—not even overnight—not while you're using Conoco Nth. So OIL-PLATING is on guard against wear in advance!... and helps mileage, as it did in Death Valley. An OIL-PLATED engine is one more economy you get from a change to popular-priced new Conoco Nth oil.

CERTIFIED I hereby certify that the Death Valley Test and related work were thoroughly and fairly conducted. Engine Destruction occurred in each case at the mileage stated.
